

These Are The Millers

In the movies, that is. James Stewart and June Allyson play as Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Miller in 'The Glenn Miller Story,' a drama built on the career of the popular band leader who met a tragic death during World War II, at the time when his music was at the top of the hit parade.

NO PLACE TO GO

Seaman Without Homeland Trapped

BALTIMORE (U) — The Trojan Seaman sailed from Baltimore today with Charles Sianina, 56-year-old Austrian-born seaman, still aboard after a last desperate attempt to re-enter the United States. Without a country he wants to call home, Sianina finds himself trapped in a maze of immigration laws, changing political boundaries and costly mistakes dating back more than three decades.

New Mexicans Ask New Moves On Drought Aid

ALBUQUERQUE (U) — New Mexico farmers and ranchers, absorbing economic blows from crippling drought and haunted by a specter of the dust bowl 1930s, today waited hopefully for reaction to pleas of two high officials. Gov. Edwin L. Mechem wired Secretary of Agriculture Benson asking for extension of the emergency feed program for stockraisers, consideration of easing credit regulations and aid in turning topsoil to reduce wind erosion.

Meanwhile, Sen. Anderson (D-N.M.), a former Secretary of Agriculture, wired Mechem asking an emergency session of the State Drought Committee. Anderson asked that the committee or the entire civil defense group be called together immediately 'preliminary to asking that northeastern sections of our state be again designated as a major disaster area under public law 875.'

Mechem, a Republican, and Anderson will oppose each other for the U.S. Senate seat next November. Some quarters were inclined to think that the question of how to deal with the drought would be a major issue in the coming campaign. Mechem's terse wire emphasized the seriousness of the situation. In his wire to Benson, he said in part: 'Drought condition in eastern New Mexico extremely severe. Unless we get moisture immediately, situation will be much worse than last year. Topsoil now moving to Texas and Oklahoma.'

Czechoslovakia and jumped ship. I worked as a machinist in New York for a long time before I took out my first naturalization papers. 'But I was scared. Scared to get my second papers and try to become a citizen because I thought I might get deported. 'So, I did nothing. Now, look where I am.' Sianina, born in a part of Austria that later became a section of Czechoslovakia, fought with the Austrian army in World War I. He deserted to join the anti-Bolshevik Czechoslovak Legion, which was caught up in the Russian Revolution. He ended up in Vladivostok. In 1920, he returned to his homeland, was a minor government official for a time and two years later shipped to America as a merchant seaman. He returned to the sea in 1942, when merchant seamen were needed in the World War II effort because, 'it was sort of a patriotic thing,' he said. With a passport renewable each year from the Czech consulate in New York, Sianina said he was told he could get his citizenship if he spent five years actual sailing time on American ships. All went well until the postwar rise of a Red government in Czechoslovakia. The consulate which issued his papers was closed and the passport became invalid. American immigration officials told Sianina he still had seven months sailing time to go before he could become a candidate for citizenship. He got a temporary document, 'in lieu of passport' and in early December 1952 shipped out with the Trojan Seaman. Then the McCarran Immigration laws became effective, and Sianina, without a valid visa or passport, was refused re-entry. He's been aboard the Trojan Seaman ever since, '14 long months,' he said. He tried in vain to get a visa from U.S. consuls in Pakistan and India last December but was turned down. 'So, here I am,' he said with a shrug. 'I got no place to go. I don't know where to go. Any country I go to they are going to take me to the station house.' 'I don't want to go to Czechoslovakia. No place else will take me.' The owners of the Trojan Seaman, already fined $1,000 for docking here with Sianina aboard, have tried to pay him off and let him go. They are subject to an additional $1,000 fine every time the ship docks in America with Sianina aboard. Sianina admits he probably will have to leave the vessel when it arrives in Spanish Morocco in a few weeks. From there he will probably go to Tangier, an international port, 'and hope I get a visa to somewhere—Nassau, where my wife is, Yugoslavia, anywhere. 'I guess it doesn't matter,' he sighed. 'It seems I always travel the wrong connection.'

