SEVENTH GRADE FOOTBALL GETS OK

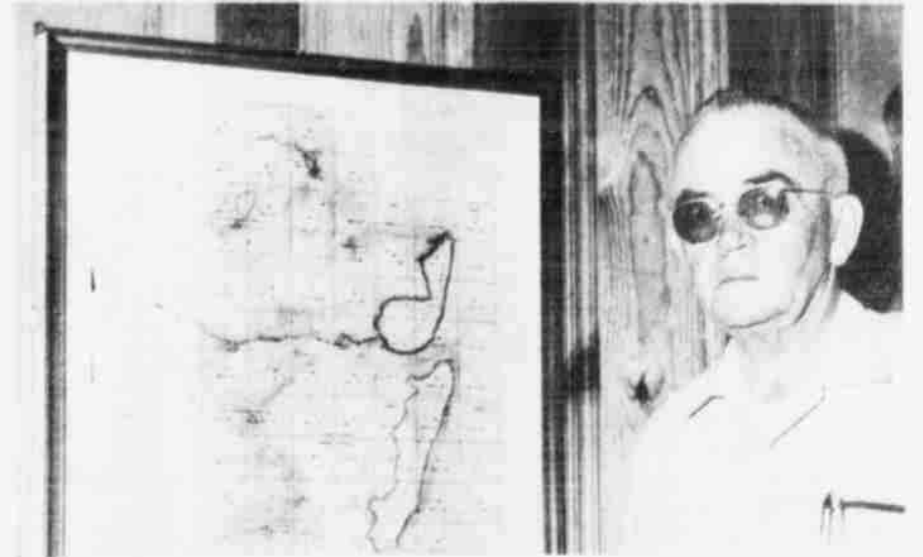

New Grid Coach Also Will Be Athletic Director

Littlefield's new head football coach when he is named—also will be the athletic director for boys' sports and physical education. The school will offer, beginning next fall, football for seventh grade boys. Two items topped a lengthy agenda of the school board here Monday when trustees also interviewed four candidates for the coaching vacancy. Accepted resignations of five members.

3. Approved the financial statement for June. Board members unanimously approved a motion by Wayne Streety to make the new coach also athletic director. Streety's motion said the athletic director's duties would include "supervising and coordinating" all athletics in the junior and senior high schools. It called for the board to present the new coach with a written school policy outlining the AD's duties, his responsibility to the superintendent, and the extent of his responsibility to the school principals. Supt. Paul I. Jones, who has had the additional chores of athletic director since he became the schools' top man, thanked the board for its action. "This will relieve me of the details connected with that position," said Jones. Trustee Buddy Bingham then turned the board toward a topic which has proved controversial in the past, and which was argued again Monday night—seventh grade football. Bingham moved the adoption of the sport in the seventh grade on a limited basis, with no more than two out-of-town games with nearby schools on the schedule. He also called for two home games with other schools, and moved that all other competition for the seventh grade be on an intramural basis. After the motion was seconded by F. L. Newton, the discussion drew fire from Jack Barton, a long-time opponent of seventh grade football competition with other schools. "I have no quarrel with intramural familiarization with football at that level," said Barton, "but when you schedule games, that's combat."

GEORGE WHITE has made his Yellow House Ranch available to Scouts, Marines and other worthwhile groups. During WWII eight labors of the ranch were leased to the Air Force for a bombing site. Many Marine Reservists have participated in mock battle around the lakes of the ranch, training for Vietnam duty. In appreciation of White's generosity, the U. S. Marine Corp presented White with a 24 karat gold plaque, one of the few presented to individuals.

Ranch Training Site For Scouts, Military

The Yellow House Ranch has been a lot of things to many people—a place for outings and picnics and swims in the cattle tanks.

But to the Boy Scouts, U. S. Marine Reserves and the Air Force the ranch that is four and one-half labors wide and eight and one-half labors long, holds some special meaning.

George White has unselfishly donated his ranch to worthwhile activities, especially for youth and the armed forces. The ranch was leased to the Air Force during WWII for a bombing site. For several years Marines have used George White's Yellow House Ranch for their practice maneuvers.

MANY EMPTY cartridges can be found along the shores of Laduna and Illusion Lakes southeast of the ranch headquarters, where Marines have simulated warfare. The shallow lakes have been used very effectively to imitate the jungles of southeast Asia.

