

Denim Textile Plant installations continue

NOTE: This update on events at the American Denim Textile Plant from Vern F. Highley, ACG.

continue to be more and more each day about the denim. The demand for denim is increasing and the price continues to rise. As we have said before, we will be one of the most ventures yet entered into by producers.

A better summary-in-brief of the Textile Plant could be made above quotation from ACG L. C. Unfred to members regarding the recent progress in some areas of the operation behind the high goals set by Hale, Textile Division. There are no insurmountable snags in the project which, on balance, is being installed at a rate of 10-20 per week and 120 are now in operable condition. A total of 360 will be in operation when the project is completed.

Seven open-end spinning frames out of an eventual total of 30 are now producing. There are 20 carding machines in production from a total of 60 and three drawing frames performing from a total of 15.

The plant recently began limited production of both warp and filling yarn from pool cotton and in a few weeks is expected to be performing 100 percent on members' cotton. Early production was necessarily begun on purchased yarn until spinning equipment was received and put into operation.

Over 400 persons are presently employed at the plant, performing four shifts a week, around the clock, on a seven-day basis.

Due to safety hazards from construction activity, tours of the facility are not being encouraged at the present.

PROGRESS PAYMENT
ACG members have received their third progress payment of the season and can expect a final payment in late September or October.

The latest payment, made on July 26 through the gins, was equal to 5 cents per pound and totaled about $4.7 million.

It was not an across-the-board payment of 5 cents—as were the two previous payments—but took into consideration quality differentials for grade, staple and micronaire. The differentials reflected the market value of each quality of cotton in the pool. Because of the adjustment, the payment exceeded 5 cents a pound on some qualities and was less on others.

Only a small amount of Texcot (pool cotton remains to be sold from a total of 181,778 bales. Season's deliveries amounted to 195,241 bales, however, 15,565 bales are set aside for use in the Denim Plant.

In a letter accompanying the progress payment check, ACG President L. C. Unfred stated, "We believe that the average price received for cotton by pool members after final settlement will compare favorably with that outside the pool."

School board sets meeting

Littlefield School Board will meet in regular session Monday night, Aug. 9, in the High School lunchroom, beginning at 8 p.m. to discuss seven items.

Besides hearing the minutes of the last meeting and reviewing the financial statement, the board will consider the school auditor's report for 1975-'76.

Three bids will be awarded: 1. Open bids on gasoline, bread, milk; 2. Open bids on buses and pickups; and 3. Discuss bids on boiler at field-house.

The board will amend the budget for 1975-'76, and set the date for the 1976-'77 budget.

Members will review Littlefield School drug policy and discuss personnel.

Conservation election set

The Lamb County Soil and Water Conservation District will hold its election for a director of Zone 3, at the Sand's Cafe in Sudan on Saturday, August 14, at 10 a.m.

Zone 3 of the district includes voting precincts number 5, Sudan, Sudan Community Building; 7, North Sudan, Co-op Gin Office; 8, Amherst, Amherst City Hall; and 11 at Beck Gin.

Anyone who is at least 21 years old who owns agricultural land within these voting precincts and lives anywhere in Lamb County is eligible to vote.

Wives of landowners are entitled to vote and hold offices.

Marvin A. Bowling who lives and farms southwest of Sudan is the current director whose term is expiring. He is completing his second five-year term after being elected to the District Board of Directors in October of 1966. Bowling has served in all offices of the board and is currently secretary of the local county board. He is also serving as President of the South Plains Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts, which includes 21 other area districts from Muleshoe to Snyder.

City purchases sprayer; schedules budget hearing

In a brief session Thursday night, Littlefield's city council awarded the bid for an ultra low volume nonthermal chemical dispersal unit (mosquito spraying unit) to Public Health Equipment and Supply Company; and set Aug. 19 as the date for a public hearing on the 1976-'77 budget.

Mayor Pro-Tem Paul Carmickle presided in the absence of Mayor J. E. Chisholm. All other members of the council were present.

While reviewing the departmental reports, City Manager Jim Blagg pointed out figures which revealed that seal coating and the refuse collection system have been paid for by Revenue Sharing Funds.

The new mosquito spraying unit will also be paid from Revenue Sharing Funds, although it was placed in the budget for this year. Blagg reported that the move "will ease the budget" in the meantime.

Total net price of the spraying unit as bid by Public Health Equipment and Supply Company was $2,650, with immediate delivery and instructional training included.

Others placing bids were Terra Chemicals, with a bid of $2,800, with a two-week delivery period. Personnel would be trained at their site for additional cost to the city for travel, lodging and meals.

Micro-Gen Equipment Company's bid was $2,885, with two weeks for delivery and a similar situation on the training.

Blagg recommended the council accept the bid of $2,650 for Model XK as submitted by Public Health Equipment and Supply. The company had also submitted bids for Model K at $2,295 and Model XW at $2,895.

Blagg explained, "one ounce of chemical is dispersed through the new machine into 1 billion droplets, therefore will be a great saving to the city." He explained it would be about a fourth of the cost of the present system.

Presently, the city uses 20 gallons at $25 per gallon to cover the city one time—a total cost of about $500.

Councilmen were briefed by the city manager on an insurance policy application, and because it was not included on the agenda, councilmen decided to study the situation and bring it up for action at the next meeting, Aug. 19, at 7 p.m.

Commissioners' Court meeting Monday

Lamb County Commissioners' Court faces a six item agenda for the regular second Monday meeting beginning at 10 a.m.

After routine approval of precinct and county bills and monthly reports from the various offices, the court will consider a request from General Telephone to install buried cable in precinct 3.

The trial period for the coyote bounty has expired and it is time to act on predatory control. High Plains Underground Water District is requesting courthouse space. Designation of a Manpower operator is the final item on the agenda.

Two disputes settled by juries this week

Two jury verdicts were returned in civil cases this week.

Jurors returned a verdict favoring the defendant Provident Life and Accident Insurance Company in a suit filed by Ernest Mills for a hospitalization claim.

C. B. Fancher was foreman. Other jurors were Eugenio Villafranco, Laura Reed, Mrs. Waymon T. Bellar, Lucille Murrell, Mrs. J. M. Brandstatt, Mrs. L. H. McAdams, Kathleen Hulseley, H. L. Atwood, Mrs. Edith Bryant, Torivia Davila and Douglas Giles.

