ELECTRICAR CORPORATION

Metal Finishing Slated

The ElectricCar Corporation has moved its entire operations to Littlefield. But rather than manufacturing electric vehicles in the immediate future, the firm will do job shop iron phosphating and painting for other manufacturing firms.

Now in addition to being home base for the world's first practical electric car, Littlefield will have the only job shop phosphating plant in a five-state area.

Although the eventual large-scale manufacture of electrically charged, battery operated vehicles remains ElectricCar Corporation's primary concern and goal, these will remain in the testing field for the time being, and the firm will concentrate on the phosphating as a means of bringing in revenue.

Iron phosphating is a process used on metal to prepare it for painting. Tiny metal portions used in assembling items, toaster legs, and filing cabinets are just a sample of the products that will go through the process. The company will do the work on a bid basis for other manufacturing firms.

Glenn Cowsar, vice president of the ElectricCar Corporation, is at the helm of the new operation which is housed in the former Bud Lowe warehouse building at 1218 S. Park. Cowsar plans to move his wife and family here from Amarillo at the end of this school term.

Cowsar said the firm will try its best to begin the phosphating and metal finishing by April. Meantime extensive remodeling is going on at the building in preparation for the new business.

As soon as the building is completed, the firm will hold open house and invite the public to see a display of all the electric vehicles and inspect the phosphating process.

Until then, the plant is closed to the general public.

When the plant opens, the ElectricCar Corporation's battery powered, electric vehicles will be driven over Littlefield as shop vehicles by the business. The jeep-type roustabout, the van and the plastic Panda resort vehicle will be used to pick up parts and for all business trips.

The firm will continue prototype testing of the vehicles in addition to exploring other fields. "The phosphating will supersede the manufacture of the electric van," Cowsar said, "but it won't take the place of the eventual manufacture of electric vehicles here."

The decision to turn to preparing metal products for painting, and finishing them with baked-on enamel is the outgrowth of ElectricCar experiments. Last year the firm learned that it would be necessary to send some of its parts to the eastern part of the U.S. because there were no firms within a five-state area who did iron phosphating on a job basis. Further checking showed the need for such a plant in this area.

"There are several places that do phosphating," Cowsar said, "but this is in connection with their own manufacturing and they won't do the process for others."

The metal preparation and painting done here will meet federal standards so

Olton Coach Is New Athletic Director

JERRY BLAKELY
...New Head Coach

Jerry J. Blakely, 32-year-old athletic director and head coach at Olton the past two years, Wednesday night was named to a similar position here by the Littlefield school board.

The action came after five hours of interviews with five coaches who were called in by the board from a list of more than 30 applicants.

Blakely signed a two-year contract which is effective April 19, 1971, when Littlefield begins the last six weeks of school.

He succeeds Deverelle Lewis, who suffered a heart attack during the second week of the 1970 season, his second here. The school board has assigned him to a post as junior high assistant principal and teacher next year.

"I'M CERTAINLY looking forward to coming to Littlefield," the new coach said in a telephone conversation from Olton Thursday. "I believe you have an opportunity for a great athletic program."

During the past two years, Blakely's first opportunity as a head coach, Olton won 14 games, lost 5 and tied one. The Mustangs were second District 3-AA champion Floydada and Dimmitt, the last loss in the final game of the season.

The Mustangs also carded a 14-7 win over Littlefield here last fall in a mid-season district 3-AA contest.

Olton's record in 1969 was 6-3-1, to go with the 8-2-0 mark last fall.

TRUSTEES authorized Blakely to fill the six-man coaching staff for Littlefield with assistants of his choice.

Announcement of his staff probably will be made in the next few weeks.

Although he made no predictions about future success, Blakely said, "Littlefield has a reputation as a great football town, and I'm looking forward to coming."

Blakely told the board, however, that as athletic director he would be interested in the overall athletic program. "During football season, football should be No. 1, and the same should be true for basketball and track during their respective seasons."

A FORMER South Plains Coach of the Year (1969), Blakely began his career at Marshall Junior High in Clovis, N. M., in 1962 after graduation from Eastern New Mexico University at Portales.

