Cotton Price Down, Grain Sorghum Up

Announcement of the price was made Tuesday by the producers may expect a net increase in total price for grain sorghum and a decrease on the base cotton loan.

Awaited Cotton Plan

Speculation as to how the program will be planted on the Plains farm program. And it is expected to make meaningful pending issuance of final regulations will be adopted in Washington. As of this time, the amount of acreage for the three major uses of set-aside regulations are yet to be determined. These factors will have a direct effect on producer planting anything approaching an acreage for the High Plains as a whole.

aside level will be changed prior to the program signup of Mar. 1-April 9. Two blanks in a skip-row pattern will count as set-aside on all conserving bases. The lower loan rate will make it hard for farmers to decide whether to plant more than their payment bases, but the program is generally expected to produce a substantial increase in cotton plantings on the Plains in '71. The lower loan may discourage foreign plantings and permit U.S. cotton to capture a larger share of the world market.

The feed grain program will have a maximum set-aside of 20 per cent, and is subject to revision downward at a later date, depending on results of the planting intentions survey. If the grain set-aside is lowered, the preliminary production payment would be reduced proportionately.

The 1971 expected grain sorghum production payment will be 52 cents per hundredweight—or 29 cents per bushel—on 50 per cent of the base acres. The payment this year was 53 cents.

The price support loan for grain sorghum was set at $1.73 per hundredweight, up from $1.61 this year. The loan rate plus the payment this year provided total price supports of $2.14, or 11 cents less than the comparable figure for 1971.

The extra loan protection means income protection and financing stability to farmers since the USDA is doing away with most of the diversion.

This price is calculated on a feeding value of grain sorghum at 92 per cent that of corn. Many grain sorghum producers are unhappy with this since the USDA handbooks list milo nutritional relationship to corn at 92 per cent for beef cattle to 110 per cent for other livestock and poultry.

Salvation Army Movie Is 'Fluffy'

"Fluffy, The Cross-Eyed Lion", a movie to benefit the Salvation Army's Christmas Cheer program, will be shown here Saturday morning, Dec. 19, at the Palace Theater. "The admission charge," according to Captain Daniel Hudson, "will be canned goods or a new toy." An anonymous member of the Salvation Army Board has paid for the rental and labor involved in the showing of the movie.

Five Plead Not Guilty

Two persons were sentenced to a total of seven years in the state penitentiary and three others were sentenced to three years each and given probationary terms in non-jury hearings and arraignments here Tuesday.

George Milton Magar, who was indicted last week for the burglary of a cache of guns and ammunition from K. Houk's City Trading Post, waived a trial by jury and entered a plea of guilty. District Judge Pat Boone Jr. found Magar guilty of the charge and sentenced him to four years in the Texas Department of Corrections at Huntsville, with his sentence to start May 28.

Ronald Reyes Hernandez waived trial by jury and entered a plea of guilty in the burglary of the Roark Jewelry in Sudan. Hernandez was found guilty as charged and sentenced to three years in the state pen.

Irineo Gonzales of Sudan waived a trial by jury and went before Judge Boone to enter a guilty plea to the burglary of Joe Stark's garage in Earth. Gonzales was found guilty and was ordered to make restitution to Stark for damages of $175 and was sentenced to three years in the Department of Corrections, with his sentence probated for three years.

Thomas Tex Sharp of Sudan waived a jury trial and pleaded guilty to a charge of arson, or the willful destruction of a barn and livestock owned by W.T. Vereen of Sudan. Sharp was sentenced to three years, with the three years probated, and was ordered to make restitution of $700 to Vereen.

Ignacio Affregio Martinez of Olton waived a jury trial and pleaded guilty to burglary of a service station at Olton owned by Richard Roberson. Martinez was sentenced to three years, probated for the term, and was ordered to make restitution in an amount the court will decide at a later date.

In arraignments, five persons indicted by a grand jury last week, pleaded not guilty.

Entering pleas in the arraignments were Raymond Garcia, forgery and passing; Franklin Madison Reed, driving while intoxicated; Robert Finch Jr., rape; Clara Bertha O'Neal, murder with malice aforethought; and Charles McGee, assault with intent to murder.

Olton Man Guilty Of Obscene Calls

An Olton man in his mid-30's was found guilty Monday of making obscene telephone calls.

Robert Melvin Lewis was charged with unlawful use of the telephone on Oct. 19. He appeared before County Judge G.T. Sides with his attorney and entered a plea of not guilty. Bond was set at $1,000.

Subpoenas were issued on Dec. 4 to five Olton residents, and Lewis and his attorney appeared before Judge Sides again Monday and the defendant entered a plea of guilty. The county judge sentenced Lewis to a fine of $400 plus $44 court cost.

FOR HIGH FLYING STEWARDESS

Glamour Becomes Routine

By NILAH RODGERS
Leader-News Staff Writer

Janelle Jensen lives the kind of life most persons in this area have to be content to dream or read about—living in a New York apartment, flying to Rome for an opera, attending the theatre in London, and riding horseback in Ireland.

