JOLLY OLE SAINT NICK arrived in Littlefield Friday morning, riding down Phelps Avenue on the back of a red fire engine. With his Christmas sack full to the brim with candy for the kiddies, he stopped to listen to the "wants and wishes" of the little ones while they anxiously await his visit on Christmas morning.

VOICE OF DEMOCRACY

Youths Tell About Freedom

Juniors and seniors from high schools throughout the United States are expressing their opinions on patriotism and students in this area will join them in the "Voice of Democracy Program", sponsored by the local John Henry Chapman VFW Post 4854 and the Ladies Auxiliary, in conjunction with the National VFW promotion.

Tapes for recording the speeches-based on the theme, "Freedom, Our Heritage" will be delivered to the seven participating area school principals Monday or Tuesday.

The three to five minute taped entries are to be returned to the co-chairmen of the contest by Saturday, Dec. 5. Co-chairmen are Stella Pugh and Billie Ramage.

Students from high schools at Olton, Springlake-Earth, Spade, Amherst, Sudan, Pep and Littlefield, will again be trying for local, district, state and national honors in the contest.

Anton Farmer Injured In Tractor Accident

A 65-year-old Anton farmer, J. B. Baccus, was injured Friday evening about 6:30 when a tractor ran over him on his farm located seven miles west and one north of the Anton Community.

The tractor was apparently in front of the tractor that was being used to strip cotton, when the driver reportedly let off on the clutch.

Baccus was taken by the Anton volunteer ambulance to the Highland Hospital in Lubbock for surgery on a broken leg.

On the local level, winners will receive a $75 savings bond for first place, $50 for second place, and $25 for third, fourth and fifth place winners will receive medals. Local prizes will be awarded by the local Post and Auxiliary.

The winner will then compete in district competition, and if he or she succeeds in district competition, will go on to the state contest.

The state winner will receive a five-day, all-expense-paid trip to Washington, D.C. to attend the national contest.

Winners at the national level will receive a $1,000 savings bond.

Who would think about the janitor being a truant officer, too?

All the Latin Americans in Littlefield schools from grades one through high school, that's who.

It could be said of Emilio Abeyta that he walks softly and carries a big broom, because he is not only the custodian of the Littlefield High School but has been the truant officer as well for the last 14 or 15 years.

Abeyta was chosen as truant officer because he understands the problems of the Latin American people and speaks their language.

When Latin American children miss school, Abeyta says the word "hooky" doesn't really fit. "It's not really hooky," he said, "I've not found a single case where kids miss school just because they don't want to go to school. There is usually problems in the home. But the biggest part is that parents don't have education enough to come and let the school know why the children aren't in school."

"Usually they tell you right off that they need something. Sometimes there are certain things required at school that the kids need, and there is a shyness, or they are ashamed they don't have these things."

'We, Women' Plan Annual Food Fare

Members of "We, The Women", a Chamber of Commerce affiliated organization, met Tuesday noon to discuss the Second Annual Food Fare and the possibilities of designing some type of Littlefield flag or insignia.

The Food Fare will be held in the building next to Mode O Day on Dollar Day, Dec. 7, and all types of baked items will be for sale, along with the cook book.

Members discussed designing some type of Littlefield flag, but were informed that the Chamber of Commerce is already planning such a project.

President Bettye Smith read a letter from the Salvation Army, requesting help with Christmas baskets. Members decided to take canned goods to the Dec. 22 meeting, to be donated to the Salvation Army for inclusion in their baskets to needy families in town.

Hostesses for the Tuesday meeting were Mary Beth Willey and Ray Lynn Britt, and hostesses for the December meeting will be Beulah Dunlap and Betty Kehoe.

EMILIO ABEYTA KNOWS LANGUAGE, PROBLEMS

Truant Officer Understanding

So rather than admit this, they stay home.

Abeyta says this is the reason for drop-outs. "It's not misbehavior," he insists. "They want to go to school and have the brains, but not the things they need. And they don't realize the value of an education. I tell them they have to try hard. Strive. That as long as they are trying the teachers will help them and they will find a better way of making a living."

