

Cloud Seeding Foes Seek New Injunction

RODGERS
Farmers opposed to cloud seeding petition in district court Tuesday to enjoin two weather modification programs from seeding clouds over specified land. The petition was filed in Judge Pat Boone's 154th District Court on the first day of the operational program for 1974. Approximately 125 plaintiffs are represented in asking the court to issue a temporary restraining order.

The petition specifically names Atmospherics, Inc., a private weather modification firm and its fifth year of contracting with Littlefield-based Better Weather, Inc. for hail suppression and rain stimulation. A Plainview-based weather modification group, Plains Weather Improvement Association, is named as co-defendant.

A Littlefield attorney, Tom Tollett, and three Midland attorneys are representing the plaintiffs. Wednesday Tollett said the petition "basically asks for an injunction to keep the planes from seeding clouds above the land operated by our clients."

Tollett said most of his clients are dryland farmers who operate in the southern half of Bailey County, northern Cochran and Hockley Counties and the southwestern portion of Lamb County. Additional plaintiffs farm in Hale and Deaf Smith Counties, according to Tollett.

Approximately eight of the clients reside inside the target area, with the majority operating along the western boundary of the program.

The hearing has been set for June 14 at 10 a.m.

The suit is brought by Ross Lumsden and other persons named in the plaintiff's exhibit A, and by Farmers and Ranchers for Natural Weather, an association and organization of residents of Lamb, Bailey, Hockley, Hale, Cochran and Deaf Smith Counties with land within said counties.

The petition states these plaintiffs are entitled to air, sky, atmosphere, air space, and clouds over and above such lands, including rain, snow, water, moisture, and any other form of precipitation naturally coming from the clouds and falling upon their lands.

The petitioners say they have a right to rely upon the natural weather conditions and the normal and natural rainfall and precipitation, free from interference by the defendants.

The anti-seeding group reorganized last year after two years of inactivity. Last July the group promised a court fight in a fund collection meeting in the district courtroom. In that meeting they claimed airplanes flying in the Bula area and southwest of Littlefield destroyed potential rain clouds in efforts to suppress hail.

Tom Henderson, president of Atmospherics, said clouds are not seeded in an area that will affect precipitation beyond the borders of the defined target area. He said aircraft flies beyond the target area, but do not seed areas affecting precipitation beyond the borders of the defined target area.

The natural weather advocates took their case to Gov. Dolph Briscoe who referred them to the Texas Water Development Board (TWDB). The TWDB heard complaints of the farmers, and asked for documented evidence that the seeding planes had caused injury to their crops. The permits of the Littlefield and Plainview based programs were never revoked.

The two operations were granted a permit for cloud seeding again this year over protests from the group when the TWDB met earlier this year.

Tollett stated in their petition that the silver iodide used in seeding the clouds artificially curtails precipitation. They charge that the result of this artificial nucleation is that clouds which naturally cause precipitation over their lands are prevented from following the natural and usual course of developing.

They further allege that many of the clouds which would come over plaintiffs' lands in the natural course do not arrive because they are scattered and dissipated by defendants as they are formed and before they are able to reach

Local Blood Donations Accepted Here Monday

A community-wide blood donation drive will be conducted in Littlefield Monday afternoon between 2 and 8 p.m. at the Willy Room of the Lamb County Electric Co-op building.

Persons wishing to donate are asked to call the Chamber of Commerce office, 335-4451 for a scheduled time prior to time for the drawing program to begin.

Blood Services, a medically sponsored non-profit organization, will take the blood donations from Lamb County donors.

According to representatives of Blood Services Center at Lubbock, donors and members of their immediate families, will receive free blood of any amount if needed during the next six months.

The drive is being sponsored by Littlefield Lions Clubs, and members of "We, The Women" will serve refreshments to the donors after they have given blood.

Persons 17 to 65 years old may donate, but persons 17 years old must have parental consent. Another requirement is that the donor must weigh at least 110 pounds, and never have had certain diseases.

Blood samples and medical histories will be taken before blood is accepted—determining whether or not it is medically acceptable.

According to representatives of the Blood Services, blood only has 21 days of shelf life after it is drawn. Blood is sometimes broken down into the various components needed, therefore more than one patient may benefit from one person's donation. The representative also stated that only a low 1.9 percent of the blood drawn for the Lubbock center becomes outdated and has to be discarded.

Council Accepts Bids For Fire Truck

Tuesday night, Littlefield's city council discussed six items of business on the agenda and were up to date on three items of old business before they went into a closed session concerning personnel problems. Councilmen voted to accept the net bid for a fire truck chassis and cab submitted by Armes Chevrolet Co. as the only company to submit so, the fire insurance rates would be increased, costing citizens about $7,500 per year. Blagg explained that if bids are accepted now, and due to the fact that delivery is slow, the city could include the truck in the next budget.

