Mail from Lubbock did not come in at all Saturday, and didn't arrive until the middle of the afternoon Sunday.

The Leader-News was the only Sunday paper on the newsstands Sunday morning.

Manager of Crescent Park Motel reported 25-30 stranded overnight guests Saturday night.

Not a single mail carrier completed his route Saturday. Ernest Sell, substituting for Ewing Thaxton on route one, was more than an hour and one-half getting four miles out on the route before he gave up and came back to the post office.

The postal department tried to get word to Leroy McCormick to come back, but his car was buried with nothing but the top showing before he got the message

Eula Jackson got to Lumsden Gin before she gave up on her star route. City carriers covered the downtown and business sections before giving up because of the drifts. SCORES OF scheduled meetings were canceled due to the snow. Few churches in the Littlefield area had worship services Sunday morning, and those that did, had only a fraction of their regular attendance present.

Missionary Baptist Church had 17 present Sunday morning and 24 Sunday night from an average regular attendance of 80.

Crescent Park Church of Christ had 200 Sunday morning, out of 500 average attendance. Sunday night the church reported 275.

Sacred Heart Catholic Church had mass but no church school Sunday morning with 325 present out of an average attendance of 600.

Florence Dunn, police dispatcher, said the phone rang constantly Saturday and Sunday, with people wanting to know if the roads to certain towns and communities were

THE MAJORITY of area students had a holiday from school Monday. For most schools this was the first holiday, due to snow, since 1961 Littlefield schools were closed Monday, but schools at Amherst and Olton were open with buses running on payement only.

Scores of snowmen were built. Enterprising youngsters rigged water skiis behind cars and vehicles and slithered over the snow. Others improvised snow sleds out of car hoods and went slipping and sliding down streets and roads.

Many enjoyed snow ice cream, slushes and snow cones. But alas, it all came to an end Monday when the sun came out and temperatures climbed into the high 40s.

Smiles leaving the faces of school-bound students Tuesday morning were replaced by the smiles on farmers' faces as they probed in moist furrows.

PIONEER NATURAL Gas estimated the snow in downtown Littlefield at 11 inches and an estimated 1.10 inches of moisture.

Snow and moisture in Littlefield varied, with as much as 14 inches of snow and one and one-half inches of

APRIL Your Tax Bill, Alas, Is Going To Be Larger

How big a contribution to the Federal coffers will residents of Lamb. County be making, of or before 15, via their income taxes?

The government expects it to be well above what it was in 1968, when collections of income and withholding taxes in the local area came to approximately $8,273,000.

That is the estimate of what was turned in last April 15th, as determined by a breakdown of the overall returns from the State of flaures the statewide total of that the surtax will be extended for $3,447,000,000. Local taxpayers another year All indications, at the provided some 0.24 percent of this amount.

Just how much more the year is indicated in the budget that was presented to Congress in January by the outgoing administration.

It anticipates that the high level of employment in the past year, together with bigger earnings and the 10 percent surtax that went into effect in July will produce personal income tax revenues of no less than $84.4 billion. as compared with the $68.7 billion collected in 1968.

Because of the improved income picture locally and the added taxes that were imposed, residents of Lamb County will be bearing a full share of this $15.7 billion increase, it is expected.

Their contribution this year will be in the neighborhood of $10,159,000, or $1,886,000 more than before, on the basis of preliminary estimates for the local area.

The new budget presented to Congress also projects income and expense figures for the coming fiscal year, which begins on July 1, 1969.

It calls for personal income taxes of According to Treasur, Departme Departme Departme Departme Departme boys were exploring the place that is thought to be the site of the last Indian fight in the state.

The group had built their camp fire at the foot of a 100 foot cliff. Two high school boys in the group thought it would be great fun to rig up a dummy in their clothes and drop it off the cliff.

Hilbun and his group were sitting around the fire when the dummy was hurtled off the towering cliff and landed with a thud, almost in the fire.

"Talk about commotion," Hilbun exclaimed. "That was the first time half of the boys had ever been out away from home at night!"

