

LHS Choir Gets Top Region Honor

For the first time in six years, a Littlefield High School Choir has brought home a sweepstakes trophy in Regional 17 University Interscholastic League Choir Competition.

The choir brought the honor home Thursday, following the contest in Brownfield that afternoon.

A rating of "excellence" was given the choir on the basis of sight-reading and concert scores.

The 30 students and their director, Mrs. Marsha Martin, were escorted back into Littlefield with sirens blowing and red lights flashing.

Concert judges for the contest were: Maurice Alford of Odessa College; Charles Nelson of Stephen F. Austin College; and Alfred Skoog of the University of Arkansas.

The sight-reading judge was Arthur Weirden.

Candidates Draw For Ballot Spot

The order in which names will be placed on the ballot in the shootout for Littlefield school trustee will be settled by a "quick draw" Monday.

The school board voted at its last regular meeting to list the six candidates for two positions in the order in which they filed for election.

This procedure has since been found in error, because the Texas election code calls for a drawing by the candidates for places on the ballot.

As a result, the six candidates—E. D. Bingham, F. L. Newton, Jackie Heffington, Arlen Simpson, Glenn Batson and Dick Hopping—will meet at the school tax office at 5 p.m. Monday to see whose draw is the fastest.

Show Champs Announced At Olton

Competition was keen and Olton youngsters sweated through tense moments of judging Friday and Saturday during the 26th Annual FFA, FHA and 4-H Stock Show at Olton.

Doniece Quigley's 116 pound heavyweight Hampshire lamb copped the top honors in the lamb division when it was named grand champion lamb of the show.

Nancy Britton's heavyweight cross lamb won the reserve grand championship honors.

Gary Durham walked away with most of the honors in the swine division, when three of his animals won three out of four top spots.

His 206 pound Chester White lightweight barrow won the reserve grand champion barrow of the show trophy.

Two of his gilts were awarded the grand champion and reserve grand champion trophies. A Hampshire gilt was the grand champion and a Duroc gilt was the reserve grand champion.

Showing the grand champion barrow of the show was Kenneth Burgess. His 197 pound Duroc won the top barrow honors for the Olton youngster.

Judging of the steer division was still underway at presstime Saturday, and was to be followed by the FHA cattle sale and auction of all livestock.

FHA awards were presented during the noon hour, just prior to steer judging.

Complete results of the swine and lamb judging may be found on page 6.

Jury Favors Tenant In Case

A dispute between a land owner and his renter was settled in favor of the tenant in county court here Wednesday afternoon.

The suit was between C. D. Branner, who owns a quarter-section of land in the Hart Camp community, and Darrell Stephens who has been farming the land. The case was filed in the justice of peace court on Feb. 5 and was tried Feb. 17 with the verdict in favor of Branner, the owner.

The tenant then appealed the case to county court, and the six-member jury reversed the decision of the JP court and awarded the farm to the renter for another year.

Testimony presented said Branner told Stephens in November to start working the farm and that he would draw up a contract in January. On January 6 the landlord sent the renter a certified letter stating that he couldn't have the land this year, according to further testimony.

Bill McKinnon was foreman of the jury. Other members were Bud Vann, Ross Lumsden, Clark Hill, Doyce Hutton, and Mrs. Charles Hinds.

Majority Of Vehicles Due New Stickers

A number of traffic tickets for expired motor vehicle inspection (MVI) stickers have been issued recently, and officials remind residents to check the numbers on their safety stickers for the expiration month.

Until last year all motor vehicle inspections had to be done by April, thus making more 1971 inspections due in March and April than any other month of the year.

Motorists with orange stickers with the number 3 on them must have new inspection stickers on by the last day of this month, and orange stickers with a number 4 expire the last day of April.

BREAK-IN CHECKED

City police are investigating one case of breaking and entering, which was reported Wednesday.

Entry was gained to Buck's Cafe in Griffin Street by way of the front door, and the juke box had been pried open.

Owner of the juke box reported it was damaged to the extent of about $12.

AT LEAST FOUR INCHES, BUT WE'D TAKE MORE County Needs Moisture

Average amount of moisture needed to produce wet soils down to is about four inches, according to Weather Service (NWS) officials.

