The Eagles were hungry, and Littlefield Quarterback Terry Bryson had the ball stripped away two plays later. Steve Criswell gobbled up the fumble. Marshall tried passes on third and fourth downs from the 18, but a combination of a heavy pass rush and expert pass coverage forced two imcompletions.

Littlefield took over on downs. From the 30, Henderson took the handoff, found a gaping hole in the left side and raced down the sidelines. Seventy yards later, Littlefield led 13-0, and Turner made it 14

The Eagles took the ensuing kickoff and settled down to play the kind of football that earned them the ranking of 10th in the state. Starting on their 26, they moved steadily upfield to Littlefield's 42, converting on two third downs. A penalty moved them back to the 46, and from that point, Marshall dropped back into his pocket, scanning for a receiver downfield. What he found was Littlefield jerseys all around him, and he wisely scrambled out of his pocket and headed for safety. He shrugged off one tackler, and was down to the 33 before he was stopped. With a fourth and one. Anderson was given the call up the right side. It was the wrong number, for Linebacker Randy Cook broke through and dropped Anderson behind the line.

The Cats took over, and Henderson made two quick first downs on runs of eight and 11 yards. A quick look-in pass to Tight End Chris Pope was good for 11 yards, and put the ball on the 30. Bryson rolled right on second down, trying to pass, but reversed his field and sprinted to the 20. Pope then found a crease in Roosevelt's coverage, and Bryson found him on the one. Pope made a diving catch, and Bryson popped over one play later. Turner put the Cats up 21-0 with only 2:04 left in the half.

Roosevelt used the time to their advantage, and from their 35, Marshall found Joseph Brown in the open on Littlefield's 39. Marshall hit on another pass, this one to Gilbert Brown, but

Bryson slammed the ball loose and Cook stopped the drive with a recovery on the 24

That ended the half, and a big one it was for Littlefield. Henderson had already picked up 134 yards, and the Cats had scored 21 points on a team that had allowed only 14 in their previous four games. In addition, the defense was containing the Eagles' powerful running attack, and forcing mistakes that Roosevelt was not used to making.

Littlefield took the second half kickoff. and quickly made a first down to the 33. Tailback Kenny Owens charged up the middle, broke free, and fought down to Roosevelt's 44 before being dragged down. Bryson picked up another first down on a pair of quarterback keepers, but then Owens bobbled the ball on the 34 and Anderson recovered

Roosevelt failed to convert on fourth down, missing by one yard, and on their next possession also missed on fourth down, this time by two yards. The Cats could do nothing either time, and Turner punted to the 17.

On Roosevelt's second play, Marshall threw a pass intended for Wesley Killion. Instead, Linebacker Gary Lichte was in the right spot at the right time, and the ball went straight to him on the 25. He returned it to the 21.

Bryson got to the 16. Henderson to the See WILDCATS, Page 14

First Frost, Light Ice Hit Lamb Area Thursday

Frost was on the pumpkins Thursday morning.

14 PAGES

Reports of the Oct. 1 frost came in from all over the county, with residents from all around Littlefield reporting light ice as well.

The air temperatures Wednesday night and early Thursday morning was about 37 degrees, but the wind created skin thin coatings of ice where moisture had collected and dropped the temperatures lower.

In most cases the frost only nipped the top leaves and was not considered a killing one because of the big dew. Too, the frost came in the "light of the moon." Legend has it that killing frosts. do not occur when the moon is full.

If the Thursday morning frost is considered the first frost, a killing frost or killing freeze can be expected about the 21st according to several amateur weather forecasters.

Pryor Hammons said he is about as confused as his left-handed Indian when it comes to guessing the first killing frost or freeze. Hammons said his calculations call for a killing frost or freeze about the 26th of this month. Hammons has been predicting freezes and frosts since 1905 when someone near Nacona told him how Indians foretold the first freeze or frost of the year by counting from the first north wind in August. Hammons said the date of the first wind from the north this year was confusing because it was such a quiet breeze. It could have been as early as the 8th or 10th, but Hammons said it was about the middle of August. Counting 70 days ahead from the first wind from the north in August gives Hammons his predicted date of Oct. 26th. "At least I'm holding on to that date until I'm proved wrong." the retired mortician said.

