Mickey Brewer, newly-hired personnel manager for the American Cotton Growers' denim textile mill which is being constructed in Littlefield, will be the featured speaker for the Chamber of Commerce's membership meeting Wednesday, June 18, at noon in the Community Center.

The meeting will be a joint meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, both Lions Clubs and the Rotary Club.

According to Rad Richardson, president of the C-C, Brewer's presentation will include slides of the proposed plant and equipment, and a discussion of other points of general interest about the denim mill.

Brewer is the second person hired for the ACG mill management, as Bob Hale was hired several months ago as manager.

Lions and Rotarians are asked to turn in reservations, as well as others who plan to attend. Price of the lunch is $2.

Stuckey's Pecan Shops Selling Littlefield Cards

The next time you stop at a Stuckey's Pecan Shop, you may notice a postcard from Littlefield. "The postcards are in almost all of the Stuckey's stores," according to Tom Tollett, administrative vice president of the Chamber of Commerce & Agriculture.

Tollett said that within limited budget constraints, Stuckeys seemed to be the most effective way of getting some national exposure.

"We've got our postcards there just in time for the heavy vacation season," Tollett continued. He said there were two primary reasons for selecting Stuckeys.

First, they are a national chain with locations primarily on interstate highways and other heavy traffic routes.

Second, and most important, is the atmosphere. He said when a person stops at a Stuckeys, it's generally to take a break and relax, usually by milling around. "This gives a person more of a chance to see our postcards."

NEW DENIM TEXTILE MILL

Mickey Brewer Hired As Personnel Manager

Mickey Brewer has been hired as personnel manager for the new American Cotton Growers' Denim Textile Mill, and began his duties June 4.

Brewer will be available after July 1 for presentations to interested groups in the Littlefield trade area, when he will show slides of the proposed plant and equipment, and discuss employment matters and other points of general interest.

The Littlefield Chamber of Commerce is serving as the booking agent for Brewer and groups are asked to include first, second and third choices of dates and times in their requests for programs. According to Wm. Y. Adams, executive vice president of the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, no fees are involved, and requests by phone or letter will be accepted.

The new textile mill is now under construction east of Littlefield, and is expected to cost about $30 million. The annual payroll is expected to be about $3.3 million, and the mill is scheduled to produce 20 million yards of denim from 65,000 bales of cotton per year.

Brewer was born in Amarillo and reared in Fort Worth. He is a 1961 graduate of Texas Christian University with a degree in personnel management.

He comes to Littlefield in the near future, after serving the past several years in Denver and Ogallala, Neb. with a retail grocery chain and electronics component manufacturers.

He and his wife, Betsy, who is a registered nurse, have three children, David, 10; Merri, 6; and Stacy, 4. They are currently living in Lubbock.

His wife is also a graduate of TCU.

Penitentiary Terms Given To Two Men

Ober Lee Roberts, who had been convicted of burglary and was waiting appeal, lost his appeal to a higher court this week and was brought back to the Lamb County jail from Lubbock on a warrant and sent to the penitentiary for two years.

A revocation of probation hearing was held last week for Manuel Hernandez who had been convicted of a burglary charge. He waived his 10-day sentencing period and appeared before District Judge Pat Boone Jr. Friday morning. Hernandez was sentenced to the Texas Department of Corrections for two to four years, with credit given for three jail terms in the county jail.

Drivers License Class To Assist With Tests

The Lamb County Community Action Center will be sponsoring a drivers' license class to assist in helping persons pass the written portions of their drivers' license test.

The classes will be conducted in the Lamb County Community Action Center in Littlefield, and will consist of two class meetings which will be for two hours, starting June 16 and 17th, from 7 to 9 p.m. The following week the classes will be held on the 23 and 24th of June.

The classes will be conducted in Spanish and English, so if you know anyone who needs assistance in passing the written portions of their drivers' test, have them contact the Lamb County Community Center Telephone (806) 385-5425.

Anyone unable to read, write, or speak English will be given an oral drivers' test.

Community Leadership Seminar Scheduled Here Next Tuesday

"Everyone who really wants to do so can be a leader," according to Roy Faubion, owner of the Faubion Company of Hereford.

