

Wildcats Face Morton Indians Friday Night

Wildcats will travel to Friday night to face what Head Coach Blakely describes as a Morton football team—defense and lots of speed.

feet and weigh 160 lbs. Thompson is also a passing threat on the sweep. The biggest problem facing the 'Cat coaches in preparing for the Indians is that Morton has run many different offensive formations so far this year and switch several times in the course of the contest. However, this pattern did not hold true in the Olton contest as the Indians ran the Wishbone exclusively. "So we really don't know which offensive alignment to defense against in practice this week," Blakely added, "so we'll have to just work on them all."

In early season games, the Indians would shift their linemen and backs plus run a lot of man-in-motion plays also. Their defensive alignments are just as varied as they have played a five-man line, split defense and a seven diamond. They stunt their linemen often and their secondary rotates between a man-to-man coverage to a zone coverage.

Another big problem that Blakely and his staff faces is that, in recent years, Littlefield has not played well at Morton. In 1971, the 'Cats defeated Morton 28-7 but at the half the score was tied 7-7. In 1972, the two teams tied 7-7.

The Indians' season record is two wins and five losses. They beat Plains and Idalou and the common opponents that the teams have met are Muleshoe and Cooper. Morton lost to Cooper 0-14 and to the Mules, 6-16.

Blakely urges all Wildcat fans to go to Morton for the game and summed it up by stating "we've lost one district ball game, but we feel that we're still in the race but we can't lose another one."

"The Dimmitt ball game was definitely our best effort of the season," Blakely stated in reflecting back over last Friday night's game, "and the difference in the tilt was our inability to hold them out in the middle of the field where they had so much operating room to run their sweeps, etc., but when they got closer to the goal where they had less room to operate, our defense did a real good job. Also the fact when we had a 7-0 lead and faced poor field position, we hated to open up and take a chance against losing the ball deep down in our own end of the field against an explosive team as Dimmitt."

Speaking of Robert Mayberry, Dimmitt's premier running back, Blakely described him as the best back we've played against in a long time.

On the scoring play that went for 76 yards (a pass from Ronald Parmer to Bill Turner) for the 'Cats' touchdown which was the lone score of the game until the third quarter, Blakely said that "we were trying to isolate our fastest man on their slowest secondary man."

Blakely summed up the Dimmitt game by saying "we're real proud of our football team and we believe they went down fighting."

As a result, more loans had been paid off at this time last year. This year's untimely rains are blamed for the late maturing crops and the harvest delay reflected in deposits and loans.

Snuff Dipping Fad Gaining Momentum Among Littlefield School Students

By NILAH RODGERS
It looks more like moist dirt well worked by earth worms, than tobacco. And its smell is more like the Olton Feedyard at ground zero than the aroma of exotic pipe tobacco. It leaves a brown tell-tale stain on the teeth and sometimes around the mouth. And where it is carried in the hip pocket, there's a worn white ring. It's called snuff, and you don't put it in your pipe and smoke it. What you do, according to those who enjoy the stuff, is put a pinch between lip and teeth and suck. Snuff is an ever growing fad among the young. The white ring showing through a faded blue denim hip pocket is a status symbol. The sudden rise in snuff popularity apparently has more to do with this "status" than the "enjoyment" of snuffing and spitting. High school boys are the biggest buyers of the round snuff cans with the earthy sounding names. If a survey of the young people's hip pockets is an accurate indication, at least half of the high school-aged boys must be dippers, pinchers or snuffers. Or maybe they are just carriers. "Every little boy has to have a ring on his hip," said Marie Kline, a checker at Furr's. "It sells," she said of the round cans of snuff. "The boys come in here during their noon hour or after school and buy a can at a time. We can't hardly keep it in stock." The snuff fad started four or five years ago. And for a time, inflation threatened to do what many parents couldn't. "The kids quit buying it for a while when it went up last year," Mrs. Kline said. "But they are buying more than ever now." Carlton Tanner at Littlefield Super Market does big business in snuff. "A lot of the young wives buy a whole roll of eight cans," he said. "But we sell snuff to all ages. The elderly buy the jars of snuff, and we sell quite a bit to middle aged men." Evidently, the kids aren't the only ones who've taken up the habit. Older men have discovered snuff as an alternative to smoking. But instead of pride of their vice, the middle aged snuff user is more apt to be discreet. "Would I admit to a dirty, filthy habit like that?" said one such person when asked about his snuff dipping. Dipping snuff may satisfy tobacco craving, but many consider snuff dipping a filthy habit. The filthy part is the spitting. Some learn to swallow instead of spitting. According to one, it takes a lot of learning. He said he agrees that the spitting part is terrible, socially. "And since I don't get red ant bites anymore, I don't need the spit," he added. "It burns like heck, but it keeps your gut clean." Snuff may not damage the lungs or arterio-vascular system, but it's doubtful that ingesting tobacco juice does any good. Apparently the high school kids who like the taste of the stuff do their share of swallowing. LHS agriculture teacher Art Sommerfield said he caught a boy using snuff in his class the other day. When called down, the student told Sommerfield he was the first teacher to catch him. From all appearances, all those brass spittons which used to adorn post offices and federal buildings would be used

