One of the planks in the liberal philosophy platform has been that "guns are bad". Of course, the recent tragic events have reinforced this viewpoint in the minds of many citizens. This has led to a demand on Congress, if our electronic media are to be believed, for stricter gun control laws. We do think that the sale of firearms should be restricted to responsible parties with legal and legitimate reasons for so buying.

We do not believe that crime will be seriously curtailed by a strict gun law. On the contrary, we think that it may lead to more crime against the person. We think that a disarmed citizenry is an easy target for criminals. We think that a person wanting to commit a crime will obtain a gun no matter what legal barriers are in the way. Therefore, it looks to us like the average law-abiding citizen is the one who in the long run will suffer for the gun-law madness currently sweeping the country.

We feel that the current lawlessness is a direct result of a political philosophy that has not held the individual responsible for his acts. We feel that this breakdown of law and respect for law took a massive step forward in the elections of 1960 and the trend toward moral decay was accelerated by the 1964 election.

We hear constant railing against the Supreme Court and its decisions. Well, the administrations since 1960 have appointed the majority of those on the court who are currently engaged in turning all of our nation's condemned murderers loose. We hear constant complaint about the lack of prosecutions by the Attorney General of the United States. The Attorney General is a direct appointee of the administration and holds office at the pleasure of the chief executive officer.

We cannot but inescapably feel that many who have suffered because of a general moral decay and breakdown of law and order in many instances are reaping the bitter fruits of their own philosophies. We in this country must have a return to old fashioned "Puritan" ethics. We must condemn the individual for his acts and not always blame society. We feel that criminals should be PUNISHED as well as rehabilitated. We feel that many people SHOULD starve if they won't work. We feel that gainful employment IS within the reach of everyone who really wants to work. We feel that education HAS been placed within the reach of almost all who sincerely want to be educated. We feel that God has died within the individual and within the country; He has not died in Heaven.

Until we can separate true morality from political kookum, until we can place moral good ahead of individual gain, we will continue to reap the whirlwind. These are somber thoughts, ones we would rather not expose to the public, but our ears have been dinned so much about our "collective" guilt for this and for that, that we want to state whom we believed were more INDIVIDUALLY responsible instead of WE being COLLECTIVELY responsible.

Farwell Chamber Sets Meeting

Regular meeting of Farwell Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture is set for Tuesday, June 25, at noon at Gateway Restaurant, according to Dutch Quickel, secretary.

A good attendance of all businessmen, members, prospective members, and agricultural men is urged. More members are needed in the Chamber and all persons interested in becoming members are urged to attend the meeting and pay their dues, according to Quickel.

FIRST LOAD OF WHEAT in Farwell for the 1968 harvest season was brought in to Worley Grain Company Friday, June 14, by Clarence Johnson, who farms 15 miles east of Farwell. The 19,640 lb. load of Tascosa had a moisture content of 11.90 and weighed 62 lb. per bushel. The wheat was making 50 bushels per acre, according to Herb Potts. Johnson received a premium of $25 on the load of wheat.

Commission Plans Fire Works Sale

Farwell Youth Commission is making plans to sell fire works at the stand across from Rose Drug prior to and during the July 4 holiday. Present plans call for the stand to be brought in and set up no later than Tuesday.

The fire works stand will be operated by volunteer workers from among residents of Texico-Farwell who are interested in seeing that youth work is a growing thing in the Twin Cities. All fathers of boys who play on the Pee Wee, Little League or Pony League ball teams are especially invited to volunteer their services to man the stand.

Joe Jones, who heads the commission, states that present plans call for each person to work no more than one time (if enough persons volunteer). Funds raised by sale of the fire works go into a fund to buy equipment for the ball teams and for other youth projects in the Twin Cities. The stand will be open each day in the afternoons and all day on Saturday.

If you have a child playing on one of the teams and are interested in seeing the program grow, make plans now to volunteer for an afternoon at the fire works stand. Your help will be appreciated. Persons interested in assisting at the stand are asked to contact Joe Jones at Security State Bank or at his home.

Rep. Clayton Opposes Mini-Bottle Liquor Sale

In a telephone conversation with representatives of the Tribune early this week, Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake stated the bill calling for mini-bottle liquor by the drink passed in the House of Representatives by a small margin.

Representative Clayton opposed the bill all the way and says he feels the bill is demagogging and the legislation is unworkable. Clayton said, "We fought heavy odds and lots of outside influence and we were outvoted. We felt it was our responsibility to continue to oppose the bill. Some amendments were added to the bill that will cause the Senate to take a close look at the overall picture. Perhaps they will vote NO on the bill."

