Wednesday Last Day To Ready For Primary

March 31 is the last day to register to vote in the May 4 primary.

Persons who have moved from another county into this county or into this state from another state may register and be eligible to vote in the May 4 election if they register 30 days prior to the primary.

Registered voters moving from one precinct into another precinct in the same county should go to the tax assessor-collector's office at least five days prior to the election and have their precinct numbers changed.

Permanent disability certificates for absentee voting can be obtained by registered voters who are sick or permanently disabled. These certificates should be filed with the tax assessor 30 days prior to the election for which a voter is applying for a ballot.

After obtaining a blank certificate and having a licensed physician or other accredited practitioner certify to the voter's sickness or physical disability, these certificates are filed and does away with having to get a new certificate to vote absentee in each election.

For further information on voters registration, change of residency and permanent disability certificates, contact the tax office.

Third Lawyer Donates Funds For Tennis Court Memorial

Lubbock attorney Johnny Splawn sent the Littlefield school system a check for $1,000 this week, making $3,000 donated by the three lawyers representing the families involved in the train-bus accident case heard here in December.

The three lawyers donated $1,000 each to the school for a memorial to the seven students killed in the accident.

Originally the lawyers pledged their donation for construction of a drop gate at the crossing where the accident occurred. The state has allocated money for this construction which will be handled by the State Highway Department.

Amarillo attorney Robert Templeton suggested the memorial donations. After the money for safety devices was allocated by the state, a suggestion was made to the lawyers to donate to a living memorial fund in the form of an outdoor basketball and tennis court.

Templeton was the first of the three lawyers to send a check for $1,000 to superintendent Paul I. Jones. Lubbock attorney John J. C. O'Shea sent a check to the school earlier this week. The school received Splawn's check Thursday morning.

New accounts in the name of Littlefield School Tennis Court Memorial have been opened at both Littlefield banks. The $3,000 is a substantial amount toward the building of a court, but additional money will be needed.

The Littlefield school board will decide on the location, size and type of construction.

Choir Parents Slate Bake Sale

REMEMBER WHEN there was a gas war in Littlefield? The 18 and 23-cent gas days here weren't really so long ago either. This picture was taken in February 1972. Gas signs in the 50-cent-per-gallon bracket abound all around these days. The updated price was taken this week to show the now and then. (Staff Photo)

Fuel Suppliers Permitted To Increase Petroleum

Under previous rules, adjustment applications submitted by wholesale purchasers with unusual growth were considered individually, and those applications demonstrating growth of over 20 percent had to be validated by the FEO before action could be taken.

Simon noted that suppliers who elect to automatically adjust base period volumes for unusual growth must certify these adjustments to the FEO within five days of the time increased deliveries have started. In addition, deliveries based on these adjustments cannot begin until the supplier has made the adjustment for each eligible wholesale purchaser, he said.

If the supplier does not elect to automatically adjust the base period volume of a wholesaler with unusual growth, the wholesaler may still formally apply to the supplier for an adjustment of his base period volume as provided by FEO regulations.

If there is a dispute as to whether the wholesaler purchaser has experienced unusual growth, the supplier may then seek validation of the request from FEO.

Fuel suppliers are now permitted to automatically increase petroleum product to wholesale purchasers who have experienced "unusual growth" without requiring an application by the wholesaler purchaser or validation by the Federal Energy Office, according to William E. Simon, FEO Administrator.

Under a rule change, which became effective with its publication in the March 18 Federal Register, suppliers may elect to make such an adjustment for the base period volumes for all the suppliers eligible wholesale purchasers.

"This change will eliminate some of the delay wholesale dealers have had in obtaining enough product to meet increasing needs," Simon said.

The fuels for which the adjustment is allowed are motor gasoline, propane, butane, middle distillates, aviation gasoline (except for civil aviation) and residual oil (except for allocations to utilities).

"Unusual growth" is defined by the FEO as a growth of over 10 percent for wholesale purchasers of gasoline, and over five percent for wholesale purchasers of other products, during 1973.

