

Loss Great In Early Morning Fire

Fund Raising Dinner Set Today

Time and tide wait for no man. The years roll relentlessly onward and man is left with his memories. These somber observations were occasioned by our participating in the Armistice or Veterans Day ceremonies held in Clovis last Saturday. We watched the Veterans Day parade that marched up Main Street at 11 a.m. Texas time. A very small parade was all that could be mustered. All school bands were off somewhere participating in a band festival. The Shrine Drum and Bugle Corps participated, but most of their members were away sampling the new hunting season. People just had places to go and other organizations had things to do.

It looked as if nobody really cared about this day of remembrance. A corporal guard of Legionnaires marched in the parade. Older, grayer, a little plumper, yet they marched. Their heads were erect, eyes to the front, a snappy cadence to their march. Not many people watched; those that did often looked bored or amused. But these, the defenders of our country, a small handful now, were proud of their accomplishments. We were proud with them. Somehow the words of Rudyard Kipling in his poem, "Tommy" came to us. "For it's Tommy this, an' Tommy that, and 'Chuck him out, the brute'. But it's 'savior of 'is country', when the guns begin to shoot."

While we are thinking about national defense, it brings to mind a card brought to us by Oliver Sikes. This card, on one side says in big letters, "To Whom It May Concern, THERE ARE NO GUNS IN THIS HOUSE." On the other side is a message which says, "Please put this sign on your front door if you feel there is no need for firearms. Of course, if you realize that this would be an open invitation, informing degenerates bent on rioting, robbery, murder or rape that you and your family are defenseless, then please understand that strong gun laws WILL put this sign on . . . YOUR FRONT DOOR."

Something to think about.

Early Deadline

In order that Tribune employees may have a Thanksgiving holiday next week, the paper will be printed one day early; therefore all news for next week's Tribune must be in the office no later than 10:30 a.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 21. The paper will be printed and mailed on Wednesday, Nov. 22, in order that all contestants in the football contest will have their papers in ample time to get their entries in.

Plan Turkey Shoot

Texico-Farwell Lions are planning a "turkey shoot" for this Sunday, Nov. 19, beginning at 1 p.m. The shoot will be held at the trap north of Texico-Farwell on the State Line Road. Lions invite you to come out for an afternoon of fun and take home your Thanksgiving turkey. Turkey rounds will be $2 each. Other rounds (with prizes) will be $1 each. Funds realized from the shoot will go into the sight conservation fund.

Attends Funeral

Funeral services were conducted from Schooler-Gordon Funeral Home in Amarillo, Monday for Mrs. B.F. Hutchins, 90, aunt of Mrs. Alvina Cox, who died Friday. Mrs. Hutchins, who made her home in Vernon for many years and who at one time years ago, operated a hotel in Texico, lived in Amarillo, at time of her death. She was a sister of the late Mrs. D.B. Lanford. Survivors include two daughters and the local niece, in addition to several other nieces and nephews. Mr. and Mrs. Cox were in Amarillo for the services.

A fire of undetermined origin leveled the U.S. Seed Company warehouse and a small elevator north of the railroad track in the early morning hours Wednesday. The warehouse and elevator were filled with seeds, sacked and bulk, and insecticides.

At noon on Wednesday, the fire was still smoldering, however, firemen, who answered the call around 2 a.m., had left the fire scene by 6 a.m., after bringing the fire under control.

Fire Chief George Magness stated that the fire was out of control when they arrived and all they could do was keep it from spreading to nearby buildings. No estimate was given on the total loss, however Pat Patrick did estimate losses to Kelly Green Seed at $15,000 to $17,000. Magness said, "This is the greatest loss in dollars and cents from a fire in Farwell within my memory." He stated that the fire is being investigated.

Both the Texico and Farwell fire departments answered the call. Fire fighting operations were hampered by vehicles of individuals who had gone out to see the excitement, said the fire chiefs of both Texico and Farwell.

IN A MATTER of only 30 minutes or less, this small elevator had been leveled to the ground by the fire which caused many thousands of dollars of damage Wednesday morning.

The walls came tumbling down -- When firemen arrived on the scene of the largest fire in Farwell at U.S. Seed Co. in years, shortly after 2 a.m. Wednesday morning, it was too late to save this structure. All firemen could do was to stop the fire from spreading to nearby buildings.

Residents Approve Four Amendments

Citizens in Parmer County expressed little interest in the election held on the six proposed amendments held last Saturday with only 276 voters casting ballots in the eight precincts in the county. One absentee ballot was cast. Heaviest turnout of voters was at Friona where some 99 persons showed up at the polls. Bovina recorded the next highest number of voters with 52 voting and Farwell showed a total of 44 votes.

The first four of the amendments and turned thumbs down on the other two. On amendment #1 which would permit counties to put all tax money in a single fund rather than divide it into specified amounts among separate funds for earmarked purposes, as is now the case, the voters of the county approved the change 138-132. Amendment #2; allowing cities and towns with hospitals units to levy taxes for participation in mental health and mental health retardation community centers was approved 154-109. Amendment #3; Revision of veterans land program received hearty approval with 136 voting for the change and 101 against.

Coffee Day Nets $15.32

The coffee day held at Clara's Restaurant last Saturday (Nov. 4) netted $15.32 for the Country Club drape and furniture fund. Proceeds from coffee sales during the day were contributed by Mrs. Clara Billingsley, owner of the cafe, to this fund. Members of the Ladies Country Club Association wish to thank each person who contributed to the fund.

