

It's Too Wet To Plow

Farmers say it's too wet to plow, but they smile when they say it.

After a long drought, planting moisture is adequate over most of the Littlefield and Lamb County area, even the dryland areas in the Bala and Pep communities.

At press time rainfalls totaled from 1.5 up to almost five inches since the first rainfall last week.

Friday Lamb County went under the third tornado watch this week.

Three tornadoes were sighted near Earth Tuesday and Thursday. The first funnel cloud was spotted about five miles west of Earth Tuesday evening. A tornado touched down in open country five miles north of Earth after 8:30 the same evening. Thursday a tornado was reported on the ground two miles south of Earth about 7 p.m.

Only a trace of moisture fell on the immediate Littlefield area Thursday, but a total of 3.4 inches had been recorded since the first shower last week.

At press time Saturday, planting moisture was adequate over most of the Littlefield trade area. More rain was needed in the Whitharral area where an average of 1.5 inches were recorded in the period since the showers began.

Farmers in the Pep and Bala areas said they would welcome more rain. One of the dryland farms in this area received only .3 Wednesday night.

Some of the heaviest rainfalls were recorded in the Spade community, but in most cases the Wednesday night rains came so fast that much of the rain ran off.

Some of the moisture recorded from the Wednesday night rains were W. E. Mitchell, three miles north and four east of Spade, received 2.1. Southwest of Spade, 3.9 were dumped in a short time Wednesday.

To the west and southwest of Littlefield around Pep and Bala, Sam Walker reported two inches. Bob Edwards recorded 2.2 Wednesday. Hazel House reported 2.5. As much as three inches fell three east and three south of Bala.

Some crops were damaged in the Springlake-Earth, Otton areas. Several farmers with good stands of corn said they would have to replant.

Some cotton and early feed grains planted before the rains will need replanting. But for most producers, the benefits of the precipitation outweigh the consequences.

FOR A PICNIC? Tables and fire pits at Laguna Park are standing after a total of 3.4 inches of rain has fallen on Littlefield since May 4.

The inscription on the marker reads: "Rocky Ford Crossing (1/2 mile to the West)"

On upper channel of 840-mile-long Brazos River, the settlers' water source, but a travel barrier. In 1926, Pioneers built rock road, lining river bed at this point to make it passable. At ford they also built a tabernacle for church and club meetings, founding the Rocky Ford Community. (1972)"

The marking of local historic sites and landmarks is part of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee's program of preservation activities.

These include archeological investigations, small museum consultation, and administering the National Historic Preservation Act in Texas. As of 1970 the Survey Committee had erected more than 5,000 official markers.

The name and location of the present marker will appear in the next edition of the "Guide to Official Texas Historical Markers" in order to stimulate tourist travel in this area, to arouse interest in historical tours, and to acquaint the people of this locale with their unique heritage.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

No Stagnation

By BOB WEAR

OUR ACTUAL, our potential, our opportunities, our abilities, and our plans will all be lost without the wise application of energy; our energy.

This, then, is our choice. We can be energetic in our living, in conduct of business, in improving and keeping up our community, and in all other situations; or stagnation is inevitable.

INDIFFERENCE MAY BE the greatest ally of stagnation. When we slip back, or deliberately move back from life to the point of not caring, we are moving into the bog of stagnation.

When we know what should be done, and know how to do it, and we have the wherewith to do it; but we don't care enough to do it; we and everything with which we are associated are in a bad, sad way.

"INDIFFERENCE NEVER wrote great works, nor thought out striking inventions, nor reared the solemn architecture that awes the soul, nor breathed sublime music, nor painted glorious pictures, nor undertook heroic philanthropies. All of these grandeur are born of enthusiasm, and are done heartily." — Anon.

Indifference is a sure way to stagnation.

OUR AIM MUST BE "no stagnation" in anything that concerns us and our life situation.

Stagnation in human conditions and circumstances becomes the breeding place for a multitude of other evils.

VITAL LIFE, filled with continuing progress and improvement, is so much better than malodorous stagnation.

To comply with the latest federal ruling, anyone between 15 and 21 years of age cannot be x-rayed on this type unit unless they specify one of the following reasons: a positive tuberculin reaction, necessary clearance for camp, college, a job, health card, or because they are a food handler.

STAGNATION IS A THREAT to individual lives, to communities, to business establishments; and to all other things involving human thoughts, plans and actions.

It is a constant threat, and seems to be always near, just waiting to take over. We must not permit this to happen.

WHEN A LIFE, or a business, or a community becomes inactive, or dull, or stale, it has become stagnate and about as useless as a body of stagnant water.

This never happens overnight, but is a deadening process which can be detected in its early stages. This is the time to stop it. After it gains control, it is very difficult to overcome.

