STATE ACCREDITATION CHECK

Inspectors Approve Schools

Littlefield schools have been given a clean bill of health by a Texas Education Agency team which examined the school system recently.

A report to Paul I. Jones, superintendent, said "the patrons, school board, administrators and staff members are to be commended for their active response to the educational needs of youth of the district."

The four-man team, which spent several days checking records, facilities, finances, teacher certification, courses of study, etc., came to this conclusion:

"It is recommended that the Littlefield Independent School District be continued as fully accredited for grades 1 through 12."

The report of the accreditation evaluation team was read to the school board at its regular meeting Monday night.

SEVERAL SUGGESTIONS for improvement were made in the report.

It was noted that the Elementary II building was "old and difficult to maintain," and that "room space allotted to junior high industrial arts did not seem to be sufficient."

The inspection team said there seemed to be a need for "an organized physical education program at Elementary I and II campuses. It suggested a "cooperative physical education instructor might be used to develop programs at both campuses, using teacher aides as monitors under supervision of a qualified physical education instructor."

Also, the team recommended the need for junior high laboratory science, saying that facilities are available and some repair and additional materials would be necessary.

SUPT. JONES said the system will implement plans for this 8th Grade science next September.

He added that organized physical education for Elementary I and II campuses is under consideration for "implementation as far as we can go with the personnel available."

Jones said no plans are being considered at present on the criticisms made of the age of the Elementary II building, and that the junior high industrial arts program would have to remain in its present space for the time being.

He said the inspection team's reference to some old teaching materials found at Elementary II was a surprise.

"They just looked in the wrong closet, I guess, because the teaching

Elliott resigned to become an assistant principal at Gadsden High School under Head Coach Jackie Moss, a former assistant at both Littlefield and Olton.

Board Opposes Proposed Forced Consolidation

Littlefield school trustees Monday night took a stand on the Governor's Committee school proposal and authorized Supt. Paul I. Jones to voice their feeling at legislative hearings.

Jones plans to attend a hearing scheduled March 25 in Austin.

The local board took the position of being opposed to forced consolidation of schools, as proposed by the Governor's committee.

Trustees said they believed consolidation should be determined by citizens of the school district involved, and if these citizens were willing to pay the price to have an accredited school, under the proposed set-up, then that community should be allowed to have school.

GO FLY A KITE in an open area rather than under highline wires is the advice of Warren Dayton at Southwestern Public Service Company in Littlefield, and Dick Carl, at the Lamb County REA. Youngsters can ground a kite and are playing around with up to 115,000 volts of electricity in this immediate area if kites should get tangled in the electrical lines. Damp ground and use of any metal in the lead wire or kite tails is doubly dangerous, Dayton and Carl warned.

Hills Honeymoon In Hospital

WILAH RODGERS

Room 235 in the Littlefield hospital is now known as the honeymoon suite.

That's where Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hill spent the first three days of their marriage. And it is the first time in the history of their insurance company that it has financed a honeymoon.

This is the first time the Littlefield hospital admitted a patient under one name and discharged the patient under another name.

All this must go to the defense of Cupid and prove that love conquers all.

Lucy Jane Stoker, 21, of Littlefield, was on her way to Lubbock Tuesday morning to get her hair styled for her wedding and attend a reception in her honor when she was involved in a two-car wreck near Littlefield.

She was taken to the Littlefield hospital for treatment of facial and leg lacerations and internal and external injuries.

Detailed plans had been made for Saturday night wedding in Littlefield, and attending physician Dr. J. Stafford could not persuade the bride to postpone their wedding or to leave the wedding to Littlefield.

After receiving a blood transfusion Saturday afternoon, Jane Stoker was dismissed long enough to attend her wedding and change her name with instructions to return to the hospital immediately after the ceremony.

Young Hill observed the tradition of seeing his bride the day of the wedding until she came down the aisle. He stayed with her at the hospital all day Saturday, and drove to Hereford for the wedding, Mr. Hill said.

"We spent two days figuring out how we were going to get her down the aisle and back in the wheel chair," the bridegroom said.

"We were afraid she wouldn't be able to walk down the aisle," Mrs. Douglas, head nurse said, "but it proved that it was more difficult for her to sit than walk," she laughed.

The new Mrs. Hill was so determined that her wedding go off as planned, that she made it down the aisle to the tune of the wedding march about the aid of the wheelchair, although it was handy in case she would need it.

W. P. Stoker, father of the bride, walked unusually slow and his daughter leaned a little heavily on his arm, but none of the emotion of the beautiful ceremony was lost.

Rev. Lewis Shambek, pastor of the United Methodist Church at Prosper, cut his eight minute double ring ceremony to four minutes.

The newly-wed couple attended the reception only long enough to cut the cake and the bride to feed the groom the first bite of wedding cake.

Then the new father-in-law drove the happy couple back to the hospital here.

"They gave us a larger room," the groom said. "They moved us down to the southeast corner room to the 'honeymoon suite' . . . By that time a larger room was a necessity with all

3-3 VOTE KILLS EXTENSION

Lunch Period Stays Same

A motion to extend the lunch period five minutes at Littlefield High School failed Monday night as school trustees deadlocked in a 3-3 vote.

The split resulted in a continuation of the present 35-minute lunch period now in effect throughout the school system.

Trustees left the door ajar, however, for the subject to be brought up again. Several board members indicated they would consider the question another time if approached "in the right way."

The issue came up several weeks ago when a high school student wrote the Leader-News protesting the shortness of the lunch period.

Later a straw poll was conducted by the newspaper, with parents asked to make one of two choices: (1) "I favor the present 35-minute lunch period," or (2) "I favor a longer time for lunch period."

RESULTS OF THE POLL were announced to the board Monday night by Leader-News Publisher Bill Turner as follows:

--225 favoring a longer time for lunch period.

--- 6 preferring the present 35-minute period.

"I think it is clear," Turner told the board, "that people who are satisfied with the present lunch period did not respond to the straw vote. At the same time, I believe there is enough public sentiment for the longer period for it to be considered."

Turner also asked for the results of a poll taken among high school students Monday.

Supt. Jones said the students were asked if they would favor a longer the wedding gifts that had been brought to the hospital.

The bridegroom lived at Littlefield when he was a young child, and relatives and a number of friends brought presents to the couple.

The bridegroom made numerous trips to the wagon with the gifts when Mrs. Hill was transferred to a Hereford hospital late Monday.

"I hope I don't have to stay in the Hereford hospital but one more day," the bride said. "We may get to go on our honeymoon one of these days."

Ballot Order Set

Lunch Period Stays Same

lunch period if it meant a longer school day.

