Firemen Answer Calls

Littlefield's volunteer firemen were called from the fireside into the wintry weather Monday and Tuesday. The most extensive fire was at the Pugh home on the old Lubbock road. Firemen answered the call about 8:15 p.m. Three rooms in the brick building were gutted and the roof caved in. The blaze was brought under control. The fire was believed to have started in the central heating unit, but the children were in the home when the fire started but were unaware that the house was on fire until the blaze was under control. Monday firemen answered a call at Sweet's Place on Elm Street in Littlefield. A flash fire started in the building when a butane stove was on and a match struck. A third call was received at 3 a.m. Monday morning from the T. C. Faver home on one-half mile north of Littlefield on 54 on the Fieldton road. A heat lamp to prevent water from freezing caused the building housing the heat lamp to catch fire. The well house and other stored in the building were destroyed.

Accidents Few On Icy Roads

The sleet-slicked, ice-coated streets in and around Littlefield were slippery as well waxed skis following a winter storm of the year. But not a single accident due to weather conditions was reported to city police on Tuesday noon. Officials said extreme caution on the part of motorists and minimal travel were the best accidents down. Department of Public Safety officers investigated only one wreck through the city. A '66 International tractor and semi trailer owned by the Tex Feed Lot in Muleshoe had $400 damage done to the cab of the truck Monday morning. An M. Anguiano of Muleshoe was driving when he lost control of the truck on U. S. Highway 84 six miles east of Littlefield. The truck jack knifed and rolled into the median. There were no personal injuries according to Weldon Parson who investigated the accident.

Theft, Vandalism Down To Trickle

Vandalism and burglaries in Lamb County have been almost at a standstill lately. County officials hadn't received any reports since Christmas, and only one case in the city books. Snow, Cold Grip Littlefield Area

Winter has taken on the grizzly bear look in Lamb County and over the entire state after coming in in shirt sleeve lambs' clothing.

Advice to would-be motorists from the Lamb County sheriff's department, city police and the Texas Highway Department of Public Safety, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday was "Stay Home."

This first winter snow storm caught many county residents away from home due to holiday travel. Littlefield city police reported numerous phone calls from concerned relatives Sunday night asking about road conditions and help in locating over-due persons.

Littlefield's official weather man, Percy Edwards at Pioneer Natural Gas, said no official precipitation measurement could be given until the snow melts. With the temperature standing at 19 degrees at noon Monday, Edwards estimated several days before a measurement could be taken.

Temperatures dipped to eight degrees early Tuesday for the coldest reading of the year.

Snowfall over the county seemed to be about the same—four to five inches with drifts up to four feet.

Maintenance crews began work Sunday afternoon and worked 30 hours without stopping to keep highways open. Monday morning Ira Haggerty reported all county roads open but extremely icy.

The Texas Highway Department began setting intersections, overpasses and near hazardous stop signs Sunday to prevent accidents. By early Monday morning a good percentage of the paved roads had been bladed, but ice under the snow couldn't be scraped without damage to the paving.

Few emergency calls had been received by officials. Assistance was given to an expectant Earth woman enroute to a Muleshoe hospital, and a Lamb County deputy called in for assistance to get out of his own driveway where he was stuck. State and federal offices were open for business Monday after a long holiday closing, but business was slow.

One man applied at the Texas Employment Commission for a job shoveling snow, but there weren't any calls for his services Monday.

With more snow predicted before a warming period, most residents didn't seem concerned about shoveling snow.

Area Men Delegates To National Meeting

Four area men will be among Texas delegates and alternates to the National Cotton Council's 32nd annual meeting in Atlanta Feb. 2-3, according to J. B. Cooper Jr. of Roscoe, unit chairman.

Included in the state unit delegates and alternates are, producers, J. D. Smith of Littlefield and Paul D. Bennett of Amherst; ginners, Orville Bailey of Route 2, Anton; and warehouseman, Guy Nickels of Sudan.

IT'S 'SNO FUN' being in the snow, particularly when it takes work to dig out a trapped automobile. Mark Rogers began the task of shoveling snow from the family driveway Monday.

Big Elections On Tap

Area citizens must be prepared if they wish to have a voice in election results this year.

Denver City, county, district and state offices will be decided in 1970 elections

WILDCATS TREK TO MULESHOE

Littlefield's Wildcats resume basketball action in a big way this weekend, traveling to the annual Muleshoe tournament.

The Cats, who met Ralls there Tuesday night, will play Denver City at 1 p.m. Friday in the Muleshoe meet.

If Coach Jim Jefferies' charges can pull off a victory, they will play the winner of Abernathy-Muleshoe at 12 noon Saturday.

If the Wildcats fall to Denver City, they will go against the Abernathy-Muleshoe loser at 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

Championship finals are at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, with the 3rd place game at 7 p.m. Consolation finals are at 5:30 Saturday.

$174 Per Capita Needed To Run Local Government

Is the cost of local government higher or lower, for residents of Lamb County, than it is for people in other areas?