At ENMU, where he received an M.A. degree in 1962, Blakely earned three varsity letters, the "hardest running back" award two years, and the "most valuable player" honor one year.

In 1963, he was the head junior varsity coach at Clovis High, and the following

City Election Set April 6

City councilmen called for an election for city officers to be held Tuesday, April 6, and appointed Tom Hilburn as presiding judge for the election during their regular meeting Thursday night.

Councilmen passed a resolution establishing the procedure for the election and the appointment of the presiding judge and his assistants.

Terms of Mayor J. E. Chisholm and two councilmen—Paul Carmickle and James Shotwell—will expire, and none of the incumbents had filed with the city secretary at presstime.

Tom Hilburn was present to discuss the city's insurance situation, and informed city councilmen that the city would receive $3,490 in refunds on workman's compensation insurance. The refund comes as a result of the experience records of the city employees, who frequently are involved in a city safety program.

Councilmen were also informed of a $337 increase per year on the general liability insurance on city property.

Councilmen tabled a request of M&M Air Service to lease space at the airport for

Carpet Recovered

Mason reported to city police that a piece of carpet, 11' x 17', had been taken from behind Alvin Webb's the ground, had gone inside for a few minutes, and when they returned, the carpet was gone.

The carpet was later found in the street in front of Smitty's Barber Shop.

GEORGE B. THOMPSON was sworn in as Littlefield Postmaster in a ceremony conducted Friday afternoon in his office in the Littlefield Post Office. Thompson was installed by Mel Benesch, postal service officer of the Dallas region. Thompson has been officer in charge of the Littlefield Post Office since April, 1969. He entered the postal service in January, 1950. The new postmaster's wife, Georgia Faye, and their 18-year-old daughter Sue look at the commission from the U. S. postmaster general naming Thompson to the postmaster's post.

Three Injured In City Wreck

Three Littlefield residents were injured in a two-car collision at the intersection of East 17th Street and Crescent Drive Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Amelia Ward Turner was hospitalized with cuts and abrasions and Leann Parson was hospitalized with a broken collar bone. Elson Scott McNeese suffered minor abrasions.

Mrs. Turner was driving a 1970 Chrysler westward on East 17th Street, when a 1966 Ford, driven by McNeese, was traveling southward on Crescent Drive, stopped at the stop sign and proceeded across Crescent Drive into the path of the Turner vehicle.

The front end of the Turner vehicle came to rest against a telephone pole at the intersection.

Auto Tags Now On Sale

Now is the time for all good motor vehicle owners in Texas to come to their own aid by registering their vehicles early, says Herbert Dunn, Lamb County Tax Assessor-Collector.

The registration renewal season opened Feb. 1 at the county tax office and substations when tax collectors were obliged by law to begin selling license plates.

The "season" runs through February and March, although the wise motorist will save time and trouble by registering his vehicle early and by using the handy three-part form he received in the mail from the Texas Highway Department.

All one needs to do is to take the three-part renewal application — being careful not to separate the three parts of the form — to the county tax office or sub-station.

Using the new form, it takes the clerk only a fraction of the time that it used to be to process the form, collect the fee and send the motorist on the way with his 1971 license plates.

