One Basis On Which A Problem May Be Attacked Successfully

An encouraging development is the increasing earnestness to look realistically and far sightedly ahead concerning the water problems of the state and particularly of West Texas.

Whatever else a people must have to increase and prosper, they must have water. The production of food and clothing is dependent upon it; the wheels of business and industry cannot turn without it; life itself cannot be sustained without adequate supplies of it.

So long as there were frontier areas of the country, there resulted such a progressive redistribution of the population that water was taken for granted except in localized areas. Now, with most of the sections of the country well enough settled as to focus proper attention upon water needs, a wholesome and growing recognition of meeting this issue is coming about.

Of a consequence, there must be a certain amount of exploring and pioneering in this field to find the proper answers. There must be open-minded studies not only of water resources and reserves, but also of legal means which will best utilize and conserve these resources and reserves.

Certainly there is bound to be conflict between theories of strict legal control and those of correlative surface and subterranean water rights. However, in the light of discussion it is encouraging to note that some points of agreement are being found. One which currently offers the most hope is that watershed and waterbelt areas may be given a priority to attack their problems. Soil conservation, through its local districts fashioned on communities of interest, has enjoyed its greatest development under such a plan. It is not improbable that similar success might be enjoyed in thus dealing with water problems.

Important that there be parallel development in the field of agriculture. The trend to mechanized agriculture is bound to place increasing emphasis upon grain sorghum production. After he has sold what he desires to regular markets, the farmer will have reserves which he wishes to use at home. One of the most profitable means will be to market grain through fat livestock. It makes sense that an animal which will produce greater gains on the same amount of feed than an inferior animal is desirable.

Many people will have their eyes opened as to what is being done about this if they will but take time to make one or both of these tours. We hope that people will avail themselves of this opportunity.

People Have Opportunity To See Beef Herd Improvements

In order that as many as possible may block out a spot on their calendars, we would like to call attention to the annual autumn tour of the Howard County Hereford Breeders Association a week hence.

Dates are Sept. 16-17. Anyone with an interest in development of the livestock resources of the area is invited to participate. Obviously, this opens the field to all who reside in the area and particularly to those who are in business, whether in town or in the country.

Howard County is fortunate in having a group of individuals who are sincerely interested in improving the quality of beef producing animals. In a day when automobiles, refrigerators and washing machines must give more satisfactory performance and returns, it is equally important that there be parallel development in the field of agriculture. The trend to mechanized agriculture is bound to place increasing emphasis upon grain sorghum production. After he has sold what he desires to regular markets, the farmer will have reserves which he wishes to use at home. One of the most profitable means will be to market grain through fat livestock. It makes sense that an animal which will produce greater gains on the same amount of feed than an inferior animal is desirable.

'He Did It' Will Be The Cry Of Presidential Campaign

WASHINGTON, SEPT. 9. — "WHO did it? He did it."

That just about sums up what you're going to have to listen to in the presidential campaign from now on.

The Democrats—with President Truman doing the talking—and the Republicans—with Harold E. Stassen talking—begin their campaigns this week.

They cut loose with four main ideas: Living costs, labor, prosperity, and housing. As the campaign goes on, a few more may be added but those four will run through the campaign.

The high cost of living! Who did it? The Republicans, Mr. Truman said.

The Democrats and world conditions generally, said Mr. Stassen.

THE TAFT-HARTLEY LABOR LAW! The Republicans controlled Congress when it passed in 1947, but a majority of Democrats joined with a majority of Republicans in passing it.

But is it a good law, or bad?

Terrible, Mr. Truman said. He hammered away at the fact that the Republicans controlled Congress when the law was passed.

He told labor the Taft-Hartley is only a "foretaste." Worse will come if the Republicans win, he said.

It's a good law, said Mr. Stassen, and he hammered away at the fact that a majority of Mr. Truman's own Democrats helped pass it.

He promised labor the Republicans, if they win, will be real friends of labor.

Prosperity! We have it now, but will it last?

We'll have an "Era of Fear" if the Republicans win, said Mr. Truman. He took a dim view of continued prosperity if there is a Republican victory.