In the suit filed by Elson C. Rose against Herman B. Rose, Garland A. Rose and Oliver E. Rose for partition of land and rents, a jury verdict was returned that Elson Rose should be paid $2,902.30 for one-fourth share of profits from cattle sold in ranching operations.

Jurors were James R. Wages, foreman, Claire Sawyer, Mrs. Leonard Pierce, George L. Parker, Mary Helen Feagley, Lee B. Raney, Mrs. Majora F. Davis, James E. Jones, Mrs. K. E. Thornburg, Mrs. W. L. Barton, Mildred Haley and Barbara LeBouef.

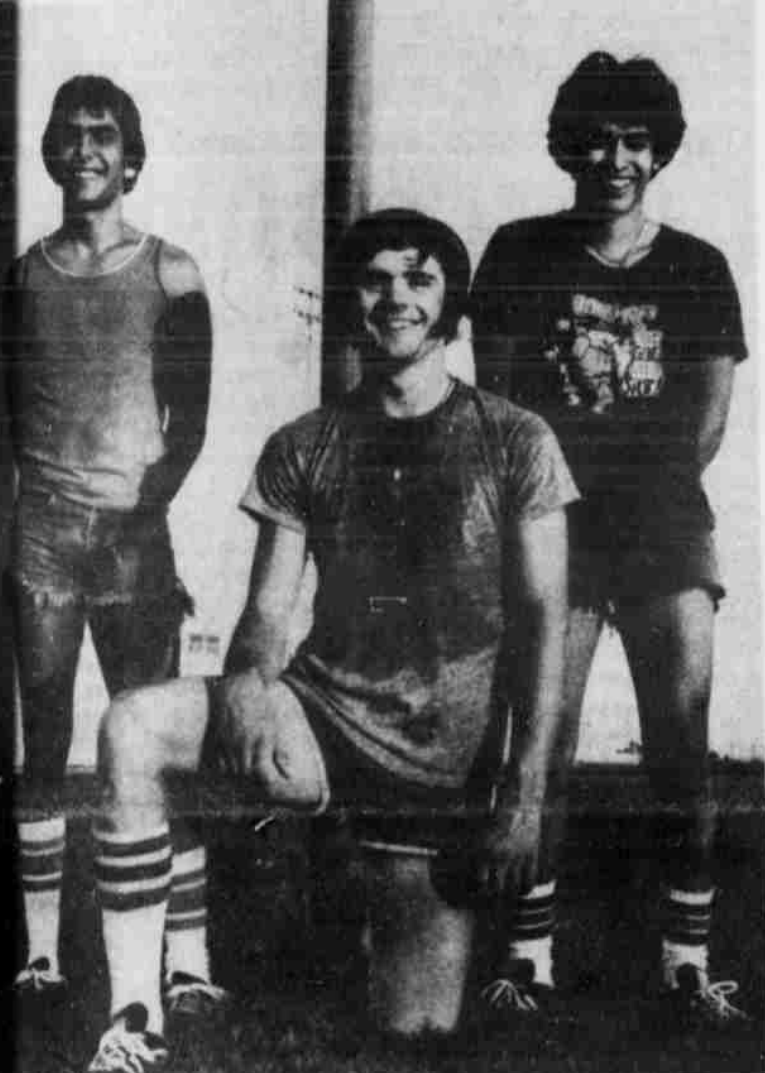

The case of George S. Whatley versus the St. Paul Insurance Co. for workmen's compensation was settled out of court.

Also settled out of court was the suit filed by Glenn Eagle versus the city of Amherst for personal injuries. The amount of settlement was not known.

Five other cases set for trial were passed until another session of court. Among those slated for later trial is the Gene Spies case against the City of Littlefield for the personal injuries of Danny Spies. Because of the amount of time needed to try this, it could not be heard this week.

Others passed include Wanda E. Cooper versus Raymond Durham, conversion and damage to real estate; State Line Irrigation Company versus Elson Rose on an account; Ralph Contreras and Theresa Contreras versus Elmo Hasha, collision, personal injuries and property damage; and the Texas Employers' Insurance Association versus Edward Padillo, workmen's compensation.

HIGHLY ANTICIPATED 1976 season is nearly here, and varsity players will start preparations for it tomorrow with two-a-day workouts. The games will be held Monday through Friday at 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. Then pads are issued Friday the practice will start at 8 p.m. Jerry Blakely advised that any high school age boy who has not had a physical or been issued shoes need to contact him immediately if he wants to play this fall. The Wildcats will be led this season by senior captains Blake Wood, fullback; Layne McKinnon, defensive lineman, [kneeling]; and Rudy Ayala, quarterback.

Speaker Bill Clayton of the state government. Here's what he had to say:

Assembly Pollster Louis Harris told the National Governors Conference in the American public, by almost all state governments can be more than the federal government.

The poll concluded that citizens overwhelmingly feel the federal government is more wasteful, gives taxpayers less for the tax dollar and more corrupt than state government. The consensus is that state government really cares what happens to the people.

Nationally syndicated columnist Pierce, probably the country's best journalistic student of the states today, said at the conference that the states are awakening from a slumber and that they have the potential for creative change as the nation begins its third century. Key words for the states are that they are to fulfill their destiny they show sufficient courage and the employ their array of constitutional powers.

In Texas, although a state, have the size and have the probability reserved for nations, our population of 12.3 million citizens, we are an independent country.

All-stars tackle Abilene Tuesday

The 15 young athletes and their coaches who make up the Littlefield Little League All-star squad embarked early this morning for Waco on a trip they hope won't end until Friday night.

Friday at 8 p.m. is the time of the state tournament championship game, and if Littlefield is able to keep the sharp edge they have used to slice up their last five opponents, the locals may well be one of the two teams in that contest.

Just by making it to the state tournament the Littlefield squad becomes only the second local team in history to make it that far. The last time was in 1960, when Coach Ace Bridwell led a team that included local talent like Marvin Weaver, Larry Schovajsa, Al Mann, Royce Bussey, Randy Hutson, Wilmer Williams and Billy Henderson to Austin.

Bridwell recalls playing Northwest Ft. Worth Optimist club in the first game and losing 6-0. Back then only four teams made it to state, so Littlefield was still rated one of the top four in Texas. Besides, Ft. Worth went on to the World Championship finals before losing to a monstrous team of Pennsylvania players.

