

Six In Contest For School Board

Batson, Hopping Are Candidates

Two more persons have filed for positions on the Littlefield school board, making six candidates for two places. Glenn Batson and Dick Hopping added their names to the list Monday.

Batson is a farmer and rancher and lives at 118 E. 12th. He is 37 years old and has two children in school, a daughter, Glenna, a senior student, and a son, Tommy, who is an eighth grader. Batson graduated from Amherst High School and attended Texas Tech one year.

Dick Hopping is a farmer in the Fieldton area. He is a 1961 graduate of Littlefield High School and attended the University of Texas where he played football. Hopping is 36 years old and has three school-age children, Ricky, a seventh grader, Ronnie, a fourth grader, and Michael is in kindergarten.

School board members whose terms are expiring are Buddy Bingham and Flannery Newton, and both have filed for re-election.

Two others have filed for the two positions. Arlen Simpson and Jackie Heffington signed up last month.

Deadline for filing is at 5 p.m. tomorrow, Friday, March 5, at 5 p.m. in the office of school secretary Sid Hopping.

The election is set for the first Saturday in April, the third. Absentee voting is from March 15 through March 30.

No Opposition In City Contest

As of presstime Wednesday, no new candidates for the city election, slated for April 6, had filed for placement on the ballot.

Terms of Mayor J.E. Chisholm and councilmen Paul Carmickle and Dr. James Shotwell are expiring, and all have filed for re-election.

The last day to file for the election is Monday, March 8, at 5 p.m. in the city tax office, instead of Friday, March 5, as was previously published.

Absentee voting begins March 18 and will continue through April 3.

TWO ARRESTS MADE

Only two persons were arrested by county authorities this weekend.

Manuel Barrera Jr., 22, was arrested Sunday on a charge of forgery, and a 42-year-old Littlefield man was arrested for being drunk early Monday. Both remained in the county jail.

WINDY CAME IN like a lamb Monday, with spring-like temperatures reaching 54 degrees during the day, but the mercury dipped to 21 degrees, or 11 below the freezing mark, before the first day of March ended. A Littlefield senior, Linda Horn, is doing some yard work at home at 100 E. 18th before the mercury plunged. On the right is a portion of a fence at the V. H. Solley's 1116 W. 7th, where a sprinkler was left on for a short time after the cold front moved in. Tuesday's snow measured two inches and brought .15 of moisture and temperatures were the below freezing all day--ranging from a low of nine to a high of 28 degrees.

Woman Get on Sentences

Persons whose jury trials were held in the criminal hearings set for Monday appeared before District Attorney Young Monday to waive trials and entered pleas of guilty. Bertha O' Neal, a 44-year-old from Olton, pleaded guilty to the death of 31-year-old Arthur O'Neal on or about May 29, 1970. She was tried and found guilty of murder and sentenced to 10 years in the state penitentiary. Moore, charged with burglary of Littlefield VFW Post on or about August 1, 1970, waived his right to a trial and entered a plea of guilty as charged. He was tried and found guilty and sentenced to 10 years in the state penitentiary. Twenty prospective jurors were called for three other cases. Selections started Tuesday morning in the trial of Paul Luevano, charged with murder. Other cases on the docket include Juanita Fuentes, charged with rape, and Mack Hollis, charged with driving while intoxicated, a subsequent offense.

COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP COMMITTEE SAYS

Young Borrowers Good Risks

By NILAH RODGERS
Leader-News Staff Writer

"The younger generation doesn't give up and quit," Jack Wicker said. "They 'hang in there' as they say, and restore your faith in the young people." Wicker is one of five Littlefield Rotarians on the Rotary college loan fund whose faith in the younger generation has been renewed.

A loan fund of $10,000 was set up by Art Chesser in 1956. It was designed as a supplemental fund, at low interest, to help deserving students get through college. So far, about 150 Lamb County students have attended college on money borrowed from the fund. To qualify, a student must have a "C" or better average and maintain a C average while in college. A student makes such a loan for one year. The note, plus three per cent interest, is due the following year.

Only one person has failed to pay back his loan. Some students overcome difficult situations to repay their loans. Wicker said LaDeana Morgan Sant is one of those youngsters who "hangs in there." The daughter of the late Dean Morgan, LaDeana needed financial help to attend business school after her father died. In August, 1968, she borrowed $795. She got married before she completed school, and after her marriage her husband was seriously injured. There wasn't any income, so she had to quit school and work part time during his hospitalization and recovery. But all during this time she continued to send in small amounts on the note.

