Diesel, Fuel Shortage Is Serious

Fuel thing is serious." Slo said. Should farmers not be getting enough diesel and gas to run this bumper harvest and land for the 1974 crop, that could be a disaster.

Gene Ratliff said Friday morning that he still couldn't buy any more fuel than he did last November, since it was wet during this month last year, he only sold 18 percent of his normal diesel supply. It is the diesel situation that is hitting him hardest.

Besides last year's wet fall, not as much land was in cultivation. Approximately 90,000 more acres in Lamb County was released from set-aside acres.

Some counties organized opposition to the fuel allocation for farmers. Besides contacting oil and gas officials, U.S. Congressman George Mahon and other government officials have heard protests. Mahon agreed that the Federal program had little advance planning before implementation. He said he is aware of the critical problems that could arise.

Five men were named by ballot to the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Board of Directors this week, and new officers for the upcoming year have been elected among the board members. Joe Carlisle, David Jones, Carlton Tanner, Tom Tollett and Bert Wallace were elected to serve three-year terms from Jan. 1, 1974 through Dec. 31, 1977.

They will replace Eloise Cox, J. L. Marcum, Roger Lowe, Bob Roden and Benny Zahn, whose terms expire at the close of December.

Other members of the board are Barry Armes, Ken Day, Rad Richardson, Wade Warren, Doyle Winfield, Ernest Connell, Kip Cutshall, Charles Ary, David Hamblin and Dr. Craig Wallace.

The board met Thursday morning and elected officers for 1974. J. L. Marcum will serve as president; Rad Richardson is the new administrative vice president; David Jones, agricultural development vice president; Tom Tollett, community activities vice president; Ken Day and Bert Wallace, industrial co-vice presidents; and Warren Dayton, treasurer.

Springlake-Earth Farmers Purchase Banking Interest

Seven Springlake-Earth men have purchased controlling interest in the Citizens State Bank at Earth.

With the exception of Mackey McCarty, president of the Earth bank, the buyers are all farmers in the Earth-Springlake area.

The buyers include McCarty, Donald Clayton, Les Watson, Kenneth Hinson, Gene Templeton, Roger Haberer and Duane Jones.

McCarty said there will be no changes in bank personnel. He added that he thought the change in ownership will be great for the agricultural community to be housed.

In a bank directors meeting Wednesday, Watson was named chairman of the board and Watson, Hinson, Templeton, Haberer and Jones were named directors.

Farmers Hit Jackpot '73 'Year Of Payoff'

This year grain and cotton farmers in this area are made pikers of Las Vegas gamblers. Some farmers wish they'd been in Las Vegas when they contracted grain for $2.80 and $2.85 a hundred.

And the gambling isn't over. The grain harvest is virtually complete, but farmers who didn't contract will find themselves in a marketing dilemma for several months.

Littlefield banker Joe Montgomery said he doubts if lending institutions will press farmers to sell grain to pay off their loans. Lenders look at the summer months as dangerous periods and once the grain is harvested the risk is not so great.

Montgomery said this is the first year he can remember when farmers could put a price on their product. Until now, farmers have always said "What will you give me?"

Paying interest on loans is a factor to consider in holding grain, however. Farmers who owe $20,000 pay about $4 per day interest while they play the wait and see game.

Interest and storage may be penny ante compared to the fluctuation of contracting this year. Contracts ranged from $2.40 to $5.30. Say a grower contracted early for $2.60 a hundred and in late summer grain contracted for $5.20. He lost as much as he made. That represents $182 per acre or $18,200 per 100 acres.

Although some are thoroughly disappointed in their contracted price, most are jubilant over better than average yields. Considering that last year's top price was about $2.85, most grain growers are happy with the season.

T. W. Bryson, manager of the Littlefield Farmers Coop Gin and Elevator, said irrigated grain in Lamb County averaged 7,000 pounds per acre and dryland made 1,500 to 2,000 per acre.

The fertilizer shortage is probably the biggest question in next year's grain picture. Some predict dryland farmers will raise more cotton in '74 because of the good '73 cotton prices and their fertilizer squeeze. Although fertilizer and heavy irrigation is needed for high yields on irrigated land, many farmers say the energy and fertilizer situation may cut their yields, but they will plant about the same number of acres in sorghum next year.

Fertilizer dealers report the fertilizer situation "real tight." They're taking orders, but aren't able to fill them. They say fertilizer will be higher, in some cases twice as high.

From all indications, grain acreages will remain a question until planting intentions are in.

