

Wildcats Scalp Indians, 54-0

Littlefield arrived on the field from the locker rooms at the same time Friday night but the only thing they did equally well as blitzed the visitors, 54-0. The Wildcats recorded their second straight win and their seventh of the season against only a tie. Passing 54 points, the game indicated a much closer contest but the opportunistic Wildcats outage of numerous Morton mistakes to have excellent scoring position throughout the contest. It just wasn't Morton's night as their team's problems carried over to the Morton radio play-by-play man. Just as he was giving the description of a fine halftime performance by the Wildcat band, he glanced down at a tape recorder he was using for a delayed broadcast only to discover that it had fumbled its batteries somewhere between Morton and Littlefield.

For the night, Littlefield rushed for 208 yards, gained another 69 in the air for 277 yards total offense as compared to the Indian's 165 total. Bill Turner gained 63 yards, Rudy Ayala had 48 yards rushing, Steve Cruz netted 26, Blake Wood 22, Ronald Farmer 18, Lonnie Twitty 16, Robert Hall 11 and Rick Hopping 4. Farmer also passed for 69 yards as he completed 3 of 7 attempts. It didn't take the Littlefield Wildcats long to set up a scoring opportunity as Randy Hall recovered an Indian fumble on Morton's 21 yard line on the very first offensive play of the game. Two running plays netted the 'Cats a first and goal situation and then quarterback Farmer ran a keeper right up the heart of Morton's defensive alignment to record Littlefield's first touchdown of the night with 10:43 left on the clock.

Mahon Pleased With Agreement Sale of Grain To Russia

Businessman George Mahon said he was pleased that the Administration had finally signed a grain sales agreement with the Soviet Union, but that the delay had cost American farmers a big portion of the Soviet market.

Following the announcement Monday, Mahon said: "Although I have not had the opportunity to analyze all of the provisions of the announced agreement, I am most pleased that the suspension of grain sales to the Soviet Union has been lifted."

"However, the announcement of the grain agreement comes at a time when it appears that the Russians have already bought much of their requirements from sources outside the U.S. The benefits which will now accrue to the American farmer have been greatly diminished due to the long delays in lifting the moratorium."

Concerning the five-year agreement for an annual purchase of six million tons of American grain by the Soviet Union, Mahon stated: "I favor a long term grain sales agreement with the Soviet Union as long as the sales are made on the basis of the current market price at the time of the sale."

In commenting on the proposed purchase of Soviet oil by the United States, Mr. Mahon said: "It appears that an agreement with respects to the annual purchase of 200,000 barrels of oil per day from the Soviet Union would be in the public interest. Of course, the amount being discussed is relatively small, but could prove significant as international trade agreements are considered during the five-year period."

Woman's Club Schedules Annual Scholarship Dinner

Women of the Littlefield Woman's Club will host their annual scholarship dinner Tuesday, Nov. 11, at 7:30 p.m. in the Lamb County Agriculture and Community Center.

"The dinner is one of the outstanding Woman's Club programs of the year, and in the past, it has been well supported by Littlefield citizens," says Mrs. Lorene Hulse, president.

Proceeds from the dinner go toward a fund to provide a scholarship for a Littlefield girl graduate.

Theme of the program will be "Appreciation For Our New Industry", and the speaker will be Robert Hale, manager of the American Cotton Growers' Textile Plant.

Members in charge of ticket sales are Mrs. Lena Jones, 320 E. 11th, 385-4460, and Mrs. Hazel Kimbrough, 313 E. 14th, 385-3979.

Anyone wishing tickets may call either of them, or may contact any member of the club.

Immunization Month

If you could protect your preschool child against seven major diseases—some of them cripples and killers—would you have it done?

"Yes!" you answer?

While it may be true in your case, it isn't true for more than a fourth of the parents in the United States, says Dr. J. H. Oyer, M.D., County Health Officer.

"In the United States last year," says Dr. Oyer, "only 63 per cent of preschoolers were protected against polio. For rubella, or German measles, only 60 per cent of preschoolers were protected. Mumps immunization protection levels rose to 40 per cent in 1974, and there was a slight rise to 74 per cent last year in the levels against diphtheria, tetanus (lockjaw), and whooping cough."

"Each year in Texas approximately a quarter-million children are born—children who are susceptible to these immunizable diseases. Not all get the protection they deserve between birth and school age, when immunizations are mandatory for school entrance."

"With such a large number of newborns, this means that there is a reservoir of susceptible children being born every day, every week, every month.

"Getting them immunized is what October is all about. October is being observed nationwide as "Immunization Action Month, with emphasis on the preschool child. Private physicians, together with public health agencies, are hoping that all parents with unimmunized children will get the message and have them immunized."

The state's number one public health official, Dr. Fratis L. Duff, director of the Texas Department of Health Resources, emphasized the need to meet the continuing challenge of preventive immunizations in young children.

Mrs. Dolph Briscoe is heading activities of the volunteer Texas Immunization Action program in an educational effort to get children into private physicians' offices or health department clinics for immunizations.

Two Re-Elected To TGSP Board

Two Lamb County men have been re-elected to the Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board for six-year terms, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

K. B. Parish of Springlake and Larry Witten of Olton were elected in the biennial election held Oct. 16.

Other board members re-elected were Ralph Mabry of Petersburg and C. P. Smith of Hale Center.

The four newly re-elected board members, who all will serve six-year terms, were sworn into office at the board meeting held Oct. 21 in Lubbock.

Members of the Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board are elected by grain producers who support the board through voluntary assessments.

The 12-member Grain Sorghum Producers Board formulates and administers programs of research, disease and insect control, and encourages production, marketing and use of grain sorghum.

The Texas Department of Agriculture works with the board in an advisory capacity and makes certain their activities are in compliance with the law.

