Annual Farm Facts Day Scheduled Monday

Annual Farm Facts Day and Soil Program, sponsored by the County Crops Committee of the Extension Service, is scheduled Monday in the Lamb County Center, located at Third and Ripley Streets in Littlefield. Buddy C. Logsdon, county extension agent, will serve as general chairman for the all-day program that begins at 10 a.m. Registration will begin approximately 30 minutes prior to that.

Beginning at 10:15, Marvin Sartin, area economist-management with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Lubbock, will speak on "Tax Management For the Future." "Sunflower Production" will be the topic of Dr. James Supak's speech, beginning at 10:45. Dr. Supak serves as area agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Lubbock.

"Efficient Fertilizer Use" will be Jim Valentine's topic, beginning at 11:05. Valentine is area soil chemist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Lubbock.

Jim Valliant, research engineer with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Halfway, will discuss "Irrigation Conservation" at 11:25.

Beginning at 11:55 Buddy Logsdon will present recognition for the luncheon donor, the southwestern division of Delta and Pine Land Company of Lubbock.

Then at noon the barbecue lunch will be served until 1 p.m.

"Outlook for Grain Sorghum, Soybeans and Corn" will be the topic of discussion as presented by Roland D. Smith, grain marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at College Station, beginning at 1 p.m.

At 1:30, "Outlook for Cotton" will be discussed by Charles K. Baker, general marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at College Station.

Concluding the program at 2 p.m. will be a presentation on "Livestock Outlook 1975" by the Texas Cattle Feeders Association.

LIONS CLUB members and athletic director Blakely receives basketball strategy from three members of the Wildcat girls' basketball team in preparation for the basketball (?) game between members of both Littlefield Lions Clubs and radio station. Proceeds will aid the construction of a Littlefield

Memorial Tennis Court, and the game is scheduled for Thursday in the High School Gym at 8 p.m. Tickets may be purchased from either Lions Club or from members of the Littlefield Rotary Club which is also aiding the project. Girls are Monica Phillips, Pennie Sexton and Lori Westmoreland. (Staff Photo)

Welfare Defrauding Charges Filed On Woman

Charges of defrauding the Department of Welfare were filed against a woman here Friday morning. Marie McCarty was charged with drawing $1,087 welfare money for her families with dependent children (AFDC) which she wasn't entitled to draw.

Sydney Hester, an investigator for the State Department of Public Welfare, filed the charges saying the defendant drew the money she was not entitled to by saying she did not have a job. The money was paid April through November of 1974 at the time the woman said she was not employed but was working at Jewell's Hospitality House.

She appeared before County Judge Bill Angel and waived rights to an attorney and entered a guilty plea.

Judge Angel found her guilty and assessed her fine at $50 plus court cost of $47 plus six months in jail. Jail time is probated for a period of 18 months provided she pay the fine, court cost and repay the state the $1,087 by the end of the probation period.

She was released into the custody of Sheriff E. D. McNeese and warned that if she does not pay all the charges she will have to serve the six months in jail.

Housing Survey Being Conducted

The Littlefield Chamber of Commerce is conducting a rental housing survey, and is seeking information from all citizens of the community.

A form, which is to be returned to the C-C office, may be found inside this issue. Fill it out so the office may determine whether the project will be practical.

The information received does not obligate anyone in any way. "Some of us believe there is a need, but we need the survey results to determine which way might be most advantageous in actually getting the housing," stated Tom Tollett, C-CA administrative vice president.

According to Tollett, our best route may be to organize a non-profit corporation if private investments aren't able to build something.

"We don't want subsidies, but a non-profit corporation would be eligible for a federal guarantee," Tollett continued.

Hunting Season Legislation To Be Introduced By Clayton

Speaker of the House, Bill Clayton, of the Lamb County Commissioners Court this week of his intent to introduce a bill in the regular session of the 64th Legislature to put the county's hunting regulations under the jurisdiction of the Texas Game and Wildlife Commission.

hunting season back under the jurisdiction of the TPWC officially. The introduction of the bill in the legislature is merely a formality. The proposed introduction of the legislation will officially take the setting of the quail hunting season out of the hands of the Lamb County Commissioners Court and put it back under the auspices of the TPWC.

Two Citizens File For Positions On School Board Trustees

Wednesday two citizens filed for placement on the ballot for election to the Littlefield school board.

For the race were Carolyn Hodge and Rev. Cass J. Tisdale. Mrs. Hodge filed Wednesday morning and Tisdale signed up Wednesday afternoon.

Terms of school board members Raliff, David Hampton and Birkelbach are expiring this their opinion that blacks were needed in other areas of the school.

Mrs. Hodge was one of the spokesmen at the Monday night meeting. She is a widow and has two school-aged children, Deidra, a 12-year-old in the seventh grade, and Felicia, a 10-year old who is a fifth grader. Mrs. Hodge is an LVN and works at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock and Jewell's Hospitality House. She has lived in Littlefield about 13 years.

Tisdale is pastor of the Ervin Street First Baptist Church since moving here from Coffeetown, Kans., about four months ago. He is 62-years old and has been in evangelistic work 42 years. He has two married daughters, 15 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

MRS. CAROLYN HODGE was the first candidate to file for placement on the ballot for the school board election April 3. Supervising the procedure Wednesday morning in the school tax office is Tax Assessor-Collector Carlton Parker. A second person filed Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Cass J. Tisdale. (Staff Photo)

Mental Health Center Offers Help For Citizens

Representatives of the National Institute of Mental Health in Washington, D. C. and the regional office of Health Education and Welfare of Dallas were guests in Littlefield Wednesday for a visit of the Littlefield branch office of the Mental Health/Mental Retardation Center.

Tom Kelly of the NIMH and Phil Edgington of the HEW office asked several questions pertaining to the center's operations and procedures, and referral techniques (both locally and to the central office in Plainview.)

Answering questions on the center's operations were Nina Harris, outreach worker; Dr. John Gill, program director of mental health services at the center; and Dale Edmiaston, adolescent specialist.

Information regarding the center's outreach and input into the Littlefield community was provided by County Judge Bill Angel, Littlefield School Superintendent Jack York, City Councilman Paul Carmickle and City Manager Jim Blagg.

Services offered by the office here include help with any problem, whether it be emotional, marital relations, alcoholism, drug abuse, poor communications between parents and children or between husband and wife, etc., learning disabilities, depression, and many others.

Family counseling is also available. According to Mrs. Harris, "We have handled all age groups— from 2 years old up to 75 years old."

The center is planning a Parent Effectiveness Training Class sometime in April to aid parents, adults, teachers or anyone interested in learning better communications techniques.

Persons seeking help in any form may contact the office, 385-4013.

Few Banquet Tickets Left For Annual Event Saturday

Ticket sales to the annual banquet of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture are "going very well" according to Mrs. Carol Black, Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Activities Vice President.

The speaker will be Rep. Bill Clayton, Speaker of the Texas House; the meal will be a steak dinner; and the decorations are being done by "We, The Women."

According to Sherry Campbell, administrative assistant at the office, more than 150 tickets had been sold by noon Wednesday.

Mrs. Black said, "There are a few tickets left, but they're going quickly!"

The remaining tickets are available at the C-CA office at City Hall for $6 each.

The banquet will begin at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 22nd at the Littlefield Junior High Cafeteria.

MRS. ELOUISE COX, longtime member and supporter of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, views the tickets she purchased for her employes to attend the annual Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet, slated for Saturday night. Mrs. Cox has served on the Board of Directors and on the Board of City Development during her 10 years in the furniture business here. Tickets are $6 each and may be purchased at the C-CA office. Sheriff's Posse To Host Playday

The Lamb County Sheriff's Posse will be hosting a playday this afternoon, beginning at 1 in the Posse Arena, located next to the show barns on Hall Avenue.