Armes Chevrolet estimated it would take 8 to 10 months for delivery, and additional time will be added for installing the pumping mechanism.

J. R. Hutchins appeared before the council to clear up his understanding of property taxes. Councilmen agreed to take a look at the property and take action accordingly.

Also appearing before the council was Jim Clayton of the South Plains Health Provider Organization, Inc. who explained a food supplement program being sponsored by his organization. He stated that the organization has applied for a grant to supplement foods for women, infants and children, to be dispensed through the Migrant Health office here. The program will cover a 10-county area and will aid persons below the $4,000 OEO poverty guidelines.

He said there are approximately 700 persons in Lamb County who are qualified for the benefits of the program, and 3,607 in the 10-county area.

These persons will be given a voucher for the food products required, and they will secure the food from a local grocer. Among the food items to be included will be iron-fortified milk formula, whole milk, cheese and eggs.

He emphasized that the program will be of no cost to the city, but that he only sought their "moral" support and approval of the project in Littlefield.

Councilmen gave the city manager authority to write a letter to the proper persons stating their approval of the program.

In matters of old business, councilmen unanimously adopted the city code book; asked the city attorney to draw up a five-year lease agreement for the city shop building; and authorized the city manager to call for bids for a new utility billing and accounting procedures system.

Councilmen were brought up to date on the procedures in seeking an area for working on airplanes at the airport, and councilmen decided to take definite action at a later date.

The city manager informed the councilmen that he has been invited to meet with the school board May 13 to discuss the possibilities of combining the two taxing offices, and that he would bring the results to the council at the next meeting.

City councilmen and the city manager decided to meet with the county commissioners May 13 to discuss the county dump grounds, located northeast of the city.

After the meeting was adjourned, councilmen went into a closed session to discuss a personnel problem. No action was taken.

Cancer Society Exceeds Goal

Memorial gifts will also be included in the final tally, but have not been included in this total.

Amherst workers collected $700.10 from that community, while Earth residents donated $1,968.86, exceeding their goal of $1,650 by $318.86.

Pep residents more than doubled their goal of $180 when they collected $366.86.

Sudan residents also exceeded their goal of $550 when they turned in a grand total of $765.48.

At Olton, their goal of $1,650 was exceeded by $45.24 with their grand total of $1,695.24 collected.

Election Returns Exciting In Early Day Politicing

RODGERS
Tuesday night used to be a pretty big night in Littlefield, according to elective officials who ran for office in the 1920's.

It was the day to come to town to watch the election returns. When the Saturday of the primaries rolled around, people would flock downtown to watch the election cream and pie suppers, and each candidate would get up and speak."

While Stanley Doss was county clerk and county judge, a truck-trailer would be parked in front of Morley Drake's newspaper office when the returns started coming in. One person stayed busy erasing votes and writing in new totals as different boxes over the county reported final vote counts.

"Man alive, people were interested in every office, then. Almost every office was contested every term. A person was just pretty good to get elected a third term," Doss said.

Herbert Dunn attributes stronger interest then to all the offices coming up for election at the same time. Only half of the officials come up for election on election years now. Dunn started his political career in 1942 when he served as district clerk for two terms.

Candidates not only had more personal contact with voters prior to the elections in former years, but got as close to the polls as they dared on election day and handed out cards and electioneered as people arrived to vote.

Former sheriff Sam Hutson said he won eight out of nine elections, and he attributes his victories to handing out cards in this manner at the biggest voting box in the county. "I'd hire little girls to hand out my cards at the other ballot boxes," he said. "I'd buy their dinner, and they'd get a card to every voter. The law then was the same as it is now — no electioneering within 100 yards of the voting box."

"People got a kick out of coming to town and watching the numbers change as the votes came in."

At times the final results of an election wouldn't be known until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning. The crowds would gradually thin out as persons with special interest in certain elections satisfied themselves as to how their candidate fared.

Victim Needs Hospital Funding

Additional funds are needed for the hospital. A 5-year-old Michael was hospitalized in the burn ward for two weeks, but it was learned that he will need to remain in the hospital for at least three more weeks. Approximately $250 is needed to allow the child to be with his mother. His father cannot work, and the hospital fund is open at the State Bank. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Vicente of Littlefield.