ON ANOTHER OVERNIGHT trip, the weather plunged down to about six degrees. The only water the boys had was in their canteens. "One boy came to me the next morning holding out his solidly frozen canteen," Hilbun said. "How do I get water out of this thing?' he asked.' The boys' mothers often add to their sons' woes by being too concerned for their comfort, Hilbun

"One mother fixed her son's bedroll up with everything but the kitchen sink," Hilbun said. "We were camping at Camp Haynes. That was before there was a road, and we had to walk down into the canyon. This boy's mother had fixed him so much stuff he had to make three trips to lug all that equipment down into the canyon, and three trips getting it back out. The next time he went on a camping trip he had one small bedroll!" Hilbun laughed.

HILBUN SPENT TWO weeks getting his wood badge "out under the stars" at Philmont Scout Camp at Cimarron, N. M. This is essentially the same training the founder of Scouts, Baden Powell, gave his scoutmasters.

"But I got my first class Scout badge," Hilbun said. "I got it at 40-plus years; it took me that long to

What The Leader-News Thinks

Play Ball

On the national level, the threatened baseball strike is settled and there will be major league baseball this year after all. It's a relief to know that 1969, which marks the 100th birthday of professional baseball. will not see the game abandoned for the season.

In Littlefield, the baseball season is just a few weeks away, and we can hardly wait.

There'll be a new look here this year, with Babe Ruth baseball, featuring 13-15 year-old boys, taking the place of Pony and Colt leagues. The 16-17 year-olds will go right on with American Legion ball.

And the Little League will go right on supplying the thrills and spills so valuable to every youngster who participates.

Baseball has come a long way since the Cincinnatti Stockings threw off their amateur standings and became the first pro team 100 years ago. It was the true beginning of organized ball.

Annoyances

SCHOOLS BY LIBBY MUDGETT

THERE'S TWO annoyances around this farm that I've been constantly grumbling about and seriously threatening to get rid

But now I'm having second thoughts about both and I just dunno.

ONE ANNOYANCE is all of that blankety-blank light scattered around the whole joint that comes from one of those new fangled outdoor lamps that comes on at dusk, sends all of the beautiful darkness away somewhere the whole night long, and doesn't blow itself out until

THE OTHER grievance is the watch dogs. I love them dearly, am never afraid to stay 'way out here from civilization by myself with them around, but have you kept up with the price of dog food lately?

Consequently, I have cursed the greenish, bluish sick looking light that has ruined the nights, my favorite time of the whole 24 hours. I've always said that people who miss out on the darkness miss out on half of living. With that contraption sending it's horrendous glow all over the place, you can't even tell when the moon is shining.

EACH TIME I hauled dog food home in fifty pound bags, it seemed heavier and heavier, on account of it cost more and more. To make up for this imaginary additional weight and very real additional price, I'd go kick the dogs one by one, tell them they're getting fatter, lazier and more expensive and before long, they'd have to go.

And then came the blizzard.

ALL OF THAT beautiful snow drifted everywhere and the thirsty land all but sang in thanksgiving and so did I.

The phone lines stayed up and intact.

The electricity stayed on. Everything was Jake, and I was staring out the window mentally counting the money we'd save by not pre-watering and the money we'd pocket from such nitrogen-fed soil when that nerve-racking light came on and made the snow look purple.

I TOYED with the idea of shooting it out then and there, but decided to pull the blinds and look the other way.

Sometime much later, the dogs started barking. Knowing full well no cars had passed on the road in hours, I was sure they were howling at a coyote out foraging for food.

THREE TIMES I opened the door and yelled at the dogs to shut up, if it weren't for the fact there was nearly a full sack of dog foodleft, I'd shoot 'em right then and there and go to Europe on the savings.

The third time, I heard it-a faint call for help.

We had to quieten the dogs to make sure our ears weren't playing tricks on us and it really wasn't a coyote somewhere.

AND THEN WE SAW a dim, dim light.

It was a neighbor.

Her car had gotten stuck on the highway and she was trying to reach our house. She told me later that all she could see was the light in the darkness that I had cursed so much lately.

IN THE SNOWDRIFTS, she couldn't tell the road from the ditches and had waded in snow hip high until her strength and her flashlight batteries were about gone.

By the time we got her into the house, she was almost out. The first words she gasped after she thawed out a little were:

"THANK GOD for your dogs. They wouldn't let you alone. Each time you opened and shut your door, I prayed they'd keep barking."

So today, the dogs and still around and tonight the "city street lamp" will come on.

THE DOGS are nervous about not being kicked as usual, but I'll soon put them at ease and go back to my usual rantings and they'll be happy once more.

