Irrigation Gas
Rate Hiked

An adjustment in the price of natural gas for irrigation engines will become effective Oct. 1, for irrigation farmers using Pioneer Natural Gas Company, according to an announcement made by K. J. Watson, executive vice president.
Discussing the change, Watson said, "The first rate increase to irrigation engines since 1961. During this 10-year period the cost of purchasing gas and the cost of transporting the gas throughout the area have steadily increased." As an example, Watson pointed out, "The cost of gas purchased for the West Texas system in 1960 was 14.7 cents per cubic foot (MCF). By last year, this had increased to 17.7 cents per MCF." An additional point made in the announcement of this irrigation rate increase was that because of the nationwide gas crisis, it is becoming more and more difficult and expensive for Pioneer to obtain adequate sources of gas to maintain customers.
The increased irrigation rate parallels the increased West Texas General Service Rate charged to other than irrigation customers for the first 50 cubic feet per month and reflects an increase of 3 cents per MCF for all additional cubic feet. This 3 cents figure matches the amount being paid for gas by irrigation since the last irrigation rate increase in 1961.
The irrigation rate will be adjusted each year based on the purchase price for the previous year, in the manner as applied to the West Texas General Service Rate. The new rate will result in an average increase of less than 3 percent.
Detailing the adjustment and reflecting the new rate have been sent to irrigation customers on the Pioneer system.

FROM OPTIMISM TO DISGUST

Wage-Price View Varies

Many Questions To Be Answered

After the initial shock passed on President Nixon's surprise freeze of wages, prices and rents, Littlefield residents evaluated the decision in terms of how it affects them personally.

Opinions vary from optimistic to disgusted to doubtful and worried.

Almost everyone can find something to like and dislike about the measure. And as wet as the weather is, the impact of the three-month freeze is a big conversational topic.

Car owners like the whacking of the vehicle insurance rates that were to go into effect September 1. Teachers and state employees are relieved that their promised pay raises were exempted from the freeze. Those whose salaries are paid by the federal government don't know where they stand yet, and administrators at the post office, ASCS, SCS and FHA aren't sure how the freeze will affect them, nor how long it will be before official word is received.

Governor Preston Smith announced Tuesday that teachers and other state employees would receive pay raises effective Sept. 1. The ruling was made because every state but Texas and Alabama has fiscal years ending in July. Washington officials agreed that not allowing two of the 50 states to get raises was discriminatory, and the wage rates were already in effect all but these two states.

Harry Miller, state welfare director for Lamb and Bailey Counties, said he is for the freeze if it works and against it if it doesn't. He feels the import tax is good "since the federal government has fed the world about as long as it can." Miller pointed out that the U.S. pays something like $50 billion to Japan annually on imports while exports run about $35 billion and $15 billion is a lot of difference.

Littlefield Postmaster George Thompson and other federal employees can forget about any proposed pay raises within the next 90 days. A number of questions remain unanswered concerning postal increases that were set effective Sept. 15.

City Manager Pat Bradley thinks the freeze could be a good thing -- if it works. Although some city of Littlefield employees were expecting a raise effective this next fiscal year, Bradley said the city's fiscal year falls within the 90-day edict and he anticipated no raises to any employees.

"But this could be a good thing," he added, "if this ceiling holds prices down. As it has been a five per cent increase in pay can't offset a six or seven per cent increase in the cost of living."

The commissioners' court had already nixed salary increases for the 1972 Lamb County budget, and the ways freeze added finality to any hopes.

Joe Blevins, district conservationist, says it's anyone's guess what will happen to the federal appropriations for farmers, and he says it may be as long as two months before this information filters down to the county offices. Even though money has already been appropriated for various farm programs like the water shed, etc., these programs can be frozen, too, and any or all of five or six programs may be axed.

In theory, unemployment is supposed to be reduced by more spending which, in turn, will create more jobs.

The approximate $200 price increase announced for the new car models has been prevented. So consumers are supposed to say to themselves: "Well now that I can save $200 I believe I will go out and buy a new car." Add to that another $200 slashed by dropping the excise tax, and consumers can say to themselves: "That makes $400 I can save."

The same theory supposedly can be applied to appliances and other merchandise, thus everyone goes out and buys new television sets, radios and other merchandise made with steel and heretofore excise taxable. Thus thousands more are employed.

