

Two-day trial leads to murder conviction trial note: Terry Myers was convicted and sentenced to 25 years Tuesday by Judge Pat Boone in the 154th district court for the murder of 7-month-old Jimmy White. Leader-News' Nilah Rodgers covered both days of the trial and her summary of the testimony to his conviction.]

By Nilah Rodgers
The three-year-old Terry Myers was sitting at a service station in Littlefield managed by Jim White when he first met Irene White. Myers said Irene and White's marriage was breaking up, and he took her and little Jimmy White to Comanche to see some friends the first time they really met.

She wanted to leave Austin for a while, and Myers said he wanted to see his dad at Amherst. Myers said they even asked Jim White if it was alright for Irene and the baby to come to Amherst with him for a time. She stayed with Terry Myers at his father's house a couple of days last June, then he took Irene back to Austin. After about 10 days he went back to Austin and brought Irene and the baby back to live with him.

"At first we were going to get married when she got a divorce," Myers testified. "But after a while she changed her mind. She said she'd already been married two times and it didn't work out and she didn't want to take another chance."

Myers said he thought he was helping her out when he brought her to Amherst. He said she needed some place to go, since her grandparents raised her and she didn't really have a home. "I didn't love Irene and Jimmy to begin with," he said, "but they grew on me."

Myers said changing the baby's diaper bothered him, and Jimmy was always throwing up. He said he tried several times to get Irene to go back to Austin. "I had to tell everybody in Amherst we were married when we really weren't," Myers said.

Jim White, who was still married to Irene, came to Amherst to see about the baby after getting several phone calls from her.

When he found the baby bruised, unhealthy looking, and unhappy, he accused Myers of mistreating the baby, and Irene and the baby went back to Austin with him on Aug. 2. After Terry refused to send her bus fare, Jim paid for her ticket, and Irene and Jimmy rode the bus back to Littlefield on Aug. 8.

Meantime, Myers and an old girl friend had gotten back together. She spent the day with Myers watching him trim ivy and mow grass at the I. T. Shotwell residence the day before the baby's death. Kenneth and Sally Tomes invited Terry and the girl to join them there at Sally's parent's home that Friday evening.

Terry had left his truck at the girl's house, so she took him to Amherst in her pickup. When they got to the apartment, Irene and the baby were there. The girl took the three of them back to the Shotwells, but left soon after arriving when a disturbance broke out between Terry and Irene.

Further problems developed between Kenneth and Sally because Kenneth had lost his job that day. One of the group's mutual friends had been electrocuted that week, another had been killed on a motorcycle, Kenneth and Sally were depressed because Kenneth had been fired, and Irene had come back and spoiled Terry's plans.

On the August day when Jimmy White was found dead, the first thing Myers remembers doing when he awoke at 1 p.m. was getting a beer and popping some pills.

Myers and Irene slept late at their Amherst apartment after staying past midnight the night before with Sally and Kenneth at the Shotwell residence on E. 12th. Dr. and Mrs. Shotwell were vacationing in Europe.

After drinking some more beer and taking more pills, he, Irene and the baby drove to Littlefield, ate hamburgers and went to the Shotwells about 2 that afternoon to join Kenneth and Sally.

Mike Sanders came by for awhile, played with the baby and visited, then left to go see his parents. Sanders came back later in the day about the time Burke Tollett arrived. The six sat around in the den and on the patio drinking beer. There was some marijuana, and a bag of speed (white crosses or amphetamines).

After awhile Terry went back to the bedroom where the baby was. "You could tell from the smell from the doorway that the baby's diaper was dirty," Myers testified. "I didn't know where Irene was, and didn't know why she didn't change him," Myers added.

In previous testimony Myers had said that he'd changed the baby's diaper a few times when Jimmy and Irene moved in with him. He told Irene she'd have to change the baby from then on after the baby took a bad case of diarrhea. "He cried and wiggled and I couldn't get him clean," he said.

Kenneth Tomes said Terry told him he'd change the baby. "I was walking down the hall near the bedroom when I heard a noise," Tomes said. "It sounded like hands hitting against a bed. It was a popping noise. Then I heard more strange sounds coming from the bedroom. I took a couple more steps and got in the doorway. Terry was half bent over dropping the baby to the floor. Terry reached over to the bed and got the carrier. He put the carrier pad on top of the baby, then put the shell over that."

"When I asked Terry what he was doing, it startled him. Terry said, 'Just leave him there. Leave him there,' and

Lamb County's oil more significant

As an era of cheap energy and energy independence faded for America, Lamb County's 1975 crude oil and natural gas production became more significant to Texas and the United States than at any time since production began in 1945.

With its production marketed for a record $6.7-million and an industry payroll totalling $662,048, petroleum continued as a factor in the economic health of the county, according to a study by the Dallas-based Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

Jack S. Blanton, Houston independent oil company executive and president of the Association, said increased prices, caused by the growing shortage of domestic oil and gas, has given a multi-billion dollar boost to the economy of Texas and the state's treasury.

"Increased prices help offset the economic effects of the downward trend in volume of Texas production," Blanton said, pointing out that increased revenues for producers are being soaked up by zooming drilling costs.

"The average cost of drilling a well in Texas has jumped from $55,000 in 1962 to $137,000 last year, a 150-percent increase and one of the reasons why 29-cent gasoline and low utility bills are relics of the past," Blanton said.

The total value of production statewide increased from more than $11-billion in 1974 to over $13-billion last year, a jump of nearly 19-percent.

Lamb was one of 200 Texas counties which produced oil and gas with a market value in excess of $100,000 last year, an increase of three over the 1974 total and seven more than in 1973.

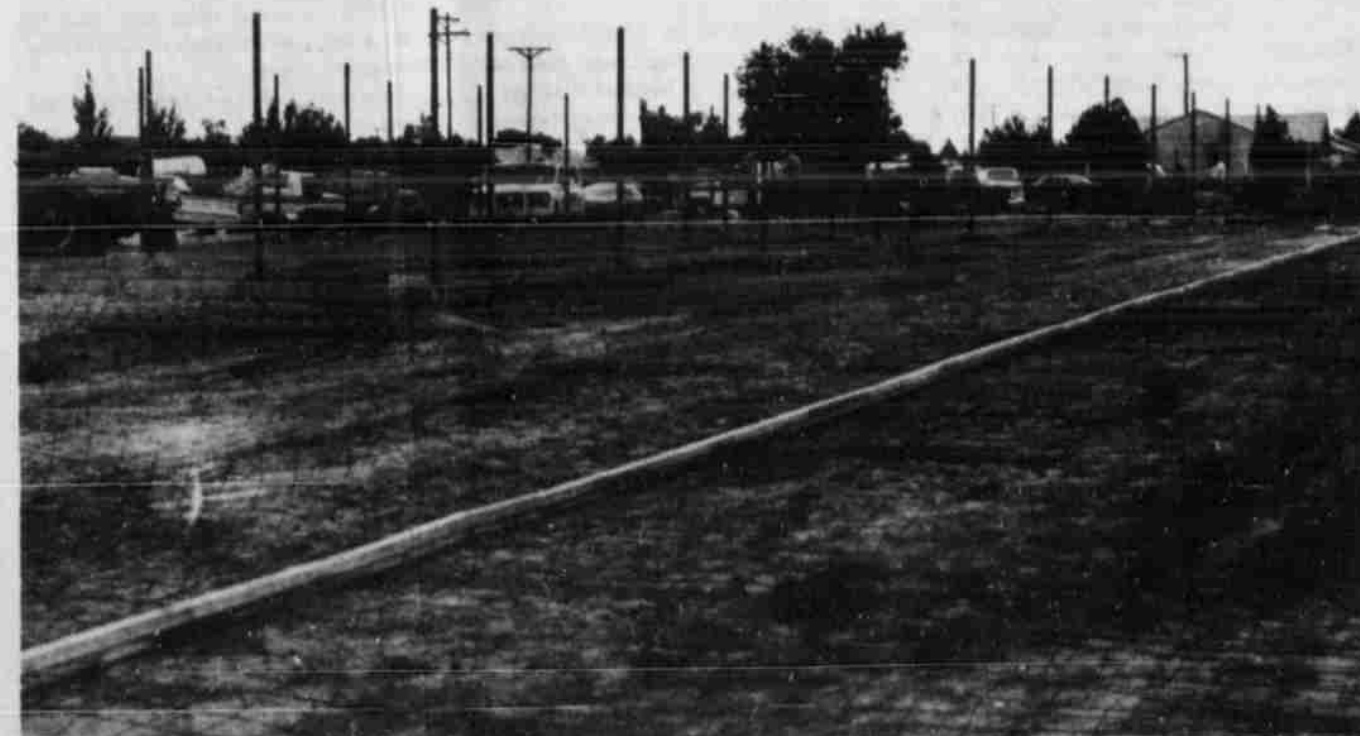

The county ranked 140th in the state in the total value of petroleum produced, realizing $6.6-million from the sale of 848,321 barrels of crude oil; $83,496 from the sale of 170,054 MCF of natural gas. The county's royalty owners last year received $841,792.

In addition to paying local school and county property taxes, county producers also contributed to the support of state government with production tax payments totalling $312,200—$305,938 paid on oil output; $6,262 on gas production.

According to the Texas Employment Commission, 79 oil and gas industry employees worked in the county in 1975.

Processing also contributed to the county's petroleum-related economy, with one petrochemical plant in operation.

