Murder, Suicide
Ruled In Deaths

Littlefield's top academic student, Geoffreen Grizzle, had rather sing than eat and enjoys acting like someone she's not. "Not because I want to be something I'm not," she said with a straight forward look of her wide-set gray eyes and a toss of her long light brown hair, "but because I like to convince people -- make people believe."

LHS Salutatorian Steve Owens likes to do the best he can in everything he tackles. And he not only tackled his way to honorable mention All-District 3AAA end and safety this year, but is one of only 22 district athletes over this area whose athletic and academic ability together qualify for the South Plains Academic Team.

LHS HONOR GRADUATES Nancy Henson and Gary Britt are silhouetted in their caps and gown in one of their last looks from the inside out. After graduation Friday week, they will be ex-students - on the outside looking in. Both students are in the top 10 of the '70 class. Littlefield's 101-member graduating class is pictured on pages 8, 9, and 10, and more than 200 other area graduates are shown on pages 11, 12 and 13.

MISS GRIZZLE will combine music, drama and math studies at the Oklahoma City University this fall, and study opera and stage productions at Eureka Springs, Ark., this summer in a six weeks music camp. But her advance musical studies begin this summer with a full scholarship to the six-week Inspirational Point Fine Arts Colony summer music camp in Eureka Springs, Ark. Her scholarship is from the Texas Federation of Music Teachers, and covers opera and all forms of stage productions.

MISS GRIZZLE studied piano eight years and took her first formal training in voice in seventh grade choir here. She sang with the Lubbock Symphony in 1967, and was in the Lubbock Little Theatre's "Sound of Music" production. Other honors include winning the Lubbock and Amarillo students' symphony contests, gold medals for superior ratings in UIL vocal contests and a superior rating in the National Federation of Teachers of Singing. A choir member four years, she was named Who's Who and All State choir member.

MISS GRIZZLE's older sister, Trudy, blazed the singing trail. "I won't sing before Trudy," Geoffreen said, "I go to church to practice." Geoffreen's parents are Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Grizzle, and she credits her dad's side of the family with "the inborn rhythm that you can't get through skill," and her mother's side for "the physical asset."

Senior Citizens

MAY CELEBRATES Senior Citizens Month in Texas and the rest of the country...for the eighth time. Presidents Kennedy, Johnson and Nixon have issued proclamations each year since 1963 honoring those people 65 years and older.

THE MOVEMENT actually began in 1953 when New York celebrated May as Senior Citizens Month.

When the movement to select a month for senior citizens began to shape up in the early 1950's those first leaders were impressed with trends in longevity and the increasing life span.

THEY BELIEVED that a senior citizens month observed nationally would emphasize this new fact: older persons would be recognized for their judgment, skills, experience and wisdom; outstanding service by senior citizens could be recognized; it was VERY important to begin early in life to prepare for the senior years and that such a celebration could tend to discourage or counteract the tendency to segregate older persons as a group apart.

Most people credit a Fort Worth woman, Miss Anna C. Leahy who was director (in 1956) of Senior Citizens of America, as the one person who so diligently pursued the idea.

She is credited, also, with persuading President Kennedy to sign the first proclamation.

IN 1959 THIRTY-NINE state heads proclaimed May as Senior Citizens Month and Nationwide observance was sponsored by the Senior Citizens of America.

By 1960 forty-eight states participated in the observance.

FINALLY IN 1963 the hope for recognition of older Americans came with the first presidential proclamation.

This year 207 Texas county committees on aging will proclaim May as Senior Citizens Month and hold suitable affairs in honor of it.

FOLLOWING THE EARLY pattern for celebration, states, counties, and communities were and still are urged to implement special programs, activities and events to honor senior citizens.

"In Texas we use two special activities more than others: the proclamation and the selection of outstanding senior citizens of the county or community," according to Minnie Bell, Extension specialist for aging at Texas A&M University.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service works with the Governor's Committee on Aging to implement activities for Senior Citizens on the County level.

