SIX SEEK THREE POSTS

4 More Join School Race

Four more persons—including two incumbents—have filed in the school tax assessor-collector's office for three places on the Littlefield school board.

David Hampton, Dr. Glenn Burk and Incumbents Calvin Price and Werner Birkelbach have added their names to those seeking to serve as school trustees.

Six persons are now running for three posts. Filing earlier were Paul Yarbrough and John Clayton III.

The third incumbent, Dr. W. C. Nowlin, already has announced he would not seek re-election.

Applications are being accepted at the office of Sid Hopping, 410 Lfd. Drive, until 5 p.m. today, Thursday.

David Hampton, plant supervisor of Tide Products, is the third candidate to file for the three places open on the Littlefield board of education.

Hampton is a 1956 graduate of Littlefield High School, and attended Hardin-Simmons University and Texas Tech.

Both Hampton and his wife, Patricia, are life-long Littlefield residents. Mrs. Hampton is an LHS graduate also.

The Hamptons have three children, Kelli, a second grader, Rodney, a first grader, and Steven, a four-year-old pre-schooler.

Hampton farmed about six years east of Littlefield. He has been plant supervisor for Tide for three years.

Hampton said he is interested in education and Littlefield schools in future years.

Dr. Glenn Burk filed late Tuesday evening.

Dr. Burk, an optometrist, has been in Littlefield 22 years. He attended Texas Tech and is a graduate of Southern College in Memphis, Tenn.

Dr. Burk's interest in education is an outgrowth of his family background. He attended school at Anton, and both his mother and late dad taught for more than 30 years.

Mrs. Burk taught in Littlefield schools and at 76 still does substitute teaching.

The Glenn Burks have four children, Roy, a senior, Kay, a junior, Jimmy, in the armed services and Don, a student at South Plains College.

Dr. Burk has written articles for state journals on children's vision and is a regional director for the optometric foundation, a research and educational organization.

"I am interested in education," Dr. Burk said. "I have no axe to grind; I just want this school system to be the best it can be."

Calvin Price and Werner Birkelbach announced their candidacies for re-election Wednesday afternoon. Each is seeking a second term on the board.

Price, an accountant, came to Littlefield in 1932 and was graduated from Littlefield High School in 1943.

He later began training as an accountant and is now a CPA. He started his accounting office here in 1957.

He and his wife, Ruth, have a son, Thaxter, now a senior at LHS, and a daughter, Marilyn, an LHS junior.

Note To Free Wheelers:

Governor Smith Wants To Add $10 Surcharge To Traffic Fines

By NILAH RODGERS
Leader-News Staff Writer

The cost of getting convicted on a moving traffic violation—as almost 3,000 persons in Lamb County do each year—will get more expensive if a Texas budget proposal made by Gov. Preston Smith recently becomes law.

Gov. Smith's proposal asks that a $10 surcharge be paid to the state for each moving traffic violation conviction or plea of guilty in city or justice courts over Texas.

This would give the state an estimated $38.5 million in revenue, the governor says, and adds that the state needs this money and more to meet its projected new $6 billion budget for the next two years.

Moving violations include speeding,

LICENSE TAGS GO BRISKLY

An estimated 16,600 license plates for vehicles in Lamb County remain to be sold before April 1 if the number of tags sold for 1968 indicates the number of vehicles not registered for this year.

To date only 2,378 sets of license plates have been issued in Lamb County compared to over 19,000 registered for 1968.

The 19,000 is an incomplete figure since vehicles are still being registered for '68.

Tax assessor-collector deputies reported brisk sales Monday and Tuesday, farmers were taking advantage of the cold weather to purchase tags.

running a stop sign, failure to yield right of way, improper turns or improper passing, among a longer list of offenses.

There were about 3,000 of these convictions or pleas of guilty in Lamb County last year. There were 1,440 guilty pleas or convictions in the Littlefield justice of peace court and that of the city judge.

Sudan had about 1,000 convictions for the western part of the county. North of the sandhills in the Earth-Sprinklake area, the justice and city courts there show about 200 convictions and guilty pleas.

In northeastern Lamb County, there had about 100 guilty pleas in the two courts last year for moving violations.

At $10 for each count, the state would have gathered in just about $30,000 additional revenue while those getting the bite already, would have been bitten an additional 3,000 times.

Adding a $10 surcharge to traffic violations, in addition to auto insurance increases for drivers caught in the wrong, would burden the convicted driver considerably.

Insurance upcharges apply only to speeding offenses, and for accidents when the driver is at fault. The penalty period covers three years, with no penalty for the first violation.

However, the second violation or accident boosts the collision, liability and medical payments part of insurance policies by 15 per cent and the third one ups it by 35 per cent. The fourth violation or accident carries an upcharge of 90 per cent.

Opposition to the governor's proposal came quickly.

"I don't feel too much in favor of that sort of thing," Ben Noble, Littlefield corporation court judge said. "People are penalized enough already because of the insurance rates."

Noble said he was in favor of a more flexible fine system. "Some people do things deliberately," he said, "and some people drive 25-30 years without a ticket."

He thinks fines should be more for intentional lawbreakers and less for those who have proven themselves to

Like Money? Maybe You Win $2.00

It pays in more ways than one to trade in Littlefield.

Every Thursday for the next 26 Thursdays, two lucky people will win $2.00 each.

All you have to do is find your name in small type in one of the ads on the Trade In Littlefield page. This feature is on page 11 in today's Leader-News.

Be sure to look at every ad closely. You, or somebody you know, may have won a couple of bucks. The two winners each week can go by the store in whose ads their names appeared and collect the money.

It's the merchants' way of saying "Thank You" for trading in Littlefield.

You'll find it always pays to trade at the businesses listed on page 11, because what they offer is always backed by fine service.

Turn to page 11 now. It might make you a couple of bucks.

Commissioners OK Bank Contract

Commissioners acted on three orders of business Friday in regular session with all commissioners and the county judge present.

Order number one approved the county depository pledge contract with the First National Bank of Sudan. Commissioners authorized County Clerk Charles Jones to send comptroller accounts to Austin.

Commissioners closed a one-half mile road three miles northwest of town in a second order. A petition, requesting this action, was presented to the commissioners in January.

Commissioners authorized Mrs. Lucy Moreland to withdraw $1,000 and $10,000 out of road districts numbers three and four respectively to pay bonds in an administrative matter.

Oilton Approves City Sales Tax

City of Oilton voters approved a one-cent sales tax proposal Saturday in an overwhelming majority, with 206 voting for the city sales tax and 31 opposing the levy.

Oilton Mayor Parley Myers said the total number of registered voters would barely exceed 300. He said he was grateful for the large margin of approval of the tax levy which will begin April 1 at the start of the second quarterly state collection period.

Plainview passed the city sales tax by 41 votes in October. At about the same time Floydada turned down the tax levy.

"We were a little afraid of the issue after the close vote in Plainview," Mayor Myers said Saturday night. "We are pleased with the large turnout of voters."