Precipitation during March normally from about 60 of an inch in the western counties of this area to about an inch in the eastern and northwestern counties.

Some of this, agriculturalists with the long period of dry weather in the South Plains has left soil moisture level and chances are not good for moisture during this month to unnecessary for farmers to irrigate.

In a soil moisture survey conducted recently it was noted that about half of Lamb County needs four to six inches of moisture to saturate the 0 to 6 inch soil layer and that the rest of Lamb County needs from two to four inches of precipitation before planting time.

The normally dry month of March is forecast to be as dry as ever, and temperatures will be somewhat cooler, they say. The third month of the year is normally the last of the dry months and only unusual conditions will produce significant amounts of rainfall.

Sub-freezing temperatures are common during the first half of March. The average date of the last freeze does not occur during March although records show it has occurred a few times during the last few days of the month.

NWS officials predict two or three low pressure systems will drift across the South Plains this month, but moisture from the Gulf of Mexico will be somewhat limited, reducing the chance for significant precipitation.

High pressure systems will dominate the weather pattern most of the time, meaning long periods of clear or partly cloudy skies. Nights will be relatively cool because of strong radiation but clear skies will produce mild daytime temperatures.

JUST 'BLACK THUMB'

Onion Patch Brings No Tears

If there was a little petunia in John Robertson's onion patch it surely would be lonesome.

Last year onion sets were so hard to find that Robertson decided to grow his own Spanish sweet onions from seed. From about two and one-half pounds of seeds, he now has about a half million flourishing scallions ready for gardeners with spring fever.

"You've heard of people with green thumbs?" Robertson said. "Well, that's not right. When you work with plants, you've got a black thumb. See that," he said, displaying a thumb blackened from tamping soil and peat moss.

Robertson put in his nursery on Westside Avenue in Littlefield about five years ago, and in addition to the half million onions has about 5,000 trees and shrubs of around 100 different kinds and species.

Robertson was reared in the Texas Valley, and used to grow onions there in fields, but this is his first attempt at growing them from seed in his 30 x 62' green house. Robertson sells the onions for 15 cents a bunch, with about 100 plants to the bunch.

And even if he doesn't make any money from the smelly little plants, he says he expects to learn something.

Robertson learned many things about fruit trees, especially citrus, when he lived in the valley as a boy, and his dad taught him to graft.

"Most of the time a boy doesn't go into the line of work his dad is in unless his dad is really well established," Robertson said. "And my dad wasn't. He died poor."

But after years of doing every kind of work except anything even close to the nursery business, Robertson is growing things again, even a combination of onions and petunias.

ROBERTSON is surrounded by some of his half-million Spanish plants growing in his hot house from seed. Robertson said the plants in his hot house are an experiment that he plans to expand.

ANYBODY FOR CABBAGE tonight? If so, let's think "cabbage" for awhile and see what we can come up with in the way of some good cabbage dishes.

Cabbage has served mankind quite well. For centuries it grew wild near the European sea coasts and still is known to grow wild in some parts of England.

From this wild plant, more than 150 varieties have been cultivated—and the best known and most used being the cabbage. It is said to be a very hardy plant that grows richly in temperate climates, and it is one of the few vegetables on the market fresh the year around.

Cabbage is a help to homemakers—budget and table wise. It can be made into a variety of appetizing dishes, as well as delicious side dishes.

Being versatile and packed full of minerals, cabbage is also rich in calcium and vitamins A and C. It can be enjoyed by weight watchers and weight builders.

When buying cabbage, select solid, firm, crisp heads heavy for their size; the leaves should be crackling fresh and of bright green; the smell should be sharp, sweet and clean.

DIG IN GALS—surprise your family tonight with a new cabbage dish.

YOU MIGHT like to begin with this "Cabbage-Rice Dish".

DEAR EDITOR

What Our Readers Think

THE PHILOSOPHER

Sympathy?

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on turns economist this week, more or less.)

Dear editor:
One of those serious columnists had a column in this newspaper I found out here yesterday expressing righteous indignation over some people who were feeling sorry for the million high-priced white-collar workers who have been laid off recently.