That's the way it's supposed to work.

J. L. Marcum at Marcum Olds-Cadillac-Pontiac hopes it will work that way. "But I don't think the public will get that excited over anything," he said. Marcum doesn't see people rushing out by scores to buy cars because of a reduction. "If anything," Marcum added, "I think the freeze will slow the pace down and we'll sell fewer cars."

FOR COTTON STUDY

Littlefield Farmer On Russia Tour

A Littlefield farm leader, J. D. Smith and his wife are joining cotton growers, processors, and agri-business leaders from 12 states in a cotton study-visit to Russia and four other European nations the last three weeks of August.
The two study groups, one of which left New York Aug. 11, and the other Aug. 15, will return Aug. 29 and Sept. 2.

Key leaders in the National Cotton Council, the Delta Council, Cotton, Inc., cotton ginning associations, Farm Bureau, soil conservation districts, agricultural fertilizer associations, and agricultural flying services are participating in the study visit.

Arranged by "The Progressive Farmer" magazine, the visit will include stops on farms and at agricultural processing facilities in Moscow and Tashkent, in Russia, and at various places in Switzerland, Italy, France, and England.

At Tashkent particular attention will be given to year-round cotton ginning operations, not practiced in the U.S., and in England the group will visit the Queen's farm. A Switzerland stop will enable the farm leaders to view a Swiss mountain farming operation.

The U.S.S.R. produces higher per acre cotton yields than does the United States, according to Charlie Scruggs, editor. The Progressive Farmer, Dallas. Russia now grows about 90 percent as much total cotton annually as the U.S.

Only one nation in the world, the United States, now has a surplus of cotton, and the stocks of cotton on hand in this country have dwindled in recent years. The U.S. exports about 3,000,000 bales of cotton annually, and exported cotton is a factor in helping the U.S. maintain a favorable balance of trade with other nations.

One of the organizations represented in the study-visit, Cotton, Inc., spends $10,000,000 a year to improve U.S. cotton quality and to improve marketing systems for moving cotton into world trade. Southern and Southwestern farmers contribute to the major portion of this fund each year as they market their crops.

Mrs. Smith is one of a number of wives of cotton leaders taking the tour. About 135 persons are participating in the study visit.

Bingo Winners Aplenty, 5 Split Prize Money

BINGO BUCKS are presented to Mae Witherspoon by Ray Puente, manager of Pay and Save No. 6. Mrs. Witherspoon received her winning card at Pay and Save, and played 13 of the gold cards from various merchants in town before she came up with the winner.

MRS. VIRGEL COOPER receives her Bingo Bucks from Alton Sheppard at Gibson's Discount Center, where she picked up her winning card. The card was one out of four she played in the fourth game on gold cards. She says she went through the paper several times.

ELOUISE COX at Cox Furniture takes a look at Mrs. Truitt Sides' winning bingo card and presents her with 10 Bingo Bucks--her part of the divided prize for the fourth game. Mrs. Sides played 18 cards in the game and went through the paper two times while checking the numbers.

FIELDS MEN'S STORE was the place of business Mrs. Reba Walker found her winning bingo card, and Bill Fields presents her with 10 Bingo Bucks as her portion of the prize for the fourth game. She may spend it like any other money at any of the participating merchants' stores.

WANDA GRAHAM'S son-in-law, Lynn Powell, an employe at Jim's Conoco, is tickled to present her with 10 Bingo Bucks she won by playing a card she picked up at the station. She played 12 other cards in the game, and went through the paper three times.

THE PHILOSOPHER

Bicycles?

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm throws some doubt on the latest idea for solving city traffic problems.

Dear editor:

According to an article I read last night to get my mind off the national deficit which I'd been reading about to get my mind off my personal deficit, there were 7 million new bicycles bought in the U.S. last year.

In fact, the article went on, there are now over 75 million bicycles in the country and the experts have spotted a trend, claiming more and more city people are pedaling to work and leaving their cars at home.

"It's faster, cheaper, healthier, and doesn't pollute," they said, urging other people to try it on the grounds that "it may be the answer to the impossible traffic congestion in our cities."

I've thought this over and what they say is true, in the late spring, summer and early fall, especially if you're going down hill.

