Prosperity Is Seen For Next Six Years

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. (AP)—Good times for the next six years are foreseen by Agriculture Department economists.

Even if a moderate recession should come, they regard living standards as sure to remain far above the 1935-39 level.

The economists have set forth their views in an unofficial report prepared for field workers and state agricultural extension workers in advising farmers on future crop operations.

This document—based on the assumption of a relatively stable peace—says that full employment during some and perhaps all years between now and 1955 is a distinct possibility, notwithstanding the likelihood of additional postwar adjustments.

"If the adjustment is relatively mild, centering in prices with little interruption to production, the chances for an extended period of full employment are good," said the report.

Under such conditions, it added, employment would be maintained close to 1948 levels and might even increase slightly in line with population increases.

The economists figure that under conditions of high employment, spending power would be as high as in 1948. But with a prospect of lower prices, this amount of money actually might buy 10 per cent more goods and services than this year and 50 per cent more than in the prewar period.

In the case of a recession—with 10 per cent fewer jobs and incomes down 25 per cent—total purchasing power would be down only about 5 per cent, they say. This is because prices might drop as much as 20 per cent.

However, the per capita buying power still would be about one-third higher than in 1935-39, when unemployment was of comparable size.

"It is not expected," the economists state, "that the general level of prices would return to prewar levels."

Their reasoning on this point is that wage rates have doubled since 1939 and are relatively inflexible in business downturns.

Israeli Occupy Beersheba, Mother City Of Arab Race

TEL AVIV, Israel, Oct. 21. (AP)—Beersheba, mother city of the Arab race, was occupied today by Israeli forces after a bitter battle, a Jewish army spokesman announced. The battle raged even as a Jewish cabinet notified the United Nations its troops would quit the fighting in the Negev Desert area of Southern Palestine 12 hours after it was assured by the United Nations that the Egyptians also would cease fire.

The fighting will continue meanwhile, a spokesman said. He indicated Gaza, capital of the Palestine government proclaimed by the Arabs, was among the goals of the Israeli southern offensive.

Egyptian planes bombed the Tel Aviv area today, only a few hours after Israel's decision on the cease fire.

Beersheba, in South Palestine, was the southernmost extremity of the Holy Land of Bible days.

The city is on the borderland of the southern desert area. The name means "Seven Wells." It was reputed to be the scene of the digging of the wells by Abraham and Isaac, as recorded in Genesis. Abraham is called the father of the Semitic races.

Beersheba was one of the first cities occupied by the Egyptians in their invasion of the Holy Land, and had been reported by the Cairo press at the time as "captured."

Israeli seizure of the city opens the road to two Jewish settlements which were isolated since early in the year. They are Biet Ishel and Nevatim.

The Israeli air force raked Gaza and other southern towns held by the Egyptians. Their planes also struck at Beersheba ahead of Jewish ground forces, bombing and strafing Egyptian forces. Arabs fled to the hills under the attacks.

One of the towns evacuated by the Arabs and now controlled by the Jews is Beit Natif, 10 miles west of Bethlehem on the Egyptian supply route to forces manning the southern front at Jerusalem.

Israelis do not yet occupy Beit Natif but they have taken the heights around it and thus undermined Egyptian positions facing southern Jerusalem, an army source said.

Schools Spark Chest Drive Up To $14,000

Prompt response to appeals in Big Spring schools brought encouragement to Community Chest officials today as total contributions reached $14,000.

Jo Hestand, president of the Big Spring classroom teachers association is supervising the contact work in the schools. All pledge cards for teachers are being processed through the school division, and envelopes for personal contributions are being distributed to all pupils. A number of the envelopes containing contributions already had reached Chest headquarters this morning.

A special meeting has been set for 5 p. m. Friday in the Settles to intensify plans for pushing the drive to early completion. All members of the Chest organization and board members of all participating agencies are being urged to attend the session. They will review progress made in the drive and attempt to develop even closer co-ordination in efforts to quicken the tempo.

Reports from various divisions now active in canvass work were still being received this morning. However, R. L. Tollet, Community Chest chairman, urged all workers to speed the process even more if possible, since prompt reports are essential if up to date tabulations are to be maintained at the headquarters in the Empire Southern Gas Co. office.

Today's headquarters report had not been completed at noon, but it was apparent that contributions on hand attained the $4,000 mark.

Clay Says Koch Crimes Did Not Warrant Term

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. (AP)—Gen. Lucius Clay said today he cut the life sentence of Ise Koch to four years imprisonment because the trial record did not warrant a life sentence. He said the cut was not an act of clemency or generosity.

"My judgment may be wrong but it is in accordance with my conscience," Clay said.

Clay, American commander in Germany, discussed the case at a news conference.

He said his examination of the trial record and reports from his lawyers showed that the charges against the widow of a former Nazi concentration camp commander were based on "hearsay and not on actual evidence."

Stevenson Men Awaiting Prober

AUSTIN, Oct. 21. (AP)—Attorneys for Coke Stevenson today awaited arrival of a Senate election investigator reported en route here to check the runoff primary in which Lyndon B. Johnson won the Democratic senatorial nomination.

One of them, former Gov. Dan Moody, said he had not heard from the investigator, nor had he been notified when he would arrive here.

Stevenson was at his ranch in Kable County.

Yesterday he asked for a senate investigation of the primary in which he trailed Johnson by 87 votes in the official tally. The announcement that an unnamed investigator has been sent to Austin came from Nelson B. Derenian, chief counsel of the senate rules committee's subcommittee on elections.

Officials Say New Greek Aid To Be Needed

Military Drive Will Depend On More Funds

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. Officials said today the Greek military aid program almost certainly will have to be extended another year.

That would mean asking Congress for new funds to finance a second Greek army offensive next spring against the country's Communist-led guerrillas.

State Department and military authorities are engaged in a re-survey of the whole Greek situation.

Recent Washington and Athens reports have said variously that the American-supported effort to secure Greece against Communist expansion: (a) So far has been a "conspicuous success" and (b) has not proven entirely satisfactory.

One fact which persons of both viewpoints here appear to agree upon is that the task first outlined by President Truman to Congress early last year is not completed and more money, barring some unexpected break, will have to be asked of Congress at the next session.

Estimates are not yet ready, but some informants said a "wild guess" is that the Greeks may need about the same amount of help next year as they are getting this year.

For the 12 months which began July 1 they are receiving between $150 and $175 million out of the $225 million fund which Congress appropriated for military aid to both Greece and Turkey.

The conflict in reports on the Greek situation began early this month when President Truman reported to Congress on the results of the aid program up to last June 30.

While he said much hard fighting remained, Mr. Truman's letter dated Oct. 4 said the program had proved a "conspicuous success" in the meeting of the military and economic crisis of the strategic Eastern Mediterranean area.

About the same time press dispatches from Athens said there were more guerrillas operating in Greece than were believed to have been there when the Greek army started its big offensive in the Grammos Mountain area last April.

"I have hit something. I am going on fire. Attempting to climb." Nothing more was heard from the plane.

Identification of the victims, some burned beyond recognition, had not been completed by mid-morning. Only six persons got out of the flaming wreck alive and three of them died a few hours later of burns and other injuries.

The three survivors were reported seriously injured.

Two of the 40 persons aboard apparently jumped out seconds before the plane plunged into the pasture.

One body was found a mile from the wreckage.

The wreckage of the plane was smoldering hours after the crash. An eyewitness said one dead woman clutched the body of a child. Both were burned almost beyond recognition.

Commercial Chick Hatching Drops

AUSTIN, Oct. 21. (AP)—Commercial hatching of chicks in Texas reached a figure of 1,500,000 last month, 17 per cent below September production the previous year, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported today.

During this season of the year, the bulk of the hatch is for broiler production, and demand for chicks was very strong, the reporting agency said.

The average price per 100 for straight run chicks on Oct. 1 was $15.55 for heavy breeds; $14.50 for light breeds; and $15 for cross-bred chicks.

Texas farm flocks laid 172 million eggs in September compared with 174 million in September a year earlier, but the rate of lay at 9.4 eggs per hen was more than last year's of 9.1.

Vandenberg Says Weather Won't Stop Berlin Lift

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 21. (AP)—The Berlin airlift faces dangerous winter flying conditions but it will keep going, Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg told the American Legion convention today.

In an address prepared for delivery before the National Legion parley, the U. S. Air Force chief of staff said:

"To date the operation has been handled with remarkable safety. We have flown special equipment across the Atlantic for installation along the corridor but even so one must expect a less favorable safety record when bad weather descends."

"But casualties or no casualties, the Berlin airlift will keep going just as long as the American people say to us: 'Do the job. Deliver the goods to Berlin.'" Vandenberg promised.

Dobie Accepts Research Grant

AUSTIN, Oct. 21. (AP)—J. Frank Dobie, folklorist and author, has accepted a research grant for study leading to a book he plans, "The Mustang Horse."

Dobie will leave later this month to begin the work under the grant by the Henry Huntington Library in San Mateo, Calif.

New A&I President Former Resident

Ernest Potent, who has been elected president of Texas Arts & Industries college at Kingsville, served one year as principal of the high school here, officials reported.

In 1920 he filled that post and also served as high school football coach.

Big Five In Favor Of Try For Peace

FRENCH MINERS BUILD BARRICADE — Miners in the Roche La Motiere area of France rip up an iron railing to build a barricade as the French government massed 4,000 troops in the St. Etienne sector to combat what it labeled a campaign of "sabotage." The crippling mine strike, now in its third week, has cost France more than 2,000,000 tons of fuel. (AP Wirephoto via radio from Paris.)

French Coal Mines Flooded, Set Afire

PARIS, Oct. 21. (AP)—A force of 1,000 striking coal miners beat back police and were reported to have wounded 30 of them in a 15-minute battle today for the Ricard Mine near La Grand-combe, in south central France.

PARIS, Oct. 21. (AP)—Ten French coal mines have been flooded and one set afire by the neglect of strikers, the interior ministry charged today. There were reports of new clashes between police and pickets as the police used tear gas in clearing the way to pits.

Violence was said to have erupted again at the Combefort Mine near St. Steinne and at La Grandcombe in South Central France. More troops rushed to trouble spots in that section.

Train Mishap Injures 65

GARDEN CITY, Kas., Oct. 21. (AP)—At least 65 persons were injured this morning when the Santa Fe's eastbound California Limited was derailed three miles east of Mansfield Junction.

No deaths were reported.

Ten of the 12-car-train left the rails.

The baggage car was split open like a ripe melon and mail sacks were thrown over a nearby field.

Ambulances sped injured from the wreck to St. Catherine's Hospital here. About 15 were reported seriously injured.

Engineer W. R. Henry, Pueblo, who was not injured, said he felt a bump and the emergency went on the diesel power off.

The big diesel ripped up several hundred yards of rails but did not leave the road bed. It is believed the rear trucks of the first diesel unit left the rail and tearing up the track as the diesel slithered forward.

Brakeman Earl Gentry of La Junta reported finding a broken rail which is believed to have caused the wreck.

Conductor Ed Marshall said about 130 passengers were aboard.

Neutrals Polish A New Formula On Berlin Crisis

Dulles Pledges Renewed Work For Agreement

PARIS, Oct. 21. (AP)—The Five Big powers declared themselves today in favor of settling their differences peacefully.

While the security council's six neutrals polished their new formula for settling the Berlin crisis, the "Big Five" announced support of a Mexican resolution appealing to them to settle their differences.

John Foster Dulles of the United States, in his first speech at this UN session, pledged "renewed efforts" to reach agreement with the other big powers.

Dulles agreed with the Mexican proposal that the great powers had a special responsibility to the world as a result of their strength and importance.

The political committee would debate on the Mexican proposal in a rare atmosphere of friendship and conciliation. Everybody agreed on the Mexican resolution and it was sent to a drafting subcommittee for preparation of a final text.

Informed sources agreed meanwhile that the neutral formula for solving the Berlin crisis had at least a slim chance of success.

An official American spokesman told a news conference the new compromise was "acceptable" and "satisfactory."

He added a warning, however, against too much optimism until the Russian attitude became known.

The plan was submitted to the big four powers last night and will be presented to the Security Council as a draft resolution tomorrow.

Neutral sources said the resolution provided for:

1. An appeal to the four powers to make no move which might lead to war.
2. A call to Russia to lift the Berlin blockade.
3. The four powers to put into action the Moscow pact, making the Soviet-sponsored mark Berlin's sole currency under four-power control.
4. Raising the blockade within 48 hours after approval of the resolution. The Foreign Ministers Council to meet immediately afterward to discuss all German problems.

The proposal, climaxing two weeks of behind-the-scenes maneuvers won qualified acceptance as a basis for discussion from both sides.

Russian Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky was reported by one neutral source to have given his conditional approval to the plan. There was no confirmation of this from the Soviet delegation or any other source, but Vishinsky agreed to send the draft to Moscow for study.

Miscellaneous items, provided there are enough of them, may be exhibited during the Howard County Fair Oct. 28-30.

Leatrice Ross, chairman of the institutional division, said Friday that the Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority would sponsor a miscellaneous booth, particularly for youngsters who have things which they have done themselves. She had in mind handicraft, sketches and paintings, scissor work, etc. Those interested should contact her at phone 1500.