SOME OF THE OTHER aims dealt with unifying agencies and groups working on needs and problems of the aging; to help familiarize senior citizens with services from government, private and educational institutions and to encourage home, school, church, community, state and nation to take cognizance of the senior citizen and his worth in the society.

What You Should Know About A Guarantee

While most people wouldn't make a major purchase without receiving some sort of guarantee on the product, there's a widespread lack of knowledge about what a guarantee is, what it isn't, and just what to look for when offered a guarantee.

Take the case, for example, of one lady who went in to get a replacement for her "Lifetime Guaranteed" muffer which had burned out.

She wasn't given a new one, however, since the guarantee was for the lifetime of the muffer--not the lifetime of the car or of the lady!

But the tips in this story may help you avoid such incidents, and make you a smarter shopper.

Essentially, a guarantee is a promise to make good in case something unforeseen happens to the thing you buy.

There are four main questions, listed by researchers, that you should keep in mind when you're evaluating any guarantee:

- 1.) What has to happen?
- 2.) During what interval of time after purchase?
- 3.) Who will make good?
- 4.) In what way?

Some guarantees promise that the guarantor will make good if you discover a mechanical defect in the product that existed at the time you bought it.

Others promise to make good in the event that what you bought stops functioning properly.

The second guarantee is much better, for it's easier to prove that a product just stopped working than to prove that it stopped because of an inherent mechanical defect.

If the first type of guarantee is offered to you by a reputable dealer, it's probably a subtle hint that you may be buying too cheap a product.

A $3.95 watch may be free of mechanical defects, but that doesn't mean that a part can't wear out in two weeks.

Only a "function" guarantee can protect you from such eventualities. But if you get one, be sure it covers the whole product and not just a part.

The guarantee slip should always tell you for how long the guarantee is good.

Be sure to read the fine print. If a guarantee says at the top in bold letters, "TEN YEAR GUARANTEE," but then goes on to say, in smaller print, that the guarantor will fix the product free if something goes wrong with it during the first 30 days after purchase, you may find that you have to pay the full repair cost if anything goes wrong during the remainder of the ten year period.

In other words it's really a 30-day guarantee.

You're safe if you have it in writing that a product is unconditionally guaranteed for a definite period of time.

For example, a full year of normal wear is guaranteed by a company for men's and boy's slacks and jersey sports shirts made with a certain fiber and identified by wear-dated hang tags.

If a wear-dated shirt or pair of slacks fails to give you a year of normal wear, you can get a refund or a replacement from the company by returning the item to your local dealer along with the sales slip and the wear-dated hang tag.

You don't have to worry if you deal with a reputable local dealer, or if you buy a well-advertised nationally brand. But if you buy a known brand from a little-known dealer, be sure you understand the "factory guarantee" covers only the product; the factory won't make good if the dealer does a faulty installation job.

If the product you buy is a mechanical one, the guarantee may cover the parts, labor or both--or it may cover neither.

Find out for sure.

A guarantee to repair a product at no charge if something goes wrong may be better than the promise of a "free" replacement. If a company offers you a guarantee to repair the product, you know two things:

- 1.) that the company thinks its product is so good that it won't need repairs or replacement for at least the guarantee period,
- 2.) that if it does, you're safe--the company will fix it for nothing.

The best guarantee is usually one where the company will either repair or replace a product, depending on what is needed.

By keeping these facts about guarantees in mind whenever you go out to make a purchase, you'll probably stretch your shopping dollar by getting more for your money and avoiding costly outlays for replacements and repairs.

PAUL HARVEY What's Past

ON THE FACADE of the stately Archives Building in Washington, D.C., are inscribed the words: "What's past is prologue."

A District cab driver is said to have said, "What that means is, you ain't seen nothin' yet!"

IF COMING EVENTS do cast shadows--

If we can anticipate our own fate by analytical hindsight-- Let's preview by review.

OLDER PARTS of the world are beginning to feel sorry for the people of the United States. Like a mother or father or elder brother, they can see what we are going through and what we are headed into: they have passed this way before.

Recently in London's New Statesman, J. B. Priestley wrote, "I have been feeling genuinely and deeply sorry for the American people--the ordinary decent Americans as distinct from the bloodthirsty half-balmi raffia."

