Freakish Winds Tip Mobile Home

By JOELLA LOVVORN

A freakish wind storm late Friday afternoon in the southwestern part of Littlefield laid a 10 by 50-foot mobile home on its side.

Mrs. Charlotte Woolever, owner of the home, was notified just before 5 p.m. by her daughter, Mrs. A. J. Robinson, who resides in the house south of her at 1201 W. 10th, that the mishap had occurred.

He said he was working on an air conditioner near his home when the wind came between his home and the house to the east.

Trash, tin cans, tree limbs and garbage cans were flying in the twisting wind, which picked the mobile home off its foundation, gave it a twist in the air and laid it on its north wall.

Tin, from around the bottom of the mobile home, was found a block and a half north of the site.

According to Police Chief Fitzgerald, several persons saw the "whirlwind" traveling to the north.

Mrs. Bill Fudge and her daughter, Freeda, stopped in their car until the "big whirlwind" with debris in it got across 10th Street, but they did not notice the home had been turned over as they proceeded.

Mrs. Fudge said she had "seen whirlwinds that big out in a field", and was surprised to hear that it had done any damage.

14-Year-Old Gets Kidney

Wain Scott Jones, 14-year-old son of former Sudan residents, Rev. and Mrs. Vendyl Jones received a kidney transplant in a Houston hospital Tuesday.

Young Jones was brought to Houston from Israel in a machine that kept his kidney functioning.

His kidney was removed at Houston and his body was purified by machine while he waited for a donor. The boy has been without kidneys for months.

A 14-year-old girl who died Tuesday from a cerebral hemorrhage was the donor.

Littlefield residents said Jones' parents and hospital spokesmen lists the recipient in satisfactory condition.

4 CASES CLEARED

Burglaries of four Littlefield firms were cleared Thursday when two Negro men admitted the thefts and implicated another Negro.

Billy Shaw and Walter Lee Johnson said they and Willie White broke into McCormick's Service Station and Luce and Nelson Implement on the night of April 18 taking 23 recap tires from McCormicks and five office machines, a radio, tools and a tool box from the implement firm.

They also admitted burglaries of two adding machines from Kinkler Gin on April 10, and the theft of seven office machines from Farmers Co-op Gin on the Spade highway, March 25.

The three men are in the Lamb County jail with their bond set at $5,000 each.

SENIOR AMIGO

He's Been Around
... And Still Going

Littlefield road paving contractor L. H. Hammock found Senior Amigo at a roadside park west of Albany, Texas, and brought him home with him.

Senior Amigo has been hitchhiking for several years now, and his jaunts have taken him to such far-away places as Viet Nam and Hong Kong.

For a while he temporarily enlisted in the U. S. Navy's Antarctic Air Squadron.

In England, he met his "colleagues" at the International Horse Show. He has been hundreds of places on five continents.

Why is Senior Amigo so popular? He isn't handsome; he is only two feet tall, and he is quite horsey.

In fact, he is a horse. Just a homemade wooden stick horse made by a young boy who, several years ago, wanted to do his share toward helping Putnam, Texas, celebrate the 100th anniversary of the Pony Express.

Roddy Reynolds whittled the stick horse out and named him Gold Dust. He fashioned a miniature saddle bag containing a travel log and fastened it to him.

On the cover of the log the owner of Senior Amigo penned a note asking travelers to take him along with them, then pass him on to someone else.

The wooden horse has been riding to make friends and working for freedom and equality for all people over the world for several years.

Roddy is in college now, and his younger brother, Roger, has taken over the world ambassador. Throughout his travels, Senior Amigo has received lots of letters and medals—in short every honor that a stick horse and his proud owner could possibly want.

Hammock left Amigo at Wylie's Travel Center Friday morning and before noon the little horse was off on another good will tour.

L. H. HAMMOCK holds "Amigo," a little homemade wooden horse that has become a world ambassador. The horsey ambassador has been riding around on five continents, making friends and working for freedom and equality everywhere he goes.

Hear A Whistle, Gals? ... It's Babe's Parrot!

The big wolf whistle females get when they pass Babe Banner's City Barber Shop is from Babe's parrot. At least that's the way Babe tells it.

"Pete will give a loud whistle when a woman passes," Babe said. "The women turn around and look. They think it's someone in the shop doing the whistling. Pete sure causes us to get some dirty looks sometimes."

Pete is a one-year-old snip of a parrot compared to some of his ancestors that live 150 years. He is a Chicawa parrot brought here from Guatemala by Banner's brother-in-law.

Pete was a gift to Banner's father-in-law. "But he made so much noise he couldn't stand him," Banner said, "so he gave him to me."

Pete gets to stay in the front of the barber shop "until he gets too loud." Then he is banished to the back room.

"He loves kids," Babe said. "They talk to him and pick at him while they are in here. Then when they leave, he really kicks up. He hollers and whistles and does everything to get them to come back."

The green parrot gets his feathers ruffled when kids irritate him. "He mumbles to himself, squaks and whistles when he gets mad," Banner said. "He recognizes the kids that aggravate him, and he'll try to bite them."

Pete says, "Hello Pete" and "Goodbye Pete" good and loud if he wants to.

