WILDCAT COACHING STAFF has two new faces this year: Eddie Hooper, left, and Joe Giddens. Hooper, in his first coaching job since coming from Tarrant, takes over freshman coaching duties from Art Bolton, who will be coaching the girls' teams this year in addition to coaching boys' football. Hooper graduated from Olton High School in 1967, went to Texas A&M on scholarship as a defensive tackle, and then transferred to Tarrant. He and his wife Carol live at 1223 Phelps. Giddens, born in Littlefield and graduated from LHS. He attended West Texas A&M University, graduated in 1959, and began coaching. He spent five years in Hamogordo, N.M., (two as head coach), and was line coach at Post last year. He came to Littlefield after Jim Weaver, line coach of the Wildcats this year, went to Odessa High. Giddens and wife Doris have three children: a son, an eighth grader, Holly, a fifth grader, and Wade, a third grader. They reside at 1001 Phelps. Giddens said, "Everyone in Littlefield has been very helpful to us and I'm real impressed with the kids here. They have a fine attitude about what we're trying to do." (Staff Photo)

Lunchroom tickets for first graders through fourth graders will be 50 cents this school year. Price of lunchroom tickets for fifth through high school will be 60 cents.

Holidays for Littlefield school students will be Sept. 3, Labor Day, Oct. 26 for the TSTA meeting, Nov. 22 and 23 for Thanksgiving, Dec. 21 through Jan. 1 for Christmas, and April 15-22 for Easter.

City Council Meets Tonight

Littlefield's city councilmen will meet tonight to discuss five items of business.

Ed Edwards, representative of Pak-Mor, will be present to discuss Pak-Mor's sanitation collection system and equipment. Councilmen have previously discussed the present collection system, and had asked the city manager, Jim Blagg, to look into the matter further.

In matters of new business, councilmen will discuss: 1. an agreement with El Paso Natural Gas Company for landfill use; 2. the purchase of a blower for the sewage treatment plant; 3. a resolution authorizing the sale of certain city properties; and 4. authorizing the city manager to contact companies for the purpose of codifying city ordinances.

Immunization Records 'A Must' For Students

All students entering school this fall must have their immunizations and booster shots up to date.

School Nurse Joyce Oliver said all children who have not had booster shots for whooping cough, tetanus and polio since their fourth birthday must have a booster. The state also requires that students be inoculated for red measles and rubella.

Students should have all these up to date before enrolling.

Subscription Candidates In Hot Race

The management of the Littlefield Leader-News subscription campaign has checked the standings of all candidates.

The results found them so near and running so evenly that the work done in the next three weeks will determine the five grand winners.

"Neck and neck" is the only term that will describe the race so far. A few two-year subscriptions, before it is too late, can easily change the non-prize winner's chances on last day.

The question of time and territory has come up during this campaign, and let it be stated now that there are no time or territory restrictions. In view of the fact that we have determined to see that every single candidate shall have a fair chance of winning, we have notified all candidates of this fact, as they have visited the Leader-News campaign department.

Any candidate may work wherever and whenever he or she wishes.

The amount of time a candidate works is a factor in the outcome.

But far more important, is the way this time is put to use, and the number of calls made for each mile.

Immunization records are checked upon the child's admission to school. All records must be validated by a physician or clinic.

Mrs. Oliver said 98 percent of all student records in the Littlefield schools are complete.

All student records must contain the doses of immunization as well as the dates given. The school health record must show the month and year of each shot in the series and the booster.

Immunizations and boosters for diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus can be obtained at the Migrant Health Center. The Center has a combination immunization for red measles and rubella, also.

Mrs. Oliver said the school is asking for all parents' cooperation in getting their children immunized and bringing booster shots up to date before school starts.

Canners Necessary

Pressure canners are needed to process foods low in acid content, a foods and nutrition specialist advised the increasing number of home canning "buff" this week.

