School Bells Ring At Farwell Aug. 23

Farwell Elementary Registration

Eva Ancira, right, assists Mrs. Joel Ware and her son John in registering John for classes at Farwell Elementary School Tuesday morning. John is one of many new students attending classes this fall at Farwell. The Wares recently moved to the local area where Rev. Ware has been named new pastor at the Oklahoma Lane United Methodist Church. Classes at Farwell will begin on Monday, Aug. 23, at 8:25 a.m. Registration for classes was conducted on Tuesday for all new elementary students, and on Thursday for all high school students. Junior high school and kindergarten students are to register on the first day of school.

In other sheriff's department action this week Parmer County Sheriff Bill Morgan reported:

★ Hargrove Teams Shoot Identical 139's In Tourney

Golfing has always been a family affair for Elmer Hargrove of Farwell and his three sons, Greg, Brett and Kevin, and for the first time in four years, all of the Hargrove men participated in Penny Anderson tourney this past weekend.

Not only did they all participate, but they all had two-day scores of 139. The Hargroves split up to play on three different teams, and each of the teams came up with the identical two-day score.

Elmer teamed with Leete Jackson of Lubbock to capture first place in their flight. Brett, who lives in Lubbock, teamed up with brother Kevin of Farwell to shoot their 139, and Greg, who makes his home in Fort Worth, played with Bruce Dollar of Farwell as his partner.

Anyone want to take a guess on the odds of that kind of scoring happening again?? Well, at least it kept the family members from bragging about being superior to the others.

It seems as if we cannot ever be right. It was 101 degrees last Sunday. Some people never seem to learn about forecasting the weather on the High Plains.

It also seems that the Dallas Cowboys have a hard time learning that the game is not won in the first half alone. We watched the re-run of the Dallas-Buffalo game, and still couldn't believe that the 'Pokes lost. We also read where almost all the players in the various games which were played over the weekend indulged in a bit of defiance toward management by shaking hands with opposing players before the game. Hand-shaking before a contest has been evidence of the old American tradition of good sportsmanship. Nowadays, it's only a labor relations ploy. Ugh.

A wise old bird said that you cannot legislate morality. A reasonable reading of history tends to prove this saw. Yet here we are in the midst of a rather heated campaign to do just that. The effort to pass a Constitutional Amendment prohibiting Congress from spending more than it takes in is just an exercise in futility. The Congresses that have proved so morally bankrupt in the past that they have sold the birthright of future generations for today's vote cannot be expected to abide by something as simple as a Constitutional Amendment.

Why do we say this? In case you do not know it, there is a statutory law already on the books that prohibits this very thing. Congress grandly goes about the sordid business of vote buying and pays not a whit of mind to this already-on-the-books law.

The only answer to disastrous deficit spending is to be found in the moral fiber of the people. The people elect the kind of representatives that they think will pass laws doing something for them at the expense of somebody else. You see it is not "coveting" thy neighbor's goods if you can pass a law to "legally" take it away from said neighbor and get it "transferred" to you. We wonder if Saint Peter has that same view?

Last week Henry Fonda passed away. This week a TV network is running a resume of a taped interview they made with him several years ago. Henry was well thought of by the media. We will make our acknowledgement of this man's passing.

By their fruits so shall ye know them. R.I.P., Henry.

Pseudo Rabies - -

Disease Threat Cancels Texico Achievement Day

Due to the recent rash of pseudo rabies in swine spreading throughout much of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico, the Texico 4-H Achievement Day usually scheduled for around this time of year has been canceled, according to Eddie West, FFA and 4-H advisor.

West said, however, that no cases of the disease have been reported in the Texico vicinity and that the cancellation of the Achievement Day is simply a precautionary measure.

The disease, also known as "mad itch," is highly communicable to other species of animals but not to humans.

According to Billy Dictson, Curry County Extension agent, pseudo rabies has been commonly found throughout the Midwest for many years. But it wasn't until last spring, however, that the disease was found at a livestock sale in Lubbock and has continued to spread throughout the West Texas and Eastern New Mexico areas.

Dictson said that all of the county fairs and livestock shows in the two-state area are taking precautionary measures to stop the spread of the disease which kills the infected animal within a 48-hour period. It also causes the abortion of fetal pigs. Dictson did say, however, that it does not affect the meat of the animal.

