Hart Camp Co-op Gin heist totals $6,800

Lamb County sheriff's officers are looking for four Mexican males with long hair who are wanted for the theft of over $6,800 from the Hart Camp Co-op Gin Thursday morning.

Bill Ivins, who is manager of the gin said he had started to the bank to make a deposit Thursday morning about 9:45. He placed the money bag on the seat of the pickup and was about to drive off when he was called back into the gin office to answer the telephone. He left the money bag on the seat of the pickup.

When he returned in less than five minutes, he said the money bag was gone and so were four men who had been at the gin asking about work.

Ivins told authorities that the deposit was over $6,800, but only $150 of that amount was in cash. All of the checks had been marked for deposit only and were not negotiable.

Authorities said the suspects were driving a 1967 to 1969 model station wagon.

Several suspects had been checked out as of Friday, but no one had been charged with the theft.

Voter registration for general election to be simple

If you don't have a color-coded blue voter registration card, you are not registered to vote in the November general election. But never mind, as long as you register by Oct. 1 you will be an eligible voter.

And anyone who doesn't register can blame only himself.

Registering to vote is going to be as simple as going to the super market by Sept. 1. All grocery stores who wish to participate in the drive to make all eligible persons registered vote may do so by contacting the secretary of state's office.

One side of these cards, which will be out in public places at the first of next month, has a place for all information needed for the county voter registration list. The other side has a blank place to fill in the name of the county. By simply affixing a postage stamp and mailing these applications, persons may receive their registration certificates.

There is no way of knowing for sure how many persons there are who may not be registered voters, but the secretary of state's office said in a telephone conversation Friday that it is possible that this statewide drive could add as many as three million voters to the rolls.

Approximately 3,300 grocery and convenience store outlets will participate in the voter registration drive in an effort to make forms more easily accessible and registration more convenient.

Secretary of State Mark White said his office wants to make it so simple to vote that anyone who doesn't register to vote does it on his own volition.

"In other words," he added, "those people who do not register are the ones who decide not to participate in the government."

Registration forms will be available in English or Spanish at grocery stores, tax assessor-collectors' offices and other agencies, and at high schools for students just turning 18 and becoming eligible to vote.

"People in today's society are convenience oriented," White said. "They don't want to wait for anything. They want to do it by mail or where it is close to home during the average day."

"You can pay your taxes by mail, get your license plates by mail. That's fine and it works well. Voter registration should also be that simple."

White and members of his staff will spend much of the next six weeks visiting all areas of the state to make the public aware of the ease in voter registration. A toll-free number, 800-292-9602, has been set up to answer questions regarding voter registration.

'Exciting' Wildcats ready for 1976 grid season

By ANDY ROGERS

Littlefield Wildcat fans spent so much time on the edge of their seats last season they must be wondering how Coach Jerry Blakely can claim that his 1976 squad will be even more exciting to watch.

The "thrill-a-minute" Wildcats were undefeated in their first nine games, much to the amazement of the pre-season District 3AA pickers. A loss in their last game of the season to cross-county rival Olton (an eventual regional finalist) was the only low point, but the season still ended with an 8-1-1 mark.

Blakely has high hopes for 1976, but gone are a huge group of 14 lettermen including the likes of all-around star

Bill Turner, quarterback Ronald Farmer and lineman Ricky Hopping. This season, size and experience will be replaced by speed and quickness, and the result, Blakely says, will be a more exciting team.

"This is the quickest team we've had in the years I've been in Littlefield. We know, looking at the overall lack of size on the team, that we're not gonna be able to run over people. So we're gonna try and run 'em to death, using our speed wherever we can."

The passing game, traditionally overlooked in the Wildcat offense, will be a major offensive weapon this season, according to the coach. Rudy Ayala, a 5-7, 150 pound senior and a co-captain, will man the quarterback position, and has the best arm of any recent Wildcat passer.

On the other end of those throws will be junior Greg Moreland or senior Ralph Mendez, both receivers with good hands.

There's real speed in the backfield. Senior Jay Lee and sophomore Rudolph Smith have both turned in 4.7 forties, and co-captain Blake Wood, a senior fullback, is a 4.8 man. Not far behind them are two juniors who will also see some playing time in the backfield, Jeff Birkelbach and Raymond Baiza, and a senior, Leslie Kerby.

