Flu Complaints Keep Doctors Busy

A rash of flu type complaints is keeping Littlefield doctors busy, but thus far there are no epidemic proportions of absenteeism in the Littlefield schools.

City health officer, Dr. Carl Nowlin, said Friday that approximately half of the patients making office calls recently have been those with influenza complaints.

Dr. Nowlin said it is impractical to do viral cultures to determine the exact type of influenza since a culture costs about $100 and involves freeze drying and flying the tests to laboratories.

The recent outbreak in Houston was presumed to be the Victoria A strain. Dr. Nowlin said the flu vaccine being used this year protects against three viruses and does not include this type.

Because vaccines do not adequately protect against all types, most doctors do not recommend flu shots except for older persons and persons with chronic lung diseases.

Typically, flu complaints last 10 days to two weeks, depending on the amount of individual resistance. Some patients have run fevers for 10 days. Dr. Nowlin pointed out that viral infections cannot be cured by antibiotics. Bed rest, cough medicine, and decongestants help flu symptoms. Some antibiotics, usually given orally, are used to prevent secondary infections like pneumonia.

Dr. J. H. Oyer, county health officer, said he has seen more persons with viral pneumonia complications in the past month than he has seen in the past eight years lumped together.

He said he calls some of the viral pneumonia cases "walking pneumonia" because people won't go to bed and take care of themselves but keep going until real complications take over.

"Actually, many of the flu-like symptoms we are seeing can't be called influenza without proof," Dr.

Oyer added. "You have to take a blood sample when the symptoms first start, then another sample two weeks later. By that time the patient is either over it or dead. Doctors in Lubbock are trying to type it, mostly for statistical purposes. We're waiting for Lubbock to get replies. Then we can assume that we are dealing with about the same strain here."

Littlefield school nurse, Joyce Oliver, said there has not been any flu outbreaks in the Littlefield schools this year.

The Amherst school nurse said there were no problems in schools there.

Pep schools closed for one day this week due to a high rate of absenteeism due to flu symptoms, however.

Wildcats ease past Olton

Olton found that 'Cats of any color were too tough to handle on Friday the 13th. Littlefield's Maroon Wildcats defeated Olton easily 60-48 in district action.

The 'Cats built up a 9-0 advantage mid-way in the first quarter and were never threatened. Olton finally broke the scoring ice at the 3:38 mark of the initial period.

Littlefield built up a 19-6 lead at the end of the first quarter and extended it

Seeding Controversy Up In Air Once Again

To seed or not to seed, that was the question at the hearing in the district courtroom Thursday morning.

The largest crowd ever packed into the courtroom assembled for the Texas Water Development Board (TWDB) hearing here. Every seat was filled, folding chairs were placed down the middle and north aisles and across the back, and still there were a dozen persons standing as the hearing got underway.

Many of the same questions were raised concerning the granting of a permit for cloud seeding activities. Many of the statements made were repetitious, whether made by those who favor or oppose the hail suppression activities.

The hearing was informal and was chaired by TWDB member A. L. Black of Friona.

Although there was a court reporter taking down statements, no one was placed under oath, and there were no cross examinations.

An adjudicative hearing will have to be held at a later date before permits are issued, and at this hearing everyone who testifies will be placed under oath and cross examination will be allowed.

The hearing here was in protest to issuing a seeding permit to Atmospherics Incorporated and Better Weather Incorporated. A hearing in Plainview Tuesday was to protest issuance of a weather modification permit to Plains Weather Improvement Association.

The controversy has raged since 1970 between dryland farmers on the one hand who claim cloud seeding is milking rain from clouds that otherwise would fall on their land and on the other side are farmers who have irrigation wells who say they cannot afford to put hundreds of thousands of dollars into making a crop and have it wiped out in a hailstorm before harvest. Both sides are sincere in their beliefs.

The time and place of the adjudicative hearings will be announced as soon as the information is released.

