

Investigation Of Accident Turns Up Marijuana Cache

Youth Charged With Possession

Charges of possession of marijuana were filed here Tuesday against an 18-year-old. The charge followed the discovery of the drug in a routine investigation of a one-car accident east of Littlefield early Monday morning.

Julian Pena Jr., who gave authorities a Hereford address but who had been living in the South Texas town of Nixon, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace J. N. Bowen Tuesday morning, and bond was set at $2,000.

Highway Patrolman Bill Angel found about one-fourth pound of marijuana or enough "grass" for 200 or more cigarettes in the floorboard of the youth's car while investigating an accident three and one-half miles east of Littlefield.

The drug was wrapped in heavy grocery sack paper and secured with a rubber band.

In his statement, the youth said he picked up the marijuana in the woods southeast of San Antonio according to instructions he had received in a note, but he said he did not know who gave him the note. He said he was to take the marijuana to Hereford, but he did not know who was to receive the package when he got there.

Pena said he could not remember having a wreck, and added that he must have gone to sleep while driving.

Angel said Pena was traveling northwest on U.S. 84 when the '67 Buick started angling off the road, evidently at a fast speed, and hit a culvert with a gully. The car jumped 36 feet to the edge of the gully, nosed in and overturned, then hit the bank on the other side. The auto traveled another 107 feet before it came to a stop on its wheels.

Angel estimated the time of the accident at 3 a.m., but it wasn't reported until a motorist phoned the Littlefield police department at 7:27 Monday morning.

Pena was taken to the Littlefield Hospital by a Hammons ambulance, treated for cuts and bruises and released to the Lamb County sheriff's department about 5 p.m. Monday.

The vehicle, registered to Marion C. Garcia of Hereford, was demolished. Pena said he had bought the car from his father-in-law about three months ago.

Chamber Sets Charter Trip For 'Texas'

Anyone want to go see a presentation of 'TEXAS' at Palo Duro Canyon?

The Chamber of Commerce is presently working up another chartered bus for Thursday, July 30.

"We have already filled one bus, and would like to fill another," Chamber Manager Jim Kelly stated Wednesday morning. "We need a minimum of 33 passengers, and the bus can hold 40," he said.

Total cost to adults for the reserve ticket, meal and round trip bus ticket will be $9.50. Cost for children under 12 is $5.00. The buses will leave from the east side of City Hall at 5 p.m.

Blindness In One Eye A Zahn Family Trait

By NILAH RODGERS
Leader-News Staff Writer

Being blind in one eye runs in Bill Zahn's family -- there are five persons in his immediate family who have lost an eye accidentally.

Zahn, who has been the friendly butcher for many Littlefield families since he moved to Littlefield 26 years ago, became blind in one eye after a piece of steel hit him in the eye while he was working at a gin as a ginner when very young.

Zahn and his nine brothers and two sisters grew up in wild west Haskell County where there were plenty of horses and bulls to ride. "We rode anything that would pitch," he said.

Livestock was involved in the loss of an eye for two of Zahn's brothers. Paul, his oldest living brother, was blinded in one eye when a stick struck him while he was driving cattle.

Another brother, Walter, was driving a horse hitched to a cart when the horse kicked him in the face and blinded him in one eye.

Bill's oldest brother, who is now deceased, has two sons who have each lost an eye by accident. One was riding a stick horse, fell and punctured an eye. The other boy was looking in an oil pipe for a rabbit and another brother shot into the elbow of the pipe with a B-E gun. But the rabbit had already run out and the B-E shot hit the boy in one eye.

Zahn has always been interested in meat, whether it's been on the hoof or he has been on the cutting end. Zahn and his dad were partners in a cattle buying business in 1921.

For years the Zahns ran a two-silo feed pen, feeding cattle out on ensilage, maize, hulls and cotton seed meal.

This led Bill into the slaughter house business and later still to butchering, a business that has stuck for 41 years. Zahn said he retired the first of the year, but he still tends the meat market at Foust Food two days a week.