Abeyta finds that the Latin American children need lots of help from the fourth grade on. These are the hardest years for those whose parents don't speak much English. "The Spanish speaking people know quite a bit of English," he said, "but not much English is spoken in the home, and the children put it over on parents. The children don't really tell it like it is," Abeyta said. "The parents don't understand this. And they don't go to school to see about them or work with the teachers."

"I tell them there is no more discrimination. That's over. I tell them that if they think there is discrimination to go find out. They don't have to have sit-ins or hold marches. That's not the way. This intimidation, holding back, is not because they are cowards. The parents are afraid. I tell them there are rules, and if they break these rules there is a little punishment, regardless of color, and they'll just have to face it up."

Abeyta's father died when he was 12-years-old, and with eight children in the family, Abeyta's public schooling ended with his graduation from the eighth grade. He completed the equivalent of the 10th grade after joining the CCC, and had plans of getting a high school diploma while he was in the army, but his discharge came first.

At age 59, Abeyta said he is still thinking about continuing his education. "When I get a little older I plan to take the GED test for a general education diploma," he said. "I do a lot of reading here in the library when I get a chance," he added, "and read the newspapers when I take a break."

Mrs. Abeyta has already taken and passed the GED test.

Education has been something of a family affair for the Abeytas. Both Mr. and Mrs. Abeyta were interested in and learned from their children's books when they attended school. At meal time, the family often discussed and wrote things in both English and Spanish.

All five of the Abeyta children graduated from high school and all five attended college and can display an impressive number of degrees. The eldest is a priest at Slaton; Vicky is a nun teaching

DIRECTOR ELECTION

C-C Balloting Now Underway

Four candidates from a list of 12 nominees will be named to the Board of Directors of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, after ballots are turned in and counted.

All members of the Chamber of Commerce have received ballots for voting on the nominees, and for voting on an amendment to change the mode of electing directors.

Listed on the ballot are Jerry Kehoe, Eloise Cox, Tommy Ballard, Roger Lowe, Doyle Winfield, Gene Pratt, Jim Jones, James Lee, Otis Bennett, Frank Anzeline, Benny Zahn and Ernest Connell.

Members are asked to mark their ballots and return them to the Chamber office no later than Friday, Dec. 4.

Retaining members of the C-C are Buddy Bingham, Jim Tom Brittain, Kip Cutshall, Pat Downs, Doyle Patton, Bob Roden, Jim Vandenberg and Kenneth Ware.

The amendment to change the election of directors does not change Section 1, which states "The Board of Directors shall be elected by ballot mailed to each member of the whole body."

Section 2 is changed considerably from the original, which states, "Nominations shall be made prior to the election by means of a direct primary. A ballot accompanied by the membership roster shall be mailed to each member and upon it, each member entitled to vote may designate as many nominees as there are directors to be elected."

The amendment for Section 2 states, "Nominations for the office of director shall be made by a Nominations Committee consisting of no less than five members appointed from the membership by the president and approved by the Board of Directors. Such committee shall nominate twelve persons who are members of the Chamber and who have stated their willingness to serve as directors, attend director meetings and discharge the duties of directors."

Section 3 of the amendment stresses that write-in votes will be permissible and counted.

Section 4 of the amendment states that no member shall have more than one vote, and that the board may adopt other rules regarding the election of directors as deemed proper.

Section 4 of the original Article is worded similar to that of Section 5 of the amendment. It states, "The president may appoint the assistants he deems necessary in order to properly conduct the election and count the ballots."

Theft Of School Bus Remains Who Done It

A Littlefield school bus that was stolen Wednesday night or early Thursday morning was found 10 miles north of Brownfield Friday night, but no one had been charged with the theft at press time Saturday.

The big yellow bus was the same one that was involved in a wreck recently, and it was at the Mitchell Ford Body Shop for repairs when it was taken.