"We feel like we've got four guys who have the ability to be good inside runners— Wood, Baiza, Ratliff and Terry Foley (170-pound junior)," said Blakely. "And Lee and Smith have enough speed to be good outside threats."

The offensive line will be quick, but again size will be lacking. Senior Bobby Harper, a 5-11, 220-pound tackle, will shore up one side of the line, while co-captain Layne McKinnon (5-11, 170) is the top guard on the other side. Bolstering the front will be seniors Tony Cowan and Bruce Harlan, and juniors Jack Speck (who has had starting experience at center), Ronnie Milligan (170), and David Jones (the biggest player on the squad at 6-6, 195).

Defensively, the team is younger, but Blakely expects aggressiveness to make up for any lack of experience. Many Wildcats will be starting two ways, but some that have been tabbed primarily for defense are juniors Vernon Johnson, Lewis Willey and Vernon Wesley, all on the line, and linebacker Jef Birkelbach.

In Blakely's five years at the Wildcat helm his teams have been 35-16-3, with three district championships and one second-place finish (last year). So he should be qualified to make a knowledgeable assessment of the 1976 district war.

"We'll be helped this year because of the tremendous balance in the league," he predicts. "There's not a team in the thing that can't win. Everyone has something going for them. The team that wants it the most is gonna come out on top."

Mr. Jerry Tidwell

Littlefield, Texas

Dear Mr. Tidwell,

Thank you so much for the letter from Bruce Barrett you printed as an editorial in the August 1st issue.

This man has said so beautifully exactly what I've seen and believed for so long.

Some 40-hour-a-week workers should follow in the footsteps of my "farmer" husband—not getting off at 5 p.m. but more like 9:30 when dark drives him to the house and then many times in the middle of the night get up to change the water on the crop if it has managed to survive the drought, insects, and weeds.

Thanks again for printing that letter.

Sincerely yours,

ANOTHER GIANT STEP

Don't blame judges

Why are so many hardened criminals returned to the streets?

Many judges get asked this question and some have given up handing out long sentences because they feel the parole board will release them early anyway.

Under Michigan's indeterminate sentence law, a judge can sentence a felon for a maximum number of years as provided by the statute under which the person has been charged, but the minimum cannot be more than 2/3 of the maximum sentence.

Once a judge gives a sentence which is within his authority in a given case, he loses further control over the defendant. Only if the parole board asks for special early release must the sentencing judge be consulted.

In all other cases except life given for first degree murder, the statutes provide the "good time" provisions.

If a prisoner has not violated the rules of the prison or the laws of the state, he is entitled to reductions from his sentence as follows:

During the first and second years of his sentence, 5 days from each month. During the third and fourth years, 6 days from each month. During the fifth and six year, 7 days for each month. During the seventh, eighth and nine years, 9 days for each month. During the tenth, eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth and fourteenth years, 10 days for each month. During the fifteenth, sixteenth, seventeenth, eighteenth and nineteenth years, 12 days for each month. From and including the twentieth year up to and including the period fixed for the expiration of the sentence, 15 days for each month.

The Legislature has further provided that anyone sentenced for life or any term of years, except for life for first degree murder, may after serving 10 years of a sentence, be paroled in the sole discretion of the parole board.

A Woman's View

PEARL BRANDON

IT IS SO wonderful to be a home builder! I don't mean those who just build houses, (although I have a great respect for them. My father was a builder and so are my brothers) but I mean the woman who makes a home out of any kind of a house.

My mother was like that. She moved several times in her life, but every place she moved to soon became just like her—the way she arranged her furniture and her pictures, and all the things she cherished that were a part of her life.

THERE WAS always plenty of food cooked at my mother's house. You could go in anytime of the day and she would ask if you were hungry.

There were also a lot of kids around wherever she was. Her children, grandchildren and neighbors. She loved them and fed them and understood them.

THERE IS nothing nicer than being a woman and being loved by those around you.

My mother had eight daughters-in-law and one son-in-law and they all adored her. She actually had nine daughters-in-law and two sons-in-law because of deaths in the family. They all loved her and so did the brothers, sisters, aunts, uncles, cousins and neighbors.

Today I was looking through one of my books of poems and found this one by Strickland Gillilan which reminded me of my childhood home and my mother. I think you will like it. The title is: "Folks Need A Lot Of Loving."

Folks need a lot of loving in the morning;

The day is all ahead, with cares beset—

The cares we know, and those that give no warning;

For love is God's own antidote for fret.