For her shopping trips she has her pick of Irish crystal and linen, buys silver in Denmark, china in Germany and silk lined boots and bags in Spain.

Those are some of the glamorous aspects of being a stewardess on a Trans World Airline 707 or 747. But after flying some half million miles the past year and one-half, Janelle said hoping across the globe gets to be pretty routine.

Miss Jensen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jensen of 131 N. Westside, and graduated from Littlefield High School in 1964. She then attended Texas Tech and received her B.S. in home economics in 1969.

While attending Tech, she made her first

NEWLY ELECTED Directors of the Chamber of Commerce meet in an informal session following their election to the board. Members are Jerry Kehoe, Eloise Cox, Tommy Ballard and Roger Lowe. Kehoe and Lowe were re-elected.

MRS. COX, BALLARD NEW ON BOARD

Chamber Names Directors

Four Littlefield business personnel have been elected to the Board of Directors of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, and were chosen from 12 nominees on the ballot.

An amendment to change the mode of electing directors was also passed—by a two to one vote of Chamber members.

Balloting came to a close Friday, and votes were counted Monday.

Re-elected to the board were Jerry Kehoe of General Telephone and Roger Lowe of Pay And Save. New members are Tommy Ballard of Production Credit Association and Mrs. Eloise Cox of Cox Furniture, who take the seats of Jim Jones and John Clayton, whose terms expire.

Jim Jones will remain an ex-officio member, due to the fact he is president of the C-C.

Others listed on the ballot for the election were: Doyle Winfield, Gene Pratt, Jim Jones, James Lee, Otis Bennett, Frank Anzeline, Benny Zahn and Ernest Connell.

Retaining members of the C-C are Buddy Bingham, Jim Tom Brittain, Kip Cutshall, Pat Downs, Doyle Patton, Bob Roden, Jim Vandenberg and Kenneth Ware.

The amendment to change the election of directors states, "Nominations for the office of director shall be made by a Nominations Committee composed of no less than five persons appointed from the membership by the president and approved by the Board of Directors. Such committee shall nominate twelve persons who are members of the Chamber and who have stated their willingness to serve as directors, attend director meetings and discharge the duties of directors."

The original Article VIII - Election of Directors, allowed that "Nominations shall be made prior to the election by means of a direct primary. A ballot, accompanied by the membership roster shall be mailed to each member and upon it, each member entitled to vote may designate as many nominees as there are directors to be elected.

Yule Lighting Entries Needed By Chamber

Only four entries to the Annual Christmas Home Lighting Contest have been received at the Chamber of Commerce office, according to C-C secretary Connie Skarda.

Entries for the contest will be accepted until 5 p.m. Friday, Dec. 18, and anonymous judges will judge the entries at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

This year's contest is again being sponsored by Littlefield's Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with Southwestern Public Service Company, who will provide the cash prizes.

Four prizes, totaling $100, will be given. First place winner will receive $50; second place winner will take a $25 prize; third place, a $15 prize; and fourth place, $10.

Children and adults who reside within the city limits of Littlefield are eligible to enter, and may clip the entry blank from this issue of the Leader-News, fill it out and mail it to the Chamber of Commerce, Box 507, Littlefield 79339. You may also call 385-4451 and make your entry.

Last year, 23 entries were received, compared to 10 the year before.

Parents' Gold Star Tea Held In Memory Of Vets

A Parents' Gold Star Tea, to honor parents of all deceased veterans of Lamb County who fought in World Wars I and II, the Korean Conflict and the Vietnam War, was given Sunday afternoon at the VFW Hall.

Flowers were placed at the altar by Commander Dub Rice and President Bonnie Massengale.

While "The Old Rugged Cross" was played, the color bearers marched to the front with lighted candles and formed a cross, which served as the setting for the singing of "The Old Rugged Cross" and "My Buddy", by Jan Sisson.

Sponsoring the occasion were the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Ladies Auxiliary of the John Henry Chapman Post 4854.

Miss Jan Sisson sang several numbers for the memorial program, with Jackie Sims accompanying her at the piano.

Officers were introduced and Bob Wear spoke on "Remembering Our Heritage", prior to the colorful memorial service.

Dean Loerwald, past District president, presented the opening thoughts, and placed the flags before a cross which symbolized each of the deceased veterans of the county, as the roll call of the deceased was made.

THIS CAKE RECIPE for "Chocolate Entregue" was given to Billie by her sister-in-law, Katie Johnston of Houston.

CHOCOLATE ENTRIGUE
3 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt

FRUIT CAKES will once again spark the holiday season with the spiced flavor assortment of candied fruits, nuts, flavorings and spices.

