

's Back To School Time For Littlefield Students

...end to the summer vacation... hours away for Littlefield... as they begin their annual... to school Monday... officials expect approximately... to be on hand when the... Monday morning at 9 to signal... end of summer vacation... opening hours will be the same... as all grades will begin at 9... with Primary letting out at... the first six weeks, Elementary

I and Elementary II letting out at 3:15, classes will end at High School at 3:55 and Junior High students will be dismissed at 4. Students won't have to wait long for a holiday though, as Littlefield schools will observe the Labor Day holiday, Monday Sept. 2. There are three changes in key positions in the school's administration this year as Jack York will be in his first year as superintendent of the system,

Tommy Brawley will serve his first year as high school principal and Byron Ford is the new junior high principal. All buildings except Elementary II received some new paint this year with the Primary Building receiving an extensive inside paint job. All hallways were painted in the other buildings. Littlefield's school buildings should be improving in looks somewhat in the coming year as York budgeted and the School Board approved almost three times the amount for this area than has been budgeted in recent years. York also presented to the board a two-year proposal for improving the buildings and grounds—two areas which have received much criticism for their present appearances. Included in these proposals, which are to be updated by the superintendent's office on a regular basis, include painting of all buildings (including all classrooms), extensive roof work on all buildings, including the west pressbox at Wildcat Stadium, replace all broken glass in the buildings with priority given to the junior high, build new visitor's bleachers at Wildcat Stadium, re-work the parking lot at the high school and start and carry through a program to grow grass on the playgrounds. Within the next three years, the new superintendent also proposes to remove all glass from the high school and junior high gyms and to brick them in and air condition them, build at least four (preferably six) tennis courts with at least two at high school and two at junior high and to put a top on the patio at high school to create and develop an "open concept learning center."

Littlefield Native Publishes New Book

"Just A Moment" is just off the press. It is a new book, the latest literary effort from the writings of Dr. Otis B. Testerman, Littlefield native. This 92-page volume is a collection of 121 selected articles written for weekly church newsletters over the years of the author's active and varied pulpit, community and Christian writing ministry in Texas, Arizona, and Colorado, where he is now pastor of Bookcliff Baptist Church in Grand Junction.

President William B. Tanner of Oklahoma Baptist University in his Foreword to Dr. Testerman's latest work, says: "...one central theme binds these modern parables together: the power and grace of God to reclaim, strengthen, and transform lives. The 'elan vital' of these vignettes is constructed around living, everyday incidents from the author's experience. Dr. Testerman has that unique gift shared only with a few: the ability to relate the commonplace to the profound tenets of the Christian faith... These stories are the gems from an intense and fruitful ministry... each is a complete message within itself, ushering the reader inevitably toward the Christ perspective and better balance of one's life..."

In addition to his pulpit and community activities, the author has been a newspaper columnist, writing numerous articles that have been published in various papers and periodicals. Recently Dr. Testerman published a three-booklet study for new church members and a booklet of doctrine for new members class study, "The Steady Walk." "Devils, Demons, and Spirits" is another recent and popular book distributed locally. "Just A Moment," published by The Challenge Press of Little Rock, Arkansas, sells for $2. It is available through local bookstores or by ordering directly from the author, c/o Bookcliff Baptist Church, 2700 F Road, Grand Junction, Colo. 81501. Dr. Testerman has served as pastor of churches at First Baptist, Crosbyton; First Baptist, Breckenridge; James Avenue, Ft. Worth; and First Baptist, Glen Rose.

Smith-Newton Wedding Solemnized Aug. 17

Sandra Jo Smith and Robby Joe Newton exchanged double-ring wedding vows Saturday afternoon, Aug. 17, in the Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Littlefield.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Joe O. (Toby) Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Don Newton of Littlefield.

Rev. Joe James officiated for the reading of the vows.

Flanking the altar were arched candelabra entwined with greenery and blue ribbon and holding blue candles. A pedestal on the side of the altar held the memory candle.