SLOTH IS THE forerunner of stagnation, so far as human situations are concerned. If we become indolent, or lazy, or unconcerned; we are heading for trouble.

We are moving rapidly toward the dreariness and misery of stagnation. This is a miserable way of loss and despair, and is made more miserable in realizing that we could be moving with the stream of gain and hope.

"EXCESS IS NOT the only thing that breaks up both health and enjoyment; many are brought into a very ill and languishing habit of body by mere sloth, which is both a great sin, and the cause of many more." — South.

ENERGY, APPLIED with wisdom, makes stagnation impossible. We must be "up and doing". This is not activity just to be active, but it is the working of well-thought-out plans.

It is doing what we see to be done, and being alert to the developing needs and opportunities.

Take A Look

WHAT DO WE SEE when we look at Littlefield? Most of us see it as a good place to live, and getting better.

We see many organizations, institutions and individual citizens working together to make all of this possible.

WE SEE GENEROUS, neighborly people who help each other as a general way of living; and, in time of emergency, they rise to meet the need.

We see people, most people, working diligently to do their job, to render needed services; and, in general, people who accept their responsibilities cheerfully.

WHEN WE LOOK at Littlefield, we see a growing interest in community improvement.

This is a genuine interest, and it promises to become permanent in its manifestations. It is obvious that this is the only way to keep Littlefield alive.

THERE IS A SPREADING enthusiasm for doing the best we can with what we have. We are beginning to see more and more evidence of this essential element of community life. As it grows, we will see the realization of more and more of our potential.

Enthusiasm is beginning to replace lethargy.

THE TALK IS CHANGING. There is a lessening of bad-mouthing, and an increase of hopeful talk. There is less discouraging talk, and more words of encouragement.

Conversations are becoming less skeptical. Some people are saying, "We can do it." Others are saying, "I didn't think they could do it, but they did."

WE SEE OPTIMISM where there was pessimism some time ago. Of course, there is still some pessimism.

There will probably continue to be some, but it is wonderful to see the developing optimism. This constructive point of view comes from within people, and is not dependent upon the vacillating, external stimuli from the environment.

WE SEE IMPROVING ATTITUDES in most segments of our community life.

This is making everybody feel better, because it means that we are finding it easier to pool our resources and our efforts so we can work for the common good.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS are being made, and there are many more to be made.

Some are presently underway, and more are being planned.

WE SEE ALL OF THIS as a continuing strength and a growing benefit to Littlefield.

DEAR EDITOR

What Our Readers Think

'Youth Are Sincere'

May 9, 1972
Littlefield, Texas

Leader-News
313 West 4th
Littlefield, Texas

Dear Editor:

They say it takes all kinds to make up this world and for that fact I am thankful because I would hate to do without the sweet refreshing youth in our community who are being criticized for their sincerity and love for Jesus Christ.

In other words, I beg to differ with CORNBALL BLEVINS.

How many of these youth have you sat down with to discuss their views on Jesus Christ and their day to day relationship with Him? How many have you listened to about what Christ is doing in and through their lives?

How many of their dog-eared, underlined Bibles have you examined and listened to how they are applying these teachings to daily living? How many of them have you observed and noticed the real change in their lives as the love of JESUS shines through them daily?

How many of these so called "JESUS PEOPLE" have you had as members of your family, as I have, and watched them read and study the Bible daily, pray for daily guidance, and develop a deeper, more genuine love for their fellowmen as a beautiful guide, Jesus Christ, takes over their lives?

How many have you given a chance to defend their stand before you judge them so harshly? Adults could well take some lessons from these dedicated CHRISTIAN youth.

I venture to say that many of you have been opposed to the unjust way some people lump all adults in a group and measure them by the same measuring stick. They make sweeping generalizations and say all adults are hypocrites because some say, "Do as I say, not as I do."

All are not hypocrites. Some are very sincere and dedicated in their faith. By the same token we cannot the youth into one group and say they are not sincere and they are with Christ is only a fact.

Call them the "Jesus People" you will — if their's is a sincere trip with Jesus Christ. Who are we to say they are sincere?

Since when do we have a relationship with Christ? We know ours is not fad, individual and his God knows just what the relationship is answer for you or for me.

I could take these same religion based on superstition personally because youth are saying and feeling the same things I say and do for I have shared with many.

They may have a little of expressing it, just a little different in many of their ways. As for dragging the name of His church into the depths of confidence in the youth I've been to than to expect that he couldn't be much worse than laden Bibles to which he made.

There are more ways to the heart of God than the implication on the youth. Indifference, judging, and self-righteousness to name a few of the ways.

Oh well, it takes all kinds to stick with the "Jesus People" know. Their's is a living Christ in them.

Oh, by the way — my Bible covered. I dusted it just today.

P.S. I truly wish that Mr. Blewins know these young people as them, and he would see that they love Jesus Christ.