How much is spent locally, per capita, for all municipal and county operations and for all special services? How does the local governmental debt compare with the average elsewhere?

A new report, just released by the Census Bureau, sheds light on these matters. It is based upon a detailed study of financial data gathered from every county in the United States.

The study, entitled Census of Governments, is the first made since fiscal 1962. They are conducted every five years.

For people living in Lamb County, the figures show, the total cost of local government operations came to $174 per capita in the year.

In the rest of the nation, the average was $299 per capita and, in the state of Texas, $240.

It took a total of $59.5 billion to operate the various county, township, municipal and district governments in the country and provide the public with services in the fields of education, health, welfare, roads, sanitation, parks, housing, libraries, police and fire protection and the like.

That represented an increase of $19.7 billion in the period of five years.

In some communities, the amount spent for local government operations was adequately covered by revenues. In many others, however, more was spent than was taken in.

The figures for Lamb County show that the direct expenditures, $174 per capita, were offset by general revenue receipts equivalent to $180 per local resident.

Some $108 of this revenue came from local taxes and the remainder from Federal and state payments.

In order to finance their expenditures for capital improvements and other needs, many communities have been forced to go deeper into debt.

Lamb County's outstanding debt is listed in the report as $175 per capita. Nationally, the debt of local governments averaged $410 per capita.

Those in Texas averaged $367.

BUSY ONE FOR LITTLEFIELD, AREA

The Year 1969 At A Glance

JANUARY:
Sheriff E. D. McNeese took the top enforcement office in Lamb County.
Lamb County's first 1969 baby was Rudy Ramos, born Jan. 3 at 6:58 p.m. at the Littlefield Community Hospital.
School and health officials declared a school on Measles and conducted the first immunization Jan. 15.
A five-day law enforcement school under the sponsorship of the FBI began for all county law enforcement officers.
Two escaped the Lamb County jail by cutting holes in the bars and passing themselves with lard from the kitchen. Both were re-captured in a Lubbock hotel and were later transferred to prison at Huntsville. Three men, who were charged with murder with malice of premeditation, were given 25 year sentences and were transferred to Huntsville.
Two Sudan youngsters showed champion animals at the County Junior Livestock Show. Freddie Maxwell of the Sudan FFA chapter showed the grand champion Hampshire lamb and Don Harper of the Sudan FFA chapter showed the grand champion barrow. Freddie's champion died a few days later of pneumonia.

Lamb County and area school superintendents attended a meeting in Austin concerning the controversial redistricting and re-evaluation of all Texas schools.

Five were killed in a head-on crash near Anton. Killed were Marion Dean Andrews of Lubbock and Joseph William Labenz family of Wolforth.
Betty Kehoe was elected president of "We, The Women".

Annual Chamber Banquet featured Dr. Walter Kerr as speaker. Former Sheriff Dick Dyer was named Outstanding Citizen and Eldon Gohlke was chosen Outstanding Farmer.

FEBRUARY:
A 50-year water plan was introduced for possible storage at Bull Lake.
First Baptist Church entered a $100,000 improvement program.
Farmers in the area welcomed the first rain in three months.
Lamb County's first major hog raising project, built near Balner Switch by Dr. Clifford E. Payne, was in its early construction period.
City incumbents, Mayor J. E. Chisholm, and Councilmen Paul McCormick and Chester Harvey, filed for re-election.
Councilmen voted to convert the city's tax billing system to data processing.
Governor Smith signed a bill making it possible for the directors of the Earth-Springlake Hospital Board to call a new election to abolish the hospital district. The date for the election was set for March 29.

MARCH:
Texas' $10 billion water plan, sponsored by Rep. Bill Clayton, was approved by the House.

Eight men, including two incumbents, filed for three school board posts. A technically dropped Dr. Glenn Burk from the race when he found he had failed to register to vote.

A motion to extend the lunch period five minutes at LHS failed when trustees deadlocked in a 3-3 vote. The split resulted in a continuation of the 35-minute lunch period which was already in effect.

Heavy snowfall, came to the Littlefield area only five days before spring and brought activities to a near standstill.

The Littlefield Area Junior Livestock Show had a good turnout and sale despite the heavy snow.

State Representative Bill Clayton was named executive director of Water, Inc. Mrs. Irene Lynn, LHS English teacher, was named "Teacher of the Year" by her fellow teachers.
Flags in Littlefield and the area flew at half-staff for 30 days in tribute to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower who died March 28.

The controversial Earth-Springlake Hospital District was dissolved in a special election at Earth.

APRIL:
Only 73 votes were cast in the Littlefield Municipal election and the three incumbents, all unopposed, were re-elected.

Bob Roden and Wayne Streety joined incumbent Werner Birkelbach in taking the oath of office as school trustees following a hotly contested race.

City Manager Jim Shearer spurred Littlefield citizens into action when "rainstorming sessions on "where do we go from here in economic development for Littlefield, Lamb County and the surrounding area" were conducted.

Area school districts elected board members.
General Telephone Co. invested

$150,000 in the construction of a 180-foot microwave tower.