Probably most of you have already made your fruit cakes for this holiday season, but for those who haven't, or those who would like to try a new recipe, I would like to share with you a rather different fruit cake recipe that was given to me by one of my very dear and best friends, Mrs. Billie Ramage of Spade. This recipe has been in the family for many years and had belonged to her mother-in-law, the late Mrs. H. Ramage. Billie also gave me a cake recipe, "Chocolate Intrigue" which is said to stay fresh for a good while; and a recipe for "Yorkshire Potatoes" that can be made the day before, put into the refrigerator after cooling and re-heated when ready to serve the next day.

BEFORE I go into the recipes, I would like to urge you to bake your fruit cakes in different-sized containers for a wide range of variety.

Any shape or size baking pan desired can be used for fruit-cakes—for small individual gifts use a 6-ounce fruit juice can, cupcake tins, tiny utensils found in children's baking sets. For larger cakes use a round tube pan, coffee cans, ring molds and various sizes of loaf pans to add variety.

For the smaller fruitcakes, butter the pans, line them with brown or wax paper, and butter the paper. Line the larger pans with several thickness of paper and grease, leaving an overhang of two or three inches to facilitate removal of the cakes. This will help insulate the fruits and batter on the bottoms and sides during the long period of baking.

Fill pans to within one-half inch of the top, juice cans to within one inch. Heavy fruit-cake batters do not rise much. Be sure and set a pan of hot water on the bottom of the oven during baking to prevent a heavy crust from forming and to keep the cakes moist. White fruitcakes are more prone to drying out. If the top browns too much during the baking, cover it with buttered brown paper; or before you bake the cake, brush the surface with a generous amount of milk to protect the fruit and achieve a lustrous glaze.

Bake fruitcakes in a slow oven, 250 to 300 degrees. Bake two and one-half hours for a 9x5x3 pan; two hours for a coffee can; one and one-half hours for a ring mold; about 45 minutes for a juice can. Cool the cakes for about thirty minutes in the pans before

Be Careful

SOMEONE MENTIONS Christmas, and the first thing you think of is happy times around the Christmas tree.

But the Texas State Department of Health would like to put in a plug for a little common sense this holiday season.

MISTLETOE is fine when cast in its traditional Christmas-time role, but brewing a tea of mistletoe berries is not-repeat, is not-part of that role.

The State Health Department has information of a death following the drinking of mistletoe berry tea. It came ten hours after the victim drank the brew.

WHO DOES SUCH A thoughtless thing? More people than you would expect.

There are more than the usual hazards of life and health around the American home during the Christmas season, all capable of putting a damper on festivities. Some kill, some seriously sicken the unwary.

HOLLY, for example, is widely used as a Christmas decoration. Its berries are reportedly toxic when eaten, producing violent nausea and central nervous system depression.

Christmas tree light bubbling fluid, made of methylene chloride, is lethal in certain dosages. Cases have occurred where very young children have swallowed or inhaled the fluid.

SALE OF CERTAIN toys has now been banned by the federal Food and Drug Administration, as dangerous to the public health.

Included in the list is a toy oven that reaches temperatures of 600 degrees Fahrenheit, toys with highly flammable linings, heavy darts with long shanks, chemical sets, and toys with breakable glass parts.

DON'T BE TOO concerned if the kids eat a few icicles off the tree. In their metallic form they're practically insoluble and therefore poorly absorbed into the body. Tree balls are made of glass and plastic, and in addition to causing cuts, could clog the windpipe of a child. Other tree decorations are equally dangerous. The gas propellant in artificial snow is toxic if inhaled, but leaves no residue when dried.

UNKNOWN to many persons, some forms of trees can cause discomfort from allergies. A chief offender is cedar, which can be the cause of watery eyes, stopped-up heads and breathing difficulties.

And of course, there is always the fire hazard with any tree. Be sure your Christmas tree is kept well watered, and electric lights and candles are carefully placed and checked frequently.

THE CHRISTMAS SEASON is a prime time for one of the four million yearly home accidents to happen. People are in a festive mood and they forget the dangers just waiting to claim them.

Plan in advance and your Christmas can be a merry one with no regrets lingering over into the New Year.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

We Differ

By BOB WEAR

SOME PEOPLE ARE RICH, and some are poor; and there are many somewhere in between. Some people are well-schooled, and some are not, and there are many in between.

Some people are unusually gifted, and some are not, and there are many in between. We all differ in many ways, but there is nothing wrong with any of these differences.

It is a shame that so many people make so much of these differences.

WHY SHOULD IT MATTER to me that many, many people have more of everything than I have? Many people look better than I do; so what? Many persons are smarter than I; better schooled than I; and have better opportunities than I have. What difference does it make? I am myself and can live with myself, and with my fellowmen.

THERE IS NO GAIN for me in hating or even disliking other people. I have no right to what they have.

In fact, I don't want what they have. So, somebody has a finer house than I have, and somebody has a newer car than I have; and somebody wears more expensive clothing than I wear. So, what difference does all of this make?

RESENTMENT OF OTHERS holds no promise of good for me, but does have in it the potential to spoil my life.

It will dissipate what could be my personal joy and satisfaction in living. It undermines my life structure, and poses a constant threat to my general well-being.