1927 CHAMPS -- Basketball was one of the outstanding sports in Farwell school in 1927 as it is today. This is the 1927 team who brought home many honors. Back row, 1 to r, Coach B. H. Hopkins, Homer Marney, Charlie Lovelace, Paul Hicks, not identified, and Coach F. N. Sawyer. Front row, 1 to r, Clyde Magness, J. H. Hiner, Buck Hawkins, and Weldon Hall (deceased). Classes of 1917, 1927, 1937, 1947, 1957, and 1967 are being honored at the ex-student reunion. If you attended school at either Oklahoma Lane, Farwell or West Camp, plan now to attend the ex-student reunion on Nov. 25.

Farwell School Cafeteria --

Ex-Student Reunion Nov. 25

Ex-students of the Farwell, Oklahoma Lane and West Camp schools will meet in a reunion (held each two years) Saturday night, Nov. 25, 7:30 p.m. The affair will be held at Farwell school cafeteria. The reunion this year will be an informal affair with pie and coffee served throughout the evening in lieu of the meal which has been served in previous years. Entertainment will feature Charlie Phillips, a 1952 graduate of the school who is now associated with an Amarillo radio station and who may be seen on channel 10 TV each Wednesday evening at 10:30. There will not be a guest speaker and all speakers and other entertainment will be by former students of the schools. Fellowship, visiting, and informality will be the keynote of the reunion.

Members of all classes ending in "7", 1917, 1927, etc., will be special guests and will be recognized at the reunion. All ex-students of the schools are encouraged to make this the "biggest" and "best" of the reunions ever held at the school. No local invitations are being sent, but all local ex-students are invited and are encouraged to remind their classmates who live in other areas to attend. Remember, this is your reunion--be sure to attend!

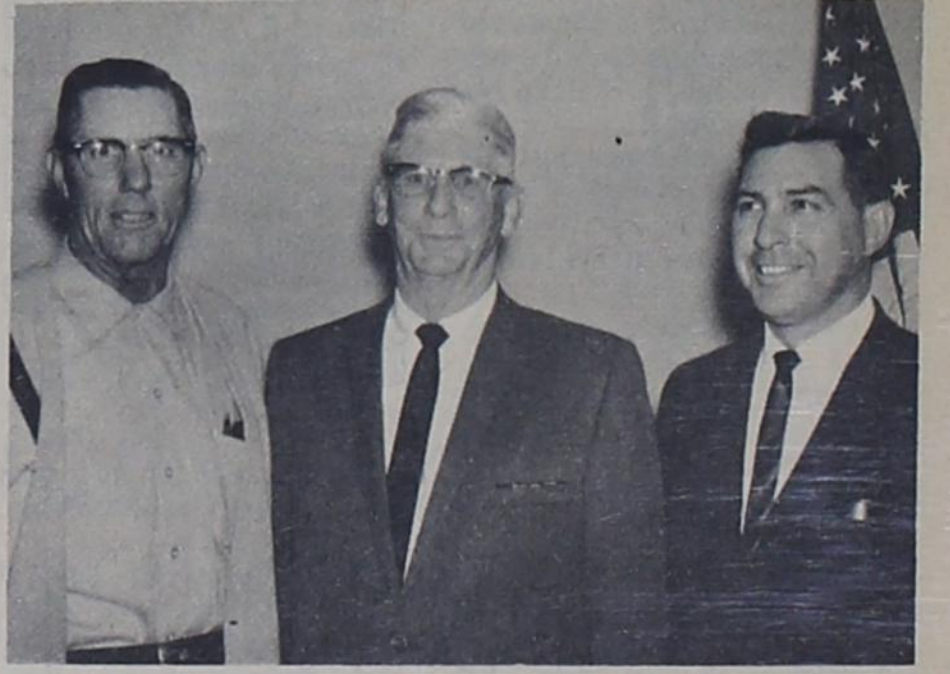

BASKETBALL TEAM -- You guessed it--this is not the 1967 Steer basketball team, but a 1937 Oklahoma Lane basketball team. It is hoped that many members of the team will be in attendance at the reunion of Farwell, Oklahoma Lane and West Camp students set for Nov. 25 at Farwell school cafeteria.

In addition, he has several graduate hours at the University of Texas. He has had experience as an agriculture teacher and as supervisor of state schools. He has organized T&I programs and supervised the operation of several shops. Many welding short courses have been held in various parts of the state with Edwards as instructor, according to Walter Lagay, Area I Supervisor of Vocational Agriculture. They have met with much success, says Lagay, who handles arrangements for adult education courses in welding and other fields. The short course at Farwell will meet at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 4-7, in the Farwell vocational agriculture shop, according to Jerry Mathis, who says that during the short course progress, Edwards will be available to assist farmers with individual problems and to provide (Continued on Page 8)

The CBS Evening Slant, With U No Who --

This is getting to be too much to bear. After several years of quiet grinning while the golden boys of television, Walter Cronkite and Hugh Downs, hinted darkly of the dire consequences that would befall the country should anyone slightly to the right of far left ever achieve political office, I find that silence is no longer possible. On several occasions now, over the last two weeks, I have had to literally fight the urge to implant a foot right through the middle of "the eye" in the vain hope that it would somehow connect with the pseudointellectual jaw of one of these "fair and unbiased" marvels.

