Warsaw Yielded To Germans Only After Britain Looks It Became A City Of Ruin And Tragedy Propose Peace

BUDAPEST, Sept. 28 (P)-Except for strange, sput-tered signals, the wavelength of the Warsaw radio was silent today.

silent today. Apparently the station's epic tale was told, ended on the same defiant note it struck during the 20 days it told the outside world of German slege. The last message, broadcast at 3 p. m. (8 a. m. C.S.T.) yesterday, was a new challenge to the nami besiegers: "We will never give in while one of us is alive." But last night the Polish telegraph agency carried a dispatch, dated Warnaw, which indicated defense of the Polish capital had been abandoned. German agnouncements sold the city had capitulated

German announcements said the city had capitulated onditionally and would surrender formally tomorrow

From the picture painted by the radio announcers and by a Polish army filer who escaped through a barrage of nan shells, Warsaw gave up only after it had become a city of ruin and tragedy. The filer, Lieut. Col. Mateus Inycki, who flew out of