And, the "what to do's" and "desire to do's" will be the focus of the Community Leadership Seminar to be held in Littlefield Tuesday, June 24, in the Willie Room of the Lamb County Electric Cooperative, sponsored by the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

Faubion's background includes officer positions in the civic clubs, his church, and most recently served last year as president of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. He is a founder and the president of the newly-organized National Cowgirl Hall of Fame which is sanctioned by the Girls' Rodeo Association.

He has conducted leadership seminars on a volunteer basis for several years for clubs, chambers of commerce, and the Jaycees. He has been a broadcaster 20 years, and recently formed his own company which zeroes in on community leadership.

The seminar is for one night only, from 7 to 10 p.m. with a special two hour shirt-sleeve session for persons who have enrolled in the night-time session scheduled from 2 to 4 p.m. It is at no additional charge and will specifically deal with the very basics of organizational structure and leadership. The night seminar will concern itself with what Faubion terms as "big league leadership".

Faubion emphasized that the community leadership seminar is not a "how to sell", nor is it a "live more successfully" school. It is created to help individuals understand the methods of being involved in decision making, idea creation, and actual leadership in any type of club, church, civic or governmental agency and at any level.

He said, "if a person wants to be effective in improving life in his or her community, this is the first step."

Tickets will be priced at $10 per person and are available from the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

THE LITTLEFIELD BassMasters Club, in cooperation with the city and the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, released several hundred Black Bass fingerlings into Bull Lake this week in an effort to see if the fish would survive in the lake waters. Members of the club, Arlen Simpson, Jerry Roberts (shown here) and David Jones released the fish. There are three test cages on the lake and the public is asked not to bother the cages. white Venise lace flowerlets. From the Camelot capulet fell her bauffant veil of imported English silk illusion. The veil was completely edged in matching Venise lace flowerlets and it swept beyond her cathedral train.

She carried a cascade of yellow and white daisies, stephanotis and baby's breath atop a white Bible.

For "something old," the bride wore a diamond necklace belonging to her grandmother. "Something borrowed" was the white Bible belonging to the groom's sister, Mrs. Barbara Bond; and for "something blue", she wore the traditional blue garter. Her gown served as "something new."

Cancer May Be Cured If Detected Early

Over 53 million Americans alive today will eventually have cancer.

Can we estimate with any degree of accuracy which persons will be stricken and with what type of cancer? If so, could lives be saved because of early detection and prompt treatment run into additional thousands?

The American Cancer Society says yes, according to Dr. J. R. Fain of the Lamb County Unit of the American Cancer Society.

"We believe that with present knowledge, more than 100,000 of the 365,000 who will die annually can be saved. Moreover, the ACS has identified several high risk groups—that is, people subject to various cancers—and has taken steps to develop data that could be applied to cancer control," Dr. Fain said.

"Thus, the ACS slogan, 'We Want To Wipe Out Cancer In Your Lifetime' is on the beam, although a definite timetable is not feasible," he declared.

"There are several features in the profile of both the male and female at highest risk of lung cancer," Dr. Fain said. They are 55 to 65 years old; have smoked two or more packs daily and began in their early or late teens. The man's chances of death from lung cancer are about 15 to 20 times greater than for his non-smoking counterpart and are 5 to 10 times greater for the women.

The most likely candidate among American women for breast cancer is obese, age 40 to 44 or over 60, and has never had children, or if a mother, had her first child after she was 30. She has frequently had benign breast lumps and her mother or sisters had breast cancer.

Studies indicate that the profile for cancer of the cervix, or neck of the womb, might be a woman 50 to 70, non-white, immigrant of low income background; has borne children, had a history of early and frequent sexual intercourse with a number of partners. She also has never had a Pap test or regular health checkups.

For cancer of the endometrium, or body of the womb, the likely candidate is 50 to 65, had a late menopause, post-menopausal bleeding, is obese, tends toward high blood pressure and has a history of diabetes.

Other cancers lend themselves to high risk definition such as bladder cancer which has a relationship to cigarette smoking. There is also some causal relationship between chemicals such as vinyl chloride and those in the dye and printing industries, asbestos and several types of cancer.