We'll keep prosperous if the Republicans win, said Mr. Stassen, and he indicated that Mr. Truman is gloomy anyway and is trying to scare people.

Housing! Why don't we have more housing?

Blame the Republicans, said Mr. Truman.

BOTH DEMOCRATS AND REPUBLICANS are to blame, said Mr. Stassen. We certainly "must do something," he said.

All you, the voter, have to do is sit back, listen, and try to figure who's right: Democrats or Republicans? Some job.

Things like high living costs, prosperity and labor laws are so complicated that even experts have trouble figuring what's what.

Maybe a lot of voters already have their minds made up anyhow on the man they'll vote for. So they won't pay much attention to the arguments they read or hear on the radio.

They include the people who vote against a candidate because they don't like his eyeglasses or his mustache.

But the rest of the voters will just have to listen—if their minds are still open—and try to reach honest answers by themselves.

They have a tough job.

There's Nothing So Relaxing As A Summertime In Gotham

By MORTON DOWNEY

For Jack O'Brian

New York columnists, including Jack O'Brian, I guess, are entitled to a vacation, but frankly, I don't know why they'd want to take any. I don't know of any town in the world—and I've been around some—as exhilaratingly gay and relaxing as summertime Gotham.

A couple of months ago, I wandered down to South America because I was restless and because I wanted to see for myself how my sponsor's product was going. I must confess that twenty-four hours after I alighted below the Rio Grande, I was eager to go north again. I know that in every columnist's mind, there hides some yearning for the soft songs of the birds in the morning, for the sweet aroma of the arboreal countryside (listen, bub, I can wax as poetical as you can); and for the soothing monotony of the surf beating against the sands. But it's a yearning that a columnist should have learned to mistrust some time ago. It's strictly a state of mind.

He should have learned a long time ago (you, too Jack, m'boy) that there is no rustic retreat as enticing as Table 50, otherwise known as Morton's Corner in the Club Room of Sherm's place, the Stork Club. He can get more succor from care than is to be had in all the haciendas of a Mexican plateau or on all the sands of Cape Cod, where, if I'm not mistaken, Mr. O'Brien, you are being currently fried by ol' Sol and bitten up by giant beach bugs.

But I guess a New York columnist, like any other ordinary mortal, isn't really happy unless he's doing something, at least once annually, to make himself mightily uncomfortable. Probably that's why most of the postcards I get from the vacationing scribes invariably wind up with something like "Wish I were back. It's goin' darned dull and lonesome here." But don't fret too much, Jack. Your vacation will be over shortly. And you've got one sympathetic friend in me. As I sit here, lingering over my dessert with one hand, and scribbling this piece with the other, I'm feeling friendly and I'm feeling for you. The town'll be just as nice when you come back as when you left it. And you'll have the rest of the summer in which to rest and recuperate from your vacation. As for me—a broadcast three times a week, three night club shows a night, a nightly tour after working hours to the friendly spots—that's my type vacation. I'd look awfully silly with a sun-

Washington Merry-Go-Round — Drew Pearson

Life On The Farm Proves A Good Vacation Until Pigs Get Loose

By DREW PEARSON
GAITHERSBURG, MD. — Well, I had a swell vacation—at least until the pigs got loose.

Before the vacation started I had studied road maps and dreamed up all sorts of tours. I figured on going out to see my daughter in California, and my wife's aunt in New Mexico. I bothered Karl Bickel about the best way to reach his hideaway in Ontario, Canada, and corresponded with Sumner Wells about a trip up to Bar Harbor. But in the end I decided that, with real fireworks likely to break out in Berlin this winter, I ought to take a look at things beforehand, so I got steamship reservations for Europe and went through the red tape of an American military government permit to visit Germany.

When the sailing date rolled around, however, I just didn't get on the ship. I didn't on that ship, nor the next ship; in fact, I didn't go at all. I decided that a vacation was for the purpose of doing what one wanted to do most, so I just stayed right at home and enjoyed the Maryland countryside.