All area riders are invited to ride, and spectators are welcome to watch free of charge.

The Sheriff's Posse will conduct their business meeting Monday night at 8 in the XIT Room of Security State Bank. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Surgery Patient Talks About Heart Attacks

Willard Morris is one of many area residents who has had a severe heart attack but is back on the job due to open heart surgery.

Because today is Heart Sunday, and because he feels he is one of the really lucky ones, Morris relates his experience with heart disease.

Morris still takes an anti-coagulant to lessen the risk of a blood clot. And once a month or every six weeks he has his blood coagulation checked at a local lab. Other than that, you'd never know how near death's door he was a few years ago or that he is one of the hundreds in this area who is a living example of the wonders the team of heart surgeons perform at Lubbock.

Now 53-years-old, Morris was 39 when he experienced his first heart attack.

"I just thought it was something I ate that didn't agree with me," he said. "Even the doctor thought it was acute indigestion."

Morris was farming and living near Sunnyside at that time in 1959 and went to a doctor in Canyon where he was hospitalized overnight. But the next morning a doctor who specialized in heart problems decided Morris should be given an electrocardiogram before he was dismissed.

One reading of the EKG showed Morris had had a heart attack and not a stomachache. He was routinely put on an anti-coagulant, "and went about his business."

Meantime he moved his family to Littlefield. There weren't any recurrences until 1966 when he had another heart attack.

"I knew the symptoms then," Morris said, "so I went right on down to see Dr. Shotwell." Morris was admitted, put under oxygen and given routine treatment and bed rest for a couple of weeks and released.

He did fine for a long period of time before fire-like pains in the center of his chest hit.

Morris was parts manager at the Cadillac-Oldsmobile establishment.

A trip upstairs to get a part was so exerting, sometimes he would have to stop at the top of the stairs and sit down for a while.

Then the last week of January in 1970 he had a bad hurting across the back of his shoulders— so severe he went home from work. Far in the night he woke deathly sick.

"It wasn't that I was hurting so bad as being so terribly sick," he said. "Later I learned that the reason I didn't hurt so

Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation Course Slated At Texas Tech

The CPR Committee of the American Heart Association, headed by Joseph Glennon, M. D. of the Texas Tech School of Medicine, is sponsoring an instructor course in cardiopulmonary resuscitation Saturday, March 1, in the Mabey Auditorium at Lubbock Christian College, West 19th Street.

The sessions will be from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. and from 1 p.m. to 4:40 p.m.

This is an instructor course and those attending will be required to attend both morning and afternoon sessions and pass a test to be certified or re-certified. It is the hope of the American Heart Association that as many people as possible can be reached with this life-saving technique by volunteers teaching CPR in our community.

Lunch will be available in the LCC cafeteria for those who want to stay on campus during the lunch break. Cost is $1.50 per person (payable in the cafeteria at the time of meal).

Contact the Lamb County Association at 385-6151 or 385-5729 by Feb. 25th.

Cancer Society Report Available To Public

Joella Lovvorn, president of the Lamb County Unit has announced that the 1974 Annual Report of the American Cancer Society, Texas Division, is now available to the public. The summary of program accomplishments during the 1973-74 program year, including a record Crusade high of $4,006,970, document the volunteer efforts made toward conquering cancer.

Miss Lovvorn said Lamb County residents contributed $9,923 to help support the American Cancer Society programs.

PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION provides up-to-date information on cancer diagnosis and treatment to the medical and allied health professions. The past fiscal year, these programs reached over 77,916 physicians, dentists and nurses. Also, 17 clinics and 8 conferences were supported by the American Cancer Society in Texas.

PUBLIC EDUCATION helps save lives by increasing public awareness and knowledge about cancer prompting early diagnosis and treatment of the disease. This year over 38,687 programs were presented to an audience of 1,413,603 people. These programs, representing a 23 percent increase over the previous year, included ACS educational films, physicians and lay speakers, also thousands of exhibits and millions of educational pamphlets.

Miss Lovvorn is also Education Chairman for the Lamb County Unit, and may be contacted at 385-4481 for information, or will aid anyone interested in scheduling a cancer education program or project.

THE SERVICE REHABILITATION PROGRAM seeks to save lives, to ease the pains and lighten the many burdens the disease places on its victims and their families. This year, the total number receiving ACS Service in Texas was 26, 124 Texans.

Rehabilitative services like the "Reach to Recovery" program for mastectomy patients, esophageal speech program and others, aided 2,826 people.

RESEARCH is a crucial phase of the ACS activity which enhances the possibility of finding those answers that will aid in the control of cancer. During 1974, grants in Texas included: 20 National fellowships, 31 research grants and 13 Texas Division fellowships. The total of these grants exceeded $1,619,075.

Miss Lovvorn concluded, "I feel that fighting cancer is a local responsibility and a challenge every concerned individual should meet. Every man, woman and child in our community has a stake in the outcome and each has a responsibility to participate in it. The American Cancer Society provides the opportunity."

Nursery School Census Slated

A sample of households in this area will take part in a nationwide survey of preprimary education to be conducted the week of Feb. 17-21 by the Bureau of the Census.

Census interviewer visiting households in this area will be Rosemary McNeese of Rt. 1, Amherst.

Meroy R. Millard, director of the bureau's regional office in Dallas, said that interviewers will visit homes to obtain information about the number of children attending nursery school or kindergarten. There will also be questions on the use of day-care facilities.

These questions will be in addition to those asked regularly in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment. The survey is taken by the bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor, which analyzes and publishes the results each month. The Labor Department reported that the December survey showed the Nation's unemployment rose for the third straight month. The total number of unemployed increased by 500,000 to 6.5 million, and the jobless rate reached 7.1 percent, the highest since May 1961.

Local households in the survey are among the 50,000 nationwide that have been scientifically selected to represent a cross section of all households.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is confidential by law and results are used only to compile statistical totals.

County 4-H's To Compete In Houston Show

Thirty-one members of the Lamb County 4-H Club will compete in the junior division of the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo to be held Feb. 19 through March 2, according to Buddy C. Logsdon, County Extension Agent for Lamb County.

The competition in the junior events is set for the second week of the show when 4-H and FFA boys and girls from all sections of the state will be vying for top premiums and prizes.

This is the largest junior livestock show in the country. These young people will join adult exhibitors in seeking premiums of more than $400,000, a new record for the Houston show. Around 19,000 entries are expected.

The show will again be held in the show's $12.5 million facility with rodeo performances in the Astrodome. First rodeo performances are scheduled for Feb. 21.

All major beef and dairy breeds, swine, sheep and goats, horses, rabbits and poultry will compete for the top premiums offered.

A record 22 auction sales will be held this year, including sales for three breeds which have never been sold at auction at the Houston show.

A top array of talent will entertain at each of the rodeo performances. The Osmonds will appear Feb. 21-22; Helen Reddy on Feb. 23; Conway Twitty, Feb. 24-25; Olivia Newton-John, Feb. 26; Charley Pride, Feb. 27-28 and Charlie Rich, March 1-2.

Methodists Schedule Conference Here

Three missionaries will speak for a special Missionary Conference at the First United Methodist Church beginning Thursday, Feb. 21, and continuing through the following Sunday.

Speakers will be Ajith Fernando of Ceylon, Harold Spann of Wilmore Ky., and Miss Doris Trefren of China.

Friday's program will begin with prayer meeting at 6:30 in the chapel, followed by a covered-dish supper for everyone at 7 p.m.

The worship service will begin at 8 p.m.

A men's breakfast at 7 a.m. will begin Saturday's program, followed by coffees from 10 to 11 a.m. in the homes of the Bobby Brunsons, 307 E. 19th; Joan Williams, 124 E. 23rd; and the Bob Rodens, 611 E. 12th.