Parents and dog owners became concerned when dogs owned by city dwellers were poisoned with strychnine.

Littlefield made its first breakthrough with a major vegetable company when several Littlefield men met with representatives from Campbell Soup Co. and an agreement was made to supply the company with 500,000 pounds of onions. Deb Bawcom was to grow the onions on 25 acres.

Werner Birkelbach was named president of the re-organized school board and Pat Downs was elected vice president.

A public hearing on the controversial Lamb County quail season was conducted in Austin April 21 in the capitol.

Diana Gonzales, 13-year-old Spade eighth grader took the county spelling championship when she correctly spelled

Coffee Honors Mrs. Kindred

AMHERST—Mrs. George Harmon and Mrs. Sam Harmon entertained with a coffee Monday morning honoring Mrs. Gene Kindred of Atlanta, Ga.

It was given in the home of the former with calling hours between 9:30 and 11 o'clock. Christmas decorations were seen at vantage points throughout the house. A table of lighted candles in various heights, colors and shapes was of interest.

The refreshment table laid with a fringed cloth had an overall pattern of poinsettias. The decoration was a large dark green candle surrounded by poinsettias and holly, interspersed with gum drops of varied colors.

Mrs. Sam Harmon poured coffee and Mrs. Wallace Gosdin poured hot chocolate.

The table was laden with an array of accompaniments featuring Christmas dainties.

The honoree and her husband are spending

Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allan White.

Savings Bonds Now Paying Higher Interest

Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy has revealed an increase in the interest rate on United States Savings Bonds from 4.25 per cent to 5 per cent.

The new 5-per-cent rate applies to all outstanding Series E and H Bonds sold on or after June 1, 1969, if held to maturity.

The higher rate also applies to older Bonds.

Beginning with the first semi-annual interest period starting on or after June 1, 1969, rates on outstanding E and H Bonds will be increased to yield 5 per cent, when held to maturity or extended maturity.

The original maturity of the Series E Bond has been shortened from 7 years to 5 years, 10 months; H Bonds will continue to mature in 10 years.

"Freedom Shares" (U. S. Savings Notes)—sold in combination with E Bonds, since May 1, 1967—will be removed from sale effective June 30, 1970.

SS Class Has Social

ANTON—The Progressive Sunday School Class at First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. S. N. Twilly Thursday afternoon, Dec. 18 for their Christmas Social.

After a devotional, led by Mrs. Johnny Harper Sr., gifts were exchanged.

IT PAYS TO TRADE IN LITTLEFIELD

Tasty Taco Features Good Mexican Food

Chico Mendez assisted by his brother, Ralph Mendez, and numerous other relatives bring a touch of Old Mexico to Littlefield with their Tasty Taco business.

Tacos, enchiladas, chalupas, chili and all the favorite Mexican dishes are on the menu at Tasty Taco on Hall Avenue here in Littlefield.

Chico has many years of restaurant experience behind him with restaurants in Corpus Christi, San Antonio, Big Spring, and other large cities in Texas and Colorado.

Even the decorations at the Tasty Taco are authentic. Chico has made two trips to the interior of Mexico just to bring back paintings and other decorative pieces to add to the Tasty Taco decor.

Chico says the work involved in preparing Mexican food demands long hours each day, and this food is prepared fresh each and every day. Tasty Taco makes its own enchilada sauce. Mixing and slow simmering takes four to five hours. Rice, Beans, chili con queso (cheese sauce) are prepared fresh daily.

also, as are other foods on the menu. Some of the menu favorites are chalupas, chili rellanos, and green enchiladas.

Chalupas are toasted corn tortillas topped with your choice of guacamole, cheese or beans.

Chili rellanos are stuffed long, green peppers dipped in a batter and fried, then topped with chili con queso.

Green cheese and green beef enchiladas are something new to many people. Green means hot—"not fire hot," Mendez explained, "but spicy. And real tasty."

Mendez says the Tasty Taco is here to stay because his employees like what they are doing. They are people who care and their aim is to please the public.

Everyone at Tasty Taco strives to make customers feel at home, give good service and make each person want to come back.

Drive out to Tasty Taco for a real Mexican treat.

Renee's Beauty Bar Has The Look Of 1970

The soft, curly look is here again. Renee's Beauty Bar on Littlefield Drive is the authority for the 1970 look. Renee and her staff are up on the soft look for the new year. The modern hair style features the small head, natural look. And again this year the use of hair pieces is in. Hair coloring is here to stay, but this year instead of the platinum blondes, the blonde shades tend to be the golden, reddish blonde, natural colors. Again body waves are very important. Renee and her staff give waves that are strictly for body. These give the hair the bounce that makes styling stay in from setting to setting. All operators at Renee's are Jessie Lee graduates. Glenda Young, Poni Kay Hoppe, and Norma Burnett are all award winners for outstanding hair styles. Diane Grammer and Renee Williams complete the staff and each is a specialist in their field. Renee's Beauty Bar is open for early and late appointments and welcomes walk-in customers, too. Renee's is the former Virgie's Beauty Bar. Renee Williams is owner and graduate hair stylist. Renee and her husband Kenneth are both long-time Littlefield area residents. Drop in to Renee's or phone 385-4920 for an appointment and a head-start on hair fashion.