Oilton merchants will begin collecting the tax in less than a month. This pushed the total tax on $1 purchases of taxable items to four cents. Money collected will be forwarded to the state with the one per cent pro-rated back to Oilton from the state.

NO, HE'S NOT a flag pole sitter! But he does have one of the toughest painting jobs in Littlefield. The unidentified man probably didn't know that flag pole climbers make news, too. At least he didn't notice the Leader-News camera during his stay atop the Post Office flagpole.

Teachers Meet

Approximately 105 of Littlefield's teachers will attend the Texas State Teachers Association District XVII first annual convention in Lubbock Thursday night and Friday.

Littlefield and area schools will be closed Friday.

The convention will begin Thursday evening at 6:30 with a banquet in Coronado High School cafeteria and Mrs. Kathleen Weiss, District XVII president, presiding. She is an English teacher for the Brownfield Public Schools.

Approximately 24 teachers from Littlefield High School, 27 teachers from Junior High School, 16 from Elementary II, 16 from Elementary I, and 22 from Primary School, are expected to attend the meeting.

Although the apricot tree at 621 E. 7th St. announced spring had sprung by bursting out in full bloom, winter temperatures dipped into the low 20's Monday night and Tuesday morning, spitting snow flurries around the Littlefield area. MRS. BILL ZAHN points at the special edition plate portrait of the late John F. Kennedy family. It is one of her favorite plates in her large collection which includes a plate from every state in the union and plates from 16 foreign countries.

'World' Plate Collection Decorates Zahn Home

By NILAH RODGERS

Mrs. Bill Zahn has always been interested in geography and travel, but her traveling is limited, so she decided to get better acquainted with the world through a collection of plates.

Now she has all 50 state plates, 16 plates from foreign countries, and several special edition plates. Mrs. Zahn's plate collection has outgrown the den and some are hanging in the dining room.

"I had to start hanging some of the plates in the dining room," Mrs. Zahn said, "because I've got to save room in the den for the presents my grandchildren bring me. When they go somewhere they always come back with something for me to hang on the walls. They say, 'Nanny, we just had to think about you,' and I'm not going to hurt any of their feelings by slighting them."

Mrs. Zahn's plate collection began when a friend brought her a plate from Idaho about eight years ago. Another friend gave her a Texas plate.

When her youngest son, Tony, went into service, he and his wife got her several plates from different foreign countries.

Since that time her family and friends have added many plates to her collection.

One of her favorites in the den is the special edition picturing the late President Kennedy and his family.

Oddly enough, her favorite of all plates is a small one hanging in the dining room which states: This is my house and I'll do as I darn please. This plate is the center of a private family joke.

In addition to her plate collection, Mrs. Zahn collects friends. "I like people," she said. "This is a wonderful world if people will make it wonderful. Everyone has something good in them. I like to bring out the good and make it grow." Mrs. Zahn said, "I never look for the bad."

Because of Mrs. Zahn's attitude, many young people with problems like to talk to her.

The Zahns have lived in Littlefield 25 years. They are parents of four sons, "And four daughters," Mrs. Zahn added, "we think of our daughters-in-law as daughters rather than in-laws."

The Zahns have 10 grandchildren, but count the two boys who married their granddaughters as grandchildren, too, making the count 12. "Our granddaughters' two husbands are just grand," she said. "And there are five great-grandchildren."

The Zahn daughters-in-law and grandchildren make themselves at home in the Zahn's house. "Our grandchildren have made some deep scratches in the furniture that I wouldn't take anything in the world for," Mrs. Zahn said. "Life is too short to worry about how the house looks and little things like a few scratches on the furniture."

Mrs. Zahn loves to cook, can and freeze food. She spends the biggest part of the day in the kitchen "on her good days."

This summer she filled her freezer with fruits and vegetables and canned more than 100 jars of pickles, jams, jellies and vegetables.

The Bill Zahns' four boys are J. W., Dennis, Benny, and Tony. Zahn is the "friendly butcher" at Foust Food.

Mrs. Zahn has a recipe for old-fashioned tea cake cookies and a cranberry salad she shares with the readers this week.

OLD FASHIONED TEA CAKES

4 eggs
1 scant cup shortening

Marriage Solemnized

Wedding vows were exchanged Feb. 11, between Miss Roxie McDonald of Littlefield and Larry Wayne Henderson of Hart. Vows were said at the bedside of the bride's father in a Big Spring hospital.

Vows were directed by Rev. Clark O. Hitt.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Duncan of Littlefield and Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Henderson of Hart.

The couple is making their home in Hart following a wedding trip to Odessa.

2 Tbspoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder

The success to this recipe is in the mixing. Cream the sugar and shortening, add eggs, milk and vanilla and beat until creamy. Add flour and baking powder that has been sifted together. Roll out on board to 1/8 inch thickness and cut into any shape. Lift cookies with spatula onto a greased cookie sheet and bake in a pre-heated 350 oven 10-12 minutes or until golden brown.

CRANBERRY SALAD
1 Package Min. Marshmallows
1 can crushed pineapple, drained
1 pint whipping cream
1 cup sugar
1 pound fresh cranberries

Grind cranberries in food grinder or blender and mix with sugar. Whip the cream and mix with marshmallows. Mix pineapple with sugar and cranberries, mix well, but do not beat. Blend in the marshmallows and whipped cream and pour into a mold and chill until thick. The consistency will be better if this is made the day before serving.

LUNCH VOTE, c/o Bill Turner, Box 72, Littlefield.

An Interest In Schools

Response to our call for the public's opinion on the 35-minute period in effect at Littlefield schools has been good..... exceptionally good.

More than 100 of the straw vote forms had come in to the Leader-News office by Wednesday morning.

We'll wait, however, until we have a larger response before revealing how the count is going.

In fact, we would like the school board to be the first people to know the outcome when trustees have their monthly meeting next Monday night.

We've heard from people who like the present short lunch period, and we've heard from those who would like to see it extended to perhaps 45 minutes or an hour.

Frankly we want as many opinions as we can get, from people in both camps.

We've also heard from people who like the idea of a straw vote, and from people who don't.

But the finest thing to come out of the reaction thus far is the fact that people are vitally interested in how the schools are operated—no matter whether you're talking about lunch period, athletics, curriculum, finances, facilities or any part of the school program.

The people are showing a real interest—and this is healthy. If it takes a straw vote to get people to take this interest, we'd say it's a good idea.

High-Living Churchmen

THIS MAY HAVE BEEN written too late because I've been so reluctant to write it at all. Professional churchmen are asking for trouble—at least a reassessment of their tax status, at worst an ugly national scandal.

Those hereinafter referred to as "churchmen" are not usually clergymen, though some are or have been.

HIGH-LIVING PROFESSIONAL churchmen are threatened with public disclosure of expense accounts which could shatter the faith of the faithful. The widow who thought her mite was going toward the saving of souls may discover that the handling charges are sometimes exorbitant.