Karen Kreipke with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, warned that bacteria will not be killed unless low-acid foods are cooked for a long period of time at boiling temperatures. "Cooking with a pressure canner raises the temperature used to kill these bacteria and takes only a fraction of the time for the canning process," she said.

It is safe to can jellies, fruit butters and high-acid foods without a pressure canner, she added.

Foods which don't require pressure canning are cucumbers when pickled, cabbage when made into kraut and fruits including tomatoes, pears and cherries.

Foods which do require pressure canning are asparagus, beans, beets, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, corn, hominy, okra, peas, pumpkin, spinach, turnips and all meats, the specialist said.

Drugs Are 'In'?

A tragedy occurred Tuesday night! A 17 year old boy was arrested and charged with selling dangerous drugs. So what! So have you ever seen cold-naked fear! We did Tuesday night! We saw a nice-looking, every-day type of youngster scared so badly that at one point tears were close-scared so badly that his voice was hoarse and cracking. For this young man was suddenly confronted with the merciless reality that there's no easy way out! Bond was set at $15,000 and he was locked away in that never-never land of stark bareness behind steel doors. That place where the mind is alone to wrestle with the question "why me?" It's too late for sermons and prayers and the shrugging of shoulders and the smug whisper, "it's not my kid." Too late at least for this one young man...the second youth in less than a week to face drug charges in Lamesa! Well founded reports indicate these two cases are but warnings of a community tragedy! For there is indication that this thing—this disease knows no bounds! It's afflicting every race and every social group! Drugs are in; drugs are a part of life! So what's the answer to the problem! It will not be simple; it will not be overnight. But, the answer has to be among parental minds so busy with their own lives they fail to recognize the life importance of their children—fail to face reality themselves. A 17 year-old boy went behind bars last night—it wasn't easy to watch the processing. It's too bad the parents of all 17 year olds couldn't have been there to experience reality! —Lamesa Press Reporter

Noise Pollution

IF YOU REGULARLY suffer with a throbbing headache, frayed nerves or even a flareup of peptic ulcer, you might blame it on "noise pollution" in your neighborhood. And state health officials agree that in some instances you might be pretty close to the truth. Officials at the Texas State Department of Health, like their counterparts in every other state and at the federal level, see the noise problem as a mushrooming public health problem. Health officials estimate the over-all loudness of environmental noise is doubling every decade. If not dealt with soon, the problem of this "fourth pollution" will be as difficult to deal with as the other three: air, water and solid waste. BECAUSE OF industrial noise alone, an estimated $4-billion is spent each year on worker inefficiency, lost work time, accidents and compensation. As many as 16 million U.S. industrial workers may be partially or totally deafened by factory noise.

This occurs when the cilia (hairlike outgrowth) in the inner ear are destroyed, resulting in nerve sensation impairment and, as a result, hearing impairment. BESIDES DEAFNESS, noise can cause other bodily harm. The U.S. Public Health Service reports that "physiological changes including glandular, cardiovascular and respiratory effects may reflect a generalized stress reaction" to noise pollution. Some doctors believe there's a direct link between noise and heart disease, peptic ulcer, colitis, high blood pressure, migraine, and other health problems. IN INDUSTRY, health officials are chiefly concerned with hearing loss as a result of prolonged exposure to high levels of noise. In community noise problems, hearing loss is not normally encountered. Most often the principle problem is one of annoyance, disruption of life in the home, or a constant nuisance. Community noise problems may generally be placed in two categories: (1) noise produced outside the home, including industrial, ground or air traffic, recreational, and neighborhood noise; and (2) noise produced inside the home, including small and large appliances. GROUND TRAFFIC may involve community noise problems from automobiles, buses, trucks, motorcycles and trains. Little regard has been given in the past to noise control in the planning of arterial highways within cities and the interstate routes which surround them. Areas surrounding airports and on aircraft flight patterns may encounter quite serious community noise problems. Neighborhood noises such as those from power mowers, power tools, barking dogs and other such ordinary problems may present tension or annoyance to some residents. Industrial noises near neighborhoods may also pose a problem. One may not even get away from noise problems in recreational activities in such sports or hobbies as motorcycling, hunting, speed boating, bowling and events attended by large crowds. INSIDE THE HOME, various types and intensities of noise occur. These may be from such common home appliances as the vacuum cleaner, garbage disposal, dishwasher, clothes washer and dryer, air conditioner and others. Even small appliances can produce noise problems in the home. Scientists measure the strength or pressure of the sound in decibels (dB's). You can comfortably tolerate sound levels of 80 dB. Between 80 and 90 dB, some persons show intolerance to noise, and above 90 dB the noise becomes a serious problem. This 90 dB value is the limit for noise exposure for workers during an 8-hour workday that is permitted under federal and state health standards.

