

Hail Hits Some Acreage, But Rest 'Above Average'

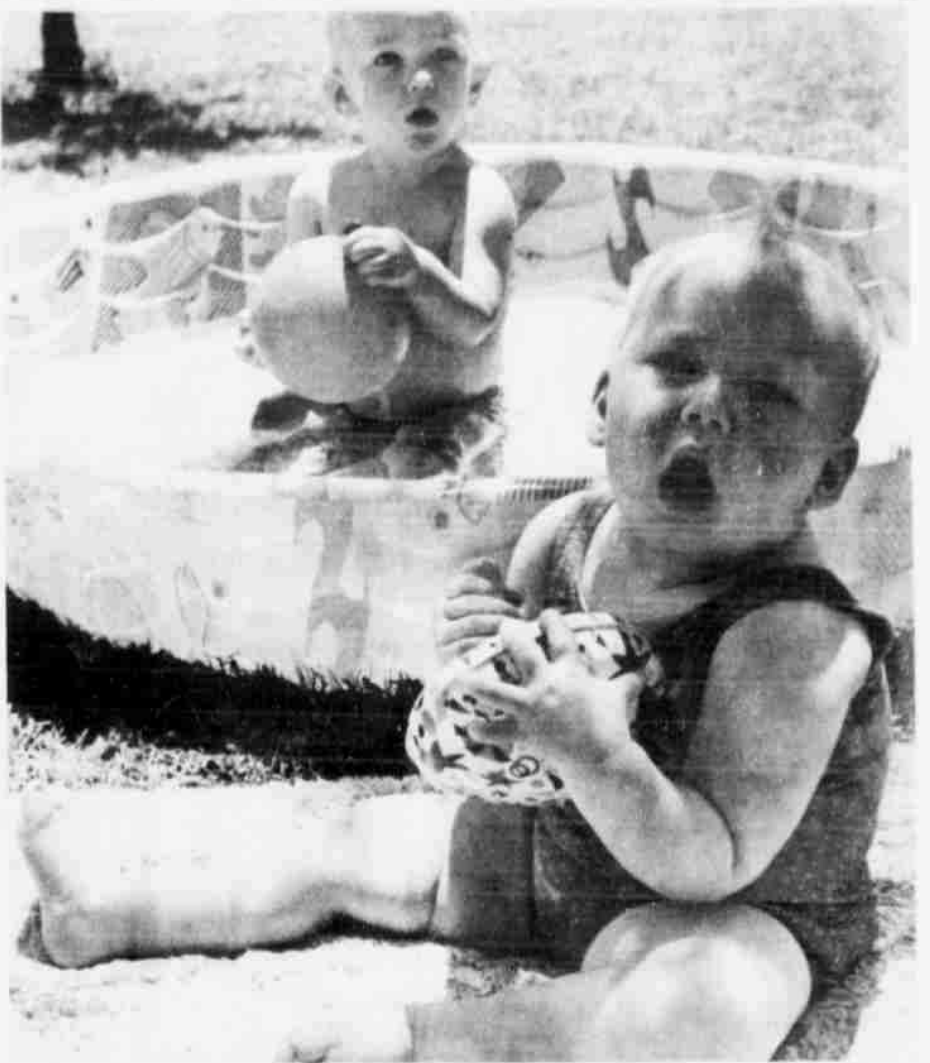

LITTLEFIELD JOINS the rest of the nation this week in observing Little League Baseball Week. A proclamation is signed designating the special observance by Mayor J. E. Chisholm while players Mike Cotter and Ronald Parmer, and League President Bob Bromlow, look on. For more on the special week, see the story on page 6 of this issue.

Areas Near Springlake, Sudan Hit By Storm

Sixty thousand to 70,000 acres of cotton and grain sorghum crops were affected by the hail and heavy rains that hit parts of Lamb County Tuesday night. The Springlake area was hardest hit with an estimated 6,000 acres of growing crops stripped by the hail. Lamar Aten, office manager of the Littlefield ASC, made an official inspection of the hail-riddled areas Thursday. He reported the worst damage to be north and west of Springlake and about four miles east of Sudan. Of the 60 to 70,000 acres affected, "some crops will be left," Aten said. "The feed looks pretty ragged, but I believe most of the farmers will try to salvage their feed." Aten predicted that the earlier feed, especially, would not be replanted.