THE LITTLEFIELD BUILDING BOOM struck another chord last week as construction was started on a Sonic Drive-In on Highway 385. According

City considers ambulance service; OK's juvenile grant application

In a lengthy meeting Thursday night, Littlefield's City Council discussed ambulance service with two representatives of the County Commissioners' Court, passed a resolution authorizing the filing of a grant application for a juvenile delinquency program, and went into executive session with two attorneys from Lubbock to discuss pending litigation in behalf of the city.

Meeting with the council were County Judge Ruth Kirby and Commissioner Jack Peel of Precinct 3, who asked and answered questions concerning the ambulance service and the possibility of purchasing a new ambulance.

After a lengthy discussion of the pros and cons of the matter, Chester Harvey recommended that ambulance rates be increased to help defray costs of the operation, and Pat Downs recommended that City Manager Jim Blagg compile a separation list of costs involved, dividing it into the type of service rendered, where the calls originated, and how much of the service is out of the city.

Peel requested that specifications for a new ambulance be worked up so that costs could be determined.

Judge Kirby and Commissioner Peel advised the council that the county spends about $44,000 per year on ambulance service throughout the county—subsidizing services for both north and south of the sandhills.

They quoted amounts the cities of Earth, Olton and Springlake pay into the costs of the service, and councilmen said they feel Sudan and Amherst should be approached for funds to help pay expenses.

Councilmen feel a study of the breakdown of the costs involved would aid in determining where additional

4-H'ers to attend camp at Cloudcroft

4-H Club members from Lamb County leave Monday, July 19, on a five-day trip to New Mexico's Camp Scott Able near Cloudcroft for training in leadership and electrical projects, according to County Extension Agent Buddy C. Logsdon.

Each year three boys and three girls, accompanied by an adult, are selected from each of the 20 counties in Texas Agricultural Extension Service District 2 to attend electric camp.

This year's delegation from Lamb County include: Wendy Branscum, Springlake-Earth 4-H Club; Mary May, Sudan 4-H; Celia Pierce, Sudan 4-H; Brian May, Sudan 4-H; Brad Pierce, Sudan 4-H; Cary Sawyer, Springlake-Earth 4-H; and Assistant County Extension Agent, Birch L. Lobban will accompany them.

They'll leave Monday by bus, returning Friday, July 23. In all, some 128 youths and 18 adults are going.

"The event," Logsdon says, "provides leadership training and teaches 4-H members, leaders and county Extension agents how to conduct 4-H electrical projects and method demonstrations, and how to conduct recreation."

"Citizenship training is also an important part of the camp," Logsdon adds.

the front page. You won't believe this, for example: Under the latest civil service pension law, Sen. Ted Kennedy could, at the age of 72, receive $64,324 a month.

This information comes from an editorial in the Los Angeles Herald Examiner, which quotes estimates made by Taxpayer Action, a nonprofit organization formed to fight congressional squandering of tax funds.

Sen. John Tunney of California, three years younger than Kennedy, could have a pension of $75,178 a month.

Note we say "could." The figures are based on a 12 per cent inflation rate applied on a long-term basis with built-in cost-of-living provisions.

They are not likely to receive that much because the rate of inflation has eased, but the pensions voted by congressmen to themselves will be fancy compared with what the ordinary workman can expect.

If you don't think the cost of ladies-in-waiting to the taxpayer is peanuts compared with other costs, consider what follows:

During the past 18 months, the cost of each congressman has risen $110,000; over the last 20 years, while the cost of living for the whole country has gone up 82 per cent, the price of Congress has increased 560 per cent.

Says Rep. Alonzo Bell, Republican from California: "Unfortunately for our public reputation, we have shown that we can act and act decisively when it comes to feathering our own nests. There has never been a time when the federal government—and particularly our branch (Congress)—has been in such disfavor."

In two years, congressmen have increased the number of free round trips to home districts from 36 to 52.

Annual stationery allowance is up $1,250. Staff salary allowances have jumped $32,000 per congressman—a healthy 18.5 per cent. Permissible size of the staff is up 12.5 per cent.

Allowances for air mail and special delivery stamps have jumped 25 per cent. The congressmen even created a new budget, around $5,000 per member, to reimburse the printing cost of two newsletters a year.

The legislators hiked their salaries $1,700 in a time of severe unemployment and voted themselves an automatic cost-of-living escalator during a time of high inflation.

They raised by $10,000 a year—to $25,000—what each may earn annually on the lecture circuit.

We see that we have omitted a few "minor" benefits which the average citizen rarely considers. According to columnist Pat Buchanan:

Our congressmen enjoy free parking, free haircuts, free shoeshines, free medical examinations, free prescriptions, free law books ($1,000 worth), free plants from the Botanical Gardens, free picture framing, free mailing privileges, free swimming facilities, free health club privileges, free junkets.

They can maintain certain "office funds" that are subject neither to the campaign spending limits nor to the purview of the Federal Elections Commission.

For each member there is also a $3,000 tax deduction every year to offset the hardship of living away from the home district.

Most of the data above was taken from respected reporters doing their duty on Capitol Hill.

The real purpose here is not to cause a tax voter rebellion in November; with a few exceptions, most congressmen from Dallas and Texas have records of fiscal responsibility.

The purpose is to show that, in a democracy, we often rebel and wring our hands over the scandalous and bizarre while taking for granted that which is far worse—if we are talking about abuse of taxpayers' hard-earned funds.

Incidentally, our esteemed colleague on The News' editorial staff, Jim Wright, won a first-place award for the series of editorials on a single subject. He cut loose on Congress feathering its own nest.

"The more inflation the congressman has, the more inflation the congressman notes," the bigger the automatic raise he can expect... with this plan, Congress would protect its own members from inflation's effects while it votes more and more red ink spending to drain away the purchasing power of its constituents."

aid should be secured.

According to an analysis of ambulance service revenues and expenditures for the city's fiscal year through May, the collection rate has been about 71.7% of the total billed.

Through that period, a total of $10,164 has been billed, and only $7,284.87 has been collected through service charges.

Lamb County tax money was used to pay $14,912.70 of the total expenditures amount of $22,198.37, which included personal services, $20,536.57; contractual services, $714.40; and supplies and materials, $947.40.

Before passing the resolution authorizing the filing of a grant application for a juvenile delinquency program, the councilmen discussed the fact that there is a need in the community to deal with juveniles in accordance with the Texas Family Code, and that the city desires to provide the police department with specialized assistance in handling delinquent and pre-delinquent juveniles.

The resolution states that the Texas Criminal Justice Division has funds available to assist communities in developing this type of capability, and that the city manager is authorized, in behalf of the City of Littlefield, to submit the proper forms to the Texas Criminal Justice Division for grant funds, and that the city manager and chief of police be authorized to be responsible for carrying out the objectives of the program should it be funded.

PEARL BRANDON

IT IS HARD to accept old age. Yesterday I went to the hospital for a checkup and found two old friends I hadn't seen in a long time. One of them lives in a rest home and the other alone.

I can remember them as beautiful young women. There, isn't that difference in their age and mine.

I OFTEN wonder why God made us like we are, for we all have to face old age—beautiful bodies bent with arthritis, poor circulation and other ailments of the old. But according to His plan every thing grows old and passes on.

We hear so much talk now of the second coming of Christ. I, too, believe He will return to Earth "in like manner" as the apostles saw Him go.

I may be sleeping in my grave for 10 many years, but it really won't matter, it will be like going to sleep and waking up again.

THE OLD AGE is what I dread with poor health when I cannot help myself. I know that most people pray, "Father, take me on before I become a burden to other people."

I think it is grand in this great nation of ours that they have a plan for the aged.

Some tribes used to leave their old ones by the side of the trail to die alone and they went on about the business of trying to live themselves. Thank God, we are further along in history than that.

Life is a struggle from beginning. The new-born baby begins his life by crying for his needs—his food or dry clothes. Then he struggles to crawl, to walk, to grow up and then to provide for himself through the years to come, even down to old age.

I am glad we can always find peace by turning our short lives over to our God. We know not what to expect, but we all have something in us that will never die.

The old body is took off like an old garment and put on a new glorious body.

The Bible teaches us we will be like unto Jesus.

In Acts 10 we have these words from Peter, "And we apostles are witnesses of all He did throughout Israel and in Jerusalem where He was murdered on a cross."

But God brought Him back to life again three days later and showed Him to certain witnesses God had selected beforehand and not to the general public, but to us who ate and drank with Him after He rose from the dead.

AND HE SENT us to preach the Good News everywhere and to testify that Jesus is ordained of God to be the judge of all—living and dead.

And all the prophets have written about Him, saying that anyone who believes in Him will have their sins forgiven through His name.

OBITUARIES

J. R. BORUM

Services for J. R. "Jerry" Borum, 66, of Lubbock were conducted Thursday afternoon in W. W. Rix Chapel.

Rev. Everett Ward of Colonial Baptist Church and Rev. Raymond King, a lay minister, will assist, and burial was in Resthaven Memorial Park.

Borum died Monday in a hospital in Flemington, N. J., of an apparent heart attack. He was traveling to a convention in Boston of the United Commercial Travelers of which he was grand counselor.

He also was worshipful master of Mackenzie Masonic Lodge, Lubbock Consistory and Khiva Temple. He moved to Lubbock in 1952 from Orange.

MARIANO GONZALES

Services for Mariano Gonzales, year-old son of Mrs. Elana Gonzales of Amherst, were conducted Thursday morning at Hammons Funeral Home here with Rev. Joe James, pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic Church here, officiating.

Burial will be in Amherst Cemetery under the direction of Hammons Funeral Home.