"Why," he asked, "should you feel sorry for them? Here's a man who's been making $40,000 a year or more, he gets laid off, and immediately has to draw unemployment compensation because he hasn't got a cent in the bank and has a big mortgage on his home and three cars. Why hadn't he been saving his money all along?"

That writer clearly doesn't understand modern-day economics.

Why would a man with three cars still owe on them? Because if he'd paid cash he could have bought only one, what with payments on his boat and his $75,000 home and his trip to Europe, and that means two other cars went un-bought, and you multiply that by a million and you've reduced the national car output by 2 million, and you figure up how much the economy would lose by not making those 2 million cars, counting all the people and materials it takes to make them plus all the gas and oil and tires and repairs it takes to keep them moving, plus all the work to build and maintain the highways it takes to run them on, and you can see what trouble this country would be in.

It's all right for some people to save their money, looks like there's no way to stop it, but if everybody did, if everybody waited till he could pay cash for everything he bought, no telling what would happen to the economy.

Outside of groceries, I don't know of anything that's bought with cash these days. You'd be surprised at how many Cadillacs are bought on the installment plan. Most daily newspapers are bought by the month, and a lot of them by the day. You name it, television sets, cars, clothes, washing machines, air conditioners, political office, everything these days is bought on time with borrowed money.

It used to be said, "getting and spending, we lay waste our lives," but you let enough people get and not spend and see what happens. The only reason I haven't been doing my part to keep the economy humming is that nobody has given me a $40,000-a-year job to fire me from.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

A WOMAN'S VIEW

The Voice

By PEARL BRANDON

HAVE YOU listened to the voice of the heart?

In Hermann Hagedorn's "Prologue to Morning" he speaks as everyman to watchman and says, "Watchman, what of the night?" and the watchman listened, "The night has no stars and the winds are rising... and the seas are wild."

EVERYMAN, who is all of us, was afraid as the Watchman told of the coming storm, the starless night the wild seas and the raging winds. "What else do you hear? Listen with your heart."

What did the Watchman hear as he listened with his heart?

HE HEARD the wailing of the world as children crying in the dark. He heard the furies of evil howling, seeking to break the world - but as he continued listen he heard the Voice of the heart of Everyman.

IT WAS the Voice of the heart of all great men everywhere.

"You have heard God speaking to Moses, to Socrates, to Jesus Christ in lonely places; to Isaiah, and Amos and Micah, and Peter and John and Paul and Francis and Joan. You heard God speaking through all his saints who have fought for His glory.

YOU HAVE heard God speaking to the men who dared to build a new nation - to Franklin to Washington and Jefferson.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Too Much

By BOB WEAR

THERE IS TOO MUCH of too many things, and oftentimes more than we can handle successfully. That is, we can permit too many things to become too much for us.

In order to be effective human beings, we must learn how to manage the life experience or else will be overwhelmed by the things in it. It seems rather easy to become victim rather than victor.

WE MAY WANT to much. There is the well known story of the man who was promised title to all of the land he could walk around, but he walked himself to death. He wanted so much that he never lived to get around it.

There are many persons who have enough of everything, but their unfulfilled desires for more and more things make them as unhappy as if they had nothing.

They do not need more things, but they need full appreciation of the things they do have, and less desires for more which would be too much.

TOO MUCH CONCERN is a common and widespread handicap for many of us, perhaps for all of us.

It is right and necessary to be wisely concerned, and this means that our concern must of necessity be limited. The limitation is not because of lack of interest, but because of natural limitations which we must respect in order to maintain our best action.

It is possible to permit so many different matters (all important) to crowd into our pattern of interest to the extent that we will be unable to do justice to any of them.

WE MAY ALSO fall below our potential, as a natural reaction, from frustrations and weariness which develop from trying to do too much.

When we do the things we are able to do, we will gradually enlarge or develop our potential until we are eventually able to do more worthwhile things.

We must learn that we can do many good things because we have the ability to do so, but we have no basis for thinking that we can do just anything and everything we may want to do, or things others try to persuade us to do. This is too much.

THE FRUSTRATION and the accompanying weariness which are the results of too much interest - (too much challenge) - reduce our initiative, and our sustained motivation. This can eventually become a disastrous personal experience.