"The results were about half and half," the superintendent said. He explained that about half the students voted yes and half voted no.

THE LEADER-NEWS Tuesday morning asked Beryl Harris, high school principal, for results of the poll. He reported the final count, made by students, as 162 in favor of a longer lunch period, and 152 to leave the lunch period "as is."

Harris later reported a poll of high school teachers with the following results: 1 for lengthening the lunch period, 2 abstained, 24 for keeping the lunch period at 35 minutes.

Harris said he was "still not convinced there's a problem" connected with the students eating in the time allotted.

"There was an instance or two last fall of the cafeteria running out of food and some youngsters being served late, but in a case like that, an excused tardy is given if this situation makes a student late to class," he said.

Harris also said that a student with a health problem, such as ulcers, could have his study hall schedule arranged near the noon hour so that he could have more time to eat.

AFTER RESULTS of both polls were announced at the Monday night board meeting, Trustee Calvin Price moved that the high school lunch period be lengthened five minutes by having school begin five minutes earlier.

Included in the motion at first was Yantis, Lamar Kelly, Leroy Maxfield, Bennie Harmon and Jomery Harmon.

Among those from out-of-town attending were Mrs. Byron Chappell and daughter Candace of Lubbock, the honoree's grandmother, Mrs. Pearl Jones, Mrs. Kenneth Braoddees, and daughters Becky and Kynne of Littlefield and Mrs. Pat Smiley of Lubbock and Mrs. Joe Embry of Littlefield.

The Jones-Chappell wedding will be Saturday, March 15, at 3 p.m. in the chapel of the First Christian Church in Lubbock.

Grimes-Day Wedding Held

AMHERST—Miss Susan Grimes, daughter of Mrs. Veta Tadlock of Ruidoso and Cecil Grimes of Hobbs, N. M., and Steven Ray Day, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Day of Ruidoso Downs, N. M., were married in the First Christian Church in Ruidoso Monday, March 3, with Rev. Kenneth Cole officiating.

The bride wore a street-length white lace dress with shoulder length veil.

Her attendant was Mrs. Dana Stevenson, a former roommate at Eastern New Mexico University.

Steve Long served the bridegroom as best man.

A reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the Church.

The refreshment table was laid with a white lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink rose buds and pink velvet trim.

The couple is now at home in Ruidoso. Both will continue school.

Susan will be remembered in Amherst as the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Payne.

What The Leader-News Thinks

There's More To Come

What is our reaction to the verdict reached by school trustees on the lunch period?

We don't agree with the decision, but we'll defend their right to make it, and any other decision which the board feels is in the best interest of the school system.

Regardless of that, a lot of good already has come out of the lunch period issue.

The school board has reminded every citizen of the chain of command it feels should be followed by people who want to make suggestions, or complain.

Students have been asked to take their ideas through the student council.

Parents have been asked to discuss their problems, or their children's problems, with their school principals.

But there is a right of appeal for anyone, student or parent, who wishes to go higher.

Any person or group not satisfied with the principal's explanation, answer, or decision, may then appeal to the superintendent. From there, a person may appeal directly on the school board.

If this line of communication becomes well understood, and established, then the hassle over the lunch period has been of value.

If the issue has reminded teachers and administrators that they should listen, and be open, to suggestions from anyone, then the quarrel has been of value.

If the straw vote encouraged people to express themselves about school, then it, too has been of value.

If our expression of opinion has made people think, regardless of the view at which they arrived, then it, too, has been of value.

As for us, we'll keep right on expressing our opinion, about things large and small, about the things which affect Littlefield and the area.

And we think people ought to pay attention.

One of these days we're liable to come up with a good idea.

Rejoice!

By LIBBY MUGGETT

OH YE country people, rejoice! For ye are blessed and fortunate.

Run outside, grab a handful of earth and give a mighty shout.

Prune thy rosebushes with thankfulness.

Burn off thy tumbleweeds with gratefulness.

Sharpen thy lawnmower blades and be glad.

PAY THY chemical weed killer bill with cheerfulness.

For the grass will soon turn green and grow.

The trees will bud, leaf out and give shade.

The seeds will soon be sown and the earth will give forth her miracles.

AND YOU, THOU LUCKIEST OF PEOPLES, CAN SEE THESE TREASURES!

Low income'd ye may be, but thou art rich indeed.

AND RICHER yet if ye know these things.

For the forerunner of the "vertical city" is here.

In Chicago.

The 100-story John Hancock Center.

(Yea, thy land payments probably helped build it.)

It only cost $95 million.

ANNUALLY, it will return to the insurance company $7 1/2 million.

Live there.

Work there.

Eat there.

Shop there.

Bank there.

Yea verily, all in this one building.

FIVE FLOORS are for a bank, a brokerage office and retail shops.

Seven floors are for parking space.

Truly, there will be 1,200 automobiles there.

Office space will take up twenty-eight floors.

There is a barber shop, drugstore and other services for residents.

705 apartments there are.

A ONE BEDROOM unit goes for $220 monthly.

Three bedroom spreads get $775.

The top eight floors will be restaurants.

Our city brothers plan to eat a lot, for what else will there be to do?

Thinkest thou they shall be amongst the stars?

HOW WILL THEY KNOW, for they cannot see.

Black smoke dimmeth their vision.

Cry for these people, for they shall forget what nature is.

They strive and fight to live in a modern, sanitary ghetto.

The only green they will see will be money.

And they know not they will cease to live and only exist.

HOW WILL THEY know when summer is nigh?

Will they forget how to walk?

Oh ye ruralites of the low income area!

Rejoice, and again I say, rejoice!

Put thy foot on the earth and be happy.

WATCH THE SNOW fall and be glad.

Smell the deep broken land and be thankful.

Hear the wind blow and be grateful.

For the day may come when they will be only a memory to thee.

And thou wilt longest for them again.

AND PRAY TO SEE the moon, the stars or the sun

And green countryside

Or just a tree or a bush.

And mayhap thou wouldst settle for even a sandstorm.

Columns Always Open

Occasionally we are asked why we print letters which are critical in nature.

We feel a free press is an informed public, and that every reader is just as entitled to state his opinion as we are to give ours.

It has been the policy of this newspaper in recent years to accept all letters that are signed. But we also will refuse to print any letter which we believe to be libelous.

Our columns are always open to anyone who writes a letter to the editor.

The fact that a letter is printed does not mean we necessarily agree with the opinion that is given.

We made a vow when we adopted this policy of letter printing that we would not take advantage and have the last word in the edition in which a letter appears.

As an example, we don't agree with the writer who knocked the coaching of the Springlake-Earth Wolverettes in Sunday's issue.

But our columns are open to that person or anyone else who has something to say, be it praise or disapproval of our government and public officials, county, schools, etc.

