

Citizens Feted As 350 Attend C-C Banquet

By JOELLA LOVVORN

Sparked with a sense of patriotism to the Littlefield area, approximately 350 of Littlefield's citizens and their guests rose to standing ovations Saturday night when five of Littlefield's top citizens received awards during the annual Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet.

The new Ag and Community Center was decorated in denim, adding to the patriotic mood of the evening, and citizens were able to feel and take home some of our "very own" denim, produced in the American Cotton Growers' Denim training plant. Besides the programs being bound in denim, various products produced by Levi Strauss and Co. were attractively displayed behind the head table, and small bales of cotton, loaned by American Cotton Growers, served as table centerpieces.

J. L. Marcum, Littlefield automobile dealer, was honored as the "Man of the Year" for 1975, Betty Hodges was introduced as the "Woman of the Year", Georgeann and Doug Walden were presented as the "Farm Family of the Year", and special recognition was paid to Ray Keeling.

Those awards were presented by Paul Bennett, Jeni D. Brunson, Donald Carr and Hubert Henry, respectively.

The banquet meal consisted of filet mignon, baked potato and "Texas Toast" as prepared by the Sagebrush Inn of Littlefield.

Offering the invocation was Rev. Wesley Daniel, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, and master of ceremonies was Dr. Howard Head, who introduced the numerous guests from throughout the area.

A highlight of the evening was an address by Gil Melbardis, U.S. manager of Basic Jeans Merchandising of Levi Strauss and Co. of San Francisco. He presented some facts and figures about his company and then showed a film on world-wide usage and production of Levi products.

Melbardis was introduced by Bob Hale, plant manager of the American Cotton Growers' Textile Plant, who said "Melbardis is our contact man with Levi Strauss".

Melbardis began by noting he had found Littlefield's "dedication and enthusiasm is highly contagious."

He continued, "As you all well know, Levi Strauss and Company will be the prime purchaser of denim produced by the American Cotton Growers' mill. We expect that our association with American Cotton Growers, and consequently the City of Littlefield, will become an important factor in our future growth."

"There are three basic reasons why this association shows great promise."

"First, Levi Strauss and Company is one of the largest users of cotton fabrics in the world."

"Second, our most important cotton fabric is denim, the fabric that has been in very short supply during this decade, and one whose future looks brighter and stronger than ever; and"

"Third, Levi Strauss and Co. has 16 facilities and more than 6,500 employees in Texas. That's more facilities and more employees than we have in any other state."

Melbardis continued, "Texas denim, as Roy Davis well realized, makes a lot of sense. Levi Strauss and Co. has, in a sense, been using Texas denim for a long time. Cotton grown in this area, including the fields around Littlefield, has been shipped back east, dyed and woven into denim, and, in many instances, shipped back to one of our Texas facilities for manufacture into garments."

"Energy conservation alone would seem to dictate the need for a denim mill in a primary cotton growing area of Texas. Taking these factors into account, we at Levi Strauss and Co. are most confident of the success of the American Cotton Growers' venture in Littlefield, and look forward to a close, exciting and productive association with the mill, its employees and the citizens of this city.

"Since any successful relationship is a two-way street, let me tell you a few things about Levi Strauss and Co."

"Our company was founded in 1850, which makes us 126 years old. But we're also a young company, with our major growth taking place during the past 30 years, and most dramatically during the past decade."

"Our 1975 world-wide sales— announced just last week— exceeded $1 billion for the first time in our history. As you may have noticed, these were profitable dollars. And, we like our suppliers and areas in which they are located to be profitable as well."

"You should not be surprised to hear that our most important product is denim jeans— the product that made Levi's a household word."

"There are six divisions: Jeans, Levi's for Gals, boys' wear, Panatella, Levi Strauss International, and Diversified Products— offering products lines that include not only jeans, shirts and jackets of various fabrics and styles, but hats, belts and shoes."

"Levi Strauss and Co. is a company with over 30,000 employees. Our products are sold in most of the nations of the world, and the brand name Levi's is recognized worldwide as a symbol of product quality."

Melbardis emphasized, "We work hard and we make our suppliers work hard," then gave a nod to Plant Manager Bob Hale.

He continued, "We've maintained integrity in our products. And finally, our motto is 'Levi's is People'. No organization can, in the long run, succeed without recognizing the needs of employees, consumers, customers and suppliers."

"It would not surprise me in the least, having been here this evening, that your motto is 'Littlefield is People', to which he received a hearty applause from those hearing him."

Melbardis then presented a film produced by Levi Strauss International, depicting the production and utilization of the company's products throughout the world.