Precautionary measures taken by the county fair and livestock boards to stop the spread of the disease include holding terminal fair shows and testing the animals with a blood test for the virus before they are entered. The disease can be detected within seven hours following the blood test.

A terminal show is one in which all of the swine entered will be taken to the slaughter house after the fair with no custom slaughters being allowed. All of the pigs will be slaughtered at the same slaughter house.

Dictson added that this is the most serious epidemic of the disease he has seen in recent years and that it is virtually undetectable because there are no visible symptoms.

The only way to tell, Dictson said, is if you have breeder hogs and they abort their young.

It was a mutual decision made by the Curry County 4-H officials to stop any plans for the Texico Achievement Day in order to prevent the increasing risk of spreading the disease from one farm to another.

Dictson said that it is possible for 24 animals of one species to be gathered together and only one will contact the disease, but he also said that it could be entirely possible for all 24 animals to contact the disease. "We just can't take that chance," he concluded.

many other carnival festivities will be highlighted.

Spearheading the fund-raising effort are John and Peggy Beasley with a committee of other church members. Serving with the Beasleys in organizing, structuring, and promoting the event are committee members Debbie Barnard, Cindy Blair, Alta Bost, Dwayne Carter, Vernon Mills, Jack Murphy, Darla Smithson, Carolyn Taber, Charlotte Urban, Dr. R. Texico H.S. Students To Yearbook Seminar

Texico High School students Chary Jesko and Jeff Johnson recently returned from the Duke City Yearbook Seminar held at Sandia High School in Albuquerque, July 25-30.

Sponsored by Campus Specialties, a national organization, the seminar featured high school students from Gallup, Grants, Espanola, and other New Mexico communities as well as from California.

While at the seminar, 11 groups of students participated in putting together a 24-page yearbook, and each student was responsible for taking and developing his own pictures, writing stories, and writing captions.

The students also competed for various awards in writing, layout, and photographic categories. Chary received an award for her photography, and she said that she had never taken photographs before the seminar. She will serve as yearbook photographer for Texico School this year.

Workshops began at the seminar at 8 a.m. each morning and they concluded at 4:30 in the afternoon.

It wasn't all work for the students at the workshop, however, explained Ronnie Warmuth, Texico yearbook advisor. He said that on Sunday the students gathered for an ice cream social and on Monday they had a barbecue and participated in a hay ride.

Warmuth also said that on Tuesday they attended the Albuquerque Dukes baseball game and on Wednesday they traveled to Uncle Cliff's Amusement Park for a day of fun.

The seminar concluded on Thursday with a barbecue at the home of Mike Smith, a sponsor at the event.

loudly at Lariat, spokesmen there said an unmeasurable sprinkle covered the area.

Texico Schools Collecting Old Newspapers

Texico Schools personnel is appealing to all Texico and Farwell residents to save all their old newspapers, which will be collected and sold, and the proceeds used for classes and departments in the schools.

Residents are urged to call Ronnie Warmuth at Texico Schools, 482-3305, and arrange for pick-up on Friday afternoons and Saturday mornings.

Warmuth urges that the old papers be put into large grocery bags and set on the front porch, and they will be picked up. He stresses that calls be made to the school first, so that locations can be listed and the collections made.

Proceeds in the past have been used for math students trips, chess team trips, etc., and some of the proceeds from the papers will be used by the yearbook staff.

Allsup's Stores To Assist With MD Fund Drive

Allsup's Convenience Stores will again participate in the Annual Muscular Dystrophy Fund Raising Drive. Allsup's stores will be displaying the Muscular Dystrophy Collection Canisters in all of the stores in New Mexico, Texas, and Oklahoma in order to help meet the goals of this worthwhile association, whose programs are funded almost entirely by private contributions, corporations and the Labor Day Telethon.

The Muscular Dystrophy Association is looking for cures and causes of a group of diseases, marked by progressive weakness and wasting of the skeletal muscles which control body movement. Neuromuscular disease can strike anyone at any age, afflicting an estimated one million Americans.