Ceviche Recipe

For Holidays

The usual chips and dips are enough for a special house party, here's a snack dish from which can be ladled up bowls and served with spoons.

Called "ceviche" and it's in a traditional manner dress juices instead of dress the Texas Parks and Department.

The basic ingredient is fish, any species of fresh or fish. Most Mexican use anything that swims. The choice, the fish should be in filet form (so that bones get into the ceviche) and can be diced in half-inch chunks.

First day, place one of diced filets in a dish and add the juice times and one lemon. With sauteur. Wine, if and refrigerate 24 more.

Second or third day, following:

- medium-size onions, chopped
- scallions, finely including green tops.
- 2 can of tomatoes, cores and chop up
- eight-ounce can of juice.
- tablespoons of capers.
- cup salad peppers, fine.
- teaspoon oregano.
- teaspoon sweet basil.
- teaspoon coriander.
- cup cilantro leaves, (available in some grocery stores), or if available, add more
- teaspoon Tabasco or to individual taste.
- fish, stir thoroughly refrigerate. This will last to two weeks, makes approximately a quart and a more serving, stir in one olive oil per pint.
- a snack, appetizer or meal with crackers or bread.

Chip Holder, 6 years old

My ole Dad is trying his best to make enough money to send me to college before he gets too old to work (you see he was old enough to be my grandpa when I was born), so as an incentive I persuaded him to have a lucky 25. This means that if you eat in his restaurant every 25th breakfast is free. The way you will know is after you finish eating you look in the bottom of your plate and if it says free then you're a lucky person. Sounds like fun, don't it?

Oh, my dad's name is Bill Holder.

Following the above, but the ole rascal, being sentimental, knows men want to take their wives out to eat Sunday and since Littlefield has so few places to eat on Sunday, he's giving his day off so his friends can enjoy a Sunday lunch.

You know I feel kinda proud of him. Really he's a good ole rascal. Come see him, won't you folks, he takes pride in his food.

Thanks,
Chip Holder

Oh, Yeah! I forgot to tell you where he is at. That's 431 Phelps Ave., at Holder's Restaurant

Chip Holder, 6 years old

My ole Dad is trying his best to make enough money to send me to college before he gets too old to work (you see he was old enough to be my grandpa when I was born), so as an incentive I persuaded him to have a lucky 25. This means that if you eat in his restaurant every 25th breakfast is free. The way you will know is after you finish eating you look in the bottom of your plate and if it says free then you're a lucky person. Sounds like fun, don't it?

Oh, my dad's name is Bill Holder.

Following the above, but the ole rascal, being sentimental, knows men want to take their wives out to eat Sunday and since Littlefield has so few places to eat on Sunday, he's giving his day off so his friends can enjoy a Sunday lunch.

You know I feel kinda proud of him. Really he's a good ole rascal. Come see him, won't you folks, he takes pride in his food.

Thanks,
Chip Holder

Oh, Yeah! I forgot to tell you where he is at. That's 431 Phelps Ave., at Holder's Restaurant

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Life Forward

By BOB WEAR

WE KEEP HEARING MUCH about the decline, the obvious decline, in many facets of our national life. We are, of course, properly concerned about this reverse movement.

In fact, most of us would like to change the direction of movement. We would like for life to be better for everybody. If there is to be any improvement, much of it, most of it, must be individual improvement.

THE REAL JOY and satisfaction of life is being missed by many people because they live in reverse. They are against nearly everything, and seldom for anything.

Their trouble is generally described as negativism. Of course, there are many things which must be opposed, but the opposition must be well founded.

The people who oppose everything "just because" are moving in the wrong direction.

THESE PROFESSIONAL objectors usually oppose all progressive suggestions and endeavors. Thousands of these are misguided young people. They seem to find great pleasure in discouraging, and sometimes opposing the persons who are trying to do worthwhile things. They don't seem to realize that life must go forward.

These objectors can be found in most communities; in churches; in clubs; in families; in schools; and in most all organized plans for action. They are the persons who can always be heard saying, "It can't be done".

MANY OF THESE people are afraid to face life. They are always backing away from the challenges and opportunities which come to them. They are afraid to do and dare, and afraid to run the risk.

Of course, there may be some dangers; and there is always the possibility of failure. If, however, we do our best and bring all of our knowledge, courage and determination into our worthy labors, our life movement will be forward and not backward.

THERE IS NO PROPER place for defeatism, despondency, despair, or nagging discouragement. These are the attitudes and feelings that all of our adversaries want us to develop and hold to; because they wish our failure.

There has also been more than enough fault-finding without even a constructive suggestion. This is the most damaging force in the backward movement of life.

