Councilmen Discuss Four-Item Agenda

In a brief meeting Thursday night, Littlefield's city councilmen took action on four items of business.

Councilmen tentatively accepted the proposed budget for 1974-75, and instructed City Manager Jim Blagg and City Attorney Ted Sansom to work up an ordinance for later adoption.

Blagg asked the council for an opinion on the sale of copies of the city code of ordinances to citizens who wish to obtain a copy. Councilmen advised him to determine the cost and sell accordingly.

Councilmen discussed the lease agreement on one of the city farms, now being leased to Joe Montgomery. Montgomery wished to pass the remainder of the lease to J. L. Marcum, and councilmen agreed, but took no formal action.

On the last matter of new business, councilmen passed two resolutions making application for Flood Insurance program participation. City Manager Blagg informed the councilmen that the Housing and Urban Development (HUD) had designated seven areas inside the Littlefield city limits as flood areas, and that with the passing of the resolutions, residents in those areas could benefit from reduced flood insurance rates.

Other routine business matters included the approval of the minutes from the previous meeting, the approval of the payment of bills and the review of departmental reports.

City Water Supply To Be Cut Severely

The city's water supply will be curtailed somewhat for a week, beginning Wednesday, when the supply from the sandhills will be shut off entirely.

A leak has developed in the 24-inch transmission line from the sandhills, and the supply must be shut off in order to make repairs.

According to City Manager Jim Blagg, "We ask the citizens to help us out by eliminating the usage of water on their yards, or for car washing, etc. after Wednesday for a week, or until repairs are made."

He emphasized that normal household usage, similar to that of the winter months, "won't hurt us at all." He asked that citizens get their lawns watered early this week before the shut-down.

It's Time To Spruce Up

With the arrival of Festivities Days Friday and Saturday and the influx of visitors coming to our city, the Beautification Committee of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture urges everyone to "spruce up" their business or residential areas.

City vehicles are expected to be readily available to haul off trash, etc.

OUT of the blue killed 14 head of cattle at the David Vaughns last night. The thunderstruck dryland farmers found nine young cows and five dead along a half mile of fence the next morning. They took this of the dead animal truck the following day.

Wreck Cattle Execution Companies Rain Shower

It finally rained at the David Vaughns last night. The pouring was back.

Vaughns live 10 miles southwest of Littlefield—out in the dryland area where it has been so dry they haven't been able to crop and the pastures are so dry they've been feeding cattle all they finally got a half inch of rain Sunday week. But when the rain passed over and they got out to the fields it had rained they found a single bolt of lightning had struck down a fence. Result: 14 head of cattle.

They said six of the young cows had been hanging over the fence and the dead cattle were near the three-strand barbed wire fence traveling the half-mile of fenced in pasture. Two of the cows belonged to the Vaughn's sons, Ronnie and Milton "Rabbit" Vaughn.

Vaughn termed the wholesale execution as "just another of those freak things that occur during a drought," adding that if they hadn't been having to feed for so long the cattle would have been out in the pasture grazing and wouldn't have been strung out down the fence row.

The loss of the nine cows and five calves exceeds $2,500, even at a low estimate, and the loss isn't covered by insurance.

Commissioners Court Accepts Bids

The Lamb County Commissioners Court met for their regular monthly meeting Monday and met again in a called meeting Friday.

In the Monday session the court appointed Wade Streety as Veterans Service Officer. Jean Streety will continue as acting officer with office hours from 1 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

A bid of $35,962 was received from West Texas Equipment Company on a maintainer for precinct 4. The bid was accepted, less $15,962 for a trade-in, leaving $20,000 difference.

Another bill from Sherman Insurance Agency for $1,600 was presented.

The court voted to transfer $20,000 from the general fund to officers salary fund.

Alternate presiding judge for precinct 15 at West Springlake was changed from Edward Jones to Velma Baker.

County-wide bills and reports were approved.

In the called session Friday, commissioners accepted a bid from High Plains Pavers of Plainview for $48,116 for 2.5 miles of paved road in precinct 4.

Canning Cues

By DOROTHY POWELL
County Extension Agent

Home canning can be a highly rewarding experience—economically, creatively and personally satisfying.

When the jars of fresh fruits and vegetables you have "put up" are lined up on the shelf or in the freezer you have meal after meal all ready to heat or chill and serve. The foods are there, at your fingertips to prepare for your family, or friends or to give as special gifts.

