"The Paper Hangers" stressed how merchants or anyone accepting checks should be sure the "paper" they accept is legitimate, and named several points which combine to make it legitimate.

Among one of the first "dos" is to make positive identification of the person passing a check, by asking for more than one kind of identification. Have personal checks made payable to the company.

Among other things to look for are smudges or erasures, post-dated or stale-dated checks, checks written on out-of-town banks or faraway addresses, illegible writing, checks bearing second endorsements offered by strangers, printed restrictions, or where the amount in words do not match the amount in

In commenting on the check film, Tipton urged employes to "have all checks endorsed in your presence-and in ink. If there is any doubt, take down information about the passer on the back. He won't object too much to giving his phone number and address if he's OK."

Retarded Children Aided In Satellite School Here

Some Youths Coming 'Out Of Their Shells'

By NILAH RODGERS

Last year he stood out in the street looking up in the trees or at the sky for hours at a time, or just sat in a corner doing nothing.

After he started attending the satelite school for retarded children each morning he began to talk. And after a year of attending the class, he became one of Mrs. Oleta Richardson's talkingest

This year he is in public school.

"That in itself justifies the program," director Phil Berry said. "Of course he was mostly socially retarded, but that shows up on tests just as though it is all mental retardation.

Mrs. Richardson has another student now who wouldn't talk when he first came in the class. The tall, lanky student wouldn't even talk to his family. "Now he talks all the time," Mrs. Richardson said, "and likes school so much that his parents can't keep him home when he is sick. He cries to come even when he doesn't f' el like sitting up. I've had to put won't stay home."

This retarded child is one of 11 in the Littlefield area who are being drawn out of their shells in two 12-month classes here through the extension service of the Lubbock State School.

For most of the children, even though they are in their teens, this is their first time to attend school.

Mrs. Richardson teaches the older group, or those 12 years and older in the Parish Hall at Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

Mrs. Hazel Mackey teaches pre-schoolers and retarded children under 12 years in the Fellowship Hall at Saint Martin Lutheran Church. These two classes for retarded children are celebrating their first anniversary Nov.

The teachers are paid by the Lubbock school, but almost all materials and supplies are donated. Milk and cookies are donated by various clubs and

Band Begins Tree Ticket Sales

Members of the Wildcat Band begin Christmas tree ticket sales tomorrow.

A ticket purchased from any member of the Littlefield band at $1 is good for $1 off on the purchase of a Christmas tree at the Littlefield Optimist tree lot on Hall Avenue. The purchaser is also eligible to win a transistor radio, two Wildcat football season tickets for 1970, and a turkey or ham in a drawing that will be just before Christmas. Prize winners do not have to be present to win.

The tree lot opens Dec. 1, and all money received on Christmas tree ticket sales benefits the Littlefield school band organizations, too, and everyone who helps with the classes volunteer their

"People who come in here to help for the first time usually get a funny look on their faces," Mrs. Richardson said. "You can see on their faces that they are thinking, 'Oh, I'm in the wrong place, or, oh no, now I've done the wrong thing. But they leave here laughing and feeling they've accomplished something.'

"And almost everyone comes back to help again," Mrs. Mackey added.

Mrs. Mackey is luckier than Mrs. Richardson when it comes to volunteer help and money. The teacher of the younger class has a helper every day, from about 15 different volunteers. Mrs. Mackey attributes this to people being "just naturally more drawn to the younger children. And my supplies, like puzzles, peg boards and clay, are more permanent than Oleta's because her students work with crafts so much and need more."

Mrs. Mackey compares her group to a numery school class with work and play on the three and four year level. "Even though the child is 11 or 12, his mental capacity is about the same as a three or four-year-old," she said.

The older group does craft work daily, and keeps Mrs. Richardson busy coming up with ideas for the next project. They are working on Christmas wreaths now, glueing different shapes of macaroni to paper plates that will be sprayed gold and hung from big bright bows.

"They just love to glue," Mrs. Richardson said. "We use it by the gallons." The group has made hats out of bleach bottles, key chains, pillows and houseshoes out of wash cloths, papier mache waste baskets and plaques. Each of the students has looped several rugs and made giant candles out of stacked bottles and plaster of Paris.

