Cause of fire, damages pointed Carlisle-Oldham Ford blaze

DAMAGES were heavy at the Carlisle-Oldham Ford shop Saturday night when paint thinner was ignited by a welder. High winds fanned the flames out of from a welder ignited paint which caused a bomb-like explosion at the Carlisle-Oldham Ford body shop about midnight Saturday.

Two employees were working at the shop at the time the fire started, and the fire department was called immediately.

Damages have tentatively been pegged at between $150,000 and $200,000. The sheet iron and steel body shop building, shop tools, and storage sheds on the east end, and five vehicles inside were complete losses.

About 20 firemen from the two Littlefield fire units answered the call. Sudan firemen assisted. The blaze was completely contained in about an hour and a half, despite adverse conditions.

At the time the blaze erupted, winds were whipping 30 and 35 miles per hour. Temperatures had dropped drastically, making the chill factor about 5 degrees above zero.

"Firemen did a fantastic job," Joe Carlisle said. "I don't know how they managed to save the buildings on the south side, but they did. Ice was freezing all over everything with the cold and high winds."

"The nature of the fire from the thinner and paint made the heat intense and as dangerous as a bomb."

"All the utilities people were out helping. It is just unbelievable how great a job everyone did under such adverse circumstances."

Pat Bradley was among the guest speakers at the Annual Farm Facts Day and Soil Fertility Program here Monday.

Bradley is a former Littlefield resident and city manager. He has moved back to Littlefield as personnel director of the American Cotton Growers textile plant being built here in Littlefield. He replaces Mickey Brewer.

Bradley talked on the impact of the textile mill here.

"Construction of a $30 million denim plant is stirring things up," Bradley said.

After being gone from Littlefield for three years, Bradley said the main difference he noted upon his return was the attitude of the people here.

"There attitude is 150 per cent better than it was when I left," he said. "People are excited, optimistic."

Bradley compared the $158,000 in building permits in 1974 to the more than $1.9 million dollars in building permits issued in 1975.

He said it was hard to put a handle on how the plant will affect the labor force, but that it is attracting people.

"Before long," he said, "there shouldn't be many people who want to work who will be without work."

The plant will need about 450 people when it gets into production. That date may be within the next 10 months.

The plant will produce 20,000 yards

To The EDITOR

February 24, 1976
Mr. Jerry Tidwell
Lamb County Leader-News

Littlefield, Texas 79339

Dear Mr. Tidwell,

I am writing this as a tribute to our Fire Department of Littlefield and Sudan. We experienced a very bad fire at 410 Hall Avenue, Carlisle-Oldham's Body Shop, Friday night, the 20th day of February 1976, at 12:00 a.m.

The Fire Department responded very quickly and with organization which was unbelievable. The wind was very high and the chill factor at 5 degrees above zero. Under very adverse conditions, they contained the fire which could have burned the buildings to the South and all of the block South of the Body Shop.

Mr. Leon Durham and Mr. M. O. Dunigan led a group of men that the city should be very proud of. This included all of the utility companies, Southwestern Public Service Company, General Telephone Company of the Southwest, Lamb County Electric Co-Op Inc., and many more.

My sincere thanks to all who worked so hard to keep the loss at a minimum and by being so well trained, no one was hurt. I and the people of the City of Littlefield should commend these people for their concern and dedication. Our personal and sincere appreciation for a job well done.

Yours truly,
Carlisle-Oldham Ford, Inc.

Dear Editor:

I want to thank the Littlefield Fire Department, the Southwestern Public Servicemen and all the volunteers who got out in freezing weather and high winds to contain a fire at Carlisle-Oldham Ford Body Shop Friday night and early Saturday morning.

There was a possibility of this whole block going up in flames. How you saved my building was a miracle.

I had to be there to realize what a tremendous job and great danger you go through.

I praise God for you, and thanks again from the bottom of my heart.

-FACTS-

Lubbock talked briefly about the seasonal marketing pool.

"Agriculture is the very foundation of all the greatness in this country," he said, "but right now we've got a very low level of literacy where agriculture is involved."

He explained the Telcot marketing as a way to market profitably. "We are striving for a high average price," Highley said. "We are averaging 180 points above the outside price as measured by Telcot. The Littlefield denim plant is a big part of this."

Bob Hale, is manager of the ACG denim plant, said the plant is increasing the domestic demand for West Texas cotton. Hale said Levi Strauss is most critical of the quality and has the most rigid demands. "When you meet their qualifications, you can meet anyone's," he said.

He explained how open end spinning makes smoother, cleaner yarn out of lower grade cotton than ring spinning.

"The primary factor is fiber strength, not fiber length," he said. The micronaire doesn't have to be in the higher range. From 2.8 to 3.2 is good. We can make good yarn out of poor quality cotton. But we won't be sending all the "dog" bales through.

"The add-on value for farmers will be $30 to $50 per bale of cotton," he concluded. "This is an impact!"

-TRACK-

Putting the shot will be Hopping, Bobby Harper and Jack Speck. Tossing the disc will be Hopping, Turner and Terry Foley.