Motivation for this admonition derives from a recent visit with an individual who has armed himself with reams of incriminating evidence. He wanted me to disclose the costs involved in shuttling the field forces of two specific denominations around the country and around the world. He had details of conspicuously padded costs on cost-plus publishing contracts plus proof of kickbacks in the allocation of film contracts.

HIS VOLUMINOUS FILE included expenses for hotel suites more elaborate than what the Internal Revenue Service considers adequate for businessmen.

His dossier on junketing churchmen included evidence of first-class jet fares, elaborate accommodations (sometimes for himself and others) and allegations of outright payola, including free TV sets and other gifts resulting from the "placement of church business." The latter, substantiated, most

The observance of Public School Week during the daytime, when classes are in session, is another good approach.

This method is much better than Back-To-School Night, when parents go into a classroom which is void of students. How can you learn much about school without students?

We hope enough parents turned out during the visitation days to make Public School Week the kind of observance it ought to be.

The whole idea of getting the people closer to school, its needs, its problems, etc., is important.

We shouldn't wait until a bond issue is needed to take school to the people. The needs should be brought out as we go along, and discussed openly and freely—occasionally at public meetings of school officials, trustees and interested citizens.

Perhaps this is expecting too much. But we strongly feel that when people are asked to help on a school problem they will come forth.

This is the real way to public understanding of a school system.

And a school system which has this understanding with the citizenry has nothing to fear.

Because dedicated school people have the same goal as interested citizens—a better education for every child.

certainly would be construed as a bribe in any other business.

I HAVE PURPOSELY painted this picture with a board brush because the ethics involved are more important than the individuals so far named.

And certainly I am aware that there are faithful, careful, frugal churchmen who will construe this mention to be a groundless, unjust and cruel indictment of many because of the questionable conduct of a few.

FOR EVERY CHURCH extravagance, they will protest, there are thousands of examples of need and want and outright deprivation suffered by dedicated churchmen in spreading the word and in serving their fellows. I concede that. Indeed, I have a lifelong record for having aided all efforts to expand the effectiveness of Christ's teachings. I hope I am aiding that objective now with this word of warning.

A rule of thumb I have found personally helpful is to imagine oneself someday interrogated by an unfriendly congressional committee.

I HAVE SEEN EVIDENCE that some churchmen, subjected to such examination, might discredit the clergy per se and religion in general. While a re-evaluation of our tax laws is being undertaken in Congress and while certain church denominations now control astronomical sums, churchmen must carefully avoid even the appearance of evil. Before a vindictive Ralph Nader throws an unflattering spotlight on certain "church administrative expenses" and thus arms the antireligionists with the mud they need for a wholesale smear—watch it!

Patriotic Duty

Major General Blank
Commander, Mil Tng Cen

Dear Mr. Commander,
We were real thrilled to get your letter tellin' us our kid was down there at Mil Tng Cen. Where is that? Can't find it on the map.

Would like to point out one small error in your greeting letter to us. You stated that by now we had heard from our son and had his address. Well, we ain't. You sure he's there? He SAID he was going to join the Navy.

Yours truly, Air Force Parent.

Dear Mr. Commander,
Since you insist that he's at your Mil Tng Cen instead of the Navy, we are sending our kid's birthday present in care of you. Please see that he gets it.

Thanks, AFP

Dear Mr. Commander,
This is to tell you that you were right all along. Our kid's there for sure. Heard from him. Can't figure out why he didn't join the Navy.

By the way, thanks for delivering his birthday present to him and it's all right that you took out some of the cookies. We sent him 36 and he only got 20.

Another small error in your first greeting letter to 'Air Force Parent'. You said by now our kid was proudly wearing his Air Force uniform.

Well, he said it was too big—the shoulders hung off him and the crotch was down to his knees. How can he proudly wear something like that?

AFP

Dear Mr. Commander

That was right smart nice of you to get our kid a uniform that fit. Would like to point out another error in your greeting letter. You said that his physical, mental and spiritual welfare was a major concern to you all. Well, he says from the way his top sergeant talks to him, he doesn't hardly believe he has his spiritual welfare at heart 'a'll.

AFP

Dear Mr. Commander,
Another small error in your greeting letter. Our kid asked his drill captain who around there was interested in his mental welfare.

The captain asked how could anyone be interested in the welfare of something that wasn't there, so maybe you'd better leave that out of your letter to parents, too.

Respectfully, AFP

Dear Mr. Commander,
This is to point out another error in your letter. You said that the Red Cross would help us in a serious emergency to get our son's presence at home. Well, they didn't.

They said spring planting wasn't a serious emergency. 'Tis, though. See, it's like this. Our kid's the only one that's ever been able to make the old John Deere go.

Now we know you're wondering why we don't use the International to plant with. There's a good reason and we'll tell you: the planter don't fit nothin' but the poppin' Johnny. So you can see our predicament.

Thanks again, AFP
P. S. We plant by the signs, so be sure to consult your Farmer's Almanac so you can figure out when we need the boy.

Dear Mr. Commander,
Thanks for letting our kid come home for planting. He insists that he had a short leave coming anyway, but we just know it was you that arranged it. We got through in cracker jack time.

Thanks to all those new words our boy said his sergeant taught him, the poppin' Johnny purred like a kitten.

About those tests to determine abilities and aptitudes you spoke of in your letter. Better leave that out, too. How can everybody get just the results the Air Force needs?

AFP

Dear Commander,
My, that was sure nice of you to ask us to write up one of those first letters to 'Dear Air Force Parent' and we're startin' on it right away.

Glad to be of help. Consider it our patriotic duty.

Sincerely, AFP

DEAR EDITOR

What Our Readers Think

In Agreement

Dear Bill:

Your editorial entitled "The Lunch Hour" in Sunday's paper was excellent and I am very much in agreement with you.

Since I was on the school board years ago when the school lunch hour was shortened, I feel somewhat responsible and impelled to make a few comments. I am quite familiar with all the reasons given for the short lunch period and remember what brought it about originally. However, I think it is a mistake and does an injustice to our students. I would like to see it corrected.

Our youngsters are just as entitled to a full one hour lunch period as we adults. In fact, I think they need it even more than we do. We, and our employees, get a coffee break mid-morning and mid-afternoon that our students do not get. Our students are continually under a great amount of pressure to achieve scholastically and are rushed from one class to the next with little time for relaxation and recreation during the school day. The least we can do is provide them with a long enough (one hour minimum) lunch period that they will feel they have had a break between the morning schedule and the afternoon schedule.

Even if some continue to gobble their food during a longer lunch period, as some will argue, at least they will have time to let their lunch settle and relax a few minutes before going back to the classroom. Too, school should be made to be more "fun" if possible at all. Students should have a few minutes during the day to visit with their friends and have an opportunity to make new friends. A longer lunch period will provide this opportunity.

Thank you for the editorial and the "straw poll". May I suggest that you run the poll in the next two issues of the paper so that those who might have overlooked it will have an opportunity to vote. Thank you.

Sincerely yours,
S. B. W. Armistead, O. D.