HONNY GRYS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

RIGHT AT THE PRESENT, my criticism of the President's move to blockade the Reds, consists of: "What took you so long?"

True, there are risks involved, but for a long time, I've had the opinion that we should either FIGHT or GET OUT! Too long have we pussy-footed around tryin' to please everybody.

IF THE THING works, Mr. Nixon will be a hero, if not, he'll be a heel. Depends on which end of the horse you're lookin' at!

OF COURSE, THE Demo-contenders are willing to make hay while the situation is clouded; trying to cop a few votes. It doesn't matter that the enemy thrives on the noisy discord within our own nation, they need the publicity.

Couple this with hair-trigger protestors) they're ready to demonstrate at the drop of a hair-curler) and the enemy must be encouraged very much.

NOW, YOU ADD the priestly CBS, who've been hyper-critical of the administration ever since it's been in office, and the brew begins to stink, even into foreign lands!

According to the last named, RMN has done nothing right since he's been in public office, and even if he should, they could improve it!

AND, SO, the clamor goes on. The attention seekers and publicity hounds are bending our ears, and finer senses at every opportunity.

Getting NO publicity at all is the millions who aren't saying anything. "500 students demonstrate!" — OK, so how many DIDN'T? (We aren't told.)

"Ten congressmen criticize the President's move!" Well, now, we can come nearer figurin' out how many didn't, or might even back him!

WHILE MR. NIXON is bein' accused of bein' a "Warmonger", "Gambler", and "MURDERER", we can't help but wonder just how long the have lasted, had we presented front, with full backing for the Too many have been here to criticize and openly trying to put much garbage into the war. Sure, none of us have much to do the war. We're sick and tired unless we're ready to hoist the Flag", and invite them to come in and make themselves within our own borders, we'll have to show some SOMEBODY!

THEN, WHILE we're here someone to voice our dissent we'd as well include the blessings of the pacifists, the dissenters, and rousers here in our own country have lent so much encouragement to the enemy.

These people are the most asset the enemy can muster.

IT HAS BECOME very plain Vietnamization of the south can't work as long as the US unlimited supplies and aid to them by Soviet and Chinese. Then, the obvious move is to supply lines.

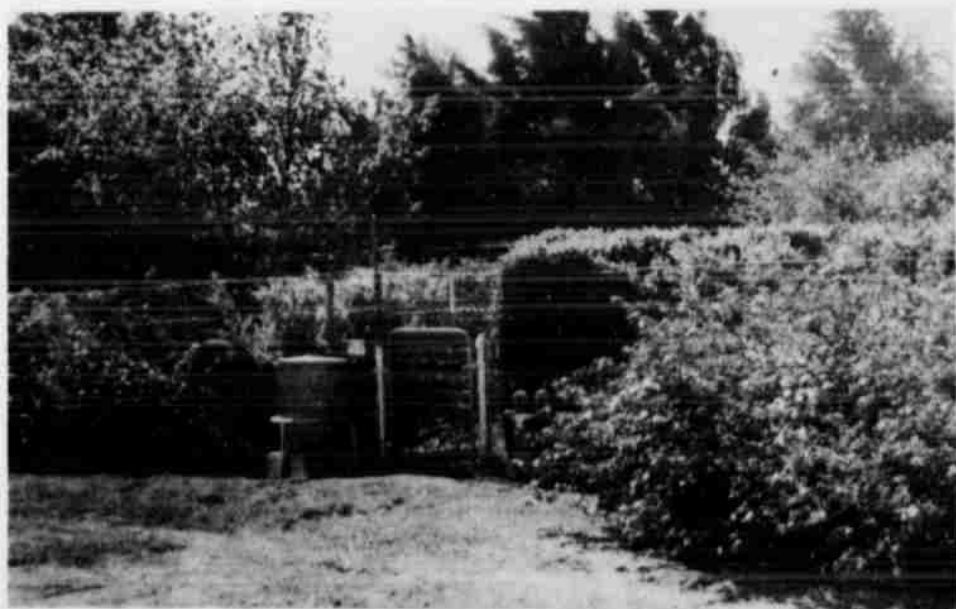

We know we're skating on thin ice. However, if we could united front, coupled with intestinal fortitude, such as modeled by our President, it may be that we may be coming seeing the end of this eleven pain-in-the-neck!

AS IS MOST CASES, we can't or contribute, confirm or confirm when we consider the sacrifice lives and money this escapade us, it would seem silly just to put marbles and go home.

If we abandon our principle stage of the game, "and we have any left to abandon!"

SURELY, OUR PRESIDENT our confidence and trust, NOW

Six Area Students To Receive Degrees

Six area students are among a total of 1,962 students in the six colleges, graduate school and school of law at Texas Tech University who are candidates for degrees at the conclusion of the spring semester.