Standard Time Makes Debut This Morning

Daylight saving time ended at 2 a.m. this morning, and if you haven't moved your clocks back an hour, you're ahead of the times.

Central standard time is now timely, and will remain in effect until the last Sunday in April, 1976.

The United States now operates under the permanent time change schedule mandated by the 1966 Uniform Time Act, after a confusing year in 1974 when emergency daylight saving time was ordered to conserve energy.

The emergency act was passed late in 1973 at the peak of the energy crisis. It put the nation on daylight time effective Jan. 6, 1974, and it was originally intended to continue to April, 1975.

But complaints flowed into Congress that daylight time in winter months caused hazards and hardships for children going to school in the dark. So the nation went back on standard time Oct. 27, 1974, with a provision to return to daylight time Feb. 23, 1975 through Oct. 26, 1975.

A Banker's Viewpoint....

Now guess who defeated the Japanese to end World War II.

Russia did, of course. If you don't believe it, just ask the men in the Kremlin.

Last Spring the Russians proudly celebrated their victory over Nazi Germany thirty years ago. Never mind that other countries like Britain and the United States also were involved, along with a great many other people, and that practically all of the military equipment used by the Russians was provided by the United States....

Or that, with some magnanimity still not understood by military men, our own forces were held back for days in order to let the Russians be the first to enter ravaged Berlin.

Under this arrangement the Russians did seize Berlin, as thousands of ravished German women can attest.

History, of course, is viewed through the eyes of the historian, and perhaps there is some excuse for Russia to claim an outsized share in the defeat of Hitler's Germany.

But for the Russians now to claim a more or less single-handed victory over Japan is so rich in deceit that it must be hard for even the most stupid Russian to swallow.

The fact is that Russia didn't even enter the war - on a purely token basis - against Japan until two days after a U.S. bomber dropped an atomic bomb on Hiroshima. That catastrophic event, August 6, 1945, ended the Japanese will to fight; and Japan, taking a second atomic bomb while her leaders argued the matter, bid for a cessation of hostilities on August 10.

The Soviets were never in contact with major Japanese forces. Instead, they only invaded Manchuria, where retreating Japanese occupation troops couldn't give up ground fast enough to escape a few Russian shells.

What Russia claims, and distorts, about World War II, however, is really an unimportant matter. The Russian people long since have become cynics about the pronouncements of their government, and people across the rest of the world know the actual truth.

But it does bother us that our diplomats continue to make extremely vital treaties with Russia that depend for their effectiveness entirely upon the Russian word.

It's our idea that if the Russians can't even tell the truth about history, how can we hope for them to be truthful about what they might do in the future, especially when a few well placed lies could tip the balance of world power in their favor?

We believe in this country and its people. Like the writers of our Constitution, we believe that the strength and the real intelligence of government originates with the people. So we urge all our citizens, here and elsewhere, to do our part - keep up with public issues and send our opinions about them to our elected representatives.

Eye Transplant Recipient Speaks

ANTON— Mrs. Joyce Raymond of Amarillo, recipient of two Eye Bank transplants, was guest speaker at the Anton Lions Club Ladies Night Monday.

Mrs. Raymond, mother of four, learned that she was a victim of an incurable eye disease when she was 19. She was fitted for contact lenses and wore them as long as she could, but they caused intense pain. One eye ruptured and the other eye weakened until she was completely blind.

For the next 11 years she was without sight. Her doctor had recommended a cornea transplant which she refused. She consented to the operation and then waited a month for an eye to become available. She received her cornea transplants in a Ft. Worth hospital.

Mrs. Raymond said, "I now live a normal, active life of a mother with four children and what a joy it is to be able to drive our car to school to pick up our children."

She stressed the importance of making the decision to be an eye donor early so that next of kin and family physician will know of it. Putting it in a will is not effective as the will is not read soon enough after death.

She said that eyes are collected for eye banks 3-6 hours after death and may be used by any person. There is no charge to the recipient for the eye. Each eye may be used to cure the blindness of three people.

Dr. Jim Price, Chief of Ophthalmology at Texas Tech Medical School said that thousands of blind people are waiting for a donor. He serves as a medical director of the 2T-2 Lions Eye Bank program.

Thirty-three members of the Anton FHA and their sponsor, Miss Janiece Robertson, attended the meeting.

Special guests included Eye Bank officials: Harold Rasberry, Lubbock, president; Mrs. Joy Sears, Lubbock, secretary; Jerry Smith, director, and Jimmie Jones, Littlefield, first vice-president and Deputy District Governor at Large for Lions District 2T-2. Also present were Kip Cutshall, immediate past president of 2T-2 and Dick Raymond, husband of the speaker, of Amarillo.

Members of the Anton Study Club were in attendance as a joint meeting. Guests also included members of the 1950 Study Club, Young Farmers, FFA, Eastern Star, Student Council and Lionesses.

During the business session, Secretary Mike Byrum reported that the Lighthouse for the blind broom sale totaled $2,195.78 giving the Lions a profit of $520.15. The homecoming pancake supper netted $709. The Lions President, Eddie Bishop, expressed appreciation for the help of the community in the broom sale and pancake supper.

The Lions, in cooperation with the Young Farmers and FFA, are constructing a fence for the baseball park.

New members were Sammie Norman and Richard Grace.

Railroad Safety Week

"Accidents at railroad grade crossings continue to claim many lives and result in significant property damage," said Governor Dolph Briscoe in proclaiming Oct. 20-26 as Texas Railroad Grade Crossing Safety Week.

Statistics indicate that deaths due to collisions between automobiles and trains increased by 10 percent in 1974. The first half of 1975, however, the number of deaths has decreased by 22 percent compared to the same period last year.

The Texas Safety Association's Railroad Transportation Section, which represents most of the railroads of Texas, has long been active in this state-wide effort to reduce accidents at railroad grade crossings, and feels that the placement of the week comes at a critical time of the year.