Clayton tried to convince members of the House that the legislation was bad, but in the end, the measure did receive enough votes to finally pass. The legislation now goes to the Senate and the fate of the "mini-bottle liquor by the drink" is in the hands of the Senate, said Clayton.

Texico School Needs Three Teachers

Superintendent A. D. McDonald of Texico School reports that the board hired one teacher, Mrs. Charlotte Greathouse, at the meeting of the group last week. Mrs. Greathouse is a graduate of Eastern New Mexico University and will be teaching music and band at the school. She taught in Texico School for approximately six weeks, near the end of the 1968 school year, replacing the former music teacher who resigned.

The school is still in need of a high school mathematics teacher, an assistant coach, and an upper elementary grade teacher.

The tutoring program at the school (summer school program) got underway Monday. Jim Rogers, elementary principal, is directing the work. Teachers for the classes include Mrs. Jim Rogers, Mrs. Avis Patterson, Mrs. Sylvia Burgett and Robert Taylor. Students who are attending the classes spend approximately 45 minutes each day doing special work in fields in which they need help. The work is set up on both the elementary and secondary school levels.

Fire Runs

The only run made by either of the local fire departments during the past week was one on Sunday afternoon to the area near the home of Hurshel Harding and G. M. Medley where a fire, set by Harding to burn stubble from a field, was getting out of bounds.

IF ONLY BRICKS COULD TALK -- Then these bricks torn out of the old Texico School building, erected in 1918, would have many a tale to tell. About all that remains of the once proud building is a pile of rubble. Crews are making good progress in wrecking the building. Bricks are being sold and hauled away almost as fast as they are torn down. When the wrecking work is completed the ground will be levelled and made ready for the beginning of school and hopefully a new building in the not too distant future.

Mission Has Good Attendance

The Spanish Baptist Mission which is meeting at Farwell City Hall has been having good attendance, according to Frank Ancira, pastor. He states that 20 persons have been in attendance at the services each Sunday and several persons have made professions of faith. The pastor invites all Spanish speaking persons to the service.

Farwell School Hires One Teacher; Needs Five

Vacation Church School A Success

Mrs. Dan Gurley, superintendent of the Vacation Church School at the local Methodist Church reports that a very successful school was concluded with a picnic last Thursday.

Theme of the school was "Our place in the World" and various classes studied different sections of the overall topic.

At the program on Thursday, each class presented a short program and received certificates of promotion and children with perfect attendance were given special recognition. Thirty-five children has attended each day and a total enrollment of 55 was noted.

WRECKING CREW AT WORK -- Jim Pierce, high school principal at Texico school, is heading the work of wrecking the old Texico School building which was condemned several years ago. The crew has been making good progress since the operation began two weeks ago. Pierce, left, stated that he hopes the wrecking work will be completed in another two weeks.

Rain Report

Sunday evening, a sudden rain storm brought approximately .70 inches of moisture to residents of Farwell; while B. A. Rogers reported one half inch of moisture in Texico. Reports from around the area show varying amounts of rainfall from a trace to one half inch.

In Farwell, some hail was reported, enough to cover the ground, but no damage, while residents of the surrounding area report little or no hail.

Tuesday evening, more rainfall was reported with Mike Landrum, State Line Grain, reporting only 1/10 inch in Farwell. Reports from the outlying areas indicate that the rainfall was from one half to three quarters of an inch south of town and lesser amounts in the area north of town.

Showers were predicted for the remainder of the week by weather observers at Amarillo.

Approximately 28 persons were in attendance at the Ladies Night ceremonies at which the new officers were installed.

Dollar has recently bought a home in Farwell and will be moving in the near future.

In other business, town dads gave approval for the new real estate owners, Jim Pierce, Howard Leavell, Jim Rogers, and Eddie West, on Craig Ave. (in north Texico), to tie on to the town water and sewer lines. The owners are to furnish an easement.

Street repairs were also discussed and the notice to bidders submitted by Ralph Douglas, civil engineer, was approved. Bids will be opened on June 26, 4:30 p.m., at the town hall. Street repairs will begin immediately.

Also discussed was improvement at the city disposal; no action was taken and the issue was tabled for further discussion.

The police magistrate report in the amount of $361 for the period May 10-June 10 was approved. The town marshal was given permission to have the brakes on the police car repaired. All other business was of a routine nature.