"I don't mind the Marines using my land at all," George White said. "If just one man's life is saved because of training he's had on this place, then it's all worth it."

White is the proud owner of a large 24 karat gold plaque of appreciation from the U. S. Marines. The golden award is in four rich shades, and one of the few presented to individuals.

WHITE'S GENEROSITY is especially extended to the Scouts, Scouts in Lamb, Hockley, Bailey and Yoakum Counties comprise the George White District.

named for White's generosity and in memory of the White's son, G. L. Jr., who died from polio in 1949.

Twice a year ROTC members from Lubbock come to the Yellow House Ranch for mock up battles.

Even 4-H groups and Future Farmers of America Club members have been getting in on the ranching act lately, and with mutual benefit to both the ranch and the boys.

"I don't know what some ranchers would do without the 4-Hers and FFA boys," White said. "It's hard to find help any more."

Celebration Will Be 'Festivities Days'

"Littlefield Festivities Days" has been officially adopted as the name for the annual Littlefield celebration, which will make its debut August 29-30.

Adoption of the name was made Monday night at a meeting of the celebration steering committee. The name was selected from a stack of 21 nominations.

But it was a Sudan woman who won the naming contest, which is just fine, according to the committee.

Winner is Mrs. Cecil Testerman, of Rt. 1, Sudan. She will be presented a suitable prize for winning the name contest. Presentation will take place at some time during the celebration.

Board Hopes To Name Football Mentor Tonight

America's astronauts were flying on Wednesday, the Littlefield school board is getting down to earth in its search for an athletic director and head coach.

The school board hopes to name a football mentor at a special meeting at the school tonight.

Members were pretty much up in the air

Tuesday after the board offered one of 14 applicants the job and the candidate first accepted, then rejected the post.

Supt. Paul I. Jones had survived a hectic week of interviewing applicants for the coaching position vacated by Raymond Birchfield.

Jones first screened the candidate list down to five, but only four met with the school board at its meeting Monday night.

After almost five hours of interviews, trustees settled on one applicant, pending his release by present employers. That release, it was learned Tuesday, would not be forthcoming.

Two of the top four candidates remained in contention and Supt. Jones learned Wednesday that the other man in the original five would be here to meet with the board tonight.

"We are trying to make sure that the final three men in the running will be able to get releases when the time comes for the board to make its final decision," Jones said.

County Cotton Depending On Sun And Late Frost

Lamb County agricultural officials say prospects for a good harvest of late cotton are real good if, and it's a big IF, there isn't an early frost.

"The hot weather isn't hurting the late cotton," County Agent Buddy Logsdon said. "This is really cotton growing weather!"

Most farmers agree a rain would benefit crops. "But it would need to be a 'proper' rain," Lamar Aten, office manager of the ASCS said.

Aten reported most farmers hauled out June 13 planted back to cotton. Other planted crops include black-eyed peas, soy beans and several acres of pinto beans.

Irrigated grain sorghum crops have high yield predictions, but dry land feed crops are burning up due to lack of moisture and high temperatures.

Top grain sorghum yields are in the making, but good water management is required to maintain maximum production potential and also efficiently use irrigation water.

Fields of grain sorghum in the boot stage are in trouble where water isn't available according to Bob McQueen at the Soil Conservation Service. Corn and some older soy bean crops are also needing moisture.

Generally the feed crops over the county are in good shape except for a build up of greenbug infestation, mainly found on the underside of leaves.

Extent of greenbug damage depends on greenbug numbers, according to agricultural experts. Other dependent factors are plant size, vigor and stage of growth, moisture conditions and numbers of beneficial insects.

Most of the onions in this area have been harvested. Other crops being grown in Lamb County this year include considerable acres of cucumbers in the Olton area, some castor bean acreage and a few acres of melons.

Oldtimers Ain't Moonstruck

By NILAH RODGERS

THE BLASTOFF of Apollo 11 carrying moonwalker Neil Armstrong to his destination failed to cause an epidemic of moon madness in Littlefield, especially among old-timers.

Many of Littlefield's senior citizens were so totally non-moonstruck they didn't even watch the blastoff on television.

"Sorriest thing that ever happened," said Pitt Cowan of 429 W. 5th St. "They're messing with God now," he snorted.