This year is the payday growers have been waiting for for 10-20 years. "As a result of worldwide inflation and devaluation of the dollar, the whole level of prices might move up," USDA official Don Paarberg said. "Prices paid by farmers as well as prices received by them. It is quite possible that prices might be above target levels but that farm costs might also have risen sharply. Before the four-year term of the farm law expires, farmers might be in trouble at prices above the target levels."

"My counsel on farm policy is throw away old notes and start out anew. That's a good idea in most cases anyway, and this year is an especially good one to make the change."

Rep. Clayton To Explain Constitutional Revision

Representative Bill Clayton of Springlake was in Austin last week for a meeting at which he received a draft of the Constitution as presented by the Constitutional Revision Commission.

The Constitutional Draft came about 19 public hearings and eight public debates, discussion and voting on various issues.

The draft copy contains about one-third the verbiage of the present Texas Constitution.

Clayton stated that prior to the meeting for the consideration of adopting the draft to present to the people, he had set up a schedule in the near future which would include a visit to all the towns in the 74th legislative district.

The time and place of the meetings will be announced at a later date but Clayton said he wanted to spend several days in each city at an announced place so that the people might come and express their wishes and desires regarding constitutional revision.

Clayton said he felt that the people gave a clear mandate for constitutional Convention and a subsequent amendment to the people of the state.

HARRAL OR HARRELL? Take your choice of spelling, but it's all the same street. These two spellings for Harral Street are opposite each other at E. 9th and Harral or E. 9th and Harrell, depending on whether you make a right or left turn. Originally, the street was named Harral in honor of pioneer Whiffield Harral. But the street signs to the south of 9th are spelled with two "Rs" and two "Ls". (Staff Photo)

Energy And Inflation

THERE IS MORE: to energy shortage than no light at the flip of a switch.

There is falling productivity as industrial plants find themselves hit by power and fuel shortages—and falling productivity today is synonymous with more inflation. When people have money to spend and products are not available on which to spend it, the law of supply and demand goes to work and prices rise.

Thus the evils of excessive government spending are multiplied.

So when we talk of curtailing the use of electric energy and deliberately obstruct the construction of power plants and the advancing technology of nuclear electric power generation, we are unwittingly fanning the fires of inflation.

UNLESS INFLATION can be controlled, it is idle to discuss improving the environment, social security or anything else because all of these amenities of life are dependent upon an orderly society with stable money.

Without an abundant supply of energy no such society can exist in the United States.

The electric energy that flows from the local electric company is the most direct measure of community productivity and well-being. Where utility projects have been delayed, the economies of the regions involved are weakened.

Less energy means industrial slowdown and less capability of meeting the demands of a growing population—the perfect recipe for more inflation in an era of record government deficits.

THE TRUE ramifications of an energy shortage are beyond calculation, but the contribution of electric energy to productivity and its relationship to price stability is a factor a great many people seem to be overlooking when they try to make it as difficult as possible for power companies to locate sites and construct badly-needed new generating facilities.

A Woman's View

By PEARL BRANDON

I WAS READING today in the Bible where two blind men were sitting beside the road, and when they heard that Jesus was coming that way, they began shouting "Sir, King David's son, have mercy on us!"

There was always a crowd following Jesus and they tried to quiet them, but they shouted all the more. Of course Jesus stopped on that dusty road and touched their eyes and they could see again.

IMAGINE being blind, perhaps all your life, and suddenly being able to see.

I have a friend who was almost blind. He had an operation on his eyes and restored his vision.

His wife said he would walk around in their yard and look at the beautiful colors of the flowers and watch the birds. Everything was so bright and clear and beautiful again.

MANY PEOPLES these days are interested in ESP (extra sensory perception) and horoscopes and predictions from people like Jean Dixon.

It makes interesting reading, but I can't believe much of it.

Most everyone have uneasy premonitions at times and sometimes feelings of glad expectancy.

MY MOTHER used to have them. We could very seldom surprise her. If we drove in unexpectedly to visit, she would say, "I thought you might come today."

Rev. Timothy Schwertner, pastor of the church, officiated. Burial was in the Dimmitt Cemetery with Singleton-Ellis Funeral Home of Muleshoe in charge of arrangements.

GETTING BACK to our Lord, He knew what was going to happen. He could see into the hearts of other people and into the future.

When the time for His death drew near, He steadfastly set His face toward Jerusalem even though He knew the authorities were angry there and ready to kill Him.

There they nailed Him to a cross and took His precious life.