ENVY, the displeasure I feel because of the excellence of others, will destroy the vital forces of my character and personality.

Why should I be envious of others? The feeling cannot help me, but it will certainly compound my misery.

CONTEMPT FOR OTHERS will destroy my personal effectiveness in the living experience.

It is a feeling toward others that hurts my own self-concept. It is of no value, and only makes my total life situation something less desirable than it could be.

WHY COMPARE MYSELF with others in the first place?

It is better that I should count my blessings, be thankful for what I have; and, if there is some kind of improvement I need to make, do what I can to make it.

IF I MUST COMPETE, let me compete against myself; not against my fellowmen. I should try to do a little better than I have been doing, and not be so concerned about trying to outdo others.

The real accomplishment is in the personal progress I am able to make; not in trying to have more, or do more than others.

"ALL THE SAME" seems to be the aim of some people. They seem to have the unsound and impossible and impractical aim of equalizing people, and their life situations.

This can not be accomplished, even if we keep trying from now to the end of time. It is not even an intelligent goal, and there is no sound basis for such a desire. We differ, and we are different.

WORKING TOGETHER is going to be better for all of us; better and much more sensible than the fighting caused by envy, contempt, resentment and hate.

I'M SURE Mr. Woodcock must have had all the air of innocence of a cat, with canary feathers in his whiskers, when he gave his so positive denial of the UAW strike having anything to do with our mounting inflation.

While he's off to Canada, helping them administer the same treatment to the fine citizens of THAT country, may I say that his arguments made as little impression as a flea in a pan of cement!

WHILE I was in sympathy with what the President said, I know it was too little and too late!

But, did you notice the vicious manner in which our great AP wrote the story of the President's speech? -Makes you wonder just whose side THEY are on--don't it?

SINCE WHEN can an impartial press so openly infer that the President of these United States is an Ass--And still be considered as impartial?

The "Jawbone of an ass" may be a pretty volatile weapon as has been proved--But it don't have anything on the "teletype of an ass" as we can well see!

ANYWAY, the President said many of the correct things, but his big mistake was that he said them about 60 days too late! If we're so naive as to think that the strike of the UAW won't affect us, we'd better think again--A nation so completely "Go Wiscota" as ours, will feel the effects of this action, both directly and indirectly.

YOU CAN'T ESCAPE the results of these higher prices simply by buying another brand auto or truck. The UAW controls production of ALL American built makes--SO? You just DON'T buy a new car!

Then, you find that the cost of repairs on your OLD jalopy costs more, largely because of the higher prices of the auto parts! (The Union works there also!)-Then, you decide to stay at home.

SINCE AROUND 75 percent of our consumer goods travel around on freight lines, would you think that there won't be an increase in freight rates? Even if you don't own an auto at all, you'll feel the results of these increases. These higher priced trucks will have to pay for themselves!

NO, MR. WOODCOCK, and fellows of THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, I just ain't buying your stories!

You're the kind of people that keep me as broke as a country kid after a night at the carnival, and, while I'm about to get used to the idea, I just ain't learned to like it!

SO, my fellow dupes, we'd better start shinin' up to the boss and tryin' to make a good hand. We may be havin' to ask for a raise ourselves, right away!

AVOID LOSS OF CAR AND CONTENTS-- LOCK IT UP!

YOUR UNLOCKED CAR LOADED WITH CHRISTMAS PACKAGES IS A COME-ON FOR THIEVES. DON'T LEAVE KEYS IN IGNITION... LOCK ALL PACKAGES IN TRUNK, OUT OF SIGHT... AND LOCK YOUR CAR!

New Frontier

THERE'S MUCH excitement on medicine's newest frontier. We know now that you are run by electricity; we are learning how to regulate it--and you.

The new focus of medical science is on electrophysiology. The potential is almost too exciting for a layman to anticipate.

Case Western Reserve University is now using electrical impulses to treat backache, sclerosis--and to minimize the pain from terminal cancer.

GENERATIONS of medical scientists have preoccupied themselves with chemotherapy, expecting eventually to find a pill for every ill.

For the most part they ignored the fact that electricity "makes you run."

When we want to check your brain waves, we do it with an electroencephalograph.

When we want to check your heart function, we do it with an electrocardiograph.

ELECTRICITY is generated in your body by the movement of muscles.

There is an iridescent glow surrounding your body which can be seen on a Kilner screen. It disappears when you die.

There is so much electricity in human blood that we can harness it, use it to run a motor!

THIS LATEST breakthrough was a byproduct of research in laboratories in Great Neck, N. Y., where scientists are seeking to build a mechanical heart for installation in humans.

On their way to that objective they learned that they can submerge two tiny electrode in a beaker of human blood and electricity flows therefrom.

TENTATIVELY, they deduce that the chemical interaction between the oxygen and the glucose in the blood is what generates electricity.

This, by the way, is the same laboratory which created the fuel cells for our Apollo spacecraft.

AND NOW, and hear this, the electric current thus generated is measurable in microwatts and is sufficient to power a "pacemaker" heartbeat regulator.