In the first half of 1974, deaths had decreased by 3 percent from the previous year.

But by year's end, the comparative figure had turned instead to the aforementioned 10 percent increase!

Sick of TV? You're Not Alone!

COLUMNIST Steve Dunleavy of "The National Star" maintains that "average Americans are sick to death of being insulted by the garbage that is being dished out to them" by the tv networks. (SMALL "tv," please; they don't deserve upper case.)

And, we suspect, many Americans would also share Mr. Dunleavy's choice of words.

IN A RECENT COLUMN, he wrote: "Rhoda's mother talks about having an affair with her doctor. Well, isn't that too funny for words?"

"Maude had an abortion. Absolutely hysterical.

"Archie Bunker has a fixation about the toilet. Isn't that a howl?"

"Yes, and the howl will be even louder if ever I get my fingers around the necks of the television tycoons who force-feed us this garbage."

"I am fed up to the hilt with turning on my set to see so-called 'comedies' only to be assaulted by all the ugly things in life. The geniuses in Hollywood who devise these laugh-ins have the imaginations of retarded toads."

"It really bugs the living daylight out of me to see our biggest medium of entertainment being turned into a slush pond for the underbelly of life. It's not prudishness that prompts my outrage so much as the massive insult to our collective intelligence.

"Well, I don't have to watch Norman Lear's aberrations to learn about divorce, affairs, abortions, or homosexuality. Neither does a long-suffering and very intelligent American public. We are not docile infants who have to be fed pap and we are not mental patients who have to be given periodic shock treatment.

"Laurel and Hardy managed to brighten a generation without once touching on abortion."

"Abbot and Costello got their share of laughs without once talking about a hysterectomy."

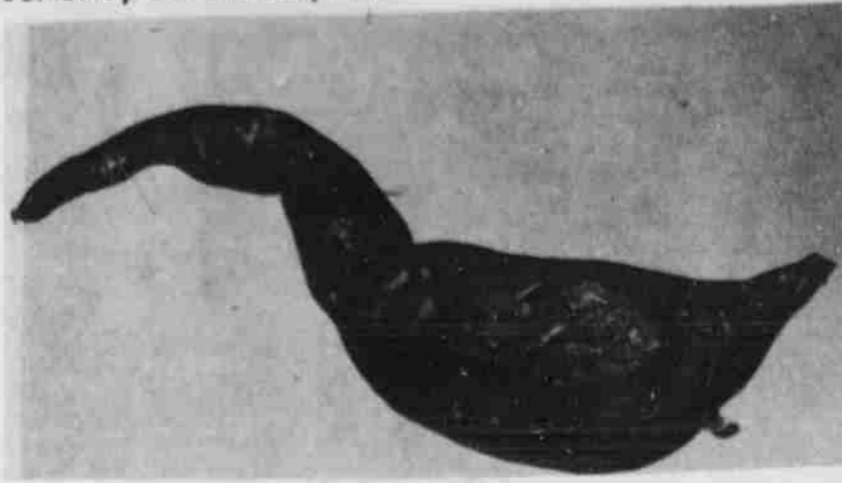

"Lucille Ball split our sides for 15 years in 'I Love Lucy' without once mentioning pre-marital sex."

"Burns and Allen laid us in the aisles for a decade and never thought about wife-swapping."

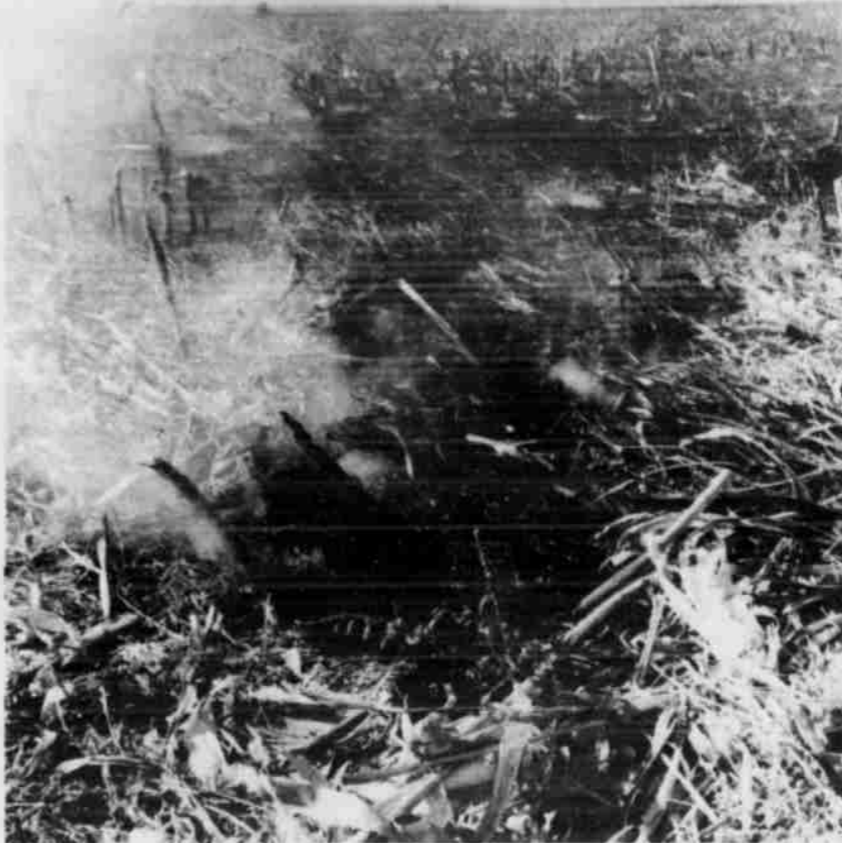

"Where we morons to find those people funny?"