Following the film, citizens asked him several questions about his company, one of which he answered he was sure officials of his company were considering a sewing plant for Littlefield.

All of the directors and officers of the Chamber of Commerce were introduced and a resume of last year's work was presented by Rad Richardson, outgoing president, who handed the president's gavel to the new president, Tom Tollett.

Tollett challenged the citizenry to

Included among the projects were the re-painting of signs on the outskirts of Littlefield, conducting a labor survey, printing of brochures about Littlefield, sponsoring a booth at textile shows, helping pay the tab for industrial prospect visits, helping with the costs of livestock shows, and several other projects.

The introduction of Mrs. Betty Hodges as "Woman of the Year" for 1975 was made by Jeni D. Brunson, last year's recipient, who stated, "The 1975 'Woman of the Year' Award goes to a retired business woman, who is a charter member of 'We, The Women.' "She has always been tireless in her efforts to improve the community.

"She is very active in her church, presently serving as an elder of which she was ordained and installed by her son in 1974. She has been past president of the local women's association and past president of the Women of the Panhandle, and is now chairperson of the Evangelism Committee.

"She has been active in the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, holding both district and state offices.

"In 1939, she and her husband, lovingly called 'Pop', came to Littlefield as the owners and publishers of the County Wide News. During that time she was the society editor. She was also a daily correspondent for Lubbock and Amarillo papers, whom she had to call nightly at 10 p.m. In 1952 they sold the paper and established A&B Office Supply. Through this business they gave their time and effort in assisting with various community activities.

"She has helped plan many showers and weddings the past 25 years.

"They gave plaques to the man and woman of the years while owning A&B.

"Her son, Houston and his wife, Barbara, have four children. They live in Denton where he is a minister.

"Since her retirement, she enjoys bridge and travel.

"Our 1975 'Woman of the Year' is the wife of the late Allen Hodges, and it's my pleasure to present Betty Hodges."

Paul Bennett presented J. L. Marcum as the "Man of the Year."

"It is a pleasure to have the opportunity to make this presentation to a good friend, as well as a person for whom I have great respect and admiration.

"This gentleman is a local businessman, he is a member of the First United Methodist Church, Lions Club and Quarterback Club, and he is president of the Lamb County Hospital Authority.

"He is a director of the Chamber of Commerce, and a past president of the Chamber of Commerce. He serves on the board of directors of Littlefield Feeders, and has served as director of the Littlefield Country Club. He served on the committee responsible for obtaining this new Ag building, and was one of a group that put Littlefield Feeders together.

"He was very instrumental in helping lay the ground work to bring American Cotton Growers to Littlefield.

"I know that he has given very generously to local and county fund drives, and is a very staunch supporter of trading at home.

"During the six years that he has been a resident of Littlefield, he has been a firm supporter of Littlefield. "Will J. L. Marcum come forward to receive this award?"

Donald Carr's introduction of Doug and Georjann Walden began, "The 1975 Lamb County Farm Family members have been life-time residents of Lamb County.

"Both are graduates of Littlefield High School, where he was active in FFA. They have been active in farming and livestock, including registered and commercial cattle. They farm approximately 1,800 acres.

"They are active members of the First Baptist Church, where they have served as teachers.

"He helped organize the Littlefield Area Livestock Show and Sale, and is a past president of that organization. He has been a director of the show since it was organized. He is also a director and past president of the Lamb County Junior Livestock Show.

"Both have been active 4-H leaders.

"He has served on the Lamb County Crops Committee, board of director of the Littlefield Farmers Co-op Gin and Elevator, member of Texas Hereford Association and National Hereford Association.

"He is past president and presently serves on the Littlefield School Board.

"She is a charter member of CowBelles, and has served as secretary.

"She is also a member of Beta Sigma Phi.

"Both have supported their children in various activities, such as Boy Scouts, FFA, 4-H, church and numerous school activities.

"They have two sons— Dean, a senior; and Brad, a junior in Littlefield High School.

"May I present the 1975 Farm Family, Doug and Georjann Walden."

Hubert Henry, last year's "Man of the year", presented Ray Keeling's special award.

"This is a special award to a citizen who devoted many hours of hard work for our town some years ago. Because of his dedicated service and devotion, Littlefield has, what many people believe to be, the brightest future of any town in this area.

"This person was born in Dallas, attended Dallas Public schools, was graduated from the University of Texas in 1937. He was an outstanding football player for the University of Texas in 1935, '36 and '37.

"He was inducted into the Longhorn Hall of Honor in 1962.

"He served in the Armed Forces during World War II, and was mayor of Muleshoe from 1950 to 1953, the year he moved to Littlefield.