Aten said crops not damaged by severe weather in other parts of the county were above average in his estimation. "There are still many planted acres not damaged," he said. "I believe this year's crop is the largest percentage of first planting I've seen in several years," he concluded. "Usually most of the growing crops are second plantings by this time." So much hail fell in the Springlake area during the wrath of Tuesday night's storm that hail was still piled up a foot deep along fence rows the following morning. V. O. Busby at Springlake reported banks of hail more than 12 inches deep Wednesday morning. While parts of the county received no moisture at all, other areas were drenched by rains of more than 1.5 inches. Farmers in the Springlake area said the hail came before the rain. Small cutting hail pelted crops for 15 minutes before any rain fell in this area. Rain and hail were severe east of Sudan and there was heavy washing west of Lumsden Gin. The earlier cotton withstood the erosion, but the young cotton was washed under, Aten said. Farmers losing their cotton crops are looking for other cash crops which still have time to mature. Most are considering taking the soybean route, the ASC office manager said. Back-eyed peas are another cash crop that some may plant. Choices for cottonland are limited in some instances due to pre-emergence weed control measures which will limit any running root crops. With the soil still gummy, farmers do not expect to get into their fields for replanting before Monday. In borderline replanting situations, some are running sand fighters over their land and waiting a few days to decide whether to plant again. Hard hit farmers are making applications for cotton price supports now, with the June 1 deadline behind them, and hoping for a cash crop that will meet expenses.

WHAT! 100 DEGREES? Jimmy Tiller, 11-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Tiller, and Cindy Strange, 11 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Strange, beat the heat as temperatures climbed to the century mark in Littlefield this week. The year's highest reading came Thursday.

D-Day Unforgettable To Whitharral Man

WILAH RODGERS
 The "longest day" - D-Day, June 6, 1944 - was the "longest night" for Ralph Wade of Whitharral. While the first assault was being made on Omaha Beach in Normandy, Wade was being up to the beach from the English Channel. Wade was in the 9th Infantry, 2nd Division, F. Co., which began unloading on D-Day plus 1, June 7, 1944. "I was scared," Wade said, "I can sure recall that. They took us off the big ship and put us on little landing barges that were as close enough in that we could see them. Big guns were firing artillery ahead, planes were flying over...there was a lot of shelling going on. Ships were being hit as far as you could see." Thus began Wade's part in the most important operation attempted in the history of war.

they landed was already hideous with the fearful wreckage and debris of war. Wade's company's commands were to clear the area for the rest of the division to move in. "I don't know how many made it," Wade said. "I don't know how many casualties there were. But there were lots of men left over there." The Normandy invasion was the culmination of months of training in the hedgerows of the British Isles. Wade's group trained for hedgerow fighting in Ireland about a year before the invasion. Tanks with blade-type affairs attached to the front preceded them to rip through the hedges. From Normandy Wade's outfit moved into northern France, then into Rhineland, on to Ardennes (Battle of the Bulge).

For the next 59 days, Wade's outfit was on the front lines without relief. For 59 days the men went without baths or a change of clothes. It was more than 30 days after the landing that the men ate a hot meal, their first food other than rations. The landing itself was unforgettable. Wade remembers one big transport in the area hit a mine and sank within an hour. German air power staged daring raids on the transport ships by night. The air was filled with the roaring of bombs and the whirring of propellers. Barrage balloons burst into burning pillars of flames while flak fell on the decks like hail. The first several years after I got home, Wade said, "everytime a storm came up during the night I would come unbound. Every time a flash of lightning and a clap of thunder pealed when I was asleep I'd hit the floor and try to run or try to get under the bed." Some of the men serving with Wade before they set foot on the soil of France. Snipers fired on the troops as they pushed inland, groggy from the long sea. Many clung for their lives to the cliffs and hummocks back of the beach. This narrow strip of France where

Former City Man's Son Said 'Top SDS Leader'

Texas Congressman Jim Collins of Dallas said a former Littlefield man's son is "the top leader" in the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS). Collins said a Dallas couple, Roy Bartee Haile Jr. and his wife Marjorie, were leaders in the heavily criticized organization that plans to move its disruptive activities from college campuses to defense plants and factories this summer. The SDS group has picked more than 60 industrial plants and companies in five states of the Southwest where they hope to stir up trouble and violence, Collins charged. The plan is for SDS members to try to get jobs in defense and industrial plants and gradually enlist help to disrupt them, Collins said.