In addition to the "in-store" canisters, Allsup's will also be conducting the "Allsup's Doorbell Brigade." Area youngsters are encouraged to visit their local Allsup's store on September 5 and 6 and pick up a collection packet for the door to door campaign. After collecting donations for "Jerry's Kids" and returning them to the store, Allsup's will give the youngsters a free fountain drink of their choice. It's our way of saying thanks to the kids for caring.

From Jack Crow, Director of Public Relations, "Thanks to all of our customers for your generosity in this fight against neuromuscular diseases, and we at Allsup's are looking forward to working with area youngsters to help the Muscular Dystrophy Associations."

Chuckwagon Opening Is Realization Of Dream

by June Magness

The fulfillment of this dream has taken a rather long and curved road, though in years, the dream has come true a lot sooner than many do. From Farwell to Lubbock, back west to Colorado, with trips to the Grand Ole Opry and the White House thrown in between, and now a final stop in Ruidoso, all in a matter of only a few years, the headline might indeed read: "Local boy makes good."

James Hobbs, Farwell graduate and son of Mrs. Beulah Hobbs who still resides here, headed for Lubbock Christian College soon after high school graduation and it wasn't long until the dream began.

James sang with many groups while at the Lubbock school, joining the LCC Hard Travelers group for their tour one year, participating in several of the college's musical presentations, and enjoying singing and playing the guitar all the while.

It was during his career at LCC that James happened to meet Jeff Chandler, a music maker from Arkansas, who later would become a partner with the local boy in a dream they both could only envision at the time.

Chandler was looking for someone to complete a quartet for the summer season at the Lazy B Ranch in Estes Park, Colo., and James turned out to be that person. So, with Tom Justin, Lynn Campbell and Chandler, (The Lazy B Wranglers) James went to the Grand Ole Opry and the White House to perform.

The Lazy B was a chuckwagon style operation and during their work there, James and Jeff talked and dreamed and planned of having their own chuckwagon someday.

Jeff has sung with Marty Robbins for the past three years and toured with him.

And now this summer in Ruidoso, along with investor J. Curtis Hall, they have opened the Flying J Ranch Chuckwagon.

The Flying J has been open only a few weeks, and the Wranglers worked right up until opening night getting all in readiness—the big openair building, the stage, the serving area, the long tables where guests enjoy their meal.

The stage show consists of James on guitar, Chandler on bass and banjo, Cindy Hobbs and Nancy Chandler on vocals, and Junior Dougherty on fiddle.

"Our goal," says James, "is to provide an evening of entertainment that the vacationing family can enjoy together. We serve an authentic chuck wagon supper, as close as we can get it to what the cowboy might have had on the trail a hundred years ago."

"And after supper," Chandler says, "just as the cowboys might have done as they sat around the campfire, we'll sing songs of the old west."

"Our stage show will include singing and comedy, banjo-picking, and fiddling, and maybe even a few surprises," he added.

James said, "We'll feed folks a good meal at a reasonable price and then put on a good show for them. We are offering what we hope will appeal to everyone."

The menu includes sliced beef in mild sauce, big helpings of pinto beans, a foil-wrapped potato, sourdough biscuits, butter and jelly, spice cake, applesauce, and coffee or lemonade.

The meal is cooked chuckwagon style and is served up by the Wranglers themselves. Diners are permitted to go back for seconds, and then when everyone has eaten, they sit back to enjoy an evening of old west entertainment—and are sometimes even invited to join in singing some of the favorites.

Location of the chuckwagon at Ruidoso in Lincoln County (or Billy the Kid Country) seemed quite appropriate to the Wranglers who felt that so much of the old west history had occurred right in the area, and an old west atmosphere was what they wanted to create in their establishment.

The chuckwagon opens at 6:30 p.m. daily except Sundays. Guests await the gong of the dinner bell at long tables that fill the dining hall, then at 7:30, it's time to eat.

The entertainment, which usually lasts over an hour, begins soon after 8 o'clock.

The Flying J is located one mile north of the Alto Village, turnoff on Highway 37. Reservations are suggested and may be made by calling 505/336-4330.

Flying J Wranglers

Making music at their newly-opened Flying J Ranch Chuckwagon in Ruidoso are two of the Flying J Wranglers, James Hobbs, left, and Jeff Chandler. The third partner in the entertainment establishment is J.