A perfect example of this slanted reporting may be found in CBS's handling of the Wallace for President drive, now underway in California. In this sequence, it was stated by a mealy mouthed CBS reporter that, "The common denominator of anyone associated with the Wallace for President movement in racism and prejudice." Now I am forced to wonder just how this brilliant conclusion was arrived at. How was it possible for CBS to measure intangibles like racism and prejudice with such an astounding degree of accuracy? Surely it must have been done, else it would not have been reported as such. Perhaps CBS has developed a device similar to the devices now seen on breath mint commercials in which the degree of halitosis is indicated by the displacement of a needle along a scale. CBS's version would be modified, in that the meter on its device would consist of a graduated scale ranging from "RFK good guy" on the left, to "bigoted monster" on the right. It would then only be necessary to obtain a sample of the specimen's breath in order to determine his political standing beyond any shadow of a doubt. Impossible you say? Of course it is. There is simply no way of measuring an immeasurable quantity such as prejudice, but that didn't stop CBS, no sir! They went right ahead and drew the conclusion anyway.

CBS is not the only villain either; NBC's Hugh Downs is also pretty good at this type of thing. Listening to "early bird" Hugh attempting to rationalize the Republican victory in Kentucky last week was enough to make your stomach turn. Although the results of the race for Mayor in Cleveland and Gary were certainly indicative of some sort of liberal enlightenment on the part of the electorate, the Democratic defeat in the Kentucky gubernatorial race was certainly not to be considered as any indication of a disenchantment with LBJ. On the contrary, racism and prejudice were undoubtedly responsible. Here we go again. Wonder what electronic marvel NBC uses to obtain facts upon which to base such sweeping conclusions?

A distinction should be made at this point between editorializing and reporting. It is considered fair game to state personal opinions in the form of an editorial, so long as it is presented as such. The hitch comes when personal opinions are interwoven with reporting to the degree where it becomes impossible to separate opinions from facts. This is the sin that CBS and NBC are guilty of. They have lost contact with fair and unbiased reporting of the news. The conclusions that are presented to the public as news, are not based upon facts, but rather upon the network's preconceived conception of what they would like the facts to be. Because of this, political "news" reported by the major networks now must certainly be taken with a grain of salt.

Well I've had my say, but the futility of it will be evident this evening when I turn on the television and hear the following words, "This is the CBS evening news, with Walter Cronkite." I have only one comment - Ugh!

Janine Clark Bride Of Thomas Dwight Bowles

Janine Beth Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Clark, Pleasant Hill, became the bride of Thomas Dwight Bowles, Las Vegas, Nev., son of Mr. and Mrs. G.D. Bowles, Luling, Tex., in a ceremony at Sandia Baptist Church recently.

The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. Billy Parvin, pastor of Pleasant Hill Baptist Church. Altar of the church was centered with a thirty-branch candle tree flanked at either side by urns of white chrysanthemums and gladioli with a background of seven-branch candelabra. Palms of emerald greenery and a wrought iron kneeling bench completed the altar decorations.

Kathy Heglin, organist, played appropriate nuptial selections preceding the ceremony and also accompanied Larry Cloud, soloist, when he sang "The Twelfth of Never," "More" and "The Lord's Prayer". She also played traditional wedding marches.

Vicki and Wanell Parvin were candlelighters. Renee Guy, Amarillo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Guy and cousin of the bride, was flowergirl. Lee Frazier, of Dora, N.M., carried the rings on a lace and satin pillow made for the bride's cousin, Mrs. Neta Gant, by their grandmothers, Mrs. J.C. Pierce, the year the bride was born.

Maid of honor was Bettye Clark, sister of the bride. Bridesmaid was Marilyn Pounds, Clovis, and bridesmatron was Mrs. Gay Nell Hall, Temple, Tex., sister of the groom. All bridal attendants wore floor-length dresses of wine-red velvet designed similar to that of the bride, except sleeveless. Their headpieces were veils of illusion dyed to match their dresses held by a velvet ring in matching hue. They wore long white gloves and carried a spray of pink rosebuds tied with pink velvet ribbon. The flowergirl carried a white basket filled with pink rosebuds.

Best man was Stanley Ross, cousin of the groom, from Luling, Tex. Groomsman were Bill Yokum, Cannon Air Force Base, and John Powers, Clovis. Rex Richardson, Texico, and Mike Gattis, Clovis, served as ushers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a formal wedding gown of white flocked peau de soie designed with an empire waist and long sleeves which terminated in petal points at the hands. The chapel train of self material was lined with satin. Her elbow veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds and stephanotis surrounding a white orchid atop a satin covered white Bible. The Bible was a gift from the Pleasant Hill church when the bride went away to college.

Following tradition, something old was pennies in her shoes minted in the years of birth of the bride and groom; new was her wedding attire; borrowed were pearl earrings from her sister; and blue was the traditional garter.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Clark chose a rose beige lace dress over satin and a small hat of variegated rose colored flowers. Her shoes and gloves were coffee-tan. Her corsage was of pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Bowles chose a dress of soft moss green lace over satin complemented by a small hat in matching hue. Her shoes were brown and her gloves were white. Her corsage was also of pink rosebuds.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held in the activity room at the church. Hostesses for the reception were Mmes. Vaudie

MR. & MRS. THOMAS DWIGHT BOWLES

Pierce, V.O. Sharp, Dewey Pierce, Paul Roberts and Ernest Pounds.

Serving table was laid with white net over white caught up at the corners with white satin bows. Centering the table was an arrangement of deep red roses and white chrysanthemums edged in pink, flanked at either side by white candles in crystal holders. After the four-tiered wedding cake, topped by white satin wedding bells, had been cut by the bride and groom it was served with punch, mints and nuts. Presiding at the serving table were Carolyn Langford, longtime friend of the bride, and Mavis Goodman, cousin of the bride. Table appointments were crystal.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to points in Texas the bride wore for travel a dressmaker suit of red-wine and black, silk and wool blend. Her accessories were a pillbox hat of black mink and velvet, and gloves, shoes and purse in matching color. Complementing her attire was the orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Life Has New Meaning

by Chris Moss

Life has taken on a new meaning for children in the special education class taught at Farwell School by Mrs. Kathleen Walser. The children who range in age from six to fourteen years are mentally retarded and would have difficulty keeping up in a class of average children.

