

BILL CLAYTON

Rep. Clayton To Get State Water Award

Representative Bill Clayton of Fort Worth's Hotel Texas, May 3 at 7 p.m.

Texas is at the crossroads in its need for more water and conservation of the water it has. Rep. Clayton is pointing the way and leading the charge in this effort.

Water conservation begins at home with Bill. His farms have had soil and water conservation plans with the local district for 18 years.

He has installed many conservation practices to utilize rainfall and irrigation water. These include waterways, irrigation pipeline, land leveling, tailwater return systems and diversions. A recharge well and pasture planting are planned for the near future.

Rep. Clayton is a member of the West Texas Advisory Committee to the Water Development Board and to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Water Resources Committee. Clayton gives freely of his time and effort to the local district, the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District, and Water, Inc.

Recently Clayton was named executive director of Water, Inc., an organization promoting importation of surplus water from the lower Mississippi to the High Plains of Texas.

At the present time, Clayton is chairman of the House Interim Water Study Committee, and holds posts and chairmanships of several key house committees.

In addition, he is a member of the executive committee of the Interstate Conference of Water Problems, chairman of the Texas Water Conservation Association, and represents Texas at the Southern Water Resources Conference annually.

Rep. Clayton has been a member of the State Legislature since 1963. He has served on a number of committees important to Texas water, carrying all of the bills for the soil and Water Conservation board.

He has fought hard to secure an JERREL HABERER and Jerrel Jr. look over a trucking log kept in Haberer's business of operating a fleet of 14 trucks. Haberer operates a big bull shipping business from his home at 305 E. 18th St. Haberer has up to 30 persons hired at any given time, with a big per cent of the drivers living in Littlefield and Lamb County.

INDUSTRIOUS TRUCKER

Hauls Lot Of Bull

By NILAH RODGERS
Leader-News Staff Writer

Jerrold Haberer is a big bull shipper. His trucking operations are full of beef.

Haberer's 14 trucks haul about 50 loads of cattle per week, with each load averaging around 42,000,000 pounds.

Cut it anyway, and that's a lot of beef. And when a person employs 25 to 30 persons, that's business.

Haberer and his wife, Grace, operate quite an industry from the office of their home at 305 E. 18th. With up to 30 in his employ, Haberer contributes his share to the economy of Littlefield.

About 10 of these drivers live in Littlefield, and another five are county residents. Two drivers are employed for most of the 14 trucks.

In addition to his drivers and office, Haberer also has his own shop where a specialized mechanic services the trucks.

Haberer's trucks are "legal" in 28 states. Although Haberer trucks are likely to be seen anywhere, there are certain regular runs.

Haberer's drivers average 12 loads per week to San Antonio, and about 15 loads per week to a Denver, Colo., packing plant. Kansas City, Kans., and points in New Mexico, Arizona and California are regulars, too.

It could be said that Haberer covers the midwest and south. His trucks have hauled cattle in almost every state except Alaska.

Haberer started his trucking industry about six or seven years ago.

"I got into it by accident," Haberer said congenially. He brushed a hand across his light flat-top cut hair. "There looked like there was some money in it, but it ain't that way." He laughed heartily. "I can't quit. I can't get out."

Before getting into trucking, Haberer farmed north of Earth.

Haberer is plenty busy without driving, but he does drive when he gets stuck without a driver.

Mrs. Haberer says she works 27 hours a day and has enough to do without going with him when he does drive. Her duties include taking telephone calls and "being a shock absorber."

Keeping track of all the trucks, drivers and expenses is a full time job for Haberer. Mrs. Haberer, and two employees, Mrs. Betty Hall and Ralph Gage.

All the drivers report by phone each evening between five and seven, regardless of where they are.

"I've been told by the phone office that I have the largest phone bill in town," Haberer said. "And I believe it."

Haberer isn't particular about what kind of beef he hauls, "just so long as it is 'alive'." He hauls stocker cattle, partly finished and finished cattle, mother cows and calves.

The saying, "busy as a one-armed man with the nettle-rash pasting on wall-paper," is an apt description of Haberer and his beefy business.

Growers Sign Up For Carrot Acres

An agreement was reached here Friday night between several area farmers and a Dimmitt vegetable concern for 150 acres of carrots to be grown in the Littlefield area.

Two representatives of the Dimmitt firm, Manager Homer West and Albert Maxwell, met with about 15 area farmers at the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas.

The company, La Mantia, Cullum, Collier and Co. of Dimmitt, will sell seed to the farmers, provide planters and technical assistance in the growing, then harvest and buy the crop at the current market price.

Among growers agreeing to plant carrots are Don Bell, Larry Lockwood, Dale Stanley, Jonnie Richardson, Don Caldwell, Kerwin Oliver, Howard Keener and Gayle McCoy, all members or associate members of the Spade Young Farmers; Harvey Patterson and Don Joyner of Fieldton, and Johnnie Gallini of Littlefield.

The carrot crop in this vicinity is expected to be planted in the next three weeks and harvested in October.