The Gonzales child was dead on arrival at South Plains Hospital at 4 p.m. Tuesday. Dr. B. L. Burditt pronounced the child dead and said he died of injuries received in a fall about two months ago.

Survivors include his mother; three brothers, Daniel Jr., Marcello and Julian, all of the home; two sisters, Mary and Laura, both of the home; his grandmother, Mrs. Paula Rodriguez of Colorado; his step-grandfather, Mariano Rodriguez of Sudan; and his grandfather, Marcello Gonzales of Sudan.

Pallbearers will be Jesse Rodriguez, Martin Rodriguez, Leroy Garza and Michael Salas.

JOHN POTEET

Funeral services for John Poteet of Mesa, Ariz., who died Friday, July 9 at his home in Mesa, were conducted in Chandler, Ariz., Monday, July 12.

Poteet was formerly of Anton and Spade. He was a pioneer settler of the Spade area, and lived in the first house built on the Spade Ranch after it was opened in 1924.

His wife preceded him in death in 1970.

He is survived by one son, Merle Poteet of Glendale, Ariz.; a daughter, Nellie Mae Allen of Chula Vista, Calif.; and four grandchildren.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

More patience

"MORE PATIENCE" may be one of the most helpful elements in the lives of most people. If we will learn and maintain this trait, we will be able to cope with living much more effectively.

We will also be able to improve the quality of everything we do. This personal improvement will be especially helpful in our relationships with others. Much of the difficulty in human relationships is in the impatience we feel toward one another.

WITH OURSELVES, and in what we try to accomplish: "more patience" will be helpful. This doesn't mean that we will be any less diligent, or reduce our legitimate efforts, or give up anything that will be effective.

It does mean that everything we do will be done better, and that we will be able to get more worthwhile things done.

WE WILL OPEN many more locks, when we are patient in using the key. Of course, there are times when quick action is required; but even these times will be better, when the action is deliberate and methodical and take with the greatest possible calmness.

"More patience" will be helpful in all situations, because it means that the action will be as well-thought-out and as skillful as we can make it.

EAGERNESS to get things done is understandable, but this attitude must never be permitted to run wild. This, in itself, is not objectionable; but, if not managed wisely, it can be the basic cause of our failures.

This attitude is commendable, in most situations, if we properly relate to reality and facts, and have the good judgment and common sense.

THERE ARE MANY good reasons for developing "more patience" in addition to our improved efficiency in what we do, we will eliminate some of the most negative influences that develop in our lives.

We will certainly lessen our frustration, and there will be less nervousness. We will have some degree, everything else destructive of our well-being.

EVERYTHING WE DO will be better, when we think and plan and act with "more patience." We probably get more done, and there will be less wasted time. We will have added strength and encouragement, because of the sense of accomplishment.

MORE THAN THIS, "more patience" as a behavior guideline be a steadying influence that grows a growing personal confidence.

This is one of, or perhaps the most helpful of all personal attitudes because it is so much a part of our self image.

MANY MISTAKES are caused by impatience. Therefore, as we think and act with "more patience" we will be making fewer mistakes.

In fact, we can reduce mistakes to a minimum; and this is a wonderful accomplishment.

HOMMY GRITS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

WELL, WHAT'S to write about besides politics? If you haven't had it up to here, by this time, you're some 'kind of brute for punishment.

Really, about the only enjoyable event of the whole week, was the baseball All-Star game, and as it turns out, I was caught rootin' for the wrong team there! Some days you just can't win.

OF COURSE, THAT Democratic Convention would up with plans complete for the inauguration. It could only be described as dull. Everything had been settled even before the New York merchants got through markin' up their prices, and the bars had hired their extra help.

This morning (Thursday) a black gentleman asked me what I thought of "Our friend, Jimmy Carter?" I gave him a big wide grin and answered, "I think he has a real nice set of teeth!"

GUESS THE BIGGEST puzzle of the get-together, ('til the last minute,) was who's gonna be number two? Well, as it so happened, Mr. Mondale just happened to have a speech ready, so they put the bee on him. From the tenor of the delegates, I think they'd have approved Turn Row, had Mr. Carter put his OK on him!

Most noteworthy, as far as I'm concerned, is the fact that Mr. Carter got where he is by campaigning against "Big Government, and Responsible Spending". Then turns about and selects one of the liberal of the Democratic party to be his running mate. As 'tis said, he makes strange bed-fellows.

ONE THING FOR SURE, they're to have their party thoroughly and ready for battle. No doubt about it, the GOP is in for trouble. They may even have to raid Watergate again!

One nice thing now, is that while the tv networks can return their regular programming again, want to watch "Adam 12", (my nearly a month!) Ah, Happiness.

WELL IT CAN RAIN—anyway, we say that around here of this past week. It's nice to see change in the faces of some of our farmer friends. Maybe there'll be some kind of crop after all.

Was a little puzzled tho, when those fellows came by the mill, told me he was on the lookout for seed that would produce plants days old, when they came out of the ground! —HM-m-m.-?

Turn Row COMMENTS

By EMIL MACHO

WE NOTED in a wire service news story the comment of a citizen who declared that he was not going to vote for a certain candidate for public office "because he (the candidate) would get us involved in foreign affairs."

We can sympathize with this particular individual, and indeed any American, who might wish that the United States could stay "uninvolved" with other nations throughout the world. All of us can share a certain empathy with the title of a play that was popular on Broadway some time ago—"Stop the World—I want to get off!"

UNFORTUNATELY, however strong our emotions or desires, there is no way that the United States of America can cut itself off from the rest of the world and survive—at least, not today. For one thing, we are absolutely dependent upon an enormous quantity of raw materials to sustain our industry and way of life. Take the matter of petroleum, alone.

If our foreign sources of oil were to be cut off, and if we were to maintain light, power, and industry at its present rate, there would be NO gasoline available for personal and family uses—none. That would mean no vacation trips, no Sunday rides in the country (or even to church), no gas to go to the grocery store or the shopping mall, no motorcycles, no motor homes, no power lawn mowers—etc., etc., etc.

IT IS NOT LIKELY that the American people will want to go back to horses and buggies—but it will either that, or an awful lot of work. And have you walked all the way to work, or the grocery store, recently? Not only that, but the free world is very dependent upon goods and services provided by the United States.

BUT, EVEN IF we were to disengage world trade and world economy which we cannot—can we neglect our responsibility to maintain a balance of world power in favor of the nations?

And again, the answer is that cannot. We cannot remain safe, secure, and free, and let the rest of the world sink in a sea of Soviet domination. When any nation and indeed any person loses his freedom anywhere in the world, we lose, too.

LIKE IT OR NOT, the fate and future of the United States of America is vocally tied with the fate of the rest of the world, and no political candidate or political party can change that.

That being true, we can be sure that the American people will want to office those candidates who will maintain the strength and security that remains of the free world.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Presented by Hammons Funeral Home

Victory vs. defeat. Victory is not always commendable. And surely, defeat need not be disgraceful.

In human experience, there are levels in both victory and defeat.

For example, when we see a bewildered man defeated because he lacked the courage to win, we pity his pathetic picture.

But, when we see a courageous man going down to defeat after trying his best to win, we glory him in defeat. At times it can even be a tragic defeat.

This is especially true if a principle of justice, integrity, fair play or personal honor is involved.

None of us can win every time. How we lose is often more important than how we win.

To succumb or be subdued because we lack the courage for the struggle to win is the only time disgrace can be linked to defeat. Actually, it is possible to win when one loses.

Hedges-Hulin wedding solemnized in Amherst

AMHERST— Miss Darla Gaye Hedges became the bride of Mark Alan Hulin in a candlelight ceremony Saturday, July 3, in the First Baptist Church of Amherst.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Dale Cain, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church in Lubbock.

The altar was decorated with a memory candle flanked by two spiral candelabras decorated with greenery, babies' breath and apricot candles.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a traditional gown of candlelight peau de soie combined with Alencon lace. The princess silhouette featured a gothic yoke of the lace, a high duchess neckline outlined with Alencon lace edging which was also around the yoke. The full skirt was embellished with lace insertion and a cummerbund of peau de soie at the waist. Long bishop sleeves repeated the lace insertion and were gathered to lace cuffs with tiny covered buttons. The dress was designed by her mother.

She carried a bouquet of Talisman roses, stephanotis, and babies' breath atop a white Bible given to her by the Acteens. She wore matching flowers in her hair.

For "something old" she wore a ruby engagement ring belonging to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Joel Jones. "Something new" was a diamond horse shoe ring given to her by the groom. For "something borrowed" she carried a pair of ecru crocheted gloves belonging to her sister-in-law, Mrs. Bobby Hedges, who also made her traditional blue garter. She wore pennies in her shoe that were minted in the years of the bride's and groom's births.

As the bride came down the aisle, she presented her mother a long-stemmed Talisman rose and a kiss, and as she came back down the aisle after the ceremony, she presented the groom's mother with a rose and a kiss.

Miss Debra Hedges was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of apricot doeskin crepe with ivory Nottingham English lace accents. The modified Victorian neckline and Gothic yoke were overlaid with the ivory lace and the short puffed sleeves and cuffs and lace insertion. She carried a bouquet of Talisman roses.

Paul Hulin served his brother as best man.

Ushers and candle lighters were the bride's brothers, Bobby Hedges of Sundown, Eddie Hedges of Big Spring, and Ronnie Hedges of Earth.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Mark Cowan of Spade.