But when winter comes on, that glorious feeling with a gently breeze in your face and birds singing in the golden morning hours changes pretty fast when the temperature drops to freezing and you're bucking an icy north wind with coattails flapping, hands frozen to the handlebars and tears rolling down your frozen cheeks. On a bicycle then is about the last place a man wants to be.

Of course, I guess you could build an enclosed cab on a bike, but you'd need a windshield wiper for when it's raining, a defroster, turn indicator lights, and perhaps a heater, and what would happen to you if you fell over while inside with the door shut I don't want to think about.

I doubt if the bicycle is the answer to the cities' traffic and pollution problems, unless everybody was required to work only on beautiful sunshiny days when the temperature is above 50. That might be all right with city people but those are the very days I don't want to work or, for that matter, ride a bicycle.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

DEAR EDITOR What Our Readers Think

'Action Is Needed'

August 13, 1971

Dear Mr. Turner:

Canyon, Texas while happily free from automobile exhaust toxins which poison big cities and their people, is far from free from other dangers brought about by the automobile. Anyone with average powers of observation has already recognized these perils.

Why do many drivers in Canyon have scant regard for the safety of themselves and others? Why do public officials act oblivious to the daily haunting of city traffic regulations by truckers who speed through the town often running red lights? Why do university officials court disaster by not insisting that intra-Canyon traffic around the university be tightly controlled?

I cannot answer these or similar questions. However, unless there are answers and action, students will not be safe on the streets.

During fall semester 1970, Lamb County sent 111 students to West Texas State University. Are any of these young men and women destined for an unnecessary, unwarranted, perhaps tragic, automobile related accident while attending school?

Canyon's Fourth Avenue between Highway 87 and 26th Street, a section of the Palo Duro Canyon Highway, is perilous. "Crazies" use the street as a raceway; even drivers who do not practice Detroit-styled exhibitionism often violate the posted speed limit. Both groups intimidate students walking between the library and the Brown and McCaslin dormitories. Heavy traffic, automobiles parked parallel that obstruct vision, drivers who disregard caution, and students who cross the street unpredictably qualify this stretch of road as one of the most dangerous around the university.

The traffic light at 4th Avenue and 26th Street was needed long before the building of new facilities. Twenty-Sixth Street north of 4th Avenue is too traveled for persons to cross safely—mainly students on their ways to class, activities center, dormitories and cafeteria. Ideally, this section should cease to exist as a thoroughfare for automobiles, be plowed over, and be planted in lawn. A plausible compromise would be to end 26th Street just north of the entrance to Zone Three of the university. This would allow access to the school from the east for automobiles while eliminating one of the streets on which students are currently endangered.

The four-lane highway (Spur 48) which runs east and west past University Complex South, dormitories, Student Activities Center and tennis courts threatens to be the scene of grave mishap. It is not uncommon for drivers to attain speeds over 50 miles an hour when or before they have reached the activities center. The main danger exists for students who cross the street from the activities center to the tennis courts.

The week of June 6th through 12th provides an example. During this period a tennis clinic was given for young people who used the activities center and the tennis courts directly across the street. The ingredients were present for a heart-breaking accident. If the center is increasingly used in the future, as is hoped, the problem can be expected to become more serious. Further, Spur 48 is a link with Highway 87 and the Palo Duro Canyon Highway which was widened this summer to manage heavier traffic.

Traffic problems and Highway 87 are a story in themselves. When traffic enters the city limits, it is often like satellites arriving from outer space—a kind of reentry into civilization. Unfortunately, many drivers give only a nodding acknowledgement to Canyon's traffic laws. Truckers are especially guilty. In the most ludicrous fashion, certain of these gentlemen of the road have explained that they are afraid of jackknifing their rigs if they slow down for traffic signals. The police do too little as any person familiar with the situation must agree. In Canyon, you must insure your right-of-way at least twice, even if you have a green light, if you expect to survive.

Waiting for future plans of the Texas Highway Department to improve such problems will not satisfy any concerned person. Individuals and groups, by making the following recommendations to public and university officials, can bring about immediate beneficial changes: (1) Insist that official attitudes toward lax traffic enforcement be changed. (2) Insist that poor logistical arrangements which endanger students be changed.

In return for the support given to Canyon and West Texas State University, families of Lamb County students have the right to expect the city and university to insure each student's safety through effective traffic management.

