

Chamber President Calls For Clean-Up

Commerce President Jerry has called upon Littlefield to help clean up the city before the Festivities Days events begin. Littlefield looks its best when Festivities Days, a clean-up is needed. Several store fronts on Avenue, LFD and XIT Drives, and our highway entrances into Littlefield especially need a clean-up.

ugly weeds and trash that do not add to the appearance of our fine city."

"The City is doing its part to help clean up. If everyone would clean up his own area and place the trash in portable containers that can be thrown away easily by the city crew, Littlefield would improve its 'front door' appearance 100 percent," he stated.

"We are not going to try to organize a complete clean-up, fix-up campaign—all we are asking you to do is clean up your place of business or residence, and help your neighbor too, if necessary," he concluded.

DON'T EAT fresh corn on the cob unless you know the field it was grown in hasn't been poisoned. This is the word from agriculture officials who say that most area corn patches in the Earth-Springlake and Olton communities have been sprayed with D-Syston, a potent and lasting chemical. Distributors of the poison say all the corn will be too hard to eat fresh by the time a safe period is past. Many acres of watermelons and cantaloupe in the Littlefield and Anton areas, especially those being grown for seed, have been sprayed and would be help-yourselfers are warned of dangers of eating treated melons. Kimberly Taylor of Earth holds one of the many signs displayed on treated corn fields north of the sandhills. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Davey Taylor of Earth.

VEE Vaccinations Underway In County

298 Horses 'Shot' Friday

A typical day in the life of Dr. Charles 'Bud' Nace, Littlefield veterinarian, hasn't been the regular routine this past week.

However, a typical day out of last week—Friday—revealed that he had inoculated 298 horses with the Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis vaccine (VEE) before he went to bed.

Friday morning he was at Spade, where 108 horses were 'shot' with the VEE vaccine, and he continued his operations in Littlefield Friday afternoon, when 190 horses received the vaccine.

A grand total count of the inoculations the veterinarian had made all week has not been tallied, but will be released later.

Vaccine is mixed and picked up daily in Lubbock, and supplies are being limited. The vaccine lasts 12 hours after it is mixed, and all that is not used within that time must be destroyed.

A 'make-up' day—to vaccinate all horses that have been missed—will be scheduled some day late next week. An announcement of the time and place will be released in next Thursday's Leader-News.

Dr. Nace has urged persons who have horses that were missed to contact the office, 385-3050, and let him know how many horses need the vaccine, so the supply can be picked up.

He will be in Anton today, Sunday, from 1 to 5 p.m. at the Anton Co-op Gin yard.

Monday, beginning at 1 p.m., he will be at the rodeo pen in Sudan.

298 HORSES were inoculated by Dr. Charles G. Nace, Littlefield veterinarian, Friday, in the statewide campaign to head off the epidemic of Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis (VEE). The vaccine for this area is mixed in Lubbock, and lasts 12 hours after it is mixed. Dr. Nace vaccinated 108 horses at Spade and 190 in Littlefield Friday, and is continuing the immunization project through this week.

Two Are Winners In Bingo Game

Only two winning newspaper Bingo cards have been turned in to the Leader-News office, and if these are the only two winners, the $50 prize will be divided.

Anyone who thinks they have a winner for the first game—played on the blue card with numbers in the Sunday and Thursday issues of the Leader-News—are asked to bring them to our office by 5 p.m. Tuesday.

A new game begins today on orange bingo cards—with numbers to be found on Bingo Bugs in this issue and Thursday's issue of the Leader-News.

So mop up on all the blue cards and find out if you are a winner; then begin the second game.

Nurse Injured In Car Turnover

A nurse on her way home from work at the Littlefield Hospital was brought back to the hospital by private automobile for treatment of injuries when her car overturned one and one-half times two miles west of Springlake about 4 p.m. Thursday.

Bobbie Jan Blackburn of Earth was driving east in a 1966 Ford Falcon when a pickup driven by Bunyon Clifton pulled onto U. S. 70 coming from the south. Miss Blackburn applied the brakes on her car and went into a skid and into the ditch before overturning, according to Bill Angel, highway patrolman.

Miss Blackburn remained in the hospital at press time.

A two-car collision occurred at the intersection of U. S. 70 and 385 at Springlake at 2:45 p.m. Thursday. Wanda Washburn Brooks was driving a 1968 Pontiac west when a north bound car driven by Dorothy Gilbreath of Route 2 Hart pulled into the path of the Gilbreath car after coming to a stop.

The front center of the Gilbreath vehicle hit the left rear of the Brooks car. There were no personal injuries.

Your Students Have Their Proper Immunizations?

Do your students have their proper immunizations?

All students who are entering Littlefield schools for the first time must have immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, polio and measles.

If there is a history of measles, that shot will not be required. Otherwise all children under 12 years old must be immunized against the rubella measles.

Junior high and high school requires immunizations against diphtheria, polio, tetanus and smallpox.

Texas colleges require full immunization against polio if the student is under 19 years of age, and immunization against diphtheria, tetanus and smallpox within the past ten years.

Those students entering public kindergartens, which are associated with elementary schools, will be required to have the immunizations.

Parents are urged to have their children immunized before they start to school Aug. 23.

Industrial Tour Slated Aug. 3

A second tour of Littlefield's industry will be conducted Tuesday morning, Aug. 3, at 10 a.m.

Citizens interested in making the tour through Nipak Fertilizer, Inc. are asked to call the Chamber of Commerce office, 385-4451.

MRS. HITE WORKS FOR SHEER JOY

Too Busy To Be Lonesome

By NILAH RODGERS
Leader-News Staff Writer

"Most women are cranky about their age," Mrs. Lena Hite said. "For crying out loud, honey, I'll soon be 40 years old," she laughed before admitting that she was 74 last March. "Let's just sit down and talk and see what we can get into."