Haile's wife is the daughter of a prominent Dallas heart specialist. A reliable source said Roy Bartee Haile Jr. turned hippy about a year ago. But according to SDS plans, shaves and haircuts will happen in a lot of cases, Collins said. "Their instructions are to have a good appearance, be very friendly and just to appear as all-American good boys," the Congressman said. Then he contended, "they plan to raise objections, stir up grievances, become the champions of minorities, and gradually relate the situation to war protests." Collins said he has given his information to the Justice Department, the House Committee on Internal Security, the Dallas police, and the officials of the business involved. Texas plants mentioned by Collins as SDS targets include Balfield Industries of Dallas, Jet Research of Arlington, Space Corp. of Garland, LTV in Grand Prairie, Texas Instruments in Houston and Richardson, General Dynamics and Bell Helicopter in Fort Worth, Tracor in Austin, A. O. Smith in Waco, Rocketdyne in McGregor, R. G. LeTourneau Inc. in Longview, Cabot Corp. in Pampa, the Porter Co. in San Antonio, and Braddock Dunn and McDonald in El Paso.

FLY CONTROL EFFORT AUTHORIZED

City OK's Disposal System

Members of the city council adopted the sanitary landfill method of waste disposal at a regular session Thursday night. In other action the council decided to spray for control of flies west of the city limits and discussed the change of management of the municipal airport.

REFUSE WILL be compacted and put in a trench on a progressive slope and covered each day with six inches of earth. When each cell (trench) is filled, the area will be covered with two feet of dirt. There will not be a long open ditch at any given time. In a progressive slope, digging and covering will be done at the same time. City manager Jim Shearer said the present disposal site will be used as long as possible. He estimated that present facilities will be adequate for two or three years without difficulty.

After that, garbage will be deposited in the recommended manner on the northeast corner of the municipal airport. There are 30-city-owned acres here the city purchased for air easement. It slopes down into a lake and will make an excellent site for this purpose, Shearer said. The council authorized Shearer to take bids for purchase of a track loader necessary for this method of disposal. Shearer also recommended that a full-time permanent employee be hired to operate the equipment.

THE ESTIMATED initial cost of $29,190 will be needed for the equipment, including the track loader, an inexpensive building to store the loader and supplies, a portable fence to catch any blowing papers, etc., and signs at the site. Council members adopted a plan for spraying for fly control west of the city limits, providing property owners give their consent. Methods of spraying were discussed and the council recommended aerial spraying by a local pilot.

Boy Fractures Leg In Accident

Paul Harlan, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harlan of 300 E. 18th, received an "internal compound fracture" of his right leg Wednesday afternoon in a freak accident at the Crescent Pool. Harlan is in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, where he reportedly will remain in traction several weeks while the bond mends. The youth was doing a "sitdown" jump off the high board, and landed with his leg in an improper angle, causing the fracture. He swam to the pool's edge, where he was aided onto the bunk by manager Daryl LeBoeuf. An ambulance took the boy to Littlefield Hospital, and he later was transferred to the Lubbock institution.

Auto Strikes Calf

A car driven by Jimmy Don Ellis, 301 W. 10th, Littlefield, hit a whiteface calf that strayed onto West 10th St. just west of Marshall Howard Blvd. Thursday evening about 7:30. The calf, valued at $350, was killed. The '59 Chevrolet owned by W. G. [unclear] had an estimated $100 damages. Thursday night, two cars collided at the intersection of West 10th St. and South Wicker. A '68 Pontiac driven by Troy Long, 31 E. 18th St., and a '66 Buick, driven by Emo Joe Bussanmas, 733 E. 13th, collided when the Long vehicle traveling west and the Bussanmas car headed east, made a left turn in front of the Long car. Both cars were driven from the scene.

Three LHS Students Win State Honors

Three Littlefield band students won state honors at the State Solo and Ensemble Contest sponsored by the University Interscholastic League at Austin this week. The state contest was for the students who made a division I rating on a class 1 solo or ensemble at the regional level earlier this year. Kenneth Richardson, Leroy Smith and Tonya Bingham participated in the solo competition. Competition was conducted at the University of Texas in Austin June 2 and 3. Mr. and Mrs. Phil Anthony went with the trio, and Mrs. Anthony played the accompaniment for the solos. Tonya Bingham and Ken Richardson won Division II ratings and silver medals for their solos. Tonya played a clarinet solo and Ken played a snare drum solo. Leroy Smith won a Division III rating at the state competition with his tuba solo.