The Zahns have four sons, and none of them have lost an eye. "But Tony followed in my footsteps as butcher," Zahn said.

Mr. and Mrs. Zahn are looking forward to seeing all of their family at a reunion Sunday. Their eldest, J. W. of Houston, will be there. Dennis will come from Liberal, Kans., and Benny and Tony will go from Littlefield.

ACCIDENTS THAT have caused blindness in one eye are numerous in the Bill Zahn family. Bill is one of five in his family who view the world with one eye.

Vacations Will Cost You More This Year

Lamb County families who are taking vacation trips by automobile this summer will find that they need fatter pockets than in former years.

The cost of everything is up, and motel rates are high. Good roads are more frequent and tolls are bigger in many places.

Findings are based upon a survey of vacation travel costs throughout the country, made by the American Automobile Association.

As a result, the figures show, Lamb County couples will be spending approximately $39.50 a day this year, traveling modestly, or about $6 a day more than in 1965.

That amount will take care of the necessities but not such extras as souvenirs, amusements and admissions to places of interest.

Thus, a two-week trip will cost a local couple a minimum of about $550. It assumes that they get 14 miles to the gallon of gas and that they cover an average of 300 miles per day.

The $39.50 daily budget provides for $14 for meals and snacks, another $14 for lodging, $8.50 for gas and oil and $3 for tips and miscellaneous.

The AAA report also answers, for Lamb County car owners, the all-important question of how much it costs them per year to own and operate their cars.

The average is now $1,448 a year for a standard-size car in the medium price range, with automatic transmission, driven 10,000 miles annually.

This takes into account the fixed costs--for depreciation, insurance, license fees and such--amounting to $1,053, or $2.88 per day.

The other costs, covering gas, oil, tires and maintenance, depend upon how much the car is used. For 10,000 mile operation they total $395, or 3.95 cents a mile, on average.

The total cost per mile, 14.5 cents, compares with 12.0 cents five years ago.

On this basis Lamb County residents are spending some $12,438,000 a year to own and operate the 8,590 cars in use locally.

Local gas stations have been profiting from the general increase in auto travel. Their gross receipts in the past year reached $2,188,000.

KELLIE AND KATHIE STANLEY, three and one-half year-old identical twins of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Stanley of Route 1 Littlefield, demonstrate the extremes in weather this week. Big brother Mike is amused at the two as they try to decide who will wear the coat to show the low reading of 57 degrees Monday and Tuesday. Kathie is the twin with the coat, or is it Kellie? Only their mother knows for sure.

Farm-Ranch Safety

Governor Preston Smith and the Texas Safety Association have issued a call to Texas farm and ranch families to step-up their efforts to make agricultural enterprises safer.

Governor Smith, issuing a proclamation designating July 19-25, as Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Week, urged all farm and ranch families to become more safety conscious.

The Governor, in his proclamation, called attention to the fact that farm and ranch accidents in Texas continue to increase, despite a decline in the rural population and advances in agricultural technology.

"We must renew our efforts to prevent accidents among our rural residents as they go about the hazardous task of producing the commodities needed by the entire population," said Smith.

He also urged rural families in Texas "to take advantage of modern technology designed to remove many of the hazards in agricultural enterprises."

The Texas Safety Association, in conjunction with the Governor's proclamation, called on farm and ranch workers and families to mark the observance of Farm and Ranch Safety Week by taking time to check safety procedures or lack of them in their daily activities.

The statewide safety group urged rural workers to take the necessary steps to provide maximum protection against accidents.

Joe Smetana, Waco, T.S.A. Vice President for Farm and Ranch Safety pointed out that in 1968, fires claimed the lives of 54 rural residents.

Smetana said farm and ranch families should develop fire protection plans for their homes. He said such protection plans should include planning of fire escape routes, correcting inadequate electrical wiring, and the installing of fire extinguishers in buildings, on motor vehicles, tractors, and other self-propelled equipment.

