She was caught in the midst of a question and answer session following her introduction by Mrs. Mozelle Hudson and Mrs. Pearl Brandon look on.

Texas Senator's Wife Makes Littlefield Visit

Accompanying her to the coffee were Mrs. Pearl Brandon, vice chairman of the Republican Party of Texas; Mrs. Marvin Selig, first vice president of the Texas Federation of Republican Women; Susan McCormick, with the central staff in Austin; and Theo Taylor, friend of Mrs. Tower's from Amarillo.

Mrs. Tower briefed her audience of some of the happenings in Washington, latest political events, and some of her "hectic" family life due to her husband's busy schedule.

Hostesses for the event were Tina Wicker, Diane Mitchell, Sandy Bradley and Dot Downs.

'Frito Bandito' Is Theft Suspect

"The Frito Bandito" evidently struck in Littlefield Monday night or early Tuesday morning.

When Askew went to the warehouse located east of Skipper Smith's on East Delano, he found that one of the bottom panels of the big overhead door had been kicked in and the building entered.

Missing were several boxes of potato chips and Fritos.

The station, known as Channel 5, will present a five-scene play, "Know One's Self", which was written by Christa Bradley, a Littlefield student.

EVERYTHING, including lemons, grow bigger and better in Texas—for Otto Jones in Littlefield in particular. Mrs. Jones holds one of the lemons from her lemon tree in her left hand and a store-bought California lemon in her other hand for comparison. The Jones have had the tree about 18 years and they have no idea how much fruit it has produced. One of the Texas-sized lemons will make a gallon of lemonade.

Water Group Seeks Amendment Support

Lamb County Water, Incorporated is seeking 400 members for the Lamb County unit and are calling on the organization's members to support the passage of Constitutional amendment number four to be voted on in the May 18 election.

The amendment is for establishing the interest rate on bonds at six per cent interest rather than the four per cent now in effect.

Charles Duval, county membership chairman, said passage of the proposed amendment is necessary for sufficient water for this area.

The proposed amendment would actually accomplish three objectives. First, it provides funds to assist cities, towns and villages in the construction of waste water treatment facilities, assistance that opens the door for increased federal assistance. Under present procedures for calculating federal assistance, such federal grants increase in percentage of the overall project cost if state funds are involved. If approved by the voters, $100,000,000 bonds would be earmarked for such assistance in the form of grants and loans. Such treatment facilities can go far in cleaning up the state's rivers and streams.

The second objective is a continuation of the Texas Water Development Fund beyond Dec. 31, 1962. Under present constitutional provisions, the 1962 date is the cutoff for use of $400,000,000 bond funds previously approved by the voters. For the past two years, these water development bonds have been unmarketable because of interest rate limitations, thus delaying anticipated development. Further, experience shows that development of water resources is a continuing project and can not and should not be subject to some arbitrary termination date. It is a fact, as the population increases and the economy flourishes, there is a continuing need for water resource development.

The third objective of the proposed constitutional amendment is considered by many to be the most important, the setting of the interest rates on water development bonds at no more than 6 per cent.

At the present time, the interest rates are pegged at a constitutional four percent per annum rate, a restriction that has rendered the state's water development bonds virtually unmarketable for more than two years. Of the $400,000,000 water development bonds authorized by the voters, only about $115,000,000 have actually been sold. The raising of the maximum interest rates to six percent would clear the way for legislative authorization and sale of the remainder of the bonds, putting the money to work in vitally needed water development projects.

Court Renews Premiums

Lamb County commissioners renewed general auto liability and workmen's compensation insurance premiums amounting to $14,375 at a regular meeting of the commissioners' court Monday.

All votes in the county school board elections were canvassed, and monthly and quarterly reports of county officials were approved.

A motion failed to carry to reimburse Herbert Dunn, county tax assessor-collector, $281.60 for travel expenses incurred traveling to the Sudan county depository bank during the April 1969-October 1969 period.

In other action, commissioners ordered county wide and precinct bills paid, and passed a motion granting General Telephone Company right of way for installation of buried cable north of Tide Products and northwest of Earth.

A BOOK SALE in the Lamb County Library begins Monday morning at 10 o'clock and continues through Friday during Public Library Week, April 19-23. Donations of books are needed for the sale. Mrs. Olga Graham checks out books to two regular library patrons, Gina and Bryan Patterson, children of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Patterson of Amherst.

Patterson Children In Tractor-Pickup Mishap

Bridgett, Carmaleta and Crockett Patterson narrowly escaped injury in a tractor-pickup accident early yesterday morning.

December 17, was driving the 420 John Deere and pulling a pipe trailer east on F2197 about 7:55 Wednesday morning. She was accompanied by 10-year-old Carmaleta, and Crockett, nine, who were helping change irrigation water for their dad, Tony Patterson.

While driving on the east side of 419 N. Sunset, topped a rise in the road in a 1960 Chevrolet pickup. The tractor and pipe trailer until almost upon them. Barker pulled his vehicle to the left and caught the left rear of the trailer then swerved into the rear of the tractor, knocking the wheel off.