Nor have I shot out the light, but before long I'll start threatening to again. But not yet....not yet.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

True Perspective

perspective.

HE SAID OUR nation faces a whole series of problems momentous enough to spell disaster. And as he enumerated those problems, it did sound as if free men, abusing freedom, are in danger of losing it.

Our cities are "under attack from within," disrupted by strikes of public employes.

Our universities are "under attack from within," disrupted by unruly students.

IN THE NAME of "freedom of assembly" they demonstrate in a manner which abridges the freedom of others. In the name of "free speech" they parade filth. In the name of "freedom to dissent" they espouse violence.

Mass media, free of government censorhsip, categories itself.

MR. KENNAN does not want to see our United States turned cruel, punitive restraints.

But he does see the necessity for what he calls a "drastic stiffening of public authority—the imposition of some sort of public discipline in areas of our life to which discipline has never before been applied and where the very idea of applying it will be abhorrent to many of our people.

Democracy has always depended on self-discipline; it still does.

DESTRUCTIVE STUDENTS recalcitrant racists, militant blacks, ravenous unions-all must be contained. Technology mushrooming without regard to social effects must be regulated.

Law Prof. David Daube of Oxford University says, "There's no doubt about it, the safest course would be to lock all of us

So the staggering question is valid, isn't it-whether America can find the self-discipline necessary to survive as a democratic republic.

ANXIOUS AND FRUSTRATED people weaken the general structure of any social order, or any segment thereof.

Their influence tends toward the downfall of family, community, and nation.

MANY OBSERVERS THINK that the American pattern of living is being damaged by the rapid increase of anxiety, and the growing restlessness among our people.

In the words of Louis Bromfield, many people "have both feet planted firmly in mid-air"

One fact is obvious; there is entirely too much anxiety with its attendant, meaningless activity. This condition is probably the greatest dissipater of our individual and collective strength NO ONE WILL DENY that we live in a climate of uneasiness. On every hand, we see many of the more important aspects of living being neglected; because of the restless movement of uneasy and unstable people. Why so much anxiety and restlessness?

On the surface, it seems that we have everything we need, but our behavior indicates that something is lacking.

THE POWER WHICH CAN stabilize and strengthen us is evidently not in our material our technological accomplishments and the like. In fact, all of these things seem to be related to our anxieties and our dissatisfactions.

The following incident from the life of Christ may give us the answer. He went to the home of his friends, Martha and Mary. When he arrived, Mary took time to sit at his feet and listen to what he had to say. She had a true perspective of life.

Martha was over-occupied and too busy. She was busy with the serving, and this and that; and was so upset and frustrated that she asked Christ to tell Mary to help her.

CHRIST ANSWERED. "Martha, Martha, you are anxious and troubled about many things; but one thing is needful. Mary has chosen that good portion which shall not be taken from her."

The behavior of Martha seems to typify the general spirit of discontentment which is so prevalent today. She had a false perspective; she had put the wrong things in first place, and was permitting them to take time and energy which she should have been using otherwise.

This kind of foolish conduct reminds this writer of a statement made by Walter Scott. "We build statutes of snow, and weep to see them melt."

OUR LIVES and our social order can be stable, and will be when we put everything in its proper place in relation to everything else; because this, and only this will give us the true perspective.

THE PHILOSOPHER

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm takes what must be a backward look at a new invention.)

Dear editar:

I was out here walking over this Johnson grass farm inspecting things and planning my work for the months ahead-well I wasn't actually doing much planning, what I was doing was getting away from the noise of my house, noise like "other homes around here have washing machines, why can't this one?" or "this land is about as good as that across the fence, how come it doesn't make as much?" or "when are you going to fix that loose board in the back steps?" and so when I stumbled on a newspaper it was especially welcome.

Since most problems can't be solved anyway, a smart man will about those furtherest away from home.

According to an article in this paper, the latest thing in space work is a camera that takes four pictures at the same time for a satellite circling the earth, and it's so accurate it can actually detect the condition of crops, can tell what insects are bothering them, can reveal the moisture content of the soil, can even spot fish in lakes and

Some people call this progress but I call it scientific snooping. It's bad enough to have to explain the condition of my crops right around the house, without having to defend what's over the next rise.

