CRANFILL & REYNOLDS READY TO SWAB

WIDE STANDS IN HOLE FROM PAY TOPPED AT 2,204-FOOT DEPTH

Swabbing Formation Topped Approximately 600 Feet Lower Than In Neighboring No. 7 Settles; Lime Penetrated To 2,280 Feet

Swabbing was being installed at the Cranfill & Reynolds' No. 1 Kloh, Rumsey, and Abrams Thursday, preparatory to according to a report reaching Big Spring Thursday.

The well was said to be standing 1,600 feet in oil depth at 2,204 feet and penetrated a total depth of 2,280 feet, which is 40 feet deeper than No. 7 Settles.

WIDE TEST SETTLES DEEPEST

The 3-H Clay test settled 17 barrels in 1800-foot hole.

Swabbing test before Group One Oil Corporation Production Company's No. 7 Settles, the well produced 635 barrels in 24 hours after the total depth had increased 6 feet to 2,204 feet, according to information received from the field Thursday.

Body Of Woman Who Died In '26 To Be Sent Here

Permission to ship into Big Spring the disinterred body of Mrs. Sarah Ann Moody, who resided in Big Spring for many years and died in El Paso in 1926 has been granted an El Paso undertaker by Frank Boyle, city sanitary inspector.

C-C Directors To Meet Friday

The board of directors of the chamber of commerce of Big Spring will meet at noon Friday in the basement of the First Christian church, Manager C. T. Watson announced on his return Thursday morning from Dallas, where he attended the Texas and Southern commercial executives' meeting.

Labor Leaders Defy Kidnapers

Disregarding threats and defying a band which kidnaped them from an Elizabeton, Tenn., hotel and then released them with a warning, two labor leaders active among southern textile strikers have returned to Elizabeton. A third labor leader, J. B. Phentz, above left, was saved from kidnapers when his sister, Betty, above right, fired at men attempting to drag him from his home. Pair who were kidnaped are shown below: A. L. Hoffmann, left, organizer for United Textile Workers of America, and Edward McGrady, right, American Federation of Labor vice president. W. F. Solomon, center, has been appointed their bodyguard by local union.

Marland And Continental Oil Merger Will Be Operated Under Name Of Latter, Says Dispatch

The New York Times Thursday said that the Marland Continental Oil Company merger will go under the name of the Continental Oil Company, and that management very likely will be retained by present officials of the Continental, according to telegraphic advices to H. & B. Beer, Big Spring.

MANY EVENTS ARE REPORTED FROM VINCENT

The Vincent Debating society met at the school last Friday evening and discussed the question: Resolved that women have a greater influence for good over society that do men. Affirmative speakers were J. H. Allen and A. C. Tate while George McCorkle and George Holmsby took the negative side of the question. The program for the next meeting has not yet been arranged.

GRANDMOTHER OF MISS BONNIE KIRBY DIES

Miss Bonnie Kirby, head nurse at the Bivings and Barcus hospital, will leave tonight for Dallas to attend the funeral of her grandmother, Mrs. N. J. Loving, 85, who died there, at 3 o'clock Thursday morning.

PILOTS HUFF AND HAMER IN TWO NEW FLEET TRAVELAIR BIPLANES

Pilots Huff and Hamer in two new fleet Travelair biplanes spent the night in Big Spring enroute from Chicago to El Paso and Phoenix, Arizona. The two pilots circled the city several times before alighting, just at dusk. They explained they were seeking an airplane hangar, which their maps showed was located at Big Spring. The pilots are with the Seagle Airways and were bringing two new planes for service at El Paso and at Phoenix. They flew from Oklahoma City Wednesday, making the trip to Big Spring in about three and a half hours.

KIWANIS CLUB BEING FORMED

Preliminary organization of the Big Spring Kiwanis club was perfected at meetings held Wednesday evening and Thursday afternoon in the office of Garland Woodward of the law firm of Brooks and Woodward. Dr. J. B. Dillard was named temporary president.

SLATER IS YOUNGEST 'LEGGER' COUNCIL VISITOR

One of the most profitable meetings of the year was held Wednesday evening by the Big Spring Central Labor Council, when George Slater, executive secretary of the State Federation of Labor, and John Malone, vice president and organizer for the international meat cutters organization were guests. Bill Havens, president, and Earl Phillips, secretary presided.

Here in 1922 "This is my first visit to Big Spring since 1922, when the Federated Shop Craft strike was on and it is difficult for me to believe this really is Big Spring, Texas," said Mr. Slater.

MAIL BASEBALL NAMES AT ONCE

All right, folks! Come on in with names for the Big Spring baseball club of the West Texas League.