Central Standard Time To Return This Sunday

Sunday morning, Oct. 27, area citizens will again wake up to Central Standard Time—something they haven't done since the year-round DST was enacted by Congress during the peak of last winter's energy and fuel crisis, alleging that the emergency legislation would save up to two percent of the electrical energy consumed by the country.

But, as records have proved, less than 3/4 of one percent of the energy was saved, rather than the expected two percent, and President Gerald Ford has signed a bill authorizing the United States' return to Standard Time—agreeing that DST didn't attribute many benefits to the energy crisis.

And too, it's good news to know that we won't have to drive to work in the morning in the dark, nor will school children be forced to wait for their buses or walk to school in the dark.

So, going by the old slogan: "Spring forward, and Fall back," citizens will run their clocks and watches back an hour before they retire Saturday night, Oct. 26, so they may get an extra hour's sleep Sunday morning.

America, Where Are We?

By D. A. BIRKELBACH
IN AMERICA'S fight against her "Number One Enemy" inflation, where do we stand? Pretty good question—wish it had one answer.

While Congress and Mr. Ford are throwing mud pies at each other, it is hard to imagine beating inflation. Seems Ford's veto engine is running short of power with Congress giving away money to the tune of $7 billion for the next 25 years for retired railroad workers and before that giving the government employees a raise.

And what's Ford's sure-all plan? It's a surtax on corporations and middle Americans (the Rockefeller have loop holes you know). Now the surtax on corporations sounds great on paper, but they're not going to take a tax loss. So the corporations will jack-up prices and pass their surtax on to the public. This will not only increase inflation, but it will double the tax on the middle Americans.

and if we break his back we break our own.

So where shall we start our warfare with the enemy? I believe we should have a WARFARE ON WELFARE. Now the aged and the handicap should be able to draw on welfare, but I believe we should and had better get the lazy freeloaders off.

WE CAN DO THIS by setting higher standards and making better investigations into welfare recipients. Food stamps, along with free lunch programs, are another pain in Uncle Sugar's back pocket.

When a person uses food stamps to buy cookies and candy, along with other such necessities, and drives away in a Cadillac, Uncle-Empty-My-Pockets-Then-Take-My-Pants deserves to go into the red.

ANOTHER PLAN to help us get out of the red sea would be to close some of the tax loop holes. This would allow the Rockefeller to support the government and help the rich to share the load that the middle Americans have had to bear.

Now let's see, if we could cut welfare in half, end the food stamp swindling, and close some tax loop holes we might have the 'H' bomb against inflation. I'm not saying we won't have to bite the bullet and make do with less, but maybe we won't have to bite down so hard.

Until then, dodge the mud pies, write to your Congressman, and above all pray.

CLIPS & TIPS

By JOELLA LOVVORN

WE'LL BE HEARING the famous "Trick or Treat" next week—a relatively innocent cry of children in their door-to-door trek for goodies throughout our city.