Stressing the importance of personal protective equipment, the safety official said, "Industry has long recognized the importance of such items as safety glasses and goggles, safety shoes, hard hats, and bump caps in reducing injury. The application of these items to the farm and ranch could be immeasurably effective in reducing deaths and injury."

"Accidents involving tractors and other machinery also are a major cause of farm deaths," continued Smetana.

"During 1968, 33 persons were killed in tractor accidents, and of those 33, eighteen were the result of tractor turnovers," he said.

The T.S.A. official said many of these deaths could have been prevented if the tractors had been equipped with crush resistant cabs and safety belts.

Accidents involving firearms were also singled out as a major cause of farm and ranch deaths during 1968. Smetana said that 49 persons were killed in accidental shootings. Only sixteen deaths were the result of hunting accidents.

The safety specialist said farm and ranch families should take extra care to make sure that weapons are loaded only when they are being used for hunting. Smetana said that firearms should be handled at all times with extreme respect for their life-taking danger.

The Texas Safety Association also listed a number of other positive measures farm and ranch workers and families could take to make their lives more comfortable and accident free.

1. Keep all guards and shields in place when operating machinery and power tools of any kind.
2. Be prepared for emergencies such as fire, flood, blizzard, windstorm, sudden illness and injury.
3. Wear gloves and recommended protective clothing and chemical respirators when applying pesticides.
4. Keep pesticides in a suitable storage area, inaccessible to children and animals.
5. Protect small children and others by covering tank openings, and facing dangerous areas such as manure lagoons and farm ponds. Have life-saving flotation devices available at all ponds.
6. Check electrical wiring and make sure you are using the proper size fuses.
7. Spare your hands on rough jobs with heavy-duty gloves. Wear rubber gloves when handling farm chemicals, petroleum products and other solvents. Use good hand lotions to prevent chapping.
8. Observe state law and equip all your farm machinery that has occasion to be moved on the highway with the Slow Moving Vehicle emblem.

A WOMAN'S VIEW

My Strength

By PEARL BRANDON

WELL HERE I AM trying to write another column.

As some of you know I have been sick recently and as usual when you don't feel well things don't look so well.

I HAVE THE bad habit of getting myself involved in too many jobs and when I'm out for a few days things really pile up.

While I was sick I kept going over in my mind my activities in various clubs and organizations such as the Woman's Club, Eastern Star LOTWS, Church and various other little things I'm obligated to--besides my own family--trying to decide which to give up.

I THOUGHT of the Woman's Club and all the responsibility and work it involves, (I'm president)...if I gave it up it would relieve a lot of work and pressure.

But I love the Woman's Club and the women who belong to it--a more wonderful group I have never known. All are so co-operative and eager to do their part. I don't want to lose the fellowship and close relationship of such a fine group.

BEING SECRETARY of Eastern Star is a big job too, but it also happens to be one of mine, and has been, off and on, for many years. I love my sisters and brothers of Eastern Star and I like being secretary.

I HAVE BEEN WORKING a little with Mr. Salems LOTWS ("Love Overcometh the World") program over at Sudan. Working with underprivileged children.

This work gives me more personal satisfaction than anything I have ever done helping with those young people.

As you know, women own a majority of the stocks and bonds in this country and control about 80 per cent of the spending, especially for groceries.

Where us farmers have been missing a bet is in not taking advantage of this feminine phenomenon.

We ought to change the shape of things we grow from year to year. If round potatoes for example are stylish this year, come out with long potatoes next year. White eggs are fashionable now? Come out with brown ones this fall. Women prefer red apples? Tell them Jackie Onassis and Elizabeth Taylor prefer green ones.

If you can get some women with the kind of knees I've seen into mini-skirts, getting them to switch to green apples and brown eggs would be a snap.

Whatever a farmer grows, he ought to change the length or girth or color of it every year or so. All we'd have to do is get some Frenchman to promote the idea, and all it'd take to do that is some money. Money is always in high fashion with dress designers.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Incidentally if you haven't visited with his group you should go over some Saturday morning and see what he is doing.