NO, MR. DUNLEAVY, the American people are not morons. The morons are those so devoid of any real talent or ability to write an entertaining and truly humorous television script that they substitute dirt.

Since their minds are incapable of reaching for the stars, they stay in the gutter.

THIS DUCKY yam came from the Norman Emfinger farm east of Littlefield when this year's crop of sweet potatoes were harvested. Mary McCormick found this duck-shaped potato, complete with beak, head, body, tail, a pair of feet, and even deeper shading in the coloring at the point where wings would be placed. (Staff Photo)

WHERE THERE'S smoke there's fire, and even when there are rules prohibiting burning of stubbles, there are those who find a little flaunting of the rules the quickest and easiest way to get rid of stalks and get ready for another crop year. A gentle breeze quickly reduced the stalks in this field. (Staff Photo)

A Woman's View

By PEARL BRANDON

LAST WEEK I wrote about the Lord of creation, the great God who possesses all power in the heavens and on earth. Who created the universe with its stars and planets and satellites.

I believe in this great and powerful God who was here before the beginning of time and will always be here, who created man in His own image, as well as everything else the world contains.

BUT THIS WEEK I want to write about the personal side of God. Of One who is concerned about us, as small as we are, and our own everyday cares and problems. Yes, He cares about us.

If we hurt, He is concerned, even though He can see the whole picture and knows the reasons and the results of things that happen to us.

He is so close that we can turn to Him instantly in prayer. If I lose a loved one and my heart is breaking, He feels for me even though He knows the reason why this should be as it is.

WE OFTEN WONDER why some people have more to hear than seems fair. The other night I heard a man on the radio tell about a beautiful woman he knew who married early in life to a fine young man and was very happy.

They had a lovely baby boy and everything seemed perfect. Then her husband was killed in a plane crash.

SHE WAS heartbroken, but she got a job and went to work supporting herself and her little boy. In a few years she married again and the three of them were happy together.

When the boy was in his teens this husband died suddenly with a heart attack. This was a terrible blow, but she and her son went on facing life the best they could.

HER SON GREW tall and handsome and was devoted to his mother, then one black day she received the news he had been killed in a car wreck.

For a while life seemed more than she could bear, but through it all she held on to God—or God held on to her.

GRADUALLY she began to live again and now she is room mother in an orphanage, where she is giving all her love and herself to children who need her.

She knows contentment and fulfillment.

I believe our Lord God smiles on us when we are happy and He grieves with us when we are sad, as Jesus wept with Mary and Martha when Lazarus died, even though He knew He was going to bring him back to life.

OUR FATHER sees on and on into the future. He knows some day everything will be right, and there will be no more sorrow or weeping—neither anymore pain.

I WOULD LIKE to pay my respects to Burial will follow in Littlefield Memorial Park under direction of Hammons Funeral Home.

Houk, 59, died at noon Friday in Methodist Hospital.

A native of Jamestown, Ind., Houk was a control room operator for Southwestern Public Service Co. He was a World War II veteran and a member of the Church of Christ.

He is survived by his wife, Forrest; a daughter, Mrs. Judith Kirschdorfer, of Fort Worth; three sons, Kenneth and Howard, of Littlefield, and Richard, of Beaumont; a brother, Andy, of Littlefield; two sisters, Mrs. O. D. Yeager Jr., of Andrews, and Mrs. Jimmy Walker of Washington, D. C., and six grandchildren.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

The Outcome

WE MAY NOT be able to anticipate the outcome of all our actions and our decisions, because we are not equipped with supernatural powers. This human limitation may be disappointing to some of us, or to all of us, in some situations. We are sure, however, that it is best that we do not have such extraordinary capability.

WE CAN KNOW, in a very real sense, "the outcome" of our actions and decisions; not in every detail always, but enough to establish a very satisfactory life pattern.

Since we cannot attain perfection in making our choices, and because there will be some flaws in our behavior; there will be some disappointments. From the standpoint of the total life, however, we can do very well in visualizing and actualizing "the outcome."

THERE ARE ESTABLISHED laws which, in their workings, produce the same results time after time. There are causes which always produce the same effects. There are very well-identified and well-marked courses of behavior which take us to well-known destinations.

"We do reap as we sow." "Seed always brings forth after its kind." In the light of these, and other related facts, it is obvious that we can determine what "the outcome" is going to be.

Better than this, we can choose the outcome we desire in most things. THERE IS SOME UNCERTAINTY about life, uncertainty which cannot be eliminated; but is not a critical problem unless we permit it to be. Of course we will make everything as sure as we can and keep the uncertainties to the minimum.

We will make some mistakes in our choices; we will not be perfect in applying established laws; we will counter obstacles which will arise aside from the course of behavior we choose; and there will be other chances occasionally. These chances will alter "the outcome" some; however, as long as we try, we can reasonably well in controlling it.

WE ARE NOT VICTIMS of fate, or benevolent. We have been given a very important part in fashioning our outcome.

There will be some things which concern us which we cannot control. Even in these, we have the privilege of the power to decide how we accept the situation. Fatalism is just an unwise assumption. There is nothing substantial in this doctrine.

WHEN WE ACCEPT our responsibility, and obey the well-established and time-tested principles of behavior, we can do much to determine our outcome.

GUESS WE GOT the World Series over with in pretty good shape. Whichever team you were rooting for shouldn't cause you to be ashamed. Don't guess I ever watched a more exciting series. It was fitting that the winning hit should be a "Texas Leaguer" (bloop single) rather than a smashing home run.

It was too bad they couldn't have called the series a tie, and proclaimed the teams Co-Champions. It was close, all the way through, and both teams conducted themselves in a fine display of sportsmanship.

TOO BAD, ONE had to lose, but then, that's the name of the game, isn't it?

SOMETIMES HELP COMES from unexpected places. You try to resolve a question and are perplexed, when suddenly the answer pops up in a very decisive way.