An arrangement of blue and white gladioli and blue and white daisies and babies breath was placed above the altar and had a blue light shining behind it. And to the side, the bubbling water fountain was also tinted blue.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional gown of white silken organza with accents of Venise lace. The mouled bodice was designed with a deep portrait neckline featuring a Bertha collar of lace over a circular flounce of dotted organge edged in bobbin lace. The long bishop sleeves were gathered to lace cuffs. A satin sash defined the slightly hi-rise waistline encircled in a border of venise lace over a circular flounce of the lace edged dotted voile. The entire silhouette was complemented by a detachable bubble train that featured a wide vertical panel of the dotted organge framed in the bobbin lace and swept to reach chapel length. Her bouffant veiling was also edged in tiny flowers of bobbin lace and fell in triple tiers from a capulet also edged in matching lace. For something old the bride wore her great-grandmother's eighty-seven year old gold wedding band. Something new was her bridal gown. For something borrowed, she wore her mother's wedding earrings and a pearl necklace which belongs to the groom's mother. She wore the traditional blue garter. In her shoes, she wore pennies minted in the years of the couples births.

Diana Dolle attended her cousin as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Michael Ann Smith and Phyllis Smith, sisters of the bride. The dresses were designed with a slightly hi-rise waistband with blue velvet ribbon ties, sheer short puff sleeves and portrait neckline with a ruffle. The slightly gathered skirt was accented with a full ruffle on the bottom. They wore white picture hats trimmed with blue velvet ribbon and carried white baskets with blue and white daisies, white baby carnations and pink rose buds with babies breath and blue ribbons.

The groom wore a navy blue dinner jacket, white pants, white shirt and navy blue tie with a white rose boutonniere.

Jerry Evins of Littlefield served as bestman. Groomsman were Tommy Clayton of Springlake and Chris Newton brother of the groom.

Ushers were Rocky Carpenter of Lubbock, cousin of the groom and Alvin Walker of Littlefield, cousin of the bride.

Candle lighters, attired in white robes, were Vince Smith, brother of the bride and Mark Newton, brother of the groom.

Traditional wedding selections were played by Lydia Green, the bride's aunt.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Smith wore a formal-length light blue gown of crepe de chine with voile sleeves with silver accessories. Mrs. Newton wore a formal-length gown with a navy blue sleeveless top and white floral designed skirt with white accessories. Both mothers wore an orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the parish hall. The serving table, covered with a white net flounce, was topped with a blue satin cloth accented with blue velvet bows. The table was centered with a crystal candle holder with blue candles and bride's bouquet. The bridesmaids' baskets were placed on each corner of the table. The three tiered wedding cake featured light blue apple blossoms and white sugar bells and topped with bells and net. The cake and blue punch were served by LaNona Betts and Vivian Davis both of Littlefield. Nuts and mints, served from silver and crystal appointments completed the table.

Guests were registered by Tena Wells of Littlefield. The registration table was centered with a crystal candle holder with blue candles and large picture of the bride.

The bride chose a mint green pant suit for her traveling attire with white accessories. She wore a white rose corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

New Food Stamp Regulations Set

Under a proposed regulation by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, an individual who wants to retain eligibility for food stamp program benefits would have to accept a job which requires joining a bonafide labor organization recognized by the National Labor Relations Act.

The regulation would not require the recipient to join a company union.

In order to participate in the food stamp program all recipients, with certain exceptions, must register for and accept employment.

Current regulations, however, permit a recipient to refuse a job in which he is required to join, resign from, or refrain from joining any legitimate labor organization. The proposed amendment is in line with regulations for the Work Incentive Program of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Public comments are invited on the proposed regulation which is scheduled for publication in the Federal Register on Wednesday, Aug. 21.

Written comments may be mailed or delivered to Royal Ship, Acting Director, Food Stamp Division, Food and Nutrition Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. 20250, so as to be received not later than Sept. 20. Comments received

To The EDITOR

August 22, 1974
Route 1
Littlefield, Texas

Dear Editor,

It has been said recently that no one cares about anyone but themselves any more. If these cynics could have been at the Walter Gray farm last Tuesday afternoon when it was discovered that 2 1/2-year-old Darrell Wayne Gray was missing, they would have to re-evaluate their thinking.

The quick response of the Sheriff's Department to aid in the search and the many, many friends and neighbors who also came to our aid was so gratifying, there is no real words to express our thanks and appreciation.

To the Sheriff's Department, our friends and neighbors, the people of the Spade community— Again we say "Thank you" for helping us find Darrell. People are always there with helping hands and loving hearts when you need them.

Dear Editor,

I would like to remind the school children that we will appreciate them coming and eating lunch in the lunchroom again this year.

We are going to some extra trouble to serve better tasting food this year. They will still meet type A requirements.

We would also like for the parents to come eat with us occasionally and see what kind of food we serve.