Officials Visit Clayton Farms

Fifteen executives on the Texas Advisory Committee on Conservation Education visited the Bill and Don Clayton farms between Springlake and Earth Thursday.

It was windy, hang on to your hat weather, when the chartered bus arrived to inspect the tail-water return systems on the Clayton farms.

The Lamb County tour was the last stop the committee made the second day of the three-day spring meeting.

Dignitaries touring the conservation problems of this area include Tom McFarland, district manager of High Plains Underground Water District, Lubbock; L. F. Stewart, field planning engineer of the State Soil Conservation Board, San Saba; Charles Leinweber, department of plant science, Texas A&M University, College Station.

Others on the tour were Gary Thacker, biology department, Southwest Texas State College, San Marcos; Lorin Kenamer, school of arts and sciences, Texas Tech; John Kincaid, USDA, Soil Conservation Service, Temple.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department information education official, Theron D. Carroll, made the tour. D. A. Anderson, information and education department of the Texas Forest Service, College Station; and D. E. Bailey, assistant superintendent for instruction.

James C. McBride, Education Service Center, Wichita Falls and Beaumont; M. B. Morris, professor of education, McMurry College, Abilene; Calvin Hibler, Texas Education Agency, Capitol Station, Austin; and Jim Ross, High Plains Water District, Lubbock.

46-Day Minimum On Quail Hunt?

Word from Austin late Friday indicated a bill which indirectly allows a minimum of 46 days of quail hunting in Lamb County will be reported to the House of Representatives next week.

State Rep. Bill Clayton told of the bill's progress in a telephone conversation Friday night with Jonny Latimer, president of the Lamb County Sportsmen's Association.

According to Latimer, Clayton said details of the bill call for the Parks and Wildlife Commission to make surveys, hold hearings and make recommendations on the length of the quail season in the county.

The commissioners' court would have authority to accept or reject the PWL recommendations, Clayton told Latimer, but the minimum quail season would be 46 days—from Dec. 1 to Jan. 16.

Latimer said he felt the bill would place sportsmen in a better position, because of the minimum 46-day season which would become effective under old game laws if the court rejected PWL recommendations.

The quail season has been debated heavily in Lamb County in the past few months, with sportsmen offering criticism of the 20-day season which was set by the commissioner's court last year.

They petitioned the court to return the jurisdiction of quail season to the PWL, and Commissioners forwarded the request to Austin in the form of a resolution.

A resolution asking that quail season

Her task, if she really had to do it, would be considerably greater than most folks' in resetting so many time pieces. Daylight Saving Time arrived at 2 a.m. today. Olton Feedyard, Inc. Plans Are Completed

Three hundred and twenty acres of gently sloping land four miles west and two miles south of Olton on the Fieldton highway is the new site for the new 60,000 head per year Olton Feedyards, Inc.

The new feedlot, which will soon be under construction, is privately owned by 20 local men.

A manager and a staff of 30 or more skilled men and laborers will be employed for operation and maintenance of the firm. The annual payroll will exceed $250,000.

At the present market price, 60,000 head of cattle, the number estimated to remain under the commissioners' authority, petitioned by landowners, was forwarded by the court to Austin later.

Debate on the county quail season came to a climax Monday when the issue was heard in Austin by the legislative committee on Parks and Wildlife.

Following that hearing, the bill went to a sub-committee, which made the recommendations which will go before the full House.

be fed in the yards each year, could be sold for $18 million.

Total cost of the feed lot is estimated at one and one-half million. A contract will be awarded for construction with the completion date set for Nov. 1.

Financial arrangements and operating expenses were made through Production Credit Association.

This will be a custom feeding operation and persons interested in feeding cattle may contact members of the board for pen reservations.

Board members are Owen Norfleet, president; Jack Straw, first vice president; Frank Cornelius, second vice president; Earl Spruiell, secretary-treasurer; and Owen Jones, assistant secretary-treasurer.

Stockholders are Merrill Brigrance, Ross Bryant, Doug Giles, J. L. Carson, J. E. Carson, Frank Cornelius, J. Frank Daugherty, Cloys Fancher, A. J. Givens, Delmer Givens, Owen Jones, Elmer Moore, John Norfleet, Owen Norfleet, Earl Spruiell, Quentin Redinger, Gilbert Roberson, Roy Roberts, Archie Sorley, Don Spain, Jack Straw, Frank Struve and Fred Thompson.

"This is the first time in the history of Olton that old timers and newcomers have really joined together to do something big for Olton," said Elmer Moore, publicity chairman.

"This feedlot could be equivalent to having another seven million dollar bank," said Earl Spruiell.

The 320 acre site, commonly known as the "old Combest place," has only 75 acres in cultivation, with the remaining acres in native grass.