"The payments were for $5 or whatever amount she could pay," Wicker said, "and sometimes $5 was a pretty good payment for someone in her situation."

When the couple got their insurance settlement, they came to the bank in January of this year and paid off the balance. "She kept trying," Wicker said, "that's what I like about her."

Young people who have borrowed from the fund have gone on to become teachers, bankers, doctors, dentists, armed service officers, and engineers, just to list a few of the accomplishments on file.

Several years ago four or five Littlefield High School senior girls made loans to attend West Texas State University. During the summers they worked at the ASC office and often paid their loan back just in time to make another loan for the following semester, working their way through school in this way.

The average loan is $500 to $700, and is renewable again for another year after repayment. These loans are usually supplements to help from the family or to loans like National Defense Loans.

Under federal loans, students can borrow much more money and on long terms, but when they graduate they have a debt of $4,000-$5,000 hanging over their head.

"Students don't need debts like this starting them in the face when they do get through school," Wicker said. "I had a young lady come in here recently who had her degree and a good teaching job lined up. But when she told me what her commitments were and found that when she got through paying her debts she wouldn't have a cent left to buy clothes or anything else, she broke down and cried like a baby."

Wicker and J. D. Hagler are the only two of the original committeemen. Others are Joe Montgomery, Paul I. Jones and Houston Hoover.

With another school year drawing to a close, applications are being taken from Lamb County seniors again. "We try to treat everyone alike with a chance of repaying a loan," Wicker said. "Credit worthiness certainly isn't the only requisite taken into consideration," he concluded, "but this has to be considered to keep the fund going."

Stock Auction Total $15,902.10

The Annual Littlefield Area Junior Livestock Show and Sale was concluded here Saturday afternoon with the sale, when 126 animals sold for a grand total of $15,902.10.

The sale total was up $750.65 from last year's sale total of $15,151.45.

In 1969, 144 animals sold for $17,183.34, and a record year for sales was in 1968, when the sales total was $20,715.

Floor bids were 20 cents a pound for pigs, 33 cents for calves and 22 1/2 cents for lambs.

The grand champion calf, shown by Kenan Lichte, was bought by Three Bars Production Inc. of Littlefield for $1,004-$1 a pound.

The grand champion barrow, shown by Monte Angel of the Littlefield FFA, was purchased for $216 by Gebbo's Distributing Co. at $1 a pound.

Rodney Logsdon's grand champion lamb was bought by the Dairy Mart for $164.50-$1.75 per pound.

The reserve grand champion calf, shown by Jim Fields of the Sudan 4-H, was bought by First National Bank of Sudan for $1,216.80.

Sandra Duvall's reserve grand champion barrow was purchased by Farmer's Co-op Gin at Amherst for $159.60.

Ware's Department Store in Littlefield purchased the reserve grand champion lamb, shown by Gary Lichte, for $101.25.

WRECK VICTIM IS IMPROVED

Sixteen-year-old Tommy Gene Crosby underwent surgery in Lubbock's Methodist Hospital Tuesday and doctors said Wednesday morning the youth was doing better than expected.

A bone from his hip was put in his neck for support around the spinal cord, and bone fragments were removed.

He was expected to remain in the intensive care unit about two more weeks.

Young Crosby remains paralyzed from the neck down following a one-car turn-over near Amherst Feb. 27.

His spirits have been reported good, and he was eating solid food this week.

Arlen To Speak

Arlen, Texas Tech football star, will be the featured speaker at the Littlefield Quarterback Club meeting here Monday night, March 1, 7:30 in the Littlefield Junior cafeteria. A number of athletic awards, including the fighting heart award and the naming of outstanding players, will be made. A number of three LHS coeds will be crowned football queens. Candidates are Rachel Harlan, Debbie Haffley and Mary Davidson. Ticket prices are $3 each and are on sale now by members of the club and at West Drug, Pratt's Drug, Roden Drug, Jim's Conoco and other places of business.

Senate Resolution Honors Jimmy Burk Posthumously

"If I can do my part to insure that the people I love will never have to see war, then I have accomplished something and our being here has some meaning after all."

These were the words of Specialist Fourth Class Jimmy Burk of Littlefield in a letter to his family three weeks before his death near Bien Hoa, Vietnam.