That's what I did during all my vacation—just enjoyed my home and let Col. Clay worry about the Russians. Only time I left Maryland was to take two trips into the District of Columbia and one trip into the neighboring state of Delaware.

Staying right at home proved to be wonderful—that is, until the pigs got loose. Here are some of the things I did:

Filled the silo—My son-in-law, who used to be a diligent silo-filler when he was courting my daughter, was absent this time; and even my radio agent, Jackson Leighter, never known to do a stroke of work during the rest of the year, carefully sprained his ankle just before silo-filling time. Despite the drones, however, we had such a big corn crop that we filled not only the main silo, but had to put up two temporary silos of paper and chicken wire.

Read William Vogt's "Road To Survival"—It's a book every good American should read. Makes you realize that we may be skating on thin ice as a nation if we don't stop washing our soil down into the ocean, ruining our forests, and dumping our iron and steel in shot and shell on foreign battlefields.

Went to church—What with getting up at 6 a.m. Sundays to prepare a radio broadcast during most of the year, I don't get to church as often as I should. Especially enjoyed the sermon of Bishop John E. Hines of Austin, Tex., who preached at Bethany Beach, Del. His Delaware neighbors tell about a car getting stuck in the mud several people brought planks to get it out, one man remarked: "If that board doesn't do it, I'll go inside and get the pulpit." "Shhh," cautioned another, "that's the preacher over there." "Yes," was the reply, "and I'm the bishop."

Decided not to plant any more corn—Having sat on the banks of the Potomac and watched thousands of tons of topsoil wash down from the cornfields of Maryland and Virginia, I finally decided to do my part by planting no more corn. Despite strip-farming and contour-plowing, both of which we practice religiously, any cornfield, unless on level ground, is bound to wash away the most priceless gift nature gave us—our topsoil. So, from now on, we are filling our silo with alfalfa. The farmers of Iowa, where the ground is flat, can supply the nation with corn.

Met a gradually disappearing species — The country doctor. Young Dr. Garrett Hume got out of the Army and decided he wanted to help his fellow men by practicing where doctors were scarce, hung out his shingle at Georgetown, Del., and has been answering calls on an 18-hour schedule ever since. In an age when more doctors gravitate to the city and specialized medicine, here's hats off to the country doctors, like Garrett Hume, who stay out where distances are long, where fees are low and where people need them most.

PIGS GET LOOSE

Most of the above were enjoyed during the first part of my vacation—before the pigs got loose. I might note in passing something obvious to most lady readers—that this stay-at-home vacation didn't go down too well with Mrs. P. After all, when you've kept house, cooked and planned meals for a year, it's only natural to want to let a hotel manager worry over the food and the servant problem during your husband's vacation.

However, Mrs. P. was a good sport, and, among other things, enjoyed her garden, especially one plot of lawn she had worked hard to keep green and on which we sometimes played deck tennis.

This is the point where the pigs came in. It was, of course, my fault. I had seen them roaming around loose, and I had been warned by the lady who is much righter than I am, that they might descend on the lawn. However, they were such nice little pigs, and they so obviously enjoyed their freedom, that I put off catching them for a day.

EWIES GEM, CLAY

That day turned the tide of my vacation. That evening the pigs decided to play deck tennis. I don't know which of them won, but I know I lost. In 30 minutes that lawn—pride of Mrs. P.'s heart—looked like a plowed field.

I took one look at it and decided Gen. Clay in Berlin was to be envied. Why, of why, had I not followed my earlier plans and gone to Germany!

Did you ever put together a picture puzzle the size of a quarter acre? Well, I did, beginning at five the next morning—a picture puzzle consisting of little pieces of turf—octagon-shaped, triangular-shaped, or no-shaped. In fact, I spent the rest of my vacation patching that lawn, watering it, tempting it, praying over it.

However, there's a compensation in everything.

Some men spend several hundred dollars to have a gymnasium instructor put them through knee-bending exercises. I got the knee-bending exercise and it didn't cost me a cent. And in the end Mrs. P. said she was almost glad we had pigs. They had proved her husband's 5 a. m. devotion.