Of that total, 227 are candidates for graduate level degrees, including 194 candidates for the master's degree and 33 for the doctorate. Area candidates are Kenneth Dwayne Carr, Gordon Ray Graves, Robert Fred Kloiber, Jr., Michael Ray Lumsden and Larry Allen Howard, all of Littlefield, and Jimmie Wayne Lewis of Whitharral.

All will receive the Bachelor's Degree.

Carr is majoring in agricultural education, Graves is majoring in entomology, Kloiber's major is general business, Lumsden's major is chemical engineering, Howard is majoring in mechanical engineering and Lewis is majoring in management.

Commencement exercises for all students completing degree requirements this spring are scheduled May 13 in Lubbock Municipal Coliseum.

Because no formal graduation exercises were conducted at the conclusion of the fall semester, students who qualified for their degrees in December 1971 are also invited to participate in the spring commencement. The commencement address will be delivered by Dr. H. Guyford Stever, newly appointed director of the National Science Foundation, Washington, D.C.

Degree requirements were completed by 1,116 students at the undergraduate and graduate levels at Texas Tech at the conclusion of the fall semester, bringing to 2,800 the total number of students scheduled to receive diplomas for the 1971-72 academic year.

Spring degree candidates in Tech's College of Arts and Sciences numbered 370; 103 in Agricultural Sciences; 414 in Business Administration; 148 in Engineering; 240 in Education; and 147 in the College of Home Economics.

Area Students Among Initiates At Texas Tech

Two area students are among the spring 1972 initiates of Texas Tech University's Gamma chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma, a national business administration honor society.

They are Monte V. Rogers, junior accounting major from Sudan, and Mrs. Jane Ann Benton, senior accounting major from Olton.

Dr. Louis D. Ponthieu of the Tech business administration faculty, Gamma chapter president, said Beta Gamma Sigma is the only national honorary scholarship society in the field of business administration recognized by the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business.

"The purpose of the society," he said, "is to encourage and reward scholarship and accomplishment among students of business administration, to promote the advancement of education in the art and science of business, and to foster integrity in the conduct of business operations."

Election to membership in Beta Gamma Sigma is the highest scholastic honor that a student in business administration can win.

To be eligible for membership, Dr. Ponthieu pointed out, students must rank in the upper five per cent of their junior class or upper 10 per cent of their senior class. Membership is granted also, on the basis of scholastic performance, to students receiving master's and doctoral degrees.

Two Students Receive Degrees

Alan R. Armistead of Littlefield and Guy Darrell Daughtry IV of Olton are among 309 candidates who will receive diplomas when Sul Ross State University commencement exercises begin Wednesday night, May 17, at Jackson Field in Alpine.

Armistead will receive a BS degree in biology, and Daughtry will receive a BS degree in sociology.

There are 281 bachelor's and 28 master's degrees to be awarded to December, 1971, and May candidates.

Rev. James F. Eubanks Jr., Vicar of the Episcopal Church in the Big Bend, a mission of the Diocese of New Mexico and Southwest Texas, will deliver the commencement address. Rev. Eubanks has served pastorates in Oregon and New Mexico and currently serves a four-county Big Bend area, including Brewster, Jeff Davis, Presidio, and Terrell counties. The invocation will be delivered by the Rev. John Kahl, director of the Methodist Student Center at Sul Ross, and the degrees will be awarded by Dr. Norman L. McNeil, university president.

Degrees to be awarded are bachelor of science, 185; bachelor of arts, 34; bachelor of business administration, 32; bachelor of science in range animal science, 24; bachelor of music, 5; bachelor of police administration, 1. Also, master of education, 12; master of arts, 7; master of science in range animal science, 6; and master of science in biology, 3.

WORSHIP IN CHURCH

and get a spiritual lift for the whole week

Her Day

—Mother's Day. The world voted a day in her honor and Heaven was glad. It is a meager tribute that we should pause once a year... the second Sunday in May... to do her honor. She gave you life and love but what have you given her? Life will not change her love nor will death conquer it. She is the soaring cloud of radiant rapture that lifts us to new attempts and the strength we need to see us through. Her God would be pleased to see her in church this Mother's Day... won't you take her to God's House?

Wedding cake topped with a silver bell, put upon a stand to give it mobility. Wedding bell engraved with the happy couple's name and date of marriage, gives the Reed and Barton bride a memento to cherish all of her life. Gift Boxed (over all height 6 1/4").

Best man busiest on wedding day

Probably the busiest person on the day of the wedding is the best man. The groom has only to appear. The best man has a full day ahead of him. His duties are many indeed including the following:

- Helping the groom dress and waiting with him in the vestry.
 - Giving the clergyman his fee.
 - Getting the wedding party off to the reception.
 - Making the first toast to the bride and groom.
 - Dancing with the bride after she's danced with her father-in-law.
 - Collecting the groom's wedding attire and checking to see that he has all the necessary honeymoon tickets and reservations.
 - Getting the newlywed's luggage into the hidden get-away car.
 - Finally, sending the bride's parents a thank-you telegram for the reception in the groom's name.
- A very full day indeed.