Mrs. Hite, whose name rhymes with bright and light, has been a widow for 39 years. "But I don't get lonesome," she said. "I don't have time to moan and groan. I get a bang out of life! And I plan, the Lord willing, to live to 95 or 100."

Looking far less than her 74 years young, 95 pounds thin, always fashionably dressed, wearing dark glasses and driving a sports car, Mrs. Hite is a well-known figure in the Earth community where her rambling ranch home, set well back from U.S. 70, is almost hidden by the hundreds of junipers, pines, Arizona Cypress and other trees and shrubs that surround her personal acre of the Hite Park Addition.

An American flag flying high on a pole right out front reflects her deep patriotism. Inside the white brick home, the many mirrors, paintings and furnishings in happy colors express Mrs. Hite's personality. And as soon as she speaks, a profound faith in God and a deep personal interest and compassion for all is evident.

Mrs. Hite and her late husband were both 44 years old when he died suddenly from a heart attack in 1941. Shortly before her husband's death, the Hites had signed for Robert Lowell, the oldest of their three children to join the armed service. The young soldier was assigned to Doolittle's Raiders and was one of 80 men sent to bomb Tokyo. The carrier Hornet ran out of fuel over enemy territory and went down in a Japanese cemetery. Young Hite suffered through the rainy night with a broken leg and other injuries, before a man pretending friendship led him into a Japanese camp where he was held in solitary confinement for four years.

"The War Department notified me that he was missing in action," Mrs. Hite said, "then I didn't hear another word from them for four years. But I never gave up. Not once did I believe he was dead. My son almost died, and when he was very low, I had a feeling about that. He did, too. He said that he knew that Mother knew that he was alive. But I never said 'no, he won't live.'"

Of the 80 sent on the mission, Hite and four others were the only ones to come home. Some of the men were executed, the others were told they would be executed, all were tortured.

For four years Hite lived in a hole the size of a bed. By jumping and hanging on with curled fingers, he could look out the single, tiny window. His toilet was one corner of the tiny hole. There were no baths, and lice crawled in his hair. What little exercise they were allowed was in the winter when they were taken out barefoot and in their underwear into the freezing cold. The guards took pleasure in poking the prisoners with spears. These things and other tortures Mrs. Hite's son and the other four survivors endured are told in the book "Five Came Home."

"He was a pitiful sight when he came home," Mrs. Hite said. "He looked like he'd never smile again. But you should see him now; he's handsome and he keeps everyone giggling all the time. There's nothing good food and love won't cure."

One of the five survivors later went back to Japan as a missionary and converted as many as 100 a day, including many of those who had tortured the Americans. "I prayed for the Japanese while my son was a prisoner," Mrs. Hite said. "He prayed for his enemies. I believe that's one of the big reasons why he came back."

While he was a POW Mrs. Hite was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross.

On his return, there were two homecomings, the first when they met him at the plane. Then when area people learned he was home, the radio stations announced a caravan would take the soldier to Clovis. "Tears were dropping all over the place. We had a ball, she said.

Robert Lowell is a retired colonel and manages the Holiday Inn in Muskogee, Okla. He has attended every Doolittle Raiders reunion except the first one. Mrs. Hite attended one. "And honey, it was a ball," she said. "Those guys are something."

"Don't slight Kenneth," Mrs. Hite said of her other son. He's done as much as Lowell, he just didn't get captured. That's the only difference. Kenneth is a graduate of West Point. He was in the Korean War, and he was something else in Vietnam. He was supposed to make 100 missions in a year and he made them in one-half that time and threw in another five for good measure. Kenneth is a colonel and works in the Pentagon in Washington, commuting from Alexandria, Va.

Mrs. Hite's daughter, Hazel Ricketts, married a Navy officer who is now a captain and in the Secret Service. They live in McClain, Va., and he commutes to Washington. Hazel and her family will visit Mrs. Hite next week, and Mrs. Hite is busy with yard work and is filling the freezer getting ready for their visit.

World travelers and royalty don't enjoy life more than Mrs. Hite who lives "for the sheer joy of loving and doing for others."

"No one could be any happier than I am when I'm home keeping my house and yard." She is happy in her work and inspiration comes with little effort. "Sometimes I just bubble over with enthusiasm," she said. "I don't worry about what people think."

Mrs. Hite keeps her own house and does

MRS. LENA HITE calls work play, stays so busy she doesn't have time to be lonesome, and has a faith in God that won't quit. Add to this plenty of blended fruit juice and a love of people for a formula of how Mrs. Hite lives at 74. She stands in a corner of the big sun room in her home in the Hite Park Addition at Earth.

Liberty

Liberty, it has been said, is the right to do as the laws allow. Liberty is not, as some present-day philosophers seem to think, the right to do as the rights of others, and the law not allow it.

THE SENTIMENT appears to be spreading among some people that a person has a right to break the law if he is motivated by so-called political or moral other, some groups insist on the right of violating the rights of others by expressing their dissent in such wild ways as trying to "shut down the government." They are visionary rich and mad.

DEED, with respect to the Mayday demonstrations in the Nation's capital, the neutral and objective observers must feel that some influential components of society, judging from their reactions were sympathetic to the rebellion who vowed "to bring the Government to a halt."

THE RECENT PAST, we have seen ridiculous incidents in the name of rights, liberty, and freedom which were completely devoid of commonsense and morality. In fact, many such events were staged as if to perpetuate degradation and depravity rather than anything so uplifting and noble as rights and freedoms.

Also, to my mind, we are right to question the sincerity of petitioners, regardless of their cause, who haul down the Nation's flag and destroy and burn government property.

CITIZENS TAKING to the streets to air their grievances should remember that they are exercising a most cherished right under the system of law.