The ground rules to remember are: (1) Letters are printed as space permits, with shorter letters having a better chance of being printed on time, than those which are extremely long, (2) All letters must be signed, and (3) The name of the writer will be withheld from publication upon request, although the letter will be kept on file for inspection by anyone who wishes to see it.

Some of our best writers are the people who write us letters, and we are happy to provide a forum from which they may air their opinions.

Overran Headlights

MAYBE JIM GARRISON made an honest mistake. It was a pretty stupid mistake, but even a district attorney is entitled to at least one of those.

But Garrison's effort to cover up his own blunder with sustained persecution and an abortive prosecution of innocent citizens constitutes an inexcusable abuse of his office.

PERHAPS, in the beginning, the New Orleans district attorney sincerely believed there had been a "conspiracy to assassinate President Kennedy."

It's obvious now that he based that suspicion on hearsay accounts of "threats". That's where he overran his headlights.

In the weeks following the Bay of Pigs debacle—when U. S. airpower was withheld and Free Cuba invading forces were slaughtered and captured by Castro—three was much anger and resentment among Cuban refugees and their friends in the United States.

WHEREVER THEY got together, in Miami or New Orleans, many, after a drink or two, expressed resentment in words. I dare say many volatile Latins may have repeated the phrase, "Somebody'd ought to kill so-and-so."

Such an utterance does not constitute a "conspiracy," and any man—certainly any attorney—should have known that.

Yet such a remark was the principle basis for Dist. Atty. Garrison's subsequent attempt to prosecute a prominent New Orleans businessman, Clay Shaw.

GARRISON'S STAR WITNESS, Perry Russo, had so little recollection of the conversation he thought he had overheard that his memory had to be prodded with hypnosis.

And then, on the witness stand, Russo admitted that he, himself, had never considered the conversation he'd overheard to constitute a plot to kill anybody.

HE DID NOT EVEN consider the conversation serious, "else I would have reported it to police at the time."

He could not even be sure that the defendant, Clay Shaw, was a party to the conversation he thought he'd overheard.

As the Garrison "case" began to crumble, Russo conceded that it was "the most blowup and confused thing" he'd ever seen.

BY NOW YOU KNOW the rest of the story.

But what of Garrison? What of the district attorney who publicly labeled men guilty—forcing them to prove themselves innocent—in a courtroom travesty diametrically contradicting the very fundamentals of jurisprudence? Garrison deserves, at least, an official slap across the mouth!

LAWYERS ARE ALWAYS reluctant publicly to reject one of their own, but if the American Bar Assn. does not take appropriate action in publicly reprimanding Garrison, then, Louisiana politics being what they are, he may yet convince enough voters that the "conspirators in Washington" withheld vital evidence. And that he, the persecutor, is the persecuted.

Then, on a pile of old newspapers, this man who disgraces his office may climb to new political heights.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Restore Again

By BOB WEAR

WE MUST NEVER adopt the faulty view that we can establish a life-pattern, a family, an educational program, a community, an institution, a state or a nation; and maintain the status quo.

This, however, is not discouraging.

Our hope is not in maintaining the status quo; but in accepting, as a working principle, the process of "restoring again".

RESTORATION includes the ideas of re-establishment; putting back into existence or use; repairing; renewing; or reconstructing.

The life process itself, for each person, is one of restoration.

This should help us fully understand and accept it as a working principle in all aspects of the life situation.

A FULL UNDERSTANDING of the power and the possibilities of reconstruction will help overcome much of the discouragement and defeatism which are doing so much to devitalize us.

We must restore again, and again, and again.

ALMOST EVERY ELEMENT of living may be weakened, depreciated or even lost. In most instances, however, this is not the end; unless we want it to be.

To some degree, everyone of these elements can be restored, re-established, repaired or renewed.

Some can be restored to the highest possible level of usefulness.

A LOST LIFE CAN often be restored; oftentimes health can be restored; declining moral standards can be restored; and time-tested principles of law and order can be restored.

The inner man must be restored or renewed each day. From the highest source of knowledge, "We do not become discouraged, utterly spiritless, exhausted, and wearied out through fear."

Though our outer man is progressively decaying and wasting away, yet our inner self is being progressively renewed day after day.

restored. In fact, we must never forget the almost unbelievable possibilities available through restoration.

Although we may not be able to maintain everything as we wish, we can restore (to some extent) almost everything.

DIVINE HISTORY, referring to a time long past, presents the following language of restoration.

"And they that shall be of thee shall build the old waste places; you shall raise up the foundations of many generations; and you shall be called, The repairer of the breach, The restorer of paths to dwell in."

THE POSSIBILITIES of restoration are very real, and much of our strength and hope must find root in this knowledge. We must, therefore, always be involved in restoring.

This view is an integral part of reality, and is the basis for dynamic human experiences.

WE MUST NOT BECOME defeatists. In most instances, something can be done.

The point is—We must plan and work with the enthusiasm that there are many possibilities for re-establishing, and repairing, and renewing, and reconstructing.

This refers to both people, and the devices and institutions and things essential to the needs of people.

IT HELPS US TO REALIZE that, in the realm of God's universe, we can see restoration working. The grass turns green and grows again. The trees put forth another delightful covering of leaves.

The flowers are restored and bloom again to share their beauty.

WE MUST RESTORE many things, too. Let us not be discouraged or defeated when much that is desirable and needed seems to be lost. We can renew, re-establish, reconstruct and bring back into existence and profitable use.

DEAR EDITOR

What Our Readers Think

Spoke Only For Self

To Editor Lamb County Leader:

In reply to the letter of one Springlake-Earth fan which indicated that his views were that of the public, please print our letter.

We feel that this matter should be strictly local and has no business being aired before the entire County. We feel that the gentleman (?) who wrote this letter spoke only for himself and certainly not the entire community. We feel that he has done our community a disservice. No true basketball fan loves only a winning team. We think as much of our kids as losers as we do when they are winners.

It must be fun to win everything in life, but as far as we know, none has ever been able to do this; and why some expect our Basketball girls and Coach to do the impossible is something we cannot understand.

Our girls have a very impressive record in Basketball and instead of sitting around moaning about what they didn't do, we should be proud of what they have done. How many other schools can match a record like theirs?

Also, who can say who is at fault? For that matter, why should anyone have to be held totally responsible for their losses? Could it not be a series of things rather than one certain thing?

We as fans had gotten the idea that we were going to State again this year and nothing could stop us. However, there are 5 teams in our district, a Bi-District team and 2 Regional teams who had every intention of stopping us and they also thought they were going to be the STATE CHAMPIONS.