At noon Saturday, a salad luncheon will be served to the women at the church, while a hamburger fry will be served for the youth at the Charles Hinds home on the Bula Highway.

Saturday night's worship service will begin at 7 p.m., and following the service, some of the speakers will show colored slides of their mission work.

Sunday's program will follow the usual schedule.

Miss Doris Trefren went to China in 1931, in answer to the call of the China Inland Mission, for 200 new recruits to reach the interior of the China mainland for Christ. She served there until two years after the Communist take-over returning to the U.S. at intervals to challenge American churches for missions.

When she was finally released by the Communists to return to America at the end of 1951, Miss Trefren was burdened for the Christians who were left under a terrorist government.

After a period spent in America to regain her health, Miss Trefren went to Taiwan to serve with the Oriental Missionary Society in 1953. There she trained teachers to teach the Bible to laymen and laywomen in a unique ministry over the island, as well as superintending Bible training institutes for mountain tribesmen, producing weekly programs for Far East Broadcasting Company and teaching music in Morrison Academy.

From 1958 to 1966, she traveled the globe in the interest of missions, as field representative for the Oriental Missionary Society. In 1966, Miss Trefren returned to Taiwan as superintendent of the Bible Institution for Mountain Tribal People.

At present, Miss Trefren is working with the Chinese Overseas Christian Mission, which reaches Chinese in dispersion who have fled Communist China.

Ajith Fernando is from Ceylon, an island off the tip of India. He came to the U.S. three years ago under a scholarship from Pennies for India. He attended Asbury Theological Seminary, and graduated last spring. He was the first foreign student to receive the outstanding preacher's award from Asbury Seminary. He is now working on his Master of Theology degree at Fuller Seminary in Pasadena, Calif.

Harold Spann is assistant to the president of Institutional Advancement of Asbury College in Wilmore, Ky., where he was formerly dean of students.

Before joining the administration of Asbury College, he served pastorates in the Texas Conference. He has served in various capacities in

The Speaker Reports

By Bill Clayton

The need for this session of the Legislature to pass some form of school finance reform bill has been widely reported for months. It is the one issue everyone agrees will receive top priority.

Because of its importance, I believe the questions we will be considering in committees during the next four months should be thoroughly presented to the public.

Therefore, it is my goal to try to familiarize you with the past role Texas has played in school finance and what we will be considering this session.

A review of the recent history of public school finance in Texas shows that recent court decisions have greatly affected the significant role the Legislature must take in this area.

In 1971 a federal district court held unanimously in the case of Rodriguez vs. The San Antonio Independent School District that the Texas system of financing public schools violated the federal and state constitutions.

The court said that depending heavily on local ad valorem taxes for financing schools made the quality of a child's education dependent on the wealth of his parents and neighbors.

However, in 1973 the U. S. Supreme Court reversed that decision saying it recognized the apparent inequities of the Texas system but could not agree with the lower court that the judicial system should take the responsibility of making school financing equitable.

Furthermore, the Supreme Court said that this responsibility clearly lay with the Texas Legislature.

It was shortly thereafter that the Legislature, Governor and many interested groups began researching this problem.

The task for creating a sound school finance system is extremely complex. Inadequacies presently exist in the way money is raised and in the way it is dispersed. This session we will need to take into account that proposals striving to make the system fair do not interfere with the rights of local communities. Nor should we interfere with a taxpayer's ability to survive economically.

Some of the questions we will have to consider this session are:

—What pupil populations will be recognized for funding? In other words, will students in different grades and types of programs like vocational and special education be funded differently? The Governor has offered what he terms a weighted pupil approach to solve this problem. All considerations along this line should be given close examination.

—What type of student attendance figures will be used to determine the amount of state subsidy given to a local community? The question here is whether to remain with an average daily attendance figure or move to some other means of determining a formula for state share.

—What types of staffs and staff salaries should school districts have? Presently wealthier communities have greater flexibility because they have more money to attract highly qualified people.

—What is considered a fair tax effort on the part of the local community? And should the local property tax assessments be regulated by uniform state standards?

—Will the Foundation School Program be financed from state or local revenues? This actually boils down to what percentage of public school financing should be the state's and what should be local?

—To what extent can a school district raise money to enrich school programs above the minimum Foundation School Program? The obvious question to follow this one is how can we better equalize the amount of money rich and poor districts raise.

It is my hope that we will look long and hard at any proposal that restricts a local community's right to control the amount of local money it wishes to spend on making their school system the best it can be.

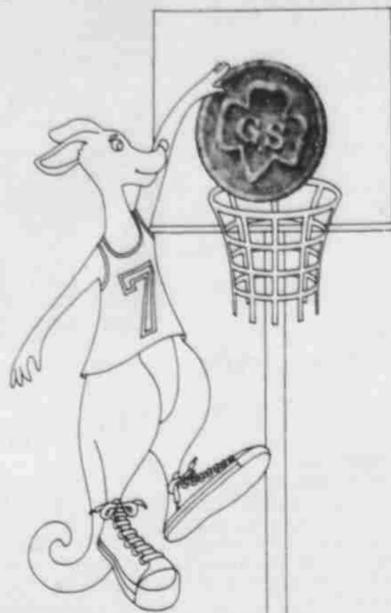

—The last consideration is whether a full market value tax assessment be placed on farm, ranch and timber land. I believe the approach we took in the Constitutional Convention in Finance Article VIII is a fair one. The article states that all real property and tangible personal property must be taxed equally and uniformly in proportion to market value. However, farm, ranch and timber land would fall under separate formulas so not to overly tax people with land in production.

Of course, these are not all the considerations, but I feel they are the main ones. All of them will have to be aired thoroughly, and hopefully with your input, we will come up with a solid piece of legislation.

There will be many bills and proposals introduced to the Public Education Committee, and I'm sure the best parts will be taken from each to make a public school finance bill that will provide the children of this state with equal educational opportunities.

I want to stress to you that the problems facing us will not be fully solved this session, or next session, or the session after that. Public school financing will be an issue that requires updating and revision for years to come. However, I hope we can come up with a flexible and durable plan that will allow us to build on it in future years.

CLIPS & TIPS

By JOELLA LOVVERN

I WANT TO THANK Cornball for the recipe he included in his column today. It brings back nostalgia from my growing-up days and during hard times on the farm.

IF WE CAN BELIEVE the ground hog—who didn't see his shadow on Feb. 2—we're going to have an early Spring. That's good news for those who want to start their spring projects early. Maybe this is the year you'll grow a better lawn, fix up the house, or plan the perfect vacation.

Whatever your particular interest, you'll want the new Spring edition of the "Consumer Information Index" listing more than 250 free or low cost federal consumer publications.

Published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration, the free "Consumer Information Index" lists publications developed by more than two dozen federal departments and agencies on a wide range of subjects. Copies of the Index are available free from Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colo. 81009 and at Federal Information Centers located throughout the country.

Among the new and seasonal booklets listed in the Spring edition of the "Consumer Information Index" are: "Better Laws" (32 pages, 40 cents). Preparation, selection of grasses, planting and care.

"Keeping the Bad Bugs Out Naturally" (2 pages, free). How to protect garden plants from harmful insects without using pesticides.

"Growing Vegetables in the Home Garden" (56 pages, 80 cents).

"Festival U.S.A." (74 pages, $1.50) Chronological descriptive listing of more than 5,000 annual festivals, fairs, and sporting events.

"Vacation Planning: Tips for Trips to Save You Gas" (8 pages, free). Dude ranches, farms, and houseboating are among the different vacation options discussed.

"Questions and Answers About No Fault Insurance" (4 pages, free).

