

THE STATE LINE TRIBUNE

"OFFICIAL PUBLICATION OF PARMER COUNTY"

SIX PAGES

FIFTY-SIXTH YEAR

10 CENTS

This week we continue our discussion of the one per cent municipal sales tax. To the questions and answers in this column last week, we add these:

Who would collect the tax? The city tax would be collected by the state, on a contract basis with the city. By collecting it at the same time as the state sales tax, the state can do it cheaper than the city could if they had to set up an independent system. Also, payment of the tax can be more convenient for the merchant when he has to file only one report with one agency.

Won't a sales tax hurt business? There is no real evidence that it will hurt business. None of the cities adopting the tax has complained of a lessening of business volume. In our case, we are or will be surrounded with communities that exact an equal or higher tax; therefore it is reasonable to assume the same volume of money spent here in the past would continue to be spent locally.

How will the money be spent? The money can be spent as part of the general operating revenue of the city and can therefore be used to provide any needed addition or improvement to the services rendered by the city.

When will the tax go into effect? If passed on March 5, and properly certified and forwarded to the state before the end of March, the tax will be effective on July 1, 1968.

Remember, the election is March 5 at Farwell City Hall and every qualified resident voter in the City of Farwell may go and vote.

The basketball season for Farwell has already ended and this week will end season play for Texico. This means it will be until the first week of next September before a mass spectator sport again catches the attention of local sports enthusiasts. This seems like a long time, but for many of us more mature folks it will be around in the twinkling of an eye. We have other school sports on our programs but none has the spectator appeal of either football or basketball and therefore do not stir the communities as either of the aforementioned sports.

One thing we feel, keenly, is the fact that our Twin Cities athletic teams play as hard as any teams we see, year in and year out. Also, we are convinced our teams display as high, or higher, caliber of sportsmanship as we are ever exposed to. For these fine local athletes with their high ideals, we can all say with humility, "Thank the Lord." Another example of our oft repeated slogan, "Aren't you glad you live in the Twin Cities?"

Texico Observes National FFA Week

During National FFA Week, Feb. 17-24, Texico FFA Chapter is having special publicity in the local newspapers, State Line Tribune and Curry County Times, plans to observe formal initiation of chapter farmers, have a dress up day with all members wearing their FFA jackets, and put place mats in local restaurants.

The special observance of National FFA week is held each year during the period in which George Washington's birthday falls. Farmers Gain Right To Secure Cheaper Gas News has just been received that approval has been granted by Federal Power Commission allowing 178 farmers to purchase gas from a new source.

Expansion of Federal Power Commission Authority for Plains Gas Farmer's Cooperative Society and Tri-County Gas, Inc., to purchase gas from Transwestern Pipeline Co. for 26.5¢ per mcf., and from El Paso Pipeline Co. for 22.4¢ per mcf., was made final Feb. 16, when Pioneer Natural Gas Co. chose not to file an appeal to the Circuit Court of Appeals from the order issued Dec. 14, 1967.

D. L. Carmichael, president of Plains Irrigation Gas Users Association, states, "This is a major breakthrough for farmers in securing cheaper agricultural gas."

Castro and Parmer County farmers are in the process of ordering metering equipment to get approximately 174 wells tied on to nine additional taps gained from Transwestern Pipeline Co. Approximately 150 wells in Lamb County are being prepared for connection to two taps onto El Paso Pipeline Co.

Four major pipelines cross the Panhandle and South Plains offering a new source of gas. In addition to Transwestern and El Paso, Natural Gas Pipeline Co. of America crosses Parmer Eddie West is advisor of Texico FFA Chapter whose officers are Richard Breitenbach, president; Curtis Smith, vice-president; Danny Williamson, secretary; Keith Morris, treasurer; Larry Duncan, historian; Charlie Tipton, sentinel; and Delford Martin, reporter.

Theme for the week is "Challenging Youth in Agriculture." FFA members seek to inform the public of the importance of the agricultural industry to America and to the world, the value of good citizenship development, and the role of Future Farmers of America in helping to meet the challenges in world food production which is facing America today.

SHOP WORK -- Learning to do by doing is an important part of the regular FFA program in Texico school. In the foreground, Bobby Lockmiller works on a mailbox for his home while Curtis Smith stands by ready to assist. Others participating in the shop activities are Butch Chumley and Larry Duncan.

TEXICO SURVEYING TEAM -- It takes at least three students to check elevations with surveying equipment. Working on their first introduction to surveying are Billy Wilson, Mike Casey, and Mitchell Turnbough, members of Texico FFA. Skills learned now will be used in future farm mechanics judging contests.

Texico Holds Grady To Minimum Of Points

Although Texico Wolverines held the Grady Bronchos to a minimum of points in the district basketball game played on Tuesday night, they lost the game, 20-17.