"Oh, they'll make it," the 88-year-old man said, "but what good'll it do? Spend millions and millions of dollars," he mused. "I don't see a bit of sense in such as that."

THE FIRST CONTINENTAL airplane flight in 1911 is much more vivid to Cowan than the Apollo 11 flight to the moon.

"We lived in Grayson County," Cowan recalled, "when that man—can't remember his name—flew over. We heard it. And we had a big old Shepherd dog, and he heard it. We went outside and there was that old shepherd barking and chasing that thing. He thought it was a buzzard!"

People in Grayson County climbed up on boxcars to see the plane when it went over, Cowan said. "It was pretty exciting," Cowan admitted.

"I fergit the young feller's name," Cowan turned to his wife, "You recollect it, Eula?"

(Editor's note: The first continental air flight was made by C. P. Rodgers in a flight from New York to Pasadena, Calif., in 82 hours and four minutes.)

THE 1911 FEAT was more exciting to Cowan than going to the moon seems to him today. Cowan is one of the old timers who didn't bother to watch the moon shot on television. "Nah!", he said derisively. "I didn't watch it. Don't pay no attention to such stuff at all."

Cowan was in what is now Oklahoma when the Indian Territory was opened in 1890. "I went down to see old Geronimo, and they wouldn't let me see him," he said. "I've been in every new country that opened up."

"Been all over the place in a wagon, but I've never been up in a plane and I don't aim to. Not if I know it."

J. D. RICHARDS, 415 N. Morse, is an optimist when it comes to moon travel.

"I got confidence in them," he said. "They'll make it to the moon, and they're coming back. I remember Lindberg's flights. Yep! They've come a long way. Long years ago I didn't even think they'd make it up in an airplane."

Although Richards usually watches the rocket flights, he forgot to watch the Apollo 11. "My wife's gone," he explained, "and I just forgot about it."

Before Richards moved to Littlefield in 1932 and went into stucco work he "farmed with mules altogether," and he is quick to admit that farming has changed too.

Richards feels the astronauts know what they're doing. "Absolutely. They haven't started out on nothing yet they didn't complete," he said.

Although Richards has confidence in the space program, he's still a little doubtful about commercial flying. "I ain't never been up in a plane," he admitted. "Oh, if there was an emergency, I'd go up there."

MRS. JOE WELLS thinks flying to the moon is "a little nonsense that's costing too much money. Oh, I guess it's all right," she conceded, "but they should be spending that money for people right here on Earth."

Mrs. Wells didn't watch the Apollo 11 launching. "I'm just an old housewife that works hard and tries to keep things going at home," she said.

Mrs. Wells admits she is 74 years old and that she has never flown.

"IT WAS A DOOZIE!" J. F. Minyard said of the moonflight. "Yeah! I watched it. Why sure they'll make it alright! Don't know anything to keep them from making it. It sure cost enough. It'll do some good (going to the moon); it may not be worth what it costs, but some good will come of it," Minyard concluded.

RANDOM COMMENTS from others included such remarks as this comment from Griswold Dore: "It's one of the dandiest things man's ever tried. Yes ma'am, I sure think they'll make it alright. I think this moon flight is comparable to what Christopher Columbus did, only more so."

"I GUESS IT'S all right," Dillard Bryant said. "I listened to it over the radio. I guess good will come from it, IF they can get back."

The general man on the street seemed so unconcerned one would think taking a walk on the moon is an every day occurrence.

CHILD TRAVEL

Motor trips with infants and children require just a few extra precautions to assure a safe and comfortable journey. If possible, limit your travel to only 200 or 300 miles a day, and choose stopover points with facilities for recreation and infant care. Stock your car with a sufficient supply of disposable diapers and sealed jars of baby food. Make certain milk is pasteurized and water is pure. Also, see to it that your children's immunization shots (tetanus, polio and whooping cough) are up to date.

BIRKELBACH MACHINE & PUMP
LITTLEFIELD & BOVINA

Birkelbach Offers Pump Sales, Service

Birkelbach Machine and Pump got its start when Werner and his brother, George, put in a welding shop in Littlefield in 1941. World War II interrupted the business, but welding was one of the things Werner knew how to do when he was discharged. He took up the business again when he was discharged from the service, opening his own shop here at 1012 E. 9th Street in 1955.