Highway Patrolman Bill Angel investigated the accident.

Another rural accident was investigated at Amherst Saturday afternoon.

Meda Cowen was traveling west on 10th Street in a 1969 Ford when Ronald Huffstetler, driving a 1961 Ford pickup, pulled from the curb and his bumper struck the right rear fender of the Cowen car. There were no personal injuries and property damage was light. Weldon Parson was the investigating officer.

IT'S NOT 'NEST ON GROUND'

He Irrigates With Used Water

Managing an irrigation system for municipal sewage effluent or re-claimed water is basically about the same as any other irrigation system around Littlefield, according to Deb Bawcom who farms the C.O. Griffin estate just off the Spade Highway.

And even though Bawcom's irrigation is mostly by reclaimed water, he says he still doesn't have enough most of the time, and "it's no bird's nest on the ground like some people think."

Output from the effluent equals about one-half of a good eight-inch irrigation well, or about 400 gallons per minute, Bawcom said. And seven 4" wells supplement the reclaimed water.

The water supply has its disadvantages as well as its advantages. "You've got to use that water summer, winter, spring and fall," Bawcom said, "whether you need it or not. So you've always got to have a place to go with it."

When it's dry, like now, Bawcom said there isn't enough water to stretch over the estate and he needs rain to help out. But when it's wet, like year before last after this portion of Lamb County was hailed out, there is too much water since, in addition to the sewage effluent, flood water from 65 per cent of the city runs into the storage lake.

Bawcom said 36 hours of storage is all that he has, and knowing that everything is going to run over if the water isn't used keeps him thinking ahead.

A long-term lease is necessary because of the big investment in using the water. In addition to $30,000 worth of underground pipe line and hydrants, there are one and one-half miles of pipe on the three farms.

Contrary to what some might think, the water is pure and clean and does not smell. Before going into the holding ponds and lagoon, the sewage plant removes all solids and treats the water with chlorine so that when the water leaves the contact zone it is claimed to be safe enough to drink.

It is in the storage that the water collects blowing trash and papers that cause a problem.

Two Spellers Named For County Contest

At least two spellers from Lamb County have been chosen for the County Spelling Bee, scheduled for Saturday, April 24, at 1:30 p.m. in the district courtroom of the Lamb County Courthouse.

Shelley Hargrove and Gaylene Rogers will represent the Sudan Elementary School in the spelling bee.

Contestants from the other Lamb County schools have not been decided.

Shelley Hargrove is the 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hargrove of Sudan, and is a seventh grade student.

Gaylene Rogers, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rogers of Sudan, will be representing her school the second consecutive year. She is also a seventh grader.

Two spellers from each school district in the county are eligible to compete, and the winner will go to the district bee in Lubbock May 1.

Mrs. Lenton Smith will pronounce words for the spellers.

Ribbons and prizes will be awarded to all participants.

FOR THOSE ESPECIALLY feminine occasions, treat your guests to some delicious, rich and tender treats. Luscious is the word for both of these treats.

"Raisin Coconut Torte" is a dessert to make when you haven't much time, but yet you want to be extra nice to your guests.

Whipped up in minutes, the meringue base has coconut, graham cracker crumbs and chopped raisins for a delicious flavor and texture—with finishing touches of elegant raisin-rum whipped cream topping—sweet, yes, but healthy, since it is so full of raisins.

Tender "Lemon-Coconut Meringue Bars" are good to the last bite.

The cookie bars are combined with the delectable flavor of cookie coconut, chopped pecans and the zestiness of lemon, topped off with a crowning cover of meringue.

WHY NOT SERVE a party perfect treat and have your guests coming back for more—you'll get a lot of praise I'm sure.

RAISIN COCONUT TORTE

3/4 cup dark or golden raisins
4 egg whites
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
1 cup graham cracker crumbs
1/2 cup flaked coconut
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup whipping cream
1 tablespoon powdered sugar
1 teaspoon rum (or vanilla)
Chop raisins lightly. Reserve 1/4 cup.

Beat egg whites with salt until barely stiff. Gradually beat in sugar. Fold in crumbs, coconut, 1/2 cup raisins and vanilla.

Turn into greased 9-inch layer cake pan with removable bottom. (Line bottom of pan with circle of foil, if you do not have a pan with removable bottom.)

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Cool thoroughly. Cut into wedges.

Whip cream until stiff. Fold in remaining 1/4 cup chopped raisins, powdered sugar and rum.

Serve over torte. Makes about 8 servings.

LEMON-COCONUT MERINGUE BARS

1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup sugar
2 egg yolks
1 cup all-purpose flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/4 cups cookie coconut
1/2 cup chopped pecans
2 teaspoons lemon rind
2 egg whites
1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Cream butter. Gradually add 1/2 cup sugar, creaming well after each addition. Beat in egg yolks, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each. Blend in flour and salt. Stir in 1 cup of the coconut, the pecans, and lemon rind.

Spread evenly in a lightly greased 13x9-inch pan. Bake at 350 degrees about 20 minutes, or until golden brown around edges.