The bus had an estimated 10-16 gallons of gas, and was apparently abandoned when it ran out. When found, the bus was in running condition but out of fuel, officers said.

EMILIO ABEYTA handles several jobs at a time. He is custodian of the Littlefield High School and is truant officer for all Latin American children in the Littlefield public schools. After school hours, he often cleans business offices. He is also civic minded, serving on the committee for dilapidated housing, visiting children in the satellite school for retarded children, and is on the community action program.

McAnally's Jewelry is Littlefield's only Authorized-dealer for Eterna-Sonic watches. The most accurate time piece in the world.

What accounts for this accuracy?

- * In place of the usual wheels and springs, the Eterna-Sonic watch has two tiny, electronically-driven tuning forks.
- * The vibrations of these two tuning forks split up each second into much more precise little intervals than a balance wheel mechanism possibly could. Result, accuracy in every position.

Flower Talk

By Kip Cutshall

The lovely Christmas poinsettia came from Mexico, and received its name from Dr. Joel Poinsett of Charleston, S. C., who introduced it to the United States. It is another flower that only has red leaves, not petals, surrounding the tiny flowers.

It will grow in gardens in the south, and reaches heights of two to ten feet.

It is associated with Christmas mainly because of its red and green coloring, and some say it is a replica of the star of Bethlehem that guided the shepherds to the Christ child.

Order your poinsettia for Christmas now... or send one to a friend or a loved one. We have many beautiful Christmas flowers and decorations.

HOMNY GUYS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

ANOTHER STEP toward the centralization of government is being kicked around in some circles.

The idea is that the federal government start a program of dividing up the Tax-Spoil with the states.

This has, especially, been mentioned by the Governor of New York Mr. Rockefeller. Looks as though everyone wants in on the "Gimme-Program".

WE KNOW that the job of raising taxes, is an unpopular job. I suppose it would be nice if "Big Brother" could take over all the dirty work. Then the Governors could just go on about their cocktail parties. This is what may be known as "Passing-the-Buck-Taking".

Anyhow—There are a good bit of g-rumbings going around among the "Geese-that-lay-the-Golden-Aigs" about the ever-increasing tax-burden and the politicians are well aware of this!

THESE GUYS that have been, so thoughtlessly and relentlessly, milking the taxpayers, are beginning to have second thoughts. At least they're beginning to warm their hands before going to the barn!

Course we know that if Uncle Sugar is going to raise the butter he's gonna have the say as to just how it's gonna be spread!—Looks like we'd know this by our experience with HEW!

THERE'S ANOTHER danger to this "Easy-Come" plan. If Dear ol' Uncle starts passing out tax monies—Suppose he'd come up with the idea of dividin' up the national debt and passing THAT around, too?—Better watch that outstretched helpin' hand.

It may be tryin' to get in you pocket!

OF COURSE, our illustrious Lt. Governor has already informed us, we can expect a very noticeable raise in state taxes as soon as he can get the legislative wheels to rolling, again.

It would be wonderful, indeed, if we could just pass this "Cost of Government" increase on to Uncle Sugar.

BUT, WHAT we must realize, is: It makes no difference who the collection agency is—Whether on federal or state level—it'll be the same ol' Goose that'll have to labor and give forth with the goodies!

So, brace up, and eat your Wheaties, my fellow Geese. We have big things to do!

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Ideals Endure

By BOB WEAR

IDEALS WILL WORK for us in the world of reality. Human beings must have ideals, or be forever something less than they were created to be.

Without ideals, there can be no significant accomplishment; no improvements of any kind. In fact, we cannot sustain any kind of meaningful life pattern if ideals are discarded. When ideals are lost, the very life of the dynamic human spirit is lost.

THE LIFE SPIRIT which comes from a sensible set of ideals must be kept alive in us. Once lost, it is almost beyond the point of recovery. It is usually lost forever.

"The life-giving flame of idealism, when suddenly quenched, cannot often be rekindled." The turbulent winds of reality will always threaten the life-giving flame of idealism, but we can provide idealism the protection it must have to endure.