THEY MEET with a religious devotional-Mexican, Negro and white children--then go out to work.

This program is a story within itself, which, with Mrs. Salems permission, I'll tell you about some time.

GETTING BACK to my own problem--also teach a Sunday school class as well as try to write this column.

Giving up the column is the most logical thing I could do, I think, but I like to try to write.

AFTER THINKING it all over I've come to the conclusion that I'll keep on doing all the things I'm doing as long as the Lord gives me strength.

For more than 20 years I had home made sign hanging in my office which said, "The Lord is My Strength."

MANY TIMES when I was confronted with hard human problems for clients I would drop my head with a silent prayer and the Lord would give me strength and directions.

During this spell of illness, so many kind friends and relatives have helped me in so many different ways.

I WANT to say "thank you" to all of you and especially to Joella Lovvorn who so kindly edits this hand-written column. I've been too shaky to type lately.

I'll see you next week, the Lord willing.

HONNY GRITS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

SINCE ALL of us in this neck of the woods, live either directly, or indirectly off the farm, I'm sure we'll feel the results of the Senate's recent action, regarding the subsidy program.

Of course, the proposition is yet to run the gauntlet of the House and may find its way into obscurity like Cooper-Church thing.

ANYWAY, it's a ball of yarn that's been unraveled and retied, knotted and snarled until it's nearly impossible to make head or tail out of any of it.

The proposition is a direct blow at the "Tycoon" type operation and etc.

WE'VE KNOWN, for some time, that the farm program has been a freeze out of the small operator, and an inducement for the large operator to grow larger.

Under the present plan, the tenant is the one that really suffers. I'm told that a few of the owners rent their land out, retaining ALL the subsidy checks, and still take the "one-third, and one-fourth" of the produce--expense free.

THIS SMACKS of the old plantation type operation, as was formerly (?) practiced in the "down-south" states.

Say a guy has two to three sections of land, all in cultivation--his "take-home" subsidy would be in the neighborhood of $44,800 to $62,200, plus the 1/3 and 1/4 of the crop.

Or, did someone give me the wrong figures?

OF COURSE, the "Owner-take-all" plan is NOT universal (Nor popular, especially with the tenants) nonetheless, the subsidy on the land remains the same, whether split, or not.

This, friends and countrymen, is taken out of the taxes we pay! They tell us that the reason for the subsidy program is to relieve the consumer of the high cost of the products, to keep our prices down to competitive levels with the imports and to keep the farmer solvent.

TIME WAS, when the law of supply and demand did about the same thing, less the government acting as the collecting and the distributing agent.

However, when you think of all the Department of Agriculture employees that might have to go on welfare, if the program should be discontinued, I doubt if we'd save much, tax-wise!

Of course, they might have the opportunity to farm some of the land that would, suddenly, be idle

REALLY, I'M convinced that the whole thing in the Senate is just another political maneuver to add to the woes of the administration.

If the farm program is scuttled under the Nixon administration, the free-wheeling New-dealers should have no problem in the future!

LET IT BE UNDERSTOOD, that I have nothing but best wishes for our farmer friends.--They are the "Back-bone" of our community, and don't you forget it!

BUT, 59¢ PER LB. FOR TOMATOES? THAT'S RIDICULOUS!!

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Pay Day

By BOB WEAR

THERE IS A LAW of compensation which is a fundamental element of life as we know it, and as it is seen through the experience of living. Some people find life to be quite satisfactory, and others have nothing good to say about it.

There is a wide difference between these two views, and if we can learn what it is, and how it develops, we will know one of life's best lessons.

WHY DO SOME FOLD find life good, and desirable, and a grand experience, and express their approval of it; while others spend their years murmuring and complaining about it?

We think much of the difference is found in the fact that those who love life, and do right by it, get much that is good from it; and those who dislike it, and abuse it receive very little good from it.