Folks need a heap of loving at the noontime—

The battle lull, the moment snatched from strife—

Halfway between the waking and the croontime,

When bickering and worryment are rife.

Folks hunger so for loving at the nighttime.

When wearily they take them home to rest—

At slumber song and turning out the light time.

Of all the times for loving, that's the best.

Folks want a lot of loving every minute—

The sympathy of others and their smile!

Till life's end, from the moment they begin it,

Folks need a lot of loving all the while.

I WOULD HATE to close this article without saying something about the love of our Heavenly Father. So many people are in trouble now. The love of our friends is wonderful, but it is nothing compared to His love.

In the 46 Psalm we have this, "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Therefore will not we fear, though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried to the midst of the sea; Though the waters thereof roar and be troubled, though the mountains shake with the swelling thereof. . . Be still, and know that I am God; I will be exalted among the heathen, I will be exalted in the earth. The Lord of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge.

Leon Burch hosting teacher from France

The American Host Family program is making it possible for Leon "Runt" Burch and a fellow teacher from France to exchange cultures on a one to one basis.

Jean Marie Olijati from Ancey, high in the cool Alps of Europe, is spending the week with Burch. From here he will go on to a Pacific coast town in California to stay with two more teachers before returning to France to begin teaching his physical education classes again the first week in September.

An experienced teacher, Olijati has taught 36 years, 25 years of that time at his present school. Aside from teaching snow skiing as part of the physical fitness program, he said physical education and teaching as a whole is very much the same in his country as here.

France's major sports are rugby and soccer, but he was very impressed with the Rangers when he attended a baseball game last weekend. He said our baseball originated from an old French game.

"I couldn't imagine America like this when it is only now celebrating its second bicentennial," he said. "I saw a sentence at Six Flags I liked very much: America is the country which the world could be."

While visiting with Burch, the two teachers have been to the Dallas-Fort Worth area to see Six Flags and the Rangers, to Hart to watch potatoes being graded, to Hereford to some of the feedlots, and to Canyon to see the play "Texas."

Olijati said he finds the American people very friendly, peaceful and pleasant. He is surprised at the richness of the farmland, and was most astonished to see an airplane land on a highway to fill up with gas and chemicals.

Burch said he has enjoyed the man's visit and is glad that he signed the application to host an exchange teacher.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Disposed to be

AS LITTLE AS we may think about it, all of us are "disposed to be" some way. This is not a fixed and unchangeable disposition, although many of us seem to think that it is. If changes are indicated, they can be made.

The change may be difficult, or it may be relatively easy. When a change is needed, the good results will be sufficient reward for all of the time and effort required.

THE WAY WE ARE "disposed to be" is so much a part of us that many of us may have assumed the view that it has been inherited. We are too much inclined to the view, "I am what I am, and I can't do anything about it."

This is not any effort to settle the age-old argument about whether we inherit or acquire our disposition, but it should be remembered that much of what seems to be inherited is what we learn from the earliest days of life.

WE MAY INHERIT certain tendencies, involving the physiologist aspects of life; but, generally speaking, the evidence supports the view that one's disposition is acquired. In the process, we will find it necessary to unlearn some things, and, in addition, we can acquire the life elements which make a "good disposition".

Some of us will find it necessary to exert greater efforts than others, as we work to improve what we are "disposed to be."

WE ARE "DISPOSED TO BE" some way in our life style, including our attitudes toward and responses to other people. If we are not the most desirable way, change.

"A TENDER-HEARTED sionate disposition, which men to pity and to feel the of others, and which is involving any man in ruin is, of all tempers of mind, amiable; and though it ceives much honor, it is highest." — Fielding.

OUR TENDENCY to a aspect, state, character, or be controlled by us, to the we can make it whatever we be; or whatever it should be.

Of course, there must be study, some thought, some and always the very best self-management. Whatever "disposed to be" is the product bent of our mind or spirit, though it appears to be a condition of life, it is not changed, as good judgment

WE HAVE GREAT CAPAB making our disposition what be for most effective living what most of us, perhaps a desire.

In this effort, we must be honest in our self-examination evaluation; and untiring in the edgeable efforts to accomplish best within our reach. It works can see the good results every around us.

Courier has been hinted since Moursund's Bank of the Hills holds several notes on the paper.

Joe Shields, editor of the weekly newspaper in Blanco, led a crusade to make public the goings-on of the Pedernales Electric Cooperative, which has been dominated for many years by Moursund, according to the Observer.