Volunteers Needed For Heart Sunday

Brenda Denton, chairman of the Littlefield residential Heart Fund campaign, today issued an appeal to local residents for volunteers to aid in Heart Sunday on February 22. Linda Jones is co-chairman of the residential drive in Littlefield. The local goal is $2,000.

Mrs. Denton said volunteers are needed to call on friends and neighbors with information on reducing the risk of heart disease and how to recognize the early warning signs of heart attack and stroke. Volunteers also will collect contributions for increased research, education and community programs to help fight the nation's leading cause of death.

"More than 28 million American have some form of heart and blood vessel diseases. This averages out to one in every eight Americans. Deaths from these diseases amount to over a million a year— more than from all other causes of death combined," the chairman said.

Mrs. Denton asked Littlefield residents to help bring these important messages to the public by volunteering some of their time to help save lives.

Volunteers may register by phoning Mrs. Denton, Mrs. Jones or Lamb County chairman Evone Oliver.

Pioneer Days

By PETE PETERMAN

Back in 1926 from the Red Hills of Oklahoma, came father and son, V. M. Pete Peterman and his dad, seeking land for the young man to establish a home. They found something in Lamb County that they decided would do. So, they purchased one labor of semi-sandy land in the Sod House pasture from Halsell Land Company of the newly established town of Amherst.

They made a down payment and built a box-car shack, dug a tin horn well and went back to Oklahoma. Now about the time V.M. was ready to move his earthly belongings out west, a terrible sand storm hit on Thanksgiving Day which will long be remembered by those who lived anywhere in the Southwest. It destroyed the Peterman crop in Oklahoma. So he came to Lamb County in his old car, and worked at picking cotton, and at the cotton gins all winter. The winter was mild and no rain came after the Thanksgiving storm.

Young Pete went back to Oklahoma, married his young sweetheart, Emily, and one week later they fixed their covered wagon, tied on the absolute necessities of life, and headed west with two work horses, a span of mules, two cows and his favorite saddle pony, Button, tied to the side. He left his wife to bring the car.

It took a lot of determination to head southwest facing the dusty wind with all the livestock and necessary supplies that had to be taken along. Just one week later the young bride and her father-in-law got in the car to see what had happened to Pete. They drove most of the day, and late that evening, near Nazareth, Texas, they came upon a tired and weary Pete. Emily, the young and determined wife said to Dad, "You go on to Amherst. I am going to stay here with Pete."

They traveled on until sundown and just south of Dimmitt, they found a place to get water and make camp. That night Emily cooked their first meal on a campfire. They had ever eaten alone. They slept in the covered wagon, and the next morning when the sun came up, Pete and Emily were on their way again, going west.

After two more eventful days they drove up to their little shack on the prairie. Night was falling fast and water for the livestock was a must. They stopped at the nearest neighbor's about one-half mile away and watered the livestock, but only the water in the wagon was available for two dusty tired pioneers.

Pete dug out from the bottom of a wagon a six-foot galvanized well bucket about 4 inches in diameter with a bail on top and a valve fixed in the bottom. A set of tripods like they weighed cotton on was set up. He used a cast iron pulley made for this purpose and some fifty feet of rope that had come all the way from Oklahoma, and soon they had water to drink, and for all additional purposes.

"One of Mama's old brooms that had its place on the wagon was brought into service. Imagine the box-car shack, made of box and strips; and little protection from the sand and weather, and out there where it had not rained since the Thanksgiving storm. But soon they had it reasonably clean, and with the horses and other livestock tied to the wagon, they settled down for their first night in their own abode.

Pete spent most of the next day taking down a line fence and post to build a temporary corral of pen for the horses. Emily tidied up the shack and drew water for all the livestock.

Now, there happened to be a city dump or junk yard, some three miles away, and the newcomers went there for some discarded articles they could use. Here they found an old barrel that could be cut out and used for a horse trough, and some old construction timbers and boards and pipe. The Petermans were soon in business and happy in their new home.