THIS DIFFERENCE, however, does not just happen. The law of compensation is working. Regardless of what we think, it works. Apparently, many persons are uninformed about the law; and others are foolish enough to think that the law of compensation can be ignored, or even circumvented.

The law works continuously, and we can make every day, pay day by giving our best to life, each day.

WHEN WE ACCEPT all rightful responsibility graciously; and do our honest best to meet it with our best efforts; life will be good to us. This is one phase of the law of compensation.

In many instances, we will be doing more than we are paid to do. Some things will be done just because they need to be done.

We will do these things, because of our responsible view toward life. This attitude pays.

THE LOAFERS are the ones who suffer loss. Those who are just trying to get by, who will do no more than they have to do, and do even less sometimes, are moving toward unhappy days.

When they finally reap according to their sowing, they seldom know why they are having so much trouble.

If they know, they do not admit that they do. More often than not, they will feel mistreated. They are mistreating themselves. It is just pay day, and they don't like it.

THE DILIGENT, industrious, constructive and knowledgeable people move in another direction. They accept responsibilities, do their work well, do more than they are expected to do, and are constantly learning to do better. Each day is pay day for them.

Their reaping is according to their sowing, and they are happy with the harvest.

"THERE NEVER WAS a person who did anything worth doing that did not receive more than he gave," Beecher.

WHEN WE CONTRIBUTE to the happiness and well-being of others, we will find a generous portion of the same in our own lives. When we encourage others, we are lifted up.

We cannot bring cheer into the lives of those with whom we are associated without being cheered up as a result.

IF WE GIVE OUR BEST to life, the best will come to us; and every day will be a rewarding pay day.

18-Year-Olds To Register For Voting

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN--Eighteen-year-olds will be registered in Texas this year unless the U.S. Supreme Court, in the meantime, invalidates the federal voting rights act.

State officials plan to file a federal suit in reply to an order of U.S. Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell asking all governments report on steps they will take to comply with the new provision and other sections of a federal bill effective January 1, 1970.

Texas, reportedly, already is in compliance with the act except for the lowered voting age. This state has no literacy test and "good character" requirements for election participation such as those outlined by a bill signed into law by President Nixon on June 19, 1965.

When the Texas voter-registration period opens on October 1, 18-year-olds will be signed up if the expected test is not settled by the Local Registration Officials. It is advised by state election authorities to register pending a court decision.

According to election director Randall Wood, the secretary of State's office proposes to suggest that registrations be kept separate from those of voters 21 and above. This would simplify subsequent invalidation in event the Supreme Court rules the federal act unconstitutional after state registration already is under way.

Test case probably will be Washington state. There 18-year-old vote-referendum already is set for the November ballot.

Washington officials are in a better political position to state that they will comply with the federal act until their voters voice approval of the lowered age proposition. Secretary of State Mel Dies Jr. figures the federal would add about 395,000 and 21 voters to Texas' registration rolls--if it survives court test.

PAUL HARVEY

Dirt

TWO YEARS AGO a presidential commission was appointed to consider the probably related problems of "obscenity and violence."

The objectives of their investigation include one which has confounded jurists, clergymen and semanticists for generations: A definition for obscenity.

You and I know dirt when we see it, but what's urgently needed is a definition which will stand up in a court of law.

MAYBE WE ORDINARY folks can help these learned scholars.

The Presidential Commission on Obscenity and Violence has designated 40 institutions around the country to conduct separate surveys. Wayne State University, one of those institutions, got some dirty pictures together and turned them over to the ladies of the local Council on Better Literature for Youth.

WHEN THE PRESIDENT of that council, Mrs. R. G. Johnson, saw the first 60 slides, she was indignant. All were "unnecessarily filthy," she said. "We thought we were doing something constructive for our country. You don't need to provide 60 such slides to get a point across."

Her indignation gets us right down to the nitty-gritty of this unresolved dilemma: What's acceptable on a Broadway stage may not be in Grosse Point, Mich.