It is not sufficient to power an artificial heart--yet.

IF I HAD nine lives and no great contrary compulsion, certainly I would give one of those lives to helping research this almost unexplored medical frontier: electrophysiology.

In years past, some quacks have peddled worthless electrical gadgets which promised to cure this or that, so responsible medical scientists are disinclined to speculate publicly about the potential of this new science, but it is thrilling to be in their company when they talk privately about it.

TODAY, pain relief. Tomorrow, who knows what? Love and hate may be traceable to that aura which surrounds you.

Perhaps, when the youngsters say "You turn me on," they are closer to an explanation for physical attraction than we have realized.

THE PHILOSOPHER

Glass Highways?

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has another new idea this week, but we're not so sure about it.)

Dear editor: According to an article I read in a newspaper last night scientists are making steady progress in converting the 48 billion bottles thrown away every year by Americans into something useful.

They're making what they call "glassphalt" out of them.

They grind them up, mix them with other ingredients, and then make paved highways out of the stuff.

This is a fine idea but as usual scientists are going about it the hard way, just as they've been spending years perfecting a computerized, automatic meter reader to eliminate somebody's having to come around every month to see how much water or gas or electricity you've used, when what I'd like to see them do is eliminate the meter altogether.

Now in regard to grinding glass bottles up into paving material, that's fine, but under the system the scientists are working on the bottles have to be first used, thrown away, picked up, carried to a central plant, ground up, and then hauled back to wherever a highway is being paved.

This is a lot of wasted effort. Here we've all gone to the trouble of throwing the bottles along our own roads in the first place, so why can't the scientists figure out a machine that'll convert them into pavement right where they are?

It seems unfair to have the bottles we throw out here in Lamb County wind up maybe as pavement in Hockley County.

We're just as much entitled to good roads as they are.

If they get this newer, improved machine invented there's just one other thing that'd need to be done.

We'd need a vast, nation-wide training program to improve people's aim.

Like it is, some people are such poor shots and care so little about good roads they miss the right-of-way altogether and their bottles wind up in my pasture. I don't need a paved road there. Too many people visit me like it is.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Send Greetings

Lamb County Leader
Littlefield, Texas

Dear Editor: May I take this opportunity to send greetings to all our friends in the Littlefield area. I am always so anxious for the paper to come as I feel that it's a pretty good visit from friends back home.

Time is always so short when we visit there, that we never get to see everybody that we would like to see.

Brownwood is a nice place to live-even though it is quite different from Littlefield.

Our work here at the camp is a very rewarding work, and we are grateful for a place of service that might help young people especially. It is a big business--this Camping business. There were over 8,000 people here at camp during the year, 1970. We hope they were better people for having come here.

We would invite all our friends and acquaintances to come to see us and know more about camp work.

Thank you for publishing this bit of news from Heart-of-Texas Baptist Encampment.

DOWN TO EARTH

Church, Politics

JIMMY R. ALLEN

AMERICANS have studied and debated the controversial role of the church in politics, the idea of open campaigning for political positions within the church has only recently surfaced.

One of two major religious bodies have decided to have open campaigning by candidates for their elective leadership positions. The approach raises real issues for Christian to decide.

IF POLITICS is defined as the art of working with people, there's a "political" aspect to all organizational life.

Man has always been an organizer. Some of the same principles of getting people working together which are effective in the business and community also work in religious structures.

THEREFORE, it's impossible for any group of people working together to avoid politics.

It has been obvious with the departure of some clergymen from the ecclesiastical structures into community political life that many times they are equipped to do very well indeed in the political maneuvering of a society.

IT IS ALSO TRUE that there is a thin difference between sham and hypocrisy in the political happenings within a church group and genuine humility and allowing the office to seek the man. None of us is really free of ego drives and indeed ought not to be.

However, the sublimation of the ego drive into a cause and a sense of dependence upon God in knowing one's unworthiness ought to mark spiritual leadership.

THE CONTENTION that campaigning simply removes the political maneuvering from the groups has some truth to it, but it is a concession which is very costly.

It concedes that the movement of the spirit of attitude of genuine humility and dependence on God is vastly diminished.

SELF-SEEKERS and self-promoters have always marked the movement in some degree. The prostrate bodies of Ananias and Sapphira (Acts 5:1) speak eloquently of the self-aggrandizement and overriding motive of a man.

While it may not be impossible to open campaigning for election and resist the temptation of aggrandizement, it is vastly difficult.

Christians are usually repugnant to person whose ego drive is so strong whose veneer of humility is so thin that their ambitions become obvious.

WHILE NO SYSTEM of selecting his religious leaders is without flaw, a system which imitates the political election of secular politics seems to have more than any other.

New Testament Christians were in an atmosphere of openness to the guidance of God.

Whatever the system of ingredients are as essential to the church as they were in the first century.