Rehearsal party can be given by groom's mother

Many times the groom's mother enjoys hosting the rehearsal dinner. It's considered perfectly proper, and could help her feel that she is really contributing to the occasion.

This can be a luncheon, a cocktail party or a dinner depending on the time of day the rehearsal is held.

Guests would include all members of the wedding party and their husbands and wives, the bride's family and the groom's, others who have traveled from out of town to attend the wedding, particularly close friends, and perhaps the minister and his wife.

The rehearsal party is a particularly happy occasion, and can reflect the spirit and formality of the wedding itself, or it can be a time of informality, encouraging each person attending to relax and catch a second breath before the big day, which promises to be exciting for all.

Here comes the new generation of lovely brides

A whole new generation of lovely brides is now approaching marriage in greater numbers than ever before in the history of this nation.

Forecasts indicate that more than 2,200,000 will take their vows during the next 12 months and that this figure will accelerate as time goes on.

Although June and October have been considered traditionally as peak months for weddings, this is one of the time-honored traditions to which young couples no longer adhere.

Each month of the year now has its own rising number of marriages.

Prevailing attitudes of brides, and their grooms, are trending most definitely to preference for time hallowed traditions — despite swift changes that have been occurring in the social order.

These trends call for a bride to be radiant in her wedding gown at ceremonies over which a member of the clergy officiates using a ritual that may have been slightly adjusted at the suggestion of the young couple, in a church, in the home, or, weather permitting, possibly in a garden.

More Romantic

Today's brides are more than ever romantically interested in planning the gala reception that follows and at which the groom will help cut the wedding cake. Brides have definite ideas about this important occasion for celebrating what has but a short time before been solemnized.

While today's brides are marrying at approximately the same age as did their mothers (the median age is 20 years 3 months), the smart, fashion-conscious young couples of today have very firm notions about the "life styles" they want to set for themselves.

This derives from their wider variety of experiences, their ever increasing exposure to the fast-moving interchange of information in this world of rapid "communication" which help make them knowledgeable.

School visits to museums, high school graduation trips to national and state capitals, and the increasing number of young folks able to enjoy foreign travel, have all helped to shape their tastes and broaden their horizons.

Career Gals

A great number of brides-to-be have become familiar with home making—thanks to companionship with their modern mothers who have more than kept pace with expanding opportunities for the better life.

In this area also are the young women who have found highways to careers for themselves in cities to which they have been permitted to move from their own hometowns, by confident parents.

These too have had some experience in the practical aspects of setting up home — and handling budgets — in making informed choices of essential needs.

The radiant bride, exquisitely and romantically gowned, walks happily up the aisle on the arm of her smiling groom. A permanent memory-book photograph, such as the one above, could only be captured by a real "pro."

There is another aspect in which today's brides differ from those of earlier periods. None have experienced in so short a number of their young years so many social changes as have occurred during the past decade.

Today's young people have been eye witnesses to sometimes violent unrest among their peers. They have observed shifts in moral attitudes.

New Attitudes

They may have participated in debates over changes in social values and goals, and a variety of life styles.

The resurgence among today's generation of brides of interest in the traditional marriage ceremony, their growing nostalgia for the fashions of earlier times, their new understanding of the meaning of romance, reflects their own new attitudes toward the marriage ceremony as meaningful expression of the value they place on home and family.

Becomes part of modern lifestyle as is growing trend to sewing their own gowns

More brides-to-be will bake the cakes served at their wedding receptions in the '70s. It is all part of a life style that places new emphasis on personal creativity.

This prediction from Corning Glass Works parallels a trend that shows more brides-to-be are making their own wedding dresses. Pattern makers say the number of garments sewn at home has risen steadily in the past five years. Surveys find that "it's a challenge to make a very special dress" and it's fun to say "see what I did myself."

Adds Personal Touch

The do-it-yourself idea has merit for the girl wishing to add a personal touch to her wedding festivities. It also offers an economy for the budget wedding.

Baking one's wedding cake is easy if you have the proper heat-resistant glass oblong baking dishes. Although the five-tiered cake described here is ideal for a wedding reception, it is appropriate for any special occasion: graduation, anniversary or engagement.

The Pyrex baking dishes do not have to be stored until the next special occasion. They can be used for roasting a turkey, baking bar cookies, or lasagna.

To make the cake you need three packages of cake mix (two-layer size), three packages of frosting mix, three oblong baking dishes (10 x 6, 11 3/4 x 7 1/2 and 13 1/2 x 8 3/4), and cardboard cut the size of four of the layers (7 x 3, 8 3/4 x 4 1/2, 10 x 6 and 11 3/4 x 7 1/2), the Corning Glass test kitchen says.