Saturday at midnight is the deadline and all letters proposing names that are not in the mails at that hour will not be considered.

A number of names have been proposed. Three judges will select one of them and the person who first proposed it will get a season pass to all home games—50 of them.

It won't be long now until the season will be under way. May 1, Big Spring has a good ball club, and so do the other five towns of the league.

Any dyed-in-the-wool baseball fan who wants to see these games free would do well to enter the contest; WRITE all proposals and mail them to the Contest Editor, Big Spring Herald.

And hurry!

Therefore, it behooves you to act only upon facts and not upon hearsay. Thoroughly investigate a case reported unfair to organized labor before you notify members that it is unfair, advised John Malone, who recently installed the local meat cutters union.

"Develop the labor movement on business lines. Ask yourselves whether you are justified in this or that demand before you make it, put yourself in the other fellow's shoes," Malone further advised.

ARKANSAS REGION IS VICTIM OF BLAST, 100 MISSING

Worst Twister In Years Levels Houses And Timber, Blocks Highway Traffic And Renders Many Homeless

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 11. (AP)—Forty-six persons were known dead and several more were missing as a result of a tornado that swept through a section of north central Arkansas last night. More than 100 people were injured.

Highways were damaged and telephone service disrupted, which made an accurate check of property damage impossible. However, it was a sparsely settled region where the storm was heaviest and the toll was not expected to be heavy.

The greatest loss of life occurred at Swifton where 21 persons are known to be dead. Two were killed at Wynns, six at Jonesboro, twelve at Parkin, and five at Guion. All Parkin's dead were negroes.

When a complete check of the stricken areas is completed the death list is expected to mount and a number of those injured are not expected to live. The American Red Cross has rushed doctors, nurses, and medical supplies to the storm area. The entire affected area is within a radius of fifty miles.

TRAINMEN ARE HEARD AT DALLAS

Seven Cases Outlined By Railway Brotherhoods Against Texas & Pacific

DALLAS, April 11. (AP)—Formal presentation of seven cases was made here Wednesday by representatives of employees of the Texas and Pacific Railway before the federal mediation board named last week by President Hoover.

The hearing here was called to endeavor to avert the strike which was voted by employees of the road who had asked the road to reimburse them for money lost on property purchased in cities from which they were transferred to other places by the board. Other minor cases also were advanced for the strike vote.

James Garfield, chairman of the board, presided at the session, which heard employees' demands presented by J. A. Gannon, St. Paul, Minn., vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors. T. J. Freeman, attorney, presented the statement of the road.

President J. L. Lancaster of the road and four T&P directors were among those at the hearing.

The seven cases advanced by the brotherhoods were: The transfer of the division points from Longview and Marshall to Mineola and Shreveport, compensation for losses sustained because of the removals; contemplated assignment of regular freight crews to certain fast freight service; adequate bus service or other suitable transportation at Fort Worth, Shreveport and Mineola; pooling of cabooses in all freight engine crews to run through Longview and application of Texas and Pacific schedules and the interchange of seniority rights, property protected and extended to the Cisco and Northwestern, Abilene and Southern, Pecos Valley and Southern, the Weatherford, Mineral Wells and Northwestern and the Texas and New Mexico.

In referring to the removal of the terminal which the trainmen claimed caused them financial losses, Gannon charged that President Lancaster held a majority of the stock in a land company at the new terminal which offered to sell homesites to the employees.

Praises T. and P. Freeman, in his statement, recalled the history of the Texas and Pacific, described it as "one of the greatest arteries of commerce in the United States. He declared that a strike would paralyze entire industries dependent upon this one road for distribution outlets.

The demand by the men for reimbursement for their homes when the men and terminals were moved was without precedent in the history of railroads, Freeman said. He said he did not believe the strike vote reflected the majority sentiment of the road's employees as the road always treated its employees fairly. He denied that the road was interested in any way in any land company.

Preceding the hearing, the employees moved to make the road the complainants at the hearing. Chairman Garfield turned down the suggestion.

Gannon said two or three days would be required for presentation of testimony by the Brotherhoods. Freeman said one day would be sufficient for the roads.

DISCOUNT OIL SHOW RUMOR FROM GASSER

Although reports of an oil showing in the Simms Oil Company's No. 1 Ellwood, southern Mitchell county, were current in Big Spring Thursday, the rumors were apparently unjustified as a scout returning from the well early this afternoon said that drilling had reached 2,435 feet without further showing of gas or oil.

The well is located in the center of the southeast quarter of section 29, block 18, S. P. Ry. Co. survey, and is the same well in which the show'ing gas sand around 620 feet was first encountered several weeks ago.