THE FORWARD MOVEMENT of life requires the old, and time-tested life elements of morality, decency, thrift, hard work, honesty, full acceptance of responsibility; and a wholesome, mutual concern for each other.

The life movement, not controlled by these characteristics, is in reverse. A hasty and definite change in life direction is our need.

OUR CREATOR does not wish us to fail, and those who live in reverse are not in accord with the divine will.

We have not been created for destruction, disorder and defeat; but for building up, for orderly conduct of life and for victorious living.

LIFE FORWARD is a life of faith, not a life of doubt and fear. Let us not aid and abet the perverse forces of human society by living in reverse; but let us shift gears and go forward.

EDITORIALS What The Leader-News Thinks

January, 1970

JANUARY, one of the two months added to the calendar (than ten months) long before the birth of Christ, is the first month of the year of the Georgian Calendar (dating from Pope Gregory XIII in 1582).

Caesar had set the length of the year at 365 days centuries earlier; German Protestant states made the change in 1700 and England and the American Colonies in 1752—by act of Parliament.

THE MONTH is one of great historical significance for Americans.

The Battle of Princeton occurred on the 3rd in 1777. Washington had won a victory in December at Trenton but Cornwallis arrived near the city with a larger British force and Washington, not wishing to wait to be attacked by combined British forces, moved against British units holding Princeton and New Brunswick.

HE LEFT CAMP FIRES burning on the night of the 2nd and on the 3rd engaged the Princeton force at Stony Brook Bridge, routing them after an initial setback, and occupying Princeton.

Cornwallis advanced and Washington retreated, taking up a strong position at Morristown. Cornwallis' return to New York left New Jersey in American hands.

MILLARD FILLMORE, 13th President, was born January 7th at Locke, New York. Jackson Day (the 8th) is a legal holiday in Louisiana, commemorating the Battle of New Orleans, the last battle of the War of 1812 in 1815.

Alexander Hamilton was born on the 11th, in 1757, in the West Indies. Benjamin Franklin was born on the 17th in 1706 in Boston. Daniel Webster was born on the 18th in 1782 at Franklin (formerly Salisbury), New Hampshire.

ROBERT E. LEE was born on the 19th at Stratford in Virginia in 1807 and his great lieutenant, Stonewall Jackson, was born on the 21st at Clarksburg, West Virginia in 1824. Ohio's first legislature met on the 22nd in 1799.

The 26th is Michigan Day, dating from 1837, when Michigan was admitted to the Union. Douglas MacArthur's birthday is also on the 26th, dating from 1880 (Little Rock) and now a special day in Arkansas.

THE 29th is Kansas Day, commemorating Kansas's admission to the Union in 1861. William McKinley, 25th President, was born at Niles, Ohio, on the 29th in 1843. Thomas Paine's birthday was also on the 29th, in 1737.

Franklin Roosevelt's birthday was the 30th, dated from 1882; he was the 32nd President and the only one elected to the office four times.

PAUL HARVEY Dream House

IT'S A COLD DAY in Muskegon, Mich., today. But if you were to drive out to the 1800 block on Russell Road, you'd see Marsh Anderson hard at work—building a dream house.

The Andersons' other house burned down two years ago. It was not much of a house, but it had more or less sheltered their seven children.

MARSH, UNSKILLED, was unable to get a job that would pay enough to buy a new home. Rents were out of reach on a house big enough for a family of that size.

Somebody mentioned a local Area Skills Training Center where one could learn to do carpenter work.

MARSH INVESTIGATED, enrolled. It took 800 hours of training, but one day Marsh was able to go to work doing painting, home repair, remodeling.

Marsh Anderson worked days on other peoples' houses; evenings—the new knowledge of carpentry was put to work out at 1881 North Russell Road.

Marsh drew up plans for a 10-room house, accumulated building materials as the budget allowed. With no credit available, cash had to come in before materials could be sawed and shaped and nailed into place.

GRADUALLY, the skeleton of Marsh Anderson's dream house began to take shape.

The young Andersons pitched in. The boys, 9, 7, 6, and 3, and the daughters, 14 and 13, took turns caring for the baby and helping wheelbarrow materials. Gradually some of the youngsters learned how to use hand tools.

Marsh says, "Sometimes you stand back and look at that two-by-four studding beginning to HAVING, FOR MORE than a quarter of a century, made New Year's Resolutions with vim, vigor, and zip on January the first and having, for more than a quarter of a century, broken each and every one within a week's time with the same vim, vigor, and zip, this year I decided to be kinder to myself.

I decided to ponder the wisdom of some old sayings that different people have tried to inculcate into my being for more than the same quarter of a century.

ALAS AND ALACK! Under close scrutiny, the old folk sayings just don't hold water, much less wisdom, and I'm glad now I paid them no heed all along.

Take one of my mother's favorite admonitions to me, although in all fairness I'll have to admit I don't blame her. She had to do SOMETHING in self defense, my whistling being about as piercing as a coyote's yowl.

"Whistling girls and cackling

THE FARMER'S Resolutions

By LIBBY MUGGETT

hens, always come to the ends."

