

CONSTRUCTION is underway on two new buildings inside the Littlefield city limits. Work was begun Saturday on a new Kingdom Hall for local Jehovah's Witnesses, left, with several members pitching in to do the work. Before the day was over, this picture of the construction looked outdated. To the right, and soon to be completed, is this new Ninth Street Church of Christ, located in the 700 block. Their former church building, located farther west on Ninth Street, has been sold to a Primitive Baptist group. Construction on the new building started in November, and it will be ready for occupancy soon.

permits issued in Littlefield $182,400 for February. Totaling almost $100,000 in the first four days of the March permits are for homes.

Littlefield's fiscal year begins on Oct. 1. From Oct. 1 through February, construction for commercial and residences has totaled approximately $1,687,400.

October was the biggest month for building permits to be issued, according to Leon Durham, code enforcement officer for the city of Littlefield. Permits totaled $796,700 that month. Included in this figure is a permit for the shopping center at S.

Phelps and Marshall Howard Blvd.

November's total was $322,900. Permits in December totaled $156,300.

January permits were the lightest of the five-month period when permits totaled $45,300.

February permits of $182,400 makes a total of $1,505,400, and this figure does not include the new Oak Terrace Apartments. Another 24 units are planned there at an approximate cost of $200,000.

The building boom in Littlefield touched off when construction started on the $30 million denim plant located outside the city limits.

Trustees renew contracts

The Littlefield School Board of Trustees renewed contracts for nearly all teachers in their Monday night meeting.

During the executive session to discuss personnel, the board and Supt. Jack York met individually with the principals of the respective schools and the athletic director concerning their recommendations on rehiring school personnel.

Those rehired under Plan "A", subject to funding for next year, are Jack Riley, Leon Burch, Elizabeth Wilson, Nancy Castleberry, Sharron McCarroll, Marilyn Blassingame, Cheryl Clopton, Bill Stephens, Nan Largent and Karen Williams.

No action was taken on Plan "A" teacher Rachel Green. The board will review her contract at a later date.

Nancy Foust, Willetta Norman, Ara Belle Burks, Sandra Landrum, Lou Driskill, Harriett Cummings, Karen Riley, Jane Ann Jones, Lohman Jones and Joan Kennemer were all rehired under Title I, subject to funding for next year.

The board accepted the resignation of Bonnie Pressley, a teacher in the Title I program.

All primary teachers were approved by 7-0 votes with one exception. Board member David Hampton abstained on voting for his sister Jan LeBoeuf.

All elementary I and II teachers were rehired by a vote of 7-0.

The board accepted the resignation of Junior High teacher Elizabeth Ayers. Ruby Reid was rehired by a 6-1 vote with Hampton casting the dissenting vote.

Nathan Wilson was rehired by a 4-3 margin. Voting against were Doyle Winfield, Douglas Walden and Hampton. All other junior high teachers were rehired unanimously.

The high school teachers were rehired by a 7-0 vote with one exception. Dick Hopping and Hampton voted against issuing Homer Lowrance a two-year contract.

In other business, board member Troy Gardner persuaded the trustees to determine the cost of building three tennis courts before beginning construction. A board meeting will probably be called within the next week to decide the number of courts to build. The new courts will be located in the southwest corner of the high school grounds.

Ed Jennings reported on the school's insurance on buildings. The schools are presently insured for actual value and not replacement value. The board will decide later on what action to take on the insurance matter.

Homer Lowrance, a teacher in the agriculture department, reported to the board that the agriculture building is overcrowded and urged the board to develop a long range plan to deal with the situation.

High pressure gas line to be tested for faults

Residents living near the Mid-American Pipeline that stretches from the Slaughter gas field 22 miles southwest of Levelland to Tulia are jittery following last week's explosion that resulted in five deaths.

This was the third rupture in the high pressure gas line.

When Whitharral residents started smelling gas again Sunday night, several families left their homes. The Levelland Fire Department and the Whitharral Fire Department were called out, and sheriff's authorities in Littlefield and Levelland were alerted. The smell turned out to be fumes from the Levelland refinery, but this wasn't determined until after many persons hit the panic button.

