City Preparing For Street Work

Littlefield voters were rather scarce Saturday, but the $365,000 street bond issue passed by a small majority of 53.

City councilmen met with Joe Smith of First Southwest Company of Lubbock Monday evening to discuss the sale of bonds.

Smith is the bonding agent and financial adviser for Littlefield. Councilmen set June 4 or June 18 as a date for sale of bonds, depending on bond rating and paper work completion.

Major J. E. Chisholm states that it will take 30 days after the bonds are sold to get the money here, then the work contract can be let.

IT'S NEVER DULL County Jailer's Job Is 'Around-The-Clock'

By NILAH RODGERS
Leader-News Staff Writer

Some strange and interesting things go on around the Lamb County Courthouse, and for Gary Lightfoot, who works, lives, eats and sleeps there, there is never a dull moment.

This reserved and intense young lawman of five years is a sheriff's deputy and the Lamb County jailer, and he and his wife live in the apartment adjacent to the jail on the second floor of the courthouse.

"One thing about living in the courthouse," Mrs. Lightfoot said, "We're the only people in Littlefield who live in a $650,000 house."

Because the apartment must be entered through the sheriff's office and opened with a big jail key, there is no doorbell ringing by unsolicited salesmen, either.

"You can't live there day in and day out without being moved," Mrs. Lightfoot said. "Regardless of what they've (the prisoners) done, you can't keep from feeling sorry for those locked up in animal-like cages, when he has to take someone from here to the penitentiary that it's like taking a stray animal out and dumping him," she added.

Mr. and Mrs. Lightfoot have lived in the courthouse apartment for almost a year. Excitement began when the Lightfoots were moving in and Mrs. Lightfoot turned on the jail break alarm when she thought she was just flipping on a light switch. "And something has been going on ever since," she added.

FRIDAY SCHEDULE
Voting-All Day
Day Parade-10 a.m.

GARY LIGHTFOOT is a 24-hour-a-day officer. Lightfoot, who is a sheriff's deputy and the county jailer, lets himself into his second floor apartment next to the jail in the courthouse.

MEAN DARTIN popped from behind closed doors Saturday night and perched atop the piano to sing his theme song, "Everybody Loves Somebody, Sometime" with his accompanist "Ken" at the piano. Actually, Mean Dartin is Stanley Aaron and Ken is Francis Ricks. This was part of the "television" entertainment during a program members of the Eastern Star put on for the Masons and their wives. The second picture portrays "The Oddly Wed Game," where Emcee Bettye Smith asked participants questions about their spouses, in the absence of their spouses, and their spouses tried to match answers when called back to their chairs. Looking on are Mary Jo Weige, Stan Sell and Scott Sell. The Oddly

Weds are, left to right, Fannie and Buck, portrayed by Francis Ricks and Blanche Dodgen, Rev. and Mrs. Clem Sorley, Mr. and Mrs. Babe Banner, and Judge and Mrs. G. T. Sides. Minnie Pearl, complete with 98-cent hat, clutch purse and all, was present to bring greetings from Grinder Switch. Actually, Minnie Pearl is Mrs. Doris Frey. The fourth picture, relates the "Har Dee Har Har" show, on which Johnny Carter and June Carter appeared to sing "Long Legged, Star Pickin' Man". They are actually a husband-and-wife team--Janice and Stanley Aaron.

Mrs. Robert Richey, acting as hostess, served refreshments to the members and to one guest, Mrs. Delbert Ross.

MRS. BILLY GEORGE KEMP

Kemp-Bearden Vows Read In Springlake

Miss Phyllis Ann Bearden and Billy George Kemp pledged wedding vows in a candlelight ceremony Friday in the First Baptist Church in Springlake.

Double ring vows were directed by Rev. Don L. Holmes, pastor, before an altar set with brass candle arches bearing white tapers and greenery with white carnations.