60 Blocks Coated

Seal coating was applied to about 60 city blocks in the Crescent Park addition this week. This completes a $15,000 contract for city street work. Major contractor for the paving work that extended from Highway 84 north to 16th Street was Jake Diehl. Street repaving in the city is finished now except for the south end of Phelps Ave., and this is under a separate contract.

What The Leader-News Thinks

Lower Voter Age

The age requirement for voting is 21 in 46 states of the Union. Georgia and Kentucky allow 18 year olds to vote; Alaska extends the right to 19 year olds and Hawaii has a minimum age of twenty.

There has been for some time an accelerating movement toward adjusting the national voting age to the 18 year old level. But at the moment, the possibility of legislation to achieve this goal is remote indeed. This despite the fact that many influential leaders in both parties are on record in support of extending the franchise to the younger generation.

One of the more familiar arguments in favor of the lower age is that "if you are old enough to fight for your country, you are old enough to vote for the leadership that will commit you to that fight". On its face, this is a persuasive line, largely because its appeal is emotional.

On the other hand, it is worth examining what happens when the younger age group actually is allowed to cast ballots. The tally of votes cast by various age groups in 1964 shows a general apathy of response by younger citizens that is disturbing. According to figures issued by the Bureau of the Census, the percentage of those eligible in the 18-20 year old bracket who actually cast ballots was 39.2%. This figure is disturbing enough of itself, but it looks even worse when compared with the percentages for the other age categories. The 21-24 age group figure was 51.3%. Between 25-44, 69% exercised their rights of suffrage.

The highest percentage was in the 45 to 64 year-old-group, with 75.9 participating. Over 65 the total drops to 66.3, but here it is likely that inability to get to the polls is involved.

On the one hand, the statistics on the younger age groups can be taken as a disturbing indication of apathy and lassitude. On the other, however, it may also be evidence that we have inadequately conveyed to the younger generation a stronger sense of the honor and privilege of voting.

We have only to look at the day's headlines to see signs of how disaffected some of our youth has become. But it seems worthwhile, even so, to ask ourselves whether or not we have made a hard, genuine attempt to involve them in real comprehension of the American system. We cannot lay all the blame on the youngsters. We need to kindle their interest. Responsible participation will follow.

PAUL HARVEY

No 'Warren' Court

FOR CHIEF JUSTICE of the U. S. Supreme Court, President Nixon picked a man in his own image.

Warren Burger, a Minnesota farm boy, had to work his way through college and law school; he graduated with honors.

Like Mr. Nixon, Burger believes that the Constitution means what it says, does not require personal interpretation.

HE BELIEVES FIRMLY in law and order.

And most meaningful to every member of the legal profession, this nominee for the highest judicial post in the land was selected from among the ranks of the judiciary. He was for 13 years a judge on the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

PRESIDENT WILLIAM GOSSETT of the American Bar Assn., though not consulted on the selection, applauded it. He labeled Burger "an enlightened conservative."

That, too, is just the label which President Nixon has accepted for himself.

I mention the importance of judicial experience. It has always seemed to me that this highest tribunal should be a mecca for the members of the legal profession. This should be the epitome of all attainment for the law school student, graduate, attorney, judge. Yet too frequently these positions have been passed out as political spoils to men with little or no judicial preparation.

AS THE PRESIDENT said when he first introduced his nominee to you, "...our chief justices have probably had more profound and lasting influence on their times and on the direction of the nation than most Presidents have had."

Let's see, from his previous utterances, what we can expect from Chief Justice-to-be Warren Earl Burger.

Recently, in a commencement address, he said: "Governments exist chiefly to foster the rights and interests of their citizens—to protect their homes and property, their persons and their lives. If the government fails in this basic duty, it is not redeemed by providing even the perfect system for the protection of the rights of defendants in the criminal court."

IF I MIGHT PRESUME to reduce what he said to less legalistic shirt-sleeve English, it is not government's proper function to protect the criminal at the expense of the rest of us.

On that occasion, Judge Burger said "our system of criminal justice, like our entire political structure, was based on the idea of striking a fair balance between the needs of society and the right of an individual."

HE SAID THIS REQUIRES "periodic examination of the balancing process, as an engineer periodically checks the pressure gauges on his boilers."

None can question that there has been, in recent years, a parallel increase in legal leniency and public crime. The more the High Court sought to insure the rights of individuals, the more individuals have thumbed their noses at laws, law men and courts.

BURGER HAS SAID of that, "It is a truism of political philosophy rooted in history that nations and societies often perish from an excess of their own basic principle."