Serious Injuries Result From Sunday Accident

Serious injury resulted to Mrs. Euel (Billie) Mitchell of Lazbuddie on Sunday evening in a two-car accident involving the Mitchell auto and one driven by Gail Morris, also of Lazbuddie.

Mrs. Mitchell is hospitalized in Littlefield with what Patrolman Robert Shedd, who investigated the accident, described as serious internal injuries. Other persons riding in the Mitchell auto were not injured. Morris was alone in his auto at time of the accident. He was taken to Clovis Memorial Hospital where he is receiving treatment.

The accident is alleged to have occurred when the Mitchell auto pulled into Farm Road 1172 from in front of the Methodist church at Lazbuddie at approximately 6 p.m. It was struck by the Morris vehicle, according to Patrolman Shedd.

O. C. McBride Dear Turnrow Tunkel . . .

DID YOU know that "indoor gardening" is becoming popular in this country? The Department of Agriculture has even published a guide on the subject.

No wonder many foreigners think Americans are nuts. How else can you explain people who build a house with a fancy kitchen and dining room on a large lot, then cook and eat their food in the back yard and plant a garden in the house.

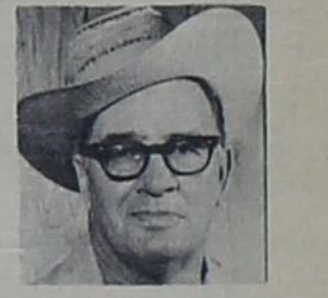

I READ that Ronald Reagan wears cowboy boots. I'll bet he doesn't even own a cow. If everyone who wears cowboy boots owned a cow, beef wouldn't be so expensive today.

IT IS rumored that Ramsey Clark will soon be offered a Federal judgeship. Is this a scheme to ease him out as Attorney General because he has been lax in fighting crime? Probably, but I don't see how it will help matters. As Attorney General he hasn't arrested many criminals, but as a judge he'll be in a position to turn loose the ones that have already been caught.

DO YOU believe flying saucers really exist? I didn't for a long time, but now I wouldn't rule out the existence of anything. The other day I met a fellow who had actually won a prize in one of those gas station sweepstakes.

DID YOU know that ketchup is now available in a bottle with a neck wide enough that a spoon can be inserted? That's the trouble with people these days--all they think about is security. Spooning ketchup on food might be safer, but we would lose the suspense and adventure connected with pounding on the bottom of the bottle.

A TOP Hanoi spokesman said recently that as soon as the U. S. agrees to stop all bombing in Vietnam, the talks can proceed to the next stage. Why are the talks being held in stages? Apparently we are going to surrender the same way we tried to fight the war -- gradually.

Kenny Campbell, center, was named the senior who has contributed the most to athletic achievement during his four high school years, at Westernville, Ohio High School recently. At left is Yvonne, his mother, who was recently named the country's most outstanding kindergarten teacher, and on the right is his father, Don, vice-president and general manager of West-Camp Press, Inc. Kenny is a nephew of John McFarland and has been crippled since the age of three days.

Kenny Campbell Conquers All

(EDITOR'S NOTE -- Following is an article taken from the Public Opinion of Westerville, Ohio, telling of the award received by Kenny Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Campbell of Westerville and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. McFarland, former Friona residents, and a great-grandson of Mrs. J. B. McFarland of Friona. He is also a nephew of John McFarland of Farwell.)

Young Kenny Campbell, 17 years of age, has been crippled since the age of three days, being completely paralyzed from the waist down. He recently received the award for contributing the most to the sports program in his high school for a four-year period, where he served as manager of the football, wrestling and track teams. He received a standing ovation.

Young Campbell will graduate this year and plans to enroll in Ohio State University. He has an older sister who is a junior in college. His mother recently received the country's outstanding kindergarten teacher award and his father is vice-president and manager of West-Camp Press, Inc. at Westerville.

"We have never seen the likes of Kenny Campbell in all our days of beating around the sports beat for many years. He's a rare one, one of those Babe Ruth kind that come along every generation to leave an impact on everyone and everything touched by them.

"Kenny has been the student manager at Westerville high school for football, track and wrestling for almost four years.

"He's more than dedicated to his job. He's fanatical about it. Ken lives and breathes the air that dwells around athletics at the school.

"Every student who has been blessed by being around Ken's determination has come away stronger than before.