ONE OF THE loveliest I know, now an elderly confided to me that she had whistled to herself for years while doing her housework cooking.

Conversely, I ran into a classmate of mine not long ago she confided to me that her husband is the best of the best she was glad she hadn't both been faithful to the other thing she did have her doubts about her fourth husband being faithful to her, although she still confided in him to be the best of the lot.

WITH A RARE flash of insight asked her if she could still be as beautifully as she used to be. She looked astonished and said she must be remembering someone she never had been able to do.

So there you are as far as I can't say about cackling hens. "Early to bed and early to rise make a man healthy, wealthy and wise."

OF THEM ALL, this little holds out the most absolutely promises, downright cruel. I know, I tried it once and ended without one of the three resolutions.

We once had a neighbor farmer that turned in with chickens and got up before cock crowed. He'd start up tractors and irrigation machinery before daylight in anticipation of something or other, although I always had the sneaking suspicion he was just in a rut.

I asked him one day about the state of his health and I never heard such a rundown of evil symptoms, ranging all the way from lumbago to shortness of breath inquired, since he felt so bad the time, why didn't he hire a field work done and he said he was too broke.

AS FOR HIS WISDOM, already taken care of that which told you he was a farmer.

Now for Robert Burns' saying of "Oh would some giftie give us, to see ourselves as others see us."

It is my studied opinion that more people need their noses boosted than need it taken out several notches, which is just seeing yourself as others see you would accomplish.

JUST A PHOTOGRAPH is no confidence shaking, no matter how flattering the pose nor how good the filters used, and a movie of oneself is positively crushing add to these how others see you would be just too much for majority of egos to bear.

"A penny saved is a penny earned."

THAT IS REALLY a bunch of poppycock. Assuming you have an average shopping ability, you usually get what you pay for. Some pennies on a dress and some seams will rip out quicker. Some pennies on furniture and the leg will fall off sooner. Save some pennies on a repairman and you'll be calling him back earlier. And so on.

As for that biggest of all foolery the piggy bank, those little copper discs you drop through the slot of just like your savings bonds—the sit there and lose value while the demon inflation passes them by.

I'LL JUST STICK to my favorite lines from The Rubaiyat which are all too true.

"The Moving Finger writes and having writ Moves on, and all your piety nor wit

Can lure it back to cancel half a line Nor all your tears wash out a word of it."

"Every now and then Fred likes a good home cooked meal!"

Journey To Past

BY EVALYN PARROTT SCOTT

Rocky Ford

Mrs. V. M. Peterman
262-4532

Wayne Carlisle was born Aug. 12, 1888 at Littlefield, Texas. His father, T. C. Carlisle, was born in Georgia and his mother, Elizabeth Jane Crockett, was born in Georgia.

Wayne's father, was the first Postmaster in Littlefield. Later he became engaged in the insurance and undertaking business. He was known to be a lawyer but never practiced the profession; but, was always a leader in his community.

Wayne's son, Wayne, was 17 he wanted to go to be a cowboy—so the Carlisle family moved from Itasca to Midland, in 1906 and set a ranch.

For a few years land in Yoakum County was scarce on the market and opened for leasing. This brought about another move and T. C. Carlisles moved to a ranch nine miles from Plains.

Wayne's father died in 1909 when Wayne was 21 years old. He then took over the management of the family affairs.

Mrs. Carlisle, "Well, he tried very hard to be a good manager, in fact he tried most of his life."

Nell Carpenter and after an extended courtship, the two were married. When Carpenter, he first saw his future wife and a sister were going to town in a wagon and another cowboy were riding along and he "staked his claim" the first time he saw pretty Nell Carpenter riding in that wagon.

Nell Carpenter Carlisle was born in a half acre near Snyder. The Carpenters were also raised horses and cattle. But as they were their main source of livelihood, Mrs. Carlisle was known as "Nesters".

Nell Carpenter, father of Nell, was the sheriff in Yoakum County. He was a very intelligent man and handled the office in a very efficient manner; but it was a very young county and many venturesome people lived there. Nell was a lot of things happening, and as it was associated with her father having to uphold the law, not much of the happenings seemed to her.

Wayne, was a very industrious man with one outstanding characteristic: that was the vision to see things to come, and always ready for changes.

Formally a good businessman, Mrs. Carlisle remembered one slip-up when Wayne was buying and selling steers, and bought a lot of stock cattle for his own. Things didn't go so well in this venture as the drought in 1917 and Wayne moved the herd from Yoakum County to a ranch nine miles from Lamb County.

Not only didn't rain, but the winters of 1917 and 1918 were the coldest in the area of Texas, said Mrs. Carpenter.

In an effort to remedy the situation, Wayne moved south to Midland where his mother had found a pasture near Pyote (between Pecos and Midland) but, before he could get the stock out, almost 100 had died.

Wayne knew most of the ranches in West Texas and New Mexico—and he has always been in the cattle business according to Mrs. Carlisle.