Time To Eat

Dear Bill:

I am in favor of a little longer hour. Too much of the time is up coming and going after the bell. On a couple of occasions they took my children to lunch and in the car. They said, "Boy, time to eat now."

We were taught to chew and eat slowly and we taught children the same. Since school disgrace how fast they eat and it whole. I think especially the grades need more time. They hungry because they just don't all consumed.

My children are now 5th graders, but I do feel they are more and better with a little time.

Mrs. Fred H.

P.S. We had an hour lunch period the years I went to school and remember any problems like we now.

Wants Hospital

Dear Editor:

On March 29, our district will be the polls to see if our Hospital is dissolved or if we can get a hospital, which is much needed.

Let's think it over sanely. We get what we pay for, and we be drafted in another district let go of what we have started!

I, for one, would like to see a hospital. I may be wrong and I am not far-sighted enough to know what is good.

I have driven many, many cars and from hospitals all hours of the day and night. I know what it would be to have something near home. What about our elderly citizens? Would it be to their advantage to have them in a few blocks away?

We have one of the communities in the County and we love and help one another. Let's do it that way.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Work For Littlefield

By BOB WEAR

IT IS OFTEN amazing, and is always helpful when one person, any one person, is working constructively for the common good.

There is much work on behalf of Littlefield being done this way, but there is more to be done.

HERE IS THE SPIRIT of work and service we need. An anonymous writer has given the following impressive account of one person at work.

"What are you doing here on this vacant lot?" "I'm pulling ragweeds." "You must have hay fever." "No, I never did." "Is someone paying you?"

"NO MONEY: JUST THE SATISFACTION of improving my neighborhood." "I have not heard of any local campaign against ragweed.

Are "they" starting one?" "No, I am just doing it myself." "Then, I do not understand why you are working at it."

"IT IS HARD TO UNDERSTAND these days when it has become so popular to think that people must organize to do things, or must have a government agency to do them. High taxes and big government are quite unnecessary if individuals would themselves take more responsibilities."

"I BELIEVE THAT I CAN IMPROVE my neighborhood, and my city, and that the result will be not less, but greater than we are likely to think."

It would be interesting to see what several people, with this attitude, could accomplish for Littlefield.

THIS SPIRIT WILL SPREAD, because it is contagious. In fact, it has the possibility of becoming the spirit of our community.

The sense of self-fulfillment will more than reward those who make this working contribution to their city.

IF ENOUGH PEOPLE DECIDED to make Littlefield the beautiful city that it has potential to be, and work to make it so; it would be so. It won't find many success stories that will work unless you do.

WE MUST USE WHAT WE HAVE. Sometime ago there appeared an article in Reader's Digest about starving sea gulls in the town of St. Augustine, Fla.

There was no food shortage but the gulls had forgotten how to fish. For years, they depended on the shrimp trawling operating out of the harbor to toss bits of scraps from nets. This continued for a long time.

Eventually, the fleet moved Key West, and the sea gulls began to starve. They had lost their natural ability to fish, because they had not been using it.

THIS IS A RULE OF LIFE. When we do not use what we have, it will be lost. All that should go to work. We have energy, creativity, money, knowledge that can be used for the good of our city.

We are working for Littlefield when we do our jobs well. There certainly is a recognized and appreciated contribution. In order to maintain and improve our city, however, each one of us must go beyond this regular contribution. There is community work to be done and all of us can make a worthwhile contribution.

COMMUNITY LIFE WOULD NOT BE POSSIBLE if none of us did any more work than our respective vocations demand. All of us must work a little extra, with the knowledge that what is good for Littlefield is good for us.

67-54 OVER BULA

Spade Fems Repeat Title

Spade fought off a serious second-quarter rally and went on to defeat Bula, 67-54, for the second consecutive year to take the bi-district title... and with it, a ticket into this weekend's regional tournament.

Playing before strong supporting groups of fans that appeared almost lost in Levelland's huge Texas Dome, Spade repeated last year's performance here, of topping Bula for the bi-district crown.

Spade was never behind in the game. The District 5-B champions controlled the opening tip off, took the initial lead on a layup by Christi Adams, and was 9-0 before Sheila Medlin put Bula on the scoreboard with a two-pointer with only 2:34 remaining in the opening quarter.

Both teams had their troubles during the first half. Spade with ball control and Bula with making shots.

Spade committed five turnovers before Christi made her first goal, almost three minutes deep into the game. The victors were credited with 16 turnovers in the first half, eight per period.

But hapless Bula couldn't buy a goal, whether from the field or the foul line, until the second quarter. The 6-B representatives trailed by a 13-3 margin as they rested during the first official rest stop.

The second quarter was about all Bula. Steadily scoring on offensive rebounds and taking advantage of Spade miscues, Bula played catch up, pulling to within one point, 25-24, when Diane Crume scored with 16 seconds remaining in the period.

But a layup by Spade's tall post, Adams, gave the eventual victors a 27-24 edge at the half.

Spade, with forward Joella Myers bombing an outside set shot, built a 38-31 bulge by the third period's end, and continued to establish a 52-39 advantage before guard Gloria Johnson was forced to leave the court when she re-injured an ankle.

Little Belinda Thompson, held in scoring to only two field goals in the first half by tight guarding of Terry Claunch, broke loose in second half with six of 11 field goal attempts. With eight field goals and 12 of 18 free throws, she was the game's high scorer with 28 points, two and a half above her season average.

Adams trailed closely with 23 points on 10 field goals, and Miss Myers had 16.

For Bula, it was freshman Sheila Medlin, who racked up 19 points. The losers had a balanced scoring attack. Diane Crume had 17 and Sharon Turney had 16.

No player on either team fouled out of the game, though Bula had 20 personal fouls and Spade 13.

Both teams were coached by men who were not at the helms when the two clubs met last year. Larry Morris is Spade's new coach, and Willis Hedges directs Bula's efforts.

"We'll get 'em next year," one Bula fan was heard to say after the game's end.

The fan was probably basing that opinion on the fact that Bula hasn't a senior on the entire 11-player roster. Four are juniors, four sophomores and the rest freshmen.

Spade has four seniors, but Belinda and Christi will be back once more.

Bula finished the season with a 32-9 record. Spade is 29-6.

Spade Meets Lakeview In Tourney Opener

Spade meets Lakeview in the opening game of the Region I Girls Basketball Tournament Friday in the South Plains College Texas Dome in Levelland.

The game will be the first of the two-day tournament. Tip off time will be 3:30.

Fort Davis and Klondike play at 4:45, Quitaque meets Forsan at 7 and the Follett-Sundown clash finishes off the first day's competition.

Friday's first session winners will play at 10 a.m. Saturday, and the second session winners play at 11:15. Friday losers are eliminated.

Third place finals, in which Saturday morning losers play, will be at 6:45, and the championship game will be played at 8.

The winner, naturally, goes to the state tournament at Austin.

IN BI-DISTRICT

Springlake-Earth Upset

There's no joy in the land of the Wolverettes today.