EDITORIAL

Texas Industry Week

ONE WEEK each year, Texas communities take it upon themselves to honor their industries. That week in 1974 is April 1-6, by proclamation of Governor Dolph Briscoe.

We wholeheartedly support such a week. Texas Industrial Commission figures show industry is the backbone of the Texas' economic base and is gaining more and more in stature as the key to employment of Texas' labor force.

WHAT IS ESPECIALLY rewarding about Texas Industry Week is that it gives Texans an opportunity to honor existing industry. This is good.

Too many times around the nation, officials turn out for ceremonies turning the first spade of dirt of a new plant, or join in the festivities at a ribbon-cutting when the doors of the new industry open, and then forget that industry ever existed.

IT IS EXISTING industry that provides the vast bulk of new jobs with expansions, and it is existing industry that carries the load with jobs, taxes and growth in our community.

It is good to cheer for new industry when we are fortunate to get it. But, it is great that in Texas, we remember then with a special week after they've been around awhile.

National Library Week

"YOUR LIBRARY is an Awareness of Information" is the theme for National Library Week in Texas to be observed April 21-27.

The selection of and acceptance by Mrs. Dolph Briscoe to be chairwoman of the NLW Committee emphasizes the importance of the library as a service institution to the citizens of the state, and the need for active support from everyone.

It was Thomas Jefferson who said, "If a nation expects to be ignorant and free, in a state of civilization, it expects what never was and never will be."

development as compared to this information explosion.

Texas is experiencing more difficulties in this regard than most other states. It ranks 41st in the nation in per capita public library support, with twenty-one counties having a combined total population of 97,969, and another 610,210 Texans in other counties, having no public library service of any kind.

JUST THREE Texas public libraries are able to expend the $7.66 per capita as recommended by the American Library Association for adequate library service; the average is only $2.37 for total support of the population served in Texas.

Visit your local library and find out just what services it can afford to offer; think what it could do with adequate resources and your continued support.

Why not do it during National Library Week?

Personal State Income Tax Defeated By 75 To 71 Vote

In several hotly contested votes last week, the delegates to the Texas Constitutional Convention refused to place a constitutional prohibition on personal state income taxes, according to Rep. Bill Clayton (D-Springlake).

"The issue, which arose several times during the extensive debate on the proposed Finance Article to the new constitution, was defeated the final time on Wednesday by a vote of 75 to 71," he stated.

Rep. Bill Clayton, who voted in favor of the measure to allow the people of Texas to decide whether to ban personal income taxes, reported that he was "extremely disappointed" by the delegates' refusal to prohibit future personal income tax bills.

Clayton, a fiscal conservative who has been a state representative since 1963, stated that the refusal of the delegates to include the personal income tax ban in the proposed constitution probably hurt the new document's chances for adoption by the people of Texas when it is ultimately submitted for ratification.

The convention began debate on the article on Local Government after finishing the Finance Article. Debate on the Local Government Article is expected to last for several days, and several provisions are expected to be strongly contested.

Rep. Clayton reported that the convention is expected to recess the first week in April to allow delegates to return to their homes until the May primary elections. The convention will then reconvene for sixty days following the elections.

A Woman's View
By PEARL BRANDON

OF ALL the people I know very well, there are few that do not have severe problems to face.

It seems as if it isn't one thing, it is another, until you wonder if there is any real happiness in the world.

THE FOURTH PSALM is about the best Scripture I know to read when things get rough and you feel as if everything is going against you.

It is from David, and in it he says, "But know that the Lord has set apart him that is godly for Himself: the Lord will hear when I call upon Him. Stand in awe and, sin not: commune with your own heart upon your bed, and he still... "I will lay me down in peace, and sleep: for thou Lord only makest me dwell in safety."

IT IS SO hard for us to accept the fact that the Lord really cares about us, individually.

We are acquainted with ourselves so well and know our weaknesses, it is hard to realize He really loves us.

Most of the time we stumble along trying to handle our own affairs without stopping to pray for help, until we finally see we can't go on alone.

WHEN WE DO turn to the Lord at last and let Him lead, things have away of falling into place and straightening out.