Their presence, however restrained and controlled, creates some degree of inconvenience and hardship for others, not to mention the costs involved which must be borne by the local and/or Federal Governments.

These conditions are understandable. However, when demonstrators deliberately defy authority and violate the rights of others, let them know that the same system of law which willingly grants the opportunity to be heard will quickly and effectively curb their excesses. Liberty without law is a myth.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE Wasteful Worry

WORRY DISSIPATES ALL vital forces of the human being.

In fact, it is one of the greatest enemies of physical, mental and emotional good health. It can prevent one's effectiveness in the personal living experience, and often causes illness.

Worry is the one response which can nullify all of the good and profitable elements in a life.

REASONABLE AND WISE concern is one thing, but worry is something else. This concern is justified and helpful, but worry is neither justified nor helpful.

Worry is mental distress or agitation resulting from unwise concern for something impending or anticipated. "Worry is interest paid on trouble before it becomes due."—Inge.

SOME THINGS CANNOT be changed. We can worry about these, but we are not being sensible when we do.

When we realize that a situation is unalterable, we must acknowledge that it is; fully admit the fact, and do the very best we can to forget it. We may not like it, but we cannot afford to worry about it.

SOME THINGS ARE NOT going to turn out allright; at least, not the way we want them to turn out.

Worry never helps in such circumstances, but is harmful to us because it weakens us; and we are less capable of making the necessary adjustment.

MANY CONDITIONS can be corrected, or changed, or improved, or partially altered. When such is possible, let us do what we can and then forget it.

There is certainly no good reason for worry, and no profit in worry. It is all loss or perhaps worse than loss. It destroys benefits of whatever we may have accomplished.

WORRY IS A HABIT which many people acquire, and they deceive themselves to the point that they actually feel guilty if they don't worry.

If these people have nothing about which to worry, they look until they find something. This is such a waste of life, and suppresses all of the good impulses.

IT IS NOT LESS WORK that we need, but less worry. Work is good for us, and is a valuable contribution to our well-being, but worry is neither good for us nor helpful.

Worry does not help the worrier or the people who may be unfortunate enough to be associated with him.

"WORRY AFFECTS the circulation—the heart, the glands, the whole nervous system. I have never known a man who died from overwork, but many who died from doubt."—Dr. Mayo.

LIFE IS DISTORTED by worry. Everything is thrown out of balance. We become blind to our blessings, and overlook all that is right with us and with the world.

Worry minimizes the desirable components of life, and maximizes the undesirable.

WORRY CHANGES LIVING to a miserable kind of existence.

Love Story

THE MOVIE "Love Story," whatever you and I thought of it, was the most profitable motion picture since "Gone With The Wind."

Aside from the frat-house language dragged in, it's an old-fashioned story of rich boy-poor girl romance which ends with her death.

WOMEN COME away weeping. Men come away wondering what the boy's rich dad did wrong.

The Harvard lawyer father appeared merely to be prodding his son to scholastic achievement, but the generation gap thus demonstrated is so meaningful to the young that when the boy tells off his father there is most always applause in the theater.

IT IS ALMOST impossible for today's adults to comprehend modern youth's responses to their elders' good intentions. Almost impossible. A Hoosier college president may have built a bridge on which you and I can cross over and see the other side's side.

President Landrum Bolling of Earlham College, Richmond, Indiana, believes almost nobody over forty understands today's youth rebellion.

SOME DADS blame campus discontent on Communists.

Dr. Bolling finds long hair, beards and rock music are as disconcerting to the Communist establishment in Moscow as they are to our establishment in Boston.

MOST DADS believe the end of the Vietnamese war and the draft will quiet the kids.

Yet the young are demonstrating, rioting in nations not at all involved in the Indochinese war.

SOME PARENTS believe more money for education, housing and care of the poor will eliminate discontent.

Dr. Bolling says students construe "federal money" as a substitute for genuine social concern. They lack their parents' confidence in "money" as a cure-all. They don't see any solution to the problems of pollution, racial conflict, urban decay and war—and they don't think their elders do, either.

SOME PARENTS insist that "young people have always opposed their elders" and "this, too, will pass."

Yet many thoughtful historians, psychologists and social anthropologists—a lot of common-sense grandparents—believe today's discontent to be much deeper, more widespread, more far ranging than any heretofore.

SOME PARENTS believe old-fashioned religion will rescue our sons and daughters.

And this is, indeed, the most truth-seeking generation of young people with respect to spiritual matters that we have known in this century. And they prefer old-fashioned emotional religious orthodoxy. Pentecostalism is the fastest growing wing of American Protestantism; many young people, including college students, are part of that growth.

THEY ARE SEEKING a divine element in life and a way to relate themselves to it. Dr. Bolling believes for all their calculated, overt wickedness, today's young generation is profoundly concerned about ethical and moral issues.

ONCE THEY have shocked and shamed us for the hypocrisy which has characterized us, and when they have learned about the inherent weaknesses and finitude of all human being, including themselves, probably we and they will meet again somewhere near the middle of the bridge.

HONNY GRITS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

WELL, I DID manage a sort of vacation. I tried to be good to not be bossed by a and the constant need for more about the finances—It's not that I need any more, but, that I'm tryin' to live on what I can manage to come possession of.

HOWEVER, while down at Carlsbad

ers, I found myself sitting in the lobby administration building. The rest of family was running here and there, ing what they could see.

I was sitting and trying to rest my bones after the walking tour of the ems. Believe me, that's NOT for me just past 39, especially when am not in good condition.

ANYWAY, I FOUND myself parting in one of my favorite pastimes, in a place of that kind. Namely,

ple-watching."

ally, I guess people are funnier than body. It's amusing to watch America, vacation, so earnestly and seriously himself up on a pedestal, and his prone to look down on all his fellow travelers is commonplace to a lot of us!