Specialist Burk was honored by Senate Resolution Number 517 introduced on Monday, March 1, 1971, by Senator Jack Hightower of Vernon.

The resolution stated that the son of Dr. and Mrs. Glenn Burk formerly of Littlefield was a "dedicated serviceman, patriotic Texan and distinguished American."

He is also survived by his grandparents, Mrs. Ruth Burk of Littlefield and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Rea of Anton and a sister and two brothers.

Specialist Burk, who had been an outstanding athlete at Littlefield High School before entering the service in July of 1968, had asked the readers of his letter to "...say a little prayer for the men over here. Let us work together to show that the men who have died over here already have not died for nothing. Let us put faith and hope in God that this war will not be long in coming to an end."

The Texas Senate expressed appreciation and extended sympathy to the family of Specialist Fourth Class Jimmy Burk by sending them official copies of the resolution.

PAUL HARVEY

Angry Americans

(The following is not a letter from "a reader"; it is a composite of several from several.)

DEAR MR. HARVEY, Ecuador has been seizing American fishing boats. Ecuador is due to get 25.5 million American dollars. That's my money!

Uncle Sam allows every refugee from Cuba $1,200 a year and if he's a boy or girl going to school an extra $1,000 a year.

TO REAR MY legitimate child Uncle Sam allows me a tax deduction of $600 a year. If he were an illegitimate child, ADC would pay me $800 a year.

I am suffering from a pain in the neck, real and figurative, and doubtless related. I hurt like everything, but Uncle Sam says I must grin and bear it.

YOU THINK MAYBE you got syphilis, you can get a blood test free. I think maybe I got leukemia, I pay for it.

For narcotics addicts there's a helpful handout. For people in prison there is $2,300 a year. For me, nothing.

I DON'T HAVE syphilis, I don't take dope and I don't break laws so I get nothing. Yet I'm taxed to pay the upkeep on those who do!

For spending money these next two years President Nixon asks everything government takes in plus another $30 billion.

THAT WILL PUT US, including me, $429 billion in debt. Personally, my share of that obligation will be $2,060. And I'll have to pay interests on that borrowed money with another $166 every year of my money. And what for?

Uncle Sam has a cluttered closet full of outdated apparel and tangled coat-hangers; he ought to be house-cleaning before going shopping for more.

FOR GENERATIONS big city bosses have bought re-election for themselves with promises and more handouts. Now the bills are coming due and the city duds are asking Uncle Sam to bail them out with my money.

They say they need $13.5 billion from Sam. Sam's broke and in debt but he promises them more of my money.

HE FIGURES to dip into the pockets of us dues-paying country boys to bail out those extravagant big city politicians. Just for that, he wants another $80 a year of my money. And it adds up!

A generation of spoiled brats has been running to Washington with a tin cup every campaign time, selling their votes for promissory notes--and pompous politicians have promised "anything for the needy."

WELL LOOK AROUND, Buster; the non-needy are the new needy. How about some relief for us now!

HOWNY GRAYS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

LIFE IS FULL of its little complexities. Seems some new-fangled thing is always making it's little problems for us.

For years I've been giving the long-haired bunch the down-hill--After some reflection, I decided that, maybe so, they weren't so bad, after all.

Even decided to do a little compromising, myself. I started letting my sideburns creep down the side of my face.

FINALLY, they were a whole inch and one-half lower than I'd worn them in my entire life.

Then I discover that the GREY sideburns don't count!

I DIDN'T EVEN HAVE TO defend myself from just ONE female! Besides, I still wasn't accepted by the "in" crowd!--Oh well--

And now, I have a word for the many half-stinkers that are probably running around in the neighborhood.

For a long while I've been running around in a state of discomfort and self-consciousness.--It's pretty hard to remember to keep one of your arms clamped to your side all day long.

WE SEE AND HEAR so much on tv and radio about the offence of B.O. and how unthinking it is to go out unprotected! I figured the wifemate must be dropping a gentle hint when she brought home some "Right Guard."

Well, not wishing to make an issue of the situation, I just held my peace and started shopping around, on the sly, for some "Left-Guard."

It wasn't to be had!

THIS WAS PERPLEXING, indeed. What to do about the situation was a constant source of worry.

One day not long ago, I decided to do some experimenting. Assuming a non-chalant air, I strolled through the house to the bathroom. No one seemed to notice.