While I guess I should be grateful for the scientists' sending up a 10-million-dollar satellite to tell me whether or not I need a rain, up to now I've always managed to find out on my own.

And as for locating fish, maybe in the middle of the Atlantic would be all right, but let some high-powered camera sent back a message from space that fish are biting in a place I'd figured out for myself and was keeping quiet about, and I'd have more company than a new Governor with 1500 jobs to fill.

However, I don't suppose there's any way to stop progress, outside of Congress, and I was just wondering, if this camera can tell me what insects are bothering my crops, why don't the scientists train it on South Viet Nam and find out where those Viet Cong are shelling Siagon from?

Yours faithfully, J. A.

Assembly Of God Believes God Alone Heals The Sick

series on Lamb County churches. In personal letters, several ministers and pastors are being asked generally the same questions. This week the answers come from the Rev. H. L. Hallmark, pastor of the Littlefield Assembly of

1. What is the distinctive plea of the Assembly of God Church?

Ans.: I believe the distinctive plea of the Assembly of God Church would be for men to be lifted out of the lethargic routine of church membership into definite spiritual experience.

2. What is the historical background of the Restoration Movement?

How does your church fit into this

Ans.: The Assembly of God movement had its beginning at the turn of the twentieth century. Mid-Century revivals had come, left their mark and gone. Liberalism was on the increase. Many ministers broke away from other denominations because their preaching of divine healing, the premillennial coming of Christ, (Christ's thousand year reign) and the baptism of the Holy Spirit was frowned upon.

The groups began to grow in number so in 1914 they met in Hot Springs, Ark., for the purpose of combining. From this meeting the Assembly of God movement was formed

3. How many Assembly of God hurches are there?

Ans.: With 8,510 churches, the Assemblies of God rank eighth in the United States and number one in foreign Bible schools.

4. Is the Assembly of God Church autonomous?

Ans.: Yes, the Assembly of God Church is autonomous.

5. How is the Assembly of God Church governed?

Ans.: Each local assembly has a right of self-government under Jesus Christ, its living Head, and shall have the power to choose or call its pastor, elect its official board, and transact all other business pertaining to its life as a

It shall have the right to acquire and hold title to property. However the local Assembly shall recognize that the District or General Council has the right to approve Scriptural doctrine and conduct and to disapprove unscriptural doctrine or conduct

REV. H. L. HALLMARK

6. What does the Assembly of God Church believe about the Bible?

Ans.: We believe the Bible to be the inspired and only infallible and authoritative Word of God.

7. Do members of the Assembly of God Church believe in the virgin birth?

Ans.: We believe in the diety of our Lord Jesus Christ, in His virgin birth. in His sinless life, in His miracles, in His vicarious and atoning death, in His bodily resurrection, in His ascenion to the right hand of the Father, and in His personal future return to earth in power and glory to rule over the

8. Does the Assembly of God Church believe in predestination?

Ans.: No, the church does not believe in predestination.

9. What kind of baptism does the Assembly of God Church believe in? Ans.: The Assemblies of God believe in baptism by immersion.

10. Is infant baptism practiced?

Why, or why not? Ans. Baptizing of infants is not practiced in the Assemblies of God. We baptize those, only, old enough to understand, and having been convicted of sin, have accepted Christ as their rituals of your church are most misunderstood?

11. What sacraments are observed? Ans.: We observe the Lord's Supper and of course water baptism. We do not have closed communion. All Christians, regardless of their faith, are invited to partake.

Ans.: Perhaps the most misunderstood ritual is the laying on of hands and praying for the sick.

Many have a false conception that the ministers fancy that they can heal. We believe that God ALONE does the healing. The ministers only pray the prayer of faith. They cannot-nor do they pretend to-do the healing.

13. What does the Assembly of God Church believe about Heaven and Ans.: We believe in heaven and in hell.

Heaven is a place prepared by God for all who would follow the teachings took their mother to of Christ. Details and dimensions are given to us in Rev. (21st Chapter).

We believe in a literal burning hell, primarily prepared for the devil and his angels. If a person goes to hell, he goes as an intruder-rejecting the saving grace of God.

14. How does the Assembly of God Church receive financial support?

Ans.: The Assemblies of God receive financial support from free will tithes and offerings.

15. What is the belief of the Assembly of God Church concerning Ans.: The church frowns on divorce, the only Bibical grounds being adultry and desertion.