THE REV. WINFREY LINK, Methodist minister, is a member of the presidential commission. Recently he criticized the commissioners for "sitting around talking to ourselves, exchanging our own ignorance."

He said he was speaking out in advance of the committee's formal report in September because "The American people have a right to know on what we are spending their millions of dollars."

DR. LINK AND another conservative on the 18-member commission conducted some separate public hearings at their own expense until the commission chairman was thus forced to summon public hearings outside New York--in Los Angeles and Washington.

Commission Chairman William Lockhart denies he was "pressured" into expanding the hearings--but he was.

Dr. Link says a federal government standard for what's obscene is impractical because what is accepted in New York may not be in rural America. However, the U.S. Constitution, Article III, empowers Congress to make "exceptions and regulations" to the Supreme Court's appellate jurisdiction.

WHAT THAT MEANS is that Congress can, if it will, authorize "local option" on the question of pornography. Local juries would be allowed to determine whether a book, magazine or movie is obscene--and the local jury's decision would not be subject to review by federal courts.

Before his death, Sen. Everett Dirksen introduced legislation to this effect in the Senate. So far his anti-obscenity bill (S-1077) has gone nowhere.

Understandable, those who peddle smut in books, periodicals, movies and by mail are hopeful they can prevent congressional consideration indefinitely.

THE DIRKESEN BILL would allow local communities to decide for themselves when dirt is dirt and thus most smut peddlers could be choked off one state at a time. It might also tend to impose some timely discipline on the TV industry; currently, rural America gets what New York City dishes out, acceptable or not.

THE PHILOSOPHER

In High Style

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm gets into a risky field this week, but that's his worry.)

Dear editor:

Me talking about fashions is about like a blacksmith's running a beauty shop or an economist running a bank, but the economic possibilities for farmers in the fluctuating lengths of women's skirts forces me to do it.

According to all the newspapers I've been reading lately, the fashion experts have decided that mid-skirts, not mini-skirts, will be in style this fall, and though the women are howling about it, come fall most of the minis are expected to be thrown away as the women fall in line in longer dresses.

Personally I have never understood how women can be so easily persuaded to throw away one wardrobe and buy another just because some Frenchman told them to, but I never argue with a fact, and it's a fact it happens.

Announces about this time of the year what women will be wearing in the fall, and blamed if the word doesn't spread all over the world, from London to New York to Littlefield, and 90 per cent of the women comply.

This got me to thinking. There's a great possibility here for farmers.

As you know, women own a majority of the stocks and bonds in this country and control about 80 per cent of the spending, especially for groceries.

Where us farmers have been missing a bet is in not taking advantage of this feminine phenomenon.

We ought to change the shape of things we grow from year to year. If round potatoes for example are stylish this year, come out with long potatoes next year. White eggs are fashionable now? Come out with brown ones this fall. Women prefer red apples? Tell them Jackie Onassis and Elizabeth Taylor prefer green ones.

Whatever a farmer grows, he ought to change the length or girth or color of it every year or so. All we'd have to do is get some Frenchman to promote the idea, and all it'd take to do that is some money. Money is always in high fashion with dress designers.

Witnesses Slate District Meets

Thousands of new ministers have been added to the ranks of Jehovah's Witnesses by the worldwide efforts of that organization to search out and train new people interested in Bible study.

"Despite the apparent decline in the significance of religion in today's world," said Loyd Lowery presiding minister of the local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses "the Bible, although written centuries ago, can be of real value to us in this modern world. It has never lost its appeal or importance as a guide to living. The growth last year of over 170,000 Jehovah's Witnesses is proof of this fact."

Hundreds of thousands of the Witnesses are preparing to meet in "Men of Goodwill" District Assemblies, scheduled by the Watchtower Society.

Area members of Jehovah's Witnesses will meet in Amarillo's new Civic Center, July 23-26, where over 8,000 are expected to attend bilingual sessions. Thirty-five similar conventions are to be held in the United States this summer.