Organist was Mrs. Jimmy Cowan. Mike Anderson of Lubbock sang "Almost There", while the candles were being lit and "The Lord's Prayer" after the vows. At this time the memory candle was lit from two smaller tapers symbolizing the two lives becoming one.

Mrs. Hedges, mother of the bride, wore a floor-length gown of pink knit. Mrs. Hulin, mother of the groom, wore a navy and white floor-length gown. Both wore white orchids.

The table for the reception was laid with a candlelight lace cloth over satin with a centerpiece designed by Mrs. Donald Booth. Traditional wedding cake, mints, nuts, and apricot punch were served from crystal and silver appointments, by Mrs. Paul Hulin, Mrs. Bobby Hedges, Mrs. Eddie Hedges, and Mrs. Ronnie Hedges, sisters-in-law of the couples. Those helping in the houseparty were Mrs. Dale Weaver and Mrs. Leroy Maxwell.

For her wedding trip, the bride wore an apricot suit with matching shoes and a corsage of roses lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a frame stylist for Dr. B. W. Armistead, O. D. and the groom is the freshman coach at Littlefield High School. They will reside at 110 S. Wicker in Littlefield.

Luncheon honors Shelley Hargrove

SUDAN— A bridal luncheon was held Friday, July 9, in the home of Mrs. Wayne Doty honoring Shelley Hargrove, bride-elect of Curtis Chester, and mothers, grandmothers and great-grandmothers of the couple.

Some 15 guests were present.

Casseroles and salads were served buffet style from a table laid with white cloth edged in lace and centered with an arrangement of white daisies and fern.

Other tables were laid with cloths in light blue and medium blue and decorated with crystal bud vases of daisies accented with blue ribbon. On the head table a dove with two gold wedding rings was nestled in the ribbon. China, crystal and silver appointments were used. It was also the honoree's birthday, so birthday cake was served for dessert.

Following the meal, Miss Hargrove opened gifts which included recipes and ingredients, and gifts from hostesses. They included a gold bedspread and clock.

Hostesses were Mrs. Edwin Harper, Mrs. Dick West, Mrs. Tim Nix, Mrs. Billy Gore, Miss Jo Gaye Doty, and Mrs. Wayne Doty.

Others attending were Misses Shelley Hargrove and Kelli Hargrove; Mmes. J. B. Hargrove, Glenn Chester, Amos Sedgwick, J. C. Wells, Jim Hargrove, O. D. Chester, J. D. Chester.

The couple were married Saturday night at Sudan's First Baptist Church.

TEXAS TOPS NO. 102

Texas TOPS met in Medical Arts Hospital dining room. Weight time is from 6:30 until 7:15 Tuesday nights, and the meeting starts at 7:15. Anyone late must weigh after the meeting.

Juanita White, leader, was absent and Audrey Long, assistant leader called the meeting to order.

Lola Wasson, secretary, called the roll and all present answered with "gain" or "loss". Then Lola read the minutes and they were approved.

Audrey mentioned that members will have their diet salad supper at the Flame Room.

A discussion was held about the quilt which needs to be finished by July 27. All the quilt blocks aren't in yet, and members are asked to bring quilt blocks and a few extra blocks if you have time to make them.

Queen for the week was Audrey Long. Runners-up were Roxy Baber and Dianne Street. Secret pal gifts were changed and the meeting dismissed with all members pledging in union.

"They want to see a real proud of our one KOPS, Eula Jackson, for great help to us all by being there and making know that it is possible for our excess weight and to be a KOPS." (Keeping pounds sensibly) was spokesperson.

After the meeting, members went to Rose Zybura's for coffee and diet salads.

Hargrove-Chester vows solemnized in Sudan

Miss Shelley Gay and Curtis Glenn Chester were united in marriage Sunday night, July 17, at the Baptist Church of Sudan.

The bride and groom are Mr. Hargrove and Mrs. Chester.

The ceremony was officiated by Rev. Eddie Andrews. He is a member of the First Baptist Church of Sudan.

The bride wore a formal white gown with a high neckline and a full skirt. The gown was accented with blue ribbon and blue rosettes. The elbow-length sleeves of the gown were cuffed with matching trim. Sheer wide brimmed hats with blue bows at the crown and blue streamers were worn by all the attendants. Blue crystal necklaces and earrings, given to them by the bride, completed their attire.

Roby Lynn served as best man.

Groomsmen were: Mitch Chesler, brother of the groom, Arlan Patton of Lubbock, cousin of the groom and Don nadette May and Miss Deanna Flowers. They carried satin hearts with ice blue daisies, baby's breath and blue streamers.

The attendants dresses were fashioned of blue dacron crepe, featuring a square neckline and A-line skirt. The empire waist was accented by white lace trim with insets of blue ribbon and blue rosettes. The elbow-length sleeves of blue organza were cuffed with matching trim. Sheer wide brimmed hats with blue bows at the crown and blue streamers were worn by all the attendants. Blue crystal necklaces and earrings, given to them by the bride, completed their attire.

The nuptial altar was centered with an arch candelabra decorated with sweethearts, ice blue daisies, greenery and baby's breath.

Flanking the altar were two spiral candelabras, holding blue candles. Ice blue daisies, greenery and satin bows with attached sweethearts completed the decoration. Family pews were marked by blue satin bows with sweethearts attached. The remembrance candle, lit by the bride and groom to symbolize their two lives becoming one, was decorated with lace and the wedding invitation and surrounded by ice blue daisies and greenery.

The bride presented long-stemmed white roses to her mother and mother-in-law.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Cindy Legg; maid of honor was Miss Kelli Hargrove, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Ber-reception was held in fellowship hall.

The bride's table was laid with a net cloth edged in white satin over a blue cloth. Blue bows were placed at the corners of the table. In the center of the table was a silver candelabra with blue candles surrounded by greenery and the bridesmaids bouquet. The four-tiered white cake was decorated with white roses and topped with love birds on a heart-shaped background of pearls. The cake and sherbet punch were served by Miss Sherri Read of Odessa and Miss Mary Griffith and Miss Ann Nix of Sudan. Also served were nuts and mints made by Mrs. James Arnold.

The groom's table was laid with a gold cloth and centered with maple votive candle holders with amber glass. Greenery and bronze mums were entwined in the tapered spirals. The groom's cake was a two-tiered German chocolate decorated with roses and leaves of a lighter shade of chocolate. The cake, sausage balls and two shades of chocolate mints were served from crystal and gold appointments and the coffee from a copper and gold Samovar.

Mrs. Beverly Thurman played a selection of wedding songs on the piano during the reception.

Earth Library a satellite from County

By MRS. TOM STANSELL

EARTH—The Town and Country Study Club of Earth sponsors the Community Library which is located in the Farmers Union Insurance Office in Earth.

The High Plains Bookmobile recently left 70 new books in the Earth Community Library. Most of the books are loaned from the Lamb County Library through the Bookmobile.

The Earth Library is the only satellite library from the County Library. The County Library Advisory Board welcomes the opportunity of lending the books to the Earth Library because the Springlake-Earth Community is a great distance from Little County Library.

The Community Library in Earth is open each Wednesday and Friday afternoon from 2 to 5. The same rules and regulations concerning the use of books at the Lamb County Library apply to the Earth Library.

Sudan Club hosts ladies' night

SUDAN— The Sudan Lions Club hosted a Ladies' Night, Tuesday, July 13. Lion Boss Randy Humphreys called the meeting to order with approximately 50 present. Nolan Parrish and Carroll Legg were installed as new members by ex-Lion Boss

Malcom Martin. They each received a new membership packet containing membership pin, card, bylaws of Lionism, and description of the basic structure of Lions International.

Lions Club Sweetheart Lori Harper and Queen Bernadette May were presented Sweetheart Pins by Lion Boss Humphreys. He also presented new membership cards to the members present for the upcoming Lion year.

After presenting these awards, Lion Boss Randy Humphreys announced that there is to be a Lions District Cabinet meeting held at Girlstown in Whiteface, Sunday, July 18. This meeting is for all Lions Club officers, directors, and members of each club in this district.

Lion Boss Randy Humphreys then awarded the officer pins to the incoming new officers. They are: first vice president, Pat Brown; second vice president, Jimmy Williams; third vice president, Corley Baker; secretary, Don Ham; treasurer, Mike Nix; tail twister, Roger Bellar; Lion Tamer, Jim Markham; and one-year directors, Gaylon Burns, and Kenneth Noles.

Lion Boss Humphreys then presented Past Officer Award Plaques to Malcom Martin, past president, Philip Gordon, past secretary, and Pat Brown, past treasurer.

The Lions of the Year award was presented by Humphreys to ex-Lion Boss Malcom Martin. This award is presented in each club of Lions International and the recipient is voted on by the members of the club.

The meeting was then turned over to Malcom Martin who presented "President Awards" to members for their support to the Club throughout the past year. These awards were presented to Jimmy Williams for taking the responsibility of buying the groceries for each breakfast, Burnice May for helping with the cooking every week, Don Porter for help with food, and Bob Bryant for helping organize the July 3 celebration.

The meeting was then turned over to Tommy Moss who was in charge of the activities for the evening, when everyone played games of cards and dominoes. Refreshments were served.

NOISE MAKERS

Such commonly-heard sounds as police whistles, pneumatic drills and crowded city traffic can produce noise at the 90 decibel level, which can be hazardous when exposure is continuous or prolonged.

Bridal shower honors couple

AMHERST— Mrs. Larry Schovajsa, the former Sharon McClure, was honored with a bridal shower Saturday, July 10, in the home of Mrs. Bill Bradley of Littlefield.