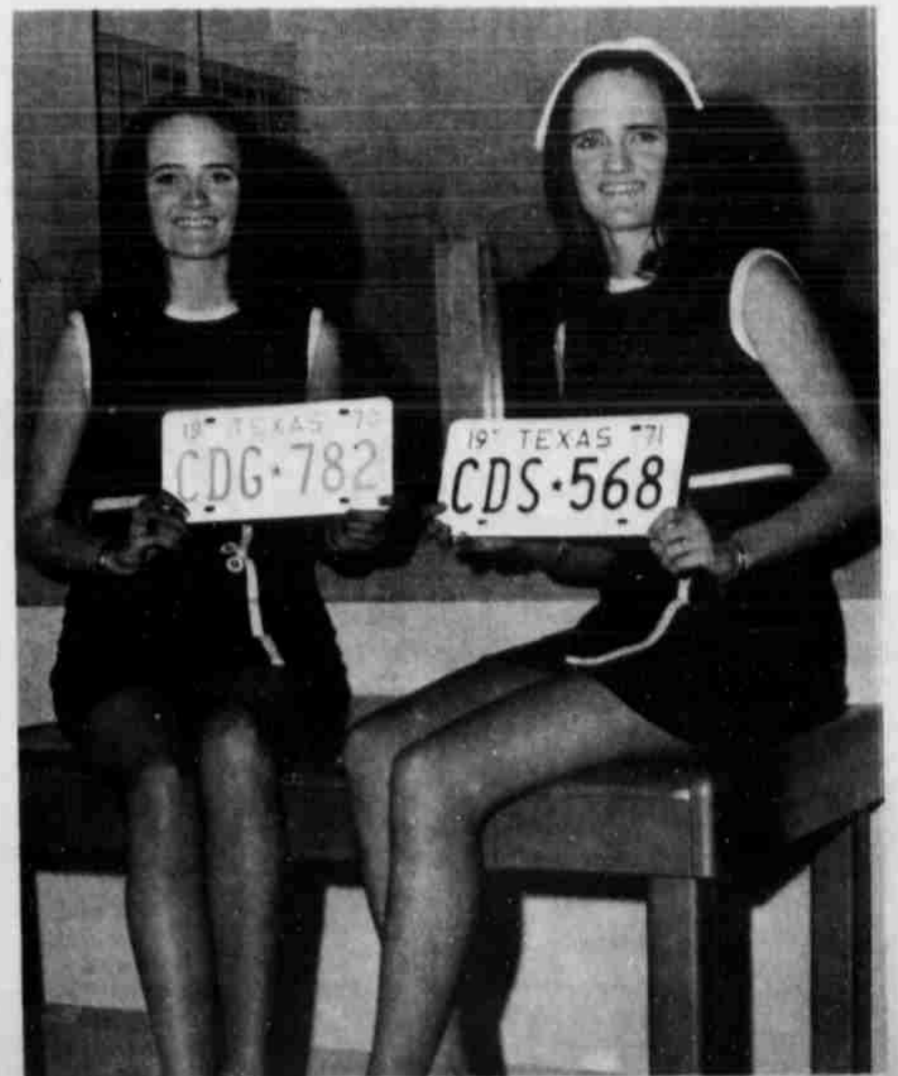

For that reason, waiting time is trimmed drastically.

Dunn stated, "Human nature being what it is, however, many will wait until the last minute to secure their license plates. Texas motorists can count on longer lines toward the end of the season — even though they may be moving faster."

There is an even less painful method. If the vehicle owner desires, he may order his license plates by mail.

All that is required is to send the renewal application, the fee plus $1 for each vehicle to be registered to the local county tax office prior to March 1. This allows 30 days for delivery of the plates in time for the April 1 deadline.

Records of the Highway Department's Motor Vehicle Division reveal that 65 percent of the registrations handled last year were speeded by using the computerized renewal forms.

THE DIFFERENCE between 1970 license plates and the new license plates which went on sale Feb. 1 is graphically shown here by look-alike identical twins. Margaret Fain holds a blue on white 1970 tag and Kelly displays a black on white 1971 tag. Margaret and Kelly are 18-year-old Littlefield High School seniors and the daughters of Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Fain.

A BALLOON, cardboard tube, egg carton, tape, newspaper, tissue or paper bags, a bowl and instant laundry starch. Gather all your working materials on a protected work surface.

Begin by making a frame. This will be covered with paper dipped in a starch papier mache mixture, that hardens when dry for a rigid shape.

Blow up the balloon for body shape. Cut the cardboard tube into 4 equal leg size shapes. Tape legs to balloon. Tape one section from an egg carton to one end of the balloon for a snout. Tear paper into strips.

Then prepare papier mache mixture. Mix equal parts of Niagara instant laundry starch and cool water (about 1 cup of each) in a bowl. Let stand a few minutes to thicken.

Dip paper strips into mixture, remove excess mixture and wrap around frame. All surfaces should be covered with one layer before starting next layer.

To easily tell if layers are complete before starting the next, alternate with different type strips for each layer. Coat completely with 4 to 5 layers and let dry thoroughly.