And, if no "treats" are provided, even the wee ones might play a "trick". The practice of playing "tricks" came from Ireland a century ago. Then it was thought that a group of "fairies" had enticed the children to be naughty.

Plan a Halloween party for the crowd and let them help prepare the food—if you have room. And maybe for the older set try a special party.

But for those who knock at the front door, be prepared to offer them with nutritious goodies, instead of so many "sweets".

Halloween is traditionally an evening of ghosts, goblins and goodies, but, because the highlight of the holiday to most children is the goodies, it can be a big problem making sure they don't overindulge on the sweet treats.

Here's one that's a wholesome snack that may be placed in their trick or treat bags next Thursday night.

RAISIN CRUNCH BALLS

- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
 - 1/2 lb. regular marshmallows (about 20)
 - 1/2 tsp. vanilla
 - 1 cup raisins
 - 1 cup peanuts
 - 2 cups crisp rice cereal or alphabet cereal
- Melt butter in heavy saucepan. Add marshmallows. Cook over very low heat, stirring until marshmallows are melted.
- Pour immediately over mixed raisins, peanuts and cereal. Mix thoroughly. Form into 12 balls (about 3 inches in diameter). Place on tray; refrigerate 10 minutes. Reshape if necessary. Store in refrigerator until serving time. Makes 12 balls.

FOR OTHER IDEAS in serving the Halloween crowd try these:

CIDER PUNCH

- 2 quarts apple cider or juice
 - 1 cup apricot nectar
 - 1 cup orange juice
 - 1/2 tsp. ground cinnamon
 - Lime slices
 - Orange slices
- In a saucepan, combine apple cider, nectar, orange juice and cinnamon. Heat; stir occasionally. Garnish with lime and orange slices. Makes about 10 cups.

LOLA STILL

Services for Lola Candice Still, 86, of Lockney, are pending at First United Methodist Church of Lockney.

Rev. Hugh Daniels, pastor, will officiate.

Burial will be at Lockney-Cemetery under direction of Carter Funeral Home.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Lorraine Shelton of Glenwood Springs, Colo., Mrs. Juanita Wood of Smithfield, Mrs. Maxine Yearly of Jacksonville, and Ladne Williams of Alamogordo, N.M.; her son, James "Bud" Still of Lockney; two sisters, Mrs. Lily May Silcott of Olton and Mrs. Palmer Cox of Plainview; a brother, Elmer Ellis of San Diego, Calif.; 20 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

HARVEST APPLE POPS

- 1 can (11 ozs.) condensed cheddar cheese soup
 - 2 bags (about 14 ozs. each) caramels
 - 15 medium or 24 small apples (about 5 lbs.)
 - Chopped walnuts
- In saucepan, combine soup and caramels. Heat until sauce is smooth; stir occasionally. Insert a wooden stick into stem end of each apple. Dip into hot caramel sauce; turn until coated. Scrape excess sauce from bottom of apple. Roll in walnuts, if desired. Place on buttered waxed paper; chill until caramel coating is firm (coating will not harden). Makes 15 medium or 24 small caramel apples.

GOBLINS' GOODIES

- 3 cups all-purpose flour
 - 3 tsp. baking powder
 - 2 tbsps. ground pumpkin pie spice
 - 2 tsp. salt
 - 2 1/2 cans (10 3/4 oz.) condensed cream of potato soup
 - 2 cups packed brown sugar
 - 1 can (about 16 ozs.) pumpkin
 - 1 cup shortening
 - 2 eggs
 - 2 cups quick-cooking oats, uncooked.
 - 1 1/2 cups flaked coconut
 - 1 1/2 cups chopped walnuts
- Sift flour, baking powder, spice, and salt into large bowl. Add soup, sugar, pumpkin, shortening, and eggs. NOW TO STOP the rise in farm prices we stop exports, create a surplus, and lower prices. Simple? NO! We tend to forget that the farmer must make a reasonable profit, which up until last year seemed impossible. So what do we do? We export fertilizer until this shortage in the U.S. caused prices to soar. Thus we caused the American farmer to bite the bullet again. Now that we have increased his cost in production, should we lower his chances of making a profit? Remember, the farmer is still the backbone of this country

Youth To Conduct Canvass Of City For 'Crop' Funds

Sunday, Oct. 27 at 4 p.m. all youth of the community are invited to meet at the First Methodist Church to take part in a house-to-house canvass for "Crop".