"He'll be talking real well in another year," Banner said. "Right now he is still in the whistling stage."

Banner has had an aquarium or two of fish for several years. A popular barber with the young set, the parrot increases Banner's rating. "It helps to calm the little ones down," Babe said. "The youngsters who can't read funny books yet, watch the fish or talk to the parrot. It helps to calm them down so they won't get too excited when they get a hair cut."

Banner started barbering in Littlefield in 1954 for Dub Gilder. "Right here in this shop," he is now owner of the shop and the parrot on Phelps Avenue.

BABE BANNER'S parrot, Pete, causes quite a stir at the City Barber Shop. Pete amuses boys waiting their turn for hair cuts, and whistles at girls and women passing the barber shop. Pete, who is still in the whistling and pin-feather stage, has a life expectancy of 150 years.

FOR THE MAC HUMPHRIES

Girlstown's A Help

By WILAH RODGERS
News Staff Writer

Almost every weekend the Mac Humphries take a pick-up load of donations to Girlstown. And about every other trip, they bring some of the girls home with them.

"It's not what we've done for Girlstown," Mac said, "but what Girlstown has done for us."

"Those who haven't been there to see the home don't know what they are missing," Mac said. "People just don't see what's in their own back yard."

The Humphries say it isn't the material things the girls, in the home for homeless girls at Whiteface, need so much as it is attention. "They are starved for attention," Mrs. Humphries said.

when he and Bill Weige took a donation from the Littlefield fire department to the home.

Mac said he had been to Girlstown once before, but the tremendous needs there didn't register on him the first time. "The girls were all in school that day," Mac said, "and we didn't get to visit with them, and Marshall Cooper was gone."

The second visit made such an impression on Humphries that he has really made up for any lost time. On the second trip to the home, Humphries took five washing machines and a clothes dryer that the fire department had "gotten out and begged for." One of the washers and the dryer were new, and the other four machines were rebuilt and reconditioned—in good working order.

Shortly after this trip, his Girlstown-bound cargo included two

Social Security Pays For County Workers

Is Social Security proving to be a good investment for the average Lamb County worker and his family?

Could he do better with a private annuity to provide for himself and his wife in old age?

The answer seems to be "no." People in the insurance field concede that there is no policy on the market that can match Social Security on a cost basis.

As it stands now, the vast majority of local people protected under the program will draw benefits far in excess of what they have paid or will pay in taxes during their working years.

This is especially true for those who have already retired and for those who will be doing so within a few years. For them it is a real bargain. Most of them will be collecting several times the amount they paid in taxes. Future generations of workers will not fare that well, however.

According to the latest tabulation of the Social Security Administration, retired or disabled workers and their families in Lamb County are getting pension checks at the rate of $2,197,000 a year.

How well does Social Security shape up from the viewpoint of a young man in Lamb County, age 25, who will be working and paying taxes for the next 40 years?

Under the present setup, he will contribute some $17,000 to the pension fund during that period if he earns

What The Leader-News Thinks

Keeping Up With A Jones

The Long Beach, Calif., Press-Telegram recently carried a story about the Piney Woods Country Life School in Mississippi, and its remarkable success in keeping pupils busy and happy.

The story was entered in the Congressional Record by Senator John Stennis of Mississippi. We believe the story should be passed along for the benefit of other administrators.

The founder of the Piney Woods Country Life School is Dr. Laurence C. Jones. It began some 58 years ago when the Doctor began teaching a small boy to read. The two sat beneath the shady branches of a cedar tree, and the following day the lad returned with a gang of friends. The pupils and their mentor drove a flock of sheep from a nearby abandoned cabin and turned it into a schoolhouse.

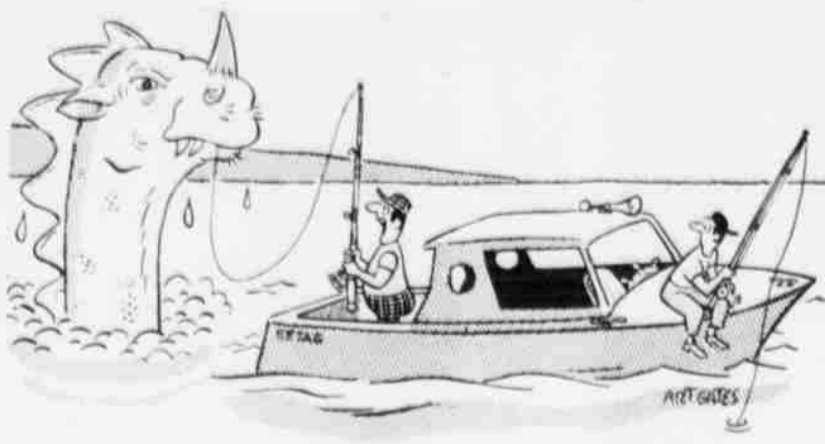

Eventually, with financial aid from Northern friends and donated lumber from the local sawmill, teacher and students raised a new schoolhouse. More land was acquired at $10 per acre. A herd of Ayrshire cattle was received as a donation. New buildings went up, including a machine shop, woodworking shop, a dairy barn, dormitories and additional classrooms.