"The story is that the varsity football team of 1967 that went undefeated would have liked to have found a way for Ken to have donned the uniform and scored a touchdown.

"When the Westerville Booster Club recognized him last week by singling him out for the 'outstanding contribution to athletics at the high school during his four years', it was a fitting climax that caused a standing ovation for this fine gentleman.

"We don't remember who coined the phrase 'It couldn't have happened to a nicer guy' but they must have had someone like Kenny in mind when they coined it.

"The school won't be losing Kenny even though he will graduate this year. He will leave behind high standards for others to follow and that is, in itself, a tribute to a kid who didn't let crutches and crippled legs keep him from becoming a man."

Running Water Draw Project Revised

By Jerry Isbell
Work Unit Conservationist
Parmer County
Soil Conservation Service
The revision of the tentative work plans for upper watershed protection projects on Running Water Draw have been completed. The revised work plan for Upper Running Water Draw Watershed calls for three dam sites.

One will be in Curry County north of Clovis, and two will be in Parmer County -- one north of Bovina on Catfish Draw and one large site north of Lazbuddie on Running Water Draw.

The tentative work plan was revised by the Soil Conservation Service at the request of the local sponsors. Money to pay for the redesign of the Lazbuddie site was made available by the Parmer County Commissioners Court. The Lazbuddie site had to be redesigned to hold more storage as a result of the Bovina site on Running Water Draw being deleted from the work plan. This site was deleted from the work plan at the request of the local sponsors.

The entire project is being carried out under the authority of the Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act (Public Law 566, 83rd Congress). The primary purpose of the project is flood prevention. Major floods on this draw cause severe damages to crops, fences, farm improvements, county and state roads and bridges, and low water crossings in the agricultural area of the watershed. Severe damage is also done to industrial, commercial, and public properties in the city of Plainview.

The entire project has been divided into two subwatersheds to facilitate planning and administration. Upper Running Water Draw Watershed covers Curry and Parmer counties while Lower Running Water Draw Watershed covers Castro, Lamb, Swisher, and Hale counties. These two subwatersheds have been developed simultaneously since they are component parts of the whole watershed.

Only one small recreation area is planned, and that is the Clovis Site, just north of Clovis. It is anticipated that some forms of private recreation enterprise will be established at one or more of the other structures.

Work In Bible Schools In Valley Area

Sue Lawson, daughter of Mrs. Mazie Lawson and Polly Dollar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Dollar, were among the 25 young people from the older Girls' Auxiliary and Young Women's Association from the Llanos Altos Association who recently spent a week in the Valley area of Texas participating in Bible School work.

The girls along with other volunteer workers from the Association held Bible schools in Donna and Alamo, Texas, working with the Spanish speaking groups. The afternoons were spent doing personal witnessing in homes of residents of that area.

Since returning to Farwell, Polly and Sue have spoken to groups telling something of their experiences in the area and of the primitive conditions under which they worked.

Persons working in the Bible schools in that area were sponsored by churches in the Llanos Altos Association. Sue and Polly were sponsored by the local First Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Don Moss and children, Mike, Jeris and Rick, spent the weekend visiting in the home of Mrs. Jim Moss. The entire group attended a family reunion in Amarillo Sunday.

New Mexico Boys State Report

By Rex Richardson
I would like to thank the sponsors of the 1968 Boys' State for one of the most wonderful weeks of my life. My sponsors, Texico - Farwell Lions Club and Texico PTA, made it possible for me to attend the sessions, and I wish to ask them to continue as sponsors, since I am sure every boy feels as I do; it is a week well worth my time.

We left Clovis around 8 a.m. on June 1 and arrived in Roswell at New Mexico Military Institute around 11:30 a.m. to begin a week that I shall never forget. There were approximately 574 boys in attendance, and all of us believe that we had the best Boys' State in the 21 years the sessions have been held.

There were eight cities and four counties and I managed to become a citizen of the best of each I lived in the city of Mendoqa, the county of De Vargas. Mendoqa had 64 citizens and the least demerits of any city. These demerits were given for unclean rooms, mirrors, windows, floors, beds, etc.

Each year a new song is chosen by the leaders to awake the Boys Staters each morning. Our song was "It's Time for Living," followed by "Please Release Me."

I ran for the office of county commissioner, but lost the final election, and was appointed to city sanitation department engineer post and as county agriculture agent. Through this experience, I learned to accept defeat, along with victory, because as we were told, everyone at Boys' State is a winner; and I'm sure you don't realize how true this is.