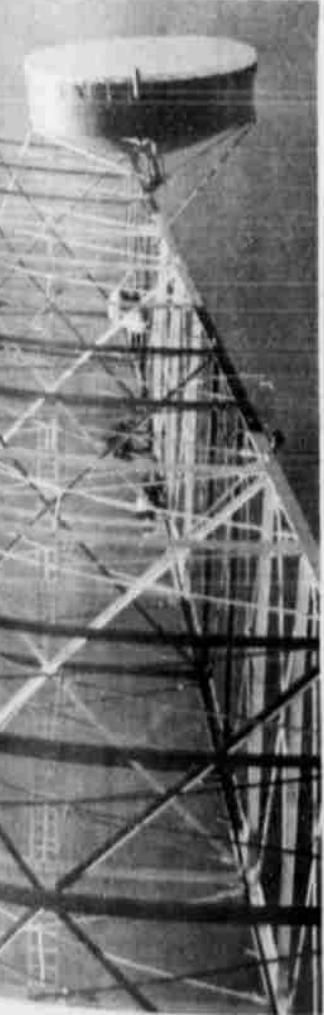

The mill, silo trenches and offices will be located on the highest elevations. There is one playa lake on the site, and the terrain is adaptable to easy grading and maintenance of "alleys" and surfaces of the feeding pens.

The mill will produce steam-rolled milo, and corn will be programmed in the ration along with principle proteins and supplements. The mill capacity is over 300 tons every eight hours, with built-in potential to double this when needed.

It is estimated that approximately 150,000,000 pounds of grain per year will be consumed, as well as silage, alfalfa and cottonseed products—all area produced.

What The Leader-News Thinks

A Future For Bull Lake?

The mineral survey which has been talked in the Littlefield area the past two years may not be such an important need after all.

A Texas Tech professor of geology says gypsum in commercial quantities does not exist in this area, but that vast resources of clay at Bull Lake could be capitalized upon.

Much of the information which would be gained in a costly mineral survey is already available, according to Dr. John P. Brand, the Tech professor.

This valuable light was shed by Dr. Brand at a meeting with several Littlefield people. The get-together was arranged by Tom Hilbun, a personal friend who met Dr. Brand through work with Boy Scouting.

Dr. Brand says gypsum in quantities for commercial use isn't to be found around the Littlefield area, and he should know.

The Tech professor many times has pecked around the rocks and hills of White's Ranch, where gypsum evidence has been found.

F. J. Spencer, the Houston industrial consultant, recommended in his survey two years ago that possibility of gypsum resources in that area be investigated.

But, Dr. Brand was quoted as saying, "You might work a half day there and come up with enough gypsum to fill the back of a pickup truck."

On the other hand, Dr. Brand says, the supply of clay at Bull Lake is the largest in one location between Ranger, Texas, and Los Angeles.

Clay is used in making brick, pottery, and highway aggregate, among other things.

So it seems that Bull Lake is one of the Littlefield area's greatest assets, not only from its possibilities for industry, but also from its importance in the Texas Water Plan.

Some day Bull Lake's development could provide the Littlefield area with more jobs through industry, and more recreation through becoming a huge reservoir.

It is a goal toward which all should work.

Here's My Letter

By LIBBY MUDGETT

HAVE YOU WRITTEN your fan and pan mail today?

You can rest assured that other people have and if you want to get in your two cents worth of say about what you see, hear and read, you'd better get busy.

If your favorite program is taken off the air, do you just wonder but never write and ask how come?

If your local TV or radio station does not carry something you'd like to see or hear, do you complain to your friend or to the station?

DEAR LOCAL TV stations,

Whenever extraordinary news or just an ordinary special is available to you, PLEASE CARRY IT! You can let the world finish turning during your slot for fascinating local personalities or something.

FW

DEAR CBS,

Thanks for dropping the Smothers Brothers. Why didn't you do it after about the fifth show?

FW

DEAR LOCAL TV stations,

Cut out those shows with the corny acting that passes for wrestling and cover some good local rodeos. Can the bull fights, also. I'm always for the bull and he never wins.

FW

DEAR ABC, NBC, and CBS,

Don't quit showing our boys in the Vietnam war getting wounded and killed. So it's violence, but it's also war. If they can fight it, we can bloody well watch it. Prime time, please.

FW

DEAR LOCAL TV stations,

Why don't you carry more editorializing, if it's frankly stated as such? You know, like Paul Harvey, Eric Sevareid, and the farm report?

FW

DEAR ABC, NBC, and CBS,

Please get together and quit showing all of your best programs at the same time and all of your stinkeroos likewise. I've already worn out two station changers because of your inconsideration.

FW

DEAR LOCAL TV stations,

Please show your early morning news shows later in the day. Anybody that gets up that early doesn't deserve to know what all happened while they slept.

FW

IF YOU READ something you particularly like, do you tell the person responsible or merely mutter to yourself that thank heavens, at least somebody's still left that agrees with you?

Here's a list of events that happened in 1968 that, had TV stations paid strict attention to the complaints of their viewers, would not have been shown on your TV screens:

The President's State of the Union message.

The UN hearings on the Pueblo.

Secretary of State Rusk's testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on the war in Vietnam.

Coverage of the assassination and funeral of Martin Luther King.

Coverage of the assassination and funeral of Robert Kennedy.

The national conventions.

Apollo 8's flight to the moon.