It will be nice, too for teachers to eat with us. Where else can you get a complete meal for 75 cents? You would also be encouraging the children to eat with us.

To parents of children receiving free tickets, please see that they use them. They are not to be sold to other children. We must prepare enough food for them whether they come or not, but we do not get any reimbursement unless they eat. So we lose money on lots of meals when they do not use their tickets, and cannot operate on and on in this manner.

We hope all will cooperate in this matter.

Thank you,
Bertice Walker,

Dear Editor:

I want to thank the editor for printing my views on weather modification, and I hope it has been of some value to our area.

Sometime back, Dale Stanley was interviewed on tape, and it was aired over Levelland radio. He stated "people are just misinformed about what we are doing. This is a completely open operation, and the public is invited to come see it in action. We time the seeding of the clouds to allow only 15 minutes to the target area". He also gave a number of twin engine airplanes that is in this area.

I fully agree the people are misinformed, and he is the most misinformed of anyone I know of. REASON: Since the lawsuit ended, the operation has started making in code. Only the cloud seeders know the meaning of code. There is nothing "open to the public" about that. They don't want it known where they are or what they are doing. Since they have the blessing of our court behind them, I can see no reason for any secrecy. If they are really trying to help us, it should be publicized in bold print.

As for seeding the clouds 15 minutes before target arrival. A cloud seeding western Bailey county (and this has been done many times this year) would have to be moving at the rate of 240 mph to reach the target area some 60 miles to the east within that 15 minutes. Every cloud system that has developed from the west has had a going over with silver iodide as soon as it crosses the Texas state line.

As for the twin engine airplanes. I agree there is a good sized number of them, but only 5 of that number haul silver iodide as their cargo. No twin engine plane, but a cloud seeder heads directly into and enters a thunderstorm cloud. This has been going on now for 4 years. These planes are well known.

August 8. In the mid-evening thunderstorm clouds again built up all over the south plains. No thunder or lightning, just typical west Texas rain clouds. I watched the planes take off at 5. They headed directly for a good build up of cells in western Bailey county. I turned on the radio. The man on the ground running the radar and directing the cloud seeding traffic asked, "is there any hail". The pilot answered back "no just rain. Clouds has reported 1 and 1/2 inches". No hail or turbulent weather was reported by the pilots anywhere on the south plains. They reported a lot of "rode 13 and 14". I am assuming that means "clear the skies". That is just exactly what happened. By the pilots own words, they started their rain making process in the Muleshoe area. They came back across Amherst, north to the Earth area, back across Littlefield, down to Shallowater, across Lubbock, back over Levelland, and across to the Hale Center area. While over Lubbock, one of the pilots said "Lubbock radar is over powering me". This evening's operation started at 5, and by 7:30, we had the prettiest clear blue skies as has ever been seen on the south plains, but there was no rain from this system.

Again Sunday morning the 11th. A good cloud system developed. By the time church was over, the clouds were gone. The same evening we again had possibilities of rain. That was taken care of too.

Tuesday night Aug. 20. Excellent chances of rain developed across western Bailey county. Our better weather boys gave them a going over also. This started about 10 p.m. and the planes came back to the airport around 12:30. As usual, again no rain from very good possibilities.

Atmospherics, Inc. says our clouds need stimulating to produce increased rain, and man have they been stimulated this summer. So much so, it caused the death of every single one of them that could have been potential rain makers, except one when the planes couldn't get off the ground. Only this one time have we had anything that could be called rain.

I have lived here since 1929. This summer has produced as many changes for natural rain as I have ever seen. Our clouds this summer might have produced normal rain fall for our entire area, if they had been left alone, but the better weather boys know more than nature, so we get a good dose of stimulation, and our clouds are stimulated clear out of existence.

I have spent much time and effort in studying scientific research data from all over the globe. The end result is the same. All dry. The truth of what has happened in the past and what is happening now has been printed. It's project CIRRUS all over again, only much more disastrous this time. All I can see that the cloud seeders have learned is how to very effectively stop all rain fall, and manage to get the most hail damage that has ever been recorded in the same year. This area is the driest it has been in 64 years of recorded weather records. This is not natural. The worst drought year of the 50s produced 12.20 inches of rain.

The title of Aug. 21, Atmospherics Inc. airplanes was on the ground. The result! My rain gauge had 1 1/2 inches in it at 9 Aug. 22. This is not Henderson's increased rain. It's nature working for us. When our clouds are left alone, they produce rain. This could have been happening all summer. Nature needs no help, or hindrance.