Pete took the walking plow from the side of the wagon, and rigged up the necessary equipment to plow. Emily drew the water for the horses, and kept the house while Pete walked and followed the plow to get some land ready to plant whenever it rained. Pete remembers that it never rained a drop from the time they got there until the sixth day of June. So, there was no way to plow much, or make arrangements for the expected crop.

The folks had a lot of energy, and time on their hands. From some old wornout well equipment pipe they got at the junk yard, they rigged pipe and a cylinder for the well and soon had it so they could pump water by hand. What a relief.

Soon after they got here a group of neighbors got together to build the Rocky Ford Tabernacle, or community center. Not one foot of road had ever been graded in that part of the county. Soon the Blackwater Draw became impossible and gypprock from nearby was hauled by the community and placed in the creekbed, so that the wagons and model Ts could get across to go to town. Thus the famous Rocky Ford Crossing came into being, and for several years was the only dependable crossing north and south for many miles.

During the drouth and while waiting for rain, the Peterman's decided to build a better way to get water. Now, from some of the old lumber they gathered together, they built a windmill. Crude indeed, but after several improvements and additions, it pumped water. Now, for those who have pumped water by hand or drawn it with a bucket, they can guess the relief this little Dutch cow-paddle monster meant to the Petermans.

This mill pumped an abundance of water to supply the house. The livestock and a small garden required a lot of loving care to keep it in tact; when the wind blew from the right direction and not too hard, water was plentiful. But in storms they had to cut the mill off and tie it up, even if they did need water.

With a lot of courage and determination the Petermans used this as their only water supply for nearly two years. Just before the great Depression of '29, they gathered together enough cream, eggs, and other farm products to pay for digging a new well, and putting up a new Dempster Mill.

Now times have changed for the Petermans. After 47 years they moved to Littlefield, and now live in their modest new home at 400 Crescent Drive.

Pete says they live in their house by the side of the park where all their friends go by. "Let us live by the side of the road, and be a friend of man," he says. "Lamb County has indeed been good to us and our hope is that the world, and Lamb County, will always be a little better by having had our presence."

For when the farmer came, he said, "You must not be greedy, little red hen. Look at the oppressed cow. Look at the disadvantaged duck. Look at the underprivileged pig. Look at the less fortunate goose. You are guilty of making second-class citizens of them."

"But... But," said the little red hen. "I earned the bread."

"Exactly," said the wise farmer. "That is the wonderful free enterprise system; anybody in the barnyard can earn as much as he wants. You should be happy to have this freedom. In other barnyards, you'd have to give all five loaves to the farmer. Here you give four loaves to your suffering neighbors." And they lived happily ever after, including the little red hen, who smiled and clucked: "I am grateful. I am grateful."

But her neighbors wondered why she never baked any more bread.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE We Can Make It

WE HARDLY KNOW what to do sometimes with some situations, but something has to be done. There are such times for all of us, but "we can make it". The uncertainty involved can be very disturbing, more disturbing for some than it is for others. Even so, this is living; and there is no way to change it, but we can learn to live with it.

"WE CAN MAKE IT". Since we know, in general, about what to expect; there is some preparation that can be made which will enable us to make some of the judgments we will be expected to make. For one thing, we can eliminate most of the element of surprise. We can know about what to expect, and can, to some extent, be ready. This will help us, even though there are some of life's experiences for which we are never completely prepared.

AFTER WE DO OUR BEST to cover the whole scope of the actual and the potential, we are still keenly aware of our limitations. We make some mistakes, even when we are trying to do right by everything; and some of our decisions will be fundamentally wrong. Therefore, knowing that these are real possibilities; we must include this knowledge in our general preparation. This helps maintain the balance which satisfactory living requires.

IT IS IMPOSSIBLE to eliminate all uncertainty, because there is some risk for all of us in the living experience. We, however, can lessen some of the uncertainties; and we can live very well with what remains. We can be quite certain about some things, about enough things to cope with whatever uncertainties exist.