We were given much information concerning the FBI, Air Force Academy, New Mexico State Police, the Constitution, parliamentary law, American government, New Mexico government, Flag etiquette, West Point Academy, and the names, addresses, and sponsoring organizations of every person attending Boys' State.

We were also given another booklet titled, "The American Legion Twenty-first annual session", which contained an hour by hour schedule of our life at Boys' State and which became our bible for the one week.

The slogan of this session was "Democracy Depends on Me." Concerning this subject we heard such speakers as Dr. C. L. Kay, Hon. Gayle Harris, mayor of Roswell, and several American Legion members. I enjoyed it all!

I would like to thank all those who made it possible for me to go. I only wish every boy could have the opportunity that I have had. I hope in some way, I can live up to their expectations.

By Bobby Peugh

June 1 I began a week which proved to be one of the most rewarding experiences of my life. During this week I attended Boys' State sessions at New Mexico Military Institute.

After arrival and registration, we were assigned to quarters. All delegates attended the first general session during which addresses were made by Mayor Braynard of Roswell, Reed Mulkey, Boys' State president, and Joe Faddoul, 1967 Lt. Gov. of Boys' State.

Following the first general session, all cities were individually photographed after which a period of recreation was held prior to lowering of colors. In order to receive the evening meal each boy was required to write a postcard to his parents. They also made a pledge to write home at least three times during the week.

After the evening meal, all junior and senior counselors were introduced as well as 1967 Boys' Nation delegates. Immediately thereafter, taps were sounded for the close of our first day of a very exciting week.

Each day at Boys' State has a certain routine with everyone up at 6:30 and in attendance at the flag raising ceremony, chapel service and calisthenics. Following breakfast the days activities began. Each city is inspected and cities march to the cafeteria in order of their scores on inspection. All cities march to meetings in formation. A two-hour recreation period is held each afternoon, with colors lowered following the recreation period. Following the evening meal, more business sessions are held and the evening concludes with taps at 10:30 p.m.

Sunday, every citizen of Boys' State is allowed to attend the church of his choice. I attended First Baptist Church of Roswell, where my fellow Boys' State delegates and I received a cordial welcome. Sunday afternoon, city government was explained in detail following which a law and law enforcement school was conducted by an FBI Agent and a lawyer.

By lights out on Sunday, each city had met in party sessions (Federalist and Nationalist) and nominations were completed. Monday, all cities met for sessions in which both parties were allowed to campaign and city elections were held. We

They will be designed to help boys and girls do a better job of selecting, feeding, fitting, showing and managing their projects according to Dean R. Hurlbut, director of junior activities for the American Angus Association.

Sponsors of the event will be the Texas and American Angus Associations in cooperation with the four area Junior Angus Associations organized last winter throughout the state.

The five day schedule will be climaxed on Saturday June 22 with the Texas Angus Association field day at Black Champ

Farm near Waxahachie. It will be an all day event and feature a cattle judging contest. Guest speaker will be Dr. Doyle Chambers, director of the Louisiana State University agricultural experiment station.

Work On Record Books

Members of the Oklahoma Lane 4-H Club met at the community center last Tuesday for a short business meeting and social.

No new business was brought up and members spent the afternoon working on their record books, with Ronny McNutt and Cricket B. Taylor, County Extension Agents, assisting club members with record making and by passing out pamphlets which will help them in various projects.

Two games were played by the group.

Attending the meeting were Ronny McNutt, Mrs. Cricket B. Taylor, and Mmes. Gladys Kaltwasser, leaders; and Bruce and Steve Kaltwasser, Cheryl Kaltwasser, Joe and Mark Haseloff, Harold Lee and Conda Jones, Cheryl Gohlke, Gene Charles Christian, Mary Helen Gohlke and Cary Haseloff.

We learned more by experience than we could learn from any book, Boys' State gave me a deep impression of our country's greatness. It helped me to appreciate the sacrifices made to make our country the great nation she is and also to appreciate its democratic system of government.

All Boys' State delegates consider the week one of much learning and I would like to thank the American Legion, the local sponsors, and the community for the opportunity of attending such a session. I hope the program will continue and all delegates in the future will have just half the fun I did!

Each program will include demonstrations on how to recognize correct beef type, and clipping, grooming and showmanship. In addition to a talk on AHIR will emphasize how youngsters can do a better job with their Angus heifers projects by enrolling in the program. All interested persons are invited to attend.