Curtis Hall. The chuckwagon, which features a meal of sliced beef in mild sauce, pinto beans, potato, spice cake, sourdough biscuits, coffee and lemonade, also includes an evening of musical and comedy entertainment featuring songs and music of the Old West. If you're planning to be in Ruidoso, plan on spending an evening at the Flying J.

Jack Hightower To Speak At Knox City Field Day

Congressman Jack E. Hightower of Vernon will be the principal speaker at a field day to be held at the USDA Soil Conservation Service Plant Materials Center at Knox City on August 25.

Congressman Hightower serves on the conservation, credit, and rural development subcommittee within the Committee on Appropriations. He will speak about 12:30 p.m.

Duval Burton, district conservationist for SCS at Friona, said the public is being invited to the event. The center serves both Texas and Oklahoma.

Guided tours will be conducted through the 90-acre center from 9:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. The center is located on FM 1292, 2 miles north and 2 1/2 miles west of Knox City.

A barbecue lunch will be available on a prepaid basis at $4.50 per plate. Payment should be sent to Doris Crownover, Chamber of Commerce, Box 91, Knox City, Texas 79529, by August 20.

Seed or rootstock from native plants that show potential for solving specific soil and water conservation problems are collected, then grown and evaluated at the Knox City Center. The more promising ones are then tested under field conditions by farmers and ranchers cooperating with local soil and water conservation districts. Selections which prove superior to commercial varieties are then released to seed growers. These producers then grow seed and sell it to the public.

Several hundred strains of grasses, legumes, forbs, and woody plants are being tested at Knox City. SCS also operates a plant materials center at Kingsville in cooperation with the Caesar Kleberg Wildlife Research Institute, Texas A&I University, and the South Texas Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts. The South Texas center was established in 1981.

TV Station To Present Golden Service Award

Lubbock, Tx.--In April of this year KAMC-TV awarded the first Golden Service Award to John and Porferio DeLeon. These two off duty Lubbock police officers rescued several victims from a burning car crash.

The Golden Service Award is presented by KAMC-TV, Channel 28, to persons or organizations which perform outstanding service to a community, group or a person.

Bill McAlister, who is the president and owner of KAMC, said, "too often groups or individuals who perform outstanding acts toward communities or his fellow man, never receive the recognition they deserve."

"Our station will seek out and publicly honor these groups and persons," McAlister said, "and that's where the general public can help."

KAMC is asking for nominations from anyone, anywhere in the South Plains area. Those selected will be publicly honored and will receive an engraved plaque. "The Golden Service Award," McAlister said, "is simply to honor those organizations or persons who perform acts of kindness without any thought of who gets the credit."

Nominations, in writing, may be sent to our station: KAMC-TV, Box 2805, Lubbock, Tx. 79408.

Although the standard English dictionary contains between 300,000 and 500,000 words, the average person uses only about 3,000.

FREE EDUCATION AND THE UNDOCUMENTED WORKER

On June 15, 1982, The Supreme Court ruled, 5-4, that Texas and other states must provide free public education for the children of undocumented workers—people in this country illegally.

Our current Lt. Governor, Mr. Hobby, was happy with the decision, praising it as the "only rational decision" the court could have made.

On the contrary, I think it was a wrong decision that defied both law and logic.

One of the principal underpinnings of an orderly society is that one should not benefit from breaking the law. All around the world, thousands of people stand patiently in line at our embassies, waiting for legal entry into this country. By its recent ruling, the Supreme Court told these people that, if they are smart, they will ignore our immigration laws, find some other way to enter, and then there's a good likelihood all manner of taxpayer-supported benefits will be open to them and their families.

We can all feel sympathy for people driven to emigrate by desperate economic conditions. And I believe we should be compassionate toward the children of undocumented workers who are here through no fault of their own. We have been told we must educate these children and we will: it is our duty.

But I am deeply concerned about the effect this will have on our school systems and the quality of education. We have only a certain amount of desks and dollars with which to address the problems of educating Texas' children.

The court was essentially establishing social policy under the guise of ruling on a constitutional question. The result was bad law and bad social policy. It should now be up to the Federal Government to help pay for the mess they have created by not properly policing our borders.