Note: if you want to paint the bank when dry, end with a layer of white paper or make last layer of colored tissue or strips of a printed paper.

When completely dry, cut slot for coins in top. Balloon will break when pierced, slowly pulling away from the sides, leaving a rigid shape.

To finish the piggy bank, glue on a length of coiled twine for a tail and pieces of cut felt for ears.

Draw on eyes and other features with a felt tip pen or paint. Now all it needs is a few coins to make the bank complete.

Although the pig seems to be the traditional shape for banks, tradition need not be followed. This starch mixture could be used for an elephant bank or maybe even a striped tiger bank. When you or your children make it, create just what you want.

"Roses are red, are blue." These are from one of the oldest most cherished rhymes our time have known. More people than ever before, these days, are using roses.

Red roses are popular with everyone, but in years other colors have been coming to the top of the wanted list. White roses, delicate and fragrant, are popular. The combination of red and yellow to form the "citra" whatever name you have for it, has become popular rose with many people.

Exchange Student Host Of Forum

Forum met on Thursday Jan. 28, in the home of Bert Richey.

During the club's armchairs to other countries Mrs. John Driskill Hans Combie, from Netherlands, who in-herlands, who in-herlands, who in-

When queried about women's fashions, Hans reported that "miniskirts are a thing of the past in Holland, as they are also in much of Europe. He stated that girls and women in the Netherlands are wearing mid-length and some maxi-length costumes, and that not only do the women look more graceful but the added length on skirts is a great boon in the cold, icy weather."

Taxes are high in Holland, as they are in the United States, but the Dutch equivalent of a dollar will buy three times as much as a dollar will in this country.

Cars are driven on the right side of the street in Holland, but, unlike the United States, the Netherlands has no automobile speed limits, except

Former LHS Grad Put On Water Board

BULA NEWS

Billy Wayne Sisson, formerly of Littlefield and now of Hereford, was elected to a freshman term on the board of directors of the High Plains Undergrround Water Conservation District on Jan. 12.

Sisson received 100 per cent of the 56 votes cast for director in his precinct which includes Armstrong, Deaf Smith, Potter, and Randall Counties. He was sworn in for a two year term.

Sisson attended Littlefield schools and made a name for himself in football in his LHS years. After graduation from Littlefield High, he attended McMurry College where he was on the varsity football team for four years.

daughters, Shalyn, 15, and Shavon, seven-years-old.

Over the past several years Sisson has acquired six antique cars, with the earliest a 1911 model and the most recent a 1930 vintage.

He said he hopes to play a part in educating everyone who uses water to use it without wasting any. One of his main concerns is "to be sure that my children will have water left after I'm gone."

Mrs. AND MRS. Otis Neel of Friona attended services Sunday morning at the Church of Christ and were dinner guests of the Gene Bryans. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Farington of Littlefield were also guests for dinner. This being a birthday dinner for both Mrs. Farington and Mrs. Bryan.

MR. AND MRS. Tom Bogard visited Sunday in O'Donnell with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Bogard.

MR. AND MRS. J. D. Rowland spent Sunday with her nephew, the W. D. Clawson and daughter, Debbie at Hereford. In the afternoon both families visited with the Allan Jones near Hereford.

on a few freeways, and those limits are removed at night.

Hans, who brought his bicycle to Lubbock with him, reported that there are many bicyclists in Holland. There are some streets especially for bicycles, but in many places, bicyclists also are fighting it out with motorists on the regular streets.

In comparing politics in Holland and the United States, Hans mentioned the potential scandal currently brewing around certain officials in the Texas government. He stated that "if such a question had even arisen in the Netherlands, any officials involved would have immediately resigned, regardless of whether they were guilty or not."

When asked about his marital status, Hans, who appeared to be wearing a wedding band, stated that "his ring signified that he was engaged to be married." When a protestant couple become engaged, they exchange a gold band which is placed on the left ring finger. When the couple marry, their bands are transferred to their right hands. With Catholic couples, the reverse hands signify their status.

Church attendance is declining in Holland, reported the speaker. When he was a little boy, churches were so crowded that the smaller children had to sit on the steps at the base of the pulpit. Today, there are plenty of vacant seats as it is largely the older people who attend formal church.