Dear Sir:

This is just to let you know how much we enjoyed staying in your City Park four nights during July. We were there visiting relatives (Truman Nix family) and parked our travel trailer in the City Park and enjoyed it very much. That is a wonderful service your city is doing for travelers. We were also very impressed with the beauty and cleanliness of your city. It was certainly a pleasure for us to visit the relatives and enjoy your town.

Sincerely,

AgriCulture? HOW'S YOUR?

U.S. NEA COTTON IS AN ENERGY-CONSERVER!!

LIKE ALL AGRICULTURAL CROPS, COTTON'S PRIMARY ENERGY SOURCE FOR GROWING COMES DIRECTLY FROM THE SUN...

CHEMICALS AND FUELS USED IN COTTON PRODUCTION REQUIRE ONLY 1/5 AS MUCH ENERGY AS FIBERS PRODUCED BY MAN FROM PETROCHEMICAL RAW MATERIALS.

IF COTTON PRODUCTION DISAPPEARED IN THE U.S., THE EXTRA ENERGY REQUIRED ANNUALLY BY MAN-MADE FIBERS TO REPLACE IT WOULD SUPPLY ENERGY NEEDS OF A CITY WITH OVER 1 MILLION POPULATION.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

An Open Road

MANY GOOD OPPORTUNITIES and enriching experiences are lost to many people, because of the barriers these people build by their unwise words and unwise actions.

They will be seen avoiding persons, not for any legitimate reason, but because they have thrown up a roadblock which they either don't know how to tear down, or perhaps they think they don't want to tear it down.

In most instances, the roadblock is not as big as it seems; and can be removed with very little effort. Some of them do not even exist, except in the guilty thoughts of the mind.

AN OPEN ROAD IS BETTER, and it is important to us to keep it open. The fullness of life depends upon our being free and feeling free to approach and talk with everyone, and we must feel at liberty to go where we should go and be at ease in the situation.

All of us have probably known the miserable feeling that comes from the knowledge that our foolish talk and actions have closed roads to us, and made other roads difficult to travel.

One or two such experiences should be sufficient to give us the determination to be wiser, wise enough to keep all desirable roads open.

HATEFUL TALK WILL CLOSE the open road to happy human associations, and it may close more roads than any one other thing.

For some people, this unwise talk forms a permanent road block; and the hateful talker never feels from approach, or to be in the presence of a person to whom he has been mistaken. It is giving others some people away from the which are necessary to their

WE MAY LET UNPLEASANT and actions of others barriers that close the road, but mistake. It is giving others much power over us, and no free movement along open

We must be charitable in attitudes, and choose to overlook potential barrier. We can understand enough, and big keep the road open, as much depends upon us.

This is the mature and sensible because these open roads are important to us.

IF WE HAVE CLOSED a should be opened again just as possible. The longer it remains the more likely it is to stay permanently.

When we are at fault, we can clear away the obstacles with apologies and appropriate actions may not work in all instances, but work most of the time.

By EMIL MA...