Donations of $1,017,000 were received in 1955 when Dr. Jones was honored on a TV network show. The school today has an endowment fund of $4 million and 1,600 acres of land. Dr. Jones has been awarded honorary degrees by three universities and a medal from Freedoms Foundation. He now has 350 pupils working toward high school and junior college diplomas.

The secret of the school's success is simple: hard work and plenty of it. The day begins at 5 a.m., breakfast at 6, school or work at 7, with time divided between a task in the morning and another in the afternoon. At 4 p.m., athletics and after that study, study, more study.

The Press-Telegram calls Dr. Jones "a remarkable man". So do we. More educators should try keeping up with this Jones.

THE FARMER'S WIFE

City Problems

By LIBBY MUDGETT

IF THERE'S ONE thing I like to do, it's read about city problems.

It's not that I exactly glory in the fact that the cities are beginning to have grave and pressing problems.

It's just that it tickles me to hear them whine to the Federal Government for help like they have unjustly accused us ruralites of doing for years.

You know, things like the old saw of the farmer driving to town in his Cadillac between fishing trips to collect his government check for not farming.

THE MAYORS of ten of the largest U. S. cities cried until finally the President agreed to a meeting with them. You gotta hear some of their pitiful wails.

"Only those of us dealing with these problems every day realize the life-and-death struggle of the cities." Cleveland's Mayor Carl Stokes.

WE TRIED TO TELL the whole desk-bound USDA that for years about agriculture and got nowhere, but cry on, Mr. Stokes—maybe you will.

"We are losing control of our cities," Mayor Carl Stokes.

If we'd have been listened to 'way back there before the great farm-to-city migration started, you wouldn't have had so many to lose control of and they'd have still been our problem, but I'm just plowing up the same old ground.

"WE CAN'T STOP the black violence and the white violence will surely come next," Mayor Stokes again.

We been a-tellin' you 'bout that. "Such publicized ills as pollution and traffic congestion are not deeply disturbing because they can be treated with money; instead, the real crises lies in the complex social problems that no one knows how to approach." Unidentified Mayor.

THEN WHY ARE you all begging for federal financial aid? Mayor Stokes (for a man that strained every gut he had to get to be Mayor of Cleveland, he sure complains a lot, doesn't he?) said most of the turmoil is caused by 13-to-18-year olds. "What do you do? Send the National Guard into a high school?"

THE PHILOSOPHER

Kids Recalled

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm asks a hard question this week.)

Dear editor:

I found this newspaper on the floorboard of my car after I'd taken it in to have some repair work done—some people say they don't make cars like they used to, but I don't know about that. My 1946 model can burn out a tail pipe just as fast as these new ones—and to get my mind off the repair bill, I sat down and read it.

The thing that caught my eye was an article about how many new cars have been called back in on account of defective parts.

It's not just lower-priced or mass-produced models but all kinds, all the way up to Rolls-Royce. When the manufacturer discovers some models have gotten out to the public with defective parts, he calls them back in for correction.

I have been thinking about this and it has suddenly occurred to me: why can't we use this system on people?

Right now there must be a good many parents all over the nation who'd like to call back their college kids to see if they can correct the defective parts. Obviously they

I can't help but ask why not, if the situation calls for it. But since he seems reluctant, I know of couple of rural high school principals I could recommend.

"WE CAN BUILD all the swimming pools we want with bond issues, but we can't find the tax money to pay the operating costs of life guards and cleaning." Mayor John Lindsay of New York.

Now THERE is a cruel, haunting, major problem and I recommend a national day of mourning over it.

"We're talking about money for this summer and that's an eternity for us." Mayor Daley of Chicago.

THAT'S JUST the way farmers feel when summer comes on, Richard, and they gotta put money they don't have into crops they only HOPE to make that the government only lets them plant so much of and get just so much for, so that they can pay the grocer, the clothier, the farm store, etc. etc. so THEY can pay...oh, it's all so sad. Pass the crying towel.

"State governments, dominated by rural interests, have little sympathy for city problems." The mayors of Syracuse, Phoenix, Boston and San Francisco.

WELL, BLOW ME DOWN! However, if it's really true that the state governments of New York, Arizona, Massachusetts and California are dominated by rural interests, which I doubt, it helps explain lots and lots of farming problems, to wit: most farms are located in the wrong states.

"We can't have it! We can't survive if Federal funds go through the states. They funnel it all off, and it never gets to the people who are intended to get it." Mayor Guess Who.

CARL, YOU HAVE just fulfilled a life long dream of mine—to tell the Federal Government that I will have and what I won't have.

"Everyone left with a feeling of frustration, of uncertainty. None of us felt sure the problem had been grasped. If what we said didn't take, we're in even greater trouble." Unidentified Mayor.

Now you fellas got the swing of it—that's the song of the farmers!

PAUL HARVEY

Sex Education

IT APPEARS to be the contemporary consensus that school is the place to learn about sex.

The Sex and Educational Council of the United States (SECUS) has been praised and damned for its program of sex education in public schools.

El Paso, after a bitter fight, rejected the proposed program after area ministers had denounced the program as a vulgar, amoral conspiracy to corrupt.

I HAVE SEEN paragraphs and phrases lifted from context in the (SECUS) curriculum which do, indeed, appear to reduce the sex act to barnyard breeding.