How to Bake Layers

The cakes can be baked two days in advance. If this is done, layers should be wrapped in foil and refrigerated. To bake the layers, preheat the oven to 350 degrees F. Generously grease and flour each baking dish. Prepare one package of cake mix and bake in the largest dish for 30 to 35 minutes or until done. Cool 10 minutes and remove to cake rack.

Prepare second package of cake mix and repeat procedure, making second layer of the same size.

Prepare third package of cake mix and pour to equal depths in two remaining Pyrex baking dishes. Bake for 30 to 35 minutes or until done. Cool 10 minutes and remove to cake rack.

Other Preparations

On the day before the event, cover each piece of cardboard with foil so that they may be used to hold each layer. Prepare three packages of white frosting mix as directed on the packages.

Brush cake to remove loose crumbs. Place one large layer upside down on a tray or serving platter. Frost sides and top completely.

Center the medium size layer upside down on matching size cardboard and place on top of large layer. Frost sides and top completely.

Center smaller layer upside down on matching size cardboard and place on medium layer. Frost sides and top completely.

From remaining large layer, cut a crosswise 4 1/2-inch piece from one end of the layer. Center this 4 1/2-inch layer on matching size cardboard and place on the small layer. Frost sides and top completely.

Building Pyramid

From the remaining piece, cut another crosswise three-inch piece and trim ends to make a seven-inch layer. Center on matching size cardboard and place on top of the cake. Frost sides and top completely.

Decorate the cake as desired. Fresh rose buds or any decoration appropriate to the occasion can be used. When using fresh flowers, the Florist Association recommends that they be "washed" by dipping them in tepid water, immersing them in ice water and drying them by gently blotting with paper towels.

The remaining piece of cake may be frosted for immediate use or frozen for later use. Since the bride-to-be may be too excited to taste her cake on her wedding day, why not save it to enjoy later.

The cake will serve about 120 persons.

Bride's Flowers Can Have Second Life

The bride's bouquet and those of her attendants can have a second life at the reception.

Instead of ordering additional floral arrangements for the bride's table, the bride, her maid of honor and her bridesmaids can place their flowers in front of them as they take their places.

Furnishing the bedroom of your first home—whether it's an apartment or a house—can be a delight or a disaster. One of the interior designers at Stanley Furniture offers a few suggestions that will help you chart a smooth course, so that you can return from your honeymoon and start living an organized life without having to put up with too many inconveniences.

First of all, visit the specialty furniture stores or department stores in your area to get an idea of prices. This way, you'll be able to allocate how much you want to budget for living-room, dining-room and bedroom furniture—depending on your savings and expected monthly earnings after you're married.

Then, arm yourself with a floor plan of your room. Measure the length of the walls and mark off doorways, windows and closets, so that you won't find yourself with a piece of furniture that is too large to fit against your available wall space or too big to go through the door!

In the bedroom, the whole "look" of the room is set by the headboard. It should be the first thing to be noticed as one enters the room, which means the bed should be placed on the wall opposite the door. To provide essential storage, next consider a dresser. If the wall space is long enough this can either be a 72" triple dresser or a 64" double one.

For smaller spaces, consider a 5-drawer chest, as shown in this photograph. When funds permit, you might want both these storage pieces or a pair of armoires.

A clever decorating idea to give your room personality is to make this an "accent" piece by selecting it in a different color than the rest of your bedroom set.

For example, if your suite is in a natural brown wood-tone, try a chest or armoire in the same style but in an off-white color finish, with a tinge of pastel blue or gold to highlight the color scheme.

To complete the room, install draperies for privacy and carpet for comfort. Today, many newlyweds buy an area rug rather than wall-to-wall carpet to tide them over until they move into a permanent home.

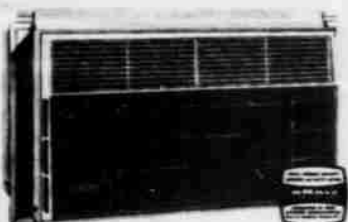

Today's young marrieds want their furniture to express their personality. This is not only done by selection of style—Traditional, Mediterranean or Modern—but also by color. Here, a simply-styled bedroom suite by Stanley Furniture is given a highly personal touch with Pennsylvania Dutch blue and white trim. Note, too, that bedside tables don't always have to be the conventional type. Think a pair of bookcases, secretaries with dropleaf tops to hold lamps, or desk with chair on one side.

Getting a start at home-making—be it in a two room apartment or a ten room house — involves, among other things, endless decisions about home furnishings, color schemes and accessories.

