New Ownership Told

WADE A. WARREN . New Publisher

Sale of the Lamb County Leader-News to Lamb County Publishing Co., corporation headed by Wade A. Warren of Lamesa, was announced this week by Bill Turner, publisher here the past 5 1/2 years

Warren, who is president of the new corporation, will be publisher of the semiweekly newspaper.

The Thursday-Sunday newspaper will continue with its present staff and same publication dates under the same name, Warren said.

Sale of the newspaper is effective May 1, however Warren will be in Littlefield two days this week to get acquainted. He will become active in the newspaper operation Monday, April 24.

Turner, who is leaving Littlefield, said he will announce his future plans in the next few weeks. He said he plans to remain in the newspaper business.

Ownership of the newspaper has been a partnership of Turner and O. L. Taylor of Fort Worth since 1966.

WARREN HEADS an organization which also includes as stockholders, James Roberts of Andrews, Bob Brown and Walter Buckel of Lamesa and O. G. (Speedy) Neiman of Hereford.

The new publisher, who is 28, grew up at Odessa, where he was a graduate of Odessa Permian High School. He then attended Texas Tech University, where he was an advertising major. At Tech, Warren was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, a social fraternity, and Alpha Delta Sigma, a men's professional advertising fraternity. For the past four and one-half years he has been assistant publisher and advertising manager of the Lamesa Press-Reporter. He is presently a committee member of the Texas Press Association's annual advertising meeting Warren and his wife, Carolyn, have two daughters, LeslieAnn, 3 1/2, and Shannon, 17 months. They attend the Methodist Church. The family has purchased a home at 1302 W. 14th and will be moving here in mid-May

"The community pride of the Littlefield area has long been mirrored through the pages of the Leader-News under the leadership of Bill Turner. I certainly intend to uphold this tradition. The people of this area have demonstrated, and are demonstrating, what can be done when we all pull together for a common cause. It will be a pleasure for us to call Littlefield TURNER SAID, "Littlefield has certainly been good to the Turners, and we have appreciated for many years the kindnesses shown us. Actually, Littlefield gave us a sta-back in 1956 when I came out of service and went to work as editor here," he added: Turner was associated with the Littlefield newspaper a total of 10 years. The other six years were at Olton, where

Turner owned and operated the Olton Enterprise from 1960-66 Turner and his wife, Amy, have three and D'Andrea, 13, a seventh grader. They attend Emmanuel Lutheran Church. Mrs. Turner is an English and journalism teacher at LHS.

THE NAME Leader-News was given the newspaper in 1969, when Turner combined the twin weeklies, Lamb County Leader and County Wide News, into a semiweekly

The Leader was established in 1923 and it and the County Wide News were separate weekly newspapers until they came under common ownership in 1953. At that time, the County Wide News was changed to a Sunday publication and the newspapers have been operated on a twice-a-week basis since.

Funds Needed For Support Of Weather Program

Officers of Lamb County Better Weather, Inc. met with Hale County hail suppression and rain stimulation advocates and officers from Atmospherics, Inc. Wednesday night to complete plans for the 1972 cloud seeding program.

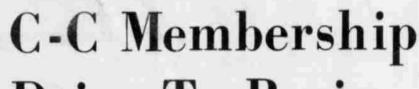

Although there isn't enough money collected to date, Lamb County officers voiced determination to take part in the weather modification program begioning May 10 and continue through a the end of the harvest date of Nov. 1.

The target area was trimmed some, and officers are considering cutting off 48 square sections of land north and east of Littlefield (including the Littlefield town site) if more money isn't paid in this area. A misunderstanding developed recently concerning the amount of money Lamb County needed to join Hale County and certain parts of Floyd and Castro Counties in the cloud seeding program. Officers of the Hale County Better Weather, Inc. refused to allow Lamb County into the program unless they pay a proportionate amount. This is the third year of the program, and Hale County farmers contend they have been carrying Lamb County on their back. In 1971, Hale County paid almost $100,000 into the program while Lamb County paid $26,700.