Mental age of the children is three years, five months; however, they all have an IQ of 50 or over since the state school law requires that any child in such classes must have an IQ of at least 50 in order to be in the class. Such children are educable and when they have completed work on the seven levels, they will be able to support themselves by doing work which they could never learn under ordinary circumstances.

The children in special education classes throughout the nation (Farwell is no exception) are able to learn about 70% as much as the child with a normal IQ.

Children in the special education class at Farwell began work on the first level and are progressing at different stages. Work for the students is much like work in the pre-primer class would be. Much of each day is spent listening to stories, doing hand work, building with Lincoln logs or other building blocks, learning to print or write their names, and doing simple arithmetic.

Some of the children have progressed above writing their names and were busily engaged in writing (copying) various articles from text books at time this reporter visited the class. Other children in the group were busy learning to make the number 3 and only the day before, one student had mastered printing her name for the first time. Each time a child accomplishes a new feat, he is highly commended by the teacher, Mrs. Odus Walser, who is most enthusiastic about her work with the class. "One can see so much progress from day to day," she stated, as she told of various accomplishments of the entire class or each individual child.

Each day, the children are supervised in brushing their teeth, following the noon meal, and are taught other social amenities. When facilities are available, the children will be taught how to make a bed, cook various foods as well as how to set a table, and many of the other social amenities which are common to the average person.

As soon as material is made available, children in the class will also be taught to lace and tie their shoes since four of the seven students do not at this time know how to accomplish this task. Most of the children are able to distinguish colors, write their names, and do various other simple tasks.

The three older children in the class have been busy em-broidering pillowcases for their mothers the past few weeks, and their work from class session to the next class session shows a marked improvement as they learn how to work with the needle and thread.

Mrs. Walser stated that the class needs clothing (any kind) which can be stripped up and braided into rugs for the floor in the classroom. The children will make the rugs. Will you assist by contributing old clothing? Plans are also in the making for children in the class to make seed pictures in the near future. In this way they are taught coordination.

Also needed for the classroom are a refrigerator, cook stove, pots, pans, dishes, glasses, and flatware. A bed would also be an asset for the classroom as would bed linens and other household articles.

The children progress through seven levels in this class and when they have completed the last level, they are considered to be educated (should be able to do simple work and earn a livelihood). During the seventh level, instructors in the classes strive to find a job for the student where he will be supervised. A move is underway in the area at this time so that such students can receive further training after they are out of school and earning a livelihood.

Mrs. Walser stated that this work is the greatest challenge she has ever had saying, "Some days I wonder if I am making any progress and then suddenly one can see so much progress that he is inspired to try even harder than ever." She states that recently the children in this class were sent to regular classrooms while she was away from school for a day buying supplies for the class. Upon her return, the children gathered around her and begged "Mrs. Walser, please don't go away again for yesterday we couldn't do anything, we just sat."

When one steps in the classroom and hears the quiet voice of Mrs. Walser supervising the children in some activity, he is not surprised that the group is making such great strides in learning more and more each day. Listening to this devoted teacher speak of the progress of the children in the class, he is inspired again to try hard to help in some way to make the program a growing thing for Farwell school and the area.

Mrs. Walser was high in praise of Randy Stewart, a sophomore in Farwell High School, who spends one hour each day in the special education class supervising activities of the children while she has lunch and relaxes "a bit." "Randy supervises a play period and sees that the children brush their teeth and assists them in many ways while I take a breather," she said.

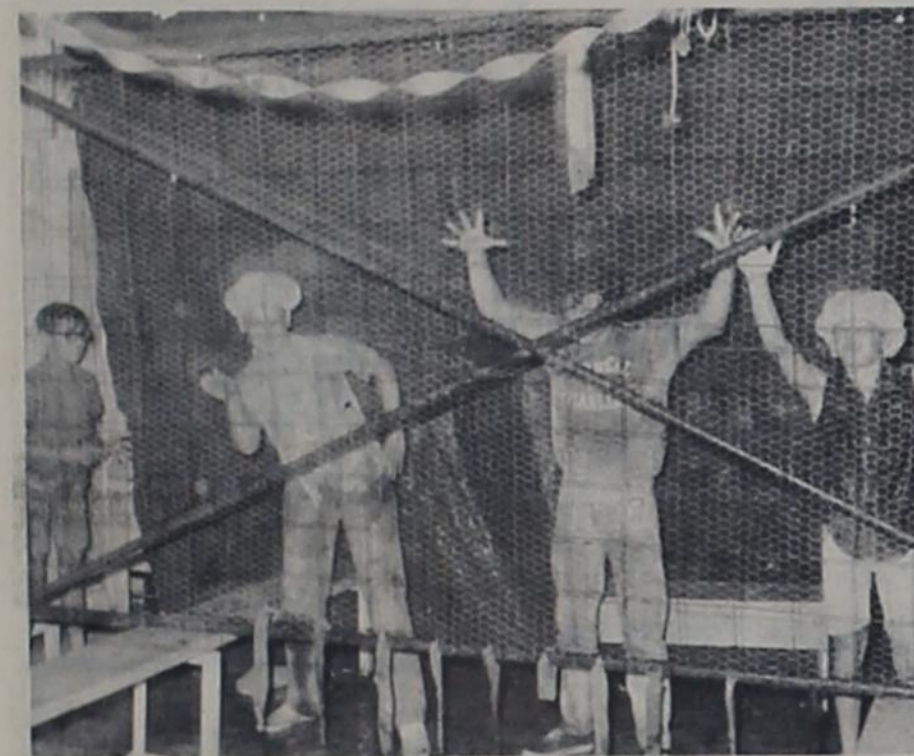

HANDWORK -- Robert Sierra, Kenneth Burleson, and Rosalee Sierra display the pillowcases they have recently completed in special classes. On the blackboard behind the children are Halloween decorations made by the group in the special education class.