Coach Charles Coburn stated that the Texico team controlled the ball throughout the evening and played a fine game of ball. "The boys have come a long way since the season began," stated the coach who added, "They had to learn a different type defense and offense to what they had been using in previous years and we only had one boy returning from last year's squad.

'Paper Tiger'

"Paper tiger" - that's what the Communists. From Hanoi to Moscow, from Peking to North Korea, the Communists are firmly convinced that the United States, despite its awesome nuclear power, is nothing but a paper tiger, afraid to show its claws.

Time and time again, the President speaks of our determination to resist the Communists, yet time and time again, the hypocrisy of his statements is laid open for all the world to see. Witness:

The United States is willing to commit 500,000, perhaps ultimately a million, men to a slow dripping faucet of blood in South Vietnam, yet North Vietnam's major cities go untouched by American war planes. An act of piracy on the high seas has gone totally unpunished, and to make matters worse, the United States apologized Monday for the accidental intrusion of an American aircraft into these pirate's airspace. The United States has all but closed the door on the use of tactical nuclear weapons to defend the Marine outpost at Khe Sanh; thus we have made it plain to the Communists that we would accept the loss of 5000 Marines rather than use the weapons at our disposal if it became necessary.

Witness also our latest "show of strength". On orders from "high levels" of government, the U. S. Seventh Fleet was prevented from picking up an American pilot, shot down last Tuesday by Chinese Communist MIGS five miles off the coast of Hainan, a large island hugging the coast of China. We deserted Lt. Joseph P. Dunn rather than risk a confrontation with China, despite the fact that the plane was outside the three mile limit as defined by international law, and despite the fact that Lt. Dunn's radio beeped out locator signals for some seven hours, pinpointing his position.

By these and other acts, we have failed totally to convince the Communists that we mean business. On the contrary, we have convinced them in their minds that we will go to any length to avoid a showdown - and therein lies the danger of miscalculation and of the nuclear holocaust we seek so desperately to avoid.

No American citizen in his right mind wants war of any kind, yet we are allowing our administration to lead us down what history has shown to be the quickest road to war - the appeasement of the enemy and his miscalculation that inevitably follows.

We must decide once and for all whether we are going to resist Communist aggression or not. If so, we must use every weapon at our disposal as it becomes necessary; if not, we must do and say nothing, for the worst possible course of action is to talk big but act small. This will only lead the Communists to believe that no committed atrocity is too great for us to accept and hence, the road to war. Think about it.

Curry County Pioneer Recalls Early Days

It may be trite to say that Curry County has changed more than a little in the past 60 years, but Cliff Spearman, 229 Torreon, Clovis, remembers well this area that he came to as a little boy and now, on the anniversary of his family's arrival, he looks back upon those times with fondness and no regrets.

Cliff was born in DeWitt County, near Victoria, in 1902. His father, John R. Spearman, Sr., was, he reports, a man with itchy feet; one who moved his family to many locations throughout the years. Settling out in August, 1907 from East Texas, the Spearman were headed for Arkansas, the father's former home. But time, travel and adventure took the family wandering over the majority of the eastern part of the state throughout that fall and winter. Finally, in early 1908, they boarded a train for New Mexico, but landed in Bovina, in February of that year. Six months of living in "two wagons and a hack" seems a terrifically hard kind of life for a family, especially one with small children, but Cliff remembers his mother and the rest of the children to be wonderful sports about the hardships, taking them along with the adventures with a marvelous zest of life.

Texico was their first home, as they rented a house there until they could move into their farm home some seven miles north of that booming little town. Texico was wide open at the time, he remembers, with at least 13 saloons going strong. But there were wonderful people too, those who would go well out of their way to help others get started, and these he especially remembers.

Many of Cliff's fondest memories center around a sorghum mill which his dad built in 1911. Although the senior Spearman died in 1912, the boys of the family were in and around the mill for several years thereafter. Selling sorghum by the barrel, for a price he cannot remember, the Spearman farm became a center of community activity. He remembers the "skimming hole," into which the vile, green skimmings from the mill were drained. With delight, Cliff remembers how the innocent were often lured into the mess during games of tag and "run sheep run." The mill was eventually traded to the father of the late Les Means of Texico, for "two red heifers." Education was rather short in what is now Curry County during his growing up days. At first, classes were held in a shack belonging to a Walter Moorman, then in a tent, later replaced by a building located on land now used for the Pleasant Hill Community Center. Money gave out before the school house was finished, Cliff recalls, and numerous pie suppers and box suppers followed to raise money to put a roof and windows in the building.

Charlie Bieler, now of Farwell, was the first teacher Cliff Spearman had. The school just went to the eighth grade and much of that was lost to the Spearman boys because, following the death of their father, farm responsibilities came first.