"Shopping for Educational Services" (4 pages, free). Criteria for selecting a junior college or college; discusses accreditation and lists sources for further information.

"Fats in Food and Diet" (10 pages, 30 cents). Saturated and unsaturated fat content of common foods; includes a cholesterol content chart and discusses the effects of dietary fat on health.

"Imaginative Ways with Bathrooms" (16 pages, free). Accessories, storage areas, and safety features to consider when planning a new or remodeling an old bathroom.

Also covered in the index are such topics as automobiles; budget, finance, and insurance; child care; energy conservation and environmental protection; food purchase, preparation, and storage; diet and nutrition; health; housing; older Americans; gardening; recreation, travel, and leisure activities; and consumer protection.

OBITUARIES

OSCAR LOUIS FULENWIDER
SPRINGLAKE—Funeral services for Oscar Louis Fulenwider, 83, were held Wednesday, Jan. 29, in the Assembly of God Church at Cleburne.

He and his first wife left Lamb County in 1950 after living in the Springlake-Circle Community about 20 years. She died in 1962.

Fulenwider is survived by his wife; two sons, Aaron Fulenwider of Alvarado and Amon Fulenwider of Fort Worth; five grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

Grandsons and granddaughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fulenwider and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Fulenwider, all of Springlake, attended the funeral.

HORACE NEELEY

Services for Horace Ives Neeley, 72, of Amherst, were conducted Friday afternoon at the First Baptist Church of Amherst, with Rev. Glenn Willson, pastor, officiating.

Burial followed graveside services that afternoon in Floydada Cemetery. Arrangements for Neeley, who died Wednesday in South Plains General Hospital following a lengthy illness, were handled by Payne Funeral Home of Amherst.

Neeley had been a resident of Amherst since 1959, when he moved from Floydada. He was a retired farmer.

Survivors include his wife, Cledia; a daughter, Mrs. Dale Moore of Amarillo; a son, Robert of Plainview; four sisters, Mrs. Ralph Rudd of Springlake, Mrs. Bert House and Mrs. Opal Cain, both of Clovis, N.M., and Mrs. Gladys Snodgrass of Portales, N.M.; a brother, Doc of Mountainair, N.M.; and seven grandchildren.

R. L. SMITH

Services for R. L. "Uncle Bob" Smith, 95, of Brownfield, were conducted Friday afternoon in the Loop Church of Christ with Doyle Keely, Brownfield Southside Church of Christ minister, officiating.

Burial was in Loop Cemetery under direction of Brownfield Funeral Home. Smith died at 5:15 a.m. Wednesday at Brownfield General Hospital following a lengthy illness.

Born in Arkansas, Smith married the former Julia Elizabeth Scrimshir there Aug. 16, 1905. The couple moved to Oklahoma and from there to Loop in Gaines County in 1924. He was a farmer. Following the death of his wife July 26,

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Sort It Out

AN ORDERLY ARRANGEMENT of our mind is absolutely essential to an orderly life pattern. It is also essential to our peace of mind, and to our over-all effectiveness.

If we let our mind function without this orderly arrangement, we will be pulled apart by the legitimate demands for our time and energy. This unnecessary condition soon becomes one of great distress and over-whelming discouragement.

WE WILL HAVE many things on our mind, because of the nature of the life we must live. It is a life of varied interests, and responsibilities. If these are not handled wisely, we will be confused or worse.

Some folk feel torn apart, by being pulled in so many different directions. This is not an inevitable condition, and we are being most unwise; if we permit it to happen to us.

"IF YOU HAVE KNOWN how to compose your life, you have accomplished a great deal more than the man who knows how to compose a book. Have you been able to take your stride? You have done more than the man who has taken cities and empires. The great and glorious masterpiece of man is to live to the point." -Montaigne.

"SORT IT OUT" IS the wise solution. We can arrange the things which are on our mind, the things which demand our attention, on the basis of the degree of urgency and importance.

Some things may have to be dismissed for the time being; and the "sorted" according to thought-out priorities. We do things "first", and then in order; as indicated by their characteristics.

WE MUST MAKE decisions about what we want to do, and do. If we let what we want to do have precedence over what we are doing, we will be in a continual state of stress.

On the other hand, if we must be done; we relieve most personal difficulties, good feeling, in the end, having done what had to be done, the freedom we now have to do what we want to do.

IF WE PROCRASTINATE have "sorted everything out" still in trouble, because procrastination. We are in collision of duties.

Of course, it is a mistake to think this happens; but, if it does, can handle the situation by procedure. "Sort it out" is an orderly arrangement of the obligations. The principal reason in this aspect of living, is to be sure not to become passive.

PATIENCE AND PLEASANT as constancies, will help us completely effective; in the phase of the good management life situation.

HONEY GRITS

By CORNBALL

REALLY APPRECIATED the words of encouragement from Ms. Smith. Sometimes you get the idea that your work is being tossed into a vacuum, because few people mention it.

Then suddenly someone give you a good word, and it's just like a fresh cup of coffee in the morning. You're ready to try another day!

SEEMS THE EDITOR has started giving tips on car care. Wonder if she's tryin' to bait me into giving out recipes?—No go!

I did have, in times past, a pretty good recipe for making corn meal mush, but I've forgotten whether you boiled it, or stewed it.

'T WAS A PRETTY versatile dish. You could eat it hot with butter, salt, and (if desired) pepper. OR, it went pretty good with cream and sugar. Then the cold left-over could be fried, like pancakes, and served with butter and syrup. Makes you grow up to be five feet, ten inches, and weigh around 100

MY BETTER HALF (a probated heart) seldom says she does have a way of being suggestive at times. Like laying my income tax form on a bank book or throwing a pair of fresh washed socks down at me when I'm just sittin' and thinkin'.

She did the latter a few days ago, dutifully, sorted and packed 'em in my sock drawer. L.A. came out with one odd sock.

I WAS JUST sittin' and thinkin' sock when she noticed what I was doin'. "What's wrong?" she asked. "I was sittin' here tryin' to think what day it was that I went sock!" I was back.

"THINK HARD," she said. "Maybe you can remember what you were THREE!" She's on probation!

Turn Row COMMENTS

NOTICED THAT JOELLA has been throwing a few below-the-belt punches because of my being slightly overweight. Guess I should be thankful of her concern and offering a few delicious low calorie recipes. If my guessing is right, I'd be willing to bet that a few more people could use a few tips on weight watching.

The only thing wrong with her recipes is that they are quite tasty, and one usually eats a double helping. Guess that's where will power comes in. Say Jo, how about a few tips on will power?

AND NOW FOR YOU, Cornball. You are getting kinda big for your britches fighting the networks, but I will have to give you my support. I'm sick and tired of watching the same old junk on the tube. We have a choice of stations to watch, but I can't see where the variety helps anything.

I can understand that with all the programming that has been going on since the beginning of television that the writers have a rough time coming up with new ideas. I guess there are no new ideas, just different versions of original ones. But I'm sick and tired of trying to relax after a hard day on the road by watching some kind of violence or some miracle-working doctor on the tube. I want to watch something that a family can enjoy and laugh at together. So fight on Cornball! You have me on your side.

1962, Smith retired and moved to Seagraves. He moved to Brownfield in 1970. He was a member of the Loop Church of Christ.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Stella Chitwood of Loop; five sons, Jesse L. of Loop, Fred of Littlefield, Everett and Owen, both of Brownfield and Ollie of Gilton; nine grandchildren, 20 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

... HEART PATIENT

much was because I hardly had a pulse or any blood pressure. The doctor said I was bordering on heart failure."

Morris was seeing Dr. Nowlin when this spell hit him. Dr. Nowlin made an appointment for Morris to see heart specialist Dr. Samuel King in Lubbock. Within a couple of weeks an appointment for an angiogram was set up and Morris entered a Lubbock hospital.