We may not agree with everything the coaches have done, but we are not hired to do their job; and Thank Goodness for that. They are trained in that field, and we are not. They may not be the very best in their field, but which of us can say we are the very best in our chosen field? We seem to forget they are human and also like to win. Who will honestly say that any coach does not care and will

Time's Tarnished

Dear Editor: An item of general interest in these times of "pots calling the kettle black":

"Good, bad or indifferent, doctors are doing well financially. Their incomes have skyrocketed and approached escape velocity with the passage of Medicare and for some states, Medicaid. In 1961, the average doctor, after office and other professional expenses, netted $25,000. By 1965, it was up to $28,000, and last year it reached $34,000.

Thus, last month, did "Time" join those who seem to think that physicians live and work in an economy separated from that of the rest of the nation.

Physicians, in fact, are practicing as part of the same economy which saw Time, Inc., "Time's" parent company, report net earnings after taxes of $8,705,000 in 1961. By 1965 Time, Inc.'s net earnings after taxes were up to $33,544,000, and last year's earnings are estimated again to have exceeded $30 million.

Anyone interested in economic trends will spot one in "Time's covers". It cost a physician 100% more in February, 1969 to buy "Time" so that the patients in his waiting room could read, "What's Wrong With U. S. Medicine", than it did in July, 1961, to buy "Time" for his patients to read, "Higher Cost of Better Medicine—How Should It Be Paid For?"

Behind Their Co

Dear Editor:

We thought you might be interested in the feelings of ones who are actually associated with our coach.

Coach Clynych is not a great coach, but a friend to person that plays under. He's not like some coaches just care about their team; they're on the playing court takes a personal interest in single member of the team, starter or not. He's not interested in his own player's youth in general. Anyone has attended a Wolverette Wolverine game can see evidence of this. Anytime a player is injured, ours or our opponent's, Coach is always there to help.

We also have something to say in regard to Coach's "Tooth Chewing." It's just a bad habit, and the reason is nervous because he wants teams to win. Anyone who respects or admires a person, he will pick up some of that person's habits or traits. Anyone will take a good look around the campus Springlake-Earth High School they will notice a bunch of "Toothpick Chewing Studs."

The losses of the Wolverettes and the Wolverines can't be blamed only on our coach; we have to be blamed on the players themselves. All a coach can do is instruct his team how to play and then it's up to the individual players. So maybe you can say that our team's losses were only Coach's fault, but actually our own weaknesses.

Drugstore coaching is a problem which will always be present. These people think they know more than a man who has trained and highly qualified in his position. Sure, a coach can make some mistakes, but does everyone? Our coach sometimes tells us that his decision in previous game may be what it. Now you can't tell us that that doesn't show the character of a dedicated and concerned coach.

This letter could go on for a while but we believe that you have enough information to reveal feelings about a man that is unmistakably called "Coach."

WE REQUEST THAT YOUR NAME NOT BE WITHHELD. Wolverettes and Wolverines 1968-69.

THE SKAT

OFFICIAL LHS NEWSPAPER

March, Busy Month

From a glance at the calendar, March appears to be a very busy month around LHS. A host of spring activities will fill the schedules of everyone.

The annual bake sale was held the sixth. Auctioneer Gene Bitner sold cakes to the highest bidders to bring in more than $200 for the Athletic Banquet. Cakes of all shapes and sizes were prepared by the Varsity football players. One dandy sold for $21.

The Athletic Banquet is coming up this Saturday.

The Student Council has planned something special for the first all-school banquet. Dick Todd, an All-American from A&M who later played for the Washington Redskins, will be the featured speaker.

Subscriptions for the 1969 WILDCAT will go on sale this week. The staff is busy meeting its first deadline the 21st of this month. The price of the annual has been raised to meet printing costs. Early orders will be taken for $6.50.

UIL contestants are busy preparing for their respective events for the spring district meet in Snyder on the 29th. All are in hopes of bringing several first place awards home.

And of course, seniors are burning that midnight oil over their research papers which are due right after the Easter holidays (and that isn't too long, gang!). Juniors have their fair share to do with American history themes and biographical booklets.

Just keep in mind that if you can last through this month, you will only have eight weeks to go. Good luck!

Saint Patrick's Day, Monday

Monday will bring something besides moans and groans next week.

Monday will be Saint Patrick's Day with all of its green clothing and shamrocks.

There's a little Irish in almost everyone and the Irish always celebrate Saint Patrick's Day with great enthusiasm.

When we celebrate Saint Patrick's Day, we are actually celebrating the day on which Saint Patrick died in 461. Saint Patrick lived a very adventuresome life. When he was only 10 he was captured by pirates and spent six years as a slave. He later escaped and became a monk. In 432 he began doing mission work in Ireland and in doing so, founded approximately 300 churches and was responsible for baptizing about 120,000 people in his lifetime.

GORDAN SORLEY is one of the eight annual students trying to meet the annual copy deadline, March 24. The annual went on sale this week at $6.50 and will continue to be sold at this amount until May 14 when it will be raised to $7.00. There are 204 pages in this year's annual which will include an eight page autograph section.

ALLEN WILLIAMS, student council member, and Quinn McKinnon, president of the student council, aid Gene Bitner in auctioning off the cakes. The bake sale was held Thursday, March 6, in the high school gym. Proceeds from the sale were more than $200.

Honor Society Officers Named

By JUNNIE GRAY
Monday, March 10, a meeting of the National Honor Society was held. It took place before school in Mrs. Lynn's classroom.

During the meeting the second semester officers were chosen. Rosendo Soria was elected to the office of president; Cathy Barton will serve as vice-president; Geofre Grizzle serves as publicity director, Carla Chambers serves as secretary, and Elaine Tiller holds the position of treasurer.

At the meeting they discussed plans for the induction of new members, which was held Wednesday, March 12. More than 20 new members were inducted into the National Honor Society. For the ceremony, different people were assigned committees to work on.

Connie Wimberley was put in charge of the refreshments. Pat Hinds brought the Cokes, and Jane Hyatt was in charge of the punch.

The tablecloths were borrowed from the home economics department. Several speeches were made at the induction, including Cathy Barton who presented a speech concerning character, Elaine Tiller who presented a speech on the art of being helpful, Carla Chambers who spoke on the subject of leadership and Geofre Grizzle who presented a speech on scholarships.

Only 52 more school days left.

QUESTION: If you had one wish that would you wish for, besides other wishes?

Kay Harp (Sr.)—"I wish I could have a walnetta all my own and a ding-a-ling on the other side."

Gary Houk (Sr.)—"I would wish for an 'A' in senior English."

Wendell Ashley (Sr.)—"Money and a 'C' average in English, government, biology, data processing, and general business. (that's all)."