Next week the boys and girls teams will host the annual Wildcat Relays. About 20 teams are expected to compete in the track carnival. The girls' team is idle this week.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE
There is hope

IT IS ALARMING that so many folk seem to feel that there is nothing we can do to maintain a victorious human spirit. It may be that all of us have some of this feeling.

How often do we hear or give a strong, dynamic expression of confidence based on truth and reality? We don't hear much of this kind of talk. The general attitude seems to be that we will just wait and see.

WE ARE BLAMING each other, and many of us are blaming ourselves, too. The political parties blame each other; many of our public officials point the finger of criticism at one another; in a general way, educators accuse the public; the public says the educational system is at fault; the school blames the home; the home blames the school; almost everybody blames the church; and the church blames almost everybody. This is not helping, but "there is hope".

WE MUST WORK for more positive and productive thought, talk and action. The present self-serving practice of blaming each other is a kind of subterfuge, and is very damaging. It is an effort to ease the pressure which all of us feel, but it is making the whole situation worse. The present mood is part of the problem about which we are concerned. It is devitalizing and discouraging, and it must be changed.

PARADISE ON EARTH is not within our reach, but there is no reason to settle for a half-measure. "There is hope" for significant improvement, if we will accept the conditions we are capable of handling. We can improve our life performance, improve your life performance, and this spirit will spread, going to be easy, but it can be and is most certainly worth the

WE CONTROL LIFE to the extent we are able to make choices. We manage ourselves, even though we are not able to control all the happenings which may affect us. We can control our responses to happenings, even though we cannot control the happenings.

We may be disappointed when things happen, but there is no reason to be disappointed in our response. We understand, and we can stand, we will be able to handle the light and strength of hope. We stay in command and we control to either what happens or we respond to what happens, both, "there is hope".

WE MUST SETTLE DOWN to our duties. We must be diligent, and we must be diligent within the very best values. With abiding faith in God, we do the right, truth in all things, to duty, and readiness to do "when necessary, "there is hope".

Mrs. Thomas hosts Study Club

AMHERST— The Amherst Study Club met Monday, Feb. 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the home of the president, Mrs. C. A. Thomas with Mrs. W. P. Stone and Mrs. Karen Rich co-hostesses.

The course of study for the year is "Heritage and Freedom." The roll call was "A historical book."

Mrs. Thomas introduced the speaker, Mrs. James Holland, who reviewed the book "In Calico and Crinoline" by Eleanor Sickels. The book comprises the lives of 10 women of colonial days in our country, four of which she chose to tell the club of in a most interesting manner.

For a meeting in March the club is scheduled for a field trip to Boys Ranch at Pettit. They will stop at Levelland for a Dutch lunch. This is to be Saturday, March 20th. Mrs. Howard Campbell is in charge of arrangements.

A former president and charter member of the club, Mrs. Allan (Trudy) White attended. The hostesses served enjoyable refreshments to those attending.

CLEP tests set at Levelland

Deadline to sign up for the next College Level Examination Program (CLEP) test will be Friday, Feb. 28 at South Plains College.

Registration materials for the CLEP exam are available in the SPC guidance and counseling office, located in the Administration Building. The CLEP test will be administered on March 17-19.

Sponsored by the College Entrance Examination Board, CLEP is a national system of awarding college credit by examination. There are two types of CLEP examinations—a general exam which measures learning in five basic areas of liberal arts, English composition, mathematics, natural sciences, humanities and social sciences—history—and subject exams, which measure achievement equivalent to that gained in undergraduate college courses.

On the basis of CLEP subject exams, students at SPC may become eligible to receive a maximum of 18 semester hours, explained Don Melton, director of guidance and counseling at SPC.

Students needing further information on the CLEP program should contact either Melton or Mrs. Shirley Foster, academic counselor, at 806-894-4921.

If the children are eligible for free meals they are also eligible for free extra milk. The reduced price for lunch is 15 cents and for breakfast, 5 cents. If income is greater than those shown, but you have unusually high medical bills, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of your income, special education expenses due to mental or physical condition of a child, or disaster or family losses, your children may still be eligible. If the school children of parents or guardians who become unemployed are eligible for free or reduced-price meals during the period of unemployment, the loss of income causes the family income during the period of unemployment to be at or below the amount shown on the scale.

German teenager visiting Anton for two weeks

Angela Fritz, Field Service student at Gersbach, West is spending two weeks at Anton High School as the Student Council member.

Her father is a technical engineer for Mercedes-Benz. Her mother is an accountant for a paper mill. She said that they have a Mercedes-Benz auto and she and her mother hope to have a second car when Angela gets her license.

She is an only child, and commented, "My parents both working helped develop independence and maturity in me. They have let me learn to make my decisions as I grew up."

She described her school as being rather small—about 700 in 13 grades. German schools have 13 grades with all subjects required, and with no electives. When in the 4th grade, she chose to study English, and she will continue through "gymnasium", her equivalent of high school. They take World History and World Literature, for example, beginning in the 5th grade and continuing through grade 13. Each year's material following the previous year. Her eyes twinkled, when she said, "And if a guy sleeps through one year, he misses part of the sequence and will have trouble with the next year!"