Several of these are already under intense epidemiological study by the ACS in cooperation with unions and industry groups. These studies are headed by Drs. E. Cuyler Hammond of the ACS and Irving J. Selikoff of Mount Sinai Medical School in New York.

ACS past President Dr. Justin J. Stein has noted "the considerable knowledge in the field that has not been utilized to the fullest..."

"If an intense effort is made to assemble this knowledge and apply it, a major share of the 100,000 deaths due to late diagnosis could be averted, and additional thousands of those in the 'inevitable' mortality category might well never occur because of preventive measures based on identifying and eliminating environmental hazards.

"Because of these efforts, give generously to the volunteer who knocks on your door this month, and read the information in the leaflets she hands you," Dr. Fain concluded.

FATHER'S DAY is a very special observance today for Ronnie Ellis. Here Ellis holds his 8-month-old son Stephen who is decked out in a cream and brown suit identical to his—right down to the carnation on the lapels. Ellis' wife Sharleta made the father-son suits for Stephen and Ronnie especially for Father's Day. She said she spent 40 hours cutting and stitching the past two weeks so the suits would be ready by Sunday. (Staff Photo)

A Woman's View

By PEARL BRANDON

I FEEL SO grateful to be living in the small town of Littlefield. Everything is so peaceful and calm here.

Unlike big cities, you are only a few minutes from anything you need—the doctor, the hospital, the grocery store, the church. In fact, you can buy anything you need in our little town. We really have some very nice stores in Littlefield that handle good materials of all kinds.

I HATE shopping, so it seems very good to me to be able to go to town and trade with some clerk I have known for a long time, and who knows about what I like.

It is also very good to go to church where you know everybody. And it is good to be able to go to the hospital at any time, day or night and be admitted immediately.

LAST WEEK we made a quick trip over into New Mexico in the Silver City area. We lived there in 1928 and 1929. Things have really changed since then.

Santa Rita, the place we lived, was a small mining town where the open-pit copper mines are owned by the Chino Copper Co. My husband worked there then. Now, where the city of Santa Rita used to be, is all open pit mines.

IT GIVES YOU a kind of sad feeling to go back to an old home place and find it all changed, or nothing there. All that was left in the area where we lived was the old cemetery which was rather pitiful looking with its broken stones and leaning crosses.

We did enjoy the trip though. It was a beautiful drive through the mountains—my brother took us.

SO MANY nice unexpected things happen to make life interesting.

I picked up a poem by Helen Steiner Rice which expresses my thoughts exactly.

"Thank God For Little Things"

Thank you, God, for little things that often come our way—

The things we take for granted but don't mention when we pray—

The unexpected courtesy, the thoughtful kindly deed—

A hand reached out to help us in time of sudden need—

Oh make us more aware, dear God, of little daily graces.

That come to us with "sweet surprise" from never-dreamed-of places.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Resist It

WE ARE AFFECTED by many things, and this is life; an arrangement we cannot change. Nevertheless, we do have great capacity for identifying what is going to affect us and, to a great extent, how it is going to affect us.

This is easily evident from the different ways in which different people respond to the same happening.

WE HAVE THE RIGHT and the need to "resist it", when the influence of the occurrence, or the condition threatens our mental serenity and effectiveness.

If we make the mistake of permitting the perverse goings-on to pervade our life, we have opened the way to all kinds of hurtful personal difficulties.

WE CANNOT PREVENT all undesirable conditions, but we can "resist" the damage that they may have the potential to do to us.

It is important that we be continuously and intelligently aware of the fact that we can maintain our personal strength and integrity.

NO ONE DENIES that there are many difficulties, or that we do not know exactly what to do about some of them, but this is not new in the human experience.

This is reality, but there is no reason why we should be made to feel inadequate or inefficient by the influences of these difficulties. We can "resist it" successfully; and we must.

TRIBULATIONS and difficulties are part of the living experience. Of course, we want to keep them to a minimum and we never want to create them by our own faulty judgment.

Those which do occur can be so that the effect upon us is not overly hurtful. We can "resist" the possibilities, and thus be able to deal with what remains.