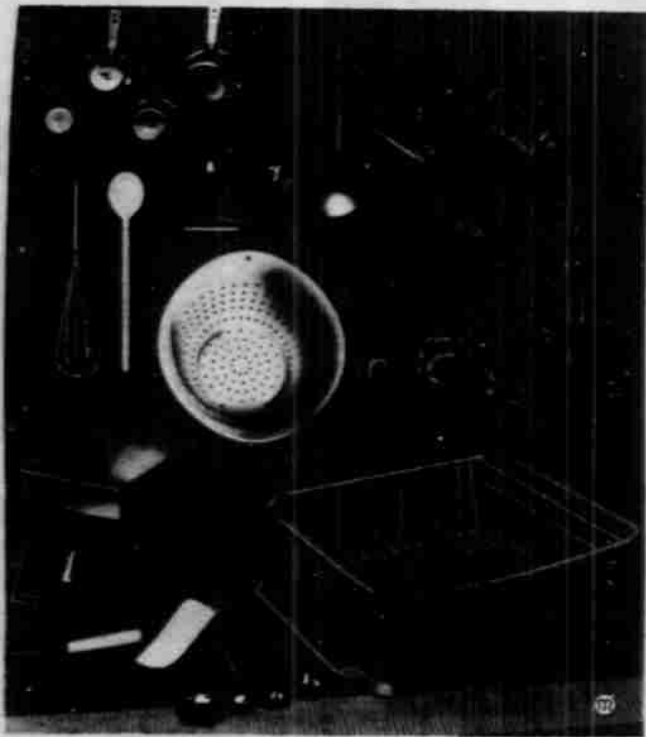

The kitchen is one room that deserves special attention. A new homemaker soon learns that not only must the kitchen be equipped with a basic food stock and cooking utensils, but also small accessories that are so necessary for everyday cooking tasks. Though these are familiar items... spatulas, peelers, measuring cups and spoons... the variety from which to choose would confuse even the most experienced homemaker.

Lists Vary

Every homemaker's list will vary according to her life style and the types of food she most often prepares. But, in planning the budget, the new homemaker must expect to spend approximately $40.00 for basics. Here's a list from the Rubbermaid organization experts:

- Measuring cups for dry goods & liquids
- Measuring spoons
- Dishdrainer & drainer tray
- Rubber scraper
- Wooden spoon
- Kitchen shears
- Egg beater
- Mixing bowls
- Slotted spoon
- Collander
- Paring knife
- Butcher knife
- Spatula
- Meat fork
- Peeler

Additional items will cost more, and can be added as the need for them arises. These include wire whisks, ladles, strainers, a scale, cheese slicer, four sided grater, pastry blender, meat thermometer and a meat baster. Specialized additions include a pastry brush, pizza cutters and meat tongs.

Setting up a kitchen means choosing from a variety of items. Every homemaker should start out with certain basic equipment, according to the Rubbermaid kitchen organization experts. These "Basics" include measuring cups for dry goods and liquids, measuring spoons, a rubber scraper, wooden spoons, slotted spoon, dishdrainer and drainer tray, collander and peeler.

Individual habits and budgets should dictate which accessories are chosen, but there are some basic guidelines to make the choice easy.

• Buy according to the kinds of kitchen tasks most often performed. The number of times an accessory is used should outweigh the time and trouble it takes to find, assemble and clean the item after use. Complicated, infrequently used devices only take up valuable storage space.

• Choose well designed, easy to operate accessories. Handles should be comfortable to hold, well-balanced and sturdily constructed to withstand constant use.

• Buy quality. A peeler of stainless steel won't rust

...a rubber spatula won't get brittle. That's economy in the end.

Smaller ones, given in time, will be used to enhance wedding gown

While it is true that "all brides are beautiful," girls getting married this spring will look prettier than ever — thanks to the quiet revolution that has taken place in bridal fashions and wedding jewelry.

Gone is the window curtain look from the veil, the unflattering flounces of the midi, and that sweetheart neckline that defied accessories.

The spring "news" in bridal fashions is the revival of the romantic, feminine look in a variety of styles that answer the cry of brides for individualism.

Bridal jewelry, which is usually given to the bride by her groom or parents, has also taken a new turn. Formerly, a gift of diamond jewelry was a luxury of the rich or an inherited treasure. Now, thanks to small diamonds — set in beautiful new designs which are moderately priced — many a bride is receiving a diamond piece and wearing it with flair on her wedding gown.

Nostalgic Gowns

Some of the new romantic bridal gowns are reminiscent of the Victorian heirloom dresses or have the 19th century portrait neckline which looks great sparked with a diamond pin. Other gowns feature the sheath silhouette with pleats, godets, lace and ruffles.

Traditional styles have also taken on a more romantic air. For instance, the Empire-line is being accented with a lace or ruffle-trimmed V-neck, a popular detail since Tricia's gown. Like the White House bride, fashion authorities are accessorizing this neckline with a simple diamond pendant or a delicate necklace.