Why do we wait so long to pray? The answers are there so close when we turn to Him.

OF COURSE most of this I am saying to myself.

Others may be strong enough to stand alone, but I am not. I have to have God in my life and be able to lean on Him.

He is my strength, a very present help in time of trouble.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE
Expect Problems

IT SEEMS THAT MOST OF US, perhaps all of us, long for a state of being in which everything works out the way want it to be; without disappointments; with no failures; with no setbacks; with no difficulties; a problem-free situation.

It is doubtful that this is what we really want, and it is even more doubtful that we would be happy with it. As desirable as this seems, we would soon be weary of it, probably bored. Yes, we could do without some of our problems; but, because of our nature and our needs, we must have problems to solve.

PROBLEM-SOLVING IS an essential aspect of the human experience. Of course, we would like to choose our problems; but his cannot be done, except in a limited sense.

HERE IS THE CHALLENGE which is necessary to an on-going and productive manner of living. We know enough about ourselves to recognize this need for challenge. If accepted, in a common sense way, it helps maintain the vitality, alertness and high level of interest so much a part of dynamic living.

If not accepted, with common sense, we are overwhelmed and defeated by worry and anxiety. If we pretend that there are no problems, and refuse to face them: life becomes weak, dull and indifferent.

WE MAY NOT BE ABLE to solve all problems, and should not have such expectations. We will, however, find many solutions and find ways to cope with the insoluble problems.

At all times, it is necessary that we never maximize problems; should they be under-rated, careful to see them as we handle them accordingly.

WE MUST "EXPECT PROBLEMS". This is part of the solution, are partially prepared, not expecting them.

We don't go out looking for them; we do not deliberately create them; we know that there will be many people never seen in this reality, and are shocked when the problems arise.

This is a handicap in life, solutions. In this uniformed mind, additional and problems usually develop, whole situation is complicated.

MANY OF OUR PROBLEMS appear in the form of setbacks, troubles, but these are to be too. In this, we have very choice to make. Regardless are, we can let them become blocks in our way, or we can stepping-stones.

"MEN'S HAPPINESS" mainly from moderate troubles afford the mind a healthful and are followed by a release produces a cheerful flow of Wigglesworth.

MUCH OF OUR STRENGTH growing strength; is developing knowing what to expect; and by our common sense efforts solutions to our problems.

RATS! SEEMS THERE'S always some kind of fly in the ointment. Comes this warm, short-sleeve weather and, now we've gotta be concerned with scrubbing our elbows!

WAS REALLY GLAD to hear that the tennis court movement isn't completely dead. Maybe something will come of it yet.

So, come on, let's make our donations so's this thing can get going, HUH?

SYNONYM FOR TODAY: As untiring as the forces of evil.

YEP, WE'RE LIVIN' pretty fast, these days. Buy something on credit around the tenth of the month, and you may get a bill from the company, around the twentieth!

WHAT DO YOU look for in your religion? Excitement, entertainment or thrills?? It is true that all these may be there, in limited quantity, but the most abiding must be the sense of well-being, security and confidence enjoyed by the devout Christian. C'mon, get out and attend church today, and you feel better!

FIRST, WE ARE OUT if it ain't. Next, we're out of here whether we are, or we ain't. Of course we have committees investigatin' these things. Committees investigatin' committees. When it's all over we'll know for sure that we're or we weren't.

THERE'S A KIND of beginning to be quite nature parts. It could be contagious "Fishin' Fever".

A friend has been tryin' to start promotin' a "State Week" campaign. I don't like the idea. Only trouble I see is, be a bunch of people that someone to bring them in!

HOWEVER, I'M SURE if of the nation's problems, citizenry would just take a loll on some creek bank near pole with an un-batted ball.

Turn Row COMMENTS

FOOD STAMPS are now big business for the federal government—and for federal taxpayers.

What started as an $860,000 federal welfare program 12 years ago has now reached a $2.5 billion level with stamps going to over 12 million Americans—up from 50,000 people in 1961 when President Kennedy launched the plan as an experiment.