The angiogram showed two blocked arteries and surgery was scheduled for Mar. 15, 1970. During surgery another partially blocked artery was by-passed with three out of four arteries by-passed.

"I'm really lucky," Morris said. The dye test didn't bother me like it does some, and even the surgery didn't give me too much pain and problems. I came out fine all the way. In March it will be four years since surgery, and I've only been back to Lubbock twice since then.

"One month after surgery I went back to work part time, and six weeks after surgery I was working fulltime.

Morris firmly believes every man 40 or over should have a thorough check-up, including an angiogram if necessary to detect any problems.

He quit smoking after his first heart attack, and he doesn't think cigarettes do any good and probably add to heart problems.

He has cut down on pork, eggs, chocolate and all those good things that are loaded with cholesterol.

Morris' advise can be summed up in the American Heart Fund's gift acknowledgement on his desk in the parts department at Marcum's: Make heart health your number one cause. Next to an acknowledgement of his Heart Fund contribution is another reminder saying heart disease is America's number one enemy.

TODAY IS HEART SUNDAY and Willard Morris is a living testimony as to what heart research can do through funds that are donated to the American Heart Association. It has been four years since he had corrective surgery and he goes about his work in a routine manner at Marcum Olds, Pontiac, Cadillac. (Staff Photo)

DS PREMIUM polyester CORD TIRE

Polyester cord won't flat spot. So there's none of that annoying thump, thump on cold mornings — just a smooth ride from the first turn of the wheel, on. Yet polyester is a tough cord. And in this four ply bias body construction it gives you rugged protection against chuckholes, road litter and other hazards. Sure, we sell other Duralon tires with other cord materials. They're great tires, too. But when it comes to smooth riding, our DS Premium polyester definitely has the soft edge. You'll feel it.

Skilled Craftsmen...Modern Methods...Precision Machines

The molding and curing of tires is just the final step in their manufacture. And we make that final step precise with close tolerance automation. Tire assembly takes modern machines, too, plus the skill of tire builders who take pride in perfection. All along the line, our tires get the best that our experience and modern machines can give them. And they're checked step by step to be sure. So when you choose Duralon you're making a smart choice. Another smart thing to do is come in and talk tires with us.

offered their services free of charge, she said, are Paul Jackson Trucking of Vega, Jimmy Dean Meat Co. of Plainview, the Vega Meat Co., Missouri Beef Packers, Inc., of Plainview and Crow Meat Co. of Friona. "We have had an excellent response to the project and consequently we have enjoyed working on it," Mrs. Tyler said. "The girls and staff at Girlstown are so appreciative of our efforts that it really makes this project extremely worthwhile and enjoyable for us." Mrs. Tyler said she is especially pleased that one cash donation was from Lavon Ater of Ferriday, La., National CowBelle president. Among meat donated to Girlstown was six beeves, 14 hogs and three lambs, all processed by Glover Packing and TSTI, from the recent Hereford Stock Show.

Other donations, she said, are being made in the form of monthly contributions established on a bank draft. One cash contribution was made by Division 6 of the Texas Kiwanis in honor of Gerald Hall, Lt. Gov. of Division 6 from Vega, in lieu of a trophy.

Mrs. Tyler was recognized as Hereford CowBelle of the Year for 1974 recently. The recognition was given in part because of the work she has done in the Beef for Girlstown Project as state chairman.

Easter Seal Appeal Opens Here Monday

The 1975 Easter Seal Appeal will officially open in Lamb County Monday, Feb. 24, according to Doyle L. Patton, who serves as Easter Seal Representative for the county. Easter Seal Appeal letters will arrive at homes in the county between Feb. 15 and March 15. Patton is the person to contact to request services from the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas. These services include physical and occupational therapy, speech and hearing programs and special information services to help solve the many problems faced by the families of handicapped children and adults.

Last year 20,152 handicapped people received help from the Texas Easter Seal Society. With the costs of providing expert professional care rising, more money than ever will be needed to assist more disabled Texans and remain ahead of inflation. Funds help support professional treatment centers in Texas, where services are provided to those crippled children and adults who cannot provide for themselves and who do not qualify for help from any other source.

"The people of Texas have always responded generously to helping the handicapped, and I feel certain they will make it possible to increase Easter Seal services to crippled Texans throughout the coming year," Patton said.

AG OPINIONS

A state university can permit religious-oriented groups to use its meeting room on a non-discretionary, first-come-first-served basis, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

Value of a mobile home should be included with value of land it rests on for tax purposes.

Residence of a liquor licensee does not have to be disclosed.

Neither does a school district employee's letter of resignation.

A dry portion of a justice precinct does not lose its status due to redistricting.

A person who owns enough stock to insure election to a bank board of directors is not eligible to serve as a member of the State Banking Board.

A state college has no authority to withhold faculty salary payments on grounds of neglect of duty such as tardiness in submitting grades.

Governmental bodies should reveal the educational background and work experiences of its employees.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

FLOOD AID VOTED
A legislative resolution will allow the state to spend money already appropriated to the governor as matching funds to aid victims of natural disasters.

Immediately, funds can be used to provide the state's 25 per cent share of aid to residents of flood-hit Anderson, Bell, Cooke, Denton, El Paso, Hopkins, McLennan, Parker, Williamson, Falls and Nacogdoches counties.

The federal government will match state dollars three to one. The federal disaster act of 1974 provides for financial aid up to $5,000 per individual or family.

PAY RAISES SET
One hundred and twenty-five thousand state employees were assured a $93 million pay raise effective February 1.

Governor Briscoe signed the legislation into law to provide the raises over a seven-months' period.

Most state employees in the low-to-medium pay bracket will receive a 13 per cent raise, and most of those in the middle-to-top category will get a nine per cent increase. Additional raises are expected to be voted on a permanent basis after September 1.

LANDS LEASED
Leases of 88,506 acres of state land for oil and gas drilling brought the state $4,199,099.

Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong termed results of the sale better than expected.

Submerged tract bids totalled $2.26 million.

Highest bidder was Texas Oil and Gas Corp.—$708,400 for 642 acres in Ward County.

APPOINTMENTS

Governor Briscoe named DeWitt Greer to term on the State Ethics Commission.

He also announced appointments of Mrs. L. Butt of Corpus Christi, Margaret Cigarra of El Paso and Edwin Bay Zandt of Beaumont to the Texas Board of Health and Mental Hygiene.

Lyn B. Van Dusen, Dean Rindy of Austin named by the Senate committee on consumer affairs to aid in an investigation of Southwestern Telephone Company.

Governor Briscoe named Kenyon F. Clapp, legislative aide, as his executive assistant, succeeding Charles Purnell who resigned to turn to Dallas law practice.

SHORT SHORTS

A proposed new statute to protect newsmen against forced revelation of information sources has been introduced by Rep. Jay of Baytown.

A five-bill package to upgrade standards of emergency medical services in Texas.

Comptroller Robert has requested a $400,000 emergency appropriation claiming his predecessor's der-budgeted and over-budgeted.

The Texas economy is continuing to resist the recession, according to a University of Texas Business view article.

Texas Office of Business Enterprise approved 10 minority business contracts totalling $465,000 last month.

Revenue from cigarette smoking for January, 1975, $20.7 million, $623,500 over January, 1974.

A House committee has proposed a statewide referendum on Daylight Saving Time.

The State Senate has proposed a moratorium on the use of "wasteful" mental standards means to help combat energy crisis.