LEARNING TO DECIDE definite decisions, will be. Unfortunately, many folks to be able to make the decision should be made. They really important. Of course, it complicates the life pattern have this problem.

INDECISION increases the uncertainty. Indecision causes so many necessary uncertainties. It is we learn to make decisions with as much wisdom as "We can make it."

"THE TORMENT OF SW" very great; and as we waver, perplexed mind determine, be the decision which way soever, it will ease." -South.

WE CAN ACT with effectiveness, and actually better job in coping with uncertainties, and ever other life; when we make the decision, as soon as it is made. This does not encourage responsible behavior, or an approach to living; but it helps us to face up to the facts which not be ignored.

IF OUR EXPECTATIONS listic, "we can make it"

Turn Row COMMENTS

I'M NOT SURE what the courts would do about it, but I'm sure that a few people would feel a lot better if we could form a vigilante group and stop some of this stealing and other infractions on ones rights.

To some it may be unchristian, but what is wrong with blowing the legs out from under a person that you catch stealing something that belongs to you. I think that us taxpaying citizens have a few rights too. Of course I've been lucky the past week or so without someone stealing something from me. But there are a lot of people that work hard to accumulate a few things and then all that labor is in vain after some thief in the night gets some prize possession from you.

Of course our courts are governed by higher authority which comes from our constitution, but it is my thinking that the high court is spending too much time reading into the constitution the implied powers instead of the printed facts. Each has their own interpretation and just like the Bible, it is read in many ways with each individual reading the passages to fit them and their needs.

I can remember a few years ago when a local whiskey and beer merchant with an established reputation would quote various from the Bible that he interpreted him and his business to the officers and would try to get an officer to feel like a heel. I've heard a sermon and arrest and if you type of Christian you would about what he said and make the passages that he quoted to see if you were a heel or not.

Now how did I get on that oh well, I still think that a punishment is needed to protect the majority of the population. A little outside help with a would make the court docket thinner as well as give the enforcement officers a bit of a time. Nuff said.

CONGRATULATIONS to for his new subscription. USN&WR. I thought we might take up a collection to get him a copy so he could have something to write from. I still haven't figured what he meant about me and plug but if he meant what I meant, all I can say is "same buddy".

Conner-Furr Vows Read In Springlake

The lace train extended from the waistline and was accented with scalloped lace and seed pearl clusters. Her veil was made of bridal tulle edged with scalloped lace with a cap accented with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of yellow and white roses.

Vows were exchanged before a memory candle made by Sharleta Ellis. On either side of the altar were bouquets of yellow flowers and candelabras. Pews were decorated with yellow and green bows.

Matron of honor was Pat Williams of Lubbock. She and the bridesmaids wore identical dresses of green crepe with empire waistlines, lace sleeves and lace bodice overlays made by Sharleta Ellis. They carried nosegays of yellow roses. Jody and Gaylon Conner of Springlake and brothers of the bride were candlelighters. Flower girl was Holly Ann Moore of Springlake. Shane Williams of Lubbock was ringbearer.

Jerry Walker of Dimmitt was best man and Jimmy Furr of Sunnyside was groomsman. Ushers were Ardis, Jody and Gaylon Conner, brothers of the bride.

Wedding selections of "The Twelfth of Never," "Wedding March," and "Till" were presented by Mr. and Mrs. Preston Upshaw of Hart.

A wedding reception followed in the Springlake Community Building. The four-tiered wedding cake was made by Mrs. Curtis Beavers of Dimmitt. A wedding ring cluster was between the second and third tier, and the top tier held a cherub and daisy scene.

For a wedding trip to Ruidoso, the couple traveled in matching western outfits. They are at home in Dimmitt where the groom is employed by Western Ammonia.