Meanwhile, beat egg whites with cream of tartar until foamy throughout. Gradually add 1/2 cup sugar, beating thoroughly after each addition. Gradually add lemon juice and continue beating until meringue will form very stiff shiny peaks.

Spread over pastry in pan. Sprinkle top with remaining 1/4 cup coconut.

Bake at 375 degrees for 10 to 15 minutes, or until topping is golden brown. Cool; then cut into 1 1/2 x 2-inch bars.

Cover and store at room temperature. Makes 32 bars.

Tornado Season

ONE OF NATURE'S deadliest phenomena is the tornado—a violent, destructive whirling wind that strikes almost without warning and seemingly at random, sweeping everything out of its path as its whiplash tail moves in a narrow path over the land.

communications, or through special warning devices.

IF WORSE COMES to worse, and a tornado does strike a community, the Texas Health Department stands ready to provide vaccine and public health engineering and emergency nursing know-how to stem the threat of disease or further complications while disaster relief is underway.

The National Weather Service has developed a new system of terminology to more accurately inform you of the severe weather conditions around you.

THE TEXAS STATE DEPARTMENT of Health has joined with other state and federal agencies and medical associations to see that all areas of the state are prepared in case of a disaster.

A "SEVERE WEATHER WATCH" indicates that weather conditions are such that severe weather could develop in the immediate area. A "SEVERE WEATHER WARNING" means that severe weather has actually developed, and care should be taken. A "SEVERE WEATHER ALERT" is a warning that severe weather is moving directly into the area.

Consequently, Texas is meeting the 1971 tornado season with one of the world's most complete storm warning systems, and a well-oiled public health relief organization.

The same holds true for tornado warnings.

TEXAS' "local severe weather warning system", the first established anywhere in the world, now has radar storm warning sets in almost all major cities in the state.

A "TORNADO WATCH" indicates the possibility of conditions existing that could lead to the development of a tornado.

These stations are all connected by teletype and radio. Any station is able to instantly appraise all other stations of a tornado traveling in their direction.

A "TORNADO WARNING" means that a tornado has actually been sighted in the area, and extreme caution should be taken.

All communities in the vicinity of the twister can be warned of the tornado's approach through normal channels of

A "TORNADO ALERT" means to act fast, a tornado is in the immediate area.

PAUL HARVEY Long, Long Trail

THE NEWEST Gallup Poll shows 7 out of 10 Americans believe President Nixon "is not telling the public everything about Vietnam."

What if he doesn't know? Between the Vietnamese battlefields and the President's desk in Washington there's a long, long trail a-winding.

WHEN YOUR PLATOON finishes a fire fight, you are too busy to file a formal, written report. You report the results to your company C.O.—orally. The company commander relays your evaluation of what happened to the battalion commander—again, usually, orally.

THE RESULTS of your action are first reduced to writing at brigade headquarters.

In cases of extreme urgency or a pertinent innovation in frontline strategy, this sequence might be abbreviated through an ORLL report outside channels, but 999 times out of 1,000 there are three people telling people what happened before a written administrative report is filed at brigade headquarters.

NOW, IF WHAT happened is of sufficient significance, a written report will go to division headquarters, then to corps headquarters, then to Gen. Abrams at MACV (Military Assistance Command Vietnam).

Gen. Abrams reports on any "named operation" through CINCPAC, through the Joint Chiefs, simultaneously to the Pentagon and to White House Operations. The final rewrite by Henry Kissinger is what the President sees.

IF PRESIDENT NIXON goes on the air and tells you that "Vietnamization is working..."

Or if he says that only "4 of 22 ARVN divisions stubbed their toes in Laos..." He may have received that "information" directly from Gen. Abrams or it may have come to him down the long, long trail.

CONCEIVABLY, at any one of seven levels, White House value-judgments could be purposely distorted, a President politically subverted.

More likely, the facts would be embellished innocently. Chairman J. W. Fulbright of Senate Foreign Relations says the President's assessment of what happened in Laos is either "a massive deception of the American people or a massive misjudgment on the part of our political or military leaders."

POLITICAL SCIENTIST James MacGregor Burns, after several weeks conferring with White House advisers, says he detected among them "a bafflement and discouragement over the continuing Indochina crises which reminded (him) of the state of mind of President Johnson's top advisers during the last days of that Administration."

There is a too-frequent discrepancy between what our expert reporters report from up front and what we hear through channels back here. The questionable credibility is not all ours.

THERE WAS AT LEAST one major overrun of an artillery base during the Laos incursion which the White House learned about first from our stateside news media.

President Nixon, aware that the reports he gets through channels may be colored, frequently sends personal emissaries to Saigon.

FOR RIGHT-NOW battle-front specifics, that's not good enough.

Americans are conditioned to assume that our nation's leaders know more about what's going on than we do. I am raising for consideration the frightening fact that they don't always know.

A WOMAN'S VIEW

Sunbeams

By PEARL BRANDON

TODAY THIS IS the story, and the poems of a little old, interesting woman who is now in a rest home at Altus, Okla.