When you good people have decided you have had enough of this better weather, maybe you will ban together with us and help the Weather Committee get the airplanes stopped. Then and only then can we have natural weather that our cloud systems has to offer us. We would have some rain, and probably some hail with it.

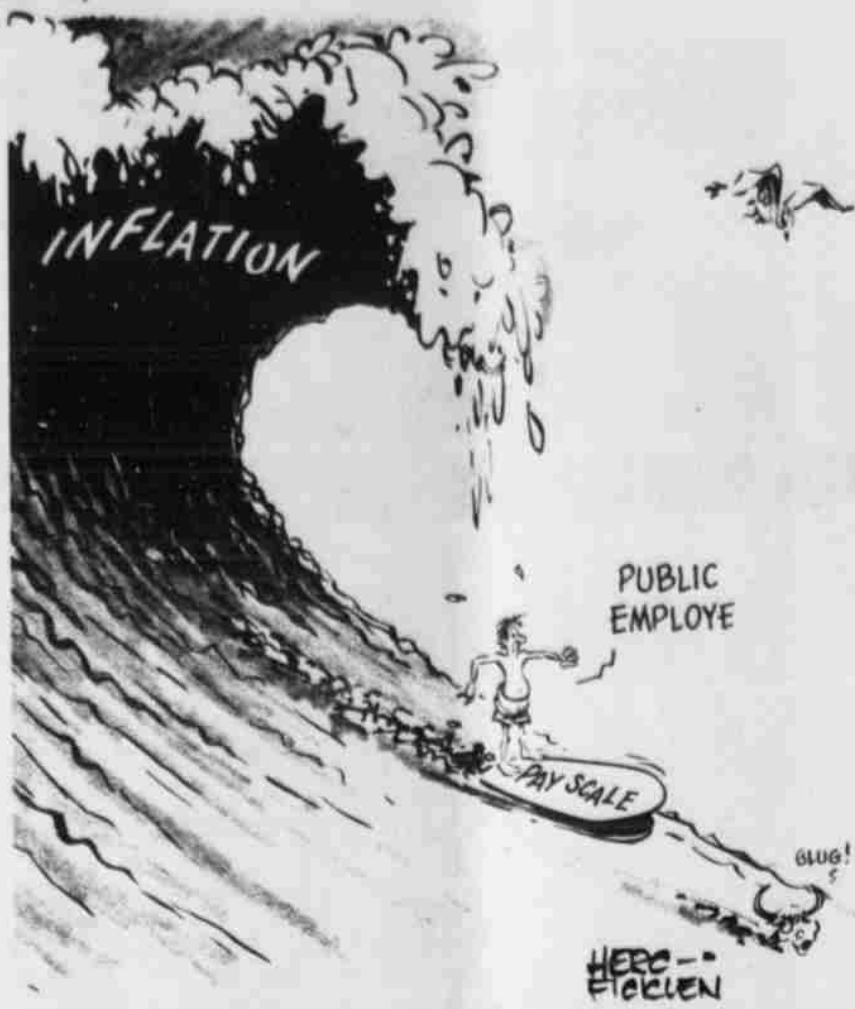

We all made a great area out of the south plains, hail and all, before 1970. The cloud seeders arrived, and it hasn't been the same since. Even hail has increased far above normal years, and the rain gauges fill with sand instead of life giving rain.

The Weather Committee needs your help. I want to thank all of you for reading what I have written whether you agree with me or not. With your help, it can be better next year.

Sincerely,

s/Tommy McKinnon

A Woman's View

By PEARL BRANDON

I RECEIVED a letter a few days ago from a woman who was very much disturbed over her sister who was near death. She spoke of death as something to be greatly feared.

She said she suffered a nervous breakdown once when another sister died and she was afraid she would do the same thing if she was with this one when she passed away. However, she felt very guilty because she wasn't there taking care of her beloved sister who was so very ill.

WHY ARE WE so afraid of death? We all rejoice when a new baby is born. Yet the Bible (that great book we have to live by in this life) tells us that we have nothing to fear from death—it's only the beginning again.

In II Corinthians 4:16, 18 we have this, "That is why we never give up, though our bodies are dying, our inner strength in the Lord is growing every day."

These troubles and sufferings of ours, after all, are quite small and won't last very long. Yet this short time of distress will result in God's richest blessing upon us forever and ever!