UNDER THE Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973, the food stamp plan is to be greatly enlarged. Every county in the United States must participate in the plan. It is said that the President and Congress are determined to end hunger in America which is, in deed, a laudable objective—an objective heavily frosted over with the irony of government-bred inflation.

The latter is likely to increase the rolls of the poverty stricken faster than the bureaucracy can print and dole out food stamps.

THE DANGER in the food stamp program, as in every other federal welfare scheme, is that government officials tend to raise public expectations beyond any hope of fulfillment.

Until government spending under control, every one adds to the fraud and debt increases our subversion to red tape.

EVEN A STAMP SHORTLY WE HAVE SHORTLY everything from gasoline cars to bathroom tissue.

For awhile, it even been headed for a shortage stamps. The Cost of Living that postal increases would be postponed from Jan. 5, 1974 to seems the post office has enough 8 cent first-class air mail stamps to last that increase supply. Of prices had little to do with to increase the supply of stamps. We may only have a more direct effect on the efficiency and quality of vice.

DOES THE MOON behavior? Fiction writers so for years. Now they're by scientists engaged in a known as meteorological documents ways in which affects human activity. For April Reader's Digest University of Miami analyzed almost 2,000 mitted in Dade County, Fla. to 1970 and found that high homicide rate coincided with the full and new moon.

Applications Accepted For SPC Loans, Grants

Current and prospective students of South Plains College who are planning to attend SPC next fall under some form of financial aid program are reminded that May 1 is the deadline for applying for work study, loans and grants.

Glenn Pounds, director of financial aids, also has announced that applications for the new Basic Education Opportunity Grants (BEOG) will be available at his office during the first week in April. The BEOG program is separate from Work Study, Loan and all other grant programs currently being used at SPC. Under the BEOG, students can receive from $50 to $800 a year depending on financial need. And because it is a grant, it does not have to be repaid. Students who qualify for BEOG must never have been to a post-secondary high school prior to April 1, 1973, must be a full time student and must be a U. S. citizen. This means that the grants are available to students who will be freshmen and sophomores during the academic year 1974-75.

For the other financial aid programs—such as Work Study, National Direct Student Loans, Hinson-Hazelwood Loans, Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants, and Texas State Scholarships—students must fill out an SPC application form and an ACT Financial Statement. Three to six weeks after the ACT statement is turned in, Pounds and his staff will be able to tell the student how much financial aid he or she qualifies for.

Extension Agent Offers Tips On Home Gardening

Feeding garden vegetables is important, and the quickest and most efficient way is by adding a commercial fertilizer to the soil," according to Buddy C. Logsdon county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"But before using fertilizer, be sure you are familiar with the material you plan to apply," he cautions.

Commercial fertilizers are labeled to show the percentage of nitrogen, phosphorous, and potassium in that order. Common fertilizer labels are 5-10-10, 12-12-12 and 12-24-12.

"It's always best to have your soil tested before applying fertilizer," advises Logsdon. "This takes the guess work out of using fertilizer. But, in lieu of a soil test recommendation, apply two to three pounds of a complete fertilizer such as 12-12-12 per 100 square feet of area. Then mix it thoroughly with the soil before planting."

Once plants are dressed with fertilizer, the rate of one or two pounds per 100 linear feet of row, six to eight inches from the plant. Always work fertilizer into the soil with water.

Use care with all fertilizers. Logsdon, as the fertilizer is more harmful than not using any at all.

Spring Tornado Season Approaching, Be Prepared

Tornado season is approaching in Texas, and certain precautions can save lives, warns Wayne Keese, agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Tornadoes are violent wind storms that usually grow out of threatening thunder clouds. In Texas, the peak tornado season is during the months of April, May and June, but tornadoes may occur anytime.

"Although tornadoes may occur at any hour of the day or night, they are most frequent during the warmer hours of the day," points out Keese.

When the possibility of a tornado exists, the National Severe Storms Forecast Center in Kansas City, Missouri, sends out a tornado watch to the threatened area. The message is teletyped to radio, television and National Weather Service stations in the area.