Thursday morning's frost came on the heels of a severe weather forecast Wednesday night that included thunderstorm and hail warnings and the threat of tornadoes.

In most cases, early frosts will be beneficial defoliants, depending on the maturity of the cotton.

Some agricultural officials predict the freeze that will "get everything" will be a 28 degree blast expected about Nov. 8. By that date, there is a 50 percent chance of such a freeze.

TOMMY CROSBY MAY TACKLE COLLEGE NEXT Painting Brightens Paralyzed Youth's Outlook On Life

By NILAH RODGERS

The paintings on display at Security State Bank this week are unique on two counts

First, all of the paintings on display are sold

Secondly, the landscapes and seascapes are the handiwork of 18-yearold Tommy Crosby.

Young Crosby was paralyzed from his neck down in a car wreck on an icy curve near Amherst in February 1971. The shattering crash killed his cousin and injured three friends. After long weeks in the hospital, he was bedridden for more than 14 months. He never left his room except for trips to the hospital. "I was in a bad mood." Crosby admitted. "I was sullen. I didn't like to have company." Then he went to Houston for three months of physical therapy. He found that he wasn't the only paralyzed person in the world. He learned that handicapped persons can participate in recreation, further their education and hold meaningful jobs.

"Tommy's friends couldn't believe he was the same person after he returned from Houston," Mrs. Crosby said.

"It really brought me out of my shell," he said with a smile. Now he not only enjoys visitors, but he doesn't wait for people to come see him. He gets out and goes to school to visit with his counselor and attend the pep rallies. He goes to town, the show and ball games.

"One day I ran out of juice," he said, indicating the battery on his electric wheel chair. "I got almost to my driveway, and that was as far as I could Crosby's counselor at Lubbock encouraged him to start art lessons last spring. He told him about other quadriplegic artists. "A girl in Amarillo holds her brushes in her mouth," he said, "and she sold so many paintings last year that she paid $2,400 income tax.'

Crosby wears a brace with a utility holder on his right arm. Long handled brushes are attached to the holder and he paints with arm movements. Painting is improving his muscle tone and strength and he hopes it will train his muscles further.

He can type by attaching an eraser tipped pencil in the holder. He strikes the keys with the eraser-one key at a time. "I get 12 words per minute," he and with obvious pri

Crosby tried acrylic paints, but found that they dry too fast for him. He paints with oils, and likes to work with blues and purples best. Sea and landscapes are his favorite subjects and don't require as much detail as portraits.

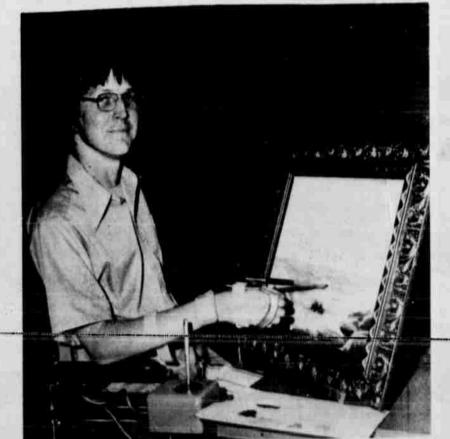

He said he gets ideas from painting books, but he paints from pictures in his head. "I tried to paint from pictures and See CROSBY, Page 4 dream of a state center by donating grain.

Area Students Attend Small School Seminar

High school students from eight area school districts attended the first "Smail School Seminar" of the 1973-74 year Wednesday, at South Plains College.

More than 20 students from Union, Bledsoe, Bula, Pep, Smyer, Three Way, Wellman and Whitharral school districts were enrolled in the seminar, according to Don Melton, director of guidance at SPC

'Each year we invite some of the better students from the area school districts to these seminars," Melton explained. After they arrive on campus they pick the seminar topic. We try to give them a variety of subjects to choose from."

In past seminars the students have heard about ecology and drugs and drug abuse, for example. "We different films make available, too," Melton added, 'and we try to have people from South Plains College available to talk on whatever is selected.