Eleanor Powell Will Soon Give Up Dancing

By GENE HADSAKER
FOR BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Eleanor Powell, whose talented tapping toes earn her $5000 a week, says she's quitting her dancing career for good.

"I'd love to have another child, the sharply brunette wife of actor Glenn Ford explained. "I'd be asked to tell you how many more I want. I love children. No, I'm not expecting one now."

Ford spilled the news on the "Mr. Soft Touch" set when he told me Eily wants to settle down. "It breaks her heart to leave Peter." Their son is three and a half.

An imminent 10-week night club tour—her third across country in the last three years—will be her last, Eleanor said. She may do one more movie dance, a part just offered her, "to see how I look in color," and possibly a show at London's Palladium next spring. Then retirement.

After 22 years, Eleanor thinks "it's about time I quit dancing." She started at 13, at $75 for three nights a week in an Atlantic City hotel. "I was on Broadway. I was in Ziegfeld's last show. I've had my own radio program. If I play London I'll realize my dreams and there won't be many things left to conquer."

Was her total retirement Glenn's idea? He filled a pipe, showed his hat back and said, "I haven't said anything one way or the other. I don't believe in that."

"She was a big star when I was a private in the Marine corps. What right have I to tell her what to do? Anything that makes her happy, even if it's flag pole sitting, is all right with me."

Local School District Isn't Only One With Growing Pains

Another school session has been launched with the usual rush and excitement among the youngsters and problems for the teachers and school officials. In both instances, The Big Spring system apparently has its share. It will not be at all surprising if some enrollment records are established, and that will necessarily produce problems on top of problems.

Big Spring is not alone in that respect, however, if any credence can be attached to reports and rumors from dozens of school districts over the state. It seems that many schools have been attacked by severe cases of growing pains. Consequently there are those who have set out to provide remedies for the disease.

That brings to mind some incidents that have occurred during recent searches for such remedies in other places. One school district located several hundred miles from Big Spring adjusted valuations of its taxable property recently in an effort to boost revenue to meet steadily growing demands. Needless to say, the plan was unpopular among some of the constituents. One property owner mentioned his dissatisfaction one day while obtaining service at a filling station.

"I'm against the whole thing," he declared. "I have no children in that school, and I don't think it's fair to raise my taxes."

"I don't have any children in school either," said the filling station operator, "but I doubt if the school district is responsible for that."

Another district was trying to vote a tax increase and bond issue, and similar grumbles were heard. One self-appointed spokesman at an unscheduled gathering on a street corner, chose to question the value of present-day education. He said backers of the election proposal were "preaching" that pupils of today were attending classes in the same rooms and using the same equipment that was used by those of more than a quarter of a century ago. That should be good enough for anyone, he maintained.

"It's as good as I had when I was a boy, and besides, I only went through the eighth grade and I've been able to hold my own in the world," he asserted.

"How long have you been in your present business?" a questioner asked.

"Thirty-one years," the man replied. "If you were starting your business today, would you begin just as you did 31 years ago and use the same equipment and the same methods?"

"Well, now, you've got to consider some changes in the times," the speaker hedged. "Right now I couldn't operate at a profit with the same equipment I started out with."

"Given modern equipment, such as you see now, would you be willing to start out in your line of business with the same education you had when you began 31 years ago?" the questioner persisted.

"That's not a fair question" the speaker exploded.—WACIL McNAIR

Jet-Propelled Buses May Speed Great 'SFROTH' Day

NEW YORK, (AP) — THE POSSIBILITY that man soon will travel to work on jet-propelled buses is great news for all "SFROTH's."

Are you a SFROTH? SFROTH's are members of the "Society for the Return of the Horse."

It's an unofficial organization, but there are thousands of us, and more every year—people who believe man's greatest moral mistake was abandoning his age-old friend, the horse, for that treacherous ally, the machine.

The prospect of jet-propelled buses was announced the other day by Sidney H. Bingham of the New York City Board of Transportation, and expert on traffic problems.

It is therefore no idle dream. It sounds more like a nightmare.

THE JET-PROPELLED AIRPLANE OF today travels across the sky with the noise of a rolling thunderbolt. Without mufflers a cluster of jet-propelled buses caught in a traffic jam would break every ear drum in a city.