Friends say she is still alert and as sharp as ever.

She was a farm woman and once cooked for ranch hands on the Matador Ranch.

CAN'T YOU JUST see her, in the poem below, in a ramshackle kitchen cooking on an old range with a stovepipe that smoked when the wind was in the wrong direction.

One morning I was working in my kitchen, far from clean;

I expect that I'd been thinking life had served me rather mean.

For my stove had got to smoking, and my pots and pans were black.

I had failed to see a sunbeam that was coming through a crack.

Not so with baby Aaron, he came through the door just then,

Toddling, waddling, like all such little men—

He took a step forward, hand outstretched in childish glee.

I thought the little fellow was coming right to me—

But his eye had caught the sunbeam as it shinned upon my back,

And his little heart was gladdened by the sunbeam through a crack.

I should like to be a window, through which God's love could shine.

To brighten, comfort, warm and cheer my friends at any time.

I've done so little to chase the shadows back.

Still my love can help a tiny bit, like sunshine through a crack.

THOSE OF US who were reared on a farm and has pulled cotton by hand can appreciate this poem. Do you remember the measuring worm?

My hands had been tired, one day I worked and my body was tired. Between the rows I lay on my sack. . . and rested my back.

As I lay there and looked at the blue sky, A worm crawled over the cotton near by.

From my head to feet, that worm did his best

To measure me, but he measured by dress.

That worm can measure and measure away,

But when he is through he has just measured clay.

His kindred will measure my body when cold,

But only the Maker can measure my soul.

FRIENDS TELL ME this little woman is still the center of attention in that rest home where she lives.

Still quoting poetry, the Bible, . . . and telling stories.

She is still brightening lives with her homey things like this one:

I brought an old cracked mirror out and placed it in the sun,

It threw its brightness all around, and cheered up everyone.

That old mirror by itself was a very common thing.

It must be placed upon a shelf, or in its frame to swing;

And yet, when placed exactly right, to catch the sun's bright beam,

A host of little rays of light will from its cracked face gleam.

Just so with me, unless I stay where I can catch the light

I might as well with idlers play, my work is useless. . . quite.

AREN'T YOU GLAD we could meet this lovely little woman?

HOMINY GRITS

"SHOWDOWN ON STATE TAX SET"—Headline in our suburban rag. If I wasn't past thirty-nine, that headline would make me a bit uneasy.

Shucks, we've been facing these "Showdowns" all our lives. The terminology is somewhat wrong. The word is "Shakedown."

AND WHEN all the shaking is over, it will boil down to one thing. John Q. Taxpayer is going to have to dig a little deeper. Never, do we hear anything about economizing in high places—just how to raise more taxes.

Add to this, the present pot that's boiling in Washington, namely, the Revenue Sharing Plan, and you have a potential for a pretty stinking stew.

OH, NO, the revenue sharing thing is not dead. It's still simmering on one of the back burners.

Of course, the idea is, that Uncle Sugar take over the big job of collecting all the taxes, then divvy up with the states.

ALL DEAR OL' UNK has to divide up at the present time, is a huge deficit! Any such plan will NOT lower taxes, nor, will we receive as much as we give.

They argue that Unk already has the wringer set up to collect these taxes. But, I betcha if such a plan should go through, he'd have to BUY A BIGGER WRINGER! Now, where would the saving be?

PLUS THE FACT that easy-come money is not so carefully watched. If these funds should start pouring in from the federal coffers, the states would feel obligated to spend it all, lest their allowable be cut!!

Plus another fact, that we've vested too much authority in Washington, already. We, sometimes, wonder why we fight the commies so heatedly, when we're coming so close to adopting their system in our own country!

I'M SURE WE could do without a lot of our high-salaried officials in public office. We could operate without a bunch of our bureaus. We could do with less foreign aid. We could get along with less subsidies. AND, last, but not least, we could do without the police-action in Vietnam.

When it's all said and done, (more is said than done!) whichever way the chips fall, it'll be the workin-jerk that gets it in the neck!

HE'S THE ONE that punches the clock every morning. He's the one that produces. He's the one that is constantly amazed at the size chunk that Sam takes out of his check each week. He's the one that gets his groceries at the local market. He's the one that expects to pay for what he gets.

He pays a mint of money for hospitalization insurance, yet, can't afford to use one; since the Medicare and Medicaid programs were inaugurated.

Since the introduction of these programs, hospital rooms have increased from $12 and $14 to $40 and $50. This is just a sample of what government aid is doing for us.

REALLY, I don't think we can afford any more help from Sam!

So come on, State Legislature, start shaking!

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Happy Thinking

By BOB WEAR

SOME PEOPLE ARE BORN to be cheerful and pleasant, and others are destined to be melancholy and disagreeable seems to be the view of many folk.

We know, however, of no reliable authority for such a conclusion. In fact, there is good reason to think that all mentally sound persons have the power to choose for themselves.

THE IMPORTANT FACT for all of us to remember is that "As a man thinks in his mind, so is he."