HE SAID to His disciples (and to us) "It is expedient for you that I go away; for if I go not away the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send Him unto you."

This Comforter He spoke of is the Spirit of Truth that will guide us into all truth. He also said the Holy spirit would teach us much, as well as bring to our mind the things He had taught.

AS FAR as these physical eyes are concerned, we can't see very far with them. We can't see into the future with them and how we do yearn to see ahead!

Only by faith can we see. We can trust the Lord who made us and who can see into the future to guide us through any situation.

THE NEWS of the world is not good now. We live from day to day wondering what will happen next.

Why do we fear? The great God we worship is able to bring us through any situation—even death.

ALL OF US know we have a rendezvous with death.

What is death?—Only a new birth.

ONCE I HEARD a minister preach a funeral for a little child. The parents were so broken up. He said to them, "For months while you were expecting this precious babe, you made much preparation to make things beautiful for his coming—with warm blankets, a little bed and sweet baby clothes.

Now you can rest assured that far more preparation has gone into his going home to God. He is safe now in the arms of our Lord."

It is not for us to see on the other side of death but if we can learn any thing from nature and from the word of God here, we have to believe it will be much better in the next life, wherever it is.

WE COME in contact with many old people now. They know they have only a short time left here on earth. Their bodies that house the real person are almost worn out.

Much pain goes with old age and we wouldn't want to go on living in these old worn bodies for ever.

DEATH COMES, but thank God it is not the end. We will have a new birth.

Nothing good is wasted, the good Lord will go on using us on down through eternity in that beautiful life to be.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

A Short Fuse

OBJECTIONABLE BEHAVIOR is widespread. That is, some of us object to some things and some to other things. The objection may be justified, and it may not.

We may think that it is necessary to express our disapproval of what we consider objectionable, but such action is seldom wise action. It is not likely to do any good, and will usually cause uncalculated trouble.

SOME PEOPLE HAVE "a short fuse", and "blow up" so often that they make living very difficult. In fact, some of these folk make life too difficult for themselves.

The sadness in this is in the obvious truth that this difficulty is completely unnecessary.

IT IS VERY FOOLISH to think that we can change the habits and behavior of others so that all of them are according to our preferences. In most instances, it is something closely akin to stupidity to "call people down" because of what they are doing.

We may not like the irritation of their cigarette smoke; or the profanity and filth of their speech; or some other action; and, if we have "a short fuse" and "blow up" about it; we are in trouble.

RATHER THAN SHOW our irritation in some kind of person to person confrontation, it is much better to remove ourselves from the situation. Even this should be done as inconspicuously as possible.

If we can't remove ourselves, it is better to endure some irritation than create an ugly incident.

WISDOM IS IN OUR ABILITY to avoid all of the trouble and pain we can.

The quick involvement of a person whose behavior we disagree among the most foolish of all the things we can do.

OTHERWISE GOOD DAYS spoiled by the "short fuse" behavior. In this conduct, we nullification of an entire day's constructive and profitable work.

Nothing is much more disturbing to one's peace of mind than the senseless and useless reaction to some conduct we do not approve of in people. In some instances, the result is murder. Yes, murder is the consequence of nothing more than the reprimand of some one.

"IGNORE IT" is the most guideline to follow. What is a relatively little discomfort or displeasure compared to a quarrel or worse?

The discomfort and the displeasure will pass, or we may get away from the situation; the reprimand can be disastrous, and the outcome is much, much worse than the initial happening.

WE ARE NOT BEING CONSIDERATE when we move away from the person whose action we do not approve of are being smart. We are not negligent of some duty, when these people and their actions, are being very, very wise and controlled.

"A SHORT FUSE" makes a person and often tragic "blow up" incidents.

ALRIGHT, ARREDDY, so we're down on Nixon and are pretty affluent with the barbs. Tell me, now, what great brain and man of strong character do you have in mind that you want to put in his place, at this time??

WAS RIDING ACROSS country with one of my associates, a couple of nights back. The trend of conversation of those with us was, that he'd gotten Mr. Nixon's instructions mixed up. He was driving sixty-eight miles per hour, and had the thermostat set on fifty degrees!

THE SLIGHTLY inebriated driver was spinning down the road at about 90 mph. He ran afoul of the highway patrolman, which proceeded to pull him over to the side of the road.

"Sir", asked the officer, "I stopped you because you were exceeding the speed limit. Do you happen to know what the speed limit is on that way?"

"YESH 'R, I believe it's thirty miles an hour."