Big Spring was not the only section in which the oil showing rumor was present for similar information came from San Angelo and was carried in at least one state paper under a Colorado date line. However, the later information received here, coming as it did direct from the well, appears to be the most reliable.

Atlantic Oil Producing Company-Jack Ellis' No. 1 Ellwood, 660 feet from the south and west lines of section 30, block 18, S. P. Ry. Co. survey, is setting and cementing 3 3/8 inch pipe at 618 feet preparatory to drilling into the shallow gas sand late this week.

The demand by the men for reimbursement for their homes when the men and terminals were moved was without precedent in the history of railroads, Freeman said. He said he did not believe the strike vote reflected the majority sentiment of the road's employees as the road always treated its employees fairly. He denied that the road was interested in any way in any land company.

Preceding the hearing, the employees moved to make the road the complainants at the hearing. Chairman Garfield turned down the suggestion.

CITY MANAGER TO END SERVICE HERE JUNE 1

Storm Center Of Recent Campaign Has Written Request Unanimously Granted At Meeting Of Commission

William V. Montin's resignation as city manager of Big Spring was accepted last night by the board of city commissioners, effective June 1.

There was no discussion of the resignation and no votes against it.

Mr. Montin was not present, being out of the city on business. His written resignation, dated April 6, was placed on the table by Mayor Matthew. After it had been read by Malinda Chesnut, city secretary, M. H. Morrison moved that it be accepted. The motion was seconded by W. W. Inkman, all commissioners voting "aye."

Written Statement

The written communication from Mr. Montin asked that his resignation be made to take effect not later than June 1. He thanked the commissioners for cooperation and support given him in his work as city manager, declaring that he had never been privileged to associate with more fair nor more able men than those constituting the board.

Mr. Montin was out of the city Wednesday and a statement from him as to his future plans was not available.

In the campaign preceding the recent city election in which W. W. Inkman and W. A. Gilmour, members of the commission, were elected over Clyde Thomas and W. L. McCollister, Mr. Montin was made the target of numerous attacks in pamphlets, circular letters and newspaper advertising by Messrs. Thomas and McCollister.

It was stated in Mr. Montin's letter of resignation that it was the third time he had presented a resignation to the commission.

Nine-Tenths Preventable
Nine-tenths of all the diseases of the American people can be traced directly to constipation, doctors say. Constipation throws into the system poisons which faint and weaken every organ of the body and make them easy victims for any germs which attack them. Prevent constipation and you will avoid nine-tenths of all diseases with their consequent pain and fatal results. Herbie's, the good old vegetable cathartic, will prevent constipation in a natural, easy and pleasant way. Get a bottle today from Cunningham and Phillips and J. D. Biles.—Adv.

"Sarge" Braden, Picturesque Deputy Sheriff, Visits Here

By MARIAN THIERESA
"Sarge" Braden, deputy sheriff of El Paso county, who never carries a pistol but depends upon his swiftly driven car for protection in time of stress, was in Big Spring Tuesday morning. This picturesque figure with his strikingly vivid language and his intimate knowledge of things western is well known among the old settlers of this city.

"Sarge" or "Rodeo" as he is also known, is somewhat reticent about expressing an opinion on the condition of the present Mexican revolution, stating that anything might happen there and that any opinion expressed would be pure conjecture. He expresses an opinion, however, that the rebels are rapidly running out of funds and cannot hold out much longer.

About Juarez
Americans in Juarez since its occupancy by the rebel forces are receiving the best of treatment and are being shown every possible consideration at the hands of the invaders.

Braden is still mourning the loss of his "Buffalo Bill" goat which succumbed to ravages of the "flu" epidemic last winter, making it necessary for the westerner to travel light this spring.

"Sarge" has a son in the New York Military college who will evidently return to West Texas soon in preference to remaining in the east to enter West Point for so his father says, "the boy is ready for real action" and is eager to return where things are taking place. A revolution more or less means little to "Sarge." He was in El Paso when the place was raided in the Pancho Villa revolution, but he paid little attention to what was going on.

Braden made but one arrest during his office as deputy sheriff. This arrest was arrested however by feminine devotion, a sentiment that he has long known about but has never been able to explain. Women will always lie for "their men"—but here's the story as "Sarge" tells it. He was driving out of Weatherford toward Mineral Wells when he encountered a man and a woman in a parked car, the man brutally beating his companion. Naturally the deputy sheriff arrested the offender in the name of the law and humanity, only to be told by the battered female that "we was just a-playin'." But the deputy knowing women as he does instructed the couple to drive on ahead of him into Mineral Wells and when the two cars were parked before the main hotel of the city, Braden questioned the couple concerning the terminus of their play only to be told again by the woman that they were getting along fine and that the Lethario in question "was just teasin'." There was no arrest.