What prompted the drive to uncover PEC management or lack thereof was the fact that electric rates had doubled and tripled in the space of a couple of years, due in large part to pass through of natural gas costs. The PEC buys their power from the Lower Colorado River Authority and then contracts with the LCRA for operation of the system. Folks down there were just wondering why the PEC should act as middleman and requested to see PEC's books. Moursund said the co-op is a private corporation and not a government agency and sidestepped customers who pointed out they were member-owners and stockholders in the corporation.

Anyway, back in Johnson City, the Pucketts at the Record-Courier became staunch defenders of the Pedernales Electric Coop, in spite of being enthusiastic last spring in reporting efforts of consumer groups to look at the co-op's books.

National wire service recently reported that millionaire Moursund, due to a two-and-a-half page report he prepared criticizing federal brucellosis regulations, has now become entitled to state retirement benefits estimated at $660 per month.

Moursund approached State Senator Lloyd Doggett, explaining that he only needed a two-month job to complete the required term for state service. His previous jobs had included jobs as a capitol elevator operator and night watchman many years ago, two terms as state representative, and six years as commissioner for the Parks & Wildlife Department.

Doggett sent Moursund to Secretary Charles Schnabel who veniently found him a spot a payroll of the Senate Natural Resources Committee for the two months.

The brucellosis report was taken incident, but he explained it saying he got Moursund the "service to a constituent. I did anything for him I wouldn't do for, more likely, some former ees of the highway department stood at the edge of qualifying benefits."

Yes, Virginia, there really is a Claus. . . and he's alive and in Austin, Texas.

The $130 billion burden imposed business and taxpayers to keep cords, file reports and complete government regulations would enough to give every man, woman child in the country free groceries year and still leave some change over.

That's what William S. Mitchell, president of Safeway Stores, Inc., a recent stockholders' meeting.

In attacking government regulations and tax policies, he charged that Securities and Exchange Commission rules will force his company to money preparing a "make believe report on the current replacement costs of assets.

Mitchell also said that government is a "senior partner in our business" and "earned" $10.21 per share (taxes) on its zero investment in a company while stockholders receive $1.90 a share.

"Does that strike you as fair?" asked.

He added that Safeway's over half a century are equivalent what Congress appropriates for ing in just 28 hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Franklin and Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Ray.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and she wore a traditional gown of white organza accented in Rachel lace. The Juliet-style gown was designed with a moulded bodice featuring a deep portrait neckline framed in the pearl sprinkled lace. Long Juliet sleeves were softly gathered to lace cuffs, and the full "wedding bell" shaped skirt was also accented with the pearl sprinkled lace down the front and continuing around the skirt to form a Redingote effect. Her veil was a matching lace-edged mantilla, and drifted beyond the length of her train.

She carried a Bible with her bouquet.

The groom wore a white tuxedo with a white shirt trimmed in baby blue.

The bride's mother wore a gown of Nile jersey. The draped bodice was accented with a set-in cummerbund with a matching pearl ornament at the front. A large circular cape complemented the entire silhouette falling to the hemline at the back.

Mrs. Ray wore a blue floor-length gown of dacron knit, designed with a straight skirt and long straight sleeves, with which she wore white accessories.

The bride's traditional "something old" was the handkerchief she carried in her Bible that the groom's mother and grandmother carried in their weddings.

"Something new" was her wedding gown, "something borrowed" was a necklace she wore with her dress that she borrowed from Mrs. Fisher, and "something blue" was her garter. She also wore pennies minted in the years of their births.

Elaine Ellerbe of Littlefield was her maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Kimberly Fisher and Stacy Cline, both of Littlefield, and MaShell Shelton of Dallas. They wore formal-length gowns of double knit, with polyester organza, and carried baskets with floral arrangements.

Royce Merrifield of Littlefield, friend of the groom, was best man. Ronald Parmer, Mike Morris and David Williams, all of Littlefield, were groomsmen. They were dressed in light blue, trimmed in dark blue tuxedos.

Ushering the guests were Michael Fields of Plainview, cousin of the groom, and Blake Wood, friend of the couple.

Guests were registered by Dinah Hanlin of Littlefield.

Shauna Clayton accompanied the piano with a flute playing "If". Jan Sisson played the "Wedding March."