MICHELLE JONES, left, was crowned District 2-T2 Lions Club Queen at the annual district meeting in Plainview Saturday. Penny Walter of Littlefield was named second runner-up. Miss Jones is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Jones of Anton and was sponsored by the Anton Lions Club. Miss Walter is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Walter of Littlefield and was sponsored in the pageant by the Littlefield Early Risers Lions. # Sanderson-Wadell Vows Solemnized Miss Darla Denise Sanderson and Carl Douglas Waddell were united in marriage in a double-ring ceremony Saturday evening, April 20, in the chapel of First Baptist Church of Littlefield. Rev. Eddie Marsh, brother-in-law of the groom, and pastor of Bethel Baptist Church of Pittsburg, Tex., officiated for the reading of the vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Larry L. Sanderson of Littlefield and Rev. and Mrs. Ira D. Waddell of Mesquite. The ceremony was performed before three tapered candelabras trimmed in greenery and flowers with yellow candles and yellow satin bows. A white memory candle on a lace covered table centered the altar. Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional gown of white Peau de soie with a bow centering the empire waistline. The gown was accented by Valenciennes lace on the bodice, skirt, and around two deep ruffles at the bottom of the skirt. The moulded bodice featured a mandarin collar sculptured in the lace motif and full lantern sleeves with lace at the wrists. She wore a floor length veil of white tulle finished in matching lace. The bride carried a bouquet of yellow baby roses and babies breath with a removable corsage atop a white lace covered Bible. As she approached the altar, the bride presented her mother with a yellow long-stemmed rose. As she was escorted from the church by her husband, she presented a yellow long-stemmed rose to her mother-in-law. For "something old", the bride wore her great-grandmother's gold wedding band. She also wore the wedding bands of her grandmother and her mother. Her bridal attire was "something new," for "something borrowed" she wore a chain belonging to her sister on which hung a charm presented to her by the groom as her wedding gift. For "something blue" she wore the traditional blue garter.

Miss Linda Sanderson of Littlefield, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Other attendants were Miss Cherrie Leggett of Waxahachie, and Miss Sue Cox of Indianapolis, Ind. They wore gowns of yellow dotted Swiss accented with white flocked daisies, and large yellow picture hats with braided chiffon bands and long streamers of yellow chiffon. The gowns were fashioned in a similar style to the bride's dress. The moulded empire bodices of their gowns were fashioned with a portrait neckline and mid-length sleeves with a ruffle. The bodices and necklines were accented with white lace and yellow satin ribbons with tiny pearl buttons down the front to the waist. Their gowns had a ruffle at the bottom of the skirt and were floor length. They carried white baskets of yellow daisies and babies breath. The groom's gift from the bride was a pocket size Bible which he carried in his pocket during the ceremony. Musical selections of "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly" were presented by Mrs. Johnny Robertson, soloist and Mrs. Eddie Marsh, organist and sister of the groom. Included in the ceremony was a solo, "Wherever Thou Goest" as sung by the bride to her husband.

Serving as best man was Tom South, cousin of the groom, of Conway, Ark. Groomsmen were Frank Schultz of Artesia, N.M. and Glen Waddell, brother of the groom, of Mesquite. Performing ushers' duties were Vansel B. Ray and Johnny Robertson, both of Littlefield. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Sanderson wore a floor-length gown of pale blue shantung. The fitted bodice featured a V neckline and was accented by small silver flowers centered by a rhinestone setting around the neckline, waist and wrists. The groom's mother was attired in a formal turquoise floor-length gown of double knit. The bodice was a deep shade of turquoise and the skirt a light shade. The bodice featured a decorative trim and a round neckline. It had an empire waist. After the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlor. The bride's table was covered with a white satin cloth overlaid with white net trimmed with satin. In the center of the table was a silver candelabra with three yellow tapers. The bride laid her bouquet in front of the candelabra during the reception. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated in white with yellow hand moulded roses and topped with a bride and groom. Punch, yellow and white rose mints and nuts were served from silver and crystal appointments by Misses Cindie Huber and Pam Huber of Littlefield. The table for rice bags and scrolls was attended by Miss DeAnna Sanderson of Littlefield and sister of the bride. The center of interest for the groom's table was a crystal bowl filled with fresh strawberries. Coffee, spiced tea and chocolate cake were served from gold and crystal appointments by Shelba Waddell, sister of the groom, of Dallas, and Mrs. Tom South of Conway Ark. Other members of the houseparty were Mrs. C. W. Ray, Mrs. John Robertson, Mrs. Chester Harvey, Mrs. Joe Cristan and Mrs. Joe Alvarado. The couple will make their home in Dallas. The bride is a 1973 graduate of Plainview High School and has attended Jacksonville Baptist Junior College of Jacksonville, Tex. and Eastfield Junior College of Dallas. Until her marriage she was employed at Republic Financial Services of Dallas. The groom is a 1973 graduate of H. G. High School in Littlefield. He attended Jacksonville Junior College. He is employed at Weston in Dallas. The rehearsal was held Friday evening at the Pioneer Star Flame Room. The groom's parents and guests were present. The table was covered with white linen cloth decorated with yellow and white daisies. Gifts were presented to the attendants by the bride and groom.