For the first time since 1966, the fabulous Springlake-Earth Wolverettes won't be making their annual trek to the state basketball tournament.

The defending state Class A champions were eliminated at the bi-district level Tuesday night by an inspired club from Ralls.

After pulling from behind to tie the score at 60-60, on a goal by Marsha Dawson with only two seconds remaining in regulation time, the Wolverettes bowed in the last half minute of the overtime, 69-64.

The loss was a tremendous disappointment for the highly touted Springlake-Earth team. They had lost only a few players from last year's championship team, and had worked hard to repeat the glory that was their's in 1968.

After taking an early 4-1 lead, Ralls reversed the situation and held an 8-4 lead with four minutes remaining in the first quarter, stretching that to 20-12 by the first rest period.

Bromlow Named LL President

Bob Bromlow was re-elected president of the Littlefield Little League in a meeting held Tuesday night.

Other officers elected include Walter Birkelbach, vice president, Jim Holt, player agent; and Bob Hamilton, secretary.

The officials established April 8 as sign up date, April 15 for tryouts for 10 and 11 year old players, and April 17 for 9 and 12 year old players.

Date for commencement of season games was not set.

Bromlow said all minor league coaches had been secured, but confirmation on two major league coaches had not yet been obtained for the coming season.

TRAIL CONSTRUCTION

Three interagency contracts totaling $8,000 have been let to the Texas Department of Corrections for the construction of nature trails in three State parks for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

WOLVERETTE forward Vickey Gregory has more hands than a cat when fighting for a rebound during the big game Tuesday night between Springlake-Earth and Ralls Wolverettes, defending Class A state champions, were upset by 69-64, in an overtime.

Olton Lands Two On All District

District 3-AA runnerup Olton placed a player on both the first and second All-District teams, it was announced this week following a meeting of conference coaches.

Kenneth Johnson was listed on the five-man first team and Charles McClain on the second team, which also was made up of five players.

This was two in a row for both, as they were All-District in football.

Dimmitt dominated the first team, landing Jerry Brady, David Land and Bobby Baker. Raymond Sterling of Lockney rounded out the first unit.

With McClain on the second team were Larry Vannoy and Johnny Lutrick of Abernathy, Bick Bickley of Lockney and Jerral Seale of Dimmitt.

First team members Baker and Sterline are juniors, the other players listed are seniors.

Cubs Sweep Wildcats

Brownfield swept Littlefield in a high school duel golf meet Saturday, 343 to 378.

Low scorers for Littlefield were Gordon Sorley and Dennis Chambers, each with 89. Mike Talbert had 99, Curtis Timmons 101 and Danny Butler 115. Butler's score did not count on the total.

Littlefield will play at Brownfield March 15 in the first of three 18-hole meets which will determine the District 3-AAA championship. The other two conference meetings will be March 22 at Sweetwater and April 12 at Snyder, according to Coach Jack Christian.

final period. Their darlings steered at Ralls' lead, and narrowing it to points, 60-56, with 1:08 remaining.

Then it was 60-58 with one second remaining.

Then tall and talented Dawkins the two-pointer, two seconds to the final buzzer, that tied the score. And through the first part of overtime, it appeared the momentum gained in the fourth quarter by Wolverettes, would carry them through to victory.

S-E scored first, then Ralls. S-E scored two more, 64-62, with remaining. But Ralls tied it again.

Then, in the final 20 seconds of overtime period, a series of fouls were charged against Wolverettes, from which the Wolverettes sank the difference in a ball game, five points.

Springlake-Earth had 26 personal fouls charged against its players. Cindy Barton and Carol Henderson that route. Ralls lost none of its players, with 13 fouls charged.

Vickey Gregory led the Wolverettes scoring, hitting 13 field goals, seven free shots for 33 points. S-E was narrowly topped by Diane Adams, who had 35 for the victors. Dawn and Ralls' Brenda Caddell each had 30 points for runner up honors.

The victory was sweet, however, one former Lamb resident. Abner native Judy Bowman was the one on the Ralls team, which now stands for the season. Her three years at Littlefield have produced 72 victories in basketball.

The Ralls Jackrabbits were also District 4-A basketball champions, lost in the first round of the regional tournament last weekend.

Roy Burk Named To All-District Team

Littlefield's Roy Burk gained a position on the 3-AAA All-District team, but the honor was diluted when the coaches of the loop's 11 schools insisted on electing 21 more to the same club.

Burk, a senior, was only one of two returning Wildcats from the 1967-68 team. He missed much of the season recovering from a broken ankle received in football, but played in seven conference games scoring 58 points for an 8.3 per game average.

Coaches from each of the two zones, according to Wildcat mentor James Duncan, insisted on naming a 10-man team from each of the zones. Ties occurred in each zone, so 11 men were named.

Their insistence in naming the number of athletes to the "honor team" was because the football coaches did the same thing. Duncan was not in agreement, and voted against it, he told the Leader-News.

Repeating champion Dunbar landed four on the team to top all schools. Lamesa and Sweetwater followed closely with three each. Levelland, Estacado, Slaton and Colorado City each had two, and the remaining, Littlefield, Brownfield, Snyder and Lake View had one each.

Each zone named seven seniors and four juniors.

Locals Fourth In Wildcat Relays

After a disappointing showing in the first track meet of the season the Wildcat Relays Saturday.

Olton captured first place in the 100 yard dash, a distant 38 points ahead of Seminole.

The Mustangs, led by meet high jumper Charles McClain, 135 points to Seminole's 104. Tulla, another AAA school, had 104 points and the Wildcats had 55.5. Leveland was fourth with 49, Olton sixth with 41, Canyon seventh with 38, Slaton eighth with 18 and Muleshoe had two points for 10.

Since it was the first annual Wildcat Relays, all first places are listed in the books as established records.

The outstanding showing by Littlefield was its first place in the 100 yard dash, the mile relay.

Randy Walker started on the first leg of the relay, turning in a 55.8. Steve Owens, who had already placed second in both the high jump and the intermediate hurdles, had a 54.8 timing, and recovered some 20 of a 25-yard deficit with the leaders.

Kenneth Twitty, running the third leg, quickly passed the leader, but lost it by the same five yards in the final stretch, though turning in a fine 53.6 timing.

Anchorman Travis Danford nipped Seminole's best in the final stretch, and was clocked in a 53.0, giving the 'Cats their 3:38 winning time.

McClain earned his points by winning both the hurdle events and placing third in the high jump and long jump.

The morning's 20-30 mile per hour winds out of the south "calmed" to a moderate 15-25 clocking by the afternoon finals in the running events. Winds hampered only the mile, half mile, quarter mile, mile relay, pole vaulters and long jumpers. The other events were run with the wind.

Probably the most outstanding individual performance of the day was turned in by Leveland sophomore David Golightly. He beat Olton's Benny Akin in the 220-yard dash with a wind-aided 21.6 clocking, one of the best in the state. He also won the 100 with a 10.0.