As with all education, but particularly in the political and social sciences, much depends on where and how individual teachers place emphasis.

Already, there have been court cases confirming that some teachers treat the subject like "fun and games," others titillate themselves with Saxon words and detailed blackboard drawings and I expect any day to hear of classroom demonstrations of the sex act.

WHERE SCIENCE ENDS and pornography begins, the Supreme Court cannot agree and I certainly will not presume to decree.

I have been interested to see the manner in which the same subject is taught in the Christian schools which are sprouting up around the United States at a rate of almost five new ones every week.

The National Assn. of Christian Schools does encourage sex education, but not with pictures and diagrams of dogs and toads likened to the sex act in humans.

ON THESE CAMPUSES, which are providing increasing academic excellence in a Christian environment, the criteria of propriety in sex education is: Does it ennoble man?

It is the Christian's conviction that the purpose of man's here is most important than the practice of reproduction; that spiritual dimension is absent child can have a total education.

INCREASING SEX permissiveness is being taught many public schools as if it were being discovered here and there. Any student of history recognizes increasing amorality as a recent phase which has kept the going in circles for 8,000 years.

Frequently, however, students are denied a sane history. In their social courses they no longer learn roots of Western culture mold the Christian ethic.

TODAY THEY STUDY population explosion, race hunger. Instead of being culture-oriented, they are pubem-oriented.

Now, suppose we do—and with the spiritual dimension omitted, what's wrong with the SECUS courses, even administered in competent hands? What is the result?

ALREADY WE ARE seeing some results of permissiveness: epidemic venereal disease, pregnancies, and increased illegitimacy.

Next in this "normal course" human events comes a generation of unloved children. Whatever that is, it's progress.

SCRAPBOOK

About Those Names . . .

By NILAH RODGERS
Leader-News Staff Writer

Towns in this area with unique names reflect days of the early west. A number of area towns are named after big ranch spreads, such as Matador, Spur, Muleshoe and Spade.

Towns getting their names from early ranching days include Lariat, Whiteface, Bronco, Roundup, Loop, Brand, Hereford and Ropesville.

Plainview was named by early cattlemen for obvious reasons—"everything was in plain view." The same is true of Broadview.

Littlefield is included in a long list of South Plains towns named for people. Littlefield gets its name from George W. Littlefield who bought the 312,175 acre Yellow House Ranch from the Capitol Land syndicate. Being the principal land owner, the town was named after Littlefield when the Santa Fe Railway was persuaded to run a line from Lubbock to the New Mexico line.

Whitharral is another community named after a person. Dr. Whitfield Harral, an official of the Yellow House Land Co., donated a plot of land to be used for a cemetery to the community.

Lums Chapel was named for Will Lums, a farmer in the community who deeded a corner of his farm to the Baptist Church there so they could build a church.

Anton, Bula and Olton were also named after men who figured prominently in the early settlement of the Plains.

Anton was named after James Frederick Anton, Santa Fe superintendent. Before it was officially named Anton by the Santa Fe, it was called "Danforth."

Bula was established in 1900 and was named for Beulah Wilson.

Olton was named in 1903 for a popular preacher, Rev. Olton Dickinson. The town was established in 1908 and was the Lamb County seat until 1946.

Pep was originally called "Big Tub" because near the land office in the northwest corner of Hockley County there was a large tank for watering cattle.

A hard working German colony with "peppy spirits" sprang up here, where the invigorating climate produced "pep," and it was in this spirit and manner that Pep got its name.

Amherst was named for the suggestion of C. A. Morse, a Santa Fe chief engineer. Earth was called "Fairleen" by W. E. Halsell, who selected the townsite and marked a plot for a hotel. When C. H. (Dad) Reeves established a store and became postmaster in 1925, names of Fairleen and Tulsa were rejected and getting down to earth in naming the post office, Reeves named it Earth, reportedly during a sandstorm.

Springlake was named for a spring-fed lake on W. E. Halsell's Mashed O. B. Population was 15 in 1915.

Sudan was covered with lush grass when it was first settled. It named Sudan for a vast region in Northern Africa with a particular grass. Prior to this, Sudan was named Castro, but was changed to honor John James, a rancher.

The railway rejected this name because of its similarity to another station, "James". James was changed to Sudan, June 9, 1917, at the suggestion of C. G. Dana.

Fieldton, located halfway between Littlefield and Olton was named for mid-way point.

STRENGTHEN YOUR FAITH

Through Regular Church Worship

Luke 6:31

And as ye would do to you, do ye also to them likewise

What do you really wish that men would do to you... leave you alone? Try it and you will have a lonely world... no home, no neighborhood, no church, no nation. Do you expect your employees to work for you while you forget their welfare. Do you wish others to deal kindly and generously with you? Do you demand that people be honest, truthful, and trustworthy with you? Would you rather others be courteous, and appreciative of you and lend a helping hand when you have a hard task to do? They who keep the Golden Rule will discover that it must work both ways. It is "the rule of God." In every land and in every age it is the basic rule for good living. One cannot improve on it. If you want Golden Rule treatment from others you must give Golden Rule treatment to them. It will work in the experiences of every man. It is the Divine Way. The Golden Rule is still very Golden.