Perhaps residents across Lamb, Hockley, Castro and Swisher Counties can relax again after the 99-mile pipeline is tested for faults.

Gilbert Rohleder, vice president of Mid-American Pipeline Co. in Tulsa, said the decision to test the line was made in response to the Feb. 25 tragedy near Whitharral.

Rohleder said the eight-inch pipeline running from Slaughter, 22 miles southwest of Levelland, to Tulia will be taken out of service March 15.

"We would have gotten in sooner, but we couldn't get a contractor," Rohleder said.

Rohleder said Green Construction Co. of Lubbock has contracted for the job.

Company officials expect the testing to take three weeks and cost, at a tentative estimate, around $150,000.

According to Rohleder, 100 barrels of methane, each barrel containing 42 gallons, will first go through the pipeline.

Then valves will be closed and water injected. The water will be allowed to build to a pressure of 2,065 pounds.

The normal operating pressure of the line is 1,550 pounds, Rohleder said.

However, he added, pressure in the questionable stretch of line has been lowered to 1,475 pounds.

"We think that with the reduced pressure the line will be all right," Rohleder said, stressing that the company had taken steps to test the line as soon as possible.

Mid-American officials say the pipeline does not run through any populous residential area.

The entire pipeline system can be monitored from the company's Tulsa headquarters station, according to Rohleder.

"We always know the status of pressure in the line, from monitors similar to TV screens," he explained. In the event of an emergency, valves are shut from the headquarters; but, in addition, there are other valves along the line which must be shut manually.

Escaping gas vapors from the defective pipe joint north of Whitharral ignited, causing a fire which burned a square mile of land.

Killed were Mr. and Mrs. Valdomero Elizondo; their daughter, Mrs. Lupe Sustaita; her 19-month-old son, Michael, and a neighbor and family friend, Edwin Havins.

Much of Whitharral was evacuated before the danger passed.

Housing information seminar set tonight

A Housing Information Seminar, sponsored by the City of Littlefield, will be conducted tonight at 7:30 in the Willie Room of the Lamb County Electric Cooperative, 2415 S. Phelps Avenue.

The seminar will inform contractors, builders and others of housing programs and financial assistance which is available through the Farmer's Home Administration, the Federal Housing Administration and the Regional Housing Authority.

Emphasis will be placed on housing for individuals in moderate to low income brackets.

Don Perry of the Farmer's Home Administration, Jolly Dyer of the Federal Housing Administration, and John Gildersleeve of the Regional Housing Authority will be present to discuss the various housing programs and financial assistance offered by their respective agencies.

Bob Hale of the American Cotton Growers' Denim Plant will discuss the housing needs which is being created by the influx of plant personnel.

Mayor J. E. Chisholm has urged anyone and everyone interested in housing to be present for the seminar.

Commissioners enter into SPAG membership

After a lengthy discussion Monday, the Lamb County Commissioners' Court voted to join the South Plains Association of Governments (SPAG) and pay dues for half a year effective April 1.

Judge Ruth Kirby and Commissioners A. J. Spain, Hubert Dykes, Jack Peel and Clarence Kelley entered into an agreement with SPAG and agreed to pay dues into SPAG beginning April 1.

Judge Kirby was elected to represent Lamb County on the SPAG board. Hubert Dykes was named alternate as SPAG board member.

In other matters during the regular meeting, the Court appointed W. B. Jones as presiding judge and named Sam H. Sewell as alternate presiding judge for the general election.

The court ratified an agreement with General Telephone Co. of the Southwest entered into on Feb. 27 for buried cable in precinct 4.

Raiford Daniel Jr. was designated to complete the Salary Grievance Committee.

A low bid of $7,143 from Farm Equipment Company was accepted for a utility tractor for precinct 4.

A salvage bid of $125 from Charles Streety was accepted on a pickup truck.

The Court adjourned after approving county and precinct bills and monthly reports.

Revenue Sharing program may increase city taxes

Comptroller Bob Bullock said Wednesday, Feb. 25, that if Congress doesn't extend the revenue sharing program, city halls and courthouses across Texas will have to close their doors or drastically increase local taxes to keep on providing the same level of services.