Sarah Mears, Randy Geris Wed In Candlelight Ceremony

Sarah Ann Mears of Friona and Randy Scott Geris of Farwell exchanged double-ring wedding vows in a candlelight ceremony in First Baptist Church of Friona on Friday, July 30. Dr. Carrol Green, pastor, officiated at the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Sam Mears of Friona, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Geris of Farwell.

Nuptial music was played by Eva Miller, organist, grandmother of the bride, and Eileen Miller, pianist, great-aunt of the bride. They also accompanied Dana Miller, cousin of the bride, and Sharla Duggins as they sang "The Wedding Song," and "What A Difference You've Made in My Life;" Penni Weatherly as she sang "You Light Up My Life," as the candles were being lit, and "All My Love" by Bryan Johnston and Clint Mears, brother of the bride. Johnston and Mears wrote the song especially for the wedding.

"Wedding March" from the "Sound of Music" was played for the entrance of the bridal party, and "Bridal March" for the entrance of the bride. The recessional was "Alleluia" by Mozart.

Lighting the candles were Steve and Lisa Geris, brother and sister of the bridegroom.

Special guests were Roy and Eva Miller of Friona, grandparents of the bride, and Dick and Pearl Geris of Farwell and Duffy and Pauline Sasser of Clovis, grandparents of the bridegroom.

The church was decorated with an archway of greenery, a unity candle with lavender carnations and greenery, and white lattice screens on each side. White baskets holding heirloom roses were in front of the setting with rose bushes standing on the sides in white rattan baskets. Family pews were marked with large orchid bows.

The registration table held brass candlesticks with pink and lavender candles and pink floating candles in a brandy snifter. A pink plume pen was used to register guests. A lattice screen backed with pink satin with bows and ivy on the front completed the table decor.

Roy Miller gave the opening prayer preceding the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white cluny lace trimmed with chantilly lace. It featured a Victorian neckline with stand-up collar and sheer yoke edged with a lace ruffle.

A lace band circled the waistline accented in back with a satin bow and streamers. Sheer leg-o-mutton sleeves were cuffed in lace ruffles. The lace skirt was bordered with a lace ruffle and formed a sweeping train in back.

Her elbow length veil of tulle was attached to a small white rose wreath with satin streamers.

She wore a ruby and diamond necklace, a gift from the bridegroom, ruby earrings borrowed from Margaret Duggins, and a gold ring that belonged to the bridegroom's grandmother, Pauline Sasser, when she was married to his late grandfather, Modrel E. Williams. She also wore the traditional blue garter and pennies minted in the years of the couple's births. She carried a Bible with a white lace covering, borrowed from the bridegroom's sister, Dondra Lonsdale.

She carried a silk bouquet of dusty pink roses and light grape cabbage roses.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Mary Day of Kermit, Tex. She wore a dusty rose full length gown of ribbonet featuring a scooped neckline with puffed elbow length sleeves. Ruffles edged the neckline and the sleeves. She carried a fan featuring an arrangement of roses.

Other bridal attendants were Kerri Donahey of Texico, Melanie Watts of Wellington, and Dondra Lonsdale of Amarillo.

They wore dresses of light grape ribbonet fashioned like that of the maid of honor. Each bridal attendant wore a gold necklace with a tulip inset matching the color of her dress, a gift from the bride. They also carried fan arrangements similar to the one carried by the maid of honor.

Lisa Geris, sister of the bridegroom, distributed wedding programs. The gray programs were printed in pink and lavender, and featured an original drawing by Mrs. Clyde Tims on the front cover.

Lisa wore a dusty pink long dress of the same material as that of the maid of honor featuring cap ruffle sleeves. She also wore a gold necklace with a pink heart inset, a gift from the bride.

Don Geris served his son as best man. Groomsmen were Bruce Mayfield of Texico, Radney Robertson of Carlsbad, N.M., and Max Lonsdale of Amarillo, brother-in-law of the bridegroom. Ushers included the groomsmen and Steve Geris, brother of the bridegroom.

The bridegroom wore a white tuxedo with tails and a white pleated shirt and bow tie. The male attendants wore silver gray tuxedos with white shirts and bow ties.

The bride's mother wore a floor length grape polyester dress with a cape-like collar edged in pink lace.