We are the keepers of the mind, and we are, in this respect, the masters of our own fate. "Keep the mind with all diligence, for out of it are the issues of life."

"MAN BEING MADE a reasonable, and so a thinking creature, there is nothing more worthy of his being, than the right direction and employment of his thoughts, since upon this depend both his usefulness to the public, and his own present and future benefits in all respects."—Penn.

In our world, there are enough shortcomings, problems and difficulties to control our thinking completely. The thoughts will be unhappy thoughts, and thus make bad matters worse for us. There is a better way open to us. We can control our thinking and, if we choose, we can make it happy thinking.

IF WE MAKE IT HAPPY thinking, we can cope with the shortcomings, the problems and the difficulties. We may not overcome all of them, but we can prevent them from overcoming us.

"We are controlled by our environment, and our life situation" is the conclusion of many people. They say that we have no choice about what or how we think. This viewpoint may seem plausible, but it is not supported by the available facts.

IT IS TRUE that our surroundings and our life situation will have some influence upon our lives. We, however, still have the power to control our thinking; and we are held accountable for doing so.

We see two people in the same general situation. One is miserable, unhappy and unpleasant; but the other one is happy and pleasant in spite of the undesirable situation. Each person had made his choice. One chose to think unhappy thoughts, and the other one chose happy thoughts.

WE HAVE THE POWER to control and direct our thoughts, and since our behavior originates in our thinking, we have the power to control and direct our actions. Therefore, we can easily see that happy thinking is essential to our general well-being.

"WHATEVER IS TRUE, honorable, just, pure, lovely, gracious, if there be any excellence, anything worthy of praise, think about these things."

—Bible.

We can direct our thoughts toward objects that produce despondency, unpleasantness and life failure; or we can direct our thoughts toward those things which yield buoyancy, cheerfulness and life success.

Woman Released

From County Jail

A 17-year-old Negro woman, Brown of Route 1, Amherst, was released from the Lamb County Jail on a $10,000 bond after being charged with an attempt to murder her husband.

The stabbing incident occurred at 1:10 a.m. Sunday near Amherst. The victim was in intensive care at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

Special Olympics For Retarded Children

More than 200 retarded children from the South Plains area are expected to participate in track and field events as part of the regional Special Olympics.

This year's event will be held at the Texas Tech University track on Saturday, April 17 starting at 9 a.m. and continuing through 4 p.m.

Winners of the regional meet will be invited to attend the statewide meet and from there to the national competition.

Texas Tech students and organizations will be soliciting for donations to help pay the way for winners of the regional meet to attend further special olympics.

The students are also trying to raise money for special recreational projects at the Lubbock State School.

Saturday, April 10 the students will visit the shopping centers and discount store locations seeking these donations. Donation tickets will also be available week at the Texas Tech Athletics Office and at Furr's Family Center, Street and Quaker.

Those wishing to make a contribution may send their checks, made out Special Olympics Fund, c/o Vol. Service Council, Lubbock State School, P.O. Box 5396, Lubbock, Texas, 79402.

On the day of the Special Olympics students will escort children from Lubbock State School to the olympics. Events and special activities have been planned for the enjoyment of spectators and participants.

Recent scientific research has shown that physical activities, sports and competitive athletics are a major means of reaching the retarded. Here is an area where he can succeed and start to build a positive self-image, gaining confidence in the gymnasium and on the playing field. He also improves his performance in the classroom, at home and eventually in the job. It is believed that the Special Olympics can serve as a motivating "framework" for the benefit of retarded children.

The serving table was in a pink and white theme, centered with a pink colonial doll cake, featuring six pink rosebud candelholders, five adorning the skirt of the doll and one in her hand. Party favors of tiny Easter baskets, filled with jelly beans and Easter eggs were placed at each child's plate. Pink punch was also served to the guests.

Vinegar And Its Many Uses

If you're bothered by a sore throat, have bug bites or your house reeks of fish, reach for a bottle of vinegar.

At less than 30 cents a quart and considering its versatility, a bottle of vinegar is one of your best buys.

Vinegar cooks, cleans, heals, deodorizes and preserves, among its more obvious usages, so keep vinegar with both camping and cooking gear, in the field and at home.

After you have fried fish, pour some vinegar in the hot frypan and the fish smell will fade away. When you clean up afterwards, add a little vinegar to the dishwasher. The acetic acid helps cut the grease.

Cheese will stay moist and soft if wrapped in a cloth dampened with vinegar. Wilted vegetables come to life when soaked in cold water and vinegar. When camping, a dash of vinegar in a canteen spikes the taste of flat or boiled water and makes it a better thirst-quencher.

Vinegar also has many medicinal uses. A teaspoon in a cup of water does wonders for a sore throat. Applied full strength, it not only repels insects, but eases the sting and itch of bites. It also relieves the discomfort of sunburn.

Other possible uses for vinegar includes a solvent for loosening rusty bolts and hinges, softening old paint brushes, and helping to open clogged drains.