Paradoxically, too much freedom destroys freedom. Now our people are going to be hearing less about freedom and more about responsibility.

No, Warren Burger's will be no "Warren Court."

THE FARMER'S WIFE

Farmers Goats

By LIBBY MUDGETT

LIKE MOST EVERYBODY else, I long ago learned to accept the fact that news coverage was going to be consciously or unconsciously slanted. (Seeing Walter Cronkite so blatantly slant, though, was a little like having my own grandpa lie to me.)

It's hard not to slant. Cold facts can be slanted by omitting some and including others. True statistics can be slanted, merely by arrangement and rearrangement.

There's a piece of reportage in Newsweek, though, that was slanted so far it was lying down—also up and sideways—but still laced with enough truth it was frustrating.

I'd like to take it apart, sentence by sentence, but will satisfy myself with mere fragments.

"...THE FARM SUBSIDY program has been one of Capitol Hill's most sacred of sacred cows...."

Now hey there! We farmers can name a lot more than that. Railroads, airlines, labor unions, welfare programs, all of Foggy Bottom, oh forget it.

"...protected and sustained by poignant memories of widespread farm foreclosures during the Depression."

I hate to disillusion that reporter, whoever he is, but I've seen more people leave the farm from necessity in the last few years than I did during the Depression.

"...the program's principal function is to insulate the economically vulnerable—and nostalgically cherished—small farmer from ruinous fluctuations in harvest and crop prices."

FARMERS ARE nostalgically cherished? By whom?

"...the main beneficiaries are the new breed of large, highly mechanized enterprises that dominate U. S. agriculture."

Maybe so, maybe so. But let's talk over the reasons mechanized farming came into being. For one, farm laborers could make more by going to the city and getting on government welfare.

And then there was the bracero program that the government put a stop to.

What was there left to do but mechanize? The cost of which put (and is still putting) many a farmer off the farm.

"Some 16,430..... farmers.....receive more than $20,000 a year in subsidy payments; five farms get more than $1 million apiece."

See, I told you statistics could be slanted. Just how representative do you think those five farms are? Or for that matter, those 16,430?

Well, the whole point of the article was to tell us that the House of Representatives had passed a measure that would keep federal subsidies to any one farm under $20,000 and to inform us that the Senate just might do likewise. Well, okay.

But here's the way it was worded: "...no farm could claim more than $20,000 a year in Federal handouts."

FEDERAL HANDOUTS!

"...the House's leadership...attempted to defeat it by bringing the measure to an initial vote on a Monday, when many city-based congressmen are customarily found back home."

Now right here, uh oh. Ah ha! City-based congressmen have the custom of being home on Monday? While Congress is meeting? Do I detect an unintentional compliment to country-based congressmen?

"(quoting Rep. Conte of Mass.) It is high time that congressmen and senators who have their faces in the public trough stop collecting subsidies or do not vote on these bills."

PUBLIC TROUGH!

"(Rep. Findley of Ill.) also pointed out that many of the countries...that refuse to participate in Federal food programs for the poor were the very ones that benefit most from farm subsidies....Lynn County, Texas."

I must have missed something. Where's the connection?

"Findley politely refrained from noticing that Lynn County is also the home of George Mahon, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee..."

Aw see, I told you it was so slanted it was lying in all directions.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Facts Of Life

By BOB WEAR

PRETENDING MAY HAVE an acceptable place in the make-believe world of a child, but a carry-over into the adult world is not recommended. Authorities in the field of human behavior tell us that a certain amount of fantasy or day-dreaming can be expected and even taken. Some say that it may occasionally serve a good purpose by "taking the harsh edges off of an unpalatable reality". They warn, however, that this practice can be overdone. The danger is in confusing the world with the real world.

THE PHILOSOPHER

Machine Reader

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm examines a suggestion to improve the mail service, without much effect either way.)

Dear editor:

I was reading a newspaper that got into my mail box by mistake—I put it back in before the day was over so the mail carrier could deliver it to my neighbor down the road the next morning, after all, you can't hurt a newspaper by just reading it, and it works the other way too, you can't get hurt by it—and got interested in an article on the mail service.

According to it, the Post Office Department in Washington is hoping somebody will invent a machine that reads handwriting.

With such a machine, it points out, all mail could be automatically sorted and dispatched mechanically, at 10 times the rate postal clerks can do it, thus speeding up the job of getting billions of pieces of mail distributed every day, or a week later, as the case may be.