WELL, THIS SHOOK ME UP, and I hereby am starting to write my mail, both fan and pan.

Dear ABC, NBC, and CBS,

Interrupt any and all programs whenever something affecting my country is happening. You can finish up the programs interrupted during those stupid late night talk shows.

Phony Forecasters

APRIL, 1969, came and is on its way out. California has not yet "broken off and fallen into the sea." The seers and the soothsayers are returning to their cracked crystal balls in sullen silence.

An official of the U. S. Geology Survey said it: "People just like to scare themselves; nothing we can say or do seems to help."

member of the South Vietnamese government except Prime Minister Tran Van Huong. "Only he does not come to me to find out what to do."

THE WALL ST. JOURNAL asked reporter Peter Kann to probe the depth of this influence in the conduct of South Vietnamese affairs. He found that the number of articles in the South Vietnamese constitution was dictated by a numerologist.

The date of President Thieu's 1967 inauguration was set by an astrologer.

A number of Vietnamese cabinet ministers govern their actions and their decisions and their travels by the positions of the stars.

SOUTH VIETNAMESE military leaders are known to consult fortunetellers before undertaking military operations.

"What happens if a fortuneteller makes a prophesy which turns out to be untrue?"

A presidential aide replies, "That simply means that we consulted the wrong fortuneteller."

I'M TOLD THAT the long wrangle over the shape of the peace table in Paris resulted from a dispute over "which delegation got to face the good spirits of the Seine River."

One American official says the South Vietnamese boycotted the talks through last November because "that month the stars were not right for President Thieu."

CALIFORNIA CULTISTS predicting doom may be little more harmful than pickpockets. But when our government gets involved with trying to fight ghosts, our reach has exceeded our grasp.

BUT A CALTECH scientist offered this sobering afterthought: Suppose, by some utterly unpredictable coincidence, there had been a major earthquake in California during that time; crackpots would have been catapulted into fame and fortune.

On the basis of one apparently provable "prediction," these hocus-pocus characters would have been interviewed worldwide on TV and radio, would have been mysticized and deified. They'd have created new cults to bilk foolish, frightened widows of their residual resources.

SOOTHSAYERS' forecasts are influencing the war in Vietnam more than our officials in Saigon prefer to admit.

In Vietnam, astrology, palmistry, phrenology, numerology, geomancy, spiritualism and necromancy are respected "sciences," influencing the private lives of Vietnamese and inextricable interwoven into the fabric of politics and affairs of state.

HOWEVER INDIRECTLY, fortunetellers are influencing U. S. foreign policy and the course of the war because, from South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu on down, the words of the soothsayers are gospel.

One popular Eurasian soothsayer is said to have counseled every

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Respect For Law

By BOB WEAR

RESPECT FOR LAW is obviously one of our greatest needs. Much that is right, and good, and essential to our well-being is being threatened by lack of respect for law.

In fact, irreverence for law is so widespread that the resulting destruction of society is already happening. Even so, we are very thankful for the people who do respect the law.

WITHOUT LAW AND ORDER, society cannot exist; because, without law and order, society has neither foundation nor framework. Granting that faulty laws may be enacted now and then, it is still absolutely necessary that we have law and order.

Faulty laws can be corrected by constitutional process, not by disobedience and disrespect for all law.

REVERENCE FOR THE LAW does not permit selective obedience. If all of us obey only the laws that please us, and disobey the laws that displease us, the result will be chaos.

Both the foundation and the framework of society will be destroyed by selective obedience.

"LET EVERY PERSON be subject to the governing authorities. For there is no authority except from God, and those that exist have been instituted by God.

Therefore he who resists the authorities resists what God has appointed, and those who resist will incur judgment." This Biblical injunction emphasizes the necessity of respect for law.

LIBERTY IS A SUBJECT of great concern today, and is much in the news. It is also prominent in the human dialogue. Many people seem to think that there can be liberty without law, or without obedience to law.

All available knowledge about the human experience reveals the wrongness of this view.

If there is to be liberty for us, it will be liberty with law, because disrespect for the law and disobedience of the law will most certainly destroy liberty.

LIBERTY IS NOT PERMISSIVENESS. Permissiveness is the most pernicious of all attitudes toward human behavior.

It is not liberty, but is license. It is disrespect for law, and rightful authority. Reverence for law, and not permissiveness, is the best friend of liberty.

"Laws are the very bulwarks of liberty; they define every man's rights, and defend the individual liberties of all men."— J. G. Holland.

WE CANNOT SURVIVE, without law, and its wise enforcement. There may be some unwise enforcement, and some injustice; but we must not lose our respect for the law because of these undesirable happenings.

To whatever extent, we permit imperfections in the framework of law to cause us to feel or show disrespect for the law; we undermine the only support and protection of our own safety and liberty.

WE MUST BE DILIGENT in maintaining equity and justice, and working for a proper blending of the spirit of the law and the letter of the law.

We must be alert to guarantee the right, under law, of the individual to "petition the government for redress of grievances."

The right to repeal laws, according to established lawful process, must be preserved. Nevertheless, we must respect the law.

