DIDN'T USE TAX MONEY

S-E Superintendent Refutes Political Barb

By NILAH RODGERS

Springlake-Earth's school superintendent has been pounced on from all quarters for campaigning for Ben Barnes on school stationery in his capacity as a school superintendent on the state payroll, and using state money for

S-E school head W. L. "Bill" Mann is accused of writing most, if not all, Texas school district officials on stationery bearing Earth-Springlake ISD letterheads and bearing Austin postmarks, denouncing Dolph Briscoe as "no friend to public education.'

"No local funds nor any tax money or state funds were used in printing or distributing the letters," Mann said in a telephone interview Friday morning.

Rumors have it that Briscoe supporters jumped all over" Mann concerning the letters. Further charges said the Springlake-Earth school official wrote a letter as a favor for State Rep. Bill Clayton and that the letter was duplicated and mailed from Barnes headquarters in "The letter was duplicated," Mann said in response to a direct question concerning reproduction of the letter. "But not here. That should be clear since it has an Austin postmark. But, as involved as I am already, I think the answer to that would be better if it came from them (Barnes campaign headquarters).

The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal and the Castro County News reported on the deluge of letters to school officials, after the Canyon News came out with an article in a column

Canyon publisher Troy Martin wrote: .The letter was on a school letterhead so I would assume that sending it was some expense to the school and state. The letter I saw was nothing more than an outright campaign letter on behalf of

Now it's alright if the Earth superintendent wants to campaign for Barnes or anyone else as a private citizen but when he uses stationery paid for by the state and campaigns in his capacity as a school superintendent on the state payroll, it becomes the business of everyone.

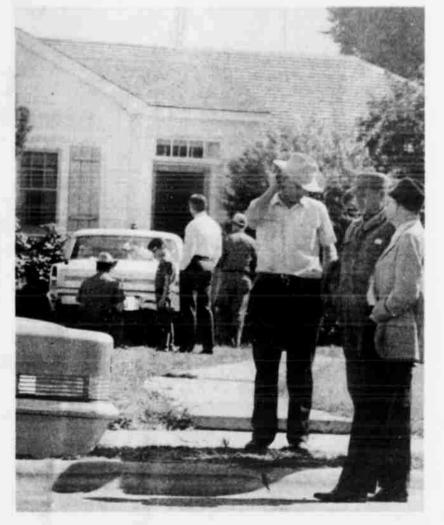

Superintendent Mann said he looks at the candidates in the light of whether or not they have been good for the schools.

Both Smith and Barnes have been good for Texas schools," he said.

"But I'd never use tax money for anything like that," he said, referring to the mailings. "Money for that thing came from private or campaign sources.

"Certainly some of the Briscoe supporters have been concerned." Mann's tone indicated that this might be the understatement of the day.

"A few have contacted me, of course. I guess this is a sign people are taking politics seriously.

TWO MORTON WOMEN were injured, one fatally, when the Chevrolet in which they were riding was struck by a Cadillac (in foreground), and was spun out of control and into the front porch of a nearby house. Mrs. Eula Rogers and Mrs. Jane Haner Harris were both taken to Littlefield Hospital, and Mrs. Rogers died shortly after she arrived at the hospital.

Vote Ter' If Agains

The forced busing referendum on the Democratic first primary ballot is confusing too many voters.

District Judge Pat Boone Jr. and County Attorney Curtis Wilkinson said the way they read the referendum a voter must vote "For" if he is against forced busing of public school students, and must mark his ballot "Against" if he is for forced busing The proposal reads exactly the same in both instances except the "For" and "Against" preceeding the reading.

Judge Boone called the way the referendum is worded "a double negative". He added that he would like to get his hands on the person who worded the issue in that manner.

The busing issue is on the ballot as a referdum and is an expression of public opinion only, and has no binding effect as during personal appearance absentee voting thus far, the wording is considered confusing and public officials say they expect the real wishes of many Democrat voters won't be expressed because they do not seem to understand the double negative wording.

The referendum on the Republican ballot is considered much clearer, is stated only once, and provides a space for marking a hoice

Morton Woman Killed In Two-Car Crash

Mrs. Eula Wood Rogers, 76, of Morton was fatally injured in a two-car mishap at the intersection of 9th Street and Farwell Avenue Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Jane Haner Harris, 78, of Morton, driver of the 1967 Chevrolet in which she was riding, was admitted to Littlefield Hospital and is being treated for injuries she received in the wreck.

Mrs. Rogers died at the hospital soon after the accident.