Bullock released a list showing the percentage tax increase each county and city would have to enact to replace revenue sharing funds they now receive.

Lamb County's increase would be 31.5 percent. Broken down into individual cities, their increases include: Amherst, 30.2; Earth, 28.9; Littlefield, 27.0; Olton, 43.9; Springlake, 25.5 and Sudan, 21.6.

"Highfalutin debate on the pros and cons of revenue sharing doesn't mean a thing to the taxpayer," the Comptroller said. "The cold truth is that in most cities and counties, he'll have to pay at least 20 percent more in local taxes if the program ends."

The death of the program would also be a hardship on the state, Bullock added, noting that the Legislature would have to write a budget without the $100 million a year it could otherwise expect.

"But the real impact would be on the cities and counties that have received nearly $1 billion during the five-year life of the revenue sharing program," he said. "It's time for state officials to worry about more than the state budget. We've got to start thinking about our county and city governments."

Bullock said a study by his office shows that inflation has gradually forced local officials to rely on revenue sharing as part of their operating budgets.

"A lot of people warned in the beginning that this would happen," Bullock said. "And they were right. But like it or not, a vote against revenue sharing at this point is most surely a vote to decrease local services or increase local taxes."

New Drivers Licenses to designate body parts

All drivers licenses issued after Jan. 1, 1976, will contain a statement whereby the holder of the license may designate any part of his body as an anatomical gift at the time of his death.

Major C. W. Bell, commanding Region 5 of the Texas Department of Public Safety which issues the drivers licenses, said the 64th Legislature enacted the measure that became effective the first of the year.

Accordingly, all drivers licenses issued after Jan. 1, will contain the statement which specifies any or all of the donor's body that may be used as an anatomical gift.

If a person does not desire to participate in the anatomical gift program, Bell said, he need not do anything regarding completion of the statement. Drivers license will continue to be laminated on the front but the back will not be laminated in order that holders of the licenses may sign the statement.

The anatomical gift statement will be printed on the reverse side of the donor's operator's, commercial operator's or chauffeur's license. The gift is invalid on expiration, cancellation, revocation or suspension of the license or by lining out that portion of the statement.

Bell added that another method of voiding or canceling the statement would be to secure a duplicate drivers license in which case the reverse side of the permit would be left blank.

For the gift provision of the license to be valid, the statement must be executed each time the license is replaced, reinstated or renewed. The document must be signed by the donor in the presence of witnesses who must sign the document in the donor's presence.

License which are currently valid in Texas will not be replaced with the newly-designed one, but as holders renew their licenses, they will receive the license which contains the gift statement.

If currently licensed drivers desire the newly-designated one, they may contact their nearest DPS drivers license office and apply for a duplicate license for which there is a minimal charge.

The law that was enacted by the Legislature only requires the DPS to provide a space on the license for the statement concerning the availability of the anatomical gift. "We do not maintain records regarding the anatomical gifts," Bell added.

Recipients of gifts of bodies or vital organs may be any hospital, surgeon or physician, for medical or dental education, research, advancement of medical or dental science, therapy or transplantation; or any accredited medical or dental school, college or university for education, research, advancement of medical or dental science or therapy.

Other recipients may include any vital organ storage facility established for medical or dental education, research, advancement of medical or dental science, therapy or transplantation; or any individual specified by a licensed physician for therapy or transplantation needed by him.

CLIPS & TIPS

By JOELLA LOVVERN

TURKEY, CORN, cranberries, and pumpkin—some of our favorite foods—were popularized by the Indians in a variety of ways.

Corn, the "grain of the Gods," was so important that prospective Indian wars were postponed until after planting season.

Highly prized, it was used as currency by the Colonists.

Today, corn ranks third as a world food staple. Team it with convenience foods for a sure-to-become favorite recipe in your home.

CALICO CORN

4 slices bacon
1/2 cup green pepper strips
1 can [11 oz.] Campbell's Cheddar Cheese Soup
3 cups cooked whole kernel corn
1/2 cup drained chopped canned tomatoes

In saucepan, cook bacon until crisp; remove and crumble. Pour off all but 2 tablespoons drippings. Cook pepper in drippings until tender. Add soup, corn, and tomatoes. Heat; stir occasionally. Garnish with bacon. Makes about 4 cups, enough for 6 to 8 servings.