Bridal roping and a large brass candlestick with a single white candle marked each side of the altar. A single white candle and greenery marked the parents' pews.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bearden of Springlake and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kemp of Olton.

Traditional wedding selections were presented by Mrs. Larry Tunnell, organist. Steve Sanderson, pianist, accompanied Mrs. Don L. Holmes as she sang "O Promise Me" and "Walk Hand in Hand."

Candles were lighted by Mrs. Allen Hatfield and Kathleen Jones.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of ivory imported shantung and organza, fashioned with princess lines. The full Bishop sleeves and yoke were of silk organza with Belgian lace medallions outlining the neckline, yoke and cuffs. Soft fullness fell from the back yoke which was accented with a self-fabric bow.

An organza and lace headpiece, edged with lace leaves encrusted with seed pearls and crystals, held her long veil of silk illusion. Sweeping chapel length, it was edged and adorned with matching lace.

She carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of pink rosebuds and white pom poms surrounding a white orchid atop a white lace covered Bible. From her bouquet, she took a pink rosebud which she presented to her mother preceding the vows and another to give to the mother of the groom after the exchange of vows.

Mrs. Larry Parish of Lubbock was matron of honor and Mrs. Danny Dial of Canyon was bridesmatron. Bridesmaids were Beverly Britton of Canyon and Caron Koeninger of Austin.

Feminine attendants wore formal length gowns of petal pink shantung styled with Empire bodice and folded train attached with four buttons. They wore headpieces of contrasting pink daisies and net accented with white pearl leaves. They carried fan shaped bouquets of petal pink pom poms with greenery and petal pink streamers.

Joe Bob Smith was best man. Groomsmen were brothers of the groom, Jerry of Midland and Jackie of Olton, and Phillip Bearden of Canyon, brother of the bride. Guests were seated by H. L. May and Allen J. Doggett.

Little miss Cathy Cain of Springlake was flower girl and Kent Bradley was ring bearer. Keeping traditions, the bride wore a blue garter and carried a penny in her shoe. Her veil, belonging to a cousin, was "borrowed and old."

A reception was held in the church parsonage. The bride's table was laid with a petal pink floor length cloth accented with white lace and tiny white bows. Centering the table was a milkglass candelabra with white net and pink bows.

The traditional three tiered wedding cake was served from milk glass and silver appointments. Presiding at the table were Miss Cheryl Latimer and Mrs. Allen Hatfield of Lubbock.

Miss Cheryl Latimer registered guests.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bearden chose a tunic dress of powder blue lace and added white accessories and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Kemp wore a dress of hot pink silk and wool with white accessories and white orchid corsage.

For a wedding trip to Austin, Houston and other points of interest, the bride chose a yellow and white eyelet knit suit with white accessories. She added an orchid corsage lifted from the bridal bouquet.

The couple will be at home after April 23 at 1611 Ave. R in Lubbock.

The bride is a 1969 graduate of Springlake-Earth High School and attended Commercial College in Lubbock. She has been employed with Gulf Insurance Company.

Kemp is a 1966 graduate of Olton High School and has recently completed a tour of duty with the U.S. Army, 13 months of which were spent in Korea. He is employed with Western Electric of Lubbock where he worked before entering the service.

DEAR EDITOR

What Our Readers Think

America, Do Something!

Dear Editor:

Reverence for human life has been a basic principle of the American way of life since its beginning. People are taught that life, especially American life, is invaluable. In fact history in instances has shown that many lives have been sacrificed to save a few. This reverence for human life can be seen by the perilous voyage of the Apollo 13 and its safe return.

Nearly every American was concerned over the safety of three men. People stayed glued to the television set wondering whether these men would return safely. The American public was informed with every phase of their voyage. Of course everyone was happy with their safe return. Why can not Americans show this same concern with other American lives?