"Then what excuse do you have driving ninety?" Asked the patrolman as he was writing the ticket.

"Heck, man; I Cain't make a livin' sheventy mile' an hour!"

WHICH MAY BRING up a couple of points. I'm wondering just how well it if our speed limits are cut back to proposed 50 mph?

We've gotten so much in the habit of rushing around through life that slowing down process may be resented.

SHUX, IT MIGHT do us good if we ARE slowed down a little.

EFFORTS to handle defoliated cotton by ricking can get producers into trouble, says an agricultural engineer in Lubbock.

Roy Childers, Lubbock-based specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says that because of a bumper crop cotton season, more defoliated cotton is being harvested. Farmers, in an effort to handle the increased volume on schedule, are ricking this defoliated cotton.

"Defoliated cotton sometimes has green trash material and green bolls. These are not as prevalent in frost-killed cotton. Green leaf trash and green bolls are estimated to contain 70 percent or higher moisture," he adds. "If this material is placed in the rick, it can cause the cotton to heat and thus deteriorate in quality."

Some producers also have toyed with the idea of shutting off the green boll separator in their harvesters and placing all the green bolls in the rick. The engineer explains that in cotton which is 90 percent open, a 2,300-pound bale would comprise 2,070 pounds of burr cotton. With an average of six percent moisture, the 90 percent open cotton would yield 125 pounds of water. The other 10 percent would be green bolls. At 70 percent moisture, it would take 766 pounds of green bolls to get 230 pounds of lint. Based on that figure, Childers estimates the bolls would contain 536 pounds of water.

This totals 2,836 pounds of material which goes into the rick, he says, of which 660 pounds is water. By placing high moisture material in the rick, the six percent moisture content would be raised to an average of over 23 percent. Research by Dr. Milton Smith at Texas Tech University has shown that the maximum moisture content which can be tolerated in a rick is 14 percent, says Childers. Above this, the cotton becomes heated and deteriorates in seed and lint quality.

"This heating would be accelerated by the unusually high daytime temperatures which we are experiencing here," he observes. "Even with only 5 percent green bolls, the moisture content would be raised to 15 1/2 percent."

CONGRATULATIONS WILCOX for icing your district champion Friday night.

SEEMS LIKE THE big news today is the energy crisis and various problems in Washington. Thought I'd change things a bit by giving you readers a bit of reading that requires some thought. (Probably will have to exclude the ball)

On the old New Haven's Shore Line two crack sleepers, the "Owls", Boston and New York every night at 11 o'clock. One night a seagull left the train at the same time as the train, and flew down the tracks to meet the train in New York.

The bird immediately turned around and flew down the tracks to meet the first train, and then back and forth between them until they met at New London, Boston and New York, 180 miles apart. The southbound train traveled at 50 miles per hour; the northbound at 60 miles per hour, how far did it fly before the Owls met?

GREAT WORKS ARE performed so much by strength as by perseverance.

THE AMERICAN GAS Association has come up with an interesting idea. "Did you know, to carry natural gas from the places where it is produced to the places where it is needed in this country, more than 225,000 miles of large-diameter pipelines have been constructed. If you put all these pipelines together in a single line, they'd be pretty close to the moon. And if you count all the smaller gas distribution pipes as well, it's enough for two round trips."

Sandra Carter Is Named To 'Who's Who'

Sandra Kay Carter of Littlefield is among 25 McMurry College juniors and seniors who have been named to Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges.

They were selected from the student body because of outstanding achievement in areas of scholarship, leadership, service and character.

Students were first nominated by faculty members and then were elected by McMurry Student Government. Specific criteria for selection were a satisfactory grade point average, leadership positions held, and service work for the college or the community.

Also considered were the person's over-all personality characteristics, motivation drive and intellectual curiosity.

Sandra is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Carter of Rt. 1, Littlefield. She is a P. E. major at McMurry.

Saturday evening in the school building. A large crowd was in attendance, and a net of $455, was made. This will go to buying a new clock for the gym.

THE SINGING DEWEYS

The Singing Deweys To Sing At Church

One of the most interesting family acts in gospel music will be appearing soon in Littlefield. The Singing Deweys of Nashville, Tenn., will present their Christian witness at 7:30 Nov. 15 in the Assembly of God Church in Littlefield.

The original Deweys were a double husband-and-wife combination. Levo and his wife, Cleon, and Tim and his wife, Sheryl, began singing in crusades and gospel concerts throughout the southeast about six years ago. However, with the arrival of David Timothy, Tim and Sheryl's first child, earlier this year, the group rearranged itself somewhat.