Birkelbach's main line is irrigation pumps. He is distributor for Worthington, Berkeley and Peerless pumps, handling domestic well work as well as commercial and irrigation.

Birkelbach offers complete, turn-key 100% including drilling, casing and installing pumps anywhere within a 100-mile radius of the Littlefield or Bovina plants.

Birkelbachs offer irrigation pump repair and repair gear drives of all makes of pumps alike.

All types of general machine work and welding are done along with the irrigation work.

Birkelbach makes many of his own parts. He manufactures a number of farm hoes and trailers and in the past manufactured cotton ginners, a salvage machine that picks cotton up off the ground.

Occasionally there is a call for a piece of equipment that calls for some designing on Birkelbach's part, and he can do that, too.

Re-perforating and re-developing old wells is another service offered by Birkelbach's Pump and Machine Shop. Re-perforating and re-developing improves production, and can really help wells that don't pump as much as they did in past years.

Werner has been interested in flying since he joined the Air Force in 1942. He was a glider pilot during WWII. He has had a pilot's license since that time. Whenever Werner can find the time he still enjoys flying.

The Birkelbachs have three children, two sons, Kenny and Randy, both married, and a daughter, Terri, who will be a ninth grader this fall.

Wade Learns Tea Ceremony

July 1 (June 30 home)
 Twenty-eight of us came to the Osaka district. We were met by our host families at the Osaka Station. From the station we came to our homes.
 My first day in Japan was spent in sight seeing of the Nishinomija City residential area. It is very hard to explain where I am because the cities of Osaka, Kobe, Hyogo and Kyoto all run together. I am in the Hyogo part of the district. Japan is very beautiful but we are here during a very bad part of the year. The rainy season will last for another week or 10 days then it will be very hot.
 Saturday night the Osaka Lions gave a welcome party for the 28 Texans who came to their district. It was very nice and everyone was very friendly. They presented each of the girls a bouquet of flowers that were also very beautiful.
 The next day was Sunday so, although the Zunitanis are Buddhists, their daughter, Fumiko, took me to church. I'm sorry to say I didn't understand anything because everything was done in Japanese. However, I did get a book of Revelations read.

 After we returned home from Church and had lunch, Mr. Zunitani and his son, Hiroshi, took me to the 'Takarazuka Theatre'. This theatre is a very famous place where they put on musicals. The only difference in this theatre and an American theatre is that all of the actors are girls. There are about 200 actors in this theatre and many of them cut their hair and talk in deep voices like men. The girls must go to a special school for many years. If they want to act the men's parts they must train their voices to be very deep. It is really quite difficult to explain this theatre.
 The next day, Monday, was spent in trying to learn the Japanese Tea Ceremony. This ceremony is very, very difficult. Every movement and placement of the utensils have a special meaning. Many years ago the tea ceremony was used as a means of gathering people together. If a person wanted his friends to come to his home he would have a tea ceremony.
 Monday afternoon, Fumiko and I went to Mr. Zunitani's office, Electronic Medical Instruments, and attended a meeting. When I went there I thought it was going to be a regular English-speaking meeting. When I got there I was the one who had to do the speaking. There were 11 boys, girls and men who work at the office present. They ask me questions about Texas and the United States. I had to tell them about my home, family and town. After the meeting we went to a very famous restaurant and had dinner.

 Today which was Tuesday Phillis Boothe, from Anton and I attended Konan's Women's College. Their colleges are very much like our high schools. I met two American teachers there. Miss Ward, an English teacher, has not been to the USA for 19 years. While there Phillis and I had to make two speeches about Texas in two different classes. By the time I leave here I will probably know more about Texas than when I left there.
 The people here are very small. They couldn't believe Gerald Nixon, from Cotton Center, could be 6' 4" tall. They just sat and stared at him. Cynthia Spaniel who is 6' tall is having trouble with banging her head on doorframes. Of course, short ole 5' 2" me, well, I'm just at home.