It's my opinion that this ol' world would a much better place in which to live, if we could just recognize ourselves to be a part of the crowd. To understand that we're a common people with common problems and common responsibilities, with common goals in mind.

HOWEVER, THERE ARE lines to be drawn. Surely, the morally clean have the right to esteem themselves above the unclean, the law-abiding above the lawbreaker and the builders above the destroyers.

If this were not the case, where is the incentive for the upright and ambitious kind of person? The desire to excel is a very strong trait in all of us. The spirit of competition is the propelling factor in our economy.

WHERE, THEN, is the melting pot of humanity? Where can we meet on a basis of equality? There is such a place!

That place is in the applied principles of Christianity. When all can make an honest effort to applying these ideals to ourselves, then can we face each other as equals.

THE PHILOSOPHER

New Hope

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discovers new horizons for environmentalists this week.)

Dear editor:

For a while I was worried about some of the environmentalists, that is, the newcomers who got in late on the act, not the genuine ones who are on firm ground when they attack the pollution of rivers, lakes, oceans, parks, roadsides and the air we breathe.

But it's pretty hard to establish a permanent organization with a president and all against swordfish and corn flakes, so I was pleased when I read in a newspaper last night that a scientist has come up with a brand new one. It's automobile tires. Not the tires themselves, it's what goes with the rubber when it wears out.

According to him, 340,000 tons of rubber a year disappear into the air or somewhere as tires go from new to treadbare on the streets and highways of America, not counting, I presume, that left by teenagers who dig out because I've seen their skid-marks still on the highway.

Now 340,000 tons of minute particles of rubber dumped into the atmosphere every year is something I hadn't thought about, but it sure opens up new horizons for environmentalists running out of something to point their finger at, some of whom were reduced to denouncing paper cups.

For example, take pigeon feathers. You ever figure up how many pounds of pigeon feathers float down through the air and clutter up the ground every year?

Or squirrel fur, that's bound to be a hazard to the lungs of fellow squirrels and other forest creatures as the tiny hairs float through the air, not to mention campers out in the woods hunting for a clear spot to dump their trash.

Or shoe leather, or the skin from barefooted people.

I could go on, but you can see the possibilities are unlimited for environmentalists hunting something to point their finger at.

In fact, they don't even have to look beyond their fingers. Throw in the toenails and you've really got a crisis on your hands. Congress has got to wake up and do something about rubber tires and toenails.

The more you think about all these frightful conditions the more you conclude life is not possible on this planet, yet people tell me the population is increasing all the time.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Four Charged With Burglary

A 21-year-old Littlefield man, Manuel DeLeon, and three juveniles aged 14, 15 and 16 were arrested by Lamb County sheriff's officials this week and charged with burglary of the Littlefield VFW.

The trio of juveniles was arrested Thursday and released to their parents Friday. DeLeon was arrested Friday and later released after making a $2,500 bond. Sheriff E.D. McNeese said the juveniles signed statements admitting breaking into the VFW building several times.

The post has been robbed six times in recent months, and each time the building was entered extensive damage was done. The last break-in occurred July 10 and seven of 28 1/2 cases of beer were taken.

3 Suits Settled

A jury verdict favored the defendant, Robert E. Moore, in the civil suit brought by Terry Chisholm against Moore and the Borden Company for collision and property damage.

Two other civil settings waived jury trials and were tried before District Judge Pat Boone Jr. A judgement for recovery of $4,300 favored the plaintiff, Emert J. Rose, against International Security Life Insurance Company for a hospitalization insurance claim.

In another suit against the same insurance company, plaintiff Albert Lockwood was favored, but no judgement was disclosed.

most of her yard work. She designed her home and it was built in front of her old farm home in 1957. "And I moved every stick of my furniture in by myself with the exception of the stove and refrigerator," she said. "Oh, that was lots of fun." Hite Park Addition is carved out of the farm where the Hites settled in 1934.

Mrs. Hite's car was demolished and she received a broken foot, heel, collar bone and nose and her face was splintered with glass when a drunk driver collided with her sports car two years ago. She was in the hospital a month and a half, "and had a ball all the time I was in there. Honey, I suffered," she said, "but it never crossed my mind that I'd die. Faith means everything." The nurses all went to Hite's room for fun. Friends who went to cheer Mrs. Hite left cheered up themselves. "I didn't know all of this until later," she said. "I was showered with cards and letters and flowers the whole time."

Mrs. Hite's correspondence and guest books reflect friends from all over the world. She tried to write to all the parents who lost sons in the raid and were executed while prisoners. She has correspondence from Mamie Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy prompted by a thoughtful letter from her to the two presidents.

Gifts are displayed throughout her home. "I'm not the kind of person who puts things back," Mrs. Hite said. "I want them out where I can see them. In fact I'm a pack rat."

Use of many decorative mirrors in her home perhaps accounts for trim good looks, for she meets herself coming and sees herself going while going about her work. "I live all over this house," she said. "I don't close off rooms and shut doors. I have three outside doors and they are all front doors. There are no back doors in my house," she concluded.

MRS. MARK EDWIN BALKO

Humphreys, Balko Vows Solemnized

Miss Caroline Sue Humphreys became the bride of Mark Edwin Balko Friday evening, July 23, in the Amherst Church of Christ.

Roy Alexander of Portales, N. M., pastor of the Elida Church of Christ in Elida, N. M. officiated for the reading of the double ring wedding vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Humphreys of Amherst and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lee Balko of Lingo, N. M.

The church decorations featured a large candelabra decorated with emerald green gladioli, flanked on each side by additional tree candelabras.

A singing group from Lubbock Christian College presented musical selections of "A Time For Us", "Twelfth Of Never", and "We've Only Just Begun".