Bruce Timian (Sr.)—"I wish I could skip out on senior English the rest of the year."

Sandle Evans (Sr.)—"I'd wish for peace and harmony all over the world."

Eva Tucker (Sr.)—"Making 'A's' on my biographical booklet."

Lynn Powell (Sr.)—"I would wish for a year to pass in two days."

Vicki Cook (Sr.)—"I wish I had my biographical booklet turned in in English, and my research paper for American history with 'A' on both of them."

Mary Tucker (Soph.)—"My one wish would be that whatever I strived for and achieved to be, I could be successful. Some of the things I strive and try to make successful really need a wish to come true."

Lanet Gilley (Sr.)—"To go to Heaven."

Becky Kirby (Soph.)—"I wish I was cupid so I could make all my friends happy."

Carol King (Sr.)—"Many people have someone to come home to. I just wish my mother didn't have to work all of the time, and I also wish I still had my father. I know it was planned to be like this, but I just wish I could have a family once again. I am not regretting anything. I only hope I can repay my mother for just half of the wonderful things she has done for me. Wealth, fame, nor fortune, can replace the love of a mother and father."

(Editor's note: Our response to last week's question was so tremendous that we did not have space to print all of the replies. This week we decided to voice the other answers we had to the question, "Do you think that teenagers as a whole hold much respect for their country?")

David Conway (Sr.)—"Yes, I do. A person can tell they do by the way they talk about patriotic activities. It may seem they don't, but if you know the kids, then you can tell. All of those that protest are a very small majority; they just happen to get the spotlight. Nothing is said about the other 99.7 percent that respect their country, and especially, its flag. I believe teenagers have very much respect for their country. I do."

Vicki Cook (Sr.)—"Yes, I know the teenagers hold respect for their country. People think the teenagers that are rebelling and causing a lot of trouble are the majority. They are not!!! We teenagers are very proud of our country and we are willing to fight for the right to be an American which stands for freedom."

Emery Waters (Sr.)—"I believe that the teenagers in our area are the most respectful adolescents one could find. But, in order to get a look at the teenagers as a whole we have to leave our area and see what is happening elsewhere. According to a survey taken by a private enterprise, more teenagers show disrespect for their country than respect. These are the 'big shots', the publicity seekers that never had a switch taken to their breeches. Just look at the teenagers that disrupt schools. Some 40% of all teenagers now finish high school. This leaves 60% that do not respect a free education, given by the government, enough to take advantage of it. As a whole, teenagers do NOT have governmental respect. But, congratulations and Happy Lives to those who do."

Gay Nicholas (Sr.)—"The biggest part of the country's teenagers DO respect their country, but only the small minority of rebellious teenagers receive any publicity. Only those who burn draft cards and lead riots make the news, not the many teenagers who are fighting for their country's freedom."

Debbie Steffy (Sr.)—"As a whole the teenagers of America have a great deal of respect for their great country. The protesters, who are only a few, get more recognition than the majority who cause no trouble. There have been protesters since the world began, but now the great reaches of television exploit the actions. They had protesters during the American Revolution, but that didn't stop their men, many still teenagers, from fighting the British. The protesters have been here through all the wars, just not brought to public notice as they are today. The teenager of today does respect his country, just ask any teenager fighting for freedom in Vietnam."

WHAT DO YOU plan to do after graduation? (College and major or career plans.)

Roy Burk—"Go to Tech next fall. Undecided on major."

Benni Burrows—"I plan on working for a while when I get out of school and then later on, maybe going to L.C.C."

Danny Bulter—"Go to Texas Tech. I plan to major in geology. I would like to receive my masters degree and work for an oil company as field geologist."

Carla Chambers—"After a nice long summer, I plan to attend West Texas State University. My probable major is educational psychology."

Dennis Chambers—"I plan to attend Texas Tech and major in some phase of engineering."

Pat Chandler—"After graduation I plan to get a summer job. I plan on going to college and majoring in pre-nursing, psychology, medical technology, or audio therapy. My first year in college will definitely decide my major in one of these fields. Still undecided as to choice of college."

Beverly Chisholm—"I plan to attend West Texas State University this coming fall and take my pre-nursing courses and then finish my major at another college after two years at WT."

David Chronister—"Become manager of a station."

Gayle Clayton—"I intend to go to Amarillo Junior College for one year and then go to North West Texas School of Nursing in Amarillo for two years and become an R.N. I hope to go to West Texas State University and get my B.A. in Science and then teach nursing at a nursing school."

David Conway—"I plan to enter Texas Tech as a pre-med student this summer. After finishing there I plan to go to the University of Texas as a med student. I may specialize after that, probably in obstetrics if I do. But I may decide to be an ordinary 'general practitioner' (Hopefully)."

New Business Club Hears Lfd. Lawyer

By JUANITA SAMANIEGO

Ted Sansom was the guest speaker at a business club meeting which was held Wednesday, March 5. Mr. Sansom is a prominent lawyer and a partner in a Littlefield law firm.

He spoke to the members about business careers such as secretarial jobs, receptionists, and bookkeepers.

Mr. Sansom stressed the fact that the business courses taught in high school can be very instructive and profitable.

By taking courses such as typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping, a person can already have substantial education and skill for an immediate job.

Mr. Sansom pointed out that attending a business school would further advance a person in a specific field of work that he might have in mind. It was stated, however, that a business school has its advantages and disadvantages.

LHS Rates Over Others

By MIKE MOULDIN

The first impression I had of Littlefield High School was, and still is, good. The people here are much nicer than in any of the seven California schools which I have attended.

In California the upper classmen are unbearable to live with. The courses offered here are much harder (as proved by my science grade). California schools offered one assembly a month and a fifty-five minute lunch period every day.

THE BEAT GOES ON

By MILYNDIA MORRIS

I am sitting here in my room. Clothes and hair curlers are strewn all over the place. I admit it's not a very good atmosphere to think in, but since I'm two days late with this editorial, I'll just have to force myself to concentrate.

If this little piece of enlightenment had a title it would be "The Lesser of Two Evils."

This tricky little title came to me Saturday when I had to choose between watching a golf match or a basketball game on T.V.

Now, don't get me wrong, I like basketball, but somehow after our season, I'd really prefer watching something else. I must admit, I'm not really an avid golf fan.

This "Lesser of Two Evils" thing can apply to almost everything.

Supper at our house—cheese sandwich or balony sandwich. Homework—trig or English. Facing the world tomorrow with that hair or sleeping on curlers. Sitting at home or taking a chance in that blue bomb.

"The Lesser of Two Evils" can apply to some things you may never have thought of. Fight in Vietnam or live in communism. Pay your income tax or let the government cease to function.