ONCE INSIDE, I locked the door. This was as good a time as ever! In reckless abandon, I took that Right Guard and sprayed it under my LEFT arm! There was no thunder and lightning, no explosion! In fact, nothing happened!!

I can now testify, Gentlemen, that the stuff is O.K. under EITHER arm! Just thought you'd like to know.

ONE WORD OF CAUTION,--be sure you're awake when you reach for that anti-stink.--I can also testify that some of this hair grooming stuff that the youngsters use, can start a fire of no little consequence!

Seems it's always something to complicate matters, but maybe we can keep adjustin'.

THE PHILOSOPHER

Better System

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses the false national emergency alert this week; we think.)

Dear editor:

I wasn't listening to the radio at the time so wasn't aware of the "national emergency alert" that went out over the country when somebody fed the wrong tape into the networks, but according to the newspaper account I read a lot of people got pretty excited and more would have if more radio stations had believed what they were being inaccurately told.

I'm afraid the government's going to have to get a different system, because like it is nobody believes much of anything anybody says anymore.

To Solve Youth Problem

"Everyone from Dr. Spock to Vice President Agnew has advised parents on how to rear children.

"I have given these experts considerable attention and, with modesty, must admit that I have come up with the only workable solution on how to bridge the generation gap.

"One of the really pertinent points of frictions between parents and their teenage children is dress. Young people like wayout attire and only laugh at what their parents and other grownups wear. The solution is for parents to wear the same clothes their children wear.

"The odd-makers give 10 to 1 that after seeing this, daughters will throw away all their Hindu shawls, Arabian headbands, and Australian gauchos.

"The father may have to sacrifice even more. First of all he would have to let his hair grow shoulder length and then use a good home permanent to add a few waves and curls. Since most young men only allow their nose to be hairless, the father would also have to let his sideburns grow until they met just under the lower lip, and then add a Joe Namath moustache.

"Most parents make the mistake of strongly disapproving their daughter's dates, even if he does look like the guy who lives in the trash can on Sesame Street. Actually this problem is easy to solve. All the mother and father have to do is to go into ecstasy over their daughter's boyfriend; invite him to dinner often; and frequently praise their daughter's good judgement in selecting a boyfriend that meets their 100 percent approval.

"One thing sure to turn teenagers off is for them to come home one day and find mom and dad doing the "funky chicken" while screaming, "Yeah! Yeah!" to the latest hit of the Jefferson Airplane. Naturally, mom would be braless. It's even more impressive if grandma joins in with her hair in curlers, wearing a mini-skirt and wailing "Groovy! Groovy!" Their children's next step will be the library looking for books on wayout foxtrots.

"There is no easy answer to the problem. Perhaps the only solution is for Vice President Agnew to announce FOR removing all laws against the clincher would be for Martha Moore to tell the press she is considering sex at her next cocktail party. Under conditions no teenager would ever be the stuff again.

"Other steps parents could take would be to stress "togetherness" in the home, down the university or going to a point out that they'll help organize a festival providing they get to sing, see cars and buy bicycles in protest of air pollution; and use their children's money to buy psychedelic wallpaper for the entire house.

"Admittedly, these are strong measures to ask parents to take. If they are harsh, there's still one hope.

"Many, many years ago, parents were something called disciplinarians. With luck, perhaps, could find something on this in the book section of the library."

Lincoln's Truth

You cannot bring about progress by discouraging thrift.

You cannot help small men by weakening the strong.

You cannot lift the wage earner by pulling down the wage payer.

You cannot help the poor man by destroying the rich.

You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than your income.

You cannot further the brotherhood man by inciting class hatred.

You cannot establish security by borrowing money.

You cannot build character and dependance by taking away man's initiative.

You cannot help men permanently doing for them what they could and do for themselves.

DOWN TO EARTH

Welfare Myth

JIMMY R. ALLEN

AMERICA HAS ONLY recently discovered its poor, and a crash program of public information has caused many Americans to feel over-exposed to the problem and a little weary of hearing about it.

No word in the whole vocabulary concerning the poor has more emotional explosiveness than the word "welfare". In the minds of many, the word depicts lazy, indolent people who are unwilling to work and are living in luxury by scheming to tap the public's tax funds.

OUR WORK ETHIC is assaulted by such images. Persons who are on welfare are often despised as shiftless and immoral. Recently they have also been cited for being trouble-makers because of the dramatic ways they have called attention to their problems.