SO WE DO not look at what we can see right now, the troubles all around us, but we look forward to the joys in heaven which we have not yet seen. The troubles will soon be over, but the joys to come will last forever.

We wouldn't want to live forever in these old bodies."

MY MOTHER was very beautiful as a young woman—tall and straight with dark hair that fell far below her waist when she wore it long. She could never get used to herself after she began to age and become bent with arthritis.

When we took her to the doctor she used to say, "Well, doctor, I have brought my old body back to you for a few repairs." She never lost her sense of humor, but the time came when she was glad to go.

IT GOES on to say in 5th Corinthians, "For we know that when this tent we live in now is taken down—when we die and leave these bodies (only temporary homes)—we will have beautiful new bodies in heaven, homes that will be ours forever, made for us by God Himself, and not by human hands."

How weary we grow of our present bodies. I heard a woman say, "We no sooner get over one thing than something else occurs. I guess this is the penalty of growing old."

WE KNOW IT isn't only the aged who have physical difficulties. Many young people have seen very few well days. Not many of us would want to live forever like we are.

Back to Corinthians, "That is why we look forward eagerly to the day when we shall have heavenly bodies which we shall put on like new clothes. For we shall not be merely spirits without bodies."

These earthly bodies make us groan and sigh, but we wouldn't like to think of dying and having no bodies at all. We want to slip into our new bodies that these dying bodies will, as it were, be swallowed up by everlasting life."

THESE QUOTATIONS are from the new "Love" translation of the Bible and are from II Corinthians, chapters 4 and 5.

If you do not have one of these translations you should get one. The wording is beautiful.

WE HAVE had several deaths in Littlefield recently. I hope these few words will bring you who have lost loved ones some comfort.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Pitch It Low

By BOB W.

IF WE EXPECT GOOD of others, they will usually try to meet our expectations. Of course, this does not give us a basis for expecting the impossible.

Nevertheless, as a general rule, others try to live up to our reasonable expectations for them; and we try to reach the expectations which others have for us. Much good is done in this way.

In this area of expectations, involving the more intimate and more personal relationships, we must keep the expectations as reasonable, and sensible as possible; and as high as possible within the limitations of reason and good sense.

THESE EXPECTATIONS should be expressed for the purpose of encouraging and building up those with whom we are closely associated. We want them to do better; for their sake, not for our sake; we know that they can do better; and that they will be appreciative for those who expect better things of them.

We will do better, too; when associated with people who expect better things of us.

THERE IS ANOTHER AREA of expectations, a more general one, which is very important in our interaction with other people. In this area, the expectations are not necessarily intimate, not nearly as personal; but are part of our broader view, and are much more casual.

We must not let these expectations and those of our more personal relationships become confused. Whatever over-lapping there may be, will be incidental; but, in our minds, the distinction must be maintained.

WE MUST NOT EXPECT perfection because this is not a justifiable expectation. In the general area of expectations: it is mostly a matter of accepting others as they are, and accepting their performance as it is.

It is futile for us to insist that people be what we think they should be or that their performance be even what we want it to be. Of course, there are some special times and situations generally, we must accept people as they are.

"IF YOU EXPECT perfection of people, your whole life is a series of disappointments, grumbling, complaints. If, on the contrary, you pitch your expectations low, taking as the inefficient creatures which are, you are frequently surprised having them perform better than had hoped." - B. Barton.

UNJUSTIFIED EXPECTATIONS may be one of the most prolific causes of hurtful strife and mental turmoil.

If we try to impose our expectations upon people, we create other difficulties; both within ourselves and our associations with these people.

WITHIN THIS CONTEXT, it is important to remember that the expectations we have for ourselves are reasonable.

Some can be high, perhaps; but it is necessary that we "pitch our expectations low."

ALL EXPECTATIONS must be formed, with the greatest degree of wisdom.

HOWNY GRIPS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

NOTHING QUITE LIKE the feeling of awakening in the morning to the patter of raindrops on your roof. That is, if you've got some of that old sod-buster blood left in your veins. Of course there are times when it isn't so welcome, but there's never a time when it doesn't do someone some good.

Our late showers might be termed too little, and too late for the most of our dry-land farmers, but certainly are a benefit to those that do have some crops going. Then, of course, there are the ones that had hay on the ground—!