Among the students registered for the first seminar are Calvin O. Booth and Debra R. Cline, both from Brownfield and the Union Independent School District: Gary Young and Shirley Shelton, both from Morton, and Tracey Griffiths of Bledsoe, all of the Bledsoe Independent School District; and Susan Layton of Morton, Mary L. Risinger of Bula and James Snitker of Enochs, all of the Bula Independent School District.

Others who attended were Brenda Kuhler of Littlefield and Beverly Albus of Pep, representing the Pep Consolidated School District; Richard Drachenberg of Lubbock and Vivian Wuthrich and Shirley Mosley, both of Smyer, Smyer Independent School District; Pam Partlow of Goodland and Karen Corkery and Dee Sanderson, Paul Woodard of Seagraves and Sylvester Gallegos and Tommy Stunkard, both of Wellman, Wellman In-dependent School District; and Donna Avery and Cynthia Wade, both of Littlefield, and Danny Dukatnik of Levelland, Whitharral Independent weekend in the home of Mr. School District.

Clean Air Week

TAKE A DEEP BREATH and hold it! If you're lucky, you breathed in clean air. If not, you should have more than a passing interest in the week of October 14-20, designated as Cleaner Air Week.

This doesn't mean that the major sources of pollution-automobile exhausts, industrial emissions and rubbish burning-will cease for one week in October.

WHAT THE 25th Cleaner Air Week does is to give each community an opportunity to assess its own air pollution situation and what progress it has made towards improving the quality of the air the people breathe. It also gives the people a chance to plan a continuing program to improve that quality, says the Texas State Department of Health. Most people know the immediate effects of air pollution. They realize it when there are bad odors or when their eyes blur, but often they don't realize that pollution can also contribute heavily to emphysema, asthma, bronchitis and other respiratory diseases. Many of these victims of chronic respiratory ailments are treated at the Health Department's Chest Hospitals.

terest. But authority for this important part of the environment has been given the Air Control Board by the Texas Legislature. The Air Control Board has the responsibility of setting and enforcing tough standards on industrial pollution and waste disposal. The agency must approve all plans for new plants and factories.

BUT EFFORTS are paying off. For instance, residents in Galena Park near the Houston Ship Channel report some sure signs of success in pollution efforts. They find that screens on their windows are lasting longer-not corroding the way they used to. Paint on their homes also is staying on better and retaining its color. And, the outsides of their homes aren't as dirty.

One physician noted that for the first time in years he has observed people taking walks at night or engaging in tennis and other outdoor activities. And, le pointe remarked, the upper respiratory problems being seen at his hospital has decreased significantly

ALL OF US MAY BE "PICKY" about some things, and probably are. This, however, is not necessarily harmful to us or to others. With some, it may be a picture that is not hanging straight; or their hair being "messed up"; or the color combination of clothing they wear; or some such concern.

This kind of "picky" may seem a bit strange when it differs from the way in which we manifest the same attitude. but it is never a serious problem.

THERE IS NOTHING WRONG with wanting a picture to be hanging straight; or wanting our hair to be wellgroomed; or wanting the right color combinations for our clothing.

Of course, we can make a nuisance of ourselves by making too much of this concern. These are relatively trivial things, and we should try to see them as such; both from our view of them in the behavior of others, and in our own personal preferences.

WE ARE "PICKY", when we are "fussy" or "finicky". We are "fussy" when we are easily upset, or easily irritated; when we require or give close attention to details; or when we are fastidious, when we are overly difficult to please.

It is admitted that, in some instances, "close attention to details is justified", but even this can be done in a wrong, very wrong way.

'We are "finicky", when we are "excessively nice, exacting, or meticulous in taste or standards". This attitude must be very wisely controlled, and judiciously expressed; or we make ourselves and everybody else miserable.

FOR THE LIFE of me, I can't remember ever having rooted for a National League baseball team, before now! I do think that this is one year I might jump the traces.

It isn't that I admire the Mets to any great degree-except Yogi Berra, that is. I suspect that it's just because I can't quite stomach the Oakland clan.

AS FOR THE Met fans, if I ever witnessed shameful misbehaviour, akin to mob violence, they must have given a fair demonstration of the same. Incorrigibles, to the Nth degree! They don't deserve a champion.