As work at the fair grounds was pressed, Lloyd Woolen, general fair superintendent, said that volunteer workers were being asked to report at the easternmost building at the fair today at 7:30 p. m. They will attack the job of cleaning up this building and putting it into shape for the livestock, poultry and other such exhibits slated to be held in it.

Margaret Christie and Durward Lewter, county home demonstration and farm agents, were busy contacting rural constituents for displays of homemaking and general agriculture items.

JOHNSONS HAVE BIG COURT DAY

AUSTIN, Aug. 21. (AP)—The Johnsons had a day of it in county court here.

When the jury panel was drawn from the jury wheel, 13 Johnsons were on the list. After several were excused or did not show up, there were still seven, including two with the same initials, E. W.

When a six-man jury was finally chosen, the Johnsons were still in the saddle. It included D. W. Johnson, David Johnson and Chester Johnson.

Warren Forced Back To Miami

FORT WORTH, Oct. 21. (AP)—Mechanical troubles developing 100 miles out of Miami, Fla., forced Gov. Earl Warren and his party of 25 to turn back after their regular 7:15 departure schedule this morning.

The trouble was attributed to an oil line leak, airline officials said.

The party departed at 9:47 in another American Airlines flagship, due to arrive here at 3:30 this afternoon. Gov. Warren will still make his speech and radio time is being arranged.

Present plans call for the Republican vice-presidential candidate's plane to land at the Municipal Airport here for a 30-minute stop.

Henry Zweifel, state GOP chairman, said "Gov. Warren will discuss the strong stand of the Republican Party on the tidelands issue."

Fire Danger Still Remains In Oil Well

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 21. (AP)—A danger of fire still remains in Shreveport where workmen are trying to cap a blown natural gas well.

Workers expect momentarily to get a new valve in place atop the well, but natural gas from the well already has filled an area of about four square blocks. Firemen remain on the alert.

The well, which at one time produced 500 barrels of oil a day, had played out and operators were pulling down when the structure erupted Monday with a mixture of oil, gas and salt water spray.

Mitchell Girl Wins 4-H State Contest

COLORADO CITY, Oct. 18.—Colorado City and Mitchell county have proudly welcomed home Jolene Campbell, 16-year-old high school senior, who took first place in the state contest for 4-H girls of Texas, Saturday at the State Fair in Dallas. Jolene, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Campbell, won the coveted first award—an all-expense-paid trip to Chicago—when she competed with other girls from 96 Texas counties in the state-wide Dress Revue. The dress she made and modeled herself to win the trip to National 4-H Congress, November 28, through December 2, was a Cassandra plaid topper jacket which she also sewed herself, coached by the Mitchell county Home Demonstration agent, Mrs. Mary R. Drummond. Her winning costume was inexpensive. Material for the dress cost $7.00, for the jacket, $10.00. The green and brown accessories she wore cost about $14.00 in all. She lives on a farm near Colorado City with her father, mother, and younger brother. Her 4-H Club work was begun when she was a 10-year-old fifth grader in Garner school, near Knott, Texas. She began 4-H-ing as a poultry demonstrator and progressed from that to victory gardens, canning, bedroom redecoration, livestock feeding, and sewing. She never made state, or even county news, with her calves, but in 1945 she cleared $86 on her first steer and the following year, with a calf bought from her uncle, Creath Harvey of Abilene, she made a net profit of $86.

She chose her materials carefully and used a combination of two patterns. She selected plaid for her jacket, she says, "Because it completed my dress costume and yet can be worn with other things I had left from last year." The sleeves can be worn three-quarter or full length. "I decided on this new winter green because it could be worn with either black or brown accessories," she added. The gold gloves and the brown suede cloth hat she wore to win were part of her 1947 wardrobe and had been cleaned for the occasion. Her brown shoes and green suede cloth bag were brand new. Not only is Jolene the first Mitchell county 4-H girl to take first place in the state dressmaking contest, but she will also be the first girl from this county to ever attend the National 4-H Congress. She is the current girl star girl of this county and took the 1948 Mitchell county Dress Revue honors, too. And not only does she make her clothes, she plans, mends, cares for them, and remodels them. When she stood on the stage in Dallas, Saturday morning, and heard herself declared winner over entrants from over the whole state, she acted as typically feminine as her little flared topper looked. She cried. Most of the time this 4-H leader smiles. Back home and at school, Monday, she was all smiles again. "I still can't believe it," she said. "I only wish my parents could have been there. They have been wonderful to encourage me!"

Youth May Have Last Birthday

CHICAGO, Oct. 21. (AP)—Paul Nelson, Jr., who does not know that doctors have told his parents he is near death, will be 17 years old next Wednesday—probably his last birthday. "I'd like to get cards—lots of cards from anybody," said the youth who has been completely paralyzed from the neck down for 14 months as the result of an automobile accident. "And I'd like a canary bird—one that would be singing when I wake up." The walls in Paul's room are lined with cards, messages and gifts from sympathizers all over the country. His father asked that persons sending cards not mention the impending death. Paul recently was removed from a hospital to his home at 2,748 Windsor St. A former athlete at Amundsen High School, he now weighs less than 100 pounds.

Coleman Courts Are Sold For $100,000

Sale of Coleman Courts to Miss Beuna Page, Mt. Pleasant, was announced here Thursday.

Consideration was $100,000, according to C. E. Read, realtor, who handled the transaction for L. E. Coleman. Involved were 61 units in the court proper, two brick store buildings and a service station. The trade is effective immediately and Miss Page, who has mercantile interests in Mt. Pleasant and Midland, is now located at Coleman Courts.

Mr. Coleman, who started the venture more than 20 years ago as "pioneer" in the tourist court field of West Texas, said he planned to assist his son, Fred Coleman, in the latter's operation of an electrical and plumbing shop, and in catching up on his hobby of hunting.

In 1913, Mr. Coleman moved to Big Spring as manager of the West Texas Electric company, which later became Texas Electric Service. He continued in that capacity until about 1924 when a travel conscious public began to stream along the Broadway of America.

He had settled on the eastern slope of Big Spring and the Broadway (US 80) split his property. Night after night he and Mrs. Coleman were besieged with requests from tourists to permit them to camp on their lawn under the cottonwood trees.

Cautiously he experimented with a few cabins, and when these proved to be in constant demand, Mr. Coleman decided that tourist traffic was here to stay. Consequently, he undertook a building program that had, by the early 30's, accomplished 48 units.

Over the doors of these went names of the states in the Union and it was Mr. Coleman's delight to quarter tourists in the cabin which bore their names, if possible.

"It made a big hit with them," he recalled. But the general services made a bigger hit. Those who stopped at Coleman Courts spread word from Coast to Coast so that their friends, in planning their trips across the continent, put Big Spring and Coleman Courts down for an overnight stop.

L. E. COLEMAN

Through the years, Mr. Coleman enlarged the facilities until he had 61 units in all to turn over to Miss Page. The majority of these were two room affairs with bath and kitchen facilities. They were so ideally suited to light housekeeping that during the war—and ever since—they have been much in demand for apartments. Indeed, Mr. Coleman, anticipating the average needs of tourists, blocked out several of the units for permanent residents. He did not forget the transient demands, however, for advertised it (and Big Spring in the process) over the country through distribution of color postcards and satisfied customers.

Faith in the property was matched with investment, and a brick building housing a grocery and a plumbing shop (operated by his son) were erected on one side, and a modern service station on the other. All the while Mr. and Mrs. Coleman maintained their home at the head of the busy thoroughfare, where they intend to go right on "watching the race of man go by."

ABOUT ONLY WAY TO DO IT

SHANGHAI, Oct. 21. (AP)—Silk is getting hard to get in Shanghai.

A customer appeared at a store with the silk ration coupon of another man. The clerk refused to sell him any.

"But," argued the customer, "the man is too old to come down himself to buy it."

The clerk was adamant. Later the customer was back—this time with the corpse of the old man.

"He died," he said. "He got the silk—for a burial shroud."

Porter Asserts Johnson Against State Tidelands

DALLAS, Oct. 21. (AP)—Republican Senatorial Candidate Jack Porter claimed last night that his opponent would not hesitate to take the tidelands away from Texas.

He said in a 23-station radio speech that "the Democratic Party and my opponent are committed to confiscating the Texas tidelands for the federal government."

He said the permanent school fund now pays out about $55 dollars a year for each student.

"That means that if you have a boy or girl in the public schools, the permanent school fund is paying each year approximately $55 towards your child's education. It is estimated that the income from oil royalties under our tidelands will provide an additional sum of $30 per student for the next 20 years."

"This means that your boy and your girl will have a tremendous stake in the tidelands."

Porter was scheduled to speak in Gladewater at 2:15 p.m. today, Longview at 3:30 p.m., Kilgore at 5 p.m. and here at 7 p.m. The Tyler speech was to be broadcast.

His tour was being sponsored by the Smith County Jeffersonian Democrats Club.

New Pipe Set

DALLAS, Oct. 21. (AP)—Construction of a $10 million pipeline from the West Texas Permian Basin to the Lower Gulf Coast will begin about Jan. 1, an Atlantic Pipeline Co. official said last night.

In preparing deviled eggs often a few teaspoons of vinegar or lemon juice added along with the mayonnaise and other seasonings will do a lot to pep them up.

Thurmond Calls For More Wisdom In Race Relations.

ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 21. (AP)—Wisdom in race relations, not racial hatred and prejudice, is the program of States Rights Democrats, says Presidential Candidate J. Strom Thurmond.

The North Carolina governor closed a two-day bid for Georgia's 12 doubtful electoral votes with that assertion here last night.

"We have been accused of waging our campaign on racial hatred," Thurmond shouted to a crowd of 1,500, mostly students, in a University of Georgia auditorium.

"They say we are against human rights. I believe in progress and prosperity for all men, regardless of color. There is not an ounce of racial hatred in my soul."

But, the candidate insisted, "such a program of progress for all can be guaranteed only if the constitutional principle of states rights is preserved with all its force and vigor."

"I will defend, support and protect the right of any state to adopt its own civil rights program. But I will fight to the last against adoption of any such program by the federal government in violation of the Constitution and against the will of the states."

Thurmond said the entire South had one lynching last year while New York City had a murder every day. "Yet they want to pass a federal law against lynching and not against murder," Thurmond said.

"That is because an anti-lynching bill will appeal to racial bloc voters, to well-organized minorities in the doubtful political machine states of the North."

Meanwhile, the Tulsa, Okla., World said last night that Phillips is "expected" to return to the crude oil prices it paid prior to Sept. 28.

Southern Minerals was among a few firms which met a 35-cent-a-barrel crude price increase posted Sept. 28 by Phillips Petroleum Co. Maston Nixon, executive vice president of Southern Minerals, said the return to the old price was effective at 7 a.m. yesterday.

"In fairness to our refinery customers who depend on us for a crude supply we feel this action (the reduction) necessary to restore them to a competitive position with other units in the industry," Nixon said.

Returns To Old Crude Oil Price

CORPUS CHRISTI, Oct. 21. (AP)—A return to the crude oil prices paid before Sept. 28 was announced late yesterday by the Southern Mineral Corp. of Corpus Christi.

Southern Minerals was among a few firms which met a 35-cent-a-barrel crude price increase posted Sept. 28 by Phillips Petroleum Co. Maston Nixon, executive vice president of Southern Minerals, said the return to the old price was effective at 7 a.m. yesterday.

KASENKINA STORY

Greeks Capture Another Vitsi Post

ATHENS, Oct. 21. (AP)—The Greek army today claimed capture of Mount Plati in the Vitsi Triangle, extending recent gains north of the main Vitsi summit.

The communique said Greek forces took Plati after a stubborn battle with Communist-led guerrillas. Rebel forces counterattacked at Koula, capture of which was announced yesterday, but were driven off, a war bulletin said.

Teacher Apprehensively Learns She Is Prisoner

(Copyright, 1948, King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

(The today's article Mrs. Kasenkina tells of her meeting with Soviet Ambassador Panyushkin, of the consulate in the city of her son, of the seizure of her passport, and her apprehension upon learning that she is to be held at the Soviet Consulate. She reveals how Consul General Lomakin and Vice Consul Chepurnykh drilled her in a false story for waiting newsman and how she rebelled at their insistence that she write a tribute to "the great Stalin.")

By OKSANA S. KASENKINA Edited by Isaac Don Levine That the international spotlight would be turned on me, that I would be represented to the world as the protagonist of a bizarre plot, and that I would find myself a prisoner in the Soviet consulate, all within the span of a single afternoon, were inconceivable to me after I left the farm of the Tolstoy Foundation.

Upon my arrival at the consulate, I was taken up to the study of Consul General Lomakin on the third floor. Lomakin introduced him: "This is our Ambassador." I looked directly at Panyushkin and saw deep satisfaction written on his face at the sight of the quarry.

He greeted me coldly. Yet hope stirred within me as he said: "What a pity you didn't try to see me before. Didn't you know that the Soviet government had an ambassador in Washington? Why didn't you come to me in the first place?"

At last, I thought, here was a humane Soviet official who would listen to my grievances and would understand my plight, even my worries over my missing son. I was prepared to hear him re-approach me for concealing the fact that my husband had been purged and for my failure to sail back home on the scheduled boat.