Waved Elegance Coiffure

WAVES flowing in well-defined undulations at the sides give the face in this Waved Elegance Coiffure designed for the holidays ahead by the Official Hair Fashion Committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association. Note the extra volume at the back crown area, which gives the style the opulent "more head" look when seen from the side, but is not visible from the front. The special languette effects, hair at the crown is brushed down and a fall is added, attached in this case with a small clip. Professional permanent waving gives the hair the style support, particularly for the extra volume of swirling in the crown area at the back of the head.

Curled Elegance Coiffure

A BUTTERFLY of horsehair ribbons perched atop this Curled Elegance Coiffure gives a gay and festive touch of fashion fun to this new hair style designed for the holidays ahead by the Official Hair Fashion Committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association. The clusters of spiral curls at the sides are a romantic touch from yesterday's garden of memories, updated for today's more active life styles. So are the poufs that begin with a soft sweep of gently cushioned hair rising above the forehead and flowing down over the back crown area in a series of silken overlays like the cadogans that George Washington wore. A soft professional permanent wave gives wonderful support to the style, as well as great ease of wear.

Holiday Hair Styles Accent Elegance is an elegance in the new styles designed for the holidays ahead by the Official Hair Fashion Committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, the hair stylists of the beauty profession. The styles were previewed before the hairdressers from across the country in New York for the Official Hair Fashion Show. The sense of elegance on the hair is followed through from fall, as the happy trend of highly styled hair helps pull together the variations in clothing fashions.

The new styles are intentionally pretty and romantic. They are usually composed of supple waves that flow in either languidly sensual lines, or soft wavelets which are either highly defined or just a suggestion of motion, depending upon the individuality or distinctiveness desired in the total look. Curls, too, make the scene in all variations, from short half curls to clusters of spirals of true or false hair. Poufs of soft and silken hair have also established themselves for the winter season after their great popularity last fall. They appear as light puffs, cushions or overlays, usually at the top or in the back crown area, and serve very well to form a gentle bang when hairlines require. From the front, the new hair styles continue with the small head look with hair dressed gently off the face in most instances. From a side view, the new styles have a particularly luxurious look of opulence formed by an extra volume of hair just below the crown. This "more head" look with short hair lengths has to be proportioned to give a graceful silhouette and balance to the head. It is not so large, however, that the extra volume can be seen from the front. This extra volume at the back crown can be arranged with one's own hair, shaped, conditioned and illuminated with flattering hair color. Or, it can be achieved with the use of hairpieces, embellished with loops, braids and small and large swirls of curving hair. Braids of all sizes were shown. One large braid created the extra volume at the crown all by itself, and falls were used to flow from the crown in every length, from a demure mini to a languette of romantic locks. Ornaments, such as jeweled buckles and clips of tortoise shell, and see-through ribbons added festive notes of romantic fun to the holidays styles. One particular favorite was a large butterfly perched atop the head, and made of large loops of wide horsehair ribbons in a color that contrasted with the model's own hair. For hair lengths, the front hair varied according to the fashion look desired, as well as individual needs. Crown hair blended generally in length from the front to the lower crown where it was usually about four-and-a-half to five-and-a-half inches. The hair from the lower crown to the nape varied from about three to four inches. Very important for the new look is a style supporting permanent wave, individually prescribed for the particular styles you wish to wear, and to give your hair the needed texture and substance, as well as ease of wear in between salon visits. Hair coloring, too, requires individual professional care to blend compatible shades desired, also that the lightest tones give a soft aura of gentleness around the face, with deepest shades at the nape area. This is a highly natural and flattering look. In make-up, two general directions will be popular: the romantic heroine's look of radiant pallor, and the open-air brightened look of heightened color around the eyes and at the cheeks, while the lips make a focal point with a vivid splash of color.

District Student Council Officers Elected At Meet

Saturday, Dec. 5, Littlefield High School served as host to the District Student Council Convention.

Morton presided over the general assembly, at which Pam Stafford gave the invocation and Mr. Harris gave the welcoming speech.

Tim Moore, president of TASC, spoke to the delegates concerning the convention's theme, "Being Heard in a Noisy World."

Eleven groups of students then led two sessions of discussing groups in which different problems of the average high school were discussed.

Lunch, featuring turkey and dressing, was served in the high school cafeteria.

After lunch a political rally was held in the gym, followed by a business session.

At this session, the following schools were elected to office: Dunbar, president; Morton, vice president; Floydada, secretary; and Muleshoe, parliamentarian.

Awards were presented to the outstanding student councils in each class of the district.

The following schools were honored: 3-AAAA, Coronado; 3-AAA, Levelland; 3-AA, Denver City; and 3A, Anton.

An award for the most outstanding Student Council in the district was presented to Anton High School.

God's Psychiatry

A DEVOTIONAL

By WAYLAND HUTTO

"Be ye kindly affectioned one to another in brotherly love."

All of us have problems dealing with our treatment of our fellow man. The success of our entire lives depends upon how we serve God in relation to the people we come in contact with.

The Bible tells us to be patient, kind, loyal, dependable, faithful, and loving.