I am directly speaking about the war in Vietnam. It is interesting to note that an American life is lost every hour on the hour twenty-four hours a day in Vietnam. (This is based on the fact that approximately 150 American lives are lost per week). Mothers and fathers, do you really realize what this means? It means that your son and 23 of your neighbors' sons are lost per day. Is this the price we must pay to stop communism from spreading, or is this the price we pay to keep up the American image of policeman of the world?

If America is so good at straightening out the governments of other countries, why can't she straighten out her own? America let's turn our war energy and expenditures to the maintenance of our own country. We have pollution problems, crime problems, racial problems, and many more problems which are more important than keeping up the image of being policeman of the world. In five years, South Vietnam will not know that American troops have ever been on her soil, nor will she care. So please America wake up and let's clean up our own house!

Thanks From Whiteface

Letter to the Editor:

The people of Whiteface wish to express their deep appreciation to the citizens of Littlefield, and the surrounding area, for the great amount of assistance given us following our tornado disaster. You find out who your real friends are when disaster strikes!

It was extremely gratifying to receive the immediate assistance of so many organizations, businesses and individuals who arrived from Littlefield soon after the storm struck and who have stayed several days to assure that everything possible was being done for the rehabilitation of our people and our town.

The area Civil Defense Forces, Fire Departments, Police Departments, Hospitals, Churches, Service Clubs, Women's Clubs and Red Cross Volunteers are only a few of those who gave forth their efforts to alleviate pain, hunger, and suffering. Your food and clothing contributions were most generous.

Thank you again, Littlefield-- and may this tragic event serve to bring our communities closer together in the bonds of friendship.

Very Sincerely,
Mayor Wendell Dntlap
and the Citizens of Whiteface

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Wisdom's Ways

By BOB WEAR

WISDOM IS CLOSELY ALLIED with happy and effective living.

We must be encouraged by the fact that wisdom can be acquired, and we can sustain a high level of effort in seeking wisdom.

Even so, some folk think that we are born to be wise or foolish. They assume that it is all a matter of predetermination, and the real tragedy is in the fact that they never try to improve themselves.

WE CAN LEARN to be wise. Of course, it is hard work; but each new bit of wisdom learned is ample reward for our effort.

One of the first principles of the discipline we must apply to our behavior is that of cheerfully doing the best we know to do.

"THE WISE MAN endeavors to shine in himself; the fool to outshine others. The first is humbled by the sense of his own infirmities, the last is lifted up by the discovery of those which he observes in other men."

"The wise man considers what he wants, and the fool what he abounds in. The wise man is happy when he gains his own approbation, and the fool when he recommends himself to the applause of those about him." - Addison.

WE MUST BE HONEST to see, and ready to admit a mistake when we make it; and, then, be diligent in not making the same mistake again. This is one way to acquire wisdom.

There are other ways. We can study the life of those who are wise, and we can be selective and discriminating in what we read.

WE MUST HAVE a strong desire to be wise.

This means that we admit our need, that we do not accept the view that we were born to be foolish, and it means that we are willing to pay the price to become wise. It also means that we are absolutely impervious to discouragement.

WE JUST KEEP trying and trying. EACH MOVEMENT toward wisdom is a step in the right direction. Even if the steps are small, they add up to significant progress.

Each bit of accomplishment sets the stage for some more of the same. This progress is cumulative, and provides strength for continuing advancement.

WISDOM IS SO MUCH better than folly. This is self-evident. When we are wise in our thinking, in what we say, in our choices and in what we do; we feel that life is good.

When folly is our principle of thought and action, we are soon disgusted and weary with living. It is so much better to be wise, and we can be.

WISDOM IS THE UP side of life. Its rewards are many. The sense of personal well-being, and the maximum in happy associations with other people are two rich compensations.

In addition to these, there are many, many more. In fact, there is nothing else as personally satisfying.

WISDOM HAS WONDERFUL companions such as, the greatest possible degree of peace and good will; good order in society; the constructive and uplifting influences; and the positive accomplishments for the good of all.