Cranberries were a versatile favorite of North American Indians. If not eaten immediately, they were dried and made into small cakes (pemmican) to be carried by hunters and warriors.

Cranberries, rich in vitamin C, traditionally accompany turkey, but, for a 20th century treat try:

CAPE COD WARM-UP

In saucepan, combine 1 can (12 fl. oz.) "V-8" Cocktail Vegetable Juice, 4 teaspoons jellied cranberry sauce, and generous dash ground mace. Heat until cranberry sauce is melted. Stir occasionally. Makes about 1 1/2 cups. Serves 2 to 3.

Pumpkin. The Indians used askoot-asquash (pumpkin-squash) in many ways. Fresh blossoms were tossed for until moving to Littlefield in 1972. Keener was a member of the Whitt Masonic Lodge No. 624, the Mineral Wells chapter No. 249, the Mineral Wells Council No. 184 and the First Baptist Church here.

Survivors include his wife; a son, Milburn Keener of Littlefield; a daughter, Mrs. Carol Kreewald of Irving; two sisters, Mrs. Elva Mae Patton of Silver City, N.M., and Mrs. Wanda Lee Glover of Mineral Wells; a brother, Horace of Mineral Wells; and three grandchildren.

RAFAEL RUIZ

Services for Rafael Ruiz, 89, of Olton were conducted Monday afternoon in St. Peter's Catholic Church of Olton with Rev. Clarence Huber, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Olton Cemetery under the direction of Parsons Funeral Home of Olton.

Ruiz died at 10 a.m. Saturday, March 6, at his home. Justice of the Peace W. G. Finney ruled he died of natural causes.

A native of Mexico, Ruiz was a retired farm laborer.

Survivors include two sons, Augustine Ruiz and Guadalupe Ruiz, both of Olton; a sister, Mrs. Angela Guzman of Corpus Christi; 16 grandchildren and 39 great-grandchildren.

salads. Seeds were roasted for munching. And, the pulp was mashed for breads.

As the Indians taught us, there are endless uses for askoot-asquash.

POCAHONTAS PUMPKIN SOUP

1/2 cup finely chopped onion
2 Tbsp. butter or margarine
1 can [10 1/2 ounces] Campbell's Cream of Mushroom Soup
1 cup canned or mashed cooked pumpkin
1 soup can milk
Generous dash ground nutmeg
Dash pepper

In saucepan, cook onion in butter until tender. Add remaining ingredients. Heat; stir occasionally. Makes about 4 cups, enough for 4 to 6 servings.

Turkey, a good value, can be stretched farther by planning wise use of leftovers.

After the first meal, carve the turkey, and package in recipe-size portions. Refrigerate or freeze for later use in these delicious "second act" recipes.

CHINESE NEW YEAR SANDWICH

1 can [10 1/2 oz.] Campbell's Cream of Mushroom Soup
1 cup diced cooked turkey
1/2 cup thinly sliced celery
1/2 cup thinly sliced water chestnuts
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 tsp. soy sauce
4 frankfurter buns, split and toasted

Combine all ingredients except buns. Spread mixture evenly over bun halves; cover edges completely. Broil about 4 inches from heat until hot, about 7 minutes. Makes 8 open-face sandwiches, enough for 4 servings.

ENCORE TURKEY STRATA

1/2 cup chopped onion
4 Tbsp. butter or margarine
1 can [10 1/2] Franco-American Chicken Gravy
6 eggs, slightly beaten
1/2 cup milk
1/2 tsp. paprika
8 slices bread
1 1/2 cups diced cooked turkey
1/2 cup chopped pimiento

In saucepan, cook onion with rosemary in butter until tender. Stir in gravy, eggs, milk, and paprika. Cut each slice bread into four triangles; reserve 12 triangles.