Russian Japanese Mission Charges U. S. Bribe Effort

TOKYO (U) — The Russian mission today charged that "American spies" had tried to win over a Soviet ship captain to the United States with promises of $50,000 and asylum in California. But the efforts failed, the mission said in a statement released to Japanese newsmen. It called upon the Japanese government to "control the provocative actions of the American espionage corps." The U.S. Far East Command did not comment immediately. The Russian mission has had no legal position in Japan since the end of the occupation. Russia did not sign the Japanese Peace Treaty. A Soviet spokesman identified the Russian skipper as a "Captain Kulikov." Presumably he referred to Capt. Philip Krekov, who was convicted last month on a technical charge of violating Japan's territorial waters. Krekov was nabbed off Japan's northernmost island of Hokkaido in a trap set for Japanese Communist spies. He received a suspended sentence of one year and left Japan Monday on a Russian ship. The Russian spokesman mentioned briefly the former chief of the Communist spy ring in Japan, Yuri Rastvorov, now in American hands. 'The fact that Yuri Rastvorov, former member of the mission, disappeared suddenly one month ago together with the facts mentioned in Kulikov's statement indicate that the American spies are making provocative action as they desire against Soviet citizens for criminal purposes,' he said. The Soviet spokesman, F. Runov, said two Americans named Albert Farnin and Edward Martin had threatened Kulikov. He quoted Kulikov as saying they had plied him with drinks and "tried to force me to sign a statement refusing to return to my home country."

Woman Held; Son, 5, Dead

DALLAS (U) — A former mental hospital patient was held today for investigation of murder after her 5-year-old son was bludgeoned to death. Officers said yesterday the 40-year-old woman was too hysterical to give a coherent account but had admitted killing the child. The father said his wife had telephoned him at his work and told him she had "strangled" the boy. The anxious father called his attorney, who rushed a doctor to the home and then called city police and Sheriff Bill Decker. The physician said the boy was on his side in a blood-spattered bed, a heavy brass vase, smeared with blood, nearby. The doctor said he attempted to give the child artificial respiration but told police, "He was dead. There was no hope." A local psychiatrist treated the woman about three years ago, police said, and then confined her to a mental hospital for a time. Another child of the woman, a 6-year-old daughter, was at school when the boy was killed.

Houston Man Held In Death Of Friend

HOUSTON (U) — A 48-year-old man was under a murder charge today in the shooting death of a friend. Joe Elbert Barker was charged yesterday in the fatal shooting Tuesday night of Fred Ross Popcoe, 27, an unemployed pipefitter. Police said an argument developed as Popcoe and two companions rode in a car toward a bar. Popcoe was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Negro Chauffeur Honored On Death

DALLAS (U) — A Negro chauffeur will be buried tomorrow with high honors by the Catholic Church. Bishop Augustine Dangelmayr and two priests will officiate at pontifical requiem mass for Sam Frazer. Frazer was a chauffeur for Bishop Joseph P. Lynch more than 25 years. Frazer died Monday. Bishop Lynch considered "Sam" his "good right hand." Frazer had helped the bishop prepare for so many church events and rites that it was said he knew more about the necessary equipment and trappings than many churchmen. When the Sudan held an election recently it required five weeks.

Coastal Projects Sought In Texas

WASHINGTON (U) — Improvements for two Texas coastal points were urged yesterday at a House Public Works Committee hearing. The improvements are a refuge harbor at Seadrift near Victoria, the Turtle Cove Waterway near Aransas Pass. Dale Miller, vice president of the Louisiana-Texas Intra-coastal Assn., and Rep. Lyle (D-Tex.) said the projects would be of great value to commercial fishermen. Fall Proves Fatal SAN ANTONIO (U) — Lewis M. Vasquez Jr., 35, a school workman, slipped from a hackberry tree yesterday and plunged 25 feet to a sidewalk. He died 10 minutes later of a skull fracture.

especially during hurricane season. Cost of dredging a refuge harbor 9 feet deep, 2,000 feet wide and 1,000 feet long at Seadrift near the mouth of the Guadalupe River was estimated at $74,800. Local interests would put up an added $28,500. The Turtle Cove project calls for dredging an anchorage basin 12 feet deep, 300 feet wide and 800 feet long, at an estimated cost of $40,000. Army Engineers have recommended both projects.