The bride, presented in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown of white chantilly and silk organza with an Empire design, and an overlay of lace extending from her shoulders to the scalloped hemline of her A-line skirt. Her long cuffed sleeves and Victorian stand-up, ringed collar were fashioned with scalloped lace. The fan shaped lace train was attached to the back waistline of her dress and swept to a cathedral length. Her shoulder length mantilla veil, edged in scalloped lace, was held in place by a crown of lace petals edged in seed pearls and crystals.

She carried a cascade of glamelias entwined with stephanotis, baby's breath and ivy.

For "something old and borrowed" she carried her grandfather's handkerchief; "something blue", the traditional blue garter; and for "something new", her wedding dress.

The bride wore a penny in her shoe minted the year of the groom's birth, and he wore a penny in his shoe minted the year of her birth.

Together the bride and groom lit a candle to symbolize they were one now.

D'Ruth Dysart of Amherst was maid of honor. She was fashioned in an Empire style long dress of D'ior blue silk organza lined in emerald green, accented with lace and ribbon insertions. The long full sleeves were gathered at the wrist with self ruffles.

Bridesmaids were Miss Pam Holley and Miss Claudia Cook, both of Amherst. They were attired in dresses fashioned to that of the maid of honor, except their dresses were emerald green organza lined with D'ior blue.

The attendants each carried a single gladiola among ivy and baby's breath.

Flower girls were Michele Gage of Amherst, and Karla Davis of Burleson, cousin of the groom.

Ring bearer was Doug Hufstедler of Amherst. The candles were lighted by Sharla Davis of Burleson and Edmond Balko of Lubbock, both cousins of the groom.

Wesley Pool of Lingo, N. M. served the groom as best man. Groomsmen were Wayland Griffith of Seminole, and Bill Gardner of Causey, N. M. The guests were seated by Kevin Humphreys of Sudan, cousin of the bride and Doug Cummings of Amherst.

Mother of the bride wore a double knit green dress with a matching jacket. The groom's mother wore a blue dress with an overlay of white lace. Both

Safe Boating Rules Given

Preliminary figures for the first six months of 1971 show that 162 persons have lost their lives in Texas in water-oriented accidents, according to the General Manager of the Texas Safety Association.

Lloyd F. Palmer said that though the figure is lower than for the same period last year, the most dangerous months of the year are now in progress as far as water-related accidents and deaths are concerned.

In the first six months of 1970, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Water Safety Services statistics, 182 persons were water-oriented accident casualties. Palmer said that the toll for the first half of this year might run higher when final reports become available.

"From the time the boat and trailer are hooked up to the car, until it is safely home again, the possibilities of accidents are very real," the safety leader said.

Palmer said that when the boat owner prepares for his trip to the water there are some simple steps that will help make the journey safer and more pleasurable.

He said first the boater should make sure the trailer load capacity is suited to carry the weight of the boat and motor. Trailer stop and turn lights, and brakes should also be checked. Periodic examinations should be made on trailer wheel bearings, and tires should be properly inflated.

Palmer said that before starting on the trip, the boater should go through the following highway safety checklist. Start at the front of the rig, make sure the trailer hitch is tight, safety chains are tight and not dragging, the bow is firmly in position and winch line is tight, the transom and stern tie-downs are tight, lights are in good working order, and contact points between hull and trailer are padded.

The safety leader also said that as a boater travels to the water, it is important to remember that towing adds weight and momentum to the car.

It will require greater distances to stop than under normal driving conditions. He said the driver should allow for extra length when turning, and observe the speed limits for towing trailers. In Texas, the law sets 60 miles per hour as a maximum speed during daylight and 55 miles per hour as a maximum at night while towing most boat trailers.

The TSA executive said there is one general rule of boating safety, "It is as simple as ABC, 'Always be careful'."

He outlined these other basic rules for safer boating activities.

1. Always provide required life-saving equipment for boats. Under state law there must be an approved flotation device for every person aboard. A new law requires passengers under twelve years of age to wear approved life preservers while in motorboats.
2. Be prepared to fight fires. State law also requires each powered boat to be equipped with a fire extinguisher.
3. Take no chances with rough weather. Respect wind and storm warnings. The best policy is to stay ashore if bad weather threatens. If caught out in rough weather, don't life-saving devices, head for the nearest sheltered shore, and above all keep calm.
4. Always observe the capacity rating of the boat. Overloading creates a greater danger of capsizing.
5. When waterskiing, consideration for others is a must. Don't speed past anchored or docked boats. While towing a skier there must be at least two responsible people in the boat, a pilot and an observer who can watch the skier. Never ski at dusk or after dark.
6. If your boat capsizes or is swamped, stay with the craft. Help is usually not long in coming.
7. Keep boats clean at all times. Oil soaked rags and waste should not be kept on board, as they increase the dangers of fire.
8. Always stay seated in small boats. Persons standing in small boats change the center of gravity and reduce the stability of the craft.
9. Know the signals for distress. By day, in a small boat, signal distress by slowly raising and lowering outstretched arms. On larger craft, give four blasts on the horn, fly the National Ensign upside down, or use smoke. By night, flashlights, flares, rockets, or controlled fire should be used to signal problems.
10. If you are involved in a collision, or are nearby when a collision occurs, stand by and render assistance.

BR Stars Reach Final

The Littlefield, Amherst and Sudan All-Stars eyed the Junior Babe Ruth Tournament Crown after they downed Olton 5-0 in Plainview Thursday.

The win gave the local squad the go ahead to the championship play-off.

The first run of the game was scored by Littlefield's Dan Jefferies as he came in from second on a fielder's choice.

Colotis Twitty hit a double in the fourth to drive in Sudan's Donnie Noles and Jefferies to make the score 3-0.

Two more runs were scored in the fifth inning as Sudan's Mark Hanna scored on a double by Littlefield's Gary Brown. Brown scored the final run on Sudan's Richard Tamplin's squeeze bunt.