Clarendon Ex-Students Are Planning Reunion

Ex-Students from the Lamb County area are invited to attend the first combined Ex-Student Association Reunion to be held on the new Clarendon College campus at Clarendon April 30, May 1 and 2.

A search is being made for ex-students of Clarendon College dating back to 1898 when the college was first organized. Clarendon College is located in the rolling plains at the eastern edge of the Texas Panhandle, a stone's throw from the new Greenbelt Lake and an hour's drive from Amarillo.

The college was organized and operated by Texas Methodists until 1923 when the church moved its facilities to Abilene to form McMurray University. The Clarendon College property was purchased by the people of Clarendon and continued to operate as a locally-supported school until recent years when it obtained additional support with a brand-new campus as a Texas junior college.

One of the highlights of the reunion will be the presentation of the famed musical "Oklahoma" by the college drama department Friday night, April 30 following registration and visitation during the day.

Saturday, May 1, will be for late registrants with coffee and visitation at the cafeteria while the first official meeting will be held at 10 a.m. The afternoon schedule calls for art and artifact shows, golf tournaments, tea sessions, tours of the new Clarendon campus and nearby Greenbelt Lake and Country Club. The annual banquet and dance will conclude festivities Saturday night while visitors will be invited to attend the church of their choice Sunday morning and enjoy a noon luncheon at the college cafeteria.

Reservations for the reunion may be made by writing Beryl Clinton, Dean of Clarendon College, Box 968, Clarendon, Texas.

Price Calls For Repeal Of 1968 Gun Control Act

Congressman Bob Price of Pampa has called upon Congress to repeal the Gun Control Act of 1968. In a strongly worded speech Price urged House liberals to face reality and, "consider the fundamental fact that guns and ammunition do not kill people—people kill people," and that, "as long as criminals think they can profit from crimes involving the use of guns, criminals will use guns to commit crimes."

The Texas lawmaker stated that those interested in controlling armed crime and violence would serve their purposes better by focusing attention on reforms of the criminal justice system. "What is needed is upgrading and better equipping state and local police forces, enacting tougher laws to deter potential criminals and to severely punish convicted felons, streamlining criminal court procedures, and reforming for penal system."

Price also introduced legislation removing Federal restrictions on the sale of .22 calibre rifle ammunition. The last Congress had repealed the restrictions on the sale of .22 calibre rifle ammunition, but his proposal relating to .22 calibre rifle ammunition passed House, then saw no action.

In support of his proposal, Price cited the Gun Control Act of 1968 that in the first two years of the passage of the Act was not one single case where any of the requirements for sportsman ammunition proved helpful enforcement or led to successful investigation or prosecution of a crime.

Price declared, "The Gun Control Act would rid the American of the burdens of a law never should have been in the first place." "Repealing the restrictions on the sale of .22 calibre rifle ammunition would remove perhaps thousands upon thousands of sportsmen and merchants most aggravating single of the Act itself, a feature has been conclusively have absolutely no crime prevention and control," he said.

Notice is hereby given that Atmospherics Incorporated of 4981 East Dakota, Fresno, California, 93727, who holds License #2 of the State of Texas, intends to engage in a weather modification operation designed to increase rainfall, for and on behalf of the Plains Weather Improvement Association located at P. O. Box 1627, Plainview, Texas, 79072, and will conduct such a program by means of aerial application of artificial nuclei as follows:

1. The area over or in which equipment may be operated shall include all or portions of the counties of Crosby, Floyd, Briscoe, Swisher, Hale, Lubbock, Hockley, Lamb, Castro, Parmer, Bailey, and Cochran.

2. The target area within which rainfall is intended to be increased can be described as follows:

The boundary of the target area shall be a line beginning at a point of origin at Littlefield in Lamb County, Texas, and running northwest to Amherst; thence due west to the intersection of Roads 37 and 303; thence due north along Road 303 to Road 145 near the east boundary line of Parmer County; thence easterly along Road 145 to its intersection with Road 1424; thence south on Road 1424 to the north boundary line of Hale County; thence due east along the north boundary line of Hale County to Road 378 at the intersection with the north boundary line of Floyd County; thence due south to a point 10 miles south of the south boundary line of Floyd County; thence due north to the south boundary line of Hale County; thence due west along the south boundary line of Hale County to the intersection of Highway 84 and the south boundary line of Lamb County; thence northwest to the point of origin at Littlefield.

3. The equipment, materials and methods to be used in conducting an operation within this area of approximately 2,000 sq. miles include a 3 cm radar system, cloud seeding aircraft, and the application of silver iodide ice nuclei, hygroscopic nuclei or other nuclei considered appropriate to the artificial nucleation of clouds or weather systems.

4. This program is intended to supplement and enhance a weather modification program designed to suppress hail in the target area described under (2) above and specified under a previous Notice of Intent covering the same operational period.

5. The program will be operational during the period from May 1, 1971 through October 30, 1971.

6. Any person who feels they may be affected in some adverse way by this program may file a formal complaint to the Texas Water Development Board, P. O. Box 12396, Austin, Texas, 78711.