Braden dresses Tom Mix with western garments made by an El Paso outdoor clothing firm, but won't have any dealings with Tom's horse Tony. "Sarge" doesn't like horses, especially that kittenish broncho type. An invitation to ride one of 'em usually finds Braden in the next town "sure-a-comin' in" in his trusty ramblar.

Telephone Cable Construction Across West Texas Near Finish

Work of relocating the Southwestern Bell Telephone company's transcontinental line from Colorado to Pecos is nearly complete to Big Spring working from the east end of the construction project, according to E. Hooks, manager of the local exchange.

A crew of approximately 25 men is employed in the work. While the company has had the transcontinental line leading from New York to California in operation over the southern route for some time, it has been forced to relocate the route followed to eliminate interference from power lines and railroad signals running near the highway and railroad line.

New wires and new poles are being used with the intention of setting the present equipment, which passes through the heart of Big Spring when the construction work is completed.

The new line passes Big Spring in the vicinity of the city water system south of town, but a branch line will be built into the city providing the same service as heretofore, Mr. Hooks said. Probably another 30 days will be necessary to finish the work to Pecos.

The Bell organization has a second transcontinental line leading from New York to San Francisco which crosses the Rocky Mountains routed through Denver, but the southern route through this territory is becoming the most popular line because of severe winters and sleet storms in the more northern region that often prevents repairs for several days at a time.

Mrs. Doty Hostess To Bisco Women
The Bisco Home Demonstration club met at the home of Mrs. E. M. Doty last Friday with 15 members present and three new members were added in that time. Mrs. Howell, Abilene county topic demonstrator, presented the proper opening of chicken.

The club canned 21 chickens and 8 cans of soup. During the business session of the club, Mrs. John Marler talked on preserving pork. Mrs. Allgood gave an outline for the club work of the coming year. Mrs. Hoffman will be the next hostess.

Each member brought a dish for the picnic luncheon which was spread following the business meeting.

Would You Know One If You Saw It?
If you ever came face to face with a germ, would you recognize it? Of course it is not likely that you ever will see a germ, unless you own a tremendously powerful microscope, for you would have to magnify one over a thousand times to make it as big as a pin head. But you should recognize the fact that these tiny germs can get into your blood streams through the smallest cut, and give you typhoid fever, tuberculosis, lockjaw, blood poisoning, and many more dangerous and perhaps fatal diseases. There is one sure safeguard against these dangers—washing every cut, no matter how small, thoroughly with Liquid Borosone, the safe antiseptic. You can get Liquid Borosone at Cunningham and Phillips and J. D. Biles.—Adv.

No. 7 Swabs 181 Barrels Seven Hours On First Test; To Force Drilling Of Humble Offset

oil rose in the hole in drilling to 2-202 feet. The well is located 330 feet from the north and west lines of section 13, block 29, W&NW Ry. Co. survey, and is virtually an east offset to Cranfil & Reynolds No. 1 Klob, Rumsey and Abrams, located 250 feet from the south line and 3,535 feet from the west line of section 3, block 34, township 2 south. Top of the pay was picked at 2,202 feet in the No. 1 Klob, which gives the No. 7 Settles a 76 foot higher datum.

Operators have not definitely decided to halt drilling at 2,223 feet in No. 7 Settles, but were awaiting the results of another swabbing test Tuesday before making a decision.

In the meantime, Marland Production Company was rigging up a Star machine over its No. H-3 H. R. Clay, 330 feet from the north and east lines of the east half of the northeast one-quarter of section 155, block 29, W&NW Ry. Co. survey, preparing to drill into the shallow pay. Total depth of the well now stands at 1,778 feet where 6 5/8 inch pipe is to be set and cemented, information from the field disclosed.

If No. 7 Settles develops into a producer, which is now virtually assured judging from original swabbing tests, the Humble Oil & Refining company will be forced to drill a north offset on the Settles property in section 132, block 29, W&NW Ry. Co. survey.

Gracey And Foster's Operation Shuts Off Water

Indications that the Harve Gracey and Foster No. 1 in Sterling county was to be abandoned because of drilling into salt water at 1,860 feet last week, were dispelled Sunday when operators announced that water has been shut off and that drilling had progressed to a total depth of 2,186 feet.