"A 'tornado watch' alerts people to the possibility of a tornado," explains the Texas A&M University System specialist. "When a watch is announced for your area, there is no need to interrupt normal activities except to listen for weather advisories and watch for threatening weather. Be sure a battery-powered radio is available in case power is lost."

A tornado watch identifies a specific time and area, but everyone in the general area should be alert for threatening conditions.

"When a tornado has actually been sighted or detected by radar, a 'tornado warning' is issued. The warning tells where and when a tornado was sighted, the direction it is likely to move, and the time it is expected to move through the warned area," explains Keese.

If a tornado warning is issued for your area, move immediately to a cellar, basement or civil defense shelter. If you are in a home or other building with no basement, go to the lowest level in the center of the house or other building. Take shelter in a small room or under heavy furniture.

Keese also lists other precautions.

At home, open a window to allow for air pressure changes. The shelter.

Stay away from open areas and buildings with span roofs.

In open country, moving at a right angle to the tornado's path if time to escape. Do not ditch or ravine but stay in your car.

Get far enough away from a trailer or mobile to avoid injury if it is overturned.

When you observe a tornado, report it promptly to the nearest law officer or Weather Service. Otherwise, do not make so that lines can be used for emergency information.

After a tornado, wear shoes and go to cleanup operations. Check for hazards like broken electrical wires, broken gas pipes, etc. If entering a storm-damaged building, watch for falling debris and walls that may be falling.

Never light a match, or carry open flame, building until you are sure there are no gas leaks.

Do not sight-see in areas. Your presence may hamper rescue and cleanup operations.

Governor Awards Grants

Governor Dolph Briscoe today awarded two criminal-justice action grants totaling $70,365 to Hale and Cochran Counties for improving county probation services.

The larger of the two grants, $54,636, goes to Hale County for continuation and expansion of the staff of the Hale County Probation Department.

Cochran County will receive a grant of $15,729 for second-year funding of a county adult and juvenile probation project.

Money for the projects will come from the Governor's Office, Criminal Justice Division. CJD administers the state's block grant from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration under the Crime Control Act of 1973.

Transferring Children Applications Due May 1

who wish to transfer from their home district to another area must file a necessary application to the receiving district by May 1, 1974, according to Leon R. Graham, education agency administrator.

The May 1 deadline for requests will enable school districts to file summary reports with the Texas Education Agency by May 15, Graham points out.

These reports will be reviewed by the Agency to make sure none of the transfer requests violate U.S. District Court Order 5281 issued by Judge Williams Wayne Justice in Tyler on April 2, 1971. Under this order, any transfer of students from one school district to another must not change the racial or ethnic balance in either the home of receiving district by more than one percent.

If the balance is altered by more than one percent, the transfers will be denied, Graham adds.

'Texas' Season To Begin June 19

June 19, a bugle will sound from the canyons, every seat with sound, and the story of the early in the Texas written by Paul will unroll each evening except from June 19 to August 24, 1974.

The dramatic conflict, by spirited dancing and pageantry, people, however, memories to be the sounds of a place of beauty, cradles the theatre the Palo Duro Canyon. It lies a few miles from Amarillo and Canyon, Texas. Among the curving slopes of the canyon, sound moves in strange and beautiful ways bringing every word whispered on the stage, carrying the vitality and beauty of the songs of the late 1880's which underline the action and stirring each listener, wrapping him in waves of beauty and force.

The sound flows from all sides, bounces from the cliffs, reverberates from the near and the distant walls.

Five airlines, three bus lines, six interstate highways bring travelers to Amarillo, and there is bus service from any point in Amarillo or Canyon, Texas to every performance, arriving in time for the Barbeque dinner on the theatre grounds for those who wish it.

"Texas" is one of Paul Green's great affirmations of faith in America, one of eight great regional dramas he has written which will be playing this summer from Ohio to Florida.

"Texas" has a cast of eighty singers, actors and dancers, and almost as many other members of the company to work back stage, to man the box office and to serve in the hospitality and concession areas.