In the fall of 1919 he sent the cows to the stock yard and went to work for the Metropolitan Oil Co. and English Co. near Tampico, N. M. He stayed there, coming home to see his wife and two young daughters at Christmas time.

GOOD POKER PLAYER
Always a good poker player, he did all right over the years. It seemed to Mrs. Carlisle he always had a pocket-full of money.

After saving enough money he went into the oil business in oil fields building rent houses at Crane. It was a tough place but he did hold his own with the toughest.

Later he was engaged in the garage business and owned the business for land in Cochran County, which proved successful, even though he never lived on the ranch and in 1943 he and the Carlisles bought a farm in Lamb County.

Another profitable business Mrs. Carlisle had about, but felt possibly she shouldn't have, after having lived with venturesome

Wayne Carlisle yea, these many years, she decided it was an honorable and decent venture when they operated a warehouse in Pecos, which was the receiving point for a 3/2 Beer Package Co. She held her head high and continued to attend church, in spite of a few unpleasant remarks, and, possibly some sermons from the pulpit. Said Mrs. Carlisle, "Wayne never touched the stuff, and never permitted any of the beverages to be opened on the premises of his warehouse."

As spoken of previously as being a man with vision, Carlisle was also civic-minded and was a delegate chosen to appear before the Texas Legislature to get the price lowered on the sandy-land in Yoakum County.

Mrs. Carpenter tells how she almost muffed the deal when she served lunch to the land appraisers sent out to see about lowering the $10.00 an acre, homestead price, when she served delicious, fresh peaches for dessert. When asked by the appraisers where she managed to get such delicious fruit, of course she had to tell them from their own fruit trees. And, it then took considerable talking to explain the long hours spent in hauling water through the sandy roads to water the trees. Wayne Carlisle was bound and determined to see if he couldn't make the trees grow and bear fruit in such barren land.

States Mrs. Carpenter, "The peaches probably cost us $1 apiece, but Wayne proved his point—that he could raise peach trees even at such a high price."

However, after the land appraisers got their flippers stuck time after time in the deep sand while driving around looking the country over, they reappraised the land at nearly half the original price and probably thought anyone crazy enough to live in such a place should be paid for living there!

The same land today has producing oil wells; and though still plenty sandy, irrigation has made it a fairly profitable farming area. So you can't ever tell what's below "that there" sand!

To Wayne Carlisle farming proved to be his biggest challenge, and after buying land in Lamb County, which now has increased substantially in acreage, he set out to learn to be a good farmer. Although he knew little about farming, Mrs. Carlisle said their farming life has been the happiest since their marriage and he did make a successful farmer, as well as being a good businessman.

(AUTHOR'S NOTE: As Mrs. Carlisle was narrator of the story this writer felt she was a little too modest and that when husband Wayne undertook his many vocations, wife, Nell, was the main sparkplug. She has been honored as having a 53 year perfect driving record and has driven thousands of miles, as husband, Wayne, always turned the wheel over to her when on one of their many trips following his retirement, and on their many business trips.)

Their bought their first car in 1913 and Wayne drive it from Lubbock to Plains over the practically non-existent roads and had never driven a car before! He expected the same thing of wife, Nell, when she took her first spin in helping to attend to business (without husband, Wayne, along.) In other words, this was a couple with get-up and get—and when they decided to—they "Got up and got". What anyone else could do—that could do as good, or better, seemed to be their motto.

The Carlisle children and grandchildren are chips off the old blocks, one has served in the Peace Corps; one as an airline hostess and have participated in various other occupations including school teaching. Both the Carlisle daughters received college educations.

Children are Nell Wayne Bennett of Brownsville (Mrs. Harry Bennett). The Bennett children are Elizabeth and Anthony.

Jesse Edith Self of Denton has children Mary Edith, Jane Ellen and Thomas.

The Carlisle son, Tad, was adopted when a baby, and as his dotting parents were then in their middle years, doubt if he was denied too much.

Tad married Linda Sawyer and their children are Wayne, Beva Jean, William and Stephen. Mr. Carlisle is now deceased.

TEXAS' Auditions For January

Through the first rehearsal five months away, the production of Paul Green's musical, "TEXAS" staged in Palo Duro State Park, will begin rehearsals for this year's auditions in January.

Building, West Texas State University at Canyon. A Feb. 28 audition will be held at the Drama Department at El Centro College in Dallas. A fourth audition will be held in Norman, Okla., and the date has not yet been scheduled.

Directors say they are looking for command of the stage, for a voice that can be heard outdoors and for actors who understand motivation and who can convey a variety of emotions.

The production offers 100 salaried positions. The minimum age is 18.

The 1970 season will be the fifth for this drama of Panhandle history. More than 250,000 persons have seen the show.

Actors must be prepared to give a memorized reading, not to exceed three minutes. They will double as members of the chorus and all must audition for singing as well as acting roles. The "TEXAS" production is outdoors and does not use microphones.

Men and women with ballet, modern dance and/or body movement training are desired. However, experience and training are not required.