"Our kids hadn't been beaten in so long they thought nobody could touch 'em," Bridwell recalls. "But Ft. Worth really had some ball club. We had talent and great pitching, but we weren't near the overall team they were."

Bridwell advised the 1976 group to watch out for costly mistakes: "In the state tournament, one run is liable to do it."

In taking the two titles Littlefield has won (district and sectional champs), the winning formula has been simple—strong pitching, flawless fielding and one big scoring inning. That combination has carried them by Plainview American, Intercity (Sudan-Amherst), Plainview National, Morton and Carson City.

Littlefield has further benefited from the unique play-off scheduled that allowed the locals to host all five games. They have been supported well by Littlefield fans in each game so far, and many parents and friends are expected to make the trek to Waco.

Littlefield's first game is set for 8 p.m. Tuesday against Abilene. A win would put Littlefield into the second-round game at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday.

LETTERS

Gentlemen:

August 4, 1976

The persecution of Jehovah's Witnesses in the East African Republic of Malawi has not stopped. In spite of all that has been printed or broadcast exposing it, in spite of hundreds of thousands of written appeals by private citizens and public officials, it continues.

You are undoubtedly already familiar with the story through the wire services to which you subscribe, as well as other news sources.

We would like you to be familiar with what is presently happening in Malawi according to reports and letters which we have received from inside Malawi.

Therefore, we have asked our local representative to deliver to you, along with this letter, a copy of the August 8 issue of Awake! This magazine contains not only that information but also the international reactions which are beginning to take shape.

You may make use of this information in any way you choose. We are certain that you will agree that the continued inhuman treatment meted out against Jehovah's Witnesses should not go on. No one deserves the treatment being dealt Jehovah's Witnesses in Malawi for any reason.

Sincerely yours,

A Woman's View

PEARL BRANDON

ONCE WHEN Jesus and His disciples were walking along the road from Jericho, a great crowd was following them.

A blind man sat by the side of the road begging.

Many people passed that way and few people would drop a coin in the blind man's cup.

PEOPLE WHO ARE blind usually have very good hearing and blind Bartimetis knew most of the sounds that came down this highway where he sat day after day begging for his livelihood.

Today he heard a tumultuous crowd coming so he inquired what it was. When they told him it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and say, "Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy on me!"

THE PEOPLE around him tried to quiet him, and charged him to hold his peace, but he cried a great deal more. He cried so loud that Jesus heard his voice above the tumult of the crowd, "Thou son of David, have mercy on me!"

Perhaps the beggar was also a descendant of David and thought Jesus might listen to his woes better.

ANYWAY JESUS stood still and listened to that agonized cry and then commanded him to be called. The blind man must have been weeping for they called him, saying, "Be of good comfort, rise, He calleth thee."

What a glorious moment for this blind man, the only person in all the world that could really help him was calling him. He threw off his robe, rose, and came to Jesus.

Jesus asked the blind man "What wilt thou that I should do unto thee?" The blind man said "Lord, that I might receive my sight."

Then Jesus said, "Go thy way, thy faith hath made thee whole."

THE BLIND MAN immediately received his sight but instead of going his way He followed Jesus on His way. So many of us these days from all over the world are crying out to our God "Have mercy on us!" People in the great earthquake in China are surely praying for mercy, also the people in our own country are suffering— some from disasters, some from poverty and illness— yes, and some who are blind.

THROUGH ALL of this we have the Savior who headed blind Bartimetis to see us through.

In Psalms 50 we have this, "For every beast of the forest is mine, and the cattle upon a thousand hills. I know all the fowls of the mountains and the wild beast of the fields are mine."

If I were hungry, I would not tell thee, for the world is mine... call upon me in day of trouble, I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify me."

THE LORD needs nothing from us except our love and devotion. He passes all power now and in the hereafter.

In spite of all the troubles of the world, life is good and will be much better on through eternity.

"For this God is our God for ever and ever. He will guide us even through death."

I THOUGHT you might like to know I have my glasses now and have almost perfect vision.

There are miracles still being performed in this day and age. Thanks to God.

Rev. Glen Smith, pastor, and Rev. Benny Goess, pastor of the Sunset Avenue Baptist Church of Littlefield, officiated.

Burial was in the Springlake Cemetery with Parsons Funeral Home of Oton in charge of arrangements.

White was born Sept. 6, 1921 in Castro County and was a lifetime resident of the Springlake area. He was a farmer and a member of the Springlake Baptist Church.

Surviving are his step mother, Mrs. Grace White of Littlefield; two brothers, Charles White of Springlake and Frank White of Littlefield; and two step brothers, Kenneth Adams of Laytonville, Calif. and Bob Adams of Sonoma, Calif.

OLTON— Funeral services for Russell Ernest White, 54, of Springlake, who died Thursday, Aug. 5, in Lubbock's Methodist Hospital following a long illness, were conducted Saturday afternoon in Springlake Baptist Church.

would exceed that of more than 100 other nations and even more than 100 in land area.

One question being asked is how strong is state government today.

According to state scholars such as Pierce, the states are in a much healthier condition and are more honest and responsive to people's needs than they have been over the long stretch of our national history.

I think that is especially true in Texas where our legislators are well qualified by reason of adequate staffing, good information and planning procedures. The increase in public higher education, competitive bidding, development of professionalism among state employees, all have combined to strengthen state government as a unit.

Still the experts say that they cannot say with certainty how well state governments will survive over the next 100 years. While one road leads toward a continued rise to excellence and effectiveness, the other road leads downward.

That lower road would have the states, at best, as powerless administrative shells of an all encompassing federal government. At worst, we would see the obliteration of state government.

We must not let our states travel that lower road. We have seen where direct governance from Washington in the 1960's ended in massive failures. Federal bureaucracy is too remote to administer state or local affairs responsibly.

During the third century we in Texas must be watchful to stay off the lower road. State government must remain democratic, open and accessible tool of the people's collective will.

We can provide that close relationship of citizen to government. The polls show the people believe that is what is happening today. We must see that it continues for all our tomorrows.

OBITUARIES

By MRS. JOHN BLACKMAN
JOHN HUBBARD

BULA— The Bula community has lost another one of her loved citizens, John Hubbard. Hubbard died August 3, 1976, in the Lubbock Methodist Hospital, where he had been a patient the past nine days.