Dear Editor:

As our school year is nearing an end, so our Girl Scouting year is about to end. I would like to take this opportunity to thank the leaders, Pat Mott, Kay Lockwood, Marsha Jones, Fern Johnson, Dixie McGrew, Nancy Upton, Jan Martindale, Norma Kay Terry, Janey Raney, Nadine Macha, Barbara Bell, and Barbara Prentice. Without each of their many hours and efforts, our children would not have had their scout meetings each week.

I would also like to thank Orville Bassett for all the work and time he contributed as chairman of our fund drive to make it the success that it was.

A special "thanks" to all parents, and other adults who worked on the drive, the cookie sales, and in many other ways.

Needless to say, without the help of the Leader-News, and radio station KZZN no many projects would not have been near as successful as they were.

Littlefield needs Girl Scouting, and the girls need the people of Littlefield.

I feel this has been a most successful year, and I'm very grateful.

Dear Uncle "Cornball",

I've also been watching the remarks about sod houses. Some of the nicest times of my childhood memories bring back a certain half dugout—remember? When Dot and I were tots?

A certain Uncle and Aunt made two little girls feel very important, and I thought that half dugout was one of the nicest places to visit in the whole world? So, don't knock it!

Lovingly,

A Woman's View

By PEARL BRANDON

ONE DAY Jesus got into a boat and started across the lake. He was very tired so He lay down in the boat and went to sleep.

Suddenly a terrible storm came up, with waves higher than the boat. Jesus slept on until his disciples awakened Him shouting with great fear. "Lord save us! We are sinking!"

JESUS LOOKED at his poor frightened disciples and said, "O you men of little faith! Why are you so afraid?" Then He stood up and rebuked the wind and the waves, and the storm subsided and all was calm.

Once I heard a story about a woman who was deathly afraid of storms. One day when a black cloud was coming and the thunder and lightning was fierce, she fell across the bed and started praying for the storm to go away. All at once she became calm and fell asleep. When she awoke, the storm had passed over and she had slept through it all.

WE FEAR so many things that never happen, or if they do happen, we find they are not so bad as we expected them to be.

Ralph Waldo Emerson said, "Some of your hurts you have cured, and the sharpest you still have survived."

But what torments of grief you have endured

From the evils that never arrived."

THERE ARE many kinds of suffering physical pain, mental anxiety, bereavement, financial problems and many more. But I heard a man say "man's calamity is God's opportunity."

Faith in God as a refuge and a present help strengthens us in time of trouble.

ALL OF US face suffering of one kind or another. Some people say, "We should thank God for our pain and our difficulties." I find this hard to do. But I do know that facing problems and solving them makes us stronger people.

All of us feel that our trouble is the worst, but as one writer has said, "If we could see into the most inner lives of other people we would find they feel the same way." All people have distresses from the youngest to the oldest.

Children's problems are great to them and so on down through life at every age. In our distress we find the capacity for endurance through prayer to God.

I wish we could all remember that God loves us all—regardless of color or creed, rich or poor—good or bad. You don't stop loving your child because he becomes disobedient, neither does our heavenly Father quit loving us when we stray from the path.

REMEMBER the story that Jesus told about the lost sheep. The shepherd had one hundred sheep. When one of them became lost he left the ninety nine and went to find the one that was lost. He rejoiced more over that sheep after it was found than all the ninety nine that was safe.

Our Lord was "a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief." He knows when we hurt. When we talk it over with Him He gives us strength to endure.

GOD LOVES us as we are. He made us all different and wants us to be ourselves. We are all special to Him—regardless of who we are.

"The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man (or Life) shall do unto me." Heb. 13:6.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

editorial at head The Abundant Life 36:
As we go along

THERE IS GREAT satisfaction in reaching our goals; in completing a job; and in winning something.

We may brag about, or feel a big ego surge about what we do. Of course, this just almost spoils it all. Whatever satisfaction there is, can be rather empty; almost meaningless. Oftentimes, there may not be any real satisfaction.

SUCH DISILLUSIONMENT and disappointment are not inevitable, and can be prevented. If we spread out the satisfaction all along the way, and do not try to concentrate all of it in some one point, which we identify as the goal attained; we will find an abiding sense of well-being.