At 2,186 feet, a drilling line was snapped and actual operations were suspended awaiting the arrival of a friction socket to run over tools. The No. 1 Foster is located in the center of the southeast quarter of section 20, G. H. and H. survey, and is about 2 miles south of Sterling City.

Lime, believed to be the same that is present in Howard county, was topped at 1,950 feet where a hole full of salt water was developed, according to Mr. Gracey.

Demonstration Announced Here For Frigidaire

A special demonstration showing cold control of electrical refrigeration has been arranged for the remainder of this week by F. C. Hopkins, local Frigidaire dealer, at his salesroom, 203 E. Third street.

Desserts will be made by using this new development in refrigeration and visitors will be allowed to sample these products. Technical aspects of this new feature of electric refrigeration will be explained during the demonstration periods.

Week-End Toll Of Arrests Is More Than Score

Grand total of prisoners admitted to the county jail Saturday and Sunday was twenty-one.

The bastille was quite crowded early Monday until friends of prisoners began arriving with bail bond or fine money. Of the 21 arrested by the constable's department and the sheriff's force 12 were charged with drunkenness, three had small amounts of liquor in their possession, three were charged with gambling and two for vagrancy.

Behind The Scenes At A Circus With Fletcher Smith, Old-Timer

The American circus—it's an institution unlike any other on earth. And Fletcher Smith, press agent for the Christy Brothers shows, which exhibited here Saturday can tell you about as much real history of the American circus as any other man.

For Fletcher Smith, you don't need to be told that everyone calls him "Smitty," has been a circus man for nigh onto 50 years, since he was little more than 10 years old when he cast his lot with the big top. And he's been press agent for most of the larger outfits of the nation not to speak of medicine shows, "uncle Tom's Cabin" troupes, wild west outfits, horse-drawn shows, "mudshows, wagon shows and big train shows," he declared Saturday night whilst a reporter was kept busier than the proverbial cranberry merchant jotting down some of the things Smitty kept saying, all the while trying to see what was happening both in the five rings and behind the scenes.

"Aw, I don't make much money but I have a helluva lotta fun," Smitty said.

The veteran trouper told of seeing circus horses stationed on a long, muddy road near Houston, where the Christy outfit winters, for the purpose of pulling automobiles in a funeral procession out of the mire. One of the most unusual sights of his career, he declared, occurred in Havre De Grace, Maryland.

The circus with which Smitty was then identified was wintering in the historic Maryland town. On a Saturday night a snowstorm arrived and by Sunday morning the flakes were piled feet deep in the streets, blocking traffic. The town's small fire fighting wagon was pressed into service but could make no head way.

The idea was to get the streets cleared in time for the populace to go to church. So the circus put its elephants to dragging the snow away and everybody went to church.

Elephants and Snow
Circus elephants in the snow on a Sunday morning in Maryland promoting spiritual welfare of the community struck Smitty as unusual, to say the least.

Smitty told of how the circus performers scramble for a hotel room, with bath, on Sundays and how "I just wait until around 2 p. m., stroll in with my typewriter, not tellin' 'em I'm with the circus, and most always get a room without any trouble. They usually think I'm some traveling salesman. But a lotta circus folks would give 'a week's salary for a good room with bath for a day."

Worried Night after Night as health declined

"I SUFFERED frequently from nervous headaches, and I could not sleep well," says Mrs. Cora Dover, R. F. D. 2, Hickory Grove, S. C. "I was thin and pale. I was so weak I could scarcely walk."

"I tried several remedies but nothing seemed to help me. Night after night I worried because I could see I was going downhill. I had my children to look after, and I was afraid of what would become of them if anything happened to me."

I began to take Cardui. It wasn't long until I was beginning to pick up. My strength gradually began to return. I rested better at night and was less nervous. I took several bottles of Cardui, and when I had finished taking it I was in fine health."

CARDUI Helps Women To Health

Take Theobald's Black-Drawn for Constipation, Indigestion and Biliousness. EX-102

two reporters of the exploits of the Knight Family, one of Christy's features acts when he bounced off, mounted a big stool and announced to the crowd the unusual features of the next act.

Then he told of the Li-Hung Chin company of Chinese novelty performers—tumbler. They swing through the air from ropes, hanging by their hair. Then one of them whirled a big rope around his head horizontally, with a bucket of water attached to each end, spilling no water.

About that time the clown came fogging around the promenade, one of them mounted on an ostrich. The dash ended when the ostrich jumped over the rail into the negro section, and a group of dusky masks set up a squeal.

A Stolen Kiss

Then the reporter cast a sidewise glance in back of the curtain in time to see the strongman kiss a little and fair contortionist. Then a clown playfully bounced one of those rubbed balls off the more or less spacious chest of an iron-jaw lady—one of the girls who whirled around at the end of a rope hanging to a leather thong with her teeth.