Youth who participate will need to either provide their own transportation or secure a car and driver to take them to the area they will canvass.

Routes for canvassers will be prepared in advance and collection envelopes and hand-out pieces describing "Crop" will be available.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lust of First Methodist Church will be in charge of sending out canvassers and receiving money.

"Crop" provides relief in the United States and overseas or wherever food is in short supply and people are hungry.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Pulling Together

THERE ARE SOME WAYS in which the individual can be independent, and should be independent; however, there are many ways in which we are interdependent.

To whatever extent we deny this interdependence, or overlook it; all of us will suffer loss.

We have some individual differences, but we also have many common interests. The permissible individual differences must not be permitted to prevent our full cooperation in the areas of our common concern.

"PULLING TOGETHER" we do have an encouraging possibility to find satisfactory solutions to many of our mutual problems, and of finding ways to overcome our common difficulties.

From both the viewpoint of mature intelligence, and obvious necessity, it is self-evident that there must be an enormous amount of combined thought and effort.

PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY must be recognized and accepted, because this is the only way we can do our part in working together for our common good.

The shirkers and the irresponsible people make the burden heavier for those who are willing to work. Nevertheless, the work must be done. We must not be discouraged.

OUR INTERDEPENDENCE makes it absolutely necessary that we learn everything we can about "pulling together".

There must be diligent study of our mutual needs, and honest admission the fact that we must work together wherever and whenever we can.

"THERE IS A LIMIT" to what one person can do alone. Every worthy project requires the help of others. The willingness "to pull together" is a common good.

We are so interdependent that we cannot even survive without the help of others. There are certain things that we can do better when we work together. Moments of Magic

IN ORDER TO DO our best approach this "pulling together" the right attitudes. We cannot be seeking self-aggrandizement because such an aim undermines mutual endeavor. All of us can do more and do it better, when we care who gets the credit.

There is one worthy aim, and do what we can to help solve the problem; overcome the difficulties; perform the service.

APPRECIATION for each other perhaps one of the most elements in our working together the ways we benefit from mutual assistance.

In order to serve the maximum this appreciation must be expressed.

WE CANNOT overcome our defeatist attitude.

This means that we, in accomplishing the maximum of combined efforts, must be mutual encouragement and building. Much of the strength will come from such action.

PEOPLE "PULLING TOGETHER" with firm determination, appreciation, and patient endeavor be able to do many very things; and this time-tested way for "common benefit" will

HONNY GRITS

By CORNBALL BEE

WE DID MAKE IT down to Austin and back, without any undue incidents. Due to our short schedule, I didn't have time to go into conference with Dolph to impart any much needed advice.—Perhaps, next time.

Spent most of our time becoming acquainted with this VIP, grandson. Out of seven grandchildren, he'll be the first to be saddled with my family name.—Which should mean something!

DID LEARN THAT the hot issue of the time (at least among some of the people) is the inauguration of the Equal Rights Amendment. While seemingly fair and innocent enough, on the surface, it may carry some dire consequences with it, if adopted.

Rumors going around, and that especially among the "cons", are, that it will destroy the identity of the sexes, completely. The sanctity of the home will be set aside.

FOR INSTANCE, it is hinted that women will be called to serve in the armed forces, just as well as men. No distinction can be made. They will go into the battle front, carrying guns and being shot at, just as well as their male "buddies".

It is said that the public, segregated rest rooms will be taboo. First come, first served, and ONE will be enough. (Puritans can wait until they get home.)

EMPLOYERS WILL be constrained to hire the female, if qualified, right alongside the male. This job consists of scooping repairing autos, driving a flying to the moon!—(AMAZING I call it!)