There are numerous case histories of people who were performing well until they fell victim to the malady of "too much". This may be the result of trying to do too much, or permitting too much of the world's action to spill over into our life situation.

MANY THINGS are done poorly because the persons involved do not know when they have reached the limit of successful performance. They move on, accepting more work and more responsibility; but their performance is gradually diminishing in quality.

Since we differ in so many ways, the boundary of satisfactory life function must necessarily be different among us. Therefore, it is a mistake to try to measure what we do by what others do.

IN ALL ASPECTS of life, each person must develop his own personal pattern of effectual accomplishment.

Hair Styles Change

Dear Editor,
We, students feel that it is not right for the School Board members to tell us how to wear our hair and sideburns.

Just because the hair styles of the Board members do not correspond with ours, is no reason to take advantage of their power to rule the school.

Give them an inch and they will take a mile. Fashions have changed, and anyone who will not recognize these changes is not hearing the whole story.

This is a common example of bigotry of the older generation. A hearing should be held to hear the views of the students. Regulations on hair, dress, and actions without approval of students is taxation without representation.

Rules such as these apply to primary school students. A true democracy is for the people, not to rule them.

Students are not looking for trouble, but these rules were pushed upon us without representation of the student body.

What's Your Bag?

Dear Editor:

This is a time when everybody has his own thing-his own bag. Well man, like what's your bag? Like what is doing your own thing? Like all means do your own thing. Like if doing dope or drinking booze is doing your own thing, well do it, dig? No one can stop you except yourself. Like if you dig on fast cars and making love to all the really hip chicks, then do it. No one can stop you. Like man if smoking pot is what you really dig, or if you dig on really getting off on a cool acid trip, or you get your kicks from popping a few righteous pills, even if your rushes come from a hype and spike. Like man that's really cool-like it's your mind, blow it right out of your head, man like it's cool to be a vegetable. Man like the only cool thing drugs do is bring the man down on your case, and man he ain't even a cool dude and I don't think the pen would be a very heavy place to spend a little time. Like getting strung out is not really very cool and cold turkey isn't even heaven. An O. D. isn't too cool either like it may be the last high, forever.

Well, get it on man, do your own thing. Get your self stoned, loaded, drunk, man, get a little loving, man just have a blast, and the next day look at yourself in the mirror. Dig on those red, road mapped peepers, and if you can look past the red lines and bags look at the real cool dude behind there. Can you look your conscience in the face? Can you look your real self in the eyes and say to yourself, "Man, I'm really digging on this great high?" If you can and your conscience agrees when happy highs and may the grace of God be with you. Because man you really need it. But if your conscience is not in agreement then I suggest you take your body, conscience, heart and soul to God's house and ask him to show you the real "high" that comes from him.

Reader For Board

Dear Editor,
I, for one, would like to thank the school board.

It is a shame to see a boy with long hair, and sometimes not be sure if he is a boy or a girl. It looks awful for a boy to have long hair, they can take a bath every hour and still look dirty. I know we have good boys here in Littlefield, so why not get behind the school board and keep them that way.

Some say, we have no hippies here, so just remember the hippies all started with long hair.

And some say it is a shame for the boys to have to cut their long hair. Well if you feel this way get your Bible and read I Corinthians 11:14. Doth not even nature itself teach you that if a man has long hair, it is a shame unto him.

Yours very truly,

s/the mother of three small boys whose hair is short.

HAWNY GRAYS

By CORNBALL BLEVIN

WAL, I'M QUITE sure our school board's gone and stepped in!
The idea of passing rules concerning the outward appearance of the students is already causing a bit of comment.
Makes me glad I'd already shaved MY sideburns off!

COURSE, I don't go to school anymore.-- That is, as a student, but that don't mean I'm not still "Larnin'".

I intend that we tend to be the kind of people that we try to imitate. I used to read a lot of western novels when I was a kid. I was a great admirer of Billy West--I remember him 'til yet!

WITH HIS HANDS hovering over his silver six-guns, like coiled steel, his crouch lowering perceptibly, he eyed Dirty-Dalton.--"Go for your gun, you dirty skunk!" he snapped. His eyes were blue slits of granite.