The mere suggestion of jet-propelled buses is enough to instill new confidence in all "SFROTH's" that the day we have long awaited is growing nearer—the day the machine age collapses in a final cacophony of clashing gears. Then again we will hear the hoofbeats of the faithful horse, riding anew to the rescue of mankind.

The signs of this collapse are all about us. Why do more and more people yearn for pensions and plot their lives so they can retire early? Because they can't stand the thought of riding to and from work in crowded, ear-shattering uncomfortable machines. Today only hunger and their wives' tongues drive many men from their quiet homes to risk life, limb and peace of mind on subway, bus or motor car.

IT WASN'T THIS IN THE GOOD OLD days. A man walked to his place of labor or rode behind a safe, friendly horse, and arrived fresh and eager of spirit. How does a man do with the time he now saves by using fast modern vehicles? He uses it to go to the doctor who is treating him for an incipient nervous breakdown.

The wise SFROTH will buy now before the market turns. There were 18,054,000 horses and mules in the United States in 1890. Today there are only about 10 million.

Communism Will Either Hang Itself Or Us With Tactics

WE HAVE A PRIME EXAMPLE OF Communist tactics the world over in Wednesday's kidnaping, by Russian gunners and their German police, of 19 western Berlin police after the latter had left the city hall in the Soviet zone under a Muscovite guarantee of safe passage.

The Red maneuver was just as bold and cold-blooded as that. It was another move in the Russian campaign to unseat the duly elected Berlin city council which is anti-Communist. The western Berlin police came from the American-British-French zones and were present to shield a meeting of the council.

U. S. Secretary of State Marshall takes us a step further by stating that the Communist attacks on the Berlin city government are largely intended to upset talks of the Big Four military governors on the crisis in the Soviet-blockaded German capital. The secretary said the Berlin disorders have followed a familiar Communist pattern, and declared that the efforts to disrupt the conferences of the governors must be firmly resisted.

AND WHY SHOULD THE BOLSHEVISTS be bent on disrupting the Berlin conferences? Because, as this column has pointed out before, Communism does not want peace.

Part of the fundamental strategy of Communism's world revolution is to create disorder and despair. It never has made progress by peaceful methods.

The current conversations of the Big Four may result in some sort of agreement—but it won't mean lasting peace. However, temporary peace may be better than no peace at all—so long as it isn't achieved by appeasement.

Poland is providing us with further evidence of Bolshevist tactics. The Communists Wednesday launched a drive for the avowed purpose of peasants of the nation.

LARRY ALLEN, ASSOCIATED PRESS correspondent in Warsaw, says reports from usually reliable sources state that Communist groups have smashed tractors owned by so-called "rich peasants" in central Poland, and that fences dividing individual farms have been torn down in some places. Red action committees have been sent out to spread the news among peasants that their production must be put on a common basis. And so it goes.

You wouldn't think the Communists would dare crack down so hard on liberty loving folks like the Poles, who time and again have fought for their freedom. But Bolshevism is as hard-boiled as the devil himself. And one suspects that is more than a little worried by disaffection which has been showing itself among the satellite states. Apropos of this Dr. Peter Zenkl, exiled former deputy premier of Czechoslovakia, who is now in London, declares that "the pretense of unity in the Soviet bloc has been shaken."

However, it is the nature of Bolshevism that always it must proceed by strong arm methods. There are no half way measures. Communism is allowing itself plenty of rope deliberately. It will either hang itself or hang us.

Broncs And Dusters Tangle In 8:15 Battle Here Tonite

Fred Rodriguez Tames Vernon

All square after their first two games in Vernon, the Big Spring Broncs and the Vernon Dusters tie into each other again tonight at Steer Park in an effort to decide a winner in that particular phase of the Longhorn baseball league's Shaughnessy play-offs. Game time is 8:15 o'clock.

The two teams will play here again tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock and Sunday afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock. If a winner isn't decided by then, they'll move back to Vernon to finish the series.