"I am sorry for them because, bewildered, saddened or maddened, they are trying to grope their way out of a long dangerous dream."

HE WENT ON to describe how our "great country, based on a noble idea, is now tearing itself apart."

The United States until 15 years ago was an example for the world of how a "melting pot" of assorted ethnic strains and diverse views could converge without colliding.

Today's wreckage of that "long dangerous dream" is disillusioning to us but really no surprise to older nations where overpopulation has amplified and ultimately inflamed "difference."

IT'S TIREsome to most Americans for anyone to re-recite the lessons of history, but several historians--Spengler, DeReincourt, Ferraro, Gibbon--concur so precisely in their interpretation of Rome's demise that one more instant replay might be useful.

Rome had a pioneering beginning not unlike our own, enjoyed two centuries of greatness then went into decline, decay and collapse.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE Let Live

By BOB WEAR

WE DO NOT HELP ourselves by hurting others.

We cannot improve our character by slandering and vilifying the character of others.

We cannot make our life situation better by deliberately damaging that of others.

"The detractor may, and often does, pull down others, but by so doing never, as he seems to suppose, elevates himself to their position.--The most he can do is, maliciously to tear from them the blessings which he cannot enjoy himself."

THERE IS ENOUGH of everything for everybody.

Of course, some will have more than others; but what is wrong with this?

If the "Have-Nots" insist upon taking away from the "haves", they initiate action that eventually affects themselves.

What they do to others, somebody can do to them. This faulty kind of action is not going to help anyone, and it creates a social climate in which everybody loses.

WE MUST LEARN to accept each other.

This requires a wise, wholesome kind of tolerance.

The philosophy of "Live and let live" is a practical guideline, and there is certainly an urgent need to put it to work.

Of course, there will be times when we must "Live and 'help' live". This will be human behavior at its best; but, if we drop below the level of "Live and let live", we go into the worst kind of human action.

WE GAIN MUCH MORE for ourselves when we do all we can to build ourselves up rather than working to tear others down.

It is better to do the best we can with what we have than busy ourselves trying to spoil what others have.

It is far more rewarding to be mindful of our blessings, and thankful for them than it is to make ourselves miserable by coveting what others have.

WE MUST ACCEPT our differences. This is one of the most obvious facts of life.

There is no way to force all of us to the same level, the same situation, or into the same category. If I am going to be angry and hostile because others look better than I; are richer than I; are more capable than I; or excel me in accomplishments; I am being a fool, or worse.

SOME PEOPLE CANNOT LIVE at their potential best, because they will not give others the chance to which they are justly entitled.

They cannot reach and hold their rightful position, because they waste themselves trying to put others down or trying to keep others down.

MANY PEOPLE NEVER succeed in their own living, because they are so concerned with keeping others from success.

They don't seem to realize that they will never improve themselves, or their lot in life by degrading others.

NO ONE EVER makes himself more important by belittling others, or their work, or their place in life.

We cannot improve our own status, in any area of life, by criticizing, undermining, or trying to take from the status of other people.

EVERYBODY IS BEING hurt now, because so many individuals and groups have dedicated themselves to destruction.

It is better that we "Live and 'help' live"; but we must never slip below the existence level of "Live and let live".

DOWN TO EARTH Enemy

By JIMMY R. ALLEN

"THE ONLY THING necessary for evil to prevail is for good men to do nothing." The words of Edmund Burke ring true in contemporary times.

Apathy may be public enemy number one whether it shows up in failure of citizens to vote, indifference about the issues facing a society, or ignoring the opportunities of spiritual experiences in religious worship.

THE APATHY which stalks our nation is often an apathy of confusion. Political issues always are discussed in an atmosphere of claims and counter claims.

The average citizen has difficulty determining the truth in an atmosphere of controversy.

Often he withdraws from the effort. He decides either not to vote or to vote on impulse.

Thus the man with the highest degree of name recognition or a favorable place on the ballot receives votes of persons who feel too confused to be certain of their choice.