Oddly enough, Billy was always and he NEVER was out-drawn!

FINALLY, I got enough loot to get me a new pair of cheap cowboy boots. It was amazing how much they became, almost instantly!--I had to live up to! (Course, it didn't hurt.)
Yup, I think that what's between ears is what causes us to grow tall and the ears.

ANYWAY, when I place myself under someone's supervision, I expect to be governed by their rules. Whether it's a civic club, church, OR, school. Like make much sense, otherwise.
(Wonder if the board's thought about hem-lines?)

Vultures

THE LITTLE JACKALS again are yapping at the heels of the lion. And the red-beaked newshawks are circling, hoping to dine on the carcass of J. Edgar Hoover.

But you and I have seen him outlive generations of them--and he will again.

WHEN THE FBI director reported an East Coast conspiracy to sabotage our nation's capital and to kidnap a high-ranking government official, he kicked open a hornet's nest.

"Now we've caught the director with an indefensible exaggeration," the Hoover-hounders decided.

"It's true, Mister F.B.I., why don't you show your evidence to a grand jury and get the guilty indicted?"

SO HE DID--and they were.

Now the red-beaked newshawks and at least one member of Congress, with egg all over their faces, appeared pretty silly.

Thus personally angered--and determined to throw a smoke screen over the accused brothers Berrigan--they launched a counterattack.

IT'S NOT THE FIRST time the vultures have sought to get the un-gettable Hoover. I saw another generation of these same birds gang up on him when his agents arrested Reds in 1940 and periodically since.

Then, as now, they sought to portray accused conspirators as persecuted and the director as persecutor.

THEN, AS NOW, they said the FBI was a "gestapo" and the director should be forced to resign.

And the now-generation of cynics cannot conceive of any public official without a personal skeleton in his private closet. So this time their tiresome attack has included "surveillance" of the director.

ONE OF THE Lilliputian dalmongers assigned his own "agent" follow Hoover around; to wait until he home and trail him to the office, to from a restaurant table near by.

Obviously, this childish charade tended to show the director how uncomfortable it feels for "an person to be watched."

ACTUALLY, of course, the FBI do conduct surveillance of any persons in instances wherein there is a evidence of a federal crime.

His detractors, amateur professional, know that. But they trying to throw their own shadow him.

One yellow journalist found a which the bachelor director had with a long-time family friend which had signed with the word "fectionately."

AND THE OBVIOUSLY innocent when published, appeared under headline: "Hoover's Letters to Washington Widow."

Our nation's Number One Lawman personification of integrity, a so personally vulnerable. Always, here there is a real danger that false might seriously injure the image and effectiveness of the FBI. That is Hoover's concern and we must ours.

CONGRESS PASSED a law allowing Hoover to retire at full pay. Is this man's love for his country that years he's been working for us for not money!

Generations of taxpayers and Presidents have appreciated that degree of selfless loyalty; so do I.

Do you ever consider the meaning of a day?... Just a single day?... One day out of the 365-day year? With you, what does a day mean???

Actually, it means 1440 moments of opportunity. It means 24 hours of precious fleeting lifetime. It means that life at best is short... that it is only a little while we have to make the journey down through the valley of time. Just what are you doing with this day and every day? You sin when you uselessly spend the days God gave you. Each day on the calendar is like "a sheet of paper white whereon each one of us may write his word or two and then comes night... though thou have time but for a line, be that sublime; not failure but low aim is crime."

Go to church this week and ask the Lord to help you keep your aim high. Ask Him to help you plan well every moment of every hour of every day. What does a day mean to you?

55 AND GROWING

Whooping Crane Population Increases

Thirty years ago, the whooping crane was a vanishing species. Less than 20 were left in the world.

Today there are 55 (at last count), and they are increasing at a rate of about five a year.

The story of this turn-around in the future of the whooping crane is told in the latest issue of Petroleum Today, the magazine of the American Petroleum Institute. The article is written by Keith Hay, veteran of nearly 15 years in conservation work, and wildlife director of API.

According to Hay, the whoopers had never been a really populous bird, and by the late 1930's hunters and diminished nesting habitat had greatly reduced their number.