The new look is most striking in headpieces. The long mantilla and yards of tulle are rapidly being replaced by the hat — sitting pretty by itself or accented with a length of veil. Wide-brimmed hats, flopping gracefully, or artfully pinned back with a diamond, are the most romantic. Also popular is the veiled cloche, recalling the twenties.

An important part of the bridal fashion revolution is the development of a host of new styles of engagement rings all built around the prominent center diamond, the symbol of betrothal.

Great Diamond Variety

There is greater variety, too, in the diamond shapes being featured in these rings. While the traditional round shape remains the favorite choice of most girls, fancy cuts — like the pear, the marquise, the oval, the emerald-cut and the heart — have risen in popularity and are being set in all the new styles.

Some of the newest styles are revivals. Pretty Victorian rings are coming back strong for engagements in heart and flower motifs. Antique rings, where dark etchings set off the center diamonds, are another big comeback.

Many of the rings come with matching wedding bands that interlock, overlap or simply rest neatly beside the engagement ring.

Yes, from veil to ring, the brides this spring will look the best in decades.

Brighten your wedding gifting with this distinctive 19-inch diagonal color TV table set with the super-bright Chromacolor picture tube. Compact Zenith receiver is ideal for use as a first or second set in the new house or apartment. Optional white wrap around pedestal is striking contrast to the grained walnut color TV cabinet.

'Sound' ideas for gifting at showers or weddings

For weddings or showers, stereo instruments and radios are "sound" gift-ideas.

Variety and a broad range of prices offer a choice that is not only easy on the budget but one that is especially right for young marrieds. Also for the bride, it answers what to give the groom, and for the groom, what to give the ushers or best man.

Color TV high on bride's list

Looking for a special wedding present for that favorite young couple on your gift list?

Then, by all means, go electronic... with the gift of a color TV.

The color set is high on the list of "most wanted" items for the new home. It is also a product with a cost that has dropped drastically over the past 20 years or so while its value has soared. New developments such as brighter screens... remote control... solid state components... integrated circuits... transistorization... simplified tuning and others have contributed in making the modern color set even more attractive.

Helpful Hints

To help make your gift selection of a color TV easier, here are some guidelines suggested by Zenith:

First—do your shopping in a store that displays brand name merchandise with a reputation for quality and value.

Next—determine where the set will be located. In a spacious home, average size house or small apartment? Is space for the TV plentiful or limited? Is the set primarily for large... average... or small group viewing? Will it be a stay-put? Or will the set see service in more than one room in the house?

With answers to these questions firmly in mind, then match your requirements to what is available in the dealer store.

Important Features

Sets range from portables and table models to a wide array of furniture-styled lo-boys, credenzas, full-door consoles, plus 3-way combinations.

Among important improvements to look for as set features are:

- The super-bright picture tube. Chromacolor, which led the industry's long-term efforts to improve the color TV tube, provides a brilliant, high contrast, sharply detailed picture in 25-, 23-, 19- and 16-inch diagonal screen sizes.

- AFC (automatic fine-tuning) is a desirable control for viewer use. It locks in the TV channel and keeps it from drifting.

- ATG (automatic tint guard) regulates flesh tones to overcome variations in TV station transmissions.

- Remote control. This lets you switch from one favorite program to others around the dial without moving from your chair.

Period or Modern

With TV the most looked-at item in the home, cabinet design is also important. Portables and table models are generally smartly modern. In consoles and combinations, all the most popular furniture styles are represented.

With the basic requirements of the new home in mind, compare screen sizes, quality of picture and sound, features, and cabinet styles. Then, with value and quality as guides, make your final single selection from the color TV receivers you have seen demonstrated.

DAMAGES OF ABOUT $25,000 are estimated on the First Baptist Church at Amherst following a fire Saturday morning. The fire started in a cleaning closet on the second floor in the educational section of the church. These are some firemen from three units and 14 firemen from Littlefield, a Sudan unit and eight volunteers, and Amherst's fire department who answered the call and stayed on scene about two hours. Until the building is repaired, church members will conduct Sunday school and church in the school auditorium Sunday mornings and meet in the Amherst Methodist Church Sunday nights.

- Polyester cord in bias plies eliminates tramping, flatspotting and squealing, to give it a quieter ride.
- Fiberglass belts add protection against tread flexing, fatigue and wear.
- Wider tread for greater traction.
- Lasts up to twice as many miles as most conventional new car tires.

at least every 5,000 miles.

1. Front-end alignment of wheels should be checked and adjusted at least every 5,000 miles.
2. Check air pressure regularly. Soft, low pressure tires respond more quickly to heat, distortion and wear.
3. Hard, quick stops should be avoided on wet pavement markings on the pavement show melting and loss of tread.