"He served on many boards and assisted with numerous fund-raising projects for our community.

"He was Littlefield's representative to the Caprock Council of the Girl Scouts of America in Lubbock.

"He has been a Buick dealer for 28 years— 23 of which have been in Littlefield.

"His family consists of his wife, Dottie; three daughters, Connie, Nancy and Jean; two granddaughters and one grandson.

"He served as mayor of Littlefield from 1955 to 1957. One of the greatest accomplishments during his term as mayor of Littlefield was the securing of the water rights in the sandhills north of town. Because of his unselfish devotion to Littlefield, which brought him some criticism, it is believed that because of his foresight in obtaining these water rights was the major factor in Littlefield's securing the industry that all of us are so proud of—the American Cotton Growers' Denim Plant.

"We would like to honor Ray Keeling with this special award."

WHILE I WAS VISITING Nelson's Hardware one day, Nelson Naylor gave me a copy of the True Value Hardware Stores' Household Encyclopedia, and I've had a great time looking through its pages for helpful information of all kinds.

Thought I'd pass along a few hints.

For example, in the "Home Insect Control" chapter, we learn that one of the most common household pests, the cockroach, is a flat-bodied disease carrier. And they can range in several lengths—all of which make your skin crawl when you see them running for a hiding place.

They can be controlled with a desiccant (drying agent) powder. Spread borax pellets, or spray pyrethrin along your baseboards, moldings, crevices, openings around sinks and drains, behind bookcases, around rugs, etc. The encyclopedia suggests that in severe cases, use malathion solution. Remove food and dishes until the solution has dried. To be effective, the cockroaches must come in contact with the remedy for 2 to 7 days. Repeat after two weeks if necessary, to get rid of those that hatched out after the first application— then keep a close watch in case some may have been missed.

solution. To bleach out, dampen and leave in the sun or swab with hydrogen peroxide.

Blood stains in washable fabrics may be removed by soaking in cold water until the stain lightens; then wash in warm, soapy water.

Chewing gum may be removed from non-washable fabrics by swabbing or sponging with denatured alcohol or carbon tetrachloride. It may be removed from washable fabrics by holding ice to the opposite side until the gum freezes, then pick off with fingers. Or you may soften it with carbon tetrachloride or kerosene.

Grass stains may be removed from non-washable fabrics by sponging it with denatured alcohol or benzine. Washable fabrics may be dipped for one minute in Javelle water (a solution made of 1 lb. washing soda in 2 qts. cold water, mixed with 1/2 lb. chloride of lime.) Then rinse.

Iodine: If still wet, use soap and water; otherwise, use ammonia solution. Alternative: apply dry starch, moistened with cold water.

Lipstick: Soften by rubbing in glycerine, vaseline or lard. Sponge with carbon tetrachloride. If persistent, sponge with denatured alcohol (but not on acetate rayon). Alternative: sponge with mixture of hydrogen peroxide and sodium perborate.

Mildew: If new, wash off, or apply oxalic acid and Javelle water. (See the recipe under grass stains.)

Mustard: Apply warm glycerine and sponge with water. If persistent, sponge with diluted denatured alcohol. If stain still persists, use bleaching method.

Perspiration: Restore color by holding over open ammonia bottle. To remove odor, sponge with warm water and 1/2 tsp. of vinegar. Then apply pepsin, allow to stand for 1/2 hour, then brush off.

Rust: Apply oxalic acid solution, or lemon juice and salt.

Shoe polish: Apply carbon tetrachloride or denatured alcohol. If necessary, use lard as a "floater," to lift it out.

Tar: Apply vaseline or lard to soften, then sponge with carbon tetrachloride.

Tobacco: Sponge with cold water, then apply glycerine and lukewarm water. If stain persists, sponge with denatured alcohol.

Varnish: Apply turpentine or paint remover.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

We Can Help

ALL OF US CAN HELP with the work that needs to be done, in order to preserve the good life. We may even be able to help reclaim and re-establish some of the important and good things that seem to be lost.

Of course, we can give up; we can let the creeping lethargy and defeatism dull or even destroy our spirit to live and work for the things about which we are so concerned. If this should be our choice, we will go from bad to worse.

MORE AND MORE CONCERN is being expressed by public speakers, newspaper columnists, business men, and people from all walks of life. Obviously, there is good reason for this concern.

This should not be surprising to anyone who understands the fact that alertness and diligence have always been essential in the maintenance of a desirable social order.

IT SEEMS THAT there is a spreading view that there is nothing we can do to help. While we admit that there are some things about which we may not be able to do anything, we are not justified in accepting the view that we are completely helpless.