He was born to Mr. and Mrs. Alma Hubbard on July 29, 1908, at Ringgold, in Montague County. Early in life he moved with his family to Oklahoma. He came to the Bula community in 1930, as a young boy and worked on the Paul Brothers Ranch for a while, before going into the farming business for himself.

He was married to the former Sylvia Richardson on Aug. 2, 1934, in Muleshoe. Besides his wife he leaves two daughters who were born to them, Jo Ann (Hubbard) Oldfield of Grants, N.M. and Wanda (Hubbard) Stanley of Hereford. Three granddaughters survive, Kemberley, Jacque and Shannon Oldfield. Also three brothers, Ted and Buster of Long Beach, Calif. and Bobby of Lubbock. Three sisters also survive, Mrs. Billie Thompson of Amarillo, Mrs. Bertha Roberts of Morton and Mrs. Eula Mae Archer of Enochs.

Hubbard retired from the farming business and has been the National Farmers Union insurance agent for Bailey and Cochran counties the past eight years.

Hubbard was a member of the Bula Church of Christ, where he has taught the Young People's class several years, and was a member of the Bula-Enochs Lions, where he served as treasurer, and a member of the Muleshoe Rotary Club.

Funeral services were conducted Friday morning, Aug. 6, in the Crescent Park Church of Christ, Littlefield, with Hammons Funeral Home in charge. Interment was in the Littlefield Memorial Park. Bob Wear of Hereford and James Withrow of Sudan officiated.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Presented by Hammons Funeral Home

In a world of disorder and disagreement our land - if we will only look, can be thankful for the vast improved attitudes of friendliness seen throughout our land - if we will only look. Where divisions and differences were once hotly debated, we now see open and frank discussion in friendly manner.

The walls and their shadows of religious isolationism are being removed. Protestant and Catholic relations have changed, have vastly improved in recent years. They are not only more friendly in their talks with each other, they are LISTENING to each other.

Catholic priests and Protestant ministers appear in public on all sorts of occasions - without provoking argument. It is not uncommon these days to see a priest and minister participate in "mixed" marriages. Masonic and Knights of Columbus groups are having lunch and dinner dates together.

Even though doctrines and rituals may differ, it is encouraging to see people realize that basically we are all one body, baptized in one body...

By EMIL M...

ALL YOU NEW residents of Lamb county, it is not too late to register and vote in the November general election. I encourage all of you qualified people to register and vote as your conscience sees fit.

It is going to be decision-making time for the voters who usually vote a Democratic ticket. One, although considered somewhat minor to the people who held the Democratic convention and yet important to a vast amount of voters, is Right-to-life movement.

The professionals did not feel the issue was important enough to consider encouraging an amendment in support of the issue.

Another decision that is of importance, and yet will be a deciding factor to many voters is the farm program and the rehiring of our present Secretary of Agricultural.

In other words, if you support the Right-to-Life moral issue, you will probably have to put up with Mr. Butts for another term. That is if President Ford is re-elected.

Of course to some, the moral issue is of no concern and they claim it infringes on the individual's rights, and to others the supporters of the right-to-life movement consider abortion is a violation of the Fifth Commandment, "Thou Shalt Not Kill".

Regardless of what you think, these two issues will play an important role on which way an individual votes and there will be several thousand so-called fence jumpers in November.

These issues, although considered minor, will become major, just like the so-called minor slavery movement that our forefathers experienced.

The winner of the state title will be flown immediately to St. Petersburg, Fla., for the regional meet.

Most of the players were to travel to Waco in a Winnebago van loaned by Ernest Mills of Littlefield. Other players were traveling down in parents' cars.

The team is coached by Paul Yarbrough and Bill Healy. The All-stars consist of Bobby Martinez, Kerry Rainbolt, Mike Williams, Randy Healy, James Randall, Clark Pylant, Todd Butler, Pat Torres, Mark McCanties, Bryan Gregory, Scot Yarbrough, Chris Merrifield, Todd Simpson and George Brockington. Williams-Hall wedding solemnized at Sudan

Miss Deborah Williams became the bride of Robert Glenn Hall, in a wedding ceremony, Wednesday, July 28, at the Community Center of Sudan. The couple are the daughter of Mrs. Charles G. Williams of Sudan and Mr. and Mrs. Delbert L. Hall of Littlefield.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT GLENN HALL

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. A. M. Averett of Littlefield before a bridal archway of blue mums and greenery, with white wedding bells and blue satin bows. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white wedding gown of polyester chiffon and Venise lace. The fitted empire bodice was fashioned with a wedding ring collar encircled with daisy Venise lace. The sheer yoke was accented with Venisian appliques and sheer full bishop sleeves were accented with daisy Venise lace. From the fitted empire waist fell her full A-line skirt with Venise lace bordering the hemline and sweeping into a chapel-length train. Her finger-tip veil was of imported English illusion and edged with daisy Venise lace, a second layer blush was lace edged with Venise appliques scattered at random. The veil was gathered onto a lace-covered camelot head piece. She carried a tapered bridal bouquet of blue spider mums, daisies, babies breath and blue satin ribbons. The traditional "something old" were pennies in her shoes, minted in the birth years of the bride and groom. "Something borrowed" was a lace handkerchief of Christy Humphreys, and "something blue" was her blue satin garter with a ring of pearls and a tiny satin bow.

Miss Christy Humphreys of Sudan served the bride as maid of honor. She wore a blue floor-length gown of polyester organza which featured a fitted empire bodice, sheer sleeves with white lace trim, and an A line skirt. A white hat with blue satin ribbon streamers in the back, and white wrist length gloves completed her ensemble. She had a corsage of white daisies and babies breath.

The bridegroom wore a light blue suit, blue shirt and blue tie. The best man, Melvin Hall of Littlefield, brother of the groom, wore a darker blue suit, white shirt and blue tie.

The "Wedding March" was played by Jane Shipley of Littlefield. Miss Cindy Moore, the bride's niece sang, "If" and the "Wedding Prayer." Guests were registered in the bride's book by Miss Penny Moore, niece of the bride from Grand Junction, Colo.