Susie and Cindy, the nine and ten-year-old daughters of Levo and Cleon, now perform regularly with the group. They have recently recorded an album which features them entitled "Songs For Little Folk." Cleon plays piano and organ for the group, while Bob Howard, a new addition from Amarillo, plays guitar and electric bass.

Though the Deweys make their home in Nashville, they don't get to spend a great deal of time there. They have appeared across the United States at denominational conventions, churches, fairs, colleges, and on television. They have sung on the Grand Ole Opry, at the People's Church in Toronto, Canada, and in the Avon Shakespearean Theater. A recent missionary tour into Central America has gotten them involved in raising funds to help build a church for missionary work among the Indians of the San Blas Islands.

The Deweys record for Heartwarming Records and their most recent album release, recorded with the London Symphony Orchestra, is entitled "Because of Yesterday." They collaborate to write most of their own material, and even the young generation gets involved, as Cindy and Susie write and arrange their own music. Recent releases written by Cleon and Levo include "Jesus Is the Best Friend" and "Welcome Back, Jesus."

The total family commitment, to which the Deweys credit a good portion of their success, continues to be important behind the scenes. Levo and Tim's father, Wayne, drives and maintains the bus that takes the group to all their appointments. Meanwhile their mother operates the office in Nashville, handling bookings and other management details for the group.

The Deweys concert, sponsored by the Assembly of God, is free to the public.

MONTE C. ANGEL
 Army Private Monte C. Angel, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy J. Angel, Route 1, Littlefield, completed a 10-week basic health science course at the Academy of Health Sciences of the U.S. Army, Ft. Sam Houston.
 Students learn to perform routine patient care and treatment duties in combat areas, hospital units, dispensaries, clinics and other medical facilities.
 They also receive instruction in the transportation of sick and wounded by ground, air and water means.

Two Students Are Enrolled At STSU

Two students from Lamb County are enrolled for the fall, 1973 semester at Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos, according to Dean of Admissions Alton Brieger.
 The university's total 1973 fall enrollment is a record 12,142, up approximately two percent from last year, Brieger said.

Four County Justices Attend Training School

Four justices of the peace from Lamb County were among the 72 judges who participated in a regional 20-hour in-service training school held in Amarillo Oct. 23-26.

Participating in the Amarillo program were Judge E. T. Borum of Precinct 2, Place 1, Earth; Judge W. T. Verum of Precinct 4, Place 5, Sudan; Judge Stanley Doss of Precinct 4, Littlefield; and Judge W. G. Finney of Precinct 1, Olton.

The training school was held under the auspices of the Texas Justice of the Peace Training Center, headquartered at Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos. It was the second in a series of 10 which will be held throughout the state.

The justice of the peace training program is part of the State Criminal Justice Plan and is funded by the Governor's Criminal Justice Council.

The in-service training school was designed to help satisfy judicial training requirements set forth by the state legislature. As a result of bills passed by the 62nd and 63rd legislatures, justices of the peace must complete a 40-hour course in the performance of their duties within one year of taking office and then complete one 20-hour course each year thereafter.

Public Views Solicited On Energy Curtailments

With energy curtailments threatening to affect everyone, citizens are urged to present their views and proposals at a public hearing Nov. 20 in Dallas, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Commissioner White is chairman for a state committee on the environmental and social aspects of the energy shortage. The committee has been appointed as part of the Governor's Energy Advisory Council, headed by Lt. Gov. William P. Hobby.

Other members of the committee are Willard Barr, former mayor of Fort Worth; Austin attorney Thomas Cowden; Douglas Toole of Houston, chairman of the Texas Water Quality Board; Edwin L. Cox of Dallas, representing the oil industry; Herbert C. McKee of Houston, chairman of the Texas Air Control Board, and J. R. Maxfield, Dallas physician.

The hearing is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the Embassy West Room of the Statler-Hilton Hotel, 1914 Commerce Street.

"We want to get ideas from people in rural areas as well as the city on the relationship between energy problems and patterns of life," Commissioner White said.

Realistic adjustments in transportation practices and changes in individual living patterns evolving from cutbacks are problems explored. Other topics to be covered are regulations that provide for the most efficient use of energy in the state, alternative sources of energy that are practical and attainable.

"Texans must plan to be prepared for shortages of traditional energy and ultimate effects on home working patterns," Commissioner White said. "Energy shortages have already been experienced in agriculture; some industries have had to switch to alternative plans, but the individual state has yet to experience severe shortages in the home."