"THE WISE MAN'S PATH leads upward to life." He will give first place to enduring values, and will be constantly giving his best to the living experience.

WE CAN BE WISE.

PAUL HARVEY No-Win War

NOBODY WINS WARS any more. Could wars have been less honorable yet more honest in the days when the victor vanquished his adversary, smashed his weapons, stole his gold and carried off his women?

Anyway, nobody wins wars any more. We pounded Japan and Germany to their knees, then helped them to their feet.

BUT IF AMERICANS have needed an incontrovertible example of the futility of overextending ourselves, this thing in Vietnam should be that.

Whatever the outcome of our involvement in Vietnam, we will suffer dreadfully debilitating side effects from this war for generations.

WE COUNT AS CASUALTIES of war only the dead and wounded. What of malleable boys who are able to march home in legions but with a monkey on their backs?

According to official estimates, "80% of our Vietnam GIs have smoked marijuana, 60% regularly do."

HOW MANY MEN BRING home an addiction to harder drugs, more readily available in Asiatic war than in any war heretofore, is inestimable.

Congress hears testimony that the incidence of venereal disease among our Saigon-area troops is "unprecedented."

MENTAL PROBLEMS deriving from the no-win nature of this conflict are "unprecedented."

The desertion rate in this war is "unprecedented."

And never before from any war have Americans sent home guns to be used against Americans!

THEY DO FROM THIS ONE. Customs cannot examine every inbound mail shipment, but one day in the one port of San Francisco they did open everything. They found 62 weapons and 6 grenades. This indicates that rifles, pistols and packages of explosives are being mailed home by GIs, hundreds each week.

Some traced by our FBI, are intended for the armories of revolutionaries.

IN NO WAR HERETOFORE has the enemy been so indistinguishable that the woman pushing the perambulator may be smuggling weapons, the boy on the bike any moment may toss a grenade.

If an American soldier shoots last, he may be dead; if he shoots first he may face court-martial.

BUT OF ALL the noxious fallout from this pulled-punches war, none is more devastating than its disillusioning and disruptive effect on home-front morale.

Every war heretofore has pulled us together; this one is tearing us apart.

Congress and the White House dispute the responsibility.

STUDENTS FIND REPUGNANT the hypocrisy of fighting Communists in Asia and tolerating them in Cuba. Some blame a vaguely defined "Establishment", others openly blame our country, renounce our -ism, profane our Flag.

There is only one way we can come home "winners" from this war and that is if we have learned from what not to do next time.

HOMINY GRITS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

I THINK I MAY have come up with a useful solution to a pretty knotty problem. Dandelions, that is. --These hardy plants seem to be a pest to so many of us who like to have attractive lawns.--Don't make any difference which neighborhood you live in, lawns seem to attract these beautiful yellow daisies.

I've often wondered about this "rat-race" anyhow.--You seed your yard, spend a fortune on water and fertilizers, then work like the deuce afternoons and weekends with an expensive and dangerous power mower, trying to keep the grass cut back!

TURN YOUR BACK for a minute, and come the yellow flowers!--Mow them down and they're like Sir Lancelot's dragon, four heads come out instead of the one you cut off!--Dig them up and it slows them a little, but they're back with reinforcement by the next week!--Let them mature, and your neighbors start givin' you the cool treatment! Poison them, and your pets and kids are in jeopardy.--A weed bar helps some, but it'll also kill your flowers and shrubs!--Get it on your evergreen, and it turns "ever-yellow."

So--I've been giving this thing some thought, and I just may have come up with a workable plan.

FIRST, WE NEED to cut the lawn as close as the mower will get.--While we're cutting, we need to mark the location of each offending plant.--If you have a grass catcher, use it.--carry the cuttings out of your yard, saturate them with kerosene and burn them.