H&M Fabrics displays and sells some of the crafts for the class so money can be put into supplies for more projects and the Littlefield Lions Club recently voted to give the board $15 a month for the next 10 months.

Both groups go on field trips. Mrs. Richardson takes her class to local stores. They especially like the variety stores. They've taken a ride on a school bus. "Oh, Rosinda loved that," Mrs. Richardson said. "We're going bowling one of these mornings soon. And we could swim in the summer if I had enough help to watch after them.'

"The Association is the main thing in this class," Mrs. Richardson said. "When See CLASS Page 4

The girls are playing Old Maid with playing cards after wearing out three sets of Old Maid cards.

MRS. HAZEL MACKEY, standing right, teaches the younger group of students in the Lubbock State School satellite program for retarded children here. Mrs. Bill Anderson is one of several volunteers that help with the class in Fellowship Hall at the Littlefield Saint Martin Lutheran Church each weekday morning.

Jack Peel, commissioner of Precinct 3, is very special to some people who do not even know him personally.

Mrs. Hazel Keeling is one of these. During the recent wet weather, the dirt road she lives on became impassable in passenger cars, and school buses were running on paved roads, only.

But the Keeling children didn't miss a day of school, because Commissioner Peel sent pick-ups and men out to get the children, dig mud, or whatever was necessary for a full week and a day. "One morning the men even carried the children piggy back," she said. Mrs. Keeling doesn't know whether

Peel was one of those who helped her, her widowed mother and her children or not since she doesn't know Peel, she said. "But I just want to let people know what a nice man he is."

83 MILLION IN COUNTY

Teens Big Spenders

Lamb County's teen-agers have never had it so good. They have an affluence that goes far beyond anything their parents could have imagined at their age. The unprecedented amount of money at their command, estimated at no less than $2,960,000 in the past year, went for the whole gamut of personal items and leisure-time activities that are so important to them. And it went fast. In addition to what they spent themselves, they exerted a strong influence on family purchases-from food to furniture and from carpets to cars. All of which increased the importance of the teen-ager as a consumer in the eyes of the manufacturer and the retailer.

The spending figures were based upon surveys and studies made by the Institute of Life Insurance, the Youth Research Institute and others.

They found that the 25 million teen-agers in the United States had an income of well over $20 billion in 1968, which averaged out to $800 each, with the older group getting more than that and the younger fry less.

For the 3,700 teen-agers in Lamb County, it added up to $2,960,000 in the

According to national figures reported by the Rand Youth Poll, boys and girls in the 16 to 19 bracket averaged $18.90 a week, while those in the 13 to 15 group got about $5.70.

Some of them earned part of this money by doing odd jobs after school and during summer vacations. The rest came from their weekly allowances.

How was the money spent? Among the older boys, the biggest item was movies and dating, which nicked the bankroll for a whopping $4.25 a week. Next in order were auto and gas, $3.25, clothing, $3.10, and candy, ice cream and cigarettes, $1.65.

The girls spent their money differently. Personal grooming was in the top spot. This took $4.60 per week. Clothing was second, $4.20, and movies and entertainment third, $2.15.

Of even greater importance to the business community is the other family spending over which the teen-agers have a direct influence. This is placed at nearly $40 billion a year. In Lamb County, in line with these findings, it affects an estimated $5,861,000 of the spending done per year in local stores.

In making a statement about this year's campaign, Mrs. Farmer stated, "Because last year 3,216 Texans had TB: 440,000 Americans had emphysema; and 913,000 in all found for the first time that they suffered from a disabling lung ailment, we ask you to show the world you that you

Dr. Taylor Evans, Lubbock orthodontist who is area campaign chairman, said, "Although the actual work of fighting tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases falls upon the medical researchers, and official health agencies, the responsibility for continuing the fight lies within the generosity of every West Texas resident."

them a run for the money before dropping a 32-20 decision at Slaton Friday night. It was anybody's ball game after Littlefield dominated play in the third quarter and closed the scoring gap to 19-14 with 16 minutes left in the District 3-AAA clash.

But Slaton marched 63 yards in 12 plays and controlled the ball for more than six minutes in taking a 25-14 lead. Then the Tigers used Wildcat miscues to thwart Littlefield visions of ending the season on a winning three quarters.