General Telephone Planning Negotiations

Eighty-one employees of General Telephone Company in the Littlefield area are among more than 6,000 of the company's employees from a five-state area who are being covered in negotiations by the Communications Workers of America-AFL-CIO.

Negotiations are scheduled to begin May 20, and the present agreement terminates midnight, June 27.

T. O. Mosses, CWA AFL-CIO International representative and chairman of the employees of the General Telephone Co. of the Southwest Bargaining Committee, speaking at a bargaining caucus on April 4, told union representatives from the five states of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Louisiana serviced by General Telephone, that "There is not the slightest doubt that an increase in excess of 25 percent in the wages of the General Telephone employees is a reasonable justifiable demand."

Mosses stated that whatever gains we won three years ago, have long since been "eaten" away by a continuing and incessant rise in prices. Telephone workers like the rest of the nation, have lost more than 16 percent of their purchasing power since our last negotiation in the worst inflation in decades.

In this connection we are aware that the Nixon Administration's economic policies are designed to develop public opinion resistance to union collective bargaining programs so that labor organizations may be induced, not to seek, much less achieve, the legitimate and reasonable demands of our members. Because of their economic situation, General Telephone workers cannot be satisfied with the present conditions, and we are determined to negotiate the biggest increase in our history.

"Wages, vacations, holidays, overtime payment, working conditions, you name it, now all lag pitifully behind those enjoyed by other telephone employees often working just across the street from General Telephone employees such as the situation found in Garland and Irving. We don't think the public is aware of the fact that today a Telephone Installer with four years of service makes $26 per week less than his counter-part on the other side of the street," Mosses continued.

"This disparity has got to go. We seek no more than that received by other telephone employees doing the same identical work, and we do not plan to settle again for any less. It is time the management of General Telephone woke up to the fact that the desirable goal of Good Service also embraces the important and necessary ingredients of fairness and satisfaction to its employees," he concluded.

Livestock Dealer Charged With Violation

Harold Rousser, a livestock dealer of Tulia has been charged with violating payment, accounting, and bonding requirements under the Packers and Stockyards Act, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

He purchases livestock from the Texas panhandle, and eastern New Mexico.

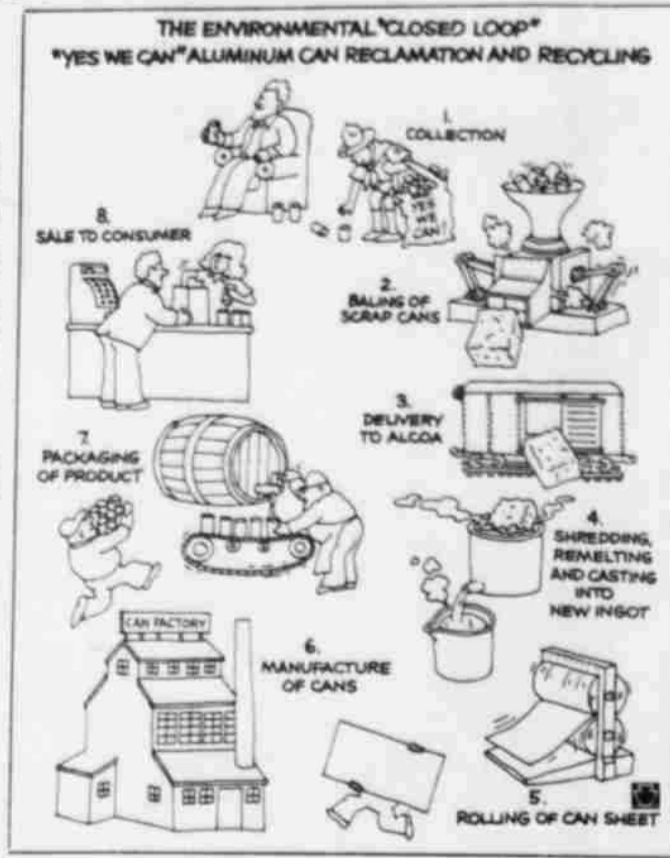

The administrative complaint was filed by USDA's Packers and Stockyards Administration.

"Filing of a complaint does not prove that Rousser has violated the P&S Act. He has a right to a hearing to determine if the evidence supports the charges," the USDA stated.

P&S Act requires livestock dealers to pay for livestock by no later than the close of business on the day following purchase, unless credit has been arranged in advance.

Dealers must also provide bonds. These are measures of financial protection for sellers.

The P&S Act is a fair trade practices law. It promotes and maintains fair and open com-

Farm Labor Jobs Fewer This Year

States which use Texas migrant farm labor have warned that fewer jobs will be available this year.

Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio, Wisconsin, Oregon, Washington and Idaho all report an expected drop in migrant job opportunities for 1971.

"It is even more important this year to contact the Texas Employment Commission office before you leave for migratory farm jobs out-of-state," says Roy Wilson, of TEC.

"This is the only way workers can be sure they will find jobs when they leave Texas. This way, they can know when and where work will be available, what the wages will be, and what the working and living standards will be," Wilson added.