TOMATO THROW -- Many good tomatoes were hurled (all in fun) at students in the booth sponsored by the eighth grade class at the Harvest Carnival. This was one of the more popular booths, especially with the small fry.

Food Buying Consumers Hints

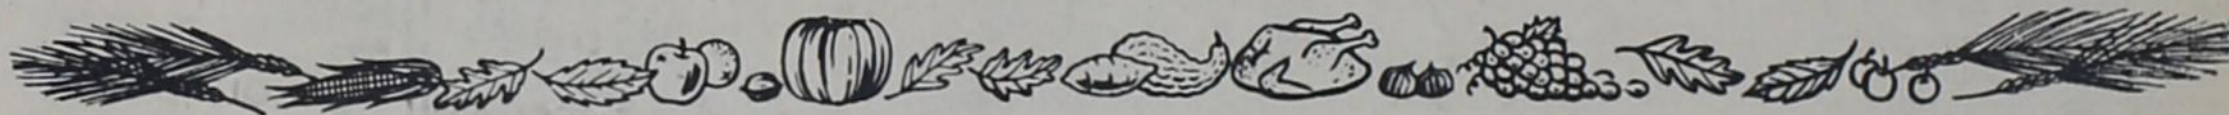

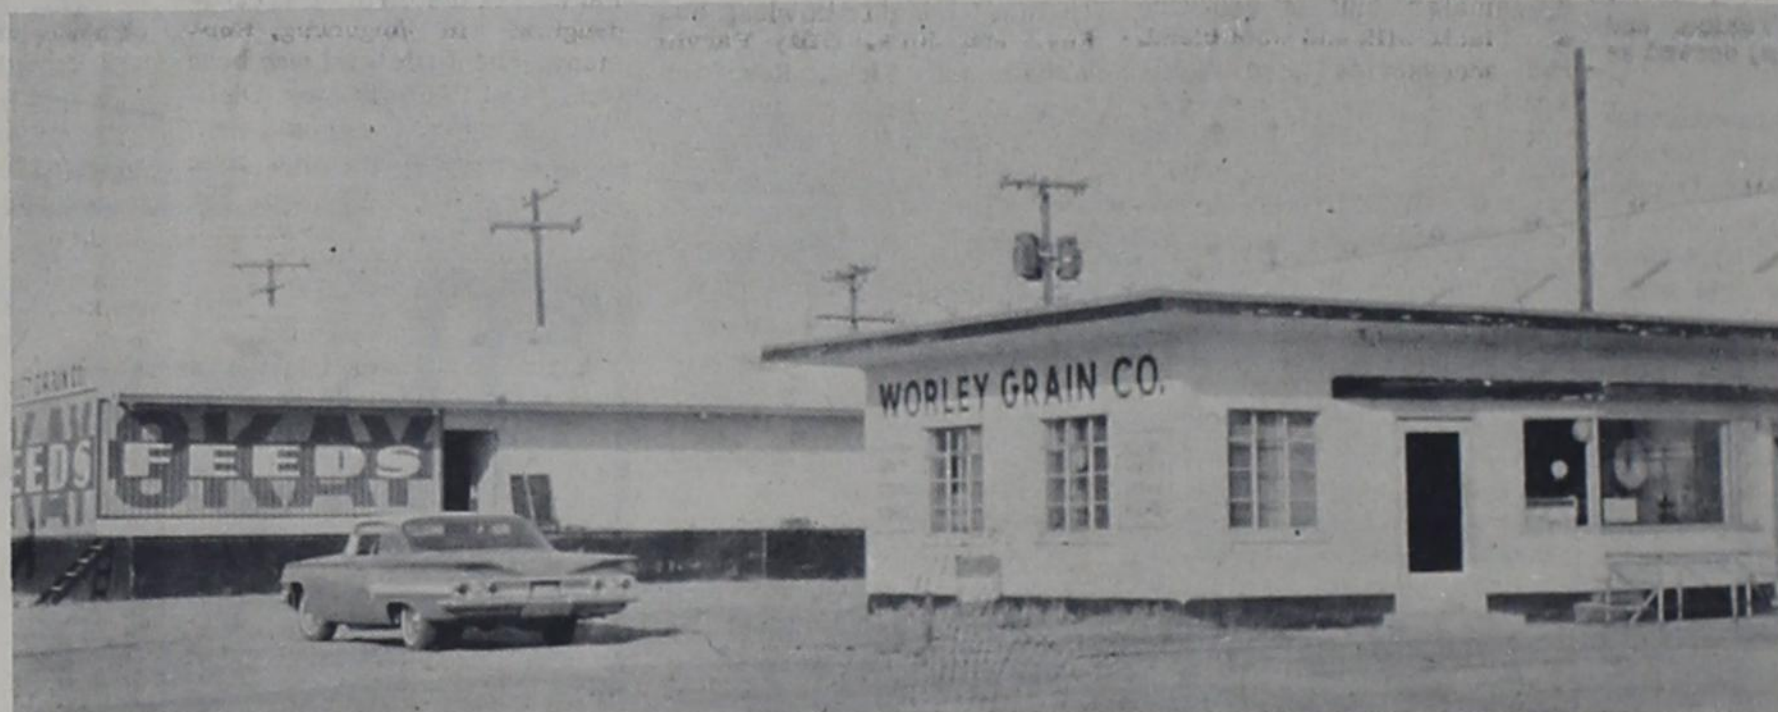

by Cricket B. Taylor
County Extension Agent

Time saved preparing meals means leisure -- sometimes money -- to busy homemakers and mothers. They buy a good-tasting convenience food whenever one appears at the supermarket, especially if the price is right, reports Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist, with Texas A&M University.