The bride's book, in which the guests registered, was on a table which featured a bouquet of yellow daisies and baby's breath in a crystal and gold filigree bud vase.

Mrs. Gary Schovajsa and Mrs. Mike Stafford of Meadow, alternated at the refreshment table, which was laid with a white, open weave, linen cloth, edged in wide lace. The centerpiece was composed of a white net base, in which a white ceramic cherub, holding a yellow honeycomb parasol, nestled among yellow daisies and baby's breath. Yellow tapers in crystal holders were on each side of it. Assorted cookies, nuts and sherbet punch were served from crystal appointments.

Gifts were recorded by Mrs. T. L. Bennett and Mrs. Bill Bradley.

The hostess' gift to the honoree was a set of stainless steel cooking ware. Hostesses for the affair were: Juanita Bradley, Vera Reynolds, Bessie Dickson, Elzie Bennett, Dorothy Crawford, Ellarene Holland, Ruth Rowell, Lorrie Carter, Gayla Ann Cowan, Mozelle Hedges, Dorothy Abbott, Mildred Bearden, Vernell Batson, Nell Tomes, Virginia Young, Bertha Black, Barbara McDaniel, Oleta Norwood, Alma Holland, Elton Faust, Wilma Priddy, Betty Duvall, Marie Payne, Artie Shavor, Martha Sue Ferguson, Joy Cantrell, Hollis Pryor and Janice Burton.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Bobby Hayworth and daughter, DeAnna of Lubbock and Mrs. Mike Stafford of Meadow.

Joe Blevins, Robert Powers, and Mando De Leon of Littlefield attended a meeting of the Soil Conservation Society of America in College Station July 15-17.

Theme of the meeting was "Critical Conservation Choices— A Bicentennial Look." Several prominent speakers discussed current environmental and conservation issues during the meeting, which was held in the J. Earl Rudder Conference Center on the campus of Texas A&M University.

About three hundred professional conservationists attended.

The Society is a non-profit scientific and educational organization dedicated to advancing the science and art of good land use. It has about 14,000 members throughout the world.

Texas has 22 SCSA chapters.

Jungman-Griessel family

Circle conducts Bible study

AMHERST— The Annie Armstrong Circle of the Baptist WMU met Monday, July 12, in Fellowship Hall of the church of Bible study with Mrs. Marie Payne as hostess.

Mrs. Charles Mixon presided. She read "All things to all Men". This is a record of Paul talking to the Corinthians. Mrs. James Holland offered prayer before beginning the study in chapter 8, entitled "Anger— mad as a wet hen" from the book "Fragrance of Beauty" by Joyce Landorf. Posters were shown which dealt with how the Lord looks upon anger and what can be done about it.

Several passages of Scriptures on the subject were read. Mrs. Holland closed her study with a vivid description of a beautiful and godly woman.

In the absence of the circle president and vice president, Mrs. Opal Wilson presided in the business session. Plans to sponsor the Senior citizens meeting July 27 for a covered-dish supper were made.

Mrs. Ura Phillips will be the July 26 Circle meeting hostess.

Mrs. Bertha Black led the closing prayer. The hostess served pineapple sherbet, cake, coffee or cold drinks in the Bicentennial motif to Mmes. Willson, Mixon, T.L. Bennett, Bill Bradley, Eryle Abbott, Bertha Black, Tom Davis, Bill Phillips, James Holland and Payne. Mrs. Wilma Priddy was a guest.

Patrol investigates rural accidents

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated eight accidents on rural highways in Lamb County during the month of June, according to Sergeant T. Kefauver, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in 27 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident primary for this county during the first six months of 1976 was a total of 46 accidents resulting in 26 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident primary for the 60 counties of Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for June, 1976, shows a total of 549 accidents resulting in ten persons killed and 336 injured, as compared to June, 1975, with 572 accidents resulting in 25 persons killed and 355 persons injured. This was 23 less accidents, 15 less killed, and 19 less injured in 1976 at the same period of time.

The ten traffic deaths for the month of June, 1976, occurred in the following counties: three in Jack; two in Potter; and one each in Deaf Smith, Hutchinson, Wheeler, Clay and Parker.

BULA NEWS

PATTI CASH of Portales spent the Fourth holidays with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Blackman. She came to witness the burying of Bula's time capsule, and enjoyed several of the activities at Muleshoe. They also saw the new grandbaby of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Blackman, Meredith Lashell Douglas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Douglas of Richardson, and made a short visit with Patti's grandmother, Mrs. Blanche Clash, and ate hamburgers with her before going to see the fire works.

JARROD WITHROW, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Withrow is in Haskell for a two weeks' singing school, held at the Church of Christ in Haskell. They are trained in the field of song leading, courses in rudiments of music and song reading and writing. On the last day of the school, July 16, a special program will be given to the public.

PAUL YOUNG continues making recovery from surgery he underwent the past week at Methodist Hospital, Lubbock.

MR. AND MRS. Eguene Bryan enjoyed having to visit with them the 4th, their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Art Foley, and boys, Danny, Feris and Steve. Steve is just home from Panama, where he is stationed with the Army there. Their great-grandchildren, Deana and Bryan Foley, were with them.

THE BULA Baptist Church will be observing their 50th Anniversary of the church Sunday, Aug. 22, and members are trying to find the residences of all the past pastors of the church. They would appreciate any information.

MR. AND MRS. Rodney Marshall of Whitharral spent Sunday night and Monday with her parents, the Nolan Harlans.

MR. AND MRS. P. R. Pierce have as their guests this week her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McNew

Whitharral settlers reunion fetes 88

WHITHARRAL—The Early Settlers Reunion was held Saturday, July 3, in the Whitharral Cafetorium. There were 88 who registered during the day.

Don Avery, president, was in charge of the program. He presented red, white and blue corsages to Vera Rodgers as being the oldest lady present and to Dorothy (McGee) Sharbert of San Antonio as the lady coming the farthest. Boutineers were presented to Tot Lewis as the oldest man, and Murphy Byrd of Lubbock coming the longest distant for the men. The Whitharral Home Demonstration Club made the corsages and boutineers.

Clyde Brock of Littlefield led in prayer for the noon meal. During the evening, Thelma McDaniel and Dorothy Shar-bert played the piano with Don Avery, Opal Mixon, Tot Lewis, and Tommy Howard leading the singing. Nell Matthews of Littlefield played her French harp. Domoones were also played. Afterward water-melons were enjoyed being provided by Rafe Rodgers of Littlefield.

Among those present were some who came to Whitharral in the 20's. They were: Bruce Wren, Ray Thurman, Clyde Brock, Mrs. Doss Maner, Lillie Thetford, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Howard, Viola Dairymple, Violet Blakely, Jo Waters, Jesse Morris, Elsie (Secrease) Swart, Ervin Saddler, and Mr. and Mrs. Tarvin McGrupe.

Some made talks on "What Whitharral Means to Me." They were: Don Avery, Murphy Bird, Dale Hewitt, Sam Langford, John R. Davis, Tot

Lewis, and Vera Rodgers. Jessie Morris was also presented with a corsage for being the oldest graduate from Whitharral High in 1930 present.

Officers for the coming year were also elected. They were Lillie Thetford, president; Jo Waters, vice president; and Jessie Morris, secretary-treasurer.

When you haven't seen someone in 44 years, sit together, eat lunch and then discover that you were in the same grade together. This was what opened to two of the present.

A good time was had as memories of the past present were recalled.

Lions sponsor students

WHITHARRAL—The Club sponsored some exchange students over weekend.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Butler were two boys, Polle Wit, Denmark and Axel Meyer, of Australia.

In the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Avery were two boys, Jim Jobeling of South Africa and Audie Adern of Turkey.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell key entertained a girl from Germany and Benie Klum of Denmark.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Cormack hosted two boys from Sweden and one from Japan.

The Coy Grants enjoyed having three boys in their home, one from Turkey, one from France, and one from Finland.

The students arrived and remained until Sunday.

They toured a cotton feed lot, and cotton and fields. They attended the Key County Early Settlers Reunion, visited the Key County Museum, and saw the bargains they found at "sidewalk sale" in Littlefield.

They enjoyed the dance and music Saturday night, and some of them visited Texas Tech and the Plains Mall.

R.N. Pressley has completed recruit school

Navy Seaman Recruit Richard N. Pressley, of Mrs. Bonnie Pressley of Littlefield, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

During the eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 51 occupational fields.

Among the subjects studied were seamanship, close-order drill, naval history and first aid.

A 1967 graduate of Littlefield High School, he joined the Navy in March 1976.

Teresa Wilks to be feted

OLTON—Miss Teresa Wilks, bride-elect of Bob Akin, will be honored Saturday, July 24, from 9:30 to 11:30 with a pre-nuptial celebration in the home of Mrs. W. Dickenson Jr.

Friends and relatives are invited to attend.

ENOCHS NEWS

was always throwing up.
"Everybody said I was too rough with Jimmy. I didn't mean to harm Jimmy. I just thought he'd get tough."

In Irene's testimony earlier, she told how Terry had treated the baby. "I was at Sally's when Terry said he dropped him over behind his head and he hit the dresser and chest of drawers. It cut his mouth and he couldn't suck a bottle for two or three weeks or a month. I got Sally and Kenneth to take him to Dr. Rains. It made Terry mad to say anything about taking him to a doctor.

Irene said she undressed the baby and put him in the tub with Terry when he took a bath every evening. After soaping the baby, she said Terry would put his hand over the baby's nose and mouth and hold him under water to rinse him off.