TWO TEAMS will be soliciting memberships this week for the Chamber of Commerce, and these are a portion of them. Dr. Craig Wallace, center, with the two-tone hat, is overall chairman of the drive. Members of the "bad guys" feam (in the black hats) at the top are, clockwise, Ralph Mendez, F. L. Newton, Captain Kip Cutshall, Dutch Wilkinson and Ernest Connell. The "good guys" team includes, back row, Horace Mitchell and J. L. Marcum, and C. prem Fien Da., Warren Dayton, James Lee and Kenny Paxton, and on the front Jane Maddox and Linda Pickrell.

According to information from the American Cancer Society, "cancer will stricke more than 50 million Americans now living if present rates prevail," thus research is an important factor.

"At least one out of two of every cancer patients could be saved if more people saw their physicians for early detection, diagnosis and treatment, and the results of research alone can save in the future all cancer patients."

Drive To Begin

Littlefield's annual Chamber of Commerce Membership Drive will be kicked off with a noon luncheon Monday at the Crescent House Restaurant, when team members of two special contact groups will meet for a luncheon and business meeting

The two teams, composed of the "good guys" (in the white hats) and the "bad guys" (in black hats) will make an all-out effort to sign up prospects into the Chamber of Commerce membership, and will receive their prospect cards and instructions at that luncheon.

The Chamber of Commerce is seeking to reach a $20,000 budget goal for operations

Judy Is Donating Kidney To Save Her Sister's Life

By NILAH RODGERS

Judy Bull isn't scared thinking about the removal of one of her kidneys for a transplant for her sister.

"I'm losing so little. She's gaining so much," Judy said, and smiled. "I'm not scared. I just dread the drive." Both of Lana "Rummy" Anderson's kidneys were removed Thursday morning in preparation for the transplant. If she continues to recover, the transplant operation will be 10 days to two weeks from the date of her surgery last week.

Judy, or "Spook" as her family calls her, said there was no real decision to be made. Rummy can't live without a transplant, but with Spook's kidney doctors say Rummy has a 90 per cent chance of a successful transplant and a normal life.

Transplants among identical twins have the best chances. "The doctors said it is unbelievable how identical we tested," Spook said.

When the Anderson family learned that Rummy was a victim of the kidney ailment, nephritis, her mother, daddy and sister took tests for a transplant for 23-year Rummy, Blood tests on all three checked out. But because of her youth and tissue tests, doctors said a transplant from 22-year-old Spook gives Rummy the best chance

Mrs. Bull is the mother of a 13-month-old son. One story stated she couldn't have any more children after the transplant. "That's not true," Mrs. Bull said. "I checked with a Galveston gynecologist and he said there is a kidney disease fatal to a pregnant woman with one kidney, but that there is only one chance in 1,000 of getting it. As many tests as doctors make, they'd know about it in time.

Rummy and Spook have always been close. Rummy is a year and five days older than Spook. Rummy got her nickname because her mother, Mrs. Nig Anderson, played so much gin rummy before she was born. Spook was born on Halloween the next year.

When Rummy graduated from Littlefield High School a year before her younger sister, she waited a year for Spook to graduate so they could start to South Plains College together

Rummy played volleyball and went out for track in high school. "She was an awfully good volleyball player," Spook said,"considering she is so short. (She's just 4' 11") But they won first in their district one year and she placed in the district track meet in the discuss.

Rummy likes spectator sports, too, so she majored in physical education. She learned of her bad kidney after taking a physical examination for a college PE class. Her dad's social security paid for two years of college before one kidney quit functioning. Rummy had to drop out of school because the building poison in her body made her so tired.

In January she became so sick she had this year. The C-C is a voluntary organization, with its members promoting their community through the one medium. Ken Day is leading the "good guys" while Kip Cutshall heads the "bad guys" and the two teams will be judged on a point system, which will be explained to each of the members at the luncheon.

During the final wrap-up meeting at noon Thursday, April 20, the teams will make a report on their sign-ups and the winning team will be treated to a steak dinner. The losing team will eat beans.

A general report will be given at the first membership meeting quarterly Wednesday at noon, during a luncheon at the Community Center, when members of the Rotary Club, Lions Club, "We, the Women", the entire C-C membership and all other interested citizens gather for a joint meeting

That meeting will be a first for Littlefield, and is being designed to iron out problems of the C-C, to bring up any business anyone thinks needs consideration, to hear reports on activities already underway, and to receive the prodding needed to keep the programs moving.