When asked how Americans are viewed by the Dutch, Hans said that "individuals are well liked, but that big groups of American tourists are not particularly welcomed by shopkeepers." Some of the larger stores in Amsterdam have signs in their windows saying "NO AMERICANS ALLOWED." The reason for this, Hans stated, is that many American tourists evidence an attitude that nothing quite compares with things "back home." Also, the Americans tend to rush into shops, calling to each other in loud, harsh voices, handle all the merchandise, ask to be shown many things, and then maybe buy one item.

Hans suggested that people should travel in other countries with open minds. They should be willing to enter into things that the natives are doing, to try the typical foods of the country, and to try to learn some of the language. For, as Hans said, "What is the reason for traveling in another country unless one can learn how people really live?"

Following the program, Mrs. Kenneth Lynn presided at a brief business meeting.

A roster of officers for the next club year were recommended by Mrs. W. Dow Smith, nominating committee chairman.

The following new officers for 1971-73 were elected: Mrs. Robert Richey, president; Mrs. Lenton Smith, vice president; Mrs. Frank Cummings, recording secretary; Mrs. Tommy Adkins, treasurer; Mrs. Howard Burks, reporter; and Mrs. Hazel Ward, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Lucille Smith and Mrs. Kenneth Lynn, members of the executive board.

Guests present at the meeting included: Mmes. Vergil Zoth, Joye Hall, Pat Donnelly, and Miss Susan Driskill.

The next meeting of the Forum will be on Thursday, Feb. 11, in the home of Mrs. Lucille Smith, when Mrs. Howard Burks will present a program on folk music.

A WOMAN'S VIEW

God's Glory

By PEARL BRANDON

"SAID I NOT unto thee, that, if thou wouldst believe, thou shouldst see the glory of God?"

These were the words of Jesus unto Martha at the grave of her brother when Jesus had told them to remove the stone from the door of the cave where they had buried Lazarus four days before.

WHILE READING this Scripture the words "the glory of God" struck me with force-what is the "glory" of God?

I looked up the word "glory" in the dictionary and it said, "praise, honor or distinction," also, "brilliance, splendor" and "celestial bliss: heaven."

IN THIS CASE could it have meant the power and splendor of God? The power of God to raise a man who had been dead four days.

"By this time he stinketh, Lord."

REMEMBER that this was the physical, earthly body that Jesus raised from the dead.

And he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot in grave clothes; and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus said, "loose him, and let him go."

SURELY THAT day they saw the power and splendor of God, even those outsiders standing around and about the grave.

"Many went away believing on him." I often wonder what became of Lazarus.

THE ONLY other time he was mentioned was when Jesus came six days before the passover to Bethany where Lazarus had been raised from the dead.

There Lazarus was one of them that sat at the table, and busy Martha did the serving.

WHAT A JOYOUS, wonderful time it must have been to have their brother back from the grave and to have the blessed Saviour as a guest.

No wonder Mary took a pound of very costly ointment and anointed the tired feet of Jesus, and wiped them with her hair.

AT THIS TIME Jesus knew in his heart that His time on earth was short. When some one complained about wasting the ointment He said, "Let her alone, against the day of my burying hath she kept this."

Even though Jesus knew he must die within a short time he knew, also, that the grave would not be able to hold him against the power and splendor of God.

"HAVE I NOT told you, if you would believe, you would see the glory of God?"

With so much heartache and sickness and death in the world today we need to remember that Jesus also said, "I am the resurrection and the life, he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live." Is not this the splendor and glory of God?

PAUL HARVEY

Racking Guns

BRITAIN'S Lord Snowdon refuses to go bird hunting any more. The brother-in-law of the queen says he simply does not want to kill anything any more.

It is not significant that one man, of whatever prominence, has developed an antipathy toward killing. But if his generation has, that is.

SOME YEARS AGO I collected some classic firearms. Mostly shotguns. Exhibition-grade guns with masterworks of engraving and magnificent carved-wood stocks.

Young Paul and I shot skeet together—the clay targets. And we went hunting together for quail and pheasant and, I think, enjoyed it. Certainly we enjoyed the fellowship.