We read that we are to love even our enemies and be at peace with everyone.

The attitude that some Christians are taking concerning their relations with others is alarming. Some are saying that since they cannot do everything a Christian should do, they will not do anything.

By taking this ridiculous attitude, they are denying God's plan for their lives.

The atheistic enemies of our country's churches are rapidly seeing their efforts rewarded because Christians are either just setting goals of spiritual survival, or they are not setting goals at all.

If we do not believe in the Lord's way, we cannot expect great things from Him or attempt great things for Him.

This lack of belief will inevitably cause disaster because belief or faith is what our souls, our homes, our schools, our churches, and our nation is built upon.

Just as a building will crumble when its foundation collapses, these institutions will also crumble when our faith is destroyed.

If you do not believe in God's way, whose way do you believe in?

LHS Speaks Out

By PAM BRANNON and JOAN TIMIAN

The question this week is: What is your pet peeve? The majority of the students have pet peeves, and they all have different answers.

Out of the all the students that answered the question, only three said they did not have a pet peeve.

Here are some of the answers we got this week.

Pam Brandt, (Soph.)-"University of Texas winning all their games."

Jessie Martinez, (Jr.)-"Waking up on Monday morning and coming to school."

Cathy Murray, (Soph.)-"I don't have a pet peeve."

Joni Stockinger, (Soph.)-"For someone to tell me something that I already know."

Boonie Smith, (Soph.)-"Curly hair."

Dorothy Williams, (Soph.)-"Well if you really want to know, it is when someone tries to hum a song and doesn't have any tone at all."

Deana Sterling, (Soph.)-"My pet peeve is listening to someone pop their gum."

Don Trotter, (Soph.)-"My pet peeve is someone messing with my hat."

Sandra Smith, (Soph.)-"My pet peeve is to see someone biting their fingernails. It drives me crazy! Another one is when a girl keeps messing with her hair, and just won't leave it alone."

Marie Rodriguez, (Soph.)-"I don't have one."

Danny Mears, (Jr.)-"Teachers who don't always know what they're talking about in class."

Allen Grisham, (Jr.)-"Mears combing his hair."

Mike Morris, (Soph.)-"People that always are knocking something, even though they don't have any better ideas or solutions themselves."

Stella Rodriguez, (Soph.)-"Hearing myself sing."

Floyd Baldwin, (Sr.)-"Watching Texas Tech win their games."

Sharon White, (Soph.)-"People that are conceited and try to boss others, or people who think and act like they're better than others."

Brad Nace, (Jr.)-"Schoolwork and homework."

Ben McKinnon, (Soph.)-"People moving away."

Jerry Kemp, (Jr.)-"I don't have one."

In Orchestra

Mary Elizabeth Shotwell, Mark Rogers, and Kenneth Richardson were selected as members of the All-State Orchestra.

Mary Elizabeth and Mark were chosen from music students across the state as members of the "Youth" orchestra.

Kenneth was chosen to perform with the "Symphony" orchestra. The Symphony orchestra concert will be videotaped and televised at a later date.

The trio will travel to the Texas Music Educators Association Convention for their respective concerts, to be held in Houston sometime in February.

MARY ELIZABETH SHOTWELL, Kenneth Richardson and Mark Rogers, members of the Wildcat Band, were chosen to play in the All-State Orchestra in Houston sometime in February.

Seven Wildcats Named To All-District Football Team

Although Littlefield did not place a man on the All District Team, they did have seven honorable mentions. Offensively, Kim Hill, senior end, and Wayne Streety, senior center were recognized. On defense, five Wildcats were honored.

They were Ralph Funk and Leroy Danford, defensive ends; Larry Purdy, nose guard; Calvin Kilby, tackle; and Dennis Hartley, defensive back. Kilby and Purdy are seniors, the other three are juniors.

STANDARD LIFE & ACCIDENT INS. CO. OF OKLAHOMA CITY ANNOUNCES THE APPOINTMENT OF WAYNE BUTLER MERLY OF KEITHLY & CO., LITTLEFIELD DISTRICT MANAGER IN CHARGE OF THE LUBBOCK OFFICE LUBBOCK NATIONAL BANK BLDG. LUBBOCK, TEXAS HOME PROTECTION DIVISION

People who cook with pride cook with GAS. Mrs. S. M. Smith does.

Some of the world's best cooks are found in the kitchens of America, and they give themselves every cooking advantage, like gas range cooking. Good cooks like Mrs. Smith and nine out of 10 professional cooks agree that precise temperature control makes the difference in good cooking, and with gas you get exactly that. Gas also gives immediate response and constant temperature, so important in oven cooking.

Give yourself every advantage and cook with gas. Remember, people who cook with pride cook with gas.

Here's one of Mrs. Smith's favorite recipes.