During that meeting, Rev. David Hamblin, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, will serve as master of ceremonies. The program will involve the goals and plans for 1972, as well as place an emphasis on the membership drive, and will include some fun and games to add variety.

Dr. Craig Wallace is over-all chairman of the membership drive

Team members include:

White hats: Captain Ken Day, Jerry Tunnell, James Lee, Charles Ary, J.L. Marcum, Warren Dayton, Horace Mitchell, Ken Paxton, Jeni D. Brunson, Linda Pickrell and Jane Maddox

Black hats: Captain Kip Cutshall, David Hamblin, Jim Jones, F.L. Newton, Ernest Connell, Dutch Wilkinson, Tom Sawyer, Ralph Mendez, Don Avery, Elouise Cox, and Brenda Wilkinson.

Winning individuals will be recognized and will be awarded prizes, and the low man will receive a booby prize.

Minimum business and professional dues are $72 per year, and may be paid annually, semi-annually or quarterly

Minimum dues for farmers and salaried persons are $36 per year. The purpose of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce is to promote the civic, industrial, mercantile, traffic and transportation, agricultural and other interests of the city of Littlefield, and to coordinate the efforts of the citizens of

The Policeman

A policeman is a composite of what all men are...a mingling of saint and sinner... dust and deity. Cold statistics wave the fan over the stinkers ... underscore instances of dishonesty and brutality because they are news. What that really means is they are exceptional, unusual-not commonplace. Buried under the froth is the fact that less than one half of one percent of policemen misfit that uniform. And that's a better average than among clergymen.

What is a policeman made of? He of all men is at once the most needed and the most unwanted...A strangely nameless creature who is "SIR" to his face...and "FUZZ" behind his back.

He must be such a diplomat that he can settle differences between individuals ... so that each will think he won, but, if the policeman is neat, he's conceited. If he's careless, he's a burn. If he's pleasant, he's a flirt. If he's not, he's a grouch.

In an instant he must make decisions which require months for a lawyer. But if he hurries, he's careless. If he's deliberate, he's lazy.

He must be first to an accident infallible with a diagnosis he must be able to start breathing, stop bleeding, tie splints and above all be sure the victim goes home without a limp, or expect to be sued.

The police officer must know every gun...draw on the run...and hit where it doesn't hurt.

SLOPPY, HALF-DONE WORK is one of the greatest sources of loss to the worker; in the job being done: for the employer; and for the buyer. "A job worth doing is worth doing well" is a maxim that we should use as a guideline in all we do.

It means that we will honestly do our best. It may not be as good as somebody else's best, but will be good enough for us. This is the pursuit of excellence.

"SEEK EXCELLENCE" is the wise aim for all of us. In doing so, we will be doing a good job; and continuing to look for ways to do better. We must not do this with a spirit of anxiety and severity; but with a wholesome, cheerful spirit.

The pursuit of excellence, if wisely conceived, is a happy pursuit; happy in itself and in the accomplishments.

THE MOST IMPORTANT thing in any business-- in an undertaking of any kind--it the pursuit of excellence.

Without it, failure is certain. With it, there is no limit to accomplishment." -Wes Izzard

WHERE IS THE DEDICATION which can mean so much in the pursuit of excellence in our professions, and trades, and other areas of work?

Doing a job well, and with a wholesome spirit of conscientiousness, is a source of great satisfaction; the kind of satisfaction essental to our personal well-being. What is so wrong with taking a personal interest in what we do, and doing it with all the skill and energy we possess? Of course, all of us know that this is the only right way.

WHAT WE BECOME by what we do is more important to us than how much money we earn. This does not minimize the importance of the money paid to us; but it does emphasize one very good reason why we mush seek excellence in what we do.

'No abilities, however splendid, can command success without intense labor and persevering application." --Stewart,

MAKE IT A HABIT. Seek excellence as a constant life principle. This does not require perfection, but does require that we honestly do our best. Both our self-development and our work will prosper.

COUNTY POLITICAL party chairmen have been advised how they can collect state funds for paying May 6 primary election expenses

Secretary of State Bob Bullock advised the local party officials to prepare immediately detailed estimates of their outlays.

Bullock sent out forms and these instructions immediately after Gov. Preston Smith signed a new law providing $2 million in state aid to finance the primaries:

*Only when sworn estimates are returned and reviewed will state checks be prepared in the amount of three-fourths of the total expense. Additional warrants will be drawn after the election.