Following the ceremony, a reception was served in the reception room of the church. The reception table was laid with a white satin and lace cloth, and centered with a silver candelabra with green candles. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with white grapes and green leaves, and was served with nuts, mints and punch by Ann Nix of Sudan, Cindy Drake and Pat Orr, both of Littlefield.

Green and blue rose rice bags were distributed to Ann Nix of Sudan, Elaine Ellerby and Kimberly Fisher, both of Littlefield.

Following a wedding trip to Ruidoso, the couple will reside in Littlefield.

Others in the reception party were Mrs. Ronnie Fisher, Mrs. Barbara Richardson, Mrs. Marie Cline, Mrs. Ginger Rainbolt, Mrs. Lillian Cook, all of Littlefield; Mrs. Faye Rogers of Ropes, Mrs. Arlene Rogers of Manatou, Okla., and Mrs. Marveta Findley of El Paso.

MRS. VANSEL BRADY RAY

Mrs. Jack York named field services chairman

Mrs. W. C. Griggs, president of Caprock Girl Scout Council, has announced the appointment of Mrs. Jack York as field services chairman for the Littlefield Service Unit of the Council.

Noting the importance of this position in carrying out Girl Scouting, Mrs. Griggs explained that the Field Services Chairman provides administrative leadership and takes responsibility for developing and maintaining Girl Scouting within a given area, town or community.

Accordingly, Mrs. York's duties during her two-year term will include appointing troop organizers, consultants and leaders, ensuring that Girl Scout program is available to all girls, and presiding over volunteer meetings which identify needs for service in the community and which determine goals for the area and ways of improving the quality of Girl Scouting.

The strength of Girl Scouting within a given area does not come merely from the work of the Field Services Chairman, but rather, it develops from the united efforts of the entire team of adult volunteers. Positions are filled each year by men and women who strive to fulfill the Girl Scout objective of providing a positive environment for young people to grow up in through emphasis on character, conduct, patriotism, and service. Each position is a vital link in the overall network making Girl Scouting available to girls.

Mrs. York has appointed these members to the Service Team for the Littlefield Service Unit: Mrs. James Blackwell, troop organizer; and Mrs. Buster Owens Jr., troop consultant, and Mrs. Owens is also serving on the Board of Directors of the Caprock Girl Scout.

Some vacancies in the service team still exist, and Mrs. York is currently seeking volunteers to fill these positions. Service team members will launch into the year's scheduled activities by attending training Aug. 17 at the Girl Scout Service Center in Lubbock, 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., on Aug. 24 at 501 Joliet, Plainview from 9:30 until 2.

Throughout August, the service team will be involved in selecting leaders for troops and helping them prepare for the coming year. The leader and assistant leader of a Girl Scout troop perform the important function of working directly with girls, helping them to learn and grow so that they may become responsible adults.

Men and women interested in becoming leaders may contact Mrs. Blackwell at 385-3073.

Of vital importance in Caprock Council's efforts to provide effective services and leadership for all girls is the training program for adults.

A variety of training events is scheduled for this year, beginning with the Aug. 17 service team training, and topics will include everything from dutch oven cooking to backpack training to a songs and games workshop.

In September, leaders will receive help in preparing for the year and will develop skill in aspects of program through nine different training events held in five locations throughout the council.

Bridesmaids' gowns were designed like the maid of honor and each wore garden hats and carried a single apricot carnation with a long ribbon.

The flower girl was Sandra Mijares, sister of the groom, El Paso. The ring bearer was Rito Paul Morales, Anton, brother of the bride.

Groomsmen were David Lee Morales, Anton, brother of the bride; Trinidad Rendon, Anton; Bert Mijares, brother of the groom, El Paso; Edward Gallegos, Lubbock; Gilbert Mora, Lubbock, and Shawn Boyd, El Paso.

Inman-Pattison vows recited in Clovis

The upstairs balcony of the O. E. Pattison home north of Clovis, N.M. was the setting for the recent wedding which united Keri Lynn Inman and William Dean Pattison in marriage. The double-ring ceremony was performed on the afternoon of July 17 by the father of the groom.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Inman of Clovis. The groom is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Charles L. Pattison of Ringwood, Okla.

Great-grandparents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Colson of Littlefield. Mrs. Mabel Alexander of Littlefield is a great-aunt of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was escorted up the staircase to the balcony, where she joined the groom and his father, who led the couple in their nuptial vows before a kneeling bench flanked palms. The couple faced the guests who were seated below. A heart-shaped candelabra with 17 candles stood at the top of the staircase which was draped with ribbon and large bows and streamers.