But there were a couple of bright spots for the future, too. Soph Ralph Funk led Littlefield ground gainers with 71 yards in nine carries, and another sophomore, Danny Estrada, accounted for six points when he stole the ball from Slaton QB Terry Mosser and ran 85 yards for a TD.

The running of Larry Moore, Slaton's 212-pound senior fullback, was the big attraction, however. He carried 26 times for 193 yards.

Mosser's timely passes accounted for two Slaton tallies, as he hit five of 13 for

On the Tigers' second possession, they drove 78 yards in 10 plays, with Mosser sneaking in from a yard out. Allen Sanders' point try was wide and Slaton led, 6-0, with 3:54 left in the first quarter.

The Wildcats came roaring back in a drive to the Slaton 29 but a fourth-and-three try by QB Charlie Holt failed to gain.

Slaton then ate up the clock for five minutes in a 69-yard drive that ground out TD in 12 plays. Moore scored the TD on an 8-yard run and Slaton had a 13-0 lead after Sanders kicked the extra. The clock showed 9:48 left in the second quarter.

Only two minutes later, the Wildcats were on the board. Funk got off on the game's longest run, 51 yards, after taking a pitchout from Holt. The carry was to the Tiger 10, and two plays later, Holt passed to Split End Steve Owens for a 9-yard tally. Alan Newton's kick made it 17-7 with 7:38 left in the half.

Slaton came right back with a 70-yard drive in 13 plays, using up six minutes and overcoming two penalties for 20 yards. The Wildcats shut off the Tiger running game at the Littlefield 11, so Mosser hit a fourth down pass to Alan Fondy, good for the distance and six points. Sanders' kick missed and it was 19-7 with 1:09 left in the half.

SOFT FLOW COIFFURE—Easy Wave movements distinguish this Flow Coiffure, one of the new soft and free hair fashions designed e coming holidays by the Official Hair Fashion Committee of the nal Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association. The soft waves flow easily, then bounce away freely at the sides into loose and airy Note the off-center parting, a subtle touch that adds to the natural of this look. The brow is open, hair of medium short length, added mplicated and easy care touches. Soft permanent waving and ssional haircutting add to the easy look of uncontrived softness.

THE SOFT CURL COIFFURE—Buoyant curls crown this Soft Curl Coiffure, designed for the holiday season ahead by the Official Hair Fashion Committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association. In keeping with the soft and free look so important for the season, the curls give a soft and airy height at the top, a particularly happy touch when additional height is needed in the top crown area. Soft waves, curves and light curls frame the face, leaving most of the brow free and open. Hair at the nape and lower crown area hugs the head in soft waves giving the head a natural proportion.

THE SOFT FLING COIFFURE—A burst of airy curls brushed up and away at the sides gives a soft and free look to this Soft Fling Coiffure, one of the new hair fashions designed for the holidays ahead by the Official Hair Fashion Committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association. Very little wave can be seen in the hair where it is brushed gently from the high parting on the right. This gives an easy but definite contrast to the more spirited action in the softly textured curls. The brow is uncovered, but if hairline or facial requirements call for aid, the soft curls drape easily onto the face.

new styles were premiered before housand hairdressers from across

The softness in the new look is more than one of touch, although the hair simply must feel soft and silky. It must look soft, as well as feel soft. This was apparent in all of the new styles shown, in their design and texture, regardless of whether the hair was dressed into flowing waves, curves and curls, in clusters, or

LEVETA HALL

This swing to softness continues a happy trend that has been easing into hair fashions for some time, and now appears to be here to stay, at least for a little

The free part of the new look is one of spirit. It is in harmony with trends that have been influencing clothing fashions, as well as hair styles.

In hair styles, this feeling of freedom makes a definite breakaway from the now dreary concept of a single look being "in" for all women, and the even more misguided idea that there is only one best look for anyone. Now you can expect to have a different hair style from one day to another, from one mood to another, and expect this to be the general rule, not the need for a rare and special occasion.

If waves are better for you at sometime, waves let it be. If curls are your best friends at another time, enjoy them. If you're like most women, you'll gain the most using both, waves and curls, in different degrees and combinations at feel free to vary your own thing.