I began to tell Ambassador Panyushkin of the persecution to which I had been subjected during my two years in the United States at the hands of the school because of my constant anxiety to learn the fate of my son.

"And where is your son?" the ambassador asked. When I told him that I had last heard of my boy on January 12, 1942, as reported "missing in action," he said laughing: "Perhaps your son really is still alive."

The ambassador made no offer to have the Army records checked or to help me in any way in my search for information about my son. Instead, he cut the interview short.

"We can't bother with such things now," he interrupted. "We have to expose the Tolstoy Foundation and find out where the Samarin are."

Lomakin and Vice Consul Chepurnykh then took me in hand. Lomakin pointed to an adjoining room, the door of which was open, and said: "This will be your room."

"I had noticed a cot in it, which seemed out of place in an office with three telephones, and decided that preparations had been made in advance to put me up there. I realized that I would not be free to select a residence of my own choice, and was filled with apprehension that the room on the third floor would become my cell."

My passport was taken up and examined. I never saw it again. Lomakin informed me that I would soon meet the representatives of the American press for an interview.

"You will tell them how you were kidnapped," he added. I reflected that since I was apparently myself in the hands of kidnappers, how could I possibly stand up against them now? When asked about my relations with Countess Tolstoy, I emphatically declared that she had had nothing to do with the planning which brought me to the farm of her foundation. I made up my mind that the name of the woman who had suffered so much from Soviet tyranny and was sacrificing herself for the Russian dp's must not be involved in the affair.

"Who did help you?" Chepurnykh asked. "We know all your friends and the people you met," he added. Then he brought up the name of "Gostello" or "Leo Costello," which I had once jotted down on a scrap of paper which had probably been picked up by my landlord Projnikov, the consulate secretary. As the reader already knows, it belonged to a casual acquaintance who frequented the same Central Park neighborhood that I did, and was probably not even his real name.

"Tell them that the marks on your arm were made by Costello," Lomakin instructed me to say to the reporters.

"We'll make a national heroine out of you in the Soviet Union," Chepurnykh said. He tried to buoy me up as he wormed out of me the name of "Dr. Korzhinsky," my other chance acquaintance who had introduced himself to me on Riverside Drive as a compatriot from the Ukraine under the name of Kojanaky.

In the course of the interrogation, when I was already in a state of exhaustion, I described how I met Vladimir Zenzinov, who took me to the Tolstoy Foundation farm, and told of my unhappiness there. Chepurnykh then suggested that I rewrite my original letter to the consulate. I balked at his dictation after I had started the new version with the same beginning, "What happened had to be."

I was unyielding when I realized that what Lomakin and Chepurnykh wanted was a completely new version of my letter, in which I would declare in writing that I had been kidnapped by White Guards, who had drugged me first, and taken me against my will to the Tolstoy Foundation farm. Chepurnykh also dinned into my ears that the new letter must be short, to be exhibited to the press, and must include some tribute by me to "the great Stalin, the leader of my beloved fatherland."

I would not budge, and dropped the pen. Hurriedly Chepurnykh then outlined to me the highlights of the story that I was to give to the press downstairs. It was a nightmarish concoction of a plot which only NKVD minds would invent. The design sketched by Chepurnykh teamed together two total strangers who had never met, "Leo Costello" and Dr. "Korzhinsky," and entangled them with Vladimir Zenzinov and Countess Tolstoy, who had never heard of their existence.

The marks on my arm suddenly assumed enormous importance. I was told that photographers would be present, and that these spots would be material evidence of great consequence. I protested that they hardly showed and that they were meaningless anyhow, as I did not know their origin. All my protestations were brushed aside peremptorily.

I realized that I was in a trap. Lomakin, Chepurnykh and their aides were rehearsing the story with me, and kept briefing me on how to behave and what to say in answer to questions. I was to take the lead from them and do as little talking as possible, so as to give my interpreters the opportunity to explain what had happened.

As I was led downstairs to face a battery of reporters, in a condition of suppressed hysteria, Chepurnykh warned me ominously: "Watch your step!" (TOMORROW: A False Story For The World.)

EGGS SPLATTER ON GLEN TAYLOR IN FLORIDA TALK JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 21. (AP)—Sen. Glen Taylor of Idaho, the Progressive Party's vice presidential candidate, was heckled and egged last night during a speech in downtown Hemming Park.

Taylor delayed the start of his speech when demonstrators shouted for him to "go home," and he cut it short when a loudspeaker company took its equipment away. Numerous interruptions marked the Democratic senator's address, which lasted almost an hour and a half.

One egg thrown in Taylor's direction struck a song leader and splattered into Taylor's hair. Another egg just missed the senator and broke against a picture of Taylor and Henry Wallace, the party's presidential aspirant, at the rear of the speakers platform. One rock was hurled.

A representative of the loudspeaker company said its equipment was taken away because the contract had expired and was not renewed. Taylor said in his speech that "our only hope of getting along with Russia is electing a man they have confidence in—Henry Wallace." President Truman, he said, "doesn't know what's going on."

He declared that three prominent Americans would plunze the United States into war unless they are repudiated—John Foster Dulles, banker and foreign affairs expert, Defense Secretary James V. Forrestal, and William Draper undersecretary of the Army.

Taylor charged that President Truman is "a stooge of this group of evil men" and said Gov. Thomas E. Dewey "will be a collaborator with these three if he is elected."

Street Gatherings Banned In Cuba After Disorders

HAVANA, Cuba, Oct. 21. (AP)—Police banned street gatherings in Havana today after one person was killed and 12 were injured yesterday in disorders over increased bus fares.

Fidel Febles, 37, a bus employe, was shot to death in a fare dispute with a fellow worker. His assailant was arrested.

Student demonstrators roamed the streets stoning buses. A girl was hit in the face and gravely injured.

Some demonstrators battled police who fired into the air to scatter the crowds. Many were arrested. Two men were injured by stray shots.

The disorders broke out after the government had authorized a fare increase to 10 cents in half the bus lines and ordered the five-cent charge retained in the other half. The increases were granted to help the company meet a 30 per cent wage increase.

Amendment On Redistricting Should Get Fullest Support

An issue which probably has been more thoroughly agitated than any other in Texas for at least a dozen years is involved in the second of eight constitutional amendments on the November 2 general election ballot.

That issue is legislative redistricting. The ballot provides for voting "For" or "Against" the following:

"The Amendment to Section 28, Article III of the Constitution of Texas providing for a Board of Apportionment of the State into senatorial and representative districts in the event the Legislature fails to make such apportionment."

This is commonly known as the Moffett Amendment, and is designed to force legislative apportionment every ten years, as has always been intended in the constitution.

It provides that the legislature shall have the opportunity to redistrict itself according to present provisions following each decennial census. If, however, the legislature fails to act, the amendment provides for an automatic board composed of the Lieutenant Governor, Speaker of the House, Attorney General, Land Commissioner and State Comptroller, which will be charged with the task within 150 days after adjournment of the regular session of the legislature which should have redistricted itself, then the Supreme Court of Texas is empowered with jurisdiction to issue a writ of mandamus to force action on the part of the board.

West Texas has been clamoring for redistricting since 1930, at least, and the state's districts have not been changed since 1920. The shift in the state's population in almost 30 years most certainly has unbalanced our legislative representation. It is probable that the West Texas area would gain not more than two or three additional seats in the legislature, but representation even within West Texas would be balanced with population centers, which is fundamental in a true representative government.

There is no basis for the fear that the state's big cities would gain over-balance of representation, because under an amendment voted in 1936 these cities were limited to eight. Since our three largest cities already have seven representatives, their over-all gain could not be out of proportion.

This amendment will make it impossible hereafter for the legislature to ignore the present constitutional mandate, because it allows recourse to the courts. Here is an opportunity to be sure that something is done, just as fair representation demands that it should be done.

This is one amendment which should be strongly supported by all West Texans, and The Herald strongly urges your vote in its behalf.

(This is the second in a series of editorials dealing with the Nov. 2 constitutional amendments. Others will appear in subsequent editions of The Herald.—Ed.)

Prospect Of Early Relief In Picking Situation Not Bright

A brace of showers with thousands of acres of cotton open in the field, has created considerable concern about the 1948 harvest, particularly since the supply of laborers in this immediate vicinity is in short supply.

Some had hoped that the lowering of bars on braceros at El Paso would at least have an indirect effect, but of course this move died aborting. Mexico protested the action and the braceros were beginning to disperse over such wide areas that it would have been difficult if not impossible to control their movements and eventually their return to Mexico.

Meanwhile, the lower fringe of the South Plains has been caught in a somewhat abnormal situation. The Texas Employment Commission, which keeps a daily check on an area and state basis, reports that a crucial situation in this territory has resulted in a great degree of early completion of the harvest in South and East Texas and the late opening of cotton here. Compounding the situation, the crop in the north opened ahead of schedule this year and with little or nothing to attract them when they first streamed above the Cap Rock, the migratory laborers took out for the High Plains. Once ensconced, they are difficult to move.

Prospects for early relief are not exactly good. As the harvest in Scurry and Mitchell counties eases over the hill, some pickers may be diverted in this direction. Occasional crews drifting in from the north may be stopped. Meanwhile, we shall have to hope largely for a good break in the weather to spare the crop until the northward surge of the migratory crop recedes and the backwash brings us general relief. It now appears not only that the harvest will be short—but late.

Boss Can't Discharge Two Or More Complaintants

WASHINGTON, — A COUPLE OF men, or a dozen or a hundred, can tell the boss they don't like the way he runs his business.

And he can't fire them for it. But—its all right only so long as two or more do that. If one man by himself tries it, the boss can—if he wants to—bounce him on the spot. Why?

The reason was made pretty clear this week in a case that went up to the Supreme Court.

Since what happened in that case applies to most bosses and workers, this is an explanation:

Ten salesmen in the Chicago branch office of the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Co. got sore.

The CASHIER WAS LEAVING, THE fourth cashier in a couple of years to leave.

And the cashier was important to them; they felt, in helping with their accounts. So each time a new cashier was hired it slowed them down.

They agreed to tell the boss in a letter how they felt, with two of them writing it and all 10 signing it.

The boss fired out about the up-coming letter and fired the two men who were going to write it.

The salesmen were just 10 employees who wanted to tell the boss what they thought. But in a case like that, since they were not union members, what could the two fired men do?

They went to the National Labor Relations Board — the government agency which carries out the Wagner and Fair-Hartley national labor laws and interprets them when some question of meaning arises.

THE NLRB DECIDED THE BOSS HAD no right to fire the men, that under the law he had engaged in an unfair labor practice. Why?

Because the law says "employees shall have the right to . . . engage in concerted activities for the purpose of . . . mutual aid or protection."

And the law says any boss who interferes with that right of employees under the law commits an unfair labor practice.

So the NLRB ordered the boss to give the men their jobs back and pay them for any earnings lost while they were out of a job.

The insurance company refused. And the NLRB went to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals to make the company obey. The court upheld the NLRB. Then the case went to the highest and last appeal: To the U. S. Supreme Court.

On Monday the Supreme Court said it would not review the case. Which means: The verdict of the NLRB and circuit court stands. The men have to be rehired.

BUT NOTE SOMETHING: THE KEY phrase in the law covering such a case is "concerted activities," which means action by two or more employees.

Jigsaw Puzzle Of Peace Keeps Changing Pattern

WASHINGTON, — FIVE YEARS AGO next month Hans-Norbert Finkel came to the United States as a German was prisoner.

He had been captured in Tunisia with Field Marshal Rommel's Afrika Korps.

Finkel, now 28, is back in America again. This time he is a guest under different circumstances. He is one of 15 German editors and publishers attending a seminar of the American Press Institute at Columbia University.

These visitors from Europe's uneasy fulcrum attended a couple of news conferences here. They were impressed by the informality and freedom with which reporters questioned government officials, and said such conferences would have been impossible in Germany under Hitler.

They also said some nice things about America. But guests usually say nice things. Since Finkel, now political editor of Dena, American-licensed German news agency, had looked at the United States from both sides of the table, I asked him what he found most disappointing in this country.

"THIS SPIRIT OF SUPERFICIALITY," he said, "and I don't mean just politically."

"Here, if you get an idea, you try to do something with it fast—give it a practical application. You say, 'let's try it.'"

"In Germany we try first to find the theory underlying the idea. The German is bound to ask, 'what lies behind it?' And this is true of all Europeans."

Record Of Congress Resembles That Of Garbled Politics In U. S.

Copyright by Bell Syndicate, 1948.

WASHINGTON — The record of Congress during recent years is not unlike the present garbled politics of the country. Party lines have been cut. Republicans sometimes voted with Democrats; some Democrats lined up with Republicans.

This will probably continue. It will probably also be true that Dewey will get as much support from certain Democrats as he will from some Republicans. On international issues—now probably the most important—before Congress—it is certain that most Democratic senators will give him more backing than such isolationists as Brooks of Illinois, Dworshak of Idaho, or Robertson of Wyoming.

In fact, the irrepressible, lovable Rep. John Taber has already served notice that the GOP isolationists are planning to give Brother Dewey a rough time on two issues—economy and international co-operation.