The last remaining flock of whooping cranes nested in the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge along the Texas Gulf Coast during the winter and spent their summers in Canada.

After World War II the research director of the National Audubon Society, Robert Allen, started to study the whoopers.

For 17 years, until his death in 1963, he dedicated himself to saving the whooping crane.

One hazard was eliminated when oilmen operating in the Aransas area offered to suspend all drilling, road-building and pipeline-laying operations during the October-April period when the whoopers are in residence.

It will probably be years before the whooper can be taken off the endangered species list, however. Scientists at Aransas - and Patuxent Wildlife Research Center in Maryland, where whooper eggs removed from the birds' nests are being hatched - still have an enormous amount of hard work cut out for them. But their commitment to preserve this rare bird is strong.

OK!... you want to be Cool

Get your money's worth electric air conditioning

OVER 30 YEARS OF PROVEN DEPENDABILITY

Just like your refrigerator electric air conditioning uses the same experience-proven method of cooling. A dependable compressor keeps on cooling no matter how high the outside temperature.

LOW OPERATING COST

Before you buy, be sure you have complete information. Electric air conditioning saves you money when you buy and because it uses only electricity and free air, your operating cost is low — no extra installation costs, either!

HIGH ALTITUDE — NO PROBLEM

Despite our high altitude electric air conditioning keeps on doing its job because the electric cooling method is completely sealed against the effects of altitude changes.

CHOICE OF BRANDS

There are 58 manufacturers of electric air conditioning and all major brands are available in our area. Brands in your area are listed in the Yellow Pages or identified on your neighborhood dealer's store front.

CHOICE OF SIZES

Electric air conditioning offers the right size for your cooling job. Too large a unit makes your first cost unnecessarily high, too small runs up operating cost. Electric air conditioning can save you money on both counts.

COMPLETE SERVICE

The principle of electric air conditioning is so well understood and the parts so easy to change that any air conditioning man can give you service quickly should you ever need it.

Hart-Thaxton Hardware

523 Phelps Ave. Littlefield

SET AGAINST the backdrop of the hills and nestled among hackberry and chinaberry trees, these buildings built in 1882 are the remaining buildings built by the XIT Ranch. The larger building was originally the foreman's house, the one behind was the dining room and kitchen and the one to the right was the commissary and bunk house. The inside is made from red cedar trucked in by wagons from the nearest train station at Sweetwater. Nearby, a small area fenced in by barbed wire, is the final resting place for some of the original XIT cowboys. A cross, made from cedar stands in one corner of the area. On one of the headstones carved from the native rock and now covered with weeds and beargrass, the name Tom Ballard is chiseled. On a hill overlooking the ranch buildings is the remains of an Indian fort, keeping watch on the cattle and cowboys below. These buildings are on the Yellowhouse Ranch southeast of Littlefield and owned by George White since 1931. The Yellowhouse ranch, comprised of 20,000 acres, was originally the 7th division of the XIT ranch. The name "Yellow House" was given to this area by early visitors because of the yellow tint of the rocks and caves on the hillsides, which when caught in the sunlight looked like small yellow houses. A state marker erected in front of the main ranch house reads: "Casas Amarillas (Yellow Houses). Most famous landmark on the South Plains. Ancient Indian camp ground was visited in the 17th Century by Spanish missionaries. Here the whites recovered trade property stolen by Indians. Camp site for buffalo hunters, freighters, and cattlemen, the ranch was acquired by the XIT Syndicate in 1882; by George W. Littlefield in 1901." (Sketch by Rev. Benny Goss.)

Athletic Banquet Honors Boys And Girls

BULA—"Through the Years" was the theme for the Athletic Banquet held Saturday night, March 6, in the Bula School Auditorium.

The walls of the room were dotted with year numbers in the school colors of red and black from the time football was started at Bula. Football shaped balloons dangling from the walls and surrounded the featured theme in silver glitter.

Other decorations were trophies the school had won, which were placed around the room. Each serving table was laid in white and centered with a trophy on a styrofoam base, surrounded with colored paper carnations. The menu and program books in red and black colors featured the shape of basketballs.