But, know what each change needs. Be sure that whichever style you choose it is proportioned to your own particular requirements, taking into consideration the shape of your head, face and body. The actual length of the hair at the premiere was determined by individual requirements, although it appeared to range from short to medium on most models, and in all cases was short enough to give a head-conscious fit to the styles.

This requires superbly cut hair, and a soft permanent wave that has been carefully prescribed for your hair. These are vital in helping your hair retain a memory of the curve you need, and give it the manageability required for the variations you will want.

This was done with the models presented at the premiere. Their styles were changed from mood to mood, and from one costume to another, and all within minutes.

Every new hair style featured a natural head size, and delineated the head gracefully. For special effects for either day or evening wear, this same natural head proportion was a base for increased heights, widths and lengths. For maxi and midi effects, falls and switches were used lavishly. For heights and widths, clusters of see-through curls were most effective.

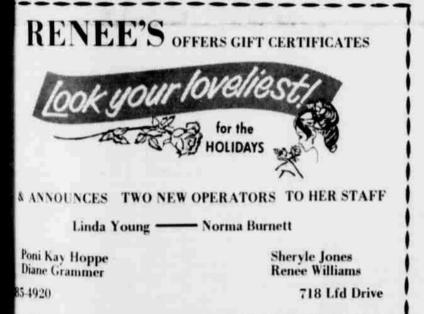

Most of the new styles featured an open forehead. Where special brow treatment was needed, wave formations were brought over the hairline. Bangs

Some of the new styles had a soft rise at the crown area. This was a natural lift from which hair usually flowed down in easy waves and then burst away at the sides in soft curls. In other styles, clusters of transparent curls crowned the top of the head, while soft waves framed the face and defined the nape. In all cases, the effect was one of natural grace, and apparent easy wear.

In hair coloring, expect your hair to glow as if a soft light had been switched-on giving it a lovely shimmer and depth of tone. A subtle blending of differently tone hair strands gives it the rich and natural looking effect. Warm tones of all colors will be particularly popular, adding richness to harmonize with the quality fabrics of the season. For special effects, contrasting color will be used, but softly and subtly, more like the blending in a tortoise shell, rather than a

Make-up takes in the wide spectrum of holiday fun, from a naturally glowing and warm look at football rallies, to softly translucent effects for gala evenings. But during all, the soft velvet eye holds sway, as does the berry mouth, made softer and richer with an undercoat. Facial tones call for romantic moon glow effects, rendered softly with transparent and shimmer

'Humane Treatment' Effort

'The American Red Cross is intensifying its efforts to open channels of communications and relief to U.S. servicemen being held as prisoners of war in North Vietnam," according to Mrs. Ruth Wade, Lamb County Red Cross executive secretary.

Mrs. Wade was notified of the effort from Red Cross headquarters in Washington, D.

During the regular monthly meeting of the Red Cross Board, held Friday, Nov. 7, Mrs. Wade said that "a resolution sponsored by the American Society urging that prisoners of war be given the benefits and protection of the Geneva conventions was adopted without worth by vote last month by adopted without dissenting representatives of governments and 91 national Red Cross societies attending

In God We Trust

REV. JAMES GILLENTINE

Foursquare Gospel Church WE TAKE a good look at the world in we live today, we find a world full of hunger, strife, rioting, and general almost the world over.

Bible declares this to be a sign of the ys, as Paul records in II Tim. 3:1-5. "This also, that in the last days perilous times one. For men shall be lovers of their own covetous, boasters, proud, blasphmers, tient to parents, unthankful, unholy; natural affection, trucebrakers, false incontinent, fierce, despisers of those re good, traitors, heady, highminded, of pleasures more than lovers of God; a form of godliness, but denying the thereof: from such turn away."

SE MAY SEEM to be harsh words, but re the Word of God, and truer words not be found to illustrate the conditions xist about us today, even in Christian are those among us today that seek to the real truth, and disrupt the entire by hiding behind false fronts, having a f godliness, but denying the true Power ce of God. Jesus said, "By their fruits I know them." Man's actions speak out ouder than their words.

THIS SEASON of Thanksgiving, may we ow anyone or anything to disrupt or the true hope of this great nation that still have a hope that has been engraved he hearts of men and even upon every nd piece of currency of America, which GOD WE TRUST.

is indeed the great hope of America yet that thru simple faith, and obedience to Word, miracles are still brought unto us Name today, according to our faith.