Ushers were Melvin Hall, the groom's brother, and Randall Moore, the bride's nephew of Grand Junction, Colo. Mrs. Williams, mother of the bride chose a baby blue floor length gown accented with blue Venise appliques and tiny seed pearls at the waist, tiny rows of tucking finished the fitted bodice, a stand up collar, and long fitted sleeves. Mrs. Hall, the groom's mother wore a pink crepe dress that featured a fitted bodice, full sleeves and stand up collar accented with white lace.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Community Center. The reception line was the new bride and groom who greeted their friends and relatives.

The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with blue roses and tiny white doves. The cake was topped with a white heart, doves and a miniature bride and groom. Tropical punch and white mints and nuts were also served to the guests by sisters of the bride, Mrs. Donald Moore of Grand Junction, Colo. and Mrs. Chester Knox of Sudan from crystal appointments. The table was covered with a blue cloth overlaid with white net. White candles in holders intertwined with blue mums and babies breath illuminated the table.

Miss Christy Humphreys distributed the blue rice in white net bags tied with tiny satin bows.

The couple had a wedding trip to Lubbock. The bride chose to wear a blue pant suit and her going away corsage of blue and white daisies. The couple will make their home in Littlefield, where he is employed by Wagley's Green House.

The rehearsal dinner for the couple was hosted by the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert L. Hall at the Sagebrush Inn, Tuesday, July 27, at Littlefield.

Drake-Dempsey wedding solemnized here Tuesday

Double-ring wedding vows were pledged at Crescent Park Church of Christ Tuesday night Aug. 3, between De-Rhonda Karen Drake and Larry Dale Dempsey, both of Littlefield.

Officiating for the reading of the vows was Bob Wear, minister of Central Church of Christ in Hereford. Vows were repeated as the couple stood at the altar, centered with a large candle tree decorated with Huckleberry foliage and Babies Breath, flanked by two spiral candle trees of Huckleberry foliage and Babies Breath holding ice blue candles. Focal point of the altar decorations was the unity candle.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Drake of Star Route 1, Littlefield, and Mr. and Mrs. Larry E. Dempsey of Littlefield.

As Jimmy Drake presented his daughter for marriage, she wore a gown of white satapeau and Chantilly lace; designed with a fitted bodice featuring a scooped V-neckline trimmed in dainty Venice lace flowers. Chantilly lace covered the bodice and the upper half of the butterfly sleeves. Falling from a crescent waistline, softened with motifs of the matching chantilly lace, the skirt fell to court length in front and was bordered in the matching lace. In back, the gown swept to chapel length, with motifs of the chantilly lace scattered across the skirt.

For her veil, a stand-up cap covered in chantilly lace received two tiers of imported illusion. The waltz-length tier caught a scalloped border of the lace, while the cathedral-length tier flowed beyond the gown.

For "something old", she wore pearls belonging to her grandmother; "something new" was her wedding gown; "something borrowed", a diamond pendant from her mother; and "something blue" was the traditional blue garter. In her shoes she wore pennies minted in years of their births.

She carried a tapered bouquet of white stephanotis, white Cymbidium Orchid, Babies Breath and mink fern. Cindy Drake of Littlefield was her sister's maid of honor. Junior bridesmaid was Charlott Dempsey of Littlefield, sister of the groom.

They wore formal-length heavenly blue Chiffon gowns. The empire bodices were tucked and featured deep yokes edged with re-embroidered Alencon lace and high Victorian necklines, also accented with lace. The long Bishop sleeves had tucked cuffs. The softly-gathered skirts were lined in matching blue satin.

Michael Cox of Littlefield, cousin of the groom was best man, and Danny Hukel of Littlefield was groomsman.

Tammie Dempsey of Littlefield, sister of the groom, was flower girl.

Todd Blevins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dee Blevins of Littlefield, served as ring bearer.

Candlelighters were Marty Drake, brother of the bride, and Greg Dempsey, brother of the groom.

Ushering the guests to their pews were Kerry Drake, brother of the bride, and David Barker of Littlefield.

Guests were registered by Kimberly Fisher of Littlefield. Musical selections of "Wherever Thou Goest", "If", and "Wedding Prayer" were sung by Alvis Jones and the church group singers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Drake wore a yellow chiffon floor-length dress lined with yellow satin.

Mrs. Dempsey wore a beige floor-length crepe dress with matching accessories.

Following the ceremony, a reception was served in the fellowship room of the church.

The bride's table was laid with a white satin and lace cloth. Centering the table was a silver candelabra with blue candles surrounded by ivy and the bouquets of the attendants. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with blue flowers. Nuts, mints and punch were served with the cake from silver appointments by Lynn Ann Bussanmas of Littlefield, Teri Nebhut of Lubbock and Kimberly Fisher of Littlefield.

The groom's table was laid with a white linen cloth, centered with a chocolate cake, which was served with coffee and nuts from silver appointments. Serving at the groom's table were Pat Orr, Shauna Clayton and Pamela Fisher.

Others in the reception party were Mrs. Ronnie Fisher, Mrs. Dee Blevins, Mrs. J. R. Fain, Mrs. Clifton Cutshall and Mrs. Dexter Nebhut.

Blue rosebud rice bags were distributed by Pamela Fisher.

For their wedding trip to Dallas, the bride wore a blue skirt and sweater with white accessories.

They will reside in Littlefield.

Wedding vows were pledged Saturday afternoon, July 17, between Cynthia Ann Brown and Fred Michael McGregor.

Echion rows of pearl beadwork formed a sunburst yoke under the high lace, wedding-band collar. Long, fitted sleeves of Swiss net were appliqued with lace, and tapered to petal points, closing with loops and silk covered buttons. From the natural waistline, the skirt of ivory silk peau d' ange was worked to fullness at the back, deepening to form a chapel train.

Her single-tiered veil of illusion fell from a French calot. The veiling was edged with a wide band of matching Allencor lace worked with scallops of shell-pearl beading that edged the train.

Her circular bouquet of apricot roses, stephanotis and babies' breath was tied with champagne satin streamers. Following tradition, she wore her Grandmother Nabers' topaz engagement ring for "something old," a linen and lace handkerchief given to the Francisco especially for Cynthia Ann's wedding, a "blue" garter also given her by Mrs. Thomman, and pearl earrings "borrowed" from her sister, Nancy.