The investigating officer's report stated that Mrs. Harris' 1967 Chevrolet was traveling west on Ninth when a 1970 Cadillac, driven by Otto Jones of Littlefield, had proceeded northward on Farwell after he had stopped at the stop sign. The Cadillac struck the right rear side of the Chevrolet and spun it out of control into a yard and into the rail and front porch of a nearby house.

Mrs. Rogers was the 38th traffic victim this year on the South Plains and is the first accident death in Littlefield this year. Funeral services for Mrs. Rogers were

Wasp To Kill Bugs In Feed

Greenbugs in area grain sorghum crops may be a different story this year.

A new program is planned here that calls for the importation of a stinging wasp which will kill off greenbug infestation.

The USDA is spending $200,000 on a twoyear study to see if this beneficial insect. the braconid wasp, can control greenbugs. Final details are not complete at this date, but the project will involve 10,000 acres and two releases will be made during the growing season. This is a large scale field research project and not a demonstration.

The project will be on a commercial basis here. Ace Bridwell will supply the wasps on contract to farmers.

The tiny little wasp is a parasite to the harmful greenbug. The braconid wasp deposits its eggs in the body of the greenbug. As the eggs develop, the greenbug dies.

Some of the wasps are so small that they undergo their entire development within the body of a plant louse. Over 500 of the larvae have been counted within the body of a tomato worm

Government Money Allocated To County

Government estimates have indicated that a total of $237,174 will be allocated to all governmental units in Lamb County this year - pending Congressional approval.

Of that amount, the county government will receive $151,445 and the city of Littlefield will get $49,447, according to a release from Governor Preston Smith concerning the General Revenue-Sharing Bill which was approved by the House Ways and Means Committee earlier this

The balance of the amount will be distributed to other cities and towns within the county

"Based on information we have received from the House Ways and Means Committee, the revenue sharing bill will provide a total of $202 million during the first year to cities and counties of Texas. Allocation of funds will be retroactive to

Jan. 1, 1972," the governor stated. He continued, "It would appear from these early estimates that the bill, if finally enacted, will provide substantial fiscal relief to the hard-pressed cities and counties of Texas. At the same time it will afford a real opportunity to improve and expand on those services which the people feel are most critically needed.

"I have strongly advocated approval of these funds to our cities and counties and I will continue to support these provisions until final Congressional approval is

HOWNY GRYTS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

IF YOU'RE ONE of those that like to spend your time runnin' down the police department and their employees, you can INCLUDE ME, OUT! I simply refuse to Too, if you have any gripes at the telephone people, tell them to someone else, - I'm not interested.

THE INVALUABLE SERVICES rendered by these people we so easily take for granted, are worthy of more consideration and gratitude than they are

Oh, sure, they get paid, but they are so willing to go above and beyond the normal demands of their jobs, that it's worth mentioning

TAKE, FOR INSTANCE, this past week when one of my kinsmen, so unthinkingly, had a cardiac thrum-something or-other, down in Weatherford. Seems the least he could have done, would be to have it at home, which is Lubbock.

All the information I had was that he'd had this attack in the aforementioned city, and had been transferred to Fort Worth. I was most concerned, and wanted more information about his condition.

I had trouble seein' myself calling all the hospitals in that metropolis, tryin' to locate him? (All I had was his name and

So? I thought of our police department. I called the dispatcher and told her my problem, asking if she thought she could contact the Ft. Worth police, and, if they might be of help

SHE SAID SHE DIDN'T know, but she'd certainly try After all there's a lot of hospitals there. (Not only did she contact those police, she asked them to find him, and give us a report on his condition!)

The Ft. Worth police did co-operate, but it must have been a sizable job. It took them about two and one-half hours to report back

MEANWHILE, Jude Thornton (the dispatcher at our local department) had suggested we try to locate the Weatherford ambulance service that had transported my ailin' kinsman to the big city.

This seemed to be a wise idea, so I turned to the telephone people. The operator I got was a jewel. (I didn't even learn her name )

AFTER I'D STATED my problem, this adept operator went right to work. First, she called Weatherford information, inquiring about the local ambulance service. Quick as a wink she was connected with those people.

Yes, they HAD transported this gentleman to Fort Worth, AND they had taken him to this specific hospital. She called the big city information, obtained the number of said hospital, and gave them a ring

"YES, THEY HAD admitted this fellow, but we'd have to call an upstairs payphone number to contact any relatives present. Anon, 't was done, and of all things, a relative answered the phone! All this was done in less than five minutes!