ACTIVITY IN THE cotton markets continued to be centered around contracting and the approaching South Texas harvest, according to the Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA. Foreign mills showed a strong demand for both 1973 and 1974 crop cotton at around 26 cents per pound over loan rates for light spotted grades 52 and higher, 3.5 to 4.9 mike cotton. In Arizona and California the bulk of market activity was around contracting of the 1974 crop. Contract prices were around 60 to 61 cents per pound, basis grade 31, staple 35 in the Sun Joaquin Valley. In South Texas where harvesting has begun, the bulk of current ginnings was being delivered against contracts made earlier in the year.

Cotton harvest in the lower Rio Grande Valley is behind normal. A late crop and rains early in the week kept growers from making harvest progress. Elsewhere in the Western Region, crop progress was described as good to excellent. Insect infestations increased at some locations but were reportedly being controlled.

The cotton price for our area has been stable with a price of 42.75 being offered for strict low middling light spot with a 32 staple and premium mike. "Hog Round" contracts are still being offered at 40 cents per pound for local cotton with the exceptions of below grade cotton.

NOTICED THAT THE chicken market has dropped a little this past week, although fryers in local markets have been running over 80 cents per pound. This is quite a jump from the traditionally 29 cents and 39 cent per pound fryers the stores ran earlier this year.

IN REFERENCE to the hog market, things have sure changed from a few years back. First of all, hogs in Lamb County are scarce and the price definitely higher.

In our local hog market a heavy weighing 700 pounds sold for over hasn't been very long ago that you almost give these heavy hogs away.

GOATS ARE BECOMING scarce also. The price on goats jumped more than $5 per head in past weeks. One reason for the increase is that Canada is buying all the goats they can get apparently for the consumption.

AT PRESENT, HORSES are a price, I understand that they are bringing $22 per hundred at a slaughter house. This makes a pound plug worth $220 if sold and butchered. I assume that meat will go for dog food.

All I can say about the cow market is, look out when the price is lifted. Some cow men will probably rich over night, and others will be sent to the poor house.

CATTLE PRODUCERS in Lamb County are urged to attend a meeting Plainview Tuesday, Aug. 28, regarding upcoming new regulations for brucellosis testing. The meeting will be held in the Agriculture Center at 8 p.m.

IF THE NEW gun proposal congress and becomes law, our outlaws will have the handgun rest of us will become easy prey type of people.

Maybe congress should pass that all people must have a handgun this could be the equalizer in crime.

ONE-THIRD BUDGET

In 1972, the U.S. Department of Agriculture spent $3.47 billion on programs for food distribution, food stamps, child nutrition and school milk. This was nearly one-third of the entire USDA budget.

The most serious immediate threat to U.S. cotton is that of restrictions on cotton exports, says Donald Johnson, executive vice president of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., and PCG is moving to avoid that danger if at all possible.

It has been announced that no export embargo or modified controls are to be imposed now, Johnson notes, but adds "The pressure for restrictions is still on and the threat remains very much in evidence."

"With continuing and increasing pressure from consumers and from some in the cotton industry itself, the situation could change rapidly unless these elements are effectively countered," Johnson asserts.

"To this end PCG is compiling cotton supply and consumption projections to show the absence of need for export controls," he continued, "and we will do our best to see that these figures are given consideration."

The PCG figures will distinguish between projections for stripper-type cottons and cottons of other growths, Johnson said. Because any tightness of supply which may occur is likely to be in the longer stapler, higher grade types.

"Thus if some form of export controls should be inevitable we would at least hope to minimize the effects on High Plains cotton."

The new farm bill on President Nixon's desk "is not what we wanted," says Ray Joe Riley of Sprinlake, president of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, "and we, like others, are apprehensive about both short and long range effects on the cotton industry."

PCG has long been on record as favoring a simple extension of the Agriculture Act of 1970 and began its legislative efforts over a year ago from that base position, Riley stated. "But it became obvious early in this year's deliberations in Washington that a simple extension was beyond the realm of political practicality, which left us with two choices: one, to work for the best program possible or, two wind up with no program at all."