"We can help." What we do may not be spectacular, and our single contribution may not be significant. The point is, however, that the combined constructive behavior of all responsible persons just might do what needs to be done.

"I BELIEVE MY HOME, my school, and my community do the best work, my modest earnest faith, and my deep work with others to help better place to live."

"WE CAN HELP" in a different way, and must not mistake of failing to do all.

The worst happening was lose the good and the desirable of life, because we stopped save them. We would always what might have been, honestly done our best.

IT IS NOT NECESSARY to be folded hands, and a sad countenance and just let everything go. Of course, we may not be able to change some things; but many things that can be changed. These are the things which should receive our attention.

"We can help", and, in due we can see to do, we will be at its best. When this is the influence for good will be greatly anticipated.

WE MUST NOT BE discouraged by the problems we are unable to solve or the difficulties we cannot overcome or the setbacks we experience then.

Such discouragement will prevent our doing what we are able to do. There is much that we can do.

WE MUST NOT QUIT. There are many ways in which we can help.

HOW DOES REAGAN'S proposal about takin' the welfare program out of federal hands and givin' it back to the states grab you? Does it leave you cold, tremblin' and full of apprehensive imaginations?— That's what it did to me at first. I didn't even want to think about it.

That is, until I read what Payette had to think about it. Then I began to let myself kick it around.

ACTUALLY, THERE'S times when I'm not sure Ms. Payette has all her marbles, but she can put out some pretty interestin' thoughts. She seemed to like the idea. Tied to the thing, of course, must be the idea of a reduction of federal taxes.— This because we know there will have to be an increase of state taxes. Unless a bunch of people decide to go to work.

We who are about dry behind the ears know that any such thing as a "Tempo-levied to support WW I?"— (Of course you're a stinker if you remind me that that war still ain't paid for!)

SO? MY FIRST PICTURE is one of the feds kickin' the welfare program into the states' laps, leavin' federal taxes at the present level to engage in further frolics, and makin' it necessary for the states to levy sufficient taxes to pick up the tab!— (WHOOOEEY: That would make my present gas-bill look tame)

Now I don't claim to be from Missouri, but there's times when I can be a little hard headed. If it could be proven that such would NOT be the case, I'd be ready to listen. That especially when it's been that a number of states are recipients of a substantial dole, don't even have a state tax!— Let's share the burden.

ONE OF THE MOST aspects of the situation would bustin', into fifty pieces, the bureaucracy in the nation. We hanker for a decentralized government; This might be gettin' the ball rollin'. (After all, with Mr. Meany, of course, which, we could begin to temper the HE of the HEW monster!)

So?— Tell us more, Mr. Bliss, perhaps you could sell the idea to my fellow I'd like to vote for!

A POX ON OUR high-speed world. We have become so busy with keep up with the Joneses, we have sadly neglected the Smiths. Late we've come to the conclusion it was the Smiths that were our people, anyway.

We are rushing through life, we've lost the knack for inventing for the unobtainable extent that we've no time for have.

RUSHING THROUGH a road, and not taking time to smell the roses, is the way one fellow. (Much less time to admire beauty!)

When do we take time to slow down and live??

I BELIEVE THAT THE Chamber of Commerce did a good job of picking outstanding citizens and farm family to honor during the banquet Saturday.

You have to know these people to appreciate them. Of course there is no way that they can please all the people; generally speaking those honored are outstanding in their own way. Congratulations to you honorees for a job well done.

WAS SORT OF DISAPPOINTED that Cornball didn't get some kind of honorable mention, but I guess that it would not have been a good idea to reveal such an animal to the public since the Chamber was making a big push to get Mr. Levi to put in one of his plants here.

DON'T KNOW IF Mr. Downtown Merchant is getting any of the extra dollars that have been floating around lately, but I'm sure that someone is. If you haven't had time to drive over this community lately, may I suggest that you take some time out for a drive and see the homes that are being built and/or remodeled. Of course I also note a few "specialty" homes going in some of the vacant areas. Things are sure changing around here and with sound management, benefit. Noticed the new trailer park has added a few mobile homes.

THE FRESH PLOWED fields show signs of moist dirt. Farmers have indicated that a couple inches of rain would put things right for now. Of course more rain needed just before planting time.

With the unseasonably weather some have observed that fruit trees are beginning to bud. I guess we shouldn't be fooled by premature budding that spring because I think that we ain't nothing yet as far as cold weather concerned.

IF YOU ARE A superstitious you may have trouble this year because there will be two Full Moons in 1975. One will be on Feb. 13th this year; one will be on Feb. 27th.