Now, back to the yard and dig each dandelion up to a depth of at least four inches. You'll need your wheel-barrow to load the plants in and dispose of them the same way as you did the cuttings.--Back to the yard--now fill each hole, you left in digging, with kerosene.--Give it time to soak in and repeat the procedure.

QUICKLY, NOW, cover entire yard with polyethylene sheeting to hold fumes in the ground. Weight edges of sheeting down, to prevent wind from disturbing it.--If you don't have this type sheeting, roofing paper makes an excellent substitute.--Wait about six hours to let kerosene fumes do their stuff.

While you're waiting, you should put metal border around yard and let it extend four inches above ground level.

At end of waiting period, call your cement contractor and have him pour cement on yard till it fills four inch borders.--You, probably, should have him mix a generous portion of "2-4-D" in the cement.

IF ANYONE TRIES this remedy, and it works, I'd appreciate knowing about it, as I may want to try it myself!

A WOMAN'S VIEW

Dieting

By PEARL BRANDON

"GRANNY, you feel so nice and fat and soft."

I took this as a back handed compliment from my little granddaughter since I really hate to be fat. I like to think of myself as being on the slender side, but after taking a close, honest look in the mirror I had to admit I was more than pleasingly plump.

THIS SENT ME off on a diet binge, to try to lose a few pounds. I have fought the weight problem for years and have lost and gained back hundreds of pounds.

I read all the diet articles in the magazines and newspapers; and I've bought a few diet books.

They haven't solved my problems. It all boils down to just not eating. . . and I like to eat. I starve a couple of weeks and take off a few pounds, then eat it all back in less than half the time it takes to loose it.

It seems all the prettiest clothes are made for the gal with the lovely figure. I almost have to make my own clothes to get anything I like.

My brother once decided to go on a diet as he was getting too fat and thought he might feel better slim. He lost 17 pounds.

Later when he started eating and gaining it back, someone questioned him and he said, "I just got to thinking, what if, after losing all that weight and going through all that misery, I should get killed in a car wreck. . . or something. I'd waste all that effort."

GETTING BACK TO ME. "Why do I hate so badly to be fat?"

Who am I trying to impress at my age. . . those fashion-conscious people who judge me by my looks or my little granddaughter who likes me nice and fat?

I don't really think my friends or my family care whether I am fat or lean, but I want to like my self.

I REMEMBER as a child I liked jolly, fat people and the girls I admired most were on the plump side. I was as skinny as a rail.

The prettiest girls then had lovely rounded curves, now the skinnier the better. I do wish I could quit longing for a beautiful, slender figure and enjoy being just a nice, soft comfortable Grandma.

'Were You Counted?' ... GALIN

Campaign Beginning

Were you counted in Census '70?

With the 1970 Census of Population and Housing virtually completed locally, District Manager R. L. Butler announced the beginning of a "Were You Counted?" campaign to insure that no resident of the area has been overlooked.

If you think you or your family might have been missed, you are urged to notify the census district offices by means of a "Were You Counted?" form.

Area newspapers are printing these forms in their current editions as a public service. Prompt mailing of the "Were You Counted?" forms will speed up the compilation of preliminary population figures for the area.

Preliminary figures giving the total population of incorporated places of 10,000 or more population, and for counties, will be issued as soon as the District Manager is convinced that a complete count has been made. Final, detailed population figures will be issued from Washington later this year after returns have been tabulated by the Census Bureau's electronic computers.

The importance of a complete count was stressed by the District Manager. He pointed out that the population figures compiled in the current census must stand as official until the next Federal census.

"Representation in the U.S. Congress and the State Legislature is determined by the population count as ascertained in the census.

Federal funds are allotted to States and State funds, in turn, are allotted to counties and municipalities on a per capita basis.

So a short count means under representation in the Federal and State law-making bodies and under allotment in government funds. Thus, it is imperative that we have a complete count. The help of every resident of the area is needed to reach this goal," he said.