The bride wore a formal gown of dacton polyester organza with an empire waistline and a mandarin neckline, both accented with Venice lace. The A-line silhouette was accented with Venice lace. To complete her ensemble, the bride chose a matching wide-brimmed picture hat with a fingertip veil of illusion trimmed with Venice lace. She carried a cascade of orchid and the white mini-carnations surrounding a large white orchid which, after the wedding, was taken out and worn for the going away corsage.

Following tradition, the bride wore her bridal gown and hat as something new. Something old was a white, lace-trimmed handkerchief that her mother had carried on her wedding day. Something borrowed was a white pearl-covered Bible, and something blue was the bride's blue garter. In her shoes were pennies minted in the couple's birth years.

Lynn Pattison of Ringwood, sister of the groom, played the organ and provided the music for the bridal march.

Maid of honor was Paula Marin. Bridesmaid was Peggy Beck. They wore identical, floor-length, sleeveless dresses of printed voile. The dresses had ruffled pinafore effects, square necklines and were trimmed in eyelet with contrasting orchid trim. Wide-brimmed orchid picture hats trimmed with printed voile matching their dresses completed their attire. They carried ecru lace-covered baskets filled with orchid silk violets and ruffles of matching tulle.

Charles Pattison of Ringwood served his brother as best man and Steve Gyuricsko was groomsman. The groom wore a white tux with black pants and a white shirt. The best man and groomsman wore similar tuxes with orchid shirts and matching orchid carnation boutonnieres.

Ushers were Robert Inman, brother of the bride, and David Odom. Rose Ellen Pattison, cousin of the groom, presided over the registration.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Inman wore a floor-length orchid dress of symphony polyester with an empire waistline and a V-neckline. The dress was accented with orchid pearls and a corsage of orchid and white mini-carnations. Mrs. Pattison chose a pale blue, two-piece dress of double-knit accented with white. She wore an all-white corsage of mini-carnation.

The reception immediately followed the ceremony and was held downstairs, where the wedding cake and punch, with nuts and mints, were served.

The graduated three-tiered cake was decorated with laced icing and orchid rosettes and lillies of the valley. The tiers were separated by columns and the cake was topped with two white satin wedding bells trimmed with pearls and surrounded by a white heart.

Serving at the reception were Susan Jones and Nancy Jouragan.

As her going away outfit, the bride chose a yellow pants suit with a matching blouse and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will be at home in Clovis where the bride will be attending school this fall and the groom will be employed by the Santa Fe Railway.

Special guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brown Sr., Morton, great-grandparents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Colson, Littlefield, grandparents of the bride; Mrs. Bessie Pattison, Clovis, grandmother of the groom; Mrs. Ruby Pederson, Fremont, Calif., grandmother of the bride; and Mrs. Mabel Alexander, Littlefield, great-aunt of the bride.

Other out of town guests were the Robert E. Harrisons and the Buell Pattison family, all of Taos; Mrs. Alice Linn

Duncan of Seattle, Wash.; the Roger Pattisons, Portales; Bonnie Blackstone, Morton; Lara Pederson, Fremont; Polly and Edna

Spade board gets new budget

The Spade school board Monday approved a budget of $244,000 for the 1976-77 school year.

The new figure represents an increase of about 15%, according to Supt. Joe Bailey. The increase was needed primarily to handle the automatic teacher pay raises set up by the state. Spade schools employ 16 teachers, aids and administrators.

The increase will amount to about a 17% hike in taxes.

The board also set lunch prices at 45 cents for children up to the fourth grade and 55 cents for older children.

Local students attend Student Council workshop

Students from Littlefield High School attended session 1 of the annual Texas Association of Student Councils leadership workshop at Trinity University in San Antonio.

Students attending the workshop were Blake Altman, Mary Echevarria, Kevin Gardner, Leigh Kirby, Benita Parker, and Dana Yoakum of Fieldton.

Council sponsor Charlene Reast accompanied the students to the workshop.

The workshop drew students from high schools all over Texas for two week-long sessions.

Under the leadership of consultant Mary McKinnon and director Sid Langhart, students studied problem solving, organizing activities, comparing activities, budgeting, and group dynamics. Each session included recreational activities, athletics, a talent show, and a sing-along.

The week climaxed with an achievement banquet at the university refectory.