The price often is right due to keen competition between food processors. Recently food scientists at Beltsville, Maryland, made a time and cost study comparing a variety of dishes prepared from processed and fresh potatoes. They concluded: women who value their time at 50 cents an hour or more will be money ahead using processed potatoes instead of fresh ones. Preparing potato puffs, for example, took only 17 minutes. Starting with unpeeled potatoes, the job took 86 minutes. Processed potatoes were made possible by agricultural research.

Thanksgiving Greetings

Heap high the farmer's wintry hoard,
Heap high the golden corn,
No richer gift has Autumn poured
From out her lavish horn.

Let other lands, exulting glean
The apple from the pine
The orange from its glossy green,
The cluster from the vine.

We better love the hardy gift
Our rugged vales bestow,
To cheer us when the storm shall drift
Our harvest fields with snow.

Through vales of grass and meads of flowers
Our plows their furrows made,
When on the hills the sun and showers
Of changeful April played.

And now with Autumn's moonlit eyes
Its harvest time has come,
We pluck away the frosted leaves
And bear our treasure home.

O, let the good old crop adorn
The hills our fathers trod,
Still let us, for our golden corn,
Send up our thanks to God.

HORNS ARE VICTORIOUS!
Lazbuddie Longhorns slipped by Texline last Friday night for a 15-14 win. The two-point safety in the first quarter proved to be the deciding factor. Frank Hinkson and Darrell Matthews scored for the Horns, and Troy Steinbock kicked extra points in the third quarter. The Horns are now 5-3-1 for the season and 1-2-1 for the district.

Last game of the season will be played at home tonight at 7:30. It's another battle of the Longhorns, as Hart and Lazbuddie clash. Come on out and show your colors!

ATTENTION TO ELDERLY PLANNED

Lazbuddie FHA girls are realizing their responsibilities in making their corner of the world brighter for someone else. At Monday night's meeting, it was decided that the group would sing at an area home for the elderly the first week in December, and later in the month, take baskets of fruit and songs of Christmas to the elderly in their own community.

Other things decided by the group include: Homemakers' Cookbooks will be in soon and may be obtained from any FHA member. These are excellent books -- and we might add that money raised by this group is used in community and school improvement. This will be an investment for the good of your youth and your community!

ANNOUNCEMENT:

The Gas Producers Association will meet Friday night at 7:30 in the Hub Community Center. Guest speaker will be Prentice Mills of the county ASCS office, and new county directors will be elected at this time. All area farmers are urged to attend.

Following Cox's lecture, a panel consisting of Pat Burke, Ebb Randoli, both of Farwell; and Cox (of Sudan) answered questions presented to them by the group.

This is the first in a series of youth forums designed to tackle the problems of teenagers in such a way as to help them form their own decisions. The next is tentatively scheduled for January, to be held in Farwell.

Before the gifts were opened, in which Miss Ivy was assisted by her mother, Mrs. J.L. Ivy, and her fiancée's mother, Mrs. Loyd Stephens, wedding selections were presented by Miss Jan Mason, and a short book about "Love" was read by Jill Mimmis.

The serving table was centered by a bell-shaped cake decorated in the bride's chosen colors, burgandy and pink, and bearing the names Darrell and Eva Dean across it. Punch, mints, and nuts were served to about thirty persons, most of whom were students in Miss Ivy's homemaking classes at Lazbuddie High School.

Asks Help In Getting Chairs

Texico Community Center is badly in need of chairs, according to Mrs. Mae Stone. She is asking that anyone who has discarded chairs which are still useable to donate them to the community center for use at dinners, parties and other functions which are held in the building.

MEET MR. WUNSTOP DUZZIT

The teacher asked the class, "If I have 10 yards of material, and it takes 3 yards to make a dress, how many dresses can I make?"

The class was quite. Then Larry raised his hand and said, "Three dresses and a miniskirt."

Thanksgiving Is More Than An Autumn Holiday

. . . It's more than turkey and sage and pumpkin pie . . . more than a brisk walk in the country or a last weekend at the cabin. Thanksgiving is the day for all of us to stop and think, seriously and hard, about the things we take for granted every other day. It's a day to take stock of our advantages, our assets, and to be thankful that they are so many and so great.

We Have The Blessing Of Freedom

We Have The Blessing Of Abundance

They are part of a hard-won heritage . . . and they are ours as long as we are prepared to work for them all, and, if necessary, fight for them. To give thanks for what we have . . . to re-affirm faith in freedom and our determination to preserve and cherish it . . . that is the true meaning of Thanksgiving.

Junior Varsity Wins District

Farwell Junior Varsity football squad defeated Sudan 32-0 to win the B team district 3-A title last Thursday.

The hard-charging JV defense held Sudan to two first downs, one on a pass and one on a penalty. The Sudan offense was limited to a minus 100 yards rushing in the game.

Farwell defense rushed the Sudan punter so hard they blocked two punts; and on two additional punts, rushing was so hard that the punts went for only five and ten yards.