Junior Austin was master of ceremonies and gave the welcome. Edward Crume offered the invocation and Bennie Claunch introduced the speaker Claude Morrison, of Fort Worth, a former coach at Bula School. He was accompanied by his wife Gladys, a former homemaking teacher at Bula.

Entertainment for the evening was two songs given by Donna Crume, Judy Snitker and Sharron Turney, with Margaret Richardson at the piano. They sang numbers in keeping with the program.

The menu of barbecued chicken, mashed potatoes, green beans, hot rolls and butter, strawberry short cake, ice tea and coffee were served to approximately 130 attending.

Following the speaker, presentation of student awards were made by coach Hubbrooks. In junior high Lesa Risinger was presented the basketball award for the girls, and Wayne McKinney for the boys.

In high school, Ron Risinger was recognized as Mr. offense and Steve Newton as Mr. defense. Pam Layton was crowned football sweetheart and Steve Newton football hero.

In basketball, Ron Risinger was recognized as Mr. basketball, Terry Claunch, Miss guard and Sheila Medlin, Miss forward. Awards for fighting bulldogs went to Larry Clawson and Diane Crume.

Special awards were made by Windell

Jones to the speaker, Claude Morrison. Sandra Austin presented to W.C. Risinger a plaque with engraved recognition of his service in the community as a citizen and his outstanding work as a teacher and coach from the years 1953 to 1965.

Benediction was given by Ivan Clawson, member of the school board.

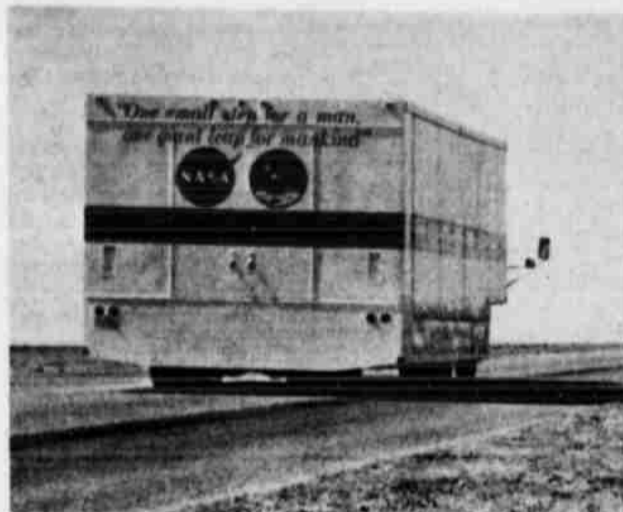

The food was prepared by teachers: Mrs. Peterson, Mrs. McDaniel, Mrs. Neil and Mrs. Risinger. Women assisting in the serving were Mrs. V.C. Weaver, Mrs. Floe Nichols, Mrs. Lorella Jones and Mrs. Bill Brewer.

Earth Student Named High Point Individual

A South Plains College freshman, Craig Barton from Earth, was high point individual at the Livestock Judging Team contest held in Houston March 5-6.

"I felt like the team was going to win, but I was surprised when I was high point man," said Barton.

The meet was held in the Astrodome with 21 colleges and universities and 63 individuals competing.

"I attribute my winning to my coach, Jim Jenkins, he is a great coach," said the Earth freshman.

Reared in an atmosphere of looking for good and bad points in horses and cattle, Barton is the son of a rancher-farmer couple, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Barton. Young Barton's father has raised thoroughbred and quarter horses all of his son's life and long before. Some of Barton's horses have raced on major tracks in California, New Mexico and Texas and Craig has helped with every phase of the horses' development, acquiring a great amount of pride in his study of animals. He is an agriculture major specializing in the field of animal husbandry. He plans to get a degree from South Plains College and then transfer to either Texas Tech University or

Texas A&M where he will get a higher degree. He hopes to follow the ranching and livestock industry after graduation.

The only boy in a family of three girls, Craig teamed up with his sister, Welda, now 17, and together they showed the champion barrow two years at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show and last year in El Paso they showed the Reserve Grand Barrow.