Respect The Bible

By BOB WEAR
Crescent Drive Church of Christ

IT IS OBVIOUS that many people are reading books about the Bible, and not enough people are reading the Bible.

SOME WHO READ THE BIBLE do so with reservations about its adequacy. Others read it, but limit their interest to the letter of the law, excluding the Bible emphasis on the spirit of the law.

Then, there are some who would completely reject the letter of the law.
NEITHER GROUP HAS AN INTELLIGENT RESPECT FOR GOD'S WORD.

THE LETTER OF THE LAW, and the spirit of the law are properly blended in the gospel of Christ.

In many instances, the vocabulary and views of theologians are accepted as the frame of reference for Bible study. This is, of course, a religious tragedy.

MOST PEOPLE HAVE NO REASON to read the many strange and untrue views of modern theologians, but those who do should always let the Bible be the frame of reference.

We must not stumble around and lose the fullness and the effectiveness of Bible truth in the hazy maze of constantly changing notions dreamed up in the theological climate of the religious world.

WE MUST REJECT the growing interest in "experimental religion," and be more concerned with learning and practicing Bible religion. This demands a growing interest in the Bible as God's word, a better knowledge and much, much greater respect and love. Let us beware of what men are calling "new interpretations," and let us guard against the man who come bringing views.

THE BIBLE IS NOT out-dated, it is a dead letter belonging to a dead past, it is human origin but is God-inspired, and is objectionable from any standpoint.

THE BIBLE IS THE ONLY SOURCE of truth that we need most of all.

Its historical portion is true, and the containing God's law for us is just as applicable as the present moment. It is the most of all information available to us.

THE BIBLE MUST BE HONORED, respected, and used with intelligence in determining our pattern of Christian life and service.

Until the truth of the Bible is believed and obeyed nothing is going to be better for anybody.

THERE ARE NUMEROUS trends from the Bible as the rule of faith and practice. We must not permit ourselves to be led by these trends and influences.

If we turn away from the Bible, we have nothing left for our guide; and so, we are and fro in confusion and despair.

OUR HOPE LIES in maintaining a knowledgeable and honest respect for the Bible as God's full and complete revelation.

Journey To The Past

BY EVALYN PARROTT SCOTT

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is part III in a series of three of the history of the Roy B. McQuatters family, written by Veta McQuatters Bolton.)

One spring morning in 1936 the County Agricultural Agent and the County Home Demonstration Agent came to our house and informed us that we had been chosen by the Lamb County Agricultural Committee to represent the county in a Master Farm Family contest and that we would compete with 20 other families representing the other 20 counties in the district, for district honors. We appreciated their faith in us but Dad and Mother were almost sorry that we had been chosen because they were afraid that we would not be able to measure up to all that would be expected of us. We were told that it was not something that we could get ready for but that we would be judged on past performances - That we would be judged on the use of approved farming and homemaking practices and community service and that the judging would be done by representatives of A & M College.

It was true that we had replaced the little four room house with a larger more modern house but we were still feeling the effects of the depression. Mother had just had major surgery, our furniture was not new very little had been done toward improving the yard and our barn was not a good one. Mother was especially worried about the couch in the living room.

Finally the day for judging arrived. We put on our best bib and tucker and awaited our fate. The lady who judged the homemaking part entered our living room looked around and said, "I approve of your use of a light background paper for this west room. Your pictures are hung at the proper height and your drapes are appropriate but the thing I like most about this room is that it shows signs of having been lived in. Mother drew a sigh of relief and blessed the old couch. Then she took an inventory of our library. About all that we had was a set of Compton's Encyclopedia, a dictionary and a Bible but she remarked that, at least, we had the source of knowledge and then asked for a list of all the newspapers and magazines that we subscribed to. Each room was judged separately. She even examined the closets.

The next thing that she wanted to know was what provision Dad and Mother had made for the recreation and leisure of us children. We had various table games, a baseball and bat, a tennis court and a concrete swimming pool.

Our home provided pantry was in the basement so she went down there to inspect it. Mother was apprehensive about so many empty containers the judge remarked that she liked the way we had our jars arranged on labeled shelves and said that the empty containers bore testimony to the fact that we had been living at home. We felt that we had leaped another hurdle. Living at home was really stressed in those days.

Next the men judged the farming operations. Dad was using all approved methods of soil and water conservation such as terracing, contouring rows, strip cropping, growing legumes and crop rotation and we did have livestock. Then they wanted to know about the achievements and plans of each of us children.

We were all in high school. Roy was a Future Farmer and President of the Lamb County Future Farmers' organization. He had won several trophies in judging livestock and farm products and had a number of ribbons that he had won in declamation. Vera was president of the Youth Fellowship organization of our church and had won first place in 4H work and a trip to A and M College Short Course. I had won first place in Littlefield School on my costume in homemaking and a trip to the State Meet in Fort Worth where I modeled my costume and got my picture on the front page of the Fort Worth Star Telegram. We all planned to continue our education after finishing high school.

After a short time had elapsed we were informed that we had won first place in the district but that we would be judged again by a different set of judges and if found worthy we would automatically receive state honors along with the other four district winning families. We weathered another inspection and was soon informed that we had made the grade. Dad and Dad were invited to attend the A & M Short Course where a banquet would be held in honor of the five winning families. Plaques presented to each family. Mother chosen to make a five minute acceptance speech and asked to please let them know we would accept.