I have several requests for recipes requiring little or no sugar. I have selected these recipes to share with you.

TO CAN WITHOUT SUGAR
Use fully ripe, but not soft-ripe fruit. Prepare fruit for canning. Then add a little water and cook the fruit until it is boiling hot. Pack, hot, into hot jars.

If needed, add boiling water to cover. Adjust caps and process in a water-bath canner for the recommended time for the fruit being canned.

FRESH-PACK DILL PICKLES

Yield: 7 quarts
Cucumbers, 3 to 5 inches in length, packed 7 to 10 per quart jar nets 17 to 18 lbs.
5-percent brine (3/4 cup pure granulated salt per gal. of water) or about 2 gal.

Vinegar, 6 cups (1 1/2 quarts)
Salt, pure granulated, 3/4 cup
Sugar, 1/4 cup
Water, 9 cups (2 1/4 quarts)
Whole mixed pickling spice, 2 Tbsps.

Whole mustard seed, 2 tps. per quart jar
Garlic, if desired, 1 or 2 cloves per quart jar
Dill plant, fresh or dried, 3 heads per quart jar or
Dill seed, 1 Tbsp. per quart jar

Wash cucumbers thoroughly; scrub with vegetable brush; drain. Cover with the 5-percent brine (3/4 cup salt per gallon of water). Let set over night; drain.

Combine vinegar, salt, sugar, water, and mixed pickling spices that are tied in a clean, thin, white cloth; heat to boiling. Pack cucumbers into clean, hot quart jars. Add mustard seed, dill plant or seed, and garlic to each jar; cover with boiling liquid to within 1/2 inch of the top of the jar. Adjust the jar lids.

Process in boiling water for 20 minutes (start to count the processing time as soon as hot jars are placed into the actively boiling water).

Remove jars and complete seals if necessary. Set jars upright, several inches apart, on a wire rack to cool.

CHOW-CHOW RELISH
1 peck of 12 1/2 pounds green tomatoes
8 large onions

Glazner-Thompson Wedding Solemnized

MRS. ROY WAYNE THOMPSON

Jan Bernice Glazner and Roy Wayne Thompson, both of the Spade community, exchanged double ring wedding vows Friday night in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Muggs Glazener of Spade.

Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thompson of St. Rt. 2, Littlefield.

Officiating for the reading of the vows was Rev. Larry Heard, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Bovina, as the couple stood at the altar decorated with baskets of white and yellow gladiolas. Fresh flower arrangements were featured on a table and the registration table.

Muggs Glazener presented his daughter for marriage. She wore a formal-length gown of white organza, fashioned with a high neckline of scalloped chantilly lace, and full, sheer bishop sleeves that were cuffed with a row of narrow lace. The sheer rounded yoke on the empire bodice was edged with bands of scalloped lace which extended down each side softly gathered. A line of detachable chapel train attached to the waistline with a large bow and the headpiece matching lace edged length veil of illusion.

She carried a bouquet of yellow rosebuds and baby's breath centered with a white orchid corsage, mounted on a white Bible.

Miss Gina Kay Glazner Spade was her sister's honor, and Bill Thompson served as best man. Following the ceremony reception was held in home of the bride's parents. The traditional wedding and punch were served to sisters of the groom, Belinda Fudge and Vivian Thompson, both of Spade.

Following their wedding to Rudosa, the couple will on a farm on the Ft. Highway.

Both will attend Texas this fall.

INTRODUCING THE

Ladies Choice

It finally happened!

After years spent at the forefront of the men's grooming field, Roffler Industries has developed a saucy style especially for women—the new Ladies Choice.

The Ladies Choice, of the same high quality as other Roffler hairstyles, was created when Roffler noted a need in the women's grooming field for a new, versatile hairstyle that would look becoming on many different women.

And the Ladies Choice is versatile. It can be styled either long or short, and in with all Roffler hairstyles, traits of the individual are taken into consideration. Personality, face shape, and type and texture of hair are all major factors which go into the designing of a Ladies Choice style.

The Ladies Choice is achieved by a special shear cut technique. The hair is cut into approximately even lengths all around. Extremely important to the style are skilled brushwork and the use of a curling iron.