As with all of us in looking backward, many memories of weather stand out for this Clovis man. He remembers many bitter winters, and equally, many drought-stricken summers. Crops grown in the area, long before irrigation came, included kafir, maize, broom-corn and corn.

Cliff was the only one of the Spearman boys to cling to this part of the country when they became adults. John Jr. is now deceased, but other members have scattered throughout the country. Older sister, now Bonny Gurley, makes her home in Missouri, while Joe lives in Pawnee, Okla. Maude lives in Bloomfield; Curtis at Spearman, Tex.; Paul at Alton, Miss. Cliff and his other sister, now Pansy McConnell, are the only family members left in Clovis. Selling the old homestead in 1935 and marrying the former Hazel Moore in 1936, Cliff spent the next several years on his farms north of Clovis. The couple retired from farming in mid-1950's and bought their present home in 1953.

VIVID MEMORIES are recalled for Cliff Spearman and his wife, as they look over pictures taken of his family during the first long hard years which they lived after coming to eastern New Mexico. Born near Victoria, Tex., Cliff remembers parts of the long trip west, even though he was only five years old at the beginning of the six-month journey. His wife, Hazel, reports that she, too, is "almost a native" of Curry County, coming here when she was just a child.

PIONEER FAMILY -- Landing in what is now Curry County some 60 years ago on February 22 was this pioneer family from deepest Texas. Members of the family making the trip via team and wagon, as well as railroad, were Mr. and Mrs. John R. Spearman Sr. and children; Bonny, standing, far left; Joe and Maude, with their mother; and Curtis, John R. Jr., Cliff, Paul and Pansy. Spearman Sr. stands behind his seated wife. The house is the original Spearman home, long since replaced, 7 1/2 miles north of Texico.

8 Rural Accidents Reported

Texas Highway Patrol investigated eight accidents on rural highways in Parmer County during the month of January, according to Sergeant W.E. Wells, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in one person killed, 10 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $5,815.00.

April 15 is the deadline to have your motor vehicle inspected. During the past five and one-half months, approximately 2,000,000 or 35 per cent of the approximately 5,750,000 registered vehicles in Texas have been inspected. This leaves 3,750,000 vehicles to be inspected in approximately two months.

The Sergeant reminded car owners that under new provisions of the law there will be additional inspection this year including; steering, wheels and rims, and front seat belts where the anchorages are part of the manufacturer's original equipment.

Motorists who wait until the last weeks of the inspection period may find that they will need to install seat belts. With the last minute rush, there may not be enough seat belts kits to take care of the demand.

Says H.D. Agent --

Take Pinch Out Of Selecting Avocados

A novel approach to take the pinch and guesswork out of selecting ripe avocados, have been developed, says Cricket B. Taylor, County Extension Agent.

A device reads the signals emitted by a ripening avocado. These signals indicate the ripeness of the fruit.

This sensitized royal purple sticker is attached to each avocado after it's picked. As the avocado ripens, gaseous emissions turn the sticker from purple to bright yellow. The sticker has proved 85 per cent effective in market tests, says Mrs. Taylor.

If you need a ripe fruit for immediate use, you can quickly spot avocados with the bright yellow stickers. If you need to hold the fruit for several days, you can select an avocado with a purple sticker and watch it ripen. You'll know it's ripe when the sticker turns yellow.

The sticker will prevent losses from overripe fruit, because retailers can quickly spot the ripe avocados and merchandise them while they are at their peak.

It will lower market cost to you also by reducing the amount of fruit damage by "pinching" habits of buyers.

Shower Honors Recent Bride

Fellowship Hall at Lazbuddie Methodist Church was scene for a recent bridal shower honoring Mrs. David Beasley, nee Cynthia Harvey.

Blue and white, chosen colors of the bride, were used in room decorations and carried out in refreshments. Gift table was laid with white linen and centered with the gifts, all tied with blue and white ribbon bows.

Serving table was laid with blue lace over white and centered with an arrangement of peonies, lily of the valley and bridal wreath, centered by hugh wedding rings set on a styrofoam base. Assorted mints, cookies and punch were served.

Crystal and silver table appointments were used and napkins bearing the names of the honorees completed table decor. Presiding at the serving table were Jennie Mitchell and Caroyl Taylor. Guests were registered by Mrs. Johnnie Mitchell.

The honoree, her mother,

Mrs. James Harvey, and mother of the groom, Mrs. Beasley of Lubbock were presented with corsages made from white net, blue and white ribbon and kitchen items. The two mothers assisted Mrs. Beasley in opening gifts. Gifts were registered by Paulette Simpson.