In buttered shallow baking dish (10x6x2"), arrange bread, turkey, and pimiento; top with reserved bread. Pour egg mixture over bread; let stand 1 hour. Bake at 325°F. for 45 minutes or until set. Makes about 6 cups, enough for 6 servings.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Things we revere

ARE WE LOSING our capacity for reverence? Are we becoming increasingly haughty and conceited and cynical? These are some of the urgent questions we must consider, when we examine our present state of being; and what the future may hold for us. Different people will probably have different answers, and there is no reason to think that all reverence has been lost. Nevertheless, these questions must be considered. In fact, we must never stop such wholesome self-examination.

THE PRINCIPLES AND IDEALS which form the structure, in which the most desirable and rewarding living is possible are the outgrowth of deep-seated reverence for things holy, sacred, decent, moral and honorable. If reverence for these things is lost, the principles and ideals which constitute the social structure we desire and need will be lost. If this happens, the social structure will collapse.

HISTORY REVEALS a high correlation between the general condition of people and the things they revered. There is no reason to assume the view that this correlation ever changes. When we revere the things which the accumulated human experience proves worthy of our high regard, living is going to be the best it can be. We have sufficient, unimpeachable sources of knowledge which help us identify the "Things we revere".

IRREVERENCE IS one of the most certain sources of weakness and loss. To whatever extent we refuse or neglect to develop and maintain the correct level of regard for the things which have been proven worthy of high regard, we make our lives self-defeating. In the most dependable source of information about human behavior, we find lack of reverence listed with the most degrading human depravity.

WE MUST NOT JOIN the ranks of those who are irreverent to the cause it is the sure way to disorderly society to chaos. "So I say that civilization begins with religion and stoicism; and they are skepticism and unbelief, and undisciplined pursuit of pleasure." -Durant. This will happen in a civilization, in which people maintain a strong deep reverence for the things which are established as being worthy of highest respect.

THE SOPHISTICATION of our age is so popular today that it is permitted to smother the qualities of reverence for, and attention to the life elements so essential to our personal and collective well-being. We must face up to the fact that the level of living goes up or down according to the "things we revere". This means that we have the power of deciding, in a general kind of way, what our manner of life is to be.

IT IS WITH MAN as with the light heads are erect over the presence of Omnipotence, but the heads bow in reverence before - J. Cook.

THE THINGS WE REVERE fashion our lives and our destinies.

Turn Row COMMENTS

By EMIL MACHO

HAVEN'T HEARD MUCH about revision of the bill that was passed by both houses of Congress and vetoed by President Ford on something about child care in the home. This particular bill must have been loaded with various riders in order for it to pass the House and the Senate.

The bill was introduced by one of the officials from another state and sort of meant that the parents were no long capable to rear their children. It kind of read that this particular congressman or senator felt that the state should be responsible for the children, especially when discipline was concerned. For example, we parents could no longer correct or punish our children. One example was given and that was that a parent could not punish his child if the child refused to carry the garbage out.

One thing about this dumb proposal as I read it is that it would end employment all over the world. If the government would try to enforce this particular bill it would require every freeloader and unemployed person in the world as well as a lot of good hard working citizens to police this proposal.

Dr. Ira T. Shotwell Jr. retains membership

Dr. Ira T. Shotwell Jr. of Littlefield's Medical Arts Hospital has completed continuing education requirements to retain active membership in the American Academy of Family Physicians, the national association of family doctors. The Academy formerly was called the American Academy of General Practice.

The requirements call for members to complete a minimum of 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years. Members become eligible for re-election at the end of the third year following their election to membership. The Academy, the country's second largest national medical association, is the only national medical group that requires members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education.

The Academy, founded in 1947 and headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., was instrumental in the establishment of a new primary specialty in family practice in 1969. The new specialty is expected to increase the numbers of family physicians available to serve the public in the future.

The Academy's continuing education program is the foundation of eligibility for family doctors now in practice who apply for certification in the new specialty.

What's happened to pride in work?

NILAH RODGERS
Several years ago I was sent at a school board meeting when the subject of firing janitors to replace A. L. Massey and Lynn Reams came up. The two long-time school employees were about to resign and the school board said that they couldn't and wouldn't be able to replace them with workers of their caliber.

Paul I Jones, who was superintendent then, said, "It will take twice as many men to do half as much work as these two." Mr. Massey and Mr. Reams have pride in their work. The kind of people we hire to replace them won't have the kind of pride these people have in their work.