I'll tell you, when they get a machine that can read my handwriting, there'll be nothing left to invent and I wish they'd hurry as I've got a bunch of notes I wrote to myself yesterday that I can't make heads or tails of and I remember they sounded important when I scribbled them down.

I'm afraid though the Post Office is on the wrong track. Too many people make an "n" like an "m" or an "m" like a "w" for any machine to handle.

The answer is the typewriter, with magnetic ribbons, like the magnetic ink used on bank checks. Machines can read that, as anybody who was ever overdrawn can tell you.

However, this would involve teaching everybody in the United States to type, along with furnishing everybody with a typewriter and some magnetic ribbon.

The job would be so big, requiring the manufacture of 200 million typewriters and the services of a million or more typing instructors, that it wouldn't be long before the entire nation would be dominated by the Typewriter and Magnetic Ribbon Complex, unless we could talk the Military-Industrial Complex into beating part of their ABM's into typewriters and their carbon paper into magnetic ribbon.

Meanwhile, if this letter, because the post office can't read the address I've written on it, reaches the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal instead of the Leader-News in Littlefield, you know who the joke will be on.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Rotary Must Face Optimist Monday

Major League leading Rotary tomorrow night must face its only club that has been able to handle them this year, Optimist.

Through seven games, Coach Flayce Pierce's three Optimist wins have been at extremes. The can win over the top and bottom clubs in the standings, but those other three in the middle give them trouble.

Optimist has two wins over cellar-dwelling W.O.W., besides the big Rotary victory.

Meanwhile, Lions and Butane stand ready to climb into a tie with Rotary, should the latter falter once again. The second-place tied teams are only a game behind in the standings.

BUTANE 7 OPTIMIST 4

Rickey Richards lead Butane to a 7-4 victory over Optimist by hitting a homerun for two RBIs Friday night. Richards was the leading hitter for the victors.

Other outstanding hitters for Butane were Gary Pace, with a double, and John Pace, with a single.

Connie Bowman was the winning pitcher, allowing three hits.

Leading batters for Optimist were David Blevins, Bill Turner, and Andy Rogers, with singles each.

Turner was the losing pitcher of record.

ROTARY 17 WOW 1

Rotary smeared WOW 17-1 in Major League action Thursday night.

Lonnie Twitty was the winning pitcher, allowing Ken Seal WOW's only hit of the night.

Jimmy Standaford did extremely well by hitting a homerun his first time at bat and then a grand slam homer in the fifth inning, giving him six RBIs for the evening. This ranked him as leading hitter for the night for Rotary. He was followed by Ken Turner and Willie Huey, with a double each. Garry Brown hit three singles. Doug Perrin hit two.

The losing pitcher was Rayford Green.

HAPPY HITTER—Jimmy Standaford is congratulated by coach Jerry Williams after rounding third base during Rotary's win over W.O.W. Thursday night. He had just hit his second home run of the evening, in as many trips to the plate, accounting for six RBIs. This is Standaford's first year in the Majors, and he's collected three hits in seven at-bats.

Bankers, Newsmen Clash Again Tomorrow Night

Security State will either be tied for the Minor League lead with Leader-News after tomorrow night, or establish a two-game margin over the defending champion Newsmen.

The only loss thus far this season was handed Leader-News by the Bankers, back during the second week of the season. This is the second of three meetings on the schedule between the two conference powers.

Security is thus far undefeated in seven outings.

with a double. Vargis is also the losing pitcher.

SECURITY STATE 19 PIGGLY WIGGLY 10

Security State remained undefeated in Minor League play outscoring Piggly Wiggly 19-10 Thursday night.

Herman Wilson was the champion hurler, allowing only three hits.

The leading hitters Security were Duke Dukatnik, with two doubles and a single, and Ray Trevine and Stan Jackson, with a single each.

The top batters for Wiggly were Bobby Ray Trevine and Ray Cushion, with a single each. Connie Black was the pitcher.

Security Climbs In BR Standings

Security State won twice as many ball games in two nights as it has the rest of the young Babe Ruth League season.

In doing so, the Bankers climbed out of the cellar and into a tie with State Line-B & C in the standings, and are now only half a game out of a tie for first with Amherst. Sudan and Roden in the extremely well-balanced league.

Security took 12-6 and 8-0 wins over Ware-Richey and Roden, respectively.

SECURITY STATE 12 WARE-RICHEY 6

Danny Estrada led Security to a 12-6 victory over Ware-Richey Thursday night by hitting a homerun and two doubles.