Smitty told in detail of how the circus starts dismantling long before the night performance under the big top has ended, and how the cumbersome wagons and tons and tons of paraphernalia are packed on the circus train and ready to roll away to the next engagement by midnight or 1 a. m. almost every night.

How performers become attached to one show sometimes and stay with it for many years—Charles Nelson, the star clown of Christy's has been with George W. Christy since he first went in the business.

Christy's recently had an elephant to stampee. Now a Great Dane dog is stationed with even elephant, as a constant companion. The big animals must have some other animal companion to be contented, Smitty explained.

COMIC CHARACTERS

"I see here (reading newspaper) where the grand jury is going to investigate the political graft," said one comic character.

"Politicians," said a third comic character, "are no better or worse than the people make them. You can't take a bribe or graft unless somebody gives it to you."

The reason we said comic characters is because they really were comic characters—men in a newspaper funny strip.

A FINE SHOWING

The cities along the Texas & Pacific railroad made a good showing at the hearing held in Lubbock to decide whether the Santa Fe or the Texas-New Mexico shall build a line into Lea county, New Mexico.

Just how fine this showing was is reviewed by an editorial in the Midland Reporter-Telegram of last Sunday.

"Comment upon the I. C. C hearing at Lubbock must be given with reservations, for the reason that the layman cannot judge to what extent the facts in the case shall affect the deliberations of the all-powerful commission in rendering a decision."

"If the preponderance of evidence as to actual conditions, present and future, in the territory to be affected by the decision between the Texas-New Mexico and Santa Fe shall govern in this hearing, just concluded at Lubbock, the first named has won hands down. The Santa Fe was fairly swamped by an overwhelming avalanche of facts, in favor of its opponent.

"So far as can be learned, not one person residing in Lea county or owning property in Lea county testified in behalf of the Santa Fe.

"Moreover, it is noted that the weight of testimony offered by the Santa Fe in proportion to the distance involved; that is to say, testimony for the Santa Fe was strongest when offered by Kansas City interests, weakening the nearer its origin approached Lea county, and reduced to nil in the exact territory involved.

"Texas-New Mexico testimony was overpowering in Lea county, strongest in the adjacent and contiguous territory and weakest at Kansas City markets, the most distant point heard from in the case.

"Dallas, Fort Worth and El Paso make out good strong cases for Texas-New Mexico petitioner, Midland, Big Spring and other more adjacent points each presented good cause in behalf of our Kermit line.

"As the Lubbock hearing was largely given over to presentation of facts it is entirely reasonable to hope that they shall prevail; in which case the Kermit line has all the best of it.

"Level heads well versed in such matters advise that the Texas-New Mexico has a very strong case, and one that must prevail if facts, rather than the technicalities of interstate railroad operation, are to govern the deliberations."

Opinions Of Others

THE NEW TARIFF BILL

Washington dispatches indicate that the House revenue committee has about completed its work on the new tariff bill, and that the measure as agreed upon conforms to the wishes of the president.

The House has the first whack at the bill, it being a revenue measure which must originate in the lower branch.

The high-protection group needn't be discouraged, therefore, at the failure of the House committee to be nice to them. They've always gotten theirs in the Senate.

THE APPELLATE COURTS

In vetoing the bill to create a court of civil appeals at Greenville, Governor Moody said that "unless some change is brought about in our system of administering justice in civil cases, the time may come when there will be a necessity for the creation of additional courts of civil appeals, but I fail to see the necessity for another at the present time."

That contains the hint that the governor favors doing away with the civil appeals courts altogether. If that is his attitude, it is one which would find wide-spread support if it were actively urged.

It can be shown clearly enough that the Wichita Falls region has better claim to the twelfth appeals court, if it should be established, than any other portion of the state. Certainly such a court is much more badly needed here than at Greenville.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By ROBERT DUTCHER, Staff Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Dr. Juan Badilla Sacasa, new minister from Nicaragua, has come here in pursuance of his old hobby, crusading for happier relations between the United States and countries of Central America.

That was how he happened to enter politics; that was what indirectly elevated him to the constitutional presidency of Nicaragua. Long before Hoover was heard of, Sacasa was carrying the goal-will torch around in his own country, despite what seemed to be the efforts of recurrent landing parties of American marines to shoot it from his hands.

Dr. Sacasa is a physician. He had what might be called an excellent bedside manner which will do him no harm as a diplomat.