RESPECT FOR LAW Divine law, natural law and enacted, man-made law; is the only hope we human beings have for a truly satisfactory life.

Disrespect for law leads to disorder, destruction and disaster.

DEAR EDITOR

What Our Readers Think

Agrees With Youth

April 25, 1969

Dear Bill,

Hurray for the young people of Littlefield. We've always known that Littlefield has very little to offer for high school students, and I'm glad that they had the courage to come out and say it.

Everyone always talks about how bad teenagers are, but no one seems to want to do anything about it. Small wonder all we have to do is drive around and "drink". Where in Littlefield can young people go? If you go to the show on a Friday night, you spend the rest of the weekend wondering what to do. Lubbock is close, but do young people have to go there every weekend? The answer is yes. So far, there's no place in Littlefield to go.

Three or four years ago, 'street dances' were popular. What happened to them? Is dancing immoral than driving around drinking, and rearing things up? On weekends there's nothing overflowing with kids looking for something to do or someone to go.

Would you rather see them on streets having a good time, or 140 m.p.h. car having another of "good time?"

They want someplace to go. Give them a place, and then for vandals.

Sincerely,
Mike G...

Likes Representatives

April 23, 1969

Dear Bill,

I just want the voters in this area to know that our representative and congressman do everything they can do to help us with our problems.

Recently my husband and I needed help with a labor problem. I wrote several letters and phoned Representative Bill Clayton. In one instance, our representative left a committee meeting to talk with me, saving us a 700-mile drive.

I talked to George Mahon in Midland Tuesday. He was there to

He gave me 30 minutes of his time while the oil people waited on him. This was my first time to talk to Congressman Mahon.

These elected officials aren't busy to help the little person. They are doing what they were elected to do. They will take time to listen.

Our labor problem is cleared up. But the credit goes to these two fine men who helped much.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Thomas H...

THE PHILOSOPHER

Confused

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm seems confused by the scientists this week, which is as good a way as any to be confused.)

Dear editor:

I was out here on this Johnson grass farm yesterday wandering around seeing if there's any likely spot here for building one of those ABM's, after all, you can't rely on the accuracy of a gunner, foreign or domestic, and a guided missile aimed at some metropolitan center or even at Littlefield might just as easily sail by this place.

My theory is that if the world ever gets into a guided missile war, the things are all going off like children's skyrockets in all directions and it may be years before anybody knows who won. Won't even know which country is supposed to feed the other.

The reason I was hunting for a possible site is that just that morning I'd read that a group of scientists testified in Washington that the Anti-Ballistic Missile system will work, that it can sense an in-coming missile, take off and blast it out of the sky.

However, that afternoon I ran across another newspaper and read that another group of scientists had testified that a system won't work, that you can't build a system that'll keep out a tenth of the missiles aimed at this country if somebody lights the fuses.

This is the trouble with listening to two different groups of experts. One bunch of scientists, their pockets stuffed with credentials, says the system will work, another

WORSHIP IN CHURCH

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader, and attend services regularly.

We live in a wonderful world full of purpose and values. All this requires a Purposer, a Creator. The more we discover the universe, the more we are sure there is a creative artist at work. Visit the mountains, stand by the sea, witness the storm, and we become aware of a power greater than man. It is God and He is not dead as the man said. The sun rises in a pattern and the stars obey a scheme. We bow to the law of gravity and enjoy a world controlled by dependable systems. We believe in natural law . . . God's law. Without a great creative power we could not have had Moses, Mohammed, Buddha and Jesus Christ. When we put Creative Power, Wisdom and Righteousness together, belief in God is the result. He is at the controls. God is not dead.

First Things First

REV. JAMES GILLETINE
Foursquare Gospel Church

MAN TODAY is still trying to battle out the problem of learning what things to put first in life, that he might gain the most from this life in every way.

He seeks a secure job, or sometimes two jobs, that will provide the necessary income for the desires and needs of everyday life, and also to be able to lay up in store for that day he will retire, that he may also be secure then.

MAN IS ALSO concerned about having a happy home, and being able to enjoy the true happiness of family life together.

There are possibly many other things sought for in life by various individuals, too numerous to mention here.

Man simply seeks for those things that will bring the greatest joy and happiness to his entire life.

THE WORD OF GOD declares unto us one simple plan, by which man can enjoy all of these things that are necessary, and much more besides.

To put first things first, one must first of all seek the things of God, because this life is not an end in itself, but a preparation place for the life to come.

JESUS SAID, "But seek ye first the Kingdom of God, and His Righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you." Matt. 6:33. Life could be so much happier for untold numbers of people today if they only recognize the need to put the Lord Jesus Christ, FIRST in life.

Jesus also said, "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal: But lay up for yourselves treasures in Heaven, where neither moth nor rust corrupt, and where thieves do not break through and steal: For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also." Matt. 6:19

JESUS ALSO PLAINLY states in twenty-four that "no man can serve masters; ye cannot serve God and man." Certainly, Christ and His Kingdom are the greatest treasure in every life, yet men still putting the worldly things first, therefore never reach a place of satisfaction having reached their goal in life.