 The people here aren't as friendly as I expected them to be. You have to smile at them 10 minutes before they will smile back at you. I think they are getting used to us being here because some of them are beginning to smile at us first. The only trouble I have had so far is people staring at me.
 I can stand on street corner for 10 minutes and I may have 50 people standing around just staring at me. I guess they are just curious.
 The Japanese Lions have a camp planned for July 11-15. This will give us a chance to see all of our Texas friends again. I believe, of the 28 of us in Osaka, 27 of us are terribly homesick so all of you friendly Texans write to us.....
 Bye for Now

Texas Highway Patrol Gives June Report

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated three accidents on rural highways in Lamb County during the month of June, according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed, no persons injured and an estimated property damage of $1,080.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first six months of 1969 shows a total of 55 accidents resulting in no persons killed, 17 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $33,915.

During the first six months of 1969 in Texas there were 1,470 traffic deaths, or two less as compared to the 1,472 traffic deaths for the same period of 1968. However, if past trends continue the last six months will probably far exceed the first six months; as a matter of fact, the last six months of 1968 there were 2,009 traffic deaths.

The Sergeant stated, "With an all time record of 49 traffic deaths over the 4th of July weekend, we are not only well ahead in comparison to the beginning of the second six months in 1968, but well on our way to establishing a record year in 1969."

FOOD COSTS
A recent USDA report says costs at the grocery store for U. S. farm foods have risen 14 percent during the 1960's, but during the same time, wages of food buyers rose faster. The percent of their income used to buy food declined from 20.7 percent in 1957 to 17.4 percent in 1967. Farmers in 1968 received 39 cents out of the food dollar, an increase of 1 cent over 1967. The farmer's share varied from 19 cents out of the dollar for bakery and cereal products to 55 cents for poultry and eggs.

LITTLEFIELD'S FIRST Babe Ruth All-Star team was eliminated Saturday night in a playoff against Lubbock in its bid for a berth in the District tournament being held at Morton this week. But it took Lubbock nine innings to edge out a narrow 5-4 margin. Lubbock won Friday night 11-6.

Six Place At Idalou

Six members of the Littlefield Track Club captured placings Saturday in the AAU Junior Olympics, held at Idalou. And among them, five medals were earned.

Despite very hot temperatures and competition among more than 300 young athletes, who came from as far as Abilene and Happy, the local thineclads got their medals by placing among the top three finalists.

Monette Ross, running in the Junior Division, placed in three events. She was second in the 220-yard dash, the 50 and sixth in the 100. She ran in the Senior Division, and in both the 100- and 200 dashes.

Kim Hamilton was a two-time placer, third in the 220 and the 100. She ran in the Division.

Kyle Shipley was the Bantam 50; Domes second in the Intermediate Division 440; and Broadus fifth in the 880.

Security, Rotary Win Final Night Outings

Saturday night's action between Security and Coca Cola in the Minors, and Rotary against Butane was the last of the regular 1969 Littlefield Little League season.

The Minor League outcome would have had no effect on the final standings, even if the Coke Boys had upset the champion Bankers, which they didn't. Security won, 21-5.

But there was a share in the Major League title at stake for defending champion Rotary. And they got up for the occasion, winning 6-2.

The victory created a two-way tie between Rotary and Lions, who had clinched their share in Thursday night's action, a 3-2 squeaker over Optimist.

Final batting averages for both teams and individuals, as well as the complete pitching records can be found on Page 7 of Section Two of this edition. All work is the effort of Jerry Williams, who kept records off the official scorebook throughout the season.

Brown was Lonnie Twitty, who collected a double and single.

John Pace and Williams were credited with two hits off Brown.

BY A TONGUE—Littlefield's Kim Hamilton, edged out her nearest competition for third place the 220-yard dash Saturday at Idalou.

The dedication of the adult in the youth baseball program is oftentimes far more important than the performance of the boy.

Hundreds of county boys play baseball because adults care to get involved in the phases of supervision.

But, may we always keep the program in its proper perspective....that is, to build these boys into better men for service in tomorrow's world. This might be best accomplished by our remembering of the time-tested saying: "It's not so important as to who won...but how the game was played."

LET'S PLAY BALL!

The Littlefield League Baseball program does prove what we say is true: "Littlefield is a great place to rear a family".

The Little League program is people working and playing together. The sponsors, coaches, managers, families and boys make up the team, building what we need most.

MEN WHO ARE BETTER QUALIFIED TO PLAY THE GAME.

Congratulations to all connected with the program this year for a job well done.