Everywhere there are complaints that people no longer have pride in their work. Pride in one's work does seem to diminish with each generation. Why is it that people don't have a sense of satisfaction in doing a good job of whatever they do? And at what age is this lack of pride in work most prevalent?

RAD RICHARDSON is district manager for General Telephone and he has 75 employees under him, so we asked him if he thought people have as much pride in their work as they should.

"The majority have much pride," Richardson said. "The larger percent gives the impression that they are working for $6 an hour and all over is time and a half and double for holidays and Sundays and that's all there is to it."

"I think that lack of pride in work is obvious when you have to have more inspections and more follow-ups to make sure there is quality."

"This inspection wasn't necessary when people were responsible for their job and did it and turned everything back in class A shape without having someone looking over their shoulder all the time.

"I think businesses themselves lend a little inducement to this, though, because so much is broken up into specialized fields where employees only have a piece of the action and they don't see the end product. It isn't all the employees' fault."

"But for the most part, it is only the more mature persons who still have pride in their work, whatever it is. You don't necessarily find pride in only the older employees, but you don't necessarily find it in those in their 20's, either."

"It just isn't like it used to be."

GUY WALDEN who is president of the Sudan First National Bank thinks pride goes along with doing the kind of work you really like to do.

He worked the entire senior class at Sudan this past summer, and even though the minimum wage of $2.30 should be very tempting to these very young persons, he found that not all are eager to work.

"With the exception of a few, we have some energetic employees and students. But many of the students don't want work interfering with their activities. They'd rather run around."

"All the students didn't come back to work at the bank this year. Some just didn't like banking. Everyone isn't supposed to like the same kind of work."

TROY ARMES doubts if there is as much pride as there should be in any business or in any phase of our society.

"And I just wish I could explain it," Armes said.

"I'm sure part of it is everybody expecting something for nothing," the Chevrolet dealer added. "I don't know where to point the blame on this 'give me' attitude."

Census survey set next week

During the week of March 15-20, the U.S. Bureau of the Census will conduct its regular survey on employment and unemployment in this area, according to Percy R. Millard, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Dallas.

Interviewer who will visit households in this area is Mrs. Rosemary McNeese of Amherst.

In addition to the usual questions on current employment, the March survey will have questions on the work experience and income of household members last year and whether they have moved since March 1, 1975.

Households in this area are part of the sample of 55,000 across the country scientifically selected to represent a cross section of all U.S. households.

The monthly survey is conducted for the U.S. Department of Labor and provides a continuous record of activity in the labor force. The January survey indicated that of the 93.5 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 86.2 million were employed. The Nation's unemployment rate was 7.8 percent, down from 8.3 percent in December, and substantially below the recession peak of 8.9 percent reached in the second quarter of 1975.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and the results are used only to compile statistical totals.

Baptist Girls In Action
conduct mission studies
Girls In Action of First Baptist Church meet every Wednesday afternoon at 4 p.m., and have a variety of programs for their meetings. At a recent meeting, they had a get-together of G.A.'s and their mothers at the home of Mrs. Myrlene Bridwell, leader of sixth grade group. The guests were served punch and finger do-nuts from a table covered with a red cloth, centered with a floral arrangement of red and white. Red napkins had the G.A. seal in the corner. Mrs. Aaron Williams, G.A. director, spoke to the group about future activities and stressed the need for the girls to work on their mission adventures, so as to be ready to take part in the Girls-In-Action Recognition Service to be held in May. Those present were: Norma Kay Terry and Kim, Dinie Jaques and Lynn, Rosalea Perkins and Latrice, Mary Knox and Shea Lyn, Kay Pace and Marnique, Sheryl and Krista Brantley, Connie Comer, Charla Rountree, Ruan Richardson, Shayla Bridwell and Myrlene, Jan LeBoeuf and Shawna Martindale, Lori Reed, Rebecca Driskill, Marilyn Reeves, Shila and Kayla, Belinda Bailey and Teresa, Pat Linda Bailey and Teresa, Pat Stubbs and Holly and Dance, Doris Robison and Kathy DeAnn, Mrs. Debbie Mears, Mary Parker, Mrs. Faye McLelland and Mitzi, Betty Williams and Sharon Bett. The next meeting was a trip to the G. A. Rally at First Baptist Church in Amherst. Mrs. Marilyn Reeves and Mrs. Betty Granger took the younger girls and Mrs. Ruan Richardson and Mrs. Charla Rountree took their group. Wednesday, March 3, was a combination of all three groups meeting together in the chapel to hear Missionary Arville Senter from Tanzania. East Africa tell of Baptist work there. Also attending were Mission Friends, R. A.'s and Acteens, (other mission organizations.) After showing slides of the country, people, and work there in Tanzania, Rev. Senter answered many questions from those present. This gave the girls an opportunity to talk with a real missionary about whom they usually study. The next meetings will be study sessions. The first and second grade G.A.'s will meet Saturday, March 20, at the home of their leader, Mrs. Betty Granger, to study the book Circus Tent. Mrs. Granger will be assisted by Mrs. Pat Stubbs. The two older groups will meet together in the church basement to study the book "Megalopolis." Dial 385-4481 For Classifieds