Mr. Warren
Lafayette Leader-News
Lafayette, Texas 79339

Mr. Warren:
I am writing to you regarding the Ph. D. degree dissertation for the Ph. D. degree at East Texas State University. I was a student at East Texas State University in the Panhandle. Lamb County was in my study. And since this dissertation pertains to the people of the area, I thought they might enjoy my findings in regard to the place names.
I would like to publish the article in your paper. I would, however, appreciate being notified of its publication. A copy of the paper or complete geographical information, including page, volume number, etc., since my publications go on my permanent record as Associate Professor at the University of Southwestern Louisiana, Lafayette, Louisiana.
I might be interested in knowing if I am a native son of West Texas. I was born in Littlefield, and I lived in the area for some time. I am a graduate of West Texas State University, A. B., 1960; the University of Louisiana, M.A., 1966; and East Texas State University, Ph.D., 1970.

Sincerely yours,
Donald A. Gill
Donald A. Gill
I am also enclosing for your perusal a copy of the limited-edition prints of my wife's watercolors. We would be happy to fill your order for one of them.

PLACE NAMES:
LAMB COUNTY
DONALD A. GILL
What's in a name? If Shakespeare has given more thought to this question, we would not have had Juliet. To some people, a great deal lies in a name, especially in a place name. A name that lies on this land of ours is indicative of the people who live here. It reveals the history, the folklore, the everyday events that happen to the people.
Below are the name origins of place names which appear on the Highway Map of Lamb County:
AMHERST. Stanley Watson, a Kansas insurance man, laid out the site for Amherst and was sales agent for the land in the area. He was the townsite for Amherst College in Massachusetts.
IRISH. Irish Clear Folk Oil Field. Located on Lee Irish's farms, this oil field is near the town of Anton. It is not far from the Clear Fork of the Brazos River.
BAINER. A railroad official whose name was Bainer gave his name to the railroad switch.

BECK. Robert Beck built a cotton gin in this community.

BLACKWATER DRAW. In the area in which this draw is located, when a well is drilled, it often pumps black water—water mixed with oil—at first.

BRAZOS RIVER. Coronado and his men were wandering on the Llano Estacado, about to perish from thirst when the Indians guided them to a small stream which the men then named Brazos de Dios, meaning "the arms of God" in Spanish.

BULL DRAW. Bull Draw flows through the bull pastures of the old XIT Ranch.

BULL LAKE (also LEBO LAKE). This lake is located in a pasture used by the XIT Ranch as a bull pasture.

CIRCLE. The name of this community was derived from the circle made by the highway around the village.

COFFERVILLE. J. W. Coffey, an early settler in the area, was owner of the land on which the town was built.

CORRY (Also NORTH SPADE). Once North Spade voted to re-name the town for G. T. Corry, but the name did not stick.

DOUBLE MOUNTAIN Fork Of The Brazos River. A mountain in Stonewall County is called Double Mountain. The Brazos River forks around this mountain, creating Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos River.

EARTH. O. H. Reeves, the first postmaster of Earth, chose the name because there was not a tree in sight. "All you could see was earth," he wrote.

FIELDTON. Located halfway between Littlefield and Olton, this town received its name from a blend of the two towns' names.

FRIENDSHIP COMMUNITY. The spirit of friendship which existed in the community in the pioneer days suggested its name.

GOAT DRAW. Goats were kept on the old XIT Ranch to scare away the rattlesnakes.

GRAPEVINE DRAW. A wind grapevine growing near a spring prompted this name.

HART CAMP. A man named Hart built a dam across the Blackwater Draw, making it a watering place for the ranch cattle. A cow camp was formed here, taking its name from Hart.

ILLUSION LAKE. Discoverers thought that they were seeing a lake of water, but it was only an illusion, created by alkali.

ILLUSION LAKE OILFIELD. This field is near Illusion Lake.

LAKE OF YELLOW HOUSE. Laguna de las Casas Amarillas, the original Spanish name, was later anglicized to Lake of Yellow House. Indians' houses made of yellow clay adobe were located near the lake.

LAMB COUNTY. Created from Bexar Territory in 1876 and organized in 1908 with Olton as its county seat, Lamb County was named for George A. Lamb, a young lieutenant who served in Capt. William Ware's company from March 12, 1836, until he was killed in the Battle of San Jacinto on April 21, 1836.

LEBO LAKE (also BULL LAKE). An officer of the United States Army named Lebo was in the area during the Indian campaigns of the 1870's.

LITTLEFIELD. Major George Littlefield was a large landowner in the area.

LITTLEFIELD MUNICIPAL AIR FIELD. This name was derived from the nearby town of Littlefield, the city which the airfield serves.

LUMS CHAPEL. A minister named Lum built a church at this location. It became known as Lum's Chapel and also became the name of the community.

MASHED O RANCH. W. E. Halsell was a partner in a large ranch in Oklahoma. The brand of this ranch consisted of three O's linked together. When the partnership was dissolved, Halsell separated the branding iron O's, taking one of them and hammering it slightly; thus the mashed O resulted.

NORTH FORD Of The Brazos. This fork of the Brazos River was named for its location.

OLTON. Olton Powell, the son of Dock Powell, the first postmaster of Olton, gave his name to the town.

ROCKY FORD CHURCH. The people of the area built a rock passage across the draw, making it easier to ford the water.

RUNNING WATER DRAW. This draw is fed by running springs.

SACRED HEART CEMETERY. When the railroad was built through the area in 1913, the names of future towns were placed on maps to attract people to the area. Some of these were religious names, chosen to attract many different types of people. Sacred Heart was thought to appeal to people of the Catholic faith, and a church was named this. The plan never materialized, but this name was never removed from the map.

SOD HOUSE SPRINGS. This name was derived from the sod house built at a cow camp on the old XIT Ranch.

SODA LAKE. This lake, discovered by McKenzie's Raiders in 1872 when they were in search of the Comanches' hiding place, is filled with salt or sodium.

SPADE. This townsite was originally part of the famous Spade Ranch and was named after the Spade brand, used because it could not be altered by cattle rustlers.

SPRINGLAKE. The Springlake Ranch, named for a large spring-fed lake about fifteen miles away, provided the name for this town.

SPRINGLAKE SCHOOL. This name derived from the spring-fed lake nearby.

SUDAN. The adaptability of the soil around this town for the growing of Sudan grass provided the name for this town.

SUDAN AIR FIELD. The airfield is near the town of Sudan.

YELLOW HOUSE. When this site became headquarters for a division of the XIT Ranch in 1880, it was so named because of the yellow color of the clay in the nearby Yellow House Canyon.

YELLOW LAKE. This lake was named for the yellow color of the soil around it and for the Yellow House Ranch on which the lake is located.

33 County Families Use Food Stamps

ANNETTE M. BELL, Public Welfare Supervisor, said that 33 families living below every level in Lamb County are now making use of food stamps. These stamps purchased foods, not only for human consumption, but also for 20 authorized citizens and aliens admitted for permanent residence are eligible. Although they are eligible to purchase if they qualify, foreign stamps normally cannot be used because they are not for permanent residence. Aliens in the country are reported to the Immigration and Naturalization Service when the caseworkers are aware of their presence.

households more than doubled their food purchasing power if they received food stamps. The 3,200 participating households paid $1,085,500 for food stamps and received $2,254,500 worth of bonus stamps. (2) Economic returns to farmers increased from $1.04 to $1.17. (3) Food retailers, food wholesalers and wholesale suppliers had to increase their output as bonus stamps provided more buying power. (4) Purchases with food stamps represented from 5 to 10 percent of the total sales of those stores authorized to accept food stamps. (5) New economy was generated from the community, from $250,000 to $1.5 million. (6) The increased economic activity made a total of 130 new jobs potentially available in the three counties.

FOOD STAMP PROGRAM

Before the state-wide food stamp program was approved in 1972, twenty-eight Texas counties had food stamps. The program which these counties were operating was retained but with several changes.