"Texas" amphitheatre may be reached from Amarillo or Canyon, Texas over fine paved roads. It lies twenty-five miles from the first city, twelve from the second. For bus service to a performance ask your desk clerk or call the "Texas" office.

'Seven Last Words' Slated At Plainview

"The Seven Last Words of Christ," a sacred cantata by Theodore Dubois, will be staged by the First Baptist Church of Plainview April 5, 6, and 7 at 8:30 p.m. in the church auditorium.

There will be no admission charge, and the public is invited to attend.

The presentation, one of the most dramatic and unforgettable ever presented, was last given by the Plainview church in 1970, and is being redone at the request of the area people.

Featured soloists include not only local musicians, but several out-of-towners as well. Included are Sam Brown of the Tulia High School choral Department; Rick Hunt, minister of music at the Baptist in Floydada; Harold Lewallen of Lubbock, baritone soloist at Baptist in Lubbock.

Plainviewians who featured include Mrs. Lyle, voice teacher and Baptist soloist; Mrs. Murphree, teacher at High School and soloist; First Baptist, Mrs. McClendon of First Baptist; Walter Wright of College; and Gary, tenor soloist at First Baptist.

Music director for "Last Words" will be Wittner, minister of music at First Baptist, with Mrs. Ramsower serving as director.

Bids Accepted For Buildings

An estimated 171 barracks-type buildings are scheduled to be removed from the Texas State Technical Institute Campus at Amarillo within the next year.

The action to remove the former Air Force buildings was approved by the TSTI Board of Regents and the Advisory Board for the Amarillo Campus. Removal of the buildings will make an additional 500 acres available for industrial expansion, said Bill Mays, chairman of the TSTI Advisory Board.

Bids are presently being accepted on the buildings with the bid-opening set for 30. The bids will be dismantling and removing the structures according to A. Pillow, TSTI's General Manager. "Our Board of Regents has vetted many of the buildings campus except in very few cases," he said.

Removal of the 171 buildings will not in anyway affect operation of the state educational facilities. "We are retaining sufficient buildings and land to handle all educational needs," Pillow.

meeting at which were elected followed annual membership at which two spoke in glowing potential for High Plains in open-end mills and of the that many of those be located in the area.

Parker, director of Research Center at Texas Tech University, told the group that in his opinion "There has not been any development in the textile industry for almost 100 years that could compare with the potential of open-end spinning." Someone has estimated that 20 percent of all yarn produced in the world will come from open-end spinning frames by 1980, he said, adding "We have no facts on the future, of course, but it does appear that as far as High Plains cotton is concerned, this type of yarn manufacturing will be fantastic."

Paul Cook who is president of Feather Fabrics, Inc., a joint open-end spinning venture by local investors and Nijverdal-Ten Cate, the largest textile firm in the Netherlands, stated that the High Plains could well become a new center of textile activity for the U.S.

He pointed out that because of the open-end system's ability to efficiently utilize low micronaire cotton, and the huge supply of such cotton normally available on the Plains, that textile mills in this area will enjoy at least a 10 percent profit advantage over open-end mills located in the Southeastern states. FFI, he said, is installing a $3,500,000 open-end plant in Lubbock which, along with Southwest Textiles at Abenathy and the Daiwa plant to be built by the Japanese in Levelland, should clearly demonstrate this advantage.

Another highlight of the producer organization's annual gathering was an address by Nick Hahn, director of sales and marketing for Cotton Incorporated of New York and Raleigh, N.C. Hahn presented a detailed outline of the research and market development being carried on by CI to make cotton the "optimum fiber for the textile world of the future."

dependents. Perry pointed out that this deduction may include household expenses paid for the usual services of a housekeeper, maid, or cook. Additionally, he said, expenses performed outside the home for nursery school or day care for dependents under 15 may be included as part of the deduction if they are necessary to enable the taxpayer to work. However, he added, these expenses are limited to $200 a month for one dependent, $300 for two dependents and $400 for three or more. According to the law, such expenses cannot include educational costs for a child in the first or higher grades.