WE ARE INVITING all kinds of undesirable and hurtful life elements into our living pattern when we give up our ideals.

There will be bitterness, cynicism, skepticism, despair, frustration, futility and disorder when a life is set adrift without ideals.

WE CAN RELATE our ideals to conditions of reality in such a way that the ideals will continue to serve their rightful purpose. If ideals are so fanciful and visionary that they cannot be related to reality, they are the wrong ideals for us.

If we try to live by poorly conceived ideals, we are trying the impossible.

SENSIBLE IDEALS will never be out of place in the world of reality, and they provide the only means by which the individual can move to better plateaus of living.

A WOMAN'S VIEW

P.O.W.s

By PEARL BRANDON

PRESIDENT NIXON is getting much criticism for sending helicopters to rescue our men who are prisoners of war.

This seems such a shame to me. If my son was a war prisoner I would want him rescued regardless of the cost.

I DON'T KNOW much about the politics of war but it doesn't seem to matter one way or the other what we do. As far as the war is concerned, we can't seem to get loose from it and we are not allowed to try to win it.

THOSE prisoners of war represent our finest young men. They deserve more than IDEALISM is a source of inspiration and uplifting behavior, but this idealism becomes very difficult for many people to handle.

In the rawness of the world of reality, idealism suffers very badly because of the inability of so many people to find the necessary principle of balance.

DISAPPOINTMENT is too much for many people when they finally realize that there is such disparity between reality and the ideals by which they want to live.

Some permit this to become a disillusioning experience that impairs their effectiveness. Others may try the compromise of giving up their ideals, and some will make themselves so rigid that reality eventually breaks them. There is no sound reason for any of these things to happen.

TRYING TO IMPOSE our ideals upon other people is one very unfortunate practice. This is one of the most troublesome human situations, and one of the reasons why many people are failing to maintain the fullness of personal life success.

Others, while not wishing to impose their ideals upon the people around them, keep themselves in a terrific inner turmoil because reality is so different from what they think it should be.

WE DO WELL to live by our chosen set of ideals in the world of reality which is not structured by the same guidelines. This is the life balance that must be attained.

It is certainly not impossible, and trying to accomplish it is far better than the alternatives. If we give up our wisely chosen ideals, we are nothing; and if we mishandle our ideals so that reality overwhelms us, we are nothing.

IT SEEMS to me we should encourage the President in his efforts to rescue our men.

I hope and pray he continues and that he is successful in bringing all our men home.

County Red Cross Joins Fund Appeal

The Lamb County Chapter of the American Red Cross has joined a nationwide appeal for funds to provide help for about three million Pakistan victims of what has been termed the worst disaster in world history.

Mrs. Ruth Wade, executive secretary of the Lamb County Red Cross Chapter, has invited area citizens to participate in the relief by writing checks to ARC for Pakistan Relief, and mailing them to her at the courthouse.

All contributions are tax deductible.

In announcing the urgent need for funds, American Red Cross President George M. Elsey said reports of the devastation and suffering coming out of the Ganges River Delta section of East Pakistan exceed anything his organization or the League of Red Cross Societies in Geneva have ever before encountered in a nature-caused catastrophe.

Elsey said all American Red Cross chapters are being asked to serve as a rallying point for the American people's generous fund contributions to this lifesaving relief operation.

HIS HAND

On the ceiling of Sistine Chapel, Michelangelo brings to life some of the most spectacular Old Testament depictions. In one panel portraying the Creation, he shows God reaching out His powerful right hand to Adam, thereby sending out that necessary spark of life which began the history of man. In this familiar scene, the figure of God emanates such power and force that it seems to dominate the rest of the picture. It even diminishes the agony and passion of Adam, the embodiment of longing, searching and lost mankind. Yes, if we were to examine the picture more fully, we would see that not only is God reaching out to Adam, but Adam is also reaching out to touch God. He is virtually straining every fiber in his body to affect this two-way interchange. Michelangelo said it all with the deft strokes of his brush. All too often we are aware that the huge, powerful, healing hand of God, is reaching out to us without realizing that His hand won't reach all the way. Just like Adam, we must reach out in return. God's open hand is waiting --- where is yours?