For instance, this customer comes into the mill complaining that his speedometer is untruthful. So what's to do but give it a little roadtest? During this test, it was noted that the vehicle wasn't very responsive at speeds above fifty. You mash a little harder while you're listening to that oil engine and watching the speedometer.

SUDDENLY YOU LOOK up and see a patrol car turning around the median just as you're meeting him. His red light is on, and you come to a halt. He tells you, to a goat's bristle, just how fast you were traveling, and in your heart you know he's right! Speedometer was lying.

We became friends, right off. I guess at least we exchanged autographs. I neglected to tell the gentleman how to help he'd been, but then, maybe you read this, he'll know.

THE MUSHY ACCELERATOR caused by a clogged air cleaner, whatever that's worth. But I could have found that, without help. Anyway, nice to know that our law enforcement officers are out earning their pay.

THE MORE WE READ, the more wonder if the family way of life is becoming a thing of the past. Marriage seems to mean so little anymore. Many of our people, it is regarded as an experiment, and what the heck, if it doesn't work, we'll just go our separate ways.

THE U.S. News and World Report gives quite a bit of space to the question and for all practical purposes, a little helpful light on the subject. It is alarming when they say that forty percent of present day marriages end in the divorce courts. That's over 50 percent, friends!

It is a rare occasion when children are not prototypes of the parents, if you have any. It's hard to expect them to behave better than they've been taught. If anything, each generation seems to stray just a little farther than the last.

RATHER THAN preach a long sermon, I'll just say, "THINK ABOUT IT."

IF COMMUNISM, and its socialist economic system, is truly the "wave of the future" as its adherents claim, why does the capitalist system consistently outproduce its socialist competitors?

According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the U.S. grain harvest this year again is a banner one. The corn harvest is estimated at a record 5.7 billion bushels. And the wheat crop, totaling 2.1 billion bushels, is 19 percent larger than the record 1974 crop.

RUSSIA HAS BEEN producing wheat for hundreds of years in its rich black-soil belt stretching for 1,500 miles across its south. Although that country farms on considerably more land than the U.S., it still fails to produce enough to feed its people consistently.

In 1974, while America was producing 27.4 bushels of wheat to the acre, the Soviet Union was producing 20.9 bushels. And the production comparisons are even more stark in other major grains.

Judge Truitt Sides who passed away this past week. His death came as a great shock to all of us who knew him.

I know most of you will agree with me that he was one of the finest of men.

Everything he did, he did well. He was always kind and considerate, a quiet man and a gentle, honest decent person.

Lamb County has lost one of its finest citizens.

Our heartfelt sympathy goes to Mrs. Sides and his son and daughters. He often spoke of them with great pride.

With his passing, Truitt Sides has left a gap that will be hard to fill.

TODAY, the United States has lost 33 percent of its labor force in agriculture. Russia has 34 percent of its workers on farms; China 67 percent and India 67 percent. From 1971 to 1974, 40 percent of U.S. workers produced enough wheat to allow this country to export 67 percent of it.

What is the key to the amazing success of American agriculture? The answer was given in a recent newspaper interview by Dawson Ahalt, the USDA staff economist.

"The answer lies in the competitive spirit that has always characterized American agriculture," said Ahalt.

"In other systems where you don't have a profit incentive, such as the USSR, you can send a crew out to work a field but you just won't get the same output from them. Our system is unique; there's no other like it in the world."

Chalk one up for American agriculture—the ultimate answer is those who argue the merits of a system as opposed to a free enterprise system doing business.

Sentimental Antiques Fill K.E. Thornburg Residence

THIS STATUESQUE dresser is over 200 years old. Part of the bed headboard is reflected in the mirror. Mrs. K. E. Thornburg holds two pairs of embroidery hoops used by her mother since she was six. (Staff Photo)

By NILAH RODGERS
Heirlooms and antiques are precious possessions, and they take on added significance when they have been handed down through the family for generations.

Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Thornburg of 1218 W. 2nd have always been interested in sentimental, useful and historical items in their family heritage. Now these things furnish their home and become more valuable and meaningful each day.

Interest in antiques is evident throughout the 10-room house. The Thornburg living room features an heirloom chair over 200 years old which has come down through the family. A pair of chairs with hand carved scroll work were in a church and given to them by a friend who was a minister in Davenport, Ill. Two identical chairs are in the Lyndon Johnson home.

The Thornburg piano and stool are done in antique avocado with gilt trim and are 80 years old. A marble topped table with an abundance of wood handwork is more than 200 years old. Another table was bought in Galveston 63 years ago when it was over 100 years old. Yet another table belonged to Mrs. Thornburg's mother and was given to her by a woman who was 92 years old.

Even accessories are antiques, like the cast iron kettle that holds a potted plant and the flower arrangement in an old wash basin.

A kerosene lamp on that table was the first lamp Mr. and Mrs. Thornburg bought when they married 43 years ago. A stand lamp is over 100 years old.

One of their most prized possessions is a bedroom suite with a magnificent dresser that reaches the ceiling. Drawer pulls are hand-carved acorns, and the top is marble. "My husband's mother bought this when it was 123 years old, and she had it 59 years before we got it," Mrs. Thornburg added. And the bed is about the same age. A night table has been in the family since she can remember, and a pair of embroidery hoops have been used by her 93-year-old mother since she was 6-years-old.

Several decorative pieces of glassware have been handed down through the generations. Two hand painted plates hanging on the dining room wall were given to the Thornburgs' grandparents when they married, then passed on to the Thornburgs when they married many years later. One set of grandparents had been married 67 years when they gave a plate as a wedding gift 43 years ago. The side board has been in the family 72 years. Jelly stands, butter bowls, sugar bowls, and toothpick holders belonged to grandmothers and great-grandmothers.