THIS CONFUSION also is evidenced by the tendency to leave the issues to the "experts." The President chooses to escalate the war in Southeast Asia against a background of citizenship reaction that, after all, he's the only one who knows what the total situation is.

While there is some truth in this position, many a blunder marks the pages of American history justified at the time by the theory that the experts' advice has been followed.

THE COMMON SENSE judgment of citizens often mocks the omniscience of the experts by being wiser in the long run.

A deeply disturbing aspect of apathy is that which is rooted in the philosophy of "doing your own thing." The idea that one is to draw a circle around himself and do only that which is in his own best interest or which happens to appeal to him is a dangerous trend. An old fashioned word for it is "irresponsibility."

WE SIMPLY CANNOT ignore the results of our actions or their effects on others.

We are responsible and should be as constructive as possible in assuming those responsibilities. This apathy of selective inattention is ultimately fragmenting and divisive.

Some apathy is caused by a hopelessness about the effectiveness of individual action in a complex society. The feeling that one vote won't really decide anything or that one deed won't change the condition strips men of their determination to act. The astounding fact is, however, that it is surprising what one determined and dedicated voice can accomplish in a democratic society...or in a community...or in a church.

THE VACUUMS will be filled by something or someone. No one knows how much one act can accomplish.

A sign across the front of a church in my childhood carried this truth. It said, "If every member were a member like me, what kind of church would my church be." The question applies to every structure to which we belong, including our nation.

HARVEY COX, controversial theologian, claims that sloth may be the most deadly of the seven deadly sins.

He wrote a book on the idea, citing the experience of temptation in the Garden of Eden. He titled it "On Not Leaving it to the Snake."

More evil results may stem from our failure to pursue aggressively our task of bringing life under God's direction than by any conscious rebellion or any overtly destructive act.

THE CHALLENGE is to be involved--as intelligently as possible--but not just to stand there. We must do something about what we can influence!

HOMINY GRITS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

FARMERS ARE HAVIN' quite a time these days. They're tryin' to out guess the weather.--To plant, or not to plant, that is the question! I remember when I was plowin' the soil, and tryin' to dig a livin' out of it. The same questions were just as unanswerable as they are now.--No farmer wants to plant just before a big rain, or, even a shower.

THE AMOUNT OF WIND that the freshly opened ground would have to weather was of prime importance, also.--So-o-o?? --The primary questions were,--"Is it gonna rain or will the wind blow?!"

Of course, for the sake of you City-Slickers, the rain makes a crust over the tender plants so's they have difficulty coming up, and the wind dries out the ground and lets the seed, or little plant die.

ANY FARMER in the area would give a "Purty-Penny" for an infallible weather forecast this time of year!

Many a morning, I'd go to the field with my planter on the tractor, stop at the end of the rows, and scan the skies for any indication of changing weather.--If it looked like a nice, quiet day, I'd check my planting and try to cover the seeds about an inch and one-half deep.

BY TEN O'CLOCK the sun would be bearin' down, pretty warmly, and I'd decide that maybe I'd better cover the seed a little deeper.--So, down with the opening plows, I'd go.--(Around two inches deep.)

SHORTLY AFTER LUNCH, (Dinner, to us) the wind would start kickin' up.--Down to THREE inches, with those openin' plows! By four o'clock a cloud might start buildin' up, over in the west.--Start easin' up on those openin' plows--The cloud keeps buildin' and it seems to be comin' our way.--UP with those openers!

THE CLOUD KEEPS comin' closer, and I keep raisin' those plows (Wish I hadn't even started plantin') Then, THE WIND HIT!--I pull the plows out of the ground, and go to the house, dead tired from climbin' up and down that tractor all day!

Chances are, by next morning that field will be blown flat anyway, then I can wait for a rain for moisture to plant on, so's I can start through the whole process, once more!

A WOMAN'S VIEW Song Of Solomon

By PEARL BRANDON

"THIS IS THE DAY the Lord has made; rejoice and be glad in it."

It was a beautiful West Texas spring morning. The sun was shining, the sky was blue, the birds were singing and the kitten was playing on the lawn.