EARLY WARNINGS OF A HEART ATTACK

PAIN, in one form or another, almost always accompanies a heart attack. Ranges from a mild ache to one of unbearable severity. When severe, pain is often felt as constricting, like vise on chest. Pain also often includes the burning and bloated sensations that usually accompany indigestion. Pain may be continuous and then might subside—but don't ignore it if it does. Could be in any one or combination of locations shown below.

Checklist of Other Heart Attack Early Warnings.

None of the symptoms below is conclusive proof of a heart attack. But the more of them present, the more likely it is that the patient is undergoing a heart attack.

- DIFFICULTY BREATHING
- PALPITATIONS
- NAUSEA
- VOMITING
- COLD SWEAT
- PALENESS
- WEAKNESS
- ANXIETY

How to Help a Possible Heart Attack Victim.

You can best help—possibly save a life—if you know in advance: 1) The nearest hospital equipped to handle heart attack emergencies. 2) How to do Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR.) 3) How quickly to call a doctor, the hospital and/or an ambulance. 4) The fastest route to the hospital. Knowing these things, you should:

- 1 Help victim to least painful position—usually sitting, with legs up and bent at knees. Loosen clothing around neck and midriff. Be calm, reassuring.
- 2 Call ambulance to get victim to hospital via your local Rescue Squad, police or whatever other method available. Speed is vital. Once the ambulance is on the way, notify family physician, if known.
- 3 If ambulance will arrive in a few minutes, wait, comforting victim. Otherwise, help victim to car, trying to keep vic-
- 4 Drive cautiously to hospital. Keep close watch on victim (or have passenger do so). If victim loses consciousness, stop car, pull victim to hard surface outside, perform CPR. Call for help. Keep up CPR until resuscitator or ambulance arrives.
- 5 If patient retains consciousness to hospital, make sure he is carried, not walked, to emergency room.

Sudan Sets Monday Meeting For Bicentennial Planning

Sudan is making plans to become a Bicentennial City. Interested civic minded Sudan citizens will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Feb. 16, in the Community Center to get organized.

Pete Phillips is chairman of the event. All interested persons and organizations are asked to be present.

One unifying theme, "Reaffirmation of Our Blueprint of Government—Declaration of Independence, The Constitution, Bill of Rights" will be the basis of all Bicentennial events and must include topics on "Heritage '76", "Festival U.S.A.", and "Horizons '76."

Heritage '76 includes restoration projects, historical re-enactment, and a study of the Constitution, Bill of Rights, and Declaration of Independence.

Festival U.S.A. includes programs in dance, music, arts, parades, and a renewed spirit of hospitality.

Horizons '76 includes ecology, improvements in housing, health, education, etc.

The City of Sudan will present plans in each of these categories to the American Revolution Bicentennial committee of Texas and Washington. The plans have to be finalized and in these committees by March 31 in order to qualify the city of Sudan.

The city is already making plans for a clean-up campaign in conjunction with Horizons '76.

Tommy Clayton Slowly Improving

The Bill Clayton family said this week that Tommy Clayton is slowly improving following a one vehicle wreck recently which critically injured the young son of Rep. and Mrs. Bill Clayton of Springlake.

Clayton has been taken out of the intensive care unit at Methodist Hospital and is now in room 232. He is being given physical therapy.

Guatemala Relief Fund Opened

Calvary Baptist Church opened a relief fund Tuesday for Guatemala residents who were killed, injured or lost all their possessions in the earthquake there.

Rev. Celestino Rangel, pastor of Calvary Baptist said funds in any amount may be deposited in the Guatemala Relief Fund at Security State Bank.

Easter Seal Drive Beginning March 1

The 1976 Easter Seal Appeal will officially open in Lamb County on Monday, March 1, according to Doyle L. Patton of Littlefield who serves as Easter Seal Representative for the county. Easter Seal Appeal letters will arrive at homes in the county beginning March 1.

The Easter Seal representative is the person to contact to request services from the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas. These services include physical and occupational therapy, speech and hearing programs and special information services to help solve the many problems faced by the families of handicapped children and adults.