The bridegroom's mother wore a lavender sleeveless floor length dress with sheer chiffon cover-up.

Rice bags were distributed by Lisa Geris, Mara Miller of Los Alamos, cousin of the bride, and David Tims of Sunray, cousin of the bride.

Melisa Mullins of Amarillo presided at the guest register. To begin the reception in fellowship hall of the church, Geary Brogden sang, "Here We Are Now," to the newly married couple.

The three-tiered wedding cake and the bridegroom's cake were made by Mrs. Clyde Tims, aunt of the bride.

The bride's cake was decorated with a gazebo at the top with a bride and bridegroom figurine in white with small dusty pink roses, and a grape fountain with grape colored water. Pink and purple apple blossoms and stephanotis with dusty rose bows adorned the fountain.

The bride's table was covered with pink satin under a white lace draped cloth caught with small white corsages. Grape sherbet punch was served. A bouquet of white carnations and heirloom roses arranged on an amethyst cake platter with a liftout corsage for the bride, decorated the table.

Kimber Britting and Jamie Fuks, both of Friona, served cake at the bride's table. Serving punch was Sherry Kramer of Skellytown, cousin of the bride.

The bridegroom's table was covered with a gray satin cloth with lace draped around the skirt and caught with lavender silk roses.

Strawberry cake was served from a silver tray. The cake was decorated with a fireman on top and a fire truck at the side. Fresh strawberries decorated the bottom of the cake.

Silver appointments were used to serve coffee, nuts and pink and white chocolate mints which were made by Glenda Geris of Uvalde, aunt of the bridegroom. Presiding at the bridegroom's table were Tina Geris of Texico, cousin of the bridegroom, and Debbie Burks of Amarillo.

Others in the houseparty were Mrs. Clyde Tims of Sunray, Mrs. Dale Glass of McLean, Nelda Miller of Los Alamos, and Jan Miller of Los Alamos, all aunts of the bride; Mrs. John Hays of Kress and Evelyn Tims of Sunray, cousins of the bride; and Mrs. Danny Black, Mrs. J. Vonne Fuks, Mrs. Larry Moyer, and Mrs. David Smith, all of Friona.

For a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colo., the bride wore a white street length dress smocked in pink and lavender, lavender shoes, and a 1920 pink and lavender pin and earrings. Her corsage was of white carnations and heirloom roses.

The couple will reside at 2005 Seventh Avenue, Canyon, where they are both juniors at West Texas State University. Geris is also a Canyon firefighter and assistant city code enforcement officer.

The bridegroom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner after the rehearsal at the First Baptist Church fellowship hall in Farwell.

A meal of barbecue, salads and desserts, prepared by the bridegroom's mother, was served at tables decorated with pink and lavender and holding small baskets of flowers. Mrs. Geris presented a bulletin board of pictures of Randy and Sarah from their birth dates until their engagement, matching ages and events.

Assisting Mrs. Geris with the rehearsal dinner were Alta Geris, aunt of the bridegroom, Eva Dean Stephens, and Susan Johnson.

Courtesies extended the couple prior to their wedding included a bridal shower in Friona on July 10, a bridal shower in Farwell on July 13, and a bridal luncheon in the home of Mrs. Ross Miller in Friona on July 30.

The bride was also honored with a lingerie shower in Canyon, and the couple was presented a Bible in a special Acteen Bible Service at Friona on July 28. The Acteens presented a Bible to Randy and Sarah to be given to someone who visits their home who has no Bible.

Your teenager's attitude toward alcohol begins to form long before the legal age for drinking and is learned earliest in the home, say many experts on child behavior. Young people brought up by responsible adults are more likely to make the right decisions later on and more likely to realize that drinking too much too often is not grownup.

did you know?

The steam-driven turbine rotor at Talk Station, our new coal-fired plant near Muleshoe, Texas, whirrs at such great speed that if it were placed on the highway, it would travel the 125 miles from Lubbock to Amarillo in about 6 minutes. Other interesting facts about the power plant, which began generating electricity in July: At the speed the main steam — which drives the turbine — travels through the pipes, it could finish the Boston Marathon (26 miles) in about 12 minutes. At maximum output the turbine produces about 728,000 horsepower. It can provide power for 5,430,000 hundred-watt light bulbs.