Pat Henderson was the winning pitcher, allowing only three hits.

Glenn Short was the leading hitter for Ware-Richey with a double. He was followed closely by Michael Carter and Glenn Francis, with a single each.

Estrada's homer drove in two RBIs.

Short was the losing pitcher.

RODEN DRUG 14 SUDAN 2

Roden romped over Sudan 14-2 in Babe Ruth action Thursday night.

The leading hitter for Sudan was Jefferson, with a homerun. Jay Trammell of Roden hit a grand slam homer over the center field fence in the fourth inning. Other outstanding hitters for Roden were Bobby Matthews, Chuck Blevins and Kenny Owens.

Larry Bobratschik was the winning hurler, giving up five hits.

The losing pitcher was Richard Jamplin.

SECURITY STATE 6 RODEN DRUG 0

Security State skunked Roden 6-0 Friday night.

Danny Estrada was the winning pitcher, allowing only two hits. He was also the leading batter, with a homerun and a double.

The leading hitters for Roden Drug were: Bobby Matthews with a double, and Chuck Blevins with a single.

The losing pitcher was Dennis Cowen.

LEADER-NEWS 10 COCA COLA 6

Leader-News emerged victorious over Coca Cola Friday night.

Roy Jackson was the winning pitcher, giving up only three hits, all doubles.

Ralph Mendez was the ace hitter for the Newsmen with a double and a single. He was followed by David Goen, with a double, and Tommy Hodge with a single.

The leading hitters for Coca Cola were Dean Walden, Ruben Silvis, and Ray Vargis, each

Little League Week

Two million youngsters, their parents and leaders of more than 6,000 communities will participate in the observance of National Little League Baseball Week, June 9-14.

Originally set aside in Presidential proclamation by the late Presidents Dwight Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy, Little League Week calls for nationwide attention to the Little League movement as a wholesome, beneficial experience carried on in the public interest for boys throughout the world. Local communities conduct special events during this period to highlight the activities of the program and to encourage support and interest.

In announcing plans for Little League Week, President Peter J. McGovern said the occasion serves to reaffirm the dedication of thousands of men and women volunteers to the achievement of beneficial goals for the nation's youth.

McGovern also pointed out that the Little League Foundation, which supports the work of the program, conducts its one-time-a-year drive for funds during Little League Week.

MOB VIOLENCE

The Great Teacher, in a great sermon, taught well, the lesson of self control. If we curb anger we need not worry about murder. Anger is the motive power that leads to murder. How terrible to know that every angry man is a potential murderer. Everyone who is angry with his brother shall be liable to judgment. Matthew 5:22. How wild, how intemperate, how satanic, how malicious is an angry mob. They are men gone amuck and no human can expect fair treatment from the hot headed. We are a Christian Democracy. That means everyone of us takes the place of the king or the police officer. We are, under God, keepers of the peace and of order. When the mob gathers, don't join them. Take your place by the lonely, the threatened, and insist the appointed officer deal with him. For every man merits justice in America.

Jesus The Same

REV. E. E. HOULETTE
United Pentecostal Church

HEB. 13:8: Jesus Christ the same yesterday, today and forever.

This cannot be said of anyone else. People have a beginning and ending. How can this be? Is He not human also?

Is the Scripture talking about His natural body? Or is there something else besides the natural body?

Could a natural body have existed before His birth as a human? Who was His father? Does the Bible tell us or not?

If a body existed before Mary gave birth to the body then why does not the Scripture tell us about it.

In Matt. 1:20 the angel told Joseph that Mary had CONCEIVED by the Holy Ghost and that she would have a baby son. This will let us know that there was no body existing before his conception. Conception is the beginning of a body.

HE WAS CONCEIVED as any other baby, only not by a natural man, but by the Holy Ghost.

Luke 1:35: "The power of the Holy Ghost shall overcome upon thee and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee; therefore, that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the son of God."

This then would make Him of the heavenly or spirit world and also of the earthly. He called Himself the Son of man many times.

To the Samaritan woman in John 4:26 He declared Himself to be the Jews' Messiah or God made known in flesh.

THE JEWISH DREAM was deliverance from foreign bondage. The thought of a savior or deliverer from sin did not occur to them. So many prophecies told of deliverance, but they could not see that it was from sin as they thought the law of Moses was all they needed for that. In the plan of God, deliverance from sin came first.

If they would accept His plan for deliverance from sin, then it was no trouble for God to have delivered them from their political oppressors.