Barton was an ardent Lamb County 4-H Club worker for six years and in FFA four years while in Springlake-Earth High School, holding an office. "I think everyone involved in 4-H Club work or the FFA receives many personal experiences and achievements he would not gain otherwise, but I guess the honor awarded me in Houston last week, had to be the biggest moment of my life so far. It is a thing every boy in Agriculture dreams of," said Barton.

Barton has four horses of his own and keeps two at the college most of the time. He participates in calf roping and attends Rodeo PE twice each week. He is a member of the Ag and Rodeo Clubs.

The winners in Houston were named and awards presented at a breakfast-banquet in the Restaurant of the Astrodome. Barton was also first high point individual in horse judging, and second high point individual in beef judging at the meet. The South Plains College Livestock Judging team placed second in the contest.

Rate Increases

The U.S. Postal Service has proposed to the Postal Rate Commission, rate increases which would provide additional revenues of $1.45 billion during fiscal 1972.

These increases would put the postal system on a sound financial basis and shift more of the costs from the taxpayer generally to those who use the mails the most.

The proposals, presented Feb. 1, call for increases in virtually all mail categories except parcel post.

If, within 90 days, the Rate Commission does not present to the governors of the Postal Service a recommended decision on rate changes, it is anticipated that a temporary rate increase will be put into effect by the Postal Service.

High rates had been sought by the Post Office Department under both the current and previous administrations, but no action was taken.

In addition to the long-standing Postal Service proposal for a two-cent boost for letters from 6 to 8 cents, advertising mail (regular bulk rate third-class) would be increased to a minimum of 5 cents per piece, plus additional increases for heavier weights.

Mailers holding bulk third-class permits would find their rates per pound raised and 22, to 22 and 24 pound, respectively. The proposal is fully within the minimum-percentage would be raised to 5

Special delivery registered mail fees will be increased. The increase for a special delivery would rise from 45 to 50 cents while the rate for mail valued at up to $50 would be increased from 60 to 65 cents under the proposal. The increase would be proportionate to the increase in postage fees for shipments registered higher values.

When the proposed changes go into effect, increases in letter rates in Canada and Mexico would be

The total yield of the proposal, when fully implemented, is estimated at $2.1 billion, including all of the revenue phased over a period of three years. In the first year, $700 million of the $2.125 billion would be provided from appropriations by Congress under the Reorganization Act.

About 80 per cent of the nation's mail volume of 90 billion pieces in 1972 will be business mail, and the bulk of the increase would be borne by the

Six Accidents Investigated In Rural Area

Aid Is Available

"Do you know a handicapped person who needs help and isn't getting it", is the question being asked by Doyle Patton, Jr., who is Lamb County's Easter Seal Representative and the person to contact for services from the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas.

The Easter Seal Society offers rehabilitation services to help disabled persons and their families to find and make the most effective use of resources which will be helpful to them in developing their abilities and living more purposeful lives. Patton added.

Two Wrecks Investigated

City police have checked two wrecks this past week.

Tuesday morning, Linda Gail Horn was driving a 1967 Buick eastward on West 12th, when she dropped her hillfold, reached to pick it up, pulled to the left and struck a parked 1961 Chevrolet head-on.

Thursday afternoon Jana Kay Ford of Littlefield was driving a 1962 Chevrolet east on Delano, when a 1970 Oldsmobile, driven by Cheryl Ann Carter of Littlefield, was traveling north on Phelps and attempted to make a left turn onto Delano. The Olds struck the Chevrolet on the right front bumper with its left front bumper and fender.

Employment Survey Set

A sample of residents in this area will be included in a nationwide survey of employment and unemployment to be conducted the week of March 15 by the Bureau of the Census, U. S. Department of Commerce.

Census Bureau interviewer who will visit households in this area is: Mrs. Rosemary McNeese of Rt. 1, Amherst.

The survey is conducted monthly for the U. S. Department of Labor. Results are used to calculate the number of persons who have jobs, the number looking for work, and the monthly percentage of unemployment, an important measure of the Nation's economic well-being.

In addition to questions on work experience, this March survey will have questions on income, labor union membership, family composition, ethnic origin, any change of residence the past year, and date of first marriage, if married.

The information is used for statistical purposes only, and facts about each family are kept completely confidential.