IT PAYS TO TRADE IN LITTLEFIELD

Put In Paul's Pflash

Paul McCormick got his start in the service station business as a teenager helping brothers Jack and Bill. The first cars he filled with gas were the tin lizzies with the gas tank under the front seat. The driver had to get out of the car before gas could be put in.

There weren't any gas gauges on early-day cars. A ruler was stuck down into the tank to measure the gas. Model A's didn't have fuel pumps, so gas tanks were located up under the windshield so gas would flow downward. Ten gallons of gas were pumped up into the glass pump, and customers watched the gas gurgle down into his tank.

McCormicks have been in the service station business more years than any other person or persons in Littlefield, starting in 1928. They were the first station in town to put in the electrical pumps. "Some of the customers didn't like the new improvement," Paul McCormick said. "They could see the numbers that roll over, saying how much gas they were getting, but they couldn't see the gas going in. The public had to be educated to the new pumps."

with them back then, either. The wheel and tire was all made together. Cold patches and a hand air pump were the order of the day for flats, and there were plenty of them since none of the streets nor even the road to Lubbock was paved.

Bill and Jack McCormick sold their service station to Paul and Leonard McCormick in 1938. Paul bought Leonard out in 1945.

Paul McCormick's Service Station at 917 E. Delano is the place to get Fina gasoline and oils and put pflash back in driving. Fina gas with pflash is the outstanding fuel handled today. Paul is wholesale distributor for Amalie, Quaker State and Havoline oils.

McCormick sells and balances Star and Cooper tires, installs Mark IV Air Conditioners and services all brands of air conditioners. They sell and install A. P. mufflers and tailpipes, and carry a full line of spark plugs, points, oil filters and condensers for automobiles, irrigation motors and tractors. And this is the place to get those Southland batteries.

For complete one-stop service, call on Paul. He'll take any major oil company credit card.

Babe Ruth League Plans Completed

Plans have been completed in the organization of a Senior Babe Ruth baseball team in Littlefield. This team replaces the American Legion team. Teams from Olton, Amherst and Muleshoe complete the League. Games will be played on Tuesday and Saturday nights, starting after school is out.

This team is financed completely through donations. Cash donations were received from Armes Chevrolet, Mitchell-Ford, and First National Bank. The Optimist Club donated the Accident Insurance Policy premium and The Prescription Shop donated the Liability Insurance policy premium. The American Legion Post of Littlefield donated the playing suits and a good supply of other field equipment, and the Lamb County REA donated equipment used by their former team.

Mothers of some of the players organized a garage sale and all proceeds through Friday afternoon and all day Saturday will be donated to the team.

The age group included in the Babe Ruth bracket is 16-18. Jack Christian will be the manager and will announce his assistants later.

All interested boys should contact Christian so practice can be started as soon as possible.

A 12-game schedule will be played.

HemisFair Improvements Planned

Officially, HemisFair ended more than a year ago. But not as far as the festive citizens of San Antonio are concerned.

Much remains of HemisFair—the 1968 world's fair that brought together the cultures of the Western Hemisphere—especially in the hearts of the people of Texas' third largest city.

City government proved that recently when it set in motion a pay-as-they-go plan to better use the 92.8 acre fair site. City Manager Jerry Henckle and his staff completed a year-long study and came up with a three-phase plan:

Half of the site will be developed into a public park with access to parking for the 750-foot-tall Tower of the Americas with its revolving restaurant.

The area will also contain the Convention Center, the Theatre of the Performing Arts, the Arena, Institute of Texan Cultures, three pavilions, HemisFair Lake, Lake Pavilion and several other structures.

Two other building phases are assigned for commercial development to include recreation, food services and merchandising.

But beyond the fairground site there is much more. And it is ready for today's visitor as is much of the fairground itself.

The Tower of the Americas provides a view of San Antonio, when at night the lights of the city shimmer like silver threads woven in a dark tapestry.