Increased mechanization

leaves fewer jobs each year for migratory laborers. This year, the economic downturn has made more local labor available, and this will cut migrant job opportunities even further.

Last year many migrants were stranded in other states when they went with "free wheeler" crew leaders who handle their own recruitment and employer relations.

A check with the employment Commission beforehand will help find jobs available, and information about conditions in the states. Last year the Commission provided information through agencies in the states. Last year the Commission provided information through agencies in the states. SPC Nursing Program Receives Huge Grant

South Plains College at Levelland has received a grant of $37,700 for a new pilot program in Vocational Nurse Education.

The college was the only institution selected for the program, which received a unanimous vote of approval from the Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners on March 26 in Austin.

The grant is sponsored through the Research Division of the Texas Education Agency.

Making the presentation to the Board were Davis Carvey and Dean Frank Hunt. Carvey and Mrs. Alicia Travis have been working on the proposal for the project since January 1.

Accompanying Carvey, Mrs. Travis and Dean Hunt to Austin was Mrs. Nevelle Danner, R. N., instructor of Vocational Nursing at SPC. Dean Hunt is Director of Technical-Vocational-Occupational programs of the college.

The objective of the pilot Vocational Nursing program is to establish a flexible approach to the training of vocational nurses. If the proposed training innovations are proved worthwhile, schools in sparsely populated areas will be able to train in sufficient numbers to satisfy the need. It is also the contention of the college to train in sufficient numbers to satisfy the need, and that this proposal will upgrade the training of vocational nurses to the point of keeping pace with changing demands on the modern day nurse.

The proposal will introduce modern concepts of classroom and laboratory teaching which is more in line with professional demands upon the nurse. It will emphasize more attention to classroom instruction and will be made more meaningful with full time exposure to nursing procedures. A cooperative agreement depicting the responsibilities of the hospital, college and student will insure proper training in the clinical phase.

It is planned to publish findings in this project on a statewide basis through newsletters and professional journals. Should this project prove successful, it will bring about sweeping changes in the training of vocational nurses in the state of Texas.

The study was primarily concerned with the upgrading of Licensed Vocational Nurse training in Texas, to better prepare the LVN her changing role.

More specifically it was the aim of the study to develop a firm proposal designed to increase LVN training program productivity, resulting in more health care training per dollar.

Pigweed (carelessweed)? Cocklebur? Sunflower? Morning glory?

BANVEL GETS TO THE ROOT OF YOUR WEED PROBLEM

BANVEL TRANSLOCATES/SPRAYED 7th OF MONTH

4 DAYS LATER

More and more grain sorghum producers find certain deep-rooted weed populations building up. Neither other weed killers nor cultivation give effective control of extra-tough and resistant pigweed (carelessweed), sunflower, cocklebur, morning glory, lambsquarter, purslane, other costly broadleaves.

Banvel, the post-emergent herbicide, does control them. For one simple reason. Banvel translocates. Absorbed by foliage and roots, Banvel moves with plant fluids from leaf tip to roots, and back again. Destroys as it goes.

Cost of Banvel? As little as $1.90 per acre broadcast. Spray 10 to 25 days after emergence of sorghum, when weeds are young, growing most actively. Sorghum, when used as directed, is completely tolerant to Banvel. Ask dealer or custom sprayer for full information on Banvel. Every container of Banvel carries the Velsicol guarantee of sorghum tolerance to Banvel.

Tillage Studies Being Expanded

Research studies on minimum tillage practices are being expanded for 1971 at the High Plains Research Foundation.

Since the Foundation began the studies two years ago, several problems have been noticed and several questions have been raised. That minimum tillage can be a solution to reducing production costs has been demonstrated in some cases. Research scientists explain that there are still many questions which arise over methods to handle minimum tillage.

Cooperating with Chevron Chemical Company and Geigy Chemical Company, research scientists at the Foundation have established studies in dryland minimum tillage on grain sorghum and cotton, irrigation methods and herbicide residue from previous years in off-station sites.

Participating in the off-station tests are Bobby McBeth of Hale Center, Larry Witten of Olton, and Dennis Mooney of Hale Center.

At the Foundation, scientists Jim Schrib and Dennis Mooney will conduct a minimum tillage study in water penetration. Three methods of minimum tillage plowing will be used. One method will be to use one chisel in the bottom of the furrow. A second method will utilize stubble mulch type sweeps and a third method will use a combination sweep and chisel in the furrow.

Mooney said one problem that has been noticed is trash and stubble residue, especially in cotton planted between grain sorghum stubble rows. "If the herbicide does not work effectively, then it is almost impossible to control weeds by conventional tillage," Mooney pointed out.

Another area of study will concentrate on reducing the amount of herbicide needed to control weeds. All methods will be compared to conventional methods.

Mooney said that results from the past two years of study indicate that minimum tillage practices with grain sorghum can maintain present yields, and possibly increase cotton yields.

Complete information on studies conducted in 1970 will be available to Foundation members in the Annual Research Report to be released soon.