Myers testified that he would press on the baby's stomach after holding him under water to make sure he didn't have water in his lungs, because he'd always heard a baby could drown from a teaspoon of water.
He said he was just playing with the baby when he pitched him up high.
"Sometimes I threw him too hard and his eyes would get big," he said.

"I was fixing to pitch him up the day I dropped him behind me. I heard him hit three things. He hit the chest of drawers, the chair and the floor."

It was after the incident that hurt the baby's mouth that Irene said she came home and found the baby in a box in the closet.

"Terry would hold the baby to his chest and squeeze him," Irene said.
She said when she told him she was afraid he'd hurt him or drown him, he'd say he wasn't hurting him, just toughening him up for the kind of world he had to live in.

On another occasion when Jimmy had an extremely high fever, Sally and Kenneth took her to see Sally's dad, Dr. Shotwell. He found the baby mal-nourished, and near pneumonia.

Dr. Richard A. Kefler said the result of two large sized deep lacerations of the liver in Jimmy White caused the hemorrhage that resulted in the child's death.

The Lubbock pathologist said the cuts in the baby's liver and the fractured ribs were the sort of injuries usually associated with a bad traffic accident. He said such internal injuries do not occur spontaneously, nor with any disease process.

Dr. Kefler said the one to two cups of free flowing blood in the abdominal cavity and four broken ribs would take a fair degree of force.

"You wouldn't expect this kind of trauma from falling out of bed," Dr.
Kefler said. "It takes a lot of force to break a baby's ribs when their bones are soft and pliable. If a child this age could get eight feet up in a tree, a fall such as this could cause these injuries" the doctor added.

The pathologist said there was evidence of the child's vomiting. He said some fluid could have been sucked back into the respiratory system, but in this case, aspiration was not enough to cause death.

"I found the cause of death was pulmonary insufficiency, shock, and internal hemorrhage from trauma," Dr. Kefler said. Due to the multitude of injuries and the exclusion of a bad auto accident, Dr. Kefler said the trauma could only be induced by some other party.

Dr. Kefler said he found multiple abrasions on the chin and neck area, hemorrhagic spots on the penis, bruises inside both knees, and a hematoma on the back of the head from external examination.

He said in addition to recently broken ribs, x-rays showed similar older broken ribs on the opposite side and a healing leg fracture which could have occurred from two weeks to two months before death.

Dr. Kefler's testimony was one of 13 witnesses called by the state in the Myers trial. Myers pleaded "not guilty" before District Judge Pat Boone Jr., and waived his right to a jury trial.

After two days of testimony, Judge Boone found Myers guilty of murder as read in the charge, and set his punishment at 25 years in the state penitentiary.

Police officers Chris Hern, John Moore and Gail Morgan, funeral home director James Steadman, and licensed vocation nurse Mary Clark, all testified to the baby's appearance. All described bruises on various parts of the body and what they said looked like pin pricks or cigarette burns on private parts of the child's body.

Officer Chris Hern said they received an emergency call about shift change on that Saturday night. He said when they entered the house they heard women crying in a bathroom and found the baby wrapped in a blanket in a back bedroom.

John Moore said he unwrapped the baby, decided not to wait for the ambulance which had been called, and held the baby in his lap in the back seat of the patrol car while the three other officers rushed them to the Littlefield Hospital.

Dr. Barney Klein pronounced the child dead on arrival and said he estimated the baby had been dead an hour to two hours at the time it was brought in.

When first asked about the possibility of requesting an autopsy, Dr.
Klein said he thought at the time that the baby died of pneumonia since pinkish, watery material ran from its mouth. Dr. Klein said he called the police department later after Sally Shotwell Tomes came back and talked to him and said Terry Myers was upset because he thought he might have caused the child's death and she thought an autopsy would ease his mind.

Meantime, Steadman, at the funeral home, and officers Hern, Moore, Morgan, John Despres and James Cox, chief of police, had discussed foul play as the cause of death and had phoned justice of peace Stanley Doss and asked about ordering an autopsy.

After the baby was taken to the funeral home, the six adults all returned to the Shotwell home, discussed the events, and the Tomes, Terry and Irene spent the night there.
When Terry woke up Sunday morning he learned that Irene and the others hadn't been to the funeral home. He went down to make arrangements himself.

"When Myers didn't know the child's full name or the mother's maiden name, that's when I stopped taking information," said James Steadman. The child's body had already been taken to Lubbock for an autopsy.

Police officers questioned Sally and Kenneth at the funeral home. Sally said she told the police sergeant what Kenneth had told her he saw Terry doing to the baby. The officer asked them to come to the police department and make a statement. When Kenneth told Terry, he walked out.

After leaving the funeral home,

Myers went to the police station. He walked in and told officer Chris Hern.
"I killed the baby, you might as well lock me up. Everybody thinks I did, so you might as well lock me up."

Hern said they read Myers all his rights and he gave them a full statement of different events that happened that led to the death of the baby. This tape recorded statement was not entered as a state exhibit due to conflicting testimony from Despres, which kept the recording from being heard as direct evidence, but Judge Boone listened to the recording in his private office after both the state and defense rested their cases and said the statement would be considered in the state's cause.

Curtis Wilkinson said he took a written statement from Myers the following day after he was again advised of his rights. This written statement was introduced for evidence. Wilkinson said Myers freely and voluntarily signed the statement in the presence of the baby's mother, Irene White and several officers.

Myers said he told the county attorney he wanted to talk to Irene or his father before signing the statement. He said he showed what had been written to Irene and she said it was alright for him to sign it.

Wilkinson testified that Irene seemed more concerned about being able to make bond and get Myers released than she seemed concerned about the dead child.

She testified she went to Dr. Rains and asked him to make the $50,000 bond for Myers' release. He refused.

She said she changed her mind about getting Terry out of jail after she saw a psychologist and had time to think things over. "I had a change of feeling about Terry after visiting with the psychologist," she said.

In cross examination by District Attorney Jack Young, she said when she told Myers that if the baby was their problem she could get rid of the problem, she didn't mean kill the baby, she just meant she would let her mother keep him. Irene said Myers told her he wasn't ready to be a father and not fit to be a father and wanted to go back to a former girl friend.
Irene said she saw Myers squeezing the baby the night he died.

Myers was represented by Gayle Warren and Richard Collard of Friona in his plea of not guilty. The defense maintained that no one saw Myers inflict any injuries on the baby that led to its death. After hearing Judge Boone's finding of guilty as read in the charge, Myers said he would take his 10-day waiting period before accepting sentencing or filing a new motion.

Texas Indians stage historical drama

Sunset at the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation no longer brings with it the familiar sounds of crickets and other night creatures. It is now replaced by booming cannons of the Texas Volunteer Army and the spectacle of assimilated lightning streaking through the natural background scenery of towering pine trees.

It is all a part of "Beyond The Sundown," the historical outdoor drama of the East Texas Indians presented nightly except Sundays now through Aug. 21. The Reservation is located between Livingston and Woodville 85 miles north of Houston.

Very little had been written about the history of the tribes, although they were settlers of the Big Thicket while still under the flag of Spain. How events led to the removal of other Indian Tribes in Texas but not the Alabama-Coushattas is the story skillfully presented in the modern choreography effects and an original score on the permanent of the 1,545-seat amphitheatre.

The outdoor drama is a tourist development begun in 1965 by the tribe to foster the economic growth of the some 500 tribal members living on the reservation.

The tourist program attracts over 250,000 annually. Managed by Tribal Council, activities include a daily program of fully feathered Indian dancers, a tour through the Indian Village, a Big Reptile Garden and other interesting tours.

Campers will delight in modern campground complete hookups. A shop with handmade artifacts and Restaurant daily at 9 a.m. beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Prepare your garden for long vacations

Summer vacations will take many West Texas Folks away from home and their gardens for a few days to a few weeks. Serious gardeners will not neglect their gardens and landscape plants at this time.

Most gardeners are harvesting leafy greens, radishes, summer squash, potatoes and onions by now. Everyone with tomato plants is eagerly watching the green fruit enlarge, and some "early birds" have started to pick a few ripe fruit. The weather has been hot, dry and windy.

Frequent irrigation of vegetables, flowers and lawns is needed under these conditions. The fruiting vegetables—tomatoes, squash, cucumbers, and peppers—are in a critical stage of growth now in which their water requirements are very high. Any drought stress at this time will result in problems such as blossom-end-rot of tomato and pepper, fruit and blossom drop besides small, poor quality squash and cucumber fruit.

If squash, cucumbers, tomatoes and other fruiting vegetables are not picked when ready, there is a strong likelihood that the fruit will be overmature by the time you get back. Mature fruits left on vegetable plants cause the plants to stop producing more new blossoms, and fruit production comes to a half.

To assure adequate care of your plants while you are away, ask a friend or neighbor, who will be staying in town, to tend your landscape while you are gone. An added motivation for a responsible teenager would be to pay for their services based on the time required to be a good caretaker.

Invite the person who is to care for your plants over for a visit so you can go through the exact procedures for irrigating and harvesting. It is important for your caretaker to see the plants to be cared for and to know exactly how to operate your equipment.

Be very clear about the timing and duration of irrigation for the gardens, lawns and indoor plants. Point out the vegetables to be picked while you are gone. And be sure that none of your instructions are forgotten, write them in concise form as a hand reference for your caretaker. Then, nothing of critical importance will be overlooked.

When you know the garden is in good hands, you can go on your way with concern about how the garden will look when you return home.

Prepared by Roland Roberts, Area Vegetable Specialist, T.A.E.X., June 28.