Into this atmosphere the Senate Interim Committee on Welfare Reform moved to examine the way to break the poverty cycle in Texas. They have produced an 85-page report which is sobering and clarifying, and offers refreshingly practical steps Texans can take to meet the welfare crisis.

THE REPORT ANALYZES the welfare spending in Texas and explodes the idea that people are on welfare in Texas because they want to be.

It points out that to be on welfare in Texas a person must (1) be over 65 and needy, (2) totally and permanently disabled, or blind, or (3) a member of a fatherless family.

The report says "no one falls into any of these categories by choice" and reveals that although one out of every seven welfare mothers now has a job, meager day care and transportation facilities keep many others from jobs.

THE COMMITTEE makes a number of recommendations which are immediately challenging to Texans.

Pointing out deficiencies in unwieldy administration, the committee requests a major reorganization of welfare administration along with administration of state Department of Health, Mental Health and Mental Retardation, Rehabilitation, Vocational Rehabilitation, Blind, and other such departments under a state Department of Human Resources.

IN ADDITION to this sweeping request for making the approach to welfare more effective, the committee has proposed a number of immediate specific steps--such as a state system of day care centers which would allow working mothers caught in the poverty cycle to find adequate places for their children to be kept and taught properly.

Unfortunately, the steps contemplated do cost tax money. They also, however, promise to reduce ultimately the welfare cost by leading people into the ability and desire to work for themselves.

Other welfare costs will be sharply reduced in the category of the aged in 1980 because of the fruition of the Social Security Plans in greater degree. The disabled and the blind will continue to be a responsibility of the public conscience.

THE IRONY of the situation is that an excellent task of analysis may be lost in the confusion of a legislative season in which inadequate leadership proposes piecemeal approaches to financing programs.

The welfare ceiling in the state presents a major problem for solving our welfare crisis. Thoughtful and compassionate people should indeed have as an ideal of helping every able-bodied person to be able to work and to find a place for gainful employment.

WE SHOULD ALSO do all we can to train children toward being productive and fulfilled.

In the meanwhile, we need to erase the unfortunate connotations from the word "welfare" or discover another vocabulary in order to tap human resources in the best possible way.

DUSTING FOLIAGE plants used for indoor landscaping is the key to keeping them bright and attractive, says Everett E. Janne, Extension landscape horticulturist at Texas A&M University.

Clean the leaves once or twice a month with a soft camel hair brush, soft cheese cloth or with a damp cloth or sponge. Dust gently and carefully as bruising and kinking the leaf surface will cause discoloration and blemishes, Janne explains.

When dusting, the natural oils and waxes on the leaf surface will usually produce a high gloss. If the leaves are extremely soiled, they may be washed with a mild soap-warm water solution before polishing. Let the leaves air dry, then polish.

Several commercial leaf polishes are now available, the specialist says. Plants should be watered several hours prior to using these polishes, since dry plants tend to absorb the polish more quickly. Such rapid absorption can cause foliage burn. Do not use oil of any kind.

Plants with hairy leaves are more difficult to clean. Occasional syringing of such plants with clean, warm water is very beneficial, Janne adds. Don't use water that is colder than room temperature; cold water can cause leaf spotting in certain plants. Occasional syringing will also help keep plants free from red spider mites and mealy bugs.

MRS. B. O. SHAVOR of Amherst, right, posed recently with four other generations of her family while visiting in Paducah. Trouble Shooters Enter Contest

Applications to enter the 1971 Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest have been completed by LHS and turned in to the contest's national headquarters in Detroit. Entry deadline was March 1.

John H. Moore, Jr., manager of the Trouble Shooting Contest, said he anticipates participation at both the high school and post-high school levels to increase for the 23rd annual running of this award-winning program.

"Auto mechanic students in all 50 states who are high school seniors or are in a post-high school auto shop program are eligible to enter their respective classification in the contest," Moore said.

schools can obtain information about the Trouble Shooting Contest by contacting Moore at the Chrysler-Plymouth Division, P. O. Box 1638, Detroit, Mich. 48231.

The purpose of the Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest is to encourage mechanically-minded young men to complete their education and to seek rewarding careers as auto mechanics.

It is expected that more than 2,000 schools - with a total auto shop enrollment of more than 165,000 students - will take part in the 1971 contest.

Each participating school selects, through intra-class competition, two auto mechanics students for its Trouble Shooting team.