Electing the right kind of Senate, therefore, is second only to the election of President. With this in mind, here is the merry-go-round roll-call of U. S. senators up for election next month:

Joseph Ball, Republican, Minnesota—A mixed-up personality who gets tangled in his own emotions. A former editorial writer, Ball came to the Senate determined to do right, but when he swung to Roosevelt in 1944 he was so ostracized by his own Republicans that, to win back their favor, he swung to the reactionary extreme. Joe has now been on so many different sides of so many different fences that he has lost his usefulness.

Stiles Bridges, Republican, New Hampshire—A tough, forthright scrapper who has usually voted against his isolationist GOP colleagues. He watches pennies, raises Cain over too much spending and frequently votes against the GOP reactionaries. Bridges is an asset to the Senate.

"Curley" Brooks, Republican, Illinois—Brooks has been opposed to almost all of Dewey's New York record. A likable personality with a charming wife, Brooks is wholly controlled by the Chicago Tribune and is almost proud of it. If re-elected he will be in Dewey's hair on many issues.

John Cooper, Republican, Kentucky—has made an excellent record during his brief term in the Senate, has supported Democrats on foreign policy, and will be an asset if re-elected.

Henry Dworshak, Republican, Idaho—Along with Curley Brooks, he is the most dyed-in-the-wool isolationist in the Senate. Dworshak permitted his mailing list to be used by a Hitler propagandist, was glad to have the support of Gerald L. K. Smith, and is one of the few Western senators who didn't fight hard for reclamation. His mediocre Senate record includes trying to get an honorable discharge for an American soldier convicted of rape, murder and running a boy down with a motorcycle. Dworshak will be no asset to Dewey.

Homer Ferguson, Republican, Michigan—Came to the Senate with a record for graft cleanups and as long as the Democrats controlled the Senate, Ferguson had a healthy knack of keeping them on their toes. Once he got into power, however, Ferguson lost that knack. He made a fool of himself in the Howard Hughes investigation, was bluffed out of his probe of Senator Thomas of Oklahoma when Thomas threatened to go after Ferguson and, finally, dropped the Tucker auto investigation for reasons best known to himself, but after the GOP national committeewoman from Michigan was paid $17,850. A homey, congenial personality, Ferguson won't stand up under fire. He has lost all chance of being Dewey's attorney general—the job he so ardently coveted.

Ed Johnson, Democrat, Colorado — A tough veteran who knows his legislative onions, Johnson does a good job for his state and his voting record usually represents the folks back home. He is a competent public servant.

Montana—though a millionaire, Murray has spent all his years in the senate battling for the underdog. No senator on either side of the aisle has a better record. On international issues and such domestic problems as health and housing he will support Dewey far better than his GOP colleague from Montana.

Edward V. Robertson, Republican, Wyoming—Manager of the Coe Ranch, owned by his brother-in-law, the senator has been the undying friend of the big sheep and cattle men, but voted against most measures for labor and the little fellow. Born in England, he married the daughter of H. H. Rogers, partner of old John D. Rockefeller. Robertson has usually voted isolationist and though a wealthy man has had his wife and chauffeur on the government payroll.

Stars Have Pitched Into '48 Campaign

HOLLYWOOD — Hollywood which takes politics pretty seriously, has pitched into the 1948 campaign, although not with the fervor of former presidential races.

Most active of the campaigners are the republicans, contrary to previous years when FDR supporters hogged the spotlight. Headed by President George Murphy and Vice-President Robert Montgomery, the Hollywood republican committee has mobilized a large number of stars to speak for the Dewey cause.

Film personalities have been sent (usually at their own expense) to serve as window-dressers at GOP rallies throughout the country. Among the volunteers:

Ginger Rogers, Walter Pidgeon, Walt Disney, Anne Baxter, Ann Southern, Ann Sheridan, Mary Pickford, Robert Taylor, Dennis Morgan, Jeanette MacDonald, Lionel Barrymore, Barbara Stanwyck, William Powell, Victor Moore, Charles Coburn, Harold Lloyd, Hal (Gildersleeve) Peary.

Hampered by scanty campaign coffers, the democrats have not been as active. Hollywood's part in the race has been handled by the labor league of Hollywood voters, headed by many local AFL chiefs.

The league, chairmanned by actors' President Ronald Reagan, is described as non-partisan, pro-labor and anti-communist. Plunking for revision of the Taft-Hartley act, it supports the Truman-

Chapman Revercomb, Republican, West Virginia— Handsome, smoothtalking, likeable Chappie tangled with Dewey over the displaced persons bill and was even criticized by his own church (Presbyterian) for religious discrimination in connection with this bill. Chappie has consistently voted with the big business interests of his state.

George Wilson, Republican, Iowa—A likable, sweet character, Wilson gets along with all his colleagues, but has been unable to conquer one serious weakness. A man in high public life must necessarily remain reasonably temperate. Unfortunately, Wilson has missed many senate sessions and important committee meetings because of his intemperance.

Leverett Saltonstall, Republican, Massachusetts—A Boston blueblood who dates his ancestry back to the pilgrim fathers, Saltonstall votes right more frequently than he votes wrong. He casts rather a thin shadow on the Senate, however, and sometimes seems almost frightened, of that shadow.

Kenneth Wherry, Republican, Nebraska—A likable, rollicking legislative roustabout, Wherry has been wrong on a painful number of issues but deserves credit for his untiring leadership of the Republican side. He has harassed and whipped his GOP colleagues into a smooth-working Senate machine, and it took a man of Wherry's energy and brass to do it.

Other senatorial candidates will be covered in future columns.

Sometimes There's Lesson In What We Don't Undertake

Judge Cecil Collings tells this one about his more youthful days.

At the time, his family was living on a farm which had its water well located a considerable distance from the house. Upon reaching the age of duty, the Judge fell heir to the onerous task of hauling water in a big oaken bucket for various household uses.

It seemed to the future jurist that his mother could never get enough water to wash, cook and clean their home.

There were times, he admits, when his father would spell him at the distasteful job.

Late one lazy afternoon, little Cecil was enjoying particularly his reverie when his father's voice boomed forth from the house:

"Son, your mother needs some water in the kitchen. Would you please fetch it for her right away?"

Every bit of Cecil rebelled but with much effort he raised himself and trudged toward the shed where the bucket was stored. Each step brought a thought of distaste for the duty just ahead.

When he reached the shed door, Judge Collings relates, he stopped and prayed to the Lord that the bucket beyond that barrier might be filled with water so that he might be relieved of his back-breaking work.

The door was opened and a faithless hand was jerked suddenly by the weight of the bucket as it was lifted from its hook — full of water.

From that day forward, the Judge declares that he has never been able to find out who was shaming him, his Heavenly Father or his earthly one.

German Editor Calls Berlin Battle The Fight For Europe

By RELMAN MORIN

For DeWitt MacKenzie

"IF YOU GIVE UP BERLIN, YOU give up Europe," the German said. "It is as simple as that."

He is a Berliner, a member of that group of newspapermen who have been in the United States studying American newspapers and their methods. Quite probably, his opinions are weighted on the side of American policy in Germany, since he lives under the protection of American arms, and practices his profession by virtue of an American license.

However, he is no yes-man. He is quietly critical of some phases of American policy, but not as it relates to Berlin.

His reasoning, I think, is worth reporting, as a counterpoise to the arguments of many Americans who believe we have blundered terribly by clinging to our perilous toehold in Berlin.

The answer of the German editor: "In the first place, if you get out of Berlin—suppose you withdraw to the Anglo-American zones of occupation in the West—then you merely transfer the point of friction.

"YOU WOULD STILL HAVE A COMMON zonal border with the Russians. The incidents and the causes of tension would quickly begin to appear there. They would find excuses and reasons for interference in Bizonia, just as they have in Berlin—most probably over the administration of the Ruhr."

But, he said, a result of vastly greater consequence would accrue if the Americans pulled back.

He estimated that less than one per cent of the German people, even those who live in the Russian zones, are Communists or even Communistically inclined, at this point.

"Statistics, of course, would show a much higher proportion. But you must remember that, for a German living in the Russian area, it is much wiser to pay lip service to the Russians and their ideas than it is to openly speak one's mind.

"There is a matter of ration-cards, living quarters, and employment. It might even be the difference between life and death."

Nevertheless most of those people are, as he put it, "standing firm in the dark."

THROUGHOUT THE REST OF Germany, there are millions of other Germans who not only pin their hopes on the western Democracies but have put their lives on the line by taking jobs—such as his—under the western military governments.

"It is not difficult to picture the fate of these people if all Germany comes under Russian control."

To a lesser degree, he said, the same is true of all western Europe. Again, he argued, it includes those "satellite" nations that are now in Russian hands.

Their resistance, he believes, will vary in direct ratio to the amount of resistance the United States, as a nation, presents. As you hold your lines, they get bolder. If you retreat, they will retreat, morally and psychologically, with you."

In short, to one Berliner, the battle for Berlin is the battle for Europe. The actions of those Europeans who actively oppose Soviet encroachment, and of the enormously greater number who are simply watching and waiting, will be determined by what we do there, said the editor.

Today And Tomorrow — Walter Lippmann

Amazing Air Lift Buys Time To Haggle On Berlin

(Copyrighted by New York Herald Tribune Staff, 1948.)

By the air lift to Berlin the United States Air Force has done something which was certainly not foreseen by the Russians nor is it fair to say by the statesmen of the West. The principal effect of this remarkable and original improvisation has been to postpone the necessity for a solution of the Berlin crisis. Without the air lift the choice would by this time have been between appeasement and war—the surrender of Berlin or an armed challenge to the ground blockade.

The air lift has enabled us to remain in Berlin and to feed the Germans in the Western sectors without attacking, except by diplomacy, the Soviet blockade. As a result, the Russians have been confronted with the choice of accepting the air lift or firing the first shots in a world war. Thus far they too have preferred diplomacy—as they understand diplomacy.

The air lift has, therefore, succeeded in offsetting, sufficiently for the time being, the inherent strategic advantage which the Russians have because Berlin is deep inside their zone of military occupation. But the air lift is, nevertheless, only a means of postponing a showdown or a settlement. It is not, and it cannot be made, more than that. The air lift exerts no compulsion on the Russians to remove the ground blockade; it merely enables us to refuse to be coerced by the grouse blockade.

The air lift is not an instrument of decision but an instrument which provides time during which decisions can be made.

Time is being bought by the air lift which, given the circumstances, has had to be bought. The circumstances could and, in the view of some of us, should not have been what they are: It was unwise to force the German issue this year. But it was forced. After that, time had to be bought. For no one was ready to deal with the German issue which had been forced.

The main reason for a postponement of a showdown and of negotiations for a settlement are our own election, the uncertain political condition of France, the primitive state of the Western Union and its defenses, and the lack of an agreed conception here and among our partners as to what is to be the principle and the shape of a German peace treaty.

Though it would have been wiser to temporize with the German question until next spring, until the new Administration was organized, until the Marshall plan was taking effect, until the plans for Western Union were adopted and in effect, rather counsel prevailed and it was not done. The air lift has however been improvised. It has done what could have been done more cheaply and less dangerously by diplomacy—that is to say, it has enabled the statesmen to temporize with the German question.

It is evident that in one way or another the need to temporize will be there for some months to come. Even if a compromise is arranged in Paris which deals with the blockade, the currency, and a meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers, such a compromise now can be only an arrangement to postpone the serious business.

For the outgoing Truman administration cannot negotiate a German peace treaty, not even with the utmost in collaboration under the bipartisan understanding. General negotiations for a German peace treaty cannot be undertaken until the Dewey administration is firmly installed. For the negotiation of a peace treaty will require new decisions of high policy which are not now covered by the bipartisan understanding. There is some reason to think that this determining fact is understood abroad, not only in London and in Paris but also in Moscow and in Warsaw.

Important District Games Dot Hi Football Program

REAGAN MEETS PORT ARTHUR

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Mighty Port Arthur meets undefeated, untied John Reagan of Houston in the standout game of a crowded Texas schoolboy football schedule this week.

It's another test between the best of Class AA and the City Conference and it overshadows the most important array of conference games on a week-end this campaign.

Port Arthur, rated No. 1 from the start of the season, already has turned back the Brackenridge (San Antonio) powerhouse, and now moves against a top club of the Houston district in the City Conference where there are three unbeaten teams.

Two more undefeated clubs also get together, both in District 14 of Class AA where they will be battling for the top rung. They are Alice, unbeaten and untied, and San Benito, undefeated but tied by Weslaco of Class A.

There are 54 games on the week-end card with conference tilts in 17 of the 18 districts in the city conference and Class AA.

Most important conference contests are the Alice-San Benito battle; Odessa and San Angelo in District 5; Breckenridge-Stephenville in District 7 and Gladewater-Texas in District 8 of Class AA and Brackenridge-Alamo Heights in District 4 of the City Conference.

At least two teams will fall from the state's unbeaten list. The Reagan-Port Arthur tilt will remove one undefeated, untied team or both; the Alice-San Benito will take out either one undefeated, untied team or an undefeated, once-tied eleven, and Stephenville, a member of the select circle, faces trouble aplenty from Breckenridge.