However, as they did not accept His plan for deliverance from sin, He let their political oppressors come in and destroy them.

THEY DID NOT SEEM to realize that God had been so patient and longsuffering with them in their waywardness and that they did not merit Him saving them from their captors. His dealings with them had always been in leniency, loving kindness, and compassion.

When they had proved that they would not obey Him, then He proved to them that He was a God of judgement and punished them according to their works.

To them He was a God of thunder, smoke, fire—something awe inspiring. A God of vengeance, war and a warrior Himself.

LITTLE DID THEY realize He was the still small voice speaking to Elijah, the voice that walked in the cool of the day and talked to Adam and Eve.

That it was He who stepped into the flame of fire and disappeared as the parents of Samson looked on. God was not confined to just one way of appearing to man in Old Testament times.

In Heb. 1:1 it says God appeared in divers or many manners or ways, but in these last days He has spoken to us by His Son. God appeared to man in the form and manner that suited the occasion.

Adam and Eve had not father or mother to instruct them, so He came in the form of the voice and counseled them. Jacob conquering so He wrestled with him all night as a man.

To Israel who needed some visible sign that they might know their God.

He appeared as a great furnace of fire.

GOD EXPOSED HIMSELF to humanity all His attributes. So loving and gentle to Adam and Eve in the garden, yet when they sinned He sent judgement.

So long suffering with Israel, yet when they refused to stop serving other Gods, His judgements came and they were taken into captivity.

WERE THESE SAME attributes in Jesus? Was not He the one that took their diseases, preached good tidings to the poor and outcast? He was the one who said turn the other cheek. Didn't He turn His own back to His persecutors and His own head to the crown of thorns? Yet He is the one who so mercifully denounced the Pharisees and Sadducees for their hypocritical acts and sayings.

The doom of Jerusalem was pronounced in no uncertain terms. The ways and methods of God in both the early and later times have been the same.

JESUS IS THE FIRST and the last. Rev. 1:1 "In the beginning He was known as the WORD". John 1:1-2: "The Word was with God and yet was God."

The concept of God is His essence or who He is, then that is God. Ex. 3:14, God said Moses I AM that I AM.

His attributes have never changed.

He has appeared in many different forms but always the same God. Now He is here with us in the form of His son. The Son is from the family of man and also of the family of heaven making Him both God and man.

The kind of God that He was in the beginning is the same one that He always will be. Watching His dealings with man in old and modern times shows us of His unchangeableness.

His essence is primarily life. No other source can produce life. Satan is the author of death, never of life. Watch it.

How could the Word be with God and yet be God. How else could it be. The concept of God can be seen in all His creation. He has a mental picture of God by seeing and understanding the good things He has made and by His teaching left us in His word.

THE FACT THAT GOD veiled Himself in flesh, came and lived among us taking on Himself the sins of the world that humanity might have deliverance from spiritual death, only goes to prove His essence.

In comparison, would the devil die for you? The concept of God by many is that He is a God of vengeance seeking and anxious to destroy. Think of His patience and longsuffering with you and you will be convinced otherwise.

THE GOD OF THE OLD, is the God of the New Testament—only expressed in a different form. We see Him now as expressed in the Son. There are no impossibilities with God.

His coming into the world in the manner that He did, leaves the world without excuse because there is nothing like a God coming to a people in their own form and saving them from the curse of sin.

Look where you may and see if you can find another like our God. His name is Jesus.

Mark Jordan Is Boys Stater

AUSTIN—The twenty-ninth annual American Legion Boys State sponsored by the Department of Texas and held on the Campus of the University of Texas, got underway Saturday, June 7, as 750 high school boys from all parts of Texas began registration. Robert P. Walsh, Department Commander, announced.

Among those registering from Littlefield was Mark Frank Jordan who was sponsored by the Littlefield American Legion Posts.

Following registration, each citizen was assigned to one of two political parties—the Nationalist or Federalist. Each citizen then functions as a member of his party; he attends its precinct, county and state conventions and votes in its primary.

In Boys State, The American Legion provides the type of program where the young citizen has the opportunity to learn for himself that his government is just what he makes it. The boy "learns to do by doing."

Highlight of Boys State will be a trip to the Capitol on Friday morning where each elected Boys State Official will be given an opportunity to serve in his respective office for a day, followed by the Governor's Ball Friday evening. Boys State enrollment this year brings the total to 14,154 junior high school boys who have attended since 1940, when Boys State was first inaugurated in Texas.