A mass baptism of new ministers is planned for each assembly.

Happiness is what I sell.

Hubert D. Henry Southwestern Life

Perhaps you've never thought of life insurance as "happiness." But it is in many ways. It helps you get rid of financial worries so you can live a little! Each dollar you put into cash-value life insurance works like four. It works as a protection dollar. As an emergency dollar. As an opportunity dollar. And as a retirement dollar. Four ways. Ready money whenever you need it. That's a lot of happiness!

County Youth Attend 4-H Rally Day Tuesday

Lamb County 4-H Council held their annual 4-H Rally Day July 21 at Crescent Park in Littlefield.

There were 110 4-H'ers and adults present from the six county 4-H Clubs which include Littlefield, Olton, Earth-

Springlake, Amherst, Sudan, Pleasant Valley.

The Rally Day is held each year so the 4-H Clubs in the county can get together for recreation and visitation with other clubs and their members. The County 4-H Council, which is composed of representatives of each of the 4-H Clubs in the county, plan the rally event.

This year's theme was "Rodeo" which each game was named for a rodeo event. Events were roping, bull riding, rings, pony express and barrel racing.

'Texas' Cast Has Home Roots

Several members of the "Texas" cast have roots in the Panhandle which enable them to have a real comprehension of the forces which moves the characters in Paul Green's drama of the plains.

David Schuette, the horse wrangler who rides to the top of the cliff each evening with his flag to herald the opening of the performance is the grandson of Fred Schuette, an early settler. He was a cowboy on the T-Anchor Ranch, one of the earliest spreads. The T-Anchor Ranch house, one of the earliest buildings built in the area, stands on the campus of West Texas State University, still sturdy, made of logs cut in the Canyon.

Linda Rockwell is the great niece of Montie Rockwell of Canyon. Her maiden name was Montie McBride and McBride's Canyon is named for her family. She was an early teacher there. Harold Orr's grandfather was a missionary in the southern panhandle.

Edward Dalton is almost a pioneer himself. He has worked for forty years as a cowboy in the panhandle, spending years on the Yellow House spread near Littlefield, and being near the crews of the Bivins and Masterson ranches.

For reservations to see "Texas" the story of the early days on these plains, write "Texas", Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015 or call 806-655-2182.

LITTLEFIELD, TEXAS

KYLE JONES, one of the smallest of the stars on the Littlefield Little League team, turned slugger Tuesday. Here he's congratulated by his teammates after a homer. He also had a pair of singles Tuesday and, including one hit in one time at bat last year, is batting a thousand in all-star play. Littlefield won the opening game 7-0 over Anton and will meet Plainview's American League team in the semi-finals of the district meet today at 6 p.m.

son and prizes will be merchandise.

SPORTS

Doris Ashley Wins Three Dash Events

Doris Ashley, Littlefield High senior, equalled her best time when she won the 100-yard dash in 11.1, won two other events and placed in another at the Texas Amateur Athletic Federation Invitational Meet held in Seminole Saturday.

In addition to taking the 100-yard honors, Miss Ashley also won the 220-yard dash in 26.9 and the 50-yard dash in 6.1.

She placed fourth in the shot put with a throw of 28' 6". Doris will represent Littlefield at the State TAAF Meet in Abilene this Saturday.

IT AIN'T HIS, HE SAYS---Chic Conway found this broken putter at the Country Club recently and local wags claimed he must have done himself following a bad putt. "I have been putting a little badly lately," says Conway, "but doesn't bother me... bother me... bother me."

Homers, Parmer Hurling Give Littlefield 7-0 Win

Littlefield's Little League All-Stars used Ronald Parmer's one-hit shutout and four solo home runs to defeat Anton, 7-0, Tuesday afternoon and advance to the semi-finals of the district tourney at Olton.

Kyle Jones was the hitting star for the locals as he went 3-for-3, including a homer. Parmer helped his own cause with a round-tripper, and Bill Turner and Ralph Mendez also hit shots over the fence.