Redecorating Made Easy

A. A. Cooper, manager, (left) and A. W. Franklin look over their sign at Nabors Paint Store, 1701 Gregg, advising patrons of a remodeling and redecorating plan now available at the Nabors firm.

Nabors Firm Can Help With Redecorating

There's little reason for putting it off if you want to remodel and redecorate your home, according to A. A. Cooper, manager of Nabors Paint Store, 1701 Gregg. The Nabors Paint Store specializes in redecorating materials and keeps a stock on hand that enables customers to select any type wanted.

At present the firm is boasting a loan plan whereby customers can arrange for $60 to $2,500 in redecorating work with up to 36 months to pay.

Either Cooper or A. W. Franklin, representative, will welcome an opportunity to discuss the plan with prospective customers.

Cooper has had eight years of experience in the retail paint business, while Franklin has had five years of experience. They are both available for consultation, and can help patrons solve many home beautification problems.

The firm also maintains an art shop, which has proved to be exceptionally popular.

Wagon Wheel Top Spot For Tourists

One of the most frequented spots in Big Spring by those passing through is the Wagon Wheel Restaurant at 803 East 2nd.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Rainbolt, who operate the restaurant, say that a good percentage of their trade is made up of tourists traveling Highway 80.

And the Rainbolts firmly believe that the attractive building with the novel decorative scheme is what catches the travelers' eyes. A number of the travelers stop in on return trips, however, and the owners attribute the second stop to the good food and service offered on the first go round.

"We've got quite a reputation to live up to if we retain the title 'Big Spring's Finest Restaurant,'" Mrs. Rainbolt said. "Consequently we have to give the customer the best of everything."

It is the "giving of the best" that accounts for the huge following that the restaurant has right here in Big Spring. The Rainbolts make sure that each customer is treated individually and according to his tastes.

And right along with the good food and courteous service, there is pleasing atmosphere aplenty. Lights are low, seating is comfortable, and soft organ music is played in the background.

Practically any dish desired can be ordered at the Wagon Wheel, whether found on the menu or not. Selections range from the dinner list, through a la carte orders, to sandwiches.

Cornelison Cleaners Assure Quality Work

Absolutely top quality dry cleaning work, made possible by the best of equipment and expert cleaning know-how, is assured Big Springers by Cornelison Cleaners, 811 Johnson.

Roy Cornelison, owner and operator of the establishment, acknowledges that good equipment is essential to good work. For that reason, he has equipped his shop with the best tools money can buy.

But Cornelison points out that equipment is powerless by itself. Consequently, he says, cleaning "know-how" is the most important element in the cleaning business.

And Cornelison has that know-how, gained through more than a quarter of a century of experience, to go with his equipment. His cleaning and pressing skill is expressed in every garment processed by the plant.

In addition to first rate work, Cornelison Cleaners provides Big Springers with speedy, courteous and convenient service.

One of the most attractive of Cornelison's special services is the drive-in clothing deposit and pick-up. Customers are met in the driveway by one of the attendants, Pat Coats or Barbara Spears. Soiled clothing may be left or freshly-cleaned garments picked up without the necessity of getting out of the car.

The convenient location of Cornelison Cleaners is another factor that has contributed to the concern's long list of satisfied patrons.

Situated at 10th and Johnson, the establishment is handy for the housewife on a shopping trip or the breadwinner on the way to or from work. Two chores can be accomplished at once by leaving clothing at Cornelison's while on the way to town to attend to other business.

Emergency one-day service is afforded Cornelison customers, also.

9 Killed In French Railroad Accident

TOULOUSE, France (AP)—A cog railway train streaking down a mountain in the French Pyrenees with holiday skiers jumped the tracks and plunged into a 1,500-foot ravine yesterday. Nine persons were killed and 14 injured.