In fact, we will find a reasonable degree of satisfaction; even if we, in the fullest sense, never reach the goal we may have set for ourselves.

LIVING, REAL LIVING, must be done, "as we go along"; in the day-to-day movement of life. There may be some high points of elation, but they will be temporary. There may be some peaks of accomplishment which rise above the regular level of living, but they will disappear.

We will enjoy these high points and these peaks; and they may add a little to our much-needed satisfaction. The real living, however, cannot be supported by the high points and the peaks.

Therefore, we must not make of them.

THERE IS NO WAY for me to be outstanding, or to do things; according to the accepted standards. Most of us receive special honors, or are by the world in which we live, not a big loss.

If we are expecting to have and satisfactory life on these will never know any happiness. We must find our and our satisfaction "as we and this life style is easily reach.

"AS ONE GROWS OLDER even as one grows older in life comes the same consolation: one need not catch big fish in happy; that the spirit of the more important than the catch who fishes well must fish in and tranquility soul, drawing from the joy of fishing rather than the weight of his fish." —B.

THE SOONER WE LEARN and apply it to the whole life the sooner we begin abundance.

It is not necessary to wait old to learn how this fishing can and should be the philosophy.

SENSIBLE GOALS for proper place in our plans, but be sure to live in the fullness we go along" toward the goal.

BY THE TIME you read this, the election will be over. Happiness will be mixed with sadness. Some will be wondering if all their friends were out of the county that day. Do hope we've made the right choices.

It's wonderful, isn't it, to have the freedom of choosing the officials for public office? Cubans should have it so good!

JUST ANOTHER of our privileges that we're so prone to take for granted. Couple to that, the idea that now that they're in office, we're free to criticize them to the Nth degree, and suddenly you're awake to the fact that THIS AINT RUSSIA!!

Seems this would be a good time to ask those who are soured on the "SYSTEM" just what it is they want. What drastic changes would they bring about if it were in their power?

FOR EXAMPLE: What other country or "system" do you know where the high ranking officials of the nation could be brought to an accounting by it's people? While I do not defend the "SORE-LOSERS" that are raising so much stink, I DO defend their right to do so!

What I'm trying to say, is: There's nothing wrong with the "system", the trouble lies in those that use it! The unscrupulous are abusing privileges.

DID YOU KNOW that some 76,000 Americans didn't bother to claim their tax refunds last year? That right—the IRS has more than 76,000 undeliverable refund checks on hand totaling more than $18 million. However, almost 63 million people claimed their refunds and the IRS handed $2.8 billion to taxpayers.

Older Americans Month

SO MANY SPECIAL DAYS and months have been designated to honor so many groups and events that we rarely note the occasions.

But May, "Older Americans Month," merits attention for what this segment of our population has done—and is doing—for our nation and what our nation now needs to do for them.

AS WE APPROACH America's 200th anniversary, if there is something truly worth celebrating about our nation, surely those whom the month honors deserve much of the credit.

They are those who fought our wars, built our cities and proved the dynamic quality of both our form of government and our economic institutions in periods of depression and abundance.

BUT WE HONOR THEM not at all if we think only of their past contribution. For they represent one of our nation's most valuable resources. Their wisdom and experience and talent is needed in every area of national life.

What our nation most needs to do for them today is to expand their opportunities for involvement; to remove from our society every vestige of age-discrimination. Our goal should be to insure for older Americans the same freedom of choice which they enjoyed in earlier life—in work, housing, transportation and leisure.

Cadmium In Cigarettes

THE PRECISE components in cigarette smoke that cause emphysema have not yet been pin-pointed. But cadmium is high on the list of suspects.

Only minute amounts of cadmium, a metal poisonous in high concentrations, are inhaled with one cigarette. But the metal builds up in the body in almost direct proportion to the number of cigarettes smoked.

Not only does it accumulate in the lungs but some of it also passes on to the liver and kidneys, where it mounts up more. Autopsies on emphysema patients show excess levels of cadmium in all three organs.

DR. GORDON L. SNIDER of Boston University's School of Medicine conducted experiments to find out how cadmium impairs the lungs. Each day for five days rats were exposed to an aerosol containing only one percent of a cadmium compound.

After only a few days, the rats' lungs showed marked damage. The air sacs, where oxygen and carbon dioxide are exchanged, were partially destroyed. This is exactly the kind of damage found in emphysema patients.

DAMAGE to the air sacs has also been found in victims of industrial accidents who were exposed to high concentrations of cadmium. There is more evidence of lung impairment in workers exposed to cadmium dust for long periods.