*Prior expenses (before the new state financing law) which exceed the amount of candidates' filing fees and contributions will not be paid by the state - unless cancelled and re-negotiated on new contracts.

"The new state law does not permit any state reimbursement of expenditures for precinct or county conventions or for paying executive committee members for attending meetings. *State funds can be used to pay for

"necessary and legitimate primary expenses" like ballotprinting, polling of election sets, stationery, telephones, office rental and compensation of election

clerks and judges. *After the primaries, the secretary of state will require sworn verification of every expenditure made out of the primary fund, together with supporting receipts and cancelled vouchers. *Estimates of June 3 runoff primary expenses will be required at a later date down.

By JOHN SINOR Copley News Service

On a recent late, late movie on television, I saw the old film "Arsenic and Old Lace," and it got me to thinking. I wonder where the lady is now? She was a little thing, fiftyish, with mousy brown and gray hair tied in a bun. She also wore lace collars and used lace hankies, and served tea at her church's social gatherings.

And, years ago in another city, when I was a cocky young dude with a snap-brim hat, a pencil behind my ear, and a trench coat, we went after her with a chilling goal - to nail her for first-degree murder. We did it, too.

I got behind the scenes on the case because of a tip from a friend in the coroners' office. Coroners' reports are public records, but the friend told me one report had not been filed and it was long past the date when it ordinarily should have been.

He gave me no name, but said the cause of death on the missing report listed, "Arsenic poisoning

I couldn't track down the report because of several official run-arounds. So, I went to the chief of detectives and said:

"When are you going to give me the rundown on the arsenic case? Because, if you don't pretty soon, I'm going to have to print what I have.

He said: "For God's sake, sit The lieutenant gave me what he had on the case to date. A middle-aged turkey rancher had died, leaving his modest estate to his wife of less than two years. It seemed a natural death, at first, until somebody had informed officials that the widow had had other husbands who had died. And that she had met them through a lonely hearts club.

The dead man, said neighbors, had seemed to just deteriorate during the six months before he died. He lost his sense of balance, became extremely weak, and his eyesight failed considerably. It was a painful, horrible death.

Finally, the coroner hit on the idea of analyzing the man's toenails. They showed evidence of a heavy accumulation of arsenic over a long period of time.

Suddenly, the lieutenant looked at me and said: "Damn you. You really didn't know hardly any of this, did you?" I grinned.

Well, now I was in on the case, and was the only newsman in town that knew anything about it. I promised not to print a word until an arrest was made. In return, I was to be given all the details of the investigation as they came in, and was to be present at the arrest

The widow, naturally, was the suspect. Not because there was any chance in the world of producing a witness who had ever seen her give her husband arsenic, but because she was the only one who could possibly have given it to him.

Unlike the old film plot, they told me, you cannot give a person a single lethal dose of arsenic. In a lethal quantity, it would make a person sick, and he would throw it off.

However, administered over a long period of time, say six months, it was practically tasteless and could be sprinkled on almost any food. And it accumulated. The body never threw it off.

Talking to neighbors and acquaintances, we were able to prove that the dead husband had not eaten a single meal without his wife during the six or seven months before he died. The police also finally tracked down her purchase of arsenic "to kill rats under the turkey houses."

She went to trial and was found guilty of a murder so premeditated that she had worked on it every day for at least six months.

She was sentenced to life imprisonment, with parole possible in seven years.

That was at least 16 years ago. I wonder where the lady is now.

RADIOACTIVITY NOTED

Air sampling stations in Abilene, Amarillo and Fort Worth observed a 'slight'' rise in radioactive fallout which they attributed to the Chinese Lop Nor nuclear test of March 18.

Texas State Department of Health reported the findings on March 26. The increases were not regarded as presenting any public health hazard, but simply as evidence of sensitivity of the air sampling network.

Stations are part of a comprehensive radiological surveillance activity conducted throughout the state. They are operated by local health departments in cooperation with the Texas State Department of Health and the Environmental Protection Agency's Las Vegas off-site monitoring network.

Trash Strewing Is A 'No-No'

Anyone who has ideas of disposing of his trash in bar ditches may think twice following an incident this past week.