Persons who wish to be present at the hearing should notify the committee writing by Nov. 15. A minute time limit has been set on testimony. Lengthy statements should be sent in advance.

If witnesses cannot be present at the hearing, they should send testimony on one of these issues to John White, Commissioner of Agriculture, Committee Chairman, P. O. Box 120, Austin, Texas 78711.

Secretary Asks Land Conservation

Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz asks the nation's farmers to use sound conservation practices on crop land that is being brought back into production in 1974.

First of all, use of sound conservation practices will help increase production. Secretary Butz said.

As the No. 1 guardians of the nation's natural resources, farmers have a responsibility to themselves and future generations to use the soil wisely. Farmers have made great progress in the last 35 years in conservation farming, and with planning they can meet the increased demand for food in 1974 without stepping backwards," the Secretary said.

He asked the Soil Conservation Service to give "first priority" to helping farmers and ranchers with their conservation plans. He also called on the Extension Service and state and local Cooperative Extension staffs to renew their efforts to demonstrate that "conservation farming pays—that it is more productive."

Farmers are expected to bring several million acres of former "set-aside" land back into full crop production in 1974 to meet the increased demand for agricultural commodities. The Department of Agriculture also anticipates that farmers will be farming their land more intensively as they try to increase yields per acre.

"It is vital that we protect the land from soil erosion with proven conservation practices, such as contour plowing, stripcropping, terracing, and minimum tillage," Mr. Butz said.

"While there is plenty of additional land in the United States that can be used for crop production without endangering our basic soil and water resources, there are also millions of acres of farm and ranch land with soils so prone to blowing or water erosion that they should never be used for crops," he said.

"Such land should remain in grass or under other vegetative cover," Mr. Butz said. "We do not want to risk starting another Dust Bowl."

The Soil Conservation Service (SCS) works through nearly 3,000 local soil and water conservation districts to help farmers and ranchers develop and carry out conservation plans, and with their national organization, the National Association of Conservation Districts. Both the SCS and Cooperative Extension Service work directly with farmers, advising them on conservation techniques to protect and improve their land and water.

Sears, Roebuck Calling Back Six Dishwashers

Sears, Roebuck and Co. is continuing its efforts to locate owners of six models of portable dishwashers because of possible safety-related defect.

Allen Brady, store manager of Sears at Littlefield, said the models can be identified as model Nos. 587.720210, 587.720211, 587.720310, 587.720311, 587.720410 and 587.720411. The unit can be identified by the model number located on the inside cover frame.

He said 65,000 units in question were produced since April, 1972.

The spokesman said that in production some door panels were placed in such a manner as to punch timer motor wires causing a potential shock hazard, if not properly grounded.

Customers were urged to disconnect their units and to contact their nearest Sears unit at 385-4444 for inspection as soon as possible.

Sears said it has reported the possibility of a malfunction to the Consumer Product Safety Commission. There have been no reported injuries.

Sears also sells other models of portable dishwashers. These dishwashers are not affected.

Three outstanding leaders in Texas agriculture and the donors and recipients of nearly $25,000 in scholarships were honored at the 46th Annual Pig Roast of the College of Agricultural Sciences of Texas Tech University Thursday night, Nov. 1 in Lubbock.

Students from Littlefield honored at the Pig Roast were James A. Albus, senior animal science major, son of Clarence J. Albus, Sr., recipient of the King Ranch Scholarship; and Jamie L. Wimberly, freshman wildlife major, son of J.D. Wimberly, recipient of a Texas Tech Agricultural Extension Blood Association scholarship.

J. Frank Gray, owner and manager of the Standifer and Gray Farms, Inc., near Lubbock; Duane Howell, agricultural editor of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal; and Don R. Workman, a senior vice president of the First National Bank of Lubbock, were presented the Gerald W.

Thomas Outstanding Agriculturalist Award for "demonstrated outstanding leadership in Texas agriculture."

This year's Pig Roast was dedicated to W. L. Stangel, dean emeritus of the College of Agricultural Sciences at Texas Tech, in commemoration of the first three scholarships to be awarded from the dean Stangel Scholarship Fund.

The fund was started by friends of Stangel in his honor. Recipients of the Stangel Scholarships were Mac Young of Tahoka, Daniel Baumann, Perryton, and Ray Bryant of Plainview.

Members of the departmental teams which represent Texas Tech in local, regional and national contests were recognized during the dinner. Participants in the 4th annual Junior College Conference of the college of Agricultural Sciences were guests at the Pig Roast.