I WAS "BRUNG-UP" on the farm, and spent a part of my early married life, plying the trade. As a result I spent more of my time wishing for rain, than I did working in the fields. Still, and to this day, I get a feeling of satisfaction out of seeing and hearing a good rain.

Thus, when I roused last Thursday morning to hear the rain running off the roof, my first impulse was to turn over and go back to sleep. (Nothing I could do in the field, anyway, and the cows could wait an hour or two, to be fed and milked.)

BUT THEN, I WAS brought into the present world, by our merciless alarm. Not only does it make a disagreeable noise, it turns a light on, right in your face!

The place where I sell my time and invaluable know-how, is open for business, on working days, come sleet, snow, rain, hail, or high water. Instead of drowsing in bed and listening to the rain, I'm supposed to get out in it—Shux!

I'M AFRAID Mrs. Brandon misinterpreted some of the things I said in a previous article. I mean no disrespect nor animosity in the things I write to straighten out the misconception.

Perhaps I wasn't quite clear in the things I meant to say. If she misunderstood, then I'm sure there were others who did the same. I know I'm quite capable of slaughtering the English language.

WHEN I MENTIONED the satisfaction of seeing myself in print, I wasn't merely referring to my name. Were this the case, I'm sure I'd want it to be my full and correct name. Of course, I wouldn't tolerate the name of "CORNBALL"—it is derogatory. What I meant by the term "projection of myself, my thoughts, characteristics, my likes and dislikes, even my personal traits through printed word. In fact, it may be still trying to become acquainted with myself. And as I analyze myself, still unsure as to whether I like it or not. When I find out for sure, I want to drop OL' CORNBALL and adopt some high sounding pen name; on the other hand, it may come to me where I won't even read my own name. Some of it I have trouble owning at best.

AS FAR AS religion is concerned, I have no denomination to promote or defend. I only pledge allegiance to Son of God and His Church, of which children of God are members.

And no, (in answer to the question) I do not attribute my writing to the direct prompting of God. I hold Him responsible for some of the stuff I write. If any of the things are good, then I do not hesitate to attribute them to the influence of "Engranted Word" that might find a lodging place in my pen. All good is of God, and His Word is a Guide.

BUT THEN, I, AS all men, am a person. Some of me is good, and other is bad, and sometimes I'm a mixture of us is using my typewriter to feel that a steady diet of preachy religious projection isn't so palatable for a bi-weekly newspaper. I want to think that my writing is something for all our readers.

So...? If I might ease someone's cause a little mirth and gladness, even just a little smile; if I might even to have a serious thought or things, or prompt them to higher things, then raise our indignation by about the baser things, perhaps in vain—Do you agree?

AND WHO KNOWS? One of the things I might even get to know of God and find just what it is that HE has in mind.

Mrs. Brandon, I respect and you for being the fine and great person that you are.

Turn Row COMMENTS

By EMIL MACH

I'VE HEARD it time and again that the various truckers do not obey the 55 m.p.h. speed limit. And of course if you are driving on the highways it is not an uncommon sight to have a huge truck pass you.

It sort of gripes me a bit, but after talking to a few truckers I can't help but be a little sympathetic toward them.

Most of the trucks on the highway today were ordered or bought before the new speed limit was established, and those trucks were designed to run the old speed limit and carry a certain amount. After the new limit was established, all this special designing to get maximum efficiency out of a $24,000 truck tractor was in vain.

Now the trucker has to drive a gear lower to maintain the proper motor rpm's and yet stay inside the speed limit.

In doing this, he uses more fuel, the same time creates more friction in his transmission or other boxes.

Most all of the larger trucks are of design to carry large payloads, 70 m.p.h. but now the margin of profit and loss in the trucking industry is very slim because of added cost created by the lower speed limit.

SPEAKING OF CORNBALL, denied putting the "Bald is Back" bumper sticker on my bumper. As he mentioned it, I wouldn't put him to be the guilty person.

GUESS I'LL CUT this column this week because I've got a few my counterpart will have another article again.