Hitters for the winners were: Mark Hanna with a pair of singles; Clotis Twitty, who hit a two sacker; Brown who connected with a double, and Johnny Villafranco, Donnie Noles and Dan Jefferies, who each got base hits.

Aubrey Hooper was the only hitter for Olton.

Noles was the winning pitcher and allowed one hit.

Thus far in the three games played in the Junior Babe Ruth Tournament, the Littlefield, Amherst and Sudan All-Stars behind the pitching of Noles and Tamplin have allowed eight hits and one run. Thirty-four batters have been struck out.

The local squad met Plainview for the championship Saturday. Results of the game will be published Thursday.

KENNY OWENS beats the ball back to first base as Tulia's catcher makes a pick off in the Littlefield vs. Tulia game. Local All-Stars beat Tulia 17-1.

TULIA ROUTED, 17-1

The Littlefield, Amherst and Sudan All-Stars dropped Tulia 17-1 Wednesday in the Junior Babe Ruth All-Star Tournament.

Sudan's Richard Tamplin allowed only four hits as the local squad held Tulia to one run that came in the bottom of the fourth.

The winners scored in every inning with the exception of the second. Their big inning came in the fourth when seven runs were scored.

Littlefield's Kenny Owens paced the winners with hits as he connected for four singles. Gary Brown of Littlefield got three base hits, and Sudan's Donnie Noles got on twice, once with a double and then with a single. Littlefield All-Star Danny Brockington got a pair of base hits. Kelly Pratt, Johnny Villafranco and Danny Cushion of Littlefield hit singles. Mark Hanna and Tamplin from Sudan also got base hits.

Al Pohlmeier, Greg Culwell and Randy Bell hit singles for Tulia.

Tamplin was the winning pitcher. Daniel Cuellar hurled for the losers.

Little League Stars Fall To Plainview

The Littlefield Little League All-Stars lost their bid for the tournament crown Thursday as they were downed by Plainview American, 9-8.

Littlefield crept within one run of tying the game in the bottom of the third and got four more runs in the fourth after Plain-

13-Year-Olds Drop 4-3 Game

The Littlefield, Amherst and Sudan All-Stars were edged by Plainview, 4-3, in the 13-year-old Jr. Babe Ruth Tourney Wednesday at Plainview.

A passed ball in the last inning gave Plainview the one-run edge for the win.

The local squad went ahead in the second inning, 3-2, but was tied by Plainview in the fifth, 3-3.

Bill Turner, Ronald Farmer and Doug Perrin were the leading hitters, according to Coach Joe Bellar.

Steve Phillips was the winning pitcher. Turner hurled for the losers.

BOBBY CLAYTON, an Amherst High running back, has signed to attend Navarro Junior College this fall. He goes to the college with an outstanding record. He played four years of football, basketball and ran track a like number of years. He stands 6' even, and tips the scales at 195, and racked up honors as fullback and linebacker. Clayton is a two-year all-district performer, scoring 33 TDs his junior and senior years, gaining 1,970 yards for an average of 5.29 per carry.

Laws Affect Boaters

Boat owners in Texas will operate under new rules as a result of actions by the 62nd Legislature.

Of immediate interest to boaters is the new law requiring children 12 years old or under riding in a Class I or Class A motorboat while underway to wear life preservers of the sort prescribed by the regulations of the Commandant of the Coast Guard.

The only such approved life preserver is a U. S. Coast Guard approved life preserver.

If a boat is underway, and if the child does not have the life preserver, the operator will be ticketed.

The new law does not apply to canoes, rowboats or sailboats, but these boats after Sept. 1, are required to have a Coast Guard approved life-saving device on board for each person. These boats were heretofore exempted from this requirement.

Also new is the requirement that after Jan. 1, 1972, all motorboats must be registered with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, regardless of length or horsepower.

Alan M. Veach Coach In El Paso

Alan M. Veach, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Veach of Littlefield, has accepted a coaching position with the El Paso Public School system.

He will be the golf coach, varsity football assistant, and a science teacher at Coronado.

His wife, Jeanie, will serve as elementary teacher in the same school.

Both are graduates of West Texas University.

Assistance To Farmers Affected By Drouth

Cotton farmers who have been hard hit by drouth or other natural disasters this year are being offered greater income protection by the manner in which their cotton yields will be computed for program payment purposes in 1972. Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin announced today.

The Secretary also announced several additional changes in program provisions which will offer greater relief to drouth-affected farmers. The changes are based on findings from a recent inspection tour of drouth-stricken areas by Under Secretary J. Phil Campbell, during which he met with farmers, ranchers, local agricultural leaders and those administering farm programs to learn directly how various programs were functioning and how they could be improved. A follow-up team from the Department of Agriculture has also just completed an inspection tour.

Today's action on cotton is expected to strengthen income in 1972 and subsequent years for cotton farmers in the drouth areas of the Southwest. An adjustment in the farmer's actual 1971 cotton yield up to 90 percent of his 1971 payment yield—instead of the previous level of 80 percent—will be permitted where this year's yield is reduced by adverse natural conditions.

Additional assistance covered in today's announcement includes:

1. An extension through Dec. 31, 1971 of the emergency livestock feed program and haying-grazing of land diverted under the cropland adjustment and set-aside programs. They were originally scheduled to end Aug. 31, 1971.
2. A revision of procedures to allow farmers to use their own conveyance as an additional source of transportation, where other means have caused delays in the delivery of feed grains into drouth areas. Transportation assistance rates have been established for helping farmers meet this additional expense. Orders for feed grains now can be expedited rapidly by the county ASCS office contacting the Kansas City Commodity Office directly instead of routing requests through state ASCS offices. Also, the follow-up on all loading orders has been intensified on deliveries not made within one week from date of order.
3. Cost-sharing for emergency tillage practices that have been previously used only on cropland to prevent wind erosion is now available on pasture and rangeland. This will also improve water penetration and help prevent runoff.