Sincerely, s/Robert D. Finney Robert D. Finney

PAUL HARRIS Shear, Don't Skin

CONGRESS will return to be greeted by a White House council recommendation for a "tax on polluters." It sounds logical that those who pollute most should be taxed most but watch it: industries don't, we do.

INSTANT EXPERTS, demanding a quick and simple solution to complicated ecological problems, may discredit their mission and retard a cleanup. Industry is their primary target but industry is not our primary polluter. Manufacturing activities contribute less than 20 percent of total air pollution, a minute fraction of total water pollution.

MOST WATER pollution comes from municipal, recreational, agricultural and natural sources - most of it from drainage, erosion, and siltation. On balance, industry is doing more than its share of cleanup, is spending $3.6 billion this year on new pollution control facilities. Thus industry is imposing a substantial "tax" on itself.

PART OF THE misplaced news emphasis results from the fact that smoke is more conspicuous than the absence of it. American industries already have allocated $18 billion to be spent over the next five years to help clean up their 20 percent of the problem. What are the rest of us doing about our 80 percent?

THE SIMPLISTIC industry indictment may boomerang. We may zero in on industrial pollution with mandatory

THERE IS GOOD in the world, but it seems that there are many people who never see it. This is caused, in part, by the fact that we are usually told about the bad things in human experiences. Comparatively speaking, very little of the good is publicized. This probably indicates that there is more good than bad, and much that is good is not considered newsworthy.

THE BAD SEEMS predominate because we hear about it so much more than we do about the good. With this, there is such widespread faultfinding, just for the sake of finding fault. So much, too much, of the gloomy faultfinding seems to be an end in itself. It is not constructive. This common, and unwise practice does so much to hide the good.

THERE IS BAD about which we are concerned, and we know that some improvements are needed and can be made. We must not, however, let the bad become so big that we never see the good. It is the whole that we must see, and there is good to see. We must give more attention to the good.

THE TRUTH IS that the only bad we can afford to give much attention is that which has the possibility of improvement. The other, the hopeless bad will have to be ignored. Even this concern for the bad that can be improved must not be permitted to be our whole life. We must see the good, and hold it in the very highest affection. This is going to give us the motivation and strength to live with a sense of victory.

WHATSOEVER things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue and if there be any praise. THINK ON THESE THINGS. The Bible. The point is, "See The Good."

STEADY CONCENTRATION on the bad will make a life ineffective, unhappy and will even cause illness sometimes; and never changes the bad. Ignoring the bad does not make it go away, neither does thinking about it all of the time. Paying too much attention to the bad will cause worry, discouragement, and despair. Thus, we make bad matters worse; and we don't want to do this.

SUBSEQUENT STUDY photographs revealed that "plume" was more likely a cloud. Factually, the unjustly indicted is spending $38.5 million for state emission standards.

THIS IS NOT an effort to industry; I hope Washington and an aroused citizenry keep on. But laws against detergents for example, might lead to the assurance that our drinking water is safe. The nutrients, including phosphorus to flow into our rivers and agricultural and natural areas which cannot be controlled.

AND FURTHER, some of the up phosphate substitutes may be more harmful. A long-range cleanup plan is first. It will be tedious, it will take years, and it will not be expedited by our headlights.

Notice

AN ACT BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: SENATE BILL 249, Section 1. (a) This Act shall apply to every county in this State. In all the counties, each owner of any livestock shall within six months after this Act takes effect, have his mark and brand for such stock recorded in the office of the county clerk of the county. These owners shall record the marks and brands whether the brands and marks have been previously recorded or not.

FACTS CONCERNING REREORDING OF BRANDS IN TEXAS

All brands and marks on Texas livestock must be rerecorded with County Clerks after August 30, 1971, according to a new law passed during the last session of the Texas Legislature. Producers will be given a six-month period (August 30, 1971 through February 29, 1972) in which to register these brands and marks and the location on the animal which they are currently using, after which time any unrecorded brand will be available for use on a "first-come" basis. Producers shall record the marks and brands whether the brands and marks have been previously recorded or not.

All brands and marks must be rerecorded every 10 years. Each County Clerk records for his or her given county only, so many producers may need to record their brands in additional counties if their operations are extensive.