ONE THING IS CERTAIN, if we are to make Heaven our Home in time to come, Christ and His Kingdom MUST be FIRST in our life NOW.

Jesus declares, "Not everyone that saith unto me Lord, Lord, shall enter into the Kingdom of Heaven, but he that DOETH the will of my Father which is in Heaven." 7:21.

God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, to die upon the cross, that all might have LIFE through Him. Now it is up to you, to accept or reject Christ as Saviour. Again, Jesus said, "Seek ye FIRST the Kingdom of God and His Righteousness; and after this, 'then these things shall be added unto you.'"

THEN LIFE CAN BE complete for you yours. If you are not putting first things then why not start NOW, while you still have the opportunity. God says, "My spirit always strive with man."

Also He calls unto all, "Today is the day of Salvation." Tomorrow is so uncertain. Christ is First in your Heart, and life.

Christianity is not just a way of religion, it is truly a Way of Life for those who love Christ.

Junior GA's Present Skit

At the Olton Junior Girls Auxiliary meeting Monday afternoon, Cynthia Light led the calendar of prayer. The names of each missionary who had a birthday April 21 was taped to an artificial flower. After the names were read the flowers were placed in a vase.

A skit was presented which showed "Missions 'Round The Clock". Carol Prentice, Sharla Carson, and Cynthia Hutson, gave the skit which brought out that most church buildings are used only on Sunday mornings, Sunday evenings, Wednesday evenings and for GAs, WMU and Royal Ambassador meetings. One of the girls said much of the time the churches looked "spooky" because they are empty. Adult leader, Mrs. Wayne Moore then said "The word is 'wasted' instead of 'spooky.'" She described Baptist Mission Centers in Louisville, Ky., and Atlanta, Ga.

At Louisville there are meetings for alcoholics and for their wives and children.

There are organizations for boys, girls, and adults. Classes in sewing, cooking and child care are conducted. Bible stories are presented, games are supervised and crafts are taught.

At the Clark-Howell Techwood Baptist Center in Atlanta, Ga., children and adults are aided in their spiritual, physical, mental and social development.

Among the facilities of that center are a lounge with a television, a library, a game room, a gymnasium, and music rooms.

Instruction is given in the art of playing the piano and string and brass instruments. Music rooms for practice are provided.

The Center has a wood shop and an auto mechanic shop where cars are taken apart and put together. There is also a photography room.

A newspaper is published and distributed to 1600 homes.

Olton GA's Have Program

The Intermediate Auxiliary of the Olton Baptist Church had an opening song 5:30 afternoon, "We're A Story Tell To The Nations".

Debbie Vaughn led hymn and the accompaniment was given by Relda Strain.

Kim Barnett conducted calendar of prayer.

Debbie Vaughn read first chapter of Palm's Relda Strain leading the prayer for the Missionaries.

Study Leader Debbie Vaughn made comments.

Kim Barnett sang "Jesus The Example". Characteristics of Christ were pointed out with concern for the whole group. His alertness to the needs of those about Him, courteousness and tactfulness.

Relda Strain and Mable Cowart talked of "The Baptists Minister" which showed that in Baptist help is provided for all groups. In these centers things are always under Bible study, recreation, handicraft and health care.

Circle Plans Monthly Project

AMHERST—The Solesbee Circle of the W. M. U. met Monday afternoon with Mrs. Jimmy Goss as hostess for prayer study.

Sudan Tops Roden In League Opener

Sudan pounded Roden Drug 12-3 Friday night in the opening game of the Babe Ruth League season.

A couple of Rogers (Bellar and Boyles) were the big guns with the bats for Sudan. Bellar got three RBIs in the fourth when he pounded out a bases-loaded triple. Boyles' stand-up double in the fifth aided in that inning's two runs.

Karis Reeves was the winning pitcher of record, coming on in the fourth inning. Dennis Cowan went the full distance in his losing effort for Roden.

Roden's big sound with the wood was made by first sacker Chuck Blevins, who got his club's only triple, in the fourth inning.

After a scoreless first inning, Sudan scored three times in the second. Roden narrowed the gap with a run in the third, making it 3-1. But in the top of the fourth Sudan scored four times. Roden's rally in the bottom of that frame brought the score to 7-3, but that was the last of the scoring by the host team.

State Line-B & C travels to Amherst Tuesday night. That game, which starts at 8 p.m., was postponed from Saturday night due to school conflicts.

ASC Announces Grazing Extension

Grazing on diverted acres in Lamb County has been extended to May 14, according to Lamar Aten, ASC office manager.

Formerly the cutoff date was set for May 1. The extension of the date will allow another two weeks grazing on diverted acreage.

The two-week extension was requested to allow farmers to make up for unseasonable weather that has greatly reduced grazing benefits this spring.

Under the acreage diversion program, farmers are paid to voluntarily refrain from growing small grains for commercial sale. Grazing on diverted acres is permitted seven months of the year, from October to April, but penalties are imposed on farmers who permit grazing during other times.