The view brings into focus the "Paseo del Rio" (river walk), in itself enough reason to go again to the city of the HemisFair.

Twisting through the city like an aqua carpet, the river and its walk passes restaurants and nightclubs to within walking distance of the fair site.

But there was much to see in San Antonio before the fair, and, of course, it remains to be savored in a city where the visitor may set his own pace. He may prefer the splendor of the big city and its fast-paced night life.

Awaiting are four 18th century Franciscan missions, the historic Alamo and the Spanish Governor's Palace, a military plaza and 10-room adobe house from which in the 1700's Spain ruled much of what is now Texas.

La Villita (little village) provides a flavor of Old Mexico in its shops and court yard.

The list goes on. Just as does the spirit of the fair.

Tag Team Match Set Saturday

Georgeous George Jr. and Mr. Wrestling tangle with Bull Ramos and Apache Gringo for the main event at the Littlefield Sports Arena Saturday night.

Another match features Sal Dominguez versus Bobby Duncum.

HEMISFAIR'S 750-foot-tall Tower of the Americas looks over the sprawling complex left as a legacy to San Antonio. The city plans to make improvements at the site.

3 Area Athletes Win Regional Meets

Olton, Sudan, Anton, Amherst and Spade all placed in the Regional track meet at Lubbock Saturday, with Olton and Anton athletes bringing home firsts.

Olton's Mike Parsons clipped off the mile run in 4:32.8 for first place and a right to represent Olton in this year's state meeting at Austin.

David Rodriguez of Anton finished ahead of all the competition in the 440 dash.

Amherst's Roy Lee Young placed second in the 100 and 220-yard dashes to earn a berth at the state meeting. With times of 10.3 and 23.1, Young was only one-tenth of a second short of first place in both events.

Sudan earned 24 total team points in the Class A finals. Sudan's 440 relay team was second best to Cooper, only followed by Eldorado, Kress, Clarendon, Aspermont and Rankin.

Jerry Bellar of Sudan finished third in the 100 dash in 9.8, just short of the first and second place times of 9.7 and 9.6.

Clarendon and Rankin placed sixth.

Anton, Amherst and Spade placed in the Class A mile run in 4:57.3 points and Amherst for 33 points.

Anton's Rodriguez dashed with the best time of 1:02.7.

Other Anton points came from a third place in the 400 dash by John Cantu, Rodriguez, Phillip B. Danny Spradley.

Anton miler, Ector finished fourth in 4:57.3 mile relay team with teammates Raul Gutierrez, Bill Walthall and John Cantu placed in the 220-yard dash.

Raymond Sewell of Sudan finished off to a bad start in the 220-yard dash but finished in the competition.

Mom's The Greatest

Who is the "greatest mom" in the Littlefield area?

Some lucky mother or grandmother will be named "queen for a day" and a thoughtful son, daughter or grandchild will be $25 richer as a result of the "Greatest Mom" contest beginning today.

Harassed Home Owners, Choose The Proper Tool

operate. She won't have to mix oil or gas either.

Storage is another aspect to take into consideration before purchasing a power mower. You may not want to store a gas-powered mower in the basement because of the fumes. And, you can often hang an electric mower on the wall if needed--without prior removal of such messy things like gasoline and oil.

Depending upon the size of your yard and your budget, cost of operation is another important consideration in buying a power mower. Operating a gas mower two hours a week is estimated to cost 75 cents to $1 a month for oil and gas. On the other hand, operating a 10 amp-rated electric mower two hours a week is estimated to cost 30 to 35 cents a month.

A few years ago, gas-powered lawn mowers seemed to have an edge on electric mowers in power rating. Today, most electric mower manufacturers design their units with power to spare. A new 18-inch rotary mower, for example, produces a high torque load surpassing that of a 5 h.p. gas engine.

One model also has a special "cord extender" device, designed to eliminate the possibility of running across the power cord.