Some in the industry felt that if no program were passed this year the cotton industry would revert to the 1958 Act and be allowed to operate with a loan of around 41 or 42 cents per pound and a minimum national allotment of 16 million acres. But Administration officials and farm program foes made it plain they would go to Congress with a proposal to remove the statutory minimums on both loan and acreage.

"There is little doubt in the minds of our Congressional friends that this could have been done," Riley stated, "and with no minimum loan level, no minimum acreage allotment and no direct payment, we would have had, in effect, no program."

The bill now awaiting Nixon's signature calls for an 11 million acre minimum national allotment, as opposed to this year's 10 million acres; a loan level of about 27 cents per pound, compared to this year's 20.65 cents, and payments based on a 38 cent "target price" instead of the fixed 15 cents per pound payment made each year since 1970.

The payment will be equal to the difference between 38 cents and the average price paid to farmers for cotton during the calendar year in which the crop year begins.

The loan level is prescribed at 90 percent of the three year average world price for American cotton, except that if this average is higher than the current year's world price, the loan may be set at 90 percent of the current average.

"By taking a positive approach and working for the best possible program," Riley said, "PCG was instrumental in getting a guarantee of this higher loan and in getting payments based on average prices for the entire crop instead of on Strict Low Middling inch-and-a-sixteenth prices, which would have been highly discriminatory against High Plains growers."

The payment limitation under the four-year bill is $20,000 per person, which Riley describes as "an unavoidable fault of this legislation or any other program that could have been passed."

"However we were able to retain the right to sell and lease allotments, which will help in this regard," he said, "and to get the rules governing payments to corporations modified to further reduce ill effects."

FOOD NOT HIGHEST
The price of almost everything the consumer buys has gone up faster than the cost of food. While food costs have increased 47% since 1952, the average worker has enjoyed pay raises of more than 140%. During this same period, the cost of medical care has gone up 123% and housing now costs 64% more.

Census Bureau To Take Survey

During the week of Aug. 20-24, the U.S. Bureau of the Census will conduct its regular monthly survey in this area on employment and unemployment, according to Percy R. Millard, director of the Bureau's Data Collection Center in Dallas.

Local households in the survey are part of the 50,000 across the country that have been scientifically selected to represent a cross section of all households.

The survey is taken by the Bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor. It provides monthly information on conditions in the labor force, a prime indicator of the economic health of the Nation.

For example, results of the June survey showed the unemployment rate to be 4.8 percent, the first time in three years that it has been below 5 percent. Employment rose substantially (by 650,000) to a seasonally adjusted level of 84.7 million. Nationally, over the past year, employment has risen by 2.9 million.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is confidential and results are used only to compile statistical totals.

IRS Exam Slated For Sept. 24-25

Application forms for the examination which qualifies persons to practice before the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) are now available at the IRS office in Lubbock at Room 315, Fed. Office Bldg., 1205 Texas Ave., Lubbock, Texas 79401.

The two-day examination is scheduled for Sept. 24 and 25, and is for tax practitioners who are not attorneys or Certified Public Accountants.

W. T. Coppinger, district director of the IRS for North Texas, emphasized that the right to represent clients in tax and other matters before the IRS is limited to persons who meet the highest standards of technical proficiency and ethical conduct.

"The special enrollment examination is not a test to obtain employment," Coppinger said, "It presents an opportunity each year for those who are not attorneys or CPA's to establish proof of competence."

Completed applications, accompanied by a fee of $25 payable to the IRS, should be mailed by Aug. 31, to the Director, Audit Division, Internal Revenue Service, Washington, D. C. 20224; Attention: CP:A:C:T-SEE.

A New Record High... Farm Prices Again... Livestock Slaughter Declines.

Both in Texas and throughout the nation, numbers of cattle, beef cows, and calves show increases. Thus, cattlemen are increasing production to meet increasing demands for the product.