Calling All Homemakers

...TO YOU BY
...AND CAROL WALLACE
...OULD FURNITURE BE POSITIONED STRAIGHT OR ON A DIAGONAL?
...ple often ask if they should put their furniture parallel to a wall—or if it's all right to use some furniture normally.
...erally speaking, a usually looks better the big pieces run parallel to a wall. This helps to create more space. It is more pleasing to the eye and is often more practical. However, like the rules of decorating, there can be exceptions based on personal preference or specific situations, so there are times when major pieces could be placed diagonally, but most decorators prefer parallel placement in the majority of cases for the big pieces. Small pieces, on the other hand, may often be placed at an angle to a wall. By doing this you can break up an overabundance of straight lines and give a room more interest and contrast.
...ther thing to consider is that even though you are placing a big piece, such as a sofa, parallel to a wall, the sofa doesn't necessarily have to cling to the wall. You might want to float it—letting it sit free in the room—and still keep its back parallel to a wall even though it is not close to that wall.
...hatever your preferences are, remember that we can help you select beautiful furniture—and give you some ideas on how to place your furniture in the most beautiful way, too. Stop in.

Amherst Seeks To Better 7-3 Record

Amherst was the Cinderella team of the area last year. After dropping 10 straight ballgames in 1972, the Bulldogs went 7-3 last season and challenged for the district championship.

This fall, under the tutelage of new Coach Duane Gray, the Bulldogs are expected to have a good shot at the District 2-B, north zone crown. They return 11 starters and eight seniors. "We're primarily going to be a senior ball club," Gray said. "Richard Holley (quarterback) and Curtis Ivey (fullback) are the only junior offensive starters. All the rest are seniors."

On the line, the Bulldogs should be especially tough. Scott Harmon (180) at tackle and Eddie Duvall (175) at guard are rated by Gray as "our best linemen, and so far they've been doing a real outstanding job." Ronnie Burton (200) at the other tackle and David Booth (160) at center are also expected to provide strong line play. The ends, John Booth and Frankie Williams, add experience to the lineup.

Amherst will use both the Wishbone and Pro I formations. "We'll use the fullback quite a bit as a blocker," Gray explained. "We hope to be able to throw the ball quite a bit, but right now the kids are having trouble catching the ball. I think later on they'll come along and start catching it, though. Out of the wishbone, we'll run the option, but it won't be a true triple option." Defensively, the Bulldogs will run a five-two. Harmon, Duvall, and the Booth brothers should be the standouts.

"I'm real pleased with our spirit," Gray said. "So far, the kids have had tremendous enthusiasm. And this really helps a team. We've been getting a lot out of them in workouts, and they've picked up the new system real well. "I guess if you had to point out our weakness, it would be our lack of speed. About the fastest boy we've got does around 10.6 in the 100, so we'll have to rely more on our quickness, which is pretty good. We'll have decent height and better than average size." Since District 2-B is composed of 14 teams, it had to be split into two zones, and the winners of the two zones meet in a "playoff" for the district championship. "I imagine Meadow will have the best shot to win the south zone, with Sundown a close runner-up," Gray predicted. "In our zone, Matador and Sudan should be the teams we'll have to get by to advance to the playoffs."

The Bulldogs scrimmage the Littlefield JV in Amherst Thursday at 7 p.m.

THURSDAY: The Springlake-Earth Wolverines at a glance.

AMHERST'S SCHEDULE: Sept. 6-Springlake-Earth-T-8 p.m.; Sept. 13-Meadow-H-8; Sept. 20-Anton-T-8; Sept. 27-Happy-T-8; Oct. 4-Lazbuddie-H-8; Oct. 11-Nazareth-T-7:30; Oct. 18-Wilson-H-7:30; Oct. 25-Matador-H-7:30; Nov. 1-Sudan-T-7:30; Nov. 8-Valley-H-7:30.

COACH DUANE GRAY calls his Amherst Bulldogs primarily a "senior ball club", and these four seniors will play an important role this fall as the Bulldogs try to improve on their 7-3 record of last year. John Booth (end), Scott Harmon (tackle), Eddie Duvall (guard) and Frankie Williams (split end) listen as Gray goes over some pre-workout instructions. (Staff Photo)

ACTION WAS FAST and furious on Tahoka's gridiron Friday night as the Bulldogs hosted our Littlefield Wildcats. The score of the scrimmage was 2 scores for the Wildcats and 3 for the Bulldogs. However, the Cat's first team went out with a 2-0 lead over the home squad and Tahoka came back to score 3-0 over the second team. Both of Littlefield's tallies were by junior Bill Turner. Turner's first score came after a sustained drive that was capped by a plunge from about the two foot line by Turner. Littlefield's second score came when Turner broke for 60 yards on a draw play. The Cats travel to Tulla Friday for their second scrimmage. (Staff Photos by Lisa Roberts)