The Ladies Choice was created to fit the busy lifestyle of the modern woman. Its attractive appearance is similar to the full-look approach so popular today with men, but it is truly feminine and flattering. It takes skill and know-how, the type found in Roffler shops, to create a Ladies Choice style. Once the style has been achieved, however, its maintenance is relatively easy. Just as Roffler products are ideal for styling a Ladies Choice, they are also perfect for keeping it the way it was designed.

Why did Roffler Industries, champion of change in men's grooming, decide to create something for the ladies? Because, just as early Roffler Stylists sensed that there was a need for a new approach to men's grooming and that men were ready to alter their lifestyles to improve their appearances, Roffler determined that feminine grooming, too, needed a fresh, new approach.

Having become adept at anticipating what men would want in advance, they decided to try it with women, too. The result was the Ladies Choice. And Ladies Choice has proved to be the success that all new Roffler ideas have been. Stylists have learned how to create it, and women are eager to try it.

The Ladies Choice—a new hairstyle that's a new idea from Roffler.

Shows will be presented at 5:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. daily. Premiums totaling nearly $15,000—an all-time high—are being offered this year. The addition of a sheep show and substantial boost in cash awards for the Parade of Bands accounted for much of the increase, Lewis said.

THE ANTON BULLDOGS will be switching to a new offense this season, and new Head Coach Lester Dupler (back row at far right) is confident his team will improve on their 2-8 record of last year. The squad is composed of six seniors, four juniors, 13 sophomores and 12 freshmen. (Staff Photo)

Coaches Bring Veer Offense To Anton

"We may be the only high school team on the South Plains using this offense," said Anton Bulldog Assistant Coach Jim Moss. "But we used the Houston veer at Hempstead (where he, Head Coach Lester Dupler and Assistant Coach James Stamford coached last year), and we're convinced it's a good offense and will work with the boys we have."

"The veer is not a real power offense where you have to blow people off of the line," explained Dupler. "We'll have a lot of double-teams and we'll have to read the defense."

The Bulldogs return only three offensive and four defensive regulars off of last year's 2-8 team, and three players pulled duty both ways. Donald Willis, a 170-pound Sr. tailback, will be the workhorse in the backfield. He's coming off a fine junior year when he gained over 1,000 yards, and is also expected to start defensively in the secondary, where he was an All-district choice last season.

Freddie Castro (150, Sr.) will go both ways at guard and linebacker, along with Danny Bishop (165, Sr.). Monte Newton (140, Sr.) is returning in the secondary.

After that, though, a flock of new faces will have to pull the Bulldogs through. "We've got just a few people with any experience and a lot of underclassmen. (Anton has 13 sophomores and 12 freshmen compared with four juniors and six seniors.)

"But we're looking for an improvement over last year. The kids are working hard and their attitude has been real good so far. I think we've got a great group of seniors. There's not a lot of them, but they're real strong in the leadership category."

Dupler has got high hopes for some of his newcomers. Offensively, he's counting on Lonnie Tims (150, Soph.) at running back, Ronnie Peacock (140, Jr.) at split end, Scott Goen (190, Fr.) at guard, Sammy Peacock (140, Soph.) at center, Randy Spradley (185, Sr.) at guard, Greg Couch (145, Jr.) at flanker and Rex Jones (150, Soph.) at quarterback to step into starting roles. Tims and Goen will probably see action defensively, too.

Hempstead won their district last year using the veer, and Dupler is confident it will work for Anton. "It's a run-oriented offense, using the triple option basically. We're also going to try and pass quite a bit. I favor it over the Wishbone because your lead halfback has to block in the Wishbone and it's tough unless you have a really big halfback. In the veer, you have a split end and flanker on different sides, and the defense has to set someone out on them to cover the pass. To us that's as good as blocking them, just as long as we get them out of the play. And when you get the defense spread out a little, it's simpler to tell who you're supposed to block. Finally, it's a much better offense to pass out of than the Wishbone."

Defensively the Bulldogs will line up in a four-three front, with two cornerbacks and two halfbacks. "We'll run a few adjustments off this," Dupler said, "but we'll stay basically the same 90 per cent of the time."

Anton's first three outings and their last game are non-district tilts. They draw Meadow the fourth week of the season. "Meadow will undoubtedly be the toughest team in our zone," Dupler insisted. "They have a bunch of people back from last year, have good size, and of course they won district last year. After Meadow, you probably have to pick Subdown, with almost everybody back, as second."

NEXT ISSUE: A look at the Olton Mustangs.