Perry also said that deductions for care of disabled dependents over 15 years of age must be reduced by the amount that the dependent's adjusted gross income and any nontaxable disability payments exceed $750. The expenses paid for the care of a disabled husband or wife, he said, must be reduced by nontaxable disability payments. Typically, these payments come from disability insurance policies and employee sick pay plans.

Perry cautioned Plainview area taxpayers that, to take advantage of the child and disabled care provisions, they must itemize all deductions on Form 1040. Form 2441 may be used to compute the deduction.

"And, as with all such items on the tax return, it's necessary to keep good records to prove expenses," he said.

Minimum Tillage Saves

This is the year minimum tillage can save you money and time. Many farmers are farming more acres now. Fuel may be hard to get and expensive.

Minimum tillage is a system of farming in which cultural operations are limited to only those essential to crop production. Weeds are controlled with carefully selected and applied herbicides.

In the High Plains, farmers are listing standing feed stubble. Cotton is then planted without additional plowing. Usually double-row feed is planted in listed cotton stalks. Wheat and rye are drilled over standing cotton stalks with no seedbed preparation at all.

Irrigation farmers are using only two cultivations in the summer. Usually, these are to run out water furrows more than for weed control.

Minimum tillage has many benefits. Some are: reduced labor; reduced soil compaction; the mulch cover cuts erosion and protects new crop; less soil moisture lost; investments in equipment are less; double cropping is easier.

Minimum tillage farming takes careful chemical application. Emergency tillage for wind erosion control on cotton fields may be needed after harvest.

Some farmers have marginal cultural operations that are absolutely not essential. Some of these can be eliminated and money saved.

For more information, contact the local Soil Conservation Service office at the Courthouse in Littlefield.

Cotton Disease Control Offered

Cotton farmers can reduce disease losses and increase profits by purchasing high quality seed and planting early, notes Buddy C. Logsdon, Lamb county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Five of the nine major cotton diseases in Texas are seed-borne. These include Anthracnose, Ascochyta or wet weather blight, bacterial blight, boll rot and the seedling diseases.

The fungi and bacteria causing these diseases can be eliminated or reduced by using high-quality, acid-delinted seed that has also been treated with a fungicide, points out Logsdon. The acid delinting process eliminates or reduces disease-causing organisms on the seed surface while the fungicide provides protection for the seed and seedling in the soil.

Since cotton root rot organisms require soil temperatures above 80 degrees to grow, early planting can reduce root rot losses and maximize production, continues the agent.

The earliness complex—maturity within 120 days of planting—can be accomplished by using high quality seed that will insure a good stand with the first planting. Early maturing cotton varieties are also available.

According to Logsdon, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has developed several strains with an earliness factor that allows earlier planting to achieve a good stand under adverse conditions. These strains, TAMCOT SP-21, 23 and 37, will achieve their maximum

4-H Contest April 23

Thousands of 4-H Club members across Texas are busy once again preparing for county and district contests with the hope of winning a trip to 4-H Roundup at Texas A&M University June 4-5.

The Lamb County contests will be held April 23 at County Courthouse to determine which 4-Hers will enter district competition May 4 at Lubbock.

In Lamb County, about 33 boys and girls have been studying and practicing for judging contests and team and individual demonstrations, reports Assistant County Extension Agent Jim Kuykendall.

potential if planted seven to ten days earlier than standard varieties. They are both storm resistant and multiple disease resistant.

Additional information on these new cottons can be obtained from the county Extension office. Some have been grown in demonstration tests in the county, notes Logsdon.

This information is supplied by Dr. Walter Walla, Extension Plant Pathologist.

First and second place winners in the senior division (age 14 and over) in the district contests will qualify for the state competition.

According to Kuykendall, the annual contests provide learning experiences for 4-H members and furnish opportunities for them to gain knowledge in their field of participation. Also, state winners in several of the educational events will qualify for national competition with expense-paid trips and scholarships as their rewards.

The internationally known youth organization of 4-H is designed as a practical and informal program for all youth, rural and urban alike.