In addition, there are disturbing implications for nonsmokers. Some research has shown there is even more cadmium in the smoke that drifts off the burning end of the cigarette than in the drag the smoker inhales.

TO FIND OUT more about the consequences of cigarette smoking, contact your lung association. They have the facts.

plaintiffs' lands. Plaintiffs say they are entitled to have no waste committed to or upon their lands or upon the clouds or air space which provide the natural moisture and precipitation.

Officers for Better Weather Inc. said the weather modification program will go on as planned in the target area while waiting for a hearing date to be set. Henderson added that there will not be any seeding flights made over the plaintiff's land.

Henderson added that only four to five percent of past seeding flights have been outside the target area, anyway. "Since we have done so little seeding outside the target area, I think we can accommodate them," he added.

"If the suit mentions a few spotty sections here and there, we can keep our planes from flying over the land. That will be no problem. But if the land is a significant part of the target area, it would be fairly difficult to conduct a program."

Dale Stanley, secretary of Better Weather, Inc., said 458 farmers had paid into this year's program as of Friday. He added that they were very close to their goal of $164,000 to carry out a full rain stimulation and hail suppression program for the 1974 crop.

"If we want to have a weather modification program any time in the future, we've got to fight this," Stanley said. "It looks as though we'll have to get busy and raise more money for legal expenses."

Diabetic Training Center Opens 25th Season June 2

Camp Sweeney Diabetic Training Center for diabetic boys and girls (6-through 16 years of age) will open its 25th season June 2 with three three-week sessions as follows: June 2 to June 22, June 23 to July 13 and July 14 to Aug. 3.

Camp Sweeney is located 9 miles east and 1 mile north of Gainesville on 338 acres of beautiful rolling timbered hills with three dormitories for boys and three for girls; a non-denominational chapel; a modern hospital; a 30 acre lake for boating, fishing and water skiing; a sanitary swimming pool, tennis courts, recreational pavilion, target range and 20 gentle saddle horses.

Under the supervision of a specialized medical staff, dietitian and counsellors, these children are taught their proper diet with regulated exercise, how to take their own urine tests and give their own insulin injections. Of major importance, through this group association with other young diabetics, they realize they are not alone with their disorder and with proper knowledge and instruction they can learn how to live with their lifelong, inherited companion—diabetes!!!

Diabetes is hereditary, incurable and increasing yearly. It is the fifth killer of diseases and ranks third as the cause of blindness.

Medical authorities estimate one-fourth of the world's population carries the diabetic gene.

Camp Sweeney, operated and maintained by Southwestern Diabetic Foundation, Inc., is an organizational member of Texas United Community Services Of Texas. If you know or hear of a diabetic child who needs help please refer them to this office.

The Southwestern Diabetic Foundation, Inc. is a charitable, non-profit organization located at 101 S. Culberson, Gainesville.

If you would like to help financially carry on this humanitarian program please write direct to the Foundation Office.

For application blanks, brochures, etc. write direct to James V. Campbell, Camp Sweeney Director or Southwestern Diabetic Foundation, Inc., P. O. Drawer 918, Gainesville, Texas, 76240.

Presenting the special entertainment for the night were Lee and Pat Behnke of Sacred Heart Church. They sang "Littlefield" to the tune of "America," as Lee picked the guitar in accompaniment.

They wrote the song, and in order for the citizens of Littlefield and the city employees (for whom the song was written) to keep it in their memories, the song is reproduced here.

LITTLEFIELD

How beautiful is Littlefield, the gem of the South Plains.

Thanks to the city employees, who have great skill and brains.

O, Littlefield, O, Littlefield, no potholes in the streets. Those balanced books and Main Street looks make this town hard to beat.

You all work hard to make our lives content and free of pain.

But there's one thing we ask of you—please pray for lots more rain.

O, Littlefield, O, Littlefield, we really love you so.

There's only one thing we would change, we'd not let the dust blow.

All hail the city government, hard workers now relax.

The citizens all love you so, but please don't raise our tax.

O, Littlefield, O, Littlefield, we're glad you're on the map. Cause when we mention where we're from, everyone says "Where's that?"

Scout Awards Court Set Monday

Scout Court of Littlefield will be conducted Monday, May 6, at 8 in the United Methodist Church. Ann Owens will preside. Day camp for Girl Scouts has been set for June 17 through 21. Pat Mott will serve as Day Camp director.