PROPHET Jeremiah put it this way: saith the Lord, Let not the wise man n his wisdom, neither let the mighty man his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches: But let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am the Lord which exercise lovingkindness, judgement, and righteousness, in the earth: for in these things I delight, saith the Lord." Jer. 9:23-24.

WE MUST THEN recognize the truth, that the reason for the despair of our world today lies in the fact that men have forsaken their trust in God, and are endeavoring to work out their own problems, which man cannot do in Truly, without Him, we can do nothing as an individual or as a nation. Prov. 14:34 says, "Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people."

THERE IS AN answer in God's Word that will bring true peace and joy unto those who are in the midst of despair, who truly seek for

In Luke 5:12-13 we read of a man who found what he needed. "And it came to pass, when He was in a certain city, behold a man full of leprosy: who seeing Jesus fell on his face, and besought Him saying, 'Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.' And He put forth His hand, and touched him, saying, 'I Will, be thou clean." And immediately the leprosy departed from him."

INDEED WE BELIEVE that the leprosy of sin and despair can be instantly taken away today by the touch of the Master's hand. It is God's desire that all might come unto Him as the leprous man, with that trust and faith that He is able to meet our needs today.

He will prove Himself unto all who call upon Him, because Heb. 13:8 declares "Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and today, and forever."

WHY NOT GIVE Jesus the opportunity to satisfy that longing desire in your heart today for peace, and joy, and victory in each thing in

Do not end in despair, but put your trust in Him today. He will answer thee.

"The Paper Hangers" stressed how merchants or anyone accepting checks should be sure the "paper" they accept is legitimate, and named several points which combine to make it legitimate.

Among one of the first "dos" is to make positive identification of the person passing a check, by asking for more than one kind of identification. Have personal checks made payable to the company.

Among other things to look for are smudges or erasures, post-dated or stale-dated checks, checks written on out-of-town banks or faraway addresses, illegible writing, checks bearing second endorsements offered by strangers, printed restrictions, or where the amount in words do not match the amount in

In commenting on the check film, Tipton urged employes to "have all checks endorsed in your presence-and in ink. If there is any doubt, take down information about the passer on the back. He won't object too much to giving his phone number and address if he's OK."

83 MILLION IN COUNTY Teens Big Spenders

Lamb County's teen agers have never had it so good. They have an affluence that goes far beyond anything their parents could have imagined at their age.

The unprecedented amount of money at their command, estimated at no less than $2,960,000 in the past year, went for the whole gamut of personal items and leisure-time activities that are so important to them. And it went fast. In addition to what they spent themselves, they exerted a strong influence on family purchases-from food to furniture and from carpets to cars.

All of which increased the importance of the teen-ager as a consumer in the eyes of the manufacturer and the retailer.

The spending figures were based upon surveys and studies made by the Institute of Life Insurance, the Youth Research Institute and others.

They found that the 25 million teen-agers in the United States had an income of well over $20 billion in 1968, which averaged out to $800 each, with the older group getting more than that and the younger fry less.

For the 3,700 teen agers in Lamb County, it added up to $2,960,000 in the

According to national figures reported by the Rand Youth Poll, boys and girls in the 16 to 19 bracket averaged $18.90 a week, while those in the 13 to 15 group got about $5.70.

Some of them earned part of this money by doing odd jobs after school and during summer vacations. The rest came from their weekly allowances.

How was the money spent? Among the older boys, the biggest item was movies and dating, which nicked the bankroll for a whopping $4.25 a week. Next in order were auto and gas, $3.25, clothing, $3.10, and candy, ice cream and cigarettes, $1.65.

The girls spent their money differently. Personal grooming was in the top spot. This took $4.60 per week. Clothing was second, $4.20, and movies and entertainment third, $2.15.

Of even greater importance to the business community is the other family spending over which the teen agers have a direct influence. This is placed at nearly $40 billion a year.

In Lamb County, in line with these findings, it affects an estimated $5,861,000 of the spending done per year in local stores.

THAT ADORABLE MAN. Prince Phillip, has let the cat out of the bag on a national TV program, Meet The Press. Queen Elizabeth is having terrible, terrible trouble making ends meet on her salary of nearly $22,000 a week.