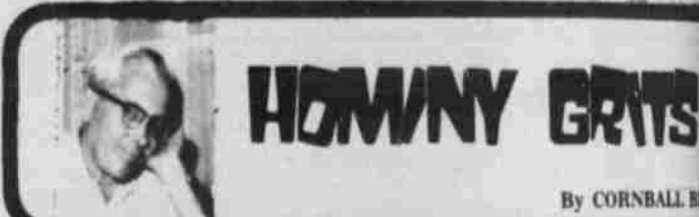

"Tribulation will not hurt you if it does what, alas! it often does: it hardens you, and makes you narrow and skeptical."

WE CAN DEFEND OURSELVES successfully against the real, usual and expected problems of life. We can cope with solving and overcoming them.

The general pervasiveness of the surroundings can be "resisted" if we are not able to change them, but we can prevent the damage to our lives by these things. This is well-being is real, but we can't

WE CAN WITHSTAND the and hurtful forces which are First, we must know that we have a desire to do so; and third, we must be strong inside.

WE CANNOT BE IMMUNE to the damaging influence of the things that exist in the world, but we can resist it very successfully.

HONEY GRITS

By CORNBALL B...

DO YOU REALLY believe there's an energy shortage? Most of us will just shake our heads and admit "We don't know." Maybe so, maybe not.

Whether we believe it or not, the answer is "Yes!" The powers that be, have so decided, and believe me, they're going to make it so. I've noticed a decided shortage around my house, for the simple reason I can't buy as much of it as I have in prior years. It costs too much.

JUST THIS WEEK, we narrowly missed a 23 cents per gallon hike in gasoline. At present major-brand prices, that would have brought the price of gas up to 78 cents per gallon!—For Regular, that is. Although the bill didn't get by the House this time, you can bet yer sweet patootie it'll be back, in some form or other, and before very long.

Needless to say, the commodity becomes as scarce as the ability to buy it, and that's where we're being put through the wringer. To make it short and to the point, the use of our energy (whether scarce or not) is being given to the rich, and those who are on open expense accounts. Like government officials, for instance.

I KNOW CONGRESS is under the impact of the criticism, but for goodness sake don't have to go berserk! Pray draw a big sigh of relief, when recessed.

Meantime, I'll continue to turn through the house, turning on lights, get to prepping a little turning on the air conditioner, time to a minimum, go to bed, drive the car a little less and when I do, let my dandelions of water, eat a lot of cold soups, build up a smoldering fire against the "haves".

JUST THIS week, I stopped at my favorite station for my bi-weekly gas. I listened to the trickle of into my tank, as the dials on the gauge whirled at a dizzying pace. I gauge was down on the big E, out my wallet, handed the attendant-dollar bill and said, "Here you can quit when the first full!"

Do think, though, I'm going to a couple gallons. That ought to get me to the polls, election!

Turn Row

COMMENTS

By EMIL MA...

HOPE THE COLD weather we had this past week is the last bad spell for this season. Can you imagine, 46 or 48 degrees here in June? The temperature is bad enough, but the wind sure did make the chill factor quite a bit lower, and neither did the crops any good.

Some of the farmers are complaining about not getting cotton on what is supposed to be seed. After an inspection, it is most of the trouble this year is that run north and south. Apparent wind kept the soil chilled more north and south rows than on that ran east and west, thus causing seed rotting problem.

Another thing that hindered from coming up was that the south rows because of seed being lower than the middles. (arg)

IN REFERENCE TO the cotton, many farmers have said that the cotton that was planted in the buster type planter did not do much damage from thrip as the which was planted with a bed. Something to think about in plans for next year. Again no in this country is the same.

THE DIFFERENCE BE gossip and news is whether you hear it.

Save your skin. It could save your life.

The sun can do more to your skin than burn it. Overexposure to the sun can also lead to skin cancer. If you work in the sun, or are a sun-worshiper, be sensible. Avoid prolonged exposure. Cover up. Cut down on the chances of skin cancer. It's your skin. Save it.

American Cotton Growers hold meeting . . .