All nature called to come out and enjoy it. There was yard work to be done and this was a glorious morning to do it.

BUT, there was work in the house to be done also. . . pressing work, and problems to worry over.

I didn't have time to enjoy the out-doors and I didn't have time to be happy.

I had my work for the day planned--work that I had to get done, and besides who could be happy with this problem still unsolved. I decided to have my morning prayer and get to work.

AS I SAT DOWN for a few minutes meditation the temptation to go out-side was strong.

I thought of a little jingle I wrote a few years ago on such an occasion.

I'm gettin' old at sixty three, to write a book or plant a tree; I guess I just take off today, and watch a yellow bird at play.

I WAS IN THAT KIND of mood this morning, I didn't want to work in the house.

I turned the pages of the Bible until I came to one of my favorite Scriptures in the Songs of Solomon. "The winter is passed, the rain is over and gone; the flowers appear on the earth; the time of the singing of the birds has come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land."

I READ THIS over a few times. I let the house work go and turned my problem over to the Lord (I couldn't solve it without His help anyway) and went out-side and had a wonderful morning working in the yard.

Tax refunds will go to $1,479,000, it is estimated, based upon figures from Treasury Department as size and number of checks mailed out.

The average refund is $239, it states. Last year, the average return was only $198.

Some $12.8 billion will be turned to 53 million taxpayers throughout the country to their over-payments. Last year, because of the 10 percent surtax, there were only $1 billion refunds. They totaled $1 billion.

The $2.6 billion jump represents a considerable increase in buying power.

The local buying power being improved, also, by bigger social security checks. The amount paid in the four months to the 2,500 in Lamb County who are receiving them was $113,000 greater than in the previous four months.

Federal employees in local areas will also have spending money. They share in the hike of more $2.5 billion that will be demanded under the temporary surtax.

These increases, combined with the big gains being made by unions and the formation of the surtax, are expected to produce a strong thrust to business in the future.

Rotary, Optimist Fight To Deadlock

A long-time rivalry between Rotary and Optimists stayed that way Monday night as the two clubs battled to a 5-5 tie in six innings.

The game turned out to be a pitching duel between Willie Huey of Rotary and Bill Turner of the Optimists.

Turner also put on an offensive show for Optimists, but he was matched by Rotary's Tommy Twitty. Both players scored three runs on some daring base-running.

Adate has not been set for the play-off of the game.

Rotary opened with a run in the top of the first, as Twitty singled and later scored.

Turner homered with a man on in bottom of the first, and the Optimists tacked on another run for a 3-1 lead.

In the third inning, Turner singled and later scored after slipping away in a run-down-between third and home. It gave Optimists a 4-1 lead.

Rotary came back with three runs in the fourth as Twitty beat out an infield single that scored Blake Wood and Terry Washington. Twitty later came home to tie the score at 4-4.

The daring on the basepaths came again in the bottom of the fifth, when Turner stole home for a 5-4 optimist lead, and in the top of the sixth when Twitty scrambled in for the tying run.

Huey allowed only three hits, Turner's home run and single, and one-bagger by Ray Vargas.

Rotary nicked Turner for six hits, including a pair of singles each by Ricky Hopping and Twitty, and one-bagger by Blake Wood and Steve Jackson.

Rotary 19, Spade 2
Saturday in a make-up game between Rotary and Spade, Rotary took a 14-run lead in the top half of the first inning to down Spade, 19-2.

Rotary got all their runs in the first three innings and allowed Spade a run in the second and in the fourth.

Leading hitters for Rotary were Doug Perrin and Richy Hopping with a single and a homer each. Ken Turner and James Kemp each had a double, Stan Jackson had a pair of singles, and Terry Washington, Willie Huey, Reggie Peyton all had singles.

Spade's leading sluggers were Randy McCoy, Glen Irving, Roy

Jackson, and Mark Cowan with singles apiece.

Tommy Twitty was the winning pitcher, allowing two hits. Joe Estrada was the losing pitcher.