Now. I haven't seen my phone bill, but whatever it is, is beside the point. You couldn't beat this kind of service with a

NO SOONER HAD I hung up the phone than Jude called, and the Fort Worth police HAD come through ! - Yes, this person was in this specific hospital, and his condition was listed as "Guarded"

Mrs. Thornton asked that I not give her any special praise, "Any dispatcher, that happened to be on duty would have done the same thing!" she said.

As I stated, I didn't learn the name of the nice phone operator, but no one could have done better, nor been nicer whle they accomplished the job!

THE POINT IS, that it's really reassuring to know that we have these kind of people around, that are so willing to be of help in our times of need.

Like I said, if you've got any bad-mouthing to do about either of these people, tell it to someone besides ME!!

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Count Blessings

THE BLESSINGS we receive are for our good, for our enjoyment, for our strength, and for our wise use.

They, however, will serve none of these purposes unless we are constantly mindful them. We must also be properly thankful for them, and express our thanks.

WHEN WE CEASE to be mindful of our blessings, we have lost most of their real profit to us. If we are not aware of them the situation for us is almost the same as if they did not exist

We lose so much that we cannot afford to lose, when we let ourselves slip into the common practice of taking our blessings for granted

THERE IS SO MUCH anxiety about the luture, and so much regret about the past; that most of us are so badly distracted we do not recognize a blessing when we see it.

This is a miserable and unfortunate way to live. If we were busy counting our blessings each day, most, perhaps all, of the anxiety toward the future and regretstoward the past would be crowded out of GRIF HVPS

REFLECT UPON your present blessings, of which every man has many: not on your past misfortunes, of which all men have some "Dickens

We will feel, and express more love and good cheer; when we see and accept our blessings as the constant concern and expression of a kind and generous providence.

We will be able to throw off the lifedestroying feelings of despair, defeatism and discouragement. Each day of living becomes a delight rather than a drag must become the dominant elements in us our personal life-structure.

Of course they do not comprise the whole of life; but, if we will view them as we can and should, we can live and work as if they did.

ARE THERE ANY people who can honestly say. "I have no blessings in my life: I have nothing for which to be

Certainly, all of us have problems and difficulties; but these make a very poor focus for one's life. Our blessings must be made our life focus.

"THERE ARE THREE requisites to the proper enjoyment of earthly blessings: A thankful reflection on the goodness of the giver. A deep sense of our own unworthiness; and a recollection of the uncertainty of our long possessing them --The first will make us grateful! the second, humble; and the third, moderate "-H More

Did you ever make a list of all the blessings you receive in any one day? Do it some time. It is going to be a very long list.

WE MUST COUNT our blessings each day; see them for what they are; and let them become complete in their influence upon us, by expressing our gratitude to the

If this is to be, it has to be protected. Privacy has to be as valued as any social demand put on us by others. When someone calls and asks if you are doing something that evening, you have to say that you are, knowing that you are going to read that book you have been putting off for months. You are saying that you're not home to anyone but yourself that evening. Somewhere in the front of your mind you have to write that your nights in are just as important as your nights out. Thoreau, no mean commentator on life, said: "Society is commonly too cheap. We meet at very short intervals, not having had time to acquire any new value for each other. We meet at meals three times a day and give each other a new taste of that old musty cheese that we are. We have had to agree on a certain set of rules, called etiquette and politeness. to make this frequent meeting tolerable."

There is absolutely nothing antisocial about the attitude of "I want some time to myself." The first thing you will discover by staying at home is that you are doing something you have always wanted to do. One busy couple started by scheduling one evening a week to put their slides and pictures in order. They went on to learn French together.

The community gadabouts are missing something. Behind the closed front door you will find a happy man who has simplified his taste to the point where a good book and a quiet evening offer him expectation. He has chosen a wise preference and he should wear it as a badge of wisdom and distinction in a world where such men are going to become increasingly rare.

Home Missions Is Discussed

Members present were Mmes. M. Matthews, Jack Hardin, Ella Lindley, Ora Martin, Lucille Walden, W. Hogan, B. Park, Illa Sewell, M. Street, E. G. Brunson and Miss Frankie Stevens.

BE CRAFTY

Make a sculpture with can lids

By ALICE MORRELL Copley News Service

CAN LID SCULPTURE

If you have been throwing away the lids from your tomato juice and baked bean cans, cease and desist. I save all the lids from any size cans, wash and store them until I have a good supply, then assemble to make a free-form sculpture.

These are made with can lids, 4, 5, 6 and 7 penny nails, epoxy capsules, aquarium paint, mat acrylic spray, 1-inch pine boards or 11/2-inch styrofoam base for inside use and masking tape. First, I paint all the can tops with different colors of aquarium paint and spread to dry on old newspapers.