On the agenda are 13 departmental reports, and discussion on a review of city building and utility codes, updating of the comprehensive plan, the traffic sign replacement program, master plan for central services center, study of various city services charges, and risk management. Among items slated for action are authorizing the mayor to sign a grazing lease agreement on 118 acres of city property northwest of Littlefield, and reviewing the water and sewer extension ordinance.

Lamb County 4-H's Heading For El Paso

Lamb County will be well represented at the Southwest International Livestock Exposition in El Paso. Eleven plan to exhibit steers, seven will exhibit hogs, and eight will be showing sheep.

The group will be leaving Littlefield Thursday night. Several parents and county extension agents Buddy Logsdon and Birch Lobban will accompany the group.

Showing steers will be Jeff Birkelbach, Cary Sawyer, Sandy Kootz, Brad Walden, Dean Walden, Scott Carter, Daryl Roberts, Tony Lopez, Brian May and Mary May.

Hogs will be exhibited by Karla Nicholson, J. D. Coddle, Carry Kirk, Greg Bell, Cindy Moss, Brad Pierce and Troy Moss.

Taking sheep to the exposition will be Kevin Riley, Jodie Riley, Ronnie Bearden, Steve Bearden, Cary Sawyer, Scott Carter, Jeff Birkelbach and Brad Walden.

Those lucky enough to place and make the sale have a good chance of bringing home some top prize money.

Commissioners, Judge Attend A & M Conference

Lamb County Judge Ruth Kirby and commissioners Hubert Dykes, Jack Peel, A. J. Spain and Mrs. Spain plan to attend the 18th annual conference of the County Judges and Commissioners of Texas at College Station this week.

The conference will deal with issues that are today's problems, such as ambulance service, solid waste disposal and law enforcement.

The conference will be Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 3-5 at Texas A&M University. Also featured will be discussions on national and state legislation, agricultural markets and policy, the state comptroller's office and the Jail Standards Commission.

Judging Team Places 2nd

Lamb County 4-H Livestock Judging Team placed second at the Hereford Young Farmers Stock Show 4-H Judging Contest on Saturday, Jan. 31.

Participating 4-H'ers included Brad Walden of Littlefield who was second high individual; Dan Foley of Littlefield; Brian May of Sudan and 7th high individual; Jim Fields of Sudan who tied for high individual; and Tracy Spencer of Littlefield.

Also attending were Art Foley, coach Buddy Logsdon, county extension agent and Birch Lobban, assistant county extension agent.

DAIRY COWS PRODUCE MORE MILK

Dairy production has increased in Texas in 70 years, thanks to careful attention given to herd management and record keeping which are a major part of Dairy Herd Improvement (DHI) program. From the present, annual milk production per cow has increased more than 3,600 pounds more than 424 gallons, said dairy specialist for the Agricultural Extension Service. Also, butterfat production has increased well over 100 pounds per cow. Due to these increases, only about 10 percent of the state's cows are enrolled in the program.

BANKERS TO HEAD CHANGING ENVIRONMENT

The changing environment of agricultural financing will be highlighted at the Farm and Ranch Credit School for Commercial Bankers, Texas A&M University, February 9-11. Speakers will discuss the changing political market and financial environments as they will affect agricultural financing a year ahead, points out economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The school will also feature special sessions on agricultural loans and the market for livestock, cotton, grain and the money market.

"THERE IS A TIME FOR EVERYTHING..." Ecclesiastes 3:1, The Living Bible, Tyndale House

GOD'S FIVE MINUTES

LOOK OUTWARD AND UPWARD

"Where there is no vision, the people perish" (Proverbs 29:18) wrote the prophet long ago. The highway of history is cluttered on either side by the wrecks of once great nations who ignored that admonition. What kind of vision is spoken of here? Not ghostly apparitions of astrology and witchcraft. Instead of such unreal and dishonest self-deception, we are face to face with the divine side of the human soul.

Vision is granted us only when we look outward and upward. That kind of vision is the gift of God. And it is given to every man who seeks God's purpose for his life on this earth.

Nations are composed of individuals. And nations fall when their citizens, one by one, turn from God's law and do that which seems right in their own eyes.

Supreme Court Justice Harry A. Blackmon displayed great vision recently when he told 4,500 Minnesota United Methodists in Minneapolis, "We and the church need to rediscover Christ, to get back to Christ. That is not new. It has always been the answer. Which will prevail—the better angels of our nature, or something far, far less?"

What will it be for you? What happens to America will be partially determined by your answer. A man or a nation will perish without that vision of the personal Christ.