The week's schedule by districts (conference games except where indicated otherwise):

CITY CONFERENCE:
1. Thursday: Crozier Tech (Dallas) vs. Adamson (Dallas); Dallas vs. Houston (Houston); Dallas vs. San Antonio (San Antonio); Dallas vs. Woodrow Wilson (Dallas).

4. Thursday: Jefferson (San Antonio) vs. Harlandale (San Antonio); Friday: Breckenridge (San Antonio) vs. Alamo Heights (San Antonio); Saturday: Lamar (San Antonio) vs. San Antonio Tech.
CLASS AA:
1. Friday: Brownfield at Amarillo, Brownfield, Okla., at Borger (nonconference), Plainview at Pampa.
2. Friday: Bonham at Childress (nonconference), Guadalupe at Hollis, Okla. (nonconference), Electric at Graham.
3. Friday: Midland at Abilene, Odessa at San Angelo, Sweetwater at Lamesa.

14. Friday: Brownville at Robstown, Kingsville at Edinburg, Harlingen at McAllen, Alice at San Benito.

HOOSIER HOTSHOT. — George Taliaferro (above) has been the standout back in the University of Indiana backfield all season. Against Indiana, Taliaferro scored three touchdowns. He's a tremendous punter.

Georgia Tech Engineers Assume Lead Among Defensive Elevens

NEW YORK, Oct. 21. (AP)—By holding Auburn to net gain of 65 yards last Saturday, unbeaten Georgia Tech became the defensive standout among the nation's collegiate gridiron powers, the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau announced today.

The Yellowjackets, who yielded 89 yards through the air but threw Auburn for a loss of four yards on the ground, moved up from third place in the bureau's defensive rankings as North Carolina State dropped from first to fourth while losing to North Carolina.

With four victories in as many starts, Georgia Tech leads the country in defense against rushing as well as in total defense, against both ground and air attack.

Vanderbilt, Tulane, Washington and Lee and Auburn have hurled a total of 213 plays against the Rambling Wreck, which has yielded a total of 169 yards on 135 running plays and 321 yards on 78 aerials. That's an average yield of 42.3 yards per game on the ground and an overall average of 122.5.

Still, defenses continued to crumble all across the country's collegiate gridirons with unprecedented regularity. Such teams as North Carolina, Ohio State and Minnesota, for instance, were unable to vault into the top ten despite yields of 100, 112 and 140 yards to their respective foes.

Penn State, which finished the season with the best defensive record in the nation last year, tumbled completely out of the bureau's total defense listings when West Virginia amassed 285 yards in losing to the Nitany Lions, 157 of them by air.

South Carolina moved from fifth to second in total defense and North Carolina came from far back to take over the third spot.

With Georgia Tech moving from fourth to first in rushing defense, Cornell stepped up a notch to second, replacing Penn State which slumped to sixth. Cornell's record, showing an average yield of 52.5 yards per game to four opponents on the ground, will be severely tested Saturday against Army, whose offensive record on the ground is tops.

Northwestern lost its place as the best defender against forward passes while being bumped from the unbeaten ranks by Michigan. Brown took over the lead. Brown has yielded an average of 32.3 aerial yards to four foes. The yardage allowed per game serves as the basis of ranking in this department.

The last major uncrossed goal line disappeared Saturday when Duke defeated Maryland.

Furman, with Paul Stombaugh kicking at a record pace, leads all the teams in the punting department. Stombaugh is average 45.4 yards on 36 punts.

Walker Aiming For New Record

DALLAS, Oct. 21. (AP)—About the only thing Doak Walker hasn't done with a football is blow it up. Some of these days they may fall on him for that and what'll you bet he can't do it?

Right now he's busily engaged in setting a new scoring record in the Southwest Conference. The Southern Methodist All-America has made 53 points in four games and has six to go. The record is 125 set by Joel Hunt at Texas A&M, in 1927. At Doak's present pace he will have over 130 when the season ends.

If ever there was a more versatile football player, they don't remember him in the Southwest.

Walker is a runner (he's gained 91 yards on 42 carries); passer (he's completed eight out of 14 for 78 yards and two touchdowns); punter (he's taken four back for 106 yards); pass receiver (he has caught seven for 228 yards and three touchdowns); kick-off returner (he has taken two back for 68 yards); defensive player (he has saved a flock of touchdowns with jarring tackles and has intercepted three passes and run them back 75 yards); blocker (he's the best at this on the Southern Methodist squad); punter (he leads the Southwest Conference with an average of 37.2 yards on nine boots).

Can you think of anything else? Doak isn't working as much this season as last or he would have more impressive figures. He hasn't had to. The Mustangs have been far ahead more times than last season, so the little man could rest up.

Last year he averaged 55 minutes per game; this year he's averaging only 48. The only time he's gone over 45 minutes was against Missouri. He played 58 in that one because SMU needed him all the time trying to keep from being defeated.

There's really nothing much new can be said about Walker, the nation's magazine pin-up boy. Lester Jordan, publicity man at SMU, was asked for an angle.

"It's worse than trying to find an angle to a straight line," quoth Jordan. "I can't think of any and if you do please let me know."

AIN'T TALKING

Mum's The Word For New Pilot Of Gothamites

GLENDALE, Calif., Oct. 21. (AP)—Casey Stengel made it clear today that he isn't crawling out on any limb in regard to his new job as manager of the New York Yankees baseball club.

Home after all the hubbub attendant to his re-entry into the realm of major league ball, Casey lit a long, fresh cigar, propped his feet on one of Mrs. Stengel's nicest pieces of furniture and began to talk.

"I realize I'm taking on a big, tough job but I feel very fortunate and I appreciate the confidence placed in me."

"Some people are saying," he mused, rather seriously for Casey, "that I got the job simply because of my close friendship with Del Webb and George Weiss."

"Personally, I don't think they're going around handing out jobs like that just because they know a fellow by his first name."

"I was in the organization in 1945, managing Kansas City, but I had to go out and work my way back to the majors, just like a player."

Casey climaxed his efforts you know, by piloting Oakland to the Pacific Coast League pennant this year.

Will he receive $35,000 per year with the Yankees, as reported? Stengel grinned.

"I am getting enough. Just let it go at that. Mrs. Stengel has been in every store along the West Coast from Mexico to Canada and now she's got the whole eastern half of the country to work on. So let's just kind of skip the exact amount and say I guess we'll be able to limp along all right."

As for operational plans, Stengel said only "I'm not going out

NEW CLASS D LOOP FORMED

LAREDO, Oct. 21. (AP)—A Class D South Texas Baseball League of six teams was formed here last night.

Franchises went to Laredo, Corpus Christi, Kerrville, Del Rio, Victoria and Brownsville.

Bill Lucy of Del Rio was named league president, Autrey Walker of Del Rio treasurer and Tim Driver of Laredo publicity director and statistician.

Local Juniors Play S'Water

Sweetwater's Junior high school football team and the Big Spring Yearlings were due to tangle in a game starting at 3:30 o'clock here this afternoon.

The Yearlings have been battered by San Angelo in their last two outings but figure to do better this time out.

The cigar smoke swirled above Casey's head and he gazed out over his handsome home and swimming pool. Casey won't be relaxing long and he's enjoying a rest while he can.

Bear Gridders Of '10 Plan For Reunion

WACO, Oct. 21. (AP)—The football team that got mad at the referee, walked off the field and lost the championship will hold a reunion here Saturday on the occasion of the Baylor-Texas A&M game.

It was 38 years ago that Baylor University had one of its greatest teams, headed by T. P. Robinson, a gridiron immortal in Golden Bear annals. In those days Baylor was in the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association, forerunner of the present Southwest Conference.

The team won six games and tied two, rolling up 217 points to the opposition's 17. But one of those ties was the undoing of the Bears. Baylor and Texas were deadlocked 6-6 when the Bears strode from the field in protest against a referee's decision. It resulted in a forfeit and Baylor didn't win the title.

Saturday 13 of the 18 boys who made up that team will be here to be entertained with a breakfast, luncheon and ride in the homecoming parade. Then they'll sit behind the Baylor bench during the game.

All 18 members of the Baylor 1910 squad are still living but two couldn't be located and several sent word they wouldn't be able to attend the reunion.

Coaches of the team were Ralph Glaze of Dartmouth and Enoch Mills of Colorado University. Both are dead.

Those who will attend the reunion are: Robinson, who lives at Eldorado; O. M. Harrell, Hillsboro; H. G. Isbill, McGregor; John M. Fouts, Dallas; E. T. (Bull) Adams, Glen Rose; C. M. Henry, Dallas; C. P. Mosley, Jacksonville; L. C. (Pat) Newman, Dallas; R. L. Hefley, Crist; Col. Neil S. Edmonds, Oklahoma City; W. A. (Jack) Little, Dallas; Horace Murphy, Ballinger, and V. D. Slaughter, Sherman.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Odessa is talking 'howl game'. With its new half million dollar athletic plant as a talking point, the town has begun to boom a Jan. 1 football game without mentioning what kind of attraction would be proffered. Obviously, two college elevens would be booked.

The Odessa promoters know, without being told, that the attraction would have to be good to fill the 17,000 seats in the new park. Football fans there support their high school team, good or bad, as well or better than any other city in Texas. Unfortunately, that does not mean they would go for any kind of gridiron far.

Nevada university would be an excellent lure for the fans for such a game. And the Odessa backers would probably stand a pretty good chance of getting the team to come to West Texas. Sugar Bowl promoters revealed recently that the Wolfpack will be considered for the New Orleans classic but that is about as far as the thing will go. Nevada, despite its great team and equally great record, isn't the "name" school the Sugar Bowl needs to sell it to the public.

The same probably goes for the Cotton and Orange bowls. The Nevada school officials would probably talk 'turkey' with the Odessans, if they were contacted immediately.

LOCAL COUPLE PLANS TO SEE SUL ROSS PLAY

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hayden are planning on going down to Alpine this weekend to see her son, Hal Battle, and the rest of the Sul Ross Lobos play the University of Corpus Christi Tarpons. Sul Ross is unbeaten and untied and will probably be, after this weekend. Corpus isn't due to give the Lobos much of a battle.

SMU MUSTANGS HAD BEST BE PREPARED FOR ANYTHING

The high-flying Southern Methodist Mustangs had best be prepared for anything in their inter-sectional game with Santa Clara Broncs this weekend in Dallas.

The Californians have always been noted for their aggressiveness, both off the field and on. This year apparently is no exception. A few years ago, a Santa Clara team headed by the great Nello Felgshi came to Fort Worth and a rough, bruising football game resulted. Hard words were exchanged between the two clubs.

Back in 1946, in an Arizona-Santa Clara game, fists flew on the field of play to such an extent that a riot squad had to be called out. Last weekend, the Broncs walloped Loyola university down in Hollywood but seconds before the game ended a gang fight broke out in front of the Loyola bench. Most of the members of both teams participated in the melee.

FORMER ODESSA SCRIBE NOW WITH HOUSTON PAPER

Roy Scudday, who wrote sports for the Odessa paper a couple of years ago and who quit to go into the restaurant business, is now a sports scribe for the Houston Chronicle.

Roy was succeeded at Odessa by Gene Creggston, who in turn gave way to Tom Smith, the present sports editor over that way. Gene is now associated with the Abilene Reporter-News.

STAR LINEMAN WANTS TO PLAY IN BACKFIELD

PULLMAN, Wash., Oct. 21. (AP)—The "Lineman Of The Week" wants to be a fullback.

Laurie Neiml, 240-pound tackle for Washington State College, was thrilled today to be named the country's top lineman for the week in an Associated Press football poll.

But it would be a greater thrill for him to make a touchdown.

"That's been my ambition," he said. "In college and all through high school I wanted to play in the backfield."

You'd never think he was dissatisfied with his job if you had watched him Saturday rearing up out of the line like a freight elevator to bat down University of Washington backs.

You wouldn't expect discontent in a lad described by Coach Phil Sarboe as "the inspiration and sparkplug of our team."

Neiml wants to make a touchdown.

He tried out for the backfield once at Clarkston, Wash., High School. "But I was too big and clumsy," Neiml said.

Ken Keltner of the Cleveland Indians hit more home runs this season than ever before in his career.

Malik Says U. S. Is Surrounded By Atomic Curtain

PARIS, Oct. 21. (AP)—Soviet Delegate Jacob Malik charged today the United States is surrounded by an "atomic curtain."

The delegate told a United Nations Assembly subcommittee on armaments that conditions put up by the Western Powers for reduction of arms were "as logical as time to light up a cool, smoking, serve-softening Y-B with Y-B Cigarettes. Fine imported Cuban and Puerto Rican filler tobaccos are blended to give you added pleasure. Try Y-B in football weather, or any weather."

The committee is studying Russia's proposal for reduction of armaments by a third within a year and a ban on atomic bombs.

Tojo "Most Peaceful" Two Men Burned

TOKYO, Oct. 21. (AP)—Japan's wartime Premier Hideki Tojo has become "most peaceful" through Buddhist teachings, his wife said today after visiting him in prison for the first time in eight months.

Syracuse University footballers will play under the lights twice this fall.

Chinese Forces Admit The Fall Of Changchun

PEIPING, Oct. 21. (AP)—Pro-government reports said today that Changchun, Manchurian capital, was in the hands of Communist troops but that Gen. Tu Li Ming's national forces expected to reoccupy Chinghsien momentarily.