Every effort is being made to insure a uniform administration of all emergency programs. County and State committees, in following of the law, are investigating reported discrepancies.

Based on today's announcement, farmers suffered a severe reduction as a result of disaster in 1971 will receive higher payment yields than they would be under rules previously in effect. It is expected to be only to farmers in the bad but also to farmers fered severely from rains early in the season elsewhere.

Hunting

Through Ages

Whether or not early man ever actually hunted dinosaurs with stones or bows and arrows is still within the realm of speculation.

One thing certain, however, is that hunting in its many forms has been practiced since the beginning of history.

Man has had to be a hunter from his very origins: survival necessitated an unending search for food. To judge by the food habits of man's closest animal relatives (lemurs, monkeys and apes)—who live largely on fruits, insects, birds' eggs and small reptiles—the earliest protohumans were not primarily flesh eaters. Man's tooth patterns show that he is not essentially carnivorous.

It is possible that only after protohumans left off their tree-dwelling habits and increased in size did they begin to hunt other animals. Among those killed and eaten was presumably man himself: human skulls discovered in caves in China afford more than enough evidence that some tribes smashed them to obtain the brains.

In the narrower sense of the term (the deliberate pursuit of game animals and birds on land), hunting, while ancient, is relatively late in man's evolutionary span, that is, only since man developed weapons to protect and feed himself.

There is evidence that Paleolithic men, fully developed humans of the later stages of the Ice Age, were skilled hunters whose weapons, while simple, were effective. Not only have quantities of bison, horse and mammoth bones been found in Paleolithic caves of France and Spain, but the paintings on the cave walls show that hunters had a complete knowledge of the animals' habits.

Hunting as the basic food quest has persisted into recent times among some primitive peoples. Today, however, professional hunting is only a minor occupation for livelihood because of the great reduction in wildlife and the replacement of natural sources by fur-breeding farms. Hunting for sport is a more common pursuit.

Generally speaking, a rifle is used for big game and a shotgun is used for small game. North America's big-game hunting starts, and comes close to ending with deer. Deer herds forage the length and breadth of the continent, but the rest of North America's big game is mostly confined to the Rocky Mountain states and Canada. Small game include rabbits, pheasant, grouse, quail, doves, ducks and geese, and turkey. The conservation and sufficiency of game animals, as well as the future of hunting in North America, lies in the hands of dedicated wildlife biologists and game protectors in the United States and Canada, plus the 1,000,000 members of the National Rifle Association, which, this year, is celebrating its 100th anniversary.

Today, though Americans no longer hunt for food the way they used to, the Association's aims are largely the same as they were at its founding. Among many other public-spirited goals, its purpose is to educate citizens in the safe and efficient use of small arms for pleasure and protection. In its embryonic days, NRA triggered marksmanship training and young shooters' training. It was active in the establishment of the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice and originated the nationwide

Hunter Safety Training Program

Members of the National Rifle Association believe in the constitutional right of citizens to keep and use firearms for legitimate purposes. On the rolls of the organization have been outstanding countrymen like Presidents U. S. Grant and Dwight D. Eisenhower. Citizens from all walks of life—doctors, lawyers, legislators, governors, military men, clerks and businessmen—make up the membership of the Association.

Will hunting for sport eventually become de-emphasized just as hunting for food has been? According to the National Rifle Association, not by a long shot.

Responsibility Act Still Applies Here

The Texas Department of Public Safety has revealed that the state Safety Responsibility Act still applies under certain circumstances despite a recent federal court ruling preventing driver license suspensions without a finding of fault in accident cases.

In response to many inquiries concerning the effect of the court decision which held unconstitutional that portion of the Safety Responsibility law prohibiting a hearing on the issue of fault prior to suspension after an accident, DPS Director Col. Wilson E. Speir issued the following statement:

"We feel that in fairness to all, it should be made known that the Department of Public Safety is still required to take suspension action under the Safety Responsibility Act if the following circumstances prevail:

"1. In cases where a civil judgment for damages has been rendered by a court, and the judgment has not been satisfied.

"2. In connection with any final conviction carrying an automatic suspension, such as for driving while intoxicated, driving while under the influence of drugs, aggravated assault with a motor vehicle, and murder with motor vehicle. In such cases, the suspended driver upon termination of the suspension period must comply with the provisions of the Safety Responsibility Act to qualify for reinstatement of his driver license—and to prevent the immediate suspension of registration plates of all vehicles owned by him.

"3. If a Texas resident becomes involved in an accident in another state and is held by that state not to be in compliance with the legal provisions of its Safety Responsibility Act, the reciprocal provision of the Texas law would require departmental action which may include suspension.

"4. Failure to report an accident is still grounds for suspension.

"5. Suspension is required for default on an installment agreement to pay for damage to others resulting from an accident.

"6. If liability insurance has been posted as 'proof of financial responsibility for the future' to meet the requirements of the Safety Responsibility law, cancellation of such insurance is grounds for suspension."

Under all of the circumstances mentioned, Speir explained, "proof for the future" is for a period of five years, under the Texas law. Such proof can be established by maintenance of the minimum required liability insurance, or by posting a surety bond, or cash, in the amount of $25,000.

The DPS director emphasized that the Department of Public Safety "is charged by law with the responsibility of administering the provisions of the Safety Responsibility Act, and is therefore obligated to comply with all provisions of the law, except that portion which has been held unconstitutional."

Box Of Junk Is Useful In Controls

A jar, a small plastic dish, some scraps of rubber, cloth and metal—package them all together into a box and you have not a box full of junk but a useful new tool in the Texas Health Department's efforts against air pollution.