Either Gumbo Helba, who didn't make the trip to Vernon, or Jimmy Perez will toil on the mound for Big Spring. Perez has the better record (15-3) but Helba has been more effective in recent weeks against all comers.

Rabbit Rigby, the Vernon skipper, will probably call on Lloyd Trip for mound duty tonight. Trip owns a 10-10 won and lost record for the season. He beat the Steeds in Vernon but lost to them in his last appearance here.

VERNON, Sept. 10.—Freddy (Trompolo) Rodriguez, a lot of pitcher at times, outdid himself here Thursday night when he elbowed the Big Spring Broncs to an important 4-2 triumph over the Vernon Dusters before another capacity turnout.

Rodriguez set the North Texans down with five hits and outpitched crafty little Eddie Jacome to notch the win and put the Steeds back on even terms with the Dusters in their playoff series. Each team has now won one game.

The Cayuses got behind Rodriguez with a nine-hit offensive. Will Roca, the giant pitcher turned outfielder, was the chief thorn in Jacome's side. Will blasted a fourth inning home run and figured in the scoring of two other Big Spring runs.

He was on second when Ernie Klein blasted home two tallies with a single in the second, a blow, incidentally, that wiped out a one-run advantage built up by Vernon in the first stanza. In the ninth, he got to first while Pat Stacey was being forced to second and then scrambled to the midway station when Tony Traspuesto hit. Orlando Echeverria went in to run for him and scored when Ace Mendez singled.

Rodriguez ran into trouble in the eighth when the Dusters loaded the sacks on him and he walked in a run but he forced Lupto Gonzalez to sky to Stacey to end the threat.

He cut the home club down in order in the ninth. In all, he struck out nine men, issued four walks and hit a batsman.

VERNON, Sept. 10.—L. Gen. Ben Lear will attend celebrations of two of his former commands. Fort Bliss is to observe its hundredth anniversary Nov. 57. The First Cavalry Division will hold its first reunion here Nov. 8-9.

Lear formerly commanded Fort Bliss and the First Cavalry Division.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Picking the winners in District 3AA football games this weekend: Brownwood 19, Big Spring 7.

The Lions, like the Big Springers, had only four lettermen back this fall but, unlike the Steers, have a lot of lads who saw plenty of varsity action in 1947.

Program. Odessa 14, Lubbock 6. The Broncs, even without Byron Townsend, are formidable. Jimmy Patterson should be the difference in a struggle that may be all defense.

Vernon 13, Sweetwater 7. The Vernons will be at home, which is one of the reasons they'll be tough. The Mustangs lost its share of starters by graduation.

Levelland 19, Lamesa 7. The Tornados lost what little prestige they had last week against Seminole. They're supposed to be running into an even stronger eleven this time out.

San Angelo 13, Denison 6. It's a long road that has no turning. The Cats have had their troubles the past few years. They're out of the woods now, however. An impressive win here would install them as 3AA favorites.

Abilene 7, Breckenridge 6. The Buckies seem to go on forever. It's about time Pete Shatwell's system began paying off, however, and this could be the Eagles' year.

Midland 14, Yaleta 6. Barnes Milam may have more than every body thinks in the Midland camp. Milam was in the 'doghouse' last year for losing to Big Spring. His charges will get off on the right foot this time out.

Parramore No. 1 In Sterling Logs Oil, Gas

Ray Albough and Progress Petroleum Corp. No. 1 Mrs. Nellie Parramore, northwestern Sterling county deep exploration, was reported to have gaged oil and gas on a drillstem test Thursday. The venture returned 10 feet of oil and gas-cut mud on a two hour drillstem test from 7,020-39 feet, but there was no free oil or water, and some gas came to surface in 30 minutes. Samples from 7,024-39 in a Pennsylvania section showed signs of saturation. The test is in section 203-39, W&NW, in north-eastern Sterling Humble No. 1-B 1. Ellwood estate, section 53-18, SPRR, progressed to 3,365 feet in hard lime and shale.