RICE WITH QUAIL OR DOVE CASSEROLE Mrs. S. M. Smith, 1300 Runnels, Big Spring

- 5 cups cooked rice (as directed on package)
- 4 sticks celery diced
- 4 diced pimentos
- 2 cans mushroom soup (undiluted)
- 1 small onion—grated
- 1 cup grated cheese
- 1 green pepper cut very fine
- 4 or 5 cups cooked quail or dove (cut in cubes)

Place 6 or 7 birds in a baking pan. Cover with water, add 2 sticks of butter, salt, pepper, 1 bay leaf, a sprinkle of rosemary. Cover. Place in oven and bake at 350 degrees for about an hour and a half or until tender. Cool and cube. Place in buttered casserole—rice, quail, pepper, onion, and pimento. Pour two cans of undiluted mushroom soup over mixture. Top with grated cheese. Cook in uncovered dish for about 45 minutes at 300 degrees. Serves 12 people. (chicken or turkey may be used)

They're bound to cause talk.

And not just among the neighbors. This is the kind of conversation people make over phones like these: "Ah, mon cherie, je t'aime, je t'adore..." Or maybe, "Tell Schafhausen to call me from Beirut. In three days or the deal's off."

Call your General Telephone business office to order one of these glamorous new Decorator Telephones. And if you only order the groceries over it, it'll still make peanut butter and milk sound like caviar and champagne.

Tree Buying Tips Given

"Shopping for a Christmas tree always seems exciting," advises Bobby Brunson, Assistant County Agricultural Agent.

"First, you decide where you're going to put the tree and what size it should be. Will a tall, stately fir look good in the living room, or should you get a shorter, fuller tree like pine and put it in the family room?"

"Choose the spot carefully, because a Christmas tree shouldn't be near a fireplace, radiator, television set, or other source of heat.

"Then with the perfect spot picked out and the size of the tree figured, you can decide about the kind of tree you want," he continued.

Scotch pine, a fast-growing tree that holds up well through the holiday season, is about the most popular Christmas tree.

Most varieties of Scotch pine have bushy branches and long needles (up to 3 inches) like most other pine trees.

Douglas fir, which has short, soft needles that are attached all around the twig, is second on the list of favorites.

Balsam fir has short, rather rounded needles and twigs that grow at right angles to the branches so they look like crosses.

Eastern red cedar, a relative of the juniper tree, looks graceful and feathery, with its small, scale like leaves.

Red or Norway pine, with slender needles 5 to 6 inches long, is the fifth favorite Christmas tree. The symmetrical spruce trees, with their short, rather stiff needles, are also popular in many areas.

Whichever kind of tree you choose, your next decision is probably when to buy it. Specialists with the U. S. Department of Agriculture say your Christmas tree will probably keep fresher longer if you buy it early and keep it in water, even if you don't want to decorate it right away.

Now for the big decision on the Christmas tree lot! Which tree looks best? USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service has developed U.S. Grades for Christmas trees, as for most other agricultural products, that describe different levels of quality.

The grades for Christmas trees--U. S. Premium (top quality), U. S. No. 1 and U. S. No. 2--are based on shape, density, freshness, and cleanness and on absence of defects. While the grades are used mainly in wholesale trading, you may sometimes find trees tagged with U. S. grade.

But if you don't find trees tagged, here are some things to keep in mind when you select your tree:

1. To be sure it's fresh, rap the base of the tree on the ground. If many needles drop off, the tree is too dry.

2. Look over the tree in an open space with good lighting (daylight if possible) so you can check its shape. Consider that the tree has four faces or sides. You will probably want at least three of the sides to be symmetrical unless you plan to set up the tree in a corner and you can place two less shapely sides against the walls.

3. Don't forget to look for cracks in the trunk or large bare spaces between branches.

4. If you use a star or angel on top of the tree, you'll want to be sure to have a strong single leader at the top.

5. If you do buy a tree with minor defects, such as a slightly crooked trunk, it should be a little cheaper than the more perfect trees.

When you get the tree home, saw about one-half inch off the bottom so it will absorb water. If you buy the tree early, keep it in a bucket of water in a cool, shady place, preferably outside, and saw another half-inch off the butt when you put the tree in a stand.

Use a stand that holds water and keep water in the stand all the time the tree is up.

"You'll have a tree you'll enjoy throughout the holidays if you choose it carefully and keep it fresh," he concluded.

Wheat Producers Official Named

The Texas Wheat Producers Association executive committee has announced that the organization will establish headquarters in Amarillo for its research, market development and legislative service programs on Jan. 1, 1971.

Leo Witkowski of Hereford, president of TWPA, said that also on that date, Bill Nelson of Amarillo, Agricultural Economist, will become the organization's executive vice-president and administrator of all the Association's programs.

Witkowski said that these two announcements are significant moves on the part of Texas wheat producers to attempt to raise their income by capturing new domestic and foreign markets, initiating new and expanded production and marketing research and a more active role in shaping government policy affecting wheat.

Currently wheat is a $100 million cash grain crop in Texas. The use of wheat for grazing and backgrounding cattle for feed lots adds about that much more to the state's agricultural income.