Changchun, long useless to the government because of a Red siege, fell in fighting Monday through Wednesday, the dispatches said.

Capture of Changchun, the Peiping Times said, followed the surrender last Sunday of the 60th Army outside of the city. The army had been ordered to fight its way southward to Mukden, where the new Manchurian commander, Gen. Tu makes his headquarters. The Communist radio earlier had broadcast the 60th Army rebelled.

The official central news agency said the vanguard of Gen. Tu's forces, under heavy air protection, had entered Chinghsien's limits on Tuesday.

Other reports said large numbers of government troops and supplies were being unloaded at Hulstao, government port near Chinghsien.

Fighting reportedly still was in process around Taiyuan, Shansi Province capital.

New Attempt Will Be Made To Aid Stranded Ranchers

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 21.—Another attempt will be made today to drop provisions from a plane to eight San Antonians who have been stranded since Sunday by high waters on a ranch southeast of Encinal.

The initial attempt yesterday by Frank Felle and Abe San Miguel of San Antonio failed due to low clouds and rain.

Surrounded by mud and high water in the Arroyo Del Pato on the Santiago Benavides Ranch 29 miles south of Encinal, are Deyetano Lozano, his son, Humberto, 10; Jacob Blee, Charles Wilburn, Manuel Torres, Benny Villareal and Justo Sandoval of San Antonio and Arturo Sillar of Pearsall.

The men were part of a group of 11 who went to the ranch Saturday to set up a hunting camp. A cloudburst Sunday sent the creek and its tributaries on the rise.

Small Crowd Hears Taft In Dallas Talk

DALLAS, Oct. 21.—Republican Sen. Robert Taft came to Texas with a plea for Texans to vote for GOP candidates who "represent the ideals and the political philosophy of a great majority of the citizens of Texas."

Taft told a Republican rally here last night that the Democratic Party was split in factions and predicted that Thomas E. Dewey for President and Jack Porter for U. S. senator would get the largest block of votes in Texas.

Taft left last night for his Ohio home. He arrived in Dallas just before noon to speak on national housing problems at a luncheon sponsored by the Dallas Home Builders Assn.

A small crowd which Dallas Police Sgt. George John estimated at 400 to 500 persons gathered at the bandshell on the State Fair Grounds here to hear Taft as well as state Republican candidates speak.

Jack Porter, U. S. senatorial nominee, drew applause and a few wails when he declared: "I know you'll be your next U. S. Senator." Porter will go to East Texas today for visits to Gladewater, Longview and Kilgore and a broadcast from the Tyler courthouse square tonight.

Alvin Lane, candidate for governor, said last night at the rally that he was doing "much more than making just a token campaign."

Top state Republicans were introduced from the speakers platform—National Committeeman R. B. Creager and Committeewoman Mrs. Lena Gay More, both of Brownsville, and Henry Switell,

'Subversive' Organizations Stripped Of Tax Free Status

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The Internal Revenue Bureau disclosed today that eight organizations listed by Atty. Gen. Clark as "subversive" have been stripped of tax-free status.

They were among 40—including an atomic study group—taken off the bureau's roll of organizations entitled to special tax privileges as non-profit religious, charitable or educational concerns not engaged in propaganda or lobbying. No reasons were given for any of the removals except that the 40 do not meet the necessary qualifications. For instance, operating for profit is sufficient to disqualify an organization.

Not only are the 40 organizations barred from tax exemption on their own income, but persons contributing money to them are barred from deducting the gifts in computing their income taxes.

The eight that went off the bureau's list after going on the attorney general's are:

Abraham Lincoln School, Chicago; the Samuel Adams school for Social Studies, Boston; American Committee for European Workers' Relief, New York; George Washington Carver School, New York; Hollywood (Calif.) Writers Mobilization; the Ohio School of Social Sciences, Cleveland; The Philadelphia School of Social Science and Art, Philadelphia, and School of Jewish Studies, New York.

Among others stricken by the bureau were the Front Line Fighters Fund of the International Workers Order, New York; New York City Council of the American Youth Congress, and the Peoples Institute of Applied Religion (Inc.), Evansville, Ind.

Clark's list of "totalitarian, Fascist, Communist, or subversive" organizations includes the International Workers Order, the American Youth Congress, and Peoples Institute of Applied Religion, without reference to individual chapters or localities.

Another organization deleted was the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, Oak Ridge, Tenn., site of the atomic energy plant.

Allied Youth Will Receive Charter

Big Spring post of the Allied Youth organization will receive its official charter in ceremonies tonight at the First Christian Church.

The ceremony will begin at 7:30 p. m.

W. C. Blankenship, superintendent of schools, will present the charter as representative of the National Allied Youth organization. The charter will be received by Billy Bob Watson, president of the post.

Other officers of the local post, including Beverly Campbell, vice-president, Patsy Young, secretary and W. C. Blankenship, treasurer, also will participate in the ceremony.

Refreshments will be served in the church dining room immediately after the ceremony. Parents and friends of post members and other persons interested in the Allied Youth organization have been invited to attend.

The local post has approximately 40 members. Mrs. W. D. McNair and Arsh Phillips, members of the Big Spring High school faculty, are co-sponsors of the post.

Two Men Are Held While Wreck Probed

PECOS, Oct. 21. (SC)—Two San Angelo men were held here for investigation over night after their car had figured in a traffic accident in which one man received injuries from which he died. Four others were injured and treated at a hospital here.

The dead man was Alta Ladden Moon, 56, of Kansas City, Mo., veteran of World War I. The San Angelo men held for investigation are Clavin H. Ray, 38, driver of one of the cars, and Leo Day.

The San Angeleans were traveling west with three companions, all hitchhikers, and when they started around another car, Hilton was unable to pull back on the right side of the road, attempting to go into the bar ditch on the left side, according to a report of state highway patrolmen here. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Posner of California were traveling east and their car struck the Hilton car.

Moon had hitched a ride with Hilton. He died Wednesday night, the accident having occurred at 3:30 o'clock on the highway 15 miles west of here on Highway 80.

Hilton had several stitches taken in a gash on his face. Day suffered head injuries and Mrs. Posner suffered slight injuries. Harry Mackese of Brooklyn also was injured, but his buddy, Henry Laroe, of Lowell, Mass., was not hurt.

Both automobiles were badly damaged. Hilton had been working as a cook in various cafes at San Angelo. Day formerly worked for the Santa Fe there.

Overwhelming Win Seen By Barkley

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Back from 20-day airborne campaign trip through 18 states, Sen. Alben W. Barkley today predicted "an overwhelming victory for the Democratic Party."

The Democratic vice presidential candidate planned to leave Washington at noon for four speeches this afternoon and tonight in New York City, including a major labor address at a CIO rally.

"Not only will we regain control of the Senate," Barkley told reporters upon his arrival, "but we are going to win the House of Representatives and re-elect President Truman. And I am going to be the new vice president."

The Kentuckian said his trip by special plane to the West Coast and the South "has convinced me that the people are aroused as never before and believe that only the Democratic Party will give them good government.

"A lot of Republicans who thought the election was in the bag for them are going to get the surprise of their lives when the votes are counted on Nov. 2," he said. "And the pollsters who have been predicting a Republican victory are going to feel like the Literary Digest felt in 1936 when it predicted that Alf Landon would defeat Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Barkley still has more than a week of active campaigning before he closes on election eve, at his home in Paducah. He goes to Baltimore tomorrow night and speaks three times in Kentucky Saturday. Next week he is billed for speeches in Indiana and Illinois.

Sterling Test Slated To Plug

An Ellenburger failure was chalked up in northwestern Sterling county Thursday with orders to plug and abandon the Ray A. Albough and Progress Petroleum Co., No. 1 Nellie Parramore.

The venture was bottomed at 9-216 feet in lime and on a one-hour and 15 minute drillstem test from 9,166-8,216 feet returned 27.60 feet of sulphur water. Top of the Ellenburger was picked at 9,126 feet. On a one-hour test from 9,110-51, recovery of 165 feet of slightly gas-cut mud was reported. On a test from 8,125-66, there was a blow of air at the surface for eight minutes with a strong odor of gas. Recovery was 180 feet of gas-cut mud. Elevation on the test was 2,804 feet and location was 660 feet from the north and west lines of section 203-99, W&NW.

Seaboard No. 1 C. C. Thompson, Mitchell county wildcat, was reported below 6,486 feet. Kingery Bros. No. 1 Merritt & Pond, three miles north of the north-Iatan field completed for a potential of 21.6 barrels of 28 gravity oil, plus 19 per cent water. The pay zone was 2,461-2,829 feet and was shot with 666 quarts of nitro. It is located 2,310 feet from the north and 330 feet from the east lines of section 27-29-1n, T&P.

Seaboard No. 2 Tora Campbell, Vealmoor Ellenburger exploration, was reported below 9,892 feet. Seaboard No. 1 Clanton, a mile and three quarters northwest in Borden county, drilled cement plug at 3,790 feet preparatory to setting whipstock to drill by drillstem lost at 5,120 feet. In southeastern Dawson Seaboard No. 1 Lee was below 10,036 feet in lime. Hunt No. 1 Clayton & Johnson, Borden county was at 4,758 in lime and shale.

Air Force Adds Africa Training

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The United States' global air force, already operating in Europe and the Far East, is adding another continent to its training ground—Africa.

B-29 superfortresses taking off from American-used bases in England and Germany now are winging down to Accra, a British colony on the Gold Coast of Africa.

Air Force headquarters said today there is no United States military installation at Accra now. The superforts use facilities there for refueling on their training excursions down to the Gulf of Guinea, then turn around and head back. Under the present training program, the B-29s do not continue south or east to other war-built fields in Africa.

KEY EXTENSION FIGURES — Top personalities in the Texas A&M extension service will be here Friday and Saturday for a regional meeting, one of a series which supplants the traditional fall state meeting. They are Dr. Ide P. Trotter, left, director of the extension service, Miss Gladys Martin, assistant state home demonstration agent, and J. D. Prewitt, right, vice-director and state agent. County farm and home demonstration agents in the territory from Tullia to Brady to Sanderson to El Paso are expected to be here.

West Texas County Agents Will Gather Here Friday

County agents from the far reaches of West Texas will gather here Friday and Saturday for one of a series of sectional meetings which replaces the annual fall state meeting.

Greeting them will be key figures in the Texas A. & M. College extension service set-up, including Dr. I. P. Trotter, director, J. D. Prewitt, vice-director and state agent, and Gladys Martin, assistant state home demonstration agent. Prewitt, who served for a period as acting state director, was formerly agent for district No. 6.

It is possible that Gibb Gilchrist, chancellor of Texas A. & M., will appear on the program Friday. If he is unable to attend, D. M. Williams, vice-chancellor for agriculture, will take part to discuss the "Texas A. & M. College System."

Prewitt's discussion of the "Extension Work in Texas Today" will open the program at 8:45 a. m. Friday at the Settles hotel. Thirty minutes later Joe L. Matthews, administrative assistant, is to talk on the "Importance of a County Extension Program." The analysis of George Wilcox, head of the department of education and psychology, on "Methods in Doing the Job" will be the last address of the morning. There will be other periods of discussion on points raised by speakers. At the luncheon, Gladys M. Martin, assistant state home demonstration agent, will preside.

Louis Franke, veteran editor of the extension service, will open the afternoon parley at 1:30 o'clock with a talk on "Tools for Doing the Job." At 3:15, Kate Adele Hill and W. N. Williamson, agents for district No. 2, will present the Lub-

SCIENTISTS CALLED RESPONSIBLE FOR INVENTING WEAPONS FOR WAR

CHICAGO, Oct. 21. — American scientists and engineers working on weapon development play a decisive role in the arms race, say two men who once worked on the atomic bomb project.

The scientists, they said, can contribute to peace if they will "make it clear that they stand ready to restrain themselves from work liable to be used for killing people."

In an article in the Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, Guthbert Daniel and Dr. Arthur M. Squires said: "They (scientists and engineers) must ask themselves whether their present professional activities contribute to peace or war. They must submit to scrutiny the motivations of their present activities. They must decide whether they should accept responsibility for the use

Petition Expulsion Of 22 Russians In Mexico City

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 21. — The national anti-Communist committee today petitioned the government to expel 22 Soviet citizens it alleged are "fifth columnists."

In a report to the interior department, the committee said the 22 arrived here during the past month in several groups. It said they have diplomatic passports permitting them to enter Mexico "for scientific study."

The committee asked expulsion under constitutional article 33 which prohibits foreigners from meddling in Mexican politics, and grants the president the right to expel any foreigner whose presence is "inconvenient."

Additional $3,000 Ticketed For SCS

The Taylors have two other sons, five and seven.

Box Supper Is Planned At Gym

Such "hot-shot" auctioneers as Cliff Wiley, H. W. Smith and Al Dillon are due to knock down boxes to highest bidders Friday evening when the high school P-TA sponsors an old fashioned box supper at the high school gym. The event is open to the public and anyone interested in an evening of fun and entertainment is invited to come and bid, and if possible, to bring a box. FOR MITCHELL BOYS

Livestock Show Is Slated January 20

COLORADO CITY, Oct. 18.—Mitchell county men in charge of arrangements for the 12th Annual 4-H & F. A. Boys' Livestock show in this county have set show dates, according to L. A. Chapman, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, here, and secretary-treasurer of the livestock show association.