There are several other categories of lawn and garden tools you will want to consider carefully, too. These include hedge trimmers, combination trimmer-edgers and shrub and grass shears.

If you have more than one or two medium-sized shrubs, most likely you are already considering a powered hedge trimmer. (Or, perhaps it is your wife who gets the blisters from your old "hand-powered" model.)

Electric hedge trimmers usually come in two models:

single edge and double edge. A single edge cuts in one direction at a time--say from right to left.

Then you must stand on the other side of the hedge to cut back again. With a double-edge hedge trimmer you can cut back and forth (left and right) without changing positions.

Design and operating features to consider here are type of blade edge (single or double edge), whether or not the hedge trimmer is double insulated for added safety, how well the tool is balanced, and the weight of the tool.

More recently manufactured tools have lightweight, plastic housings. This plus better balancing makes the tool easier to use--especially for your wife.

The electric trimmer-edger is one of the most versatile and economical power lawn and garden tools available today. The business end of the unit can be easily flipped over at a 90 degree angle so you can move from trimming hard-to-get grass around a fence line to edging your sidewalk in a few seconds. It's a dual purpose tool.

Look for these features before buying one: a safety button which locks the housing in the desired position, a blade guard, the proper power tool for your lawn and garden requirements.

The first thing to consider, says a lawn and garden equipment expert, is the right type of lawn mower for your yard. You have a choice between hand powered, gas-powered and electric powered.

Not many people like to cut grass by hand any more.

Which is best, the gas mower or the electric mower? Manufacturers of both types obviously think theirs is the best. But it really boils down to what your requirements are.

For instance, if your "estate" is more than an acre and a half, a gasoline-powered riding mower may be just what you need.

If yours is an average-sized urban or suburban lot, you will want to consider such things as noise, ease of starting and operation, maintenance requirements, and cost of operation.

An electric motor makes considerably less noise than a gas-powered motor, and this feature can be an incentive toward better relations with your neighbors.

On the other hand some people prefer a gas-operated mower so they can "tinker" with it. You can "tinker" with an electric mower, too, if you wish--but you don't have to because of low maintenance features of electric mowers.

SHELDON MACHA is just plain curious about the five-legged Hampshire pig born on his grandfather's farm last week. Mark Williams holds the pig on a black glove to make the freakish extra front leg show up in the picture and from his expression, he has some mixed emotions. Joe Macha is owner of the pig that was born with an extra appendage in front of the left fore leg.

Featuring a number of improvements in its facilities, Baylor University Camp is now accepting applications to any one of its four summer camp sessions.

Sponsored by Baylor University, the summer sports and recreation program is open to boys and girls ages 7 through 15.

Two three-week and two two-week sessions will be held at Baylor's 650 acre camp situated on the North Bosque River near China Spring, a 20-minute drive from Waco.

The first session will be held June 7 to June 26 with the second session set for June 28 to July 17. The first two sessions will be set up as a recreation camp for both boys and girls.

The third session, which will be held from July 19 to July 31, will be limited to girls and boys who enroll in the baseball camp for boys ages 8 through 15.

Dates for the final session are Aug. 2 to 14 and will be conducted as a recreation camp with emphasis on over-night camping activities.

Camp Director Jack Little said applications already are coming in at a brisk pace but that there will be more than 400 openings available.

Facilities at Baylor Camp include cabins, dining hall, gymnasium, two swimming pools, rifle and archery range and four baseball diamonds. Also available for recreation are canoes and horses.

All types of aquatic sports, horseback riding, riflery, team sports, individual and dual activities, camping, hiking and life-time activities are offered. The camp also offers a complete arts and craft program, Red Cross junior and life saving and basic courses.

Burnie Battles, property manager, said emphasis is placed on overnight trips, canoe trips, horseback trips and bicycle hikes. He will be of particular interest to the older campers.

Battles said, "Besides increasing the number of horses, canoes, bicycles available, Earth cabins and other facilities have been remodeled."