Maybe another way to think about it would be "Making a Decision for the Best."

I attended a high school in Stockton, Calif., which was run on the modular system. Every period was 13 minutes long. The instructor decided a week in advance how long the period would be according to how much work there was to do. Schedules were changed every week.

Of the six junior high and high schools that I have attended, only one was really a troubled school. This was in the San Francisco Bay area.

All in all, I would say that LHS is better than any of the schools I attended in California.

GUESS WHO! This week's guess who is a 5'4" Junior. She has brown hair and brown eyes.

Students Attend Vocational Day

LHS students attended a vocational day at South Plains Wednesday, March 5.

Attending the career day were Marion Andrews, Karen Bridges, Scarlett Hatley, Gaylon Mills, Rufus Ramirez, David Roden, Leroy Smith, Rosendo Soria, Darold White and counselor, Mrs. Jo Ann Jordan.

Before the students left Wednesday morning, they chose some areas of special interest to them.

The students went on a schedule basic which included: registration and tours in the Texan Dome; visit of two departments to talk with the instructors and industrial consultants; visit of two areas of interest; lunch; attended a general session with all the faculty. The general session was in the interest of agri-business.

LHS Teachers Are Honored At Breakfast

Early Wednesday morning, LHS teachers were honored at the annual Teacher Appreciation Breakfast, sponsored by Future Teachers of America. FTA members served sweet rolls and coffee.

The breakfast was served buffet style and the teachers were free to help themselves. Judy Diersing was in charge of the committee that brought the food.

Happiness Is ..

YOU

What is happiness? Happiness is you. Happiness is a little corny, doesn't it? You probably haven't ever thought about being a big blob of joy, have you? A 'big blob of joy' may sometimes make you make your way around in this world if it's falling down accidentally on the sidewalk or turning over backwards in your chair, you being a little bit of sunshine to someone, somehow, anyway! It'll bring a smile to peoples' faces if you're not trying to be that 'big blob of joy'.

Sometimes there are wise 'joy blobs' that can bring happiness by just a simple rock in front of a locker or dropping their heavy books (and scattering an those high papers) going up the stairs! Those are the kind of 'joy blobs' to envy!!

Kathy Turner

Whatever kind of 'joy blob' you are, make sure you're a good one!!

Monday, the freshman volleyball team went to Pep!

The girls came home with another victory!

They will be in the Pep tournament this Friday and Saturday, so GOOD LUCK girls and bring home a trophy!

The age of chivalry is not dead. If a teen-age girl drops one of her books, almost any boy will kick it back to her.

Carolyn Gray—"I'd like to see them land a man on the moon, wouldn't you?"

Sharon Gray—"I could care less—I'm still waiting to land a man on earth."

Last Friday, the junior high band went to Hale Center for the "Band Festival". They came home with a trophy for their concert and a plaque for their sight-reading.

CONGRATULATIONS!!!

On April 27, the band will go to contest. We want to wish them the best of luck in bringing home two 'Ts'!!!

Ralph Sherlock Funk—"Oh, McCary, you're still wearing your long winter underwear."

McCary—"Marvelous, Sherlock, marvelous. How did you deduce that?"

Ralph Sherlock—"Elementary, my dear McCary, you've forgotten to put on your trousers."

Unfortunately, the track meet at Plainview last Saturday was called off, but this Saturday there IS a track meet at Hereford.

Let's go watch our guys "take" the track meet! Show your spirit in wishing them GOOD-LUCK!!

Mary Davidson has been griping lately because her dad always tells her to be in by 10:30 p.m. on her dates. When she complained that she was no longer a child, her dad merely said, "I know. That's why I want you home by 10:30."

The driver's ed. class is off to a "crashing" start! They are meeting after school now and are paying very close attention to everything Mrs. Pylant says. (Sure!) They will be great drivers, just like the first class. (There's another laugh!) Anyway, there's always hope!

A mother skunk and her young ones were being chased by a pack of wolves. After a long run, the skunk family was finally cornered. Finding no other solution, the mother turned to her brood and solemnly said, "Let us spray."

Have a good week, and remember..... Early to rise, Early to bed, Makes a man healthy, But socially dead.

WHILE SPADE GUARDS Carole Stubblefield and Bonnie Thompson held this Quitaque forward from shooting, Gloria Johnson sneaked in and stole the ball from her, during the Spade-Quitaque game Saturday evening at Levelland. Spade lost the third-place contest, 58-49.

Spade's valiant girls basketball team probably suffered their coldest shooting game of the season Saturday night, and were edged by Quitaque, 58-49, for third place in the Region 1 tournament at Levelland.

Their shooting was far below their normal percentages, and loyal fans compared their luck with the temperatures of recent evenings... "Frosty, Man, Frosty."

Following the Spade-Quitaque game, Klondike beat Follett, 64-58, for the regional championship and a ticket to this weekend's state tournament. Klondike knocked Spade into the losers bracket Saturday morning, 60-37.

The loss, which gave Spade an outstanding 30-8 season record under new coach Larry Morris, was not given up easily by the hard-playing Spade girls, nor was it taken lightly.

Probably a major factor in the outcome was the ailing leg of Spade's top scorer, junior Belinda Thompson. She had suffered a sore thigh muscle most of the season, and the tension and demand put on the leg in the two-day, three-game tournament was just too much for it.

However, the spunky 5-2 forward still managed 21 points, with only one field goal in the entire last half.

Senior Joella Myers had 14 points and sophomore Christy Adams the same.

Quitaque threw up a stiff defense against the Lamb Club. Shots were hard to get off, and many that looked like they would drop through the hoop consistently rolled off or bounced off.

The victors jumped to a strong 8-0 lead before Adams finally sank a layup with 5:41 remaining in the first period. But a really late in the quarter brought the Spade team to a 15-15 tie with 12 seconds remaining, only to see that broken in Quitaque's favor, 17-15, the last four seconds.

Spade matched its first-period point production, 15 points, but Quitaque pounded the nets for 24, making the halftime score 41-30.

The third quarter found both clubs cold, with Spade collecting only six points, but Quitaque even colder, getting but five, 46-36.

Quitaque stepped up its shooting in the final period, and built its lead to 15 points with five minutes remaining in the game. But Spade's rally cut that to nine points by the final buzzer.

Sherry Stark finished as the game's high scorer, hitting 25 points for Quitaque.

No player on either team fouled out, though Spade had 15 personal fouls as a team, and Quitaque had 12.

This was the second consecutive year Spade has advanced as far the Regional tournament.

They had advanced in the winner's bracket in the win Friday at Lakeview, 71-59.