Mother is rather gifted at speech making. She sat down and made an outline of what she thought would be appropriate to say and stood up and made the speech out loud. It was exactly fifteen minutes so she spent the day ironing and practicing her speech and when she got to where she could give five minutes she accepted.

Just before the Short Course was to be an epidemic of Influenza broke out and the Short Course had to be canceled but the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce gave a banquet for us, the plaque was presented and mother made her speech.

Roy graduated from Littlefield High School in 1938 and attended Texas Tech. When War Two came along he volunteered in the Corps. He took Officers Training and was commissioned Second Lieutenant but eventually promoted to Major. Roy served years as a pilot and was discharged as a Captain. When the Korean war came on he was called back into the service and served for a half year as instructor at Reese Air Force Base. When the Vietnam War came on again entered the service and is now serving as an instructor at Carswell Air Base at Fort Worth.

When Vera and I graduated from high school Vera attended Beauty School and later Texas Tech and later taught one year (Mrs. J. A. Webb) and I (Mrs. Fred Bolton) live, with our families, at Kirklind. Mother and Dad have five grandchildren. They are: Martha Sue McQuatters, now Mrs. Blessing of Wilcox, Ariz., Sharon Webb, Mrs. Garey Hoffman of Portland, Ore., and three children Bruce, Dianne and Nancy who are still at home. They also have two grandchildren, James Mathew Blessing and Debbie Mechell Blessing.

Dad has given many years of service in effort to promote the welfare of farmers of our area. He helped organize the Littlefield Farmers' Cooperative Gin and served as member of its Board of Directors for 27 years. He has served as President of the Board of Directors of the Farmer's Cooperative Compress at Lubbock, Vice President of Farmer's Cooperative Oil Mill at Lubbock for 10 years on the State Board of Directors for Cooperatives. He also served ten years on the National Cotton Council and a number of years on The High Plains Water Board in effort to conserve our underground water irrigation. Dad firmly believes that farmers should be allowed to process and market their own products if they choose and thus increase their income.

During World War II when math teachers were scarce mother went back to teaching for seven years taught High School math at Spade. When she retired she took up federal club work and joined the Littlefield Women's Club. She served as its president from 1953-1955 and is again serving as its president now. Mother has served on both the district and the State Board of Directors for the past years. She has always seemed to possess an abundance of energy and what ever she undertook she gave it her best efforts so it was no surprise that she was chosen the outstanding club woman in the district one year but her greatest contribution to club work was sponsoring, state wide, of the study and preservation of our Texas Heritage. She is currently serving on the Endowment Committee for the Clubhouse at Austin and district chairman of Continuing Education. She is a member of Epsilon Sigma Omega Sorority whose motto is "Self Improvement".

Dad and Mother love farm life and although they are retired and rent out their acres they still live on the farm and participate in community activities. They have set for their children an example of honesty, integrity, service and we shall always love and respect them for it.

MRS. SPIES AND DEAN

Summer, Outdoors Are Life For Family

By LaQUINTA LONG

Everywhere wheels are rolling, taking you flat out to fun in the sun. To track, the mountains, or to any scene where the action is. Bike, dragster, or family wagon, leisurely or speedily, any mode of travel is fun and exciting.

Or maybe your nature turns more toward a stay at home, play at home, family bar-be-cue in your own back yard.

To carry out the function for all supercharged, out-of-doors appetites, prepare hearty food and drink, which Mrs. Gene "Carolyn" Spies of Littlefield and her two-year-old son, Dean, are getting ready to do.

Mother of another son, Danny, 7, and wife of Gene Spies, she says, "My family loves to spend most of the summer days in the back yard. We have lots of company during the summer, and cooking out of doors is the simplest and nicest way I know of to serve a group of people. I guess I'm just an outdoors person at heart."

"My husband, Gene, built a patio for our back yard last year, and we have enjoyed it very much."

Carolyn's hobbies, beside cooking, are reading and bowling. Members of the First Baptist Church, Mr. and Mrs. Spies have lived in Littlefield approximately seven years. Gene is employed as parts manager for Armes Chevrolet Company.

Carolyn is a member of Beta Sigma Phi and is currently GA leader for Intermediate girls at the church.

"These recipes are quick and easy and are just right for any outdoor bar-be-cue," said Carolyn.

WESTERN GARDEN DRESSING AND LETTUCE HALVES

1 medium carrot, grated
3 radishes, thinly sliced
1 green onion, minced
1/2 cup Italian dressing
Iceberg lettuce
Stir ingredients together; chill. Makes about 3/4 cup. Core, rinse and drain lettuce; chill in lettuce crisper or plastic bag. Cut head of lettuce into quarters or sixths. Spoon dressing over the lettuce when ready to serve. Makes four to six servings.

HOT MACARONI SALAD WITH HOTDOGS

1 (7 ounce) package of shell macaroni
2 Tbsp. vinegar
1 Tbsp. finely chopped onion
1/2 tsp. prepared mustard
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1/3 cup salad dressing
1/3 cup chopped pimiento
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1/4 cup chopped celery
1 (12 Ounce) package wieners

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water. Fry bacon until crisp; drain. Add vinegar, chopped onion, mustard, salt and pepper to one tablespoon of bacon fat. Heat to boiling. Add drained cooked macaroni, salad dressing, pimiento, green pepper, celery and bacon. Toss.