Administrative costs for the state-wide program are paid by the State of Texas. Previously, the counties were responsible for these costs. The state-wide program is administered by the State Department of Public Welfare. The United States Department of Agriculture pays for and redeems the food stamps.

Certified households receive an Authorization to Purchase (ATP) card each month in the mail. The ATP cards specify an amount of the stamps and how much money, if any, they must pay for them. The ATP card and the necessary cash is then redeemed for food stamps at the local Post Office.

A variable purchase plan is included in the state-wide program. This allows households to purchase less than their full food stamp allotments.

Households receiving monthly ATP cards will have four purchase options— all, three-quarters, one-half or one-quarter. Stability of the household's income and preference determine whether they receive the ATP card on a monthly or semi-monthly basis. An ATP card may be used one time, regardless of what option within the variable purchase plan the households chooses. This card is valid only for the month indicated on the card. The state-wide food stamp program promises to put more Texas-produced food on more Texas tables.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE?

Any person receiving a Welfare check, who doesn't make much money or who is disabled may be eligible to participate in the state-wide food stamp program.

Other persons possibly eligible for food stamps include those who work part-time, are employed or those who get small Social Security payments or some kind of pension check.

Individuals and households may apply for food stamps but all applicants must have cooking facilities in their place of residence in order to qualify. Cooking facilities do not have to be of the conventional type. An individual with no stove but with a hot-plate will meet this particular requirement.

An individual is anyone who does not live in a boarding house or an institution. A household is a group of people, not necessarily related, living in one economic unit sharing common cooking facilities or for whom food is customarily purchased in common. A single individual can also comprise a household.

WHAT STAMPS BUY
Retail grocery stores certified by USDA may accept food stamps for the purchase of most food and food products. Items which cannot be purchased with food stamps include alcoholic beverages and tobacco.

Grocers redeem food stamps through banks or authorized food wholesalers. Local banks, in turn, send coupons to the Federal Reserve Banks.

CERTIFICATION PROCESS

All persons interested in applying for food stamps should take the following information to the nearest food stamp office. The food stamp office is located at 109 E. Fourth Street, Littlefield, Texas:

1. Identification (Social Security card, driver's license, etc.).
 2. Proof of the household's total income (Latest paystubs, pay envelopes, pension award letter).
 3. Rent receipts or house payment book and utility bills.
 4. Bank books or other papers to show any savings.
 5. Medical bills.
 6. E-16 Claim identification card for those receiving unemployment insurance.
- During the application process, all able-bodied household members between the ages of 18 and 65 must register to work. The only exception are those responsible for dependent children under 18 or for incapacitated adults; students enrolled at least half-time in any school or training program recognized by a federal state or local government agency; and those working at least 30 hours a week.

The work registration forms are completed at the food stamp office and then forwarded to the local Texas Employment Commission office.

All jobs offered by the employment office must meet certain requirements, such as paying a minimum wage, providing safe working conditions, and being reasonably close to home. If an applicant should refuse work that meets these requirements, he would no longer be eligible for food stamps.

Persons out of work due to a strike or lock-out are also required to register for work but are not required to work at plants subject to strike or lock-out. They are, however, required to accept employment in positions not subject to strike or lock-out.

GSPA Board Meeting Planned

Glenn Weir, associate administrator of the USDA's Agricultural Conservation and Stabilization Service from Washington, D.C., will discuss government farm programs in a talk at the annual meeting of the board of directors of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association March 6.

The GSPA board meeting will be held in conjunction with the Ninth Biennial Grain Sorghum Research and Utilization Conference March 4-6 at the Hilton Inn in Lubbock.

The meeting of the GSPA board follows an award luncheon that climaxes activities at the utilization conference.

A. W. (Dub) Anthony of Friona, will preside at the GSPA board meeting. Anthony is president of the GSPA.

Other business slated for the board meeting includes an election of officers and a review of GSPA policies related to government farm programs and agricultural marketing practices.

Current GSPA officers in addition to Anthony are K. B. Parrish, Springlake; Melvin Barton, Dimmitt; and Mabry

Foreman, Felt, Okla., all vice presidents; Pat Northcutt, Silverton, secretary-treasurer; and John Smith, Cameron, and Larry Abeldt, Hope, Kan., directors.

Elbert Harp of Abernathy, is executive director of GSPA which has offices at 1708-A 15th St., Lubbock.

Operating in five states through the High Plains grain belt, GSPA is the national organization for grain sorghum farmers and is active in research, market development and legislative representation.

Sunflower Production Explosion Predicted

In what could be one of the biggest jumps in crop acreage in recent years on the Texas High Plains, sunflower plantings for 1975 are expected to exceed 200,000 acres and could go as high as 400,000. This compares to only 50,000 acres grown last year.

These facts were reported by Dr. James Supak of Lubbock, an agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, after a series of meetings this month with producers and county agents across the South Plains.

Supak said that industry officials had expected an increase, but the prospects of acreage in excess of 200,000 acres has probably caught many by surprise.

He said that 200,000 acres of sunflowers could gross between 30 to 50 million dollars.

The anticipated expansion of sunflower acreage, he added, means that many farmers will be planting this crop for the first time in 1975.

"They'll be hampered by many unknowns about this new crop," the agronomist predicted. "We don't have answers for insect control, yields under varying soil and climate conditions, disease resistance levels of new hybrids, and other important questions."

Reasons for the drastic increase in sunflower acreage this year, Supak explained, reflect producer concerns about market outlook and the need for additional cash crops with low water and plant nutrient requirements.

"What prompted many to consider jumping onto the wagon was the availability of firm, profitable contracts for sunflower seed, plus the recent development of sunflower hybrids, he said.

Before 1973, only open-pollinated varieties, largely of Russian origin, were available for commercial production. Since that time, several sunflower hybrids have been introduced in this area by commercial seed companies.

Supak noted that the hybrids provide higher yields, and are more uniform in emergence, flowering, maturity and height, permitting more effective insecticide treatments and harvesting. Hybrids also exhibit some resistance to potentially damaging diseases.

He reported that industry spokesmen indicate that supplies of hybrid planting seed will be limited in 1975, but should be adequate after this year.

The most potentially dangerous risk farmers will face are insects, the agronomist said. According to Dr. Robert McIntyre, Extension entomologist and co-worker of Supak, as many as 47 different insect species are known to feed on sunflowers.

Major insect pests of this area, McIntyre said, are the carrot beetle and sunflower moth. The moth can be successfully controlled with insecticides, but no effective control method has been found for the carrot beetle.

"During the period from 1962 to 1971," McIntyre reported, "the carrot beetle ranged at will over all trial plantings on the High Plains, virtually destroying most of them."

"But in 1972, 1973, and again last year, little damage from the beetle was reported. Commercial plantings were grown successfully in the Crosbyton, Petersburg, Hale Center, Post, Anson, and Roscoe communities of the High Plains during 1974."

Continued McIntyre, "In contrast to these successful ventures, sunflowers had never been successfully grown at the Texas Agricultural Experiments Station at Munday until the fall of 1974."

The entomologist said that no insecticide has effectively protected sunflowers from severe carrot beetle damage. Researchers with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station are now looking at cultural and biological control methods that might contain the pest.

"Thus far," McIntyre said,

Olton Trips 'Cats 46-40; JV's Victorious, 45-36

The Littlefield Wildcat Cagers met Olton Friday night on their home court, and came up on the short end of the scoreboard 46 to 40.

Leading scorer for the 'Cats was Rickye Parker with 14, and next highest scorer was Lonnie Twitty with 10.

The Olton Mustangs lifted their team to the victory.

The Wildcat scoring was done by Narva Simington with 6; Rayford Green and David Davis, who each got 3; Ralph Mendez and David Blevis who had 2 each.