Littlefield points, other than the mile relay team and Owens, came from Charley Holt winning third in the pole vault; Gary Nace tying for sixth in the high jump; Robert Rendon placing sixth in the half mile; Eddie Hickman placing fourth in the high hurdles; Twitty third in the 100; Danford fifth in the 440; and Keith Sitton fifth in the intermediate hurdles.

Home Economics Courses Taught At LHS

BECKY BROADDUS, Mary Jane Sanchez, Porfiria Ramirez, and Deena Davis are displaying their skills at the sewing machine as they tackle the task of making pants.

Three levels of homemaking courses are offered at LHS. They are the first, second, and third years of homemaking which enroll 55 girls.

Girls who take homemaking learn the skills and attitudes as members of their parents' homes and later in homes of their own. Homemaking prepares a girl for either a life as a homemaker or a home economist.

A girl would exercise her ability to sew and cook to the greatest extent by taking homemaking.

The classes alternate in sewing and cooking each semester. The first and third homemaking classes learned the art of sewing during the first semester and are cooking this semester.

The second year girls cooked during the first semester and are sewing this semester.

JACKIE SIMS, Karen Bridges, and Marion Andrews are shown as they learn that there is a certain art in the serving as well as the preparing of food.

STUDENT VOICINGS

QUESTION: Do you think that teenagers as a whole hold much respect for their country? Why?

Juanita Thompson (Sr.)—"Some do, but not all. The majority who take part in riots and burning their draft cards show that they have little respect for their country. Others confuse their rights with their respect for their country. They take their country for granted and are always finding excuses to take part in riots. They always want their country to provide the necessities, but we should not think of it in the manner of what our country should do for us, but what we can do for our country."

Carla Grimes (Sr.)—"Young people do not realize how much their country means until they see it being destroyed."

L. D. Holt (Sr.)—"Even with the Vietnam war, the riots, and so on, this still is the only country with the opportunities that we, the teenagers, have. The riots and marches of teenagers represent a minority, the majority remains silent. 'Bad news travels fast, good news is seldom heard.' If someone doesn't like our country, then let them pay for a ticket to the country of their choice and take their citizenship."

LaTonya Dangerfield (Sr.)—"Yes, in some regards teenagers as a whole have respect for their country, and in other regards they do not have much respect for it. Teenagers' habits such as: drinking (getting drunk), smoking dope, and their interest in LSD show the least respect for their country and this is bad. The volunteering of teenagers to go to some kind of military service shows that he has great respect for his country, and this is good."

Elaine Tiller (Sr.)—"Yes, I do. The teenagers that are rebelling make up a small majority of the teenagers today. The minority group is the ones that are disrespectfully destroying and lowering our nation. As a whole the teenagers of today are holding much respect for the nation. We can see this through organizations like FHA, FTA and FFA. The teenagers are trying to be leaders in the nation because the future of this nation lies in the hands of the teenagers of today."

Jean Davis (Sr.)—"Yes, most of the teenagers in America today hold a lot of respect for their country. The riots and demonstrations that we see on the college campuses and elsewhere represent only a small minority of the teenagers in America. The majority of our teenagers do not receive much publicity, and they are the ones who hold the most respect for our country."

Pernicia (Sr.)—"Yes, the majority of the teenagers in the right. They respect their home, parents, country. Just a majority of teenagers are hippies, draft card burners. Therefore, teenagers respect their country."

Jean Keeling (Sr.)—"Not as much as in the past. The teenagers have been taught by their parents from the very beginning what America truly stands for, showing representing the great through desires of forefathers and the leaders of this country. The main desire was for our country of freedom establish a family."

Darold White (Sr.)—"Most of our young people have a whole hope to grow up to be part of this fine country. Steve Berry (Soph.)—"Yes, I think majority of teenagers have much respect, but the ones recognized are the ones that are self-centered leading people to believe that the whole of teenage population is disrespectful."

Patti (Soph.)—"Yes, at times I think teenagers have respect for their country, but grown-ups, teenagers that try to act and do not have any respect, such as burning their cards, are only a minority. Most teenagers are proud of their country, and proud to be a part of it."

Brenda Moss (Sr.)—"Most teenagers do not have enough respect for their country. Draft burning, protesting, demonstrations are results of this lack of respect. They don't realize how lucky they are to be living in a wonderful country with its opportunities and privileges. Every citizen should have respect for their country."

Nancy Henson (Sr.)—"I think today's teenagers as a whole, hold much respect for their country. Sure we have riots and demonstrations but that could be a lot worse. Every generation says that the young people are sliding downward, and every generation will continue to say this. We hear much about the bad things the teenagers do than we hear about the good things. Many times things are made to look much worse than they really are. I can truly say that today's teenagers hold much respect for their country. I know because there are many good things that are happening as a result of the efforts of today's teenagers."

Only 57 more school days left.

SENIORS 1969

What do you plan to do after graduation? (College and major or career plans)

By Aduddell—"I plan to work this summer in Littlefield, then attend Texas Tech in the second summer session. I will major in either Soil Agronomy or Management. After graduation from Tech, I plan to do my best in life and make the most of it."

Marion Andrews—"I plan to work this summer and have as much fun as I can before I start to South Plains in the fall. I plan to become either a legal secretary or go into Data Processing."

Dusty Angel—"Go to college, hopefully Texas A&M University, and major in Veterinary Medicine."

Bruce Anderson—"To go to college at either Lubbock or San Antonio, I plan on studying to be an Architect."

Windell Ashley—"After graduation I plan to work throughout the summer. In September I will attend DeVry Tech at Union, New Jersey. There I will be taught how to work on and operate IBM computers, maybe."

Cathy Barton—"I plan to attend Texas Tech my freshman year. Although I am undecided as to what specific subject I plan to major in, I will probably begin in Liberal Arts."

Debbie Barton—"About the first of June, I plan to move to Lubbock with two more girls and work through August. Then in September I plan to go on to W.T. and major in mid-management. After that I hope to get married and raise a family."

Eugene Beason—"No plans."

Roy Bolton—"Work during the summer and travel some if I can. Then in the fall, enter South Plains and major in wildlife management. After South Plains, I'm going to start work as a game warden or join the Marines."

Karen Bridges—"I plan to attend South Plains College next fall. Really, I'm not too certain about my major, as of now, but I am considering Elementary Education."

THE BEAT GOES ON

By DANNY EDWEN

I wonder who was the first one to say that there is more to life than just living. Whoever this person was, he was probably a very sensible person. How many people today are really living?

How long has it been since you've seen all of the neighbors on your block and really gotten together.

Climb out of your rut and go out tonight to eat or take in a new movie.

Try harder to broaden your scope so that it will encompass all the things that are happening around you today.

Read new and informative books, magazines, and the local paper.

You can learn more about what's happening by watching more news on television and some of the panel shows.

You housewives out there, break away from your soap operas and invite someone over for coffee or tea. When you see a long lost friend downtown invite him in to a cafe for coffee.

When you see one of the public officials, such as the mayor or one of the city councilmen, stop and talk to him a minute and learn what's going on in our city.