DISTRICT CHAMPS

Littlefield Downs Olton, 17-8

The Olton Mustangs, in a patriotic gesture, did their part to conserve energy Friday night as they let Littlefield pull away to a 17 point halftime lead. In a simple, straight ahead, hard-nose, "let's find out who's toughest" and "don't make any mistakes" type of football game, Littlefield finished out ahead (as usual), 17-8.

The Cats fourth district win gained them the District 3-AA crown, and a playoff berth against the Floydada Whirlwinds. Floydada won the 4-AA title Friday with a 13-6 win over Lockney, the winning points coming in the last 13 seconds of the game. The Wildcat-Whirlwind contest will be a re-match of last year's Bi-district battle, which the Winds won 7-0. Earlier this year, Floydada escaped with a 7-6 win over Littlefield, so the two teams are familiar opponents.

The game everyone expected at Olton never transpired. It was supposed to be an emotional contest, a close game where both teams would play inspired and exciting football. The excitement was there in spots, but neither team seemed exceptionally high for the game, and most fans were more concerned with the cold than the scoreboard.

The first two plays should have warned the fans that they were about to see a different kind of game than they were accustomed to watching. The Olton kickoff traveled one yard in the air, and squibbled six more before a Mustang recovered. Olton has tried inside kicks all year, and they tried it twice against the Cats with no success.

On Littlefield's first offensive play, Quarterback Terry Bryson took the snap, exploded up the middle, and shook two early tackles. He raced down the left sidelines to the one-half yardline before he was stopped. The quarterback sneak was the bread and butter play for the Cats against Olton, and it worked successfully most of the night. From the one-half, an illegal motion penalty pushed the ball back five yards, and three plays later the Cats were in the same spot. Randy Cook came on to try a 27-yard field goal, but it was batted at the line and Pat Britton caught the loose ball on the five.

Olton took possession, but gave Littlefield another chance after only two plays. From the eight, Jimmy Parker fumbled while trying to hand off to Glen Johnson, and Cat Tackle Doug McCain smothered the ball on the nine. On the very next play, Bryson started the option left, found a hole, got a block from Cook and swept into the end zone untouched. Cook punched the point after, and the Cats took over the lead. It was a costly Olton turnover, the first of four for the night.

Following the kickoff, the teams swapped punts and Olton set up on their own 45. On third down, Joe Alcorta dashed up right tackle, and was suddenly free in the secondary. He was stopped by a jolting tackle, and the ball tumbled forward and into the grasp of Linebacker Craig Ratliff.

Tailback Kenny Owens

ripped up to the 50 on first down, and then Bryson carried on the sneak to the 47. A Mustang was whistled for grabbing Bryson's facemask, so the play carried to the 32. On the same play he had scored on earlier, Bryson cut around left end and sprinted down to the eight. But the drive stalled, and Cook connected on a 26 yard field goal to make the score 10-0.

Olton again could do nothing, and Parker punted away to the 23. Bryson converted a crucial third and one with a 12 yard run, and a well-timed facemask penalty three plays later kept the drive alive. From the 13, Owens jammed up the middle and burrowed to the 5. From there Bryson swept the right side and hurdled Parker on the goal line for his second score. Cook converted, and the Cat offense hung up their cleats for the night.

Olton battled against the clock only 1:39 remained, and after a 22-yard pass from Parker to Monte Chitwood, found themselves on the Cat 39. Parker tried another pass, but he was hurried by a powerful rush and threw the ball hurriedly. Bryson intercepted on the 25 to thwart the Mustang's drive.

Olton's offense has specialized in second half heroics this year, and again they came back much stronger after intermission. They took the kickoff and drove swiftly down to Littlefield's 32. Alcorta picked up 17, then carried three more times to the seven. The Mustangs had four downs to pick up the yardage, but Cook blitzed through on first down and tackled Parker on the 15. A second down screen pass to Alcorta was broken up by McCain, and on third, Bryson slapped away a pass in the end zone. Faced with a fourth on the 12, Parker faded back into the safety of his pocket. Defensive Ends Ricky Richards and Kenny Trotter followed him back, and ganged up on him on the 25. Bryson worked the sneak and picked up 29 yards to the 46. Then, with a fourth and one from the 20, Owens hammered up the right side for two tough yards. But on the next play, mark Gunter slapped the pitchout from Bryson to Henderson away and fell on the ball on the 24.