Pennies in her shoes were minted in the year of the bride and bridegroom's birth dates.

Bridal attendants were gowned identically in apricot chiffon, to complement the bride, the sleeveless, formal gowns were designed with moulded bodice with soft gathers attached to the high, rolled collars, a soft layer of chiffon fell over the shoulders. From the slightly lifted waist line, the skirt fell with a slight flare, floor length.

They carried nosegays of apricot flowers with a touch of mint, tied with champagne ribbon. The maid of honor's bouquet was distinguished with lace around the edge.

The flower girl was gowned identically, and carried a lace umbrella filled with apricot flowers, and babies' breath in her hair.

Spade board to set budget

SPADE— The Spade school board will have suggestions and arguments concerning the budget in their regularly scheduled meeting tonight, and Supt. Joe Bailey indicated the budget then probably be approved.
"Due to some staff changes, the budget will be amended in some ways," Bailey said. "But if everything goes smoothly Monday, we should be in a position to it by the end of the meeting."
The budget hearing is open to the public.
In other Spade school news, Bailey announced hiring of a new Jr. High coach and the unexpected of a special education position.
Larry Howell, newly graduated from Eastern Mexico University in Portales, has been hired to teach High sports and teach math. His wife is finishing her teaching certificate.
Kim Martin, who had been hired to teach education, found out that through a mixup she still has three hours to graduate from college. She informed that she would go back to the school to pick up the rather than go on to Spade.
Bailey said the school board is now looking for replacement.

Olton ISD slates budget hearing

OLTON— The Olton school board will hold its budget hearing tomorrow night, and Olton citizens more than likely face another tax hike, according to Supt. Joe Turner.
Turner said the expenditures on the new budget pretty well "squared away, but there's still work done on revenue." When asked if that would mean rate increase, Turner replied, "More than likely."
All Olton school personnel have been hired for coming year.

Amherst school board to meet

AMHERST— Adopting the amended budget of 1976 and discussing the budget for '76-'77 will highlight meeting of the Amherst school board tomorrow.
Supt. Lamar Kelly said that the budget for the upcoming year and the tax rate would probably be adopted at meeting.
Other business on the agenda includes the possible hiring of a math teacher and accepting the work of city equalization board.

Earth council urges enforcement

EARTH— The Earth city council met Monday and passed a resolution urging that city traffic ordinances speeding, dragging and littering be enforced stringently.
The council also decided to close City Hall on Labor Day, Sept. 6, and decided to change their monthly meeting Sept. 6 to 8 p.m., Sept. 7.

Pioneer Natural Gas declares dividends

The Board of Directors of Pioneer Corporation (formerly Pioneer Natural Gas Company), at their quarterly meeting today, declared a regular quarterly dividend of 30 cents per share to be paid Sept. 2, to stockholders of record on Aug. 19, 1976.
K. B. "Tex" Watson, company president, reported to the directors that consolidated net income for the second quarter of 1976 amounted to $10,299,523 or $1.11 per share compared to $5,986,805 or 67 cents per share for the same quarter of 1975. Watson pointed out that 1975 earnings per share are restated to reflect the 20 percent stock dividend distributed by Pioneer Corporation March 15, 1976.
In the first six months of 1976, the consolidated net income was $21,307,470, or $2.29 per share compared to $12,573,719 or $1.42 per share for the same period in 1975.
In making the announcement of the quarterly results, Watson said that continued improvement in revenues from the production and sale of oil, condensate and other liquid hydrocarbons was a major contributing factor to the expanded earnings.
"Additional factors contributing to the improved earnings was the sale of stockpiled inventory of uranium concentrate along with the change in uranium prices," Watson said. Uranium prices for the first six months were $7,728,492 compared to $1,577,862 in 1975. The current production for the first six months would have produced approximately $4 million revenue.
Watson went on to say "Recorded gas sales for the first six months exceeded the previous year sales by about 12.5 percent." Watson pointed out that included a special sale of billion cubic feet of interstate companies, a portion of which occurred in the second quarter. Also, a meter reading campaign in several classes of customers caused certain volumes to be reported as sales in the first six months which in previous years have been recorded in the third quarter.
The quarterly report of Pioneer Corporation was mailed to stockholders the 16th of August.

Bowling league meeting Tuesday

A meeting for all Littlefield women interested in joining the fall bowling league will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Security State Bank meeting room.

Hazel Davis, in charge of the gathering, said there will be no signing up or commitments made. The meeting is just to get an idea of how many women are interested in the league.

If a person is unable to make the meeting, they are asked to contact Mrs. Davis at 385-3482. The fall league will begin around the first of September.

Three win crowns at Levelland

Toni Kirkpatrick of Levelland, Lindy Woods of Seminole and Malcolm Manns of Odessa won singles titles at last weekend's American Cancer Society Tennis Tournament sponsored by Levelland Tennis Association.

The three-day tournament raised around $350 for the American Cancer Society, said Glen Pounds, LTA tournament chairman. A total of 110 matches were played at the South Plains College courts in women's singles, men's under and over 25 singles, men's under and over 25 doubles, and mixed doubles.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick defeated 14-year-old Jan Elliott of Portales, N.M., 7-5, 7-5, for the women's singles title. In men's under 25 singles, Woods beat Rusty Conway, also from Seminole, 6-3, 6-3, to take top honors. And Manns went three sets against Raymond Yell of Midland before winning the men's over 25 singles championship by scores of 7-5, 3-6, 6-4.

In doubles competition, Woods and Conway teamed up to defeat Art Johnson and Kirk Covington, 6-1, 7-5, in the men's under 25 category. And Travis Spears and Yell defeated the Lubbock duo of David Jones and Choya Tichelman, 6-1, 6-3, to win the men's over 25 doubles title.

In mixed double Steve and Toni Kirkpatrick scored 6-4 and 7-5 set wins to beat Jackie Condren and Kirsten Dunson, last year's mixed doubles champions.

In consolation play, Jennifer Hunter of Brownfield beat Bena Tomison, 6-0, 6-2; Kevin Hammit of Portales defeated C. V. Blake of South Plains, Texas, 6-1, 6-0; and Jerry Barton beat Mike Huffstetter, 3-6, 6-2, 6-2, in the divisions of women's, men's under 25 and men's over 25 singles consolation, respectively.