The number of all cattle and calves on Texas ranches as of July totals 16,400,000. This is with 15,350,000 as of January 1.

The 1973 Texas' calf crop is estimated at 1.5 million head; this is an increase of 15 per cent over 1972, the largest calf crop for Texas since estimates began in 1924.

Nationwide, the figures also show increases. As of July 1, the number of cattle and calves totaled 131 million head. This compares with the January 1 inventory of 122,000,000 head.

As important, if not more so than total calves numbers, are totals of cows and heifers in the factory. As of July 1, a total of 53,800,000 cows and heifers have calved; this is up four per cent from a year ago.

Beef cows at 42,400,000 head are up 15 per cent nationally. Milk cows, however, are down two per cent. This had been predicted earlier by dairy associations (due to cost-price squeeze) to total 11,400,000 head.

Texas, naturally, is number one in the cow herd. The state showed an increase of 15 per cent. In second place, had an increase of eight per cent. Oklahoma, third place in the nation, showed an increase of four per cent from a year ago.

The real clincher to the increasing number of stock in the nation lies in the preliminary estimates. The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting and U.S. Department of Agriculture predicted 50,000,000 calves are expected to be born during calendar year. This again sets a new high, being 15 per cent over 1972.

Texas, again, is first in this category, followed by Missouri, Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska.

FARM price percentages continue to increase. As of July 15, the all-farm products index for farmers was three per cent above the previous month, 32 per cent above a year ago. The livestock price index was up 34 per cent above a year ago.

Beef cattle at an average of $46.40 per 100 lbs. were up $1.10 from a month ago and $9 above a year ago. Hogs at $39.40 were $2.90 above a month ago and above a year ago.

COMMERCIAL slaughtering plants in Texas. In June produced a total of 183,800,000 pounds of meat. This is down seven per cent from the 198,200,000 pounds produced a month ago and one per cent below a year ago.

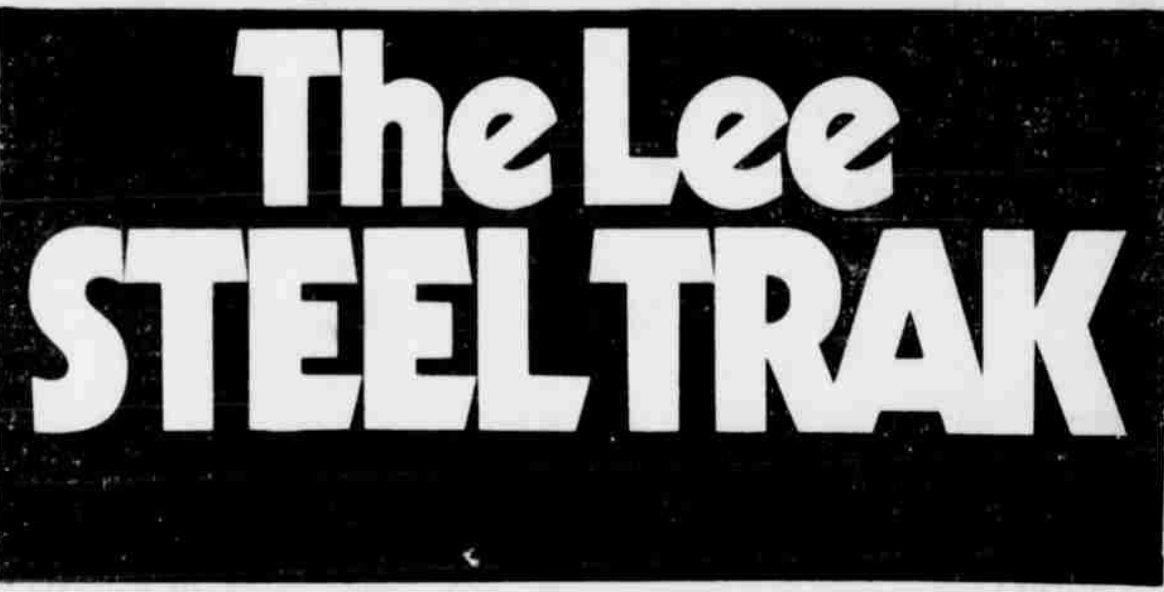

Nationwide, commercial production of red meat is down nine per cent from a year ago. Beef production is down 29 per cent; veal production is down 29 per cent and pork production is nine per cent under a year ago.