Jim Matthews, Generation Design & Construction Group Manager, Amarillo.

The primary fuel for Talk Station is a low-sulphur, high-heat-value coal from the Black Thunder Mine near Gillette, Wyoming. Southwestern Public Service made the decision to buy this coal because the low-sulphur rating means we can comply with certain requirements of the Clean Air Act without installing extremely complex and extremely expensive pollution-control devices.

Leo Austin, Supervising Engineer, Roswell.

We'll turn things upside down to benefit our customers. Here's an example: We use a "rotary dumper" system to unload the railroad cars which carry coal to Talk. The cars are unloaded one by one. Each is attached to a large wheel that literally turns the car upside down, pouring out the coal. The system allows us to use lighter weight coal cars. So our freight cost is lower, and so is the fuel cost adjustment our customers pay.

Jack Logan, Operations Superintendent, Muleshoe.

Conference Offers Ways To Use Tractors Economically

Agricultural engineers, economists and tractor specialists from industry and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will share with farmers and implement dealers ideas to improve tractor efficiency at a daylong conference in Lubbock September 1.

The 'Big Tractor Conference' is designed to help area farmers make the most economical use of their tractors and assist equipment dealers in matching the most desirable equipment to their customers' needs, said Elston Grubaugh, Extension agricultural engineer at Lubbock.

The conference at the South Park Inn, South Loop 289 at the Indiana Avenue exit, begins at 10 a.m. Registration opens at 9 a.m. A $7.50 registration fee includes lunch and conference proceedings.

High speed farming with two-wheel-drive and four-wheel-drive equipment will be discussed by J. Charles Steinman, factory marketing manager for John Deere Tractor Works, Waterloo, Iowa.

The use of computerized management tools to analyze tractor costs will be explained by Extension agricultural economist, Gary D. Condra of Lubbock.

Bob Beaman, merchandising manager for Steiger Tractor Co., Fargo, N.D., will report on electronics, the 'wave of the future" in agricultural tractors. William P. Simpson, product information specialist with J.I. Case Co., Racine, Wis., will discuss tractor weighting and its effect on performance.

Tractor size and implement matching will be covered by Wally Post, Arlington district manager for Allis Chalmers Corp. A comparative analysis of radial and bias-ply drive wheel tractor tires will be made by Lyle Bohnert, senior field development engineer for B.F. Goodrich Co., Franklin Park, Ill.

The role of four-wheel-drive tractors in row crop farming will be examined by Dave Hess, advanced design manager for crop production systems, International Harvester, Hinsdale, Ill.

Soil compaction and its management will be discussed by Edwin Colburn, Extension agronomist and soil management specialist, College Station.

The program will conclude with a panel discussion by area farmers and equipment dealers. Henry O'Neal, Extension agricultural engineer from College Station, will moderate the discussion.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM PRES. BEREAH BIBLE SOCIETY CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60633

"A STONE OF STUMBLING"

Some thirty years after the death and resurrection of Christ St. Peter wrote to the believers of the Jewish dispersion:

"Unto you therefore which believe He is precious, but unto them which be disobedient, the Stone which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner. And a stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence, even to them which stumble at the Word, being disobedient..." (I Pet. 2:7,8).

It is true that Israel's builders 1900 years ago "disallowed" Christ as the cornerstone for their building, and that when He became the "Head of the corner," according to Psalm 118:22, it was for them an occasion for stumbling and embarrassment.

But Christ is "a stone of stumbling" to all who reject Him. In Romans 9:33 St. Paul quotes from several Old Testament passages:

"As it is written, Behold, I lay in Sion a stumblingstone and rock of offence; and whosoever believeth on Him shall not be ashamed."

In Peter's day and in Paul's, those who looked upon Christ as their Cornerstone were never given cause to be ashamed. It was those who disallowed and refused Him who kept stumbling over Him and were constantly embarrassed by Him.

So today, those who put their trust in the crucified, risen Christ are eternally secure and will never be put to shame for having done so. But those who reject Christ keep forever stumbling over Him. They hear Him preached over the radio, they see Him offered as the One who died for their sins, they are constantly confronted with His claims and they are embarrassed. They keep forever stumbling over Him.