Sun No. 2 Ellwood estate, in southeastern Mitchell county topped the Ellenburger at 7,614 feet, 5,482 feet below sea level, and drilled below 7,626 in dolomite. It is 560 feet out of the southeast corner of section 25-16, SPRR, Sun No. 1, Ellwood, an Ellenburger failure at 7,328 feet was located a mile and three quarters to the east. Seaboard and Shamrock No. 1 C. C. Thompson, Ellenburger wildcat eight miles southwest of Colorado City, recovered 250 feet of drilling fluid only on an one-hour test from 3,299-3,317 feet. It drilled ahead to 3,436 on its location in the northwest quarter of section 76-27, T&P.

Seaboard No. 1 Zant, west offset to the Vealmoor pool's heaviest producer, was reported preparing to test. It had flowed 44 barrels in two hours through perforations from 7,880-7,920 feet. Previously it had flowed 59.3 in 70 minutes from 7,925-40 and it is not clear whether the second test was exclusive of the bottom zone or not. The upper section was revealed through Schlumberger survey.

Seaboard No. 2 Tora Campbell, a 10,000-foot Ellenburger and east offset to the No. 1 Campbell, heaviest Vealmoor producer, was below 4,440 feet in lime. Seaboard No. 1 Mamie Clanton, 1 1/2 miles northwest in Borden county, drilled below 4,000 feet while Seaboard No. 2 Lee, a deep venture in the Sprayberry pool of southeastern Dawson county, was below 6,581 feet in shale.

REVIEW PROBLEMS

School Trustees Note Tuesday Vote

Trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District Thursday evening reviewed school opening problems and took note of the election on Tuesday for a $1.50 tax rate authorization.

John Coffee, secretary of the board, said that six persons had cast absentee ballots through Thursday. Today is the last day for casting absentee votes. Roy Reeder was announced by the board as judge for the election, to be held in the city fire station, and W. B. Younger and B. E. Freeman have been approved as assistant judges.

General election law regulations will be followed with the polls opening at 8 a. m. and closing at 7 p. m. Qualified voters who have resided within the school district six months and who have rendered property (real or personal) to the Big Spring Independent School District, will be entitled to vote.

The election was called in response to a petition signed by more than 400 patrons after the approved budget for the 1948-49 school year projected a $76,000 deficit on the current tax rate limit of $1.

All classes have teachers at the present time, said W. C. Blankenship, superintendent, but seven will have to be carried as substitute teachers until transcripts are filed on their college credits. At his request Bill Daves was assigned as instructor (rather than) as director of curriculum and assistant principal in the high school.

Mrs. Ida Luth Stitton was elected and assigned as a sixth grade teacher. In the high school the board elected Miss Marion Shot as an English teacher. Mrs. Ross Flanagan as a math teacher, and Mrs. Carmen Compton Sneed as a study hall director. Mrs. G. C. Varnell, who served as librarian for the school for several years, was elected as head librarian and Mrs. Ira Thurman as library clerk.

Mrs. H. L. Shipp's Funeral Is Held

Funeral services were to be held at the Methodist church in Stanton this afternoon at 4 p. m. for Mrs. Elmore Glenn Shipp, 31, wife of Herbert L. Shipp, who died Thursday morning.

The Rev. F. G. Hawkins will have charge of the funeral service. Burial will be in the Evergreen cemetery in Stanton. Mrs. Shipp was born Nov. 22, 1917 in Brady and has been a resident of Stanton since 1936.

Survivors include the husband, one son, Bobbie Noel 10, one daughter, Sandra Beth, seven, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Conner of Junction, three brothers, Glenn A. Bill, and John L. all of Junction, two sisters, Mrs. Orville Keele of Stanton and Mrs. Jack Munn of Odessa, her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Shipp of Midland and two brothers-in-law, F. G. and Alton G. Shipp of Midland. Friends will be pallbearers.

Roads

Continued from Page One court meetings when road matters are discussed; see that policies of the court are executed; prepare budget estimates for construction and maintenance; prepare estimates and specifications on material, equipment and supplies; maintain cost accounting records and keep an inventory of all equipment, material and supplies. He would be under surety bond.