The varsity boys cracked three meet records. Morton established a new record in the 440 yard relay with a time of 44.7. The old standard was 44.8 and the 1973 Littlefield squad.

Sexton of Muleshoe edged out Bill Turner of Littlefield to break the 440 yard record. The previous record was 52.3 set by Farwell's Graza last year. Sexton was clocked in 51.7 and Turner 51.9.

The high jump mark also fell. Olton's Stroebel leap of 6'2" surpassed the old mark of 6'1/2" set by Canyon's Steve Butler in 1969.

Olton took first place with 96 points and was followed by Muleshoe with 79 1/2 and Littlefield's 66 points.

Littlefield finished fourth in the 440 relay with a 45.7 time. The sprint relay team was composed of Raymond Baiza, Bill Turner, Jimmy Durham and Willie Don Mason.

The mile relay team of Turner, Ronald Parmer, Durham and Baiza was time in 3:44.8 for a third place finish.

Baiza took fourth in the 330 yard hurdles with a time of 42.4. Durham ran 24.3 in the 220 for a third place finish.

Tony Cowan ran a 4:57.0 mile and Louis Soria a 5:05.9 to finish second and fifth, respectively.

Rick Hopping tossed the shot 49'11" for the 'Cats only first place finish. Hopping also earned second in the discus with a throw of 137'.

The freshmen boys scored 71 points to finish second behind Frenship's 109 total.

Jimmy Heller was the mainstay for the frosh. Heller won the 330 yard hurdles with a 47.4 timing. He also tied for third in the high jump with a 5'4" jump and captured fourth in the broad jump with a 17'6" leap.

Ben Davidson ran a 58.0 440 to take third. Eddie Elms ran a 18.9 in the 120 yard hurdles to place second. Donnie Green nabbed fourth in the 220 with a 25.7 clocking.

Richard Soria and Wayne Lucas earned third and sixth, respectively in the discus. Keith McCain and Lucas placed second and third, respectively, in the shot.

The Wildcat girls finished fourth in the meet with 44 1/2 points. Olton won with 112 and was followed by Bovina's 84 and Friona's 70.

The 440 yard relay team of DeEnna Blakely, Gena Westmoreland, Lori Westmoreland and Melissa Sawyer turned in a time of 54.4 to take fourth.

Littlefield was third in the 880 yard relay. The team of Melissa Sawyer, Carol Sexton, Penny Sexton and Gena Westmoreland was clocked in 1:54.8.

A second place finish was recorded in the mile relay. Melissa Sawyer, Lori Westmoreland, Pennie Sexton and Carol Sexton ran a 4:26.1.

Lori Westmoreland tied for fifth in the high jump with a height of 4'6" and captured sixth in the triple jump with 29'8". Karen Carter's 84'10" was good for place in the discus.

PENNY SEXTON shows her long jump style in the Wildcat Relays. Miss Sexton failed to make the event but was a member of the 880 and mile relay teams that finished third and respectively. The 'Cats finished fourth in the 15 team field. [Staff Photo]