The boys' livestock show will be staged Jan. 20 and 21, Chapman said, and will be held at the livestock barn on the rodeo grounds. Annually sponsored by the livestock committee of the Chamber, the exhibit's committeemen are headed by P. K. Mackey. Les Terry is vice-chairman, Lay Powell, veteran cow-man, finance chairman. Other executive committeemen are Dr. R. D. Bridgford, R. F. Fee, Clay Smith. Smith will act as general superintendent of the 1949 version for the two day show.

Other superintendents named include Leslie Hamilton, dry-lot division superintendent; Fee, milked superintendent; Jim Hestand, fat swine superintendent; Coyt Butler of Westbrook, superintendent of breeding swine classes; Bunky Girvin and Dr. Bridgford, superintendents of classes for fat and fine wool lambs; Olsen Sweet, superintendent of classes for capons and rabbits; and August Hackfeld of Lorraine, superintendent of all dairy animal classes. One major change has been made in plans for the 1949 exhibit. There will be no classes for Hereford breeding stock. For a number of years exhibits for registered Herefords from a six-county area has been on the show docket. "Our show comes so close to the dates set for some major state livestock shows," Chapman said, "committeemen voted to eliminate that phase of the program, locally."

Otto Jones, for forty years top-hand at Spade ranch, Pete Ainsworth and Les Terry comprise the sales committee. This town's favorite auctioneers, Bob May and Sam Wulfjen, will again cry the sales for animals auctioned off in the ring the second afternoon of the exhibit. Joe Cowan, county agent; R. E. Post, Colorado City; L. D. Crawford, Lorraine, and Choise Miller, vocational agriculture teachers, are the coaches who will direct the boy feeders' in their exhibits this year.

KBST Will Air States' Righter

Another speech in behalf of the States Rights campaign will be on the air tonight, with KBST carrying the political program at 8 p. m. The speaker will be Gov. Fielding L. Wright of Mississippi, vice presidential candidate of the States Righters, making his first address in Texas. The occasion will be a rally at Columbus.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

I'm Glad We're "Different!"

There's a lot of differences of opinion in our county on the best kind of pasture. Some say alfalfa mixed with bromo grass—others say mixed with oats or barley. But all agree that a pasture's better than a single crop. I sometimes think people see the same way—and the strength of America is the mixture of so many different strains—some from one country, some from another—right down to little differences like folks who have a taste for beer and those who prefer cider.

From where I sit, so long as we never become intolerant of one another's different tastes—so long as we live together with our differences, and even supplement them the way bromo grass does alfalfa, then we're a mighty good crop! So neighbor—enjoy your older while I enjoy my beer! Vote for your candidate—P! stand by mine! But never let our differences divide us!

SPOOKY COOKIES and JACK-O-LANTERN

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Since witches and bats are going to fly on All Hallows Eve—to say nothing of cats prowling around—why not capture some of these traditional figures in cookie dough? You don't need to buy special cutters. The children can manufacture their own by tracing the shapes onto heavy cardboard and cutting them out. Use the shapes just as you would real cutters, being sure to flour them, and cutting around each with a small sharp knife.

If it's to be an afternoon party the following menu is a good one: Halloween Party for Boys and Girls

Spooky Cookie Shapes
Fresh Fruit in Jack O'Lantern
Orange Cups
Chocolate Milk
Spooky Cookie Shapes

Ingredients: 6 tablespoons vitaminized margarine, 2/3 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1/2 teaspoon lemon extract, 1/4 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup milk, melted semi-sweet chocolate, granulated sugar.
Method: Cream margarine with sugar until light and fluffy. Add egg, lemon extract and rind and beat well. Sift flour, baking powder and salt; add with milk to creamed mixture, mixing until smooth. Chill dough. Roll out to 1/4 inch thickness, cut into desired Halloween shapes and sprinkle with sugar. Place on lightly greased cookie sheet and bake in a hot (400 F.) oven for 6 to 8 minutes. Cool. Paint features and outline cookies with melted chocolate. Makes 14 large cookies.

The orange jack o'lanterns may be varied in many ways. The idea of putting some of the gelatin into orange jack o'lanterns will intrigue your youngsters.

Jack O'Lanterns can be made in sandwich form, too. Cut thin slices of steamed brown bread (home-made or canned) and spread one of the slices with cream cheese softened with a little milk or cream. Cut eyes, nose and mouth out of the matching round and then press the two slices together so the white filling shows through. Cookies, too, take to faces for

Spinach Gives Homemakers A Favorite Food

Spinach from Colorado is plentiful in some southwest markets giving homemakers another favorite food to help pack daily menus with vitamin A, iron and other minerals.

Homemakers know what a little sand or grit in spinach can do to Hallow'en. Choose large watertype cookies—make your own or buy them in a package. Trim each with eyes, nose, and mouth of frosting; chocolate cookies have an affinity for orange-flavored and orange-colored frosting.

In case you've forgotten, here are other suggestions for traditional Halloween food from which you may choose for your party or for a family supper. Apples in some form—crisp, cold, raw with cheese for dessert. Or apple cider. Or a baked apple pudding—the apples sliced, the top a rich crumbly mixture of flour, brown sugar, butter or margarine. Doughnuts, home-made or bought; if bought be sure to heat them before serving.

For decorating the family dinner table on Hallow'en, shine red apples and core; perch candles in the centers. A small pumpkin scooped out makes a lovely holder for pears, apples, a lemon or two and hanging bunches of grapes.

a meal, and that's why they consider washing so important. Two bowls of water will do the trick. USDA's Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics says don't wash too much at a time. Do use the finger method when lifting spinach from the water. And don't pour off the water, the sand will stick to the leaves.

Cooking spinach today is done in a matter of minutes, assuring a combination of flavor and food value never obtained when it was cooked too long.

BHNE urges homemakers to guard against over-saturating spinach during the cooking operation. Only a small amount of water is needed. Too much water wastes vitamins. The left-over liquid is excellent in gravy, soups and sauces.

Eastland Court Has Good Record

EASTLAND, Oct. 21—A remarkable record has been made by the Eleventh Court of Civil Appeals, which sits in Eastland, during the period that Chief Justice Clyde Grissom and Associate Justice Milburn Long have served together. There have been only three reversals by the State Supreme Court on the many decisions handed down by the Eastland court in the four years that the two justices have been on the appellate bench together. Unusual points of law and large amounts have been involved in some of the important litigation which the court has decided. There has been a great variety of cases because of the diversity of activities—oil, livestock, agriculture, industry and business—in the 23 counties comprising the district. Also the court has passed upon numerous cases transferred from other parts of the State.

The third member of the court at present is Justice Courtney Gray of Brownwood, who will soon be succeeded by the newly-elected member, District Judge Cecil Collins of Big Spring.

Most recent case of general interest decided by the court was an election contest from Brown County. While neither of the recent candidates for the Democratic nomination for the United States Senate was a party, the effect of the court's decision was to give Lyndon B. Johnson a net gain of more than 400 votes.

The Court of Civil Appeals have final jurisdiction in contested elections, except where the validity of the statute is attacked by the decision. The Courts of Civil Appeals also have final jurisdiction in divorce cases, boundary suits and slander cases.

The careers of Chief Justice Grissom and Justice Long are almost parallel, in many ways. Each is of course a West Texan. Each has been a county attorney and a district attorney.

Grissom was born at Alvord, Wise County, Feb. 24, 1898. The family moved to Haskell two years later, where he attended public schools. He received his B. A. degree from T. C. U. and his law degree from the University of Texas. He worked as night watchman in the State treasury while attending the State University. His law degree was awarded while he was serving in the Army, as a private, in World War I. He practiced law a year in Fort Worth, then went to Haskell, was elected county attorney in 1923, resigned three years later to join a leading law firm in Wichita Falls.

A year later, Grissom returned to Haskell and, soon afterward, was appointed district attorney by Gov. Dan Moody, who in January, 1931, named him district judge. Then in May, 1935, Gov. Allred appointed Grissom to the Court of Civil Appeals.

In 1945, Grissom became chief justice, succeeding the late Chief Justice Leslie. Grissom has been a noted raiser of fine Herefords but recently sold his herd. Mrs. Grissom is the former Miss Helen Shook of Haskell. They have a son, Tom, and two daughters, Misses Zena and Emily. The Grissoms' home is in Eastland.

Justice Milburn Long was born on Paluxy creek in Hood county in 1893, attended country school, Glen Rose High School and Reynolds Presbyterian College at Albany. He taught school in Shackelford county, studied law in an office and at home, was admitted to the bar in 1916, and a year later, he became prosecuting attorney of Shackelford county, serving until his election as district attorney in 1932. Gov. Neff named him to serve the few months of an unexpired term before his elective term began. In 1927, Long was appointed district judge by Gov. Moody and served until his election in 1944 to the Court of Civil Appeals.

Mrs. Long is the former Miss Ida Clausell of Albany. They have a daughter, Miss Emily, who is a teacher at Midland. Long enjoys horseback riding and owns some cattle. Abilene is his home.

Decisions Given In Rent Control Cases
Two cases involving alleged rent control violations in Big Spring have been settled in the U. S. district court at Abilene.

Federal Judge T. W. Davidson, in one decision, ordered Mrs. Ann Charne to make restitution to tenant for excess rental charges and to pay court costs. A similar order was entered by the court against A. Pederson.

Blast Furnace Goes Traveling

INDIANA HARBOR, Ind. (AP)—A huge steel blast furnace went traveling here to make a saving on pig iron production.

The wandering furnace replaced an old smaller one at the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. center here. But to tear down the old one, and then build the new would take up to five months' time.

The problem was solved with the aid of the Eichleay Corp., a Pittsburgh construction firm specializing in moving heavy things. It once moved a nine-story telephone building 52 feet, and turned it at a right angle, while employees kept on working.

The steel shell of the new furnace was built on a steel trestle, 131 feet away from the old furnace. The old one kept producing until the new furnace was ready. Then it was dismantled and the foundation remedied.

The new furnace then was moved in, travelling the 131 feet in two hours and 40 minutes. It was pulled along the trestle over round steel rollers. The furnace shell and its travelling platform weighed 650 tons, and was 187 feet high.

Once in place, the furnace was gently lowered 4 1/4 feet down upon its permanent column supports, with the aid of 120 jacks. It was operating 95 days after the old one had stopped producing. The moving job saved an estimated two months' production of pig iron.

The same kind of moving was done with a smaller furnace at Youngstown, Ohio, in 1942 during the war.

Basketmaking Is Up In Britain

LONDON, (AP)—British basket weavers, whose trade on the banks of the Thames goes back before the birth of Christ, are regaining prosperity after a between-the-wars slump.

After World War I, the 9,000 acres of willow beds dwindled to 2,000 acres. Floods of cheap imported baskets drove many basket makers out of business.

Aerial warfare during World War II brought them back in business. Thousands of willow baskets were used for "air drops" of supplies. Now to conserve funds, Britain is using its own baskets instead of importing them. The present labor force of about 7,000 is expected to rise to 25,000 because of government training programs for the blind and partially disabled persons.

Wallace Tired, Wants To Go Home

NEW YORK, Oct. 21. (AP)—Henry A. Wallace arrived by plane early today at the end of a 10,000-mile, campaign tour of 16 states. The Progressive Party presidential candidate declined to comment on political questions saying: "I'm tired. I just want to go home." He said he will stay at his home in South Salem, N. Y., until Sunday, resting up and preparing further campaign speeches.

He resumes his campaign Sunday and Monday in a tour of New Jersey cities.

School Land Board Will Accept Bids

AUSTIN, Oct. 21. (AP)—The State School Land Board will receive bids on some 125,000 acres of upland and submerged lands Dec. 7. Bascom Giles, commissioner of the General Land Office and board chairman, said today. Offerings will include surveyed tracks in 14 inland counties and submerged and river bed tracts in seven coastal counties. None of the submerged tracts are in the gulf proper, Giles said.

Less Than Three Months Left To Negotiate Rent Increases

Such leases were first made possible between July 1 and December 31, 1947, by the 1947 rent law. The 1948 law renewed the lease plan, with the lease-writing period set from April 1 to December 31, 1948.

Seale explained that these 1948 leases must extend at least to December 31, 1949, but pointed out that the last date for writing such leases is one year earlier—December 31, 1948.

Leases negotiated under the 1947 law were required to run at least through December 31, 1948, but the 1948 law extended the rent specified in these leases as the ceiling rent through March 31, 1949, the day of expiration of the rent law. Seale emphasized that all lease terminations must be reported to the local rent office.

He said also that if a tenant later agrees, for a special reason, to pay a higher rent than that specified in the lease, the lease is inoperative under the federal law and the premises revert to control under the law. Premises under rent increase leases are no longer under the rent law, the terms of the lease governing exclusively.

"The rent-increase lease way of going about getting a higher rental return should not be confused with the opportunity landlords have of getting rent raises by petition on any of 13 grounds provided by the regulations," said the rent official.