A Littlefield resident learned about the $200 fine for littering this weekend when the sheriff's office checked on the owner of a pickup used to dump three loads of trash in a bar ditch northeast of Littlefield.

A warrant was issued, but the fine wasn't imposed. The owner of the pickup said he had loaned the vehicle. The vehicle owner talked to the borrowers and an agreement was made to remove all the trash Sheriff's Deputy Jerry Collins said trash and beer bottles were scattered a half mile, plus a big tree stump left in the roadway.

Collins said four roads northeast of town have been getting an excess of trash thrown on them since the city dump has been closed to public dumping on weekday evenings and weekends.

The sheriff's office said a fine of up to $200 can be imposed, and that county officials are going to see if they can't put a stop to littering and dumping.

A state law now requires city land fill refuse dumps to close when no one is on duty, so a chain is placed across the city entrance after hours.

Persons who want to dump trash after hours should take it to the county dump grounds located three miles north and four miles east of Littlefield.

Registration Set

Registration for first grade and kindergarten children who will start to school this coming fall is scheduled for the week of April 17-21 in the Primary Principal, Forrest Martin's office.

First graders must be six years of age on or before Sept. 1, and their parents are requested to bring a certificate and immunization records, at time of registration.

Kindergarten classes will be available for all who will be five years old on or before Sept. 1.

Kindergarten students are also required to present birth certificate and health records

X-Ray Clinic Set

A chest x-ray clinic, sponsored by the West Area Texas Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, will be set up Monday at the Community Action Center on Highway 385.

The clinic will be utilized by persons who showed positive reactions to the recent tuberculin skin test in Lamb County, or anyone else wo wishes to have a chest xray made.

In matters of new business

City councilmen received and opened bids for the purchase of a tractor and shredder, and for providing all labor and equipment and performing work required for in cleaning and leveling 19 vacant lots, during a special called meeting Friday at noon.

A contract was awarded to David Thompson, who submitted the low bid of $2,000 to clean and level 19 vacant lots in the city. Other bids were submitted by Smith Construction, $3,950; and Hammock Construction $2,325.

Farm Equipment Company of Littlefield was awarded the contract for the purchase of a tractor and rotary shredder. John Driskill was present to represent his company during the bid opening.

Net bid was $3,120 for a Massey-Ferguson tractor with power steering, and $350 for the rotary shredder.

Armes Equipment Company submitted a net bid of $3,310.37 for a John Deere tractor, and $430 for a rotary shredder. In other matters of business, City Manager Pat Bradley advised the councilmen of progress being made in the Bull Lake project, and of the problems present concerning the roadway.

City Attorney Ted Sansom and the ciy manager reported to the councilmen that they, along with Mayor Chisholm, had met with a Federal Aviation Agency attorney to be put in the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. She was so ill when they transferred her to Galveston that she doesn't remember the trip.

"She wore a size 13 before she got sick," Spook said. "Now she wears a 3. But she looks good. She isn't scared of the transplant, either. She's just anxious. After her kidneys were removed she talked to me and told me not to be afraid. She said after the transplant she's going back to college. She wants to teach.

Rummy found out Spook was taking diet pills, and she called her again and told her to quit. "So I quit," Spook said. Doctors at John Sealy told Mrs. Bull the operation will be much easier on her if she stays on a high protein diet. "Daddy's come back twice to check on me and see if I'm eating like I'm supposed to," she said.

When Spook goes to Galveston for the transplant, only Rummy's Saint Bernard, Sugar, will be missing. Larry Bull will drive his wife down two or three days before the operation is scheduled. Her half-sister, Pat Macha, and her husband James will be there when the transplant takes place. A step sister, Betty Srygley and her husband Johnny plan to drive down after the operation.

Parents who wish to transfer children from their home school to a nearby district for the 1972-73 academic year must submit their requests to the receiving school district by June 1, 1972, according to the Texas Education Agency.

Once approved by the receiving school board of trustees, the request must then be cleared by the Texas Education Agency This state approval is a requirement of the order issued by the U.S. District Court in cumulative effect in either the sending or receiving school or school districts will be to reduce or impede desegregation, or to reinforce, renew, or encourage the continuation of acts and practices resulting in discriminatory treatment of students on the grounds of race, color, or national origin.

Only hardship cases will be considered for transfer approval after June 1, according to Leon R. Graham, Texas