The schedule and location of the field days are:

June 18 - 2 p.m., High Plains Junior Angus Association field day, Lee Gibson ranch, Borger.
June 19 - 2 p.m., Abilene Area Junior Angus Association field day, Abilene Christian College, Abilene.

June 20 - Central Texas Junior Angus Association field day, Dan Lehmerg Ranch, Mason.
June 21 - Gulf Coast Junior Angus Association field day, Double D Farms, Bellville.

June 22 - 10 a.m., Texas State Field Day, Black Champ Farms, Waxahachie.

Out Home In Parmer County

By CRICKET B. TAYLOR
County HD Agent

Hats off! --- to Parmer County 4-H girl, Jan Jameson of Friona 4-H Club, Jan competed for state honors recently at the State 4-H Roundup at Texas A&M University with her demonstration on Foods and Nutrition. She won a blue ribbon, scoring as one of the top eight contestants in the State. A total of 23 participated. Jan said it was a real experience for her --- staying in the dormitory, meeting other 4-H'ers from all over the state, and enjoying recreation and other activities provided for 4-H'ers while there.

CLOTHING PROJECT work for 4-H members is getting in full swing. There are many more girls who want to take clothing project work than there are leaders available to work with them. This is especially true in the Bovina club. The County Dress Revue is only a month away -- July 19. Lazbuddie is the place chosen for the Revue and Lazbuddie Home Demonstration Club will serve as hostess and be in charge of decorations.

4-H club picnics are being held throughout the county. Farwell recently held their picnic at Farwell City Park. Friona 4-H clubs are planning a skating party July 8 in Farwell. Oklahoma Lane 4-H'ers are making plans for a trip to see the play "Texas" at Palo Duro Canyon. Fun is in store for a lot of youngsters this summer.

4-H meetings this month are devoted to record keeping. The Extension Agents show members how to compile records and discuss importance of 4-H records.

His unit, the 832nd Supply Squadron, represented the Tactical Air Command in stiff competition for the trophy that is made available through the Order of Daedalians, an organization founded by World War I pilots.

The sergeant is a 1951 graduate of Hubbard (Tex.) High School.

initiation with succeeding applications made on 10 to 20 day intervals until pods are well filled. The most efficient use of total water, rainfall and irrigation, has been obtained from a preplant plus 2 summer irrigations (bloom stage and 20 days later). An additional irrigation may be necessary in early September if soil moisture is not replenished by rainfall.

On The Farm In Parmer County

By RONNY MCNUTT
County Agent

The following information on irrigation is a summary of work conducted by Lubbock Experiment Station over past years. Irrigation of grain sorghum, cotton and soybeans will be discussed.

GRAIN SORGHUM

The critical stages of growth that require adequate soil moisture for maximum yield potentials are the boot, bloom and soft dough. The pre-boot stage of growth may also be considered under high yield cultural practices when deficient rainfall is encountered for an extended period of time after seedling emergence.

Tests show that if only one summer irrigation is applied, maximum yield and efficiency is obtained when the application is timed at the boot stage which is generally 45 to 50 days following planting. When two summer irrigations are planned, the first should be timed at boot and the second at bloom stage for maximum yield and efficiency.

If three irrigations are planned, applications should be made at pre-boot, first bloom, and soft dough. When four irrigations are planned, the first application should be made at pre-boot followed by applications made at approximately ten-day intervals.

COTTON

The most critical period of water used by cotton is the peak bloom stage. Tests show that if producers can apply only one summer irrigation, highest yields and water use efficiency are obtained when cotton is watered 20 to 30 days following bloom initiation.

Cotton irrigated twice was found to produce more efficiently when the first application was applied at bloom initiation and the second, 16 to 30 days later. Intervals between irrigations will usually be shorter for sandy or shallow soils than for loam or clay soils and will vary with rainfall.

If three irrigations are available, applications should be made at the first bloom stage, peak bloom and at about 20 days following the peak bloom application.

SOYBEANS

Maximum yields from soybeans normally require a summer irrigation prior to bloom

Generations

Isn't it grand when the whole family reunites on holidays or on anniversaries! How good to see grandparents and great grandparents and the new crop of babies. Seeing them all together gives you a feeling of continuity, and a sense of oneness with all creation.

It gives you, also, a glimpse of God's plan in the life cycle. When you see the off-spring of the patriarch grandfather, you marvel at the great legacy he is bequeathing the world. All the children that have issued from him are in themselves a great contribution to the world of mankind.