Applying the maximum pollution-control muscle where it will do the most good is a job that can't be accomplished without realistic data. That boxful of odds and ends is one of the ways of obtaining that data.

The traditional method for obtaining air pollution data is the high volume air sampler, a bulky metal box that yields the volume of suspended particulate, benzene, sulphate, nitrate, and lead in the air around it. There are now some 39 such devices across the State of Texas.

Health authorities soon found they could devise a method to determine where real pollution was worse, and where it was a danger to health and property.

The Texas Health Department's Air Control Division developed a new system of measuring not only the level of pollutants in the air but also their effects on common materials.

The idea was simple but effective: place a number of common materials in an "effects package", expose them in comparable locations, and set up a formula to translate the raw data into an index of the actual effects of air pollution. The packages were placed in 40 locations across the state.

They are simple enough to maintain that school children can operate them, and in some cases are doing so. The package contains fabric samples, a Petri dish of lead peroxide, rubber strips, a sticky-paper jar, and silver, steel, and zinc plated.

The package measures wind-driven dust particles by registering the average number of particles per square inch on the sticky-paper jar. The effect on fabrics is determined by measuring the loss of light reflectance from two fabric samples.

Effects on metals are registered by measuring the weight loss of the steel and zinc plates, and the percentage reflectance loss of the silver plate. The atmosphere's effect on rubber is measured by the

THE FIG TREE

We have all been impressed with the pathetic story of the barren fig tree. It was destined to perennial barrenness. The owner found this wilted tree and ordered it cut down but his vine-keeper pled for it to have another chance. This is a good parable of the Grace of God. Our religion is essentially a religion of redemption. God gives everyone of us another chance. We have failed more than once but the Almighty has been patient, kind and forgiving. Perhaps Luke 15 is our truest picture of God. He is like a woman who seeks until she finds her lost coin; like the shepherd who left the ninety and nine to find the lost one; like the father who received his prodigal son. The lesson is plain. God gives another chance and He will gather all the ripe figs.

Play Newspaper Bingo For Fun And Profit!

RULES OF THE GAME

NO OBLIGATION OR PURCHASE NECESSARY: There is no obligation or purchase necessary. A copy of the paper is available for playing the game at the office of this newspaper also at the public library—also a Bingo card and/or copies of The Leader-News containing the Bingo numbers may be obtained by mailing your request to this newspaper (please print your name and address clearly). You may play as many cards as you wish—they are free. Get additional cards—one at a time—each day.

DIFFERENT COLORED CARDS EACH WEEK: The color of the cards changes each week. To be a winner, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week. Mutilated or altered cards will not be honored. ALL 24 NUMBERS ON A CARD MUST BE MATCHED TO WIN.

CHANCE DETERMINES NUMBERS: Bingo numbers for each week's game are drawn strictly at random at the office of this newspaper. Some duplication of Bingo numbers may appear in the merchants' ads—elsewhere in the paper. This duplication does not affect the game or the total numbers drawn. All numbers for each week's game will appear somewhere in the sponsoring merchants' ads—and possibly elsewhere in the paper. Employees of this newspaper and members of their families are not eligible to win any of the prizes. Newspaper Bingo is a program copyrighted and registered by Marketing-Research Associates, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS

PICK UP FREE BINGO CARDS: Each week (adults only, please) pick up your FREE Bingo card from any of the sponsoring merchants listed below. Rules of the game allow the merchants to give you only one card on each store visit. However, you may make as many visits as you wish each day of the week. THE MORE CARDS YOU PLAY—THE BETTER ARE YOUR CHANCES OF WINNING.

HOW TO PLAY: Check the ads in each week's issues of The Leader-News. The ads of the merchants listed below will contain one or more "Newspaper Bingo" numbers in the "Bingo Bug" symbol (shown above). Occasionally numbers, in the "Bingo Bug" symbol, may be found elsewhere in the newspaper. Be sure to check the Classified Ad section for additional numbers. IF YOU CAN MATCH (JUST CIRCLE OR "X" THE MATCHING NUMBERS) ALL 24 NUMBERS ON ANY ONE OF YOUR BINGO CARDS WITH THE NUMBERS PUBLISHED IN THE SUNDAY AND THURSDAY ISSUES OF THE LEADER-NEWS—YOU HAVE A "BINGO"—AND YOU ARE A WINNER!!!

AT LEAST $50.00 WEEKLY!!! Winners will share a weekly prize of $50.00 (in "Bingo Bucks")—to spend the same as cash with any of the sponsoring merchants listed below). If there is only one winner, he wins all of the $50.00. If there is more than one winner, all winners will share the $50.00 in equal amounts. If there are no winners any week, the $50.00 weekly prize will be added to the following week's prize fund.

CHECK EACH ISSUE OF THE PAPER: Each game is complete in each week's Sunday and Thursday's issue of The Leader-News. A new set of Bingo numbers will be published each week in the sponsoring merchants ads—and possibly elsewhere in the paper. A new color of Bingo card for each week's game will be available at the sponsoring merchants' stores. To be eligible to win, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week's game. The color of the cards for each week's game will be announced on this page.

IF YOU ARE A WINNER: If you have a winning Bingo card, ON WHICH ALL 24 NUMBERS HAVE BEEN MATCHED WITH THE NUMBERS APPEARING EACH WEEK IN THE SUNDAY AND THURSDAY'S ISSUES OF THE LEADER-NEWS, print your name, address, phone number, and the name of the store where you got your winning card, and mail to this paper at Box 72, Littlefield, Texas 79239 (the envelope containing your winning card must be received by 5:00 p.m. Tuesday of the following week)—or bring your winning card to the office of this newspaper at 311 W. 4th Street, Littlefield, Texas by 5:00 p.m. Tuesday of the following week.