In their first-round games, Plainview American swamped

Sudan-Amherst, 20-0, as Steve Phillips hurled a no-hitter; Muleshoe edged Plainview national, 7-6; and Randy Latham scored the game's lone run and threw a two-hitter as Springlake-Earth nipped Olton, 1-0.

Littlefield will meet Plainview American at 6 p.m. and Springlake-Earth will battle Muleshoe at 8 p.m. in semi-final games today.

Coaches Troy Gardner and Jake Moreland gave the entire Littlefield team pats on the back following the win over Anton.

"Everything went right for us," Gardner said. "Ronald pitched a fine game and our hitters got some wood on the ball."

Parmer pitched himself out of trouble in the first and third innings, when Anton put runners on second and third. In each case, Parmer struck out the final batter.

Meanwhile, Parmer was nursing a 1-0 lead, built on singles by Jones and Bill Turner in the first inning.

Parmer gave himself a cushion in the top of the fourth when he hit a drive over the fence in left center for a 2-0 lead.

The walls came tumbling down in the top of the fifth, when Mendez, Jones and Bill Turner homered, giving Littlefield a 5-0 lead.

In the top of the sixth, Ken Turner and Jody Torres tallied the final two runs for Littlefield.

In all, the Littlefield stars picked up 10 hits, including Jones' three, Bill Turner's two, the homers by Parmer and Mendez, and base hits by Ken Turner, Doug Perrin and Mike Cotter.

TWO LOSSES TO WORLD CHAMPS

Almo Team Bringing Home State Runner-Up Trophy

The Almo Senior Babe Ruth All-Stars began the long trek home Wednesday after dropping two straight to defending world champion South San Antonio.

But the local All-Stars--made up of boys from Amherst, Littlefield, Muleshoe and Olton -- had a state runner-up trophy in their possession... and a lot to be proud of.

Taking a first-year team to San Antonio, the Almo stars went down, 3-0, in Monday night's thriller, and 14-0 in the Tuesday night clincher.

Pro scouts reportedly were in the stands to watch the Monday night game, a brilliant pitching duel between Almo's Monty Barnes, a Lazbuddie boy, and South San's D. Johnson.

Johnson had the edge, but narrowly. He hurled three-hit ball, striking out 13. Barnes allowed only four hits and struck out nine.

The fielding was almost errorless, too, as South San committed none and Almo only one.

The second game saw South

San punch out a 4-0 lead after three innings, then put the clincher on with a six-run sixth frame.

South San Antonio, state Babe Ruth champion the past four years and world champ last year, now will head for Cheyenne, Wyoming, for the national tournament.

The San Antonio team features boys who have been playing together since Little League days, all but three of whom are 18 years old. Six of their nine starters already have signed for college scholarships.

Against that competition, the Almo stars managed but six hits in the two games. Eddie Moates of Amherst had three himself, a single in the first game and a pair of one base knocks in the second.

In the first game, South San got off to a lead with a two-run homer in the first frame. They didn't touch Barnes again until the top of the seventh, when another run came across.

Almo's hitters were Barnes,

Don Heathington and Moates, with a single each. The Heathington and Moates singles were back-to-back but Almo couldn't push a runner home.

In the second game, South San Antonio got 14 runs on 12 hits, and Pitcher B. Netters set down Almo with three singles.

Steve Sanderson started for Almo, but he and relievers Moates and Favian Minjarez couldn't stem the San Antonio batsmen.

Moates' two singles and Darrell Matthews' double were the only Almo hits.

A spokesman for Almo told the Leader-News by phone Wednesday that the area all-stars "played some great baseball in defeat."

"We made a good showing against the world champions," he said.

The only blot on the entire trip was an injury to Catcher Gary Robinson of Amherst in the second inning of the second game.

Robinson left the batter's box with a wrenched knee, and making the trip home on crutches. The injury was not believed to be serious.