Consolation winners in men's under 25 doubles were Billy Wallace and Steve Kirkpatrick, while George Privett of Littlefield and Ira Jephcott won the men's over 25 consolation doubles title. David Alcorn of Littlefield and Gaile Berryman of Abilene won the mixed doubles consolation.

Texas hunting, fishing day set

September 25 has been set aside by Governor Dolph Briscoe as "Texas Hunting and Fishing Day" in recognition of the contributions state outdoorsmen make to conservation.

In his proclamation, Governor Briscoe cited Texas hunters and fishermen for their support of game restoration and law enforcement through the purchase of hunting and fishing licenses. "Game animals such as deer, quail and turkeys now exist in greater numbers than ever during this century and... millions of acres of freshwater lakes now contain great populations of both native as well as introduced varieties of fishes," stated the Governor's proclamation.

Briscoe urged all citizens to "join with hunters-anglers-conservationists in renewing our appreciation and dedication to proper use of natural resources now and for future generations."

Deer survey set to begin

A census of white-tailed deer set to begin in early August will determine the number of antlerless deer permits to be issued this hunting season.

Last year some 250,000 permits were issued. Of that, almost 63,000 does, representing 18 percent of the 1975 whitetail harvest, were bagged according to Charles Winkler, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department big game program director.

"This census will give us an accurate count of bucks, does and fawns in the field, and then we can determine the number of does that can be harvested without hurting the overall population," Winkler said.

The statewide census will begin August 2 and run through the first week of October. The beginning date was set at the time fawns born this spring will be 30 to 45 days old.

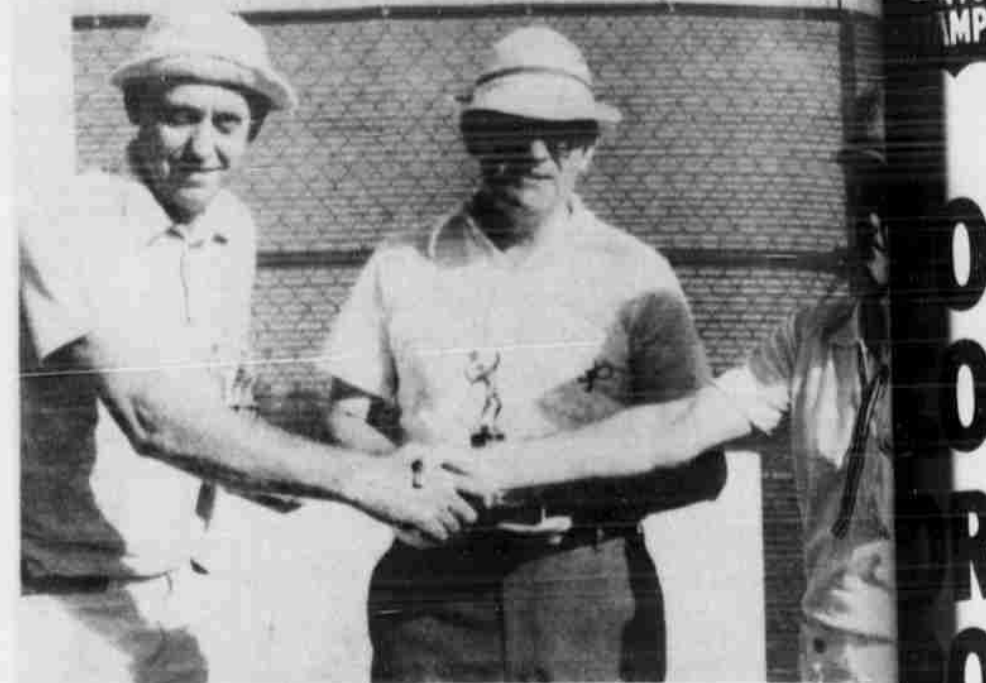

P&WD's doe permits are issued on the basis of the total deer population, fawn production and range conditions.

Because of the heavy spring and summer rains, the range is expected to be far better than last year and able to support more deer.

Winkler stressed, however, that range conditions can change between August and

DAVID ALCORN of Littlefield and Gaile Berryman of Abilene beat Billy Wallace and Steve Kirkpatrick of Levelland last weekend to win the Mixed Doubles Consolation title at the American Cancer Society Tennis Tournament in Levelland. Turkey stockings continue

Some 225 turkeys, representing nearly one-quarter of the total projected to be stocked, have been released in the pineywoods of East Texas. Stocking of the once-plentiful turkeys will continue through the fall, until 1,000 birds will have been released, according to Robert Van Cleave, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department regional wildlife director.

"We have been releasing birds on a weekly basis as they turn 14 weeks old," said Van Cleave. "A majority of the birds have been pen-reared, but a few have been wild-trapped," Van Cleave noted. It has been determined that at 14 weeks of age the turkeys are better prepared to survive and grow in the wild. At that age, the birds are approximately three-fourths grown.

"Birds younger than 14 or 15 weeks are too small and subject to much heavier predation." All the released birds will be introduced into East Texas areas that have 40 inches or more of rainfall yearly. The birds are released two-hen to one-gobbler ratios. Biologists estimate that turkeys that survive ready to breed next year.

Services Farmers Union

gas costs

A spokesman for Texas Farmers Union has been invited to testify before a Congressional subcommittee on the impact of increased natural gas prices in Texas.

The hearing will focus on food and fiber production and the financial impact of increased production costs to individual producers.

Texas Farmers Union's Legislative Director Robert Mullins will present the organization's statement to the Subcommittee on Oversight and Investigations of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce at the Committee's hearing Monday, August 9, at 10 a.m. in Washington, D. C.

Mullins' testimony will highlight increased production costs incurred by Texas farmers relative to the increasing costs of natural gas and electricity used to power irrigation wells, as well as those increased costs associated with fertilizers, herbicides and other machinery operations.

The Farmers Union's statement also delves into problems faced by rural domestic users of electricity and other economic and social problems brought on by the increasing fuel and power costs.

The chairman of the subcommittee, Representative John Moss, of California, invited the state-wide farm organization to testify as a result of several months of investigation by the Farmers Union into the problem in Texas.

Texas members of the Subcommittee include Representatives Bob Krueger of New Braunfels and Jim Collins of Dallas.