There is marvelous potential in all these spirits. The great things they will do thrill your heart when you contemplate them.

This legacy of lives and spirit can be strengthened, sweetened and nourished by the church. We invite you to take your family to church this week.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH

THE CHURCH IN EVERY HOME

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Coleman Adv. Ser.

Quit ironing!

Get a gas dryer.

And start replacing your clothes and linens with things that have the new Permanent Press.

(These are the ones that are sewn before the press is baked in.)

Almost every store has them: fine shirts, dresses, blouses, skirts, sheets, pillow cases.

And everyone wants them. Because they iron so beautifully in a gas dryer.

There's a dial setting for Permanent Press on most new gas dryers. A few minutes of gentle tumbling and your things come out with creases sharp and flat areas flat.

It's much, much better than line-drying.

It's better even than you can do on an ironing board.

And you'll not only free yourself from ironing, but you'll save money on the things you send out to be ironed.

In fact, you'll probably save enough money to pay for a dryer real fast.

So pick one out this week: A nice, 1968 automatic gas dryer. And quit ironing! Southern Union Gas Company

Recent Ceremony Unites Barbara Orr, Jim Morton

Barbara Joan Orr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Orr of Tahoka, became the bride of Jim Morton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Morton, Dublin, Tex., formerly of Farwell, in a 2 p.m. ceremony at Tahoka Church of Christ on June 1.

The double ring ceremony was read by Eugene Robertson, pastor of the United First Methodist Church in Dublin. The couple pledged vows before an altar setting of baskets of pink daisies and palms of emerald greenery.

Wedding music was sung by a chorus from the Lubbock Broadway Church of Christ. Serving her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Charles Carpenter. She was attired in a street length dress of pink crepe and carried a bouquet of pink daisies.

Charles Morton served his brother as bestman. Ushers were Mike Orr, brother of the bride, and Sam Morton, brother of the groom.

The bride, escorted and presented in marriage by her father, chose a sleeveless street length dress of candlelight crepe featuring a lace empire bodice and a matching full length lace coat. Her veil of French illusion fell from a satin rose enhanced by pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and orchids atop a white Bible given to her by her grandmother.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the T-Bar Country Club.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M., the bride wore for travel an orange and beige suit with beige accessories. Complementing the ensemble was the orchid corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet. After returning from the trip, the couple is at home at Tech Village Apartments in Lubbock.

The bride is a 1966 graduate of Tahoka High School and the groom is a 1965 graduate of Farwell High School. Both are spring graduates of South Plains College at Levelland. The groom plans to attend Texas

Registered Appaloosa Horse --

Pay Day Britches Makes Fine Record

By Chris Moss

It was around three years ago that Leon Sherburne walked into his house (living in Clovis at the time) and calmly announced to his wife, Frona, that he had bought a horse. "What's so different about owning a horse?" one might ask, to which we would quickly reply, "nothing" except that Leon, a lad from Maine, who had only been in the area since 1958 knew little or nothing about horses.

However, Mrs. Sherburne had been reared on a farm in the vicinity of Rogers, N.M., and had grown up around horses, therefore, she was delighted with the idea of owning a horse—and "what a horse this one proved to be." The animal a registered Appaloosa, Pay Day Britches #54,643 had been bought from Jack Snipes and Sons by Sherburne when the animal was an eight month old colt.

At the time Sherburne bought the horse Snipes, who is a breeder of fine horses made a prediction that the newly acquired animal would never place lower than fourth in a halter class at horse shows, and this prediction has come true with Britches never placing lower than third in the three years the Sherburnes have owned him.

Upon acquiring the fine horse, Sherburne immediately began studying to learn as much as possible not only about the Appaloosa horse breed, but also about showing horses.

In a three year period Pay Day Britches has won a total of 23 ribbons and 12 trophies since entering the showing for the first time in 1965. As a yearling stallion he was winner of six firsts, four seconds and three thirds in the halter class, winning first place at the New Mexico State Fair, high point at the Eastern New Mexico Appaloosa Horse Club and also high point of the Golden Spread Horse Club. He tied for high point in the over-all Golden Spread Appaloosa Horse Club in 1966.

The following year the Sherburnes were unable to show Britches except for a few times, due to an injury he received. However, in the three showings he came away with ribbons and trophies, placing third at the Sweetwater show; first at a Melrose show and second at the only other show he entered.

Following the injury the Sherburnes decided to have the animal gelded and since that time he has taken a year out to recover from the injury and is now back in shape for the showing. To date this year he has won a first place and a Reserve Championship at halter and is making a fine showing in the western pleasure class.