When you see the editor of the local paper stop him and tell him about any story which you may deem important.

When I say that there is more to life than just living, I thought about life as though it were a single strand surrounding the world.

This strand is composed of the three branches of hope, love, and friendship. If we could just harness these three virtues we could bring peace to the world tomorrow.

And after all, isn't that the purpose that God had in mind when he created us?

Students Attend UIL Workshop

Several LHS students traveled to Lubbock last Friday to attend a U.L.L. workshop in literary events on the Tech campus.

Workshoppers boarded a bus that left L.H.S. at 8:15. After registration, students participated in two rounds of competition.

Although contestants were placed, and awards presented, the primary purpose of the workshop was to give the contestants constructive criticism to help them prepare for the district U.L.L. meet March 28.

Those attending the all-day session were Janice Oldham, Wayland Hutto and Emery Waters, informative speaking; Elaine Tiller and Lynn Barton, prose reading; Sally Davidson and Milynda Morris, poetry interpretation; Carol King, persuasive speaking; Mark Jordan, L. D. Holt, Juanita Samaniego, and Linda Harlan, debate.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ayres sponsored the trip.

During the school year the homemaking classes sat in on various demonstrations. Many cookery and jiffy foods have been demonstrated. The use of different types of equipment was also demonstrated to the homemaking classes.

The first year girls are making quick breads and quick suppers, while the third year girls are learning how to make different types of refreshments.

Later in the year the homemaking classes will study units about building a life and about child care. In the unit concerning the building of life, the girls will study themselves. The third year girls will study family finance and the art of buying a home.

During the summer, some girls continue their study of homemaking by doing a summer project. Girls may study home decoration or they may delve deeper into the art of sewing.

Persons who participate in this project receive one-half credit.

MIKE MOULDEN

New Addition To SKAT Staff

The SKAT staff wishes to introduce a new feature writer.

His name is Mike Moulden, a sophomore, who comes to Littlefield from Auenal High School located in the central part of California.

Mike is here with his step mother and little brother, spending some time with his relatives, while his father is making a new home for them in Alaska.

Mike is now waiting for the winter season to end in Alaska before he and his family go to join his father.

Mike plans to go into the land business, as in Alaska, most of the land is sold for as little as $2.50 an acre and almost any land may be homesteaded and received for nothing.

In the area where he is planning to live, temperatures of as low as 70 degrees below zero have been reported. Mike's ambition is to go to the University of Alaska in College, Alaska.

Mike comes to LHS with somewhat mixed feelings, for in Auenal, Calif., the school system was run in a very different manner. In Auenal all the school supplies were provided by the state. He also said that almost every school in California had a swimming pool.

The district TSTA district convention will be held March 6 and 7 at Lubbock.

On Thursday, March 6, at 6:30 p.m. there will be a delegate's dinner, held for all delegates in this district at the Coronado High School Cafeteria.

At the delegates meeting, Mr. Paul I. Jones, superintendent of the Littlefield Schools will speak. He is chairman of the constitution committee of the TSTA District Convention.

Mr. Jim Settle, also of Littlefield, serves on the necrology committee.

The general session meeting, which all TSTA members attend, will be held Friday, March 7, in the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum at 9:30 a.m. There are 16 counties which will attend the convention.

At the general session, Mrs. Weise, president of District XVII TSTA will preside, music will be played by the Lubbock High School Band, and a presentation of colors will be shown by Texas Air Force ROTC.

Theme of the TSTA District Convention is "All Eyes Are On Education".

Golf Team Prepares For District

Friday, Feb. 28, the Littlefield High School golf team competed in a dual meet with Levelland.

Final overall team scores were Littlefield, 378; and Levelland, 343. Individual scorers for Littlefield were Gordon Sorley and Dennis Chambers, who both shot an 89; Mike Tolbert, 99; Curtis Timmons, 101; and Danny Butler, 112.

Although there are five team members, only the best four scores are taken to determine the overall team score.

According to Coach Jack Christian, this was a distinctive improvement of the team score of two weeks ago. Friday's team score was an improvement of 21 strokes over the previous meet.

When asked his opinion of how the golf team was coming along, Coach Christian stated that he was disappointed thus far because he knew the team could play better than they have been doing. But he was quick to point out that he thought they would materialize before district.

The district tournament will extend through three meets.

The first 18 holes are to be played March 15 at the Brownfield Country Club. The second 18 holes are to be played March 22 at Sweetwater Country Club, and the last 18 holes will be played April 12 at the Snyder Country Club.

GUESS WHO? This week's guess who is 6'4" senior. He has brown hair and hazel eyes.

CONGRATULATIONS!

In volleyball last Thursday, our freshman girls went to Seagraves. They defeated the Eagles and went to claim their second win of the season.
They went to Seagraves again Saturday participating in a Freshman tournament. The girls lost to Pecos and Denver City, not winning a place in the tournament.
Monday, they played Pep in the high school gymnasium.
Next week they will play in the Pep tournament!

Thoughts to remember:
When you stretch the truth, people usually see through it!
What is longer than forever? Never!

Saturday, our eighth grade and freshman boys will participate in a track meet. It will be held in Plainview.
Everyone is invited to come watch our boys win a lot of events.
We want to wish them the best of luck. So Good-Luck and bring home a lot of ribbons!

Mrs. Brown to Martha: "Don't rush home. I have a lot of calls to catch up on!"

After a convention of teachers was informed that a larger percentage of today's freshman students are unable to read properly, Mrs. Badzer commented, "If they'd teach sex education the way we teach reading, they'd have the problem of the population explosion solved."

In FHA, the officers have been talking up the area meeting which is this month in Lubbock.

Every FHA officer and member is invited.
Quite a few FHA members are still working on their junior degrees. Good-luck to them.

FHA will meet next Tuesday, so everyone remember to come and don't forget your $1.85 if you plan to go to the area meeting.

Everyone have a GOOD week and.....enjoy that five minute break!!!

Lichte is the only local charter member left in this post, known now as the Richard New Post 301, and is the proud owner of gold membership medallions and golden anniversary pins and medals.

Lichte has signed 223 persons to the Littlefield post in the past three years.

This is Lichte's fourth year to be post commander. He has numerous awards for signing the most members since taking over the post. He has served as sergeant-at-arms also.

The main project of the Littlefield post is sending a boy to Boys' State each year. The post also honors a lawman each year.

A. E. Lichte

Lichte farmed east of Littlefield from 1914 until 1943 when he put in a welding shop in Littlefield. He operated the shop for about 18 years before selling out to do carpenter's work for 20 years.

him to be less apt to find one guilty in a marginal case.

"No, I'm not in favor of the governor's surcharge," W. T. Vereen, Sudan justice said. "People raise enough sand when you have to fine them now."

"An additional fine would cause a lot more trouble. I'd call being taxed by the city and the state double jeopardy. Yes, I guess that's what I'd have to call it," Vereen said.

Vereen was one of the judges who said he thought the governor's tax would cause him to be more apt to find a defendant not guilty in marginal cases.