He graduated from the Columbia University Medical School in New York and was an interne at Columbus Hospital. He acquired an admiration for the United States along with the conviction that it was nowhere near as anxious to grab territory and oppress small nations as some Nicaraguans believed.

Lectured His Patients

Promulgation of that idea among other physicians and among his patients became his hobby after he returned to practice in Nicaragua. A man on the operating table, just before the anesthetic, could never be sure that he wouldn't first have to listen to a good-will lecture by Dr. Sacasa.

So great was his fame for that sort of thing that, while American marines were in Nicaragua, in 1919 he was chosen by a coalition of parties to go with Salvador Calderon Ramirez to Washington, explain Nicaraguan conditions to the Wilson government and seek moral support for a fair election in 1920.

Marines Kept Him Out

Sacasa, as everyone knows, became constitutional president through his vice presidency upon the abdication of President Solozano after the Chamorro coup d'etat. He was kept from office by American marines, but his gallant fight against the Chamorro-Diaz government obtained for Nicaragua a few million dollars' worth of free advertising and finally resulted in a victory for Sacasa's ideas and ideals. And now here he is.

He turns out to be a tall, slender, graceful man, just short of six feet, with hair half gray and with all the Latin American's sense of humor. His air of distinction is well placed, for he was the foremost physician in Nicaragua, head of the national medical faculty and dean of the Medical School at the University of Leon.

In an interview, Dr. Sacasa noted with satisfaction the tendency, especially in Central America, to get away from revolutions. He pointed to the recent failures of rebels in Mexico and in Guatemala.

"The spirit of the Nicaraguan people is now directed toward the blessings of peace," he said, "and the rest of Central America is very quiet. The people have learned what sufferings are brought on by revolutions and they won't stand for being used as pawns merely to satisfy political ambitions. The spirit of liberty is as strong as ever, or stronger, but it cannot be prostituted to force, unless there is real oppression."

Sweeping Of Streets Topic

Complaints from various parts of the paved street area that the streets are not being properly cleaned were discussed Tuesday night by the city commission. It was brought out that the city sweep has not been in operation for several days due to delay in arrival of parts ordered to replace some that were broken.

It was pointed out that the city's contract with M. M. Denton calls for sweeping the streets at least three nights a week and more often if necessary to keep them in sanitary condition. Police Chief Long was directed to see Mr. Denton. It was suggested that hand sweepers be used to take up debris as well as possible without the sweeper, which will be in operation again in a few days.

UNPROFITABLE CO THREATEN POSIT OF PUREBRED H

O. E. Reed (inset), chief of the United States dairy, warns that name alone may not keep purebred milk and butterfat, and the elimination of profitless although registered cows, (below) are urged exclusively for breeding stock.

By FRANK I. WELLER (Associated Press Farm Editor) WASHINGTON (AP)—Breeders of purebred cattle, watching the rapid rise of grade stock through herd improvement tests, have had thrust upon them the task of keeping the word "purebred" synonymous with the epitome of good type, high production and ability to transmit high production.

If purebred cattle are to hold their position of leadership, says O. E. Reed, chief of the bureau of dairy industry, United States department of agriculture, it becomes necessary, if not mandatory, that some definite system be adopted that will have for its purpose the selection of only the best producers to be used as breeding stock.

"Results obtained by the Holstein-Friesian association," he continues, "prove the efficacy of herd improvement registry. After a year's trial the registration papers of more than 400 purebred cows which represent approximately seven per cent of all cows tested, have been canceled. The cows were found to be unprofitable. This is the first step ever taken to carry out a definite system of eliminating the inferior and unprofitable cows from registered herd books."

Chicks Thrive In Huge H

What is said to be the world's largest chicken house, built by the American Poultry Co., is shown here. It has a capacity of one million and its annual output is between 100,000,000 and 150,000,000 chicks. The incubators, as is the rest of the plant, are operated. An also used for cooling 30,000 eggs in the house.

MOODY CALLS EXTRA SESSION

ANSWER, April 11 (AP)—Prison concentration civil service and educational subjects will be considered by the special session of the legislature called to meet April 22 by Governor Moody. After these matters are disposed of other things will be submitted, the governor said. The governor did not mention appropriations in his proclamation. It has been reported that he would not submit money bills until his program of legislation has been acted on.

MITCHELL GAS TEST NEAR SAND

Atlantic and Ellis' Ellwood Setting Pipe At 618-Foot Depth Level

Extent of the gas area on the Ellwood ranch in southern Mitchell county may be more definitely determined this week end when the Atlantic Oil Producing Company and Jack Ellis No. 1 Ellwood drills into the shallow sand.