Coach Kenneth Good stated that Milton Lee Walling and Cecil Bowery continually stopped Sudan end sweeps for losses of five to 20 yards; while Mike Flowers, Eddie Winegeart, and Jimmy Meeks dropped the Sudan QB for continuous losses. Terry Travis and Greg Meeks stopped Sudan off tackle plays for the entire game. James Hobbs and Carl Goetsch, corners; Gene Sheets and Randy Chandler, halfbacks, limited the Sudan passing game to only two completions during the game.

The entire offensive team of Farwell JV did outstanding blocking and running against Sudan, according to Coach Good. Everardo Arce continually made fine runs before leaving the game in the second quarter with an injury. Mike Flowers and Milton Lee Walling made good gains up the middle and Randy Chandler and Carl Goetsch made great runs off tackle. Gene Sheets looked good on his pass-run options around end and did an overall excellent job of calling the plays.

Farwell received the opening kickoff and drove for two first downs before Sudan held and took over. The JV defense held and Sudan punted on fourth down, getting off the best punt of the night (20 yards).

The JV made a first down and then on third down from the 30 yard line, Gary Erwin ran around end for the TD. Try for extra points failed.

Following the Farwell kickoff, Sudan was held and forced to punt. The punt was hurried due to the charge by Farwell and it carried only ten yards. Everardo Arce moved the ball 30 yards on two fine carries off tackle. Mike Flowers carried it over the middle for the remaining two yards and the TD. Pass for extra points was incomplete.

On the next series of downs Sudan was forced to punt on a fourth down. Cecil Bowery broke through and blocked the punt, leaving Farwell in easy scoring position. Gene Sheets carried the ball the remaining five yards on a pass-run option for the TD. Pass for extra points was again incomplete.

When the gun sounded for halftime, the score stood Farwell 18 Sudan 0.

Farwell took the kickoff in the second half and drove to Sudan's ten yard line before losing the ball on a fumble (their only one of the game). Four plays later, Sudan was punting when Eddie Winegeart broke through to block the punt, leaving Farwell in excellent scoring position again. Milton Lee Walling carried the ball the final four yards for the TD. Kick for extra point by Greg Meeks was wide to the left.

With only 51 seconds left on the clock, Farwell took the ball on the Sudan 40-yard line for the last offensive series of the game. After two incomplete passes, Gene Sheets completed a pass to James Hobbs down the middle for 30 yards. Hobbs made an excellent catch, going up between three Sudan defenders to come down with the ball. On the next play, Sheets completed a pass to Milton Lee Walling, who dodged the Sudan halfback to go into the end zone untouched. Sheets then passed to Randy Chandler for the two extra points.

This last series of downs required only 21 seconds. Coach Good stated that Gene Sheets did an excellent job of moving the team against the clock on this series of downs.

The game with Sudan completed football play for the season. Only losses for the Junior Varsity came at the hands of Hart and Marshall Junior High School of Clovis.

Bovina Teacher Bee Director

Mrs. Rita Mast, Bovina Junior High School teacher, is the 1968 Spelling Bee Director for Parmer County. Some time before April 1, the Parmer County Bee will be held and the champion will go to Amarillo on April 27, 1968, for the annual regional elimination for the National Spelling Bee.

Last year, Brett Hargrove, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hargrove of Farwell, was the Parmer County champion. The champion was a 7th grader in the Farwell Junior High School.

The 1968 Golden Spread Bee will be co-sponsored by West Texas State University and the Amarillo Globe-News. Mr. L. J. The winner will also receive several other attractive prizes, and his school will have a full year of use of a film service. A traveling plaque, carrying the names of all Regional winners since 1949, will hang at the school of the winner.

ASC News

By Prentice Mills

By Prentice L. Mills, ASCS
Wheat, corn, sorghum, soybeans, oats, and barley from the 1967 crops which are under price-support loans in commercial storage, will be eligible for loan extensions (re-seal) before the respective crop loans mature in the spring and summer of 1968.

Farm storage loan extensions will also be available, subject to the approval of the State ASC Committee. Decisions on re-sealing of current crops are normally made near the end of the marketing year. This early announcement will permit better advance planning by farmers and should strengthen prices.

All farmers who are eligible for price support on 1967 crops will be eligible for re-seal in commercial storage or farm storage if approved for the State. Storage costs accruing during the re-seal period will be paid by CCC. These payments will be made to farmers who provide farm storage or who prepay warehouse storage charges for the extended period. If warehouse charges are not prepaid, CCC will make these payments for the extended period direct to the storing warehouseman. Payments by CCC to the warehouseman will not relieve producers of their obligation for warehouse charges which accrued during the initial loan period.

Because the overwhelming grain surpluses from prior years have been eliminated by our acreage diversion programs since 1961, many grain elevators now have adequate storage space available.

The State ASC committee determines whether an on-farm re-seal program will be conducted in its state.

The commercial re-seal program will be available to eligible producers in all areas. Producers may redeem re-seal commodities at any time and dispose of such commodities as desired.

Under the 1967-crop re-seal program, price-support loans on stored commodities will be extended beyond the 1968 maturity dates until called. CCC retains the option to call re-seal loans at any time the stocks are needed.

Storage rates on the 1967 crops now eligible for re-seal loan extensions will be announced later and will be available at State and County ASCS offices. Farm storage charges paid by CCC will be comparable to that paid under the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement for CCC stocks and stocks under commercial re-seal.

WMU Has Book Study

WMU night circle of Farwell First Baptist Church met for a salad supper and book study at the church on Monday night. Each person attending brought a salad for the meal.

The mission study book, "Africa Arrows to Atoms," was presented by Mmes. Sterlyn Billington, J.L. Bass and R.W. Anderson.