DAN DAVIS, general manager of the Plains Cotton Cooperative Association, explained the textile pool contract summary report. "Cotton for the denim mill will come from a 250,000-bale pool provided by producers of the 26-member gins of the ACG on the High Plains and Rolling Plains of Texas. 300,000 acres are currently under contract, and using the latest projection of 1.04 bales per acre, about 312,000 bales have been committed to the textile pool," he advised. (Staff Photo)

ELLA LOVVORN program report on the construction of a new $30 million textile mill for Littlefield, report on the textile cotton contract which will supply the were the main topics of a membership meeting of members American Cotton Growers in Lubbock Thursday afternoon in the KoKo Palace.

esides the reports, a seven-member board of directors was elected by about 150 producer members attending to supervise the operations of the denim plant here.

Present were Doyce Middlebrook of Shallowater, Joe Leach of Plainview, Dallas Brewer of State Line, Harold Barrett of O'Donnell, L. C. Unfred of New Home, R. H. Whorton of Roscoe and T. W. Crosbyton of Crosbyton.

Addressing the session was T. W. Crosbyton, and presenting the report from the last meeting was L. C. Unfred, secretary.

According to the textile pool contract summary report, a total of 312,000 bales have been committed to the pool by producers and landlords.

The pool for the denim mill will be made up of a 250,000-bale pool provided by producers of the 26-member gins of the American Cotton Growers on the plains of Texas.

Presenting the textile pool report was Dan Davis, general manager of the Plains Cotton Cooperative Association (PCCA) of Lubbock.

Included in the contract are 26 member gins: Anton Gins, Littlefield Farmers, Crosbyton Division, Buford, Grove, College Avenue, Lubbock City, Friona Farmers, Rock County, Hale Center, Lea Coop, New Home Farmers, Shallowater Farmers, South Smyer, State Line, Coop, Tahoka Farmers, Coop, United Farm Ind., Farmers, Wilson Coop, Ham Coop, and Yoakum.

According to Davis, "Currently we have about 300,000 acres under contract, and using the latest projection of 1.04 bales per acre, we have about 312,000 bales committed to the textile pool."

The textile pool contract summary report indicates that there are a total of 309,494 contract acres projected 322,580 bales of cotton. The past five-year average yield for those gins mentioned were 232,502 bales.

Davis explained, "Our primary objective is to increase and stabilize the income of cotton producers. Pools have been used successfully for years by marketing associations in El Paso and California.

In addition to the cooperative gins, capital required to build the new plant here is being provided by the regional cotton cooperatives at Lubbock—the PCCA, Plains Cooperative Oil Mill and Farmers Cooperative Compress.

Long-term financing is provided by the Houston Bank for Cooperatives, and representatives of that firm were present for the meeting.

Manager of the denim mill, Bob Hale, presented a "guided tour of the plant" by way of colored slides, and explained the entire operation from one end to the other of the 8.4-acre building.

He predicted that completion of the site preparation would come near the end of July, and that the foundation work is scheduled to begin in the next few days.

He showed slides of Littlefield's downtown area and of some of the business buildings in town. He pointed out the vacant furniture building on the corner of Phelps and Third Streets, where Rogers Furniture was formerly located, and stated that personnel training for the plant will be done there.

He indicated those personnel would be trained to work with the installation of the machinery as it comes in, and be taught about the operation from the beginning.

Hale projected plans for the erection of steel about mid October, and gave other projected plans for walls, roofing, flooring, boiler installation, etc., but indicated they were not ready for publication yet.

Actual weaving and dyeing operations have been scheduled to begin in the spring of next year, and yarn spinning is to begin about a year later. Hale emphasized that a worldwide demand for the open-end spinning frames was the reason for the delay in getting the equipment installed.

Hale indicated that the demand for denim is not being met, and that the denim market continues to remain strong.

He also advised that the only U.S. chemical manufacturer that supplies the indigo paste for dyeing yarn for denim has revealed an expansion of 25 percent at one plant to take care of the increased demand for indigo dye.

In conclusion, Hale emphasized "The most important part of an entire operation is the people that are involved.

He went on to thank all of those instrumental in the instigation of the mill, and introduced Mickey Brewer as personnel manager, and Fred Eddins as assistant plant manager.