The test, located 660 feet from the south and west lines of section 30, block 18, Southern Pacific Ry. Co. survey, was setting and cementing a 8 1/4 inch pipe at 618 feet Wednesday, according to reports received from the field.

The Atlantic-Ellis No. 1 Ellwood is less than one mile southeast of Simms' Nos. 1 and 2 Ellwood in section 29, block 18, S. P. Ry. Co. survey. Simms' No. 2 Ellwood, 1,980 feet north and 590 feet west of the southeast corner of section 29, block 18, S. P. Ry. Co. survey, was completed around $70 feet after developing 5,000,000 cubic feet of gas from the shallow sand.

Simms Petroleum Company's No. 1 Ellwood, in the center of the southeast quarter of section 29, block 18, S. P. Ry. Co. survey, was drilling at 2,500 feet Tuesday afternoon in lime. No. 1 Ellwood encountered the shallow gas sand several weeks ago, but cased it off and continued in quest of an oil bearing formation.

Atlantic-Ellis operators are planning to drill their No. 1 Ellwood into the sand some time Friday, if the cemented pipe sets and a test proves it capable of holding.

Shoveling Snow In April To Open Cafe Is Recalled

One of the "Betteve It or Not" stories—and just like Ripley, J. I. Rodgers, proprietor of the Rodgers Cafe on East Third street can prove it.

Rodgers, who recently opened a finely equipped eating place after buying the Bankhead cafe, opened a cafe in Panhandle, Texas, up near the Hutchinson county oil field three years ago Monday, April 8, 1926—and had to hire a man to shovel snow from in front of the place so that his patrons could come and go.

Rodgers, a pioneer cafe man with a colorful career, reports his business here has been highly satisfactory.

Flowers, Shrubs And Trees

Wild Flowers Need Protection By P. L. HICKER (U. S. Department of Agriculture.)

Those interested in wild flower gardens should study the soil requirements of the plants, for most of the more attractive wild flowers are more difficult to grow in the garden than the common garden flowers.

The gardener should try to secure roots and seeds from areas where the natural vegetation is soon to be destroyed by agricultural or real estate operations.

Picking flowers is instinctive in all flower lovers from childhood on. Unfortunately, agriculture and real estate development have depleted nature's garden's until many of our most attractive wild flowers are in danger of extermination.

Many nature lovers aggravate the destruction by pulling up by the roots plants that would not be injured if the flowers were cut with short stems. Sometimes they pick all the flowers of attractive annuals, thus preventing the formation of seed.

Masses of lady slipper, a rare blossom in most places, are brought to market, often with roots attached. They rarely survive transplanting. The beautiful and fragrant trailing arbutus is torn up by the yard. Flower hunters have picked the columbine, state flower of Colorado, until it no longer is abundant except in rugged country where few pedestrians go.

The California poppy, once abundant, rarely is found now in extensive fields of flaming gold. Collectors dig thousands of the rare west coast pitcher plants and sell them as insect catchers, for which they are practically valueless, even if the buyers could cultivate them successfully.

In the south, the beautiful magnolia-like flowering tree named for Benjamin Franklin has disappeared in the wild. Searchers have not found it since 1810. An equally attractive ornamental shrub of the heath family, named for Stephen Elliot, the early Carolina botanist, almost is extinct. Even some of the well-armed species of cactus from the southwestern deserts are depleted seriously through their use in confection.

Collectors seek eagerly every wild plant, the root, stem, leaf, flower or fruit, of which can be commercialized and collected without cultivation—and usually without permission of the owner.

About 20 states have passed laws recently for the protection of their rarer plants, but these are difficult of general enforcement.

A good ground cover of herbaceous plants is essential to prevent erosion, and without it, in wooded valleys, the soil would be washed away from the roots of the trees.

Apparently the only places where many of these rarer wild flowers may be seen by future generations will be in private gardens and in well-guarded national state or local parks and forests.

The cafe was closed because of illness of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Horn, who have become unable to care for the business, their son, Bill Horn, said. He said announcement as to future plans for the business would be made later.

SAYS WOMEN OF FARM MUST WORK IN CLUBS

CLAUDE, Texas (AP)—The 6,000,000 farm women of the country if organized into clubs would do more to bring about economic justice and rural prosperity than all the legislatures can ever do, in the opinion of Mrs. Phoebe K. Warner, chairman of the newly formed committee on rural cooperation of the general federation of women's clubs.

Mrs. Warner hopes to have a farm women's club in every county in the country eventually. Many states already have begun organizing their country clubs. Arkansas has 40 of the state's 75 counties already organized.

Mrs. Warner urges city club women everywhere to include farm women in the programs and plans.