Lions 10, WOW 2

The final game Saturday in the Majors pitted Lions against WOW. The Lions roared to an easy victory over the Woodmen, 10-2.

It was a night for home runs as WOW's Kip Elms slugged a pair for WOW and Ronald Parmer hit one for the Lions. The Lions scored three in the first, one in the second, two in the third, one each in the fourth and fifth and a pair in the sixth.

WOW scored its first run in the first and the last in the third.

Ronald Parmer had a single, double and a homer for the winners, followed by Kyle Jones with a double and a single, Sonny Sanchez with a pair of singles, and Rudy Ayala with a single.

Ronald Parmer was the winning pitcher, allowing only the two round-trippers by Elms. Dennis Bell was the losing

Hog And Cattle Market Pays Highest Prices

Area farmers now have a market place close to home for their hogs and cattle. L. B. Eady opened his Lamb County Hog and Cattle Company one mile east of Amherst in October.

A cattle buyer and trader for over 20 years, Eady hopes to encourage more farmers to raise livestock with a nearby market that pays top, competitive prices.

Eady buys all types of hogs and cattle and specializes in top hogs that are ready for market. Eady also buys feeder cattle for local feed lots, and he will buy and sell stocker cattle for farmers wanting light cattle.

Facilities at the Lamb County Hog and Cattle Company are complete with a loading chute for double or single deck trucks, pens to accommodate cattle and a 250-head capacity hog barn. Scales are government tested and Eady is bonded. He also has a 16-foot covered trailer on loan for hauling.

Eady is open from sunup to sundown, "and at night if anyone breaks down on the road." Eady and his wife live just 300 yards southeast of the business.

Although set up for some big transactions, Eady will sell one hog or calf, or half a beef for those wanting to buy meat for their home freezers.

Happiness Is...

GROWING UP!!!!!!!!!!!!

CAN YOU BELIEVE???? - Four more days of school, and another school year completed with happy moments, sad ones, good grades, and the opposite. It all adds up to a simply stupendous year. It has all gone so rapidly, and for those of us who are ninth grade freshmen, we are approaching the end of our Junior High days and the beginning of High School. Most of us must have the same feeling. This period of our life is what we have anxiously been awaiting, and now that it is almost here, there is an inherent, undecipherable yearning for the hands of the clock to stop.

We are, and have been so secure in this happy little world at L.J.H. It has been like one big family.

It was here in Jr. High that we made our grand entrance into "teenage." Let's hope that we can keep our feet on the ground, and not evoke the frightening picture that the word "teen-ager" has come to mean to so many older people. We, as teen-agers, are full of zest for life, and have an abounding energy harnessed to imperishable ideals and dreams. We yearn to be loved and understood. We are loyal beyond measure to friends, and are simply overwhelming as hero worshippers. We are worthy and sportsmanlike competitors in fields requiring either brain or brawn, and above all, we are receptive to the things of the spirit.

The next three years are the challenge for most of us. Our future as happy, creative, and useful human beings will depend upon whether we continue as we have started, or whether we deviate from the healthy norm, and become irresponsible hot-rods, sporting an incoherent jargon, rock and roll addicts, marijuana, wrecking schoolrooms, mugging, and carrying concealed weapons, and making headlines.

It is our responsibility as future leaders to continue "growing-up" with the teachers that Mr. Brawley and all of the teachers at L.J.H. have so faithfully tried to do us.

PICNICS ARE GREAT. I'm sure the picnics were enjoyed by everyone!! The 7th and 8th grades had lunch at L. Park, and then went to see a movie. The 9th grade left school at 11:00 a.m., and their lunch at Lagoona Park. They were taken to the bowling alley and Crescent. The L.J.H. Band Concert was rescheduled last Monday night. It was really fun. The theme was "This Wonderful World of Mine." All the band's thanks go to Stella Rife, who headed the committee for making all stage decorations.

Everyone is busy dragging out the mail. It's that time again. Final Exam next Tuesday. GOOD LUCK EVERYONE!

Since this is my last column, I want to express my sincere thanks to Mr. Rife for putting up with me, and to everyone who has helped me.