Ever contest consists of two competitions, a written exam which accounts for 30 per cent of a team's final score and a mechanical challenge, which puts the theory into practice, that is worth 70 per cent of the overall score.

Local contests will be held across the country during April and May.

A winning team - the two students and their instructor - from each local contest earns an all-expense paid trip to the National Finals in June at the famed "500" Speedway in Indianapolis, Indiana.

Contestants compete for more than $125,000 worth of scholarships and awards.

The top team in each classification - high school and post-high school - is offered $5,000 in scholarships, $2,500 per student. A total of $37,000 worth of scholarships is offered.

Since the contest was originated by Plymouth in 1949, Trouble Shooting has placed more than 17,000 young men in full or part-time jobs as auto mechanics.

The contest became a national event in 1962, and since then the Division has made available scholarships for 176 students.

COACHES Deverelle Lewis and Lyndon Gathright admire the trophies and medals which will be presented to the winners of the Wildcat Relays this weekend. The top shelf contains awards for the varsity players and the bottom shelf has those for the junior varsity.

Armed Forces To Present An Assembly

On Thursday, March 4, Littlefield High School will host the Army, Navy, Marines, and Air Force in an assembly in Littlefield High School auditorium.

The representatives of these branches of service have requested to speak to the student body on such issues as opportunities in the armed service, military obligations, registration, and new draft laws.

This assembly is interesting to the students especially those who are sure about their military obligations after graduation.

Student Council Meeting Slated For Houston

The annual Texas State Student Council meeting has been set for April 1, 2 and 3, and will be held in Houston.

Those to attend from Littlefield are Cynthia Adair, Marsha French, Kim Hill and Lynn Barton. Mrs. Roy Hutson will go along with the group as supervisor.

The members that are attending were voted on by the other student council members.

Lynn Barton is the Littlefield High School Student Council president, Marsha French is secretary and Cynthia Adair and Kim Hill are class representatives.

LHS Speaks Out

JOAN TIMIAN and JANNA GILBERT

Our question this week is: "What is Love?" Here are the answers we received.

Bill Orr, Sr.--"Love is something I have felt since Oct. 24."

Jan Bratcher, Jr.--"Love is when you have the desire to help someone, no matter what the cost. You want to see this person when the sun comes up till it goes down and every minute of your life. It's not something you can close between the covers of a book or lock in a closet. It can really change a person."

Charlotte Hinds, Sr.--"Love is the most beautiful thing in the world if you are lucky enough to experience it."

Janna Gilbert, Sr.--"Love is everything."

Dena Reast, Sr.--"Love is a feeling passed between two or more people. It has no respect for age or social status. It may take a lifetime to find it, but in one second it can be lost. Those in love desire, want to help, and enjoy the persons they are in love with."

Linda Horn, Jr.--"God is love."

Sue Davis, Sr.--"Love is feelings or wantings you have for someone else. It makes you feel happy, sad, grown-up, or not worth the time of day. Love is life itself."

Johnny Robertson, Jr.--"Love is a mother's affection toward her new-born baby."

God's Psychiatry

A DEVOTIONAL BY WAYLAND HUTTO

"What profit hath a man of all his labour which he taketh under the sun?"

"One generation passeth away, and another generation cometh: but the earth abideth forever."

"All things are full of labour; man cannot utter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing nor the ear filled with hearing."

"The thing that hath been, it is that which shall be; and that which is done is that which shall be done: and there is no new thing under the sun." Ecclesiastes 1:3, 4, 8, 9.

It seems that man has always viewed life as a struggle between himself and an unknown. Man's intelligence has led him to the belief that he must prove his superiority in order that he might assert his independence.

We all have some type of desire to do something in our lifetime that has never been done before. We want progress and improvement.

What is wrong with this?

Nothing--except that the progress we make is not always for our own good. War, crime, racial strife, and pollution are just a few of the consequences of our progress.

It has been said that there are no new sins--only variations of old ones. We might as well forget any ambitions we have to be unique in that respect.

Christ does not ask us to prove anything. He knows our limitations and abilities. We cannot sort out the good and evil in ourselves to cultivate the good.

There is no way to belong to the Lord other than the way He provides--that of "handing over to Him our natural self to be destroyed so that Christ can give us a new self, one born from above, one in which He will live at the center of our being."

"Christ says, 'Give me all. I don't want so much of your money and so much of your work--I want you.'"