The average American housewife can fully sympathize with the Queen, what with inflation and all. and we should every one of us pitch in with our little penny pinching suggestions inherited from our Scottish ancestors or just learned from pure dee old housekeeping experience.

SNICKER NOT at that $22,000. That has to keep a 600 room mansion, which come out to only a little more than $37 per room, so you can see her problem, just with plumbing bills alone.

NEVER. NEVER use a whole soap pad to do your scouring. Cut it into halves, or maybe even fourths, and keep your scissors sharpened at the same time.

And don't fall into that tempting habit of grabbing a paper towel for just every little thing. Before you know it, a whole roll is gone and it's a lot cheaper to wash terry cloth towels than to buy paper ones, which should be saved just for draining greasy food.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Magnanimous Mood

WE MUST TRY to always be at our best. This is the posture of the magnanimous mood.

We can do better in solving problems, and coping with difficult situations. We will be less discouraged by the constant challenges, and the undesirable happenings which are all around us.

THE ALTERNATIVE is the mood of pessimism, hopelessness, discouragement and defeatism.

This is a malefic mood, and will make us less capable to live with meaning and nobility. It is not the mood we need for our time.

WE MUST ALWAYS include the things that are right in all of our considerations. If we think only of what is wrong, or what seems wrong, it is almost the same as if nothing were right.

We must keep the whole picture in view, and be grateful for all we have left to give us hope.

ALL OF US will live more satisfactory lives if we maintain a constant view of the whole.

If we permit the undesirable park of the life situation to absorb our attention, the result will be a deteriorating mood of despair.

When hope is gone, all is lost. Without hope, there is little strength or courage for living. This hope we must maintain finds its roots in moral and spiritual values. Hope is inherent in a magnanimous mood.

THERE IS HOPE. And we must maintain a constant awareness that there is. The hopeless say that we are losing everything worthwhile. We may be, but we haven't lost everything yet. Of course, we must be

Revitalization

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm reviews a new plan out of Washington. He may not have it just right.)

Dear editar:

You'll never catch me standing in the way of progress or anything else if I can find a place to sit down, so it was with considerable interest I read in a newspaper last night that Washington has announced the creation of a Rural Affairs Council.

The purpose of the Council is to revitalize the nation's small towns," to keep people from moving away to the big cities. While some people argue that the reason small towns are such nice places to live is that a lot of people have left and gone to the city (why, I heard one man in town the other day say while it's true Lubbock is a better place because a good many people from Littlefield have moved there, still you have to remember Littlefield may be a better town because they left, but that's out of my province, I wouldn't care to say whether this is true or not), still I guess a little revitalization wouldn't hurt most towns, provided you didn't over-do it.

But the thing that has me pondering is that this council to revitalize small towns is made up of big city people.

I don't want to throw a damper on their plans, but if they've got some ideas that'll work i place to try them out would whatever city they happen The way it looks to me, problems are about a the times bigger than small problems, but still the move since because if I was living city I'd be hollering improvement in rural Anything to get the spotlight overwhelmed by youth?

What will life be like for you and me- a minority-in Historically, young people have always imagined that they were smarter than their elders. Today's school-agers are the first ever to know that they are and to be able to prove that they are.

THEY ARE SMARTER and tailer and handsomer and healthier and more capable than any generation heretofore.

To them, accustomed to the rapid change of the electronic era, rapid change is as normal and natural as resistance to change was for you and me.

When George Gallup conducted his youth opinion poll prior to the 1968 election, he found that they, more than most, supported George Wallace (change) and yet they favored liberal appointees to the Supreme Court (change). Two and one half times as many young Americans moved their residences within one year (change).

GALLUP'S JUNE, 1969, survey of college students is summarized: The important difference between college students today and those of earlier years is their great desire for change.

Except for their almost casual acceptance of accelerated change, this emerging youth majority is characterized by a wide diversity of ideology and interests. Probably, therefore, it will not become oppressive as majorities sometimes

IT IS THE RETARDED judgment of the young that must give us pause. From teen divorce statistics, from drug misuse and from automobile accident statistics we can see that the biological adjustment to adulthood remains emotionally disturbing.

If it can somehow learn to master adolescence, this next majority could become the most stable and the most contented

And our minority the most fortunate in history.