FLAKE C. SNITKER

Funeral services for Flake C. Snitker, 85, of Muleshoe, who died at 7:02 a.m. Tuesday, Oct. 9, in West Plains Memorial Hospital in Muleshoe, were conducted Wednesday afternoon in the First Baptist Church of Hedley, Burial was in the Enochs Cemetery with Singleton-Ellis Funeral Home of Muleshoe in charge of arrangements.

Snitker was a native of Polk County, Ark, and went to Muleshoe from Enochs where he had lived 30 years. He was a retired farmer, and a member of the First Baptist Church in Enochs.

Surviving are a son, Clifford Snitker of Enochs; two daughters, Mrs. Opal Moore of Las Vegas, N.M., and Lena Johnson of Roswell, N.M.; six grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

He doesn't sketch first, but he takes his camera with him wherever he goes. He takes pictures of windmills, old houses and other interesting subjects.

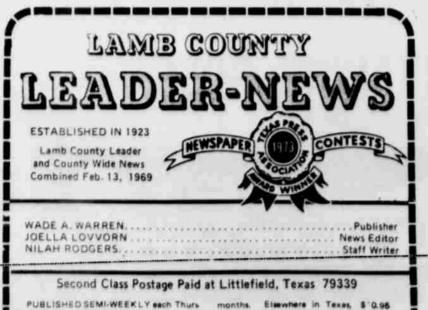

Like most artists, Crosby says he has to be in the mood before he can paint. And like teenagers everywhere, he spends a lot of time chasing around. He admits he didn't get much painting done this summer. "But who wants to be inside when they can be out doing things?" he added.

So far, everything Crosby has painted has sold. "If I could paint as fast as I could sell. I guess I'd be a millionaire," he quipped offhandedly.

Perhaps Crosby's future will be artistic, perhaps it will be in service to others. He'd like to be a rehabilitation counselor

He is enrolling in some college correspondence work to see what he can do, and thinking about entering Texas Tech. The first floor of one dorm at Texas University accommodates paraplegics and handicapped persons. If Texas Tech builds a similar structure or he can find a place to stay, he'd like to try university life.

"It would take about eight years," he said. "I'd need two or three years of graduate work. But I've got a lot of time," he concluded reflectively.

SOME STUDIES have shown that air pollution can weaken the body's defense mechanisms and even contribute to stomach cancer.

A Dartmouth Medical School researcher recently told the American Chemical Society that children are victims of lead poisoning caused from automobile emissions. He said one to two per cent of all urban children have blood levels indicating they should be receiving treatment. Lead intoxication can effect a child's physical and mental abilities, bring about behavioral abnormalities can cause death.

CLEANER AIR WEEK is held each year as a reminder that air pollution is a man-made problem, and that it only has a man-made solution. Only when citizens show enough concern to demand tough regulations on emissions from automobiles or industry and an end to open burning will air pollution be brought totally under control.

The Health Department in the past has had a major role in the fight against air pollution and will continue its in-

Twenty counties in this area have accepted a goal of $75,000.

A local committee has been formed and has accepted a goal of $6,000.

To help reach this goal, the committee asks each grain sorghum and/or corn producer to consider donating 1,000 pounds of grain and/or corn to this cause. A smaller or greater number of pounds would be accepted. If prefered, persons may donate cash according to Eldon Gohlke, chairman of the Crops Committee of the Lamb County Program Building Committee.

Should the donor need to cancel a committment due to weather or other causes, he may do so.

Authorization sups for grain donations can be obtained at elevators or by calling the extension office at 385-4004.

"There is nothing binding." said Bobby Brunson, county extension agent, "and the donations are tax deductible.

County 4-H'ers raised about $350 in their house to house campaign recently, and have about $1,000 collected toward their goal

EVEN THE PLANT life is rebounding due to the reduction of toxic chemicals in the air.

These results have been accomplished primarily by the curbs put on industry.

BUT HOW ABOUT the private citizen? What can the individual do to help? He can keep his car tuned well for better gas mileage; he can check his home heating and air conditioning units frequently and maintain them at efficient levels; he can report pollution nuisances to authorities; he can support strong legislation controlling industrial emissions; and he can join car pools or ride on community transit systems to help reduce automobile emissions.