BUT I HAVE NOT fired one of those guns for years.

With former hunting and fishing companions, frequently the conversation turns to those subjects. And when some one of us breaks the ice, so to speak, it is surprising how many men of my acquaintance have given up hunting.

THEY'VE NOT "sworn off"; nothing like that. They've just lost interest.

I did not mention this until there were dozens of such examples of my personal knowledge—and until inveterate outdoorsmen of prominence, like Britain's Lord Snowdon, confirmed my findings.

THE BRITISH, historically, are great grouse hunters. Recently Britain's Prince Philip and his son, Prince Charles, were denounced by Britain's League Against Cruel Sports for participating in a pheasant hunt. Prince Philip had conducted the annual bird shoot at the royal estate in Norfolk where pheasants are raised for the purpose.

But Lord Snowdon, husband of Princess Margaret, did not attend. Says he will participate in no more royal grouse shooting parties. He says, "I simply do not want to kill things any more."

IF MY OBSERVATION is correct, and this antipathy toward killing is increasing—why, do you suppose?

I've thought it might relate to the awfully unpopular Vietnam war.

The original beatnik types and their successors, the flower children, have demonstrated a dramatic reaction to violence — proclaimed themselves for "peace" and "love."

THEIRS COULD HAVE been a backlash against militarism.

Another possibility is that many of us were subconsciously sickened by the assassinations of the 1960s, resulting in a revulsion against violence, per se.

You'll remember the Kennedy killings triggered an avalanche of demands for gun controls, an objective with which I was not in sympathy because such laws against guns merely take guns away from people who obey laws.

NOR DO I INTEND to crusade against so-called sport shooting. Wildlife experts have convinced me that harvesting certain crops of game birds and animals now requires the participation of hunters because we have unbalanced nature.

But I will let somebody else do the harvesting. Coming almost to feel as Ogden Nash said: "The mighty hunter with gun strides bravely forth and in the tall grass hides. There, with wit and pluck, He hopes he can outwit a duck."

DEAR EDITOR

'Thank You'

February 2, 1971

Leader-News Littlefield Texas 79339

Dear Editor:

In November, 1970, I sent a "thank-you" item (to the people in and near Littlefield for assistance received in an October 25, 1970 accident) to you requesting that it be inserted in your paper.

Thank you very much for printing it and sending us the copy of the paper in which it was run. We will never forget the kindnesses shown us by you and the others who helped us.

Very sincerely, Mr. and Mrs. Leon B. Hobbs

DOWN TO EARTH

Mental Health

JIMMY R. ALLEN

POLITICAL entanglements have kept the mental health-mental retardation system in the headlines in recent months. Investigations have produced headlines and denials of wrong-doings.

It is the conviction of many that Texas has too many sensitive and religiously-oriented citizens to allow such a debacle of mishandling mental health problems to continue. Yet, many who become informed remain confounded about answers.

The time has come for a major re-examination of Texas' system by as strong and able a group of citizens as can be found.

THEN SOLUTIONS proposed should be presented with facts to our citizens.

Little hope for solving these problems can be mustered in this legislative session unless a major study could be set up so that the lawmakers and public can have adequate information with which to move. A public outcry against abuses and for corrections will be essential for solutions.

JESUS LEFT as one of the marks of his ministry rehabilitation of a tortured man who had lived in the tombs.

Christ's healing power caused him to become "fully clothed and in his right mind."

We ought to be at the task of doing His work with tortured people. The idea of leading them to a full life is a constant challenge to people who claim to care.

A CRUCIAL TEST for society is how it behaves toward its weak and helpless.

Pagan and primitive societies often abandoned or killed their weak. Survival depended on strength.

Those who were crippled or old were abandoned to their fate.

"CIVILIZATION" has changed this. The influence of the Judeo-Christian insight of the value of the individual has tempered this attitude.

Compassion is the key. If people are informed, they realize responsibility and move to assist the weak and helpless. Humanity has supposedly progressed past the inhuman stage.

BUT HAS IT really? Or have we just become more adept at hiding our weak and helpless? A crucial test of our attitude is the way we treat our emotionally ill and mentally retarded fellow beings.