While these are drying, I cut the board or styrofoam to free-form design (Fig. 1). I stain the wood with walnut stain (you may prefer a colorful enameled base) and set aside to dry. If you use styrofoam, wrap after cutting with masking tape for strength. It may also be painted if desired.

Next, I fasten the nail heads to the center backs of the can lids with the epoxy and let dry. When all are fastened and dry, spray with the mat acrylic spray to keep from rusting

Now I assemble the lids and form my design, nailing them on the base and placing them at different heights. By selecting longer or shorter nails and by using different sized and shaped lids, I complete development of my design.

Using this method, I can place some so that they are raised about 1/2 inch from the base some at % inch and some at 1 inch, being careful to use different colors as well as different sizes in order to insure a good three-dimensional effect (Fig. 3).

To give the piece further interest, I often glue on metal rings, washers, or bits of colored glass. Instead of aquarium paints, you can also use tures to enamel your lid disks.

Draw designs with a felt-tip pen and mix the plastic and paint on; let dry for several days, then arrange as above. This type of free design allows easy development of the most interesting modernistic interpretative and free-form design.

For instance, try cutting a circle of styrofoam, cover the circle with can tops and add metal rods or irregularly cut 4s-inch dowels to make a sunburst design (Fig. 4).

Experiment and have fun.

County Teen-Agers Spending $1,826,000

There is more spending money on tap in Lamb County these days and it is not only the adult population that has it.

The teen-agers are better off, too. These young tycoons, with an impressive amount of cash at their disposal, have come into their own. They have become an economic force of considerable size.

Equally important, if not more so, from the point of view of local merchants, is the influence they wield over family spending

They help decide the kind of car that is purchased, the type of appliances that are bought, the food they eat and the clothes they wear

As a result, local merchants have been paying closer attention to their particular tastes in fashions, food, entertainment and

On the basis of the latest figures, the teen-age market in Lamb County reached an estimated $1,826,000 in the past year.

The money went for clothes, cosmetics, snacks and soft drinks, costume jewelry, records, movies, sportswear, tape recorders, cars and the many other things that are of vital importance at that age.

And it went quickly. With the "now" generation, money is to be used, not to be

The facts and figures on the teen-age market are based upon surveys and reports by the American Apparel Manufacturers Association, Gilbert Youth Research and others.

They indicate that close to $20 billion was spent in the past year by the 27 1/2 million boys and girls in the United States between the ages of 13 and 19. It averaged out to nearly $730 per person, or just under $14 per week. In Lamb County, the 2,502 boys and girls who are in the 13 to 19 group spent some $1,826,000 in the year, it is figured, based upon this average

But that is less than half the picture. Marketing studies show that the influence these juniors have over their parents' spending extends to more than two-thirds of the major purchases and amounted to about $45 billion in 1971.

At that rate, Lamb County's teen-agers have a voice in the spending of approximately $4,109,000 additional per

Rompers become body suits

By BETH MOHR Copley News Service

The body suit is a shirt that grew into rompers. In big-girl style, these rompers are sleekfitting, swimsuit length and not the least big baggy.

The body suits keep neatly anchored under pants, shorts or skirts. They get a chance to reveal themselves as tiny jumpsuits when they are worn with short or long skirts slit to the waistline. They are likely to get completely out in the open at the beach and poolside this summer.

Smooth, soft knits can take much of the credit for giving body suits their comfortable stretch, body-conscious fit and lack of bulk. Any bulk would spoil the lines of covering skirts or pants.

Although there are some solid tones, most of the suits are in jacquards. Knit designs follow trends in fabric prints, with florals and such currently opular motifs as nautical symbols, flowers, fruits and animals. There also are checks, plaids, dots and abstracts.

Variety at the top keynotes body suit designs. Turtle, crew and V necklines keep a sweater look. Oval necklines and collars suggest a blouse or shirt. Many suits are accented by white collars.

LET'S TALK

Repression can bring ulcers

By REV. LEE TRUMAN Copley News Service

Helen Baxter, 34, is the wife of a fellow pastor. She is a textbook example of repressed hostility and its effects. Helen feels she has an extremely fine husband, loves him deeply, and to support him in his vocation she feels she has to play a role. She always has to be sweet, loving, gracious and kind, even when she feels otherwise

Thoughtless people make demands on her, her family and her husband, which she resents deeply. She feels there is no defense against the tight-lipped people who could so easily and inconsiderately invade every area of her life. Helen is also angry with their church's denominational leaders. Because her husband is not the kind of man who curries favor, makes the right impression with the right people, his professional future is modest, in spite of the hard work and good job he

The result of all this is an ulcerated colon. No amount of medicine helped Helen. For two years she could only eat soup, and not so much as a leaf of lettuce. In a prayer therapy group she faced just how angry she was and for three hours in my office poured out the river of her hate, hot with all of its emotional acid. For the first time instead of internalizing, and turning on herself all of her anger, it gushed out. In three that she could not admit it even to herself over the years. Denial is learned by a 3-yearold who learns to say, "Not me, mommie," as he stands in the midst of the broken pieces of the cookie jar. The lady says, with conviction, "I do not talk about neighbors." As soon as she says such a thing I know that she gossips.