Plant, Row Spacing Important For Cotton

A partial answer to a major disease of High Plains cotton may lie in the simple matter of plant and row spacing, says an agricultural scientist in Lubbock.

Dr. Earl Minton, plant pathologist with ARS-USDA based at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, has found that producers who plant their cotton in narrow-row (rows that are 10 inches apart) with heavy planting rates (four to six plants per row foot) can delay the onset and ultimately the severity of a disease known as Verticillium wilt.

The disease annually reduces cotton yields on the High Plains by as much as 10 percent.

In announcing results of a recently completed five-year study, Minton said that in addition to reduced incidence of Verticillium wilt, other advantages of narrow-row planting include less production costs, increased yields, and improved fiber quality.

Conventional cotton planting patterns are based on 40-inch wide rows with six plants per row foot, Minton explained. This is about 78,400 plants per acre. Using the newer narrow-row planting system, rows are spaced 10 inches apart on beds, each with four to six plants per row foot, or about 156,800 plants per acre.

He said that narrow-row production increases yields over conventional row planting in two ways. One is a direct increase by virtue of higher plant populations that are not crowded. The other is an indirect yield increase as a result of lower incidence of Verticillium wilt.

Wilt disease is reduced in narrow-row production, Minton said, due to shorter boll production periods and because the crop matures in more favorable weather conditions of late summer rather than in cool periods later in the season.

During the summer months, the casual fungus of wilt is not very active, and the crop has a chance to reach maturity before the disease sets in. For this reason, wilt incidence in narrow-row cotton is two to three percent lower than in conventional 40-inch rows during the summer, increasing to 15-20 percent lower during the fall, Minton said.

Yield reductions from Verticillium wilt on the South Plains reached a maximum of about 10 percent in 1966, but has ranged from four to six percent annually since then, the scientist recalled. This reduction is related to the planting of higher wilt tolerant varieties, closer row plantings and probably more favorable weather conditions for cotton.

As for yield increases using the narrow-row system, Minton reported that increases were up as much as 300 pounds over the standard 40-inch row in tests at the TAES A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center. The tests also showed that fiber quality showed no decline in going to narrow-row production of populations up to 200,000 per acre.

Both wilt tolerant and wilt susceptible cotton varieties were used in Minton's five-year study. Close-row varieties are not highly tolerant to the disease, he said, but they can escape severe infection due to earlier fruit set and maturation. On the other hand, while a few varieties are available for conventional row production which are highly tolerant, these seeds are occasionally in short supply.

With limited tolerant varieties, a farmer can use adapted varieties of narrow-row patterns to reduce wilt damage and still get acceptable yields, Minton concluded.

Feedgrains To Be Down, According To Report

When the latest crop report was issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the word became official that feedgrains would be short this year.

Yet, despite drought conditions throughout much of the Midwest, the estimates for feedgrain crops were surprisingly low, contends a grain marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"The short crop conditions will put the pressure on prices through much of 1975," points out Roland Smith. "Feedgrain prices have moved up some in recent weeks in anticipation of the short crop outlook, so I don't expect a drastic jump in prices unless the demand picture changes. Total usage of feedgrains should be off sharply from last year due to the drop in cattle feeding from poor economic conditions and a better feedgrain balance abroad that may reduce our exports."

The national corn crop is expected to be less than five billion bushels, down more than 25 per cent from March estimates. This would make the 1974 crop less than the two previous crops and also less than last year's total corn usage figure, points out Smith. In contrast the Texas corn crop should be up almost nine million bushels.

As far as sorghum is concerned, national production is expected to be only about two-thirds of last year's crop, down some 318 million bushels. That same outlook echoes the Texas sorghum picture, where production is expected to reach only 295 million bushels, just over 70 per cent of last year's crop.

The nation's wheat crop is estimated as 129 million bushels short of last year's production, with the Texas crop almost 47 million bushels short of the 1973 crop, or down 47 per cent, points out Smith.

The U.S. Soybean crop is also estimated as some 252 million bushels short of last year's production.

"The USDA estimates appeared to be below those expected by a majority of the grain trade despite the fact that much of the country's midsection has been hard hit by drought," notes Smith.

"Recent rains in some parts should help late crops, but for the most part the moisture came too late."

According to the Texas A&M University System specialist, the short-run price situation for feedgrains is weather-oriented while the late-season price picture depends on the ultimate demand.