Texas is being tested and failing to be a truly humane and Christianized community. Our mentally disturbed are being packed into over-crowded, under-manned facilities. Many of the insights of psychological discoveries are not being applied because of public apathy and political infighting.

BUMPER STICKERS distributed by some concerned citizens are proclaiming over the state that Texas rates 50th of the 50 states in money per capita invested in helping people in this kind of condition.

Against a private care, daily cost figure of $40.00 per day per patient, Texas spends $7.00 a day in the state mental hospital system. What is called treatment becomes little more than confinement. It is a small miracle that as many persons are helped as there are.

IN ADDITION to inadequate financial support, there are vast philosophical differences about how to help the emotionally ill. Many authorities are calling for community treatment centers to help a person close to home, friends, and those with whom he must work out his life.

These claim shipping the person off to a distant place is damaging not only to him but to his family.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Words Of Cheer

By BOB WEAR

WORDS OF GOOD CHEER can be useful and helpful to all of us. We must begin using them more and more.

They are effective weapons in the fight we wage for a better life and a better situation.

They are needed in the home, in the neighborhood, in the school, in the civic clubs, in the office and the store, and on the street.

THERE WILL ALWAYS be something to justify these good words. Even though some things may be wrong, it is a tragic mistake to talk about them all of the time. Many things are right, but they might as well not be if we are going to ignore them. These right things should have equal time in our thinking and talking.

In many instances, everybody and everything will be made better if we think and talk mostly about what is right.

IT IS A PROVEN FACT that we soon begin to feel ill, and listless if we are told by every one we meet that we are not looking well.

It hurts us nearly as much if everybody talks about the flaws, imperfections and shortcomings of other people and general situations. The significant point to observe is that these words of gloom make everybody and everything gloomy.

A TOWN SOON BEGINS to exist in the shadows of gloom, when great numbers of the people have nothing to say about it but something critical.

This dissipates the community enthusiasm, and then the community strength wanes; and the town becomes more and more like the talk which dominates the conversations of its citizens.

HONNY GRITS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

IT'S MY GUESS that one of the unsolved mysteries of our time will be: "Would the president's plan have worked, or not?" Since we seem to have a Congress that's dead-set on the idea of opposition to his suggestions, we can be sure that we'll never know.

EVERYONE IS BEGINNING to look toward the next election. Seems that politics is the name of the only game we'll be seeing from here on out!

The President was in trouble when he took the office. What, with a democratic administration's war on his hands, and a wartime economy with its inflationary tendencies on the upward spiral, it was a situation where someone had to be hurt.

THE GREATEST PRESSURE was on the idea of ending this inherited war. The next most important item, seemingly, was the bringing about of law and order. Then, of course, was the inflationary problem. We have to admit that the war has been slowed to a great degree. We are having considerably fewer riots, but, alas!—The inflationary problem has been hard to slow.

IN THE FIRST PLACE, it's hard to WIN a war with your hands tied. It's hard to restore law and order when the courts primary function seems to be the protection of the "Rights" of the criminal. Inflation?—Well, somebody's gonna have to start being satisfied with a little LESS money. Nobody's volunteered to be first!

THEY KEEP HARPING on the unemployment percentage. What can we expect when we start getting along with less manufacturing of wartime materials? This, coupled with the on-going welfare program and its encouragement of idleness!

No, I'm not completely sold on the administration's proposals, I, especially, don't cotton to this "Fund-sharing-thing". I'm convinced that this idea sprouted in our shrinking governors' minds. They would like for the Federal Government to do their dirty work!

BUT, WHAT REALLY starts the oil adrenalin to perkin' is the idea that the welfare of the nation comes SECOND to party popularity!! Makes no difference what the proposal might be. If it's introduced by the wrong party, it's no go!

FROM HERE ON IN we can watch our congressmen play party politics. If the thing will make the party look good and throw discredit toward the opponents, it'll be the "In-Thing!!" It's my idea that if the President wants his proposals to go over, it'd be best for him to get a Democrat to introduce them!

"On My Honor"

The Boy Scouts of America have another anniversary February 7. What a blessing the Scout organization has been to countless youths of America and to all the world.