Place macaroni salad in heat resistant round salad bowl. Arrange wieners in spoke fashion, (like a spoke on a wheel). Put into a 325 degree oven and heat wieners through, about 12 minutes. Place cheese around in the center. Keep hot until bar-be-cue time.

DEVIL'S FOOD CAKE

1 cup margarine or vegetable shortening
2 cups sugar
4 eggs
2 cups flour
3/4 cups cocoa
1 tsp. soda
1 cup strong cold coffee
1 tsp. vanilla

Cream butter or shortening until soft and creamy. Add sugar gradually, beating until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat thoroughly. Sift flour and cocoa together. Dissolve soda in two tablespoons of coffee. Beat until well blended. Add vanilla.

Pour into two nine-inch greased layer pans. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

CHOCOLATE SATIN FROSTING

3 1/2-1 ounce squares of unsweetened chocolate
3 cups sifted confectioners sugar
4 1/2 Tbsp. hot water
1 egg
1/2 cup soft butter or margarine
1 1/2 tsp. vanilla
Melt chocolate in double boiler. Remove from heat. With an electric mixer blend in sugar and water. Beat in egg, then butter and vanilla. Frosting will be thin at this point so place bowl in ice water and beat until it becomes a spreading consistency.

MAX D. HULSE, former Littlefield resident, has been named branch manager for Eppler, Guerin and Turner, Inc., a Dallas-based investment banking firm. Regional manager for the Odessa, Midland and Lubbock area, he has been in the Odessa office eight years. He is son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Hulse of Littlefield and is a 1955 graduate of Littlefield High School.

Little League Opens Monday

Mayor J. E. Chisholm will help the Littlefield Little League kick off a new season Monday night, throwing out the first ball in the 6 p.m. Minor League game between Production Credit Association and Security State.

That game, plus an 8 p.m. tilt between defending champion Rotary against Batson Insurance, will start the new season.

Nationally, Little League is starting its 30th year, and is growing by such leaps and bounds that almost 2,000 leagues have been added in the past two years.

In Littlefield, the two leagues—major and minor—give a half-summer's activity to almost 200 boys, ages 9-12.

Games Tuesday night will pit VFW against Coca Cola in the minors, and Lions against Littlefield Butane in the majors.

Coach Jerry Williams' Rotary team is again the target of the entire major league, having copped the crown two years in a row.

Rotary went through five pre-season games undefeated, but had close ones with Lions and Optimists, a pair of rugged challengers.

Batson is looking to move up this year along with Littlefield Butane, and WOW is usually a strong competitor.

Henderson, Estrada Lead Security Win

Security State Bank opened with a three-run inning and closed the same way in racking up an 8-1 victory over Ware-Richey in the first Babe Ruth game for both teams here Friday night.

Albert Henderson kicked off the first inning attack with a single that drove in a run. Larry Ashley and Gardo Gonzales also had a single apiece.

Danny Estrada doubled in a pair of runs for Security in the top of the seventh.

Glenn Short and Eddie Surrell led the Ware-Richey hitters with a single apiece.

Henderson pitched well for the winners, holding

Ware-Richey scoreless until the bottom of the seventh. Wayne Johnson was the loser.

MRS. JOHN BLACKMAN 933-2222

MRS. RAYMOND Rowland of Amarillo attended services Sunday morning at the Church of Christ as guest of her mother, Mrs. B. S. Setliff and Chester. They all attended the Texas Federation of Mineral Societies convention gem show at Fair Park Coliseum, Sunday afternoon.

MISS DIANA and Shirley Cox, of Dallas spent the weekend with their mother, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Whittenburg. The girls leased a U-Haul trailer and returned with some household furniture, as they had moved into a larger house and could use some pieces of furniture they had wanted to have for a long time. For Sunday dinner they were all guests of Mrs. Jerry Cox and children Jamie and Denene also Whittenburg's mother, Mrs. Fannie Whittenburg of Levelland. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Pinkerton of Sudan also visited with them.

MR. AND MRS. C. A. Williams were made very happy Saturday when they received word that they were grandparents again. A son, James Stephen Cowder, was born to Mr. and Mrs. James Cowder at the Dyess Air Force Base Hospital in Abilene. The little man arrived weighing seven pounds and four ounces.

Mrs. Cowder will be remembered here as Barbara Williams. Mrs. Williams left Wednesday for Abilene to spend a few days and help care for the new arrival.

MR. AND MRS. D. J. Cox and children spent the weekend with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Wallace and children of Plainview.

MRS. RAY Spence and Mrs. Opal McKelvey of Goodland attended the Arts and Crafts show in Portales, N. M., Friday.

MR. AND MRS. Gene Bryan spent Friday afternoon visiting with sick friends and relatives in Lubbock. They spent some time with his sister, Mrs. Hattie Alexander, resident of Rays Hospitality Home; at Methodist Hospital they visited with Mrs. W. T. Thomas and Mrs. Mattie Dever; and at $7,800 or more per year. His employer will provide a similar sum.