In Texas, during June the number of hogs slaughtered was 25,000 below a month ago. Calf slaughter was 900 less than last month. Hog production was below a month ago.

DRYLOT sheep feeders with a lot capacity of 100 head or more had 126,000 sheep and lambs on hand for slaughter as of August 1. This is 15 per cent below number on feed a month ago and 12 per cent below number on feed a year ago.

Intentions to market are: August 71,000; September 36,000; October, 19,000. September and October intentions are incomplete.

Proper Handling Improves Fish

It's amazing how many fishermen will spend a fortune on fishing tackle and a boat and motor and then balk at buying a two-dollar ice chest to keep their catch fresh.

In these days of high meat prices fish offers an economical substitute for beef, especially if you catch the fish yourself.

But if handled improperly, fish will not be fit to eat. Here are a few fish-handling tips which will make eating fish more enjoyable:

1. Kill the fish as soon as it's taken from the water. If the fish is allowed to flop around until it suffocates, the flesh may be bruised, causing more rapid deterioration.

2. Keep the catch out of the sun in a cool sheltered place or in an iced picnic cooler. If you are a successful fisherman, it is better to have several of these inexpensive coolers around rather than run out of room.

3. Clean the fish as soon as possible and wash the body cavity.

4. If ice is available (and it should be), pack the body cavity, then cover the fish with more ice. Water from melting ice should be drained often enough to prevent the fish from becoming "waterlogged," which also detracts from top flavor.

5. If ice is not available, wrap the fish in damp moss, ferns, wet newspapers or hurlap, and keep it out of the sun. This can help maintain quality for a limited time.

6. Use the fish quickly while it is at the peak of quality. If there is a surplus, scale and wrap the fish and freeze as soon as possible.

Prospects Good For Waterfowl Hunt

Hunters are due good hunting over the fall.

Stutzenbaker, biologist with the Parks and Wildlife Department, says prospects are favorable for this season's hunt.

Conditions over the pothole nesting range," he said. "But geese, on the other hand, will be up substantially over last year's population."

According to Stutzenbaker, mild weather in the Arctic, with a record light snowfall and early ice breakup, set up the geese for a successful nesting effort.

"Everyone realizes," he said, "that local conditions on the Texas range can change quickly with a sudden dry spell or too much rain making the birds hard to find."

"We are looking at the prospect of such a condition now that could really hurt the early teal hunt," he said. "The second rice crop may be short and too late to hold the birds when they arrive on the Texas coast."

"This condition is a result of heavy rains and delayed rice planting this summer," he said.

Grain Costs Small Part Of Price

The housewife who sees the high cost of her succulent Sunday pot roast the result of increases in grain prices has unfairly placed the blame.

Fact is, grain costs are only 20 percent or less of beef's on the hoof price, according to a current study by Grain Sorghum Producers Association of Lubbock.

"If you deduct the entire cost of grain sorghum used in fattening a steer for market, beef still would be selling today for the price housewives were paying last January," said Elbert Harp, GSPA's executive director.

Harp points out that a 1,000 pound Texas steer will have consumed a ton of grain sorghum at market time. At today's price of $5 per hundred pounds, the cost of grain to fatten a steer will run $100 a head.

Subtracting the $100 grain cost from the steer's $500 price tag results in a price of $400 or 40 cents a pound for the 1,000 pound beef. And 40 cents was the total price of the animal last January.