16. What is required of a person to become a member of the Assembly of God church?

Ans: Each candidate for membership is expected to give a clear testimony of having been born of the spirit of God and to having received the Holy Spirit or to be earnestly seeking to be baptized in the Holy Spirit (Acts 2:2-4). It is also expected that each member will follow the Scriptual command to be baptized in Question: What do you think about the Court ruling on prayer in schools? Ans.: I do not think that a prescribed prayer pertaining to any particular doctrine should be allowed, but I think it is a shame that no prayer at all is allowed.

Question: What are your thoughts on segregation-integration?

Ans.: I believe that, left to themselves, the students will adjust admirably to integration.

Bigotry and prejudice is usually taught to the child at home and imposed on him by his parents.

I do not think God looks at color of a man's skin-but at his heart.

A SAVINGS PLAN THAT REALLY WORKS

one 085 4304

Most people want to save money. The problem is keeping it saved. You need important reasons to help you stick to the saving habit; that's why Woodmen of the World Life Insurance savings plan really works. If you live, your savings will guarantee cash for special needs, or monthly income for your retirement, plus a good return. If you die, you guar-antee cash or income for your wife, nusband, children, or your parents . Call today for details, plus the full story on Woodmen of the World's outstanding program of fraternal and social benefits. Also investigate Woodmen's Health and Accident and Income Protection plans.

Pratt aims at the medium price range in gifts. His stock includes the largest collection of wall clocks in this area, a full line of small appliances, housewares such as Corning, and cookware with State Fair ceramic exteriors and hard-kote teflon Stemware, stainless steel by Onieda. 1847 Rogers, William Rogers, Gorham, and International, along with melmac dishes, stoneware and china will suit the most discriminating tastes.

Lower priced items fill the bill for secret pal and incidental gifts including billfolds, ashtrays, vases and all types of home decorations.

Gifts also run to the unusual, with gold phone covers and carved wooden gifts to express sentiments.

To gratify the sense of smell, Pratt's has ladies' colognes and perfume by Tiago. Men's colognes and toiletries include British Sterling, Bravura, Anson, First Mate and Oriental Jade.

Pratt Jewelry is the direct factory representative for Olivetti Underwood typewriters and adding machines.

Gene Pratt's hobby is football and he is an active Wildcat supporter.

Civic activities include working with the industrial committee of the Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club projects and church work of the Ninth Street Church of Christ where the Pratts are members. Gene and Dixie have two boys, Kenny and Kelly, and a foster son, Gary Johnson.

Beck said assistants Buddy Sharp and Buddy Brock, who have been with him three and two years, respectively, will receive some $900 more each in salary than they are receiving at Olton. He admitted he also would be paid more money, but would not reveal the actual amount.

The new contract offered to him by the Olton board was $9,300.

Beck, who has guided the Mustangs to undefeated seasons the past two years before losing out in bi-district to Denver City, had submitted his resignation early last week, and it was accepted by the board. But in a called meeting of the board Friday a new contract was offered him.

Reason for his resigning, according to Supt. Ray Schultz, was the talk of a small few residents who were unhappy with the team losing out both years to Denver City. Beck had heard it and felt the town as a whole was against him, so he resigned.

Of Snow, Work, Play And Quiet Beauty

MR. AND MRS. Frank Anzeline get some exercise as they clear the snow from their driveway Sunday.

FIGHTING WILDCATS in Alaska? Eskimos? No, these energetic girls in their igloo are Amy and Jill Owens, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Buster Owens of Littlefield.

EVEN THE SPARROWS (shown at end of arrow) sought shelter with the Komorner Pigeons at Littlefield's "Komorner Korner" during the snowy weekend

NOT THE ABOMINABLE SNOWMAN, but could be something similar. The creature was short-lived Sunday afternoon and Monday in the Dr. W. C. Nowlin yard.

NATURE'S WONDERS were displayed in the tree tops early Sunday before the sun came out to warm things up. F. E. Yohner was caught clearing his driveway even as the snow was still falling.

RAY ALLEN HARVEY, two-year-old son of M. and Mrs. David Harvey of Littlefield, aims a had snowball at his big sister, Mary Catherine, foul, May the family pet Poodle, Suzie, looks on. May Catherine wasn't long in having ammunition of his own.