The $17,000 he put in will grow to a total of nearly $38,000 if interest at 4 percent is added.

The return that he and his wife will get, if they live 14 years after reaching 65, which is the life expectancy at that age, will be approximately $55,000.

For the 200 or so young men in Lamb County who are now 25, if they continue working until retirement and live the normal span of years thereafter, they will be paying a total of $7,600,000, including interest, into Social Security and be getting back $11,000,000, if married.

In addition, they will have the extra protection that is included against the hazards of life, such as disability pensions, benefits for dependents, hospital care and the like.

VANDALISM REPORTED

Dewey Joe Fields reported a case of vandalism Friday night. His pickup had a window broken out on the driver's side sometime during the day.

Humphries said, "if they have other fill-in foods."

The Humphries have had seven girls from Girlstown in their home at one time, but say they have learned that it usually works best to get one at a time, or one older girl and one younger girl at each visit.

For weekend visits, the girls are allowed to leave Friday after school and come back Sunday afternoon.

GIRLS CAN VISIT in homes one week at a time during the summer, and they can visit for the full time set aside for Christmas and Easter vacations.

"When you visit with them and have the girls in your home a lot, you get attached to them," Mrs. Humphries said. "And when they leave or go home, it just breaks your heart."

"We had been bringing a little four-year-old out here. She had been put in the home because her father had been beating the children and their mother. He beat the mother so badly that she was put in the hospital and the care of the child was left to a neighbor who had children of her own. The neighbor brought her out to the Whiteface home.

"THE LITTLE GIRL'S parents came and got her the other day. Took her back to the same sort of situation she came from.

"But the little thing had been put in the home without a court order, and there wasn't anything anyone could do to keep her from going back to a bad situation. It just broke our hearts when she left," Mrs. Humphries concluded.

The Humphries have one daughter who will be 16 in June.

Families Spending More For Littlefield Homes

How much can the average family in Lamb County afford to spend for a home?

How much of a load may it take on in the form of monthly housing costs, based on its current level of income, without going overboard?

The questions arise at this time because, locally and most other sections of the country, the traditional home-buying season is at hand.

More families go house hunting during the spring and summer months than at any other time of year.

Some help in making these decisions, for families in various income brackets, comes from the Federal Housing Administration and the American Bankers Association.

As a rule of thumb, they feel, the cost of a home should not be much more than twice annual income before federal taxes.

Families in low income brackets sometimes have to pay as much as 2 1/2 times income to get suitable accommodations while those with large earnings generally buy homes that cost considerably less than twice their annual income.

Because the average income in Lamb

County has moved upward, local families are in a position to go in for more expensive housing than in former years.

Their before-tax earnings, which represent the combined income of two or more persons in a large proportion of families, amount to about $7,900 per household, according to the latest figures.

Therefore, applying the guidelines, local families at the average income level may safely expend approximately $20,000 for a home.

Elsewhere in the West South Central States, the average family would be limited to $19,500.

Many Lamb County families have incomes that are higher or lower than the local norm. Those who are in the $20,000 or so income range buy more expensive homes but actually spend a smaller proportion of their income in doing so.

On the other hand, a family at the $6,500 level will be able to afford a home costing no more than $16,000 to $17,000.

As to carrying costs, which include mortgage payments, taxes, insurance, utilities and maintenance, they should be no greater than one-fifth of monthly income, according to the recommendations.

Three Hospitalized In Monday Wreck

Three persons were hospitalized Monday morning as a result of a two-car collision at Sixth and Ripley Streets.

A 1964 Buick, driven by Janice Gallaway Miller of Littlefield was traveling east on Sixth Street and a 1964 Ford, driven by Florence F. Alexander of Littlefield, was going north on Ripley when she apparently failed to stop for a stop sign and the Miller car struck her on the left side, according to the investigating officer's report.

The Miller auto skidded approximately 45 feet before the impact.

Hospitalized were Mrs. Alexander, 74, who was taken to Littlefield Hospital; Mandy Miller, 2 years old and Shelly Miller, seven weeks old were taken to South Plains Hospital at Amherst.

Wednesday evening a minor accident was reported on Phelps Avenue.

A 1960 Chevrolet, driven by Charles Lynn Bolton of Littlefield, was traveling south when a 1964 Ford, driven by Jerry Dwayne Nipp of Littlefield backed from a parking space and struck the Bolton vehicle in the right front fender, door and rear panel.

Thursday evening a 1963 Pontiac, driven by Patrick Wilson Minyard of Sudan, was damaged when a 1967 International Truck tractor, driven by J. C. Moore of Littlefield, proceeded to make a right turn at an intersection.

The truck had pulled over to make a right turn and Minyard pulled up on the right side of the truck. When the truck began its turn, the right rear dual tires struck the left front fender of the Minyard automobile, according to the officer's report.

Would anyone else dare this "guillotine" test?
What happens when a knife-sharp blade cuts into the soft cover of an ordinary golf ball?
That's easy. It cuts. It becomes unplayable.
But try the same trick with a Faultless. What happens? Nothing. That's why you can hit it—right or wrong—time after time, round after round, without worrying about cutting it.