Change in seed certification

Texas producers shopping for certified planting seed for the 1977 season will see a change in the certification label accompanying each bag of seed.

Starting next year, seed will be certified for genetic identity only.

Although the new certification label assures that the seed is the variety stated on the label, the big change is the fact that it does not relate to any seed quality factors such as purity, inert matter, other crop seed, weed seed, noxious weed seed and germination.

The Texas seed law, however, still requires that this information be truthfully stated on the analysis label accompanying the seed.

"The change in seed certification which becomes effective Jan. 1, 1977, means that producers will have to pay particular attention to the labels on the seed bag," emphasizes Dr. Robert B. Metzger, cotton specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "The certification label will tell them what variety the seed is, and the analysis label will provide information on quality factors."

Both labels tell the complete story about the seed, but keep in mind that quality factors vary even though the seed is certified, notes Metzger. Certification for genetic identity means that seed has been produced and processed to standards and procedures established by the Texas and Plant Board and adopted by the Texas Department of Agriculture to assure the variety is as represented on the certification label accompanying the seed.

"Reading the label has always been of importance in purchasing seed, but the new standards will place a greater responsibility on the producer to carefully read the labels to determine if the seed meets his quality requirements," points out Metzger.

The Texas A&M University System specialist lists a number of reasons for the change in seed certification standards:

- To assure a more dependable supply of seed certified as to genetic identity.
- To establish uniformity with the Federal Seed Act.
- To encourage international seed trade.
- To allow production of certified seed having characteristics for different market needs.

Texas highways pinched by prices

Auto markets in Texas have been gathering strength since last fall. In June, new car registrations in the four largest metropolitan counties totaled 27 percent more than a year before.

And with more new cars to try out, Texans were driving more than ever.

In May alone, they drove nearly 7.9 billion miles. That was at least 100 million more than at the height of the summer vacation season last year. In July, always a peak driving month, miles traveled in Texas could easily exceed 8.5 billion.

But even with more new cars, fewer cars are on the road. And even with more miles being driven, less gasoline is being used.

As a result, revenues available for highway construction are off in Texas. And relative to the rapid rise in costs of building and maintaining highways, they are off sharply.

Over 60 percent of the state's highway funds come from gasoline taxes and auto registrations, most of the rest coming from federal grants.

Grants from the federal government have been up in recent months, totaling close to $245.8 million from September to May, compared with a little over $185.6 million for the same period a year earlier.

But over the long haul, any reduction in the state's ability to match federal funds would amount to a further loss of revenue. And the outlook is not bright.

For all the new cars being sold in Texas, when the deadline for renewing registrations came in April, registrations did not total 2.4 million. Cars will continue being registered all year. But in April last year, registrations were already approaching 3.2 million. Clearly, older cars are being retired from the road faster than new cars are being sold. And the result is a drop in revenue from the sale of license tags.

From September to May last year, the state took nearly $179.3 million in registration fees. During the same period this year, it took in only a little over $165 million.

And for all the increase in driving, with prices of even the cheapest gasoline up more than a fourth since supplies suddenly turned short in late 1973, Texans are also being more careful about their consumption of gasoline.

From September to May, over 5 billion gallons of motor fuel was burned on Texas highways. But that was 239 million less than in the same period a year earlier.

As a result, the state took in nearly $11.3 million less in gasoline taxes.

From September 1974 to May 1975, the state collected nearly $255.8 million at gasoline pumps. And that was during the worst of the recession.

From September 1975 to May 1976—a period of solid recovery—it collected less than $244.5 million.

So far, however, loss of revenue has been the least of the state's problems with its highway program. Far more severe have been effects of the rising costs of laying roads.

From 1955 to 1965, costs of building highways in Texas increased an average of 3.2 percent a year. And although costs began going up much faster after 1966, as late as 1970, the annual increase over the previous five years still averaged only 8.5 percent.

Even that rate was not too fast for the revenues coming in. Receipts from the gasoline tax were increasing nearly 9 percent a year. And fees from auto registrations were increasing nearly 6 percent a year.

Confident of its ability to continue expanding its highway net, the state embarked on a program in 1971 to spend $5 billion on roads over the next 20 years.

But costs were already beginning to skyrocket. Over the five years since, costs of materials have about doubled, holding the average annual increase in total costs close to 15 percent.

Today, it would probably take $11 billion to do the work outlined in 1971.

Meanwhile, growth in revenues has been slowing. The turning point came in 1973. With the squeeze between mounting inflation and spreading recession reinforced by gasoline shortages, increases in receipts dropped to about 2 percent for the gasoline tax and less than 4 percent for auto registrations.

Though the state was able to hold to its old rate of spending through 1975, it quickly began falling behind schedule in the work it had planned. Now, it will have to cut spending. This year, outlays will probably be reduced about 10 percent.

So far, the loss in revenue seems due entirely to better use of gasoline and a reduction in the number of cars on the road. For all the increase in prices of gasoline and automobiles, there is no sign of any marked move to small cars in Texas. If anything, the reverse is true.

The proportion of cars weighing at least 4,500 pounds has been trending upward for several years. Without regard for recession or recovery, price hikes or fuel shortages, the proportion of large cars has moved up from less than 7 percent of the registrations in 1972 to more than 11 percent in 1975.

And according to all reports, there is still a strong preference for big cars at showrooms in Texas.

Otherwise, there has been little change in the composition of cars on Texas roads. Well over half the cars are in a narrow range weighing from 3,500 to 4,500 pounds. And although this proportion has been declining slightly, most of the difference has come from buyers trading up into heavier cars.

Cars weighing less than 3,000 pounds have made few additional inroads into Texas auto markets in recent years. They consistently account for just under 40 percent of the total.

Continuation of the movement into newer cars, however, will tend eventually to break this pattern. And with fewer cars on the road, the break will have a decided effect on state highway funds.

Beginning next year, auto makers will be turning out cars 700 to 1,000 pounds lighter than comparable 1976 models. And the new models are expected to get nearly 40 percent better gasoline mileage. That is in line with an industry goal to build cars in 1977 that can average 16 miles a gallon, compared with 11.5 miles in 1974.

With the trend to newer models, then, lighter weight cars are coming, reinforcing efforts to get better gas mileage. At current tax rates, revenues will shrink further. But with fewer, lighter cars on the road, the need for maintenance and new construction will also be less.