The owner shall have the right during this six-month period to file the mark and brand now recorded in his name. In the event it cannot be determined from the records who first recorded the brand and mark in the county, then the person who has been using such mark and brand the longest shall have the right to have the brand and mark recorded in his name.

It should be noted that it is illegal to brand livestock without first properly recording the brand with the County Clerk in the county in which the livestock are held.

When the brand or brands are recorded, the location on the animal on which the brand is to be applied must be designated. If the brand is to be applied to more than one location on the animal, it must be so recorded and each additional location for the brand on the animal shall constitute a separate recording. There is no limit to the number of brands and/or marks which may be recorded in a county by a person as long as requirements of this law governing the recording and rerecording of livestock brands are met. Minors may have marks or brands separate from that of the father or guardian, which must be recorded or rerecorded as provided by the new law.

After the expiration of six months from the taking effect of this Act, (February 29, 1972) all records of marks and brands now in existence in the County shall no longer have any force or effect and after the expiration of six months, only the records made after this Act takes effect shall be examined or considered in recording marks and brands in the County. It is important to note that if a Producer filed his mark and brand several years ago and his brand is the only brand filed of that nature he will be able to retain his brand whether he

YOU KNOW, chances are you have a so called "golf nut" in your family, haunting the fairways every opportunity he gets.

They claim the popularity of golf has more than doubled in the past decade. It's no longer just a retired man's sport, but it is reaching all generations. Statistics show over nine million people now participate in the great sport of golfing.

If you happen not to be a participating golfer yourself, and would like to lure your heman home for a lunchtime snack, or evening snack, here's one way to try and get him home.

1 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup regular margarine or butter, softened
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
2 eggs
1 cup cream style cottage cheese
1/4 cup drained, crushed pineapple

TOPPING

1/4 cup regular margarine or butter, melted
2/3 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1/2 cup drained, crushed pineapple
1/3 cup flaked coconut
1 tablespoon pineapple syrup
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon

Measure bran flakes; then crush to 1 cup. Combine crushed bran flakes and milk; let stand until most of moisture is absorbed.

Sift together flour, soda, salt and cinnamon; set aside.

Measure sugar and margarine into mixer bowl; beat until light and fluffy. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add dry ingredients alternately with bran flakes mixture; mix only until batter is smooth. Stir in cottage cheese and pineapple. Spread evenly in slightly greased 9 x 9 x 2-inch baking pan.

Bake in moderate oven (350

Fix a special meal designed for your "wandering golfer", with a hungry man-sized appetite in mind. By the way, it makes a good treat for a large backyard gathering, too.

"Nineteenth Hole Potato Salad" should be your feature attraction. Tell him to bring along the rest of the foursome—there's plenty for all. Surely they'll come back for more when you serve a tasty combo of potatoes, fresh vegetables, and canned boned chicken tossed with zesty Italian dressing.

Different? Yes! And easy to make, too. Canned boned chicken makes a salad into a main dish with just a flick of a can opener.

Garnish "Nineteenth Hole Potato Salad" with anchovy fillets and cucumber. For tasty go-alongs, complete the snack with hearty rye bread, fresh fruit, cheese, and his favorite ice cold beverage

NINETEENTH HOLE POTATO SALAD

6 cups cubed cooked potatoes
1 cup cherry tomatoes cut in half
1/2 cup chopped cucumber
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
3/4 cup bottled Italian dressing
2 cans (5 ounces each) boned chicken or turkey, cut up
Anchovy fillets
Cucumber slices

In bowl, combine potatoes, tomatoes, chopped cucumber, onion, salt, pepper, and dressing.

Chill 3 or more hours.
Toss with chicken. Garnish with anchovy and cucumber slices. Makes 4 servings.

IF YOUR WANDERING golfer happens to have a sweet tooth and hollars for an in-between-meal snack try serving him a luxury dessert of "Pineapple Dessert Cake".

In this recipe the sweetness of pineapple teams up with the rich nutty flavor of bran cereal in a cinnamon-spiced cake, topped with coconut, in a broiled topping.

This dessert is most tasty when served at its moist and tender best. You might even get him to mow the lawn or trim the hedge after treating him to a dessert like this!