Olton Methodists Dedicate Parsonage

Methodists at Olton will be dedicating their parsonage today in a special service this afternoon at 2:30.

Bishop Alsie Carleton of the Northwest Texas Conference will deliver the dedicatory address and preach for the morning worship service at First United Methodist Church.

An all-church dinner will be served in Fellowship Hall of the church at 12:45, and all former members and friends are invited to participate.

Rev. Cecil Hardaway, associate pastor of First United Methodist Church at Lubbock, who was pastor of the Olton church when the parsonage was built, will assist with the dedication program.

Groundbreaking for the parsonage was held May, 8, 1966.

According to Methodist tradition, buildings are not dedicated until they are paid for, and the building was paid off last year. The service today was pending the arrival of the Bishop, who could not come until now.

Members of the building committee for construction of the parsonage were: Truitt Sides, chairman; H. R. Curtis, Laus Hair, Dan Quigley, Mrs. A. D. Melton and Mrs. Gene Trotter.

Abeyta said he sees education as the tool that will rid the country of discrimination and bring true equality, regardless of race.

Abeyta is not afraid to work, and encourages work in others. When his children were small, the whole family worked in the fields. Even now he cleans business offices after putting in a day as truant officer and school custodian. "I do a few offices at night," he said. "You have to work to make a better living. To get the good things you'd like to have."

Mrs. Abeyta cooks for the priest and does church and housework.

Abeyta is as emphatic about democracy as he is education and work. "Our country has got to lead," he said, "we've got to be firm and stay with it. Without education, this country would be in bad shape. We've got to be willing to fight for our descendants. I had two children when I went to war."

Abeyta spent six years in the service, going in in 1942 where he was a first aid man in the medical department and did janitorial work in different hospitals in New Guinea. He was discharged in '46, then, after being out for a year, joined for another hitch in 1947, doing more janitorial work and duties as a hospital attendant on a hospital train taking patients all over the U.S.

He worked on road construction in New Mexico and Kansas after his '49 discharge until he moved to Fieldton in the fall of 1961. Abeyta worked at the compress until he was injured. After spending some time in hospitals here and the veterans' hospital in Amarillo, he did janitorial work at the bowling alley and saleswork in two department stores.

"I'd always been interested in people and education," he said. "So I put in my application when they built the new school house here."

OLTON— Mrs. Virginia C. district which was not only an outstanding and efficient accomplishment, but brought about equality and uniformity to the tax structure.

A Certified Texas Assessor, Mrs. Moss is recognized through out the state for her efforts on Texas Association of Assessing Officers committees and for the significant work in her own jurisdiction.

LHS Senior Girls Try For Scholarships

Awards including $110,000 in college scholarships will be at stake Tuesday, Dec. 1, when high school senior girls here join 648,000 others in schools throughout the 50 states and the District of Columbia in the written knowledge and attitude examination of the 17th annual Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

Chosen on the basis of test scores here, the winner for Littlefield High School will receive a specially designed silver charm from General Mills, sponsor of the education program. Additionally, her paper will be entered in competition with those of all other school winners in the state.

The State Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a $1,500 scholarship and, together with the winners from the other 49 states and the District of Columbia — each accompanied by a school adviser — will tour Washington, D. C., and Colonial Williamsburg, Va., next spring.

Second-place finishers in each state receive $500 educational grants. Schools of State Homemakers of Tomorrow are awarded complete sets of Encyclopaedia Britannica by Encyclopaedia Britannica, Inc.

Culminating the tour for state winners will be announcement of the 1971 Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow, whose scholarship will be increased to $5,000.

State Homemaker of Tomorrow will have raised to $2,000. National based on original plus personal interviews during the 1964-65 season.