THE LEADER-NEWS, LITTLEFIELD, TEXAS
SUNDAY, JULY 18, 1976

3-year-olds fill in meet of presstime Friday, world's 13-year-old Jr. All-stars were still District 2 tourney in Muleshoe, but their chances of getting to the finals seemed slim. The loss to host Muleshoe in the first round of the elimination affair put Littlefield in a one loss and we're in position. And things made any brighter when the locals found their opponent would be Plainview. The battle with Plainview was supposed to be played Tuesday, but four-inches of rain in the Muleshoe area have twice delayed the tournament. Monday's games were washed out and played Tuesday. The second-round games, rained out Wednesday night, were tentatively scheduled for Friday night, with a triple-header planned for Saturday to get the tourney over with.

Muleshoe's Lupe Rosales fanned 14 Littlefield batters and slugged two singles in posting the 7-0 win. His teammates pushed across two runs in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings to pad the lead.

Robert Flores, Jerry Jackson, Odel Johnson and Lynn Timian each ripped a hit for the locals. Dennis Abeyta was tagged with the loss.

THE LITTLEFIELD LITTLE LEAGUE ALL-STARS will host a four-team district qualifying tournament starting tomorrow at the local ball park. The Littlefield squad consists of [bottom] George Brockington, Randy Healy, Todd Butler, Brian Gregory, Bobby Martinez, Pat Torres and Todd Simpson; and [top] Leslie Yarbrough, Scott Yarbrough, James Randall, Mike Williams, alternate James Sexton, Kerry Rainbolt and Clark Pylant. Standing are coaches Paul Yarbrough and Bill Healy. Not pictured is All-star Mark McCanlies and alternate Chris Merrifield. [Staff Photo]

Four Little League teams to play here

Little League All-star teams from Plainview, Anton and Sudan-Amherst will join host Littlefield tomorrow night for the District 26 northern zone tournament.

The tourney gets underway 6 p.m. when Anton tangles with Inter-city, a team made up of players from Sudan and Amherst.

Another battle follows at 8, with Littlefield taking on tough Plainview American.

The winners of those games play Tuesday at 8 p.m. for the zone title and a chance to make the district finals.

All games will be played at the Littlefield Little League park, where work the last week have given the diamond a tip-top appearance.

The 14-player Littlefield contingent is led by coaches Paul Yarbrough and Bill Healy, who piloted WOW to a second-place finish in the local major leagues this summer.

"There'll be some good teams here," Yarbrough said, "including us, I hope. The Amherst coach has been telling me he's got a real strong team this year, and Plainview is always tough."

Inter-city, with players from two cities, could also have a shot at the crown.

The winner of the Littlefield affair will play the winner of a three-team tourney that will be played in Olton tomorrow and Tuesday. Plainview National and Muleshoe get after it at 8 p.m. tomorrow, with the victor playing Olton Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the championship game.

The winners of the Littlefield and Olton tourneys play Thursday, at a site to be named by the Littlefield champ.

ALMO SR. BABE RUTH ALL-STARS will depart from Littlefield this morning for the state tournament in San Antonio starting tomorrow. The ALMO team, comprised of players from eight area cities, play Lubbock in the first round of the six-team, double-elimination tourney at 8 p.m. tomorrow. The finals are set for Saturday, with the state winner advancing on to the national and possibly national meets. [Staff Photo]

Boy's basketball clinic to get underway Monday

C. W. Dukes will teach boys the fundamentals of basketball in a one-week clinic which starts Monday, July 19, at South Plains College.

Boys in the third through ninth grades this fall are eligible to sign up. Cost is $17.50. Gym clothes and shoes must be provided by each participant.

Four groups will meet for two hours daily through Friday, July 23, in the SPC Women's Gym. Dukes, SPC associate professor of math, will demonstrate techniques such as dribbling, passing, defense, offense and rebounding.

Clinic schedule is as follows: Third and fourth grades, 8 to 10 a.m.; fifth grade, 10 a.m. to noon; sixth and seventh grades, 1 to 3 p.m.; and eighth and ninth grades, 3 to 5 p.m.

Interested boys can register now until Monday at the SPC Office of Continuing Education, located in the Technical Arts Center, or Monday at the first clinic session in the Women's Gym.

For more information, contact the office of Don Yarbrough at SPC, 894-4921.

Association hails tax reform passage

The head of the Independent Cattlemen's Association Friday hailed Senate committee passage of estate tax reforms as a major step toward saving the nation's family farms and ranches.

ICA President T. A. Cunningham of Goliad said he is hopeful that the full senate will act before the end of the year on the measure approved by the finance committee.

ICA, whose 100,000-plus members form the largest livestock organization in the nation, has waged an all-out campaign for estate tax reform for almost two years.

The finance committee's bill would replace the existing $60,000 exemption with a $30,000 tax credit which would gradually increase to $50,000 in 1981 and would for the first time see agricultural lands assessed at productive instead of market value.

Cunningham pointed out that the $50,000 tax credit is equal to the $200,000 exemption figure ICA has supported.

"This is a realistic, common sense figure in light of the inflation in land values and equipment costs in the 34 years since 1942 when the present $60,000 exemption was set," Cunningham said.

He said that failure to reform the estate tax will mean further forced liquidation sales of family farms to pay the "window's tax" and would lead eventually to a total takeover of America's agriculture by large corporate operations.

Amherst committee to meet Tuesday

AMHERST— The Amherst Bicentennial committee has scheduled a meeting Tuesday night to decide on a final outline for the big city-wide celebration set for Aug. 7, according to committee chairman Jimmy Hufstедler.

The meeting is open to all interested persons, and will be at 8 p.m. in the school library.

Hufstедler said all the committee chairmen for the celebration have been hard at work, and the Tuesday meeting will serve primarily to coordinate all events and get a specific outline.

Some of the activities on tap are a Little Miss contest and a pet show for Aug. 6, and a big parade and bar-b-que Aug. 7. Committee members have already been busy painting vacant buildings and cleaning up the city in preparation for the festivities.

The greatest olympic medal winner of all time was the Roman Emperor Nero who entered the Games of A.D. 66 and won every event in which he participated. The other contestants were "quite happy" to settle for 2nd and 3rd places.

David Booth awarded scholarship

David Booth of Amherst is one of 17 Texas Future Farmers who are winners of college scholarships and achievement awards provided by Santa Fe Railway, according to J. A. Marshall, director of agricultural education at Austin.

J. E. Wark, Santa Fe assistant manager-sales at Dallas, presented the winners with award certificates during the 48th annual Texas FFA convention in Dallas Memorial Auditorium Thursday. He also presented the railroad's check for $3,125 to help support FFA during 1976 to Mark Ellison, FFA state president.

Jesse Reyes Jr. of Ralls and Hibbert W. Beck of Palmer are winners of the 1976 Santa Fe $500 scholarships.

Educational award winners are David Booth, Amherst; Doug Reinart, Hereford; Elvin Caraway, Spur; David Louder, Stanton; Button Senter, Lamesa; Christopher Ivey, El Paso; Robert Van Winkle, Conroe; Keith Strack, Spring; Don Davis, Wichita Falls; Cleve Clark, Mansfield; Bobby Horton, Elysian Fields; Art Kirby, Lometa; Kent Sheffield, Mexia; Jerry Fox, Livingston, and Dennis Warren, Hull-Daisetta.

Santa Fe has been a supporter of the FFA since its inception more than 40 years ago.

The railway will honor its winners at a dinner in Kansas City during the national convention this fall.

West Texas C-C voices meat importation laws

The Board of Directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has adopted a position paper voicing a strong recommendation that all meat products imported into the United States meet the same inspection procedures required for domestic meat products to insure compliance with USDA regulations for the export of meat products to the United States.

A copy of the position paper has been sent to the President, the Secretary of Agriculture and members of the West Texas Congressional Delegation.

The regulations adopted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture requires all meat for export to the United States to meet standards of inspection at least equal to those required of domestic products.

"The West Texas Chamber of Commerce questions the quality of enforcement these regulations are receiving," says Dick Yeager of Vernon, chairman of WTCC's Agriculture and Ranching Committee, "and voices serious doubts that foreign meat products come anywhere near complying with the same standards as domestic products."

In the position paper WTCC states that the USDA regulations read: "including observations of the establishments by program representatives at times prearranged with the officials of a foreign meat inspection system." Advance warning prior to an inspection could allow many violations to be remedied, or covered up on a short-time basis.

There is a growing concern among WTCC members that this may be happening. If this is the case, U.S. policy is providing a protected import market for foreign meat producers at a time when American producers are more than able to meet domestic needs.

The paper goes on to state that a policy allowing foreign meat products to be sold on the American market at standards of inspection below that required of U.S. products could only result in unfair competition being forced on the American producer and would allow potentially unsafe, inferior foreign meat products to be produced at a cost advantage over the domestic product.

Yeager says that "substandard inspection does not protect the American consumer from diseased or adulterated meat, which is supposedly the primary purpose of the regulations."

West Texas Chamber of Commerce is calling for nothing more or less than is required domestically in the name of the consumer's best interest; and recommends that an unbiased study committee be appointed to investigate the compliance of foreign meat product exporters to the United States with the regulations imposed by the USDA.

4-H girls enter revue

WHITHARRAL— Thursday, July 10, the sewing girls of 4-H entered the Hockley County Dress Revue in the party room at the Levelland State Bank.