Corn disease tour planned

George Sides farm, west of Dimmitt is the site of a corn disease demonstration tour Tuesday, at 1:30 p.m. for corn and other interested persons. Lamb County Extension Agent Buddy C. Logsdon will lead the tour.

Maize Dwarf Mosaic Virus, another serious disease of corn, are also evident in the Sides farm demonstration although infections are not prevalent in most hybrids, Logsdon adds.

Corn growers and others interested in that increasingly important High Plains crop are urged to attend, Logsdon says. The tour will begin at the George Sides home seven miles west of Dimmitt on Hwy. 86.

Most damaging to corn has been head smut, says Logsdon. In 1975 the field infection was 18 percent in a county which resulted in a 30 percent yield loss below the long time average on the Sides farm.

Tour guests also will be able to view the effects of corn rust which attacked all but one of the commercial hybrids. Logsdon says that with recent rains and dews, ideal rust conditions exist.

Three aspects of El Salvador's educational program are especially interesting. 1. Educational programs are designed to provide students with skills to earn a living.

2. Students who drop out of school can continue their education by using the two national educational TV channels.

3. For the 60,000 young people now enrolled in the four universities, tuition is commensurate with each student's financial situation.

For youngsters who years ago might have faced a lifetime of menial drudgery at poverty wages, the new educational program is helping the country live up to its name. In Spanish, "El Salvador" means "The Savior."

Childbirth Without Pain classes begin August 18

The Childbirth Without Pain Education League conducts a series of six preparatory classes for expectant parents instructing them in the techniques of the Lamaze Method of prepared childbirth.

Anyone interested in attending classes is asked to contact Pat Behnke, 385-6043. This series of classes will begin Wednesday, Aug. 18, at 7:30 p.m., and are for couples whose baby is due the last week of September and first week of October.

The Lamaze Method of childbirth prepares the couple physically, emotionally and educationally for birth. The Childbirth Without Pain Education League originated through the efforts of a group of women who were striving to have an easier and more rewarding birth experience. By 1971 it had become a national organization developing new materials, carrying on research and offering formal instruction to their teachers and students.

Classes consist of a series of six to seven weekly meetings, held informally with a limited number of students and taught in the eighth and ninth months of pregnancy. Most women choose to have a coach attend classes, usually a husband or friend. The Lamaze method allows the mother and coach to work together with the doctor preparing for a normal participating labor and birth. The goal of CWPEL is to have the healthiest, safest, happiest birth experience for mother, father and baby.

23% of 4-H members live on farms, 40% in rural areas and towns of less than 10,000 population, and 37% in cities, towns and suburbs of 10,000-50,000 and larger.

NEWS Of Education UNUSUAL PROGRAM

In tiny El Salvador, where 32% of the national budget goes for education, new innovations in education are winning attention from U.S. educators.

Goal: Earning Skills

Three aspects of El Salvador's educational program are especially interesting.

1. Educational programs are designed to provide students with skills to earn a living.

2. Students who drop out of school can continue their education by using the two national educational TV channels.

3. For the 60,000 young people now enrolled in the four universities, tuition is commensurate with each student's financial situation.

For youngsters who years ago might have faced a lifetime of menial drudgery at poverty wages, the new educational program is helping the country live up to its name. In Spanish, "El Salvador" means "The Savior."

Visitor industry down in years in past

Spring's auto visitors to the Star State enjoyed more but spent less, according to the state's quarterly report.

On a tabulation of more than 10,000 questionnaires completed by travelers of state who came to the state during the spring quarter, the report said.

Per person per day, the report said, the number of visitors fell 18 percent from the same period last year.

The unexpected drop in those tourist and business visitors was partially compensated for by an increased length of stay that averaged 9.9 days.

Although the number of questionnaires returned was almost double that of the comparison period in 1975, total visitor volume is not measured in the quarterly reports. Such totals can be determined only on an annual basis, and are reported in the state's year-end visitor industry survey.

DEFENSIVE END DAVID JONES, who at 6-6, 195 pounds is the tallest player on the Littlefield squad, takes a hard shot from Greg Moreland Friday as the schoolboys opened workouts with pads. The hitting was fierce and there was more than one bruise as the Wildcats prepared for their first scrimmage Friday against Plains here. [Staff Photo]

First contact work pleases 'Cat coach

The muffled sound of conditioning drills was replaced by the hard thwack of colliding pads Friday as high school football players got into full gear for the first time.