The Agricultural Department's extension of the grazing period means that Texas farmers, ranchers and dairymen will not be penalized for allowing grazing during the first two weeks of May on crop-diverted acreage.

The non-grazing period in Texas has been extended to Oct. 15 this year, rather than to the usual date of Oct. 1.

Congressman Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls and Senator John Tower were instrumental in changing the grazing dates.

In parts of Texas, a dry fall and an unusually cold early winter kept grazing at a minimum until the past six weeks when heavy rains and snow produced a bumper crop of wheat and small grains pastures.

Lfd. Dealer Fails To Pay Reparation

Billy Ray Smith, a produce dealer formerly operating City Market, 322 W. Delano, Littlefield, has failed to pay a reparation award of $1,000 issued under the Perishable Agricultural Commodities Act to a produce firm of San Antonio, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service said Smith is not entitled to conduct business subject to the PAC Act until the reparation award is satisfied.

He cannot be employed by any PACA licensee without USDA approval. C&MS officials said the San Antonio firm complained that Smith failed to pay for three partial truckloads of produce purchased in interstate commerce.

Smith was advised of the complaint, but did not answer the charges. USDA's Judicial Officer ordered payment of the full amount claimed due, plus interest.

Regulatory services of PACA for Texas and other southwestern states are handled by the Ft. Worth office, regulatory branch, fruit and vegetable division, C&MS, USDA. Joseph E. Ward is in charge of the office, Room 9-C-03 Federal Office Bldg., 819 Taylor Street.

The PAC Act establishes a code of good business conduct for the produce industry.

As a means of enforcing that code, it requires that interstate traders in fresh and frozen fruits and vegetables be licensed.

DIGNITARIES AND EDUCATORS from all over Texas toured the and Don Clayton farm Wednesday. Some of those attending the meeting of the Texas Advisory Committee on Conservation Education shown looking over the tail-water return system on the Clayton located between Earth and Springlake.

A 32-year-old Negro man was shot in the left side with a .22 caliber pistol about 8:30 Sunday night in a cafe in the north part of Littlefield.

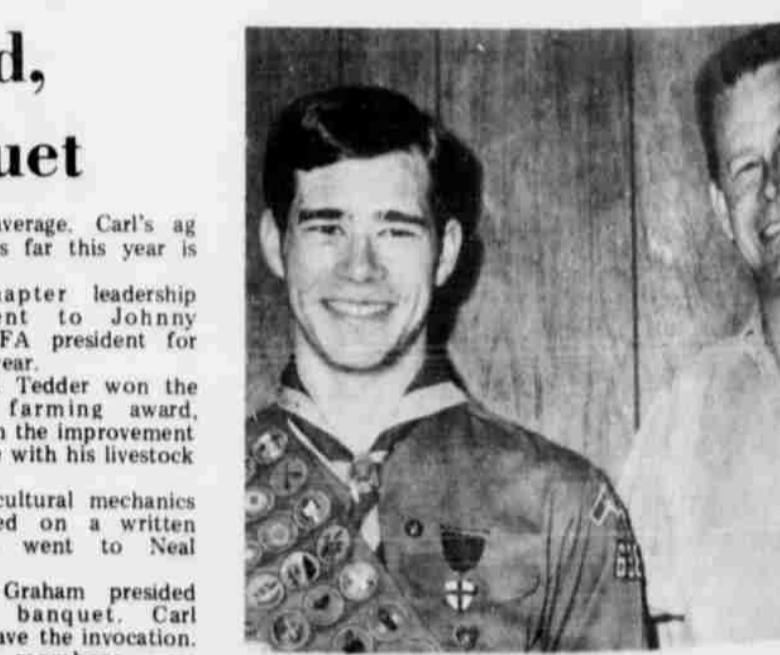

Chief of police F. A. Fitzgerald and James Cox were called to Swede Harrison Ballard's Cafe in the Negro section Sunday after the shooting occurred.

The wounded man, Leon Ellis, of Littlefield, was taken to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, where he is listed in fair condition, according to hospital spokesmen.

According to investigating officers, two men and the owner of the cafe were the only occupants at the time of the shooting. The two involved reportedly were drinking a soft drink and playing pool.

One man left, and when he got to the door, turned and shot. Officers said the man who was shot was also carrying a gun.

Police are seeking the other Negro man involved.

Antique Collector Also Likes To Cook

By LAQUINTA LONG

Mrs. H. R. (Almidell) Monroe is a busy lady with a lot of living to do.

She loves to cook, refinish antique furniture, sew, and crochet.

Mrs. Monroe was born in Paris, Texas, and raised in Paducah. She moved to Littlefield in 1958 a widow, with Paul and Newton, two of her four sons. Her sons, Don and Ken were working away from home at that time.

She married H. R. Monroe of Littlefield in 1960. H. R. has three children, two sons, Wayne and Clarence, and a daughter, Lila Muller.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe are active members of the First Baptist Church in Littlefield.

Mrs. Monroe makes her own clothes and has crocheted eight afghans. "I've made each one of my sons an afghan for their homes, and I'm in the process of making some of my husband's family. I can accomplish about two afghans in a year's time," she said.