A real conversation piece is the white porcelain wood burning stove in the kitchen. It is the first porcelain wood stove ever put out by Sears and Roebuck. "An old colored man in Hugo, Okla. bought it for his wife and she died before it was ever uncrated," Mrs. Thornburg said. "It's never been used. I've tried and tried to find the warming oven that went with it, but I've never been able to locate one. I browse in antique shops everywhere we go."

An interesting array of antiques fill the Thornburg den. A gun rack made of a single tree, horseshoes and hames hold a trio of antique guns. One is a .22 pistol Thornburg has owned since he was 15. The others have been in the family as long as they can remember.

An old spring wagon seat painted red and covered with a plaid blanket shawl is placed before the fireplace for the benefit of the grandchildren.

Nearby is a jug that held the first kerosene purchased by Thornburg's mother and daddy 78 years ago. A lattern was used by an aunt for 82 years brings back memories. A pair of hand-held eyeglasses belonged to a grandmother; a flat iron was the first used by her mother, and a maple rocker was used to rock a son-in-law.

Shelves hold an eight-day clock, a variety of old family photographs and various collectibles. There are stories behind a library table and a bookcase more than three generations old.

Other bedrooms feature twin beds around 60 years old, chests and dressers that have been in the family for years. Reproductions of the paintings of Pinkie and Blue Boy and family photos are in antique frames handed down through years and generations.

"At the time most of the family furniture was passed on to us, others in the family weren't interested in antiques," Mrs. Thornburg said. "But I've always been interested in old things. Now that it is the thing to do to collect antiques, others in the family would like some of the furniture. I had these things so long I plan to part with them. I don't plan to sell anything because there is somebody somewhere who will pay whatever price you put on an old piece of furniture."

MRS. K. E. Thornburg plays a few notes on the avocado and gilt piano, one of the many antiques she has collected over the past 12 years to add to her heirlooms passed down through generations. (Staff Photo)

Turner's kick was off to the right and the score stood at 6-0 as Littlefield again kicked off and again smothered the Morton runback on the 10 yard line.

Running from a wide split formation on the line of scrimmage, Morton moved for their initial first down with 9:23 left in the quarter.

Their prosperity was shortlived however as Steve Cruz came through on a blitz to create an Indian fumble, Dean Walden fell on the pigskin and the 'Cats again were in excellent scoring position.

Parmer, running the option around the right side, scooted in for his second TD of the night to put another six points on the scoreboard. A pass to Turner was good for the two extras and the 'Cats held a 14-0 lead with less than three minutes of playing time elapsed.

Morton then ran three plays without fumbling and were forced to punt.

Littlefield took the ball, still in Morton territory, and there was only one thing left to do and that was to score a touchdown on the first play and that is exactly what happened as Parmer, having a super night, stepped back into the pocket and threw a strike to end Jimmy Durham for the 'Cats third first quarter touchdown.

Turner's kick was again true and the 'Cats had an almost unbelievable 21-0 lead and the first quarter was still not half over.

Morton punted for the second time of the night and Turner zig-zagged down into Morton territory again but a clipping penalty moved the 'Cats back into their own territory for the first time with 5:17 left.

Morton held the 'Cats on this particular series and Littlefield was forced to punt.

Turner boomed a 56 yarder and Morton was again deep in their own territory.

The Indians ran two plays and then Durham put another six points on the scoreboard as he intercepted an Indian pass on the 28 yard line and then had an excellent return of the interception to put the 'Cats ahead 27-0 as the point after attempt was no good.

Morton again was forced to punt and Littlefield took over on the Indian 38 yard line with 44 seconds left in the first quarter.

Littlefield was unable to garner a first down and the toe of Turner set the Indians way-way back on their own one yard line.

On the play before the punt, quarterback Parmer took a hard blow on a keeper play and was forced to leave the game for the remainder of the first half after a tremendous first quarter.

The Indians were able to escape from their deep hole and the 'Cats took over following the third punt on their own 40.

Ayala demonstrated that he was a capable replacement for the night as he scooted 27 yards for an apparent touchdown but it was nullified on a clipping penalty.

Turner wasted little time in gaining that six points back though as he promptly scored his first touchdown of the night as he went a determined 37 yards for the 'Cats 33rd points.

Littlefield again took over following Morton's offensive efforts as Turner fielded the punt and returned it to his 47.

Two plays later Morton had their first break of the game as they recovered a Littlefield fumble on their own 41 for their best field position of the half.

And with 4:33 left on the scoreboard, the Indians moved into Littlefield territory for the first time of the night.

Morton again suffered an ambush though as the pigskin again eluded the Indian's running backs fingers and then Lonnie Twitty recovered the Indian's fumble on the 'Cats 35 yard line.

Littlefield was unable to capture a first down and Turner again got off another good punt of 45 yards to set the Indians back to their own 16.

Morton's Robbie Gattes had to leave the field via the ambulance following a hard tackle. He was x-rayed for a rib injury at the Littlefield Hospital but did return with the team to Morton following the game.

Morton had their best drive of the first half by far on this series as they moved down to Littlefield's 25 yardline before the half ended with Twitty deflecting a pass in the end zone with the halftime score 33-0 in favor of Littlefield.

SECOND HALF

Lonnie Twitty continued the torrid pace the 'Cats set in the first half as he took the opening kickoff and with Indians hanging all over him, moved up to the 'Cats 47 yard line.

Two running plays and a Parmer pass to Turner moved the ball down into Indian territory on the 34.

Parmer, apparently recovered from his first half injury, scampered to the Indian 25 yard line but the 'Cats second 15 yard penalty of the half moved the ball back into Wildcat territory on their own 46.

Unable to make up the penalty yardage, Turner punted to the Indian 10 yard line.

Morton moved upfield but fumbleitis again set in as Larry McDonald recovered a fumble on the Indian 15 yard line.