Special guests in attendance at the shower were grandmother of the bride, Mrs. H. A. Harvey from Plainview, and an aunt, Mrs. E. W. Shafer from Springlake.

Hostess gift was an electric mixer.

In the Tuesday night game, Texico led at end of the first quarter 8-7; Grady had forged ahead 12-10 by end of the first half; third quarter scoring left Grady 14, Texico 12, and at end of the game the teams were tied 15-15.

At end of the first three minute overtime, the game was still tied 17-17. With less than one minute to go in the second overtime, a Grady boy was fouled and made his free shot, leaving the score 18-17. Seconds later on a disputed play, the ball was finally given to the Grady team. They immediately drove for the basket and were able to make a field goal to put the game on ice, shortly before the buzzer sounded to end play.

Carter of Grady, who has been scoring better than 40 points per game, was held to a minimum of two points in the game.

Manuel Martinez led Texico scoring with 11 points, Lynn Hughes had four points and Doug Autrey scored the other two.

Tournament play continues tonight in Portales with Grady meeting Elida in the first game of the evening.

Martha Coffer Bride Of Jimmy Peoples

Chris Moss, Society Editor --- Phone 481-3681

Martha Ann Coffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Coffer, became the bride of Jimmy Dee Peoples, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Peoples, in a 3 p.m. ceremony at Farwell Baptist Church Sunday afternoon.

The double-ring service was read by Rev. J. L. Bass before an altar setting of greenery, candelabra and floral arrangements. Fifteen branch and spiral candelabra, holding pink candles, formed the background for three fan-shaped arrangements of light pink gladioli and rose pink carnations, set on fluted pedestals. Seven branched candelabras flanked the pedestals to complete the altar setting.

Organist, Mrs. Glenda Powell, played appropriate nuptial selections preceding the ceremony and also accompanied her husband, Clyde Powell, when he sang "Twelfth of Never," "More", and "Bless This House."

Candlelighters were Luanne Peoples, sister of the groom, and Mandy Coffer, cousin of the bride. Ringbearer was Joel Peoples, young brother of the groom.

Harley Peoples, Plainview, served as his brother's best man. Groomsman was Vernon Luce, Texico, close friend of the groom. Serving as ushers were Randy Rlerson, Clovis, brother-in-law of the groom, and David Potter, Lovington, brother-in-law of the bride.

Mrs. Mary Potter, Lovington, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Serving as bridesmaid was Donnita Hendricks, Logan, Okla., former college roommate of the bride.

Bridal attendants were attired in identical formal gowns of pink-satin linen, designed along Empire lines. They wore matching shoes, white gloves, and their headpieces were large velvet bows, in matching hue. They carried bouquets of light pink carnations with cascades of dark pink ribbon.

The bride, escorted and given in marriage by her father, wore a princess style gown of silk organza, fashioned with a scalloped sabrina neckline and elbow length sleeves, accented by re-embroidered lace sprinkled with seed pearls. The same lace extended onto the slight A-line skirt which was accented at center back of the waistline with a self bow. The skirt flowed into a chapel train.

The bride's elbow length butterfly veil of silk illusion was held by a crown of platted seed pearls. She carried a white satin covered Bible topped by a cascade arrangement of light pink sweetheart roses and stephanotis, centered by a Cattleya orchid, accented by French-lace streamers.

Following tradition the bride wore pennies in her shoes mired in the year of her birth and that of the groom for something old; new were her gloves and shoes; borrowed was her wedding gown from her sister, Mrs. David Potter; and blue was the traditional garter.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Coffer wore a lime silk ensemble with beige accessories. Her corsage was a white Cattleya orchid. Mrs. Peoples chose a pink lace dress with black accessories for her son's wedding. Her corsage was also a Cattleya orchid.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. Centering the table was the tiered wedding cake, surrounded by four heart shaped cakes, decorated in shades of pink. After the cake had been cut by the bride and groom, it was served with punch, mints, and nuts. Completing table decor were red candles, and bouquets of the bride and her attendants. Table appointments were silver and crystal. Presiding at the serving table were Camille Hobbs and Linda Bitner. Guests were registered by Barbara Coffer, cousin of the bride.

When the couple left for a short trip to Carlsbad, Mrs. Peoples wore a green and beige knit suit with beige accessories, complemented by the orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Quickel of Bovina were honored with a reception at their home on Sunday, marking 50 years of marriage. Children of the couple, Mrs. Dottie Dell Stark and I. W. (Dutch) Quickel and their husband and wife, were hosts for the celebration.

Granddaughters of the honorees, Sabra Dell Stark and Teresa Quickel, alternated at the serving table and the guest register. Serving table was laid with gold satin and white lace. Centering the table was an arrangement of gold mums centered by the number 50th. The tiered anniversary cake, white decorated with gold leaves and flowers, was served with gold