In Littlefield, optimism ran high Friday morning. "We had a real good workout for the first time in pads," said head coach Jerry Blakely. "The enthusiasm towards practicing has been just great, and we can see a tremendous improvement in our football team."

"We felt like we had four days of real good workouts in shorts. We were able to get in about 80% of our offense and defense. The boys know what to do so far as where they're supposed to be and blocking schemes. These next few days in pads we'll teach 'em how to do it."

Blakely singled out the defensive secondarymen for their aggressive play in the first contact work. "I was particularly pleased with Terry Foley (junior) and Rudolph Smith (sophomore). They surprised me. Jeff Ratliff and Jay Lee in the secondary, Blake Wood at linebacker and noseguards Jack Speck and Tony Cowan also looked real good."

Next week will be devoted to tuning up for the Wildcat's scrimmage against Plains, set Friday night at about 7:30 p.m. in Wildcat Stadium. "We'll be working a lot on the basics -- blocking and tackling-- and we'll get our running game going. We've worked so much on the pass-

All-stars' season concludes

The story that began three months ago finally wound to a close Wednesday morning for the Littlefield Little League All-stars.

The 14 young athletes started playing baseball in the local league in the middle of May, and joined together as the Littlefield All-stars they whipped five play-off opponents to make the state tourney last week in Waco.

After a first-round 11-8 loss to a huge Abilene Dixie team, Littlefield's season ended in the consolation bracket as they fell just short of Bandera, losing 2-1.

Still, that was the farthest a Littlefield team had advanced since 1960, and the accomplishment is even greater in the light of Coach Bill Healy's statement that, "We were undoubtedly the smallest team there."

Bandera picked up their two runs in the third and fourth inning, both coming following errors. Littlefield pitcher Randy Healy allowed just four hits, and his single in the third was one of only two local hits.

The other belonged to Bobby Martinez, Littlefield's most outstanding ball player throughout the playoffs. He slugged a solo homer to open the bottom of the sixth inning and give his team a chance at the comeback. But the last three batters went down in order and the team from down San Antonio way moved on to the next round.

Most of the Littlefield team came back home late Thursday night. Though not state champions, the local All-stars advanced farther than anyone ever thought they would and represented Littlefield like true champions in every game.

Phariss learned glass trade from Dad

Doc Phariss, owner of Crafton Glass in Littlefield, put in his first pane of glass when he was eight. "My family has been in the glass business for several generations," says Phariss, "and I learned the trade starting very young from my dad. He's still working down in Abilene, and I've already got my four boys down here working with me some."

Crafton Glass, located at 817 Hall Ave. next to David Bell auto dealership, has been serving area contractors since the first of the year, though the store has been open only since May 1. Phariss worked 17 years in all the big glass factories around Dallas, and in his sales trips to the Panhandle he heard that Littlefield was in need of a first-rate glass store.

"As soon as I and my family saw the town, we knew we wanted to live here," says Phariss. "We were all from the city, and the small town atmosphere was a wonderful change."

So Phariss went into partnership with Dale Crafton and put in the shop. Since then, the partnership has dissolved, Crafton taking full control of a store in Lubbock and Phariss remaining here.

Crafton Glass has a big city inventory in the back shop, and what is not immediately available can be located and brought in rapidly. There are three full-time employees who are a call to install any kind of glass imaginable: store-fronts, house windows, car windows, and even down a picture frames. Old business throughout the city are getting a new face and added attractiveness with the help of Phariss.

"It's amazing what a new front can do for an old building," insists Phariss. "If some of the older store owners would just look at what we have to offer, I'm sure they would see how much good it could do them."

Central Plains Texas Club has scheduled its 1976 Football Season "Kick-Off" Banquet for Friday, August 20 at 8 p.m. to be held at the Plainview Country Club. During the banquet, Texas A&M's Centennial movie, "That Certain Spirit," will be presented. "That Certain Spirit" premiered on state-wide television April 21, 1976, as a part of Texas A&M University's Centennial Observance. The film offers a glimpse at the institution's colorful history as well as showing the university as it is today. Filmed highlights of the twelve 1975 Texas A&M football games will also be shown. After being inactive for several years, the Central Plains A&M Club recently reorganized at the 1976 Muster in Plainview. Efforts are being made to contact former students in the surrounding area. Interested persons may obtain more information by writing P. O. Box 997, Plainview, Texas 79072 or by calling 293-8106. A right-handed hammer thrower wears a protective glove on his left hand.