Every Scout in every troop is a reverent, patriotic individual who is committed to live and work for God and Country. They are taught religious obligations by spiritual teachers, Scout leaders and by their parents.

When a Scout recites, "On My Honor," he means it. When he says, "I Will Do My Best To Build, Serve and Achieve," believe him. Just let him quote, "I Will Do All To The Glory of God," and all of us want to sponsor his troop.

Every boy who becomes a Scout, grows to be a better man. Encourage every boy to join a troop during their Anniversary February 7-13.

The Bula girls ended their district play Friday night with a win over Pep to leave them the unbeaten, undisputed leaders

Sandhill Cranes Receive Attention

Texas shotgunners, taking advantage of a seldom-hunted game bird, bagged a surprising 2,213 sandhill cranes in the open season which ended Jan. 10 in West Texas.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials said this year's estimated kill, which was twice as large as that of the year before, probably resulted both from more birds and more hunters in the field.

West Texas was divided into two zones for the crane season, with the more westerly zone enjoying a longer season. Daily bag limit for both zones was three, and possession limit was six.

of the District 5-B girls basketball race.

Spade's girls won over the Cotton Center girls Friday night to clinch at least a tie in District 5-B basketball. At the same time the only team in the loop that could tie Spade, Amherst, was playing to stay alive. Amherst lost in their bid by getting beat by the Anton Dogettes. The Amherst loss left Spade in sole ownership of the loop title with one remaining game.

The coaches of the two respective schools will meet sometime this week to decide upon the date and the place for the bi-district tilt. The probable dates being considered are Monday or Tuesday the 15th and 16th of this month. The sites being considered are the Littlefield gym and the Dome at South Plains Jr. College.

More definite information will be printed in next Sunday's issue of the Leader-News. One other team is in a tight race for the loop crown as the end nears. The Anton boys team is tied with Lazbuddie for first place. If after all the loop games are played, and there is still a tie, there will be a play-off scheduled to determine the district 5-B winner.

FRENCH LEGATION

Austin is the home of the still intact French Legation, built in 1840 to house Louis Philippe's envoy to the Republic of Texas.

FOR MANY YEARS this two-story building housed Porcher Produce. Horses were used for lifting cement bags and for other heavy work during construction of the building in the late 1920s or early '30s. It was built by William Hienon, and leased to Ben Porcher. Porcher lived upstairs for a time, then later the upstairs portion was leased to four men. Porcher bought hides, eggs and cream, and sold coal from the old coal bins out back and baby poulters he hatched. The coal bins were recently torn down, but the old building still stands on East Delano. The building was used last several years ago to house braceros for area farmers. This is the second sketch in a series by Rev. Benny Goss of Littlefield.

Witnesses Slate 3-Day Meeting

The Littlefield congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses are making preliminary plans to attend a three day convention in Wichita Falls, Feb. 26-28.

Describing the assembly as a training program, Loyd Lowery, presiding minister of the local group, indicated some 15 hours of schooling in the field of Bible education will be featured. More than 500 are planning to attend with sessions to be held in the Hirschi High School Auditorium.

"The program is designed to provide additional training for area Witnesses to assist them in furthering their evangelistic work.

Parents and children alike will receive instruction in a ministerial development school the opening night similar to the one held every week here in Littlefield at Kingdom Hall, according to Lowery.

Plans to provide transportation for anyone desiring to attend were discussed at one of the regularly scheduled meetings held earlier this week.

Many family groups from this area will join with the convention delegates in visiting residents of Wichita Falls for the purpose of inviting them to attend the convention as well as to share an important Bible message with interested persons.

"Encouragement of this type is a regular feature of the ministry of Jehovah's Witnesses in more than 206 lands where they conduct their evangelistic work. World-wide the report for last year shows a 10 percent increase," Lowery announced.

Highlights of the convention will also include a baptism of new ministers and a feature Bible discourse on the subject, "What Is Behind the Spirit of Rebellion."

Principle speaker will be an official from the world headquarters of the Watchtower Society, L.M. Dugan, district minister who travels a six state area. Dugan is visiting a different convention city every week presenting Bible lectures.