The Air Pollution Control Association has sponsored Cleaner Air Week every year since 1949. The American Lung Association joined as a co-sponsor last year. And, support of the week's activities has been given by the State Health Department.

"IN THE BIBLE we have this," Sing unto the Lord with Thanksgiving, sing praise unto our God, who covereth the Heavens with clouds, who prepareth rain for the earth, who maketh grass to grow upon the mountains. It is easy to praise God when the sun is shining and all is right in our lives. But what about when the shadows fall and the storm comes. We thank God for the gentle rain that makes the grass to grow on the mountainside to prepare food for His creatures, but a storm is different. It uproots huge trees or splits them apart with the wrath of lightning. Sometimes the storms of life seem greater than we can bear. We are torn apart and tears are so great it is hard to see any good that can come out of it.

I don't believe God sends sorrow into our lives but I do think He helps us to fear them even when it all seems so useless and without reason.

THIS I HAVE learned that when bad luck and tragedy stricks many wondeeful people come in to help fear them Like the angel that administered unto Elijah as he lay suffering under the juniper tree. "The journey has been too great for thee," he said, and gave him food and drink.

Sometimes our journey is too great for us, the obstacles too hard. When this happens we can only lean on the Lord and let Him hold us up in His everlasting arms.

THIS WEEK our big wonderful faced another tragedy, but we la together with the help of God. We love many people you also suffer For every body has sorrows a When it hits one of us it hits us a how wonderful it is when they all a in to help each other. It is its "gathering of the Clan". Once again the American farmer is being made the villain in a period of rising costs. It's easy to blame the farmer for higher food prices and overlook the complexity of factors that have combined to boost the grocery bill.

One group which defends the farmer is the organization of local, independent community banks throughout the nation, the Independent Bankers Association of America (of which we are a member). We know the farmer's problems. We know his income still seriously lags behind national growth. We know he is being made a whipping boy. Because we know this, we say so: Here, at home, where we share his problems, and, through the IBAA, in Washington.

For generations the American independent bank and the farmer have worked together for a common prosperity, a common effort to serve the nation. Let's keep it that way . . . after all, the farmer is an important part of us.

They moved out to the 27, and then Marshall made another mistake. He tried to hit Joseph Brown on a crossing pattern over the middle. Ratliff made a leaping interception and followed a convoy of blockers to the eight. Bryson swept the left side on first down for the score, but Turner's PAT failed when the ball slipped through Pope's hands, who holds on extra points. Still, the points

Eighth Graders Keep Winning

The Littlefield eighth graders continued their unbeaten string Tuesday with a 26-6 shelling at Roosevelt, but the seventh graders had a rougher time, losing 14-0.

Alonzo Cavazos led the eighth grade team with 80 yards rushing and two touchdowns. James Kemp rushed for 48 yards and one score, and Willie Mason ripped off a 48yard touchdown. Brett Middiebrooks collected 43 yards and added a two-point conversion. The eighth graders were simply a luxury anyway, for there was only 3:53 left and the Cats had no intention of letting the Eagles escape. The contest ended with Littlefield driving for another score on Roosevelt's

It was a good night for Littlefield. Head Coach Jerry Blakely called Roosevelt "the best team we've faced all year" before the game, so Littlefield's convincing victory is not to be taken lightly. It was also a redeeming win, after the Cats' narrow 7-6 loss to Floydada last week

But non-district games are over, and the Dimmitt Bobcats will be invading Wildcat Stadium Friday with only one thought in mind-a district championship. Dimmitt is 5-1 for the year, to Littlefield's 4-2, and the winner of the Homecoming clash will be the odds on favorite to sit atop the district heap when the season ends.

No matter who's favored for that one, the Cats have proved one thing with the Roosevelt win. They hate to be underdogs.

Rudolph Smith rushed for 57 yards in the seventh grader's game, but Roosevelt shut down the rest of Littlefield's attack for the victory. The seventh grader's record stands at 1-3.

Hustlers of the Week are Terry Foley for the eighth and Richard Soria for the seventh. Both teams host Morton Tuesday