Johnson sprinted 19 yards to the 45, then Parker scrambled out of the pocket to the Cat 46. An Alcorta run advanced the Mustangs to the 24, but on second and eight, Richards slammed into Parker and jarred the ball loose. It rolled right back to Johnson, who went ahead and picked up three yards. Alcorta took matters into his own hands on third down, and sped around the left end 19 yards to put Olton on the scoreboard. Johnson found a hole up the left side, and his conversion narrowed the Cat lead to 17-8 with an even 10 minutes left.

Olton tried their on side kick again, and Ratliff took it on the 49. Bryson did his thing with the sneak, and covered 35 yards before Parker and Gunter caught up with him. Three plays lost two yards, and Cook lined up to try a 30-yard field goal. The Cats fooled Olton with the old fake-fieldgoal-end-around-lateral play, but it came up short, and besides, Olton was penalized and the Cats got to try again. Henderson swept left, but he was stacked up on the 10 and Olton took over.

Alcorta carried to the 27, then Johnson exploded up the left side and galloped to the 50. Parker went to the air on second down, and Ratliff made a one-handed interception on the 35 and returned it to the 42.

But the Mustangs were not ready to quit. With Owens back to punt on the 32, the Mustang line stunted, burst through, and trapped Owens on the 33.

Parker hit Chitwood on a 22-yarder to the 11. On second Parker was caught by Cook on the 12, and on third Johnson lost three trying to sweep the left side. A last ditch pass from Parker to Vic Allcorn was tipped away by Bryson, and the Cats ran out the clock for their eighth win in ten tries.

Bryson churned for 203 tough yards on 28 carries, both figures season highs for a Littlefield runner. He benefited from aggressive blocking from both the offensive line and the other backs, but a lot of his yards came after breaking tackles. Henderson picked up only eight yards, but it was enough to push his season total to 1002 yards. In all, Littlefield ground out 251 steps, and the only pass Bryson tried was incomplete.

7th, 8th Graders Battle Olton

Littlefield's seventh and eighth grade teams had tough games with Olton Tuesday, with the eighth graders slipping 13-6 and the seventh team salvaging a 0-0 tie.

The seventh graders had two penetrations to Olton's one. The tie set their record at 1-5-1 for the year.

Tailback Richard Morgan was cited by Coach Kenny Carter as the outstanding offensive player, gaining 85 yards. Johnny Ortiz and Ricky Thompson were singled out defensively. Grant McCarty (offensive guard) was named Hustler of the Week.

In the eighth contest, Olton broke out of a 0-0 halftime knot to drop Littlefield's record to 4-3-1. James Kemp scored Littlefield's only TD following a 35-yard pass from Stan Jackson to Tommy Twitty.

Defensive standouts were Dwayne Hayes, Brett Middlebrooks, and Greg Moreland. Offensively, James Kemp, and David Jones received the Coach's praise. Defensive Tackle Eugene Hernandez was chosen Hustler of the Week.

The seventh and eighth teams wind up their season Tuesday in Friona.

SUDAN 30, FARWELL 14

Sudan fullback Pat Hedges slammed for three touchdowns Friday night as Sudan dropped Farwell 30-14 in a District 3-A encounter.

Hedges romped for touchdowns on runs of 10, 5 and 2 yards.

In the opening stanza, Hedges bulled his way 10 yards into the end zone with quarterback Mitch Chester running for a two-point conversion.

Sudan used the same scoring combination in the second quarter—Hedges from five yards out with Chester again running the PAT.

Minutes later teammate Mark Hana rolled 58 yards for another Hornet tally. The PAT failed, leaving Sudan with a 22-0 halftime lead.

Farwell wasted no time in the third quarter with halfback Kevin Hardage running two yards for a Steer TD. The PAT was unsuccessful.

Hedges rallied, adding his third TD of the night on a two-yard scoring burst. Bobby Phillips added a two-point PAT.

Farwell capped the scoring with a four-yard run by fullback Winfred Long. Larry Sutton added a two-point conversion.

The win left Sudan 6-3 for the season and Farwell with a 1-9 reading.

J.E. Johnson, Starting Safety For Cardinals

J. E. Johnson, who played on the Littlefield Wildcats last year at flanker and linebacker, is now the starting safety on the Henderson County Junior College Cardinals, the nation's eighth ranked junior college.

Last week when Henderson played Tyler Junior College, Johnson intercepted a pass and blocked an extra point kick to lead the Cardinals in their 20-12 win.

Henderson's record is now 7-1 for the year, and they have clinched a tie for the Texas Junior College Football Federation championship with a 6-0 loop record.