With 6:40 left, Blake Wood scored an apparent touchdown but the 'Cats were penalized for the third time of the half, this time on a procedure call and the touchdown run was nullified. Parmer, with his passing arm finely tuned, hit Greg Moreland on the five yard line to set up a fourth and five situation.

Before the 'Cats could get the fourth down play off though, they were called for too much time and were moved back five more yards.

Parmer attempted a pass on the fourth down play but it was tipped up and intercepted by Morton but the Indians were again deep in their own territory on their own 6 yard line.

Morton's drive was again stalled however, this time on a pass interception by Turner as he intercepted the Indian pass on the 30 and returned it to the Indian 11 yard line as the 'Cats threatened for the first time of the half.

And threaten they did as Cruz scored Littlefield's 39th point, Turner tacked on one more to make it 40-0 with 2:25 left in the third quarter.

Following the kickoff, the Indians were unable to move on their offense possession and the 'Cats took over on their own 40 with less than a minute left in the third quarter.

On the first play of the fourth quarter, Twitty crossed the midfield stripe to move into Indian territory.

The 'Cat offense was unable to muster a first down and Turner got off a short punt to the Indians 30 yard line.

Littlefield's defense wasted little time in giving the 'Cats offense a scoring opportunity as Dean Walden made a fine interception on the Indian 43 and returned it to the 24 to again set the Wildcats up in excellent scoring position.

Ayala then moved around right end to the 5 and then Wood scored his first touchdown with 8:24 left in the game, Turner's kick was true and Littlefield had a 47-0 advantage as substitutes filled positions on both teams.

Morton continued to have trouble in the backfield following the kick off as they coughed up another fumble as Ronnie Milligan fell on the loose pigskin at the Indian 38.

The 'Cats moved downfield under the field direction of substitute quarterback Ayala and with 5:07 left, Ayala scored from 17 yards out to give the 'Cats a 53-0 advantage, Turner kicked the PAT and the 'Cats had a 54-0 lead as the final minutes ticked away in Littlefield's second district game.

Morton once again fumbled following the kickoff and then Greg Moreland recovered Morton's fumble to set the 'Cats up on Morton's 20 yard line.

Littlefield moved to within a foot of the first down but Morton held and took over on their own 20.

Only three minutes was left as Morton took over and once again, Morton had to give up the ball on a punt with 18 seconds left on their own 48.

And the final seconds ticked away as Littlefield prepares to travel to Friona Friday night for the 'Cats third district game.

Bass Masters To Meet Monday Night

The Littlefield BassMasters will meet Monday night at 8 at Shook Tire Co. for their regular monthly meeting. A movie will be shown, entitled "The Deadliest Way" and it is produced by B.A.S.S.

JUNIOR QUARTERBACK Rudy Ayala picks up good yardage in the first half against Morton as he replaced starting quarterback Ronald Parmer who left the game in the first half following a hard tackle by the Morton defense. Parmer, who returned to start the second half, scored two times and threw a 47 yard pass to Jimmy Durham for a score, all in the first quarter. (Photo by Connie Black)

Minister Records Western Music, Teaches Guitar

JAMES JOLLEY

By NILAH RODGERS
A former Littlefield resident, James Jolley, has added a most unusual dimension to his life as a Church of Christ minister. In addition to being minister of the Crosby Street Church of Christ in Tulia, he teaches guitar and is weekday host on a radio show, "Old Brush Arbor."
Long interested in country western music, now James Jolley has recorded a long playing album and stereo tape which has just been released by Associated Recording Studio in Oklahoma City, Okla.
Called "Cowboys and Ladies," it features Jolley on the rhythm guitar along with an acoustic guitarist, five-string banjo, dobro, harmonica and bass. All songs are Jolley's own arrangements, and they are on the "Antique Western Music" label.
Western artist Kenneth Wyatt made the introduction on the long playing record by saying, "First, I'm a fixin' to tell you that the man is a man, and a man of the west, and a man of the cloth, and a man of music... and that's enough said about anybody."

"Secondly, I'll talk about the songs. At long last James Jolley has done what most of us have been saying to ourselves and others for a long, long time needed to be done. James has taken the songs of the cowboy, (I mean the man that sat on those horses of yesteryear and nursed those wild-eyed cows, and many night settled a skittery herd with his singing) and with the musical instruments that belong to that time and place (mouth organ, six string guitar, bull fiddle, five string banjo, and Dobro) has recorded the past for today.
"Most of the songs are love songs. A cowboy on a lonely prairie would most likely have thoughts of the darlin' wife or the gal he left behind roamin' in his mind. I personally like the way this Jolley man loves his world of the west and I believe you will like the way he sings of the cowboy's love."

Wyatt is a much-acclaimed western artist, a good friend, and the one who inspired Jolley to record and produce the album of songs that hold much of the story of our western heritage.
Songs featured include "Strawberry Roan," "Sweet Evalena," "Old Spinning Wheel (in the parlor)," "Utah Carroll," "Barbara Allen," "Redwing," "The Gal I Left Behind Me," "Cowboy Jack," "Darling Nellie Gray," and "Little Joe the Wrangler."
Jolley attended public school at Littlefield and Spade, and is married to the former Betty Reagan of Littlefield. They have three children, a married daughter in California, a son who is a freshman at Texas Tech University, and a son who is a junior at Tulia High School.
While living in Littlefield, both James and Betty were employed by the newspaper. They moved to Amarillo 18 years ago and Jolley was employed by Bell Telephone until he went into the ministry.

While at home, all of the Jolleys played and sang country music since they were old enough to talk. Bill Jolley, Mickey Jolley and Glyn Jolley live in Fort Worth. One sister, Lois Jones lives in Fort Worth, and another sister, Virginia Coleman resides in Amarillo.
Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jolley, former Littlefield residents who now live in Fort Worth. Betty's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Reagan of Littlefield.