Every four years the students take an examination (achievement) to see if they continue in the gymnasium or change to trade school.

Her description of the teachers was, "Many of the older men teachers are very strict and stern. The younger teachers are being more friendly and interested in their students."

Germany does have inflation, she said, but not so much as England, France, or Italy. Germany is a highly industrialized country and one of the original members of the Common Market. The people are energetic and practice economy.

Concerning Hitler and World War II, she said, "Hitler was really from Austria, and there were many people who did not want war. I can not think that it is right for my generation which had nothing to do with the war to have to continue paying reparations."

She also said, "I wish more European young people could spend a year in America, with the AFS. They receive such varied experiences. I was one of 187 who came from Germany."

Wednesday when the first of the sand storms began, she said, "Oh, great, I want to get a picture of one!" She anchored herself and took the picture. Then the wind and sand got worse as the week went on, and by Friday, she was ready for calm weather.

She was a guest at the Anton Study Club meeting Monday night where she heard a report on Colonial Williamsburg. She also attended the FHA banquet at the Hilton Inn Friday night.

The Student Council presented her with a Texas-shaped plaque with a metal piece marking Anton, and a certificate of appreciation.

The Brazil's plan to take her and their children for a ski trip to Ruidoso Friday through Sunday.

She has been studying her lines for a part in a three-act play to be given at Trinity Valley, Twain's "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court."

Mrs. Bitner gave the program on kitchen cosmetics, using kitchen products you have in your home.

The next meeting will be on March 4 and will be an all-day meeting with everyone bringing a covered dish for lunch. It will be at Mary Feagley's, and club members will work on cotton corsages and table decorations for the district meeting.

Refreshments were served to Ruth Trimmer, Fern Bitner, Maxine Hutton, Ruth Miller, Minnie Davis, Ila Helms, Beverly Trimmer and Kelsey, and Mary Feagley.

Littlefield FTA members entertain Woman's Club

On Wednesday, Feb. 18, The Woman's Club enjoyed a panel discussion by three high school senior girls—Lisa Garland, Carrie Ware, and Pam Parrott. Miss Garland acted as chair person.

All three girls are members of FTA (Future Teacher of America) and before beginning the panel discussion, Lisa gave a brief resume of the organization, its activities and goals. It is an outstanding high school club, and any student who is interested in teaching as a career is eligible for membership.

The projects they undertake benefit both school and community. In the 1974-75 year, they won a trophy for being one of the top 10 clubs in the state having outstanding projects. In that school year, members "adopted grandparents"—one grandparent for every two members. They kept in touch with their "grandparents" by calling them over the telephone and visiting them. On Christmas they entertained them at a party.

In 1975 the club won third place in the Homecoming Parade. This project was successfully achieved by the help and cooperation of all members, and their reward was well-earned.

Besides their projects, the FTA renders much appreciation to the Red Cross board. Service to Military is an important role. If you have questions or need help and you have a family member in the Armed Service, call on Rosabel for advice, or assistance.

Members of The Woman's Club feel that with young people around who have the ideals and aspirations of these three young ladies, the "Establishment" is not in too much danger. While some few are working hard to destroy it, many are working equally hard to preserve it.

Hostesses for the meeting were: Mmse. Winnie Hogan, Roy Hicks, Addie Abernathy, Minnie Matthews, Fred Lichte, and Lorene Hulse.

After completing the preliminary talk, Miss Garland turned her attention to questioning the panelists, asking for their opinion of high school clubs. John Wimberly on winning team

Texas Tech University's plant identification team amassed 2,953 out of a possible 3,000 points to win first place in International Range Management competition this week. The team competed against 16 other university teams from the United States and Mexico.

John Wimberly of Littlefield placed third.

Texas Tech seniors Steve Nelle and Elizabeth Maris led all individual scoring, placing first and second, respectively. Nelle scored 2,992 points, only eight points short of a perfect score. Maris tallied 2,987 points for her second. Another Texas Tech team member, John Wimberly, tied with a Utah State University student for third, with 2,981 points.

The team's first place marks the eighth time in 12 years that Texas Tech plant identification teams have placed first in the international competition. Texas Tech's victory was announced at a Wednesday night banquet, part of the week-long International Range Management Symposium.

Texas A&M University's team placed second with 2,901 points. New Mexico State was third.

All five of Texas Tech's team members finished within the top 10 of 69 individual competitors. Nelle is from Lewisville. Maris is from Lubbock. Third place winner Wimberly is a Littlefield junior.

Russ Lasater, a Lubbock senior, placed sixth with 2,974 points. Weldon Sears, a Snyder junior, was 10th with 2,067 points. All are wildlife management majors at Texas Tech.

Dr. Russ Pettit, sponsor and coach, said he tried a new system of coaching this year. "It apparently worked well with this team," he said.

"We apologize for not bringing home all the top five individual scores, but we're happy with the results," the coach said.

The timed competition requires the students to identify at least 100 forage plant species from a group of 200 important forages. Texas Tech's team began preparations for the competition last November.