Another hobby is making flowers out of burlap material. She loves decoupage, and painting things she has made from plaster of Paris molds.

She has re-finished several antique items and has many more on her waiting list. "My husband, Ray says I lose myself so in my work that I don't even know what time of day it is."

Mrs. Monroe has an antique dining-room table and chairs that have been in her family for years which she re-finished and now graces her dining area. "I took an old library table and had the legs cut off so I could re-do it and make it into a coffee table. One of my current projects is an old trunk, with a dome shaped lid, that went through a tornado. It still has the dents left in it by the whirling debris. I'm going to antique it and line the inside with red velvet.

"I'm itching to get started on it again," she said.

In 1959 Mrs. Monroe and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Buck Oldham of Littlefield went to an auction in Amarillo. "I bought an old organ for $50. It was painted so black it was ugly, but I realized its value when I saw it. The people at the auction didn't realize its worth or I wouldn't have gotten it so cheap." My sister-in-law said "I was completely out of my mind to go all the way to Amarillo to buy a piece of junk like that."

On our way home I had two offers to buy the organ. One offer came from a man who worked at a lumberyard in Amarillo where I stopped to buy some rope. He was so impressed by my organ that I couldn't even get him to wait on me. He told me about a similar organ he had seen and said "its value was placed at $1,000."

The second offer I had was after we arrived in Littlefield. A man on a grocery store lot wanted it for his wife. After I got it home I spent weeks trying to remove the layers of paint and varnish. I thought I never would get down to the original grain of the wood which is oak. After this, I put five coats of varnish on the organ. I have no idea how old the organ is. I would love to know and if anyone who knows anything about antiques could tell me, it would make me very happy.

"I've brought in so many antiques my husband almost disowned me once. He asked me not to bring in any more pieces of what he considers junk and I consider antiques."

"What I need to do is to get him to go on a vacation and leave me here so I could dig in and refinish all the pieces that I have waiting to do, but he won't go without me," said Mrs. Monroe in a joking way.

"I have a wheel off of an old Model T truck we had on the farm years ago. I want to make it into a coffee table with a glass top, but I haven't worked up enough nerve to bring it into the house yet. Working with my hands and

LAMB COUNTY SCRAPBOOK

Littlefield's Early Growth Was Rapid

As soon as Major Littlefield completed arrangements for the Santa Fe Railroad to come through Littlefield, the town began to take shape.

The first building was a two-room house for the Littlefield Land Office. As soon as the land boom began, it was evident that a hotel would be needed to accommodate prospective land buyers.

W. G. and J. T. Street used the land office for a bedroom while they were building on their hardware store.

Every prospective land owner who inquired about the Littlefield Lands wanted to know about a school. In an ad in the Lubbock Avalanche in November, the land office promised to arrange that no house would be farther than two miles from a school.

By mid-January of 1912, there were 13 students ready to enter school. A one-room school started on schedule in September, using private subscription money to buy equipment.

No school tax had been set, however, and even with the subscription money, the state subsidy for the district was only enough to pay Principal Hatchett for three months. Duggan asked Major Littlefield to pay the teacher an additional two months' salary, "on behalf of the people."

Realizing the importance of a school to his town, Littlefield consented. Littlefield paid the teachers' salary with the stipulation that school remain in session until May 1. His offer was accepted, and another month's salary collected, with Hatchett agreeing to teach the last two months for $40 a month—less than half his regular salary.

To avoid future difficulties, a school tax was voted in April, 1914.

Arthur Duggan made a contract with J. H. Moore and W. O. Richards for the first grocery store in Littlefield. A rush job was in order, so the grocery contract was taken without the customary down payment.

On Dec. 12, Duggan learned that his application for a post office had been granted. For a time the land office served as the post office also, and the company had to go some 20 miles to pick up the mail and bring it in. The regular mail service was postponed until March 11, 1913.

Duggan's younger brother, Campbell Jackson Duggan, became the first postmaster.

Don Biggers, the man who was hired to advertise the Yellow House Land, put out the first newspaper on Dec. 12, 1912. The first 3,000 copies of the Littlefield News, "devoted to the development of Littlefield and Littlefield country" went out on this day.

The paper described the new town, how inexpensive irrigation was, and the great variety of crops grown on the South Plains.

On Christmas day, 1912, the town of Littlefield had the distinction of being the only town in the U. S. where the entire population ate dinner at the same time, in the same room, and at the same place.

The permanent population of Littlefield, including those who were absent for the holidays, numbered just over 30 persons.

LITTLE ERNEST takes his afternoon nap on a pallet at Littlefield Cleaners where his mother, Lupe Echevarria, works. Ernest is the youngest of five children and accompanies his mother to work every day. Until this year there were older brothers and sisters to take care of him, but he is the only pre-schooler in his family now. He has just celebrated his sixth birthday and will be a student when school starts again. "He is a dandy, good boy," according to L. D. Pate, owner and operator of the cleaning shop where Ernest's mother has been working for the past four or five years.