While on the other side of you may have to have a male phone operator, nurse, mail carrier.—Nuts! It shakes me when that male guffaw comes from my telephone with "Please?"

MARRIAGE-WISE, so it's woman will not have to take the man, neither will the man unless it's so desired. In case the man will not have to pay. Wonder what about child support?

At any rate I'd like to read this amendment, in it before giving it an OK. The we be setting out to make the chauvinist males.

IF IT DOES become law, you may be excused for not your cape over a mudhole, as your lady fair may cross with her dainty feet.—AND, no one you responsible should you cause her to fall on her face instead!

CALL ME CORNY, if you can still remember when men, and women were both were proud of their Man.

Men (or women, either), managed to improve on God their position in life.

Turn Row COMMENTS

DUE TO VARIOUS activities and adverse weather conditions the Girl Scout Drive in Littlefield has been extended. I understand that the house-to-house drive will also be extended for another Sunday.

When a volunteer calls on you, be generous and help the girls of our community.

IF YOU ARE WONDERING about the quality of cotton being produced this year, here is a preview. According to the Government Classing office in Lubbock as of Monday, they have classed about 50 samples of 1974 cotton. Most of the cotton is spotted due to the wet weather and about half of the cotton classed being low "mike".

I'm not familiar with the grades of other cotton ginned in the immediate area but the two bales that were ginned in Littlefield last week were quality. One bale was straggling, light spot with an inch base mike, the other was middling with an inch and second staple and was also ginned.

Price is still in question, there is not much activity other than bonuses paid by order to get extra publicity last year it started off just not much activity and toward the end of the season the lid really of the cotton market. Maybe the same this year.

IT IS NOT WHAT YOU do that makes life a success.

Farm Bureau Comments On President's Program

Agriculture welcomes the national effort to combat inflation, but cannot shoulder the burden alone, the president of the Texas Farm Bureau said in commenting on President Ford's anti-inflation program. J. T. (Red) Woodson said he was surprised that agriculture was singled out for all-out production. He said farmers and ranchers have already done more than their share in reducing inflationary pressures. "Agriculture's productivity is at least twice that of industry," the farm leader said. "Without this remarkable efficiency, the rate of inflation would have been much higher."

How farmers will respond to the request for all-out production will depend on their opportunity to sell in markets at home and overseas without government interference, Woodson said.

"We will resist any programs calling for all-out production if it means a return to unprofitable surpluses," he said.

"Already we have a surplus of beef with prices lower than they were a year ago," he said.

"Surpluses and high production costs are hurting dairy, poultry and hog producers. And, if we lose part of our export markets to government meddling, we will have grain running out our silos," he added.

"This won't be good for agriculture and it won't be good for consumers," the head of the state's largest farm organization said. "A healthy agricultural economy is the best assurance consumers have for bountiful supplies of food and fiber at reasonable prices."

The farm leader said that while there is no shortage in this country, there are shortages that need to be reduced—pressure, he added.

Woodson said farmers and ranchers support efforts to bring down government spending, but he said the federal government's cause of inflation is "Until the American Congressmen and their constituents cut down on spending, we won't make inflation."

Crane Hunt Begins This Weekend

The Muleshoe Jaycees have scheduled their 12th Annual Sandhill Crane Hunt to be held Oct. 26, 27; Nov. 2, 3; and Nov. 9 and 10.

The Jaycees have arranged again for land adjacent to the Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge, the oldest in Texas, and during the winter months, there are as many as 100,000 sandhill crane wintering away from their Arctic breeding grounds. The Muleshoe population represents the largest concentration of this species in the United States.

The Jaycees will provide transportation to and from the hunting area. Shells and licenses will be available and the guides will leave the XIT Steak House, which is hunt headquarters, one and one-half hours before sunrise each day.

This year to give each hunter better hunting conditions and service, the Jaycees will conduct the hunt on a reservation basis only.

For more reservations contact Carter Reed, 272-3879 or call the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce, 272-4248.