Thrips On Cotton, A Grower Conce

"The recent large influx of thrips into seedling cotton has caused concern on the part of Lamb County growers," states County Agent Buddy Logsdon. "Thrips are encountered every year, but only occasionally are they a problem. Good winter and spring moisture and large acreages of wheat mean heavier thrips pressure than usual. However, the 1975 situation is somewhat different from normal years," he continued. "The main difference is that a large portion of our cotton is currently in the seedling stage. Generally, by June 6, most of our cotton is in the four to six-leaf stage. Since we haven't had any real cotton growing weather till the last few days, the cotton has just been sitting there while the wheat has gone on maturing. With the wheat maturing, the thrips are looking for a new host. Cotton is now in its most susceptible stage with all factors in favor of the pest," Logsdon explains. Many growers have done their own experimenting—treating a portion of a field and leaving another portion untreated. When they have harvested these two blocks, they have most often found no yield increase in the treated portion, Logsdon adds. Most entomologists on the High Plains say that thrip infestations sufficient to cause yield reductions are a rare event. This year may be the exception. Because of the number of thrips present in seedling cotton and the type of plant injury observed to date, there are likely to be fields that will benefit if the thrips are controlled, Logsdon believes. The most severely affected fields observed have been those close to wheat. However, each field should be evaluated individually and the decision made after considering the extent of damage. "Plant damage and insect numbers are the major consideration in determining the need for control measures," he says. On newly emerged seedlings, treatment is recommended if the leaf buds between the cotyledons are being affected. Thrips have rasping-sucking mouth parts and their feeding desiccates the leaf bud tissue turning it black. Only a few thrips per plant are necessary to retard growth if their feeding is concentrated in the bud. Thus, if a substantial portion of the seedlings in a field show bud damage, treatment is generally warranted. If fields of seedling cotton are treated, they should be checked again within 48-72 hours, Logsdon emphasizes. Most of the insecticides are effective for three to four days; however, the thrips may continue to migrate into seedling cotton fields continue to have a second application warranted if reinfestation occurs. With good weather and the days afforded by the protection, the thrips may have reached the point they can tolerate thrips numbers without treatment. On cotton that has four-leaf stage or more, treatment is recommended on a basis of plant injury. Growth is being retarded, lower leaves are turning black, and probably warranted. "Bud damage has retarded plant growth, brings up another consideration," Logsdon says. "If bud damage is already apparent, days behind with the crop and when you get north in the cotton season for cotton is (100 days). Most think back to last year what a cool fall can do to cotton. Another 10-day delay to thrips could be what a harmful, so evaluate. If bud damage is treat—if not, don't. Several insecticides demonstrated themselves effective at very low explains. The advantageous aspect rates is that they are beneficial insects mended insecticides are carried in the Insect Control which is available in Texas Agricultural Service office.

Birkelbach Shocks WOW 4-1

Birkelbach put together a three run rally in the fourth inning Tuesday and held on to beat WOW 4-1, giving the Woodmen their first major league loss of the year.

Eddie Gregory got all the hits for WOW, two singles and a double. Scot Yarbrough handled the pitching for the Woodmen, now 9-1.

LEADER-NEWS 15, SECURITY STATE 5

In the only minor league game of the week, Leader-News kept their perfect streak alive Thursday by drubbing Security State 15-5.

It was the Newsmen's eighth win, and on the other side of the coin, the Bankers' seventh straight loss.

Eight runs in the first two innings made it easy for Leader-News, and Pitcher Charles Jackson never let Security State have a chance by twirling a one-hitter. David Brady nailed a pair of singles for the winners, and Raymond Sierra and Scott Lewis punched singles.

Oscar Torres stroked a hit for Security State. Quentin Clark took the loss.

Todd Simpson blasted a homer and a single for the winners. George Gallegos belted two singles and a double, and Drake singled.

Pat Torres and Ramon Perea led Rotary with a double and single each. David Guajardo, Beadel Anzaldúa and Fernando Sanchez each notched hits. Randy Horne was the pitcher.