"Like it is," Vereen said, "people will pay the $20 fine for speeding rather than have to put up a bond and go to court. If this thing goes into effect, more people will plead not guilty and ask for a trial," Vereen concluded.

James N. Bowen, Littlefield justice of peace, gets about 76 convictions or pleas of guilty each month. "No, I don't approve of the state tax on city violations," Bowen said. "I don't guess it will make much difference whether I approve of it or not."

Bowen said he too considered a state tax on city fines to be double jeopardy.

Bowen thinks more people would plead guilty and ask for court trials if the surcharge goes into effect. He added that he wouldn't be surprised if stiffer penalties would cause judges and justices to find defendants not guilty in marginal cases.

Olton justice of peace W. G. Finney had 110 convictions in his court last year.

"I'm very much opposed to the state surcharge on city convictions," Finney said. "It seems like an unfair penalty to me. I think it would cause more cases to have to be tried in court and an added state surcharge would probably affect a judge in finding a defendant guilty in marginal cases."

Finney also thought a state tax would amount to double jeopardy.

Earth's justice of peace is L. A. Glasscock and he has about 12 convictions a month for a total of about 120 per year. Glasscock is seriously ill in a Lubbock Hospital and could not be contacted for comment.

"I don't know whether the governor has checked on the constitutionality of this thing," Curtis R. Wilkinson, county attorney said. "It might not be constitutional."

Wilkinson said the governor's proposal could be two-fold—(1) bring in more revenue and (2) a deterrent factor to hold down violations.

On the question of whether he thought the tax measure could be considered double jeopardy, he said it depended on how the money was distributed and proportioned.

"If it would make all of us more cautious and careful, it could be a good thing," he said. "It could cost the county more than it brings in if more people pled not guilty and asked to be tried in city court," he said.

Wilkinson said he could see both good and bad points in the proposed bill. "I don't like the idea of using criminal action (and traffic violations are crimes against the state) to raise revenue," he said. "The bill has some rough sledding ahead of it."

PICK UP CAMPERS—HIS SPECIALTY

He Offers Campers, Fishing Help Aplenty

You can buy a used car, gas up, get camper for your pickup and latch on some good fishing advice at Askew Service Station at the corner of Farwell and East Ninth in Littlefield.

Albert Askew has been in the used car business 24 years and is in his 10th year as a Texaco distributor.

Albert is ably assisted by his wife, Alice. "I can't fix flats," she laughs, "but I can pump gas."

The Askews hobby is fishing. "We're fishing every time we can get away from the business," Askew said. Their fishing hobby led to their camper sales, added this year.

They took a camping trip to Possum Kingdom last year. "While we were there, a norther blew in," Mrs. Askew said. "We stayed nice and warm in the camper. Later we went to Umberger Camp and camped seven straight weekends."

Now the Askews keep a camper handy and ready to go at a moment's notice.

Their camper sales include all types: campers furnished with stoves and appliances, cab overs, and the Askews are adding pull-along trailers to their stock next month.

Mr. and Mrs. Askew have three children, Charles of Decatur, Ill., Gene of Lubbock, and a daughter, Mrs. Jack Feagley of Littlefield. They have eight grandchildren.

Charles and Gene each lettered four years in football at Littlefield High. "We first became interested in sports when our oldest son, Charles, started playing football," Mrs. Askew said.

"We used to stand out there and freeze to death and not even know what was going on," Mrs. Askew said, "but we soon learned the rules of the game."

Littlefield won the state football championship in 1949, and the Askews didn't miss a single game.

The Askew family first moved to Littlefield from Tennessee in 1945. They are members of the Littlefield First Baptist Church.

Witnesses Slate Meet

Hundreds of families will meet together this weekend in Snyder to share in three days of special Bible instruction in what is described as a semi-annual Circuit assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses, to be held in the Snyder High School Auditorium, March 7-9.

Meetings regularly held in Littlefield will be cancelled this weekend so that local members of the Witnesses can attend the program in Snyder which will include instruction on "Making Wise Use of the Remaining

Time", theme of the Christian convention. More than 500 are expected to attend the gathering. Many delegates from this area are planning to depart for the assembly city early Friday so that they can participate in the opening sessions Friday evening at 6:45 p.m.

As they whizzed over my house, I couldn't keep from thanking God that it is not for real and there are no bombs being dropped. Then I thought of the people who live in the war torn worlds, and thank God for our America.

West Texas Chamber Endorses Plan

The multi-billion dollar Texas Water Plan has received the endorsement of the four regional chambers of commerce, according to an announcement by Beverly King, Graham, president of the Texas State Chamber of Commerce and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The four organizations commended the Texas Water Development Board for the flexibility of the plan whereby the rights of all affected areas would be adequately protected.

Under the plan, as announced in December, adequate supplies of water will become available at the times needed by the various areas of the State.

The schedule provides for water supplies adequate for a population triple the present population in the State.

It is anticipated that by 2020 Texas will have a population of approximately 33 million people and the plan will, when completed, provide the needed water for this spectacular growth.

The Texas State Chamber of Commerce is composed of the West, East, South and Rio Grande Valley chambers of commerce. It works on matters of general interest to the entire State.

Easter Seal Campaign Underway

Children and adults with physical handicaps in Texas are urged to contact the Texas Easter Seal Society if medical care or therapeutic treatment are needed, according to Joe Montgomery, Lamb County Easter Seal Chairman.

Herman R. Baker of Sherman, president of the State Society, announced that the society stands ready to provide services to the physically handicapped that are not provided by other resources to patients both young and old.

The president also called on parents, doctors, nurses, clergymen, and other agencies to refer to the society handicapped persons in need of assistance.

The Texas Easter Seal Society is affiliated with 21 Treatment Centers.

Through the program, financed by contributions to Easter Seals, 17,622 children and adults received rehabilitation services in 1968.

The Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas is an affiliate of the National Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults fighting crippling on national, state, and community levels.

Last year, on the national level, more than a quarter-million handicapped persons received care and treatment and other Easter Seal services.

The 1969 Easter Seal Campaign, now underway, will continue to April 6, Easter Sunday.

Jennings Coat Of Arms

The Jennings' coat of arms is official now. A doctor in Phoenix, Ariz., has recorded the Jennings' crest and placed the original plaque in Waylon Jennings' home.

Waylon's mother, Albert Jennings, in the process of recording the history of a future book family is Cherokee and her late husband's background is Black.

There is music on sides of the family, too. Jennings is a rhythm player and a song writer. He has gained national fame with his group "The Waylens" brother, Thomas, songwriter and bass player. Her husband was a guitarist and another Jennings boy, Phillip, rhythm guitar player.

With a musical background such as the family crest could be expected to be a signature, except tradition calls for a crest to be the head of an animal, a plume of feathers or other emblem worn helmet.

The Jennings' arms chevron gules between plummetts sable. The crest a griffin's head or, on a beak a plummet sable, motto is "I'll Buon Verra. And it belongs to Jennings family exclusively.