THE IMPOSSIBLE BECOMES POSSIBLE

When I first read Micah 6:8, "O man, what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?" I knew there was no hope for me. If that's what it took to be God's man, there was no chance for me.

But I have learned a great lesson as the years have gone by. He gives what He commands and bestows before He requires. And thus, the question that evoked hopelessness and sent me toward despair now evokes the exact opposite.

Psalm 24:5 says it all: "He shall receive the blessing from the Lord and righteousness from the God of his salvation." What God requires, God will give. The impossible becomes possible.

 Companies and agencies have well thought-out, proven plans that do this for you. With property companies, usually your policy is renewed, issued and mailed to you with a letter in ample time to review the insurance and ask questions or increase your coverage. Many companies carry "errors and omissions" policies to protect you if they make a mistake. Life companies usually send draft or periodic notices to notify you of a premium due. If you don't get the notice, they follow up with a second notice and

Publication Aimed At Calf Losses

Cattlemen could prevent some calf losses at birth if they just know what steps to take to help the cow. Now a publication has been prepared by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service that will help cattlemen deal with calving problems.

The publication is titled "Recognizing and Handling Calving Problems" and is authored by John R. Beverly, Extension Animal Reproduction Specialist. It guides cattlemen through the calving process and both tells and shows them how and when to give assistance.

If a cow does not successfully give birth to a live calf, the total management and feed cost invested in her is lost. Research indicates that 80 percent of all calf deaths occur at or near birth and that calving difficulty accounts for 75 percent of these. Further more, calving problems are most common in heifers giving birth to their first calves—more than half usually have calving problems.

Since the reproductive capability of a cow, that of conception, gestation and parturition, is by far the most important economic factor in cow-calf production, good management of the cow herd is of vital importance. If calving problems develop, cattlemen should be able to recognize these and provide assistance.

The new publication on calving problems should be of value to all cattle producers, and with the fall calving season approaching, the information it

A series of industrial training programs conducted for the new American Cotton Growers' textile plant here will train and employ more than 400 local citizens within the next two years, House Speaker Bill Clayton and State Senator Max Sherman jointly announced Tuesday.

The first of these training programs is already underway, with 12 trainees learning crucial supervisory and instructional skills needed before full-scale production can begin, they said.

The $30 million plant is the first textile mill in Texas to manufacture denim material, and involves a cooperative effort between 3,000 farmers and 26 Texas communities. The cop will produce 100 per cent of the cotton for the mill, estimated at 65,000 bales the first year.

This is the first Industrial Start-Up Training program to be instituted through "Texas First," Governor Dolph Briscoe's Job Creation Campaign. The program began May 1 with the Texas Industrial Commission designated program coordinator. Texas Industrial Commission projections indicate the textile mill will pump over $20 million each year into the Texas economy. Annual state and local taxes generated will exceed $175,000 annually. "The plant and the corresponding training program will provide new skills and hundreds of jobs for local citizens and will be a tremendous economic boost to the community and Texas," House Speaker Clayton said. "It's good to see Texas cotton farmers forming together in a cooperative effort to keep the profits in Texas while utilizing this valuable training program available to them." The training program under "Texas First" is coordinated by the Texas Industrial Commission and funded through the Texas Education Agency. South Plains College is the local training institution working closely with the management of American Cotton Growers on the complex and highly technical training program required for denim manufacturing. "The Start-Up Training program is an excellent method of pumping new blood into the local economy and providing employment opportunities for those that otherwise might leave the area," Sherman said. "It's good to see state agencies working with people and industry for the betterment of the state."

 A real convenience feature for the operator. Facilities working parallel to trailer with simple back and forth movement of the tractor. Permits working within confines of turn row.

UNIQUE TROMPER HEAD DESIGN
 "A" shape head provides for squeezing action to better force air from the cotton. Slotted underside permits air to escape. Cotton will not puff back up as pressure is removed. Sloping sides prevent cotton from clinging and being lifted and blown from trailer as tromper head is raised.

BOOM CLEARANCE-12" WITH TROMPER DOWN TROMPER
 HEAD BASE AREA-22" x 24"
 *Some variations will be noted with different tractors and tire sizes.
 Basic unit is complete except for hydraulic cylinder and hoses. Recommended cylinder size is 3 1/2 or 4" x 8", double acting.
 Mounts to: I. H. C. 06, 56, and 66 Series, J. D. 3010 to 4620, Case 1030 to 1175, Massey Ferguson 1100 to 1130, Ford 8000, 8600, 9000 and 9600, other models-$50.00-net additional.

Research To Fight Downy Mildew

The long fight against downy mildew in grain sorghum, a disease which is costing Texas producers $2.5 to $3 million a year, will be simplified and intensified with the development of a new research method. Cooperative efforts of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the U.S. Department of Agriculture have worked out the system, described broadly as an inoculation technique that will do a much better job in identifying downy mildew-resistant lines of sorghums. The USDA's Dr. Jeweus Craig, project leader, says the technique is practical, simple, accurate and easy to control. What this means to the U.S. grain sorghum industry is improved sources of mildew-resistant material for commercial breeders who supply farmers with planting seed.

But the problem with this system is that there are too many variables. Other diseases, insects and fickle weather conditions interfere, and plant pathologists can't always be sure that sorghums which appear resistant are really resistant. Enter Craig's sorghum inoculation technique. The feature here is a controlled environment chamber which imitates the natural conditions that cause infection by the DM organisms. Sorghum seedlings are placed in the chamber, and DM spores are allowed to drift softly upon the plants. If a plant can shrug off the disease, then it should be truly resistant to mildew. A total of 2,240 plants can be inoculated in a 24-hour period. The next step is to transplant them into the field so they can be observed under natural conditions.