Thoughts

From The Living Bible
 "Who was this fellow?" the king demanded. "What did he look like?" "He was a hairy man," they replied, "with a wide leather belt." "It was Elijah the prophet!" the king exclaimed. Then he sent an army captain with fifty soldiers to arrest him. They found him sitting on top of a hill. The captain said to him, "O man of God, the king has commanded you to come along with us." But Elijah replied, "If I am a man of God, let fire come down from heaven and destroy you and your fifty men!"

II Kings 1:7-10
 Religious Heritage of America

Pioneer hitters were Ronald Hernandez, Jay Jaquess and Gary Vaughn.

Billy Savala, Andrew Duran and Gregg White all pounded hits for the Chiefs. Kirk Upton pitched.

LIONS 20, TIGERS 17

Scoring five runs in every inning, the Lions outlasted the Tigers Thursday 20-17.

The win put the Lions at 5-2 for the season and gave them sole possession of second place.

Paul Mendez, Blake Dalton and Kerry Jones crossed the plate three times each to lead the Lions. Mike Pierce and Todd Blevins scored twice. Mendez was the winning hurler.

Pitcher Sammy Hardin and Devron Duke notched three runs apiece in a losing effort.

'Texas' Opens Season

To open the 10th season of "Texas"—the musical drama of Panhandle history—the first bugle will sound in the Palo Duro Canyon at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 18.

The cast is rehearsing eight hours a day. The new seats are in place. The office staff is almost adjusted to its expanded quarters.

Clean up crews, light and sound crews, stage crews, concession crews, crews for distributing brochures and posters, office crews for checking founders' lists for their special 10th anniversary honors, for preparing opening night exhibits, for typing news releases and stories, for adding the last information to the souvenir program copy, for preparing press kits, for answering letters and inquiries about the show and for preparing stories about individual people in the show.

Above all, there is the box office crew.

"I'm sorry, madam, we cannot make your reservation until we know which night you wish to come."

"No deposit is necessary. We shall hold your tickets until 7:30 the day of your reservation. If they haven't been picked up by then we shall have to release them for sale."

"The price of the Barbeque is $2.80 for adults and $1.50 for children. No reservations for the meal is necessary."

"I'm sorry, but we really don't know if the horses enjoy their parts in the show. They do learn their cues very quickly."

"There will be fireworks opening night and on the fourth of July."

"Yes, all seats are reserved."

"Yes, it is much better to make reservations in advance. Any cancellations are sold at the theatre at 6 each evening."

"The parking is free."

"Do plan to be at the gate of the Canyon before 8 p.m. in order to be in your seats by 8:30 p.m."

"No, we cannot allow dogs in the theatre no matter how well trained they are."

"No, there is no danger from Indians or wild beasts."

"No, it is not a movie."

"I'm sorry that the actors cannot bring an evening program to your club. They have to be on stage at that time."

"We shall be glad to send you further information. Write 'Texas', Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015 for it and be sure to include your address. The office is at 2010 Fourth Avenue in Canyon."

CHATTING INFORMALLY after the annual ACG membership meeting and board election are Mickey Brewer, new personnel manager for the denim textile mill being built in Littlefield; Bob Hale, plant manager; Dan Davis, general manager of the Plains Cotton Cooperative Association in Lubbock; and Fred Eddins, assistant plant manager. Season Underway At Six Flags

With nearly a half million visits recorded during the spring season, Six Flags Over Texas has begun daily operation for the summer months.

The entertainment center's vice president and general manager, Dan Howells, said attendance through the Memorial Day weekend was ahead of last year's figures for the same number of operating days despite the worst spring weather in history.

"We're particularly pleased with the increase in numbers of tourists from outside Texas," he said. "For example, our attendance from the upper Midwest is up a third over 1974's figures."

Six Flags Over Texas will be open daily through Labor Day, and then will return to a weekend-only schedule through the end of November.

Howells said all additions to the theme park's entertainment lineup are in full operation, including the new Rotorious thrill ride.

He said the park will continue to present top name stars in concert on selected nights during the summer season. Some of the entertainers already booked for Six Flags appearances are Ray Stevens, Barbi Benton, Chuck Berry and Anne Murray.