Initiated by the 1954-55 season, the program emphasizes the homemaker's role in the Betty Crocker national scholarship exclusively for senior girls — more than 100,000 educational completion program. During history, almost 100,000 quarters million have been earned.

The test is here and through Tuesday, Dec. 1, and will be Research Assn. which also selects state and national winners.

WHAT IS the story of the Christmas tree?

It has been said that the tree, a symbol of America by German settlers of this commonwealth back in the eighteenth century. No one knows how or when the customs of lighting and decorating small trees began in Germany.

One legend links it with St. Boniface, who came from England in the eighth century to convert the heathen Germans. He offered aroused pagans a fir tree in the place of a sacred oak that he had cut down at Geismar one Christmas Eve. The fir was to be a symbol of the new faith he preached.

Later it was said that Martin Luther cut a fir tree from his garden one cold winter Christmas Eve. He decorated it with lighted candles, then placed it in the nursery of his home for his wife and children.

He wanted to show them that it represented the snowy, black night of the starry heavens from which Christ came.

From almost the sixteenth century Christmas trees have existed. It is said that they were established in Strasbourg, as a writer had recorded that the people set up little fir trees in their parlors and had decorated them with such decorations as sweets, apples and paper roses.

The customs were mainly confined to Protestant districts during the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, because of the traditional connection with Martin Luther.

However the connection of trees with Christmas is much older, as in the tenth century it began to spread slowly over Europe, but it was never as popular in the Latin countries as other places.

So the legend goes of a beautiful story that spread through Europe and supposed to have been told by an Arabian named George Jacob — was that on the night that Christ was born all the trees in the forests — even those in freezing countries — bloomed for one night, and bore fruit.

It was considered such a beautiful story that it was never forgotten and therefore became legend.

The customs reached America before it came to England. During the Revolutionary War, it is said that Hessian soldiers in George III's army set up Christmas trees, and even earlier than that German settlers in Pennsylvania had trees, or green pyramids made of brushwood were used instead of trees in some parts of Germany. They were lighted by candles and decorated.

A French legend back in the thirteenth century tells about a huge tree in the forest that was lit with candles. Some of the candles on the tree were told to be straight and some of them upside down, but at the top there was an infant with a halo around his head. The tree represented the whole mankind, the candles were the individuals, good and bad, and the infant was the Saviour, Jesus.

The tree has been connected with the season of Christmas still even longer ago.

BULA

MRS. JOHN BLACKMAN
933-2328

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS lost their practice game Saturday night to Canyon 65 to 33 on Bula courts.

MR. AND MRS. F. L. Simmons have been visiting for the past two weeks with their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Darmon Simmons in San Diego, Calif. Last week their daughter-in-law received the message that her father, Walter Blue had passed away. The Simmons spent the time with their son while Mrs. Simmons came to Littlefield for the funeral of her father. She was met here by her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Stue Sybesky and baby son of Austin.

A COMMUNITY Thanksgiving dinner was held Wednesday evening at the Baptist Church. A short devotional was held before the dinner, with Mrs. House bringing the message.

TED HUBBARD of Long Beach, Calif. arrived Tuesday to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with his brother, John Hubbard and sister, Mrs. A. C. Archer and other relatives in this area.

Evergreen trees were a sign to the pagan people that winter would come to an end and the warmth would return again. During the feasts of the winter equinox, they hung their trees with trinkets and masks.

It is thought that some of our traditional Christmas tree ornaments such as moon, sun, stars, and animals descended through the centuries, from these old symbols of nature.

The Christmas tree is found in nearly every city and town, large or small, all across our country with the beautiful lighting effects on buildings, trees, shrubbery, windows and the homes of many. This is one of our country's most distinct contributions to the customs of Christmas.

IN MY COLUMN of the next issue of the Leader-News, I will have an article on "Proper care and selection of Christmas trees".

My RECIPE for "Fresh Coconut Cake", which ran in the Sunday, Nov. 22, issue of the Leader-News, should have included 2 teaspoons of lemon extract.