PINEAPPLE DESSERT CAKE
2 cups bran cereal in flake form
1/2 cup milk
1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour

AREA FOOTBALLERS, including the Littlefield Wildcats, shown in photos above, are grinding it out in two-a-day practices in preparation for season openers on Friday, Sept. 10. Littlefield's new head coach, Jerry Blakely, above left, is shown explaining a play to backs and ends. In right photo, the linemen find it rough-and-tumble even in dummy scrimmage. The Wildcat varsity is working out at 9:45 a.m. and 4 p.m. each day, while the junior varsity is hitting the field at 8:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. each day. Practice days continue this week and next Monday and Tuesday. School starts next week.

Drug Treatment

Central Plains Comprehensive Community Mental Health-Mental Retardation Center at Plainview, will establish a regional treatment center for juvenile delinquency and drug abuse with a grant approved today by Governor Preston Smith.

Counties served by the center will include Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Motley, Parmer and Swisher. The award, $196,480, comes from the Criminal Justice Council, which oversees statewide law enforcement planning and administers funds from the U.S. Department of Justice for crime control projects in Texas.

It will be matched by a local in-kind contribution valued at $80,047.

Adjudicated delinquents from the 9-county region served by the MH/MR Center will be accepted into the program, which is geared to drug abuse and its residual health problems.

The juveniles will be admitted into the day hospital and will have individual and group therapy under supervision of the staff psychiatrist.

Canyon Story Is Scheduled At Palo Duro

"They Came From Spain", the story of the Palo Duro Canyon and the arrival of the Conquistadores there will open Sept. 2 in the amphitheatre in the park.

The star will be the Canyon. Starting with the creation there in light and sound, the story will unfold until the arrival of the Spaniards in 1541 and the principal part will describe the events of their stay within the Canyon walls. This part of the story will be told with action and sound and light.

The 2,000-mile trek from their gathering place in Compostela, Mexico, to the Canyon will be in still another technic, film. Cameramen have just finished shooting part of the march.

On a typical day of filming the gatemans at the park admit forty extras at six o'clock in the morning ready for make-up, beards, mustaches, sideburns and long Indian wigs; vans are opened to remove armor, helmets, swords, cross bows, Four Spanish saddles reaching two feet below the seat on each side are polished. Foot soldiers with halberds eight feet long, women that play and camp followers and some of their children, men with banners and flags, all gather at a place in the Canyon resembling a mountain pass for the first shots of the day.

Two cameramen, Bill Rhew of Amarillo and Jim Sullivan of Dallas, finished shooting on Aug. 11.

Write "They Came From Spain" for tickets, for information, or for brochures. The show will play Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays in September and October. Prices for adults are $2.50 a seat, for children, $1.

Inquire at Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015 or call 806-655-2182. Street address in Canyon is 2010 Fourth Avenue where the daytime boxoffice is.

Environmental Matters Discussed

Reducing wind erosion and handling feedlot wastes are two environmental problems discussed at a conservation workshop in Lubbock this week.

Sponsored jointly by the U. S. Soil Conservation Service and Texas Tech University, the meeting is being held on the Texas Tech campus July 28-29. Other items on the agenda include a study of the effect of agricultural chemicals on cropland and ways to restore depleted grasslands under semi-arid conditions.

The workshop is designed to provide an exchange of knowledge and expertise between researchers, conservationists, professors, and other specialists. Special attention is being given to conservation problems as they affect the High Plains and Rolling Plains of Texas.

Dr. Anson R. Bertrand, Dean of Agriculture, Texas Tech University; M. J. Spears, Deputy State Conservationist for SCS; and Dr. H. E. Dregne, Chairman of the Department of Agronomy, Texas Tech, addressed the opening session.

Social Security Benefits

"I may never live to collect a dime from all this money I'm paying into social security!" This is a statment often heard from young workers according to Jim Latimer social security Field Representative at Lubbock.

The fact is Latimer said, "the social security program provides for much more than just retirement payments. Disability and survivor's benefits are two very important areas of protection often overlooked by the young worker."

Disability payments can be made to a young worker and his dependents with as little as one and one-half years of work if he becomes disabled before age 24. These benefits continue as long as the worker remains disabled. Survivor's benefits may also be payable to the young worker's dependents with as little as one and one-half years of work under social security. Payments can be made to the worker's children... 18. Benefits can... 22 for a full-time... Payments can... age 22 if the child... A widow is dis... long as she has a... or a disabled child... Otherwise she must... at least age 50 if... disabled.