Self-Employed Must File Tax

Persons with net earnings of $400 or more from self-employment must file Federal income tax returns and pay a self-employment tax, according to Ellis Campbell, Jr., IRS District Director for Northern Texas.

The Tax Reform Act of 1969 liberalized filing requirements for many taxpayers so that, for example, a single person without self-employment income is not required to file a tax return unless he had income of $1,700 or more in 1970.

However, an individual must file a return if his self-employment income was $400 or more, even if a return would not have been required based on his total income.

By filing a return and paying a self-employment tax on part or all of his income, each self-employed person helps finance Social Security benefits that are payable to self-employed persons as well as wage earners.

Anton Bulldogs Lose Bi-District Tilt, 52-50

For the second year in a row, the Anton Bulldogs lost a heartbreaker and the chance of owning the bi-district basketball championship to the Three Way Eagles.

The Bulldogs fell to Three Way, 52-50, Tuesday night in the Texan Dome at South Plains College in Levelland, after swapping leads with the team several times in the championship tilt.

Anton started out at a disadvantage when Three Way applied a full-court press in the first quarter and capitalized on eight Bulldog turnovers to take an early eight-point lead.

But Anton came back in the second quarter to cut the lead in the opening seconds. Then 6'9" Terry Belcher zeroed in on a three-point play to cut the lead to two with seven minutes left, and the Bulldogs tied the game up 18-18 mid-way in the second stanza.

It was see-saw from there, then the Eagles grabbed an edge with two minutes left, and the half time score was 30-26.

The Bulldogs had a hard time of playing catch up in the third quarter, but in the fourth frame Anton cut the lead to one point with 52 seconds left in the game when Belcher tipped in a field goal.

Three Way had everything going for them when a stalling technique worked and the Eagles' Pollard hit for a final two pointer.

Three Way hit 22 of 56 from the field and eight of 16 at the line. Anton made 19 of 54 attempted field goals and 12 of 19 at the free throw line.

James Turnbow was the leading Bulldog scorer with 21 and Belcher added 11. Alan Joyce led the Eagles with 18 and Johnny Ferguson added 15.

'Policemen Should Be Respected'

FREQUENTLY, some belligerent, anti-law enforcement elements of our society refer to police officers as "pigs."

Obnoxious four-letter words are shouted at policemen, and the familiar chant, "Off the Pigs," meaning "Kill the Police," is a prominent cry wherever these groups assemble.

Further, cartoons and publications depicting police officers as pigs are common fare, even for children. The ridiculous statement, "The only good pig is a dead pig," is a slogan of violent protesters. Such deplorable epithets can be gratifying only to little minds.

SELF-RESPECT and respect for one's fellow man are hallmarks of achievement.

Further, the proven concepts which enable men of all races, creeds, and backgrounds to live together with a reasonable degree of harmony should be respected. One such concept is the rule of law.

Without the rule of law our world would be a jungle. Thus, it is important that the rule of law and all its facets, including the policeman, be respected. In a free society where law—not man—is supreme, the policeman is a living symbol of the freedoms shared by all.

IN LIGHT of the humanitarian aspects of a policeman's work, I would like to repeat a comment made here a few years ago:

"In any emergency, real or imaginary, the first cry that goes forth is for the police. The officer on the beat must be a journeyman of many trades—an on-the-spot doctor, plumber, or babysitter. Today's enforcement officer is expected to have multifarious ability, explicit judgment, and an unshakable temperament. He performs on a public stage. The audience is 'live'; every observer is a critic. There can be no retakes of his efforts nor pretaped performances. He is second-guessed, ridiculed, abused, cursed, assaulted, and sometimes murdered. But when he leads a small, lost tot from a dense, wooded area to the arms of a joyously weeping mother, his is a rewarding and satisfying service."

POLICEMEN should be respected, at least for what they represent; they should not be called pigs.

WE BADLY NEED to shore up eroding ideals and principles in our country today. Community professional spokesmen, educators, clergymen, and others in positions of influence should take a firm stand to preserve our sense of values.

Too many are swayed or intimidated by loud, unruly, and aimless mobs of people with a lot of dialog but no substance.

IN A FREE SOCIETY, which is a very existence and prominence of law, abuse and ridicule of those charged with enforcing it should be taken lightly.

I urge all members of law enforcement in spite of personal indignities to serve with dignity and honor.

As a rule, a repulsive slur descriptive of its origin that is