The engineer's salary would be paid out of the road and bridge road building and upkeep would come out of that fund in accordance with budgeted appropriations. On road projects, the engineer would represent the county in all inspection work; he would certify correctness of all claims and specifications included in competitive bids that would have to be submitted for purchase of all equipment, materials and supplies.

Those who are passing the petitions have voiced their opinion that a unified county program of road construction and upkeep, together with establishment of a long-range road program for the county would serve to increase efficiency and economy and over-all results for the county at large. No tax issues would be involved in the program, and establishment of the road department, if approved by the voters, would be purely an administrative change.

MURDER CHARGE IS AMONG 18 INDICTMENTS RETURNED HERE Eighteen indictments, one of them for murder and two others against persons not yet in custody, were returned by the grand jury here Thursday afternoon. Broshay Johnson, a Negro, must face trial for murder in connection with the death of Arden Johnston, a white man, here last July 29. Johnston allegedly was kicked, strangled and beaten after the two had retreated to a spot near the west viaduct to finish off a bottle of whiskey. Johnston lived for several days following the attack and died in a local hospital.

George Richardson was billed on two counts of forgery while Ralph R. Jacks must face trial on a charge of burglarizing the office of a local lumber yard several weeks ago. Alton Walcott was indicted on two burglary counts. He allegedly broke into the Round-Top cafe and Newsom grocery store. A Negro woman still at large was indicted on a charge of theft from person. Jose Castillo, arrested a few days ago on the highway between here and Odessa, was billed on a car theft charge.

The jury decided to refer the case of Arthur L. Adair, accused of driving while under the influence of intoxicants (2nd charge) to 70th district court. Don Glass, currently being held in Midland, will be brought here to face a forgery charge. Bill Allen will face trial on two counts of forgery. Indictments on burglary counts were returned against two brothers, Walter Flowers and James Flowers. Walter is being held in Lamesa on a similar charge while James is in the state penitentiary. They are accused of breaking into a local bus station and stealing a safe. Newton C. King, accused of taking money from a local creamery earlier in the week, was billed on a burglary count while J. L. Sanderson finds himself faced with three charges of swindling by bogus checks. John Carpenter must face trial for burglarizing a local business house. Another indictment, which accuses a person charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicants (second offense), was also returned.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

"And Joseph, who by the apostles was surnamed Barnabas (which is, being interpreted, son of exhortation), a Levite, a man of Cyprus by race."

Thus we are introduced to Barnabas, whose name heads this lesson. He was a steadfast man, a friendly man; and just, one who not only was a zealous preacher and teacher of the gospel, but traveled extensively to spread it to all who would hear him.

We first hear of him when he sold his land and laid the proceeds at the feet of the apostles at Jerusalem. This was shortly after the first persecution had taken place in Jerusalem, and this fourth chapter of Acts tells of the beautiful spirit which possessed the members of this small congregation, who were banded together in love of one heart and one soul. They owned all things in common, and funds were distributed to each man as he had need.

We next hear of Barnabas when Saul (later Paul) came to Jerusalem. Paul tried to join the Christians in their church group, but they were afraid of him because of his former persecution.

Barnabas, however, was not afraid. He "took him, and brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he, Paul, had spoken to him, and how at Damascus he had preached boldly in the name of Jesus."

Reports came to the church at Antioch among the Gentiles where Peter had preached, so they sent Barnabas to Antioch. He was rejoiced at the spirit of the Christians at Antioch, and he exhorted the people there, "for he was a good man, and full of the Holy Spirit and of faith; and much people was added unto the Lord."

Barnabas then went to Tarsus to seek Saul, and when he had found him they returned to Antioch together and stayed a whole year. It was at Antioch, you may remember, that the followers of this new religion were first called Christians.

The group at Antioch was a remarkable one, with prophets and teachers—"Barnabas, and Symeon that was called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manaen, the foster-brother of Herod the tetrarch, and Saul."

As they "ministered to the Lord and fasted, the Holy Spirit said, Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them." After the group fasted and prayed, they laid their hands on these two men and sent them away.

This was Paul's first great missionary journey, and at this time Barnabas was mentioned first. The start was not made from Jerusalem, but from Antioch, where the