"Increase by petition is possible if there is no rent-increase lease, and a voluntary lease increase may be sought even if an increase has already been gained by petition."

However, he added, no further increase by lease may be taken if there has already been a full 15 per cent increase by means of a voluntary lease.

Baked Potatoes Give Break To Menu Planners

Menu planners are getting a break right now since extra-large baking potatoes are in such abundance.

Here's a suggestion from USDA's BHNHE for getting the most out of these giant Irish potatoes. Bake them until done, then cut in half lengthwise. Scoop out the insides. Mash. Add fat and seasonings to taste, before stirring in some hot milk. Beat until fluffy and smooth.

For extra taste appeal, fold in some chopped, leftover meat, or chopped luncheon meat, then stuff the mixture back into the shells. Brush the top with melted fat. Brown in a hot oven.

Some suggestions can be used for flaked, economical fish, or even with grated cheese for flavor and extra food value. Giant potatoes prepared in this way may be used as the main course at luncheon or dinner.

Creamed chicken may be flavored various ways; a dash of celery salt and a little Worcestershire sauce a tang, and so does finely grated onion. A few toasted almonds sprinkled over the top makes the dish crunchy and delicious.

Two Fresh Foods Make Delectable October Dish

For a delectable dish which uses two of the fresh products on the October Plentiful Foods List, U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration suggests scalloped sweet potatoes and apples.

In preparing this dish, homemakers may wish to use the recipe recommended by USDA's Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics: Place alternate layers of sliced cooked sweet potatoes and sliced raw apples in a greased baking dish. Sprinkle the apple layers with sugar and a little salt; dot with fat. Add just enough hot water to cover bottom of dish; the apples and sweet potatoes do not take up liquid.

Bake covered in a moderately hot oven (375 F.) 30 to 40 minutes or until apples are tender. If desired, uncover the dish for the last 15 to 20 minutes of cooking, and top with crushed dry breakfast cereals or bread crumbs mixed with a little fat.

Sliced raw sweet potatoes may be used but will need to bake a little longer.

Poland Drafting Youths 16 to 18

WARSAW (AP)—Poland is rapidly mobilizing her full reservoir of youthful manpower for military training and work on national reconstruction projects.

An order just issued calls for the conscription of all youths aged 16 to 18. These youths, with several hundred thousand already enrolled, will serve in the organization known as "In Service to Poland."

They are assigned to the building of highways, railway lines, bridges, communications system and housing.

All of them in addition receive a minimum of 16 hours of military training monthly. Instruction by regular militia and Polish army officers is based principally upon infantry warfare.

Enlistments are expected to top 1,500,000 by the end of January. The youth organization is to be gradually expanded to 5,000,000.

Girls from 16 to 21 are to be recruited in 1948.

No Tickets

NEW DELHI (AP)—Indian railway police recently arrested 600 persons within four days for traveling without tickets on the Delhi-Amalala line. A total of 3,000 rupees was collected in fines from those arrested. Ticketless travelers are one of the Indian railroads' most acute problems.

Power Machinery Plays Major Role In Conservation Program

EARTH MOVING equipment as pictured here is becoming more and more popular with Southwestern farmers. Terraces and dams, which ease conservation problems, can be carved out of the earth within a few hours with the use of such machinery.

Power machinery is doing much to increase earth-moving soil and water conservation practices, says Willis Winters, chairman of the Howard County Agricultural Conservation committee.

Through the use of bull-dozers, carry-alls, and other big earth-moving equipment, farmers are able to build dams, terraces, level land and carry out other effective conservation measures. The conservation work that would have required days of hand labor or man and team labor can be completed in a few hours.

Progress of this kind is an important factor in conservation work since time is a real consideration, according to Winters. The ACA chairman pointed out that the soil loss is already serious and the problem is increasing daily.

More dams mean more watering places for cattle and the benefits from better distribution of live-

Carolina To Vote On Divorces, Pardons

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—Divorces and penal pardons will be before the people of South Carolina in the Nov. 2 general election for the first time since the 1895 state constitution was adopted. That constitution flatly bans divorces, gives the state governors unlimited pardoning and parole powers.

Constitutional amendments up for a vote would permit divorces for desertion, physical cruelty, habitual drunkenness and adultery, and would strip governors of all pardoning powers but preserves the summations in death sentences.

Run On England's Health Service

FOLKESTONE, Eng. (AP)—Health Minister Aneurin Bevan says the British people must use the national health service "sparingly" to keep from killing it. He said the medical insurance program, started last summer, will "break down because of the demands made on it" unless people use it "intelligently, sparingly and prudently."

"There was a great demand at the beginning but I believe it will ease down and the whole thing will find its proper level," he told a dinner conference of British hospital representatives.

Woman Gaining In Finn Politics

HELSINKI (AP)—Finland's women have acquired increased influence in the parliament and in politics in general since the war.

In the general elections this summer women won 24 out of 200 seats in the Finnish parliament and a woman, Mrs. Lijja Leivo-Larsson, was instituted as vice minister of social affairs in the new cabinet.

In 1945, 17 seats were won by women and in 1938, 16 parliamentary seats were occupied by women.

Body Job For Ship That Hit Mountain

BALTIMORE, (AP)—A Spanish ship which crashed into a mountain last spring is now in Baltimore for repairs.

The ship, the Letitia Lykes, was towed across the Atlantic in 28 days by the world's largest ocean-going tug, the Dutch Zwartee. She was taken to the Bethlehem Steel Co. repair yard.

The unusual mishap occurred one stormy night last May. She rammed into a mountain on the Mediterranean coast of Spain between Cape De Data and Almeria and lost the lower half of her bow.

Don't Look Now, Reds Tell Finns

HELSINKI—(AP)—Soviet authorities of Porkkala are irritated because passengers on Finnish trains keep trying to peep at them through doors and shutters.

Porkkala is an area about six miles out of Helsinki which was leased to the Russians for 50 years under the terms of the 1944 Armistice. After long negotiations the Finnish government obtained permission to transit trains through the area, which cuts the main line from Helsinki to Turku, on the condition that all cars must be locked and completely blacked out during the passage.

Your Car May Have An Acid Stomach

NEW YORK, (AP)—Ninety per cent of engine wear in your automobile may be due to the action of acids, and not friction, Shell Oil Co. research scientists report.

"In short trips about town—to the office, the bank, and shopping—the average motorist runs his engine for brief periods of time only," said C. E. Davis, vice-president in charge of manufacturing. "When the engine is thus intermittently on and off, it runs 'cold,' with the result that combustion may be incomplete and partially burned fuel gases and moisture attack the smoothly polished metal surfaces chemically. It is this type of acid action that accounts for up to 90 per cent of engine wear."

Research is seeking means of preventing the acid action, and thus add years to the life of the engine.

Police Save Negro From His Own Race

SAVANNAH, Ga., Oct. 21. (AP)—Police saved a Negro Tuesday night from possible lynching by members of his own race after he had assaulted and robbed an elderly white druggist. Detective Chief John C. McCarthy reported. McCarthy said the presence of a white detective, J. W. Walker, prevented a mob of angry Negroes from harming the prisoner, identified as Frank Mack, 28, an ex-convict.

Longview Journal Backs GOP Ticket

LONGVIEW, Oct. 21. (AP)—The Longview Journal announced editorially Tuesday that it would support the Dewey-Warren Republican presidential ticket. Noting that the Journal and News, of which Cal L. Estes is publisher, has opposed the New Deal for 14 years, the editorial said in part: "The South, which has for generations been the traditional seat of the Democratic Party, has seen the party's name stolen and its principles abandoned. We in Texas and in the South have been standing at the barn door, holding it shut, for 14 years. All that time the Democratic Party has actually been gone."

"The New Deal is dead," our leaders once said. But Harry S. Truman has dug up the corpse, revived it and revitalized it, and nursed it back to even more robust health than it enjoyed before this accession to the throne. And all of his efforts have been made in utter disregard for—and mostly at the expense of—the South."

of a knife, then slashed and beat him and fled, McCarthy said. Several Negroes saw Mack, the officer said, and gave pursuit. They were joined by policemen and after a lengthy chase Mack was caught by Walker and Negro Officer F. B. Mullino.

A mob of angry Negroes quickly surrounded the officers and the prisoner, McCarthy related. He said the Negroes begged the officers to turn Mack over to them. "Let us have him," McCarthy quoted one Negro. "When we get done with him he won't trouble you no more."

Mack is being held without charge. Chief McCarthy said, however, that as soon as the investigation is completed he will be charged with armed robbery, which carries a maximum penalty of death.

The officer described Dr. Hardee as a "good samaritan," loved and respected by Negroes in the area near his store. His condition was described as "serious."

Berlin Reds Are Importing Special Police

BERLIN, Oct. 21. (AP)—The German anti-Communist press said Wednesday Berlin's Communist are importing 3,000 special police from the Russian occupation zone to strengthen their hand in this Soviet-blockaded city.

William T. Babcock, U. S. deputy commandant, said American authorities could not confirm these figures. He said, however, that the Americans are aware the Communists are expanding their police forces throughout Eastern Germany, including Berlin. One immediate use for expanded police forces here, Babcock said, is to employ them in tightening of the Soviet blockade against Western Berlin.

This blockade has now been extended to search of all vehicular, train and water traffic for confiscation of foodstuffs and other allegedly "contraband" material being brought in by Germans from zone.

The anti-Communists have contended these police are packed with Communist indoctrinated former German soldiers and form a Communist army to threaten Western Germany if, and when, all occupation forces are withdrawn from the country. Meanwhile, the Russian-licensed news agency, ADN, reported that throughout the Soviet zone weapons were being handed to new groups of the people's police.

An ADN dispatch from Brandenburg said ceremonies accompanied the arming in several towns at which Bernhard Bechler, Brandenburg's Communist minister of the interior presided.

Only Builders Who Intend To Sell Houses Get Loans

DALLAS, Oct. 21. (AP)—Only builders who intend to sell their houses can get the $6,000-FHA insured loan which Congress recently authorized to speed low-cost housing development, says Federal Housing Administration Director R. E. Shepherd.

Shepherd said Tuesday he has been advised by Washington FHA offices not to issue loan commitments to builders of rental houses. He said the new interpretation of the law will interfere with plans of a Waco builder who was planning to construct 1,000 houses for rent. The law provides loan insurance for builders to erect rental apartment dwellings but not single-family low cost houses.

Red Deserters Land At Linz

VIENNA, Oct. 21. (AP)—A twin-engine Russian bomber with two officer deserters from the Soviet Air Force landed at the American air base near Linz Oct. 9, American sources said yesterday.

The plane and one member of its crew—a sergeant—were returned to Russian custody. Two officers who said they were fleeing the Soviet Union were given refuge in the U. S. zone of Austria.

The pilot and navigator of the plane said they were trying to escape for "political reasons" for more than a year, the U. S. sources reported.

The craft took off from a base in the Ukraine on what was supposed to be a routine training flight. The pilot said his maps did not extend beyond Linz.

He brought his plane down on the first airfield he saw after reaching the U. S. occupation zone of Austria, the informants said.

The one he picked was Hoerschling Air Base at Camp McCauley, about 10 miles inside the zone. The sergeant was quoted as saying he did not know the pilot's designation until the plane was in the air, and that then he was given the choice of parachuting over Soviet territory or remaining aboard.

AERODYNAMIC STYLING — That's the word for the 1949 Nash Airflyte, which goes on display at Griffin Nash Friday, along with a national public showing. The new cars are low and wide, with a smooth, graceful sweep. The front end features a massive racing-type air-scoop grille.

Nash For 1949, The 'Airflyte', To Be Shown In City Tomorrow

Two completely new lines of 1949 Nash cars have been made public by Nash Motors, and tomorrow will be displayed in dealer showrooms across the nation. Local showing will be at Griffin-Nash company, 1107 East Third street.

The new Nash 'Ambassador' and '600' models are so drastically changed in design that all body dies and major assembly line equipment used on 1948 models had to be scrapped in order to produce them, according to an announcement.

"These cars are so completely new that we have given them a brand new name, 'Nash Airflyte for '49.' By going all the way in aerodynamic design, we have achieved not only amazingly beautiful cars, but also revolutionary advances in roominess, comfort and performance."

The '49 Nash cars are the first of the industry's postwar models with front wheels totally enclosed. This styling advance, permitting full wheel swing on curves, was made possible because the new fender line is well outside the wheels. Tire removal is accomplished without difficulty. Rear fenders also are fully enclosed.

The new cars feature Nash-pioneered body building methods that incorporate all body and frame parts into a single electrically-welded unit that is strong, rugged and free of rattles or squeaks. This "Unitized" body frame provides a lower silhouette without loss of interior head room, and more particularly without loss of "entering head room" or lowering of seat cushion height. Without sacrificing road clearance, the new, larger cars are lower than previous models, standing 62 inches high compared to 68 inches for 1948 models.

Improved riding comfort and greater roominess are features of the new Nash 'Airflyte', which is engineered on aerodynamic principles. The new cars, which have a lower center of gravity, feature frictionless coil springs on all four wheels to provide improved body suspension and contribute to smooth roadability.

The speedometer and all other gauges formerly on the instrument panel have been relocated directly in front of the driver and housed in a single grouping, identified as the "Uniscope," mounted on the