It was the final game for the graduating seniors, Myers, Carole Stubblefield, Jackie Nix and Gloria Johnson. The latter three are starting guards for Spade.

SPADE		QUITAQUE
Player	Pts	Player	Pts
Thompson	21	Cheatham	25
Myers	14	Stark	15

Babe Ruth Displaces Colt, Pony Leagues COWAN IS PRESIDENT

Clayton Cowan was elected president of the newly-organized Babe Ruth League during a meeting here Monday night.

The new league, which was approved by an approximate 3-1 vote, will be in a district which includes Levelland, Lamesa, Brownfield, Denver City, Slaton, Post, Tri-City (Morton, Sundown and Whiteface), Tahoka and Lubbock. Littlefield, Tahoka and Lubbock are all adopting Babe Ruth this year for the first time.

Babe Ruth now replaces Colt and Pony League here, and 16-year-olds will go into American Legion.

Other officers named were Winston Cummings, vice president; Bobby Short, secretary; Paul Hyatt, treasurer; and Gene Pratt, player agent.

Cowan immediately called for another meeting of all last year's Pony and Colt League coaches and officials, as well as parents of boys 13 through 15, to be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Pioneer Natural Gas building Flame Room.

Cowan emphasized that the meeting is open to the public, and anyone interested in boys baseball is more than welcome at the meeting.

Dick Amos, district director from Lamesa for Babe Ruth, was at the meeting to explain its program and answer questions.

He said the new league would have plenty of time for sanctioning with the international association. This is the largest youth baseball program in the world, he pointed out.

One point that seemed to make a turning point for those who voted, was when Amos told of the annual district tournament for 13-year-olds only from the Babe Ruth Leagues in the district.

Much of the meeting's time, which was moderated by Arthur Summers, was taken up by the discussion of the possible withdrawal from the Littlefield Baseball Association by the Little League.

Tuesday, Little League president Bob Bromlow announced his group would have to separate from the Association, in accordance with the national organization's rules. Details on that story are elsewhere on this page.

Mile Relay Team Leads Wildcats

The proud Wildcat mile relay team led Littlefield to sixth place in Saturday's track and field meet at Denver City.

Four of the nine schools represented in Littlefield's division are District 3-AAA members. Only Brownfield finished ahead of the Wildcats, 46-35. Levelland was seventh with 27, and Slaton had 17 points for eighth place. Muleshoe was last with 14 points.

Carlsbad won the division title with 102 points.

The mile relay team, composed of Randy Walker, Steve Owens, Kenneth Twitty and Travis Danford, was edged by Carlsbad by eight-tenths of a second, 3:32.9 to 3:32.1. The two teams did not run against each other, as they were in heats.

Highest individual placing was by Jerry Wright, in the pole vault. He placed third with an 11-0 height, highest ever in competition for him. Walker finished fourth in the event, going out at 10-6.

Twitty placed fourth in the 100-yard dash and sixth in the long jump. Owens also placed in two events, fifth in both the intermediate and high hurdles.

Two others contributed to Littlefield's 35 points. Danford was fifth in the open quarter mile and Eddie Hickman was sixth in the high hurdles.

Coach Jimmy Bartlett said the athletes had difficulty in warming up for their races. Temperature was 20 degrees for the morning preliminaries and warmed to no more than 25 degrees for the finals that afternoon.

This Saturday the Wildcats will be running in the Levelland Invitational. The Wildcat relay team has expressed desire to establish a new record for the mile event there, which now stands at 3:29.8.

 DATE OF VISIT: Feb. 11-12

The Littlefield Independent School District, receiving its first accreditation in many years, was located in Littlefield, Texas, and contained approximately 221 square miles of territory used primarily for grain and cotton farming. Total assessed valuation was $24,381,000, estimated to be 45 percent of actual value. A school tax of $1.80 was divided into $1.32 for maintenance and 48 cents toward a $1,268,000 bonded debt.

The district provided a single grade program on five campuses, with a plan for instructional organization K-3-3. The district required 19 3/4 units of credit for high school graduation, including health and physical education.

The board of school trustees held regular monthly meetings, minutes of which were bound and properly signed. The superintendent indicated that the board had been progressive in meeting for the educational needs of the district. Board minutes indicated that the board delegated authority to the superintendent and administration in their efforts to provide child-centered instructional programs. Board and administrative activities had been developed, duplicated, codified, and were available to all interested persons.

The program of guidance services was outlined in writing and approved by the board. The program reflected the district's testing plans and the program for counseling each student toward achieving maximum educational benefits.

Curriculum guides had been developed in all courses indicating the goals of each course offered. The guides were bound, kept current, and reflected changes (as needed) in course content.

A professional staff of 111 was employed, 11 of whom were paid from local funds and 10 from funds other than State and local. It was noted by the visiting team that some elective courses were available to match the students' instructional needs.

There was evidence that a continuous plan of maintenance was in effect. Most maintenance personnel were dedicated to their positions and kept the schools clean and functional. However, it was noted that the Elementary II building was old and difficult to maintain.

Health services were available, and a full-time nurse maintained student health records.

The libraries at all campuses seemed functional and appeared to contain a sufficient number of titles. It was reported that the librarians cooperated with the teachers in selecting titles that would support the instructional program. While study halls were scheduled in the junior high school library, it was noted that the study halls were monitored by a regular study hall teacher, and ample room was available for class research when it was needed.

Five units of special education were well organized, and desirable instructional procedures seemed to produce good results. Teachers working with the exceptional children appeared to be effective in providing good instruction for the students.

A district-wide self-evaluation using the instrument provided by the Division of School Accreditation had been recently conducted and reflected the overall district program.

Organized health and physical education programs were offered at the high school and junior high schools. Most of the elementary physical education for an organized physical education program at the Elementary I and II campuses. A cooperative physical education instructor might be used to develop programs at both campuses, using teacher aides as monitors under the supervision of a qualified physical education instructor.

Most personnel were certified to teach in the areas assigned to them. Those not fully qualified for their assignments had Emergency Teaching Permits and plans on file for the removal of deficiencies.

Opportunities for professional growth and staff development were provided by lectures, special consultants, demonstrations of the education service center, professional group meetings, and college courses.

Elementary classrooms in most cases were attractive and functional in design. Classroom furniture was modern and suitable to the size of the student. Bulletin boards were well designed and reflected a season or a unit of study in progress. However, at the Elementary II building, some teaching materials were old and outdated (maps, research materials).

Instructional programs in social studies, language arts, mathematics, fine arts, commercial, vocational programs, science, physical education, and music seemed to be meeting and, in many cases, exceeding standards.