Last year 10,768 handicapped people received help from the Texas Easter Seal Society and its statewide network of treatment centers and local volunteer programs. With the costs of providing expert professional care rising, more money than ever will be needed to assist more disabled Texans and remain ahead of inflation.

Funds help support professional treatment centers in Texas, where services are provided to those crippled children and adults who cannot provide for themselves and who do not qualify for help from any other source.

"The people of Texas have always responded generously to helping the handicapped, and I feel certain they will make it possible to increase Easter Seal services to crippled Texans throughout the coming year," Patton said.

FORD DEALERS SEEKING NEW MISS FORD COUNTRY

That attractive blonde that you have seen on television, in the newspaper, and on outdoor billboards could very well be a redhead in 1976... or a brunette... or perhaps another blonde. "The verdict will be out by mid April when the "Spirit of '76 Miss Ford Country is chosen", a contest official said.

The current Miss Ford Country, Sandy Lankford from Graham, Texas, will assist in the selection, visiting major markets to publicize the program.

"Being Miss Ford Country has been a lot of fun... I have learned a lot and meeting so many nice people throughout my travels has been just great", Sandy said... she continued "it's a lot of hard work but it's a great opportunity for a girl to get valuable experience, making television commercials, personal appearances and working with so many talented people."

"We are encouraging everyone to enter, and the contest itself will be a lot of fun. You can register at Carlisle-Oldham Ford in Littlefield, include a recent picture and then get ready for a call to come to the regional contests in early April and the final judging in Dallas on April 16th... I have had a great time and look forward to crowning the new Miss Ford Country"... Sandy concluded.

The contest closes on March 27th and will be followed by regional contests in Lubbock, Waco, Odessa, San Angelo, Longview, Sherman and Wichita Falls during the first week in April. Regional winners and runnersup will then travel to the Le Baron Hotel in Dallas, contest headquarters, for the final judging April 16th and 17th.

Cold Water Cleans, Saves Money, Too

Washing clothes in cold water saves energy—and gets clothes clean, Mrs. Dorothy Powell, says.

This doesn't mean water that's totally cold, though, but water that is less than hot.

'Cold water taken directly from the underground pipes can range from near freezing point to over 100 degrees F. And over this wide range of temperatures, there are significant differences in water's ability to dissolve detergent and clean clothes.

The 'warm wash' setting on the automatic washing machine will clean clothes efficiently and save energy also. Usually the same proportions and types of laundry additives can be used, the agent said.

She also noted that lower rinse water temperatures will contribute to energy savings and rinse as effectively as hot water.

Aside from energy savings, warm wash and cold rinse temperatures will help reduce loss of color and will result in less wrinkling of permanent press fabrics. The balance between warm wash and cold rinse should obtain the best possible balance of cleaning ability and energy savings, Mrs. Powell pointed out.

If there are infants or small children in the family, insure proper sanitation, by adding chlorine bleach or other disinfectant to the wash and dry their clothes in an automatic dryer.

District Sewing Contest

BULA— At a recent meeting of the Women's Cotton Promotion Association advisory board the time of the year for the "Sew It With Cotton" contest and style show for both County and district has been changed from the fall of the year to spring. This change was a request from several of the home-making teachers in the district, saying it would be more convenient for the home-making girls to enter in the spring. Next year there will be both County and district.

The district "Sew It With Cotton" contest will be held on May 1, 1976 at the Atkins Junior High School, 5401 Ave.

U. Lubbock, with the judging at 10 a.m. and Style show 3 p.m.

There will be 1st, 2nd, and 3rd prizes in each of the 11 categories with $100, $50, and $25 prizes.

As in the past the contest is NOT limited to Cotton Club or Cotton Promotion Association members. Professional seamstresses can not enter. Women who sew for the public ARE NOT considered professionals and may enter garments for themselves or make garments for others. The garment or garments for the contest will be entered directly into the district.