Mustangs was Bryan Alcorn, who netted 14.

This left Littlefield with a 0-3 District record, and gave Olton a 1-2 record.

The Littlefield JV's came away victorious, defeating Olton 45 to 36.

Here's how the scoring in that game went, led by high man Doug Perrin, 8; Rudy Aya's, John Marquez and Dan-y Martinez, who each had 7; Layne McKinnon and Kip Elm each had 6; Tony Cowan with 3; and Richard Rogers with 1.

WTSU Enrollment Up Over Last Spring

West Texas State University's 251 jump to 6,318 over last spring's enrollment reflects some interesting changes in the student population.

Up in every class except the senior, West Texas State has its first increase in full-time student equivalents since spring 1970, which has jumped from 6,014.7 in spring 1974 to 6,160.4 in spring 1975, according to Mrs. Lila Vars, assistant registrar.

All age brackets show notable increases, as well as the female enrollment which rose from 2667 in 1974 to 3005 in 1975.

The West Texas State Graduate School classes showed a sharp rise from 1141 to 1364 students, which Mrs. Vars credited to the variety of off-campus classes now being offered in many area cities. Total off-campus enrollments went up 57 over last spring's figures.

"There has been a big increase in people who have laid out a semester or more and are now coming back," Mrs. Vars said. These statistics went from 157 to 188.

The School of Fine Arts undergraduate enrollment jumped 532 over last year's total of 4,867, and its master's program obtained 65 new students. Social service undergraduates startlingly leaped from 246 to 663, as did nursing majors from 2,017 to 3,215.

On the master's level, teacher education went from 1,653 to 2,526, and business administration from 441 to 996.

Out-of-state enrollment showed an increase of 24, as did the student enrollment from such counties as Randall, Deaf Smith, Swisher, Hale, Ector and Hemphill.

Many individual departments, such as anthropology, economics, mathematics, psychology, physics, industrial education and agriculture, also rose in credit hours generated.

Justice Tax Covers Moving Violations

Comptroller Bob Bullock said Friday that his office is looking into local handling of the state criminal justice tax, including reports that some courts mistakenly put the $2.50 tax on parking tickets.

The tax, levied by the Legislature in 1971 to support the Criminal Justice Council, covers only moving traffic violation convictions, bond forfeitures on moving traffic citations and criminal law convictions.

Bullock said that taxes wrongly put on parking tickets are subject to refund to people who paid the tickets but that the burden for all refunds rests on the city and county courts which levied the tax by mistake.

The state, in turn, will reimburse the local courts upon proof that a refund was actually paid the ticket holder, Bullock said. Refunds to cities and counties will be in the form of credits on their next quarterly tax report.

Bullock said his review of local handling of the tax started following reports in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram that North Richland Hills charges the tax on parking tickets. Similar situations have since been found in other towns but apparently no large cities are involved.

The reports filed with the Comptroller by local officials show only the number of total convictions and amount of tax collected. There is no breakdown of convictions by type.

Taxes are handled by city officials for municipal courts and by county treasurers for justice of the peace, county and district courts. The city or county gets to keep a five per cent handling fee.

The tax raises about $6 million a year for the Criminal Justice Council.

Miss Texas Teen-Ager Pageant Set

The 4th annual Miss Texas Teen-Ager Pageant will be held July 4-5, at the St. Anthony Hotel in San Antonio.

Young ladies between the ages of 13 and 17 from all over the state will be competing for the state title, and will be judged on scholastic achievements, civic contributions, poise, personality, and appearance.

There will be no swim suit or talent competition.

State contestants will be required to submit a 100-word essay at the pageant on the theme, "Why I Am Proud To Be An American", for which there will be separate judging and awards.

Several scholarships are available.

Each state winner receives an all-expense paid trip to the national finals to be held at the Plaza Inn in Kansas City, Mo. Aug. 21, 22, and 23, 1975.

Applications are still being accepted, and may be obtained by sending a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Miss Texas Teen-Ager Pageant, P. O. Box 406, Rockton, Ill. 61072.

Children Under Six Left To Care For Selves

Texas may have as many as 32,000 latch-key children under age six—children who are left to care for themselves while their parents work—according to a newly published book.

"The Darker Side of Childhood" was published in November by the Texas Department of Community Affairs' Office of Early Childhood Development.

Subtitled "46 Things You Need to Know About Texas Children," the book lists 46 facts relating to child care, families, nutrition, health and public services.

The facts were collected from such sources as the U.S. Census Bureau and the State Department of Health's Bureau of Vital Statistics, as well as from the Texas Nutrition Survey of 1968-69 and the Texas Household Survey of Families With Children Under Six, commissioned by the Texas Department of Community Affairs in 1973.

Some of the facts the book contains are:

- 3 of 4 families with children under six in Texas have moved in the last five years.
- 76,000 children under six in Texas were born without prenatal care (visits to a doctor during pregnancy).

- 75,000 Texas preschoolers eat no breakfast.

- 84 percent of working mothers with children under six in Texas are working because of economic necessity.

- Among Texas children under six, 1 in 3 is in a child care arrangement.

- A poor child has less chance of receiving public social services in Texas than in any other state in the nation.

The title of the book was adapted from a statement by Gov. Dolph Briscoe in a speech to the Early Childhood Task Force of the Education Commission of the States in March.

He referred to a standard image of childhood as "days of happiness and days free of the concerns we all face as adults. But there is another, darker side of childhood for some."

"Youth also is represented by young runaways, battered children, mentally retarded and handicapped children, foster children, and children who have been brought before the Courts."

Jeannette Watson, Director of TDCA's Office of Early Childhood Development, said: "This book describes some of the conditions affecting Texas families today and focuses on a few of the more critical needs."

"The public has a strong interest in the well-being of young children and their families. Many physical and behavioral abnormalities might be prevented by appropriate measures taken during the first years of life."

Pioneer Gas Issues Quarterly Dividends

The board of directors of Pioneer Natural Gas Company at a meeting in Amarillo increased the first quarterly dividend of 1975 to 30 cents per share.

This increase would indicate an annual rate of $1.20 per share. The dividend will be paid on March 5 to stockholders of record on Feb. 20, 1975.

In making the announcement of company earnings, K. B. "Tex" Watson, Pioneer president, said, "In spite of the fact that gas transmission and distribution income for the fourth quarter was less than in 1973 and also less than projections, additional improvements in the results of the subsidiaries allowed the total earnings to reach the level predicted." He went on to say that operations other than gas transmission and distribution accounted for nearly 70 percent of the company's net income for 1974.

Pioneer's consolidated net income for 1974 was $19,316,171, which amounted to $2.59 per share on the average number of shares outstanding during the year. This compares with a consolidated net income of $12,397,028, and earnings per share of $1.67 in 1973. Consolidated net income for the fourth quarter of 1974 was $4,511,478 or 61 cents per share, compared with $3,561,769 or 48 cents per share for the same period in 1973.

Watson repeated a recent announcement, indicating that the company had acquired more than 233 billion cubic feet of new natural gas reserves in 1974, which is well in excess of sales of the same period.

Watson said that the annual report for the company's operations for 1974 will be mailed to stockholders about March 15.

Jobless Qualify For New Benefits

Jobless workers who are not eligible for unemployment compensation may possibly qualify for a new type of benefits, Special Unemployment Assistance (SUA), according to Henry Rothel, administrator of the Texas Employment Commission.

An SUA claim may be filed at the nearest TEC local office or itinerant service point in the state. When a worker goes to an office to file a claim, he should take his Social Security card and a list of names and addresses of all employers for whom he worked during the most recent 52 weeks, along with documentary proof of work and earnings, the TEC administrator said.