Earth Judge Refuses Office

Most readers of the paper will be over except for crying or reaction the Earth, a question on who is or is not on the ballot. Ted Borum's name on the ballot, made it clear that if he is very likely that he will have the job. Borum said when he filed for a place on the ballot he had been assured of an increase in pay. He receives $100 a month. "I have attended all schools to better qualify myself as JP," he said. "I asked the county judge and commissioners court for an increase in pay and was turned down. Two other JP's in the county received increases." Borum attempted to withdraw his name from the ballot, but the ballots had already been printed. Although his name will be on the ballot, under the present circumstances he said he does not wish to serve in this office next term.

Fuel Priority Restriction Is Adopted

The Southern Legislative Conference, recently meeting in executive session in Atlanta, Ga., passed a resolution calling for the allocation priority for lubricating oils to be changed to 100 percent of that needed by agriculture.

The resolution, sponsored by Texas State Rep. Bill Clayton (D-Springlake), and Tennessee State Senator Carl Gainer, was designed to aid two different sectors of the economy currently suffering from shortages of lubricating oils. These two sectors, irrigation wells and pumps for agricultural production, and those companies conducting exploratory work for coal and petroleum supplies, have both been severely hampered by the low priority given them for the allocation of petroleum products, Rep. Clayton reported.

The Southern Legislative Conference, an organization of state legislators from across the southern part of the nation, is just one of several major organizations that have taken stands to change the fuel allocation priority for the tube oil products.

White grubs, the number one pest of home lawns in many areas of Texas, has become an obstacle to sorghum and wheat production on sandy-textured soils in some parts of the county, reports county extension agent Buddy C. Logsdon.

Reports of damaging infestations have increased since 1964 and have been particularly prevalent since 1971, according to Dr. Robert B. McIntyre, area specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "The situation," he declares, "has reached the point in some localized areas that sorghum and wheat production is almost impossible."

The agent further states that one factor contributing to the current problems has been that over the last few years the white grub has become resistant to the insecticide chlordane.

"For years chlordane has been used by the homeowner and grower when they encountered soil pest problems," he says. "Recent research has shown that rates as high as five pounds of active ingredient per acre of chlordane were ineffective in controlling grubs attacking sorghum." The development of grub strains resistant to chlordane has necessitated new research, Logsdon reports. New information about the grub has been brought to light by Dr. George Teetes, research entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock, which points up certain keys for proper management of a grub problem.

Understanding the pest's life cycle and behavior is essential, explains the agent.

The large white grub, overwinters 12 to 18 inches deep in the soil profile. By late May, when grain sorghum is in the seedling stage, grubs have made their way to the upper soil level where they feed on roots, killing the small plants and causing stand loss. These large grubs feed until they pupate in late June and emerge as adults in late June and early July.

"Adults are light brown and commonly referred to as June beetles," explains Logsdon. "The males are quite prevalent during late June and early July and can be seen by the hundreds on summer evenings around outdoor lights. On the other hand, females rarely travel long distances. In fact, most normally mate on the soil surface in the same area in which they developed, and return to the soil profile to lay their eggs. These eggs hatch in about two to three weeks, and the young larvae mature into larger third-instar larvae by late fall.

"There is generally one generation per year on the Texas South Plains; however, a few may require more than one year to complete development."

The agent emphasizes that mated females remaining within the infested field is one reason the grub problem has been extremely localized and severe.

"The importance of this from a management standpoint is that grubs are likely to reappear in the same field even after insecticide applications. These treatments are not likely to eliminate the entire white grub population. Therefore, a producer with a heavily infested field should anticipate at least a two-year confrontation with the pest," he warns.

In order to control the insect, producers need to know the number of grubs necessary to cause stand loss and use proper sampling techniques to determine infestation levels, Logsdon advises.

"Results from preliminary studies indicate grub populations in excess of one per cubic foot can cause severe stand loss if not controlled," he adds. "Optimum plant population density in irrigated sorghum is considered to be 70 to 90 thousand plants per acre; therefore, one grub per cubic foot would be one for approximately every two plants, and that is significant."

The agent explains that white grubs can be difficult to detect in the field because at the time producers are preparing land in the winter months, grubs are often below the plowing depth.

Growers observing seedling loss in past years in a particular field should take samples for grubs, he advises.

"One sample for every ten acres is adequate and should consist of approximately one cubic foot of soil (three heaping shovels full) from which the number of grubs are counted. If a grower finds an average of one grub per cubic foot, he should treat the field." Knowing the most effective time and method for applying insecticide treatments for grub suppression is critical, reports Logsdon.

"There are three insecticide application techniques, in-furrow, row-band, and preplant broadcast. The preplant broadcast is the one method proven to give sufficient control populations have excess of one per cubic foot should be applied at planting as feasible. This is because the later the treatment is applied, the the soil.