Card Of Thanks

Dear friends and relatives, I want to at this time, the saddest time of my life, and my dearest beloved wife's, Roxie, gentle spirit from the heavens above hovering over me to guide, assist and encourage me in my saddened effort to express to you my most, deepest heartfelt thanks to each and every one who in any way contributed to her pleasure, peace and comfort through the years, and in her recent illness and passing. Doctors Shotwell and Maurer, the nurses, the ladies who sat with her, the entire hospital staff, all who were so kind and faithful, the Funeral home, the Baptist and Methodist churches, and her pastor, Rev. A. J. Kennemer, and a long time faithful friend, Rev. Lowell O. Ryan, Asbury Theological Seminary, Corpus Christi, Texas. I cannot find words to express my appreciation for the beautiful floral offerings expressing love, kindness and sympathy and helping to mark the last resting place of the dearest one on earth to me, Dear Roxie, and the many memorials in her honor, to the First Baptist Church, the First United Methodist Church of Littlefield, Girtown U.S.A. And I trust when the call comes to go, we can answer as Dear Roxie did, ready to go, and we will meet together with our loved ones in the great Beyond, for easily I can imagine I hear the rustle of angel's wings and the melody infinitely sweet, while to choir invisible chants a welcoming song as her gentle spirit wafted on wings of love enters the gates of that Celestial city where there is no more pain or sorrow, but peace with our Lord forever. V. S. Cassell.

Senior Corner

By DON PITTS

Sometimes they don't remember your name or why you have come to see them. They don't come into your office to ask for you help. They aren't organized or militant or even very visible, but you know that they are there.

One that you know sits at the nursing home eaten up with resentment about the hurts that life has dealt her, yet she is still hungry for friendship.

Another sits in her crumbling house watching the world pass by her dusty street. Another you know is dying of cancer, yet somehow cheers you up with his outlook on life as you drive him to the doctor.

These are people who built Lamb County and Littlefield. They came here when there was nothing but cheap land. They plowed the land with mules before the tractors came. They chopped the cotton and pulled the bolls. They built the houses with their own hands. As they talk you can't help but admire their strength and courage. They have lived in a century of tremendous change. They have endured.

Government programs can help with things like food stamps and supplemental security income.

The D.P.W. can help with programs like the homemaker service. Locally-run programs like Community Action with it's outreach program that I am involved and can help. The critical need though is not for programs, but for individuals. There will never be enough money and programs to meet the needs of the people. Only we as individuals with the help of God can do that...

A group of us are planning to go to Lubbock July 23rd to attend a program on how to organize a senior center.

We will be taking the minibus and have plenty of room, so if you are interested, please call and tell us.

A senior center would be a place for seniors to gather for recreation, arts and crafts, meals or whatever their needs are. It would serve as an information and referral center for all programs that apply to seniors.

The one in Levelland is a good example. I think we need one.

Come with us and see what it is all about. The phone number at Community Action is 385-5425.

Pioneer Days

By V. M. (Pete) PETERMAN

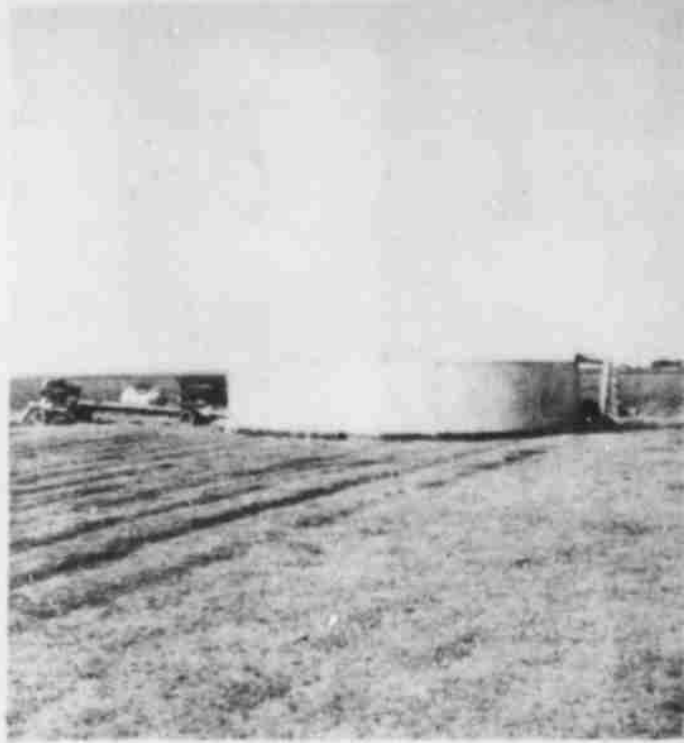

GENEROUS DAY
The Place: Rocky Ford Community, Lamb County
The Subjects: 2 Honeymoon and busters from Oklahoma
The Time: July 20, 1927

Twas 4:30 a.m. That little-but-loud alarm clock on a chair by the bed commenced to do its warning. I raised up and grabbed the thing, and pushed down on the button that stopped its racket. I jumped up on the cool linoleum floor, pulled on a pair of ribbed overalls, a blue denim shirt and lit the coal oil lamp. Emily says be sure to put on a tea kettle of water. I raked back the ashes in the little four-eyed cast iron stove, and with the shucks, cobs and a little kindling, I soon had a good fire going. I went to the water bucket and with a gourd dipper, I soon had it full and back on the stove.

Emily is up in a flash and soon dressed like a man and ready to go. We lit the lantern and with milk bucket in each hand, we took off for the barn. Emily gets the cows in and ready to milk while I feed the mules and hurry back to join her. By the time the milking is done, the roosters began to crow, and we were soon back to the little one-room house we called our home. We strained up the milk, washed out the crocks, and I took the skim milk to the pigs. While Emily got a fresh bucket of water, I chunked up the fire and began breakfast. While she mixed up a batch of biscuits, I sliced some dry salt bacon that we had brought from Oklahoma. When the meat was crisp and done, I took it up, and wife helped make the thickened gravy. With a little pot of boiled coffee, we soon had a good breakfast. With the morning chores about done, I went by the hen house and let the chickens out for the day. Now the work began. I roped two bronc mules, put the chain harness on them, and was off to the field, on a new one-row, six-sweep cultivator that I could guide with my feet to keep it right on the row. Along about 10 o'clock I met the neighbor on the turn row. What a nice time for a friendly chat while the team rested. We got out our Bull Durham tobacco, together with some BC cigarette papers, and rolled our own for a nice smoke and chat. Emily soon brought me a drink of cold water from the well, and I kept on plowing until I heard her blowing the horn for dinner. And when I got to the house, put up the team, watered and fed them. I was more than ready for dinner. She knew how to make good cornbread, and had a pot of pinto beans, together with a cool glass of milk and a few radishes and onions from the little garden by the well. After dinner, I walked a half mile to the mail box to get the mail. I brought back a new "Monkey Ward" catalogue, and a copy of Capper's Weekly. Got a cain bottom chair and moved out in the shade of the shack to read and wait for the horses to rest. About 2 o'clock, Emily and I soon had the mules ready to go again. The evening soon passed and I was back to the house again. The wind doesn't blow much in July, so Emily hooked up the pump and pumped a lot of water for the stock, helped again with the milking, and by sundown we were both back at the house for a good supper of sweet milk and cold cornbread. Happy? You bet. We were on our own and making a living. Nearly 50 years later, we are still here. Have moved to town, and are enjoying life in a different way.

Comptroller collecting state delinquent taxes

Comptroller Bob Bullock said the enforcement officers of his Lubbock district office revealed through audits $46,087 in additional taxes owed the state and collected another $90,395 in taxes during the month of June. Bullock said the office conducted 22 audits during June, yielding an average $195.28 in additional taxes owed per audit hour. Of the $90,395 collected by the office during the month, the Comptroller noted, $71,400 had become delinquent. Statewide field collections by the Comptroller's 36 district offices totaled $4.6 million during June, including $2.3 million in delinquent taxes, Bullock said. He combined audit efforts of field offices turned up $3.6 million in additional taxes owed the state. Bullock also announced the Lubbock office will from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. the convenience of taxpayers. The Lubbock office, headed by Donald F. Paxson, is located in Suite 400, 808 Street, in the Terrace Building Center, telephone 6691. Tetanus immunizations important

Dr. John P. Board, Jr., M.D., Medical Director of Public Health Region 2, notes that there were 16 cases of tetanus reported in Texas during 1975. These cases included both sexes and occurred in two main age groupings, the preschoolers under age six and in the 40 years and older adult group. Dr. Board said that the public needs to be aware of the fact that tetanus is a disease that can be prevented through immunization. However, all citizens are probably not aware of this and as a result do not keep their immunizations up to date. For example, 69 percent of the tetanus cases occurring in 1975 were in the population group over 40 years of age. The problem did not show up in the school age through age 39 group, probably due to a high percentage of persons being immunized as a result of requirements for school attendance or perhaps for military service. The only cases occurring in this younger age group were in children who had not yet started to school and had not yet had the immunizations required by law for school attendance. In 1975, 50 percent of all tetanus cases occurred in the population over 60 years of age and of the cases occurring in this older age group, 75 percent had a fatal outcome. This was a loss of life that could have been prevented by receiving immunizations that are available through the private physician or through the state or county public health clinics. Persons who have not had a tetanus immunization within the last 10 years should make plans to get this done now. Contact your private physician, county health department or Texas Department of Health Resources office and make arrangements to get your tetanus immunization as soon as possible. Athletes may compete in bare feet, or with shoes on both feet or on one. (A shoe may have a maximum of six spikes on the sole.)