The train was 2,700 feet up the mountain on its way from a ski run to Luchon when it derailed. It was believed the brakes failed.

As the train shot off the track and skidded over rocks to the ravine's brink, some passengers jumped. They were flung under the wheels and crushed between the rocks and the sides of the rail.

The train was the three-rail type for steep grades. The rail's center track is notched to mesh with a cog wheel on the engine.

Hefty 15-Year-Old Is Medical Problem

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It took two doctors, three assistants, and two X-ray machines to find what was wrong with a 15-year-old girl.

She is Joyce, a 300-pound elephant in Griffith Park Zoo.

"She'll be laid up about a month," Dr. Victor Tiersten, veterinarian, said. He and Dr. Wilford D. Combert said she had suffered a strained ligament in the left hind heel.

The veterinarians yesterday used the two machines strapped together because rays from only one couldn't penetrate the foot-thick ankle.

Sale Of Blood Leads To Sentence To Jail

BALTIMORE (AP)—Bertie J. Taylor, 44, was sentenced to one year in jail yesterday for beating his 23-year-old wife with a brick.

Once-Famed Tree Belts Still Abound

WASHINGTON (AP)—What happened to the tree "shelter belts" the government helped to plant in the Great Plains during the 30s to curb destructive dust storms? Most of them, plus many planted since, are still in existence helping to do the job they were designed to do, Agriculture Department conservation officials said today.

Officials said that in the beginning some "over-zealous" government publicity agents had helped to implant exaggerated ideas as to the character of the shelter belts and the goals they were designed to accomplish. These officials said the tree planting projects were aimed to help hold down soil blowing, along with other conservation projects, and were never put forward as a complete cure. Officials said that since the project first was started in the 30s, perhaps more than 400 million tree seedlings have been planted in a Great Plains area extending from North Dakota and Montana south into Texas.

In the beginning, they were planted largely with relief labor. In more recent years, plantings have been carried on principally under direction of the department's Soil Conservation Service and by local soil conservation districts.

A large portion of the trees have been planted from Kansas north—an area which has not been affected by recent dust storms. Farmers in Oklahoma and Texas, where the recent storms have been most severe, have not taken to the tree planting idea as widely, officials said, as have their northern neighbors.

legislators, was still in serious condition, but no longer on the critical list. The others were improving.

Dr. Joseph R. Young, chief of staff at Casualty Hospital, said in a morning bulletin that Bentley was troubled by hiccoughs and did not rest quite as well last night as the night before. He reported the congressman's condition as "essentially unchanged," however, and said temperature, pulse and blood pressure continued satisfactory, with breathing improved.

Federal prosecutors and a grand jury took little more than the minimum time yesterday to go over the evidence on Monday's shooting. U.S. Atty. Leo A. Rover used six witnesses, including one member of Congress, Rep. Paul W. Shafer (R-Mich.), to present the cases in one hour and 45 minutes.

Almost immediately afterward the grand jury voted indictments charging assault with intent to kill and assault with a dangerous weapon against Mrs. Lolita Lebron, 34; Irving Flores Rodriguez, 28; Andres F. Cordero, 29, and Rafael C. Miranda, 25.

All were held in $100,000 bail each. Police said all but Rodriguez had confessed. Rodriguez was not seized at the Capitol, but later at a bus station. Rep. Shafer told newsmen, before he testified at the closed grand jury session, that he could identify Rodriguez as one of the quartet involved in the shooting.

The shooting had repercussions last night in Havana and Chicago. In Havana, Cuban military intelligence officers arrested for questioning Juan Juarbes, foreign affairs secretary of the Puerto Rican Nationalist party. They also seized another Nationalist, Carlos Padilla Perer.

Chicago police picked up five Puerto Ricans in a roundup of local Nationalist leaders. Authorities there declined to say what further action they plan to take.

Leach was wanted for questioning in Big Spring at the time and subsequently was sentenced to a four-year prison term after pleading guilty to a charge of forgery.