Texas Beef Conference Slated For Amarillo

The second annual Texas Beef Conference will be conducted May 9-10 at the Hilton Inn Interstate 40 East in Amarillo. Sponsors are the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas Cattle Feeders Association, Texas Tech University and West Texas State University.

The Conference will begin with a meeting of the Southwestern T-Bone Club at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, May 9, in the Hilton Inn. C. W. (Bill) McMillan, executive vice president for Washington affairs, American National Cattlemen's Association, will speak on "Producing Beef in Washington, D. C."

Registration for the second day's program will be at 8 a.m. Friday in the Hilton Inn lobby.

A panel discussion on the shipping fever complex, moderated by Dr. G. C. Shelton, dean of the College of Veterinary Medicine at Texas A&M University, will include reports by Dr. Stewart McConnell, Dr. Dan Hightower, both with TAMU; Dr. Mervin Frey, Oklahoma State University; Dr. John Coleman, associate professor at the Bushland Texas Agricultural Experiment Station; and Dr. Ned Brown, branch director of the Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory in Amarillo. The reports will concentrate on disease agents, stress factors, mortality, recent research and the role of the Diagnostic Lab.

Stanley Schoelerman, chairman of ANCA's transportation committee from Spencer, Iowa, will deliver the featured speech on "New Beef Transportation Developments" preceding lunch.

The afternoon program includes the following four reports: "Beef in a Box—A Marketing Must" by August Ring, Iowa Beef Processors, Inc., Dakota City, Neb.; "FDA and Feed Additives" by Dr. Richard Lehmann, FDA, Rockville, Md.; "Implant Systems for Growing-Finishing Cattle" by Dr. Walter Koers, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Bushland; and "Protein Reduction in Finishing Rations" by Dr. Lloyd Sherrard, Texas Tech University Center, Pantex.

the Conference $20, which includes lunch and a copy of the proceedings.

Learning To Swim Important For Fun

"Sure I can swim, if the water isn't over my head." So goes a jest which could eventually lead to a fatality, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department water safety officials.

The problem is, they say, that all too often the water is over the shallow-water swimmer's head.

Learning to swim should be of prime importance to anyone interested in outdoor recreation, according to the department's water safety section.

Learning to swim is more than just a matter of safety. It opens up whole new horizons since much of outdoor recreation is oriented around water. You can have a lot more fun around water when you don't have to worry about drowning.

Parents should insist that their children learn to swim. Lessons should be given by competent, trained teachers who can make children respect water but not fear it.

JCPenney Fashion Trends For Summer Of '74

Summer '74 will be full of variety in looks, silhouettes, fabrics and colors. Easy, unginmicked shapes will be done in soft, flowing fabrics. Clear colors will be worn tone-on-tone for a polished pulled together look. Clothes that are easy to wear and go many places are what the miss and junior customer are looking for this summer.

The dress revival is here. Dresses take on a fresh new look for summer in light as a feather fabrics and a soft, fluid feeling. Shirdresses and wrapdresses are worn with a shapeller, more refined shoe to create an air of elegance. Shirt on shirt looks and multi-piece dresses give the fashionable lady a pulled together look with the ease of one-stop shopping.

Skirts are a fashion fact this summer. They can be worn short or long, solid or print, in easy pleats, softly gathered or gently flipped. Wear them with a soft shirt or a classic T-shirt. Add a print scarf or simple chain at the neck, and top everything with a fun hat, and the look is complete.

Pants have become the great American classic. They look great with nearly everything. Try them with a new bare T-shirt, a halter or an art deco shirt. The finishing touch is jewelry reflecting the natural influence in shells, denim and wood.

Variety is the spice of life, and Penney's has plenty of it in every department for Summer '74.

Dentist Falls, Bible Tells Why

Richfield, Minn.—(Special)—Dr. Lee Nelson showed up at Messiah Lutheran Church in Minneapolis the other Sunday with his left arm in a cast and a sheepish look on his face.

He explained to other curious members that he had been on a ladder stringing wire at his lakeside cabin when his foot slipped and he fell off, breaking his wrist. The sheepish look, he said, came as the result of reading the Bible.

A friend in Dr. Nelson's Bible study class, Mrs. Don Perlich, had suggested he read Proverbs 10:19 in the Living Bible. He found this admonition: "A good man has a firm footing, but a crook will slip and fall."

ALL-AMERICAN separates featured in JC Penney's Summer Show of Fashion create a great casual summer look in a polyester knit shirt jacket over a sleeveless shell and plaid polyester pull-on pants.