The Sherburnes plan to show Britches throughout the summer and hope to have many other ribbons and trophies to add to their ever growing collection before the season is over. "We are learning more all the time and plan to add to our string of horses" stated Mrs. Sherburne as she told of some of the things "they" as a family have learned from training this fine animal.

The Sherburnes moved to Texico-Farwell two years ago where he is employed by Cifford-Hill. They have one son, Terry Lynn, age six. Terry is as enthusiastic about horses as are his parents, and one can only guess that with their guidance he will be raising Appaloosa horses before he is much older.

The Sherburnes explained that the Appaloosa horse is much like the quarterhorse in that it can be, and is, used for pleasure riding, as a cutting horse, a rodeo animal and for work on a farm or ranch (anywhere that a good riding animal is required).

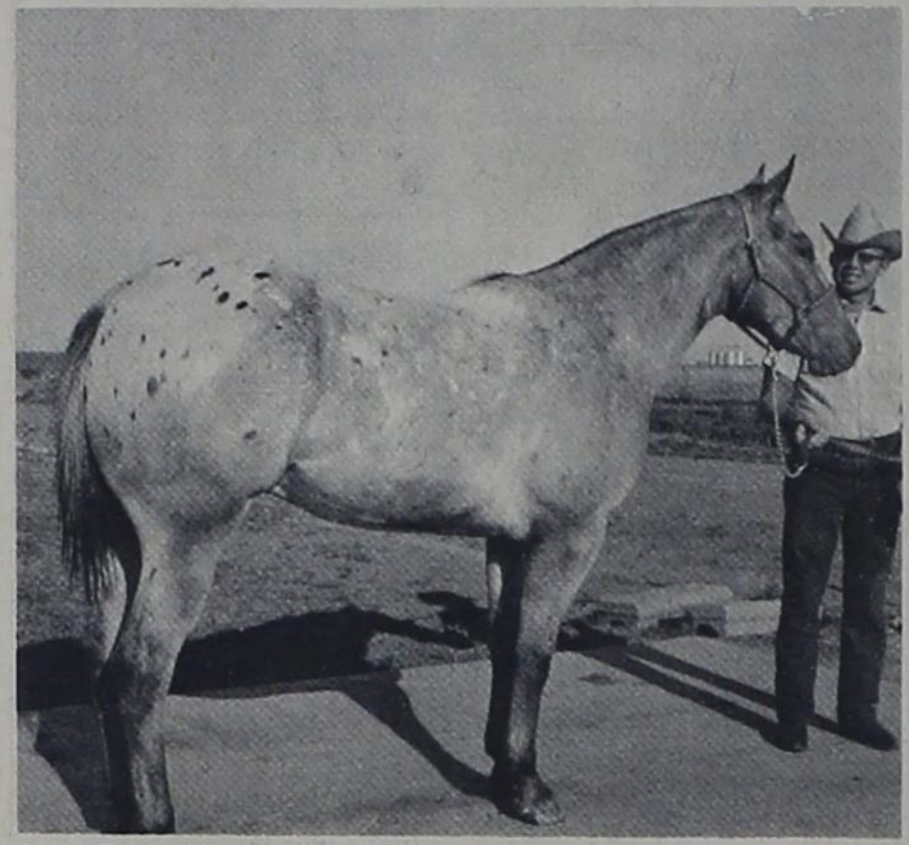

Mrs. Sherburne explained that there is a great demand for good Appaloosa horses and that the Appaloosa breed is the fastest growing breed of horses in the world at the present time. They are planning to buy additional animals for breeding purposes from the Snipes Appaloosa farm in the near future, but they do not plan to turn Pay Day Britches #54,643 out to grass for many years, but will continue to show him since he is "one of the greatest horses ever!"

ONLY A FEW of the trophies and ribbons won by Pay Day Britches in the past three years are shown by Mrs. Sherburne and son, Terry. The registered Appaloosa horse is expected to win many more trophies and ribbons this year in various divisions of shows throughout the area.

NOT FOR SALE -- Leon Sherburne, owner of Pay Day Britches, registered Appaloosa horse, stated, "The animal is not for sale at any price," as he told something of what he has learned about horses since obtaining the animal which has done "right well" in the three years he has owned him. Sherburne is enlarging his horse herd by buying Appaloosa mares and colts which he hopes to show along with the prize winning gelding.