Applicants should bring one prepared number which will show the singing voice to its best advantage. An accompanist will be furnished, or the singer may bring his own.

HOLIDAY VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cape and their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Schroeder and sons of Killeen, spent Christmas Day in her parents' home, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wells. Joining the family affair was their other daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shepperd, Steve and Patricia of Abilene and Joe Paul Shepperd of Dallas.

BULA

MRS. JOHN BLACKMAN 933-2328

THE BULA METHODIST Church was the setting for the community Christmas tree Tuesday evening, Dec. 22. The program opened by the pastor Rev. Day giving a welcome and leading in prayer. Mrs. Clyde Hogue read a story "The Unexpected Guest". Edward Clawson read the Christmas story as told by the writer Luke. Rev. Eddie Howard and Mrs. Larry McCain sang a special, "What Child Is This", with Margret Richardson at the piano and Barbara Black accompanying on her flute. The program concluded by the choir, made up of young people, singing "Silver Bells" and "Here Comes Santa Claus". Santa made his appearance bringing gifts to all the little folks and bags of fruit and candy to all present.

MR. AND MRS. C. L. Cannon and Mrs. V. C. Weaver were among the old friends of the John Johnsons who attended the golden wedding observance Sunday hosted by the Johnsons' children in the Y. L. Stock Show Officials Anticipate 'The B'

Officials of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show are optimistic that the 1970 edition's livestock show will go down as one of the best.

The show is scheduled in Fort Worth Jan. 30 through Feb. 8.

With the entry deadline for cattle, horses, sheep and swine already past, the Stock Show staff is at work assorting and cataloging the thousands of entry cards.

Between 10,000 and 11,000 head of stock are entered annually in the 74-year-old show.

"Early indications are that the upcoming show will be a fine one," said W. R. Watt, Stock Show president and manager. "The entries we've looked at so far indicate an exceptionally good beef cattle line-up."

Watt said classes of all major breeds will be shown. Angus, Brahman, Durham (in carcass), Hereford, Polled Hereford, Shorthorn and Gertruds.

Watt reminded exhibitors of poultry and rabbits have until to submit their entries.

Premiums in the livestock show will be more than $134,444. Prizes and entry fees for the show, the horse show and rodeo will exceed $240,000.

The 1970 Stock Rodeo will have Dan "Candy" on the television series, a guest star at performances.

Rodeo tickets are by mail from the Stock Show, P. O. Box 101, Fort Worth, Texas 76101.

"I think we'd better step over to the men's department!"

Indian Tribesmen To Install Chiefs

Tribesmen of the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation will hold the Inaugural Ceremony for the installation of Lifetime Chiefs on Jan. 1, at Texas' only Indian Reservation, 17 miles East of Livingston on U. S. Highway 190.

This is a once in a lifetime occasion seldom witnessed.

Few organized tribes have chiefs as in yesteryear. The last Traditional Tribal Chiefs Ceremony took place in 1936, when Cooper Sylestine was made "Mikko Choba" (Big Chief) and Fulton Battise "Mikko Atakola" (Second Chief).

Chief Cooper Sylestine died in February of 1969 at the age of 89 and Tribal members have selected Fulton Battise as "Mikko Choba" and elections are being held for "Mikko Atakola".

The public is invited to share in the ceremony that will take place in the same manner as performed through hundreds of years of history.

At 10:30 a.m. Jan. 1, Congressman John Dowdy, Senator Charles Wilson, Representative John Hannah, Representative Dave Allred and Texas Indian Commission Chairman Dempse Henley will open the ceremony with welcoming addresses and at 11 a.m. the men of the Clan, the Medicine Man, former "Mikko Se" (Chief) Clem Fain, will be the colorful rituals of the New Chiefs.

After the ceremony, which will be over by noon, a barbecue building, dining room, museum and other activities will be open.

the city for six months is required for voting in city elections.)

Persons convicted of a felony who have not had their right of suffrage restored and persons who are under an adjudgment of mental incompetency cannot vote.

All persons already meeting the requirements for voting listed above must register by Jan. 31, and cannot register after that date.

Persons who become 21 years old by Jan. 31, must register by that date and cannot register later, but persons becoming 21 after Jan. 31 must have been registered at least 30 days before they can vote on the registration.

A person must register as a voter of the county and precinct where he has his permanent residence, and must take application for registration to the county tax assessor-collector.

The husband, wife, father, mother, son, or daughter of a voter may act as the voter's agent in applying for registration if the relative is a qualified voter in the same county. Except for these listed relatives which do not include persons related by marriage (in-laws), no one may act as agent for the voter in applying for registration.

Eat 'Em Mashed Don't Get Smashed

This New Year's eve when you meet Joe Boozer at your front door, hand him a bowl of mashed potatoes.

He must eat them before he wades into the punch bowl because potatoes sponge up liquor and keeps it out of the bloodstream.

"Eat 'em mashed and you won't get smashed," AAA says you should tell Joe.

AAA doesn't say what you should do if Joe smashes the mashed potatoes in your hair.