There seemed to be a need for junior high school laboratory science. Facilities for meeting those needs were available, although some outlay involving repair of work stations and additional materials would be necessary. This would allow some students to have a wider selection of electives in high school, and would also relieve some scheduling of biology courses for terminal students.

Some electric typewriters may be needed in the commercial department in order to acquaint students with this type equipment.

Room space allotted to junior high industrial arts did not seem to be sufficient.

The patrons, school board, administrators, and staff members are to be commended for their active response to the educational needs of youth of the district.

RECOMMENDATION. It is recommended that the Littlefield Independent School District be continued as fully accredited for grades 1 through 12.

... Lunch Period

 the idea that if lunch room participation decreased more than 10 per cent at the high school, then the board would go back to the present schedule.

This 10 per cent proposal was later deleted, and Board Member Jack Barton seconded the motion for the additional five minutes.

E. D. (Buddy) Bingham spoke opposing the motion: "I don't think we should try to pacify the students. I'm against the five minutes, because I don't like the way it was handled. I'm satisfied with the lunch period as it stands."

Bingham said he believed "the student council is the place for students to originate ideas...the students went out of the chain of command."

Price later attempted to withdraw his motion, but Barton, as the trustee who seconded it, would not consent.

When Price began to offer a substitute motion to withhold the decision for the time being, Barton then moved the "previous question."

Werner Birkelbach commented: "If this had been brought up in the right way, I'd consider five or even 10 minutes (longer), if it could be shown it was needed."

WHEN THE ISSUE came to a vote, Price, Barton and F. L. Newton voted for. Bingham, Birkelbach and Board President W. C. Nowlin were against. Trustee Pat Downs was not present.

With the 3-3 vote, the motion failed and the lunch period stayed as it is.

The board was later asked by Turner to describe the chain of command it wished students and parents to follow in the event of a complaint or suggestion.

Board members agreed the following chain should be pursued:

1. Students should work through the student council, which in turn should present ideas to the principal. The council would have the right of appeal to the superintendent and should it wish to pursue a question still further, the right of appeal to the school board.

2. Parents should deal first with the principal of the school involved, with the right of appeal to the superintendent and the further right of appeal to the school board.

NFO Meeting Planned

An organizational meeting for persons interested in joining the National Farmers Organization will be held in the Willie Room of the Lamb County REA Building at 8 p.m. Monday, March 17, according to Robert DeLoach of Sudan.

Police Investigate Three City Wrecks

Saturday, City Police investigated a wreck which involved a 1967 Mercury driven by Rodney Gene Claunch of Enochs which was traveling south of Phelps Avenue when a 1966 Oldsmobile, driven by Julius C. Muller Jr. of Hale Center, backed from a diagonal parking space and collided into the side of the Mercury. Approximately $100 in damages resulted to the Olds and $200 damages to the Mercury, according to the investigating officer's report.

Roy Neal Burk of Littlefield was traveling west on Highway 84 by-pass early Sunday morning, when his vehicle failed to make the curve at the intersection of Business 84 and 84 by-pass. According to the investigating officer's report, the driver stated he apparently went to sleep at the wheel. Approximately $1,200 in damages resulted to the automobile when it knocked down three road signs and skidded across the highway into the median. The auto traveled approximately 300 feet after point of impact.

Wednesday afternoon, a 1966 Chevrolet, driven by Henry Bell Davis of Littlefield, and a 1968 Volkswagen, driven by Carroll Masten Bellar, were traveling side by side southeast on West Delano when both swerved into a side collision. The Bellar vehicle was proceeding in the right lane and the Davis vehicle was in the left lane. After the collision, they both proceeded to park in a private drive to clear the traffic lanes. The Volkswagen was damaged about $300 worth and the Chevrolet received approximately $75 in damages.

Police Activity

City police received a report of vandalism Saturday from Mrs. Joe Don Parrott, who stated someone had thrown a beer bottle through her automobile windshield. An investigation is being made.

Three men were arrested this week by the city police department, charged with being drunk in public. All paid fines and were released.

Fred Wright can fill any doctor's prescription.

Wright Drug Offers Lines Of Cosmetics

Fred E. Wright, owner and operator of Wright Prescription Drug, has been dispensing prescriptions in the 300 block of Phelps Ave. 31 years.

Wright came to Texas in 1938 from Oklahoma where he earned his B. S. degree from the University of Oklahoma at Norman.

For the first three or four years Wright lived in Littlefield, he was pharmacist for W. H. Madden. Early in 1944 Wright bought in with Madden as partner and the drugstore was called Madden-Wright Drug until 1960, when Wright bought out Mrs. Madden's interest.

Wright emphasizes his prescription department, where he can fill any prescription.

A large supply of patent medicines and first aid supplies are also carried at Wright Prescription Drug.

Mrs. Wright assists her husband in the drug store operation. Four complete lines of cosmetics are carried: (1) all Allecream cosmetics, for those with sensitive skin and allergies, are handled; (2) Coty

Luther Gregg has a way with upholstery, flowers.

Quality Upholstery Offered At Gregg's

Persons stopping at Gregg's Upholstery Shop at 601 Hall Ave. sometimes think they are stopping at a flower shop.

Luther Gregg has a way with flowers, just as he has a special touch with upholstery.

"The flowers make the window pretty," Luther Gregg said. "They enhance the displays and are a conversational piece, especially to the women."

Luther Gregg stresses "quality" in his upholstery. "If a person gets comparative quality," Gregg said, "then my price is about half what a person would pay for a new item."

"Quality" is the key word here, because it is possible to buy a new chair cheaper than recovering one in a really good grade fabric.

And Gregg does not recommend upholstery furniture in a poor quality material. "An upholstery man watches details so closely," Gregg said. "He really takes care with the detail work."

He attributes their "new furniture look" in all finished upholstery to this detailed work. A good upholstery job is better than a new piece of furniture. The fabric is always a better grade than that which comes on new furniture. The frames are reconditioned, making them sturdier than when bought originally, and minute work is involved that doesn't come with assembly line production.

Luther Gregg has been in the upholstery business 22 years, beginning with auto upholstery when he established his body shop under the water tower in 1947.

Later he moved further east on Highway 84, leaving the body business and going into upholstery exclusively. He has been at his present location 12 years. Gregg offers pick up and delivery on all furniture upholstery.

Although he does more furniture upholstering than anything else, Gregg's Upholstery still does auto upholstering. Gregg's will repair your pick-up seat or exchange pick-up seats with you so you can be on your way in 15 minutes.

Gregg's can take care of all your canvas work, patching truck tarpaulins, making irrigation sleeves (canvas or burlap), or a cover for your air conditioner.

And if you need advice on growing beautiful flowers, Luther Gregg can give you advice on that, too.