Attending the meeting were Mmes. T.J. Glenn, R.W. Anderson, Bill Dollar, Lillian Guess, Leon London, Orle Jones, Truitt Hardage, True Bell, J.L. Bass, Odus Walser, Sterlyn Billington, and Jewel Brannon.

450 Attend Chili Supper

Connie Phillips, and Gerald Hanna were recipients of gifts for selling the most tickets to the chili supper sponsored by the senior class on Friday night prior to the Sudan-Farwell football game.

According to Amos Tatum, high school principal and sponsor of the class, some 450 persons were served. "This is the largest turnout for a chili supper since I have been in Farwell (12 years)," said Tatum. The senior class extends thanks to each and everyone who attended the supper, the mothers and fathers of seniors for their assistance in preparing and serving the meal, and to all others who made the affair so successful.

vide on-the-farm instruction. Farmers interested in attending the short-course should write or call the superintendent of schools, W. M. Roberts, 481-3682, or the vocational agriculture teacher, Jerry Mathis, 481-9101 or 481-3300. Farm welding short course certificates will be presented to each enrollee who attends all of the training sessions. Edwards says he will adjust the course to the wishes of those attending, but he expects to cover such subjects as safety in welding, factors controlled by the operator in running a bead, striking an arc, types of electrodes, preparation of joints, distortion, cutting, hard-surfacing, and pipe welding.

CONVENTION PLANS DISCUSSED -- Troy Lovett, left, Curry County president of Farm and Livestock Bureau, and John Augustine, executive secretary of the state bureau of Las Cruces, look over plans for the 47th annual convention which will be held in Clovis Thursday, through Saturday of this week.

Library Fund Underway

Patrons of Farwell school are asked to contribute to the library fund for the school instead of sending Christmas cards to their friends and neighbors in this area.

Each patron is asked to contribute the amount of money he would ordinarily spend sending greeting cards to area friends to the library fund, with which books will be bought for the three school libraries in Farwell. In return, names of all contributors will be carried in the Christmas issue of the Tribune on a giant "greeting card."

Members of the library fund committee are making a canvass of the area, but if you are not contacted and wish to contribute to the fund, please stop by Security State Bank and leave a contribution with Marilyn Edwards; or City Cleaners and leave a contribution with Mrs. Neil Stewart, chairman of the Library Fund Committee. Mrs. Stewart may also be contacted at her home in the evenings. Her phone number is 481-3894. Final deadline for getting your name on the card is December 8.

This Weekend In Clovis --

Johnny Walker, U.S. Congressman; Willard Lewis, Executive Director of New Mexico Taxpayers Association and Bill Langenegger, New Mexico State Farm Bureau president, who will give the president's annual report.

Other high points of the convention will include Community Department meetings, Vesper Services, the annual Talent contest set for Thursday evening, a brunch and business meeting for the women's division and also a style show for the ladies.

Among the items of business on the agenda are discussions on state taxes, cotton legislation and various farm programs. Troy Lovett, Pleasant Hill, is Curry County Farm Bureau

A Look at the Cross on THANKSGIVING

"Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted."

"But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed."

"All we like sheep have gone astray: we have turned every one to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all." Isaiah 53:4-6

Our prayer this Thanksgiving Season is that everyone will attend the house of God, giving thanks unto him for his great gift, which is eternal life through his son.

Hornets Sting Steers

An amazingly fast swarm of Sudan Hornets defeated the Farwell Steers last Friday night at Steer Stadium. The win for Sudan gave them the district title as both teams were undefeated in district play up to that point.

The Hornets, displaying a powerful ground game, overcame a stubborn Steer defense and wrapped up the game in the second half. The stout Steer defense opened the game by containing the boys from Sudan to one first down in the first quarter.

Farwell started their drive on the Sudan 46-yard line. Taking 13 plays, featuring the running of Al Phillips and Mike Doshier, the Blue and White tallied their only touchdown and point with 10:43 left in the second quarter. The remainder of the half saw Sudan in control of the ball and going to the Steer five-yard stripe where a hard tackle forced a Sudan fumble resulting in a Steer recovery. The half ended with the Steers in possession of the ball and a 7-0 score.

The potent Sudan ground game alive in the second half in the third quarter. Their PAT kick was good and the game was tied at 7-7. Again the Farwell offense was unable to make headway against the bigger Sudan forward wall and the Steers did not mount a serious scoring threat.

Utilizing end sweeps, the speedy Hornets again reached paydirt with only 5:13 left in the game. Kicking their point after touchdown gave Sudan their final score.

Both teams were unable to produce much action in the closing minutes and the game ended with the Sudan Hornets on the long end of the 14-7 final score.

Following conclusion of the 1967 Steer football season, Coach Toby Booth stated, "We are well pleased with the performance of the squad throughout the season. Perhaps our greatest surprise was the group of seniors who performed much better than had been anticipated prior to the opening of the season." Seniors mentioned by the coach were Bobby Chadwick (injured several weeks ago and not able to return to play), Lewey Bradshaw, Mike Doshier, Greg Martin, Gerald Hanna, Lawrence Bryant, James Haseloff, Ricky Stewart, and Warlick Dollar.

Our greatest asset during the season was our defense," stated Coach Booth who said that less points were scored against the Steers than any Class A team on the Plains this season. "The defense held their opponents to a minimum of scoring," said Coach Booth, adding, "The offense should also be commended for they did a fine job of moving the ball all season." "All in all, it was a good year for the Steers," he concluded.

The National Center for Health Statistics reports that Washington, D.C., had the highest birth rate in the U.S.A. in 1965.