Lying to one's self ends in damage to ourselves when we believe the lie. The results of lying to yourself can be as devastating as it was to Helen's co-

Often the first thing I have to help people to do when they pray is to be honest. Helen unconsciously lied about her feelings in her prayers as much as she did to everyone else. Selfhonesty is the starting place for a person to discover who he is. Then he can start to be a whole person, and is on his way to being an emotionally and physically healed person.

If you would like a mimeographed check list of basic emotional needs, please send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Rev. Lee Truman, Copley News Service, in care of this newspaper.

Formulate a family budget

By JOYCE ROARK Copley News Service

Setting up a budget can be a problem to a family. By knowing the national average budget you can formulate your own family's budget.

Joe Public's annual income after taxes is $8,600 ($720 per month). He found that his rent each month was $105 (14.5 per cent). His family spent $166 per month (22.8 per cent) on food (including alcoholic beverages (including alcoholic beverages and tobacco). They spent $99 per month (13.5 per cent) on transportation (gasoline and car payments).

Because he has two school age children, he spent $76 per month (10.3 per cent) on clothes. For medical care the family spent $55 (7.4 per cent).

Household operations each month cost $103 (14.1 per cent).

The family spent $40 per month (5.3 per cent) on personal business (insurance, care, etc.).

Recreation took $49 per month (6.3 per cent). The miscellaneous spending was $27 (3.8 per cent) each month.

You may spend more for rent, house payments, etc. or you may spend more for food, transportation, medical care, etc. No matter what your budget is, compare it with this one to see how you compare with the national average.

U.S. government offices did a survey in 1969-1970 of more than 10,000 urban and rural families. Their average income before taxes was about $9,794; after taxes, about $8,600.

My own family wouldn't be able to use this budget verbatim because our housing cost is higher each month and we like to put more in our savings each month. Your family will probably have similar discrepancies. By altering the percentages to fit your needs, you can establish a budget that fits your individual family.

There are other ways of making up a budget for a family but this method is the easiest. Remember that there are no rigid formulas for determining the amount you should spend for housing, food, recreation, or any other category of expense.

Authorities in the field of family finance recommend that a family not exceed 26 percent of their income for housing, 25 per cent for food, or 15 per cent for clothing. If your family is not below these limits, take a close look at your expenses — you may be living beyond your means.

"Lost Generation", the latest release from World Wide Pictures, will be shown Wednesday, May 3, at the First Baptist Church in Sudan.

'Lost Generation' utilizes multiple screen images and a probing documentary style to investigate attitudes on dissent, violence, the mood of America, and the answers that can be found by this generation as they face the decisions of life.

The opinions of both young and old, urban and rural, rich and poor, are brought to the screen from people of various backgrounds throughout the Nation

Location shots were filmed in Alaska, the Southern states, on the farms and in the small towns of mid-America, and in the dying Haight-Ashbury hippie district of San Francisco.

The free feature-length film, includes special appearances by Billy Graham, Art Linkletter, and Jack Webb, was described by one reviewer as a "moving film that calls on us to make a decision about how much we want to get involved in the troubles of our times.

"Lost Generation" will be shown at 7:30 p.m., with no admission charge, and the public is cordially invited.

Woman uses new name

By RIV TOBIN Copley News Service

Dear Mrs. Tobin: My maiden name was Mary Smith. I married John Jones and signed my name Mary S. Jones. John died and I then married Paul Brown. Do I sign my name now as Mary Jones Brown or Mary Smith Brown? I'm afraid if I don't use my former husband's name with mine, people won't know who Mary S. Brown is. -

Dear Confused: You now sign your name as Mary S. Brown. If that new name needs explaining, explain. Don't use your deceased husband's name along with your present one's.

Dear Mrs. Tobin: After ten years of marriage, friends of

George Harmon and Mr. Harmon this week

MRS. M.V. COWAN and son, Bob went to Vallecito, Colo. for a visit with their daughter and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Black in their new home.