"The point is," Harp explained, "the increase in the grain price is not the big increase in cattle production cost."

Harp noted that even with grain at $5 a hundred pounds, the cost of grain in feeding out a steer is only 20 percent of the total cost when cattle sell for 50 cents a pound. With 60 cent cattle and $5 grain, the cost of grain would be about 16.7 percent of the animal's total sale price.

When the processing cost and store markup are added, the cost of grain to feed the animal is an even smaller percentage of the over the counter price paid by the housewife.

Swine Breeders Buy New Stock

Three area swine breeders were active in the West Texas Duroc Breeders Association Show and Sale held at the fairgrounds in Lubbock Aug. 11.

Total sales amounted to $16,460 on 62 head, averaging $265 per head.

Bred gilts averaged $396 per head, open gilts averaged $237 per head, and boars averaged $304 per head.

The champion open gilt was consigned by Valton Maeker of Wilson and sold to Waymon Lewis of Littlefield for $500.

Reserve boar was consigned by H. G. Lorenz of Lubbock and sold to Dwight Starnes of Littlefield for $400.

New Brucellosis Testing Regulations Are Upcoming

Cattle producers in Lamb County are urged to attend a meeting in Plainview Tuesday, Aug. 28, regarding upcoming new regulations on brucellosis testing. According to Lamb County Extension Agent Buddy Logsdon, the meeting will be in the Agriculture Center, and will begin at 8 p.m.

A veterinarian with the Texas Animal Health Commission will be on hand to inform producers of pending changes in the present brucellosis regulations. Comments and feedback are being invited from producers and a statewide hearing on the new regulations will be held in Austin Sept. 18.

The new brucellosis program is expected to begin Oct. 1 and is designed to eliminate the cattle disease from Texas, thus allowing the state to be declared Brucellosis Free. "For all cattle producers benefit from the program, it is important they become familiar with new regulations," Logsdon emphasized. "This coming meeting Tuesday provide an opportunity for producers to learn about new plans for testing concluded."

Managing Cotton Irrigation For A Maximum Of Production

During the next 2 to 3 weeks, Lamb County cotton producers must again make important decisions regarding irrigation. "Many face the decision of whether to apply another summer irrigation, or in the case with June cotton, is it profitable to irrigate this month?" says Buddy Logsdon, county extension agent.

Many producers irrigated this year's crop early to initiate seedling growth, to maintain stands and to help offset insect damage, and after recent rains find that plants have made excessive vegetative growth at the expense of fruiting.

"Even with moderate field moisture, this cotton should not receive further irrigation," cautions Logsdon. Even where plants are fruiting well and have not made excessive vegetative growth, it is doubtful whether another irrigation would be profitable, especially in fields with full profiles of moisture.

Many soils contain 3 to 4 inches of moisture following recent widespread rains. This is enough water to carry mid-May planted cotton now using approximately 1 1/2 inches of water each week to irrigation cutoff time. "Cutoff guides are August 20 north of Lubbock and August 25 to September 1 south of Lubbock," says Logsdon. The probability of receiving additional rain also greater during August and early September.

"June cotton needs to be stimulated into early maturity in order to mature and encourages Logsdon. Summer irrigation is seldom profitable if a full profile of moisture has been received after planting. Yield potential for late cotton is less; therefore, seasonal moisture requirement is lower." "The question is asked," comments Logsdon, "How do you stimulate cotton plant into maturity? Remember that the plant grows and develops under a vegetative-balance. Factors such as excessive water, nitrogen, cool, cloudy weather may shift this balance toward vegetative growth. The is delayed fruiting maturity. Producers should control over one of the important factors, the application of irrigation water."

Verticillium wilt is often stimulated by excessive water late in the season. "Producers should be lowering the soil temperature which tends to increase incidence," adds Logsdon. "We have the potential for a great cotton crop this year. Producers should make an effort through wise irrigation management to promote maturity."