Moral: Trust Him now as your personal Savior, for "whosoever believeth on Him shall not be ashamed."

Wayne Schueler Ordained As Lutheran Minister

The Fourth of July weekend was more than just a national holiday for Walter, Martha and Gary Schueler of the Rhea community.

It was the day that their son and brother, Rev. Wayne Allen Schueler, was ordained as a Lutheran minister.

The newly ordained Rev. Schueler held the 9 a.m. worship service with communion at Immanuel Lutheran Church in Rhea. Many friends and relatives almost filled the church to hear the "local boy" preach. Shirley Schueler served as organist.

Following the church service, Carrie and Jo Schueler presented two puppet shows for the children entitled, "The Shepherd and the Lost Sheep," and "Nancy and Sally Tell About The Lost Sheep."

The 3 p.m. ordination service for Rev. Schueler was conducted by Rev. Herman Schel-ter of Lariat at the Rhea church, with Wayne's brother, Gary Schueler, at the organ.

Ministers in the procession were Rev. Herman Schel-ter, circuit counselor, of Lariat; Rev. Russell Ziener, vacancy pastor for Immanuel, Rhea, of Clovis; Rev. Robert Kuhlman of Amarillo; Rev. Otto Kretzman of Wilson, Tex., former pastor at Rhea; Rev. Bauer of Plainview; and Rev. Tim Baldinger of Amarillo.

Schueler's nephew, Luke Markert of Victoria, carried the ordination banner in the procession. The banner was made especially for Wayne by the Raymond Schueler family of Rhea.

Cecilia Schueler and Stephanie Rierson sang "Pass It On" with Gary Schueler at the organ.

Rev. Kretzman delivered the sermon.

The reception in the Rhea Community Center followed the ceremony. A large fruit filled Bible shaped cake, decorated with red roses forming a cross, and a white dove, was brought from Victoria by Schueler's in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Markert.

The cake, cookies, and pineapple punch were served from a white linen and lace covered table. The centerpiece of red and white carnations, purple statice, and baby's breath was a gift from Wayne's parents.

At the reception, Kathy Terry, president of Rhea LWML, presented Wayne with a green stole, and Lorna Schueler of Rhea and Liz Kaltwasser of Lariat gave him the white stole that they made for him. His wife Ann made his red ordination stole, and trimmed it with white counted cross-stitch doves. His purple stole is being made by his mother.

A stole is a narrow band of fabric in the various liturgical colors appropriate for the respective seasons of the church year, usually decorated with embroidered symbols. It is worn over the shoulders of the minister as a symbol of ordination, representing the yoke of Christ.

Following the reception, relatives and friends had supper at the Walter Schueler home.

After dark, a fireworks display by Rev. Schueler and Dr. Dale Schueler was enjoyed by everyone.

On July 11, Walter and Martha Schueler and grand-daughter, Angela Kube, went to Albany for Rev. Schueler's installation at Trinity Lutheran Church. Angela had spent the week with the Schuelers and her other grandparents, Martin and Frances Kube of Farwell. Angela's parents and brother, Wayne and Vickie Kube and Lee Allen, were also at Albany for the installation service.

Weekend visitors in the Walter Schueler home for the ordination were Rev. Wayne and Ann Schueler, Sarah and Matthew of Albany, Tex.; their daughter and family, Vicki and Wayne Kube, Angela and Lee Allen of Bryan; Martha's father and stepmother Pete and Jimmy Wolover of Lubbock; Mrs. O. J. Parrish of Sudan; Ann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Markert of Victoria; her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Markert and Luke; and her sister Janet and son Mark, also of Victoria.

Many other relatives and friends also attended a lunch at the Walter Schueler home that Sunday.

Ordained As Minister

Wayne Schueler, who was ordained as a Lutheran minister in ceremonies at Immanuel Lutheran Church at Rhea on July 4, accepts a green stole from Kathy Terry, president of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League of the Rhea church who presented the stole in honor of his ordination. At right are Lorna Schueler and Liz Kaltwasser of St. John Lutheran Church of Lariat who presented Schueler with a white and gold stole which they had made for him also in honor of his ordination. Schueler is a native of the Rhea community and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schueler of Rhea.
